

Great Interest Aroused By Conversations in Arts

Gregor Center in April which will feature Aaron Copeland. The conversations being offered at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial are an exciting part of the Adventure program. Included are "The Painter Looks at Modern Art," with Robert Wilbert of Wayne State, Mondays, 1:30-3 p.m., January 30 to March 7; "The Uses of History," developed by the Detroit Historical Museum with Professors John Weiss and Arnold Pilling as group leaders, Tuesdays, 8-9:30 p.m., January 31 to March 7; Soviet Literature, Babette Pasternack, with Grosse Pointe's own outstanding authority Vera Dunham, Thursdays, 8-9:30 p.m., February 2 to March 23; "The Stratford Plays 1961," with author-critic Leo Kirschbaum, Sundays 2-3:30 p.m., February 5 to March 12; "A Study of Opera," with Anthony Marlowe of Mercy College and the Detroit Institute of Musical Art, Sundays 2-3:30, February 5 to March 26; and "Conversations With The Poets" including prize-winning Donald Hall, X. J. Kennedy, Radcliffe Squires, Allen Tate, Richard Eberhardt, and W. D. Snodgrass, Sundays at 2 p.m. and Tuesdays at 8 p.m. at Wayne, February 26 to April 2. All who register for a conversation have access to the other stimulating city circle phases of the program and may participate in the conference at the conclusion of the program. For further information call the Center, TU 1-7511.

MICHIGAN BELL
Telephone Lines
"NUMBER, PLEASE?" ... According to our best information, this famous phrase originated in Chicago, way back in 1895. Before this, telephone operators responded with such phrases as: "What do you want?", "Hello", "Number?", and "What number?". The whole Bell System adopted the words in 1904—so you can see that our present operators are following a long tradition of courteous service.

SOMETHING NEW ON THE DIAL of most telephones being installed these days is an Area Code. The Area Code is part of your telephone "address," indicating your section of the country. Printed on the dial, it's easy to give your Area Code to persons in other parts of the country who call you. If they use the Area Code when calling you, their calls will go through faster, whether dialed direct or put through by an operator. Your Area Code is used only for calls from distant places—never on local calls, or calls to phones with the same Area Code.

AREA CODE 313

A NEW VOICE aid has been developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories for those who have lost the use of their vocal cords. Weighing only seven ounces, this artificial larynx is battery-operated. It comes in two types: one unit simulates a man's voice, one a woman's. It is being made available on a nonprofit basis. For more information, just call your Michigan Bell business office.

Blood Drive

Who Can Donate
In general any adult up to age 60 who is in good health may give blood and the donation in no way injures the donor. Minors ages 18 to 21 may give with the written permission of their parents. General rules for giving include (1) weight must be at least 110 pounds (2) only five donations may be made a year with eight-week intervals (3) abstain from fatty or fried foods for a few hours prior to donating (4) wait one year after major surgery or blood transfusion and two years after malaria before donating (5) former hepatitis or jaundice patients are unable to give.

The Center is most grateful for all the cooperation the Grosse Pointe Blood Council is giving in getting donors out, to the volunteers from the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club who are helping to register; to the volunteer nurses assisting; to the Junior Red Cross and Youth Council lending a hand, to all giving time and effort to make this blood collection a success and especially to all the actual prospective blood donors.

Verbrugge Heads Business Group

Allen L. Verbrugge of the Cyril Verbrugge Market, 898 St. Clair avenue, has been appointed as chairman of the Grosse Pointe Chapter of the National Federation of Independent Business.

Each business and professional man member of this organization maintains a voting membership, and is polled by ballots regularly throughout the year on bills and issues that affect independent enterprise at the national and state levels.

In an effort to do everything possible to maintain the American way of life, and keep our free competitive system of business, the businessmen express their own personal opinion on the ballots each month and turn them over to Mr. Verbrugge, who makes tabulations of the total number and the manner in which they are voted.

These tabulations are sent, with the underlying signed ballots, directly to the desk of Congressman John D. Dingell, at Washington, D. C., and to State Senator Harold Ryan. They are the only means whereby independent business and professional people can keep in continuing, organized, personal, direct contact with their national and state legislators on measure that affect, locally and nationally, free enterprise opportunities.

Baroque Ensemble Sets February 3 for Concert

The Detroit Baroque Ensemble has announced February 3 as the date for a concert to be given in the Community Arts Auditorium of Wayne State University at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Arnold Lungershausen, a Pointer, will play the harpsichord assisted by Philip Steinhaus, organist of Kirk in the Hills, Bloomfield. This will be the first duo harpsichord concert in Detroit.

Pointe Symphony to Give Second Concert on Feb. 5

The Grosse Pointe Symphony Society will present the second concert of its eighth season Sunday afternoon, February 5, at 3:30 p.m. at Parcels School Auditorium, Mack at Eight Mile Road.

Featured at this concert will be two Detroit baritones, Dominic Cossa and David Lemelin, who were finalists in the Detroit Grand Opera-Grinnell Scholarship competition last year and who were selected by

Pingel Seeking MSU Trusteeship

John S. Pingel, executive vice president and director of Ross Roy B.S.F. & D., Inc., Advertising Agency, has thrown his hat in the ring as a Republican candidate for the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

1939 graduate of Michigan State University where he was that institution's All-American football player, Pingel went into military service and attained the rank of Lieutenant Colonel during World War II. After the war, he joined Michigan State University as Administrative Assistant.

Later, Pingel became director of advertising for Reo Motors, Inc. Then he entered the advertising agency business with Brooke, Smith, French & Dorrance, Inc., where he was made vice president in 1955 and executive vice president in 1960.

John Pingel is president of the Aircraft Club of Detroit; chairman, Michigan Council, American Association of Advertising Agencies; president, Michigan Chapter, National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame; member of board of trustees, Grosse Pointe University School; member of session, Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; past officer and director, Detroit Sales Executives Club. He has been active in the YMCA, Boy Scouts and the United Foundation. He is an active member of the Economic Club of Detroit and the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce.

He resides at 582 Peach Tree Lane, Grosse Pointe Woods. He is married and the father of two sons, John S. Pingel, Jr., 19, and Roy Hardy Pingel, 13.

St. Ambrose Play Opening Tonight

Strains of the heartwarming, familiar tunes of Jerome Kern-Oscar Hammerstein II are heard around the halls of St. Ambrose High School as the students prepare to present their annual musical comedy. This year they will present "Showboat" at Pierce Junior High School on Thursday, January 26, and Friday, January 27, at 8:15 p.m.

James LaRose portrays the role of Captain Andy, owner of the "Cotton Blossom" and Monica Addison is his nagging wife, Parthy, Patrick Fagan and Kay Gruber enact the roles of Gaylord Ravenal and Magnolia. Joseph D'Angelo and Marguerite Mosher are the dancers, Frank and Ellie, William Lenhard, in the role of Joe, sings "Ol' Man River", Eileen O'Shea is his wife, Queenie.

Other members of the cast include Linda Markowski, Joseph Orlando, Carolyn Foley, Paul Ticknor, Sue Rutledge, Robert Federspiel, Paul Maris, Leo Hauer, Brian Vermeersch, Bryan Singer, Donald Caruso, Claudia Conroy, Raymond Malcoum, and Virginia Feys.
D. J. Kline will conduct the St. Ambrose High School Choral Club and the Geoffrey brothers will play for the occasion. Choreography is under the direction of Miss Joan Mainini.

Eighty per cent of Michigan's grade schools have no school library.

John Gutman of the Metropolitan Opera Company to compete in the Great Lakes Regional Auditions in Cleveland. Both young men study with Anthony Marlowe, prominent opera authority and former tenor with the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Mr. Cossa and Mr. Lemelin have been heard in various operatic roles and in recital programs in and around Detroit, at the Detroit Institute of Musical Art Opera Workshop, the Toledo Opera Association, Mercy College, and on radio, and they have been viewed on television.

Mr. Cossa was a winner of the Belle Isle Auditions in Detroit in the summer of 1957 and appeared as soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Valter Poole. He was the recipient of the J. S. Newberry Award and has appeared as featured artist at the Cleveland "Opera Sing" under the direction of Boris Goldovsky. On January 15 he was named a finalist in the WGN Chicago Auditions of the Air and will compete with 25 singers from all over the United States on February 13.

The orchestra, under the baton of Felix Resnick, will present the following program: "The Merry Wives of Windsor"; Verdi—"Eri Tu Che"; Un Ballo in Maschera, Mr. Cossa; Rossini—"Largo al Factotum"; Barber of Seville, Mr. Lemelin; Gretry (Mottl) Ballet Suite—Cephaele et Procris, Tambourin, Menuetto, Gigue.

Intermission

Griffes—"White Peacock"; Bellini—"Il Rival Salvar"; I Puritani, Mr. Cossa and Mr. Lemelin; Tchaikovsky—"Overture-Fantaisie, Romeo et Juliette." The duet "Il Rival Salvar" from I Puritani by the Italian composer Bellini is a unique offering. It is the only known duet written for two baritones. It ranges from the dramatic to the lyrical. Bellini was born in Sicily 160 years ago. He wrote I Puritani by order in 1834 for the Theatre Italien, Paris and it was a great success and his last finished work; he died within a year at the age of 33.

The audience is invited to meet the guest artists and the orchestral personnel at a reception and coffee hour in the gymnasium immediately following the concert. Dr. Elizabeth M. Downie and Mrs. J. Leslie Berry are co-chairmen of the hostess committee for this event.

Single admissions may be purchased at the door the day of the concert: adults $2.00; students $1.00. For further information phone TU 5-8861.

Membership in the Society includes tickets to the four concerts of the series and costs $6.00; student memberships $3.00. For further information phone TU 5-8547 or VA 2-0724.

Lonely Boy's Flight Ends

Cars Hem Him In
Sgt. Douglas Allor gave chase, but lost the boy on St. Clair avenue. With that, three patrol cars began circling the block, and the boy was turned back. He was finally apprehended at the side of the fire hall by fireman Seyvyn P. Bliss and police officer Richard Elworthy.

After a collect call to Hasslett, Mich., police learned how far the captive boy had actually run. His parents said he had left home at 12:45 p.m. January 20 and they had alerted State Police to his absence.

The boy then admitted that he had traveled by bus from his home to East Lansing, to Flint, then to Detroit. Here he said he spent the night at an all night movie which he left about 5:30 a.m. He went to the Greyhound station and took a bus to Selfridge field where he hoped to catch a plane to California.

He had only $2 in his pocket, but the boy said he belongs to the Civil Air Patrol and was hoping to take a C.A.P. flight. He was dressed in a mused uniform.

When he learned that this hope was not to be realized, he walked back to Detroit, went to the Greyhound station, and sent a suitcase to a friend in

SPEEDER FINED $25
Martin E. Gerstner of Trenton paid a fine of $25 for speeding 55 miles an hour on Mack between Lakeland avenue and Fisher road on January 2. Gerstner was apprehended by Police Officers Donald Fritz and George Brackz and taken to the station where his car was held on bond of $25. Gerstner returned later to post the bond on his car and paid the ticket on January 6.

Fairfield, Calif. Then he walked to Grosse Pointe, thinking he was on his way to California.

At 1:10 a.m., the boy's parents arrived at the City Police station and answered still more questions for police. They said the child had been lonely since the family had moved to Michigan six months ago. The boy's father is a captain in the U. S. Airforce and is studying for his master's degree at Michigan State University.

The parents thought their son had run away because he was afraid to face them after running up a large telephone bill to California.

Screening

(Continued from Page 1) Mr. Whitley—"Exactly." Mr. Burns—"When was the last time you saw this book?" Mr. Whitley—"Well, it was probably yesterday or the day before when I was checking a prospect to see whether or not someone in our office talked to him or who it was so I could refer the prospect to the party that rightfully it should be referred to."

No further testimony was presented on this phase of the matter. Mr. Burns' questions gave Mr. Whitley no opportunity for a more positive explanation of the fact that the screening information was no longer a part of the Maxon prospect book.

