HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, January 1

THE ARRIVAL of five gunboats from detention in France sparked editorial criticism of the French government in Israel papers today. "The dramatic adventure of the boats called attention in a striking manner to the injustice of the French arms embargo policy," the Jerusalem Post said. It added, "While offering weapons to Lebanon, Iraq, Libya and presumably any other paying Arab customer interested in French weaponry, the Paris government denies Israel the jets it has already paid for and sought to deny it the five completed gunboats as well."

THOUSANDS SPENT New Year's Day in temporary shelters as floods plagued the Appalachians. In California, highway crews worked hard at trying to reopen the Golden State Freeway, blocked by a mudslide, for Rose Bowl Traffic. At least nine persons were drowned in the central and southern Appalachians as streams swelled from melting snow and downpours. Kentucky had four flood-related deaths, Tennessee three and West Virginia two.

Friday, January 2

PRESIDENT NIXON BEGAN the New Year Thursday resolved to dedicate the decade of the seventies to wiping out pollution. He warned that it was literally now or never. His first official act of 1970 was to sign a bill creating a three-member Council on environmental quality to attack the problem on a massive scale.

VICE-PRESIDENT SPIRO T. Agnew paid New Year's visits to GIs in combat zones Thursday and assured them that America is completely behind them and "the people back home are pretty darned proud of you." He used a break in the routine of his schedule in Manila to make an overnight trip to South Vietnam under heavy security.

BO SCHEMBECHLER, coach of the University of Michigan football team, suffered a possible heart attack and missed Thursday's Rose Bowl Game. The Wolverines fell to the defensive strength of the University of Southern California, 10-3, in the anticlimax of an almost unbelievable season.

Saturday, January 3

THE COMMANDER OF an American infantry company has been summarily dismissed from his command near Chu Lai, South Vietnam, because explosives detonators slipped through his unit's night bivouac during the New Year's cease-fire, killing eight Americans and wounding five. The name of the dismissed captain was withheld.

THE U.S. THIRD CIRCUIT Court of Appeals has ruled unconstitutional Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey's 1967 directive that local draft boards reclassify to 1-A persons who turned in or mutilated their draft cards. The 2-1 decision yesterday also declared that local draft boards lack the statutory authority to reclassify Vietnam war protesters.

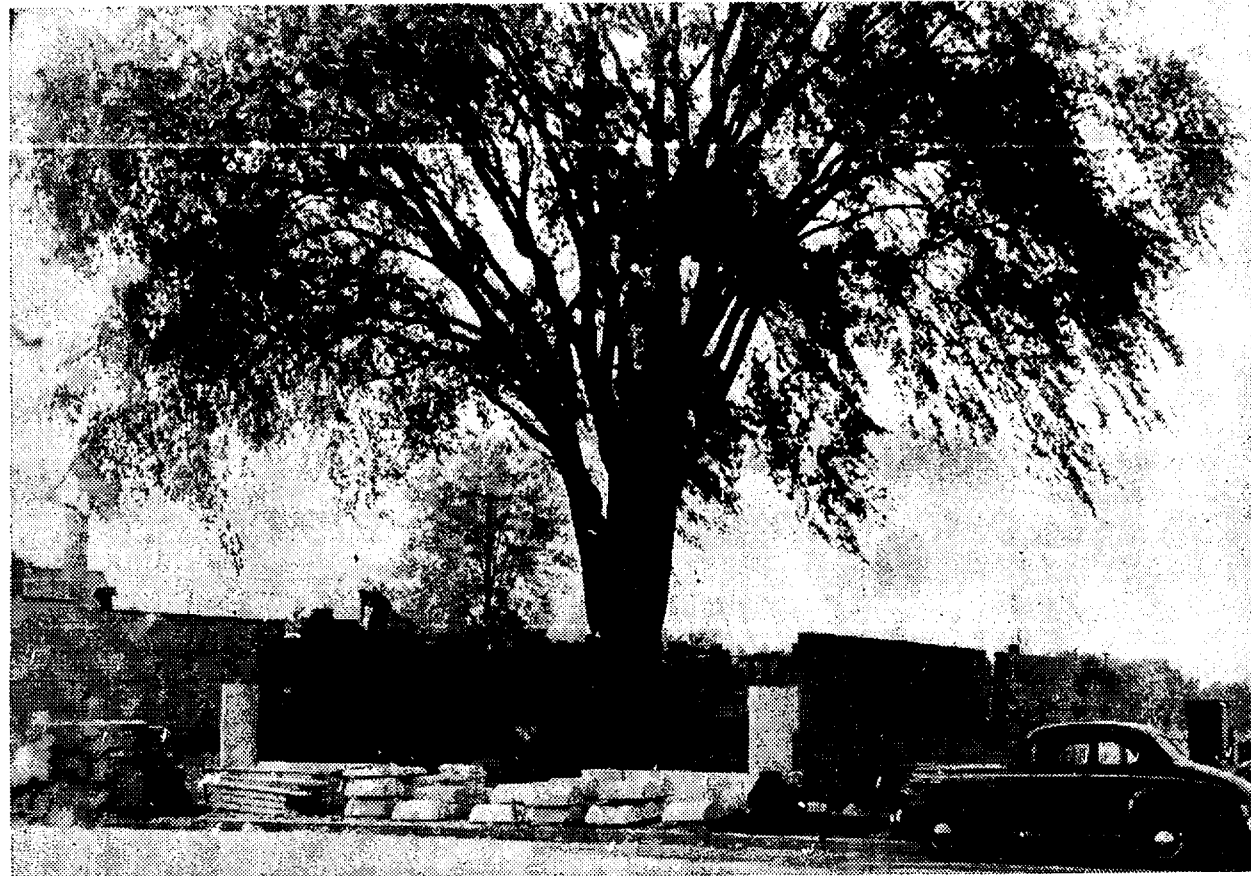

Sunday, January 4

VICE-PRESIDENT Spiro T. Agnew said Saturday in Bangkok, Thailand, that President Nixon would not send U.S. combat troops to Asia without congressional approval and unless some very extreme, and substantial action took place. Agnew gave this as a reason for the administration's endorsement of the curb voted by Congress last month on possible use of American ground troops in Laos or Thailand.

THE NATION MAY HAVE to discard last month's draft lottery and do it all over again. In Madison, Wis., a federal judge has said he sees a substantial discrepancy between the random selection ordered by President Nixon and the actual

Old Elm Dictated Shape of News Building

When it was discovered, 25 years ago, that the property which the Grosse Pointe News had purchased, was graced with this magnificent tree, construction plans were hastily changed and the structure was built to preserve what the natives had long called "The Great Elm." It's been a hard fight for the venerable beauty, what with following construction hemming it in on all sides, restricting its roots and cutting off light and feeding and watering areas. It continues to dominate The Hill and defy all opposition.

Pointe Hopes To Win Prize As Cleanest

Beautification Council Enters Community in National Contest Held in Washington

Under the stimulus of the Grosse Pointe Beautification Council, the five Grosse Pointe communities have entered the Cleanest City Award Contest held every February in Washington, D.C., at the Statler Hilton Hotel.

This contest is sponsored by the National Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Bureau under R. H. Hackendahl. Each year the Bureau holds a conference in Washington, D.C., the purpose of which is to give recognition to those cities and towns which entered and received awards in the National Clean-Up Contest.

The highlight of every conference is the awards ceremony at which the head of each delegation accepts his city's award. This ceremony attracts national-wide publicity and is covered by television, wire service, and newspaper reporters and photographers.

Has Working Side

In addition to the glamour, there is a working side to the conference. Delegates have an opportunity to learn from others by studying the scrapbook entries, (all of which are on display), and attending the educational sessions.

In the relaxed atmosphere of these meetings, people from all over the country can find out how others solve mutual problems, hear experts discuss the problems confronted by today's

Lack of Mortgage Money Keeps Prospective Buyers Out of Real Estate Deals

Banker John French, Jr. Sees No Early Solution to Situation; Interest Rate Ceiling Hike Fails to Produce Relief

By Phil Loranger

In an article which appeared in a recent edition of the NEWS, it was pointed out that more homes are available for buyers in the area today than in a good many years.

This week, John H. French, Jr., president of City National Bank of Detroit, who resides at 130 Merriweather road, told the NEWS that while there may be homes available at the start of this new year, there is no money available to finance the purchase of these homes and that the situation will probably not be solved in the near future.

Mortgages Drop Off

"I pointed this out in a recent speech at the Economic Club of Detroit," said French. "Writing that speech was probably one of the toughest assignments I've ever drawn."

"As I told the Economic Club members, mortgage financing has been sharply curtailed and it is highly doubtful that this situation will be relieved in the months ahead," he pointed out.

"As we all know, the most critical shortage is in the area of mortgage financing of homes."

French told the NEWS that money is just not available to satisfy the high demands and that financial institutions cannot get enough savings to loosen up the mortgage market.

"Even in the commercial lending end of the banking business, we are being forced to turn down loan requests far above the eight and one-half percent prime rate mark, because of the unavailability of money," said French. "It is unfortunate and I'm sure the general public has not yet awakened to the critical situation."

Hikes Little Help

Although the federal government recently approved the hiking of interest rate ceilings to eight and one-half percent for Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and Veteran Administration (VA) loans, French feels this is only a matter of semantics and that it has done little to ease the situation. He also claims it is crippling the real estate market.

"A person buying a home usually has to finance his transaction," said French. "He can either get a mortgage or work through a land contract. The use of a land contract usually involves a more modest down payment and is based on longer terms. Sounds good, but it just leads to a vicious circle."

Gives One Example

"For an example, we'll say a man has a $40,000 home to sell and agrees to sell it on a long term land contract, upon which the buyer puts down $7,500," said French. "This leaves a balance of $32,500—a healthy balance to say the least. The seller then looks to build a home in the $60,000 price range. Because he cannot get a mortgage and is forced to use the meager $7,500 he received as a down payment on his old home, he has to borrow the money. He probably cannot do this and you have the same problem. The contractor won't take his promise to pay the cost of building with the money from the land contract. Money is not available for the loan or mortgage and he ends up in the same spot."

Woods Seeks Right-of-Way For Road Job

Letters Asking Property Owners to Donate Land for Vernier Widening Being Ignored

Items highlighting the agenda of the Woods City Council meeting of Monday, January 5, numbered three and included the adoption of a proposal to retain the municipal court system, a discussion of the right-of-way acquisition for Vernier road improvements and a reminder of the city's new parking ban.

The right-of-way acquisition progress was the priority item at the meeting, which was well attended and lasted longer than usual. Most of those Vernier road residents whose property will be affected by the highway improvements, slated to begin this March, were in attendance at the meeting.

Letters Are Ignored

The Council pointed out that letters had been sent to 18 residents, asking that they donate a portion of their property, enabling the city to gain right-of-way to begin the $525,000 project. No response has yet been received from any of the property owners, with the exception of the First English Evangelical Lutheran Church, at 800 Vernier. Church officials pointed out that the matter must be brought before the church council.

If no donations of property are received, the owners will most likely be assessed curb and gutter costs, according to Woods city officials. The matter was referred to a meeting of the Committee of the Whole, scheduled for Monday evening, at which time the Committee will determine what to do about the situation in order to make a recommendation to the Council at the January 19 meeting.

To Appoint Appraiser

The Council also approved a vote to appoint an appraiser, who will determine what the cost of the properties should be and what damages, if any, the Woods might have to pay. Bids for the highway project are slated to be let on March 18.

In other action, the Council voted to adopt a resolution to retain the municipal court system in the community. This resolution, plus similar actions by the city councils of other Pointe communities is described in the lead story on this page.

Chester Petersen, Woods city manager, issued a reminder to

Cottage Hospital Anniversary Fund Drive Going Well

Pledges and Gifts Totaling $1,587,970 Qualify for $250,000 Challenge Donation; Need Two Million More to Complete Project

Co-chairmen Mrs. Arthur H. Buhl, Jr. and Robert H. Kanzler announced that as of December 31 the Cottage Hospital's 50th Anniversary Development Fund has received pledges and gifts totaling $1,587,970, thus qualifying for the $250,000 challenge gift offered by a local foundation.

