Judge Paterson Fines 5 in City

Five persons appeared before Judge Douglas L. Paterson in Grosse Pointe City Justice Court last Monday, May 21. All were found guilty on charges ranging from interfering with moving traffic to trespassing, and Judge Paterson collected a total of $55 in fines.

Mary R. Vismara, 4810 Bedford, Detroit, charged with reckless driving, was found guilty of interfering with moving traffic. She paid a $10 fine. Judge Paterson assessed Jean Campbell $10, and suspended her sentence. Lawrence J. Shock, 1366 Bishop, was found guilty on a similar charge and paid a $25 fine. Henry Forsair, 464 Manor, parted with $10 when Judge Paterson found him guilty of speeding 40 miles per hour in a 30 mile zone, and two trespassers, Thomas Brent Van Hove, 6000 Barrett, Detroit, and Mary Ann Termini, 18475 Fairport, Detroit, found wandering late at night on the grounds of the old Alger house in East Jefferson avenue several weeks ago, were each fined $5.

Center Drive $5,000 Short

On the eve of Memorial Day the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's 1962 Family Participation Campaign was just $5,000 short of its needed $60,000 goal. Convinced that the goal is in sight, Thomas L. Munson, Board member in charge of this year's campaign effort, has sent a personal letter to all givers of record reminding them that the receipt of their donations will put the drive over the top. Mr. Munson urged them to send their gifts in now at first-of-the-month check writing time, underlining that the fate of the campaign hangs in the balance.

The Center's Board of Directors went on record to express gratitude for the communities' continued fine support of its activities which has been demonstrated in increased measure from year to year. All gifts, regardless of size, have been truly appreciated and with the coming of the new Fries Memorial addition this year the Memorial Association promises to serve the community even better than before with outstanding concerts, lectures, plays and exhibits. It will also offer Grosse Pointe a community group meeting place without peer.

The Center's directors wish to acknowledge with grateful appreciation the receipt of donations during the past week from the following:

Police Asking Parents Help

ordinance requires bicycle owners to obtain licenses for their bikes and locks for the wheels. Bicycles must be registered and licensed.

He pointed out that bike licenses costs only 50 cents, and are permanent. They do not have to be renewed every year, he said.

He urged all parents to see that their children obtain licenses and locks for their two-wheelers. Not only will this help thwart bike thieves, but in the event the bikes are stolen, the licenses and serial number will make them easier to identify.

Most of the thefts in the Park occur when youngsters leave their bikes in racks at the waterfront park, Hough said. His department has received two theft reports from the park so far this month. In May, 1961, the number of thefts reported from the park was 28, he said.

Another place where many bikes are stolen is at the Pierce Library, he said. Most of the bikes stolen in the city had license plates, but none of the wheelers had wheel locks.

The thieves tend to steal the bicycles, then abandon them at another location, where they are recovered by local police. A good percentage of the stolen bikes are stripped, and the frames tossed in a canal south of Jefferson in Detroit, Hough said.

Some bikes are recovered, and some are never found, he said.

Hough said that under a State law, parents of juvenile bike thieves are responsible for any thefts under $300 committed by their children. Theft victims can institute civil suit for recovery of their property up to that amount, but this is seldom done, the lieutenant said, mostly because of carelessness on the part of the parents.

He said that unlicensed and unlocked bikes are open invitations to thieves to steal.

Lt. Hough urges all parents of children owning bicycles, to go to their local police stations and register their children's bikes, and get license plates for them. Also, purchase good sturdy locks for the wheels.

NEW COLLEGE PROGRAM ASSURES COMPLETE COLLEGE EDUCATION FOR YOUR CHILD

Now you can afford to send your son or daughter to college this fall.

Send coupon below to learn how you can arrange for amounts from $1,000 to $10,000 and pay out of income. Protect your savings.

This unique plan, offered by Education Corporation of America, means that you can use as little or as much of the loan as required. You receive bank interest on any amounts that are not being used for actual college expenses.