3. That's Wide-Track balance (No other car has it)
Pontiac holds, hugs and hangs on to the road like no other car. There's no outside-of-the-wheels weight to cause lean or sway. More weight is balanced between the wheels for improved stability. Another Wide-Track advantage: There's more room between the wheels to mount the springs, shocks and control arms at more stable angles to the wheels. This prevents drifting and wandering, allows Pontiac to track flat and level as it travels around corners and curves. New Wide-Track feels every bit as steady as it looks. Test it soon!

THEODORE J. MAAS
 Services for Mr. Maas, of 570 Pear Tree lane, plant engineer for General Motors Corporation since 1958, were held Saturday, January 21, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church. Interment was in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Mr. Maas began his career at General Motors in 1926, when he started as the director of plant construction at the Fisher Body Division.

In 1945, he became plant engineer for the Buick Oldsmobile, and Pontiac Division where he served until 1952. He then went to the Adam Opel subsidiary plant in Germany on special assignment and became the plant layout technician there in 1957.

A year later, Mr. Maas was assigned as engineer at the Vaux-hull division of General Motors in Luton, England, and was later assigned to the post he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Maas belonged to the Gabriel Richard Council No. 2463 Knights of Columbus, the Automotive Engineering Society, and the Engineering Society of Detroit.

He is survived by his wife, Rose, and a sister, Mrs. Catherine Johr.

A Detroit realtor for 45 years, Mr. Everts was a native of Indianapolis and had lived in the Detroit area for 70 years. He was 73.

Services were held Saturday, January 21, in the Verheyden Funeral Home. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Eldon; a brother, William J.; and three sisters, Mrs. F. C. Flemming, Mrs. Mabelle Washburne, and Mrs. J. F. Lutkenhouse.

BERNHARD STROH, JR.
 Mr. Stroh, a prominent Detroit and Grosse Pointe businessman, of 487 Rivard boulevard, died Friday, January 20, in Ford Hospital, following a long illness.

A native of Detroit, Mr. Stroh lived here all his life. He was 77.

Mr. Stroh was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1907, then went into partnership with the Peabody brothers and founded an overall company in Walkerville, Canada.

In 1912, he and his brother, the late Edwin R., founded the Stroh Casting company. Mr. Stroh later spent many years in the real estate business in Grosse Pointe, from which he retired in 1942.

He was a grandson of the founder of Stroh Brewery company.

Mr. Stroh was active in the Detroit and Grosse Pointe Historical Societies, the Founders' Society of the Detroit Art Institute, and the Friends of the Library. He was a life member of the Country Club of Detroit and the Detroit Athletic Club.

Mr. Stroh's wife, the late Alice Kratzet Stroh, died in 1941.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Fred M. Sibley, of Grosse Pointe, and Mrs. Paul Sanborne, of Spring Lake, New Jersey, and a son, Bernhard Stroh IV, also of Grosse Pointe.

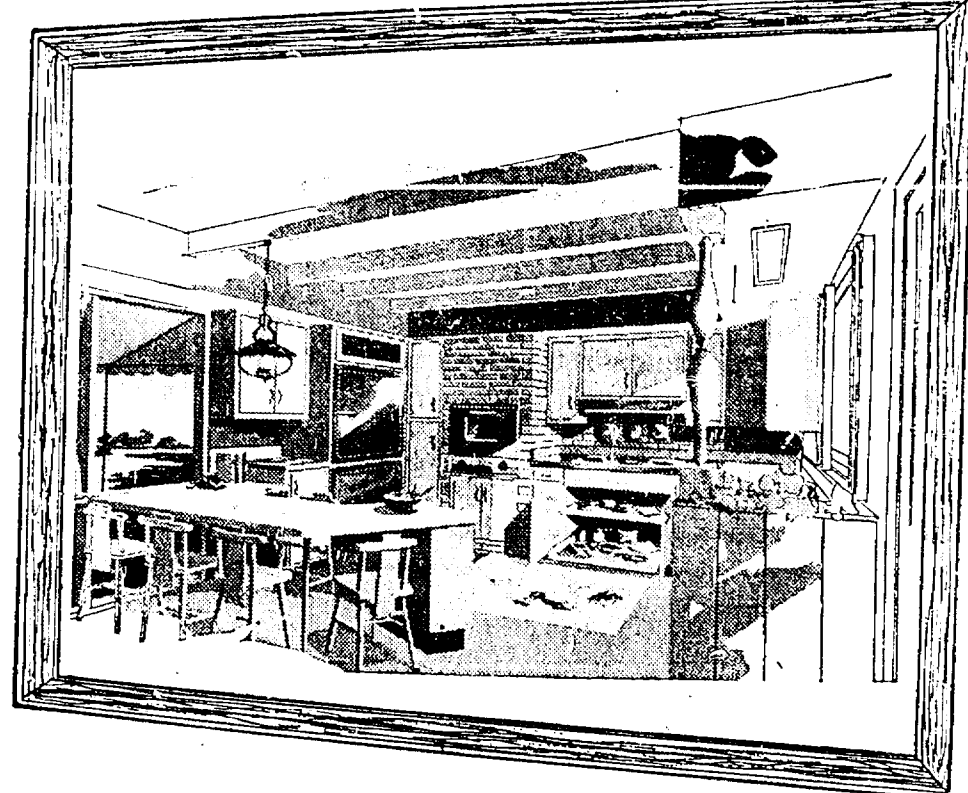

Services were held Monday, January 23, from William R. Hamilton company and Christ Church. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

Voters' League Studying Metropolitan Problems

Metropolitan Problems and Saving the Core City were the areas of discussion at the January unit meetings of the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe. Mrs. Harold E. Jinks in opening the Tuesday evening unit discussed the nature of the problem.

Six counties comprise the Detroit Metropolitan Area. Many of the problems arising in these counties cannot be solved without crossing over the boundaries of local units of government. As cities increase in size and people move out of the cities into the suburbs the problems become more complex. Services such as schools, police protection, water, sanitation and the like are not the greatest of metropolitan problems. However, although services have been sufficient, research indicates that present ways will not continue to be adequate.

Mrs. Jinks stated that two great needs in metropolitan areas are 1) planning and guiding metropolitan growth for the good of all the people, and 2) more equitable distribution of costs between the core city and its outlying areas.

The United States was chiefly rural until 1875. Then the great shift to the cities began. Whereas six per cent of the population of the country lived in cities in 1900, the urban population had become 59 per cent by 1959. In 1925 a second population shift began toward metropolitan areas around "core cities". The United States Census Bureau places the 1960 population at 179.5 million, with about 109 million of these living in metropolitan areas. There are now 192 metropolitan areas in the United States. Eight of these areas are in Michigan. These are the rapid growth areas in the nation to which the new population will attach.

Predictions indicate a United States population of 300 million in the year 2000. Anticipated is a 100 mile strip of dense population from New York through Detroit and Chicago and into Wisconsin. Three other solid areas will be located along 1) the Atlantic Coast, 2) the Gulf, and 3) the Pacific Coast.

Within metropolitan areas a significant redistribution of economic activities from central cities to fringe areas is taking place. As the suburbs grow and prosper, the core of the central city deteriorates. The old residential and industrial areas become blighted, transportation becomes congested, increased services are required while at the same time there is a lowering of the tax base.

League members were framing such questions as: How can the core city which is the cultural center of the area look to the suburbs and outlying areas for financial support? What methods can be used to help citizens plan the growth of metropolitan areas? (Michigan is the first state to attempt a state-wide study of metropolitan problems.) Can metropolitan problems be solved under existing Michigan law?

Mrs. Leonard Slowin asked, "How can the Core City be saved?" She suggested several possible ways: 1) annexation of surrounding areas to the Core City, 2) creation of Metropolitan Authorities to perform one or more municipal type services over a natural area without regard for local governmental boundaries. (An example of this is the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority created in 1939.) 3) Inter-governmental cooperation. An example of this type is the Supervisors Inter-County Committee, a voluntary organization of supervisors of six counties in the Detroit area. This committee was the first of its kind in the country and has since been copied by New York and San Francisco. Others of the 10 Authorities in the Detroit Metropolitan Area are the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission and the Detroit-Wayne Joint Building Authority.

League members felt strongly that an informed and interested citizenry was necessary for the solution of many of the metropolitan problems. It was brought out that the magnitude of the problem was bringing about the need for a cabinet-level department to deal with the problem of cities. St. Louis Metroplex Assembly was discussed as the method used in that city to inform citizens and enable them to participate in the thought, planning and ac-

Search for Man On Ice Fruitless

A report from Park police January 22 that a person may have been spotted on the ice on Lake St. Clair out from the City pier, sparked a five-hour all-out search by City Police and the Coast Guard which proved fruitless.

At 5:33 p.m., City Police said they were warned by the Park that a man may have been sighted out on the ice, far from shore. Park observers who had been looking through binoculars, said they thought they saw a man in a red hunting suit and possibly another person far out from the City pier.

City Police Officers Richard Elsworth and Thomas McLaughlin went to the pier and said they could see some object out on the ice but could not be certain that it was a person.

At 5:45, with darkness approaching, the City Police notified the Coast Guard which sent out a truck carrying a boat to the scene. At 6:11, the Coast Guard sent out a larger boat by water from the station on Belle Isle.

City Police said that the Coast Guard used a portable radio to communicate to the officers on shore, and at 7:56 they reported from the boat that there was no sign of anybody on the ice.

At 9:20 a helicopter arrived from Selfridge Field which circled the area and dropped flares. By 10:53 p.m., the Coast Guard and helicopter agreed that no one was on the ice.

Officers Elsworth and McLaughlin then left their post on the City dock and the search was abandoned.

GM CAR PRODUCTION

General Motors produced 326,239 passenger cars and trucks in the United States and Canada during December, as compared with 251,282 during December, 1959. Of the total vehicles produced by GM during December, 288,784 were passenger cars and 37,455 were trucks.

Crime Prevention Advice Gets Excellent Results

The recent series of crime prevention advice published in the NEWS has produced excellent results, according to information received from the police chiefs of the Pointe.

An alerted citizenry have called in many suspicious activities and persons, all promptly investigated by police officers of the respective departments.

Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, spokesman for the other chiefs, said that because of the good response to the articles by the citizens, the series will continue, with the following pertaining to baby-sitters:

Parents leaving their children at any time, assume that the girl they hire as a baby-sitter, is an able, intelligent, mature and responsible person. But before leaving the house, with the children in the care of a baby-sitter, parents should make certain that the sitter knows how and where to get in touch with them in case of emergencies; knows which neighbor to call in emergencies; knows how to lock doors and windows; and if she has company, if it is permitted, they are approved by the sitter's employers. Better still—allow no company.

To put it bluntly, some people are indiscriminate in their selection of baby-sitters, choosing a girl only because she is available and asks very little pay. There are very few girls between the ages of 11 and 14 years who are able to assume the responsibility for the security of a home and children.

Parents should make their requirements rigid, and if necessary, carry on a training program of their own by first staying away only a short time. As time progresses, and the sitter is called in more often to care for the children, the length of time parents stay away should be increased until the sitter acustoms herself to the job, and is thoroughly indoctrinated in how to handle any situation.

Even if employers assume their baby-sitters are honest, they should not tempt her by leaving money or valuables in places where the sitters could yield to sudden impulse.

References have a limited value, although it is recommended that these be presented when employers are hiring for the first time. Bear in mind, however, that because children like a sitter and get along with her, is not sufficient reason for employing the sitter regularly.

The safety of your baby-sitter, as much as your absence will allow, is the responsibility of the employer. Be positive that she knows how to lock windows and doors; that she knows how to use your gas or electric range, or other gas and electrical appliances she may have to use.

Leave doctor, police and fire department phone numbers handy. Call several times while you are away to make sure everything is all right.

Be sure that the baby-sitter gets home safely. You've placed a lot of responsibility on the shoulders of the young girl. With your help and encouragement, she can become a great help in running your household, and in preparing herself for her own job, one day, as manager of a home.

College Choir To Give Concert

The 75-voice Knox College Choir, Galesburg, Ill., under the direction of Creston Klingman, will present a concert at the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church on Thursday, February 2, at 8 p.m.

The concert is being sponsored by the Senior High School Pilgrim Fellowship of the Church. The public is invited to attend. An offering will be taken to defray the expenses of the tour.