"We are deeply grateful for the support which the generous people of this fine community have given Cottage Hospital," the co-chairman stated, "and we are confident that we will see this important development program through to a successful conclusion."

Project Under Way
R. A. Waters, president of the Hospital Board of Trustees, reported "Contracts to perform all new construction work have been negotiated after receiving competitive bids. Excavation work is in an advanced stage and concrete foundations are now being installed."

Designed to place Cottage Hospital in the forefront of community health institutions in the nation, this program for expansion and modernization of the hospital has received the approval of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council.

Two Million Needed
Volunteer campaign workers are still being organized to continue solicitation efforts throughout the New Year in an attempt to raise the additional two million needed to meet the campaign goal.

Individuals or groups interested in supporting this program are invited to contact the 50th Anniversary Development Fund Office, P.O. Box 5163, Grosse Pointe Farms 48236, or telephone 886-2330.

Burglar Visits Florist's Shop

Investigating Farms policemen were unable to determine the point of entry into the Grosse Pointe Florist, 174 Kerby road, when a report was received that the place had been visited by burglars on Wednesday, December 31.

The son of the owner of the shop, James Farquhar of 175 Ridgmont, who discovered the break-in, said that the thief, or thieves, ransacked only the business office. A desk had been gone through.

The intruder took two and a half rolls of postage stamps, worth $75; four dollars from a petty cash box; a standard typewriter, a standard adding machine, and an electric adding machine, and a Paymaster check writer. The value of the office equipment was not given. Officers at the scene said they could find no evidence of a forced entry into the building. The matter is being investigated by officers of the Detective Bureau.

BUS BREAKDOWN

City police received a report on Monday, December 29, that a Lakeshore bus had broken down at Kercheval and Neff. Police notified the company and passengers were transferred to another bus.

Love for Adopted Feline Cancels Out Damage Bill

By Pepper Whitelaw
About a month and a half ago the NEWS ran a story about FC (Friend Cat) who was rescued from Kercheval avenue traffic by the head of our accounting department, Joanne Eason, and later adopted by one of the NEWS' part-time employees.

This week in the mail our editor received an itemized bill from FC's new owner.

Torn curtains	$11.90
Bent curtain rod	1.29
Pins in piano keyboard (piano doesn't play)
piano tuning	25.50
Neutering	28.00
Three deceased catnip mice	2.40

Worm medicine 3.00

Two lost pin cushions—sans pins 1.00

Distemper shot 3.00

Chinese statue (chipped) 25.89

Christmas wrappings 4.60

TOTALLY destroyed 00.00

Total 00.00

"You will be pleased to note that this bill has been paid in full and the new owners thank you. This statement has been sent for tax purposes only."

We might add that the new owners have re-christened FC, Spooky, for obvious reasons.

Pointes Vote To Keep Own Judiciaries

Farms, Woods Turn Down Bid to Join New System; Park and City Indicate Same Feeling; Harper Woods to Study Issue

The Pointes and Harper Woods will retain their municipal courts, as provided by their respective City Charters, come what may, rather than become part of a district court system. The six communities would have comprised the district.

At their regular meeting held on Monday, January 5, the Farms and Woods councils formally adopted resolutions rejecting the district court system in favor of their own courts.

At its regular meeting held Monday night, the Harper Woods council tabled the issue for discussion at an executive session.

The vote to reject the formation of a district court should be by approval of at least three of the five cities involved. The Shores could not cast a decision because it has no local court, since a State law abolished the justice of the peace court system as of January 1, 1969.

Expect Park to Follow

Park City Manager Robert Stone said that city council will meet on Monday, January 12, at 5 p.m., and indications are that the council will adopt a resolution to reject the district system. The council turned down a chance to become part of the system in 1968, when the State Legislature passed a bill creating District Courts.

Grosse Pointe City Manager Thomas Kressbach said that he could not speak for the council of his community, but indications are that the city body would adopt a formal resolution on Monday, January 19, as required by a new legislation, and decline the invitation to join the district court system.

In 1968, the Michigan Legislature enacted a bill creating the District Court System, and at the same time, abolishing the office of justice of the peace.

The wording of the new law was such that the door was closed to some cities desiring to join the higher court system.

Given Second Chance

Recently, the State Legislature enacted House Bill No. 3204, which now gives those communities which have not done so, a second chance to replace their municipal courts with District courts. The bill was signed by Governor Milliken on January 3.

Rep. Donald E. Holbrook, Jr. (R., Clare), chairman of the Subcommittee on District Courts of the House Judiciary Committee, dispatched communications to all communities that had not previously joined such a system, indicating they can do so now.

He drew attention to the fact that if these cities wish to retain their municipal courts, their respective councils should pass a resolution to that effect, and that this should be done on or before Monday, January 19.

When the Grosse Pointe City Council meets on January 19, its regular meeting date, it will just make the deadline.

Youngster Lands Black Tip Shark

Theodore Belitsos, the seven-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Belitsos, of 871 Balfour road, landed his own Christmas present this year.

While on a holiday trip to Miami, Fla., the youngster hauled in a seven and one-half foot Black Tip Shark off Haul-over Beach Park Marina on Christmas Day. The huge fish tipped the scales at nearly 150 pounds.

Although the boy fought the shark alone for about two hours, it took a blast from a shotgun to finally end the battle. The youngster retained two fine fins as a souvenir of his encounter with the shark.

Offer Classes In Languages

Foreign Language Classes are open for the winter semester enrollment for Grosse Pointe adults. The Department of Community Services has announced the week of January 12 as the starting time for the 10-week sessions in classes for French, Spanish, German, Italian, and English for New Americans.

Foreign language conversation courses are available for beginners as well as those who may have some working knowledge of a second language. Instruction is offered by an experienced and talented staff whose practical approach and teaching techniques are designed to assist the student to a quick and comfortable grasp of a new language at the student's own rate of learning.

"No Final Exams, No Report Cards, and No Failures" is an advertised slogan of Grosse Pointe Public School Adult Education Program. In this atmosphere of non-threatening, non-stifling instruction the adult student finds the most difficult of skills presented in a comfortable and satisfying manner.

Classes in Beginning French are scheduled on Mondays; Intermediate French on Wednesdays; Advance French on Thursdays.

Classes in Beginning German are scheduled on Mondays; Intermediate German on Wednesdays.

Classes in Beginning Italian are scheduled on Wednesdays;

Intermediate Italian on Wednesdays.

Classes in Beginning Spanish are scheduled on Tuesdays; Intermediate Spanish on Mondays; Advance Spanish on Wednesdays.

English for New Americans is scheduled on Tuesdays.

These sessions begin during the week of January 12 and the registration fee is $12. It is necessary to call the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 or 8850271 to make a reservation. Interested adults are urged to call immediately to secure information and become properly enrolled.

LARCENY FROM A TRUCK
James Ranger, 17840 East Jefferson, reported to City police that sometime between Tuesday, December 30, and Wednesday, December 31, persons unknown had entered his garage through an unlocked window and removed spark plug wires, air cleaner, oil cap and distributor from his '68 Dodge pickup truck. The telephone wires leading into the garage also were cut.

Recover Stolen Car in Kentucky

A late model car that was not known to have been stolen, was reported recovered in Pikeville, Ky., by police of that state, it was disclosed on Monday, January 5, by Park Det. Sgt. James LaPratt.

The vehicle, a 1962 Chevrolet sedan, was left at Ted Ewald Chevrolet company, 15175 East Jefferson, for servicing by the owner Janet DeBeauclair of 2168 Allard, on December 22.

Being held by Kentucky State Police on a charge of possession of a stolen vehicle, is Cecil Hurley, 21, no known address. The Kentucky authorities will handle the prosecution under their statutes. Hurley confessed to stealing the auto, and Park police were notified of the theft and recovery.

The car, stolen sometime between December 22 and December 28, was returned to Michigan by an employee sent to Pikeville by the car sales firm. Hurley was arrested for a traffic violation on December 29, after which he confessed to stealing the automobile, which no one knew was missing.

Lack of Mortgage Money Is Binding

It's just a question of tight money."
Why the tight money market? Three factors given.
"Tight money and high interest rates are essentially the result of three factors," pointed out French. "They are basic supply and demand, federal controls and a sharp rise in the cost of funds that banks borrow."
"The supply of funds—bank deposits—have simply not been able to match the record demand for loans," he said. "In addition, personal credit demands have remained high with no marked upswing in personal saving."

"Federal controls were tightened during 1969 and banks are now required to keep a higher percentage of deposits on reserve with the Federal Reserve Bank," French continued. "Obviously, this reduced the supply of lendable funds."
Banks Borrow Too
"Finally, it is a fact that banks are borrowers too," he said. "Last year, American dollars held by foreign nationals (Eurodollars) and money loaned by one bank to another (Fed Funds) cost us as much as 10 per cent. Banks cannot loan money to persons at eight percent, if it is costing them 10 percent to get it in the first place."

Although French told the NEWS he hopes he can look back on 1970 and see "just how wrong I was about the mortgage situation," there are few indications that he will be wrong at all.

all Woods residents that the community's recently passed parking ordinance, banning the parking of all vehicles on city streets between the hours of 3 to 5 a.m., will go into effect on Thursday, January 15.

Petersen pointed out that first-time offenders of the ordinance will receive warnings, but a second offense will warrant a ticket and a trip to court.
Any resident who can demonstrate that he cannot possibly comply with the ordinance or that it would impose an extreme hardship, can make application to the Public Safety Department for a permanent on-street parking permit. Those residents, who demonstrate temporary problems in meeting the stipulations of the ordinance are able to apply for a temporary permit from the Public Safety Department.

So it looks as if before too long the Kuehnels will have to turn "little waif" over to the Humane Society, who will keep him for five days and then find him a new home. However the Kuehnels are hoping his owner will read this story and claim "little waif" who obviously misses his old home very much.

Experts from the Smithsonian Institute claim that the average reaction time of males, is definitely faster than women's—by as much as 25%.
The experts explain that, because men react more swiftly, they are better suited for lively endeavors. They make better pilots, better drivers. For that matter they are better at anything that requires fast judgement and quick on-the-trigger action . . .

cracks more readily. Fabrics in carpets and upholstery become more brittle—wear faster when their natural moisture is lost to dry air. Your health may suffer, too. Resistance to cold and infection is lowered because when parched air dries out the mucous membranes of the nose and throat, their efficiency in repelling airborne disease germs is greatly reduced. Many of those creams and facial preparations could be reduced by avoiding low humidity readings that often cause dry skin and hair conditions.
The answer, of course, is the Carrier humidifier. It works with your furnace system to raise humidity levels to the proper point, and a humidistat control allows you to set the desired levels. It has the capacity to give you plenty of moisture 24 hours a day, yet only as you need it. And lining can't affect the working parts of the unit of the furnace. It's the best on the market, and we at Williams have more experience than any other dealer in its installation.
The answer to worn out heating system is of course to replace it, and we recommend the Carrier furnace; known for its long life, dependability, and low fuel bills. We'll be glad to offer you a free survey of your home to determine just what size Carrier furnace will be best for you.

Third Burglary Suspect Nabbed

A third man sought in the December 20 burglary of the home of Mrs. Mary Reilly, 572 Barrington road, was arrested by Park Det. Sgt. James LaPratt on Tuesday, December 30, in a home in Chalmers avenue, Detroit.

Accused as the third man is James S. Combs, 18, of 1293 Hillger, Detroit, the same address as that of two others charged in the same burglary, J. Harold Norris, 27; and Donald R. Carmack, 24. Combs was arrested after LaPratt, who had been searching for him, traced him to the Chalmers residence. Combs was arraigned before Park Municipal Judge William E. Speer the morning of his arrest and entered a plea of guilty to breaking and entering. The plea was refused by the judge because Combs was not represented by an attorney. The youth asked the court to appoint a lawyer for him.

Combs was remanded to the Wayne County Jail in default of a $5,000 bond, to await examination set for yesterday, January 7.

Norris and Carmack, who were to have been examined on December 31, were also examined yesterday, with Combs. The judge set the new date when Park Det. Charles Petrie, one of the complaining witnesses, left for California to attend a funeral of a close relative.

