RICHARD M. NIXON, former vice-president under the Eisenhower administration, yesterday announced his decision to enter next year's race for the California governorship. Nixon, 48, lost the 1960 presidential election to John F. Kennedy. He stated firmly that he would not be a presidential candidate in 1964.

"The next governor must be a man who will devote not part but all of his energies to this job," Nixon said. He accused incumbent Governor Edmund G. Brown, a Democrat, of bungling.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY was handed an ultimatum by the UAW Thursday, when the union set a 10 a.m. Tuesday, October 3, strike deadline. One hundred and twenty thousand Ford workers will leave their jobs if no contract settlement has been reached by that time.

Saturday, September 30
THE NEW SYRIAN GOVERNMENT ordered all Egyptians, troops included, back to Egypt. The deportation announcement, broadcast over Damascus Radio, underscored the success of Syria's revolt against President Gamal Abdel Nasser and the collapse of the Egyptian strongman's United Arab Republic.

Syria has set up a civilian transitional government, headed by pro-Western moderate Dr. Mahmoud Kuzbari, to govern until a new parliament can be elected by popular vote. So far, the United States has made no definite announcement as to whether or not it will grant diplomatic recognition to the new regime.

Sunday, October 1
CHRYSLER CORPORATION was threatened by a strike yesterday, when UAW vice-president Norman R. Matthews notified chairmen of the union's bargaining committees and presidents of locals that they may have to consider more direct action against the auto company. Matthews, director of the UAW's Chrysler department, accused the corporation of stalling.

Monday, October 2
ROGER MARIS hit his 61st home run yesterday; 23,154 people cheered as the Yankee slugger rounded the bases. Maris connected with a 360-foot drive off right-hander Tracy Stallard in the fourth inning of the Yankee-Red Sox game, the last game of a Yankee 162-game schedule, in New York. His feat surpasses Babe Ruth's 34-year-old record of 60 home runs in a single season, but the Babe hit his in 154 games in 1927. The Yankees won the game, 1-0.

A DETROIT PLASTICS plant exploded and burned Monday, killing 4 persons and injuring 8 others. The blast, caused by a defective furnace, occurred at Spurling Plastics Industries Inc., 1730 Howard. Workers told Arson Bureau Inspector Glenn Bennett that they had had difficulty in fighting the steamheat boiler furnace since Saturday. The explosion, which blew the roof of the one-story building 40 feet into the air, took place about an hour after workers succeeded in re-lighting the pilot light and getting the furnace back into commission Monday morning.

Wednesday, October 4
STEPHEN S. NISBET, 66, won the presidency of the state Constitutional Convention Monday. The dark-horse Republican candidate, a former chairman of the State Board of Education from Fremont, was chosen at a caucus of 85 of the 97 GOP delegates. The retired Gerber Products Company vice-president, who was not even nominated until the 15th ballot at Monday's caucus, won assurance of election on the 17th ballot. He takes office today when he is formally chosen to preside by the 144 delegates at Con-Con's opening meeting in Lansing.

Stray Dogs' Costs Hiked By Farms

Owners Will Have to Pay Double Former Fee for Pooches Caught in Violations

City Manager Sidney DeBoer disclosed to the Farms Council on Monday, October 2, that henceforth, it will cost the city more money to board, or have destroyed, stray dogs impounded at Dr. M. P. Lipson's Veterinary Hospital, 18479 Mack. The doctor is the city's veterinarian.

The city manager said that the new fees for this service became effective as of Sunday, October 1, and will be $2 per day for each animal held, not to exceed three days, plus $2 for disposal of an animal. The old rate was $1 for each day, not to exceed three days, and $1 for disposal.

Vets Not Interested
DeBoer said that he contacted the Harper Woods Veterinary Hospital, 20102 Harper, and was advised that officials were not disposed toward acting as veterinarians for the Farms.

In his report to the council, DeBoer disclosed that during the fiscal year July 1, 1960, through June 30, 1961, 38 dogs were impounded and released at a cost of $54, and 44 dogs were impounded and destroyed at a cost of $253.

He said that of those impounded and destroyed, three were impounded for a period of 10 days, due to dog bites, at a cost of $10 each, and one was a dog, used by a burglar to make good his escape, at a cost of $63.

Deadline for Installation Of Garbage Disposals or Incinerators Past in City

Delay in Receiving New Equipment Forces Continuation of Old Refuse Collection System for Short Period

Deadline for the installation of either garbage disposals or incinerators in the City of Grosse Pointe was October 1. Although some residents have still not complied with the new ordinance regarding the disposal of garbage, the majority of City residents have installed either disposals or incinerators.

Notification of the discontinuation of bag pick-up was dropped off at every garbage stop by City garbage collectors last week.

Few Extensions Granted
Because some residents complained that this was the first time they had heard of anything concerning the new ordinance, a few select extensions have been granted to give time to install the new equipment. In no case is an extension greater than four weeks, however, as a City survey shows not one home in which the required equipment cannot possibly be installed by this time.

Sleepy Driver Hits Pole, Tree
Because he fell asleep at the wheel, Richard A. Handloser, 462 Marquette, Detroit, was ticketed for reckless driving by City police on Sunday, October 1.

Handloser fell asleep a little after 2 a.m. on Jefferson near Washington. His car went out of control and he hit a telephone pole, a tree, and damaged a hedge.

City police officers Blair A. Martin and Edmond Benthous issued the ticket and saw to it that Handloser's car was towed to the station.

The phone company was notified of the damage to the pole.

Theft Witnessed by Police Who Make Quick Arrest

James H. Melton, 32, who gave his address as Temple Hotel, Detroit, was arrested by Woods police Sunday evening, and held for investigation of larceny from an automobile.

Melton, according to the arresting officers, Donald Sun and Thomas Kerwing, was taken into custody after the policemen had seen him take a spare tire and wheel from a station wagon owned by Dr. Jeremy D. Webster of 342 McKinley road. The doctor's vehicle was parked in the Woods Theater lot.

Sun and Kerwing stated that they were parked in the St. John Hospital lot, looking over the theater lot area, when they observed Melton enter the theater lot from Bournmouth and back his car next to the doctor's station wagon.

Then, the patrolmen said, Melton got out of his car and stood between his and the doctor's vehicles. Then walking to the rear of his automobile, Melton entered through the rear to the other side, then went to the rear of the station wagon and began to tamper with the tail-gate window.
According to the officers, Melton then removed a spare tire and wheel from the station wagon and rolled them to his car, put them in and proceeded to drive away.
Sun and Kerwing said that they circled around and stopped Melton before he could get away, and placed him under arrest. They confiscated the tire as evidence, and left a note for Dr. Webster, notifying him of (Continued on Page 2)

Will Peddle Toothbrushes to Raise Funds for Their Many Youth Activities

Grosse Pointe Exchangeites will hold their traffic-stopping Toothbrush Drive on Friday and Saturday of this week. Taking up their posts at major intersections and shopping centers, the Exchangeites will be offering their specially-packaged toothbrushes for voluntary donations from Pointe shoppers and motorists.

"Toothbrushes sold in the drive are of the finest professional quality," said Exchange president William Clement. "All funds raised through our annual Toothbrush Drive are used for our local youth projects," and he added, "We hope that all Pointe residents will buy a new toothbrush during the drive, which will help to keep them, and the youth of Grosse Pointe, smiling."

The Exchange Club of Grosse Pointe sponsors such activities as Little League baseball in Grosse Pointe Woods, basketball at the Neighborhood Club, model aviation meets, local Sea Scouts, and Grosse Pointe Fire and Crime Prevention Weeks.

City police notified the Women's Division of the Detroit police and the girls were turned over to policemen of the Detroit Women's Division.

Would Publicize Flooding Hazard
Because of reports of flooded basements in scattered areas of Grosse Pointe Woods brought on by the frequency and intensity of recent rain storms, City Administrator William H. Lange presented a memo to the Council on Monday, October 2, requesting that the potential hazard of connected downspouts be publicized.

Grosse Pointe Woods received calls from 13 residents on nine streets over the weekend of September 23 and 24, all reporting water in their basements.

School Board Meets Monday
The Grosse Pointe Board of Education will hold a regular meeting at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, October 9, in the board building at 389 St. Clair avenue.
The public is cordially invited to attend any of the regular board meetings.

Report on Street Repairs Submitted To Woods Council

Some Members Disagree with City Manager's Statements That Big Project Is Almost Finished According to Specifications

City Administrator William H. Lange reported to the Woods Council on Monday, October 2, on the progress of the street improvement program now being carried out in Hampton, Roslyn, Fairford and Holiday roads.

In his report, Mr. Lange stated that the drainage contractor had completed his work, and that John Carlo Inc. had completed concrete repaving. Both lanes of traffic are now open on Hampton and Roslyn roads, and the one driveway approach remaining to be replaced should be completed by now, Mr. Lange stated.

Grading Nearly Done
Grading and top soil on the boulevards was reported as complete on Roslyn road and should be finished on Hampton road by October 6.

Certain members of the Council took exception to Mr. Lange's statements. They claimed that the work had not been completed as specified. Councilman David H. Fairless moved that the City Administrator make a personal check in the Roslyn and Hampton areas, and the Council requested that the Administrator prepare a report on these areas for the next meeting.

Tree Trimming Starts
Mr. Lange's report also indicated that the asphalt resurfacing and the installation of asphalt curbs had been completed except for a few feet of curb. He reported that tree-trimming began on October 2 and mentioned that all street and traffic signs have been replaced except where work on the boulevard has not yet been completed.

Long Sought Dog Captured in City
A brown mongrel dog wanted for biting Farms Patrolman William Elworthy on Wednesday, September 26, has been caught in Grosse Pointe City.

City police received a call from the W. C. Flaherty residence, 387 Neff road, on Sunday, October 1. Jimmy Flaherty, an Austin freshman, had managed to corner the dog in his family's porch. The boy was scratched while in the process of catching the animal, but was not otherwise injured.

City police, who had noticed the dog running near the City police station on several occasions during the preceding week, picked up the mongrel and transferred it to Dr. Purvis Kennels, 17133 Mack avenue.

When apprehended, the animal was wearing a choke collar. One of its legs had gotten caught in this collar, impeding its freedom of movement.

Though impounded, the dog is not thought to be rabid. Grosse Pointe Farms police are taking charge of the animal.

Woman Injured In Street Fall
Gerald L. Stein, 17012 Kercheval, called City police on Thursday, September 28, to report that a woman had fallen and injured herself in front of his store.

Officer George Brackx took Martha Voelker, 12111 Longview, Detroit, age 74, to Bon Secours hospital, where she was treated for a cut over the left eye and a bruised left knee.

Police termed the fall an accident, as there was nothing on the sidewalk to cause the mishap.

Dr. James Bushong Touring Europe with Educators

James W. Bushong, superintendent of the Grosse Pointe public school system, is among a group of eighteen American school administrators who departed from New York City on September 30 for a one-month field trip through the Soviet Union.

Other stops include Copenhagen, Helsinki, Warsaw and Berlin.

Virgil M. Rogers, dean of the School of Education of Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York, is the project director. He will accompany the group through the Russian cities of Leningrad, Moscow, Tbilisi and Kiev.

During their tour, the administrators will visit boarding schools and 10-year schools, the University of Moscow, the Palace of Young Pioneers, a collective farm and schools, the Academy of Pedagogical Science and the Sports Palace.
The administrators will also attend a performance of the Bolshoi Ballet in Moscow.
AASA, the National Association of Secretaries of State Teachers Associations and the NEA Division of Educational Travel are sponsors of the field trip.
Dr. Bushong is expected to bring a long and interesting report with him when he returns at the end of October.

Ask Removal Of Electric Street Lights

Hillcrest Lane Residents Petition Farms Council for Permission for Change

The Farms council will study a proposal, presented by 13 residents of Hillcrest lane, to authorize the removal of two electric street lights on the street and replace them with one gas light in front of each residence.

The petition was read to the council on Monday, October 2, and after a short debate, the matter was deferred to the next regular meeting of the council on Monday, October 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Bigley of 179 Hillcrest lane, were the only residents of the street present at the meeting.

Looking Into Costs
Bigley told the council that he had sought information on the cost of the removal of the electric lights, and the cost of installing the gas lights, from both Detroit Edison and Michigan Consolidated Gas companies, but had not received any replies.

He said that the residents of the lane were interested in the change in order to beautify the lane, much like the residents of Dean lane, who had gas lights installed several months ago.

Bigley stated that the residents of his street were willing to underwrite the cost of the removal of the present lights and the installation of the gas lights, but he was informed that this might entail considerable expense, especially in regard to the removal of the electric lights.

Reads Old Editorial
Councilman Edward Roney, Jr., opposed the gas lights, and read an old editorial from a daily paper, from which he quoted that each electric street light "was equivalent to one policeman and one scout car."

"This is, it was said, because of the great amount of illumination cast by these lights, and therefore a deterrent against crime and criminals."

When Bigley asked how the residents of Dean lane were able to have the gas lights installed on their street, Councilman Henry Bodman II, a resident of Dean lane, stated that originally, there were no lights on Dean lane, therefore it was much easier to have the gas lights installed. Edison wanted to put only one light in the street, he said.

Compares Situations
The councilman pointed out that in Hillcrest lane, the matter was different, since there were already electric fixtures in the street. However, he reasoned, each case should be judged on its own merits.

Mayor William Connolly, Jr., said that he had not seen Hillcrest, but that he and Police Chief James Furton will survey the area to determine if the lane residents' request could be granted. The mayor invited other members of the council to go along on the survey, and Bodman for one, said he would be present.

A report of the survey will be presented at the next council meeting, the mayor said.

Farms Gun Club Opening Season

The Grosse Pointe Farms Trap Shooting Club announces the opening of its shooting season at the Farms Municipal Pier Park at the foot of Moross road, this coming Saturday, October 7.

Shooting hours will be from 12 noon to 5 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

Membership is open to all residents of Grosse Pointe Farms, and all former members and other residents of Grosse Pointe Farms interested in trap shooting are invited to join the group at the Pier this weekend.

N. David Nyman is this year's Trap Shooting Club president.

SPEEDER PAYS $15

City Court Judge Joseph P. Urvick found William M. Reeves, 360 McMillan, guilty on a charge of speeding 40 mph in a 25-mile zone. Mr. Reeves pled not guilty to a charge of reckless driving and was found guilty on a reduced charge. He was fined $15.

FARMS COLLECTS

City Treasurer Doris Duffy informed the Farms council on Monday, October 2, that 96.26 percent of the 1961 city taxes, or $885,695.73, has been collected as of September 21. The total tax roll, she said, is $920,090.06.

Ray MacArthur On Woods Board

The Grosse Pointe Woods City Council appointed a new Pension Board member at their regular meeting on Monday, October 2.

He is Ray MacArthur, 1190 Elford, for ten years a resident of Grosse Pointe Woods. A former City Administrator for Grosse Pointe Woods, Mr. MacArthur is Director of Business and Finance for the Grosse Pointe Public Schools.

The Council considered Mr. MacArthur very well qualified for the job of Pension Board member, and he was unanimously appointed to serve out the unexpired term of Albert Beever.

Mr. Beever's letter of resignation was accepted with regret by the Wood's Council. He gave as the reason for his resignation the fact that he had moved from Grosse Pointe Woods.

"It has been a privilege and a pleasure to serve this community during the past 20 years and my best wishes are extended to you for the continuance of a well governed and fine livable city," Mr. Beever stated in his letter to the Council.

Mr. Beever's change of address also made it necessary for him to resign from the Wood's Board of Review. The Council is in the process of considering nominees for this position but, since the Board of Review does not meet until after the 1st of the year, there is not the same urgency to approve an appointment to this position as in the case of a Pension Board member.

The Wood's Council moved to prepare a scroll for Mr. Beever in gratitude and recognition for his many years of public service.

Flares Ignited In City Home

A fire in the basement sent both City fire trucks to the home of Mrs. Arvid Lundell, 16803 St. Paul, on Monday, September 25.

City police received the alarm at 12:44 p.m. and by 12:52 p.m. City firemen were able to report the blaze under control. All units were back in service by 1:21 p.m.

Fire Chief George N. Coriden reported that the fire was caused by spontaneous ignition of emergency flares stored in the basement.

A boat sail stored in the basement was burned, but the building itself received no damage other than smoke.

Seventh graders will take the spotlight at the first meeting of the Parcells Junior High School Parent Teacher Association, which will be held on Friday, October sixth. The program for the evening will begin at eight o'clock in the school auditorium with a short business meeting conducted by the organization president, David Teague.

Vincent Peterson, principal, will welcome new parents and give a brief explanation of the special characteristics of junior high school students and their school needs. In order to acquaint the parents of seventh graders and new transfer students with the activities and facilities of Parcells, some colored slides featuring scenes of Parcells will be shown. Two seventh grade students will serve as narrators, explaining these pictures to the parents. Sue Foley and Bruce Keigen are the commentators.

Following the auditorium program all the classrooms will be open for inspection. The students will serve as guides, introducing their parents to their teachers, and showing them the pool, gymnasiums, and other points of interest. In many rooms student work and academic materials will be on display.

After the room visitation period refreshments will be served in the gymnasium. Mrs. Charles French, P. T. A. Mother Vice-President, has two busy committees to help her with the social hour and refreshments. Ninth grade homeroom mothers will serve refreshments under the direction of Mrs. Wilfred Bingham.

Drinking Driver Serving 20 Days

Robert L. Martin, 34, of 4040 Clemons, Detroit, who has an extensive traffic violation record, was convicted on a third charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. He was tried before Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Wednesday, September 27.

Martin was also tried for driving without having his operator's license on his person.

Judge Belanger imposed a fine of $80 or five days in the Wayne County Jail, and if the fine is not paid, an additional five days be served; and for driving without a license, another 10 days was attached to the first jail sentence. The fine was not paid and Martin is serving a full 20 days.

The judge also ordered Martin not to drive for a period of one year.

The convicted motorist was arrested by Patrolmen John Trombley and Ralph Moore on Tuesday evening, September 26, because of erratic driving on Mack avenue.

The officers said that it appeared that Martin had been in some sort of fracas, as he had

Cadillac

The word for it is... "Masterful!"

"Superb" :: "luxurious" :: "beautiful" ... "brilliant"—there are many words that might be used to describe the illustrious new 1962 Cadillac car.

But if we were to select from the Cadillac vocabulary the one word that most completely captures the essence of this latest "car of cars"—we would choose "masterful".

For here is a motor car that has already established its mastery in everything that makes an automobile good and desirable.

In appearance, it is clearly a masterpiece—graceful, clean-lined and elegant.

In performance, it is a revelation. Its new engine is a vast reservoir of silken power—and the car rides and handles with an almost instinctive ease and sureness.

In safety, it is in a class of its own—with a host of exclusive features, including new side cornering lights.