The long and distinguished career of the Knox College Choir resulted in their being chosen by the United States State Department as one of three official college choral groups to represent the United States at the Brussels World's Fair in 1958. During a six week tour the singers also performed in 17 major cities in nine European countries. The choir has also toured extensively in the United States and has been received with acclaim.

Professor Klingman has wide experience in college musical performance. He holds a Master of Music degree from the University of Michigan and has completed his work for the Ph. D. degree at the University of Kansas.

The wide range of musical offering for the current concert will include baroque to contemporary sacred music, spirituals, folk songs and selections from current Broadway favorites.

For further information concerning the concert call TU 4-5864.

Help Dedicate United Foundation Building

"Very Important Persons" in last week's dedication ceremonies for the new Foundation headquarters were members of the Ford and Emory Clark families who donated the building's auditorium and executive committee room, respectively. Representing their families (from left to right) were MR. and MRS. WALTER B.

FORD II, WILLIAM REVE CLARK and MR. and MRS. BENSON FORD. The six story Woodward Avenue building, which is now "home" to the 54-man U. F. staff and several Torch Drive agencies, and $455,000. for remodeling were donated to the U. F. by the Kresge Foundation.

Harmony Reigns At GOP Meeting

Harmony prevailed at last week's 14th District Convention of the Republican Party held in the Grosse Pointe High School January 18.

Over 300 party workers attended the evening session presided over by Charles Lasky, who has held many important posts in the District organization. The 14th District includes the Grosse Pointes, Harper Woods and part of the east side of Detroit.

Chairman of Credentials was Ed Jablonski, 8353 House. Richard Durant, vice chairman of the district, chaired the resolutions committee. Others in charge of convention committees were District Chairman Stanley J. Baldwin, 3874 Lakepointe, state convention delegates; Mrs. Jeanne Congdon, 436 Barclay, rules and order of business; Robert Frost, 13091 Camden, caucus arrangements.

Seventy-eight delegates and an equal number of alternates were announced for the state convention to be held at Cobo Hall February 4. Rockwell T. Gust, Jr., 55 Muskoka, was named chairman of the delegation, with Clayton Braathen, 929 Westchester, as vice chairman.

The 14th District Republican Convention also went on record with several important resolutions. One was aimed to exclude Communist speakers from state colleges and universities; another concerned reduction in unnecessary and costly educational courses which are not directly related to the essentials of sound education; and a third emphasized liberalization of present inflexible teacher certification requirements which prohibit the employment of outstanding individuals who have not included teacher training in their education.

Three candidates for the February 4 Republican State Convention at Cobo Hall were also endorsed. They are Mrs. Lois V. Nair, 8120 E. Jefferson, endorsed for vice chairman of the Republican State Central Committee; George R. McMullen, 16832 St. Paul, candidate for the Michigan State University Board of Trustees; and John Pingel, also a candidate for one of the two positions open on the Board at Michigan State University.

In preparation for the February 4 convention, District Chairman Baldwin also announced that there will be a caucus at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel on the evening of Friday, February 3.

Joseph Hudson Earns Title Of 'Young Man of the Year'

Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., a resident of the Pointe, and vice president and general manager of J. L. Hudson Company, received the 1960 Distinguished Service Award of the Detroit Junior Board of Commerce, and given the title of "Young Man of the Year" in the Detroit Metropolitan area.

Hudson established his reputation as a civic leader by serving in a number of Detroit organizations. He is a director of the National Bank of Detroit, Citizens Research Council of Michigan, Committee on Michigan's Economic Future, Detroit Symphony, William H. Miller and Company, Michigan Retailers Association, Retail Merchants Association, and the Southeastern Michigan and Metropolitan Community Research Corporation.

He is on the executive committee of the Associated Merchandising Corporation, a corporate member of the Boys' Club of Detroit, director and vice president of the United Foundation and of Harper Hospital.

Hudson is a native of Buffalo and is the grand nephew of the founder of the department store he now serves, the second largest in the world. He was graduated from Yale in 1953, with a bachelor's degree in economics.

He and his wife Jean live at 408 Washington road with their three children: Joseph L. Hudson IV, 7; Jean Croy, 5; and Richard Webber, 2½.

Hudson is a member of the Country Club of Detroit, Detroit Athletic Club, the Economic Club of Detroit, Grosse Pointe Club, Detroit Club, and the University Club. He is an elder of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Woods Council, Mayor Split on March of Dimes

Woods Council members split with Mayor Kenneth Koppin January 23 and decided to endorse a proclamation in behalf of the 1961 New March of Dimes, over the Mayor's strong protest.

Council members denied that they had ever decided in an informal meeting not to support the drive, as the Mayor had reported a week ago. Then they approved the proclamation by a vote of six to one and authorized the Mayor to sign it.

Koppin then stated that he could not, in good conscience, sign the proclamation, despite the instructions of his Council. Kenneth R. McLeod, mayor pro tem of the Woods, offered to sign the document on behalf of the Council and the offer was accepted.

Koppin gave three main reasons why he would not sign the proclamation supporting the New March of Dimes. He said he had studied the matter and found no evidence that a large percent of funds contributed would be used to help residents of the Woods or even of Wayne county, but would be distributed nationally.

He said that all three of the problems receiving financial benefit were aided through Detroit's Torch Drive, to which Woods residents have already contributed generously. Finally, the Mayor said that he had been unable to find any statement as to collection costs of the March of Dimes, but doubted they were as low as the Torch Drive figure of five percent.

Koppin said he was not doubting the sincerity of March of Dimes organizers, but that donors should be assured that a very large portion of their charity dollars actually is used for the purpose it is intended and not for administrative costs.

In signing the proclamation which has already been endorsed by the other Pontes, Mayor Pro Tem McLeod set aside the month of January as New March of Dimes month in the Woods and urged all residents, on behalf of the Council, to support the drive.

The National Foundation, which is supported by the March of Dimes, has traditionally devoted its efforts to conquering paralytic polio. Since the development of the Salk vaccine and consequent reduction in the number of polio cases, the organization has taken on two other major health problems, birth defects and arthritis, in addition to polio.

Because of the recent area crime wave, the traditional Mothers March for the campaign will be held on Sunday, January 29, instead of the evening of January 31, as originally planned.

Gets Wings

(AHTNC)—Army 2d Lt. Lewis H. Whitaker, Jr., whose parents live at 1931 Oxford, Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich., recently completed the airborne course at The Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

Lieutenant Whitaker received his paratrooper wings after completing four weeks of intensive ground and aerial training and instruction in the methods of air transportation and aerial delivery.

The Infantry School, after 39 years of operation, continues to prepare a better infantry for our army by initiating action leading toward the formulation of new, and the revision of old infantry, airborne and ranger doctrine and techniques—with emphasis placed on the art of command.

Lieutenant Whitaker entered the army last August.

A member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, the lieutenant is a 1954 graduate of Edwin Denby High School, Detroit, and a 1960 graduate of Eastern Michigan College.

HUBCAPS STOLEN

William C. Medley, 27, of 2100 Hunt Club, lost two spinner-type hubcaps from his car to thieves on Tuesday, January 17, while the vehicle was parked in the driveway alongside his house. Woods police recorded the loss.

Parley on Church-City Zoning Battle Postponed

A pre-trial conference, in a suit filed by the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church against the City, was postponed from Friday, January 20 to Friday, January 27, by Circuit Judge George E. Bowles.

The church is appealing a ruling of the city, denying it the right to construct a new church building on property purchased at Jefferson and Rathbone place last July, on the grounds the edifice would be in violation of a residential zoning ordinance.

Judge Bowles said that he postponed the conference because he was informed that the matter was also up for a hearing on a motion to declare the ordinance invalid.

Friday afternoon, a motion to permit residents of Rathbone place to intervene, and a motion to declare the City ordinance invalid, were presented to Circuit Judge Joseph G. Rashid, who denied the first motion.

In the motion on declaring the ordinance invalid, Judge Rashid said that since the matter has been assigned to Judge Bowles for a pre-trial conference, and since he did not know in whose court the issue will be heard, he could take no action.

The Pointe Unitarian Church filed a Petition of Declaration of Rights in Circuit Court last June asking that the court declare void "those provisions of the Zoning Ordinance which purpose to prohibit the expansion of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church."

In June, 1959, the City council granted the church an exception to the zoning ordinance that would allow it to build, but following much discussion, plus petitions of objections filed by Rathbone place residents, neighbors of the church, the council voted to rescind its action on January 21, 1960.

Many Prizes Offered in Big Contest

Pointe Boys and Girls Invited to Try Their Skill in Gas Company Competition

A big coloring contest, sponsored by the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, just for Pointe boys and girls, begins today, with this issue of the Grosse Pointe News and will continue for two weeks.

The cowboy, who can be seen on another part of this page, is waiting to be colored by all children under 12. He carries a giant bag of prizes which will be awarded to everyone who enters the contest.

Each child may enter the contest in one of three categories, according to his age. These groups are for boys and girls age three to six, boys and girls from six to nine, and children from nine to 12.

Total of 84 Prizes
A total of 84 prizes will be awarded to winners in all categories. First prizes will be bicycles, or a tricycle for the youngest winner. Second prize winners will receive painting sets, and third prizes will be roller skates. Free candy and comic books will be given to all children who enter.

Here is what the boys and girls should do to enter this contest. Color the cowboy who appears in the Michigan Consolidated Gas company advertisement on this page. Then sign your name and have a parent sign that you did the coloring without help. Address, school, and grade should also be given.

Completed colorings should then be taken to the Mack 7-Mile Office of the Michigan Consolidated Gas company by noon, February 11.

Should Interest All
This contest, conducted by the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, is designed to afford a congenial pastime for children and provide helpful information for their parents as well.

The Gas company believes that Pointe parents and residents of the Park and City in particular may wish to take this opportunity to examine their smokeless, odorless incinerators with regard to the city ordinances on waste which will go into effect soon.

Residents of the Park have until July 1 and City residents until October to decide how they can best dispose of their own garbage. They have their choice of installing approved smokeless, odorless incinerators, which will dispose of 65 percent of all rubbish, or garbage grinders. Persons who find these solutions impracticable will have to pay a charge to have their garbage picked up.

This Color-the-Cowboy contest, then, is aimed at everyone and is open to all with the exception of the families of employees of the Grosse Pointe News, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, and its advertising agency.

There is no restriction on the number of entries allowed by any one child. Winners' names will be published in this newspaper on February 23 and prizes will be awarded February 25 at the Mack-7 Mile office of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company.

Judges for the contest will be from the Pointe and their names will be published in the next issue of the News.

INJURED IN FALL
Martha Scott of 699 Lake Shore, an employee of the R. E. Danakers of that address, slipped and fell in the house and gashed her scalp on Wednesday, January 18. She was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by Shores ambulance for treatment and released.

Prizes in Gas Company Contest

This display in the window of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's office at Mack and 7 Mile contains just a few of the 84 prizes which will be awarded Pointe girls and boys on February 25. To become eligible to win one of the bicycles, painting sets or pair of roller skates, children from three to 12 are invited to enter the big Color-the-Cowboy contest which starts this week. The advertisement and story on this page tell all the details.

City Engineers Plug Big Leak

The water leak, which has cost Grosse Pointe City taxpayers more than $3,500 in lost water, was repaired this week, according to City Manager Lawrence Savage.

Savage said that the engineers' preliminary decision that the trouble spot was in Rivard between St. Paul and Kercheval proved to be correct and that workers have repaired "a large hole" in the pipe.

Soon after the leak was repaired, Savage said he was notified by the Farms that a corresponding decrease on the water meters was evident, proving that the difficulty had been corrected.

Savage said that engineers have investigated reports of other apparent leaks in the City water system. He said just one additional leak, a small one on Kercheval near Jacobson's, has been found and it will also be repaired without delay.

The original large hole in the pipe in Rivard boulevard was discovered after the City was advised by the Farms last week that water readings for the past quarter were 50 to 75 per cent over what they should be, indicating a leak somewhere in the mains. The defect cost City taxpayers roughly $40 a day.

The City purchases water from the Farms and in turn sells it to City residents.