QUALIFICATIONS: If your child is qualified for acceptance and if you can pass credit and minimum medical requirements this is your opportunity to solve your family's educational financial problems.

SCHOLARSHIPS: Education Corporation's teacher-counselors have access to the nation's most complete storehouse of scholarship information on college costs, entrance requirements, available government loans and other scholarship funds. Should your child receive a scholarship it would reduce your financial obligation.

Education Corporation of America was conceived and is run by educators and former educators—many representatives from colleges and universities call the ECA's college acceptance program the best plan offered today.

STUDENT PAYS PART OF PLAN: The reason for the smaller monthly payments is that ECA spreads the four year cost of college over six or more years. The student has an opportunity to share in the responsibility to pay off part of the plan after he graduates.

INSURANCE: This is a total college plan—in case of death the student's complete college education is automatically paid for. The student is also insured.

ECA COST

| Amount needed for year program | Monthly average payment including insurance |
|--------------------------------|---|
| $2,000.00 | $ 36.30 |
| $4,000.00 | $ 72.60 |
| $6,000.00 | $109.90 |
| $8,000.00 | $145.20 |

Loans can be secured for greater amounts under special arrangements. ASK ABOUT OUR FAMILY PLAN—special plans for families with more than one child at the same time.

COLLEGE EDUCATION MEANS MORE THAN $100,000 IN LIFETIME EARNINGS

The United States Bureau of the Census has analyzed lifetime earnings of Americans and compared them with years of schooling:

| Years of Schooling | Lifetime Earnings |
|---------------------------------|-------------------|
| 1 to 4..... | $ 72,000.00 |
| 8..... | $116,000.00 |
| 4 years of high school..... | $165,000.00 |
| 1 to 3 years of college..... | $190,000.00 |
| 4 or more years of college..... | $268,000.00 |

College should be regarded as an investment and, like many good investments, it may be wise to purchase it on the installment plan.

ACT NOW: If you have a son or daughter ready for college this fall you should act immediately to insure his entrance. It will also pay you to look over the program for your younger children. Education cannot wait.

$176,431 were deducted. All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes, license plate fees and a small amount of miscellaneous fees are deposited in the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund. After deductions, the money is distributed under provisions of state law which provides that 47 percent goes to the State Highway Department for use on state highways; 35 percent to the state's 83 counties for county roads; and 18 percent to the 511 incorporated cities and villages for their roads and streets.

Under this formula, the Highway Department will receive $38,413,885 from the first quarter collections; the counties, $28,608,084; and the incorporated cities and villages, $14,711,700.

Wayne County's share of the fund will be $5,710,311, it was disclosed.

formed that the boy was wanted for stealing cars in Hamtramck, and that the Detroit Police Department already had a UDAA petition pending against him.

Captain Tetzart commended the boy's parking attendants for their alertness and cooperation. According to the Captain, the boy's method of finding a vehicle for his joy rides was simple: he usually watched people park, looked to see if they had left their keys inside, and, if he liked the car, he took it.

Fire Damages Park Residence

Faulty wiring in a wall was blamed for a fire that destroyed a bedroom in a four-family flat at 1084 Beaconsfield on Tuesday, May 22. The flat is occupied by two widows.

Fire Chief George deCaussin said that the biggest part of the fire, which was confined to the bedroom, burned through the floor and the wall where the blaze started. Firemen battled the fire for a half an hour before putting it out with two high-pressure fog lines, he said.

The entire bedroom and its contents were destroyed, the chief said. Firemen remained at the scene for almost two hours removing charred debris and checking to make sure the fire was out.

The flat, at the north end of the building, is occupied by Mrs. Mildred Donnellson and Mrs. Eleanor Sindlebocker.

The chief said that the lower north flat had very minor water damage to its ceiling from water seepage from the fire hoses. This flat is occupied by Mrs. E. Whedda.