In craftsmanship, it is simply without rival. Every 1962 Cadillac will undergo more than 1400 inspections to assure its quality and goodness.

On and on the list could go. But however lengthy, that list could never substitute for the experience of inspecting the car and driving it.

Your dealer will happily let you do both at any time.

Once you have, you'll understand why the word has gone out so quickly that this is the finest Cadillac ever.

Lunch Time... business as usual

The continuing fast pace of the business world today makes it difficult for many businessmen to call their brokers during normal business hours, so they frequently must wait until the lunch hour to call. We at Manley, Bennett are aware of this fact, and that's why we always have a staff of competent personnel on duty during the normal luncheon period.

As you know, the exchanges continue to operate during the lunch hour, and often important news develops during this period. It has always been our goal to give all investors the most up-to-date information and most convenient personal service... so at Manley, Bennett the lunch hour means business as usual.

B. E. Hutchinson Taken by Death

B. E. Hutchinson, director and chairman of the Chrysler Corporation's finance committee at the time of his retirement in 1953, died of a heart attack Wednesday night, September 27, in his home at 355 Lincoln road. Mr. Hutchinson was 73.

Hailed as a financial genius, the young engineer joined Walter Chrysler in 1921 when Chrysler bought the Maxwell Motor Corp., handling the financial end of the transaction when Chrysler Corp. was formed to succeed the old Maxwell Motor Corp. He served as vice-president, treasurer, director and officer of several Chrysler divisions during his many years with the corporation. As chairman of the board of Plymouth Motors, he master-minded the development of the Plymouth as a strong contender in the low price field, a market previously considered the special province of the Ford and the Chevrolet.

Mr. Hutchinson, nationally known as an industrialist and financier, also participated in many civic activities. He was a life member of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Corp., the American Ordnance Association, Automotive Old Timers and Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

He was a director of the National Bank of Detroit, the Automobile Manufacturers Association, the Economic Club of Detroit and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, as well as belonging to the Council on Foreign Relations, the Detroit Committee on Foreign Relations, Society of Automobile Engineers, the Detroit Board of Commerce, the Detroit Citizens League, the Detroit Historical Society, the Detroit Museum of Art Founders Society, the Engineering Society of Detroit, Friends of the Detroit Public Library, the Newcomer Society of North America and the Princeton Engineering Association.

Mr. Hutchinson served as a director, national vice-president and member of the Executive Committee of the National Association of Manufacturers and was a trustee of the American Enterprise Association, the Automotive Safety Foundation, the Foundation for Economic Education, the Institute for Economic Education and the Tax Foundation.

He was a member of three committees in the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States of America: the Committee on Business and Finance, the National Layman's Committee and the Committee on Appraisal of Programs and Budget.

Survivors include his wife, Helen; two sons, Richard, of Boston, and John S.; and a daughter, Mrs. William (Thayer) Laurie. The latter two are both Pointe residents.

The body lay in state at the William R. Hamilton Co., 3975 Cass, until services Saturday morning, September 30, at the Episcopal Cathedral of St. Paul, 4800 Woodward.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Episcopal Cathedral of St. Paul.

CAR DAMAGED
 Marilyn Meyers, 21, of 27541 Cosgrove, complained to Woods police on Saturday, September 30, that while her car was parked at the curb at Hollywood and Mack, an unknown driver ran into the left front door and fender, causing $50 in damage.

Pongraz was treated for an injured right leg at Bon Secours hospital and released. Both drivers were issued tickets for reckless driving.

Robbery Suspect Arraigned After Surrender to Police

George B. Boulas, 28, of Chicago, fur robbery suspect, surrendered to Woods police on Tuesday, October 3, and was immediately arraigned before Woods Judge Don Goodrow. Judge Goodrow set bond at $5,000, which Boulas furnished, and he was released until examination date, which the judge set for Wednesday, October 25. Boulas surrendered to police at 1 p.m. Tuesday, with his attorney, Erwin J. Kasoff of Detroit, when he came to the Detroit area after his extradition appeal before Chief Justice Joseph J. Drucker of the Criminal Court of Cook County, Chicago, was denied. Two Woods detectives, Sgt. Walter O'Dell and Det. Leroy Tobian had gone to Chicago on Thursday, September 21, to return the suspect to the jurisdiction of Michigan and Wayne County, but at the last minute, Boulas appealed, and the officers returned empty-handed. Boulas is accused of stealing approximately $50,000 in mink furs from the Kay Anos Furs, 19819 Mack avenue on March 18, after tying up the store manager, Armen Anubigian, 26, of 23085 Kelly, East Detroit. Three men were involved in the hold-up. On March 28, FBI agents arrested James W. Bamford, 41, and Sorecho Nalo, 29, both of Chicago, after finding 18 stoles from the Woods fur store in Bamford's car. Boulas was arrested the following day. Anubigian identified Boulas through a police mug shot, and was flown to Chicago where he positively identified the man in a Chicago police line up, after Boulas was taken into custody. After considerable investigation of lack of evidence, Bamford was deported immediately after confessing he entered the United States from Canada 16 years ago under the alias of Robert Lee Allen. He had been living in Chicago since the illegal entry.

Kiwanis Peanut Sale a Success

Jubilant members of the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club met at the War Memorial Center on Tuesday, September 26, for their regular dinner-meeting and to celebrate a record-breaking peanut sale.

The event celebrated was the National Kids' Day Peanut Sale held on Friday and Saturday, September 22-23, in the Pointe, which brought in net receipts of $1,300, which will be used to further the organization's many charitable and civic activities.

Each member who participated in the sale was congratulated for taking part, but Kiwanian Harry Lyle walked away with the trophy presented to the man who sold the most peanuts. He sold $125 worth.

According to the club's Bulletin, others who were over the $100 mark were Kiwanians Roger Graef, Werner Von All-men and Warren DeCook. The latter received a special salute for organizing, managing and actually bringing in the most money.

Besides thanking the members for their work in the sale, Conrad Naegel, president, thanked the many business and professional men who helped underwrite the cost of the peanuts.

Following the dinner-meeting and celebration, club members viewed a color film, "Freedom Seven," which was shown by Art Dietrich of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. The showing was of the entire operation and flight of Cosmonaut Allan Shepard.

Trombly PTA Meets Oct. 9

Trombly P.T.A. holds its kick-off meeting at 8 p.m. on Monday, October 9, in the school auditorium. President Ted Angott extends a warm welcome to new parents in the Trombly School Community and invites all parents both mother and father to attend this opening meeting.

"Our Children—Their Schooling" is the theme of this year's program as announced by program chairman George Bender. The meeting opens in the auditorium with introductions of association officers and the school staff. Principal F. J. Welchenbach will briefly highlight the nature of the teacher's task—the school-teacher and the parent-teacher—in providing sustaining opportunities for children.

In order to give parents and teachers a real opportunity to get acquainted with each other, an extended classroom visitation will follow the auditorium meeting. Room parents and teachers will welcome guests in the various homerooms. Prior to informal visitation, each teacher will talk briefly with visiting parents as a group about his or her plans, learnings, and projects with and for children for the school year. Following their "teacher report" parents will have time to see the work of the children and to talk with the teacher individually and informally.

Mrs. Robert Kennedy and Mrs. Walter Jensen, social chairmen, together with room mothers Mrs. Louis Bruno, Mrs. Willard Kerr and Mrs. John Arndt are planning social time festivities and refreshments to follow the classroom visitation.

Plea to Move Cabin Refused

Grosse Pointe Woods' City Council at a regular meeting on Monday, October 2, denied the request of Mrs. Anne Parker for permission to move her former home, originally a log cabin, from 809 Lakeshore, Grosse Pointe Shores, to Lot 19a on Vernier road in Grosse Pointe Woods. Councilman Marvin R. Boutin called the house "substandard."

Mrs. Parker, who has been petitioning the Council for permission to move the cabin for two months, indicated that she is not through fighting. She claims the house, as she intends to fix it, would be an asset to any neighborhood.

The Council also referred a letter from residents that the Council reconsider its present plans to light the remaining tennis court in Ghesquiere Park, to the Parks and Recreation Commission and the Parks and Recreation Committee.

The Council further voted to approve a resolution that the Milk River Drainage Board be petitioned to use its present surplus funds to retire the Milk River bonds by requesting tenders from the present bond holders. It tabled a similar resolution concerning the Girard Drainage Board.

DRIVER SENTENCED

Frank Beirne, 39, of 4214 Horeford, Detroit, was convicted of drunk driving on Monday, September 25, and sentenced to pay a fine of $100, or serve 15 days in the Wayne County Jail, and in addition, his driver's license was suspended for six months. He paid the fine. Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger imposed the sentence.

Juvenile Hiding from Mom And Law Sought by Police

Park police put out an all-points broadcast for a missing juvenile who was threatened with physical punishment by his mother after he was questioned by police for attempted car theft.

Det. Lt. Stanley Enders said that the juvenile, a 14-year-old boy, and two 15-year-old boy companions, were arrested in the lot of Ted Ewald's, 15175 East Jefferson on Monday, October 2. The younger boy had a set of keys on his person, which he had taken earlier in the evening from one of the new cars in the lot.

The lieutenant said that a citizen called the station and stated that he saw three boys in the car lot, who appeared to be up to some mischief, perhaps attempting to steal a car.

Police Sgt. Thomas Martin went to the Ewald lot, which is adjacent to the Park Municipal Building and the police station and spoke to the three boys

(not the three arrested). The boys said that they had spoken to the 14-year-old lad previously, and he told them it was "all right to fool around."

The boys also told the sergeant that the 14-year-old had taken a set of keys from a new car, and that he was going to steal a car. After they were questioned, the boys were released. A police plant was set up, but without avail, and the watching officer left.

Shortly after, Patrolman Gus Boone, desk-communications officer, was looking out the rear window of the station, when he observed three boys in the lot. He radioed two cruisers to the scene.

Sgt. Martin and Patrolman Henry Wilson, in one scout car, and Patrolmen Ralph Moore and Robert Salfyrd in another, went to the Ewald lot and apprehended the boys before they could get away. The boys were taken to the station for questioning. Lt. Enders said that the two 15-year-olds stated that they did not intend to steal the car, but that the 14-year-old had invited them to go for a ride with him. The younger boy was searched and the keys were found in his pocket.

The 14-year-old confessed that he had gone to the lot earlier and had taken the keys from a new car, with the intention of returning later and taking it for a "joy ride". He said he had not intended to actually steal the automobile, only to drive it around.

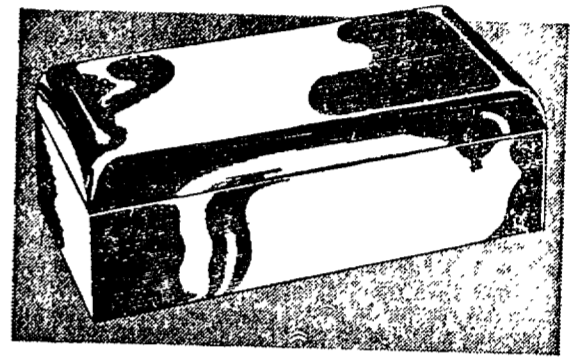

The lieutenant said that the younger lad had a pair of pliers in his possession, and it is believed that he was going to remove a set of license plates from a car in the lot and put them on the new car before driving it away.

The detective said that because nothing could be proved against the older boys, they were released to their parents. The younger boy was also turned over to his mother, to be returned for more questioning, the lieutenant said. As the mother steered the son to the family car at the rear of the police station, the son broke away, and ran, and, at the last report, had not been heard from since.

The missing person report was sent to all points.

Blue Devils Gridders Take Monroe in League Opener

By Dan Hall

An alert Blue Devil defense and a 47-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Rick Brydges to halfback Tom Thompson combined to give Grosse Pointe a 6-0 win over Monroe in the BCL opener last Saturday.

In other BCL openers Dearborn Fordson wallowed Highland Park 28-0. Wyandotte Roosevelt served notice that it may be a team to watch by taking its second straight victory, 6-0, against Royal Oak Dondero. Dondero was rated as one of the top two or three BCL teams in preseason forecasts.

Meet Wyandotte Friday
The Devils will travel to Wyandotte next Friday.

The Devils scored Saturday's only touchdown late in the third quarter.

After Monroe had punted to Grosse Pointe's 22-yard line, Brydges moved four yards through the line to the 26. Thompson ran 11 yards on a pitch-out for a first down. Fullback Mike Parshall went 5 yards through the line, and Brydges added another 9 for a first down. Halfback Skip Beltz went for a 2-yard plunge, and on the next play Thompson out-raced two Trojan defenders to catch a perfect pass from Brydges. Devil fans cheered as he sped down the sidelines for the touchdown.

Defense Rates Praise
Although the Devils' offense provided the most spectacular plays, Grosse Pointe's defense deserves the lion's share of the laurels. Coach Ed Wernet said, "If a team can recover an average of two and a half of its opponents' fumbles per game, it is doing well."

The Devils recovered all six Trojan fumbles.

The best defensive action of the game occurred late in the first half. Monroe had a first down with only 2 yards to go for a touchdown. Trojan quarterback Dan Lewis moved the ball to within 2 inches of the goal. Lewis tried a quarterback sneak but was stopped dead. The Tro-ans tried the same play again, but Lewis was thrown for a one yard loss.

On last down fullback Willie Jones was hit by at least five Devils trying to crack the line. He fumbled, and Devil defensive back Rick Maylock fell on the ball as it rolled into the end zone.

Trojan Fans Protest
Although Trojan fans loudly protested, the referee ruled it a touchback, giving the Devils possession on their own 20. This was the most controversial ruling of the game.

If a Trojan had recovered, Monroe would have gained a 6-6 tie, or possibly a 7-6 victory.

The defense sparkled again with about two minutes to go in the game.

Monroe had possession on its own 9-yard line, and was obviously determined to cross Grosse Pointe's goal for the tying points.

Lewis was rushed trying to pass, and the ball fell harmlessly to earth, making it second down and ten to go. On the next play Jones grabbed a lateral and ran 19 yards for a first down.

Time Runs Out
Grosse Pointe fans hopefully began counting off the seconds as fullback Roger Arnold twice gained 5 yards through the line. Lewis completed a 13 yard pass to Don Jennings for another first down.

On the last play Lewis arched a high pass to Jones but Carl Vertgett hit him 47 yards from the goal to seal the Devils' first victory.

Later in the dressing room a Grosse Pointe player was heard shouting something about finishing with a 6-won., 2 lost record.

Not a bad idea, really.

Devil Reserves Beat St. Ambrose

By Bill Hagan

The Grosse Pointe Reserve team opened its season here last Thursday with a stout running game which produced four touchdowns — and a good passing offense — which produced one touchdown. It was a complete rout for the Devils, who won handily over St. Ambrose 33-6.

Bruce Stewart received the opening kickoff and raced all the way for a quick touchdown, but a clipping penalty cancelled his sprint.

After the penalty the Devils settled down and marched for a touchdown with Pat Richardson doing the scoring. Bob Pryor converted, and it was 7-0.

Both teams gave away fumbles as the first quarter ended. As the second quarter opened, St. Ambrose had to punt, but the Devils fumbled the punt and Ambrose recovered. The Cavaliers began to move, but George Domine intercepted an Ambrose pass and the Devils took over. They quickly marched for a touchdown with Bruce Stewart going over for the score. Pryor converted, and it was 14-0.

After receiving the kickoff,

St. Ambrose punted, and Grosse Pointe rolled for another touchdown with Pryor highlighting the march with a 56-yard run. Pryor again converted and it was 21-0.

St. Ambrose began to move forward after a Devil fumble. But the Devils tightened and stopped St. Ambrose on downs inside the 10-yard line as the half ended.

Grosse Pointe kicked off to start the second half, and St. Ambrose pushed for its only score. Its touchdown came on a 29-yard end run. The conversion attempt failed, and the score was 21-6 for the Devils.

St. Ambrose kicked off and began to get tough on defense, and the Devils could not gain. St. Ambrose received a 15-yard roughness penalty, and Grosse Pointe began to advance. Leonard West finally went over for the touchdown, but the pass failed and it was 27-6 for the Devils.

Grosse Pointe kicked off and forced St. Ambrose to punt. Grosse Pointe started another drive, and it was climaxed by Bob Brammer coming off the bench to throw a touchdown pass to Larry Kennedy. The conversion failed, making the score 33-6.

The 20th Annual Bayview Yacht Club North Channel Race set new records last Saturday. The fleet of 28 yachts crossed the starting line with spinnakers flying in moderate to fresh southerly winds.

The first leg of the race, which took the fleet from the starting line off of the Grosse Pointe Club to the Lighted Buoy at the head of Russell Island via the Middle Channel, was a spinnaker run all the way.

On the final leg of the race which took the fleet from Algonaac to the finish line off of Bayview Yacht Club, the winds continued to increase reaching an estimated 35 knots. During the afternoon the wind hauled slightly to the East thus eliminating the dead beat which would have caused the fleet to do considerable tacking.

As the wind velocity increased so did the casualties to boats and equipment. By finish time early in the evening two boats had been dismasted and a total of eight reported that they had withdrawn from the race.

Jack Moran, sailing his Dragon sloop SEA HAWK, set a new all time record by sailing the course in 8:56:21 which is 1:12:16 better than the previous all time record set by Richard Hill in his Crescent Class Sloop WE DO in 1959. Moran won the Morrill Dunn Trophy for the first boat to finish for the second consecutive year.

Ross Kogel led the Folkboats with NAN TIM followed closely by Alex Allardycie's #36 which placed second and Bob Wood's KANDU third. In the L-class Alee Chapman finished first with ARTEMIS followed by Ken Argo's TALLY HO and Guy Ireland's SHAMROCK.

William Howard's A'LEGGRA was the first Privateer to finish followed by SPINDRIFT, Oscar Carlson, and COTTON TOP. Bob Roadstrom, in the Crescent Class Jenks and Kreger placed first with ROBBIN C followed by C. Przydatek's MAI KAI, and Richard Hill's WE DO.

Pointe Postmen Capture Crown

Before one of the largest crowds to witness a Post Office League softball game, the Grosse Pointe Branch Post Office softball team defeated the Parkgrove Branch Post Office team 14-11 at Jayne Field, in the final playoff game for the championship of the Detroit Letter Carriers Association Softball League.

