HEADLINES
WEEK
As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, March 16
PRESIDENT JOHNSON dismounted on Wednesday that Henry Lodge is stepping down as U.S. Ambassador to Vietnam that "additional top flight military personnel" were being sent to the combat area. Mr. Johnson delivered his nationally televised speech to a joint session of the Tennessee Legislature, and took the occasion to rebuke his Vietnam critics. He announced that Lodge's successor would be roving Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker. No word for the changeover was given.

THE FORMER KEEPER of the account, Michael V. Dodds, testified before the Senate Ethics Committee on Wednesday. He was the most damaging witness to appear in this hearing into the senator's financial affairs. O'Hare treated as a trusted member of the Dodds household and had the senator's checkbook and all financial papers as well as some of his personal needs.

Friday, March 17
THE SENATE APPROVED a Soviet-American consular treaty Thursday by a three-vote margin. President Johnson signed the vote and expressed his hope that Russia would quickly ratify the pact. It was the first treaty between the two superpowers since the Senate approved the agreement. The treaty provides for notification of U.S. authorities and access to Americans in the Soviet Union, and the same right for Soviet citizens to America.

THE HOUSE APPROVED on Wednesday a restoration of the 10 percent investment tax credit that would give business a $1 million in tax relief. The measure was passed and sent to the Senate on a roll call vote of 287 to 127. House Democrats, however, cast one of the dissenting votes.

Saturday, March 18
SENATOR THOMAS J. DODD died under oath Friday that he cheated the government on the proceeds of his testimony. He stated that his conscience was clear. In 1964 and 1965, he was publicly questioned by the Senate Ethics Committee. Dodd explained every major hearing which has been levied against him during a week of extensive hearings.

Sunday, March 19
HOUSE DEMOCRATIC leader Joseph J. Kowalski of Michigan died Saturday in Lankenau Hospital. Death occurred at 8:15 p.m. about 50 hours after the 56-year-old former House speaker collapsed while conducting a party in his capitol office. He had regained consciousness after his hospitalization. His wife, three sons and a daughter were with him when he died.

Monday, March 20
UNITED NATIONS DIPLO- macy, including Secretary-General U Thant, are seeking private dialogue between Hanoi and Hanoi on basic ingredients of a settlement, it is believed. They failed in recent days to end or scale down the negotiations and thereafter launch a new round of talks. They are seeking the order of priorities and seeking political settlement first.

Tuesday, March 21
PRESIDENT JOHNSON and his wife, Lady Bird, left Monday in Agaña, Guam, for a council of war leaders ways for an "honorable settlement" of the war. Johnson is expected to be on the military pressure on the military until they sue for peace. Mr. Johnson and his wife opened immediate diplomatic relations with the government. CO-EDITORS OF "THE TOWER", student newspaper at Grosse Pointe High School, were invited by DR. FRANK H. PARCELLS, President of the Board of Education, and J. HAROLD HUSBAND, Acting Superintendent of Schools, to make an impromptu tour of the construction site of Grosse Pointe High School North. The visitors to the site at Morningside drive and Vernier road in Grosse Pointe Woods, shown above near a portion of the academic wing are (left to right) Dr. Parcels, Mr. Husband, and co-editors KAREN ULMER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ulmer, and CAROL RIDDLE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Riddle. Two Youths Stand Mute on Charge of Selling Marijuana

Long Investigation of Wide-Spread Use Of Weed Climaxed By Arrest Of High School Students; Examination Set For April 12

Two Grosse Pointe High School students, charged in warrants with selling marijuana, were arraigned before Farms Municipal Judge William Connolly, Jr., Tuesday night, March 14. The youths stood mute, and were released on $5,000 bond each, until examination, set for April 12.

Accused are Daniel L. Moorman, 19, of 97 Moran road, and George Van, Jr., 18, of 450 Moran road. The selling of marijuana is a felony, for which conviction carries a mandatory 20 years to life in prison.

Farms police were engaged in the investigation of illegal sales and use of marijuana in the Pointe, since before the opening of school last fall, it was revealed by Farms Det. Sgt. George Van Tien and Det. Joseph Miller.

Police officers of the Farms and Woods departments worked continuously for six weeks, tracking down rumors and participating in stake-outs, until finally they had something concrete to work on.

Extends Into Detroit Warrants against Moorman and Van, charging them with illegal sale of drugs, was approved by Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor John Mowatt, who stated that the case spills over into Detroit, where the Detroit Narcotics Bureau is currently conducting a separate investigation. An arrest was expected there last Tuesday, March 14, but it did not materialize, he said.

Van Tien and Miller said that a youth, name withheld, acting for the police, made marijuana purchases in the Pointe and in Detroit. The youth, not a high school student, is a chief witness against Moorman and Van.

The detectives said that they had hoped to make more arrests in the matter, but an apparent leak forced immediate action, which led to the arrest of the accused youths. Early release of the story by news media, also foiled any further investigations or arrests, they added.

Participating in the investigation, and finally in the stake-outs, which lasted six weeks, were Farms Police Chief Jack F. Roh, Van Tien, Miller, and Patrolman Joseph Belanger, who is assigned to the plainclothes detail; and Woods Director of Public Safety Allen Andrews, Det. Lt. Henry Marchand, and Dets. Everett Plumb and Martin Trombley.

Start List of Names The Farms detectives said that prior to last September, rumors began filtering into the station that high school students of Grosse Pointe High and St. Paul High Schools, were smoking marijuana at parties. As the rumors, and only rumors, became more frequent, names were named, and they started a list of alleged users, the officers said.

Van Tien and Miller stressed that at no time were sales made on school grounds or buildings, or the narcotic carried during school hours by any of the students said to be involved. Last October, the first lead (Continued on Page 4)

Help of All Required to Reach Goal

Hope To Raise $75,000 By May 30 To Meet Cost Of Operating And Maintaining Center

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association begins its 1967 Family Participation Campaign this week. In spite of rising costs, the goal remains the same as in the past several years, $75,000.

"This amount," says president Thorton Waterfall, "represents just one-fourth the cost of operating the Center annually. The rest is earned by the Center's investment fund and income from its program."

Fees and charges are purposely kept low by the Memorial Association so that all Pointe residents may participate in its activities which every year continue to multiply. By the same token, every Grosse Pointe family is invited and urged to become a member of the Association and support Grosse Pointe's unique, beautiful and busy Memorial facilities to whatever extent they can. All gifts are greatly appreciated. None are too small. All are income tax deductible.

Appeals Mailed Out Every Grosse Pointe family received in the mail this week the Center's solicitation appeal and small brochure highlighting what the Center does for the community. Harry Mellen, who is chairman of this year's drive, hopes everyone will make use of the enclosed postage-free return envelopes to send in their gifts at Easter time. The date to reach the goal is Memorial Day but the May date is just to allow time for those who are out of town to get their donations in.

Many Pointers so earnestly believe in the program and facilities of the Center that they have added personal handwritten messages to the solicitation letters.

Gift of Alger Family The beautiful lake shore property and handsome mansion were given to the Grosse Pointe communities by the Russell Alger family. William H. Fries, a close neighbor, left a fund to build the beautiful auditorium with its theater and glass walled banquet hall overlooking the lake. These gifts represent millions of dollars donated to Grosse Pointe.

A Board of Directors made up of dedicated citizens volunteers: the time and effort to keep the Center open day and night to offer something to everyone in the community regardless of age or interests. All they ask is a modest sharing by citizens of one-quarter the cost of annual maintenance and operation. They are confident that it will be forthcoming, just as it has for the past 18 years.

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial is a living active tribute to the men from The Pointe who fought and died in World War II, Korea and Vietnam to maintain our way of life. The Center takes not one cent of tax money and does not draw upon the funds of the United Foundation.

School Play Area Subject For Debate

Residents' Claim Liggett Failed To Keep Promise Aired at Council Meeting

The Grosse Pointe Woods Council met on Monday, March 20, with a near capacity audience in attendance. The matters that were most widely discussed were Liggett School, a Public Hearing for Angelo Morri, a letter concerning the Board of Education, and the new ordinance regarding Cosmetologists.

The Liggett situation was by way of a discussion between Councilman William F. Heutte and the Shore-Woods Home Owners Association, which is composed of residents of the Woods, living in that area of the city bounded on the west by River road, on the north by the St. Clair Shores boundary between River road and Grosse Pointe Shores boundaries, on the east by Grosse Pointe Shores and on the south by Blairmoor avenue.

The association wished to review the alleged promises made by the Liggett School attorney at Council meetings held on August 5 and 19, 1963, concerning the use, (after school and on weekends), of the Liggett School playground by the neighborhood youngsters as a concession to the objections made by the association at that time to (Continued on Page 3)

Program Provided Children Of Inner City Returns Big Dividends in Learning, Love

Sacred Heart Convent's Enrichment School So Successful It Will Be Repeated This Summer; Volunteers Welcomed

By Betty Stephens
"Do you mind very much if I call you Auntie Burke? I love you very much," read a letter recently received by Mrs. William Scott Burke, a teacher in the Sacred Heart Enrichment Program, from an inner city child.