The lower south flat is occupied by retired Park Patrolman and Mrs. James Cannon. The upper south flat is vacant. The building is owned by Mrs. Clara Snieder of Columbus, O.

The amount of damage is not known and must be determined by the insurance agency handling the insurance account.

INJURED IN FALL

He was on a ladder that fell when it was leaning against which it was leaning, gave way. X-rays showed he had several broken ribs and a possible spinal injury.

Honor Society Elects 107 GPHS Seniors

The top students in the graduating class of 1962 have been determined by the High School faculty and elected to the National Honor Society. They total 107 in number and represent the upper 15% of the class.

"We are very proud of this group", Superintendent James W. Bushong stated. "Their election to this coveted society marks one of the most significant honors Grosse Pointe High School can bestow and I know these boys and girls are very deserving of the recognition."

Four criteria are considered by the teachers best able to judge the eligible student. Initial consideration is only possible if a "B" average has been maintained in all senior high school studies. Those satisfying this requirement then are evaluated by their teachers in terms of Leadership, Service, and Character. The top 15% of the class as determined by this process are pronounced qualified for admission.

Following is a list of the 1962 honorees:

Anna Adams, Wolfgang Baer, William H. Bailey, Andrew J. Balas, Carole Anne Beers, Anita Louise Bohn, William David Borchardt, Lanson M. Boyer, II, Robert C. Bray, Jerry M. Brennan, Susan C. Six Flee Fire

(Continued from Page 1) The fire to boost the manpower. The Shores sent no equipment. Farms policemen who were to have reported for duty at 11 p.m. for the midnight shift, were called early by Chief James Furton and Sgt. Thomas Jarrett, and these helped to reroute vehicle traffic and to keep the more than 600 spectators under control and at a safe distance.

Chief Mason said that the houses next to the Moorman's were evacuated for reasons of safety, and firemen poured tons of water on the two houses to prevent their catching fire from embers from the burning building.

Personnel from Michigan Gas Company and the Detroit Edison company were called to shut off the gas and electricity.

Roof Destroyed
The Farms fire chief said that the fire was confined to the rear of the house and the attic. The upstairs rooms and the attic were gutted, and the roof completely destroyed.

There was considerable heat and smoke damage throughout the house, he said. The chief said that water damage was confined to the front rooms upstairs, and the ceiling of the first floor. Salvage covers were laid over the downstairs furniture and damage to these furnishings was very minor, he added. He said that as far as could be determined, the fire originated in a den at the back of the house. An investigation will be conducted to find out the cause. The amount of damage is not known, and will have to await a determination by insurance adjustors.

An air disaster over southern Iowa Tuesday night, May 22, claimed the lives of 45 persons, among them Roger W. Welch, of 656 University place, who with two other Detroit area Dodge executives was flying to a Kansas City sales meeting. Welch, 45, Dodge assistant general sales manager, was aboard the Continental Airlines jetliner when it disintegrated in flight, scattering debris over a 60-mile radius between Centerville, Iowa, and Unionville, Missouri. Main portion of the fuselage was recovered in a northern Missouri valley. The ill-fated plane, bound from Chicago to Los Angeles, had been cruising at 39,000 feet when it apparently ran into severe air turbulence. It was in the process of maneuvering to avoid a line squall of heavy thunderstorms when it suddenly vanished from the radar scope at a Waverly, Iowa, Air Force station. Civil Aeronautics Board investigators, a special FBI disaster squad, and Najeeb Halaby, FAA head, immediately converged on the disaster scene, searching for clues to determine the actual cause of the crash, first fatal crackup in Continental's 28 years of operation. Several scorched pieces of equipment were found near the fuselage, indicating "something different" from the usual jet crash as there was no indication of fire at the main crash scene. Latest reports indicate that a bomb was responsible for the disaster. Other aircraft, including a military plane, flew through the storm area at the time of the crash without difficulty, according to Halaby. Oddly enough, the unlucky plane was the same jetliner hijacked by two gunmen last August at El Paso, Tex., but FAA officials say there is no connection whatever between the minor damage incurred at the time of that incident and Tuesday night's disastrous plunge. The staff of the Dodge administration building in Hamtramck was stunned by the tragedy, which took the lives of three fellow workers. Welch's secretary, Mrs. Eleanor Munroe, 8551 Stawell, described the executive as an "outgoing, fun-loving man, a wonderfully considerate person to work for." He and Fred P. Herman, 46, of Dearborn, another victim of the disaster, occupied adjoining offices. The third Dodge official to lose his life in the tragedy was Virgil W. Mourning, 46, of Birmingham. Mrs. Welch was vacationing with her youngest daughter, Nancy, 4, in Florida, at the time of the crash. Byron Nichols, Chrysler Corp. vice president and Dodge's general manager, notified her of the tragedy by telephone. Nichols described all three victims as men of efficiency and deep integrity. "I cannot express what their loss means to all of us," he added. Born in Marshall, Mich., Mr. Welch was a Michigan State University graduate. He majored in Economics and, following service as an Air Force captain in World War II, joined Chrysler Corporation in 1947 as a district manager in Cleveland.

