IT WAS FOURTH OF JULY in October at Cape Canaveral, Fla. yesterday, when an "instant ICBM," off-course and veering wildly, was exploded in mid-air as it headed inland toward the Florida coast. The rocket, a United States Minuteman, blasted off from its concrete-lined launching silo at approximately 7:53 p.m. (Detroit time) on what was to have been a smooth, routine 3,000-mile flight. Instead of heading outward over the Atlantic, as anticipated, the deadly white bullet reversed sharply, turning in toward Cape Canaveral and the Florida mainland. For eight seconds a range safety officer waited, his finger on the detonation switches, as the missile gained altitude. Then he pulled the "destruct" mechanism, exploding the Minuteman into hundreds of blazing fragments, lighting the night sky like a gigantic fireworks display.

Burning solid propellant flared in huge arcs over the Cape, and the force of the detonation echoed, like artillery shots, along the beaches, rattling windows for miles around. Most of the wreckage, including tons of the highly-combustible solid propellant, fell in a 6,000-foot pre-arranged "safety area," but one piece of debris plummeted on launching complex 26, damaging a Jupiter missile. Reports that the Jupiter was damaged to the point of uselessness were described as absolutely without foundation by a United States Air Force spokesman, who observed that "from the looks of things, that (the report) is just plain wrong." Although no injuries could be attributed directly to the accident, one range cameraman who had been filming a documentary from a platform stepped back when the rocket was detonated. He fell to the ground and suffered slight injuries.

KAREL ZIZKA, United Nations diplomat from Czechoslovakia, killed his wife yesterday, then fled from their three-room apartment at the Czech mission in New York City. The crazed official raced wildly through three states before police finally caught up with him. His car, an official Cadillac limousine, was discovered at the bottom of a 40-foot embankment near Bethlehem, Pa. Zizka, calmly smoking a cigarette, sat inside the wreckage. He appeared unmoved as armed police surrounded the vehicle, then suddenly whipped out a German-made pistol, apparently the same gun with which he killed his wife, and aimed it at the police. A trooper fired three times, and Zizka, struck in the shoulder, raised his gun to his own temple and pulled the trigger, wounding himself critically.

Police searched the wreckage, finding a large roll of money, 100 rounds of ammunition and an empty vodka bottle captioned "Made in the USSR." Meanwhile Czech mission officials, worried by radio reports of the diplomat's wild ride, broke into his third-floor apartment. They discovered the body of his wife, Vera, and a note, written by Zizka in Czechoslovakian, stating that he had killed his wife and planned to commit suicide. "I think I am crazy," the note read.

Police rushed the diplomat to St. Luke's Hospital in Bethlehem, where he underwent emergency brain surgery. Three Czech officials, one from New York and two from Washington, were immediately dispatched to the Pennsylvania steel town. They refused to discuss the case, saying only that they had been sent to investigate. Zizka died this morning.

THE 44TH NATIONAL Automobile Show opened yesterday in Detroit's Cobo Hall. Fifty-thousand invited guests thronged the exhibits, where over 300 new 1963 cars and trucks are displayed, and flags of the 50 United States, presented as a permanent Cobo Hall exhibit by the Automobile Manufacturers Association, were a feature of Friday's press preview. "As this city of Detroit and this

Thirteen New Teachers on High School Staff

Grosse Pointe High School welcomed 13 new teachers to its ranks this fall, as a number of vacancies were filled and some additional positions were created to serve the increased enrollment. Most of these are pictured above meeting with Principal Jerry Gerich and the administrative staff. Seated, from the left, are: — LOUISE KAYE, English; Guidance Coordinator ROBERT HANSON; Dean of Girls RUTH FLOM; PRINCIPAL GERICH; Assistant Principal DONALD CAMPBELL; Dean of Boys HOWARD CASE; and

Fall Brings Annual Rash Of Accidents

Fog, Rain and Wet Leaves on Pavements Produce Epidemic of Minor Crashes in City

A rash of accidents kept City police hopping last Saturday, October 20, as fog, drizzle, wet streets and slippery leaves combined to play an early Halloween prank on summer-careless drivers. In less than two hours, 11 drivers had managed to involve themselves and their vehicles in traffic tangles, all of a minor nature.

The first collision occurred shortly before 1 p.m., when Mary Alice Molloy, 928 Berkshire, pulled her '60 Valiant out of Lake court onto Jefferson, in front of a '62 Mercury driven by George Hossal, 833 Hampton. Miss Molloy's car struck Hossal's vehicle, causing minor damage.

Meanwhile, Mary Rose Lange, 21220 St. Gertrude, Saint Clair Shores, stopped her '62 Corvair on Jefferson at Cadieux, intending to make a left turn onto Cadieux. George Stanley Dallery, 563 Kitchener, Detroit, pulled up behind Miss Lange's vehicle, and Mary Jean McNeill, 15525 Windmill Pointe, travelling east on Jefferson in her '62 Cadillac, swerved to avoid the Molloy-Hossal accident, striking Dallery's stopped car in the rear. Dallery, in turn,

Attempted Armed Robbery Charge Lodged Against East Detroit Gun Toter

Uses Pistol Stolen from Gas Station in His Own City to Hold Up Employee of Grosse Pointe Ski Shop; Caught Two Hours Later

A 26-year-old East Detroit man, who confessed to a burglary in his city, was arrested by Woods police on Saturday, October 20, and charged with attempted armed robbery in the Woods.

Arrested and held on a warrant approved by Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Dale Devlin, was John W. Lillibridge of 17348 Veronica. The specific charge is assault with intent to rob and steal being armed.

Lillibridge is accused of attempting to hold up Emma M. Finegan, 26, of 20429 Amandact, Mt. Clemens, as she was about to enter the Grosse Pointe Ski Shop, 19271 Mack avenue, where she is employed.

The would-be robber was arrested by Patrolman Thomas Kerving just two hours after the attempted holdup.

Used Stolen Gun
Woods Det. Sgt. Walter O'Dell and Det. Leroy Tobian said that Lillibridge used a gun that he had stolen from a gas station in East Detroit on Thursday, October 18.

On the Saturday date, Kerving was dispatched to the ski shop to investigate a complaint of a man with a gun, and was met by Mrs. Norm Archer, wife of the owner of the shop, who said that her husband and the intended victim were looking for the hold-up man.

When Mrs. Finegan returned with her employer, she told Kerving that when she came to work at 9:55 a.m., she saw a man sitting in an old white, black top convertible, who pointed a gun at her and told her to "stay where you are."

The woman said the man pulled the trigger of the firearm, a 380 Beretta automatic pistol, and she heard the firing pin snap. She told Kerving that the man said "give me your money."

Mrs. Finegan said that she told the man she was only a working girl and did not have any money, only a single dollar bill, whereupon, the man apologized, stating that if he had known she was a working girl he would not have bothered her.

She told the officer that the man did not take the dollar, but ordered her "to stay in the car until I go," and then drove out to the rear of the Woods The-

13 Teachers Join Staff At G.P.H.S.

Backgrounds of Newest Additions Reveal Impressive Array of Talents to Aid Students

Thirteen new teachers have been welcomed to the staff of Grosse Pointe High School. Their backgrounds are listed as follows.

Charles T. Stephens is teaching 10th and 12th grade English at Grosse Pointe High School this fall. Chicago was home until the family moved to Minneapolis where he completed high school. A cum laude graduate of the University of Minnesota, he has continued study there towards an advanced degree. His wife teaches also, at the elementary school level. They make their home in St. Clair Shores.

A Cincinnati by birth, Lawrence J. Lippert graduated from Xavier High School and attended Xavier University. A bachelor's degree was earned at Loyola (Chicago) where he is continuing work on a Masters degree. His assignment at Grosse Pointe High School is to teach 10th grade English. An identical twin, he likes sports, music, poetry and writing. His twin teaches in Cincinnati. Locally, he resides in McMillan road.

Teaching first and second year French at the High School is Francis J. Granger's current assignment. A native of Somerset, Wisconsin, he finished high school there and earned his degree at Wisconsin State. He also has attended the University of Poitiers in France on an AAUW scholarship and the University of Pittsburgh. As an undergraduate, he was concert master of the college's symphonic band, playing the clarinet. Prior teaching experience was had in the LaCrosse (Wisconsin) Schools. Other interests include table tennis and badminton.

James Coats is one of two brothers teaching mathematics at Grosse Pointe High School this year. Born in Lima, Ohio, he graduated from high school there and enrolled in Western Reserve University. Two degrees were earned at Miami University (Ohio) and he also has attended Florida State and Bowling Green U. National Science Foundation Institutes were the occasions for attendance at the latter two. Prior teaching experience was gained in the Wapakoneta (Ohio) Schools as well as in Lima. Two years military duty carried him to Korea and Japan. His family includes Ferry third grader, Karen Anne, and Denny (4½) and Tommy (1) at home which is in River road in the Woods. He assists in coaching football and basketball.

Brother William Coats also

Disposal Authority Pays Installment On Site for Plant

Put $59,450 In Escrow Toward Land Contract Purchase; Will Reap Benefits from Royalty from Gravel Pits

The long-dreamed of Disposal Authority between the Pointe and other interested communities moved forward another step on Monday, October 22, when the Park and City councils took separate actions at respective meetings.

The Park ratified its pro-rated escrow payment share of the down payment on the Hartman Property, Quinn and Fourteen and Half Mile road in Clinton Township, the proposed site of the Clinton-Pointes Refuse Disposal Authority Incinerator.

The City council took definite action regarding its payment share, but it was revealed that this occurred at an Executive Session last week.

At its meeting held on Monday, October 15, the Farms council approved its share of the payment.

Land Costs $205,000

The total cost of the approximately 74 acres comprising the Hartman Property is $205,000. The land is owned by 17 heirs.

The cost of the property will be shouldered by the Farms, Park and City, the three Pointe partners, with Clinton Township, the fourth partner, exempt from making any payments. However, all four will share in the cost of the construction of the incinerator building, estimated at about one million dollars.

The total escrow down payment, under a land contract agreement, is $59,450, of which the Pointes already have paid $10,250.

Payments on the remaining $49,200 has been distributed as follows: Farms—$20,368.80, or 41.4 percent; Park—$19,089.60, or 38.8 percent; and City—$9,741.60, or 19.8 percent.

It was pointed out that the entire down payment will be made toward a land contract purchase of the property, and when a bond issue is floated from five to 11 months from now, the entire down payment will be reimbursed to the three Pointes.

Gravel Pits Under Lease

It was disclosed that the present owners of the Hartman property have leased the gravel pits on the land to a contractor, who pays the heirs a 25-cent royalty for each cubic yard of gravel removed.

The down payment is tantamount toward the purchase of

Valuable Camera Taken from Car

Tom Baab, 296 Rivard, put his Rolliflex camera under the front seat of his car on Saturday, October 13. The following Tuesday, October 16, he noticed the top of the camera case lying open on the car floor. The camera itself was missing.

His wife, Mrs. Mae Baab, reported the theft to City police. The camera, a Model MX with Zeiss lens and flash attachment, is valued at $300. An investigation is pending.

Pays Taxes Under Protest Plans Suit Against State

The telephones are still ringing at the home of Mrs. Gloria J. Mead, 1036 Bishop, whose refusal to pay a four percent increase in the State's use tax on telephones precipitated a spate of national publicity last week.

Mrs. Mead argues that the tax is illegal, as she was not represented in Lansing when it was passed. Her State Senator, Harold M. Ryan, had been appointed Federal Representative from the 14th District.

Ryan's place in the State Legislature was left vacant, and Governor Swainson failed to call a special election, as stipulated in Michigan's Constitution, to fill the vacancy.

The phone use tax was passed with Ryan's seat vacant, the people of Michigan's First, Senatorial District not represented, and that, according to Mrs.

Scott Bagby Will Receive $8,850 Fee

Complete and Comprehensive Survey and Report to Be Made; Foundation Approves

Scott Bagby, Planning Consultant, has been hired to prepare a Comprehensive Plan for the City of Grosse Pointe, and any action on the Foundation for Exceptional Children location will be held in abeyance until Mr. Bagby completes his Parks and Recreation Study, expected to take between six weeks and two months.

The Grosse Pointe City Council, at its regular meeting Monday evening, October 22, acting on the recommendation of City Manager Lawrence C. Savage, authorized Bagby's retention.

Savage, who feels the city has "a great need, and in the future will have even a greater need" for some sort of comprehensive plan, first directed a memorandum to the Mayor and members of the Council relative to the hiring of a planning consultant, on August 6, 1962.

Council had previously interviewed a consultant and discussed some of the things a comprehensive plan would accomplish for the City, and Savage's memorandum itemized various elements to be included in the consultant's contract, among them:

What Is Involved

1. Analysis of existing conditions, land use, population, economic background and trends.
2. Present and potential problems and plans for solving them.
3. Financial impact of apartment and semi-public development.
4. Goals for action: broad aims to be implemented by the citizens and governing body.
5. Zoning, including zoning regulations and maps.
6. Recommended subdivision and resubdivision regulations and policies.
7. Housing and protection of home neighborhoods.
8. Streets, traffic and transit, including related business districts and parking studies.
9. Park and recreation needs.
10. School, school-park and public building needs.
11. Financial program and policies.
12. Administration and effectiveness of the Plan.

Wants Complete Plan

In short, the City Manager was interested in obtaining "a complete Comprehensive Plan for the preservation of desirable existing conditions and encouraging the best future development of Grosse Pointe."

In a communication delivered to the Council at last Monday's meeting, Savage emphasized that a Comprehensive plan is not a mere plat for the community's physical development, that the planning work will include a variety of maps plus "descriptive material, tables and pertinent charts and graphs relative to Grosse Pointe problems."

"Another important facet to the preparation of this Comprehensive Plan," the City Manager observed, "is the identification and definition of community goals, purposes and policies which will serve as guides for future decisions at both the policy and administration levels of city government."

"These guides will be available in formulating decisions not only in the area of the physical development of the community but in other areas as well, including the conduct of governmental operations, the determination of municipal service levels and in many other areas affecting the living conditions within the community."

Will Receive $8,850

Bagby will receive $8,850 for his services—$1,750 upon execution of contract; $6,300 in $700 monthly payments for

13 New Teachers at GPHS

teaches math at Grosse Pointe High and assists with the swimming team. He finished high school in Lima and went on to Ohio Northern for his B.S. (Cum laude) on a football scholarship. Other credits have been earned at Oberlin and Wayne State. Last year he taught in the Livonia Schools. Hobbies include mathematics, athletics, reading, and automobiles. Married, he is the father of a six months old daughter, Cathy Ann. The family residence is in St. Clair Shores.

Still another new teacher of English at Grosse Pointe High School this fall is Donald C. Glancy. Born in Kentucky, he finished high school in Romulus and earned his degree at the University of Michigan. Last summer he was enrolled there, having received a Fellowship in English for advanced study. He formerly taught in Roseville where he was active in professional organizations. Three years service in the U.S. Marines put him in Korea for 14 months. Mr. and Mrs. Glancy reside in Roseville and have three youngsters: Katy, 5, Tom, 3, and Jennifer, 9 months.