Although Sue Burke worked only a short time at last summer's program devised by the Reverend Mother Helen Healy and her assistant Mother Annette Zippel, and carried out in the convent's beautiful grounds during July, Sue formed a meaningful, continuing relationship with 11-year-old Regina Todd, who lives in the inner city.

Regina started corresponding with her "English teacher" after Sue was called away from the volunteer job by a death in the family, and the two have developed a friendship that has resulted in visits to the Todd home by Sue and her husband, going to church together, and mutual education.

"The minute Regina got in the car she informed us that the young boy who lived next door was now serving a sentence in a juvenile detention home for stabbing a member of a rival gang. His gang was known by their trademark—one gold loop earring worn through a pierced ear. She stated it more as a fact than an extraordinary event," wrote Sue to Mother Zippel, enclosing some of Regina's many letters.

Lots of Reminders "I asked if she had anything in her room to remind her to pray and she said, 'Oh yes, lots.' I then asked her if I could see all her things when we took her home. She was delighted with her role as hostess.

"Mother Zippel, it would have done your heart good to see what she had scotch-taped to her wall. Everything there was obviously given to her during her summer program with you. She couldn't remember who St. Madeline Sophie, (one of the canonized saints of the order of nuns at the Sacred Heart convent), was, but YOUR name was printed carefully on her picture—'Because Mother Zippel looks like her.' Written on the wall, too, were the names of all the nuns she knew at the convent. She couldn't identify a picture of Pope Pius XII either, but she pointed him out as a good man."

The impressively planned program, that gave responsive Regina and 84 girls like her many new and meaningful experiences and friendships, bused the children from the inner city to the convent for a six-hour day for a four-week period during July, 1966. It was such an unqualified success that it will be repeated, with few changes, in July of 1967. Out of the 85 children, 45 had perfect attendance. (Continued on Page 5)

Health Dept Denies Park Use of Pool

Permit Refused, Even on Temporary Basis, as Expected by City Officials

Grosse Pointe Park received official notice on Tuesday, March 21, that the State will not grant a permit for the use of the swimming pool at the waterfront park, in the interest of public health and safety, even on a temporary basis, it was disclosed by City Manager Robert Slone.

Denial of such a permit, under a new State law that went into effect on January 1, means that the park will have to resort to other means for this type of recreation, the city manager said. The pool cannot, and will not be used this summer, he added.

The new law, Act No. 230 of the Public Acts of 1966 gives the Michigan Health Department jurisdiction over all swimming pools in the state, none of which (Continued on Page 9)

Store Reports Second B. and E.

Florence Riley Corsetieres was again the scene of a breaking and entry on Saturday, March 18. The City police had checked the doors at 4 a.m. and found everything to be in order; upon checking again at 5:45 a.m. they found evidence of forced entry at the rear door.

The heavy gauge metal screen was forced open and the window broken. Officers also found a small pane of broken glass in the front door.

A note was discovered on a sheet of single entry ledger paper which read "Cat Women like you." The note was taken to the City police station for comparison with a note that was left at an earlier breaking and entry in the store in December of last year.

Mrs. Riley came to the store to check what was missing. She stated that no money was left in the store overnight.

City officers questioned Mrs. Riley as to whether she knew of anyone who might bear a grudge against her. She stated that perhaps a former girl boarder whom she evicted might bear such a grudge. She also stated that the girl was currently believed to be living with a Negro male in downtown Detroit. Police are investigating.

Injuries Suffered in Feb. 25 Accident Fatal to Woods Boy

David Billiet, 12, of 2175 Ridgmont, a Mason School Safety Patrol boy, died on Friday, March 17, of head injuries suffered in a Woods traffic accident, while a passenger in a car driven by his aunt, Clara Field of 4154 Cooper, Royal Oak. Also in the car were his mother, Marian, 50, and his brother, Gregory, 16. All four in the car were hurt, with David sustaining serious head injuries. He was listed as critical by St. John Hospital doctors, and was in a semi-coma, from which he never recovered.

Mrs. Field suffered a broken right ankle; Mrs. Billiet, facial cuts and injured neck, and Gregory, facial cuts and injuries to right shoulder, leg and side. The driver of the second car, Alexander M. Nick, 43, of 81 Forteroff, was not hurt, nor was the driver of a third vehicle, (Continued on Page 4)

Adult Education Classes Include Many Innovations

Sex education for parents is one of the new offerings of the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools. This series of six meetings is scheduled to begin Monday, April 17, and will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The fee for the class is $8 per person or $15 per couple.

The most crucial of all institutions dealing with the sex education of children is the family circle, and it is generally recognized that there is relatively little assistance available to parents who want to know more about doing the job well. Through the media of excellent films, printed literature, and knowledgeable professionals, and with a liberal amount of small group discussions, this series promises to be open-ended enough, and yet instructive enough to make each participant leave the class with a reassured feeling about helping his child realize a wholesome life of sexuality. It must be recognized that sex education for children begins with all other phases of development, and that parents of very young children should consider today as the most appropriate time to apply sound principles of sex education into the total development pattern. Ed Holberg, who is a distinguished member of the social workers staff of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, will direct and plan the content of this class. Greek Mythology is another new and enticing offering to be introduced this spring by the Department of Community Services. (Continued on Page 2)

Chase Prowlers; Apprehend One

City Police received a call from George R. Kramer, 536 Lakeland avenue, on Thursday, March 16, reporting a man in his yard.

Cpl. Duncan McEachern, officers William Plumb and Richard Lanski on call, chased three men in the snow to Fisher and Kercheval.

Lanski observed one of the men going west on Kercheval between Rivard and Washington. He was apprehended and found to be Julian Joseph Swiencicki, 7734 Conger, Detroit.

The other two men could not be located. Swiencicki was taken to City Police Station and charged as a disorderly person pending further investigation. He was released on $50 bond and his court date was set for Tuesday, April 11. His car was held at the station.

MONEY MISSING
Mrs. Rose Ricevuto of 17008 Mack avenue, called Park police on Wednesday, March 15, and disclosed that $12 in change was missing from the cash register in her place of business. There was no evidence of a forced entry, police said, and the money apparently must have been taken before the store was closed.

Adult Education Classes

ices. Dr. Stanley Cook, who heads the Grosse Pointe High School English Department, and who has developed adult education offerings for television viewing, will provide the direction that will review the gods, myths and legends that still have pertinence in modern life—in literature, the fine arts, and the mass media. He will take his students from Dante and Milton and Joyce, to Vance Packard and Alley Oop, and this mornings cartoons.

This class is scheduled for Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock, beginning April 18 and continuing for six weeks for a fee of $7.

Every car that has had a female master has said again that it hoped that someday there would be an auto mechanics class for ladies. Now there is. It is not necessary to describe symptoms with animated gurglings of "ker-thump, psst, psst, klunk-klunk-klunk." And too, wouldn't it be something if you, as a consumer of auto services, would understand what you are paying for?

The language and the basic functions and mechanical operation of the automobile will be simplified and stripped of all its mystery in the new Auto Mechanics Class for Ladies, offered on Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock, beginning April 4, and continuing for six weeks for a fee of $7.

For the sophisticated male auto bug who wants to reacquaint himself with tearing down an engine, checking out new diagnosing machinery, or reinforcing some fundamental "know-how" from countless cut-away, full-sized models, there is also a Wednesday night Auto Mechanics Class for Men. The high school auto mechanics laboratory is now available for adults, both male and female, who have interests from level zero to the ultimate heights.

David Bashore, a master degree teacher on the Grosse Pointe High School staff, and one who has had continuous affiliation with Chrysler and General Motors Technical training programs, will be the instructor.

Marine Biology is the fourth of the new courses highlighting the spring season for adult education. Lake St. Clair is the outdoor laboratory for this class, and the biology laboratory of the high school will provide the setting for the evening meetings from 7:30 to 9:30 on Wednesdays for six weeks, beginning April 19.

For the fisherman concerned about his catch, for the property owner near a lake, for swimmers, sailors, and for all who drink water, there is a matter of primary concern. This science class is designed to develop a reinforcement of basic knowledge in marine, or aquatic, biology that the student will find of person value, even if he never leaves the pier.

The instructor for this class will be David LaDuke, a master degree teacher with 10 years of teaching at the Grosse Pointe High School, who has taught marine biology to summer school students, and has done some special scientific research in the use of smell by salmon during their migration, the use of Sonar on perch school movement, and homing behavior in bass and sunfish. Fishermen, take note. The fee for this course is $7.

The Department of Community Services lists many other reliable popular classes for this spring. Countless adults will be attending classes in: Art (water color, oil, charcoal), Batik (art of fabric dyeing), Books America is Reading), Bridge (beginners and players), Creative Writing, Cooking (French, party, for two), Copper-Silver, Chair Caning, Dance, Decoupage, Effective Expression.

Or: Foreign Languages, (French, German, Spanish, Russian, Italian), Fur Styling, Golf, Home Gardening, Hooked Rug, Home Nursing, Investments, I.T.A. (new reading approach), Millinery.

Still others: Photography, Piano, Sewing, Reading Improvement, Shorthand, Tennis, Physical Fitness (men and women), Vocabulary Improvement, Upholstery, Woodshop.

Call the Department of Community Services, TUxedo 5-3808 or TUxedo 5-0271 for class reservation and further information.