The arrest of the three men was made possible because a woman neighbor of the Reilly family decided to become involved. She spotted the trio in a panel truck, acting suspiciously. She saw the truck being backed up into the Reilly garage, which door was unlocked.

About 20 minutes later, the neighbor saw the truck pull away from the Reilly property, and trained a pair of binoculars on the vehicle and got the license plate number. She gave the number to Mrs. Reilly, who in turn gave it to police. Petrie and Det. Robert Salfryd, traced the license number to the Hillger address, and arrested Norris and Carmack. Combs made good his escape. LaPratt said that all three of the accused are drug addicts, and all were going to sell the items stolen from the Reilly home to raise money to buy drugs.

Police were able to recover two rifles, a shotgun and several items of jewelry, except two watches. Also not recovered was the Reilly's portable television set.

The neighbor was lauded by police for her interest in the matter and for her involvement. She was given credit for the apprehension of the suspects, since it was her information that led to the arrests.

New Programs For Pre-Schooler

The Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church School has begun its winter trimester with a new program for pre-schoolers according to Mrs. John C. Krato, Religious Education Director.

Children are placed in development and interest groups called Caterpillars, Tadpoles and Purple Pollywogs.

The Caterpillars, under the guidance of Mrs. Harmon Nine, will discover world festivals, holidays, holy days and Bible stories in their sessions entitled "Myself and Others." The children will learn about other cultures through the use of UNICEF materials.

The Tadpoles, led by Mrs. Karen Ledertong and the Purple Pollywogs, under the direction of Mrs. William McCubbin, will be exploring "More About Our World," with emphasis on nature, creative art activities, music and drama. These programs are being co-ordinated by Mrs. William Lacey, Pre-School Co-ordinator, and Mrs. Thomas Bolton, Religious Education Director.

The program has been initiated through the efforts of the church's Religious Education Committee chaired by Creighton Ledere, and including Dr. Andrew Reeves, Robert Dupuis, Mrs. Erik Erikson, Sirk Zjijstra, Mrs. Gene Loren, Mrs. Donald Young, Robert Welch, Mrs. George Graham and Mrs. Fred Birnie-Visscher.

Anyone desiring further information on these programs may contact Mrs. Bolton or Mrs. Krato at TUxedo 1-0420.

Return Missing Girl to Father

Rose Nasir, 19 of 11021 Wilshire, Detroit, was reported missing by her sister on January 2. The sister notified City police that Rose was visiting their sick mother in Bon Secours Hospital when she told her mother she needed some air. She never returned.

City officers checked the hospital but could find no trace of the girl. The missing girl's description was broadcast to all cars.

An hour later Grosse Pointe Shores police received a call from a Sheldon road resident, who said the girl had come to his door saying she was cold. He finally called police when the girl refused to allow him to call her father.

The girl had apparently walked from Bon Secours to Sheldon and shed her coat and shoes en route. She was taken to the Shores police station and released to her father.

Men Offered Gym And Swim

Gym and swim classes are available to men who want to tone up their sagging muscles. The Grosse Pointe Public Schools' Adult Education program offers this opportunity to men who want and need exercise in moderate and enjoyable form.

Volley ball is the order of the day for the many men who look forward eagerly to each Wednesday at South High School or Thursday at North High School.

Plows Hindered By Parked Cars

The cooperation of Farms residents is being asked by Director of Public Service John DeFoe, in that the residents remove their automobiles, or other vehicles, from city streets following heavy snowfalls. The request is made so that snow plows can do a better job of clearing the thoroughfares.

DeFoe said that this service, rendered by the city, is hampered by the many cars parked on the streets, forcing the plows to go around them, thereby causing piles of snow to be pushed against the vehicles, which is unavoidable.

The snow piled against the cars creates an imposition on the citizens, who must undergo the back-breaking labor of shoveling the white stuff to free their autos, he said.

Another inconvenience, DeFoe added, is when the owners leave their cars parked at the curb with the snow surrounding them for days. During this time, the snow would have an opportunity to solidify into a hard mass, which the owners might not be able to remove until spring, or until this mass melts.

The Farms has been giving its residents this type of service for a number of years, and is anxious to continue this function. The car owners can be of tremendous help if they park their vehicles either in their garages, or driveways, and keep them off the streets, wherever possible, after the snow has fallen.

Heed the weather reports, DeFoe pleaded. When, and if, a heavy snow storm is predicted, it takes only a few short minutes to put a car in the garage, or on the driveway. If the snow is falling, when citizens arrive home, day or night, if possible, keep cars off the streets. Plows will be operation almost as soon as the snow stops coming down, he added.

Schedule Class On Income Tax

Income Tax classes will be offered by the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, Department of Community Services for the second year. "The many taxpayers who found this tax service of such exceptional value last year have prompted us to set up another series of four meetings to offer expert guidance once again," says Director Richard Kay.

The course is designed to simplify the language and eliminate some of the confusion of what the law allows and what it does not allow. Sample forms will be available for these sessions and it is possible to come close to completing an income tax return during the Questions concerning reportable income, capital gains, Michigan State Income Tax, computation and payment of taxes, and the many, many intricate possibilities for deductions, will be part of the content covered. Questions that arise out of group discussion, such as this course offers, are questions that an individual may never have had across his mind. The obvious possibilities for valuable sav-

Controversial Chairman Relected by Supervisors

Albert J. Zak, controversial chairman of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, was relected as chairman this week by a vote of 20 for Zak and 4 abstentions.

"Zak has not provided the leadership a chairman should provide," Bryant said, "and everyone on the board knows that. The Democrats failed to come forth with any other candidate though and there was no chance for the other Republican, Carl Pursell, or myself to be elected chairman."

Bryant and Pursell had talked to all the supervisors about the chairmanship and it was evident the Democrats would insist on electing another Democrat.

"They know we have worked harder and more constructively than almost any of them, but this was a partisan issue with the Democratic majority," Bryant explained.

next best thing, a former non-partisan mayor." Challenges of the 70's have much to do with County government according to Bryant. The County has jurisdiction over the air pollution control program, owns the airport, staffs the courts, prosecutor's office and sheriff's department, has local responsibility for welfare assistance and is generally involved in the most crucial urban problems.

"The role of Wayne County will increase in the 70's in those areas of concern which are regional in nature," Bryant foresees. "The struggle to save our environment, problems of public health, organized crime, illegal drug activity, recreation, rapid transit and many others, must be solved at the lowest, most local, government level, but cannot be solved by individual municipalities. We must retain local control over education, general law enforcement and other local concerns and should also avoid broad powered metropolitan government."

"The 60's," Bryant concluded, "saw a new awareness of many critical issues, but now that awareness must be directed toward finding solutions which are consistent with democracy and free enterprise."

Offers Children's French Classes

A new series of French classes for children will begin at Grosse Pointe War Memorial January 17 and continue on Saturday mornings for 10 weeks through March 21. There is a 10 to 11 a.m. class for boys and girls age 5-10 and an 11 to 12 o'clock class for ages 10 to 15.

All the young people learn basic French vocabulary, simple songs, counting and games. They become familiar with correct accent and begin to think in the language.

The instructor is Mme Henriette LaCroix who has taught French for years in the adult Education Program of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. The fee is $15 for the 10-week term of children's French.

FOR SALE SIGN STOLEN Frederick Hartwig, 424 Cadieux, called City police on Monday, December 29, to report that persons unknown had removed the "For Sale" sign from in front of his residence sometime between Sunday, December 28, and Monday, December 29.

Farms Votes To Amend Its Water Law

The Farms council on Monday, January 5, adopted an amendment to the city's Water Revenue Bond Ordinance, and also voted to pass on to its residential consumers a sewage treatment rate increase recently imposed by the Detroit Water Department.

The amendment stipulates that if any consumer has reason to believe that his water meter is defective and he doubts the re-reading of the meter, he may apply to the Municipal Building, 90 Kerby road, and deposit $5, to have the meter checked.

If the test shows the meter to be in error at three percent or more, in favor of the consumer, the deposit will be refunded, and an adjustment will be made accordingly, to the previous quarterly.

However, if the meter is correct, within three percent, the consumer's deposit will be retained by the city, and the consumer must pay the full amount of his current bill.

Water meters will be read on a quarterly basis, and the bills will be mailed out at the end of each quarterly period, and must be paid on or before due date, otherwise, a late penalty charge of five percent will be added. If the bill is not paid within 30 days after due date, the water will be subject to shut off, and if it is, it will not be turned on again until the account is settled in full and a charge of $5 is paid for resumption of service.

Water will be furnished by the Farms system, and measured by a meter installed and controlled by the city.

Under the ordinance, the water rate, except under existing contracts, shall be as follows: $2 per 1,000 cubic feet in any quarter; minimum charge: 1,500 cubic feet at $2 per 1,000 cubic feet, $3 per quarter.

The rates became effective as of Thursday, January 1, as did the sewage treatment charge demanded by Detroit. The treatment rate has been raised from 36 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of water used by the consumer, to 70 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of water used.

The Farms has its own Water Filtration Plant and sells water to the City, which in turn sells it to its residents.

The Farms controls its water rates, but like all the communities in the Detroit Metropolitan area, its sewage is passed through Detroit interceptors for treatment at Detroit plants, and the city sets its rates for this, which communities receiving this service are forced to pass on to their own people.

Scoring the Pointes

By Phil Lorauger

Just one more weekend remains until the husbands of thousands of Pointe wives return to their families.

Although these wayward but gallant fellows have really never wondered far from their dependants, except for an occasional Saturday spent leaning on the "old oak" of a nearby "local," each weekend from about high noon Saturday until sunset Sunday, has found them sitting dazed before the family television set, watching the college and professional grid teams battle through a long and varied season.

The Super Bowl contest Sunday will put an end to such activities, which began in mid-August with the first of the professional pre-season contests.

Few wives who have suffered through this annual "Instant Replay—Stop Action" season, really care who the Minnesota Vikings or the Kansas City Chiefs are, but they'll be applauding the winner of the game, because it will guarantee at least 28 weekends in which husbands will become part of the family once again.

Sure, we all feel a great deal of sympathy for the poor, lonely wives, but what about us beleaguered husbands, bound by our own code of ethics to faithfully sit weekend after weekend through at least three gruelling contests, who had to take our meals in front of that TV and could barely stagger to bed at the conclusion of a day. It wasn't easy!

Sadly enough, I was one of them. It was about August 22, I believe, that I last saw my wife, Joanie, on a Saturday or Sunday. Picking it back together, I think she disappeared shortly after Lem Barney had returned a Kansas City punt for a Lion touchdown in the year's first exhibition game.

I seem to remember her coming back onto the scene for two weekends just after the college season drew to a close, but she vanished again just before New Year's Day at noon. Ah, New Year's Day, known to us veteran watchers as "Television's Greatest Hours."

I tell you it took time to prepare for those football classes. It was up early to check the TV for clarity and color; a quick run to the store to purchase the necessary items for combat—beer, cheese, crackers, pretzels and assorted snacks; the placing of tables and chairs in just the right order for easy reaching without obstructing my view of the set, and the placing of phone calls to friends and neighbors, warning them that I was not to be disturbed until midnight. The games were on!

It was Notre Dame and Texas, Arkansas and Ole Miss, Michigan and Southern California and, finally, Missouri and Penn State. Twelve hours after the initial kickoff, I wandered through the house, seeking my bedroom and a quiet retreat. It was all over and I had stuck it out to the very end.

I couldn't help feel the pride of accomplishment welling in my chest as my head hit the pillow, while still wondering: "Where is my wife?" Yeah, it's tough on our wives, but it's tough on us, too. I think we deserve a lot of credit.

Skis and Rack Stolen from Car

Robert G. Rinaldi, of 2018 Hunt Club, reported to Woods police on Saturday, January 3, that, while he and a friend were having lunch at Blazo's Country Fair Restaurant, at 19299 Mack avenue, their automobile was burglarized.

Rinaldi told Woods Public Safety Officer James Davidson that three pairs of skis, valued at more than $480, and a Bear Grafter ski rack had been taken from the car, which had been parked in the restaurant's parking lot.

Rinaldi said the leather straps which held the rack with a car top had been cut with a sharp instrument.