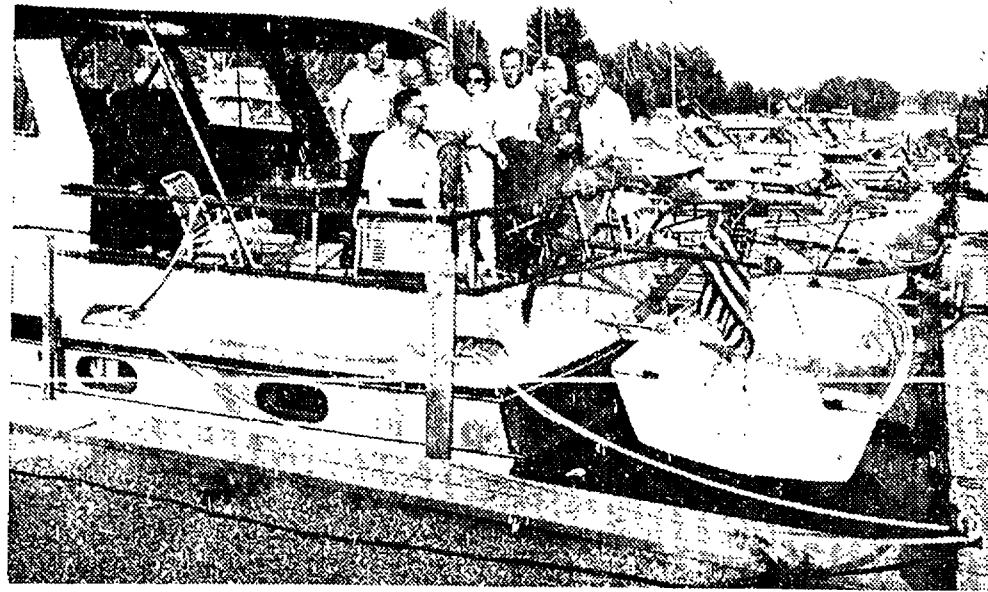

The playoff between these two teams was the climax to an exciting season, in which 24 post offices throughout the city of Detroit and its suburbs, engaged in league play from early May until this final game for the city championship.

Filled with many exciting plays, the feature of this final game of the season, was a booming homerun off the bat of Joe Overall, the Grosse Pointe left fielder, with Chas Kane and Dick Laney on base, which resulted in the winning margin in the sixth inning.

So, if you see your letter carrier of Grosse Pointe Post Office, delivering your mail with a certain added jaunt in his step, it is because he is proud of his team that just won a city championship over 24 other postoffices throughout Greater Detroit.

The Detroit Letter Carriers Association, sponsors of the league, is awarding the Grosse Pointers a huge trophy and jackets for each member of the team for their championship efforts.

Spartans Grid Teams Beaten

Under a cloudy sky accompanied by chilly winds, the Grosse Pointe Woods Spartans football team journeyed across town to tangle with the team of South Redford.

Coach Mike Gate's green-shirted chargers kicked off to the Raiders of South Redford. The Spartans held and the Raiders were forced to punt. The ball rolled dead on the Grosse Pointe 15-yard line. Rick Gonzales broke over center for seven yards, but two plays later Grosse Pointe fumbled and Redford recovered on the Spartans 22-yard line. Three plays later the Raiders pushed across the game's first touchdown and converted the extra point to move in front 7 to 0.

On the following kick off Jennings received and fumbled, but the ball was recovered by Gary Parmentier of Grosse Pointe. Quarterback Dennis McEvoy started his offensive move. Rick Gonzales went over center for 17 yds. to the Redford 39-yd. line, then carried the ball to the 34-yd. line on a slant play over right tackle. Tom Jennings went to the 27-yd. line, then Jon Staryk raced around right end to the 16-yd. line. The Spartans worked right down to the Raider's 2-yd. line but the defense held and Redford took over on their own 2 yd. line.

At the start of the second quarter Grosse Pointe held and forced the Raiders to kick. However the punt was partially blocked and the Spartans took over on the Redford 14-yd. line. This time the green-shirted Grosse Pointers were not to be denied. On the first play Jon Staryk swept around right end to score standing up. The extra point was missed and it was Raiders 7, Grosse Pointe 6.

Late in the second quarter the Raiders scored again and converted the extra point. The half ended with the South Redford Raiders out in front 14 to 6.

Grosse Pointe received the kick off to start the second half. It was Jon Staryk who brought the crowd to their feet. He took the kickoff and twisted and turned, reversed his field and raced 65 yards down the sideline to score standing up. Grosse Pointe did not get the extra point but they were back in the ball game.

Heads up play by both sides kept the ball around the middle field stripe and the first break seemed to come when Jerry Hodges recovered a Redford fumble on the Grosse Pointe 40 yd. line. However Redford pushed over another touchdown and extra point late in the third quarter to make it 21 to 12 in favor of the Raiders.

A final surge by Grosse Pointe late in the fourth quarter pushed the Spartans deep in Redford territory. Finally it was Gonzales, throwing a beautiful block on the Raiders' right line backer and Jon Staryk swept left end for a touchdown. On the third time Grosse Pointe failed to convert.

Jim Dinoto was one of the defensive stars for Grosse Pointe by blocking 2 passes and intercepting a third one. Also aiding in the defensive cause were Kevin Eisey, Jim Siebert, Dennis Joy and Jim Trandell. On offensive it was Bob King at center with the guards Jerry Hodges and Richard Rini doing yeoman service.

Sunken Garden Parking Area Nears Completion

A unique parking area combined with a garden has been created on the grounds of the Charles Verheyden, Inc. funeral establishment at Mack and Whittier extending down the center of the area from the porte tier. There is room to park 150 cars, with a raised walk cohere in the rear of the building to Charlevoix avenue. The parking space is completely surrounded by gardens beautifully landscaped, and an almost completely obscured brick wall surrounding the two acres of land.

THE FOUNDATION
Hard work and careful planning make a smooth road for the wheels of progress.
Two-thirds of the year, is gone—and most of its resolutions.

FLEETING
Fame is short-lived—it will ride you on its shoulder today, and on a rail tomorrow.
Some nations seem to think they can mend the world's ill by shattering it with bombs.

LIVE AND LET LIVE
A pedestrian may be in the wrong, but he still doesn't deserve the death penalty.
Paying income tax may be tough, but not half as bad as having nothing to pay taxes on.

DO IT NOW
Don't worry so much about the future that you forget the tasks that should be done today.
If at first you don't succeed—borrow some more money and start another project.

Center Offers Travel Movies

Wallace Temple will be showing his exceptional color films which completely encircle the Mediterranean on Thursday evening, October 5 at 8 o'clock, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, 32 Lake Shore road. The Grosse Pointe public is cordially invited without charge.

Modern Tunis will be shown in contrast to Ancient Carthage. There will be a stop in the colorful city of Tangiers. From the Costa Brava of Spain, Mr. Temple will take his viewers over to fabulous Formentor on the tip of Majorca.

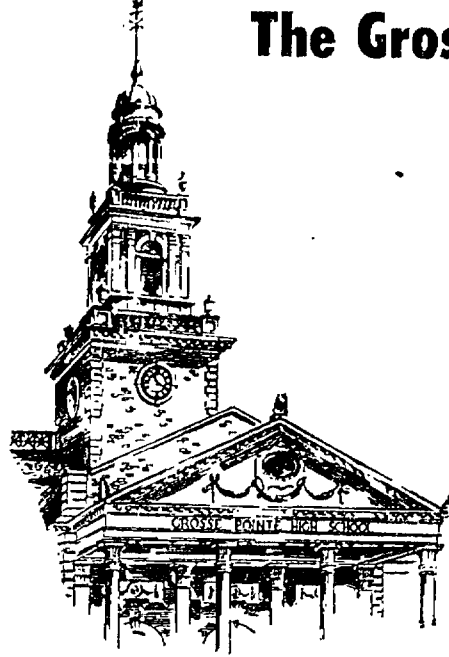

From bustling Barcelona the camera will move to the Italian Peninsula where a visit will be made to the Palio Festival where the horses to be raced are led up the center aisle of the cathedral to be blessed, and where the flags of the ancient Italian houses are twirled in colorful procession. Elba of Napoleonic fame will be an added interesting feature.

The films will conclude with a visit to Istanbul and contrasting scenes of the old and new Lebanon, Jerusalem and the current hot spot in international politics—Syria.

The Grosse Pointe Public School System FINANCIAL REPORT

For fiscal year ending June 30, 1961

The following report for the 1960-61 fiscal year is a condensed summary (in cash receipts and disbursements form) of the financial transactions authorized by your Board of Education in support of the total educational program of the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

The Board of Education wishes to supplement the financial data with a few brief comments:

In accordance with State Law, all funds received and disbursed by The Grosse Pointe Public School System are maintained under three major classifications, or Funds, which broadly indicate the function. These are:

- GENERAL OPERATING FUND
- BUILDING AND SITE FUND
- DEBT RETIREMENT FUND

GENERAL OPERATING FUND:

As indicated by the title, this fund provides for all activities of the School System other than those specifically designated as Building and Site or Debt Retirement.

The General Fund receives the bulk of its revenue from two main sources. The first and largest source is from tax levies on real and personal property within the school district. The second is from State Aid.

Expenditures from the General Fund are made in accordance with a budget prepared by the Superintendent of Schools and as reviewed and adopted by the Board of Education.

The Board of Education wishes to report to you that your School System was operated within the budget adopted in June, 1960.

The Revolving Fund receipts and disbursements represent transactions within the System and consist principally of escrow funds for several activities as indicated in the "NOTE" shown below.

The receipts and disbursements for the General Fund for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1960 and ending June 30, 1961 were as follows:

SECTION I GENERAL FUND

NOTE: The June 30th General Fund balance of $3,306,428.12 includes $4,262.77 of unspent funds from the 1960-61 Current Operation Budget, as well as funds borrowed on a short term loan basis for Operating purposes during the first six months of the 1961-62 fiscal year. It includes amounts specifically earmarked as follows:

	$3,306,428.12

BUILDING AND SITE FUND:

Moneys in this fund are used primarily for the acquisition of land, construction of buildings, and the equipment for such buildings.

Funds may be realized from the sale of general obligation bonds, by a special voted tax levy specifically designated for the purposes mentioned above, or by appropriation from the General Fund.

This fund reflects the receipts and disbursements of the three-quarter mill special voted tax levy for building and site purposes approved by the electorate in October 1959 for a four-year period. This is the first year of this program. During the fiscal year under review, construction contracts were let for the addition of a third floor on the Industrial Arts building which will provide space for six classrooms. A contract was also awarded for the construction of six additional classrooms at the D. M. Perry Elementary School. This fund also contains amounts set aside to complete capital improvement projects now in process and to provide a small contingency reserve.

SECTION II BUILDING AND SITE FUND:

TOTAL EXPENDITURES	$410,618.70
Balance, June 30, 1961	$286,184.66

DEBT RETIREMENT FUND

This fund is established for the purpose of paying principal and interest on the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the School System.

At June 30, 1961, there were three outstanding bond obligations of the School System. There are as follows:

Bond Issue	Original Issue	Balance Outstanding June 30, 1961
1953 Bond Issue	$2,500,000.00	$ 725,000.00
1954 Bond Issue	1,225,000.00	425,000.00
1956 Bond Issue	3,475,000.00	3,195,000.00
	$7,200,000.00	$4,345,000.00

The first two issues are twenty-year serial bonds for which mandatory rates were voted. Because of these mandatory rates, and substantial increases in assessed valuation, more revenues have been received than were necessary to meet the annual principal and interest requirement. Additional funds thus accumulated have been used to establish the required reserves and to call bonds for redemption prior to normal maturity date.

The 1956 issue is a 25-year serial bond obligation to be levied with an unlimited tax levy. This means that we levy taxes each year sufficient to meet the annual principal and interest payments.

SECTION III DEBT RETIREMENT FUND

RECEIPTS:
Current Tax Collection	$ 781,422.48

The Board of Education of The Grosse Pointe Public School System extends an invitation to any resident of the District, interested in obtaining additional information, to visit the School System at its Administrative Offices at 359 St. Clair, where a complete certified public audit is available for inspection.

Unfinished Business

Deletion of a letter from the end of an editorial on Civil Defense in last week's issue doubtless left many readers wondering what our comments were all about. We regret the omission committed during the hurly-burly of rushing final releases to get the paper on the press.

The letter, which was intended to let residents know that the Civil Defense organizations are awake to the recent surge of interest, was a copy of one addressed to Mayor William F. Connolly of Grosse Pointe Farms. Written by Col. R. C. Pfeil, District Engineer of the Army Corps of Engineers for the Detroit area, other copies have been sent to all top municipal officials in the district. The letter follows.

Honorable William F. Connolly, Jr.

Grosse Pointe Farms 36, Mich.
Dear Mayor Connolly:

As I believe you know, certain new responsibilities for civil defense have been assigned to the Department of Defense, including a National fallout shelter survey. I assume that recent memorandum from Secretary of Defense McNamara to all state and local Civil Defense Directors has come to your attention. In this memorandum Secretary McNamara indicated that responsibility for the fallout shelter survey has been assigned to the Army Corps of Engineers and the Navy Bureau of Yards and Docks. In turn, the responsibility for the State of Michigan will be assigned to my office, the U.S. Army Engineer District, Detroit. We expect to work closely with the State Civil Defense Director, who is informing local directors of this program.

The survey is expected to cover all significant structures which offer potential shelter capabilities (public, private, industrial). It will include all communities, large and small, throughout the state. As you can see, the scope of this project is extremely large, and accordingly I am unable to predict accurately the timing of our work in your community. However, I consider it important that you be informed of our general plans as early as possible, since the support of local governments will be essential to the program's success. The mayors of other cities in the state are being similarly informed.

In organizing our approach to this project, much exploratory work will be necessary to learn the nature and extent of available data on existing buildings and how such information can best be obtained or examined for our purpose. We know, of course, that each city government has information which will be useful. However, a single point of contact or liaison with each city seems essential to our getting the job done effectively and with a minimum of inconvenience to normal city business.

My purposes in now writing to you are therefore to advise you generally of the developing program, to solicit your active support, and to request at this time your assistance in establishing a point of contact in your community to facilitate our preparatory work. I shall be pleased to have your comments on this point and shall welcome any questions you may have as to the nature and scope of this program.

Sincerely yours,
R. C. PFEIL,
Colonel, Corps of Engineers
District Engineer.

Letters To The Editor

Upon reading your editorial in the Grosse Pointe News concerning the closed campus program, I am in full agreement with the idea of having a closed campus. It gives students better educational opportunities and a chance for them to get some extra help, since one period a week in almost every class is devoted to this purpose. This, itself, is a tremendous idea and should be carried out in other schools across the country.

Last year, as a result of open campus, much confusion resulted. The campus was full of litter, cars were screeching around corners, and the surrounding stores were a mess as a result of a few careless students. As you mentioned, it is the few careless students who are objecting to the closed campus program; the ones who abused their privilege last year.

As was stated in the editorial, lunch hours have been constantly changing ever since school started. Each day a small improvement has been made. The addition of the third noon-hour and the third line serving soup, sandwiches, and dessert is an excellent improvement. These two additions have cut down the size of each line and have allowed more time for students to eat. With the increase in new tables soon to be installed in the cafeteria, the seating arrangement should be sufficient for each lunch hour.

Thank you very much for expressing your opinion on the subject of closed campus at Grosse Pointe High School. As a student attending the high, I learned much from the article. My wish is that every student attending Grosse Pointe High will read your article and think over what was said. Parents objecting to closed campus should do the same.

Yours truly,
NANCY EADS

What Goes On at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

“To market, to market, to buy a fat pig”—so the nursery jingle goes, but interest today lies in the bull or the bear, rather than the porker, and our trading arena is now the stock market. If we invest wisely we'll ride happily home again, “jiggly-jig”—with coins still jingling in our pockets.

As in questions of medicine, when our first recourse should be a reliable doctor, so in the financial and investment fields, no books can take the place of an experienced broker's astute counsel. However, books can supplement and widen our knowledge of this interesting subject. That this is a subject of interest is borne out by the fact that, of some 100 books about investment on the library shelves, two-thirds were discovered upon checking, to be in use. We mention here a few titles of recent vintage.

PRIMER FOR PROFIT IN THE STOCK MARKET by Harry Kahn is a helpful handbook, basic and definite. The author, a partner in Bache & Company's Washington office, offers market advice and explains how the small investor can make “spare” money earn an income by prudent, long-term investments in common stocks.

PATHS TO WEALTH THROUGH COMMON STOCKS by Philip A. Fisher has advice for the investor who is interested in the long-range aspect of this field, rather than in the short term, quick-profit angle. A good introduction to the subject, rational and conservative in approach is EVERYBODY'S GUIDE TO THE STOCK MARKET by H. M. Finley. A considerably revised edition of an earlier issue was received within the past year. The more seasoned speculators will be interested in George W. Bishop's 1960 publication CHARLES DOW AND THE DOW THEORY. As well as a study of the evolution of the Dow theory of stock market movements for forecasting purposes, this book has biographical material about the man who evolved the analysis system which bears his name.

YOUR MONEY AND WHAT TO DO WITH IT by Gilbert M. Tucker is not, as brought out in the preface, a “get-rich-quick” guide but is meant to help the inexperienced confronted with financial and investment problems with which he has had little training or experience.

With investment clubs mushrooming on all sides, there has been interest in Raymond Trigger's HOW TO RUN A SUCCESSFUL INVESTMENT CLUB.

We are told that women constitute more than 50 per cent of the stockholders who own the corporations of America.

Two books, HOW TO BE A WOMAN OF PROPERTY by Harriet Gardner Palmer and WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW ABOUT FINANCE by Mabel Raef Putnam, have much to offer the female who would gain a better understanding of the financial world.

As well as books, your library has a number of periodicals and newspapers of value to the investor. Moody's annual volumes form one of our most important reference tools. This is supplemented by semi-weekly reports which cover the entire range of the investment field, Industrials, transportation, banks and finance, public utilities and governments. Additional help may be found in Barron's, Forbes, The Wall Street Journal, Financial World, United States Investor, The Stock Picture and the Kiplinger Washington Letter.

In addition to his academic duties,

Dr. Brown is active in several semantic, psychological, and industrial relations societies.

He has been widely used as a consultant, with his clients including such organizations as the American Management Association, General Motors, the Detroit Bank, and the J. L. Hudson Co. Among his many publications is a widely read book, “The Study of Leadership”, published in the fall of 1957.

State Penalizes Pointe Motorist

An unsatisfactory driving record has brought about the suspension of driving privileges for David A. Diamond of 455 Bishop road, according to the latest report, dated September 15, from Secretary of State James M. Hare in Lansing.

Diamond, the report disclosed, had his driver's license taken away for a period of six months, from September 7, through March 7.

Hare also disclosed that the drivers' licenses of 340 Michigan motorists were suspended and those of 117 were revoked during the week of September 10.

Some people have plenty of go, but they lack staying qualities.

One up, but two down

By FRED KOPP, R. Ph.

When a brand new drug is introduced, its price is usually high. That's because initial sales may be low, and the price must cover production costs—which are generally as high for small quantities as for big quantities. But once many doctors begin writing prescriptions, the manufacturer steps up production... and it is thus able to bring the price down. A survey in our own store shows that, in the past 10 years, for every drug that rose in price because raw materials or labor costs went up, two came down in price because demand increased. That's why we say... Today's prescription is the biggest bargain in history.