Marijuana

in the case came from a boy who was being conveyed to a hospital by Shores ambulance, accompanied by Miller and Shores Det. Frank Mustazza. The boy was a "user", it was said. En route to the hospital, the youth informed the policemen that he had been at a "party", and gave the officers a list of boys he had been smoking with. The teenager said he had brought some marijuana from California, where he had been visiting.

Five Users Named
The youth also disclosed that he had been buying the drug from a seller, at Jefferson and Conner, in Detroit, and gave the names of five boys who were smoking the weed.

On November 21, a user who had been picked up, gave Van Tiem and Miller a list of 70 names of boys and girls from the two Pointe and several Detroit high schools. The user said that he experienced the smoking of the narcotic, and he wanted to be of help to stop these 70 persons he knows, from going through the same unpleasant experience before they became too involved.

The Farms police officers said that the list contained names of both smokers and pushers, (sellers), of the weed. The information received started a vast investigation and stake-outs took place.

Evidence was uncovered, showing that marijuana was not sold on school grounds or buildings, but orders were taken and deliveries were made outside the various schools. It was pointed out, Moorman and Van are charged only with the sale to the youth working with the police.

Were Holding Parties
It has been known, since the beginning of the school term, that from four to six students, boys and girls, were holding "moving parties," that is, smoking marijuana at different homes, while parents are absent, or out of town every weekend, or sometimes after school. In all cases, parents were ignorant of these activities, the detectives said.

The investigations finally led to the arrest of Moorman and Van, it was said. Moorman was arrested about 4:55 p.m. Tuesday, in a car on Lake Shore road, by Director Andrews, Miller, Belanger and Plumb. Lt. Marchand, Trombley and Woods Det. Gerald Kensora, followed the youth, prior to the arrest.

Van was arrested at his home at 5:30 p.m. by Chief Roh and Van Tiem. With the permission of Van's mother, the home was searched and some "suspect material" was confiscated, it was said.

Director Andrews said that in the middle of February, a youth known to Trombley, informed the officer of a party he had been invited to, but declined to attend. This was a marijuana party in the Farms, the youth said, and he wanted to give the officer the information because he did not condone this type of activity.

Police Join Forces
The information was relayed to Farms authorities, and from that time on, the Farms and Woods worked jointly on this aspect of the case, which reached a climax in the Tuesday arrests.

The director said that all the police departments in the Pointe and Harper Woods were aware of what was going on, and all cooperated in investigating rumors and tracking down leads, most of which just "faded out".

He said that for months, detectives of the Pointe and Harper Woods met to discuss information received, and to sift facts from rumors, in order to try to come up with something concrete, many times with negative results.

Although the Woods and Farms worked together on this particular case, Andrews said, the end result was the combined action of all the departments.

HUBCAPS STOLEN

Miss Jane Piche, 21, of 445 Moross road, complained to Woods police on Friday, March 17, that four hubcaps were stolen from her automobile, discovered while it was parked in the lot of the Original Peacake House, 2073 Mack avenue. She said the theft could have taken place while she was bowling at the Log Cabin Recreation in Woodward avenue, between Six and Seven Mile roads, earlier in the day.

asked to accept the judgeship by the members of the council, and he resigned as mayor and councilman to take over the legal duties of the court. It was stipulated that he was to serve as municipal judge until the spring election on April 3, 1967, at which time he must seek election to complete the unexpired term vacated by the former judge.

Armstrong had been elected to a four-year term, and the tenure still has three years to run.

Opposing Connolly for the job is Robert H. Pytell.

The charter amendments pertain to provisions in the General Employees Retirement System, and the Policemen and Firemen Retirement System.

Two Amendments

Proposition 1 calls for an amendment to Chapter 16 of the General Employees Retirement System which will provide for an increase in retirement benefits of 2 percent of compensation per year of service; amends the investment and workmen's compensation provisions to conform with changes in State Law; and makes certain language corrections and clarifications.

Proposition 2 calls for an amendment to Chapter 17 of the Policemen and Firemen Retirement System, which would provide for retirement benefit for service beyond 25 years of one percent compensation per year of service and removes existing pension limitations; provide the policeman or fireman more flexibility in changing his beneficiary prior to his retirement; and make certain language clarifications.

The annual cost to the Farms for the proposed amendment under Proposition 1 has been actuarially estimated to be 1.7 percent of the annual payroll, or $6,800 a year, based on the present annual payroll of $400,000.

The annual cost to the city for the proposed change under Proposition 2, has been actuarially estimated to be four percent of the annual payroll, or $15,200 a year, based on the present annual payroll of $380,000.

Fatal Crash

Mary Ellen Ungenitter, 52, of 21136 Hunt Club drive, whose auto was hit by Nick's, as it spun out of control. Mrs. Ungenitter was stopped at the stop sign on Helen, when the other cars collided. Her left fender was damaged.

According to a police report, Nick was traveling east on Vernier, when Mrs. Field, going south on Helen, crossed the intersection, and was hit broadside. Her car spun out of control and came to rest at the south curb of Vernier.

After hitting the third vehicle, Nick's auto came to a stop on the sidewalk.

Public Safety Capt. Donald Coats said that it is difficult to determine who was at fault. He said that Mrs. Field stated that she was crossing Vernier, and did not see Nick's approaching car.

No charges have been filed against either of the drivers, he said, but the fatality has been recorded with the Redford State Police Post.

Funeral services for David were held in St. Joan of Arc Catholic Church on Monday, March 20. Burial was in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

New Help for Hard of Hearing HEARING AID 'AIMS' AT SOUND

Minneapolis, Minn. (SPECIAL) Our ears are shaped and located to act as "sound funnels" that enable us to hear sound better by "aiming" at it—turning our head toward the sound source. Hearing aid engineers have adapted this fact of nature to a new hearing aid that will permit many hard of hearing persons to enjoy more natural "directional" hearing. Worn behind the ear, the tiny instrument features a forward-opening microphone which picks up sound primarily from the direction the wearer is facing.

St. James Having Special Services

Holy Week is being solemnized with special observances at St. James Lutheran Church of Grosse Pointe, McMillan and Kercheval, beginning Palm Sunday, March 19, when Holy Communion was celebrated at the 9:30 a.m. service.

The rite of confirmation for 29 young people was held at the 11 a.m. service. Rev. George E. Kurz preached the sermon at both services.

"Go to Dark Gethsemane" will be sung by the Chancel Choir at the evening service on Maundy Thursday, March 23, at 7:30 o'clock at which Holy Communion will be celebrated. Good Friday's sermon will be delivered by Vicar Frederick Klein. The one-hour service will begin at 1 p.m. and will include two choral selections by the Junior Choir and Handel's "He Was Despised," by soloists Mrs. Evan Evans.

Planned for Easter Sunday, March 26, are three special services, the first one being the Sunrise service at 6:30 a.m. at which St. James youth will assist in leading the worship. This is also a Communion service.

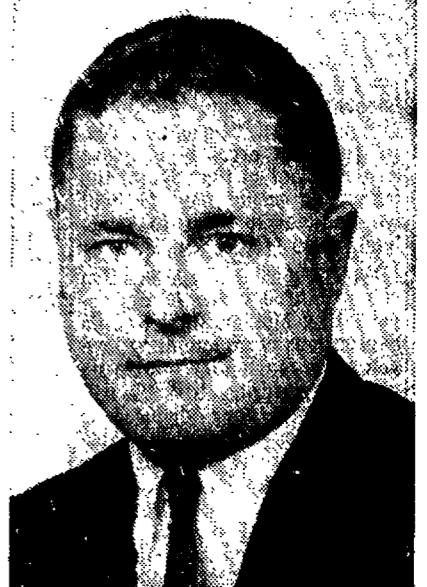

Second service will be at 9:30 a.m. with the Junior Choir singing "Come, Christians, to Sing," and soloist Mrs. William Heller singing "The Holy City." The Easter Festival service at 11 a.m. will include three joyful selections by the Chancel Choir and the solo, "The Holy City." Rev. Kurz will preach at all three services.

Nursery for small children will be available for the Holy Week services, except the Easter Sunrise service.

Easter Breakfast in the Green Room will be served from 7:30 to 9 a.m. by the St. James Youth Group. All are welcome.

POLICEMAN HURT
Woods Cpl. Jack Patterson, in a report to his superiors, disclosed that as he was getting out of his scout car to ticket a traffic violator, a gust of heavy wind caught the car door, which struck his left hand and fingers. X-rays, taken at St. John Hospital showed no broken bones, it was said. The incident took place on Friday, March 17.

Grounded Driver In More Trouble

It was just Robert K. Burke's luck to be seen driving by two Woods policemen who were patrolling south on Mack avenue on Wednesday, March 15. The officers knew Burke was driving without an operator's license.

Burke, 53, of 2008 Fleetwood, was arrested by Patrolmen Robert Setchell and Martin Trombley, who saw the man as he drove past them on the avenue, and gave chase, stopping him at Lancaster.

The officers said that they knew the driver did not have a license to operate a motor vehicle because they were present in court on Saturday, March 11, when Woods Municipal Judge Don Goodrow found Burke guilty of driving while drunk and fined him $75 for the offense, and suspended his operator's license for 90 days.