Set Discussion On Education

Current educational reform proposals being considered by the State Legislature will be discussed at 8 o'clock on Sunday evening, January 11, at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Maumee avenue.

Dan Wilburn, political consultant of the Michigan Education Association (MEA), will be the featured speaker.

Commander Wes Burnet, program chairman, invites friends and foes of educational reform to attend and participate in this controversial hearing, which is one of a series of evening forums sponsored by the church.

Lions Grid Loop Elects Officers

The Board of Directors of the Grosse Pointe Lions Little Football League at their December meeting elected the following to serve as executive operating officers for the 1970 football season: Donald Armbruster, president; Harry Chancey, vice-president; Warren Anderson, vice-president and secretary; Dr. Thomas Neumann, treasurer, and James Steen, athletic director.

Don Armbruster and Jim Steen will be the League's representatives while Magruder Jones and Bob Brower will act as alternates.

Titans Capture Holiday Tourney

The Neighborhood Giant League conducted the Bent Wickard Holiday Invitational Basketball Tournament over the east two Saturdays, with the Titans claiming the championship in the last game.

In the final series of contests on Saturday, January 3, the Spartans turned back the Ducks and the Badgers clipped the Wolverines 32-21, with Mark Johnson, Dave Coolidge and Joe Schwantz leading the scoring parade. Ralph Cross led all scorers with 13 points for the Wolverines.

Bob Truciano, Steve Zaranek and Jim Talmadge led the Titans to an extremely hard-fought win over the Hoosiers in a 20-18 battle. Mark Wickard, Mike Shook and Bill Crocker kept the Hoosiers close until the final minutes of the contest.

The Hawkeyes bowed 22-19 in another close game with the Wildcats, who were led by Doug Edwards, Rick Steiger and Jim Michalak. Chris DeCoster and Mike Hryciuk led the Hawkeye scorers.

In the championship game, the spirited Titans were just too much for the tired Wildcats, bouncing the 'Cats to the tune of a 23-16 score.

Ed Tropp, Steve Zaranek and Jim Talmadge led the Titan scorers.

The regular Giant League season gets underway on Saturday, January 10, at North High School, as eight teams go to the court floor to do battle.

BOAT SLIPS AWAY

Jeff Bartsch, 395 Lakeland, called City police on Thursday, January 1, to report his six-foot boat had apparently fallen from the top of his station wagon somewhere between Lakeland and Moross on Jefferson on that date.

Ski Club Plans Two Fine Trips

A trip to Collingwood, Canada, to ski Blue Mountain and Georgian Peaks is set for the week end of January 17-19 by Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Adult Ski Club. They will stay at the New Heidelberg Inn, traveling there by highway bus and being shuttled to and from the slopes by same. The trip promises to be a sell out at $35 per person, (four in a room), or $39, (two in a room). On February 27, the Grosse Pointe Ski Club has a great 10 day Western ski trip set to the High Sierras of California and Nevada. This trip is filling rapidly and no wonder for it is a great bargain. Round trip charter United Airlines jet to Reno with free cocktails and steak dinner, charter bus transfer to and from Lake Tahoe, deluxe lodging, two to a room, with private bath at Harvey's Resort Hotel, two free cocktail parties and 25 per cent discount off lift tickets at Heavenly Valley are all included for $250. Quick access to Squaw Valley, Alpine Meadows and Ski Incline give a wide variety of skiing experience. In addition, gourmet dining and headline entertainment are available at low cost plus the thrill of the gaming tables. Reservations for this trip should be made at once. Membership in Grosse Pointe Ski Club is just $5 a year for single people and $8 for married couples and one-third of this amount is set aside for parties.

Bandit Worked; Band Played On

A bold thief tripped the light fantastic through the home of David J. Oliver, while he and a group of friends engaged in a musical session in the basement.

Oliver told Woods police on Tuesday, January 1, that an unknown culprit stole a number of items from his home, located at 745 Moorland, in the early morning hours, while he and three friends played their musical instruments. During a break in the session, one of the party went upstairs and found the items missing.

Taken by the light-footed bandit, were two stereo phonograph speakers, values at about $100, a stereo turntable, valued at $50, and a blue, cotton jacket, all of which belonged to Oliver. Neil M. Nadler, of 14011 Oak Park Blvd., Oak Park, one of the visiting musicians, reported that the thief took his fur-colored top coat, his wallet and a set of car keys.

Another guest, John P. Formella, of 916 Canterbury, said his jacket, worth $40, and his wallet, which contained $160, were also taken by the brazen bandit.

Extensive investigation by Woods police led to the discovery of a set of footprints which led from the front walk of the residence to a fence behind the home. The prints ended at a patio, located in the rear portion of the structure.

Hand prints in the snow indicated the culprit was forced to jump the fence.

Police Nab Young Group With Marijuana

Four Pointers were among seven persons arrested on New Year's Day in Wixom, Mich., for possession of narcotics.

The four included Michael Hume, 19, of 461 University; Peter L. Vlahantones, of 1937 Edshire; Karen E. Barr, 17, of 20738 Wendy lane and James J. McNamara, 21, of 259 Touraine. Also arrested were Sharon Johnson, of 22937 Lingerman, St. Clair Shores; Peter Schwartz, 20, of 6611 Maxwell, Detroit and Dawn Livingstone, of 1121 Buckingham, Detroit.

The NEWS received the following information from Wixom Police Chief Thomas F. McGuire: Wixom police officers Vern Darlington and Roger deClercq were on routine patrol on January 31, at 10:30 p.m. when they observed an Econo-Van truck without a license plate light proceeding in an erratic manner and straddling the center line.

They stopped the driver, Peter Schwartz, and requested his operator's license and registration. Schwartz appeared to be in a dazed condition. He had no operator's license on his person, and was issued a violation.

He told the officers that John McNamara, who was among a group of six persons sitting and lying on the floor of the truck, had the registration. McNamara was unable to stand under his own power.

At this point the officers called for assistance from the Walled Lake Police Department and the Oakland County Sheriff's Office, who responded immediately.

Darlington and deClercq then asked the passengers to produce identification. In the process, they noticed a number of pills, containers and a plastic bag of suspicious looking material in the truck. The materials were confiscated, the vehicle impounded and the subjects released.

Wixom police then ran a field test on the suspicious material and found it to be marijuana. The other materials were sent to the Michigan State Crime Laboratory for analysis, results of which are still pending.

Wixom police then requested Oakland County Prosecutor to issue warrants for the arrest of the seven. Warrants were issued and the seven were arrested by local police departments.

All stood mute on arraignment before Judge Martin Boyle of the Walled Lake District Court and the judge directed that pleas of innocent be entered for them. They were released on $1,000 bond each pending examination on January 13.

Bumper Stickers Back Up Agnew

Four Detroit-area men in the communications field have rallied to the support of Vice-President Spiro Agnew with the so-called Southeastern Michigan Chapter, Silent Majority Association, and with auto bumper stickers reading, "Spear 'em, Spiro!"; "Sock it to 'em, Spiro!"; and "Tell it like it is, Spiro!"

Creators of the nation's first Silent Majority Association are: Robert R. Joseph, president of Commercial Printing & Imprinting Co., Detroit; W. Loren Brinkman, co-owner of Skyline Studios, art studio, Detroit; Carl B. Anderson, president of Anderson Associates, ad agency, Royal Oak; and John David Williams, public relations manager, Reynolds Metal Company, Southfield.

The group indicated "the selection of the name was somewhat tongue-in-cheek" but insists "there must be truth in Agnew's remarks, or why has the snide laughter of detractors among the broadcasting media representatives suddenly changed to harsh indignation?"

They also pointed to the fact that both Gallup and Harris public opinion polls, taken immediately after Agnew's speech, show more than 65 percent of the people agreed with Agnew's evaluation of broadcast news handling. A set of the three Agnew support stickers is available for 50 cents, from the Southeastern Michigan Chapter, Silent Majority Association, P. O. Box 712, Royal Oak, Mich. 48068.

Library Friends Meeting Jan. 13

"The Moon Landings - Immediate and Future Benefits" is the topic of the meeting of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, January 13, at 8 p.m. at Parcels Middle School Auditorium.

Dr. Hamilton Stillwell, program chairman of the Friends, will introduce the speaker of the evening, Professor Wilbur Nelson, chairman of the Department of Aerospace Engineering at the University of Michigan. Following Professor Nelson's talk there will be an opportunity for questions and answers.

Peter Stalker II is president of the Friends this year. Mrs. Marjorie Scott, Alger Sheldon, Jr. and Mrs. Clarence Livingood are vice-presidents. Cleveland Thurber, Jr. is the treasurer and Phillip Barr, secretary.

Publicity for the Friends programs is under the direction of Mrs. Richard B. Gushee and Ralph M. Burton.

The public is cordially invited to attend the meeting and take part in the discussion of this most current topic. The admission is free.

Pointers Can Play Hosts To Teachers from Europe

Pointers can play host to elementary and secondary school teachers from European countries for one to two weeks this summer by participating in the American Host Program, which is a person-to-person project that brings teachers from the free nations of Europe to the United States as guests of American families. The object of the program is to enable these teachers to gain a realistic and truthful understanding of American life.

No fee is involved for the hosts other than providing room and board for the teachers.

The American Host Program is unique in that, although it is endorsed by members of Congress and government agencies, it obtains no funds whatsoever from the government. It is funded through The American Host Foundation, a non-profit organization. The program is made possible by contributions from individuals, industry and the visiting teachers themselves, who pay a major portion of the costs.

The visitors will arrive in New York in July, where they will spend three days before traveling to the home of their host families. Each teacher stays with at least two host families in the same geographical area during their visit.

This is a wonderful opportunity to participate in correcting misconceptions and falsehoods about America as well as make new and interesting friends.

Anyone interested in the program should contact The Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Maumee at Neff, The Pointe's representative to American Host, where folders describing the program, and applications are available.

Men Gardeners Meet Jan. 15

The first regular meeting of the Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe for 1970 will be held on Thursday, January 15 at 8 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore road, Grosse Pointe Farms.

"Gardening Indoors" will be the topic presented by club member Edmund J. Boell, Jr. Mr. Boell is a past-president and long time board member of the Men's Garden Club of Detroit. He holds a degree in Horticulture from Michigan State University.

Mr. Boell was affiliated with the DePetris Corporation for 23 years, and is presently senior floriculturist for the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation. He is in charge of plant collections in the Belle Isle Conservatory. Mr. Boell is a qualified judge of the Men's Garden Club of America.

Assisting Mr. Boell will be Richard Page, a graduate of Duke University and presently a conservatory staff member in charge of orchids. The speakers will bring plants from the conservatory and demonstrate how they can be grown in our homes, including soil preparation and potting procedures.

Thieves Include TV Sets in Loot

Portable television sets appear to be premium loot to burglars, since nearly every burglary reported to police by home owners and others, includes missing sets.

Two Park home owners reported their residences had been invaded during their absence, and included among the lists of items taken were portable TVs, according to information given by Det. Sgt. James LaPratt.

Burglarized were the homes of Henry Stoen, 757 Trombley road, on Tuesday, December 30; and Frank Zimm, 656 Lakepointe, on Wednesday, December 31.

Stone told police that he left home at 4 p.m., leaving the house in darkness, and returned at about 9:45 p.m. to find the glass of the side door broken, and several lights on, and the house ransacked.

He said he found a desk drawer in his den on the first floor had been pried open, and a small strong box forced open. The contents of both drawer and box were scattered about the floor.

Stone said that taken from his second floor bedroom was a 21-inch portable TV, and an undetermined amount of foreign currency. Also missing is a portable short wave radio from the den, he added.

Zimm said his family was absent from home for two hours, from 5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Entry into the house was gained by breaking the glass of the sliding door leading into the family room.

Zimm said that a decorated Christmas tree in front of the door had been knocked over by the intruder. The entire house was searched by the burglar, who escaped with a portable color television set, and $21 dollars in cash, from a dresser drawer in the master bedroom.

Church School Slates Sessions

The trimester church school session has begun at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church. The religious implications in the two electives offered fifth and sixth graders are of particular consequence in this modern age. The children are learning to make responsible moral judgments in the elective course entitled, "Decision Making."