Team Wins als Here

Surgeous comeback he won games in a row and finished his shaken opponent with a third set.

Rock Brydges (6-1, 6-1) and Allison (6-1, 6-2) took the singles matches.

Rock Kendall and George Best won 6-0, 6-3. The other doubles matches were close and fought. Jeff Mason and Greg Bielawski won 5-7, 6-4.

Mike Lynch and Greg Bielawski lost to Monroe's number one team 6-4, 4-6, 4-6.

The Wyandotte meet Thursday was little more than a group for the regionals. The girls won 7-0.

Singles Scores
The singles matches went to Burns, Dhooge, Brydges, and Blair. The scores were: Brydges: 6-0, 6-1.

Allison and Greg Bielawski won 6-1, 6-1. Mason and Mike Bielawski (6-4, 6-2) won in the doubles.

In the regionals Burns, Dhooge, and Allison played matches. Brydges won his first match easily, and then lost to Austin's number one man 6-1, 6-4, 4-6. Allison won his first match, and then ran into Burns. He lost 0-6, 1-6.

Burns went on to beat Austin's number one man in straight sets, to win his fifth match.

Bielawski and Dhooge won five doubles matches. Short and Kendall fought back to win their second match with a 10-8 set, but they lost in their third match. Mike Bielawski and Mason also won two matches and lost the third.

The Devils will play Highland Park Thursday to wind up their league action. Unless Wyandotte beats Monroe, they'll have to settle for a first place tie.

Our Choice: Mrs. Hykes

Were it not for the typical voter lethargy that can be counted on at any election, the Grosse Pointes could look to the June 11 school board vote with considerable pride.

Both Alice Mary (Mrs. Paul) Hykes and Richard C. Hudson come into this election as extremely well qualified to serve the people of the Grosse Pointes and to add to the stature of the body that has so capably directed our school system.

Mr. Hudson, an engineer, is a graduate of Tufts University, has been active in Little League baseball and has two children in our school system.

Our choice, however, to fill the school board vacancy is Mrs. Hykes, a woman of tremendous energy and vitality who has demonstrated her interest in Grosse Pointe schools over the years by directing and participating in a variety of educational projects.

As president of the High School Mothers' Club from 1957 to 1959, she was responsible for a number of school programs that were not only greatly beneficial to the students themselves but brought the parents to fuller participation in school activities.

A graduate of Purdue University, Mrs. Hykes, who did graduate work in education at the University of Wisconsin, worked as a high school English teacher and a counselor at South Bend Central High School, South Bend, Ind. Her three children have attended Grosse Pointe public schools, two having graduated from the High School and one currently enrolled at Pierce.