Setchell and Trombley said that at the time of the arrest on Wednesday, Burke appeared to have been drinking.

Burke was taken to the station where he was issued a violation ticket for driving while his license was suspended, and released on $100 bond, pending a court date scheduled for Saturday, March 25.

On Sunday, March 19, police received an anonymous tip that Burke intended to drive his car at about 8 p.m.

Patrolmen Charles Hamel and Robert Setchell were dispatched to Fleetwood and Helen, prior to the given time of the intended violation, and set up a watch.

The policeman said that at 8:05 p.m., they observed Burke come out of his house, get into a car, and back out of his driveway, and proceed west on Fleetwood toward Helen, where they stopped the man and placed him under arrest and took him to the station.

At the station, Burke was issued another ticket, charging him with driving while his license was suspended, and was finally released on posting of $150 bond. This bond, it was said, is separate from the $100 bond deposited with police for the March 15 violation.

The only thing the offenses have in common, besides the charges, is that the court hearing will be on Saturday, March 25, at 9 a.m.

Friends to Celebrate National Library Week

A special committee of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library have held three lively, idea-packed meetings to plan the 10th annual celebration of National Library Week, April 16-22.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Donald M. D. Thurber, the committee includes Mrs. Alexander W. Blain, III, Dr. Robert E. Booth, Mrs. Selden Dickinson, Mrs. William Farquhar, Mrs. Richard Gushee, Mrs. Clarence Livingood, Mrs. Stirling Loud, Edward Picard, Mrs. Thatcher Rea, Jr., Dr. Hamilton Stillwell, Miss Margaret Watkins, and William R. Withers, Jr.

Robert Orr, Mrs. Betty Seifert, Mrs. Margaret Irwin and other members of the library staff are assisting the committee.

Mrs. Thurber is uniquely qualified to lead the Friends' effort. Until she came to Grosse Pointe in 1964, she was executive director of the National Book Committee, Inc., the organization which originated National Library Week in cooperation with the American Library Association.

Under her direction, the nationwide program began 10 years ago and has been recognized as one of the most successful public relations programs ever undertaken in the non-commercial sector.

Each year, National Library Week gives libraries a chance to overcome that taken-for-granted attitude many persons have towards a venerable institution. To promote reading and library development, the National Library Week Program enlists community leaders at the local, state and national levels. It dramatizes the importance of the library as a democratic institution providing free access to adequate information for all—a guaranty of the right of free inquiry and expression in America. To support this serious purpose, modern techniques of communication are used to give favorable impressions about books, reading and libraries to large numbers of persons.

"National Library Week can be particularly important to Grosse Pointe this year," according to Friends' president Donald Sweeney. "It can help to prepare the community for the expansion of library facilities and services that will be required in the near future to match the population growth, and to keep pace with the ever-rising potential for library use among our highly educated residents."

Mrs. Thurber points out that "something for everyone" has always been the proud boast of the public library. "Whether the service-seeker is a child waiting to be touched by the wonder and delight of storytelling," she states, "or a businessman requiring scientific data for an important decision, the library gives him what he came for."

"But what about the many persons who don't know what the library might mean to them? National Library Week is an occasion for reaching out to lure new users into the library through special appeals to their interests. This is the Library Week Committee's purpose in planning a whole series of events and activities to take place April 16-22."

TO FIX WALKS, CURBS

The DeMeulenaere Construction Company was given the contract to repair sidewalk and curbing at 59 intersection corners in Grosse Pointe City by the council at the meeting of Monday, February 20. The work will be undertaken this spring in order to eliminate any hazards or potential liabilities that may exist at these corners.

The Austin Forensic Society entered the Michigan District finals March 19, at Rosary High School.

In the six possible areas of speech, Austin placed speakers in all the final rounds.

In Serious Prose, Robert Berschback and Jay Bartush spoke with Jay taking a third place in the finals. In Humorous Prose, Richard Trentacoste and Neil Rutledge spoke with Neil moving into the finals.

In Original Oratory, the two speakers were Jim Moffa and Ed Gersabeck. Ed Gersabeck was chosen to place in the final round.

In the area of Extemporaneous Speech, both Owen Love and Frank Venezia placed first and second in all rounds and will go on to the regional finals at Wayne University next month.

Another member of the team who placed first in all rounds and will go to the regionals is Mike Monahan in the area of Radio News Commentary. Also in this area was Tony Vehar.

The Austin multiple reading team entered all rounds with their reading of "The Devil and Daniel Webster." This team of speakers was made up of John Crowley, Joe Shea, Jim Schrage and Jim Oldani.

RESULTS COUNT
Good intentions are a requisite in any endeavor—accomplishment is practical proof that they have been carried out.

Michigan Week Movie Offered

There will be a special film program in recognition of Michigan Week at the Central Library, 10 Kercheval, at 7:30 the evening of March 31. Two films on Michigan will be shown and it is hoped there will be the usual large attendance. The films will be interesting to both older children and adults.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS... ANYWHERE IN MICHIGAN—28 min. color shows a trip through Michigan by car. You will visit historic Greenfield Village, beautiful Mackinac Island and the busy Soo Locks. There are pictures of the wilderness wonderland of the upper Peninsula, colorful Holland, a ride on a dune-buggy, fishing and skiing.

MICHIGAN-I-A, the other film tells the story of Michigan beginning at the time of the automobile era. The picture material was compiled by various historical societies and it has received many awards and been praised for its unique approach to relating the fascinating story of this portion of Michigan History.

For those people who enjoy using the 8 mm. collection the following new ones might be interesting: BECAUSE HE LOVED HER a zany Mack Sennett-Keystone comedy which includes an action-filled sequence with the Keystone Cops.

THE RINK (2 reels) stars Charlie Chaplin as a waiter who spends his spare time at a roller-skating rink. There is an hilarious skating party which features every variety of fall and every species of mayhem.

THE MUSIC BOX is probably the funniest comedy and the one in which Laurel and Hardy starred and won an Academy Award. It is all about delivering a new piano to the house on the top of the hill.

All you need is a Grosse Pointe Public Library Card to take advantage of this additional service.

He comes to a lecture or a concert or a play or a musical festival. He comes to an art class or an exhibit, a high school party. He comes for yoga sessions or to play chess. Or to replenish the community blood banks.

He comes for an infinite variety of reasons to satisfy his wide-ranging interests. And he represents the vitality of all five Grosse Pointe communities.

Active or not . . .

Whether he plays an active role or not, the average Grosse Pointer contributes about twenty-five percent of the financial needs of the War Memorial Center each year. The rest comes from income generated by the Center's programs and activities, and from endowments.

The goal of this year's Family Participation Campaign is $75,000. Won't you continue your support from past years by sending us your contribution in the enclosed envelope . . . today?

If you have not previously contributed to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, consider that the Center is the true cultural, civic, community center. And it needs your help along with everyone else's.

Health Dept. Denies Park Use of Pool

An investigation by State and Wayne County Health officials, conducted recently, showed that the waterfront pool, constructed 30 years ago, and once the envy of surrounding communities, is obsolete and substandard, and does not meet the minimum design standards as prescribed by law.

A committee of Park officials appointed by Mayor Pro Tem Robert Hutton, and comprised of Councilman George Verdonck, Slone, City Attorney Richard Rohr, Public Service Director Herbert Heger and Park and Recreation Director Thomas Rennolds, met recently with the health department officials, with the hope that a temporary permit might be issued, at least for use of the facility this summer.

The flat refusal by State health authorities to grant even a temporary permit was feared by the Park council, when last November 8 city taxpayers rejected a million-dollar bond issue, by a vote of 3,154 to 1,502, which would have been used to raise funds to improve facilities at both the Waterfront Park and Three Mile Drive park, including a new swimming pool in each park.

Slone said that the city will use every legal means in an attempt to surmount the closing down of the pool.

The State's refusal to approve a permit, he said, means that swimmers will be using Lake St. Clair for this recreation, and that city officials will contact the Grosse Pointe Board of Education to see of arrangements can be worked out to permit the Park residents to use the swimming pool in Pierce Junior High School.

Must Tear Pool Down
Under the present directive from the Health Department, Slone said, the Park is required to completely tear down the walls of the pool, unless the facility can be used as a wading pool for the young children. If this is possible, shower sprays, using safe city water, will be erected, he added.

The letter received from the Health Department, from T. L. Vander Velde, chief of the Section of Water Supply Division of Engineers, signed for Paul D. Hodges, chief of the swimming Pool Unit, reads in part:

"In the interest of public health and safety, your swimming pool must be kept out of use, even on a temporary basis, until means are provided for maintaining good water quality, including good clarity. As it now exists, we cannot issue an operation permit for this swimming pool.

"The possibility of replacing this pool with one or more properly designed and constructed ones, and using a school indoor pool in the meantime, as mentioned, has merit and should be pursued."

Honor Gargaro At Law School

Eugene A. Gargaro, Jr., president of the University of Detroit Law School Student Bar Association, has been named "Outstanding Student Bar President" of the Sixth Circuit, a four state area.

Gargaro, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Gargaro, Sr., of 65 Renaud road, is a senior in the U. of D. School of Law.