This is the 97th of a series of editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

What's New on THE HILL...

By Roberta

AFTER SO MANY visits to so many places and ports it seems to us that all roads from the U.S.A. and the Continent eventually lead to the Hill. Many buyers are in New York, Chicago, and Europe. The fine wines from France... the fabrics and gifts ordered will soon be here for us to gloat over... and we will.

Solid
that solid knotty walnut desk with spoon feet and good-looking inlay on the tilt-top must be seen to be appreciated. Stop at the Dants the next time you are on the Hill. It's just inside the door.

Artist's Street Market
A China painter... a silversmith... will be On The Hill during the Artists' Street Market, October 12, 13 and 14. An artist with the gift of decorating copper with enamel will be here... and don't be surprised if you see a glass blower. Mr. McCoy and Mr. Samuel Sheridan of the Book Shelf report that this will be a yearly event. Approximately fifty artists will be represented in the show. Expect to find oils... water colors... etchings... pastels... charcoals... and fine pieces of sculpture.

Warm and Friendly
If you want your Christmas cards to be like 'this'... warm in spirit... friendly in every way... visit the new card room at the Book Shelf.

It's a Honey
Try making a honey sundae for your friends. One part ice cream... one part warm honey... over it all nuts. Heavenly... especially when you buy your ice cream from the well-known brand name ice cream on the Hill.

The Shelves
at Trail Pharmacy are stocked with every modern drug and antibiotic so that your doctor's prescription can be filled with no loss of time. They take pride in their accuracy, skill and up to the minute knowledge of drugs. Daily deliveries... plus a telephone night answering service means excellent service. TU 1-5688.

It Is So Convenient to leave your jewelry to be repaired... beads strung... or your rings sized, at Pongraz Jeweler and Silversmith, at 91 Kercheval.

If You See

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

Shifting her big game trophies around to make room for a new specimen, a huge mountain goat, is Mrs. Thomas William Baumgarten's current decorating problem.

Her husband, Dr. Baumgarten, returned Sunday evening from a big game expedition into British Columbia where he bagged the goat in the wilds of the Canadian Rockies, 8,000 feet above sea level.

With the veteran hunter went Dick Hanna and Dr. George Maire. The trio flew to Windemere, B.C., and then traveled by pack horse into the interior to hunt game.

This was a purely stag expedition for mountain goat, moose, elk and mule deer. But often Mrs. Baumgarten accompanies her husband. In the planning stage right now is a trip to Alaska for Kodiak bear. She is quite a shot herself, brought down an antelope in Wyoming last season. The trophies in the Baumgartens' basement playroom testify to their skill. Even seven year old son Tommy has contributed his trophy, a rainbow parrot fish, caught deep sea fishing in Bimini.

The Baumgartens' friends look forward each fall and winter to the fabulous game dinners the couple serve. Mrs. B. is a gourmet game cook; one-prize dish is bear meat done like Swiss steak with tomatoes and mushrooms. She also cooks pheasant, wild duck, Canadian goose and Alaska salmon. During bird season the Baumgartens spend many week-ends at Walpole island where the wild duck abound.

Build Bomb Shelter

Mrs. Eugene Casaroll has wanted a garden room for some time in her Elm court home. This fall she and her husband began the project. Son Tony, a freshman at Michigan State, has become so involved with Civil Defense work at school he prevailed upon his parents to deepen their plans and provide a bomb shelter at the same time.

Steam shovels were out of the question on their quiet dead end street so the huge pit for the shelter has been dug by man power, the dirt removed by wheelbarrows. Now the hole is large enough for the shelter and the garden room will be built on top, so both Tony and his parents will have the new additions they wanted.

Fisher Opening Night Draws Gay Crowd

Scores of Pointers Dine at DAC Before Attending Debut of Lavish New Theater, See Musical "The Gay Life"; Club Chartered Bus for Playgoers

The beautiful new Fisher Theater doubtlessly is settling neatly into its stride by now, but the invitationally opening last Saturday, September 30, will linger long in everyone's mind as a glittering and sumptuous event.

Naturally, many Grosse Pointers were guests of members of the Fisher family at the pre-Broadway stage show opener, "The Gay Life," based on "The Affairs of Anatole," and many went to the Detroit Athletic Club to dine and have a dance or two before departing in their own cars or the DAC's chartered bus for the magnificent new theater.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Tris, the Walker Cislers and Sir James and Lady Easton were dinner guests at the DAC of the Raymond T. Perrings, of Bloomfield Hills, whose other guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. Jamison Williams, of Birmingham.

With the George M. Endicotts were their son and daughter-in-law, the Charles M. Endicotts, the John K. Roneys and their daughter and son-in-law, the Thomas Bookmyers. In another eight some were the George Haggarty, the Gerald Hahn, the Lester Colmans of Bloomfield Hills, and Dr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Leithausner.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Verhelle entertained at a family dinner at the DAC before the eight some went on to the Fisher—with them were their sons and daughters-in-law, the William H. and the Robert E. Verhelles, and their daughter and son-in-law, the Joseph Kristufeks.

The Eugene Gargaros were dinner guests at the downtown club of the William C. Newbergs, of Bloomfield Hills, who also had the Phil Kourys, of Kansas City, Mo., with them.

The Ralph C. Wilsons, Sr., and the Charles Freiburgers were a foursome, Mrs. Wilson in a long-skirted, slim dress of rose-hued velvet and a charming new hairdo she brought back from the Wilsons' recent trip abroad; Mrs. Freiburger stumping in a long dress with a rose-pink design in the fabric, and a chinchilla shoulder wrap.

Mrs. Walsh Jacobs and Joseph Cluff were a twosome of diners at the DAC—she was lovely in short-length evening dress of muted gold and black lame) and they were noted later at the theater chatting with Mrs. Jacob's son-in-law and daughters, the Alfred Fishers, Jr., who had dined at the Recess Club in the Fisher Building with their guests (the Chase Morseys, Charles Whites, Carlton Higgins Jr., Benson Fords and others.)

The Emmet E. Tracys and their guests, the Earl Wards, Tom Tracy and Helene Kilbourn, dined and danced briefly before going on the DAC bus to the theater. Noted were the Ozzie Olsons (she was beautiful in a white satin theater suit with black bodice completely embroidered with black beads. Their guests were the William Beebes of Holland, Mich., and the William Gerhards.

Also noted at the DAC (they had their tickets for "The Gay Life" at the new Fisher for Monday, opening night for the regular theater public), were the William M. Schmidts who were at the downtown club for a twosome dinner and dancing.

BURBRIDGE HATCH, of Rivard boulevard.

Club to Hear Famed Author

William F. Buckley, Jr., of New York, will address the Women's Republican Club of Grosse Pointe on Thursday, October 12, at the 1 p.m. meeting in the Country Club of Detroit. Tea will follow his talk on "The Liberal Ideology and U.S. Foreign Policy."

Buckley, editor of the magazine, National Review, first provoked public attention by his best-selling book, "God and Man at Yale". In it he raised the searching question: What are today's students being taught? The book was probably the most widely reviewed book of the year and the same was true of "McCarthy and His Enemies" which he co-authored with L. Brent Bozell. His third best-seller, "Up From Liberalism", documents the contradictions of a bankrupt political tendency.

His most recent book, "The Committee and Its Critics," due for publication in January, is a symposium on the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Buckley is a well known and challenging speaker and debater who has lectured widely over the United States and on television and radio programs.

As editor of "National Review", he has led a team of great conservative writers including the late Whittaker Chambers, John Dos Passos, John Chamberlain, Max Eastman and others.

He was born in New York in 1925. He was graduated from Yale with honors.

Some of the questions the speaker will pose before his Grosse Pointe audience will be: Why can't we make any headway against the Soviet Union? What are some of the premises imposed upon us by Liberalism which keeps us from acting effectively as crises occur around the world? What is the ultimate meaning of Liberalism in terms of our struggle with the Soviet Union?

All Grosse Pointe Republicans, men and women, are invited to hear Buckley. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Carl E. Blanchard, TU 4-2619 or Mrs. Lee E. Taylor, TU 5-6639.

Class to Train Braille Workers

The American Red Cross Braille Transcription class will be offered at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center at 10 o'clock on Thursday mornings beginning October 12. It will continue through May. Miss Ella McLennan, herself blind, will be the teacher. The course, however, is for sighted people only.

Only through the help of dedicated volunteers who learn to transcribe braille can the many reading materials needed by the blind be translated for them. This is truly a wonderful way to help humanity if one can devote the time and effort.

There is no charge for the instruction, but there is a small charge for materials — something under $5.00. Those who successfully finish the course and complete their manuscripts receive a certificate from the Library of Congress entitling them to do official transcription. The class meets only one hour weekly for instruction, but there is home work in addition.

Advance enrollment by calling TU 1-7511 is appreciated as it is necessary to order books and supplies well ahead of time.

Christ Church Plans Tuesday Seminars

Episcopal Women to Explore "The Christian and His Role in the World Today" Beginning October 10 at 10:45 O'clock in the Church Undercroft

In an effort to understand more fully the relevancy of the Church in our lives, the Episcopal Churchwomen are exploring in a series of Tuesday meetings the topic, "The Christian and his Role in the World Today." The first of the seminars will be held at 10:45 a.m., October 10 in the undercroft of Christ Church, following Communion.

Mrs. Henry Egerton, chairman of Christian Education stresses the value of such a study course. She believes that women should renew and continue their Christian education so they can more effectively carry out their jobs as homemakers.

"It is only when we hear the Gospel in the terms of our own lives that Christian faith has real meaning for us."

The responsibility of the Christian will be dealt with on the world-wide, the community and the home front. First under consideration will be the personal relationship of man with his family.

The Rev. Erville B. Maynard, rector of Christ Church, will guide the study course through the first several weeks, supplementing his lectures on personal relationships with excerpts from "Christian Living" by Stephen Bayne, Bishop Bayne, Executive Director of the Anglican Communion throughout the world, writer of profound truths in a simple style.

Relating the role of the church to the community will be the task of the Rev. George Whitney and guest speaker Mr. Marvin G. Pettit of St. Peter's Home for Boys who will speak November 21. Penz-Newman Rites Read

In Christ Episcopal Church, Needham, Mass., on September 2, P. Andrew Penz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry A. Penz, of Harvard road, claimed Sandra Levett Newman as his bride.

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Derwood A. Newman, of Needham, wore a candlelight brocade gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and chapel train. Her shoulder length veil was caught by a small rose and she carried phalaenopsis orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. E. Lawrence Kirkegaard, of Cambridge, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Janice Roundy, of Boston; Ruth Dane, of East Greenwich, R.I., and Mrs. Thomas Cracas, of North Andover.

Neil Georgi, of Grosse Pointe, was best man and the ushers were William Penz, of Grosse Pointe; Richard Newman, of Needham; Alan Forster, of Wilmington, Del.; Donald Lareau, of Bronxville, N.Y., and Mr. Cracas.

After a brief wedding trip the couple will make their home at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., where Mr. Penz will serve as an assistant in the physics department while continuing his graduate studies.

Health Council Has Code Book

A new code book stating a set of guiding principles to achieve cooperation between parents and students for a safe and acceptable program of social activities for young people of Junior High School level has been formulated.

The clergy, educators and many parents of Grosse Pointe with the Mothers' Health Education Council, Inc., as coordinator, have been consulted over a period of 18 months. It is from their beliefs, thoughts and suggestions that this code book has been formulated.

As young people mature, they desire more freedom. They usually welcome direction, but they resent arbitrary orders. Because of group pressures, young people are often placed in situations which they are unable to handle with poise and good judgement. They want and need the understanding support of their parents.

Parents are eager to have young people enrich their lives through wholesome social activities. However, parents need fortification to combat the pressure exerted by the plea of their children that EVERYBODY DOES IT!

Each family of a Junior High School student will receive a copy. It is believed that this pamphlet can serve its purpose best within the families which adopt it by mutual agreement.

GOAL
Ambition, plus a fixed course, are the magnets that get things coming your way.

Since the theme of the party will be "Autumn Rhapsody", Arlene Stay, decorations chairman, is using early fall foliage to create a riot of color as the background for the dance.

Bill Knicy's orchestra will provide the music for the occasion and refreshments served at candlelit tables in the dining room will be included in the price of admission which is $1.50 per person.

Morning Musicales Begin Here Nov. 2

First Concert Will Feature Bass Baritone Kenneth Smith at the Country Club at 11 O'clock with Subscription Luncheon Following

Internationally renowned artists will be presented in three concerts by the Grosse Pointe Morning Musicales in their 1961-62 series at the Country Club of Detroit in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Starting during the war when concert going was curtailed by gas rationing, founders of the musicales contrived the idea of bringing artists to the Pointe for a series of invitational subscription concerts followed by luncheon.

Although the guiding spirit was the late Mrs. Henry B. Joy, as a tribute to her memory the committee has continued the concerts.

Serving on the Board of Directors responsible for arranging the musicals are: Mrs. Ferdinand Cinelli, Mrs. Charles A. Dean, Mrs. Ward A. Detwiler, Mrs. Frederick S. Ford, Mrs. Daniel W. Goodenough, Mrs. Richard P. Joy, Mrs. C. Everett Kinsey, Mrs. James A. Lafer, Miss Margaret Mannebach, Mrs. Jerome H. Remick Jr., Mrs. Allan Sheldon, Mrs. Richard K. Simonds, Mrs. Burt Eddy Taylor, Miss Christine Symington, Mrs. Henry P. Williams and Mrs. Richard E. Williams.

Kenneth Smith, bass baritone, will open the series November 2 at 11 a.m. Mr. Smith, a transcontinental favorite, will be remembered as singing the role of Brigham Young in the NBC premiere TV presentation

Plan Dialogues At Christ Church

Dr. Harrison Sadler has been invited to be the guest of the Rev. Erville B. Maynard of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, in a series of dialogues on "The Nature of Human Relationship."

The audience will be invited to participate in discussing such provocative questions as, "How We Develop a Sense of Individual Worth and Achievement," "What is Personality," and "Human Relationships: Love, Marriage, Family, Divorce."

These discussions will continue for six weeks beginning Monday evening, October 9, at 8 o'clock in the Parish House, following Holy Communion at 6:30 and dinner at 7.

All interested members of the community are invited. Please make reservations for dinner by calling the church office, TU 5-4841.

Dr. Sadler is chairman of the Department of Psychiatry at Wayne State University in the College of Medicine. He received his A.B. at St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., and his M.D. from the University of Maryland, College of Medicine. During World War II he was Ship's Medical Officer.

He was in the Normandy invasion and received the Purple Heart. His residency in psychiatry was at the well known Menninger Foundation in Topeka, Kans. He had his psychoanalytic training in Detroit and New York.

He has been soloist with the N.Y. Philharmonic, Denver, North Carolina, University of Illinois, Montreal, Quebec, Cleveland, National, Indianapolis, Austin, Tulsa and University of Miami Symphonies.

Paul Doktor and Yaltah Menuhin, viola-piano duo, will appear January 11, presenting selections from classical literature written for this combination of instruments that ranges from the classical period to contemporary composers. Both are from musical families.

Paul Doktor is the son of the late Karl Doktor of the famous Busch String Quartet. Yaltah is the youngest son of the Menuhin family. She was educated in Paris and Rome.

The musicians will be honored at subscription luncheons after each concert and will be introduced to members, fortunate to have an opportunity to hear artists of such prominence in the musical world in an intimate setting.

St. Paul Seniors Fete Freshmen

The Senior Class of Saint Paul High School held the year's first dance last Friday, September 29, in honor of the Freshman Class.

With the appropriate theme "Indian Summer," it served as an introduction for the Freshmen into high school social life.

The class of '62 prepared the event as a fitting climax to the zany initiation stunts of the past few weeks.

Heading the dance committee were Steve Handlos, senior president, and Mary Jo Decker. The planning committee also included Pete Palombit, vice-president, Lynn Schuch, secretary, and Mike Cantwell, treasurer.

Under the direction of senior Margaret Jarrett, the fall theme was carried out to the fullest extent.

League Groups Plan Meetings

The several study groups of the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe have scheduled meetings throughout October.

The resource committee for National Study Item: "Support of United States economic policies which promote world development and maintain a sound U.S. economy," is headed by Mrs. J. Robert Jessup and will meet at her home, 945 Lakeshore avenue, VA 1-5561, on two Tuesdays, October 10 and 24, at 1 p.m.

Basic to the study will be the League's newest publication, "The Politics of Trade," which may be purchased through the League for 50 cents.

About the new publication, Mrs. Ruth S. Phillips, president of the National LWV, has said, "1962 will bring a great debate on trade. For it is the year in which Congress must decide whether to renew, restate, or to replace the Trade Agreement Act which expires next June 30. It is the year in which Congressmen, in their desire to satisfy the demands of their home constituencies as well as the needs of the nation as a whole, will argue for and against existing trade policies."

The Politics of Trade is addressed to every citizen who wishes to join in the trade debate—whether the debates are held in Congress, in business circles, at local gatherings, or with neighbors next door. The pamphlet is designed to focus attention on the major areas of agreement and disagreement in trade, and to identify the significant issues now before us."

Some of the questions to which the group will seek answers are: How should the United States now shape its trade policy in view of the regional trading groups of the developed countries; the needs of the developing countries; the trade-policies of the Soviet bloc; continued unemployment at home and our balance-of-payments problem; should the new trade program provide for trade adjustment assistance?

The resource committee for Local Study Item I: "Our exceptional children and what we do for them," is led by Mrs. Douglas A. Sargent, 816 Grand Marais, VA 3-0542, and will meet at her home on Wednesday, October 11, at 1 p.m. The group will consider problems of children who are exceptional because of superior or inferior mental ability, special talents, physical handicaps or emotional disturbances.

Many League members as well as those of this study group plan to attend the day-long Mental Health Conference in the Community Arts Auditorium of the MacGregor Memorial Center, Wayne State University (2nd and Ferry), Friday, October 6, at 10 a.m.

The editorial committee for Local Item II, the revision of the League book, This Is Your Grosse Pointe, will meet each Thursday morning in October at 9:30 at the home of Mrs. Harlan L. Hagman, 1017 Kensington road, TU 5-8013.

NO FIRE SALE
 Highland Park Fire Chief Basil Ratford informed Farms police on Friday, September 22, that while his car was parked in the Farms pier park, where he was attending a demonstration, someone broke into the vehicle and stole his gray-striped jacket, valued at $43.

To Be Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. McCarl, of Van Antwerp avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, DOROTHY ELLEN, to Ronald J. Schobel, son of the Herman N. Schobel, of Chicago. Miss McCarl attended Western Michigan University where Mr. Schobel is a junior. An August wedding is planned.