Caught Driving 70 on Mack

City police ticketed Donald Howard Miller, 5817 Marselles, Detroit, for reckless driving on January 22, and held him at the police station, Waumee avenue, until his father posted a $50 bond in his name.

Police Officers James Cronin and Edward Benthuis observed Miller driving on Mack avenue near Lakeland in a reckless manner at a speed of 70 miles an hour.

At the station, he told police that he had been drinking and playing cards with friends. He will appear in City Court at a later date to answer the charge of reckless driving.

DRIVER CONVICTED
John C. Gajowiak of 18705 Albany, Detroit, was convicted of speeding on Lake Shore at a hearing before Shores Judge John Gillis on Monday, January 16. The motorist was fined 25 dollars, ordered not to drive for 30 days, and put on probation for one year.

FBI Graduates Elect Officers

The Michigan Chapter of FBI National Academy Graduates held its annual business meeting at Belle Isle Casino on Friday, January 20, and elected officers for 1961.

Attending the annual affair were 35 graduates of the FBI National Police Academy in Washington, D.C., and approximately 80 FBI agents, including Detroit Special Agent-in-Charge Donald Hostetter.

Among the graduates who were at the meeting were Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, City Police Capt. Andrew Teetaert and Harper Woods Police Chief Allen Miglio.

Following the business meeting, members of the organization elected the following to serve as officers during the year: Flint Police Capt. Loren Herforth, president; Lt. Don DeBoer of the Kent County Sheriff's Department, first vice-president; Michigan State Police Lt. Jack Foster, second vice-president; and Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, secretary-treasurer.

Pointe Chorus Now Enrolling

The second and final registration for membership in the Grosse Pointe Community Chorus will be held at Parcels Junior High School, Mack avenue at Vernier Road on Tuesday, January 31 at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone over high school age is eligible for membership. There is no audition requirement. The registration fee is $4.50.

The program now in rehearsal includes sacred music by Brahms, Mendelssohn and Randall Thompson; folk songs, Negro spirituals, a patriotic selection and some choruses from the current Broadway success "Sound of Music".

The chorus is co-sponsored by its own board of directors and the Department of Community Services, Grosse Pointe Board of Education. It was founded by Malcolm McLean Johns in January, 1953.

Donald Simmons, vocal music teacher at Parcels Junior High School and director of the Youth Choir at the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church will be preparing his eighth concert as conductor of the group. Mary Freda is the accompanist.

Anyone wishing further information concerning the chorus may call TU 4-5964.

Dale Carnegie Course Offered

A new Dale Carnegie Leadership Training Course of fifteen weeks duration will be offered at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center beginning Monday evening, February 6, from 7 to 11 p.m.

Essentially, it is the best known and proven effective course existing in leadership, public speaking, salesmanship and human relations. Founded in 1912, Dale Carnegie can claim with pride over 750,000 graduates in more than 11,000 cities in the United States, Canada and the major capitals around the world.

Nearly all large major business concerns encourage and in many instances finance their young executives and supervisors who take the Dale Carnegie Course. Through Dale Carnegie one can acquire poise and self-confidence, learn to make enthusiasm work for him, develop courage to think and speak on his feet, control his fears and worries, make his conversation interesting, win others to his ideas, enhance his ability to remember, learn to handle himself and be himself and finally increase his income through increasing his abilities and manner of getting along with others.

The instructors for the Dale Carnegie classes are carefully chosen from among educators, business executives, attorneys and sales and public relations figures. They are skilled and trained in putting across Mr. Carnegie's principles.

All who are interested in taking the course are encouraged to come to the first session on Monday, February 6. Attendance at this meeting in no way obligates them. Tuition is $135 including books and supplies. Married couples may enroll for $115 each.

Stranded Driver Causes Nuisance

Richard Dennis Bracken, 21, of 1012 Whittier road, was held overnight at the City Police station January 23 for disorderly conduct while trying to telephone a service station to fix his automobile.

Police said they picked up Bracken at the Stalens apartments, 17540 Mack avenue, late at night. Officers Duncan MacEachern and James Cronin found him ringing all the doorbells and causing a disturbance in the hallway.

He had been drinking, they said, and was apparently trying to find help in starting his car, which was parked across the street. He had no driver's license or car registration with him.

Tradition is a custom that has stood the test of time.

Paul Henry Again Plans Popular Tour to Hawaii

Paul Henry, veteran Detroit travel agent, will operate his annual spring tour to Hawaii leaving March 25. This is the sixth annual departure of this popular trip. This year's schedule is greatly improved as the tour will leave Detroit at 10 a.m. by jet plane and—just think—will arrive in Honolulu at 5:25 p.m. (Honolulu time) the same day.

The special-rate, once-a-year trip is one of the highlights of the Paul Henry Travel Service program. The tour, a 15-day junket, will be directed by Leo Henry, who is well known among Detroiters having conducted hundreds of Michigan folks on various tours for the past 20 years. A longer stay in Hawaii has been made available for those who wish to extend their vacation.

A very low rate of $697 has been arranged for the trip. Upon arrival in Hawaii, the members of the tour will be welcomed at the airport with the usual presentation of leis for each member before being transferred by limousine to the hotel. The beautiful Princess Kauiulani, the newest of the Sheraton hotels in Waikiki, has again been selected for the party's stay in Honolulu.

On account of the popularity of this hotel, a 200-room addition has just been completed and the management has reserved a block of rooms in this new section for the tour. Mr. Henry has planned many interesting features in connection with the annual trip. Sightseeing trips will include an all-day circle tour of the island of Oahu, a fascinating trip to Mt. Tantalus, and a thrilling cruise by Catamaran to Pearl Harbor. Other features include the annual banquet at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel and a Malihini dinner at the Princess Kauiulani.

PAUL HENRY

Of all the tourist attractions Paul Henry has visited throughout the world he reports Hawaii inquiries are heading the list this year and he attributes this to the great interest in Hawaii since it has become our fiftieth state. The tour group will be limited in size. On account of the increasing popularity of the islands, last year's tour was sold out five weeks before departure and it was impossible to obtain a single additional plane seat or a single additional hotel room for the disappointed folk who had not booked in time. It is necessary to obtain reservations early as the hotels are anticipating a very heavy spring season.

Information regarding the tour can be had by phoning Paul Henry Travel Service, Inc., 208 Washington Blvd. Bldg., Detroit 26, Michigan, Woodward 1-7075.

Expert on Education Talks To Motion Picture Council

"Since 1950, we have probably learned more about the world than in all preceding years, and we should expect to double our knowledge every 10 years", Ronald Buehler, curriculum assistant of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, told members of the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture and Television Council at their general meeting, Monday, January 16, at the Main Library.

Mr. Buehler described his work as curator of instructional materials to make learning easier. He has a library of 650 films for children in kindergarten through grade 12, and rents an additional thousand every year from many universities. The films alone are an investment of $100,000. In his care are 2,200 film strips, many slides, some 10,000 study prints, 1,000 records, 20,000 sets of books on separate subjects, and many projectors.

"The vast new areas of learning we are exploring and plan to explore in Grosse Pointe keep my job stimulating", the speaker continued. "With old theories of learning being shattered like window panes, we are not so sure as we were 20 years ago that we know how people learn. Five factors, however, still are true; 1. we learn what interests us; 2. by motivation; 3. by repetition; 4. by association; and 5. by solving problems."

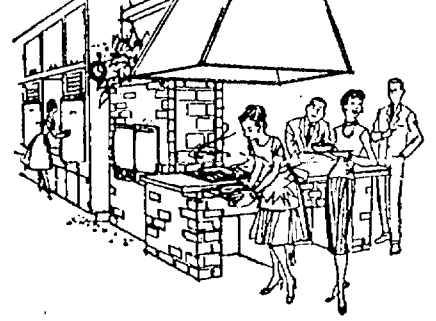

While welcoming each learning innovation and introducing some such as language laboratories and micro-projectors, Mr. Buehler thought teaching machines and television teaching should be used in Grosse Pointe with some reserve. Nor should we be disappointed if the experiment with Airborne television at the Defer, Mason, and Kerby schools fizzles because we are located in Zone D with respect to the broadcasting area at Purdue University which is Zone A. Mr. Buehler explained that using an UHF or ultra high frequency band depends upon the receiver being theoretically within sight and that the curvature of the earth or high obstructions may affect reception in Zone D.

"Actually, closed circuit TV holds more appeal for Grosse Pointe schools than does Airborne," said Mr. Buehler, "and

I regret that it is just too expensive. Michigan Bell Telephone would charge us $35,000 yearly just to connect the schools with co-axial cable. With closed circuit TV, one teacher can teach and also watch three classrooms at once.

Judge Rashid To Talk Here

Judge Joseph G. Rashid, Circuit Court Judge for Wayne County will speak on "Your Children and Decent Literature" on Tuesday, February 7, at 8:15 p.m. in St. Ambrose Hall, Maryland and Hampton roads.

Judge Rashid has been an instructor in criminal law for eight years at the University of Detroit where he received his law degree in 1938. While a sophomore in college there, he was awarded the coveted Skinner Debate Medal, won the Intercollegiate Oratorical Medal and in his junior year, was appointed to Pi Kappa Delta, National Honorary Forensic Fraternity and the Activities Honor Society. He is now serving as Judge of the Third Judicial Court of Michigan (Wayne County), having been re-elected in 1959 for a six year term.

Parents who have teen-agers in the family and anyone working with youth organizations in the community are especially urged to attend. The meeting will be open to the public without charge.

Draft Board Gets Citation

Selective Service Local Board No. 103 for Wayne County has received a certificate of appreciation and a citation from State Headquarters in recognition of its 20 years of patriotic public service in meeting the nation's military manpower needs, it was announced by Harold G. Phelps, chairman.

The citation received from Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state director, stated that Michigan local boards have registered more than three million of our young men, accomplished the induction or enlistment of 1.1 million and insured essential civilian manpower for our schools, farms and factories.

"To current members of Wayne County Local Board No. 103, who are carrying on this high tradition of public service, go the respect and appreciation of a grateful community and state. In no small measure they have contributed to our security and demonstrated how a free people can band together in the common defense."

Members of the Wayne County Local Board in addition to Mr. Phelps, are: Herbert M. Earl, James L. Hill and A. F. Lippitt. All are from the Pointe.

Trade Fair Set By Teenagers

Local small time business tycoons have made big plans for next week's 1961 Junior Achievement Week in Eastside Detroit.

The junior business executives—better known as Achievers—will display and sell scores of locally produced merchandise at marked down prices in a trade fair atmosphere complete with exhibits, grand prizes and souvenirs.

On hand for the affair will be outstanding Achievers, teenage salesmen, adult advisers and Mr. and Miss Achievement who will welcome visitors to one of the world's few teenage trade fair exhibitions.

Shiny new products fresh from the production line will offer trade fair visitors a wide range of merchandise in different price categories.

The local trade fair exhibition will be open to the public on Monday, January 30, from 5-9 p.m. and will be held at the Junior Achievement business center located at 16401 Harper avenue at Audubon.

Last year an estimated 1,000 persons attended the event locally with some 11,000 people visiting 16 Junior Achievement trade fairs throughout southeastern Michigan. In all, $5,000 worth of JA merchandise was bought by the general public.

National Junior Achievement Week which runs from January 29 through February 4 will honor the 4,200 JA companies and 70,000 teenagers now active in the organization in 42 states including Hawaii.

Other JA Week highlights include the JA Presidents Banquet to be held in Detroit on February 1 with advertising executive Thomas B. Adams, president of the Campbell-Ewald Company as the main speaker and JA's eleventh annual Sno-Ball to be held at Cobo Hall in Detroit, February 3. The Sno-Ball which will be held in the River Front Ballroom is open to the public and will feature Richard Maltby and his orchestra. Tickets can be purchased at Cobo Hall the night of the dance for $3.50 per couple. Hours of the dance are 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

To Give Talk On Education

"Is Modern Education Antiquated?" will be the theme of Helen Kirkpatrick's talk at Detroit Town Hall on Wednesday, Feb. 1.