Mrs. Hykes is a strong believer in the rights as well as the obligations of the individual and can be expected as a member of the Board of Education to insist on the highest quality being maintained in our classrooms.

The Grosse Pointe News recommends the election of Mrs. Hykes to the Board of Education and urges that this outstanding candidate be rewarded by your vote.

Single Set To Have Dance

A June night, the eighth to be exact, has been chosen by the Center Club of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial for a "Moonlight and Roses" dance on the terrace of Alger House overlooking Lake St. Clair.

The hours are 9-12 and music will be furnished by the Bob Stack Combo who in addition to playing for dancing will act as strolling musicians between tables at refreshment time.

promenades on either side of the terrace. Japanese lanterns will be strung overhead and vases and baskets of roses and other spring flowers will line the walks! Should there be rain, everything will be set up in the Center's Main floor.

This will be the last regular dance of the season for the single set—though a square dance will be scheduled on the bowling green in July.

What Goes On at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

Guest Columnist: Virginia Leonard.

A novel that is up in the top echelons of the Best Seller list, fictionwise, these days is THE FOX IN THE ATTIC, by Richard Hughes. Here is a man who, thirty-three years ago wrote a Best Seller: HIGH WIND IN JAMAICA (also entitled AN INNOCENT VOYAGE for Americans, as it was felt that they would only think of Jamaica as a race track!)

Twenty-five years ago he wrote another novel, IN HAZARD (a sea story which is now out of print). It has been suggested that Mr. Hughes appears to have been resting for a quarter of a century, and yet his wife claims that he works every day at his typewriter from 1:30 to 6. She also states that he has about twenty-six wheelbarrows full of unpublished manuscripts in his attic, including one complete unpublished novel.

Hughes has been hard at work at writing since he was five (at that time he was perforce compelled to dictate his thoughts to his mother). He attended Oxford and has had a fairly adventurous life, traveling in the Adriatic, in Spain, around the Atlas Mountains, in the United States—but not since 1929—and has established himself in Wales.

Hughes' current volume is only the first section of an ambitious three-to-four volume novel which will be entitled THE HUMAN PREDICAMENT, and which will cover events, principally in England and Germany, between World Wars I and II. Richard Hughes is 61 (although he might be taken for even older) and so feels that with his ambitious project in mind, and considering his lack of speed in writing, it may very well turn out to be a race between the undertaker and the publisher!

THE FOX IN THE ATTIC is the story of Augustine Penry-Herbert, an Englishman, born in 1900, and, like Hughes, living in Wales. An unfortunate incident involving a little dead girl forces him to leave England, and he chooses to visit Bavaria, as a guest of a cousin. Here, he assumes, he will find the Germans pacific, contented and progressive. But here he encounters, instead, a middle-aged cousin who is monarchist, Catholic, old-fashioned. Here, also, are his children, the eldest of whom, Franz, represents the new embryonic Nazis.

The book breaks off abruptly when Augustine, who has loved briefly but unsuccessfully, Franz' young sister, Mitzi, leaves Germany. For a complete novel, this ending would be most unsatisfactory, but as the beginning segment of a larger plan, it can be understood. The characters are well drawn, but not all fully developed; it is to be assumed that this will be taken care of in later volumes.

Subsequent sections will show, undoubtedly, the contrast during the next sixteen years between England and Germany—socially, economically and politically. Augustine, will, I am sure, represent England, while his Bavarian cousin, Franz, will be young Germany.

We can only hope for the best. Richard Hughes himself has said "I was born in 1900 and I always thought that a tidy God would see me through until 2000."

"A Second Thought On First Aid"

By FRED KOPP, R. Ph.

We're constantly amazed at the number of children who cut, scrape and bruise themselves within sight (and sound) of our pharmacy. We do a big business in anti-septics, bandages, and other first-aid items. Same everywhere, probably. But sometimes we wonder if people don't depend too much on first aid—neglect proper medical attention. If there's the slightest question in your mind following what appears to be minor injuries, see your physician. First aid has definite limitations. You can only be sure of proper medical care by seeing your doctor. A prompt visit can save a half dozen later.