The award was presented by student delegates from law schools in the Sixth Circuit area at their recent annual conference in Detroit.

It consists of a "silver key award," based on the work of both the student president and the student bar association of his school "in best achieving the goals of the American Law Student Association."

Programs cited in announcing the award included a speakers forum, a placement program, alumni relations and public communications.

SELF-DISCIPLINE

Give a man credit for strength of character if he can overcome his smallest weakness.

Civics Students To Visit Capitol

For the fifth consecutive year a sizeable percentage of ninth grade civics students at Parcels Junior High School is voluntarily giving up one day of Easter vacation in order to learn more about the history and government of Michigan.

Approximately 145 students will make the trip to the State Capitol Building on March 28, 29 and 30, one-third of the students making the trip each day.

Mr. Ernest Hurst, Junior High Social Studies Department Head, said today, "When we first conceived the plan of taking students to Lansing on a voluntary basis during the Easter vacation in 1963, we expected no more than one bus load of students to be interested."

"We were quite surprised when we had three bus loads and we have had at least that many every year since. Our previous practice of taking students on regular school days presented problems of disrupted class schedules, the make-up of school work missed, and requiring students who may have gone previously to make the trip."

Only one bus makes the journey on each of the three days. Mr. Hurst says that the students benefit since a smaller group can move around more easily and ask more questions of guides and officials.

The day's itinerary includes the Michigan State University campus, the Michigan State Police Headquarters, the State Capitol Building and the State of Michigan Historical Museum. Each group will have lunch in the cafeteria at the Michigan State University Union Building.

Governor George Romney, Lieutenant William Milliken and Representative Robert Waldron (also House Speaker) have expressed by letter their willingness to meet with each group and are scheduled to do so. In addition, it is hoped that State Senator Charles Youngblood and other officials will be available for brief conferences.

A highlight of each trip will be the opportunity of seeing both the Michigan House of Representatives and the State Senate in actual session. The educational field trip supplements classroom study about Michigan and its government. Some classes plan mock legislative sessions when they return to their school to implement the things they learn.

Teachers going along on at least one trip besides Mr. Hurst are Mr. Carl Lord, Mr. George Pamerleau and Mr. Burl Von Allmen.

Voters to Hear Park Candidates

With the city election a week away, Voters of Grosse Pointe Park, Incorporated, the Citizens' association devoted to the study of public affairs in the Park, will conduct a meeting open to all residents of Grosse Pointe Park Monday evening, March 27, at 8 p.m. in the shelter house of Waterfront Park.

Candidates for the city council and for mayor will be present to discuss the issues of the election April 3 and to answer questions.

Facing the City Council and the Mayor in the months ahead are several issues critical to the city and its residents. The meeting of Monday, March 27, at the Waterfront Park shelter house, will give all residents of Grosse Pointe Park both an opportunity to meet candidates for city government posts and to express opinions on matters which must be resolved in the near future.

Showmanship To Be Added To Track Meets at GPHS

By Bill Morrison

Track meets at Grosse Pointe High will feature a streamlined look this spring. Blue Devil coach Tom Gauerke has made numerous innovations so the meet programs will run smoother and be of more interest to spectators.

One of the major changes will be operating the football scoreboard in a "beat the clock" fashion.

"We'll use the electric scoreboard to keep score and for a feature event," explained Mr. Gauerke. Before each meet, Mr. Gauerke will decide on one event where a runner has the best chance at breaking a track record.

As this event gets underway, the record time will be posted on the scoreboard, and the clock will begin counting down the seconds. Spectators in the stands can follow the runner's pace, knowing that if he finishes before time runs out he will have set a record.

To Use Walkie-Talkies

Walkie-talkies will also help to speed an athlete's performance to the fans. They will permit instant communication between the officials and the pressbox so statistics can be relayed to the public address announcer. He can then inform the people in the stands. Spectators will now be able to follow the height progressions in the high jump and the pole vault.

"We have purchased height indicators with large numbers that will be turned to the stands," says Mr. Gauerke. For instance, if the cross bar in the high jump is raised six feet off the ground, the marker will indicate 6'-0".

But Mr. Gauerke's determination to promote track has gone beyond these innovations. He also hopes to make the public aware of track as a sport, and specifically the 1967 Blue Devil squad.

Were State Champions

The Grosse Pointe coach is relying on PA announcements.

showcases, and articles in the school newspaper to develop student interest in track and field. Although the Devils perennially have a winning team and won the state championship in 1962, the student following has declined.

Through articles in the Grosse Pointe News, Mr. Gauerke is hoping to get the community's attention focussed on his track team. Mr. Gauerke believes the sport can sell itself—once people are exposed to it.

St. Paul Holds Science Fair

St. Paul High School's science fair was held in the chemistry laboratory on Thursday, March 9. Entries were submitted from all science classes.

The projects, submitted on a voluntary basis, were judged by a team of science majors from St. Paul: Sister Virginia Mary, Sister Judith Ann and Sister Sean Martin.

In judging, first honors were awarded to James Kotz for his demonstration of an analytical chromatography of gases.

Second honors were won by the following: Charles Wilson, thermostating resins; Kenneth Riell, variations in coherent light; Cass Rejent, physical means to find percentage of carbon in steel; Pat Murphy, hypothermia.

The best projects from St. Paul's will be exhibited at the regional fair to be held March 31 to April 2 at Denby High School. Winners on this level will present their exhibits at Cobo Hall for the final judging on April 15 to 18.

Monteith Stages Flag Program

A flag raising ceremony at Monteith School on Friday, March 17, took the audience on a historical tour of Grosse Pointe and brought Pointers up to date on population statistics, occupations in the area and recreational facilities.

It was apparent that a great deal of time had been spent in researching this project. The ceremony was handled quite professionally by Diane Dougherty's sixth grade class.

A lighted map of the area, (made by the students), was used to illustrate the locations being discussed.

The talks and skits covered Lake St. Clair, St. Paul Church, the Joy Bells, and the Weir Estate, as well as such current facilities as McCann Skating Rink, Neighborhood Club and the War Memorial, to just a few.

April 8, 1:30 p.m. American League try-outs (9 and 10-year-olds, birthdate 16 to 31 inclusive), Rain date, April 9, Sunday, 3:30 p.m.

All try-outs will be on diamonds behind Defer School, Kercheval and Nottingham.

Students Show Religious Art

The First Annual Religious Art Show for High School Students opened Friday, March 10, at the Academy of the Sacred Heart, 171 Lakeshore road.

There are about 200 pieces of work on exhibit from several different schools. It embodies various media, painting, sculpture, collage, textiles (beautiful wall hangings), drawings and ceramics.

The schools represented are Grosse Pointe University School, Bloomfield Academy of the Sacred Heart, Saint Rita, Saint Rose (first prize for drawing), Dominican High (first prize in sculpture), Regina High (second prize in sculpture), Our Lady of Mercy, Farmington (first and second prize in painting, first and second prize in textiles), Sacred Heart Seminary (prize for originality of design), Academy of the Sacred Heart (third prize in painting). Honorable mentions were also awarded for outstanding work.

Hildegarde de Grimme (Mrs. Joseph) and Ferenc Varga, noted sculptor were the judges of the show. The show was inspired by the art students at the Academy as a result of visiting a Liturgical Art Show in Cranbrook that was professional, and they felt that as students they have much to offer.

HITS PARKED CAR

Cordelia Mowry Devlin, 565 Notre Dame avenue, was taken to Bon Secours Hospital on February 26, and treated for a chin laceration resulting from an accident. Her automobile struck the car of Burton Budd of 582 Notre Dame, that was parked at the curb, while attempting a left turn from west on St. Paul to south on Notre Dame. A complaint is pending.

Wallets Stolen At Health Studio

Two clients of the Vic Tanney's Health Studio in Mack avenue, reported to Woods police on Saturday, March 18, that their wallets were pilfered while they were using gym facilities.

Gerald Kasinec, 26, of 19388 Elkhardt, Harper Woods, complained that an unknown thief removed his wallet from his trousers hanging in the locker room, and stole $50, all in currency. Nothing else in the wallet was disturbed, he said.

Also making a formal complaint, was Frank Munaco, 21, of 16185 Collinson, East Detroit, who told police that his wallet was removed from the pocket of his trousers, hanging in the locker room. He disclosed that his loss was $40.

The thefts are being investigated by officers of the Detective Bureau.

Group Pushing Open Housing

A community education campaign on behalf of fair housing is being conducted in Grosse Pointe by the recently-formed Grosse Pointe Committee for Open Housing. Mrs. Andrew W. L. Brown, of Bedford road, chairman, has announced.

The work of the Committee was filmed for the Huntley-Brinkley news program by an NBC-TV crew which worked in Grosse Pointe for four days starting Sunday, March 12.

While in Grosse Pointe, the Huntley-Brinkley cameras were focused on several meetings sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Committee for Open Housing. The NBC newsmen also filmed interviews with clergymen and other community leaders, including W. Gordon Johnstone, president of the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Board.

The Grosse Pointe Committee for Open Housing is currently sponsoring a good neighbor pledge card campaign. Circulation of pledge cards began in the Pointes on Lincoln's birthday, February 12, and will continue throughout Lent under the auspices of various churches and church groups, and by the Committee.