Miss Kirkpatrick, who is a trustee of Mills and Smith colleges, as well as Katherine Branson and The Masters schools, has had long experience in the field of education. She served as assistant to the president of Smith College, her alma mater, as well as on the governor's commission on education in California.

Her lecture, scheduled for 11 a.m. in Ford Auditorium, will be followed by a luncheon at the Pick-Fort Shelby Hotel.

Some of the questions she will answer: Does U.S. education reflect our own ideals and beliefs, or does it simply "react" to ideas current in other parts of the world? What are our current educational dilemmas?

Miss Kirkpatrick began her career as a newspaper woman with the Chicago Daily News and later for the New York Post. Her assignments ranged all over Europe, North Africa and Russia. She has served as ECA Director of Information for France, and in the state department under Dean Acheson and John Foster Dulles.

Tickets are available at Grinnell's, WO 2-1124, or at Ford Auditorium the morning of the lecture.

Offer Children Classes in Art

After school art classes are offered to Grosse Pointe children, ages 6-10, Tuesday beginning January 31, and ages 10-14 Thursday afternoons beginning February 2. Both classes are held in the Terrace Room Studio of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial looking out on Lake St. Clair and on the terrace itself and grounds when spring weather becomes warm enough.

This "Art For Fun" course extends for 16 weeks and is offered for $24 plus $2.50 for materials. Margheritta Leud is the instructor for both these art classes as she has been for the past several years. Mrs. Leud, the mother of several young children herself, knows how to develop young talent and make it enjoyable at the same time.

The young people are encouraged to work in any media which appeals to them and create imaginatively. Thus scraps of paper become colorful collages, and wire coat hangers turn into fanciful statuary.

Mrs. Leud is a Sarah Lawrence art major, a graduate of the Corcoran Art Gallery School, Washington, D.C. and former instructor in the National Cathedral School. Advance enrollment is advised at the Center (TU 1-7511).

Burglar Cousins Convicted In Detroit Recorder's Court

Two Detroit cousins who confessed to a series of burglaries and armed robberies in the Detroit area, including the Pointe, were convicted and sentenced in Detroit Recorder's Court on Thursday, January 19.

Raymond Laethem, 19, a second offender, was sentenced to from 2 to 10 years in Jackson Prison; and James Kleiner, 27, because of no previous convictions, was given six months in the Detroit House of Correction, and three years' probation.

Laethem and Kleiner both live at 2927 Lenox, Detroit, where they were arrested by Detroit authorities last December 5.

Although the pair confessed to burglaries and armed robberies in the Pointe, Detroit, East Harper Woods, St. Clair Shores and Roseville, they were prosecuted on a specific crime charge filed against them by Detroit police.

Laethem and Kleiner confessed to these house burglaries and armed robberies in the Pointe:

Woods:—Mrs. Margaret Harley, 621 S. Oxford, on December 12, 1959; and H. Burton Jones, 19888 Thorn Tree, on November 11, 1960.

Farms:—George F. Stellberg, 271 Moran, on October 20, 1960; David Hamilton, 349 Merriweather, on October 21, 1960; and the armed robbery of the Club Party Store, 383 Kercheval, on November 14, 1960.

City:—Fannie Allen, 728 Washington, November 12, 1959; and Evelyn Legato, 885 Lincoln road, on the same day. Shores:—Mrs. Sherwood Reekie, 79 Renaud, on November 12, 1959.

The University of Detroit Institute for Business Services gives eight week non credit courses in adult education for the residents of Metropolitan Detroit. The U. of D. Institute offers one of the largest programs in the country.

Adults Offered Course in Chess

A course in chess for beginners and players is being offered at Community Service Center, 43 Grosse Pointe boulevard, to start on Thursday, February 2, 7:30 p.m. for a 10-week period.

Stephan Popel, Master of French and American Chess Federation, will be the instructor. Mr. Popel came to this country in 1956 from Paris, France, at which time he was Chess Champion of Paris.

Being a teacher of foreign languages by profession—he speaks and teaches five languages—Mr. Popel lists chess as his hobby. However, he has received many honors for his skill in this game. He held the Championship of Paris from 1953 until he came to this country, and won the Championship of Michigan in 1957. He won the North Central Open, making him the Champion of the Old Northwest, and in January of 1960, he captured the Championship of Ohio.

For class reservation call the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, 43 Grosse Pointe boulevard, at TU 5-3808 or TU 5-0271.

Talks Himself Into Trouble

Park police arrested two juveniles on Saturday, January 21, and charged them with vandalism. The arrests followed a complaint made by one of the juveniles, who just had to stop to talk to a resident.

The juveniles, both 15-year-old boys, had been having a gay time turning on fire hydrants in the vicinity of Harvard and Kercheval.

After watching the water gushing out into the street, one boy rang the door bell of a home in the area and told the answering resident that someone had turned on the hydrants and water was "going all over h—"

The resident called authorities, and gave investigating officers a description of the boy, who was later taken into custody. The boy confessed he and his companion were responsible. The second boy was apprehended.

Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said that the boys were turned over to officers of the Detective Bureau, who will file charges against the lads in Juvenile Court.

To Meet at City Club

The February 2, meeting of the Detroit Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will be held at the Women's City Club.

This is to be a luncheon meeting beginning at 12 o'clock after which Mr. Henry Forster is to speak to the group on "Gift of Flowers For Today's Living."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Edgar:—Your editorial of last Thursday spoke of consolidating the various Grosse Pointe communities and made the suggestion that here might be a good project for the Senior Men's Club. The idea of consolidating some or all of the Pointes, as you say, "has been kicked around" for many years. It was being mentioned before your paper began to be published, and even before I first began to live here.

You have been one of the most ardent and faithful proponents of the consolidation idea although at intervals others have argued its pros and cons. You mentioned the Citizens Research Council survey of 1958, a survey made at the invitation of the Mayors of the City, Farms and Parks. It is a matter of record that this survey aroused little or no interest. For example, the League of Women Voters held an open meeting at the Unitarian Church to discuss the survey and only 33 persons attended, and many of those were officials there by special request. This certainly shows a lack of interest by the general public.

Your editorial gives a bouquet to local governing officials who favor consolidation but says the idea has been blocked because there are too many officials with the "big frog in the little puddle" attitude. I do not think this is the real difficulty. I think all our elected officials have a deep desire to serve their communities, and I think they are all ready to back any improvement in local government that the people will accept—even improvements that will abolish the positions.

I think it is a question of what do the people want. While I have met citizens who would favor consolidation, there seem to be many more, who, satisfied with the way things are and apprehensive of any change demand some compelling reason before they would favor consolidation—something more than a forecast of dollar savings and operating efficiencies. Some seem to prefer a small unit of government even though it may cost more and others seem not to believe the forecasts given in the survey.

If there is any real core of sentiment in favor of consolidation it should make itself heard, and perhaps the Senior Men's Club which you mentioned is the place to start. Further, it is not enough for favorable sentiment to develop in one community; it must develop in at least two adjacent communities, for both communities must be in favor of any consolidation before it can be brought about. I also add that the present laws make the consolidation process unnecessarily difficult: three elections are required in each community and there is no way to set up separate taxing districts so that each could continue to pay off its own debt. As the number of units increase all this begins to be exceptionally cumbersome. It may well be that any discussion ought to be concerned with only two or three communities if it is to have any chance of developing into a practical suggestion, and even here new legislation may well be necessary.

If some amount of public interest is developed in two neighboring communities, I am sure the Councils will take heed of it. They will be ready to give information, to give the results of studies that have been made, to make suggestions for new legislation which would simplify the consolidation process and make it easier to protect the interests of the separate communities entering into the consolidation, and to give any other help that might be requested.

Until such citizen interest makes itself heard, at least in some small degree, the officials will naturally assume that there is little or no desire on the part of our constituents to combine into one city.

Kenneth W. Cunningham, Mayor, City of Grosse Pointe Park

To the Editor:—Unfortunately, some dog owners in Grosse Pointe Park love dogs, but NOT PEOPLE! Let the dog do what he wants—as long as it's on someone else's property! Let the other fellow worry about the clean-up and filth left behind! What ever happened to "Love thy neighbor"?

Every Grosse Pointe Park Bulletin mentions the "dog ordinance" but there couldn't be any enforcement for there is no improvement. Let's enforce it with violation tickets! Then we'll be able to enjoy clean sidewalks and shrubbery that isn't half-dead.

And yes, let's put up signs, "Walk your dog in your own back-yard, or pay a fine!"

Men's Chorus Plans Concert

The Grosse Pointe Men's Chorus, John Finch conducting, is holding its annual concert of light music and accompanying card party Friday evening, January 27, at 8 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center which is their home for rehearsals.

This affair is held yearly at this time to take in the funds needed to buy new music for the group and finance their other expenses. Many a community occasion is sparked by their singing and has been since the days when the first members got up in the pre-dawn hours to give a cheerful send-off to the boys being inducted for World War II.

The evening will include a short concert of popular songs, cards, refreshments and prizes. The admission is $1.25.

Anyone interested in joining this 30-man chorus will be most welcome. The chorus accepts men of all ages. Previous training and experience is not necessary. Mr. Finch, the director who has been head of vocal music at Grosse Pointe High School for the past 20 years, is skilled at welding natural voices into a highly disciplined and most effective choral unit in which everyone gets to sing and have a lot of fun.

The University of Michigan broadcasting system WUOM presented more than 40 complete operas last year.

There's even a table-top model you can put under the counter in the kitchen or utility room. Here's the only heater you can always place close to point of greatest hot water use.

HOTTER HOT WATER WHENEVER YOU NEED IT. Some laundering requires very hot water to get clothes really clean. Dishwashers, too, need water that's very hot. Remember, an electric water heater can keep on and on, delivering the extra-hot water needed without burning out.

OPERATING COSTS ARE AMAZINGLY LOW. The popular 50-gallon heater will meet the needs of 8 out of 10 families. Using estimated operating costs for this size unit, a plentiful supply of hot water for all family needs should cost you less than 15¢ a day!

PLENTY OF HOT WATER ROUND THE CLOCK. For dishes, laundry, baths, there's always plenty of hot water available. Electric water heaters have two heating units: one for normal use, the other for those occasions when there's an extra demand for hot water.

Too Many Basket Cases

Before too many of us become basket cases, we think something should be done about the plague which has beset the parking center in the Kercheval-on-the-Hill shopping district. Baskets, baskets everywhere . . . and with wheels yet.

Not so long ago there were numerous complaints about the youngsters who left their bicycles all over the place, blocking sidewalks and business entryways indiscriminately. The full market basket was something devoutly to be wished. Now it is the empty market basket that is fast assuming a popularity comparable to the plague.

Wrigley's market is the source of this ever-increasing nuisance, but the blame cannot be placed there in its entirety and dismissed in a hot haze of temper. In all fairness it must be said that the store is only trying to give its customers an extra modicum of service by allowing them to use the grocery carts to transport their purchases to their cars, parked either in the municipal lot in the rear, or at the curb along Kercheval.

This gesture on the part of the emporium should be appreciated for the convenience it affords. Instead, it seems to have engendered a mass impulse on the part of the shoppers to create a havoc which might be likened to a thousand kids leaving skates on stairways. Driving through the parking lot, or walking down the sidewalk these days imparts all the sense of security that must be felt by the head pin on a busy bowling alley.

The other afternoon we approached Wrigley's front entrance just in time to see one of the carts career from the entrance across the sidewalk and slam into the side of a beautiful new Continental parked at the curb. A fairly healthy wound was inflicted in the side of the car. It can be repaired for somewhere between $50 and $100, the way car service charges run today. We don't know just who was to blame. It might have been someone trying to enter the store, and angry at finding her way blocked by a carelessly left cart. Simultaneously we saw an unidentified woman flounce through the store entrance, giving all the appearance of one highly annoyed. We suspect she just yanked the cart out of her way, without thought as to where it might go or what it might do. Her action in no way excuses the one who so thoughtlessly left it there.

We are tired unto nausea of driving into the lot and finding the main traffic lanes as well as the individual parking spaces impeded with either standing or moving grocery carts. It can be more annoying than fascinating to have to stop one's car and get out and remove one of these contraptions before the simple act of parking can be accomplished.