Edward A. Franco comes to Grosse Pointe to teach Spanish at the High School after seven years experience in several New York State school systems. He was born in Herkimer, N.Y. and earned his A.B. at the State University of New York in Albany. Graduate study at Middlebury College (Vermont) led to the M.A. in 1959. In the summer of 1955 he served as Community Ambassador to Turkey. The Experiment in International Living at Putney, Vermont took him to Italy in the summer of 1959 and to Spain in 1960. His wife teaches French at GPHS and they make their home at 3970 Devonshire.

Roger Trandell was born in Detroit and graduated from Mackenzie High School. A B.S. in Chemistry was earned at Wayne State University before he came here to teach to subject this fall. While at Wayne he pledged Pi Kappa Alpha. He is married and lives in Wildwood Avenue in Detroit.

Mrs. Carolyn DiBaggio has taught in St. Clair Shores and at Wayne State University (Freshman Composition) and is now teaching senior English at Grosse Pointe High School. She grew up in Detroit and graduated from Dominican High School. A B.A. was earned at Michigan and an M.A. at Wayne, both in English. Her husband is a dentist and they live in New Baltimore. Two children, David, 3, and Dana, 1½, round out the family.

Now teaching mathematics at the High School, George Montle was formerly at Seaholm High in Birmingham. Prior to that he taught in the Caro High School. He was born in Grand Rapids, finished high school at Byron Center, and earned his degree at Michigan State. Credit has been earned at Stanford University also. He pledged Alpha Chi Sigma at M.S.U. and served on the Birmingham Science Steering Committee. Chess, bowling, and bridge are extracurricular hobbies. He is married and makes his home in St. Clair Shores.

Julie Stuart is teaching French at Grosse Pointe High School, this year. A native of Columbus, Ohio, she graduated from Grandview High and attended Ohio State University before earning her degree at the University of Minnesota last June. She resides in Nottingham road in the Park. A Canadian by birth, William Leslie moved to Detroit and graduated from Eastern High School before enrolling in Wayne State University. After earning a B.A. there he continued his studies at the U. of M., earning a Masters degree in 1959. He taught at Wyandotte High four years and Wayne High one year before coming to Grosse Pointe to teach English. Camping is one of his hobbies. He and Mrs. Leslie make their home in Dearborn.

Louise Kaye has accepted an assignment to teach 10th grade English at the High School also. Born in Boston, she completed high school in Hammond, Indiana, and enrolled in the University of Michigan where she earned a B.A. in 1957. After attending Radcliffe College she completed work for an advanced degree at Ann Arbor last spring. Phi Kappa Phi, a national honorary, elected her to membership in that society. Last summer, she taught a Purdue University extension course in Freshman Composition in Hammond. She makes her home in Kingsville avenue, Harper Woods.

Accidents

bumped Miss Lange's vehicle. Again, damage was minor.

Next Comes Quickly
Police had hardly finished sorting out the problems of who hit whom and why on Jefferson when a phone call from Paul Ruggieri, parking attendant at Area 4, St. Clair and Kercheval, sent Patrolman Donald F. Fritz off to take another accident report.

This was only a two-car collision, involving a '62 Chrysler driven by a 16-year-old girl, and a '62 Chevrolet with Ruth Ida Burezyk, 2008 Norwood, at the wheel.

The teenager, attempting to turn into the parking lot, had allowed her car to slip backward, hitting the Chevy's right rear fender. Damage was very minor.

Fifteen minutes later, the scene shifted back to Jefferson. Grosse Pointe Park police notified the City, via radio, of a four-car collision in front of 16900 Jefferson, and Patrolman Richard G. Elworthy was sent to investigate.

Starting Chain Reaction
Questioning revealed that Clarence E. Maguire, 1417 Lochmoor, had driven his '61 Oldsmobile into the rear of a '62 Oldsmobile, Lorenza A. Laidley, 2550 Dickerson, Detroit, at the wheel. Laidley had already bumped into the rear of a '61 Cadillac, driven by William Tocco, 781 Middlesex.

Tocco was waiting behind Mary Jane Wilmoth's '62 Ford. Miss Wilmoth, 1026 Lakepointe, was waiting to make a left turn and Tocco's vehicle, hit from behind, slammed into hers.

Damage, again, was minor. None of the drivers involved in Saturday's accidents received tickets, but City Police Captain Andrew C. Teetaert warns any motorist who may have become lax during the summer that fall means rain, winter means snow, and both could easily spell disaster for careless drivers.

Armed Robbery Attempt

ater parking lot. The woman gave the officer a description of the man and his car, which was sent over the police radio.

At 11:45 a.m. Kerving, while patrolling on Vernier road, saw Lillibridge driving a car near Wedgewood. The man and automobile fitted the description given by the woman and the officer called the station. Lillibridge was stopped at Sunningdale.

Sees Pistol Under Seat
Kerving asked Lillibridge for his operator's license and car registration and then ordered the man out of the car. The officer saw the butt end of a pistol sticking out from under the front seat on the driver's side.

The officer confiscated the gun and placed Lillibridge under arrest and took him to the station for questioning by O'Dell and Tobian. Mrs. Finegan identified Lillibridge as the gunman.

Lillibridge confessed that he had stolen the gun from McCauley's Service Station, 17917 Eight Mile road, East Detroit.

O'Dell and Tobian called East Detroit authorities, and Det. Lt. Clayton Auleys arrived at the Woods station to question Lillibridge, who confessed to the East Detroit officer that he had broken into the station and had taken the gun.

Admits Stealing Guns
Under extensive questioning, Lillibridge admitted to Auleys that he broke into the station shortly after the gas station was closed at 10:30 p.m., October 18. He also told the policeman that he had taken four guns, the Beretta, a .25 caliber pistol and two snub-nosed .38 caliber revolvers from the building.

He told the officer that he sold the two snub-nosed revolvers, and had thrown the .25 caliber gun into the Detroit River from the Belle Isle Bridge, claiming he did so because it was defective.

O'Dell and Tobian refused to accept the latter part of Lillibridge's story and continued to pressure the man for details on the location of the firearm, and Lillibridge finally broke down and admitted the gun was hidden in his home. It was recovered.

The Woods detectives disclosed police of Detroit's Jef-

The present D.P.W. building and yard, located at the rear of the old City offices, must be vacated in the near future, as the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church plans to build on this property.

Terms of the public works bill allow matching Federal grants for a wide range of state and local projects, including water and sewer systems, public and private non-profit hospitals, streets, etc., but excluding schools.

Federal contribution to such state and local projects will be no less than 50 percent, and can range as high as 75 percent if economic conditions warrant such an expenditure. Any community, regardless of size, may obtain a federal loan to finance its share of any public works or facilities project to which a federal grant is made.

Pays Tax Under Protest

 matter go that far. He offered to come from Lansing to talk with her personally, and claimed that Mrs. Mead's State Senator was "absent," not, as she argues, non-existent.

Since receiving Lock's letter, Mrs. Mead says, outside pressures have been brought to bear on her, apparently aimed at persuading her to give up her one-woman crusade.

On Friday afternoon, she received phone calls from two attorneys, both of whom she knows socially.

"They told me that the word (in Detroit's City-County Building) was out, that I was known to have received this letter, and that I must be stopped," the Grosse Pointe housewife maintained, adding that she told no one of Lock's communication, and has no idea how the attorneys got their information.

Mrs. Mead has answered Lock's letter. She has no desire to turn Lock into a sort of "Simon Legree, myself into some kind of combination Elsie Dinsmore and Carrie Nation," and has, therefore, decided to pay the tax under protest, reserving the right to start suit against the state.

She plans to bring suit immediately. "I am a lady, and presuming that Mr. Lock, the governor and the Legislature are gentlemen, I am delighted to provide them an opportunity to correct an error," she says.

"The funny thing is, I'm right!" she adds, and phone calls and letters, still pouring steadily into the Mead household, seem to agree with her.

Tuxis Retreat This Week-end

Tuxis Club gave a banquet last Sunday night, October 21, followed by the installation of new members. A retreat has been scheduled for next week-end, October 26-28, at Tecumseh Woods. The theme will be "Doubt or Faith."

Should we doubt what we've been taught? Should we have "blind faith?" Does doubt promote a stronger faith? These and other questions will be discussed.

$400 THEFT REPORTED

Donald VanDame of 1693 Brys drive, owner of Pointe Electronics, 1975 Mack avenue, complained to Woods police on Saturday, October 20, that someone broke into his service truck parked at the rear of his store, and stole a large tool caddy containing television tools and equipment valued at $400. He said he was insured.

PARK OKAYS GIFT

The Park council on Monday, October 22, approved appropriation of $100 to be donated to the Grosse Pointe Halloween Committee for the Halloween Party for high school students to be held at the end of the month.

Plant Site

 the land, whereby the contractor will have to negotiate with the Authority for the removal of the gravel and the Authority will benefit through the payment of the royalty. It is said that the pits still contain an estimated one million cubic yards of gravel. The pits have been in operation for years.

The officials of the Authority have recently been appointed, and they are: Farms City Engineer Murray M. Smith, part time manager; Farms Councilman Ledyard Mitchell, chairman; Clinton Township Treasurer Robert Ryan, treasurer; Park Councilman John Doelle, secretary; City Councilman G. Gordon Cook and Clinton Township Trustee James Means, directors; and former Township Attorney Charles R. Towner, attorney.

According to the Articles of Incorporation recently adopted by the Farms, Park, City and the Township, the Authority will have as participating members, the four communities, and any other municipality desiring to join.

The Authority held a meeting in Mt. Clemens, Tuesday evening, October 23, too late to disclose the outcome in this issue of the NEWS.

NO FUTURE

Time may be money, but the fellow who finds himself with a lot of time on his hands has made a poor investment.

Warning Issued to Vandals

 gasoline tanks of construction equipment with sand.

Damage in this particular case was estimated at $700 by the contractor, the director said.

Another recent incident, the director pointed out, was at Parcels Junior High School, where since the beginning of the school year, more than 53 windows have been smashed, football goal posts broken in the school playground, flag pole ropes cut and stolen, and fence gates taken.

The windows alone cost a tidy sum to replace, small ones, $5, and the larger ones, $10 and up, depending on the size.

"All the police departments in the Pointe have been receiving reports of vandalism in their respective cities," Director Bailey said. "The Woods has been receiving its share, according to the number of calls received by our department."

"I have issued orders to our personnel that anyone arrested on a vandalism charge in our jurisdiction is never against the arrested person, or persons, that the case be dealt with according to law.

"Where juveniles are concerned, they will be taken before Juvenile authorities, and adults will be arraigned before Judge Don Goodrow.

"In the case where juveniles are found guilty of malicious destruction of property, the parents of the children responsible for the damages, will be made to pay full restitution.

Adults, too, will be made to pay for damages, besides receiving a fine and jail term, or both."

Director Bailey said that it was full time that a stop was put to vandalism, not only in his community, but in other cities as well. "Parents must realize that they will pay for their children's destructiveness, and should, therefore, instruct their children to behave better and to respect other peoples' properties," he added.

Village Stores Extend Hours

At a general meeting of the Grosse Pointe Commerce and Civic Association on Tuesday, October 16, the Village merchants approved a proposal calling for an additional night opening for the Village area beginning Monday, November 5 the majority of the Village stores will be open every Monday and Thursday evenings.

MOTORIST ACCUSED

Samuel P. Pauley, 28, of 11459 Continental, Warren, was arrested by City Patrolman Donald Fritz on Tuesday, October 16, when the officer saw Pauley driving in a reckless manner in the Farm. Fritz initiated the complaint against the motorist who was ticketed by Farms police for court on November 7, Pauley, who had been drinking, was chased on Kercheval, between Fisher and Cloverly roads.

City Hires Plan Expert

 nine months; and $800 upon completion.

He will, in the course of his work, prepare reports on any emergency matters which confront the City and act as consultant to the City, and will provide 100 copies of the Plan with reproduced map and drawings.

He expects to complete his survey by the summer of 1963. Bagby has a national reputation, is a member of all planning professional organizations, and was at one time planning director for the City of Grand Rapids. He has done consulting work in Birmingham, a community with problems similar to those of Grosse Pointe, and did the Comprehensive Plan for the City of Cheboygan, among others.

He is strictly a planning consultant, not an advisor on administrative problems.

City Mayor Alonzo C. Allen stated that he had received information from Foundation officials, indicating that they, too, would be willing to hold their plans in abeyance until Bagby submitted his Parks and Recreation report.

Allen observed, once again, that the City has no actual authority over Neighborhood Club property, and could be taken into court if it continues to hold up the Foundation's building plans.

City Attorney Charles Wright, III, and Councilman David E. Burgess concurred with Allen's estimate of the situation. Under present zoning ordinances, the City has no choice but to grant the Foundation its building permit.

Any change in zoning could, in Wright's opinion, be construed as deprivation of use without compensation.

Alternatively, the City could condemn the land in question for recreational purposes, but it would then have to pay for it—and the City's recent expenses have been high. At present, money with which to purchase the Neighborhood Club is simply not available.

Bagby has been directed to begin his study as soon as possible.

Interested persons may enroll for the class, or secure further information, by calling the Red Cross, WO 1-3900, or after 2 p.m., the Recreation Center which is convenient to their home. Telephone numbers of East Side Centers are: St. Clair, WA 1-0938; Cannon, TU 1-6467; Evans, TU 8-7349; Lasky, TW 2-1012; Lipke, TW 1-9014.

Included in the course are discussions and demonstrations by the teacher of techniques to be employed in providing care for victims of bleeding; broken bones; shock; such as fainting or heart attack; foreign objects in eyes, ears, nostrils; wounds and infections. Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation is demonstrated and methods of transporting victims without increasing the injury. Members of the class are given an opportunity to practice the skills demonstrated by the teacher.

Offer Courses In First Aid

The Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation is cooperating with the Detroit Red Cross Chapter's Safety Services to offer Standard (or beginners) First Aid classes in Recreation Centers in the East Side of Detroit.

Classes will be conducted in St. Clair, Cannon, Evans, Lasky and Lipke Centers, for a two-hour class session each of five consecutive weeks. Classes will be morning, from 9:30 to 11:30, or afternoon, from 1 to 3. The day of the week varies among the Centers.

Interested persons may enroll for the class, or secure further information, by calling the Red Cross, WO 1-3900, or after 2 p.m., the Recreation Center which is convenient to their home. ### Baptist Church Having Banquet

The Grosse Pointe Baptist Church will hold its Annual Missionary Banquet Friday, October 26th, at 6:30 p.m. culminating a month of Missionary emphasis.

The Elmer C. Strauss, missionary to the Cameroons, W. Africa, will be the speaker. A sound film will be shown, depicting the work of the Missionaries, and the Junior and Senior Youth Groups will appear in African dress.

THE JEWELER—A TO Z

A retail jeweler has to be versatile. May the Good Lord give him strength, for he ought to be reasonably proficient in at least a dozen different roles.