The other elective, "Crisis in the Cities" is designed to make youngsters more aware of the problems of the big cities.

Among the speakers participating are Dr. Andrew Reeves, research scientist, who will discuss the pollution crisis from both a scientific and moral view on Sunday, January 11; David Cason, Director of the Model Cities Program, who will appear on January 18 to illustrate one of the possible solutions to the housing crisis; and John Nelson, Administrator of Metropolitan Hospital, who will discuss the health problems involving the poor in the city on January 25.

Teachers in charge of these courses include Mrs. Nell Barbour, mother of four and a community-oriented citizen; Thomas J. Bolton, Director of Community Relations-Community Health Association and Dr. William Rioux, of Merrill Palmer Institute.

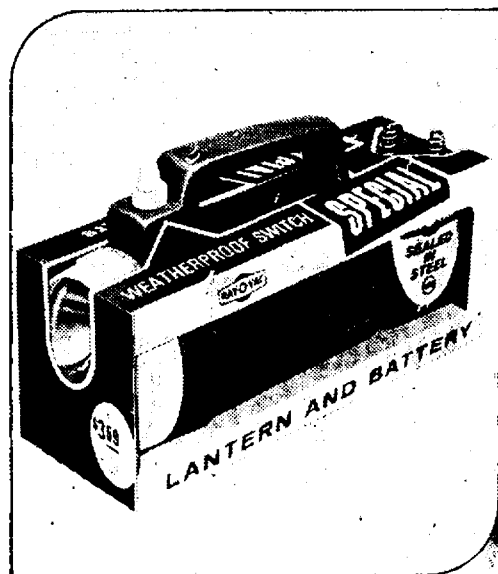

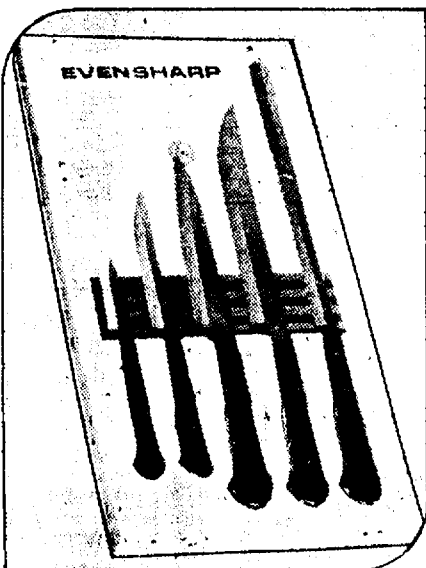

The Church School invites any interested fifth or sixth graders to take part in these stimulating child centered courses. For additional information call 881-5325.

Pointe Wildcats Split Two Games

This year 80 Pee Wee and Bantam teams from the U.S. and Canada will play in the Silver Sticks Tournament. The opening rounds are held in Watford, Ontario. The Pointe Wildcats faced off against a team from Point Edward, Ontario on Friday, January 2, in the Watford Arena.

Jeff Welscher scored the only first period goal, with an assist from Brian Cammett. In the second period Point Edward got the first two goals. Brian Cammett then tied the score, and Jeff Welscher received the assist.

Point Edward scored twice in the third period for their 4-2 win. John Baitan and Dennis Austin were strong on defense, as was Billy Kidd's net minding. On Saturday, the Wildcats met Northwest in a regular league game. Thinking and total team effort produced a 6-2 victory for the Wildcats.

The first Wildcat's goal was scored by Jeff Welscher, a slap shot from just inside the point position after a pass from Brian Cammett. Dave Maxwell then scored during a goal mouth scramble, with assistance from Tom McCubbin.

Northwest made the score 2-1 in the beginning of the second period, but the Wildcats added two more. Brian Cammett scored one of his two goals for Jeff Welscher in this period. The other one came in the third. Brian Carron was in perfect position to bang in the rebound after Pat Fox's rush down the ice was deflected by the goalie. Jim Klimchuk opened the third period scoring with an unassisted goal. Northwest scored their second goal with only 58 seconds left in the game.

Most of today's troubles are the unpleasant, unperformed tasks we pushed aside yesterday.

SENATE DEMOCRATIC LEADER Mike Mansfield said Sunday the Senate should start the new year by repealing a series of resolutions which give "extraordinary war powers" to the President. "I think that all of these powers, including the President's extraordinary war powers of the Formosa Resolution, the Mideast Resolution and the Tonkin Gulf Resolution, can be done away with," Mansfield said.

Burglar Drops Off Stolen Purse

A woman's purse, reported stolen from the home of Mrs. Nancy Buswinka, 1114 Nottingham, was pushed through the louvers of a window of the Park municipal garage, and recovered by one of the city employees who found it on the floor of the building, it was disclosed by Park Det. Sgt. James LaPratt.

The theft of the purse and the recovery took place on Tuesday, December 30. All the contents of the bag were intact, except $150 in cash, which the owner said it had contained, was gone.

Mrs. Buswinka, who was in a downstairs room, told police that she was lying down on a couch in the room because she was not feeling well. She said she heard running foot steps on the second floor, then she saw a figure dash down the stairs and out the front door. She called police and checked the upstairs and found the purse missing from her bedroom.

Investigating officers said that the thief entered the house by climbing the second floor, then raised the bathroom window, after which he punctured a hole through the inner screen, and crawled into the bathroom.

Mrs. Buswinka was not aware anything was amiss until she heard the person running, it was disclosed.
She employed at the municipal garage took the purse to Herbert Heger, director of Public Services, who in turn gave it to police.

ALLIED AND COMMUNIST troops clashed in the heaviest fighting in northern South Vietnam since the start of a "winter-spring" campaign by the North Vietnamese and Vietcong two months ago, military spokesmen said Sunday. The Communists shelled and attacked allied outposts near Danang and also lobbed mortars into two northern refugee centers, communiques reported.

A U.S. MILITARY NEWS-CASTER, who told American troops during a live telecast that they were receiving censored news reports, said Sunday night he was repeatedly questioned about the newscast being granted legal counsel. The newscaster was Army Spec. 5 Robert Lawrence, 27, of Atlanta, Ga. Lt. Col. James Adams, director of the Armed Forces Vietnam Network said there will be no official comment until completion of an investigation of the incident.

Tuesday, January 6
JOSEPH A. (JOCK) YABLONSKI, who lost a bitter election for the presidency of the United Mine Workers last month, was found Monday shot to death in his home in Clarksville, Pa., along with his wife, Margaret, and his daughter, Charlotte. State police said the trio all had been murdered.

ROMAN S. GRIBBS, 44, former Wayne County Sheriff, was sworn in as mayor of Detroit today during 5:30 p.m. ceremonies in Ford Auditorium. Councilman Mel J. Ravitz was sworn in as president of the Common Council, George C. Edwards as city clerk and Robert J. Temple as city treasurer. Nine councilmen were sworn in. They are Ravitz, Nicholas Hood, William G. Levin, David Eberhard and Rogell, Robert Tindal, Anthony Ernest C. Browne, Jr. All 12 officials will fill four-year terms.

What makes a man leave the people he knows, the home he made, even the language he speaks, to come here?

A better way to live. Where an ordinary man can do the things he thought were just for others.

Where a man can own his own home. Maybe with a backyard and a fence.

Where a man can give his children an education. A good one at that.

This is American living. And there are waiting lists, ten feet tall, of immigrant families waiting to come here. Most of us know about the good things around here. Although sometimes we forget.

So what are we supposed to do?

Well, for one thing, we can invest in our country. Not everyone can boast that. Invest in U.S. Savings Bonds. They help make America economically strong. And there's nothing wrong with a little old American pride.

For another thing, Bonds help you. They grow at a guaranteed rate, so you'll have a nice bundle for some rainy day.

What's more, Savings Bonds are easy to buy. You can pick them up where you work in a Payroll Savings Plan. (Someone else does the paper work.) Or you can buy Bonds where you bank.

When a family leaves behind an old familiar way of life to start a new one, there are some reasons. Reasons you might like to invest in.

Take stock in America

High School Info Night Is Slated

All eighth grade Brownell Middle School students and their parents are invited to an informational meeting at 7:30 next Wednesday evening, January 14, concerning enrollment procedures for Grosse Pointe North and South High Schools next fall.

Representatives of the administrative and counseling staffs of both schools will be present to discuss the instructional program, to be followed by an explanation of Brownell's plans for programming by counselors. Ample time will also be provided for questions from the floor. The meeting will be concluded in approximately one hour.

Arrived With New Year

First-arrivals at all three local hospitals were girls. The first to arrive was BABY GIRL NASH, at Bon Secours Hospital, who made her appearance at 12:27 a.m., weighing six pounds and eleven ounces. She is the third child of the Garrett Nashes of Detroit. The second arrival was JULIE STANISH, (pictured above with mother), who bowed in at 12:47 a.m. at St. John Hospital, weighing seven pounds, four and-a-half ounces. She is the fourth child of the Joseph Stanishes, of Detroit. BABY GIRL KUSKOWSKI arrived at Cottage Hospital at 1:01 p.m.; weighing nine pounds, eight ounces. She is the first child of the Richard Kuskowskis of Hamtramck.

Second Semester Starts at WCCC

As it opens its second semester January 5, Wayne County Community College continues to build a tradition of innovation with a two-way student grading and teacher evaluation system. The system is designed to be rewarding rather than punitive to both students and instructors at the newly formed college. Located in 27 Instructional Centers across the County including Grosse Pointe North High School, 'WCCC rewards students for their accomplishments with the grades "A," "B," "C." The traditional grades of "D" and "E" have been eliminated since they tend to be punitive indications of failure. WCCC recognizes its students to be mature adults who are devoting both time and money to furthering their educations. If they are unsuccessful in their course work it is usually an indication of weaknesses in their educational background rather than a lack of effort to master the course material. If a WCCC student does not master his course material well enough to take the next higher course he is given a letter "X" and may repeat the course without lowering his grade average. In this way students are motivated to build a firm academic foundation which will insure their success in future courses. Instructors at WCCC are in turn evaluated by their students on such matters as their presentation of material, their testing procedures, and their grading. These evaluations are given to the instructor to help him in analyzing how well he is communicating with his students, and in determining means of improving his teaching methods. These evaluations are particularly useful in the community situation since experience has shown community college teaching to be distinct from both high school and university teaching. WCCC students return from the holidays for registration beginning the week of January 5, at each of the Instructional Centers. Counselors will be available at each Center and will continue registration during the first week of classes beginning January 12. Late registration is possible only at the WCCC Main Office, 4612 Woodward, January 19-22, 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Although most WCCC classes are held in the evening, five Centers have been established for students who prefer daytime classes. These Centers are: Huron Center, 24820 Meriman in New Boston; Eastland Center, Concourse A, 8 Mile and Kelly Road; Detroit Repertory Theatre, 13103 Woodrow Wilson; The 12th Street Academy, 9011 12th Street; and the Downtown Branch, YWCA, 2230 Witherell. The YWCA Center offers the unique feature of preschool child-care facilities in conjunction with the Introduction to Psychology course offered Tuesdays between 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Child-care will cost only $15 for the full 15-week semester. Admission to Wayne County Community College is on an "Open-Door" basis. Anyone over 19 years of age, or younger than 19 and a high school graduate will be admitted. Tuition is a low $9 per credit hour for residents, $12 per credit hour for non-residents. Canadian Visitor Is Assault Victim Broderick Smith, 19, of London, Ont., Canada, victim of a vicious beating on Wednesday, December 30, was released from Bon Secours Hospital on Sunday, January 4, and taken home by his father. Smith was unable to give police a description of his assailants, neither of whom he had seen or known before the assault. According to information released by Park Det. Sgt. James LaPratt, Smith was visiting a young lady friend living in Balfour road. When he decided it was time to return home, the girl friend offered to take him to the bus stop at Jefferson and Maryland, so he would not have to wait too long for a bus. As he was waiting on the corner, two young men approached, said "Happy New Year", then without any warning or provocation, jumped him, knocking him to the ground. The assailants proceeded to beat and kick him about the face, then left him bleeding profusely on the ground. John Angel, 22, of 969 Balfour road, an employe of a gas station at Jefferson and Barrington, observed Smith staggering in a dazed condition and bleeding about the face and took him to the Park police station. The beating victim was conveyed to the hospital by police ambulance. Smith was treated for a laceration on the forehead, multiple lacerations and contusions about the face, and a large, deep gash above the left eye, which required several stitches to close. Blood was also coming from the left eye, according to a doctor's report. Smith was unable to give police a description of his assailants, neither of whom he had seen or known before the assault. Center Offers Astrology Class Chester Garsky will return to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial to offer a course in Astrology on Tuesday evenings, beginning January 20. Classes will meet from 7:30 to 10:30. Mr. Garsky, a graduate of Wayne State University, has devoted over 30 years to this fascinating study. The class will learn to plot the ephemeris and go into detailed study of the various signs and "houses" and learn how they affect character, occupation, health and so on. Although this class is a continuation of the fall course, new students who are interested in the study of astrology are most welcome. Fee for 8 classes is $25. VANDALS AT WORK John W. Drake, 470 St. Clair, reported to City police that sometime between 10 p.m. on Monday, December 29, and 8 a.m. on Tuesday, December 30, persons unknown, removed the Christmas tree lights from his rear door and threw snow and dirt on his cars parked in the stalls of the terrace.