Hunt Club Non-Riders Also to Follow Hounds

Extremely comfortable footwear, (especially tennis shoes), is being sought this week by a large contingent of the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club membership who are looking forward to following the North Country Beagles at 2:30 p.m. this Sunday.

This will be an added attraction for the non-horseback riding group who will accompany the equestrians to Pointer Ernest C. Putnam's Metamora farm for the Club's annual Country Days this Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Ethel Flinn of Newberry place will lead the beagling enthusiasts and promises an interesting afternoon watching these well trained hounds search out the fox in the open country.

Among those expected for this part of the program are the Walter V. Stewarts, Thomas W. Sheahan, the Donald A. Martins, and Dr. and Mrs. Donald Blain.

After the riding and other daily activities, the Putnams have invited the entire group to join them as their guests for cocktails and a snack around the fireside before departing for the city once more.

Carmelite Guild Plans Hat Sale

Looking for something new in entertainment? On Tuesday, October 17, at 12:30 p.m., the St. Joseph Carmelite Guild will sponsor a fall showing and sale of hats and accessories. No hat over $3.98 and no two hats alike.

In addition to the hat sale there will be a delicious smorgasbord luncheon and card party. The $1.50 donation includes luncheon, with prizes.

The party, which will be held in the Guild Room of St. Joseph Home for the Aged, 4800 Cadieux, will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Godfrey DeRyckere and Mrs. Harry Modoff. For reservations please call TU 2-3800.

AAUW Groups Plan Meetings

The Choral Group of the American Association of University Women meets Monday, October 9 at 7:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Emil Dauch, 915 Three Mile drive. It's the first fall get-together and the singers will have an opportunity to meet their new director, Mendel Lucatsky.

Mr. Lucatsky, who has his masters degree in music from the University of Minnesota, now teaches music at Kerby School. Before coming to Grosse Pointe, he was on the staff of Western Illinois University as concert master and conductor of their symphony. All members who enjoy singing are invited to this first meeting.

Another AAUW Group to hold its first fall meeting is the Social and Economic Issues Group. They will meet on Tuesday, October 10 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. John Grylls, 610 University. Co-hostess is Mrs. David Pethick. A debate about suburban vs. city living, presented by Mrs. Louis Rinehart and Mrs. David Pethick, will highlight the meeting.

AAUW Board Meeting is scheduled for Thursday, October 12 at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Miss Louise Rau, 422 Neff, according to announcement of AAUW President Mrs. Frank W. Thompson. Co-hostesses: Mrs. Urban Boresch and Mrs. C. G. Turrell.

Theater Arts To Give Tea

The Theater Arts Club of Detroit will hold a Donation Tea to aid the Eva Woodbridge Victor Scholarship Fund at Wayne State University.

Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley will be hostess for the tea in her Bishop road home on Tuesday at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Milton Volken is chairman of the event and her committee includes Mrs. John Denler, Mrs. Frederick Sibley, Jr., Mrs. Arnold M. Combrinck-Graham and Mrs. J. Vernor Davis.

Cass Chapter Presents New Flag to Village

The beautiful grounds of the Presbyterian Village, 25300 W. Six Mile Road, made a fitting background for a flag ceremony on September 25 at 3 o'clock.

A new 50-star flag was presented to residents of the Village by Elizabeth Cass Chapter, DAR, of Grosse Pointe Farms. Edwin F. Kirbert, executive director of the Village received the flag from Mrs. Leland Engel, of Balfour road, Regent of the Chapter.

The simple ceremony ended with the Pledge of Allegiance and a prayer given by State DAR Chaplain and past Regent Mrs. Lowell Crebaugh, McKinley avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Chapter members attending were Mrs. R. A. Kimball, of Fisher road and Mrs. J. E. Finch of Cadieux road.

Altar Society Show

Our Lady of Good Counsel Rosary Altar Society will present a fashion show in the parish auditorium on Wednesday, October 11. Mrs. Edward Kalwasinski is fashion show chairman.

From Another Pointe of View

 Driving to Washington, D.C., this Saturday will be Mr. and Mrs. John Denler. Their object is a business convention and accompanying them will be the R. C. Allmans and the John Allmans, of Birmingham.

After the convention sessions the group will be augmented by the Rex Brophy's and they will all drive off to the Farmington Country Club near Charlottesville, Va., for a few days of golf.

Pointe's Loss

The Pointe is about to lose another popular couple. Life-long residents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Auch, of Lakeland avenue, will be moving the first of the year to New York.

Also on the move are the Warren Craumers, of Merriweather road, who have been transferred to Toronto. Richard Fischer has already moved to St. Louis, and Mrs. F., and their four offspring are getting ready to join him from their Lincoln road home.

Another couple waiting to sell their Hawthorne road home are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Judkins and their three children (son Roger is a freshman at the University of New Hampshire) with Chicago the city where they will house hunt.

Visit Ancestral Home

Returning this week from a month in Europe are Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Sepic, of Grosse Pointe boulevard. Chief spot of interest on their Continental tour was Trieste, Mr. Sepic's family's home. They also visited Mrs. Sepic's brother-in-law and sister, Maj. and Mrs. Cletus Pajot in Frankfurt, Germany where the major is stationed with the Air Force.

Garden Club Date

Mrs. Eva Doty Worcester will open her Sunningdale drive home this Monday at 2 o'clock for a meeting of the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club.

Amy Duke Harris will speak to the members on "The Sundry Virtues of Flowers." Assisting Mrs. Worcester will be Mrs. Wilson W. Mills and Mrs. John McNaughton.

To Buy Wheel Chairs

Mrs. Lyndle R. Martin was hostess Wednesday at the Women's City Club to her committee of Harper Hospital Auxiliaries. The ladies were finalizing plans for this month's sale of 1962 engagement calendars to buy additional wheel chairs for the hospital.

Among the guests were Mrs. Edward Shumaber, Mrs. Wallace Herdlein, Mrs. Robert Hamburg, Mrs. Clarence Page, Mrs. Earl Merritt, Mrs. Vincent Gallant, Mrs. Jarvis Schmidt and Mrs. David Thompson.

QUESTION

IS YOUR HOME ONLY HALF CLEANED?

ANSWER It is, unless you've had all 6 of the vital dust and soot collecting areas in your heating system cleaned!

ONLY KLEEN AIR CLEANS ALL 6!

They are: 1. The insides of ALL cold and hot air pipes, 2. Registers, 3. Furnace casing and firepot, 4. Smoke pipes, 5. Chimney, and 6. The outside of your furnace.

HOW LONG HAS IT BEEN since you've had these areas thoroughly cleaned? As the hot and cold air circulates, dust from these hidden areas is carried through your home, and settles on your furniture, floors, walls, and even on the ceilings. It stands to reason that your home will be easier to keep clean, and that you will not have to decorate as often if your registers and pipes are really cleaned. ONLY THE KLEEN AIR Power Suction Vacuum Cleaner can do this work so thoroughly, and economically. Prove it to yourself, call your Klean Air dealer TODAY!

When the POINTE was growing up...

By Pat Talbot

George Henry Hammond was a man who quickly learned the truth of the old adage about the world beating a path to the door of the inventor of a better mousetrap. In the days before refrigerators, frozen foods and freezers he experimented with shipping dressed beef to eastern markets and founded a fortune and a family.

He was born in 1838 in Fitchburg, Mass., of parents who traced their ancestry to the famous Quaker, William Penn, and to emigrants from England who reached Boston in 1634.

He was 10 years old when he left school and supported himself manufacturing leather pocketbooks, and when these staples of haberdashery were superseded by steel clasp pocketbooks he went to work in a mattress and palm leaf hat factory in Fitchburg.

At 15 he bought the business and within six months sold out and came to Detroit, where for two and a half years he ran a similar concern. This was destroyed by fire leaving him with but a few dollars. With this small sum he opened a meat store and by 1860 had erected a brick building at Howard and Third streets to meet the demands of his increasing trade.

From this small beginning he branched into beef and pork packing forming a partnership with James D. Standish in 1872. Mr. Standish, whose descendants live in the Pointe today, was the son of another New England pioneer family and hailed as his ancestor the Pilgrim Miles Standish who sued unsuccessfully for the hand of Priscilla Alden.

George Hammond soon saw that unless there was some way to preserve meats, fruits and perishable foods for shipping his business could never reach full capacity. In 1868 he designed a railroad car for such shipments and the car made an experimental run from Detroit to Boston with success. Within a few years he had 800 cars making coast to coast trips and had established a business which grossed 12-15 million dollars annually.

In 1857 George Hammond married Ellen Barry and the couple were the parents of 11 children, eight of whom survived infancy. One daughter married a Casgrain, another became the wife of Edward A. Skae. One son, Edward, married Viola Moran, of the Pointe Morans, established a company which manufactured steering gears for cars. His widow live in Edgemare road today.

Following the death of George Hammond in 1886 his widow erected the Hammond building, one of Detroit's first large buildings and carried on her husband's many charitable activities.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

No one can say that suburbanites are all conformists—that the eccentric is not abroad in the land. Last week walking down East Jefferson avenue we spied a matron carrying a fishing rod and followed by a beagle hound and a pet raccoon.

The Grosse Pointe News gets around. A copy of the issue with the editorial dedicated to the college bound is now on the bulletin board of the fourth floor of Stuyvesant Hall, Ohio Wesleyan University.

Faces are red in the James H. Dingeman home. Last week the couple, who had retired for the night, were sure they heard burglars prowling about downstairs. They called the police who arrived in three squad cars, spotlights glowing. Meantime the brave Dingemans crept downstairs to apprehend the burglars, Mrs. D., armed with a high heeled shoe, Mr. D. with a copy of LIFE magazine. En route they discovered the source of the disturbance. Their son, Jim, was swatting mosquitos in his bedroom.

Mrs. E. J. Yeargin, of Grayton road, is not only the owner of two Norwegian elkounds but has trained a champion standard poodle, Wycliffe Veni Vidi Vici, winner of seven of a possible fifteen points in last week's Livonia Kennel Club Show. His impressive name is purely for show. About the Yeargins' house the blue ribbon winner is simply called "Butch."

Andries M. Cole, who retired from GPUS last year after 40 years of teaching physics, wrote his master's thesis on land usage in Grosse Pointe. Research shows that the physical appearance of our suburb has changed nightly in two centuries, even in two decades.

PILFERINGS

A movie director was trying to impress a young actress with the importance of her entrance in a scene. "When you enter the room," he told her, "I want every man in the audience to drop his popcorn."

A regular Army colonel was terribly upset because his daughter wanted to marry a reserve lieutenant. He was convinced that no reservist had true Army guts. "But he has the Distinguished Service Cross," his daughter countered. "Not posthumously," the colonel snapped back.

Boss to employe: I'd like to compliment you on your work. When are you going to give me the chance?"

Pointer of Interest

MRS. ROBERT ORR, OF VILLAGE LANE

By Patricia Talbot

In order to check in at the Grosse Pointe Shores Co-operative Nursery School by 8:45 a.m. five days a week, Mrs. Robert Orr rises at 6:30 to cook breakfast for her four children and husband, who is director of the Grosse Pointe Public Library.

She wouldn't have to waken quite so early if she didn't need a few minutes and that first cup of coffee in solitude. The Orr children range in age from 18 to 5 but even their tremendous and varied demands haven't discouraged Mrs. Orr from taking on the responsibility of 40 more children.

She admits that pre-schoolers are a particular joy to her and her teaching experience has been mainly with this group. This will be her sixth year at the Shores Nursery which meets in the old Vernier School. Under her direction are 15 three year olds, who meet two days a week, and 25 four year olds, who have a three day a week schedule. And then there are the mothers, two each day to help Mrs. Orr.

Co-op Nurseries Boom

The co-operative nursery movement is a fairly recent one, beginning in the Pointe about ten years ago and now encompassing about half a dozen schools. "The need is not particularly an economic one, but offers mothers an opportunity to work with and observe their small children develop in social situations. We don't always know our youngsters as we should. This is a chance to improve our knowledge and help the child."

Mrs. Orr is well qualified to direct a nursery school. A Kalamazoo girl, she received her degree from Western Michigan University and studied at the National College of Education in Evanston, Ill. She taught school in Rochester, Mich., and in Elmhurst, Ill. During the war she was in charge of 100 nursery schools established by the state government near munitions plants for war working mothers.

While she was touring the state she met Mr. Orr, who was setting up libraries in southern Illinois. Here in the Pointe she has done substitute teaching, a great deal of it in the old Vernier School. When the mothers in that area decided to establish a nursery they immediately thought of the well-trained Mrs. Orr and prevailed upon her to become director.

At Home With Her Own Although she may leave some unmade beds in her neat Village Lane home she is always available when 5 year old Michael and 9 year old John come home for lunch from Maire School, Daughter Sue, 18, works at Cottage Hospital and talented do-it-yourself, home decorator, 16 year old Rob, is a student at the High School. Because of her children's wide range of interests Mrs. Orr leaves her leisure hours after school for her activities. Last Sunday she sat through a Little League football game in the rain, is an ardent summer spectator at Park swimming meets, entertains the Indian guides in her garden.

School is over at 11:15 which just gives her time to rush home for lunch. After her two sons return to their school she has a quiet cup of coffee and catches up on the reading which is top priority in the Orr household. She faithfully attends all library functions with her husband which takes her out several nights during the week, but confesses she cannot match his reading pace. This summer the Orrs added a family room to their home mainly to hold their great store of books. Son Rob built his own bedroom in the basement complete with doorbell because he doesn't like to be called. His was also the hand which painted the whole house two summers ago, inside and out. All the Orr children are readers, but none of them show signs of following their parents into teaching or library work.

School Problems

Mrs. Orr, a determined, well-organized woman who works well under pressures, assures us that pre-schoolers hate to be hurried, and she is the epitome of calm serenity with them. With the mothers also she is objective and serene, no easy task.

Occasionally she will have to ask a mother to remove a three-year-old who is not quite ready for school activity. She can manage this difficult task with tact and encouragement. There was one three-year-old who loved school but his mother couldn't bear to be parted from him. She would spend every morning peering through the window. She was persuaded to take her child home and bring him back the next year.

These myriad problems with mothers and their offspring are stimulating to Mrs. Orr, who never tires of the finger painting, block building set. Every year during the school semester she takes a few days off to visit her graduates in their kindergarten classes where she says they fill her with pride.

In the spring she attends the state wide session of co-operative nurseries, now numbering 500, which gives her added encouragement and stimulus in her work which began as a hobby and is now an inspiring challenge and a boon to 40 mothers who hail her direction of their children.

CHOCOLATE COCONUT WAFERS

Contributed by Mrs. Kenneth D. Byron

- 4-oz. butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 cup self rising flour
- 1 cup cornflakes
- 1/2 cup coconut
- Chocolate Frosting: 2 sq. unsweetened chocolate
- 1 can Eagle condensed milk
- 1 Tb. water

Cream butter and sugar, add sifted flour, cornflakes and coconut. Press into shallow greased sponge roll pan approximately 9 by 11 inches. Bake in moderate oven for 20 minutes. Cut into bars. Spread with frosting while warm. Frosting: Melt chocolate in top of double boiler, add milk and stir over rapidly boiling water until it thickens. Add water. Cool.

Note: This recipe was sent to Mrs. Byron by her sister in Australia. To make self rising flour, add 1 teaspoon of Calumet baking powder to 1 cup of Gold Medal flour. Add salt to taste. Recipe may be doubled.

Party Crashers Given Warning

Four boys were warned against party-crashing on Friday, September 29.

City police apprehended the three 14-year-olds and one 13-year-old running over lawns near 763 Lorraine at approximately 9 p.m.

The boys stated that they had crashed a party at the William A. Pankhurst residence, 763 Lorraine, earlier in the evening. When Mrs. Pankhurst told them to leave, they did.

The boys were released but ordered to report to the station in the morning for a talk with the police.

SO SAID THE MAN who accidentally shot a six-foot-five companion on a hunting trip last year. Most hunting accidents—and there are between 600 and 800 fatalities each year—can be avoided if the men with the guns know how to use them. Here, by Jhan and June Robbins, is the story of what some states are doing to protect hunters themselves, and the innocent bystanders.

Carl Sandburg—Family Man ... page 12

In December, 1907, a young man escorted Miss Paula Steichen, whom he had just met, to a streetcar. In June, 1908, she became Mrs. Carl Sandburg, a status she has now enjoyed for 53 years. This month we are proud to tell you something about the life of the great poet and his family, as seen through the eyes of an admiring and devoted friend, Harry Golden.

You Don't Ever Cook Pancakes ... page 15

You make them, says Evan Hunter, famous author of "The Blackboard Jungle," and "Mothers and Daughters." He has been making them every Sunday morning since he was first married. It has become a ritual that never varies in his house—it means sleepy eyes and Sunday voices and love and warmth and security—and a steady procession of good, hot pancakes smothered in butter and sirup.

If You Can't Lick 'Em, Join 'Em ... page 28

Here's a story that should put the bloom back in the cheeks of all bumper-to-bumper commuters, told by the chief driver of "Readi-Riders, Inc." It's all about how 28 people pooled their fares and bought a bus and now slip comfortably through the Detroit traffic blockade twice a day, playing cards, catching up on their reading, chatting cosily, or just plain napping—and they're showing a profit on the books, too.

GETTING AROUND

... to Our Pleasant Places and People

WHEN FRANK J. INDOVINA, fishing near Crestline, California, ran out of worms, he tried green trading stamps and caught a trout, seven bass, and two bluegills.

It's almost fun to take out a mortgage with a University Heights, Ohio, bank which presents each prospective householding family with a flowering cherry tree to be planted on the grounds of its new home.

A new idea that should do its share to improve international relations is now underway in Peters Township, Pennsylvania. It involves helping exchange students from other lands find adequate housing facilities while they are studying here. Local residents have been asked to donate furnishings such as rugs, stoves, kitchen tables, refrigerators, chairs, sofas, and lamps to be used to outfit a dormitory for the foreign students. All the donations, according to Mrs. W. S. Slack (the lady to contact, incidentally, if you have things in good condition that you'd like to contribute), will be used to make up a "Room Scholarship" to be awarded to some deserving foreign student in the names of the donors.

Eighteen-year-old Donald Weigel, of Mineola, New York, has confounded physicists by single-handedly building a cyclotron that can produce proton beams with energy levels of 0.8 million electron volts. Though scientists claim the building of a cyclotron is beyond the intellectual capacity of a high-school student, the result of young Donald's labors will be used, in the future, for research in atomic science at Mineola High School. Good work!

Mrs. Gwen Simonarson, of Blaine, Washington, thought you'd all like to know an unusual effect of dieting. It seems that a Miss Sylvia Sannar, while doing a stretch in the state prison, slimmed down from 100 to 85 pounds, then squeezed through the bars on the window of her cell and escaped.