A large manufacturing company has entire sections, well staffed by specialists, to meet and solve its own various headaches. But the average jewelry business has as many different thorny problems—and usually they must be figured out and handled by a single man: the owner or manager of the store.

Thus, during a single day the average jeweler must wear a shelf-full of hats. Here are just a few of the different jobs he should be good at, as he switches from one responsibility to another: wholly different one as the day moves along:

The jeweler must be an accountant, an advertising man, an architect, a buyer for several departments, a civic leader, a credit manager, a church-goer on Sunday.

Also, the jeweler must be active and knowledgeable as a delivery man, a display artist, a direct mail specialist, an economist, a gemologist, a lighting authority, a maintenance man, a package wrapper, a personnel manager, a porter (sometimes), a public relations expert, a public speaker and a faithful member of the Rotary Club.

And no less must he serve well as a silver-polisher (!), a salesman, a sales psychologist, a snow-shoveler or a sidewalk sweeper (if nobody else bothers to do it). And a tax expert, a TV-radio personality and a watch repairer or estimator.

This editorial is far from the full picture of the "Complete Jeweler" . . . but it does show how much one man should know and then have time to do it!

Maire School Students Pay Annual Visit to Nation's Capitol

For the tenth consecutive year the sixth grade at Maire School journeyed to Washington, D.C. October 11-14 and spent two glorious days in the nation's capital.

There were 86 students and adults in the group which boarded the B & O's Ambassador Thursday night, and that many tired but enthralled people who returned Sunday morning feeling that in no other way could children of this age absorb more history and patriotism.

The trip was made in the fall for the first time in order to avoid the cherry blossom crowds and to take advantage of the vacation time from school during the teacher's meetings. It was also hoped that the weather would be pleasant and as it turned out two lovelier days could not have been, for it was truly Indian Summer with all its accompanying color of foliage, vivid blue skies, warm sun dividing the day but a shade cooler at night. The changing color of the leaves in the mountains around Harper's Ferry was a sight to behold.

The highlight of this year's trip was the presentation of a memorial wreath donated by J. D. Walker representing Moore's Travel Service as a courtesy to the school on its tenth anniversary and presented in a short but impressive ceremony following the change of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery.

Miss Suzanne Gajewski, a 6th grader representing the school, was accompanied by a military escort, a wreath bearer and a bugler, all soldiers from Fort Meyers, Va., as she placed the wreath before the tomb, and stood at attention while a member of the chaperones, Mrs. Beardsley Barrows, read a short prayer and the bugler sounded taps, after which the group filed silently away, filled with reverence and inspiration.

After the group picture was taken in front of the Capitol Friday morning, everyone boarded the chartered buses for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and then on to the White House to view the many changes in decoration which Mrs. Kennedy and her Fine Arts committee have produced. How good the food tasted at the S & W cafeteria after the visit to 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, especially since everyone had eaten breakfast about 6 a.m. on the train.

The Capitol was the first afternoon stop and planned then because Congress had not adjourned, so with hopes of seeing the representatives in action the group hastened up the steps and into Statuary Hall only to learn that the House had just recessed for 1½ hours. There was, however, much to see and hear about in the building and all were very much impressed with the government.

An hour tour of the Federal Bureau of Investigation concluded the afternoon and by five the group had returned to the Annapolis Hotel and were assigned their rooms. Following dinner at the hotel the night tour began with the Washington Monument, the view from which was a spectacle to behold as one looked out over the many colored lights resembling twinkling stars on a dark background. Equally impressive was the Lincoln Memorial and the view down the Mall as one descended the steps of the memorial, the Archives and the Library of Congress, a very artistic building inside with its colorful tile and mosaic on the floor and ceiling.

Following an 8 a.m. breakfast Saturday, buses carried the group through Arlington, Alexandria, and on to Mount Vernon where autumn looked its prettiest. There remained only the cemetery at Arlington, the Washington Cathedral and the Smithsonian for the rest of the day, and on to the train at 4:30 for dinner and the ride home. In the words of one of the teachers: "More social studies can be taught in just two days in Washington than in a month in the class room." True, this is just a taste of the city in such a short time, but if it does nothing more than to increase patriotism and whet the appetite to learn more about the government and come back again to the Capitol, that is sufficient reason for going. We wish other schools would follow Maire's example and we are willing to help anyone arrange a similar tour and even accompany a group, with our experience as a background.

Canvass Planned
By Methodists

Signs marked "Emvine" have been prominently displayed recently at Grosse Pointe Methodist Church in Grosse Pointe Farms. What does the word mean?

"Emvine" is coined from first letters of "Every Member Visitation Is November Eleventh." Visiting all members and friends of the church to secure pledges for operating funds is an annual event at Grosse Pointe Methodist, according to Pastor James Nixon and Assistant Pastor Al Bamsey.

This year's campaign, using the Emvine publicity, has caught the attention of members of the white Gothic church at 211 Moross, near Kercheval.

Board Chairman Ken Huddleson announced that general chairman of the Every Member Visitation will be Bob Bailey. Working as vice-chairman will be Dave Waggoner; Ken Kall, visitation; Art Batten, program; Ralph Recor, resources; Fred Steiner, publicity.

In addition, Randy Hancock, president of the Men's Club, is serving on the fund-raising campaign as representative of that group. Representing stewardship and finance are chairmen Mrs. Walter Griffith, Ken Huddleson, Les Getschman and Mrs. Norm Mooney.

According to Chairman Bob Bailey, other leadership appointments of captains, division leaders and solicitors for the November 11 drive will be announced soon.

WHY...A DISCOUNT STORE FOR GROSSE POINTE???

Q. What does 'discount' really mean?
 A. Discount means that the items purchased at Village Discount are priced between 20% - 40% less than you have been paying elsewhere.

Q. How can you afford to actually sell for less?
 A. Village Discount sells for less because of low overhead, complete self-service, and volume buying. All savings realized through volume buying are passed directly to the customer.

Q. Can anyone shop in your Village Discount store, and are there any membership fees?
 A. Anyone can shop at Village Discount, and there are no membership fees.

Q. What type of merchandise do you carry?
 A. Your Village Discount Store carries health and beauty aids, including vitamins, cosmetics, patent medicines, baby foods, also cigarettes, film, toys, greeting cards, candy, hair needs, records, pocket books, household items, glassware, first aid supplies, and many other departments too numerous to mention, at all Discount prices.

Q. Do you carry 'rejects' and off brand merchandise?
 A. The merchandise you will find at your Village Discount Store is all nationally advertised, fresh, clean and up-to-date, and fully guaranteed.

Q. What about merchandise I am not satisfied with?
 A. Your Village Discount Store will give you cash refunds in all cases immediately.

Q. Can I really save money by shopping at Village Discount?
 A. All you have to do is come in and see the low discount prices that prevail in every department.

Q. What about salespeople? Let's say I need help in selection?
 A. Trained personnel are always on the job to help with your immediate problems.

Q. Do you offer any other services?
 A. Yes, beginning with the store opening, Village Discount will sell Money Orders at a 10-cent fee for any amount up to $100.

Named to U-M Honors Council

The highly select Honors Council of the University of Michigan has named 323 entering freshmen to its ranks, approximately 15 percent of the class of 1,950 who registered this fall in U. of M.'s College of Literature, Science and the Arts.

Freshmen from Grosse Pointe participating in the Honors Council are Wolfgang Baer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baer, of Lakeland avenue; Jennifer B. Clarke, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert B. Clarke, of University place; Dean F. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Fox, of Lakeland avenue; and John J. Schonenberg III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Schonenberg, Jr., of Kerby road. All are graduates of Grosse Pointe High School.

Others, also GPHS graduates, are James K. Todd, son of Mrs. C. D. Todd, Jr., of Balfour road; Robert C. Bray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bray, of Lakepointe road; and Sharon J. Pastor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pastor, of South Oxford road.

Justine S. Trubey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose E. Trubey, of Stephens road, a graduate of Grosse Pointe University School, has also been selected to participate in the Honors Council.

Students are admitted to the program only at the invitation of the University and are chosen by scholastic aptitude and achievement scores. They may elect "enriched courses" which cover the same subjects as do other courses but in greater detail.

During their first two years, Honors students fulfill the same academic requirements as do other freshmen and sophomores, but in special classes. In their final two years, the select majors in departments which provide intensive courses leading to the bachelor's degree.

A permanent Honors Council staff provides special counseling and guidance for these outstanding students during their entire four years of undergraduate study at U. of M.

Otto G. Graf, Ph.D., director of the council, cites last year's Honors graduates as proof of the program's success. Of 188 June, 1962, U. of M. Honors graduates, 55 received a total of 69 fellowships and grants for graduate work.

John S. Blum Trains In Mediterranean Area

Mediterranean (FHTNC) — Marine Private First Class John S. Blum, son of Mrs. Eleanor Blum of 360 Belanger, Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich., is serving with the First Battalion, Second Marine Regiment, which is participating in amphibious training exercises in the Mediterranean area.

The regiment, reinforced by other units of the Second Marine Division, is embarked in the ships of Amphibious Squadron Four. The units deployed from Camp Lejeune, N.C., in September and are expected to return to the United States in February, 1963.

Police Disarm Shotgun Wielder

Park police entered a home in the 1000 block of Wayburn avenue and disarmed a 42-year-old man who had threatened his father with a shotgun.

On Wednesday, October 17, a plea for help was received from the man's aged father, who told police that his son was armed with a gun, and he had threatened him with harm, according to information released by Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

The chief said that due to the circumstances of the case, the names of the father and son were withheld, pending an outcome of a report from the Wayne County General Hospital, where the son was taken after being disarmed.

When the call was received, Cpl. Henry Cooce and Patrolmen Collin LaLonde, John Trombley and Henry Wilson were dispatched to the house to investigate.

Wilson was sent to cover the rear of the house, and Cooce, LaLonde and Trombley entered the front door, where they were met by the father, who is 77 years old. The son was at the top of the stairs, the shotgun in his hands.

As the officers entered, the son snarled, "Which one of you lousy cops want it first?"

The officers, service revolvers drawn, edged cautiously toward the stairway. Cooce tried to talk the man into putting down his firearm.

The corporal, as he was talking, slowly mounted the stairs, the others behind him. The allegedly demented man pumped the shotgun lever.

The metallic workings of the lever somehow did not sound right to the trained ear of the corporal. He surmised that either the gun was empty, or the lever failed to inject a shell into the chamber.

The officers rushed up the stairs and grabbed the gun and wrested it from the man's grasp, and then put him in handcuffs.

The man was taken to the station, where the father told police that his son had been acting rather strangely for several days, erupting into violent fits.

Chief Louwers said that the son was committed to the County Hospital for psychiatric observation, and that he is waiting for a report before determining what further action should be taken.

The chief commended the officers for facing the danger without firing a shot.

CALLED RECKLESS DRIVER

Maria Cimapanella, 17130 Joann, Detroit, received a ticket for reckless driving and causing an accident on Saturday, October 20. She had been travelling south on Cadieux in her '62 Ford and attempted to make a left turn onto Kercheval, moving directly into the path of a '61 Oldsmobile headed north on Cadieux. The Olds' driver, a 16-year-old girl, was issued a witness ticket. There were no injuries, and both vehicles were driveable.

Highland Park Gridders Grosse Pointe High Mauls

By Bill Hagman

Last Friday afternoon at Highland Park, the Grosse Pointe Blue Devils ruined the Parkers' homecoming by handing them a sound 38-6 defeat.

The Polar Bears kicked off and saw why Grosse Pointe is in undisputed second place in the BCL. By the time the smoke had cleared after the first quarter, the Pointers had put 19 points on the scoreboard. Tom Thompson and John Reynolds ran for the first two touchdowns before Thompson made connections with Terry Raven on a scoring pass play. Only one of the three extra points was made.

The second period saw each team score a touchdown. The Devils scored when Gary Andersen tossed a pass to Terry Raven. Highland Park scored when Ray Bowlsby took the kickoff and raced 77 yards for the only Parker score of the day. The kick failed so the half ended with Grosse Pointe holding a 26-6 lead.

Recover Bears Fumble
The Devils kicked off to start the second half. The Bears fumbled the kick and Grosse Pointe recovered on the 35 yard line of Highland Park. On the first play, Gary Andersen faded back to toss a beautiful scoring pass to Thompson. The kick was no good so the score read 32-6 for the Pointers.

After the kick, Highland Park had to punt. The Devils launched their last scoring drive of the afternoon. George Short supplemented this drive with power running, climaxing the drive when he scored on a one yard smash. The conversion attempt was missed so the score was 38-6 for the Devils.

Scoreless Last Period
The fourth quarter was scoreless but the Devils were threatening throughout the period. Though Jack Testaert intercepted a Parker pass to pose a problem upon the home team defense, the Bears rose to the occasion and stopped the Devils inside their 20 yard line. That was only one of three times Grosse Pointe was inside the Parker 20. Highland Park crossed midfield only once.

The Devils' chances of tying Monroe for the championship appear very doubtful because the league leader finishes its season by playing without Highland Park. Grosse Pointe plays thrice beaten Royal Oak. Both Monroe and the Pointers appear too strong for their last opposition so it would seem that Monroe will win its first BCL championship since 1951.

Dick Grabowski is in charge of publicity for the current year.
First activity sponsored by the new administration will be the annual Halloween party, to be held at the Farms boat house on Saturday, October 27.
A limited number of memberships in the club are still available. Anyone interested is asked to call Liz Holmes, TU 1-7718, or Vince Famularo, TU 1-9532.

Commodore

BOB GERMAN officially began his term as 1962-63 Commodore of the Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club on Monday, October 8.

Others who were sworn into office at the club's regular meeting include Jim Allor, vice commodore; Liz Holmes, secretary; Betty Jones, treasurer; and a four-member board of directors, Lloyd Jones, Bill Heels, Carl Lienemann and Vince Famularo.

The Ski Fair is sponsored by the Metropolitan Detroit Ski Council, Incorporated, with 30 clubs participating. It will include exhibits of equipment, fashions, and food, and will feature skiing films, demonstrations, and other items of interest to the Detroit area's 15,000 to 20,000 "dedicated" skiers.

Richard Malby's Orchestra will play for a dance on the lower level of the armory on Saturday night, November 10.

Among Grosse Pointers who are officers of participating clubs:
Tom Hunter, of 218 McMillan, Grosse Pointe, vice-president of the Campbell-Ewald Ski Club; Carol Radtke, of 2017 Lochmoor, Grosse Pointe Woods, recording secretary of Detroit Edison Club; Karleen Kimberlin, of 407 Madison, Grosse Pointe Farms, recording secretary of Vikings Club; Barbara Guerrero, of 759 Washington, Grosse Pointe, corresponding secretary of the Tech Center Club.

Two aces were recorded at the Country Club of Detroit by William Finkenstaedt and by William Blakeslee, both of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Gary Near of 1882 Hunt Club, Grosse Pointe Woods, scored his hole-in-one at the University of Michigan Golf Course. The winner will be announced at the end of the year.

All the fathers of the St. Paul High School football team have been invited to attend the "Dad's Day" game, starting at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, October 28.