Fran Franzen, the genial manager of the Wrigley-on-the-Hill store, is even more frantic over this blatant display of disregard for others, than are a lot of his customers. He tells us they pick up carts as far from the store as Moross and Grosse Pointe boulevard. They employ boys who have practically no time for anything else than trying to collect the things from the parking lot, the alley and the sidewalks. It is a real headache for him as well as for us. Saturday night when we came out of the office there were six carts on the walk directly in front of our building.

It occurs to us that such a flagrant flaunting of thoughtlessness, or just plain disregard for others, is a far greater crime than the one committed by the overtime parker. The latter almost invariably gets a ticket and pays his fine. It seems that the Farms officials, through their police department, should be able to figure out a solution to this problem. The patrolman who is constantly circulating through the lot on the prowl for parking violations, should be empowered to slap a ticket on anyone he sees leaving a grocery cart where it doesn't belong.

If the City can't handle the nuisance, we'd suggest that the store take over the burden. It could refuse to allow any carts to be taken out of the building unless pushed by an employee, who could expect a tip and then take the cart back and stash it away.

And while these two sources of solution are thinking it over, a magnificent improvement could be attained if those at whom the finger is pointed would take the very few extra moments needed to perform a thoughtful act rather than a thoughtless one.

What Goes On at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

It is all of 35 years since Winnie-the-Pooh first pronounced himself to Christopher Robin as "foolish and deluded . . . a Bear of No Brain at all." For a bear of no brain, he has enjoyed a remarkably long life, and the crowning glory of this astonishing career is his appearance in Latin as "Winnie Ille Pu."

"Winnie Ille Pu" was published on December 12, and is already in a third printing. The Dutton Publishing Company has been hard put to keep up with the demand, and had to assign two clerks to answer the telephone inquiries that poured in just before Christmas. Among the alleged calls was one from Zsa Zsa Gabor's secretary, one from a Texan, who, in true Texan fashion, demanded the book at any price, and one from a New Englander, who, unlike the typically shrewd Yankee, offered to fly to New York to pick up a copy.

Out of stock at its publishers a few days before Christmas forced the Scribner Book Store in New York to pass along the sad news with the sign: "Editione omne vendita. Non restant exempla libri de Winnie Ille Pu." Dutton ran a small ad in the New York Times expressing regret: "Mea Apologia."

The library has this book on order, but as the demand indicates, it may be some time before it reaches our shelves. Mea apologia quoque.

Doctors Gather At Bon Secours

Before a group of 75 doctors of the Grosse Pointe area assembled in the Science Hall of Bon Secours Hospital, Dr. Richard J. Bing, Professor of Medicine and Head of the Department of Medicine of Wayne State University College of Medicine, presented a scientific program of Ward Rounds and Lecture on "Angina Pectoris" Wednesday morning, January 18. Dr. Bing discussed the various causes of chest pain and the diagnoses of coronary sclerosis and coronary thrombosis and the methods of medical and surgical treatment. Patients confined to Bon Secours Hospital with these conditions were presented and their problems actively discussed by Dr. Bing and the members of the Staff of the Hospital.

Following a 3-hour scientific session the Sisters of Bon Secours served a buffet luncheon.

What's New on THE HILL...

By ROBERTA

IT'S ALWAYS TEMPTING to write cliches, especially in January, what with inventory taking and resolution-making. But it's less tempting when we realize how much ground we cover in this space. So right down to business . . . which in this case, is THE HILL.

IN NATIVE BAZAARS you couldn't have any more luck than in The Book Shelf. Mary Gregory's (Irish Collector) painted glass pieces . . . an Old English Waterford Aperne . . . Bennington, Pamona, Bristol, Majolica and Bohemian glass sparkle. And, as you browse, enjoy the portraits of Debos.

PARTY FAVORS . . . Hallmark's unusual centerpieces with matching place mats are showing at Punch and Judy Toyland. Motifs include Kitty Kat, Sheriff, Little Lady, Blacky and Honey Bear, and huge decorated cakes.

BIG SALE. One of the rooms in the League Shop will be devoted to sale items of all kinds. Heigh-ho come to the sale!

NEW LOOK. Have you noticed the greater sweep as you look in the Dants? The drapes have been taken down . . . the better to see every'ing . . . like the quaint Victorian What Not . . . bachelor's chest . . . and pair of antique chairs in the window this week. Charming, indeed.

THE PEWTER KETTLE and ducks at Denler and Co. came from Hong Kong. The Brazier and old sea chests from Japan. Contemporary pleasures, and fun to see.

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

When William Woodbridge arrived in Detroit in 1815 to become territorial delegate, judge, governor and senator he was immediately struck by the French customs followed by many of the inhabitants.

He celebrated Lundi Gras, the festival dinner before Lent with a party which went up the river (near Grosse Pointe) in carriages taking with them a lavish meal and three fiddle players.

This Monday, February 13, Lundi Gras, will be marked in sumptuous surroundings at the London Chop House to aid the Archives of American Art. A gourmet menu will be served with appropriate wines, all French of course, in the spirit of early Detroit.

Pointe patron hostesses for the evening include Mrs. Wendell Anderson, Jr., Mrs. Edsel Ford, Mrs. Ferdinand Cinelli, Mrs. Walter B. Ford II, Mrs. Frank W. Donovan, Mrs. Lowrey Kammer, Mrs. Harold O. Love, Mrs. F. Sibley Moore, Mrs. Allan Shelden III, Mrs. William Terres, Mrs. Emmet Tracy and Mrs. Joseph L. Whelan. The Archives is a non-profit foundation with headquarters in the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Chartered a Yacht

Ibex will be missing some of its most enthusiastic members this Saturday when the club gathers to dine and dance at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Caskey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Brophy and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fox will be enjoying a farewell party given by the Charles Gausses. This fortunate octet have chartered a yacht and will go cruising in Southern waters.

But Ibex will be well represented Saturday evening. Planning to attend are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Verdier, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kleinschmit, Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Dickson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. David Williams, Mr. and Mrs. John Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Long and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Volkens.

Post in Vienna

Settling down in her new home in Vienna this week is Mrs. Gerald B. Helman with her daughters, Ruth and Deborah. She has joined her husband who is second secretary in the American Embassy in that Austrian city.

The Helmans will be away about three years. Before they left they visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Hammel, of Sunningdale drive. Before this Austrian post Mr. Helman was attached to the American Consulate General in Milan, Italy.

Students' View

Two foreign exchange students will give their impressions of life in Grosse Pointe to the Elizabeth Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution February 6 at the Women's City Club.

Mrs. William M. Adams, of University place, who has been co-ordinator for the American Field Service on the east side for the last six years will speak.

She will also introduce Liv Myhre who is here from Norway living with the Edward Evendens, of Rivard boulevard, while attending GPHS. Rodolfo Carceres, of Argentina, guest of the William O. Brinks, of Edgemere road, will also talk to the DAR.

Showing the other side of the picture will be three GPHS students who were exchange students last summer, James Cruickshank, who studied in Australia;

Gourmets to Hear Two Pointe Experts

Mrs. Richard Lehman and Frederick B. Nelson to Give Talks and Demonstrations at Center On Tuesday Evening, January 31

Mrs. Richard Lehman, proprietor of Grosse Pointe's Village Manor, will headline the second evening of the Gourmet Series at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Tuesday evening, January 31, at 8 o'clock.

Nearly all Grosse Pointers know Florence Lehman, but possibly not everyone knows her background and training in food production. A University of Illinois graduate, she obtained her Master's Degree in institutional management at Columbia University.

In 1936, she came to Detroit to become director of food production at the Woman's City Club. The next step was institutional and cafeteria manager at Wayne State University, a position she held for seven years until her marriage. Then she and Mr. Lehman managed the Hawthorne House for a year to see if they could successfully work together as well as maintain a house.

The answer was definitely yes, but World War II came along and while Mr. Lehman was engaged in defense, Mrs. Lehman went back to teaching foods at Wayne. At the conclusion of the war with the adoption of two children Mr. and Mrs. Lehman, in 1946, opened their own "Village Manor" located in "The Village" in Kercheval avenue until five years ago when they moved into their new building in St. Clair avenue.

Mrs. Lehman has wraps around a secret foreign recipe she is demonstrating and sharing with the Gourmets at the Center but her very American "Bing Cherry and Pineapple Layer Mold" is no secret except that it is truly delicious and tricky to make without instruction, which Mrs. Lehman will give the Gourmets next Tuesday night.

It will be a double feature at the Center, January 31. Sharing the platform with Mrs. Lehman will be Frederick B. Nelson, one of the best known amateur cooks in these parts.

Mr. Nelson has been Dramatic Coach and English Instructor at Grosse Pointe High School since the close of World War II. He is an inveterate traveler having circled the globe twice and visited every continent except Antarctica. A gourmet in the truest sense, everywhere he goes he collects recipes which impress him. He entertains friends continuously at small dinners which he prepares himself.

Mr. Nelson has chosen to advise the gourmets on the preparation of a true Russian dinner. It is the main sea food casserole of which he will actually demonstrate the preparation. All he will say in advance is that it is a mouth-watering blend of sea foods, sour cream, mushrooms, hard boiled eggs and sherry.

Wilton-Stevens Troth Revealed

At a cocktail and supper party in their home, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Stevens of Buffalo, N.Y., announced the engagement of their daughter, Annette Jane, to Frank P. Wilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Wilton of Oxford road.

The future bride is a graduate of the Buffalo Seminary and Wheelock College, Boston. She made her debut at a dance at the Garret Club in December of 1952. Miss Stevens is a member of the Junior League of Buffalo and the Josephine Good-year Board of Children's Hospital.

Her fiance is a graduate of the Grosse Pointe University School, Yale University, Class of 1952, and Harvard Business School, Class of 1954. Mr. Wilton served as a lieutenant in the United States Air Force. He is a member of the Saturn Club in Buffalo and the Yale and Amateur Comedy Clubs of New York City.

A March 11 wedding is planned at Trinity Episcopal Church of Buffalo.

Village Garden Club to Meet

The Village Garden Club is meeting at the Country Club this Friday.

Members who will act as hostesses include Mrs. Carroll M. Boutell, Mrs. Sidney E. Ferriss, Mrs. J. Lee Barret and Mrs. Denis J. Alison.

The program will be a talk on "Civic and Highway Improvement" given by Mrs. A. Fille.

TAKES JAIL TERM

Emerck Laethem, 62, no address, was arrested by Park police on Sunday, January 22, at Mack and Whittier and charged with being drunk and disorderly. The following day, he was found guilty of the charge by Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger, who ordered the man to pay a fine of $20, or serve five days in the Wayne County Jail. Laethem took the jail term.

Engaged

At a small dinner recently at the Detroit Athletic Club Mrs. Arthur Stansell T. Bush, of Moran road, announced the engagement of her daughter, MARY, to Christopher James Duncan, Jr.

The bride-elect, who is also the daughter of the late Mr. Bush, will be graduated in June from the University of Detroit. She is an alumna of the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Grosse Pointe, and attended Newton College of the Sacred Heart in Massachusetts. She was presented to society at the Christmas season of 1957 and is a member of Tau Beta.

Her fiance, son of Dr. and Mrs. Christopher J. Duncan, of Waban, Mass., is an alumnus of Georgetown University.

Garden Society To Give Tea

Last-minute preparations for their part in the Cobo Hall Builders Home and Flower show will be discussed at a progress report tea to be staged February 16 by members of the Michigan Horticultural Society.

It is planned for 2 p.m. on the second floor of the Old City Hall Building.

Mapping out final details will be committee chairmen, judges and registered exhibitors for the show, according to Mrs. Lloyd L. Hughes, executive secretary of the society.

The show is scheduled for February 25-March 5 at Cobo Hall.

Featured speaker at the tea will be Mrs. John F. Herring of the Charles W. Warren Company, who will talk on "What Constitutes a Good Design for a Dinner Plate."

An outstanding collection of centerpieces will be on display.

Mrs. Ivan Ludington is chairman of arrangements for the tea, assisted by Mrs. Raymond J. Hodgson, Mrs. W. E. Wilson, Mrs. Kenneth Draper and Mrs. James R. Kershaw.