Whatever happened to these quaint old phrases, wonders Martin Tonn of Moorhead, Minnesota. His favorite four, which he so seldom hears any more, are: "Now, we have a rule here—no using silverware on the fried chicken. We always use our fingers"; "Don't be silly, I'll take the check. You're my guest tonight"; "I prescribe more rest for you. Cut down on the odd jobs around the house. Relax and enjoy a good cigar instead"; and "Sorry, but I couldn't find a single cavity in any of your children's teeth. See you next year."

The two justices of the peace in Walters, Oklahoma, have started a new organization that, we hope, will catch on in one form or another all over the country. It's called the "100 Club." You are automatically made a member if you are caught driving 100 miles an hour or more. Dues are a fine of $100.00 or more. Now, what we'd like to see are some "Your Fine Is Double Your M.P.H." Clubs, to discourage anyone who goes way over the speed limit anywhere. How about it?

Brides-To-Be in Plymouth, Massachusetts, get more than a certificate from clerk M. Herbert Craig when they come to get their marriage licenses. Mr. Craig gives each of the prospective homemakers a box that he calls a "bridal pax." In it are 15 items, including soap powder, soap, ammonia, dessert topping, sauces, instant coffee, and aspirin. Reminders of things to come—presented with the license, and "Compliments of Town Clerk M. Herbert Craig."

Thanks for the tip, Helene Fran Holmberg, of Lenexa, Kansas. Mrs. Holmberg and her family never argue or get into hassles about who does what, or who hasn't done what he was supposed to do. They use a Family Note Box made from an old oatmeal carton covered with a piece of wallpaper, which is left on a low shelf in the kitchen. Beside it are a pen, paper, and a roll of cellophane tape for sealing, to be sure no one peeks at someone else's notes. The Holmbergs have found the Family Note Box brings wonderful results, especially for the children, who respond more to these written suggestions than to scolding or orders for work to be done. The young Holmbergs particularly like the occasional "Thank-You" notes for jobs well done.

A sign by a used typewriter in a San Fernando, California, shop, reads "Used Only By An Elderly Pasadena Woman Who Never Went More Than 20 Words A Minute."

A supermarket in Dedham, Massachusetts, says Mrs. Anne Maida, has solved the problem of what to do with the children during a long shopping spree. The store has installed a miniature theatre near the entrance that features a continuous program of colorful animated cartoons. It keeps the kids happy, lets the mother shop in peace, and saves the market quite a lot of breakage from well-meaning, busy little hands.

It's a tough job for any smallish group of people to patrol a large area—for any worthwhile reason—but the Garden Club Council of Grosse Pointe, Michigan, got around this problem by putting a large clip-out coupon in the local paper. It was headed "Sore Spots for Clean-Up," and asked friends and neighbors to help by filling in the locations of vacant lots, alleys, and other areas that were in need of attention. Then they got right down to the job of cleaning up instead of wasting time hunting around for sore spots on their own.

WE CAN STOP HUNTING ACCIDENTS

Hunter training could protect the principal victims—young beginners and innocent bystanders

BY JHAN AND JUNE ROBBINS

ON A BRISK NOVEMBER DAY last year the Edward Wilson family moved from their Philadelphia apartment to Bucks County, thirty miles away. Like thousands of others, they believed that the best way to bring up healthy children was in an environment of green trees and open fields. The mother, busy unpacking, smilingly told her six-year-old daughter, "You're a country girl now! Run along and explore the woods."

A few minutes later she heard a noise like a distant backfire. Her little girl fled into the house, sobbing, "There's a lot of holes in my dress!" The child's wide, red skirt, blowing before her in the wind, had been shredded by a shotgun blast.

On that same day, in Wyoming, an eighteen-year-old boy on his third hunting trip was stopped in mid-field by a reproachful deputy sheriff. "Quit dragging your gun by the barrel!" the deputy snapped. "You'll get hurt." An hour later the youth's body was found hanging over a wire fence, shot through the stomach by his own rifle. His father had shown him how to load, aim, shoot, and clean his weapon, but no one had ever taught him how to get under a fence with it.

Today no one can hope to ignore the hunting-casualty problem. Rapid transportation takes hunters to areas they have never invaded before. At the same time the rush to the suburbs has brought hunters into everyone's dooryard. Within the perimeters of our cities there is a tempting surplus of rabbit, woodchuck, and even deer.

One out of every ten American males over the age of fifteen owns a shotgun, rifle, or both. Fifteen million take out hunting licenses each year. During the usual ten-week season, they spend 169 million man-days hunting. Most use their weapons skillfully and responsibly. A lethal minority, however, each year kills 600 to 800 persons in hunting accidents and injures about 3500 persons more.

Some argue that, considering the large number of people engaged in the sport, this casualty rate is not high. Yet, if as many as 800 deaths occurred each fall on our high-school and college gridirons, there is no doubt that the sport would long ago have been abruptly halted or radically changed by outraged public protest.

A large number of hunting accidents involve the very young. Youths 16 to 19 years old are the group most likely to be shot down—or to shoot someone. They account for 46% of all accidents and supply 39% of the victims! No other sport is so dangerous for innocent bystanders.

HERE IS THE KIND of crass stupidity that causes hunting accidents: In Texas, a hunter used his gun to beat back brush in a deep thicket. A twig twitched the trigger. The man's closest friend, walking just behind him, was instantly killed. In Gasconade County, Missouri, an excited teen-age boy fired too fast and too low as his dog flushed a covey of quail. He shot his sister who was standing on the other side of the field. In a suburb near Des Moines, a young mother was killed when a car driven by her husband struck a bump and jolted the loaded gun lying on the back seat. In Vermont, a boy climbing a hill turned and extended his rifle, butt end first, to help his father ascend the steep trail. The father slipped, made a grab at the gunstock, yanked the trigger, and shot his son through the neck.

Protected by the Constitutional guarantee, "The right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed," some hunters travel on public buses or even demand service in restaurants with guns clutched legally between their knees!

Says Bryan Burgin, head of New York State's

Hunter Training Program, "The dangers of hunting cannot sensibly be compared to those of other sports. The only useful analogy is to automobile driving. No one gets a driver's license until he has proved that he can drive safely. We know that innocent people's lives are in jeopardy when an ignorant and incompetent driver takes the wheel. We probably can't run all of those people out of the woods any more than we can get all of them off the road—but it's time for every state in the nation to try."

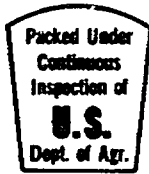

Eleven states now have laws compelling at least a part of its young hunting population to study and pass a hunter-safety course. They are New York, California, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Montana, Massachusetts, Connecticut, South Dakota, Minnesota, Washington, and Utah. All of them found out—the hard way—that a compulsory hunter safety-education program is easy to talk about but extremely difficult to get started. New York State's law, the first to be passed, originally ordered state game protectors to conduct all the training classes for youngsters under sixteen. Thousands of boys appeared. Game protectors were completely swamped.

OTHER STATES that followed New York's example recruited instructors by newspaper advertisement and word of mouth. Their skill with guns was vouched for but, unfortunately, many early safety instructors proved to be too negligent or too softhearted to weed out the very applicants the states were most anxious to bar from the woods.

In 1950, the National Rifle Association entered the state training picture. The organization, with a membership of 435,000 and 10,200 chartered local gun clubs, has been teaching young people since 1926. Under their sponsorship three and a half million youngsters have earned marksmanship ratings with a safety record of less than half a dozen minor accidents. While opposed to some gun-regulating legislation, the National Rifle Association came generously to the aid of state safety-training programs. They supplied equipment, instructors, and know-how. In the past ten years in New York and elsewhere, they have trained and certified 35,000 additional instructors, who in turn have trained 1,500,000 young people.

The course of instruction costs the state about fifty cents per pupil. It consists of four hour-long lessons, ten rounds of ammunition, a supervised field trip, and a written examination. At its conclusion students know—and can demonstrate—the answers to such questions as:

“When should the safety on a gun be in the off position?”
(Only when it's about to be fired.)

“How should a gun be handled when crossing a fence?”
(Unload, open action, place gun under fence. Climb fence, reload.)

“If three hunters are walking single file down a path, in what position should each carry his gun?”

(First man, muzzle pointing to the front or side. Second man, muzzle to the side. Third man, muzzle to the side or over shoulder.)

“How is a gun carried in an automobile?”
(Unloaded, with action open or gun in case.)

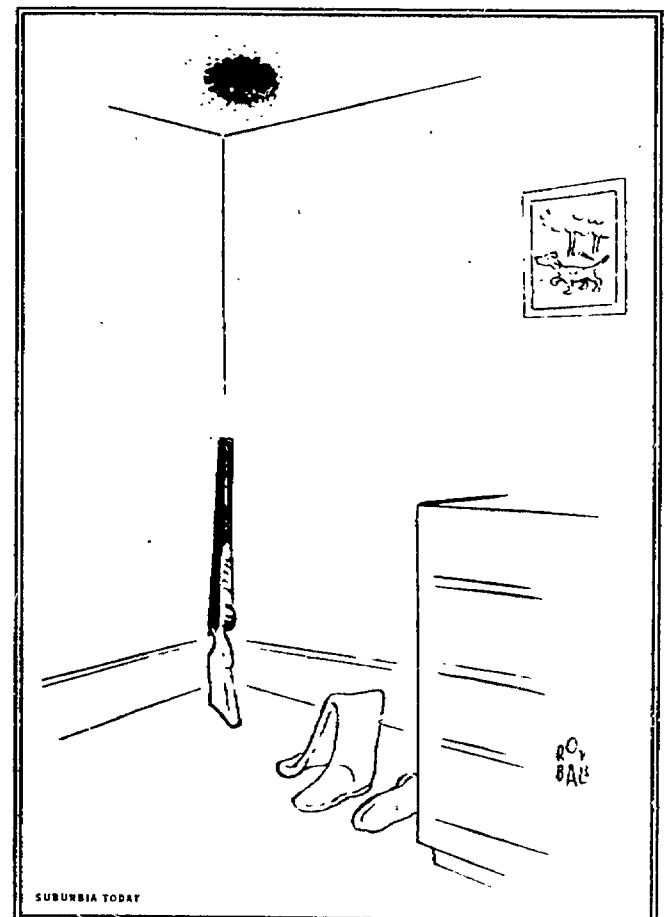

“If three hunters are advancing abreast down a field and a pheasant flushes to the right and flies off in that direction, which one takes the shot?”

(Man on the right.)

“If three hunters are advancing abreast down a field and a rabbit breaks between the man in the middle and the one to the left, who takes the shot?”

(No one.)

HUNTING ACCIDENTS

Under practical conditions in the field, young hunters are taught target identification. They hear the story of the man who shot a six-foot five-inch companion weighing 240 pounds and said, "I was sure he was a woodchuck." They learn to hold their fire until they answer the six basic questions of game recognition: Color? Size? Movement? Location? Behavior? And, finally, Where is everybody?

They are told it's dangerous to use Grandfather's antique shotgun. Old guns are usually made of twisted Damascus-process steel and won't hold together under the pounding of today's high-power ammunition.

They are warned against hair triggers, blind firing, arrogance, and alcohol. Basic physical examinations eliminate would-be hunters with defective coordination or dangerously poor eyesight. "Show-offs," along with the lazy, the undisciplined, and the defiant, are promptly kicked out of the course.

IN 1955, South Dakota reported that 49% of its accidents were caused by boys of twenty or under. That year, the state passed a hunter-training law concentrated on young people, and only three years later recorded a 53% decrease in juvenile hunting accidents. In New York, after ten years of hunter training, accidents have been cut in half. This year, applicants, regardless of age, who apply for a first-time license must take the hunter-safety course. There is no doubt that mandatory hunter training works.

Seven Lifesaving Tips

With the 1961 season upon us, and more than fifteen million hunters preparing to go out, here are seven tips that may save your life—or someone else's—this fall:

Keep calm. Tense, overanxious hunters are often trigger-happy and fire when they least mean to do so.

Don't count on red to save your life. Eight percent of all hunters (along with the entire U.S. population) are color-blind and see red as muddy brown—the exact shade of a plump deer. Safest color bet: Bright chrome yellow, the color used for most school buses, or a blaze orange.

Respect the .22 rifle. It isn't a child's toy, although many adults think it is. A .22 can kill at half a mile.

Take a coffee break in mid-morning. And quit early in the afternoon. Research shows there's a fatigue factor that seems to make hunting accidents rise at 11 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Store guns and ammunition separately. Be sure the wrong person can't get hold of both at the same time.

Be particularly careful during the early days of the season. The first few days usually see 27% of the accidents, the first two weeks, 69%!

Treat every gun as though it were loaded even if you have just unloaded it yourself. Two-thirds of all hunting accidents occur for a single, simple reason. A gun was loaded when it should not have been. Live to enjoy the lovely autumn foliage—and let others enjoy it with you.

Carl Sandburg at 83 — poet, historian, folk singer, journalist, and old-fashioned family man.

William A. Smith

THE IMPRESSION you get from Carl Sandburg's home is one of laughter and happiness; and the laughter and the happiness are even more pronounced when no company is present.

Carl has been married to Paula for 53 years, and he has not made a single major decision without careful consideration and thorough discussion with his wife. Through all these years, Mrs. Sandburg has pointedly avoided the limelight. She has shared her husband's greatness, but only within the confines of their home; a dedication which began the moment she met Carl.

Mrs. Sandburg received a Phi Beta Kappa key from the University of Chicago, and she was busy writing and teaching when she met Sandburg. "You are the Peoples' Poet," was her appraisal in 1908, and she stopped teaching and writing to devote herself to the fulfillment of his career.

She has rarely been photographed with him and, except for Carl's 75th anniversary celebration in Chicago in 1953, she has not attended the dozens of banquets, functions, public appearances, and dinners honoring him—all of this upon her insistence. Even now I will not intrude upon her except to state a few bare facts.

The only way to describe Paula Sandburg is to say she is beautiful in a Grecian sense. Her clothes, her hair, everything about her is both graceful and simple. She has small, broad, capable hands and an enormous energy.

She is not only a trained mathematician and classicist but a good architect. She designed and supervised the building of their Harbert, Michigan, house, most of which was constructed by one local carpenter who carried the heavy beams singly upon his shoulder. As the Sandburg goat herd increased, she also designed the alterations for the barn to accommodate them. When erosion threatened the foundation of their home in Harbert, Paula Sandburg planted grapevines and arranged the snow fences which helped hold the sands away.

SHE WAS BORN Lilian Steichen, her parents immigrants from Luxemburg. Her mother called her Paus'l, a Luxemburg endearment meaning "pussy-cat." Some of the children of the family could not pronounce this name and called her Paula, a soubriquet Carl liked so much she has been Paula ever since.

Carl and Paula met in Milwaukee in 1907 during Paula's Christmas holiday visit to her parents. Carl was still Charles A. Sandburg. He legitimized "Paula" for Lilian Steichen, and it was Paula who insisted on "Carl" for Charles.

Victor Berger, the panjandrum of Wisconsin Socialism and member of Congress, had asked Paula Steichen to translate some of his German editorials into English. Carl, who was stationed in Appleton, was in Berger's office and made it his business to escort Paula to the streetcar. She left the next day for her teaching job at Princeton, Illinois. By the time the streetcar pulled away, he had fallen in love with Paula.

A letter awaited her at Princeton. Paula says that even though Carl's letters usually began, "Dear Miss Steichen," there was an understanding from the beginning that they would become husband and wife.

Her artist brother Ed liked him immediately.

The Sandburgs — she was Paula Steichen — who were married 53 years ago, on June 15, 1908.

but there were misgivings among other members of the family. Victor Berger did some whispering, and to Paula, too: "Do you know he's a poet?"

Paula said she knew he was a poet, and twenty years before Carl became famous she repeated to Berger the lines from Robert Browning:

Ah, did you once see Shelley plain,
And did he stop and speak to you,
And did you speak to him again?
How strange it seems and new!

They were married in June, 1908, six months after their first meeting. There was no ring ceremony, the word "obey" was eliminated with a solemn agreement that one of the parties could call it quits any time he or she decided.

A few years later, after a half-serious argument, Paula wondered whether they should invoke the agreement and Carl said, "I'll be damned if I'll go through all that courtin' again."

Carl and Paula set up housekeeping in Appleton where they paid four dollars a month rent for three rooms upstairs in a one-and-a-half-story house. They bought a bed, a mattress, and some bedding; Paula made muslin curtains, and several store cartons served as dresser and shelves. In 1909, they moved to Milwaukee.

The first child, Margaret, was born in 1911 in Milwaukee about the time Carl became secretary to Emil Seidel, the mayor of that city.

At the age of nine, totally without warning, Margaret had an epileptic spasm accompanied by convulsions. The Sandburgs had no money and were not to have any until years later, but they strained their financial resources as well as their thoughts and energies for Margaret. Nerve specialists diagnosed her case as nocturnal epilepsy, as her seizures occurred only during sleep. They advised diet and drugs to relieve the number and severity of attacks.

YEARs LATER, after the Sandburgs had moved from Chicago to Michigan, Janet, the second daughter, was hit by a car while crossing the street in front of the Three Oaks High School in Harbert. She was unconscious for a week and lingered many weeks thereafter between life and death. X rays revealed innumerable fine fractures at the base of the skull. When she returned home, a many-windowed upper porch was set aside for her recuperation. After two years, she recovered enough to return to school but has been afflicted ever since with severe recurrent headaches. Despite this handicap, Janet is an active farmer and a fervent fan of both baseball and politics.

The girls were the Spink and Skabootch to whom "Rootabaga Stories" were dedicated.

The youngest daughter, Helga, Carl calls Swipes. Helga writes poetry and won a short story prize in 1958. She has also published two novels.

When "The Prairie Years" was sold for $30,000, the world did not know the tears Carl and Paula Sandburg shed that evening because of their concern about the future of Margaret and Janet. They felt that both girls, who would never really be able to earn their own livelihoods, were at last assured a fair chance of happiness. This is what has concerned Carl through all his productive years and explains his great care in handling of money.

Under the most rigid rules, daughter Margaret may be called an expert bibliophile. Newly developed medication and drugs have overcome her disability. She has inherited from both her parents a love of books and a mind capable of absorbing and analyzing great literature. Those who have worked around Carl have come to value Margaret's exceptional abilities.

Sandburg refuses to have his library catalogued, which numbers 15,000 volumes (this after the sale of a huge library, along with manuscripts of his Lincoln biography, to the University of Illinois).

"I know where everything is," he says, "and I don't want it touched."

I've discovered, however, that his confidence is based on Margaret, who can unerringly walk to a shelf or a sealed box and pull out the book or document he is looking for.

Carl Sandburg rarely spends money on himself and at the height of his career looks as unpressed as he did when he was a $27.50 newspaperman.