Every father is proud of his son, whether or not the son scores a touchdown or carries the water bucket. Therefore, each dad who attends the game, will wear a number corresponding to the one worn by his athlete son.

The parents will view the game, between St. Paul and Centerline's St. Clement High School, from the benches on Grosse Pointe High School Field, Fisher and Kercheval.

A red cashmere coat, size 14, was stolen from Carroll Gibson's car on Monday, October 15. Miss Gibson, 14950 East Jefferson, had parked in the lot behind Kroger's in "The Village" while shopping. The coat is valued at approximately $97.

Sails and Skis

By Frank McBride

The Detroit River Yachting Association held its Fall meeting for officers and club delegates last Thursday at Bayview Yacht Club. On the agenda was the nomination of a slate of officers for the coming season. Comm. E. P. Robertson directed that nominations were open. Nominated for Commodore was Comm. Sidney J. Warner, DYC, who served as Vice-Commodore this season. Nominated for Vice-Commodore was Ted Sedwick, DBC; he is presently Rear Commodore.

Nominated for the office of Rear Commodore were Comm. William P. Connolly, GPSC and Comm. Paul I. Moreland, GPYC. The slate of officers as nominated will be voted upon by the club delegates at the DYRA Annual Meeting which will take place early in December.

Now is the time to clean out that ski equipment and clothing that you no longer wear or use. The Fourth Annual Second Hand Ski Clothing and Equipment Sale is scheduled for the weekend of November 23-25. Anyone interested in converting their clothing or equipment into cash should contact Mrs. Franny Simmons, 478 Lincoln road, TU 1-9801, prior to November 10. These items must be clean and in good condition.

A number of inquiries have been received from D.R.Y.A. members and their crews as to how they could obtain tickets to the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's party in honor of Carter Sales, Jr. to take place this Friday beginning at 7:30. Reservations may be made by calling the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, TU 4-2500.

The Grosse Pointe Ski Club will kick off the social season with a party in the Gobel Circus Room on Tuesday, October 30 at 7 p.m. The party is open only to members and their guests. A short ski movie will be shown, high lunch and refreshments served.

In a game where the Lions were doing nothing wrong and everything right, the offense showed greatly improved blocking. Al Missant, Bob Tscholl, and Bill Stedman were offensive standouts. Ricky Seavard's kicking was superb. On defense, Tom and Frank Peters, Tom Shea, Sol Tocco, Jim Griffin, and Jim Colby are to be complimented for their fine play. It's difficult to single out any one player because it was the combined effort of everyone that helped the Lions gain victory.

Next Saturday, October 27, the Grosse Pointe Little League teams will take on the Lincoln Park Cats at the Grosse Pointe High School field. The first game will begin 1:00 p.m. (Freshmen). The Grosse Pointe Little League has only two games left this season so let's show them our support and attend those two games. The coaches spend much time teaching these boys the fundamentals of football.

After losing their first three games, the Varsity Lions gained a great comeback victory Sunday, Oct. 14, at Bloomfield as they blanked the Spartan Varsity by a score of 33-0.

Bill Marantette of the Lions took the opening kick-off and ran 70 yards around right end to score. The extra point at a tempt failed. The Lions threatened again in the first quarter, when a superb 40-yard run by Jim Colby put Grosse Pointe deep into Spartan territory. Vince Peseki then fumbled on the next play to give the Spartans possession.

Later in the first period Tom Peters intercepted a Spartan pass to give the Lions the ball once again. The gun sounded to end the first quarter with the Lions deep in enemy territory.

Grosse Pointe had the ball inside the Spartans' 40-yard line in the second quarter. Two runs by Marantette set the stage for Jim Colby's touchdown. Peseki then scored the extra point to give the Lions a 13 point lead. Later in the second quarter Marantette threw a long pass to Don Thompson to put the Lions within scoring distance. On the next play Colby caught Marantette's pass and managed to fight his way to the 3-yard line. Vince Peseki then capped the charge by plunging the three yards into the end zone. This was Peseki's second touchdown in his four years with the Little League and his first with the Varsity. This left the score at the half 19-0 in favor of Grosse Pointe.

In the second half, no scoring was seen until the fourth quarter when the Lions tallied twice. The first TD came on an 18-yard run by Marantette, his second run scored the extra point on a thrust up the middle. With only minutes to go in the game Grosse Pointe managed to score again on Patterson's 12-yard run around left end. Tom Peters made the extra point to give the Lions a 33-0 victory, scoring five touchdowns, the most in any game this season.

In the last play of the game, Don Duraney passed to Ed Olick, who lateraled to Dick Eaton, who then threw it to Jack Griffith who didn't know what to do with it so he kicked it over the Spartan goal posts.

Pointe Ski Club Holding School

Under the auspices of the Grosse Pointe Ski Club a ski school will be held weekly at the Center on Thursday evenings beginning this Thursday, October 25, and continuing through November 15.

All Grosse Pointe skiers or prospective skiers are invited to join the club which makes these lessons available to them without charge; others will be charged $1 per lesson.

The ski school will take place in the Center's Recreation Room October 25. No ski equipment will be needed. A ski instruction film will be shown and a lecture discussion on proper ski clothing and equipment will follow led by Norm Archer, proprietor of the Grosse Pointe Ski Shops together with Rex and Howard Civola, Bill and Lynn Adams, Paul Geffert and Peggy McBride.

Selection of proper skis, ski poles and bands will be covered along with care of skis between trips, proper edging and waxing. The first evening will be concluded with a talk on safety by Rex Civola, member of the National Ski Patrol.

In the following weeks lessons will be given in the basic steps of skiing—the step turn, falling and rising, the kick turn, side steps, fall lining and snow plowing. In addition, experiences will be given to get in shape for the demands of skiing and to warm up for the slopes.

Hockey Teams Being Formed

All Grosse Pointe area boys 14 years and under planning to play Hockey this season, will be placed on individual teams Saturday, October 27. After last Saturday's try-outs there are still open spots in all age groups for interested boys.

Meet at Ice Flair, 15001 Charlevoix avenue, Saturday, October 27, at listed below:
Pee-Wees — Boys between 10 and 12 years of age, 9 a.m.

Bantams — Boys between 12 and 14 years of age, 10:30 a.m.
Squirts — Boys 9 years of age and under, 11:30 a.m.

If for any reason you desire to play and are not available, telephone VA 4-9848, Friday between 8 and 10 p.m., Saturday between 2 and 5 p.m. to be sure of playing this season.

Starting November 3 all games will be played at Ice Flair Saturday mornings with scheduled practices early evenings throughout the week. Fifteen regular and play-off games will be scheduled.

Make your reservation by calling the Department of Community Services, 43 Grosse Pointe Boulevard, at TUxedo 5-3808 or TUxedo 5-0271.

R. B. Evans Seeks to Better World's Speedboat Mark

Miss Stars and Stripes II, now in her fourth month of trials at Hubbard Lake, Mich., is out to surpass the official record mark of 260.35 mph set three years ago in England by Donald Campbell and his Bluebird.

That is why the owner, Robert B. Evans of 984 Lake Shore road is at the lake with Les Staudacher of Kawkawlin, Mich., who is continuing to drive in test after test while waiting for the "right water" before making the attempt.

Evans, 52, has been interested in high speed experimental craft since 1930, when he built and raced against the clock, a hydrofoil boat of his own design. He is an industrialist who heads more than half a dozen firms. His main office is in Plymouth, Mich.

He is also vice president of Evans Products, of which his twin brother, E. S. Evans, is president.

R. B. is chairman and owner of Staudacher Marine Industries at Kawkawlin. He has his own engine. He is married and the father of a daughter and son. Staudacher, 50, is also married, and the father of three, a girl and two boys. He has been building and test-driving racing boats since 1946, including Miss Pepsi, My Sweetie, Hawaii Kai, Miss Thrifty, Maverick, Shanty and Notre Dame.

Guy Lombardo's Boat
His first jet-powered boat was Guy Lombardo's Tempo Alcoa which, in 1959, he test drove at more than 280 miles an hour.

The boat wrecked before the official attempt. In 1960 the repaired Tempo Alcoa was given a checking out by remote radio control on Saginaw Bay. It exploded.

Miss Stars and Stripes II, the result of 30 tested models, has a length of 31 feet six inches. It is powered by a nine-foot six-inch Air Force F-84 jet engine, with a 5,000-pound thrust at 8,000 rpm. The engine tailpipe is six feet long.

The engine has a horsepower of 4,000, the boat's weight, dry, is 5,800 pounds. It uses fuel kerosene, has a tank capacity of 155 gallons, and consumes 840 gallons an hour. The boat is of three-point design and has an estimated potential speed of 300 mph.

The Stars and Stripes is six feet six inches longer than England's Bluebird, and has 1,800 pounds more thrust.

Right Water A Factor
Evans and Staudacher have patience. They have to have it if they are not to risk too greatly a human life and an uncalculated investment. The "right water", a mirror-like surface, is only one factor.

With autumn already here, owner and driver know they may "run out of weather"—to use their own expression.

"If we do," Evans said, "we'll put the boat away until spring, but we'd like to have the public included the numerous writers and television and radio people who are up at the lake to 'get the picture'."

They learn that the picture is in process.

But the finished picture won't be ready until (and if) the American challenger has demonstrated she can beat the record. Only then will an official sanction be requested, and the picture framed in success or failure by an official attempt.

Meanwhile, as the Italians say, "He that has no picture has nothing at all."

Optimist Club's Annual Show Set for Weekend

The Optimist Club of Grosse Pointe has chosen a Mardi Gras theme as the setting for its 15th Annual Show, a musical comedy spectacular which will be presented at Parcels Junior High School Auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:15 o'clock, October 26 and 27.

The story which revolves around the problems of a traveling theatrical troupe, presents endless opportunities for the many versatile artists in the cast to display their musical and dramatic abilities.

Prudence Butterfield, who once again has been chosen to produce and direct the musical extravaganza, has selected many outstanding musical comedy tunes which have been woven into the original plot by writer George Rogers. Among the 58-member cast are many performers who will pool theatrical, radio and television backgrounds for this benefit performance.

Well, GEORGE ROMNEY, what are you going to do about the mess in Lansing?

First, let me say that only the people lose from all the bickering in Lansing. All the people.

Why all the bickering? The answer is that there is no leadership in Lansing. The legislature cannot lead. No committee can lead. Only the man in the governor's chair has the authority and the responsibility to lead the state government.

But no man, regardless of his authority and responsibility, can lead unless he has developed the ability to get people thinking and acting together. He certainly cannot get cooperation by blaming the other fellow when things go wrong and taking all the credit when things go right.

We all lose when there is no leadership. We either get lop-sided legislation which suits no one, or we get deadlock. The people can't win when we have deadlock and division in Lansing.

LEADERSHIP is necessary to get all sides working together to provide a government that can get things done for all the people of Michigan. I'd like to put my experience in leading people with diverse ideas to work for you.

Will you give me a chance to PROVE what a new team in Lansing can do?

George Romney

Republican State Central Committee—George Van Peursem, Chairman

Patrons who attend will have an opportunity to see the noted showcase of metropolitan Detroit and the Auto Industry, the "Chrysler Imperials" in action. Ann West, a pretty, petite soprano, Dick Cawthon and Dorcen Muirhead, featured soloists of the "Imperials" to play the leading roles.

Nancy Pitton, Mary Stead, George Rogers, Marsh Francis and Ray Muirhead have important singing roles. Patty Walden, a youthful veteran of U.S.O. and U. of D. presentations, Linda Campbell and Ray Carbone, a television song-and-dance team, and Kathy Consentino and Johnny Cornell who have backgrounds in the professional entertainment field will add their talents to the Optimist Show.

Carl Dumas, president of the Optimists, Jack Berry and Ollie Loranger will handle the dramatic roles and will have an opportunity to add to the laurels they won for their excellent performances in the "Fabulous Flappers" the 1961 Optimist spectacular. "Maggie" Sautter and Marvin Robertson will provide a sparkling comedy lift along with the perennial favorites Johnny Christian and Doc Butterfield who will be cast in a new kind of comedy role.

Jack Fairchild, international organist, will again accompany Prudy for all of the musical numbers.

Club members also participating are Ernie Hobbs, and Joe Geddish. Opti-Mrs. will be represented by Ruby Hobbs, Cecilia Wronski and Delores Geddish while other members of the Grosse Pointe Optimists and Opti-Mrs. will act as hosts and hostesses to the many patrons.

Although the optimists International slogan is "Friend of the Boy" the Grosse Pointe Club has diversified for many years by helping both boys and girls.

This past year 33 children attended camp for two weeks each and many athletic endeavors were enriched because of the Annual Optimist Show.

This is the club's only major fund raising activity which finances these worthy causes. The members are optimistic that ticket sales to Grosse Pointers and their friends will continue at a consistently good pace to assure a capacity audience as in past years.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Club or cast or at the Box Office at Parcels Auditorium the evenings of October 26 or 27, where Larry Korte, Show Chairman will be ready to serve you.

Earl Morrall, Detroit Lions quarterback, has picked up a new nickname among the Lions players since he severed off part of his left big toe. The moniker: "No-Toe."

At Long Last, The Die Is Cast

It is Monday night, October 22, 1962, and the air has been filled for hours with repetitions of President Kennedy's speech concerning our stand on the situation in Cuba, and with the sage comments on same by scores of expert commentators representing countless radio and television networks and news-gathering alliances. By the time that we write appears in print, the subject will be hashed, rehashed, regurgitated, digested and redigested to the point where anything we had to say on this particular subject would appear about as fresh as a stagnant, mosquito-breeding rain barrel at the tail end of a prolonged drought.

So we confine our remarks on the President's action to a terse:—"It's high time", and to an admission that our personal reaction was more one of relief than of scared shock. We have been filled to the gullet with our country's namby-pamby by-play and knee-bending to Mr. Khrushchev and his band of belaboring bandits. We think the great bulk of the American people have felt the same way, and we feel certain, that come what may, as in every other crisis, they will be welded into a team worthy to succeed the many that have gone before in other times of stress, who never could countenance the thought of cowering to a bully.

While our speakers on radios and TVs pour forth an almost overwhelming cascade of opinion, both knowledgeable and conjectured this night, our thoughts are admittedly somewhat muddled. They ramble like a prairie fire in a fickle wind. Such as remembering how intrigued we were on a Varadero Beach holiday just a few years back, by the way the Cubans argued in a fairly friendly manner over the respective merits of Batista and the upstart Castro, who was than making trouble from the hills of Oriente. . . and recalling how most of the young favored the bearded one. And hearing former Ambassador to Cuba Arthur Gardner, bawled out unmercifully one night in Palm Beach about that same time, when he ventured the opinion that the well-known crook, Batista, was probably better for the island than Castro would be.

Such as wondering what would happen to the poor politicians caught in the middle of a hot campaign by such an overwhelming hunk of news, that practically consigned their pratings to oblivion. And marveling at the logic of the California newscaster who has it all figured out that this is a great political coup for Kennedy, and he has helped his Democratic candidate cohorts no end by coming out strongly at this time. Will the voters forget the endless months of indecision, the failure to take action when Castro first announced his alliance with the Commies, the horrible fiasco of the Bay of Pigs episode?