What Goes On at Your Library
 By Virginia Leonard

Guest Columnist: Louise Leeson

"As the days begin to lengthen, the cold begins to strengthen," said my Old Farmer friend. "After the seasonal festivities are over," said he, "comes harvest mending time." He smiled a smug smile, for he was on his way to warmer climes, having made a nice little bundle on the sale of some antique chests, which, no doubt, he found in the old barn.

The inspiration for a column being frozen, I took one of my ever-popular polls to find out what folk did at this time of year, except worry about taxes, write thank you notes, or travel to the sun, if they are as lucky as the rural, elderly gentleman. The poll showed that a fantastic number of people worked on their hobbies when the winter winds howled. I recalled my friend and his chests. No doubt his counterparts are legion. What could be more fun than to task in the sun, or by the fireside, and hone up on all the information and possibilities in "antiquing" that one could wish? Those who love antiques and make them their hobby will be interested in the books at the Grosse Pointe Public Library on this subject, and they have more from which to choose than can be listed in this space.

Just acquired is THE COMMON-SENSE GUIDE TO REFINISHING ANTIQUES, by Alfred Higgins. It is indeed common-sense, with very good and clear instructions for refinishing. Writing of antique furniture, the author says, "There is a sense of continuity and human warmth in it which spurring-new pieces cannot hope to achieve until they, too, have been seasoned by daily use. . . . Also new is THE POOR MAN'S GUIDE TO ANTIQUE COLLECTING, by John Mebane. It is very comprehensive. The book jacket says, ". . . here is a book that is made for the antique collector who can't afford his hobby." It lists items that before they are "discovered" may be well within one's budget. Unique articles made by our parents or grandparents need not be furniture. The mind of man cannot conceive with what a passion a collector will accumulate setting hen butter dishes, or bottles, bottles, bottles, bottles! In Mebane's book this is called the "Bottle Room." "Bottle seekers undoubtedly have engaged in more widespread excavations in the past few years than have all the archaeologists in Europe and Asia. . . . they have left potholes in private property, much to the anguish of some of the property holders. . . . No longer are only historic flasks collected, but "whiskies, soda pop, food, patent medicine, cosmetic, mineral water, beer, household, and miscellaneous, and now canning jars have joined the list."

A fine new book is THE AMERICAN HERITAGE HISTORY OF ANTIQUES FROM THE CIVIL WAR TO WORLD WAR I. We hope that you will find a particular or general interest in this beautiful book. By the strict legal definition of "antique" many of the objects in this book cannot be so called, but the interpretation of this is wide. The illustrations are numerous and good, and the text most interesting. There are color reproductions of paintings of the "in" people of their day, surrounded by their families, furnishings and furberlows. I found most interesting the posters, magazine and book covers by Will Bradley, c1894. Shades of The Yellow Submarine, and our own art nouveau of the sixties.

In COTTAGE ANTIQUES, by Therle Hughes there is a particularly fine bit on the Staffordshire potteries. If you have trouble identifying the pottery that made your Staffordshire Willow, or "blue" ware, try counting the apples on the tree in the legendary scene. Each potter placed a different quantity of fruit on the branches.

Thelma Shull wrote VICTORIAN ANTIQUES. We find that in 1900 the American people talked, dreamed and lived the Gibson girl. Royal Doulton Pottery, of Lambeth, England, made a series of plates called the "Widow and her Friends," from original drawings of the artist, Charles Dana Gibson, for his portfolio of the same name.

Raymond F. Yates wrote ANTIQUE FAKES AND THEIR DETECTION. I found the following chapter headings: Cheating in Chinaware, and Beware of Glassware. KNOW YOUR HEIRLOOMS, by Thomas H. Ormsbee, has much good advice for the neophyte collector.

A study of antiques could lead one to find out about their proper decoration, which could be the art of decoupage. In 1895 our gentlemen had a passion for painting on china. The current craze is for decoupage. The results of this work are worthy to be called art. It is an art in which one can progress in technique and the execution of more and more daring and imaginative projects. Very new in the library is MANNING ON DECOUPAGE, by Hiram Manning. It is a fine book, beautifully illustrated. By reading it one should be able to produce the superior decoupage, as promised by the author.

If you envy my Old Farmer friend, we now have the book HOW TO SELL YOUR ANTIQUES AT A PROFIT, by Ann Kilborn Cole. What's New on THE HILL
 By Sibyl

The League Shop . . . originated as a non-profit pilot project of the Junior League. It sold League of the Handicapped hand-made items. About ten years ago, the League Shop came to the Hill and evolved into a successful professional gift business. Four years ago the present owner, Ruth Van Zile, moved it to 81 Kercheval on the Hill, into the building built by the Dants. The League Shop features beautiful china, silver, antiques, decoratives and one-of-a-kind gifts. The Top Shop (one flight up) is a favorite source of greeting cards, gift wrap, stationery.

Resolve . . . to check the sale at the Mermaid . . . twenty percent of a group of furniture and lamps (including herb lamps). Christmas things are sale tagged half price.

New Window . . . for the New Year . . . at Denler, 77 Kercheval. Window shop for new ideas and reproductions of the treasured past.

New Year Special . . . at Trail Apothecary, 121 Kercheval. Dior's Miss Dior or Diorissimo cologne packaged with an atomizer is three fifty.

Trip Time . . . First stop at Picard-Norton, 92 Kercheval to collect new cruisewear, bermudas, swim trunks and cabana sets for your fashionable place in the sun.

Winter-Timely . . . the sale of snow suits, jackets, coats and some dresses marked one-third to one-half off at Young Clothes, 110 Kercheval.

Fond of Fondue? . . . 'Tis the season for this treat. Virginia Williams has a buffet-worthy group of new enamel fondues, also shrimp dishes and good looking glass salad bowls. All are newly arrived at 79 Kercheval for entertaining in the new year.

Santa Left Town . . . without leaving that beautiful Genori after dinner set in your favorite Perugia pattern? No matter! He gave you the Christmas money to buy it yourself. The coffee pot, sugar, creamer and four demitasse cups and saucers are ninety-two dollars at The League Shop.

New Dimension . . . in playmanship. It's the very new Triptic. This decorative leave-on-the-coffee-table-game is made of clear plastic . . . decorative and instant fun. Triptic is ten dollars at The Card Rack, 93 Kercheval . . . 886-8826.

Anything Worth Framing . . . is worth framing or shadow boxing professionally-at The Grosse Pointe Studios, 119 Kercheval. Two excellent and valuable examples . . . a flag which has been to the moon with a certificate signed by the astronauts . . . also recently shadow boxed, honorary gavels on plaques.

Brighten Your Life . . . Tuesday, January 13. Lunch at the Bronze Door, 123 Kercheval. There will be a fashion show by Touch of Elegance, featuring sunshine styles for resort and previews of spring. Call 886-1932 for reservations because this is always a popular day.

We Wish You A Good Year

We're one week into the New Year and this seems an ideal time to offer New Year's wishes for the community.

For our schools we wish a more peaceful year. A year during which educators can educate and administrators can administrate.

For the members of our School Board a more harmonious rewarding year . . . one during which old battles will be forgotten.

For those who have not always agreed with local school administration we wish patience, understanding and more constructive methods in which to show their disagreement.

For those devoted parents working for the passage of the local millage we wish more success than they had in 1969.

For all the men in our City governments we wish continued foresight and imagination.

For our police departments, doing double duty these days with the problems created by drug abuse, we wish more staff, more cooperation from parents and teenagers and better laws with which to work more effectively.

For the Family Life Education (FLEC) more financial backing . . . more community support and continued success in its battle against drug abuse.

For our teenagers we wish a more cheerful, hopeful outlook and a better understanding of the "establishment."

For parents, a ladder big enough to bridge that generation gap with rungs made up of tolerance, understanding, a firm hand and plenty of time to devote to their children.

For our Fire Department we wish larger house numbers to facilitate locating fires.

For our local civic organizations, more of the same spirit and community interest they have shown in 1969.

For our ministers and priests, parishioners with as much faith and determination as they have.

For our librarians, continuation of their patience, understanding and helpfulness that has helped so many of our children.

For our readers, more of the same spirit that questioned us, disagreed with us and applauded us throughout 1969.

For all Pointers, we wish happiness, prosperity, knowledge, and tolerance in this bright new year, 1970.

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools.

The educational prospects of the 1970's continue to be well-documented in various publications that have appeared since the first of the year. Before I present any more of these, I wish to share a quotation on the progress made by public education that perhaps puts all the star-gazing into perspective. Writing in The New York Times' Encyclopedic Almanac for 1970 Fred Hechinger states:

"Perhaps the best measure and most striking summary of the basic thrust of American public education is the fact that at the turn of the century only about 4 percent of the eligible age group graduated from high school, while today almost 40 percent of our young people enter college. Thus in terms of mass education, the enterprise has been a huge success and is still unique among major nations."

In a period of criticism of the schools, educators, and school board trustees, I think it is well to reflect, however briefly, upon our successes. By and large, although those responsible for American public education are to be commended for their perseverance, it has never been characteristic of them to rest on their laurels. And there is too much activity and turmoil to expect that they will ever do so.

What has Hechinger, a noted journalist and observer of the American educational scene, to say about the current state of turmoil that seems to dominate much of the information one reads about the public schools? His comment is an interesting one:

"Although there is much evidence that public education is at the center of some of the most divisive social and political controversies, many observers feel that this merely confirms the importance of the schools in our modern technological society. These observers maintain that greater involvement by local communities in the operations of public education and establishment of its goals is a prerequisite for greater popular support and financial subsidy. And no one doubts that such subsidy—with ever-increasing federal aid—is an essential part of the future of American public education."

Currently The Grosse Pointe Public School System receives .09 percent of its operational funds from the federal government, with an even smaller percentage estimated for 1970-71, contrary to what Mr. Hechinger predicts for the nation-at-large. Still on the theme of crystal-balling it into the upcoming decade, perhaps you were as intrigued as I by some of the statements appearing in the Detroit Free Press on January 4 in the article, "Fourth R to Be Reforms in Schools of '70's." "Many educators believe, however, that the great problems of society are not in skill areas, but in human relationships and attitudes, feelings and prejudices that distort or enrich them. With knowledge accumulating faster than any human mind can absorb it, they expect schools will show kids where to find answers, solve problems, and enjoy life."

How does this jibe with how adults regard "education"? If you have seen the television program, "Sesame Street," you will appreciate these remarks made by the reporter. "On the premise that education is really propaganda, 'Sesame Street' was produced. It uses advertising techniques that have increased product sales to 'sell' letter and number concepts to kids who resist them. It may be the precursor for increasing business initiative during the '70s in conceiving, packaging and selling education like a commodity."

Some interesting new approaches seem to be in store for education in the 1970's.