When he goes out to make a speech, he'll put on a white shirt and his usual bow tie and Sunday suit, but when he is home he wears old pants and a lumberjack shirt, his favorite costume. He cannot get himself to throw anything away, including several pairs of shoes ranging in age from ten to thirty years.

He calls his throat the voice box and has all sorts of mufflers that he wraps around his neck when he goes out of the house to take his evening walks. Of recent years he has grown accustomed to having a blanket over his knees as he sits and writes or reads. At eighty-three, if he has such a thing as an ailment of any kind, perhaps his eyes are not as good as they were twenty years ago, but he watches them carefully and rests them as often as possible. He has thirty or forty walking sticks, but for his long walks along the mountain trails of Connemara he carries an axe and chops away at branches and dead wood along the way.

The friends and tourists keep winding up that long trail from the highway to the Connemara house. Sometimes he "can't see anyone today." On occasion, Carl will sit and talk for an hour or two with these strangers.

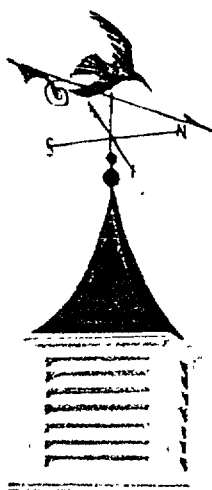

About a year or so ago a couple from Pennsylvania "dropped in" on the way home from Florida. They talked, got their autographs, and as they were leaving the porch the woman impulsively walked over to Carl and kissed him. The woman immediately stepped back embarrassed and started to apologize to Paula, who laughed and said: "That's all right, he belongs to the world."

I have seen Carl go into a towering Viking rage if a letter or book has been misplaced. When Mrs. Sandburg or Margaret hands it to him, along with the evidence that it was exactly where he had hidden it himself, Carl always buries his face in his hands, and they laugh with him as he says, "Please forgive me, please forgive me."

UNLESS there's a heavy rain or snow, Carl, Paula, and Margaret take an evening walk. When I visit Connemara I join them. Janet, who helps her mother with the goat herd, keeps the regular hours of a farmer; she is at the barns at sunrise and usually says "good-night" after supper. The three Sandburgs walk a measured mile along the dark path, each one armed with a flashlight. The return is slower because it is uphill, and they stop every few yards to look at the stars and talk. To avoid using the flashlight unless it is absolutely necessary, they always walk holding hands, "a good habit to get into," says Carl.

When Sandburg is home his laughter rings through the entire house; and when he is off on a trip, Mrs. Sandburg and the girls laugh at every letter he writes. Since they have three telephone extensions, all join in laughing during his daily telephone call.

"I'll be home in February," he wrote from Hollywood to Paula, "we'll take our walks again, holding hands."

YOU HAVE TO UNDERSTAND PANCAKES. If you call them griddlecakes or flapjacks, you don't understand them and you might just as well forget ever trying to make them. Griddlecakes are made in restaurants that have shiny steel stoves and chefs in big white pastry hats; they have nothing to do with pancakes which are made in people's kitchens. Flapjacks are made by gold prospectors in little wooden shacks in Grade-B movies; they also have nothing at all to do with pancakes. If you don't understand the distinction, then you won't understand pancakes, either. All is lost, and you should buy yourself a waffle iron.

You don't cook pancakes. You make them.

You don't say, "I think I'll cook some pancakes this morning." You always say, "I think I'll make some pancakes this morning." In fact, you never say that, either, because there's only one time to make pancakes, and that's on Sunday morning, and you don't have to think you'll make them, you know you'll make them. That is, if you understand them, you instinctively know they are irrevocably linked to sleeping late and people in robes with sleep around the edges of their eyes and dopey sleep-smiles on their mouths as they suggest, "Why don't you make some pancakes?"

YOU'D make them anyway. This is Sunday morning.

My own understanding of pancakes goes back a long way. It goes back to a city, and to the not unfriendly angling of asphalt street against brick building, the noise and sparks of the Second Avenue El. We would cross under the elevated structure and keep walking west toward Third Avenue. There was a candy store on the corner, and my father would stop to buy the Sunday News and the Sunday Mirror. Those were the days when Terry and the Pirates was still in the hands of Milton Caniff, who skillfully caused the Dragon Lady to reappear at intervals designed to delight the most avid reader of cyclical novels. I always knew when she was about to arrive again. I could sense it weeks before. And then, suddenly, there she was in all her mysterious Oriental beauty, and Pat Ryan would fall in love with her all over again in a nice, clean comic strip way, and then one Sunday she'd be gone. It would be a great many more Sundays before she, or Burma—whose top two blouse buttons were always unbuttoned—appeared once more. We would go up to Third Avenue where all the furniture stores were, and squeezed in between them was a bakery-restaurant where men sat around tables drinking early-morning coffee. The moment we stepped into the place, I could smell all the things baking. There were big polished coffee urns, and counter girls and waitresses in stiff white dresses, and my father would buy six jelly donuts and six crullers, and they would pack them in a white paper bag, and then we'd walk home and up the steps to the fourth floor. My mother would have coffee and cocoa on the stove, and the radiators would be banging all over the apartment. When we sat down to breakfast, we didn't think about pancakes. They were there, though. They were right there in that railroad flat, even though we ate jelly donuts and crullers every Sunday morning.

Then once, in 6B, my teacher whose name was Mrs. Manelli read to us from a book by Hamlin Garland called A Son Of The Middle Border, read only one chapter of it, but oh the things in that chapter! I sat there enthralled while Mrs. Manelli's voice conjured that prairie kitchen with its cooking smells. It was very cold outside that day, and the big windows on the left-hand side of the classroom were rimmed with frost. There was a lethargic feeling to the room, the kids leaning forward with their chins cupped in their hands, and Mrs. Manelli's low voice reconstructing a warm and wonderful past. She thought she was teaching us about the prairie—but she was really teaching us all about pancakes.

I learned a lot about them long before I first poured batter into a frying pan.

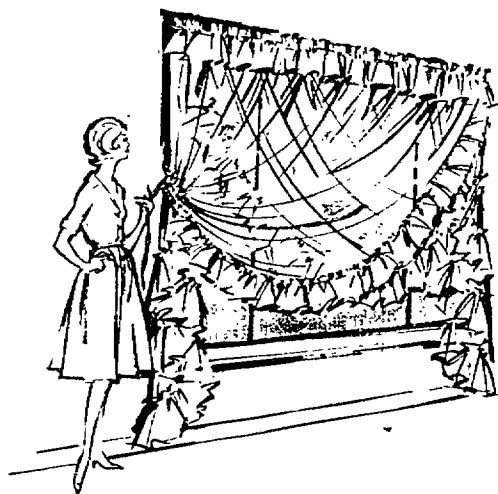

ONCE, after I had moved to the Bronx, some friends and I went fishing. City boys don't often go fishing. We got up at four o'clock in the morning, and my mother came into the bedroom while I was dressing and asked, "Are you really going?" and I said, "Sure we are!" We met in front of Artie's house. We were each carrying lunch in brown paper bags. We tied them to the racks of our bicycles and started off for City Island. Our first stop was an all-night hamburger stand where we ordered coffee and scrambled eggs like truck drivers, though we were only fourteen. We cracked a lot of corny jokes and laughed a lot, and the guy behind the counter said we should be on the radio with Jack Benny. We were learning about pancakes.

In the navy once, our squadron got caught in a hurricane going from Pearl to Japan shortly after the war ended. On the second day of the storm, I went up as bridge talker, standing the mid watch with a bunch of other guys who were wearing foul weather gear and wishing MGM were there to film all these wet heroics. The communications officer in the radar shack had arranged for the talker to be relieved every hour. At two o'clock, a talker in dry gear came up to relieve me. I went down the ladder to the radar shack, took off the foul weather gear, and hung it up to dry as well as it could before the next man put it on. I sat down with the other radarmen, and we drank coffee, and I told them how terrible it was up there on the open bridge with waves crashing in over the bow of the ship. The radar shack always had a hushed feel to it. The Sugar George gear cast a green and orange glow into the room. A man wearing sound-powered phones softly relayed ranges and bearings to the pivot ship, conversing with the talker on the bridge. It was early morning, and everyone was a little sleepy. We sat drinking coffee and listening to the storm outside. This was a part of understanding pancakes.

I DIDN'T MAKE my first batch until I was twenty-three years old and married and living in a two-room apartment in what is now Riverside Hospital for drug addicts in New York. At that time, the buildings on North Brother Island had been converted into apartments for married veterans who were attending a school of higher education. Our apartment was in a building which, during its earlier hospital history, had housed Typhoid Mary. There were windows on three sides of the apartment, looking out over the East River and Hell's Gate in the distance, and the prison on Riker's Island very close by. There was a lot of river traffic—ferryboats and tugs and barges carrying railroad cars. The pancakes were terrible. We sat in our kitchen-dining room-living room, near the light-streaming windows, and we talked softly and leisurely, the way newly married people can talk. We watched the boats on the river, and we ate the terrible pancakes I had made, and we drank the good coffee my wife had made, and we smoked and we talked. The New York Times,

Puss 'n Boots "match the eyes" contest

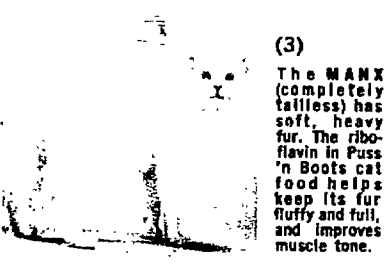

It's easy! It's fun! Just look closely at the eyes in pictures A, B, C, and D and "match the eyes" with the cats you think they belong to in pictures 1, 2, 3, and 4. Then complete the sentence in the entry blank. (For example, if the eyes in picture A belong to Tabby, in picture 1, mark it in the designated place in the entry form. A hint though—maybe they don't). Remember, eye coloring varies with breeds. Join the fun with everyone. Any Puss 'n Boots label gets you into the game.

(1) The TABBY has a short, fine coat. The amino acid balance in Puss 'n Boots' high quality protein maintains the strength and vitality for which the Tabby is noted.

(2) The SIAMESE has a long, graceful body. The thiamine in a daily Puss 'n Boots diet makes for calm, steady nerves, and sharpens the appetite.

(3) The MANX (completely tailless) has soft, heavy fur. The riboflavin in Puss 'n Boots cat food helps keep its fur fluffy and full, and improves muscle tone.

(4) The PERSIAN has longer, silkier hair. Puss 'n Boots' Vitamin A keeps sparkle in its eyes—calcium and Vitamin D assure strong bones and teeth.

RULES: To be eligible, contestants must match the eyes correctly and complete the statement in the entry blank. Accompany each entry with a Puss 'n Boots label. Entries will be judged on the basis of clarity, creativity and aptness of thought, weighted equally. All entries become the property of the Quaker Oats Company. Entries must be postmarked by midnight Dec. 8, 1961 and received by Dec. 22, 1961. Contest is subject to federal, state and local regulations and is void where regulated, prohibited or taxed.

which we'd bought the night before on our way home, was spread on the table. My pancakes had made a lot of smoke in the apartment, but we didn't open too many windows because it was cold on that corner of the island, in that particular apartment exposed to the river on three sides.

I've been making pancakes every Sunday morning since. I guess I make pretty good ones now. At least, everybody tells me how lousy they are, so I guess they're pretty good or they wouldn't bother to say anything.

Here's how you make them.

You buy yourself any one of the commercial mixes. Don't bother trying to concoct your own batter with flour and all that jazz because the commercial mixes are fine, and if you understand pancakes you'll recognize there's only false pride in preparing your own batter. On the back of each mix box, there are very clear and explicit directions about how to proceed. Get yourself a big mixing bowl, a tablespoon, and a cup, and spread these out on the table. Now put the box where you can read the recipe. It will almost always read something like this:

7 to 8 pancakes

1 cup milk

1 egg

1 tablespoon melted or liquid shortening

1 cup pancake mix

14 to 16 pancakes

2 cups milk

2 eggs

2 tablespoons melted or liquid shortening

2 cups pancake mix

The only change I make in the prepared-mix recipe is to pour in about half a cup of heavy cream which, I find, gives the pancakes a richer taste and texture. Aside from that, pancakes shouldn't be tampered with. Don't go dropping diced apples into the batter, or blueberries, because then you're not making pancakes anymore. You're baking muffins or cakes, but you're not making pancakes.

Now, before you start putting all these things together into the mixing bowl, get your griddle going. If you haven't got a griddle, use a large frying pan. Don't let it get too hot or your pancakes will brown instantly on the outside and be pasty and gooey on the inside. It's a good idea to watch the temperature of your griddle all the while you're making pancakes. You'll find it does need constant attention. While your griddle is heating, do this: throw all of the above-listed ingredients into the mixing bowl in any order whatever, and stir the mixture with a large spoon. The batter doesn't have to be very smooth. In fact, a few lumps here and there will help the pancakes. By the time you've smoothed out most of the lumps, your griddle should be hot bringing up baby.

Hints collected
by Mrs. Dan Gerber,
Mother of 5

All of us know the basic protective measures for guarding baby but sometimes things just plain slip our minds. A few "I-just-didn't think-of-its":

For the active wee one. Crib sides should always be up when baby's in bed. Can't tell when that live wire will roll over. At bath-time, it's a good idea to turn a deaf ear to the phone. When diapering, powder can should be kept out of reach so baby won't inhale powder.

For the experienced creeper. A baby on all fours will make a bee line for any bright object so eagle-eye the floor for pins, bits of cellophane, etc. Iron and toaster cords or floor-drooping plants should not be left a-dangle when baby's on the prowl. Floor fans and heaters are a hazard.

For the into-everything toddler. Beware the burning cigarette and table lighter. A toddler's hand is quicker than your eye. Floor spills are an invitation to tumbles... should be wiped up immediately. Pills in your purse are easy to find—and take none in sight of your copycat one.

enough. Stick your forefinger under the kitchen faucet, wet it, and then shake the drops onto the griddle. If it's hot enough, the drops of water will bounce around crazily before they sizzle away into nothingness. Grease your pan lightly.

All right, you're now ready to put in the batter. Do it with a tablespoon. Keep a spoon rest or a dish handy because if you leave the spoon in the mixing bowl, you'll lose it and have to go fishing into the batter for it, and this doesn't add anything to the taste. Make the pancakes any size you like them. The average griddle will take eight medium-sized pancakes. By adroit maneuvering, you can get three into a single large frying pan. When they begin to bubble on top and the edges look browned, it's time to turn them.

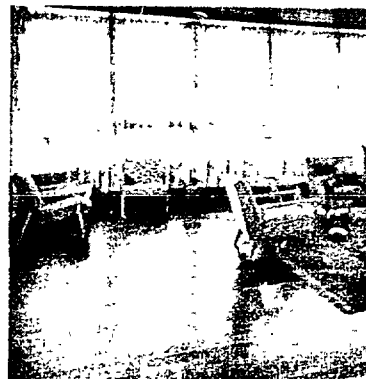

IF YOU'VE DONE everything right so far, and if you understand pancakes, they won't stick when you turn them. If you do have a little trouble turning them, ease your spatula under one edge, inch it slowly toward the opposite edge, gently, gently, until the pancake is free. Then turn it. It's not necessary to flip a pancake up toward the ceiling. That's for the Grade-B movie about the prospector in the mining shack. If you do it in your kitchen, hardly anybody will applaud, and it will show that you don't understand pancakes at all. Just turn the pancakes gently and easily, and then allow them to brown on the second side. For some fantastic reason, one side will always be a little browner than the other. Don't ask me why. It's a phenomenon. When you take off your first batch of pancakes, put your second batch on before serving what you already have. By the time you get back to the stove again, the new batch may be ready for turning.

Don't serve pancakes in any fancy way, like putting ice cream on them or fruit or brandy or whipped cream. Just put a generous lump of butter on top of each pancake in the stack, and then liberally pour either sirup or molasses over them. It isn't advisable to put more than four pancakes in a stack. Excessive depth makes them difficult to cut and difficult to handle on the fork. If you put four in a stack, you can serve two people while your next batch is on the griddle. Pancakes don't encourage simultaneous serving, but there's a lively overlap and, as a result, a built-in anticipation, especially when children are sitting at the table waiting to be served. The cook always gets served last or, when the pancakes are especially successful, not at all. That doesn't matter.

With luck, there may be a few left for the cook.