Such as the wonderful tenacity to a way of life as maintained by the radio and TV boys, as demonstrated by the metronome-like regularity of the commercials on hair sprays, deodorants, oil changes and dog food, punctuating the words of the President and the announcements of the Guantanamo build-up and evacuation of dependants of the military, and the virtual blockade of our sadly-afflicted little sister island to the south.

Recalling Irene Castle, famed dancer of yesteryear and everloving friend of all animal life, telling us of her annual pilgrimages to Havana, where she bought every caged bird she could find and set them free in the park on her departed mother's birthday. A glorious day of fishing and small island-hopping off Varadero, climaxed by watching the fishing fleet pull in its nets and count its catch.

It seems incredible that this lovely spot in the sun, the source of so much pleasure and so many happy memories for so many of us, should now, through the mad ambition of a befuddled leader, become the potential trigger of a world holocaust. We do not think history will record this as having happened. If the trigger is pulled there may be no historians left to record anything. But we cannot conceive of any man or group being sufficiently insane to start the war that might well leave the earth devoid of places to conquer.

The die has been cast, and we repeat:—"It is high time." Criers of doom will accomplish nothing and will in fact be doing a great disservice to the country. We can all resolve to do everything within our personal powers to face whatever the future holds with courage and with faith, to stand united behind our leaders and to pray for a return to sanity of those whose decisions could consign the earth to ashes.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

In a September issue of the New York Times Book Review Section, we read that William Golding's LORD OF THE FLIES is overtaking J. D. Salinger's CATCHER IN THE RYE in the affections of students on eastern college campuses, as well as in some high schools.

This comment set off a line of speculation and rumination, probably sparked by the additional impetus of listening to a recent two-hour program on Channel 56 devoted to the works of J. D. Salinger (and including Grosse Pointe's Jay McCormick as one of the panelists). This line of thinking led inevitably to children; and so their treatment in contemporary fiction becomes the theme here.

Being a great aficionada of Salinger, it takes restraint to keep from launching into a lengthy discussion of CATCHER IN THE RYE. Much, perhaps too much, has already been said on the subject. Let me only point out that the book is unfailingly compared with HUCKLEBERRY FINN (and with reason); and since its hero is a sensitive adolescent rebelling against the realities of the adult world, it becomes a "natural" for teen-age readers.

It is actually LORD OF THE FLIES that I would rather dwell upon here—a disturbing and masterful story of a group of English boys, ranging from six to twelve years of age, who are isolated for a period of time on a remote tropical island which contains no other human inhabitants. Their retrogression from social and political organization to savagery is relentlessly and agonizingly portrayed. That this is probably an allegory on human society today is not so important as the fine characterization of these boys, the excellent writing, and the sustained and ever-mounting mood of terror.

Another book so similar that it fairly leaps to one's mind is Richard Hughes' THE INNOCENT VOYAGE (sometimes called HIGH WIND IN JAMAICA). Here again we have a group of children, ranging similarly in ages, taken from the constraints of normal society (in this case they are aboard a pirate ship). And again they resort to wrongdoing and tragedy strikes. In the Golding book, two children die; in the book by Hughes, a child dies—a man is killed.

It has been suggested that authors were trying to create counter-stereotypes of the "innocent" child as the sentimentalists have portrayed him in literature for years. Be that as it may, these two books remain fine examples of powerful writing, never-to-be-forgotten characterization of children, and awesome descriptions of such phenomena as storms, typhoons and earthquakes. To me, it is not really surprising that the intelligent college student should be found reading LORD OF THE FLIES. It is powerful, well-done, and carries a tremendous impact. One does not forget it soon.

Jackson Warden Talks to Chiefs

The Southeastern Michigan Police Chiefs Association held its regular monthly meeting at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on Thursday, October 18.

Principal speaker was Jackson Prison Warden William H. Bannon, who chose as his topic "Crime Prevention."

He spoke of the rehabilitation of inmates confined in his prison, and the methods being used to return those who have been released, after serving their sentences, to a useful place in society.

He also told of a chapel that had been constructed on prison grounds, which is being used for services of all faiths. Previously, there was no such edifice connected with the prison.

Police Chiefs and Sheriffs of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Washtenaw Counties are members of the Association.

Attending the session were Park Chief Arthur Louwers, Farms Chief James Furton, City Chief Thomas Trombley, Shores Chief Fred Duemling, Woods Director of Public Safety Vern Bailey and Harper Woods Chief Allen Miglio.

The University of Michigan's Radio Astronomy Observatory has obtained measurements of natural radio emissions from the planets Saturn and Mercury.

Could you guess what's good about a headache?

By FRED KNOPP, R. Ph.

If you happen to have one right now, probably all you need is an aspirin. But the fact is: a headache sometimes is a signal. It may be telling you something is wrong. . . perhaps something quite remote from the pain. In this event it's a symptom—valuable information for your physician. So if you have a persistent or recurring headache and don't know why, see your doctor. Don't take a chance. Your physician can probably clear up your problem in short order. Of course, he may say all you need is aspirin — but even that's worth knowing.

Center Offers Yoga Classes

Yoga classes will begin at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock starting on October 30 and continuing for 10 weeks. The course will be taught by SRF trained instructor Grosse Pointer George Johnston. Emphasis in this class will be upon exercises designed to relieve tension and condition the body to regularity. The philosophical side of Yoga will be touched upon but not developed as a cult as is the case in India. Those coming to the class are asked to wear loose casual clothing and exercise shoes. They are also requested to bring a mat or blanket. George Johnston was a philosophy major at Yale and became interested in Yoga upon graduation. He is affiliated with the group meeting at the Detroit Art Institute.

London's most successful musical comedy in a decade will be imported to the Fisher Theater next month when Charles Dickens, classic, "Oliver" opens November 25.

That Sunday evening's appearance will be a benefit for Tau Beta Association, proceeds from the ticket sales to be used for major improvements at the Tau Beta Camp.

Members will gather this Tuesday at the Provencal road home of Mrs. Allan Sheldon III where Mrs. Murray Fowler, Tau Beta president, will preside over an informal program of information and discussion about the theater premier.

General chairman of the "Oliver" performance is Mrs. James McMillan and Mrs. Frederick Harris, Jr. is in charge of ticket sales for the Grosse Pointe area.

Other Pointers on the committee include Mrs. Edgar B. Galloway, Mrs. Edward I. Book, Mrs. Warren Sheldon, Mrs. Douglas McClure, Mrs. J. O. Wardwell, Mrs. Alfred Marks, Mrs. Walter B. Ford II and Mrs. Richard Fruehauf, Jr.

Mrs. McMillan and Mrs. Wardwell will give reports Tuesday as will Mrs. Alexander Blain III and Mrs. Grant Armstrong, vice-president in charge of the camp. Mrs. Charles B. Hull will explain the current Tau Beta activity as part of the Neighborhood Service Organization.

Gridiron Caravan

The football fans are in the midst of their most exciting season and expeditions to various campuses are well beyond the planning stages.

On November 10 a bus load will pull out of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Pearce's Chalfonte road home for Ann Arbor to see the Illinois-U of M game.

This is a biennial party organized by the Allan Schildhammers, of Lochmoor boulevard, Illinois alumni. After the game the group which will include the Sydney Terrys, the Edwin Clarkes, the Jack Sturtevant, the James Tracys, the Robert Bacons, the Bill Duffields, among others will return to the Pearce's for supper.

The Pearce's spent last week-end in Owosso visiting the John Whites and hailing the opening of the pheasant season.

Study Hour for Travelers

In preparation for the English Speaking Union's Easter trip to the Orient and Near East a diligent group of women have formed a study group to delve into the background of the countries they will visit.

Among the students who meet every other week at one another's homes for luncheon and study are Mrs. Walter L. Anderson, Mrs. Elmer Benzin, Mrs. C. H. Ewing, Mrs. J. M. Laberge, Mrs. Clarence E. Maguire and Mrs. H. Verlinden Peez.

The two airplanes which will carry the group to the

Michael E. Taylor Claims Bride in East

Weds Jean Anne Donnelly in St. Mary of the Hill's Church, Milton, Mass.; After a Trip to Florida Newlyweds Will Live in Maryland

In a setting of white carnations, with white satin bows marking the pews, six attendants preceded Jean Anne Donnelly down the aisle of Saint Mary of the Hill's Church in Milton, Mass., where she became the bride of Michael Emmet Taylor, son of Dr. and Mrs. Nelson M. Taylor of Dean lane.

The couple received the Papal Blessing at the 11 o'clock nuptial Mass performed by Rev. John McCormick, C.S.S. R., and a reception followed in the Oval Room of the Sheraton Plaza, Boston.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Donnelly of Milton and North Scituate, Mass., was given in marriage by her father. Her satin head-veil topped her portrait gown of candlelight satin fashioned with a bustled back and sweeping train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Maureen Brand, of Milton, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. John Edward Donnelly, Jr., of West Hartford, Conn.; Mrs. James Angevine, of Belmont, Mass.; Jill Ann Taylor, of Inglewood, Calif.; sister of the bridegroom; Mary Crotty, of Arlington, Mass.; and junior bridesmaid Virginia Baldwin of Newton, Mass. They wore autumn gold velvet full length gowns and carried bouquets of yellow tea roses and bronze colored mums.

Timothy Taylor, of Grosse Pointe, Mich., brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were John Edward Donnelly, Jr., of West Hartford, Conn., and Paul J. Donnelly, of Baltimore, Md., brothers of the bride; David W. Stapleton, Jr., of South Natick, Mass.; William H. Farley, of Westlogue, Conn.; and Joseph J. O'Brien, of Wellesley, Mass.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. John E. Donnelly wore a sheath dress of gold brocade. Her hat was a deeper tone of gold velvet with matching accessories. Mrs. Taylor, mother of the bridegroom, chose an oyster shade of peau de soie with brown accessories. Both mothers wore beige cymbidium orchid corsages.

Mrs. Michael E. Taylor was graduated from Jeanne d'Arc Academy in Milton, and from Georgetown Visitation Junior College in Washington, D.C. She made her debut during the 1959-60 season at the St. Nicholas Cotillion. Mr. Taylor is a graduate of the University of Detroit Preparatory School and of Holy Cross College.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will live in Maryland.

Mr. Boeberitz Claims Bride

James Lee Boeberitz, son of Mrs. William F. Boeberitz, of Maryland avenue, and the late Mr. Boeberitz, claimed Eleanor Susan Holm as his bride Saturday in the Cathedral Church of St. Paul.

The daughter of Mrs. George J. Holm, of Wisconsin avenue, and the late Mr. Holm, wore a gown of white peau de soie and carried Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

Following a reception at the Fort Shelby Hotel the newlyweds left for New York and Bermuda. They will live in Manderston avenue.

The University of Michigan awarded 1,049 degrees at the end of its 1962 summer season.

Planning Party At Hunt Club

Great plans are being made at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club for an evening of Halloween fun for the entire family both on and off the horses.

Starting at 6 o'clock, the small fry will ride their favorite mounts while clad in their costumes and will be led about the riding hall by proud parents and grandparents.

Among the youngsters entered in the lead line class are the Ivan C. Dunlaps' Valerie, the E. N. Peabody's Marjorie, and granddaughters Nancy and Sarah Lynn of the Albert D. Ruedemans.

In the all-inclusive junior group costume competition on horseback, competitors will include Larry Marantette, Chris Squiers, Troy Maschmeyer and Nini Henkel.

Halloween games and contests will be conducted in the club house, and dinner will be served early and late.

Among the adults expected to enter the Senior Ride in costume that evening are Mrs. Charles B. Squiers, the W. J. Lillys, Dr. Arthur G. Seski, Mrs. Dunlap, Miss Ethel Flinn, and Charles A. Bachrach.

Sailorettes Give Awards

Detroit Yacht Club Sailorettes have scheduled a Trophy Award Luncheon for Saturday, October 27, at 12:30 o'clock, in the DYC's Starboard Haven.

Among those receiving awards will be Mrs. Donald Estler and Mrs. Jerome Jordan, both Grosse Pointers, who finished first and second in the final standings of the weekly "off the dock" racing, and Cherie Moore, selected top First Year Sailorette.

Mrs. Thomas Pearsall, Mrs. Robert Hess, Mrs. W. E. Christian, Mrs. Thomas Douglas, Mrs. Kenneth Scott, Mrs. C. E. Kaiser and Mrs. W. E. O'Reilly are among those expected to attend.

The panel was followed by a tea in the Alumni Lounge at Wayne State at which Mayor Cavanaugh of Detroit and Mayor Patrick of Windsor were honored guests. Also honored was Mr. Hogan, Secretary to the Economic Development Committee of the UN.

The United Nations is one of two national issues currently being intensively studied by the local league, the other being foreign economic policy.

In Grosse Pointe Methodist Church Saturday, MARGARET JANE SIMS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl M. Sims, of Nottingham road, was married to Mr. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neill S. Brown, of Houston, Tex.

Voters' League Attends Panel

Fifteen members of the League of Women Voters of Grosse Pointe observed UN Day by attending a meeting at Wayne State University on the afternoon of October 24.

Members of the Wayne State political science faculty joined the Consuls of Belgium, Britain, and France in presenting a panel discussion on "The Role of Emerging Nations in the UN."

The answer given is that it would be impossible for any one nation to "run" the United Nations because there are 104 member states, with each having one vote. Further, an examination of the record shows that all major resolutions proposed by the United States were approved and the United States and the Asian and African nations were on the same side most of the time, with the Soviet bloc on the opposite side and losing consistently.

The Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters has a group actively studying the United Nations, under the leadership of Mrs. Dwight Hendricks, 2168 Hampton. Its next meeting, to be held at Mrs. Hendricks' home on November 7 at 8:15 p. m., will concern itself with the same topic as was discussed at Wayne State on UN Day, "The Role of the Emerging Nations in the UN." Interested persons are invited to attend. Mrs. Hendricks' phone number is 886-0351.

Senior Men To Hear Doctor

The Senior Men's Club of Grosse Pointe will meet on Thursday, October 25, to hear Dr. Harvey Merker discuss "Advances in Medicine," and again on Tuesday, November 13, when Robert L. McNaine will speak on "The Chicago Water Seal."

These are only two of the interesting meetings scheduled for the 250 club members. Programs are expected to intensify under the aegis of new president Jesse W. Shields, and members are looking forward to many meetings in the just-constructed Pries Auditorium.

The Senior Men's Club of Grosse Pointe, composed of retirees who refuse to simply "sit on the sidelines," has become a leader in the community during its three years of existence. Activities include wood-working, bridge, gin rummy, poker, cribbage and group discussions. The club meets at the War Memorial Center, and all interested men in the Grosse Pointe area are cordially invited to participate.

John Toepel Claims Bride

John Stanley Toepel, son of the Samuel Toepels, of Lochmoor boulevard, claimed Carolyn Dorothy Potere, daughter of the William Russell Poteres, of Rochester, as his bride Saturday in St. Andrew's Church, Rochester.