The pledge which residents are being given the opportunity to sign reads as follows: "We who live in Grosse Pointe believe that any family should be free to choose its place of residence. We welcome neighbors on a personal basis without regard to race, creed or country of origin."

"The majority of Protestant churches in the Pointes have indicated to us that they are supporting the campaign in some way," Mrs. Delores Braun, of Lakepointe avenue, campaign chairman, stated. "Cards were distributed in the Catholic churches of Grosse Pointe in conjunction with sermons in support of open housing which the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit instructed priests throughout the Detroit metropolitan area to preach on Passion Sunday, March 12," Mrs. Braun said.

Also on March 12, the Grosse Pointe Committee for Open Housing showed the documentary film, "A Time for Burning", to an audience of 200 members of governing bodies of Grosse Pointe churches, clergymen and leaders in civic organizations.

"A Time For Burning" was commissioned by Lutheran Film Associates and deals with an average church's confrontation of segregation and discrimination. It portrays in detail what happened in 1965 when Pastor William Youngdahl of Augustana Lutheran Church in Omaha, Neb., suggested that 10 couples of his all-white congregation exchange home visits with 10 couples of a Negro Lutheran Church three blocks away.

The Huntley-Brinkley television crew was present Sunday afternoon in the Annex of Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church to record the audience comments which followed the showing. Besides praising the film, many persons spoke of their desire for showings for other audiences.

The Grosse Pointe Committee for Open Housing is arranging a series of bookings during April. "A Time For Burning" will be shown at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on Sunday, April 9, at 7 p.m.

Persons or groups interested in arranging for screenings of "A Time For Burning" may call Mrs. William Hammond (331-2017).

Blanchard Head Of Press Club

Allan E. Blanchard, staff writer for The Detroit News, has been elected president of the Detroit Press Club, succeeding James C. Jones, Detroit bureau chief for Newsweek magazine, who served two terms. Jones was reelected a director of the club.

Grant Howell, managing editor of the Daily Tribune, Royal Oak, was elected vice-president, and Neal Shine, city editor of the Detroit Free Press, was named secretary. William J. Trepagnier, editor of the AAA Motor News, was reelected treasurer.

Jack Crellin, chief assistant city editor of The Detroit News, was the only new member elected to the board of directors.

Blanchard lives at 20690 Vernier circle in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Mistress Catches Roaming Bassett

Although it may take Mrs. William Farquhar of Rivard boulevard, a couple of weeks to recuperate from her chase on Wednesday, March 16, it was well worth the effort, for her Bassett hound is home and happy again.

Mrs. Farquhar's dog, Allie, had been let out of the yard last week, by a would-be-burglar. Mrs. Farquhar ran an ad and the NEWS ran a story, all in hopes of finding Allie, who is expecting puppies. Wednesday evening she received a call reporting that someone had sighted Allie at Bournemouth and Chalfonte.

Hopping into her car she hurried there, only to see Allie running across University School's athletic field. In hot pursuit, she left her car and started after Allie on foot.

Allie kept running, and Mrs. Farquhar realized that if she expected to catch her she would need a car. In desperation she approached a gentleman who was just pulling into his driveway, and asked him if he would help. Obliging he offered his services and the chase was on again. Finally at Oxford and Mack avenues they decided to ask the help of the Woods police.

A very kind police officer, Lt. Roland Symons, then resumed the chase with Mrs. Farquhar in the scout car. Finally at Church court in Harper Woods they cornered a frightened Allie. With a little coaxing, Mrs. Farquhar managed to calm Allie down and before she knew it Allie was lying at her feet, tail wagging, docile as a lamb. In relief, Mrs. Farquhar sat down on the ground and shed a few happy tears.

We'll never know what kind of adventures Allie encountered but we do know that Mrs. Farquhar had quite a time. She met a good Samaritan and a helpful police officer and recovered her lost dog after days of anguish.

You May Color Us Red

Last week's threatened bus strike, (which, thank heaven, did not come to pass), left us covered with confusion, but not thick enough to hide our rosy blushes.

Officials of the Lake Shore Coach Lines, Inc. informed us of the situation, said the strike, which had been called for early Thursday morning, was inevitable.

The more we thought about the action which had been taken by the employes, the less sense it made, so we held a spot open on the Editorial Page and stayed up later than usual Tuesday night writing personal comments on the subject.

Because we enjoy the privilege of having our paper delivered to our customers by their mailmen, we are forced to adhere to deadlines that considerably precede the time when our subscribers receive the finished product.

All of which means that our final deadline for accepting news and advertising copy is noon Tuesday. This final material is edited, laid out and sent, with page dummies, to the printshop as quickly as possible.

What happened to the bus strike that wasn't, was that the state and federal mediators, who must have felt much the same as did we about the situation, got the employes together again and talks were resumed.

Details of all the negotiations leading up to this were published in last week's paper, but to review them in a few words... the men were satisfied with the financial offers made in a contract proposal, by the company, to be retroactive to February 2, but which would be terminated in May if the Michigan Public Service Commission did not grant a requested fare rate at a hearing set for April 10.

At the Wednesday afternoon meeting, the union said unless the contract was signed immediately, without the termination clause, its demands would be increased if the rate increase was granted, and the strike would go on as scheduled.

So much for our embarrassment. In retrospect, how much smarter we would have been to make the banner line read "Bus Strike Threatened." But we console ourselves to some extent by thinking back to the issue of Life magazine which made Tom Dewey President.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Edgar, Not being a native of Grosse Pointe, I have a question. Why, when a driving ordinance has been broken or a crime committed isn't the name of the Grosse Pointer guilty printed in your paper.

Editor's Note—The fact that we are constant recipients of irate phone calls from bad drivers whose names we have printed assures us that these charges are not completely accurate.

Dear Mr. Edgar: It was very pleasing to the Officials of the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores to have our harbor bond issue proposal pass with such a favorable vote.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

One of a series of Scriptographic Booklets is highly pertinent to our profession—it is entitled: "Here's your passport to knowledge".

The booklet then goes on to say that whatever you want to do in life, you can do better if you draw on the experience of others—in BOOKS.

First of all, money. It (the booklet) tells the story of a Boston fruit peddler, born poor, who was forced to leave school early, but who wanted to be rich.

We can equate recreation with fun. Thus books bring the world to your armchair. You can relax, enjoy yourself, go anywhere in the world you wish, live any time in history—via books.

What about a college education? You can augment your regular curriculum with outside reading, but you can build up your general background with your own planned "courses".

In our complex world of personal and international problems, why not try a book or two to achieve that peace of mind that is so hard to come by these days?

Have you ever used the excuse that you didn't have time to read a book—that life is too short for this sort of thing? Did you know that if you read only fifteen minutes a day, you would read a half a book a week, two books a month, 20 books a year, 1,000 books in your life-time?

Reception Follows Wedding of Christine F. Covey and William M. O'Neal in St. Jean Baptiste Church on Friday, March 17

St. Jean Baptiste Church in New York City was the scene of the 5 o'clock ceremony March 17, at which Christine Frances Covey became the bride of William Michael O'Neal.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Leo Francis Covey of Moran road, and the late Mr. Covey.

Mr. and Mrs. Wisdom O'Neal, of Ocala, Fla., are the parents of the bridegroom.

An ivory silk organza gown, the bateau neckline and chapel train accented with Alencon lace and seed pearls, was the bride's choice for her wedding. Her fingertip veil extended from an Alencon lace headpiece, and she carried roses and lilies.

Appropriately for a St. Patrick's Day ceremony, her three attendants were gowned in citron green silk. Their headpieces were matching citron green brocade bows, and they had bouquets of red orange azaleas and ivy.

Nancy Bersback, of Grosse Pointe, attended as maid of honor. Mrs. Carol Hennicke Gagnon, formerly of Grosse Pointe, and Mrs. Molly O'Neal

Holmes, of Gainesville, Fla., were bridesmaids. Sally Bersback, of Grosse Pointe, served as junior bridesmaid.

Patrick O'Neal performed the duties of best man. Ushers were Andrew Boose and Ned McDavid.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Covey chose a teal blue silk and wool cocktail dress and matching coat. Mrs. O'Neal wore a yellow green cocktail suit with jeweled blouse. Both mothers had corsages of tiny orchids.

Wedding guests boarded the Sardi double decker bus for the ride to The Ginger Man, where the reception was held. The bridegroom is owner and manager of The Ginger Man, a modern restaurant near Lincoln Center.

Dogwood and white roses decorated the reception spot, where both a traditional band and a rock 'n' roll band provided music for dancing.

From Another Pointe of View

By Kitty Marriott

New England came to Grosse Pointe for a Sunday afternoon visit a week ago, when Dr. and Mrs. Charles Boyce gave a "Sugar-on-Snow" party to mark daughter's 13th birthday in their Bedford road home.

Sound intriguing? Well, read on... puh-leeze! Anyone sez, should recall the traditional "sugaring parties"... though she opines that the custom is off in her home state now.

When the sap is collected from the maple trees in New England way, there's still snow on the ground. The little sugar mills out in the woods, folks boil it down (beyond the stage we use on pancakes) until it's a soft sugar toffee.