What Goes On at Your Library
 By Virginia Leonard

Guest Columnist: Louise Leeson

"As the days begin to lengthen, the cold begins to strengthen," said my Old Farmer friend. "After the seasonal festivities are over," said he, "comes harvest mending time." He smiled a smug smile, for he was on his way to warmer climes, having made a nice little bundle on the sale of some antique chests, which, no doubt, he found in the old barn.

The inspiration for a column being frozen, I took one of my ever-popular polls to find out what folk did at this time of year, except worry about taxes, write thank you notes, or travel to the sun, if they are as lucky as the rural, elderly gentleman. The poll showed that a fantastic number of people worked on their hobbies when the winter winds howled. I recalled my friend and his chests. No doubt his counterparts are legion. What could be more fun than to task in the sun, or by the fireside, and hone up on all the information and possibilities in "antiquing" that one could wish? Those who love antiques and make them their hobby will be interested in the books at the Grosse Pointe Public Library on this subject, and they have more from which to choose than can be listed in this space.

Just acquired is THE COMMON-SENSE GUIDE TO REFINISHING ANTIQUES, by Alfred Higgins. It is indeed common-sense, with very good and clear instructions for refinishing. Writing of antique furniture, the author says, "There is a sense of continuity and human warmth in it which spurring-new pieces cannot hope to achieve until they, too, have been seasoned by daily use. . . . Also new is THE POOR MAN'S GUIDE TO ANTIQUE COLLECTING, by John Mebane. It is very comprehensive. The book jacket says, ". . . here is a book that is made for the antique collector who can't afford his hobby." It lists items that before they are "discovered" may be well within one's budget. Unique articles made by our parents or grandparents need not be furniture. The mind of man cannot conceive with what a passion a collector will accumulate setting hen butter dishes, or bottles, bottles, bottles, bottles! In Mebane's book this is called the "Bottle Room." "Bottle seekers undoubtedly have engaged in more widespread excavations in the past few years than have all the archaeologists in Europe and Asia. . . . they have left potholes in private property, much to the anguish of some of the property holders. . . . No longer are only historic flasks collected, but "whiskies, soda pop, food, patent medicine, cosmetic, mineral water, beer, household, and miscellaneous, and now canning jars have joined the list."

A fine new book is THE AMERICAN HERITAGE HISTORY OF ANTIQUES FROM THE CIVIL WAR TO WORLD WAR I. We hope that you will find a particular or general interest in this beautiful book. By the strict legal definition of "antique" many of the objects in this book cannot be so called, but the interpretation of this is wide. The illustrations are numerous and good, and the text most interesting. There are color reproductions of paintings of the "in" people of their day, surrounded by their families, furnishings and furberlows. I found most interesting the posters, magazine and book covers by Will Bradley, c1894. Shades of The Yellow Submarine, and our own art nouveau of the sixties.

In COTTAGE ANTIQUES, by Therle Hughes there is a particularly fine bit on the Staffordshire potteries. If you have trouble identifying the pottery that made your Staffordshire Willow, or "blue" ware, try counting the apples on the tree in the legendary scene. Each potter placed a different quantity of fruit on the branches.

Thelma Shull wrote VICTORIAN ANTIQUES. We find that in 1900 the American people talked, dreamed and lived the Gibson girl. Royal Doulton Pottery, of Lambeth, England, made a series of plates called the "Widow and her Friends," from original drawings of the artist, Charles Dana Gibson, for his portfolio of the same name.

Raymond F. Yates wrote ANTIQUE FAKES AND THEIR DETECTION. I found the following chapter headings: Cheating in Chinaware, and Beware of Glassware. KNOW YOUR HEIRLOOMS, by Thomas H. Ormsbee, has much good advice for the neophyte collector.

A study of antiques could lead one to find out about their proper decoration, which could be the art of decoupage. In 1895 our gentlemen had a passion for painting on china. The current craze is for decoupage. The results of this work are worthy to be called art. It is an art in which one can progress in technique and the execution of more and more daring and imaginative projects. Very new in the library is MANNING ON DECOUPAGE, by Hiram Manning. It is a fine book, beautifully illustrated. By reading it one should be able to produce the superior decoupage, as promised by the author.

If you envy my Old Farmer friend, we now have the book HOW TO SELL YOUR ANTIQUES AT A PROFIT, by Ann Kilborn Cole. The author sets out, in her book, to "try . . . to explore every corner of today's market for antiques, and what it has to offer you, the seller." Also relating to the market for antiques, we have the periodicals ANTIQUES MAGAZINE, and THE SPINNING WHEEL.

Browsing among the 745's and 749's, you may stray a bit, and discover our fine collection of books on all of the decorative arts, many of them related to your hobby. So, happy hunting to you in the books the Grosse Pointe Public Library can offer you to help in the hunt.

Letters to the Editor

 The Grosse Pointe News

 Grosse Pointe, Michigan
 Dear Sir:

Would it not be timely, at the beginning of 1970, to pay tribute to those college students—THE REPLACEMENTS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD—who are spending their days and nights in orderly preparation for business careers, AND NOT ON THE PICKET LINES?

Should we not also pay tribute to those at or near retirement who have supported American religious, civic, fraternal institutions, as well as their loved ones and their country?

A recent experience in New York, at which I was elected president of my college fraternity for 1970, followed by a visit to Western Michigan University, prompted the enclosed letter.

Sincerely,
 William F. Horsch

 Dr. Richard E. Embertson,
 Coordinator,

 School of Business,
 Western Michigan University,
 Kalamazoo, Michigan 49001

Dear Dr. Embertson:

Lecturing recently before your Marketing Club gave me renewed faith in those seniors who are about to enter the business world. It is unfortunate that these college students, who are spending their days and nights in orderly preparation for business careers, AND NOT ON PICKET LINES, are ignored by members of the press and TV.

While these future business leaders recognize that many "little men in big jobs" are responsible for the wrongdoing in business today, AND THEY MUST BE REPLACED, "destroying the whole establishment" — the good with the evil — is NOT the answer. They realize, as Longfellow expressed it, "The wrong shall fail — the right prevail."

Shortly before appearing at W.M.U., I had attended the 47th reunion of my college fraternity, Kappa Tau Alpha of New York University. While your group consisted of young people about to enter the business world, many of our members are now retired business executives, retired bankers, retired lawyers and retired military officers. They have ended their active careers. Like the members of your Marketing Club, they spent college days in work and study. They not only supported their families, their loved ones and American institutions, but when war came, they put on their country's uniform and served their fellowmen. Through study and hard work in their chosen fields, THEY EARNED THEIR RETIREMENT'S REPOSE. Their places will have to be filled by those entering the business world. It is heartening to those of us, at or near retirement, to know of "REPLACEMENTS" like the members of WESTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY'S MARKETING CLUB.

Sincerely,
 William F. Horsch

New Fashionscope Symphorama Slated

Women's Association for Detroit Symphony and Hudson's Plan Complete Change of Image for Traditional Spring Style Show

Mrs. Ray W. Macdonald, of Lochmoor boulevard, is general co-chairman of "Fashionscope Symphorama 1970" scheduled for Thursday evening, February 19, at Ford Auditorium. The event is sponsored by the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony and presented by J. L. Hudson Company for the Orchestra's benefit.

Other Grosse Pointe committee heads include Mrs. C. Dale Barrett, patrons: Mrs. John E. Young, Sr., general admission ticket sales; and Mrs. Joseph H. Spitzley, invitations.

The kick-off tea for "Fashionscope Symphorama 1970" was held yesterday at the Frank W. Misch home in Cranbrook court, Bloomfield Hills.

For several years the Women's Association and Hudson's have joined forces in February or March to present a spring "Fashionscope" as an Orchestra fund-raiser. It was staged afterwards in the Downtown store's auditorium and slanted exclusively to women.

Now, except for the sponsoring parties and the high purpose of the affair, everything's changed.

Surace-Heiden Betrothal Told

At a Christmas Eve family dinner party Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Heiden, of Hollywood avenue, announced the engagement of their daughter, Marguerite Ann, to Joseph Surace, son of Mrs. Lewis Gaspari, of Hershey, Pa., and the late Anthony Surace.

The bride-elect was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School and Cleary College, Ypsilanti. Her fiancé is vice-president of Easco Sparatron Company, Ann Arbor.

Set Josiah Harmor DAR Membership Tea Jan. 17

General Josiah Harmor Chapter of Grosse Pointe Park, National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold its annual membership tea at the home of Miss Mary Hale in Evergreen street, Detroit, Saturday, January 17. Miss Elizabeth Cleland will speak on Conservation. Barbara Leipprandt, Dorothy Meininger and Barbara Smith will assist Miss Hale as co-hostesses.

Women who might be interested in DAR membership are invited by calling the hostess at KE 3-4602.

energy to the success of the event.

An orchestral piece, conducted by Sixten Ehrling and played by Symphony artists, will open the entertainment. Richard Hayman, nationally renowned composer-arranger, is flying in from New York to conduct the Symphony-played music which will accompany the Hudson fashion segments. Madelyn Coe, Hudson fashion director, is master-minding the latter.

People who like clothes, who care about their community and its cultural image, who'd like to have a different and glamorous kind of "good time" will surely put "Fashionscope Symphorama 1970" on their calendars for February.

March Bride

Photo by Eddie McGrath, Jr. Making March wedding plans are ELIZABETH SPALDING BUELL and John Alexander McCormick whose engagement has been announced by her father, Daniel H. Buell, who moved last fall from Meadow lane to Winter Park, Fla.

The bride-elect, who is also the daughter of the late Mrs. Buell, is a graduate of Michigan State University and received her Master of Social Work from Wayne State University. She is a member of Tau Beta and the Junior League of Detroit.

Her fiancé, who has been making his home in Detroit, is the son of Mrs. Harold McCormick, of Bay City, and the late Captain McCormick. He is a graduate of Alma College and received his Master of Arts in Education Administration from Michigan State University.

The couple will be married here and will live in Detroit.

AAUW To Consider Washington Scene

Husbands and Guests Invited to Participate in January 14 General Dinner Meeting; Study Groups Have January Plans

An expert's view of "The Changing Washington Scene" will be presented by J. F. terHorst when he speaks at the January general meeting of the American Association of University Women's Grosse Pointe Branch.

Mr. terHorst is chief of the Detroit News Washington bureau and has a wealth of experience as a newsman.

He has accompanied every presidential trip abroad since 1961, has filed stories from every continent and covered meetings in Berlin, Paris and Vienna.

In addition, he writes a thrice-weekly column syndicated nationally by the North American Newspaper Alliance.

He'll be featured at noon Wednesday on J. P. McCarthy's Focus radio program.

Husbands and guests are invited to attend the dinner meeting next Wednesday, January 14, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at 6:30 o'clock. Reservations must be made by Monday noon, January 12, by calling 881-8574 or 778-9711.

AAUW study group members have many dates to write on their new calendars.

Writers' workshop convenes twice, on January 7 and 21, at the Aline drive home of Mrs. Richard Kray at 12:45 o'clock.

Studio Arts also has scheduled two meetings, at Mrs. Ralph Kimble's Fisher road home January 8 and 22 at 7:30 o'clock.

THEY'VE ARRIVED

DEAR PAT,

Sarah Snow Shoes is as ready as she'll ever be. Sunday I hit the slopes. Mickey has convinced me (or himself) that I'm going to be the best 'lil ole skier God ever put on this earth. Why not? He told me I'd be the best 'lil 'ole tennis player God ever put on this earth—and—well, you've heard about my wicked backhand.

Yesterday he PUSHED me out in the back 40 in full ski regalia just to get the feel of the boards. I was triumphant. I could stand! I could move!—I could fall. (17 times) thank heaven, I wasn't alone. (Kim and Lexy (loving daughters) and half the G.P. North enrollment were peering out windows holding sides) or I might not have been found until they realized that dinner was not on the table. The man I love with all my heart demonstrated patiently how best to get myself up.—No way—a team of Borax Ponies could not have righted 115 lbs. of dead weight. But determination and guts (plus the insane ability to tune out pending disaster) I have to go with a wardrobe of slick clothes that will rate me most chic around the fire.