This is the 966th of a series of Editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

Kerby to Give Concert Monday

The Kerby School Orchestra and the sixth grade chorus under the direction of Mr. Mendel Lucatsky will present a musical program for the last Parent-Teacher meeting of the school year on Monday evening, June 4. Mr. Lucatsky will be assisted in this presentation by Mrs. Evelyn Kyzivat.

Classrooms, with a number of exceptions, will be open for parent visitation between 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Mrs. Kyzivat and the sixth grade teachers will be unable to meet with parents at this time due to program responsibilities. A social hour for parents and teachers will be held in the gymnasium following the general meeting.

Advice is like snow; the softer it falls the longer it dwells upon, and the deeper it sinks into the mind.—Samuel Taylor Coleridge. I shall not let a sorrow die until I find the heart of it, nor let a wordless joy go by until it talks to me a bit.—Sara Teasdale.

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

A leisurely and wandering tour through the rural Iberian countryside is the ideal vacation which the William H. Bundesens, of Lincoln road, are now enjoying.

They flew to Lisbon where they rented a car and drove through the Estoril and from there to Madrid and on to Toledo, El Escorial and "The Valley of the Fallen". The Bundesens are fortunate in having many Spanish friends who have entertained them royally.

From Spain they flew to Majorca where the descendants of the first family of the island still live in feudal state and received the Pointe visitors.

In her letter Mrs. Bundesens is anticipating attending a festival at which Miss Spain will be selected after which they will leave for Barcelona, and the Costa Brava. Then it will be on to Rome to reunion with an old friend, Miss Kishlinger, who is now in the Italian fashion world, but was once Miss Argentina.

The pair will be coming home from Copenhagen after a week's stay in Denmark. After landing in New York they will visit their daughter and son's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis A. Cormeier and Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Stevenson.

Home last week from an exciting trip about the Mediterranean are Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Healy, also of Lincoln road. They flew to Nice and went on to the Near East. The Gilbert Wheldens are home in Park lane from a similar Mediterranean trip.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. WILLIAM H. KLINGBEIL, OF HAWTHORNE ROAD
by Patricia Talbot

Mrs. William H. Klingbeil is a rare woman, who can make up her mind and then act determinedly for her beliefs. Whether it is a question of children's education the Shores municipal situation or designs for new additions to her home she forges ahead, once she has made her decision.

"You have to stand up and be counted," says a tall brown-haired woman with the straight-in-the-eye glance. She has served on enough civic and cultural committees to defy wishy-wash standards.

This week the newly formed Grosse Pointe Shores Improvement Association met at the Klingbeil home and although Mrs. K., says the men will do all the directing she is this week organizing a mailing crew of interested housewives. She feels strongly about her community and neighborhood and wants to improve it. When the Klingbeil family expanded to four children the couple decided they couldn't bear to leave Hawthorne road although they needed a larger house. They added a huge family room and a couple of bedrooms and baths. Mrs. K., designed most of the more attractive features of their additions herself. Because she cares deeply about her neighborhood she is active in the new Association.

Children Her Concern
She cares deeply too, about children, her own and strangers, and implements this care with work. She is president of the Grosse Pointe Alumnae Chapter of Delta Gamma, the sorority which does vision screening in the local nursery schools. She is chairman of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra which brings fine music to tots and explains it on their level. She is a charter member of the Shores Co-operative Nursery and will become active again next term when her own three-year-old Susie enters.

This week as a Brownie Troop Leader she superintended the fly-up ceremonies of the girls into Scouthood. Her troop has adopted a 93 year old Detroit grandmother, and Mrs. K. gave up one of her afternoons last week to escorting this old lady to luncheon. She was the initiator of the Junior League project which brought art talks into the Detroit public schools this past year, and director of the League's provisional course which for the first time was open to the public at the War Memorial.