They gather buckets of clean snow in the wilderness, and the hot syrup poured onto the snow yields a luscious treat.

Since the Boyces decided to have the family "Sugar-on-Snow" party about 10 days before, their planning was good... they were able to scoop up some clean snow from the bountiful supply that fell in the Pointe, and put it in their freezer for the party.

Now, it takes an expert to watch that syrup and to just the right consistency. Here again, Forrester smiled, because Dr. Boyce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Boyce, were visiting here from Proctor, Vt. Mr. Boyce watched over the maple syrup for about 12 hours, and when it was ready, dinner had to be served.

The traditional dinner included ham, baked beans, beef, sour pickles, and plain raised doughnuts... not too sweet because the maple sugar is so very sticky. A deep wooden bowl of snow was set at each place, with a smaller bowl of hot syrup.

Guests spooned the hot, hot syrup onto the snow and the delicacy with their dinner. When the snow melted, as it eventually did, the bottom of the bowl held a sticky sugar candy substance.

Enjoying the tasty Vermont custom for the first time with the birthday girl were her sisters, Debbie, 14, Betsy, 7, brother, Charles, 9, and cousins, Jody, Judy, Jimmy Skillings. Mrs. Ralph Watts was on hand for granddaughter's party, along with the Grandparents, who have since returned to Proctor.

This year's event to be held on Friday evening, April 7, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club will mark the local alumni club's celebration of the U. of M. one hundred and fiftieth birthday.

"The year-long sesquicentennial program which began in March is making all of us more aware of our ties with the University," says Albert Klick, president of Grosse Pointe's U. of M. Club, "and our pride in having participated in the long cultural heritage our University has built up is naturally more expressive this year.

"Our Grosse Pointe alumni club each year supports three scholarships for local high school graduates from membership fees and proceeds from gatherings such as this card party."

Center to Hold Vacation Party

The Mod Mod Guitar Show scheduled in Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium Thursday evening, March 30, at 7:30 during spring vacation promises to be a stellar affair featuring nearly a dozen groups some of whom sing professionally in local coffee houses.

Another interesting performer will be the Franchman, Claude Zagdoun, who will sing both American and French folk songs, all in French.

Directors of the show and teachers of folk and classical guitar at the Center, Ron Scollion and Alex Sucek, will team together for a group of Mexican numbers.

"Throughout the program there will be lots of sing-alongs. The show will end with a battle between two bands, one from Pierce Junior High and the other from Grosse Pointe High School.

The show is open to students and adults alike for 75c. Following the show, there will be a casual non-date "Other Side" dance for both junior and senior high school students. Admission to the dance will also be 75 cents, but a combination show and dance ticket may be purchased for $1.

'Giovanni' That talented local duo, Mrs. Richard Walla Mrs. William Bokram, have done it again.

They've written "Giovanni", the combined musical comedy and variety show which will be the b-1-g annual Tuxis Club presentation April 13, 14 in Fries Auditorium at Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Last year they wrote and directed another production, "The Perils of P.S." which had a similar theme. Greenwich Village is the setting for "Giovanni" wherein there's promise of a Roaring Twenties scene, one featuring psychedelic music, and musical treats.

Music director Chet Bogen is handling the arrangements and working in an advisory capacity Gary Deary is the leader of the band. More than young people in the show are making their own times in between rehearsals, high school work and various other commitments.

The Tuxis Club is the high school youth group at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Symphony Set For Premiere

"Chthonic Ode," Opus 90, by the celebrated American composer Paul Creston, will be given its world premiere by Sixten Ehrling and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Thursday and Saturday, April 6 and 8, at 8:30 p.m. in Ford Auditorium.

The work, which was commissioned by the Symphony and carries a dedication to Ehrling and the Orchestra, was completed in November 1966. It is the second Symphony-commissioned work to be presented by the Orchestra this season. (Sten Broman's Symphony No. 4 was performed November 17 and 19.)

Creston selected the title "Chthonic" (meaning "dwelling in or beneath the earth") from a literary reference to Moore's sculpture.

Of his composition, Creston writes "The task of paralleling Moore's art as music was a formidable challenge. I was encouraged to undertake the task by his philosophy of art with which I concur completely. 'All good art,' writes Moore, 'has contained both abstract and surreal elements, just as it has contained both classical and romantic elements — order and surprise, intellect and imagination, conscious and unconscious.'"

Think wrong — and you're headed in the right direction for a number of bad habits.

Inside The Mothers' Club

The regular meeting of the Executive Board of the Grosse Pointe High School Mothers' Club was held in Cleminson Hall on Monday, March 6. Seventeen members were present.

Jerry Gerich, Faculty Advisor, spoke most enthusiastically about a Science and Humanities Symposium, held at Dominican High School on March 2. One hundred and fifty students from Grosse Pointe and Dominican High Schools were involved and 30 students presented papers on diversified subjects.

This represents a new style of learning which allows for different interests and shows the value of crossover in subject matter which the Humanities study program offers. A recent meeting in Dallas, which Mr. Gerich attended with educators from all over the country, was also discussed. The function of the teacher was described as a positive one; to generate in the student the learning process, the process of acquiring knowledge and curiosity.

A study committee for the Mothers' Club has been formed. The committee consists of Mrs. G. Gordon Cook, chairman; Mrs. Walter Griffith, Mrs. Arthur Sherman and Mrs. Robert Clarke, who will study the future functions of the Mothers' Club in the two high schools, and will in turn lead to a planning conference with both school principals.

President Mrs. Perry TeWalt, suggested a Project Fund be started for the new high school. The money could be used as a gift, a project or a program, or in whatever way it was most needed. Mrs. TeWalt discussed with Mr. Gerich a plan for having an Art Festival at the High School later in the year. The teachers are willing, and a date, time and place will be determined. The assistance of the Mothers' Club was offered for this project.

Bus chaperone Mrs. Ben W. Hubbard reported that during the year approximately 1300 student and cheerleaders were transported on 27 buses to four basketball games. She expressed her appreciation to Mr. Thursby and to the parents who had served as chaperones.

Chairman of the Spring Benefit, Mrs. Joseph Perry, reported that chairmen and committees have been chosen. An international theme has been selected for the dessert and card party to be held in the gymnasium from 12:30 to 4 p.m. on May 12.

Titled "A Small World," flags and dolls of all nations will be used for decoration as well as manikins dressed in the costumes of the Grosse Pointe foreign exchange students. Students will display material relating to the Tanzanian Project which raised money to help the Peace Corps build a school for native children. Table prizes will be provided by the Mothers' Club.

Lawyers' Wives Slate Benefit

The Grosse Pointe Lawyers' Wives are in the final stages of planning their annual benefit luncheon-fashion show.

"Hats Off to Spring" is the theme and chairman, Mrs. James Daoust, and her committee are planning a sell-out for 12 o'clock, Thursday, April 13, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Following lunch, Saks Fifth Avenue will present a spring-keyed parade of fashions. A live orchestra will supply music.

Busy committee members include publicity, Mrs. Thomas Brandt; raffle, Mrs. J. Otto Ortwein; prizes, Mrs. John Imesh, Mrs. Phillip C. Dickinson and Mrs. John Dodge, Mrs. Edward S. Piggins, table favors.

All proceeds from the luncheon are donated to the neglected and dependent children of Wayne County.

Regular tickets can be obtained from co-chairmen Mrs. Robert Dice, 821-6217, or Mrs. Robert Werner, 886-1920. Patroness tickets are available from co-chairmen Mrs. Frank McDonald, 882-3371, or Mrs. Philip Mabarak, 822-9556.

"The Imperial Nightingale" is based on the Hans Christian Andersen fairy tale of the Emperor and the Nightingale.

Miss Caballe With Symphony

Montserrat Caballe, acclaimed as one of the greatest sopranos ever, will be heard for the first time in Detroit when she appears with Sixten Ehrling and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra on Thursday and Saturday, March 30 and April, at 8:30 p.m. in Ford Auditorium.

Miss Caballe will sing Strauss's Four Last Songs and Casta Diva and Cavatina from Bellini's opera "Norma." The latter work will be performed with a choral ensemble prepared by Dr. Robert H. Klotman, Director of Music Education for the Detroit Public Schools.

Orchestral works to be heard are Stravinsky's Symphony in Three Movements, Sibelius, "The Bard" and Rossini's Overture to "Semiramide." This will be the first subscription series performance of the Stravinsky and Sibelius compositions.

Miss Caballe, who was born in Barcelona, Spain, has sung in nearly all of the important opera houses in Europe, including La Scala, Milan, Paris, Rome, the Vienna State Opera, The Zurich State Opera, Munich's Bayerische Staatsoper, and at the Glyndebourne Festival. This year she starred at the Metropolitan Opera and appeared with the Philadelphia Lyric Opera, the Connecticut Opera Association, the American Opera Society, and the New Orleans Opera. She sang with the Philadelphia Orchestra at the Ann Arbor May Festival last year.

Miss Caballe holds the highest award of the Spanish government: "A Most Excellent and Most Illustrious Dona," as well as the Cross of Isabelle the Catholic. She has appeared in the premiere performances of many notable contemporary works, including Falla's "Atlantida," Luigi Nono's "Poem Sinfonico" and Pablo Casals' "El Pesebre."