The bride wore a silk mist taffeta gown accented with Guipure lace and a crown of pearls and crystals caught her three tiered illusion veil. Her flowers were an arrangement of white orchids on an heirloom wedding fan.

Mary Ann Potere was her sister's maid of honor in a moss green satin brocade gown and matching veiled pillbox hat. She carried a muff of matching material and ivory.

Dressed like the honor maid were the attendants Gretchen A. Everhard and Janice A. DeBaene, of Rochester, and E. Janet Toepel, the bridegroom's sister.

Michael D. Schrock, of Birmingham, was best man, and the ushers were William R. Potere, Jr., the bride's brother; Jon G. Struthers and Robert Tapert, of Grosse Pointe.

A buffet brunch followed the ceremony in the Elks Club, Rochester. After a wedding trip the newlyweds will live in Oak Park.

Trial Gardens Win Honors

Presidents and garden representatives of 11 Grosse Pointe garden clubs attended a morning coffee and meeting at the Grosse Pointe Garden Center on October 16.

Results of the 1962 competition were announced by Mrs. Howard R. Poppen, chairman of the Trial Gardens Committee. At three stages of development the gardens were judged by qualified judges, using the point system.

The blue ribbon winner, having the highest total points was Grosse Pointe Park Garden Club which planted an oriental garden with a miniature pool. Second place winner was the Pointe Garden Club having a green and white garden with a bird bath. Third place was won by Grand Marais Garden Club, for a pink wax begonias and a miniature fountain.

Fourth place went to Windmill Pointe Garden Club, which had an English type pink and blue garden. Honorable mention was given to the Garden Club of Michigan. The point of interest in this garden was an ivy-planted urn placed on a three tiered pedestal of stone.

Due to the great interest shown in these gardens, it was decided to continue the same type of gardens once more, using as many new flowers as possible, in 1963.

A token of appreciation was given to Mrs. Leland J. Gilmour for her efficient performance of her job as Horticulture Consultant.

NOT A HAIR'S DIFFERENCE

Robert Frost is proud of his originality. Once the poet, who will read his poetry at the U. of D. Memorial Bldg. at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 14, was compared to Carl Sandburg. "The only thing that's the same about us," he said, "is that we both have white hair."

In Grosse Pointe Methodist Church Saturday Margaret Jane Sims, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl M. Sims, of Nottingham road was married to Donald Guerry Brown, son of the Neill S. Browns, of Houston, Tex.

She wore an ivory patterned brocade gown designed with a bateau neckline and belled skirt. A crown of orange blossoms caught her illusion veil and she carried cymbidium orchids and ivory.

Mrs. Charles N. Peterson, of Waterford, Mich., was matron of honor in a belled emerald green peau de soie gown. She carried bronze chrysanthemums and Fugi mums.

Carrying bronze chrysanthemums and dressed like the honor attendant were the bridesmaids Carol Roller and Barbara Pflaumer.

Neill S. Brown, Jr., of Madison Heights, Mich., was his brother's best man and the ushers were another brother, Robert R. Brown, of Houston; Richard M. Sims, the bride's brother, Walter H. Pflaumer and Donald McIntyre.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception in the church parlours, Mrs. Sims chose a rose beige brocade with cinnamon accessories. Her flowers were orchids. Mrs. Brown was in wine mauve lace over taffeta with matching accessories and white orchids.

When the couple left for Northern Michigan the bride was wearing a chocolate brown knit dress with matching accessories. They will live in Dearborn.

Smith-Beissel Rites Read

Mary Kay Beissel, daughter of the Richard J. Beissels, of Ann Arbor, was married Saturday in St. Thomas the Apostle Church, Ann Arbor, to John Hendrey Smith, son of the Ralph H. Smiths, of Champagne place.

The bride wore a gown of silk satin designed with a scooped neckline and fitted bodice trimmed with delicate beading. Ivory velvet floral sprays accented the bouffant skirt. A Juliet cap of imported wax orange blossoms caught her illusion veil.

Mrs. Samuel Solomon, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Bette-Ann Bergeron, of Wellesley, Mass.; Beverly Bowlers, of South Bend, Ind.; Kendall Kleis and Audrey Polazzo, of Ann Arbor.

They wore gold brocade frocks styled with domed skirts and matching pillboxes.

Jeffrey Smith was his brother's best man and the ushers were Mr. Samuel Solomon, William J. Fohey, of Flint; Bruce Galbraith, of Ann Arbor; William Patrick, of Traverse City, and Jay Wetzel.

After a reception at the bride's home the couple left on a trip through the East and the Pocono Mountains. They will live in St. Clair avenue.

Mrs. John Carrittec addressed the Homemakers Club, meeting at 12:30 o'clock in the Central Branch YWCA on Wednesday, October 24. Mrs. Carrittec's topic was "Gardens of the Bible." Leila Diehl served as chairman of the affair.

Diane Louise Borland, daughter of Mrs. Edward W. Rateick, of Shoreham road, and Walter J. Borland, of Flint, was married Saturday in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church to David Thomas Beattie.

The bride wore a gown of silk backed satin designed with a scooped neckline and lace-embroidered Alencon lace appliques set with seed pearls on the bodice and belled skirt.

A crown of lace and veiled pearls caught her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried baby white roses, ivy and heather. Mrs. John R. Martin, Jr., the bride's former roommate at Ferris Institute, was matron of honor. Mrs. Stephen Levis and Marnie McNamara were bridesmaids. They wore belled gowns of chiffon over organza, the honor attendant in antique gold and the bridesmaids in avocado green. Their bouquets were of baby yellow roses, tawny mums and ivy.

Roger Giacobbi of Lincoln Park was best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of the John Thomas Beatties, of Lincoln Park. Ushering were David Borland, the bride's brother, and Stephen Bodnar, of Lincoln Park.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rateick wore a pale beige silk sheath with sapphire blue accessories. Mrs. Beattie was in dusty pink brocade with moss green accessories. The newly-weds will live in Lincoln Park after a short trip.

Mrs. David T. Beattie

In Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church Saturday, DIANE LOUISE BORLAND, daughter of Mrs. Edward W. Rateick, of Shoreham road, and Walter J. Borland, of Flint was married to Mr. Beattie, son of the John Thomas Beatties, of Lincoln Park.

Mrs. Daniel E. Grabruck

In St. Ambrose Church Saturday Kathleen Marie Conlon, daughter of the Patrick Henry Conlons, of Lakepointe avenue, was married to Mr. Grabruck, son of the Arthur Charles Grabrucks, of Chandler Park drive.

Grabrucks Travel East after Wedding

Trip to Vermont Follows Ceremony Saturday in St. Ambrose Church; Bride Is Kathleen Marie Conlon, Daughter of the Patrick H. Conlons, of Lakepointe Avenue

A trip to Vermont followed the Saturday wedding of Kathleen Marie Conlon and Daniel Erwin Grabruck in St. Ambrose Church. The couple will make their home in Alter road.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Conlon, of Lakepointe avenue, and her husband's parents are the Arthur Charles Grabrucks, of Chandler Park drive.

The bride wore a classically styled gown of cameo ivory floral brocade designed with a crescent curved neckline, an empire waistline and bouffant skirt which fell into a wide court train.

A court cap of brocade with satin rosebuds and seed pearls caught her illusion veil and she carried stephanotis and glamelias.

Maid of honor Cheryl Grabruck and bridesmaid Judy Hebda wore melon chiffon gowns and carried pale green cymbidium orchids and variegated leaves.

R. Thomas Scherer was best man and the ushers were William Grabruck, Thomas Grabruck and George Hribljan.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Conlon chose a moss green peau de soie and lace gown. Mrs. Grabruck wore Dior blue chiffon and lace. Both mothers wore roses.

Happy Hunting Dance Planned

Jack Rosevear's society combo which proved such a smash hit at the Center Club dance in October will again play for a Grosse Pointe Single Set Affair at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore Road, the evening of Friday, November 2, from 9 to 12 o'clock.

All single Grosse Pointers in their twenties and thirties are cordially invited. Each has the privilege of bringing a guest though dates are not necessary.

The party is being called the "Happy Hunting Hop" with open season being declared for both young men and young women. Jack Rosevear promises to come up with a number of novelty ideas to keep the party swinging. Don't be surprised if he appears at the Steinway with a pair of antlers and if his crew is in pink jackets and hunting horns.

A new set of Center Club officers and committee people will take over at this affair to greet the guests and inform them of future activities which include a Christmas gala and lots of outside activities. Anyone wishing to join the committee and get in on the inside track is encouraged to call the Center, TU 1-7511.

Northeastern Women To Have Card Party

Northeastern Woman's Club will have a luncheon and card party at noon on October 29 in the parlors of St. Philip and St. Stephen Church.

Questers Tour Toledo Museum

On September 14, members of the Grosse Pointe Chapter of Questers started off their second year by taking a trip to the Toledo Museum of Art. A bus was chartered and members invited their friends to accompany them and enjoy the conducted tour through the museum. Of particular interest, was the fabulous collection of old glass.

This year the Questers had a challenging project to help furnish the lobby of the Martha Washington Bldg. of the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

Branches were not asked to furnish it with museum pieces, but with practical, well made reproductions of the 1777-1778 period.

The Grosse Pointe Chapter, along with ten other chapters in Michigan, held an Antique and Auction Sale in May to provide funds for this purpose.

With the profits, a reproduction of a hutch cabinet in the Henry Ford Museum at Dearborn was purchased and is now at Valley Forge.

Smorgasbord

The Guild of Immanuel Lutheran Church is sponsoring a smorgasbord this Friday, October 26, at 5:30 o'clock, in the Parish Center, Chandler Park drive and Dickerson. Donation is $3.

Soroptimists Hold Sessions

One hundred and eight business and professional women representing the Soroptimist Clubs of the State of Michigan met in all-day sessions on Saturday, October 20, at Executive Inn, Warren, Mich., to consider the theme "The 4th Dimension in Leadership."

Presiding at the sessions was Miss Freida E. Gorrecht, District Director. Speakers included Miss Helen Mersman, Governor of Midwestern Region, Soroptimist Federation of the Americas, Inc., and Mrs. Virginia Hooper, Lieutenant Governor of the Region.

Representing the Grosse Pointe Soroptimist Club were Mrs. Florence Lehman, Mrs. Florence Riley, Miss Carolyn Wicks, and Miss Helen Wright.

Parliamentary Law Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Florence E. Pierce presented a lesson on "Duties and Responsibilities of the President, Officers and Recording Secretary and Minutes" at a meeting of the Parliamentary Law Club, recently at the Federation of Women's Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, 4911 Second avenue.

Club officers for 1962-63 are: Mrs. Frank Wirtz, president; Mrs. William F. Sutterfield, first vice president; Mrs. Eldred Beckman, second vice president; Mrs. Richard E. Stephens, recording secretary; Mrs. Noble Burgener, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Ralph G. Maynard, treasurer.

The club met again on October 17 at 10 o'clock at the Federation of Women's Clubs.

The man who allows success to turn his head often faces failure that turns it back.

Bride-Elect

Grosse Pointe Congregational Church will be the setting for the June wedding of DOROTHY DORR LONG and Richard Louis Hill.

Their parents are Mrs. Charles Strauther Long, of North Oxford road, and the late Mr. Long, and Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hill, of South Oxford road.

The bride-elect is a senior at the University of Michigan where she is affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta sorority. Mr. Hill is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Neighborhood House

Members of the Board of the Neighborhood House Settlement will gather at the Park lane home of Mrs. Gilbert Whelden this Friday, October 26, from 3 to 5 o'clock, for a tea honoring Mrs. Dorothy Hall, who is retiring after 27 years of a director of the 107-year-old Settlement.

Church Circles To See Film

The Women's Society of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will meet for luncheon on Tuesday, November 6, at 12:30 o'clock, in the Church social hall. Hostess circles for the day are Naomi and Sussanah Wesley.

The program includes a movie, "The First Year" and devotions will be presented by Mrs. William Horsch.

Alpha Delta Phi Meet Today for Pish Teak

Alpha Delta Phi sorority, East Area Group, will meet on Thursday, October 25 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Donald VanHoek, Lochmoor boulevard, to hear a talk by one of its members, Mrs. C. P. Boyer.

Mrs. Boyer is the fashion coordinator for the American Wool Council and will talk about the coming trends in "Wool Fashions for Fall and Winter."

Mrs. VanHoek will be assisted by Mrs. J. W. Paynter of N. Renaud road. Members are asked to bring guests.

Following the program, there will be a short business meeting to discuss philanthropic work at Pontiac State Hospital in more detail.

DYC Schedules Four Fall Parties

Women Sailors to Have Award Luncheon October 27; Boaters Gala on October 29; Welcome to New Members Oct. 30 and Halloween Celebration

Four parties are upcoming at the Detroit Yacht Club — two "mixed" events, and two for the "distaff" side.

The Sailorettes, "Women's Sailing Group" will celebrate their 1962 sailing season with a "Trophy Award Luncheon" on October 27 in the Starboard Haven at 12:30.

Harry Pratt, chairman of the club Flying Scott committee, and Nelson R. Bell, Jr., DRYA official, will present sailing awards to Mrs. Wray Bailey, Sailorette Chairman, Mrs. Donald Estler, Mrs. Jerome Jordan, Mrs. John Dietiker and Miss Cherie Moore.

Bernard Farnell, Power Boat chairman, is in charge of arrangements for the committee's annual "Haul-Out" party on October 29th. It will be a fun-packed season's end party for all Boaters and their friends starting at 6:30 in the grill with dinner and dancing.

The "Sea Gull's Party Time" event welcoming new members is slated for October 30 at 12 noon. Mrs. Del Chalmers is the party chairman and the program will include special gifts, prizes and surprise entertainment by the popular DYC members, Mrs. Patrick McKenna and Kenneth Gonsulus.

On October 31 the Detroit Yacht Club will stage their "Halloween Party" in the main dining room at 6:30. Edward Dahmer, the entertainment chairman and his committee, are planning to use the traditional background decor of cornstalks, pumpkins and goblin cutouts. There'll be a special harvest time dinner and dancing to the music of Clark Williams and his orchestra. Highlight of the evening will be the awarding of prizes for the best costumes.

Among those with table reservations are vice Commodore and Mrs. Carl Schwellhart, Rear-Commodore and Mrs. John Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Joswick, Commodore and Mrs. Charles S. Tompkins, Commodore and Mrs. Alfred F. Steiner and the Curt Kremlicks, John W. Maney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dameron, and the Donald Burgesses.

Mr. Morrison To Claim Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Iselin, Jr., of New York, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sarah Cary, to James Madison Morrison, son of the James G. Morrisons, of New York, formerly of Grosse Pointe.

The bride-elect is an alumna of the Brearley School and a member of the Junior Assemblies. She made her debut in 1959. She is now a senior at Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass.

Her fiancé is an alumnus of Choate School and Yale University. He received his master's degree from Harvard where he is now doing graduate work.

Bayne-Skinner Troth Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Dessa Mason Skinner, Jr. of Princeton, N.J. and Bar Harbor, Me., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Lee Cromwell Skinner to James Elwood Bayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. John David Bayne of University place.