Mrs. R. C. Walk of 813 Park lane, informed Park police on Thursday, January 19, that a charm bracelet, a lady's ring and a watch chain are missing from her home. She said she did not know if the items had been stolen, or misplaced.

Mrs. Robert J. Tyrrell

At an evening ceremony Saturday in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church SHARON ANN QUALLS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfrey Qualls, of Ballantyne road, became the bride of Mr. Tyrrell. He is the son of Mrs. Walter E. Tyrrell, of Vernier road, and the late Mr. Tyrrell.

Sharon Ann Qualls Weds Mr. Tyrrell

Pair Speak Vows Saturday in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church; After a Reception at the Bride's Home Newlyweds Leave for Florida

In Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church Saturday at a candlelight service Sharon Ann Qualls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfrey Qualls, of Ballantyne road, became the bride of Robert John Tyrrell.

For the rites she chose a ballerina gown of Chantilly lace over satin. A crown of crystals caught her illusion veil and she carried white roses and ivy.

Margaret Bromley, the bride's only attendant, wore a berry velvet frock with matching headband and carried white feathered carnations and ivy.

Walter Tyrrell was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mrs. Walter E. Tyrrell, of Vernier road, and the late Mr. Tyrrell. Ushering were Paul Krogh and David Daves. For her daughter's wedding and the home reception Mrs. Qualls chose a beige satin brocade gown accented in aqua and pinned cymbidium orchids to her purse.

Mrs. Tyrrell wore a navy blue lace with white orchids. After a trip to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., the newlyweds will live in Chapoton Manor apartments.

Audrey Sneige To Be Married

Mrs. James E. Sneige, of Oxford road, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Audrey, to Harvey J. Mueller.

The bride-elect, also the daughter of the late Mr. Sneige, was affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega at Albion College.

Mr. Mueller, son of Mrs. Margaret Flynn Mueller, of Detroit, is an alumnus of the University of Notre Dame. An April wedding is planned.

University Club Will Celebrate

Two hundred and fifty University Club members and their guests will attend a formal dinner dance February 3 to celebrate the Club's 52nd anniversary.

James W. Standart, club president, and 37 ex-presidents will be specially honored at the ball.

White tablecloths, sashed with wide, blue ribbons, traditional colors for the club, will form a decorative background for the dinner and for dancing to the music of Clyde McCoy, McCoy, a recording star who is widely known for his trumpet work, will bring a seven-piece orchestra for the event.

Many Pointers are working on arrangements and decorations for this birthday ball.

Others who will attend are the Charles DuCharmes, the John H. Stephenson, Willard P. Kerrs, Kenneth S. Drakes, T. J. Aults, Joseph H. Lackeys, and the Don R. Davises.

Barbara Soberaiski To Wed Thomas Denomme

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Soberaiski, of Detroit, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to Thomas G. Denomme, of Hampton road.

The couple attends the University of Detroit where the bride-elect is affiliated with Sigma Sigma Sigma and Mr. Denomme is a member of Pi Sigma Epsilon. They plan a September wedding.

TELLS OF THEFT

Bernice E. Sulad of 2228 Alford, complained to Woods police on Thursday, January 19, that she had parked her car in front of 1960 Hawthorne. When she returned to it, she found that someone had broken into the trunk and stolen the spare tire and wheel.

Flower Lovers Can Get Ready

"If Winter comes can Spring be far behind." With this thought in mind, the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center is scheduling a practical flower arrangement class and workshop, led and taught by accredited lecturer, demonstrator and flower show judge, Mrs. Richard T. Gerathy.

The series will be held on Thursdays, beginning February 2 and continuing through March 9. There will be two sections—one from 9:30-12 in the morning; the other from 1 to 3:30 in the afternoon. Both sections are limited to 15 members so advance paid enrollment is advised.

Mrs. Gerathy is well known for previous flower symposiums, lectures, and demonstrations which she has conducted in the Pointe. Just prior to Christmas this year she held several greens workshops at the Center, as a result of which she was requested to offer the currently scheduled flower arranging classes.

William Eger is the son of Dr. and Mrs. T. E. Eger of Lincoln road. He was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in 1956 and received his degree from Eastern Michigan University in June, 1960. During the past semester, he taught at the Ransom School in Coral Gables, Fla.

son of the Edward P. Clarks, of Dearborn.

Ushering were Ronald Baber and Rodney Bedwell.

Following a wedding breakfast the newlyweds left for Florida. The couple will live in Detroit.

New president of the 1700-member Michigan Library Association is Robert Armstrong of the Detroit public library.

Mrs. Raymond A. Andrica

On January 7 in St. Paul's on the lakeshore, NANCY MARY PELKEY, daughter of the John Pelkeys, of Muir road, was married to Mr. Andrica, son of the Romulus Andricas, of Morang drive.

Andrica-Pelkey Vows Read at St. Paul's

Bride Wears Alencon Lace and Silk Taffeta Gown for Rites on January 7; Couple Travel to Florida; Will Live in Morang Drive

Nancy Mary Pelkey, daughter of the John Pelkeys, of Muir road, was married January 7 in St. Paul's on the lakeshore to Raymond A. Andrica, son of the Romulus Andricas, of Morang drive.

For the rites the bride chose an ivory silk taffeta and Alencon lace gown with a scooped neckline and full skirt which fell into a cathedral train. The skirt was embroidered with a lace and pearl panel.

A halo crown of pearls caught her bouffant silk illusion veil and she carried stephanotis and white orchids.

Mary Lou Weot was maid of honor and the attendants were Jerry Ogureck, Mrs. Henry Meurer, the bride's sister, and Diane Pelkey.

They were gowned in royal blue taffeta with matching veiled hats. They carried carnations and roses.

Kenneth Pletz was best man for the bridegroom and the ushers were Jack Clark, Jerry Hudson, Orville Leslie, Tom Pelkey and James Andrica.

For the wedding and the reception which followed at the Whittier Hotel Mrs. Pelkey chose a beige silk shantung dress and beige accessories.

Mrs. Andrica was in gold slipper satin with matching accessories.

After a wedding trip to Florida the couple will make their home in Morang drive.

Hospital Plans Theater Benefit

The Detroit premiere performance of the popular Rodgers and Hammerstein musical play, "The Sound of Music," on Monday evening, February 27, at the Riviera Theater, will be a benefit sponsored by the Detroit Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Proceeds of ticket sales at both patron and regular box office prices will be used to improve the hospital's patient service facilities.

Planned as a prominent black-tie social event, the opening night here will be the first of Broadway appearance of "The Sound of Music" and the road company which stars Florence Henderson.

Composer Richard Rodgers and producer Leland Hayward plan to be present for the first night showing.

The Auxiliary's general co-chairmen for the benefit premiere are Mrs. John D. Langston and Mrs. Frank Walker.

Further information and tickets may be obtained by calling Detroit Memorial Hospital, WO 1-4461.

Smith College Grads to Meet

Detroit Smith College Club members have been invited to a tea given by Mrs. Brace Krag, honoring her houseguest and former classmate, Miss Helen Kirkpatrick.

The tea will be from 4 to 6 o'clock on Wednesday, February 1, at Mrs. Krag's home in Merriweather road.

Assisting Mrs. Krag as hostesses will be Mrs. Perry Te-Wait, Mrs. Richard Speer, Mrs. Jonathan Walton, Mrs. Harry Jewett, Mrs. Dwight Black, Mrs. Robert Pierce, Mrs. William Savage and Mrs. Warren Cramer.

Miss Kirkpatrick will lecture on "Is Modern Education Antiquated?" at 11 o'clock in the Ford Auditorium. Mrs. Krag has obtained a block of tickets for the Town Hall lecture that morning for Smith Club members and they will be assigned the head table at the luncheon following.

Miss Kirkpatrick was graduated from Smith as a Phi Beta Kappa. She returned later to serve as assistant to the president. During the war she worked in the foreign service as a newspaper woman. Afterwards she worked as ECA Director of Information in Paris and then served with the State Department. Now she is trustee of the Masters School, Katherine Branson School and Mills College.

AAUW Studying New Frontiers

Just as President Kennedy and the new administration zoomed into action after inauguration, A.A.U.W. groups are hot in pursuit of study of the "New Frontiers" program. On Thursday, February 2 the Legislative and International Relations will combine to hear panels from each group interpret the Inaugural Address, the State of the Union address and the new budget.

Hostess for the luncheon meeting in her Devonshire Road home will be Mrs. Frederick J. Schumann, assisted by the chairmen of the participating groups, Mrs. Edgar Cooper and Mrs. Watson Ford. The International Relations group panelists will be Mrs. Cyril J. Barrett, Mrs. Lee M. Corless and Mrs. R. W. Cunningham. Those from the Legislative group are Mrs. C. G. Turrell, Mrs. Taylor Seebler and Mrs. William T. Krebs.

Washington national headquarters of A.A.U.W. has just announced the names of 13 colleges and universities added to the list of schools meeting requirements for memberships. Adrian College is the only new Michigan college on the list. Local Adrian graduates who would like to join the Grosse Pointe branch are asked to call Miss Louise Rau, membership chairman, TU 5-0862. The branch at all times cordially welcomes membership applications, the only requirement being that the prospective member be a graduate of an A.A.U.W. accredited school.

Club to Hold Ball at Center

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Center Club is planning a pre-Lenten Mardi Gras party on Friday evening, February 3, in the great hall at 32 Lake Shore Road.

The 150-member club made up of young single business and professional people in the Grosse Pointe area invites all young single Pointe adults in their twenties and thirties to attend this dance and join the club if they wish and become a part of its mailing list. Dates for this function are not necessary but every Grosse Pointe has the privilege of bringing a guest if he wishes.

Hosts and hostesses for this dance will include Dick Gale, president; Dorothy DeYoung, vice-president; Bob Gall, Janet Fricke, Bob Stebbins, Margaret and Mary Hackenberger, George Malcolmson, and Nancy and Betty St. Peter. Arlene Stay will be responsible for the decorations which will be in festive Mardi Gras tradition. The orchestra will be Bill Knicely's. Refreshments will be served in the main and auxiliary dining rooms and conservatory at small candlelit tables a la cafe.

It may be cold outside but a truly hospitable New Orleans warmth will prevail in the Center.

The Center Club also sponsors for its members a bridge and card group and a bowling group. Members also attend en masse athletic events and the theater.

Chi Omegas Announce White Elephant Sale

Those modernistic ashtrays (which don't suit Colonial decor), the sixth jar of bath salts received as a Christmas present, gobs of outside jewelry — all these and many more will probably be offered by Chi Omega alumnae at their annual White Elephant sale on Wednesday, February 1.

The group will meet for dessert at eight o'clock at the home of Mrs. Frank Kenney Jr., 14217 Rosemont. Chairman of this money-raising project is Mrs. J. P. Schaupner. All Detroit area Chi Omegas are invited to attend and bring any articles for sale.

The annual event, which climaxes the pre-Lenten social season for St. Paul parishioners and their friends, will feature a social hour at 7 o'clock, followed by dinner at 8:15, and dancing from 9:30. St. Valentine's Day will set the motif.

The traditional party is being arranged under the general chairmanship of Edward P. Letscher, assisted by John C. Nienstedt as co-chairman. Committee heads are Chauncey J. DiLaura, Theodore W. Tretzer, Albert W. Ghesquiere, Runarber, Edward B. Dooley, and

M. Anderson, Fred J. Schrel-Joseph P. Wright.

The annual dinner dance, which benefits the athletic program of St. Paul School, both grade and high school department—is limited to 250 couples. Tickets are $18 per couple and may be obtained while still available by calling Mr. DeLaura at TU 2-7277. Reservation arrangements for groups having tickets may be arranged by calling Mr. Schreiber, at TU 2-4284.

Committee personnel actively at work promoting the party, and soliciting patron support for it, include Edward J. Schoenherr, Arthur Kirchner, Joseph W. Cox, Frederick K. Cody, Edward C. Roney, Jr., Charles W. Casgrain II, James Mutschall, John Griffin, John Drummy, James Dingeman, Donald Oliver, Edward D. O'Leary, Edward Van Horn, Raymond Huettelman, Harold Messacar, and Larry M. Gentile.