A Short Time In Portugal

Here is a glimpse  of the celebrated traveller's forthcoming book

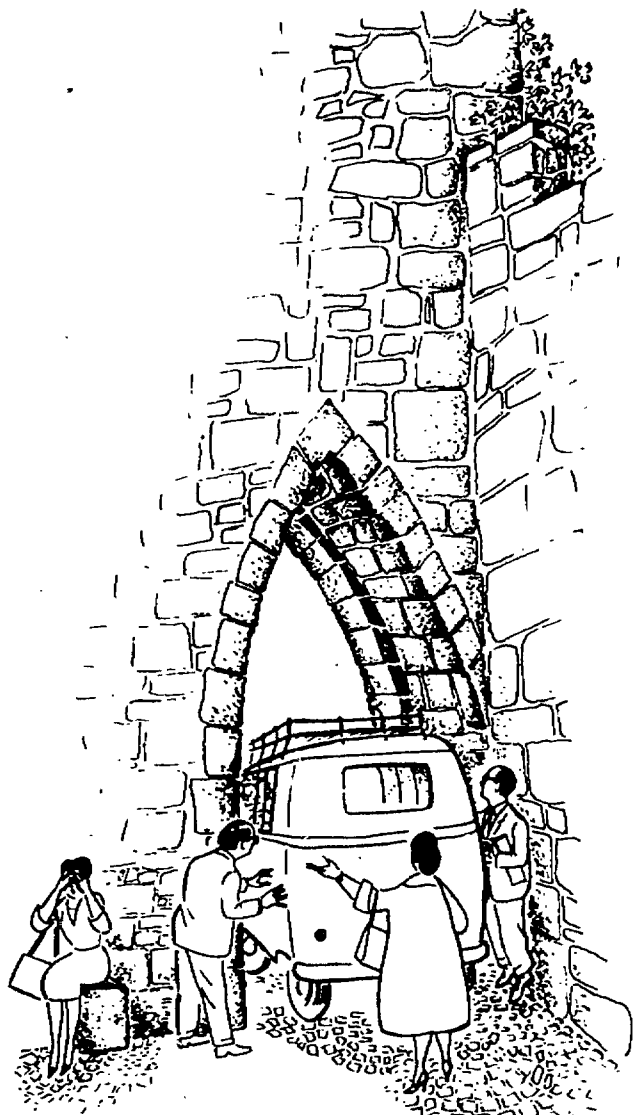

BY EMILY KIMBROUGH

AUTHOR OF "OUR HEARTS WERE YOUNG AND GAY"

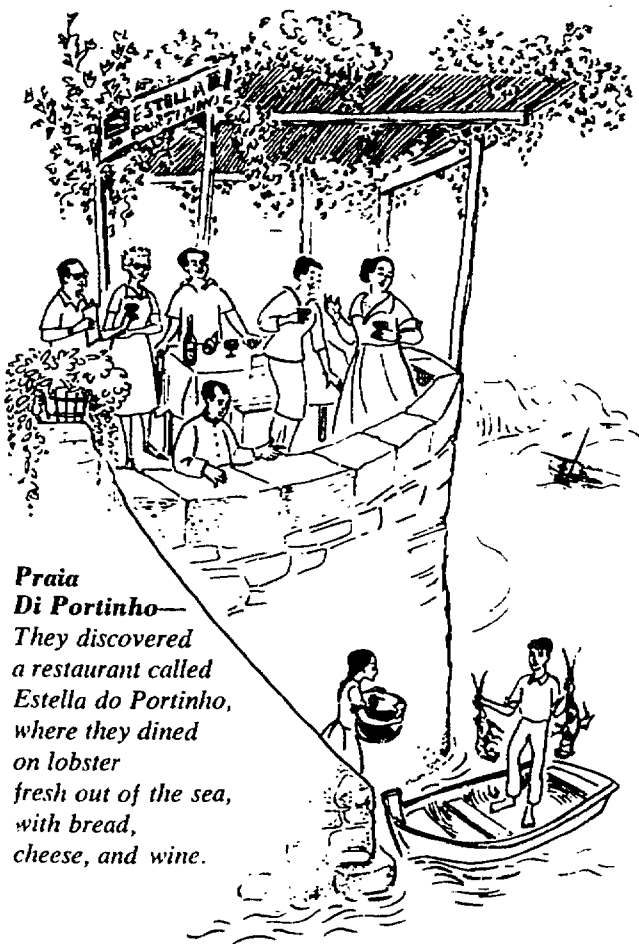

I have never been in a country in which the landscape changed so frequently and so abruptly from plains to mountains with barren, rocky sides to vine covered hills to lush pastures, to stark, ominous cliffs, to softly rounded coves, and sandy beaches... There were waterfalls of purple bougainvillea, carpets of geraniums, splatters of blue plumbago through dark ferns, mimosa like shimmering sunlight... I had tasted port before. I think my impression of the drink, as much from English novels as from my own experience, was that it is a heavy wine. It is nothing of the kind in Portugal. As a matter of fact, it is very nearly everything in texture, bouquet, taste, and color. Each place we visited had its own favorites and served them exclusively. We never found a port we did not like... There is no library in the world so beautiful as the library at Coimbra. It holds only three rooms. They are large and high, separated by a high and wide marble arch. Slender pillars along the side, patterned and embossed in gold, support stacks in a gallery above. As we came from the building and stood on the steps a moment, Sophy said, "After what we've seen, the sun looks vulgar."

At Obidos—Taking the bus through one of the gateways of the 12th-century walls was rough going. Inside, a medieval town beckoned, with cobbled streets so narrow they had to abandon the bus and explore on foot.

Praia Di Portinho—They discovered a restaurant called Estella do Portinho, where they dined on lobster fresh out of the sea, with bread, cheese, and wine.

Table Scraps Can Short-Change Your Dog

Do right by the dog
you love...balance
each meal with
GRO-PUP Ribbon

When you feed your dog table scraps, you can never be sure he's getting all the nutrients he needs. And yet, to stay fit and strong, he should have a well-balanced diet every day.

That's why thoughtful families are adding Gro-Pup Ribbon to every scrap meal they feed. Gro-Pup is an unusual kind of dog food. It contains an extra bonus of vital protein, important vitamins and minerals—far in excess of the minimum levels set by the National Research Council.

Even when fed with large amounts of "unbalanced" leftovers, the high nutrient level of Gro-Pup can safeguard against improper diet. When you feed Gro-Pup every day, you can enjoy the confidence that your dog is getting an abundance of the essentials he needs for a long and healthy life.

Why don't you start tomorrow?

Eight Rooms And Swimming Room

The Irving Stones of Shaker Heights, Ohio, swim in this house all year round

"WE HAVE only four months of summer in our region," says Mr. Irving Stone of Shaker Heights, Ohio, and he adds with indisputable logic, "The indoor heated swimming pool is the answer."

The pool in his house is free-form, nine feet deep, the central feature of a big, handsome room approximately 30 feet square. The ceiling goes up two stories to a height of twenty-four feet, and the walls are of narrow wood panels, stained a pale blue-green, alternating with side panels of a marble pebbled surface which matches the marble pebbled floor.

In addition to the pool, furnishings of the swimming room include all kinds of exercise apparatus, a small bar, and a wrought-iron bridge table and chairs upholstered in the same pale blue-green as the panels on the wall. Masses of tropical plants—palms and philodendrons and shiny-leaved ficus—flourish in the pleasant, moist atmosphere and make a living screen for a useful but unglamorous hot-air heating system.

A blower, built into the ceiling, helps remove excess moisture and keeps the room comfortable at all times.

The Stones' own bedroom adjoins the pool, and by an inspiration a blue wrought-iron stairway leads directly from the pool to the other bedrooms on the second story, making it possible for a happy child or guest to hurry through his white-shuttered door and down to the water the minute he is waked up in the morning. Showers and two blue-tiled dressing rooms open directly off the pool.

In addition to the swimming room, the house has other unusual features. There is a huge family room, for instance, with a built-in playpen and a hi-fi and TV and various game tables which are stored behind sliding teak panels when they are not being used. This room serves as a library, too, and reading lights concealed in the ceiling shine directly down on the comfortable, big leather chairs where the Stones retire with their books, sure of privacy when they need it in that 21' x 30' open space.

The color scheme here is amber and aquamarine against a light Italian marble floor.

Next to the family room, and a contrast in every way, is the small, brilliant breakfast room upholstered in white and gold, and decorated all around the walls with a conventionalized mural of Siam painted in the clear emeralds and sapphires and crimsons of Siamese silks.

There is not a single fireplace in the whole big house, a fact which seems surprising till you consider that a snapping open fire is hardly to be expected in a house where, winter or summer, people spend a great deal of their time in bathing suits!

One last note on a special piece of equipment in the family room—the Stones have installed a “real” soda fountain here for the benefit of the young, complete with ice-cream wells, siphons, and pumps that squirt out strawberry, chocolate, or vanilla, for the asking.

A pool to splash in, a rubber swan to ride on, and when you finally climb out a little breathless and waterlogged, a delicious homemade soda at hand—here, for once, is a house after a child's own heart.

New ideas for Old Fashion French Dressings no one can buy

... recipes with this favorite GOOD SEASONS MIX

Good Seasons Old Fashion French Dressing. Subtly flavored with herbs and spices, this is the kind of oil-and-vinegar dressing mixed by master chefs. Light, fresh—truly continental. Takes just seconds to mix. Easy directions are on the Good Seasons envelope. You combine your favorite oil, vinegar and a little water with the Mix. The water, or a substitute liquid, makes the blend smoother. You can use many substitutes—see recipes below for suggestions.

French Cottage Cheese Dressing. Prepare the Good Seasons Dressing but substitute two tablespoons of cottage cheese for the water. This makes the herb-spice flavor a little brighter. And the flecks of cottage cheese add a creamy contrast—nice touch in tossed salads.

Rum-Nut French Dressing. Just use light rum instead of the water in the dressing. Final touch: 2 tablespoons of chopped nuts. Delightful on all fruit salads. Or in one of mixed greens, slices of avocado and apple. This is one salad with fruit that men really like.

Sesame Seed French Dressing. Add two tablespoons of toasted sesame seeds to your Old Fashion French Dressing. Adds a crisp and nut-like taste to perk up all green salads. Especially fine in spinach salads.

Get the new Good Seasons cruet, with measurements marked, where you buy the 8 Mixes: Italian, Classic, Cheese-Garlic, Onion, Bleu Cheese, Exotic Herbs, Garlic, Old Fashion French.

Good all winter too!

Which word is older, Gin or Gordon's?

"Gin" came into the language around 1700 by way of the French "genièvre," meaning juniper. "Gordon's" comes from Alexander Gordon, the genius whose secret gin formula set Londoners agog in 1769. The Gordon's you drink today harks back to this self-same formula. It's still secret, and as far as the people at Gordon's are concerned, that is as it should be, for in nearly two centuries no other gin has duplicated Gordon's distinctive dryness and flavour. Are you wondering if it's the world's biggest seller? It is. Indeed, to most people the words "gin" and "Gordon's" are by now synonymous.

Back in the 20's, that remark was a laudatory expression that might be paraphrased in the vernacular of the 60's as —the most! These two modes of expression have nothing in common. But—20's or 60's—there's one cocktail that's common to the cognoscenti and connoisseurs of both eras. Today—as in bygone days—everybody's buzzing about that bonanza of the bar: The Stinger.

The Stinger

1 1/2 oz. brandy. 1 1/2 oz. Cointreau White Creme de Menthe. Shake vigorously with cracked ice and strain into cocktail glass.

The Stinger is only one of many popular, palate-pleasing, present-day cocktails made with Cordials by Cointreau—drinks such as the Side Car or the White Lady. For other fascinating food and drink recipes for entertaining the modern way, write for your free copy of "Gourmet's Guide" to Dept. 4.

READI-RIDERS

The author, at the wheel of the bus owned by 28 friends.

WE BOUGHT OUR OWN BUS TO COMMUTE

BY LOU ZIMELOW

En route—commuters play bridge, also sing, chat, and read.

Now they ride in style

WE CALL OURSELVES Readi-Riders, Inc. (Our motto is "Either you're ready—or you get left.") I'm the chief driver of the do-it-yourself commuter bus that now slips twenty-eight of us through the Detroit traffic blockade twice a day.

We started, of course, as a routine car pool of five businessmen, living outside the city in Birmingham and Royal Oak, and one night at an investment club we all belong to we got to talking about the home-to-job transportation problems.

"It seems as if every time it's my turn to drive," said the president of the club, "that's just the day my wife needs the car."

"The same thing happens at our house," one of the group, Jack Keenan agreed. "Man, there's hardly a day that my wife doesn't need the car. If she doesn't have to take one of the kids to the doctor, she has to pick up something at the store."

Ted Sura, who is a lawyer (with a lawyer's imagination) said, "I know how we could leave all the cars home—all we have to do is buy a bus!"

That got a laugh—but then I began to wonder.

"It might not be as crazy as it sounds," I said. "What if we all chipped in and got a nine-passenger station wagon? Then we could take more fellows into the car pool to help pay for the wagon."

"Yes," said our friend, Pat Walsh, "and besides that, we'd be taking extra cars off the crowded streets that way. And all nine of the wives would have a car at home for errands, and if it's a spare, all the better."

Before the evening was over we had got to the point where Ted was volunteering to bird-dog the legal angles.

He learned that we could own and operate our own vehicle by organizing a nonprofit corporation. And we wouldn't need the expensive commercial licenses because this would be a private bus.

This gave us the green light to get one of those foreign station-wagon type busses, pick a name, and apply for incorporation.

THAT WAS IN 1956. Two years later, we traded the foreign job for a used 25-passenger commercial coach of American vintage, almost tripling our capacity. It was at this time that we started accepting members of the fair sex.

Then last May we acquired our pride and joy—a shiny new aqua-and-ivory dream seating 27 passengers. We call her "The Rocket" because she has so much more get-up-and-go than our other vehicles had.

From The Rocket's windows our shuttling gang can look smugly at the cars alongside, behind, and ahead of us. And they can rejoice because they're not out there squeezing cars through that paved bottleneck of squealing rubber and jumpy nerves.

Inside our bus, they're playing bridge or pinochle, reading their newspapers, or just talking. Sometimes they get going with a songfest or a round of jokes. Whatever it is, it's fun. We have a constant turnover in membership with people changing jobs, getting married, or moving. But still, Readi-Riders is a convivial bunch.

In fact, some of the Readi-Riders think the chief advantage of our system is riding back and forth to work with congenial people.

On top of that, Readi-Riders is a good deal financially. We meet monthly installments of $200 on our bus, pay for licenses, gas, parking, insurance, and upkeep. As treasurer, I pay our expenses by collecting $15 a month dues from each member.

for $15 a month

This is cheaper than taking a bus or train. Public transportation would cost a minimum of 90 cents a day. Figuring 21 working days a month, that's $3.90 more than our dues.

We have one other advantage. We make better time than the public busses because we don't have to stop for as many passengers. I make only six stops after we leave the north Royal Oak service station where the bus is gassed, serviced, and parked at night. Most of our passengers climb aboard there.

We start at 7:55 a.m. In winter, a station attendant warms up the motor for us, so the heaters are going full blast before we get going.

ALL I HAVE TO DO each morning is set my brief case alongside the driver's seat, flick on my portable radio, and turn the big steering wheel toward downtown Detroit, straight down Woodward Avenue and 14 miles away.

I would rather drive The Rocket in traffic than my own car. Even a woman could drive this bus, if she wasn't wearing spike heels.

I drop the last passenger at the Penobscot Building in the heart of downtown Detroit by 8:40 a.m. Then I drive to an out-of-the-way parking lot where it costs only $12.50 a month for each of the two spaces the bus fills. That's about half what we would pay for a closer lot.

Before I go to my office, I still have time to walk back every morning and join seven other Readi-Riders for a fast cup of coffee.

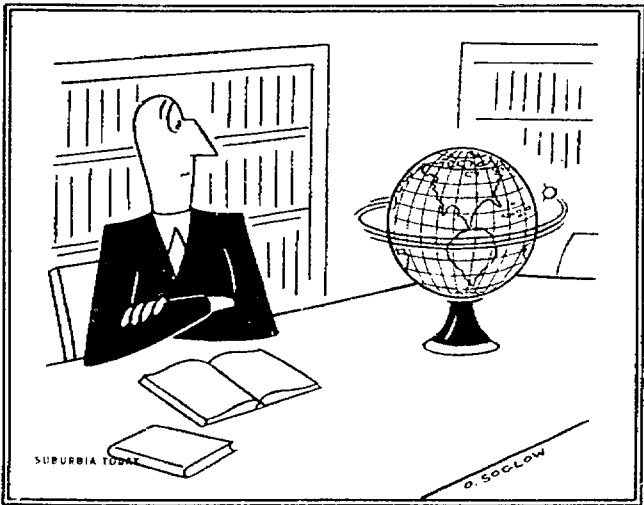

We start back home at 5:10 p.m. sharp, and by 5:15 I've picked up all the riders. We're back at the service station by 5:55.

I stay downtown to bowl once a week. Credit man Bill Wagner takes the wheel for me that night, or when I'm on vacation.

In the last three years, we've been late for work only twice. Both times, it was because we were slowed to a crawl by severe snowstorms.

Commenting on our service, one of our riders, John Cole, says he has three reasons for preferring our setup—convenience, economy, and companionship. He likes being sure of a seat each morning, and as a former car pooler he likes having "someone else" (namely, me) bucking traffic for him.

MOTHER AND I SEE EYE TO EYE

"We think alike about so many things. Take Tampax, for instance. Mother's the one who told me about it. She's such an active person, and she knows I like to be active, too. She explained how Tampax absorbs internally. How it's unfelt and invisible when it's in place. And that means you can tub or shower and be just as active as you like every single day all year 'round. It's wonderful when your mother understands so much about what's important to you."

Many mothers tell their daughters about Tampax because they want to spare their girls the discomfort and embarrassment of "the other way." Tampax® internal sanitary protection is so much nicer, more convenient. There's no odor, no chafing, and no disposal problem. Tampax users number among the millions—both married and single women. They say Tampax is a better way. Why not ask your mother, or some older woman you can confide in? Our good reputation is your reassurance. Tampax Incorporated, Palmer, Mass.

I guess that about sums up everybody's feelings, whether they're secretaries or managers. And we have some of each in Readi-Riders, along with advertising men and insurance agents. I'm a technical writer for an advertising agency. One of our members admits to being chief rate clerk for a railroad!

We get along so well that we all get together twice a year with our spouses—once at Christmas time and again for a summer outing.

An organization like ours isn't hard to get started. All it takes is a group of people with common working hours, plus a guy or girl with a driver's license, who's reliable and can stick to a schedule that suits the majority.

Once you get a driver, you need an insurance policy for liability and collision-damage protection. And, of course, you need a vehicle.

WE PAID $8,000 for The Rocket. Our other bus was cheaper. Being an older girl and secondhand, she only cost $500 plus the investment of about $1200 to reupholster the seats and put in a new motor. When we get The Rocket paid for, we'll invest the monthly payments in a fund to replace her when she is old and feeble.

For me, driving a bus is fun. And I get a big whiz out of my 27 back-seat drivers. Take a typical morning: Fran Magill climbs up the steps to board the bus, and I hear Ron Mansell say, "Gee, you sound peppy this morning, Fran. Clump. Clump. Clump." Then one of the girls sits down and gets kidded while the girl behind her remedies something—the zipper in back of her dress. It wasn't zipped the last two inches. From one of the rolling bridge games, I hear everybody yell when a player makes a slam.

By 8:40 a.m. the Rocket has deposited all the passengers in downtown Detroit.

You see why we call it "Fun Bus." We have other names on the special destination sign up front that helps to show that ours is a private coach. In addition to the usual "Private Coach" sign, we can display "Readi-Riders Special," "Readi-Riders Rocket Express," or "Readi-Riders Only!"

In spite of these signs, strangers try to get on when we stop to pick up a member. Then I have to tell the would-be passenger that it's a private bus and I can't pick him up.

Sometimes, though, if there's a vacancy in the organization, I tell the stranger, "You can come along as our guest and try us out for a day."

Many a new Readi-Rider has been born that way, after a card-playing, songfesting, convenient, economical ride downtown.

ONE CARELESS MATCH...

Yours? Let's hope not. One lighted match carelessly tossed can cause a disastrous forest fire. One careless match—and thousands of trees are destroyed, wildlife killed, watersheds severely damaged, recreation areas ruined. One careless match—and beauty becomes ugly. Last year carelessness with fire blackened 20 million acres of America's wooded land. Forest Fire Prevention rests in your hands... for 9 out of 10 fires are caused by people... people like you. Don't let this careless match be yours.

Take Three Balls of Yarn

And knit a star-yoked dress for a small party

HERE IS one of those fashionable knits — not from Italy this time, but better still, from your own loving hands. An openwork stitch is used like lace for the star yoke and border—the rest is a straight six-inch sweep of knitting and purling. The softness of handwork is most becoming to the very young, as you see above, and the effect is dressy, but achieved with simple lines to permit unlimited freedom of movement on two feet or all fours.

For specifications and full knitting directions for the Star-Yoke Dress, write Department H, SUBURBIA TODAY, 60 East 56th St., New York 22, New York.