Miss Skinner attended Miss Fine's School in Princeton, and was graduated from St. Timothy's School, Stevenson, Md., and Briarcliff College. She made her debut at a dinner dance given by her parents in Princeton and was presented at the Bachelors Cotillon in Baltimore in 1960. She attended the Junior League and Grosvenor Balls in New York.

Mr. Bayne was graduated from Yale in the class of 1962 where he was a member of Phi Gamma Delta and the Elizabethan Club.

Admiral Here To Give Award

Rear Admiral Lawson P. Ramage was the luncheon guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hastings Downie and their son, Robert, at the Detroit Yacht Club on Saturday.

Other guests included Lt. James M. Van Metre, Dr. Elizabeth M. Downie, Mr. Robert Downie III, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Grikscheit, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Richmond and Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Wedge.

The Admiral was here to dedicate the Tambor Periscope, at the Dossin Great Lakes Museum. That evening he presented the Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz Trophy to the U.S. Naval Reserve, Submarine Division 9-228 at a ceremony in Brodhead Naval Armory.

Admiral Ramage is Deputy Commander Submarine Force, U.S. Atlantic Fleet with headquarters at New London, Connecticut.

Church Hails Harvest with Dinner

The gathering of the sheaves and all the old fashioned feeling of the harvest season will be celebrated at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church on November 9. MRS. ARTHUR L. WITHERELL, left, MRS.

Soupy Sales Premier

The Detroit Premier of Soupy Sales picture, "Two Little Bears" will be shown next Thursday, November 1 at 12:30 o'clock at the Esquire Theater.

Soupy, who used to delight tots on a local television station, and at one time made his home in the Pointe, has now achieved Hollywood stardom. Appearing with him in the film will be Eddie Albert, Jane Wyatt and Brenda Lee. The premier will benefit the PIME Mission Guild for the benefit of orphans and lepers cared for by the PIME missionaries.

Chairman of the benefit is Mrs. Chilton Drysdale, TU 1-3289, assisted by Mrs. Dominic Pucci, TU 1-1327, who may be called for the tickets.

GP Newcomers Have Dinner

Members and guests of the Grosse Pointe Newcomers' Alumni Club enjoyed a Grape Harvest Dinner Dance last Saturday, October 20, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

Tables were decorated with candle-dipped wine bottles and bunches of grapes for this first Newcomers Alumni Party of the current season, and dancing continued until the early hours of Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Ramsdell, of Meadow lane, served as chairmen of the affair. Their assistants were the Bewley Priestmans, the Harold Schallie, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Barton, Jane Miller, John Coombes, the Leo Cowlings, the Ted Gundlachs and the Michael Lakeys.

The club will meet Saturday, December 1, at the Whittier, for a dinner-bridge.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Aderholt, of Buckingham road, announce the engagement of their daughter, JILL, to David E. Whitmer, son of the Allen Whitmers of Hopkinsville, Ky., and Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

The prospective bridegroom attended the University of Kentucky and is now with the armed services. A December 29 wedding is planned.

Noted Designer At Town Hall

Bill Blass, head designer for Maurice Rentner, Ltd., will show his fall and resort collection at Detroit Town Hall Wednesday, October 31 in Fisher Theater.

The show, co-sponsored by Milgrim's, will be followed by a celebrity luncheon at the Rathskeller Restaurant.

Bill Blass has won the Coty Award, fashion's highest prize. He is responsible for bringing in ruffles, but primarily his talents run to simple classic styles, subtleties in color, interesting use of fabrics.

Blass' first major job was as a sketcher for the firm of Anna Miller. In 1958, when Anna Miller joined with Maurice Rentner, Blass became chief designer and vice-president of the firm.

Unreserved balcony seats will be available at the box office the morning of the program.

Kappa Deltas Observe Founders Day Oct. 22

Kappa Delta alumnae chapters gathered for a Founders' Day Tea at Wayne State University Alumni House to celebrate its 65th Anniversary on Monday October 22 at 8 o'clock.

Kappa Delta was founded October 23, 1897 at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia and now has 102 college chapters and 322 chartered alumnae associations.

The sorority national philanthropy is aid to crippled children. Kappa Delta gives $10,000 annually toward the support of six beds at the Crippled Childrens Hospital in Richmond, Virginia. In addition to this aid, the sorority makes contributions for special projects or equipment for the hospital.

Those planning to attend the tea from this area were: Mrs. Marvin Atkins, Mrs. E.R. Bunn, Mrs. R. C. Callaway, Mrs. E. Carley, Mrs. Stanley Kushman, Mrs. Fred Lewis, Mrs. J. O. Ortwine, Mrs. Daniel Rankin, and Mrs. B. M. Underwood.

Mr. Carter also described his findings as a backyard geologist when he drilled for and reached water. The audience was much interested in the strange and improbable gear that confronted them on the stage. James Jennings of the 11th grade introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Mary P. Grasse, new dramatics instructor at G. P. U. S., has announced that "My Sister Ellen" has been selected as the choice for the Upper School's Winter Show on January 25-26. Casting for the popular three-act comedy will take place in late October. Glee Club activities are lively these days, with a performance to be given in December. Club officers recently elected are Meg Hill, president; Jim Jennings, librarian; and Bonnie Brown, secretary.

Along with the traditional big glossy issues of "The Periscope," the school newspaper which will appear at the end of the fall, winter, and spring terms in 1962-63, there will also be mimeographed "Periscopes" put out at approximately two-week intervals by the members of the various English classes, with the teachers of those classes as advisers. The first such "Periscope" appeared this past Monday under the banner of the tenth grade English classes, with Mr. Conley and Mr. Roberts as faculty sponsors. The students put together a 10-page issue, which included articles of news and opinion, a poll of students on the gubernatorial election (Romney 256—Swainson 19), sports reports, and illustrations. Tenth graders who gave much of their own free time on Saturday and Sunday were Judy Peslar, Georgia Shreve, Dave Hadden, Cleve Thurber, Lance Adams, Anne Buttrick, Sally Ann Duff, Warren Finke, Marna Lynch, Toni Slotkin, Chuck Meyer, and Bill Swan. Miss Ethel Osborne, chairman of the Science Department, announces that as a result of the First Annual Alumni Dinner Dance the Science Department now has a stereomicroscope for the viewing of opaque objects. ## Award Dinner Set for Dec. 1

More than 50 business and civic leaders in the metropolitan area have already signified acceptance of membership on the committee planning the annual "Knights of Charity" Award Dinner to be held at Cobo Hall on December 1.

According to J. M. Roche of General Motors, last year's dinner chairman, now chairman of the Board of Trustees of Maryglade College in Memphis, Mich., which the dinner will benefit, it is expected that the number will be more than doubled by Tuesday, September 25, when the first planning session is held at a luncheon at the Stalter-Hilton Hotel.

Among those serving on the committee of Dinner Chairman Kenneth D. Cassidy, vice president of the Ford Motor Company, are: Benson Ford and Al Borman, both 1961 award recipients, Henry T. Bodman, Claude A. Greiner, John S. Bugas, Frank Colker, Bert Creemers, Ernest Gargaro, Lee Hills, Judge Edward S. Piggins, Ross Roy, B. J. VerHoven, George Simon, Nate Shapiro, Louis G. Seaton.

The inter-faith dinner which provides scholarships and supports the development fund of Maryglade serves as the formal setting for the presentation of the "Knight of Charity" Award by the Trustees and the Founders Society of the college.

Three prominent Michigan citizens who have been cited for deeds and example reflecting a wholesome family life and personal charitable work will be award recipients. They are: the Hon. Alvin M. Bentley, former 8th District congressman from Owosso and Republican candidate for congressman-at-large, a Protestant; Anthony De Lorenzo of Bloomfield Hills, a General Motors vice president, a Catholic; John E. Lurie of Southfield, founder and former president of Wrigley Super Markets, of Jewish faith.

Hallowe'en Holds Hazards For Happy Young Hoodoos

Pediatricians at The University of Michigan Medical Center have issued their annual warning to parents of inexperienced ghouls, goblins, and hoodoos to help them through the uncanny hazards of Hallowe'en.

Low-flying witches or ground galloping ghosts should positively not carry sharp or pointed instruments, caution the University doctors, or they may wind up haunting a hospital.

Demons of all types need plenty of visibility. Use burnt cork or cosmetics in use luminous tape on costumes. This heightens the eeriness of the costume, and helps ward off such dangers as automobiles.

Carry a flashlight if desired, but nothing with open flame such as candles or oil lanterns. Each Hallowe'en, say the U-M doctors, hospitals repair a number of wizards who become careless with fire.

And they add, science still has no sure cure for "Poutergeist Dyspepsia." This ghoulish stomach ache is usually caused by too many trick-or-treat goodies. Moderation helps. But if it persists, it's best to hop on your broom and go see your family doctor.

The U-M specialists also urge homeowners to keep porch lights on for the guidance of amateur and inexperienced spooks. They say despite a legendary ability to walk through walls, these hoodoos have a knack for tripping over bushes, steps and lawn furniture and skinning their ectoplasm.

Parents can take other measures to come through Hallowe'en with a whole hoodoo: Warn youngsters repeatedly against going into the street; make sure spooks under age eight have an older wizard to guide them.

Christmas Mail Deadlines Near

In anticipation of the increased mailing of parcel post packages to foreign countries during the coming Christmas season, Postmaster Edward L. Baker points out mailing deadline dates which prospective mailers should adhere to for reasonable expectation of delivery before Christmas via surface transportation.

Africa - Near East - Far East - November 1.

Central and South America - Europe - November 10.

Overseas Military Post Offices - November 20.

"Because of the long sea transit time involved, customs inspection, and other formalities to which parcels may be subjected in the countries of destination, it is recommended," says Mr. Baker, "that mailings be made as early as practicable to assure delivery by Christmas Day."

Inquire at your local post office for necessary postal customs forms, weight, size, and mailing restrictions.

An assuring message about immortality will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in a Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Probation After Death."

Opening the Responsive Reading will be these verses from the Bible (John 14): "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also."

One of the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 487): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."

Present at the flag presentation ceremony were Detroit's Mayor, Jerome P. Cavanagh, and many top automotive executives, including Ford Motor Co.'s board chairman, Henry Ford II; American Motors Corp. president, Roy Abernethy; White Motor Co. president, J. N. Bauman; Studebaker Corp. director, Harold E. Churchill; General Motors Corp. president, John F. Gordon; and Chrysler Corp. president, Lynn A. Townsend.

Sunday, October 21
INDIA'S DEFENSE MINISTER, V. K. Krishna Menon, announced yesterday that "human waves" of Chinese Communists have crashed through the Sino-Indian border, rolling three or four miles south into India itself. The Reds attacked at both ends of the disputed border, in the Ladakh area north of Kashmir and, simultaneously, 900 miles east, at a point near the juncture of India, Bhutan and Tibet. The Ladakh battlefield, on the border of China's Inkiang province, is 16,000 feet up in the Himalayas; the other battlefield is 12,000 feet up, and snow has been falling there for three days. According to an Indian Defense Department spokesman, "more than one Chinese Division" stormed the northeast border, and Menon placed the number of Red attackers in the thousands.

Tuesday, October 23
PRESIDENT KENNEDY ordered Cuba placed under "quarantine" yesterday. The Chief Executive, speaking directly to the people of America via radio and TV, announced that he has clamped a naval blockade around Castro's island. United States ships have been instructed to turn back all vessels bound for Cuba with cargoes of offensive weapons, but to allow ships carrying the "necessities of life" safe passage. Planes, too, will be affected by the "quarantine."

Kennedy, stating recent information that Russia was building offensive missile sites on the island had forced him to this momentous blockade decision, warned Russia that the United States would consider a Cuban-launched nuclear missile attack on any nation in the Western Hemisphere as an attack on the US itself, by the USSR. "Should these offensive military preparations continue," Kennedy added, "thus increasing the threat to the Hemisphere, further action will be justified. I have directed the armed forces to prepare for any eventualities; and I trust that, in the interest of both the Cuban people and the Soviet technicians at these sites, the hazards to all concerned of continuing this threat will be recognized."

The President also warned Russia that any aggressive reaction to his speech, anywhere else in the world, "will be met with determination." "Any hostile move anywhere in the world against the safety and freedom of peoples to whom we are committed - including in particular the brave people of West Berlin - will be met by whatever action is needed," Kennedy said. He called upon Premier Nikita Khrushchev to halt "this clandestine, reckless and provocative threat" to world peace, and to move back from "the abyss of destruction" while there is still time.

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON indicate that President Kennedy is about to make some major decision on Cuba. The nation's Capital is alive with rumors, there is an air of crisis at Administration headquarters, and the President has been closeted with high-placed officials over the weekend.

Two Wing Addition Suggested for Institute

The Detroit Arts Commission today detailed the long-awaited expansion program for the overcrowded Detroit Institute of Arts.

In a hearing before the Mayor's Capital Improvement Committee, plans were unfolded for a $7.6 million building program which would add two wings to the stately building at 5200 Woodward Avenue and provide badly needed space for exhibition of many fine paintings and statuary which necessarily now are in storage.

The Commission's proposal stressed that the Detroit Institute is the only major museum which has not expanded since World War II, and that the city is failing to adequately provide for the cultural interests of present and future generations because of the severe space limitations.

Plans for the expansion, which would add 190,000 square feet to the 35-year old building, were detailed by James S. Whitcomb, chairman of the Commission's Finance Committee, Lawrence A. Fleischman, president of the Commission, Willis F. Woods, new Director of the Institute of Arts, and Edward E. Rothman, a vice president of the Founders Society of the Institute.

The Founders Society, a private organization of 4500 members, provides for acquisition of works of art for the Institute, and financially assists many of the Institute's art appreciation programs.

Major points emphasized in the presentation were: 1. Less than 25% of the more than 1600 paintings in the Institute's collection can be exhibited because of space limitations; and only 15% of the Institute's more than 3,450 pieces of sculpture and decorative and related objects can be shown the public at any one time.

2. While no additional space has been provided since the opening of the building in 1927, average yearly attendance has increased from 250,000 in the years following the opening, to 520,000 during the last 10 years.

3. Nearly 100,000 persons attended art appreciation lectures, meetings, concerts and workshops in 1961, compared to less than 20,000 a quarter of a century ago.

4. Completion of the already approved underground parking garage at the Institute, and the recent establishment of new hours to make it possible for more school groups to visit the Institute during the classroom day, materially will increase attendance in the future.

5. Lack of space for public display could result in Detroit losing some or all of the many world-famous and invaluable private collections which tentatively have been suggested as future gifts to the city.

As an illustration of the understandable reluctance of donors to give their collections to institutions which lack space for exhibition, it was pointed out that the tremendous collection of Chinese and Japanese art owned by the late Detroit industrialist Charles L. Freer first was offered to the Detroit museum. When it was learned that most of the collection of 2,250 rare Oriental art objects would have to remain in storage, Mr. Freer gave his invaluable acquisitions to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

While present book value of the Detroit collection is between $12 million and $15 million, it confidently is estimated that the addition of private collections tentatively promised—provided exhibition space is available—could provide Detroit with an art collection valued at upwards of $100 million. Book value is figured on the value of an acquisition at the time of acquisition—the current market value of the Institute's collection is virtually impossible to estimate.