Open Daily 12 to 6. Sunday 2 to 6

LIKE EVERYONE else, Purdy & Edgar has something new to parade for Easter. This new listing is a spacious, larger house with four family bedrooms on the second floor and two more bedrooms on the third floor. There is an extra room off the living room, which catches the morning sun, and would be an ideal place to stow away the kids in the evening. This is a good one, so make like a rabbit and hop to it, before someone else does.

FOR SOMEONE who doesn't want to put all his eggs in one basket, this single story house with maintenance could be the answer. Two bedrooms with two baths, and a library off the front hall, and a screened terrace are all a couple really needs. After buying this one you'll have plenty of bullion left over for your golden years.

OVER THREE acres should be enough territory in which to hold a dandy Easter egg hunt. Well, we can't move you into this estate by Sunday, but you may have juleps by the pool by Derby Day. The grounds of this Provencal Road offering are spacious enough to hold your own grand prix, and you can garage at least five entries in the carriage house.

FOR THE MAN who thought he had everything, take a look at just a few of the particulars of this estate offering, and you'll see what you've been missing. Placed impressively on a little less than an acre of Farms real estate, the house is just a short walk, and within view of the Farms Pier Park. Built to withstand the ages, all ages. The house has plenty of room to "escape" from the wife or the kids with their gangs. Four of the six second floor bedrooms have their own baths and fireplaces. This house is in move-in condition. All that is required is several vans of furniture and your family.

THE KINDEST cut, price cut of $2,000 makes this three-bedroom colonial in the Radnor Park Subdivision even more attractive. Two second floor baths and two dressing rooms also should arouse your interest. A large family room which opens to the living room and the kitchen should start you toward the phone. Once inside, the house will "sell" you. Our salesman will bring along the necessary papers.

HEAD and shoulders above all the ranch houses for sale in the Shores. We know of no other house which offers three bedrooms and two complete bathrooms, plus a large family room, and the newest in kitchen gadgetry. Priced to be picked off at $55,000.

"come, gentle Spring! ethereal mildness, come." James Thomson

MRS. PAUL DECKER OF MUSKOKA ROAD

By Pepper Whitelaw

National Poison Prevention Week may sound like just another of the many "weeks" we hear about throughout the year, but after talking with Mrs. Paul Decker, (Suzie to her friends), we know that it isn't. March 19 through March 25 is an important week to remember, especially if you are the parents of a child between 1 and 5 years of age.

Suzie is the chairman of the Junior League of Detroit's Poison Control Project. She coordinates the League's activities in poison control. With the aid of her able committee of nine she makes the public aware of the danger of irresponsible handling of potentially poisonous items that are commonly found in the home.

The Junior League became interested in this project four years ago and uses many methods to bring the message to the public. The major effort has been in cooperation with Children's Hospital's Poison Control Center.

At the Center, a League volunteer contributes her time helping with calls that follow up every call reporting a case of poisoning. The Center has a cross file on all types of household items and what they contain and how to treat them. Aboard headed by Dr. Regine Aronow (Mrs. John T. Hoag), of Washington road, the Center handles over 600 calls a month.

Have Slide Programs

Suzie says "with the aid of the various boards of education we make slide programs available to elementary school children. These programs make the children aware of hazardous substances that exist in their own households. We ask them to 'Poison Proof' their homes by completing a check list that we distribute.

"After the youngster has completed the jobs on the list we make him a member of the 'Poison Proof Patrol' . . . he even gets a badge. We have the same type of program for adult groups . . . sans badge . . . much to the chagrin of some of the young-in-heart adults.

"Just recently we had a 'Poisonous Plant' display at the Builders Show . . . it was such a success that we had to get more materials to distribute. We had posters, (artistically done by League volunteers), and photographs of poisonous plants. You know some of the prettiest flowers fall into this category . . . lily-of-the-valley, holly, rhododendrons, mistletoe berries and surprisingly enough, the leaves of the rhubarb plant.

Displays Supplied

"We also make sure health clinics, schools, stores, and doctors' offices have display material. In late fall we will have available for teachers and groups a 'Resource Unit' that will contain information lists on poisons, a poster, a check list of poisons, information on poisonous plants, a 'Denris the Menace Takes a Poke at Poison' comic book, a fact sheet, suggested word games to play and a wealth of other information."

Suzie was just bursting with information on precautions all of us should take in our daily routine she suggests that we never put our handbags where a little one can reach it . . . it would only be natural for the children to get into it—and all of us carry many harmful items right in our hand bags, such as cosmetics, perfumes and our own prescriptions.

Other Danger Spots

Bedsides tables are another area where little ones can reach for trouble . . . "Heavens," she continues, "even our own cleaning supplies are a potential danger to little ones. They should always be kept under lock and key."

Suzie tells us that the most common cause of childhood poisoning today is aspirin. It got to be such a problem that the Food and Drug Administration passed a restriction last July as to the number of tablets in each bottle of children's aspirin, in an effort to curb childhood poisonings. Since so many mothers tell sick children that aspirin is candy to induce them to take this medication, it is hardly the children's fault when they treat it as such. Suzie emphasized that mothers must assume the responsibility of keeping medicines out of the children's reach and above all never tell the children that medicine is candy!

Suzie continues, "We are so anxious that parents know what to do when poisoning occurs. Your first action is to call your doctor immediately; if he is not available, call Children's Hospital Poison Control Center. Be sure you know just what your child has swallowed and approximately how much. Never try to treat the poisoning yourself unless your doctor has given you the instruction."

7,274 Calls Last Year

Here we interrupted Suzie to ask, just how many cases of poisoning actually occurred last year. Suzie said in the year 1966 alone, Children's Hospital received 7,274 calls at the Poison Control Center . . . And this is only one center and does not include the cases referred to individual doctors. In the U.S. last year there were 16,314 reported cases of aspirin poisoning.

"You know it's funny," continues Suzie, "how close to home this poisoning can come. Just recently the painters were working in our new home and my husband Paul was at our old home with Paul Jr., when the wife of one of the painters called to say that her son had swallowed some window cleaner . . . Paul immediately gave her the Poison Control Center's number . . . now Paul really does have a healthy respect for our project . . . sometimes it takes something close to home to jar us up a bit."

Active in Tau Beta

When asked if she had time for any other interests Suzie said, she was very interested in Tau Beta, an association of women who sponsor a camp in Columbiaville, Mich., for underprivileged children. Parents are asked to pay what they can and then Tau Beta and other organizations pay the rest. This gives children, who might never have had such an opportunity, a chance to enjoy some fun and games at camp.

"I'm also a very devoted alumna of University School . . . I'm on the Alumnae Board of Governors. Of course my major interest is my family."

The Decker family consists of Paul Sr., who is with Chrysler on the corporate personnel staff and smiling Paul Jr., who is nine months old.

Is U-M Graduate
After being graduated from University School, Suzie went on to Centenary College for Women in Hackettstown, N.J. and then to the University of Michigan. She was graduated from U of M in 1962. While attending U of M she was a member of Collegiate Sorosis, a local sorority. Suzie beams when she mentions her sorority and adds, "I loved it . . . we have a telling us what to do . . . are our own image!"

She married Paul, who was graduated from Westminster

College, New Wilmington, Pa., in Christ Church in July of 1963. It was natural for them to locate in The Pointe since Suzie has lived here since she was three years old. She is the daughter of the Warren Sismans of Yorkshire road.

Incidentally, Mrs. Sisman is one of the most active non-members of the League in Poison Control. Suzie is quite proud of the work her mother has done getting the message of Poison Control to the public.

Suzie Decker is a 5' 3" dynamo, with snapping hazel eyes, and brown hair. She enjoys everything she does. Her new home in Muskoka road reflects many of her personal tastes . . . although she has only been in the house a week it has the appearance of a completely settled home. Suzie hastens to assure us that she isn't anywhere near settled.

Her room colors are wedgewood green with touches of golds and reds . . . perky perched on her coffee table is a lovely miniature basket of pink forget-me-nots . . . and how could anyone forget this vital and vivacious gal who devotes so much of her time to worthwhile causes?

Karate Lessons Being Offered

Korean karate, (Tang Soo Do), comes to Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Thursday evenings beginning April 6 at 7:45. It will be taught by Master instructor Sang Kyu Shim, co-sponsored by the Neighborhood Club.

Korean karate has been called the most superior form of self defense in the world. It is also a mental and physical conditioner. The methods of training are designed to promote courage, good sportsmanship, humility and confidence. There are already 40 clubs of Tang Soo Do throughout the United States.

Though known as the "art of the knife hand," the main object of the club at the War Memorial will be to build character along with physical confidence. It combines speed with power and requires patience to master, such as in mathematics where one solves progressively harder problems by mastering new equations.

While breaking with hand and foot fighting are stereotyped images of karate, it involves a whole code of personal conduct including following aims of justice, promoting respect and developing calm obedience and humility.

The Karate Club is open to both adults and young people—male and female. Membership is $15 for eight weeks. There will be a special karate demonstration tonight, Thursday, March 23, at 8:15 at the Grosse Pointe Ski Club's meeting in Fries Auditorium. All who are interested are invited to attend without charge.