Camp Advisor
But her chief interest, which she has expanded into a worthwhile part time career, is camp counseling. In the beige brick-lined breakfast room of the Klingbeil home are three maps heavily studded with colored flags. These show the sites of the various camps around the country and abroad which Mrs. Klingbeil represents. An ardent camper and one time counselor herself she believes that Pointe children sometimes need desperately "to get away from the artificialities of life and back to nature".

The counseling began when she realized that many of her friends were sending their children to the wrong types of camp. Today there are camps designed for every type of child, nature, education, riding, art, science, music drama, whatever the need the camp can be provided. She reminds parents that Broadway star and former Pointe school girl Julie Harris spent her summer years at a special drama camp. She has met all of the camp directors on her carefully culled list and recently attended the national camp convention in New York. She has expanded her activities to include advising parents on teen trips abroad, although she has never been across the Atlantic herself.

Ceramics Are A Hobby
In her leisure moments, and with her well organized life there seem to be some, she refinishes furniture and constructs unusual ceramic tables for the new family room. This summer the Klingbeils will send son Chip and daughter Martha to camps in Northern Michigan, which will leave Fred and Susie at home for trips on the family cruiser which is kept at the Shores Park.

Mrs. Klingbeil was raised in Farmington, when it was still a small town, went to school at Krosswood and the University of Michigan. She subsequently taught second grade in Ann Arbor and has never abandoned this devotion to children and their needs. She is typical of the responsible and energetic Pointe women who are constantly seeking to improve their community and reach out to those who need their help.

Emil Weddige Opens Show

This Sunday afternoon, June 3, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will mark the opening of an art exhibit by the students of Emil Weddige. An invitational tea will be given from three to five o'clock and Professor Weddige will himself, conduct a brief gallery talk at four o'clock.

Mrs. Walter Stewart is in charge of arrangements for this opening assisted by Mesdames Evans, Groschner, and Weaver. Some of the interesting works on view will include Rosalie Black's symbolic landscape of blacks, reds, and whites in interesting juxtaposition. Her painting was chosen for the cover of the exhibit's program. Julia Ford is entering a handsome Mediterranean Village scene and Vera Wolfe is hanging an abstract, expressionistic work in atmospheric colors and planes.

Two more paintings to be shown will be Virginia Vossler's landscape of Upper Canada and Nancy Crittenden's first abstract non-objective work based on her knowledge of landscapes and seascapes but distilled into rectilinear form. The Grosse Pointe public and their friends are cordially invited to visit this exhibit on the Center's second floor without charge. It will remain up through June 17.

Like Mother . . . like Daughter . . . a compliment doubly meant for the deb and her mother. Mother has been selecting her wardrobe from Walton-Pierce since she was a deb and introduced her daughter to the charming fashions for day and party time.

Now Is The Time . . . to pick cotton at Irving, 82 Kercheval on-the-Hill where you'll find in the collection delights by Tanner!

Summertime . . . and the living is easier in your Mutschler Kitchen. This . . . because areas were planned to cut down steps and all time-saving appliances were placed right at your fingertips. Mutschler engineers are kitchen specialists with a decorator service that offers the finest in design and material. See the models at 20489 Mack Avenue.

Glimpsed . . . so many of Nino's "silent customers" (wigs, that is) drying nuder the new fast dryers recently installed at Leon's, 17888 Mack Avenue. Both are blessings these busy summer days; so call for a hair appointment and wig fitting . . . Tuxedo 4-9393.

Keep Your Sunnyside Up . . . but be sure your skin is protected from sunburn . . . via the variety of lotions, sprays and jellies at The Notre Dame Pharmacy. Take your pick but may we suggest SUNTAN by Dorothy Gay for the fair lady. It promoted a good tan and moisturizes at the same time.