It also was pointed out that the expansion would allow removal of present ground floor administrative offices to a portion of one new wing. This space then would be converted to Galleries, providing for easier movement through the exhibition halls by the public, and allowing better organization of the last two years. As a result, expansion program proponents said, the project now is ready for immediate development of architectural plans and the start of construction. Completion of the two wings could be expected as early as 18 months after the ground-breaking.

Preliminary studies and plans, financed by the Founders Society, have been underway for Herbert R. Schott, 29, of 30101 Greater Mack, St. Clair Shores, found on Wednesday, October 17, that Shores police do not forget a traffic violation, no matter how old it is.

Schott was driving on Lake Shore road when he was stopped by Patrolman Harold Hamilton, who told the motorist that it was against the law to drive with only one headlight and one tail light.

The officer asked the man for his operator's license and when Schott would not produce it, Hamilton took him to the station, where Schott was issued a ticket for driving with an expired license.

A check of the old violation files showed that Schott was wanted by Shores authorities on a traffic warrant dating back to May 26, 1958.

Slipped Disc Slipping as Medical Term

You don't get "lumbago" these days the way you used to, says an orthopedist at The University of Michigan Medical Center. But that's because it is customarily called "a slipped disc."

The custom however may be changing.

Dr. Robert W. Bailey says doctors are "adopting a more conservative approach to the diagnosis and treatment of back pain. We refuse to jump to the conclusion that because you have back pain, you must have a slipped disc."

The chief sufferers from back pain, he says, are people who are too fat, too soft or too emotionally tense.

The potential victim, Dr. Bailey says, is the person who normally does little physical work, but goes on sudden spurges of activity: He might be a week-end gardener, or the man who whips off 36 holes of golf after months away from the sport.

"You seldom see a farmer or an active athlete with back pain because they keep physically conditioned. They get an adequate amount of day-to-day exercise," says the Michigan specialist.

"Likewise in heavy industrial jobs medical screening and supervision of employees, plus automatic hoists which handle former back-breaking tasks have combined to decrease the incidence of this disorder."

Since 1934—the year "lumbago" gave way to the "slipped disc" in medical thinking—thousands of surgical operations have been performed throughout the nation to repair or remove these discs which are the elastic "shock-absorbers" between the vertebrae.

When a disc "slips," it may press against the nerve root in the spine. The pressure then sets up an agonizing sensation across the loin and leg. In theory continued pressure on the nerve ought to paralyze the foot if left untreated.

Recently, however, doctors began wondering what happened in the years before 1934 when such operations were not performed.

It is thought that such paralysis must have been quite rare. More likely, the pain simply went away after awhile. Why, no one knows.

Doctors do know discs wear out with age. They lose their elasticity, and sudden spurts of physical activity by persons who are overweight and under-muscled can trigger the painful spasms.

The growing tendency among doctors is to use the most conservative treatment first: often nothing more than a period of traction during which the disc can fall back into its normal position, and relieve the pain. During this time healing of the disc may occur.

Retirees Class
Offered Oct. 25

Planning for a retirement career is an important phase of each individual's life, and experts have suggested that the age of 50 is not too soon to begin formulating your own personal blueprint for the future.

The Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System is happy to present "Preparation for Retirement," a 10-week seminar, which will begin on Thursday, October 25, at 7:30 in the evening.

Seminar Leader will be Wilbur E. Landis, Administrator, Pre-Retirement Counseling, of Chrysler Corporation. Mr. Landis is a veteran of 34 years' experience in the personnel field, and for the past two years has been conducting retirement counseling programs for key management and technical personnel at the Chrysler Corporation.

This week thousands of people will visit Cobo Hall to view the 1963 engineering marvels of the auto industry. Incredible as it may seem to car-conscious Detroiters 60 years ago Henry Ford had the utmost difficulty raising money to back his experimental car although the principle parts for his 1903 model cost but $368.

Coal dealer Alex Malcomson had such faith in Ford's car he undertook to raise the money necessary to finance the marketing of the car. One of the tycoons he approached was Harry M. Jewett, ancestor of the present day family, and later president of Paige Motors.

Jewett had originally owned a coal business which Malcomson bought. The new owner hoped that some of the purchase price would enable Jewett to invest in the Ford car but Jewett declined insisting it "was too much of a gamble."

Malcomson then turned to his elderly uncle, John S. Gray, a canny Scotsman who was president of the German-American Bank. Gray agreed to advance $10,500 on the condition that he be allowed 105 shares in the new company, that he be made its president, and that if he was unhappy with his investment within a year Malcomson would repay him.

His nephew was forced to comply with these conditions for he himself was in financial difficulties due to an over-extension in buying up so many coal companies.

C. H. Bennett stated in his story of the automobile that the reason Gray was made president instead of Ford was because of his banking facilities. But Mr. Gray must have also wanted to help his nephew. All accounts agree that he was a man of high character and an attractive personality. He had made his first fortune as a large scale candy manufacturer.

Gray was one of the original investors with the Dodges, Malcomson, John W. Anderson, James Couzens and Horace Rackham, who realized millions on their first thousands.

Ten years later, in 1913, the Ford car was a huge success and the designer and owner wished to gather all the stock into his own hands. John Gray had died but his heirs sold their shares for $26,250,000. They were not enthusiastic about the sale. David Gray, one of John's sons, said "What was the alternative?" The company was practically a one-man arrangement and no-one knew what that man would do.

John Gray's three sons, Paul, David and Philip, and his daughter, Alice, (Mrs. William R. Kales) inherited the vast estate.

Most of the Grays have moved from Detroit. One of Philip's sons, Harold, has a co-operative farm near Saline, Mich., but David's son lives in California. Paul Gray married Frances Noble and the couple lived for many years on Seminole avenue in the Indian Village. They were the parents of three daughters, Frances, Elizabeth and Ann. After Paul Gray's death his widow moved to the former Woodhouse home in Voltaire place, now owned by the Gilbert Pingrees.

Elizabeth Gray married Nelson B. Sackett and moved to New York. Ann Gray became the wife of Joseph S. Sherer, Jr., and lives today in Ridge road. Her sister, Frances, is the wife of Dr. Charles Merkel and lives in East Jefferson avenue.

A tip to neat if not skilled golfers. Mrs. Richard Kimbrough carries a child's small plastic rake in her golf cart for the all too numerous times when her ball lands in a sand trap and she has to repair the damage after chipping out.

Mysterious buzzing noises attracted the police to the foot of Stratford place off Jefferson one twilight last week. There the officers discovered Charlie Mabarak, 18, of Three Mile drive, experimenting with his home mine detector, a complicated mechanism with ear phones. Charlie told the officers he had already detected the abandoned army camp site by the lake, found a variety of interesting iron. The detector really works as the policeman discovered when they in turn manned the machine and buzzed about Stratford place.

Lilacs are in bloom this October in the Colonial court garden of Mrs. Lloyd Eckhardt. A small cluster of blossoms purpled in the sun on a branch lying against the window where the sun reflects.

Mrs. Laird Williamson is trying valiantly to fulfill her duties as equipment chairman for Christ Church Co-operative Nursery. She is searching for a huge roll of newspaper, which the tots can unroll and tear off for their finger painting masterpieces.

Sixth grader Robert Meola, son of the Raymond Meolas, of McMillan road, is the author of a real science fiction essay. In his prediction of the world to come he chooses 1993 as the date when a thundering noise will be heard all over the world for three hours. This will change the face of the earth and one of the changes he records with a touching hopefulness is "The male population will become super intelligent and the female will become sub normal and perform as an automaton to the commands of the male." A dream world for this Richard student which is quite revealing.

The heather which formed the bridal bouquet of Diane Louise Borland who was married Saturday in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church to David T. Beattie came directly from Scotland. The flowers were brought by the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Jean Ross, who flew from the Highlands for the ceremony.

Ten-year-old Johnny Warren was right in the spirit of the Garden Center House Tours last week-end. Guests who arrived to view his mother's Edgemere road home were greeted by young John, who had removed the "ess" from the hostess placard and as host proudly showed patrons his home. Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., decided he would not play the lord of the manor role, and tourists descending from the imposing English mansion who glimpsed a gardener in the rear of the long garden, replanting bushes, never knew that this was their host escaping from the four hour parade of ticket holders viewing his estate.

MRS. NELSON HOLLAND, of Cambridge Road
By Patricia Talbot

Mrs. Nelson Holland's interest in Planned Parenthood dates from the League's early beginnings in Detroit when she volunteered in the first clinic in Harper Hospital over 25 years ago.

This week she is winding up the last minute details connected with Planned Parenthood's annual Christmas Mart November 7 and 8 at the Veterans Memorial Building. Eighteen of the country's most elegant shops will sell their wares those two days to aid the League in raising funds to support the eight clinics throughout the city and educational work.

Mrs. Holland has facts and figures at her fingertips to prove the need of Planned Parenthood. She reminds us that 97.21 persons per minute are being added to the world's population and that here in Detroit more than 90 percent of the children born to welfare cases will themselves be welfare cases before their lives are over.

"Foster homes are a big business in Detroit," insists Mrs. Holland who is impressed by the tragic and so often unnecessary stories of patients who arrive at the League's clinics.

Big Volunteer List
Although Planned Parenthood is her chief interest (this is the second year she has headed the successful Mart), Mrs. Holland is a veteran of community service. She is a dedicated worker for Christ Church, head of the Altar Guild, treasurer of the Carte Blanche booth at the upcoming fair, vice president of the board of trustees of Cottage Hospital, assistant recording secretary of the Garden Club of Michigan.

United Foundation and Red Cross have both received Mrs. Holland's support since she came here as a bride from Troy, O. She has worked in bloodmobile units and as a hospital volunteer. Mrs. Holland was educated at Miss Madeira's School and Smith College. Both her sisters married Pointe men, Hugh Chalmers and Hal Smith, Jr., and her ties here are strong.

Mrs. Holland has three children, Mrs. Willard H. Hagemeyer, Jr., who with her husband and two children has just returned to the Pointe from two years in Spain; Henry, a student at the University of Michigan and Nick, who works in Wixom, Mich.

Baby Sits For Setter
Keeping Mrs. Holland company while her sons are away is Nick's dog, an eight month old English setter, Simba, another in a long succession of dogs which the Hollands have always had in the English home they have lived in since Pearl Harbor, in Cambridge road. This winter she has also welcomed her nephew, Hudson Holland, who is working in Detroit.

Every summer the family spends a great deal of time at their cottage at Higgins Lakes. "I have been going there all my life," Mrs. Holland renises.

Since this is her second year as Planned Parenthood Mart chairman she is well organized and except for long hours on the telephone does not find the responsible job too taxing. Mrs. John Warren has secured 200 volunteers as sales girls for the two days of the Fair. Mrs. Holland insists the Mart is not as difficult to run as the Christ Church Fair which she headed six years ago.

Absentee Ballot

On Tuesday, election day, before the Mart, Mrs. Holland and her crew of workers will report to the Veterans Memorial Building at 7 in the morning to set up the booths for the merchants who will arrive by noon. "Most of us have already voted by absentee ballot as we will be there all day," she reported.

On the two days of the Mart the workers will all wear striped aprons made for the volunteers by Mrs. William C. Tost, who with Mrs. John Kenower and Mrs. Theodore R. Buttrick, Mrs. Holland insists are the moving spirits of Planned Parenthood.

Money raised by the Mart, the spring white elephant sale and direct appeal is not wasted in fringe efforts by the League. The League maintains a small office and staff in the Central YWCA and almost every dollar goes directly to the clinics. This year Mrs. Holland hopes the Mart will net $10,000 which will assist the clinics to give family planning to the 8500 mothers expected to ask for aid this year.

Scout Leaders Get Top Awards

Last Saturday evening at the Lakeshore District Boy Scouts of America Annual Meeting, two Grosse Pointe residents, Jack S. Beever, 1580 Fairholme drive and Rene R. Linden, 761 Fisher road, were signally recognized by being awarded adult scouting's highest award, the Silver Beaver.

To quote S. J. "Bud" Rozema who made the presentation, "A Silver Beaver Award is an award that seeks the man—the man cannot seek the award."

Mr. Beever, Scoutmaster of Richard School Troop 74, has been active in Scouting since boyhood. This devoted Scouter has a long and notable service as a troop committee man and assistant Scoutmaster and in his present position as Scoutmaster. In addition to the Silver Beaver, he is the holder of the Scouter's Key and many other Scouting awards of distinction.

Although having no children of his own, he has indeed been a friend of the youth in the community he has served. His keen insight into the problems of the boys who have sought his counsel and advice has enabled him to assist them to become better citizens in their community. During the 1962 Jamboree in Colorado he was an Assistant Scoutmaster with Troop J-76 of the Detroit Area Council contingent. In business he is the owner and manager of Beever Painting and Decorating Company and, here too, has been active in developing craftsmen under an apprentice-type system.

Mr. Linden has been active in Scouting over the past years in both the old District Three and the Lakeshore District for the past three years. His decade of service has included Unit and District positions and under his leadership an increase in membership and a revitalized Scouting program. In this area, over 2,000 adult leaders working with Mr. Linden and his team helping the 2,400 Cubs, the 2,100 Scouts and the 350 Explorers in the Scouting program.

The Lakeshore District covers the area from Eight Mile to Wayburn, Mack and Connor, and bounded on the west by Outer Drive, and on the east by Lake St. Clair.

The Detroit Area Council, through its Silver Beaver Committee, proudly recommended and presented the Silver Beaver Award to these deserving Scouters.

Angel food cake
2 packages of vanilla pudding
1 can #2 crushed pineapple
whipped cream
1 egg white
slivered almonds

Break cake in small pieces with fork. Place in either a buttered, shallow two-inch pan or back in an angel food pan. Cook vanilla pudding according to directions on package. Add to pudding the canned, drained pineapple. When slightly cool, pour over cake. Put in refrigerator. Frost with whipped cream to which egg white, beaten, has been added to hold. Slivered almonds may be added to pudding. Serves 15.

Tisdale's Art Exhibit Slated

An exhibit of society executive and family portraits by Grosse Pointe commercial artist Larry Tisdale will go on view in the second floor exhibit rooms of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center beginning Sunday, November 4 and continue through November 18.

They are distinctive graphite vignettes of local and national personalities including heads of astronaut John Glenn, President and Mrs. Kennedy and some of Detroit's leading executives. This work does not pose as fine art originals but they are excellent likenesses sketched from photographs with much style.

Mr. Tisdale received his Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from Yale where he was Art Editor of the Yale Record and the intercollegiate magazine "College Years". He has been the recipient of a Tiffany Foundation Fellowship and the Eliot O'Hara Watercolors Scholarship. He has won many prizes including the Proctor and Gamble national sculpture award, the Beaux Arts Collaboration, silver medal and the Grace Line Poster award.