Other committee workers are Bernard Cornille, Earl Peters, Arthur Cerre, Max Brown, Edward Person, Gordon Phillips, Ralph Urso, Edward J. Hickey, William Bradley, Charles Barlow, Dr. John Koerber, James Stapleton, Leo Kulka, Jr., and David Turner.

Exercise Class Proves Popular

Radio and T.V. programs notwithstanding — the Rhythmic Exercise classes for women in this area continue to hold the same appeal. Being offered by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, eager participants gather one evening a week to exercise to music under the capable direction of Therese Pletz in the Gym-Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe High School.

Mrs. Pletz is a graduate of National College of Physical Education, and in addition to teaching this course for the Grosse Pointe Adult Program for a number of years, she has also instructed the same course for private athletic clubs.

The class will start on Thursday evening, February 2, at 7:45 p.m. Interested persons may enroll for the 10-week course by calling the Department of Community Services, TU. 5-3808 or TU. 5-0271.

Courses Offered Homemakers

Two special courses for the homemaker and hostess are being offered by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

"Food Decorating" will have a beginning date of Monday, January 30, meeting for eight weeks at 7:30 p.m. Geraldine Coleman will be the instructor. Mrs. Coleman's course covers techniques for decorating canapés, tea sandwiches and small cakes, as well as large cakes for special occasions. She is a graduate of the Snyder School of Cake Decorating, and has conducted classes for Adult Education in Grosse Pointe for four years, as well as classes in other adult programs in the Detroit area.

"Cooking for Two" is a course especially designed to help the bride become familiar with preparation of basic foods, and to give assistance to the homemaker whose meal planning must be scaled down to the needs of a smaller family. Mrs. Ruth Engle will instruct this class which will meet on Wednesday evenings, starting February 1, for 10 weeks. Mrs. Engle received her M.S. degree from the University of Wisconsin in Home Economics and Foods and Nutrition, and has taught at Wayne State University. This is the third year Mrs. Engle has instructed this course for Community Services.

Both of the above classes are limited in enrollment, and persons interested in attending should call the offices of Community Service at Tuxedo 5-3808 or TU. 5-0271, for a reservation ahead of the class date.

Belongers Honored by DAC

On Saturday evening C. JOSEPH BELANGER, of Westchester road, left, was honored at the annual officers ball at the Detroit Yacht Club. Mr. Belanger, who is Grosse Pointe Park's municipal judge, is commodore at the club. With him at the gala are

CHARLES P. SIEDER, of Bishop lane, commodore of the club 1909-10, who still races in the annual commodore's race at the club. MRS. BELANGER shared the honors with the new commodore.

Clark Women To Have Tea

Clark Women's Club will hold a business meeting February 6 in Christ Methodist Church at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. Larry Walsh and Mrs. Lynn Schwilk will preside at the tea which will follow the meeting.

Mrs. Betty Leithauer will review a book, "Lucky Number." Mrs. William Cummings will be chairman.

Welcome Club To Have Party

The Welcome Wagon Club of Grosse Pointe will have coffee and bridge at 11 a.m. on Thursday, February 2, at the War Memorial Center.

For reservations call Mrs. E. W. George, TU 5-8923, or Mrs. John N. Spain, TU 2-9133, before noon on Tuesday.

Alpha Phi Alumnae Plan Bridge Benefit

Alpha Phi alumnae of the Detroit area will stage a bridge tea Thursday, February 2, to benefit two national Alpha Phi projects.

Proceeds will go to Cardiac Aid, which helps support heart hospitals around the country, and Alpha Phi Foundation, which gives scholarships to needy collegiates. The party is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. in the downtown J. L. Hudson Co. auditorium.

General chairman of the tea is Mrs. W. James Mast of McKinley avenue. Ticket chairman for the Grosse Pointe group is Mrs. F. G. Welscher, who will form a table with Mrs. Richard O'Connell, Mrs. Gerald Ewart, and Mrs. Edward Timmerman.

Others planning to attend from Grosse Pointe are Mrs. Floyd Nixon with her guests, Mrs. Lee Kitcher, Mrs. James Cameron, Mrs. Robert Tobin, and Mrs. Jack Neal.

Still others are Mrs. Stuart George, Mrs. Robert Heglin, Mrs. Joseph Reed, Mrs. W. F. LePia, Mrs. Murray Hentgen, Mrs. James Quello, Mrs. Louis Smith, and Mrs. Albert Charles.

French Artists To Exhibit Here

Invitations to an "uncrating party" have gone out to a selected list of art collectors and art lovers, as preface to the opening, February 5 at Park Gallery, of an exhibit of the work of four young French artists whose paintings are identified with the comparatively new School of Paris group.

Hosts for the champagne party, set for 8:30 o'clock this Friday, at the gallery, arranged to offer guests a preview of the collection, are Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Morris. Morris is the young director of the gallery, which recently moved into new quarters at 20090 Livernois. The show is to run through Feb. 18, giving Detroiters an initial view of the techniques of Les Funambulistes (translated freely as "tight-rope walkers") which strike a balance between purely non-objective and realistic art, "the real and the unreal," as one critic put it. Most of the paintings have been done since World War II and are fresh and arresting, both in color and concept.

The four French painters represented include Andre Clivet, Baron-Renouard, Jean-Marie Calmettes and Claude Venard.

The Park Gallery and Detroit Artists Market were, by the way, the only Detroit collections visited by Eloise Spaeth, former chairman and now a trustee of the American Federation of Arts, when she stopped in the city during her country-wide travels. She has a new book out, "American Museums and Galleries, an Introduction to Looking."

Included in the guest list for the champagne party are: Mr. Franklin Page (curator of modern art, Detroit Institute of Arts), French Consul Elaine

Why buy an odd lot? (Why Not!)

A good many people, not too familiar with investing, have probably had the desire to own shares of certain stocks but have thought that it would be necessary to buy them in lots of 100 shares. This is where many a prospective investor stops, because it would cost more than he could afford.

We at Manley, Bennett & Co. are happy to handle ODD LOT orders, and we offer every one of our clients, or new investors, the same high standard of personal service, whether they purchase 1 share or 99 shares or more. If you would like to discuss "ODD LOT BUYING" more fully, call or stop in at either of our conveniently located offices. Naturally, there is never an obligation.

Polo, the sport of wealthy young men, reached its high point in the twenties. On fine Sunday afternoons a good gallery gathered at the Hunt Club to watch such renowned players as Gari Stroh, Berrien Eaton, Gilbert Pingree, Arnold Hoffman, Theodore Buhl, Fred Alger and William Ker Muir take the field.

Muir was an outstanding player, having captained Yale University's team to victory in 1923. He played with one of polo's all time greats, Winston Guest, friend and host to the Duke and Duches of Windsor, resident of New York, Palm Beach and Southampton.

Polo had a brief heyday as an intercollegiate and country club sport. It demanded excellent riders and a stable of ponies. The depression put an end to polo, although there are still a few teams riding in the Detroit area.

While he was at his preparatory school, Hotchkiss, and at Yale Muir excelled at all sports. He was the son of railroad tycoon, W. Howie Muir and Marion Lewis Muir who built an estate at the foot of Lincoln road. At Hotchkiss he won at golf, track and hockey, served as president of his class. His father had defeated George Russell to become golf champion of the old Country Club on Fisher road. Young Muir went on to even greater triumphs at Yale, won a campus contest as the most versatile man in college, came in second as the most popular man at Yale and the one who had done the most for the university.

He became nationally famous as a polo player, drew rave notices from the sports pages of the New York papers. He was graduated from Yale in 1926 and he married Florence Bodman on December 17, 1927. The wedding was a big event of the Christmas holidays. They were entertained by the Joseph B. Scholtz family, the Hugh McMillans, the Jerome H. Remicks, the George Hendries and a long list of society's most prominent names. The reception following the ceremony at Old Christ Church, where all the Muirs were married, was held at the Bodman's McKinley place home.

A generation later another Muir went to Hotchkiss and made his mark. Where his father had received a warning for grades while leading in athletics Sandy Muir excelled in his studies. He was valedictorian of his class in 1948, won several top academic prizes. He then went to Clifton College in Bristol, England as an exchange student. At Hotchkiss he was voted "the most likely to succeed," did equally well scholastically at Yale. Sandy Muir is teaching at Yale Law School and working for his doctorate.

His brother, Howie, also went to Hotchkiss, then to Trinity College, where he is assistant dean of admissions. He is married to Ann Mayo Hartzell, of the Pointe.

For four generations the Muirs have been leaders in Pointe civic and cultural affairs. The chronicle of their lives was faithfully recorded by the late Mrs. W. Howie Muir in a scrapbook which dates back to 1875.

Pointer of Interest

JOHN H. GILLIS OF VERNIER ROAD

by Patricia Talbot

After a full day in Recorder's Court downtown, where he is now trying a murder case, Shores Justice of the Peace John H. Gillis sits on Monday night hearing misdemeanors and traffic violations.

The contrast is obvious and Judge Gillis has a long experience of law to back up his observations that Grosse Pointe is an exceptionally law abiding community.

He cut his teeth on law, being one of the three lawyer sons of Judge Joseph Gillis, who has been sitting at Recorder's court for over a quarter of a century.

Had Varied Jobs
As a young man John Gillis early made up his mind that he wanted to be an attorney but enroute to the court he took a variety of jobs. He picked tobacco in North Carolina for $1.00 a day; worked in a funeral parlor; was water boy for the DPW and sold shoes in an Alabama small town. He served in both the Air Force and infantry overseas in World War II.

He spent one year at Springhill College in Alabama and then finished his undergraduate college and law studies at U. of D. While studying he served for six years as a court clerk, heard as many as 250 misdemeanors tried in one day. It's a busy night in court in the Shores if 20 cases are tried.

Talked Into Pointe
From law school he joined the firm of DeBaeke, Ellis, Frohlich and now Gillis. Victor DeBaeke was then justice of the peace for the Shores, which alone of the five Pointes still has village status. John Gillis and his wife Joan had just built a home in northeast Detroit but DeBaeke prevailed on them to sell it and live in what he thinks is the best community on earth, Grosse Pointe.

The Gillises and their four children now live in Vernier road in a trim colonial. They moved here in March 1953 and the following January he accepted an appointment as justice of the peace to fill a vacancy. He has since been elected in his own right on a Republican ballot. On the last election day he was returned, his father returned as judge on a non-partisan ballot, and his brother, Joe, elected state representative on the Democratic ticket.

Familiar With Crime
As a law student he saw crime at all levels while working for the court, often rode with the police officers from the 13th precinct, one of Detroit's most active areas of crime.

With his fellow judge, Don Goodrow, he believes that in cases dealing with minors the parents must be aware of the trouble, must help with correction. He recalls one case in which a young man's license was suspended 30 days for a driving infraction. The boy's father insisted after two weeks that his son had learned his lesson, asked for the license back. Ten days later the boy was killed speeding in the Pointe.

WOOD HAS COLOR
When you change the colors in the living room, remember that wood has color, too. It may be the dull yellow of natural oak and birch or the red cast of mahogany. Home economists at Michigan State University say the color of wood should be considered in the total color plan of the room.

POSTURE, PLEASE
Put the palm of your hands in the bottom of the sink, but don't bend over. If you can't do it, probably the sink is set too low. Home economists at Michigan State University say you should be able to stand straight as you work at the sink.

The University of Detroit is the only nonstate supported university in Michigan.

Sees Use For Service
He believes law breaking of all types is on the decrease, not the increase, in the Shores. But he points out that a service such as this proposed department could help in those cases where parents will not cooperate. This would have to be on an un-official basis.

Like his fellow judge, Goodrow, he believes that a previous record good or bad should in-

- 1 lb. chestnuts
- ¼ cup sugar
- ½ cup milk
- 1 Tb. butter
- 3 eggs
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Boil and shell chestnuts. Then boil them in sweetened milk and butter until tender. Put chestnuts through a sieve and add to milk and butter. Let cool. Separate egg yolks from whites. Beat each separately. Add chestnut puree and vanilla to the yolks. Fold in whites and pour into buttered dish. Place in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, until souffle is light brown. Serves 4.