Somewhat ironic that a gal who partly owns and runs a beautiful Boutique, that at this very moment is erupting with magnificent warm weather fashion, should be heading in the opposite weather direction. I'm almost envious that at no time this winter will I have need for a bright little cotton—an aurora borealis print—or an "I'll take care of myself baby" polyester. Come to think of it, a gem like the latter would be perfect to wrap myself in to jet to Aspen in February. I'll probably decide on one of those zippy pant things. (I love that marigold 2-piece with the stripe, scoop neck shirt.)

You have the pick of the litter for your Frisco Fracas.—Did you buy that navy wool plaid coat with white crepe dress you were romancing? How could you decide with so many tempters. Everyone must be jaunting off somewhere—these sun things are quickly finding new homes and being tenderly folded in 'on the move' carpet bags. You know who, who is just my size came in and bought my favorite looks like linen but isn't — and won't wrinkle—Green and white. I could have ripped it off her back.

Even if there are no island plans this winter it's a perfect time to select for summer. The COLORS — the STYLING — the FABRICS are WOW! the PRICES everyone agrees — BEAUTIFUL.

I just made an emergency trip to the laundry room. The washing machine had set off the red alert announcing an overload. As I walked through I had the strangest feeling that my skis, leaning against the wall, were grinning—smugly—and the tongue in my boots was going TSK, TSK, TSK.

My Love,
JO

Hold Christmas Fete At Thompson Home

Mrs. George B. Hefferan Heads Trustees Entertainment Committee Responsible for Success Sunday High Tea

One of the nicest occasions of this past holiday season was the traditional Christmas party at The Thompson Home given by the trustees for the residents. The ladies who have made the Home their home for several years have come to look forward to this party as a highlight of the seasonal festivities but for those who entered the Home in the past year it was a new and delightful experience.

Miss Nan Cole, for example, found many friends and parents of girls she taught at the Liggett School. She is continuing her art work and in her rooms are her studio and collection of books.

The hospitable Victorian parlors were gay with a Christmas tree, decorated wreaths and holly for the Sunday afternoon high tea.

On each of the mantelpieces arrangements of greens twinkled with tiny Italian lights. The tea table was covered with a green and gold cloth on which were applied myriads of jeweled angels and other Christmas symbols.

The centerpiece was a lovely epergne filled with Christmas balls, red carnations and holly. Gay centerpieces and red cloths embellished the tables in the dining rooms.

The beauty and success of the party must be credited to the entertainment committee headed by Mrs. George B. Hefferan assisted by Mrs. Robert E. McKean, Mrs. Vernon Davis, Mrs. Jenness Newcomb, Mrs. Benson Ford and Mrs. Harold B. Tyree who saw to it that guests were treated to a delicious oyster stew, sandwiches and cakes along with the punch and tea.

President of the Board Mrs. George E. Cartmill and her husband were on hand to welcome the Board members and their husbands.

Among them were Dr. and Mrs. Thomas McKean, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand H. Cinelli, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lynn Pierson and many others.

The residents who have entered The Thompson Home during the last year have very much appreciated the new admission policy which has made it possible to arrange payment for their rooms in installments instead of in a lump sum before their admittance to the Home.

Franklin Forum

Robert Thom, artist and author, will speak on "Art for Everyone" before the Franklin Forum in the Fellowship Hall of the Franklin Community Church on Tuesday, January 20, at 1:15 o'clock.

A fair deal to most people means they've secured a slight advantage for themselves.

They're Looking Forward To . . . Pancakes!

Food's on their minds: Not cheese dip or holiday canapes—we've all had our fill of THOSE—but good, solid, old-fashioned pancakes, brimming with butter and syrup, to be served next Wednesday, January 14, from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock at Grosse Pointe South High School. There'll be a musical background to the Family Pancake Supper too. And it's all in a good cause; proceeds from the event, sponsored by the South High Mothers Club in conjunction with the Dads Club and Student Council, will swell the School's Scholarship Fund. MRS. PHILIP DICKINSON, general chairman, MRS. JARVIS SCHMIDT, co-chairman, MATT FARNER, vice-president of South High's Student Council, and B. BENTON HARVEY, secretary of the Dads Club, (left to right), can hardly wait.

Symphony Aides Meeting Jan. 15

The annual meeting and luncheon of the Women's Committee for the Grosse Pointe Symphony will be held next Thursday, January 15, at Lochmoor Club.

Mrs. L. Gaylord Hulbert and Mrs. Clement A. Pennell are chairmen of social affairs for the group. Mrs. Murray L. Macdonald, Mrs. Raymond J. Foreman and Mrs. Stephen M. Sweeney will be hostess for the business session at which officers for the new season will be elected, scheduled for 11 o'clock sharp, cocktails followed by a 12:30 o'clock luncheon and a musical program to be introduced by Mrs. Felix Resnick, wife of the Grosse Pointe Symphony conductor.

Chairman of reservations is Mrs. Edward H. Fromm, 925-8009, of Indian Village.

Brown-Fletcher Troth Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gilchrist Fletcher, of Alpena, formerly of Grosse Pointe, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Grace Gilchrist Fletcher, to F. Abbott Brown, Jr., son of the senior Browns, of Winnetka, Ill.

The wedding is planned for January 31 at St. John the Divine Church in New York City, where the bride-elect is employed by General Electric in research on future consumer products and her fiance is a member of an investment banking firm.

Miss Fletcher attended Connecticut's Westover Academy, Sophie Newcomb College of Tulane University and the University of Michigan School of Business.

The prospective bridegroom's schools are Culver, Brown University and the University of Michigan School of Business Administration. He also served in Army Intelligence.

Slate Goodwill Ladies' Meeting

Mrs. Willard H. Holt will present colored slides of her recent trip to Africa at the January meeting of the Women's Association of the Goodwill Industries of Greater Detroit.

The meeting, to be held next Wednesday, January 14, will be called to order by President Mrs. Bernard M. Segner at 1:15 o'clock in the Goodwill Building, Brush street and East Grande boulevard, Detroit.

A sandwich-desert luncheon will be served by the social committee, Mrs. Herman Hamel, chairman, at 12:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Holt will be assisted in her presentation by her daughter, Mrs. Wesley L. Mueller.

During the business session Mrs. A. Warren Brock, Miss Ruth Carrier, Miss Gertrude Bishop and Mrs. Sidney Woods will report on various aspects of the organization's Christmas projects.

Membership in and attendance at the Women's Association meetings are open to any interested persons.

Set Family Pancake Supper Wednesday

Mothers and Dads Clubs at South High School and Student Council to Sponsor Scholarship Fund-Raising Event

A Family Pancake Supper, to be enjoyed in an atmosphere of soft instrumental music directed by Russell Reed, will be held Wednesday, January 14, from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock at Grosse Pointe South High School. Mrs. Philip Dickinson is general chairman of the project.

The supper—where all the pancakes you can eat will be served with the utmost expediency—is under the sponsorship of the Mothers Club in conjunction with the Dads Club and the Student Council.

Scholarship Fund.

Tickets are priced at $1.50 for adults, $1.25 for students and $1 for 12-year-olds and younger children, according to Mrs. John Dodge and Mrs. Thomas Braden, admissions co-chairmen.

Proceeds will be added to the

Slate Heart Of Gold Program February 10

Award Council to Salute Volunteers Representing All Who Work Without Pay in Community Agencies and Organizations

Will it be roses, forsythia, jonquils or cherry blossoms? That question is uppermost in the minds of Mrs. Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., chairman, and Mrs. Aaron Gershenson, vice-chairman for the third annual "Heart of Gold" awards luncheon honoring outstanding women volunteers.

The two have been busy with luncheon centerpiece plans while other Detroit area homemakers concentrated on holly, mistletoe and Yule ornaments.

Mrs. Hudson, of Washington road, and Mrs. Gershenson, of Detroit, expect more than 2,000 other Wayne-Oakland-Macomb women to join them at the luncheon scheduled for 11:45 o'clock Tuesday, February 10, in Cobo Hall.

They are issuing invitations on behalf of the Heart of Gold Award Council formed in 1967 to provide recognition for volunteers who give their time and talents to community betterment.

The council is comprised of 42 leading women's organizations working with Women for the United Foundation (WUF), itself a volunteer group involv-

T. Patrick, president of New Detroit, and Federal Judge Thomas Thornton, all of Detroit.

Principal speaker at the luncheon will be singer-actress Polly Bergen.

An outstanding volunteer herself, Miss Bergen is active with the Los Angeles Women's Guild which sponsors Cedars-Sinai Free Clinic Hospital and SHARE, an organization of young women in show business who raise funds for research and the education of retarded children.

She also supports TEACH, a foundation funding schools offering educational programs and physical therapy for emotionally-disturbed and brain-damaged children.

Six committees are working on arrangements for the awards luncheon.

They include: Structure, Mrs. Stephen Feher, of Detroit, representing Chrysler Corporation Girls' Club; screening and judging, Mrs. John F. Hering, of Kercheval avenue, chairman, and Mrs. Fran Harris, of East Jefferson avenue, vice-chairman, representing the Women's Advertising Club; tickets, Mrs. Milton DeLoach, of West Outer drive, representing Michigan Bell Women's Club; printed programs, Mrs. Rita Ames, of East Vernor avenue, for the Women's Advertising Club; and hostesses committee, Mrs. Kenneth Cunningham, of Birmingham, member of the Women's Committee of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, and Mrs. John B. Greene, of Detroit, vice-chairman and a member-at-large of the Award Council.

Reservations may be made by writing to Heart of Gold, United Foundation Building, 1528 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Mich. 48226 or by telephoning 965-7100.

A panel of community leaders will meet January 19 to select this year's winners of Heart of Gold awards from 164 volunteers nominated by tri-county agencies, organizations and individuals.

Serving on the panel of judges are Pointer Mrs. John Decker, Bert VandeVusse, of Mount Clemens, and Dr. Marjorie Peebles-Meyers, William

July Bride

Dr. and Mrs. Horton D. Kimball, of Harvard road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, KAREN LOIS, to James Robert Stuart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Stuart, of East Breckenridge drive, Birmingham.

Miss Kimball is a graduate of the National College of Education, Evanston, Ill., and is presently substitute teaching for the Kalamazoo Public School System while working toward her Masters degree in Social Science at Western Michigan University.

Her fiancé attended Loyola and Ferris State and is presently working in industrial sales in Detroit.

A July wedding is being planned.

Swedish Singer With Symphony

Swedish contralto Birgit Finnila will make her first appearances with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Thursday, January 8, and Saturday, January 10, at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

Jerome Rosen, the Symphony's associate concertmaster, will also be featured at the performances. Sixteen Ehrling will conduct.

Miss Finnila will sing Mahler's "Kindertotenlieder" (Songs on the "Death of Children") and Rosen will be the soloist in Bruch's Violin Concerto No. 1.

Also included in the program will be Britten's "Sinfonia da Requiem" and Berlioz's Three Excerpts from "The Damnation of Faust." The Berlioz work will be replaced by Ravel's "Rapsodie Espagnole" on Saturday night.

Miss Finnila was introduced to London audiences in 1966 by Gerald Moore, England's great accompanist long associated with Kathleen Ferrier. The performance was Moore's farewell appearance in London and Miss Finnila's debut.

A relative newcomer to the American concert scene, Miss Finnila made her United States debut just three years ago in a performance of Handel's "Messiah."

As of this month however she will have concluded 10 appearances with the Cleveland, Minneapolis and San Francisco Orchestras as well as recitals in New York and Washington, D.C.

In addition to her appearances with the Detroit Symphony she will appear this season with the San Francisco Orchestra and with Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra in Philadelphia and New York.

Rosen joined the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in the fall of 1968, coming from the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra where he had been apprentice conductor for three years. He studied under George Szell and the Oak Park Symphony.

Rosen, a native Detroit, was born in 1939. He began studying violin at age five and piano at age six.

He worked with Josef Gingold in Cleveland and with Ivan Galamian at the Curtis Institute of Music from which he received a degree in 1959. He was a finalist in the 1958 Leventritt Competition.

Rosen appeared as guest soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in a 1967 subscription concert.

In addition to his position with the Detroit Symphony he is first violinist with the Saint Clair Quartet and conductor of

Symphony Souvenir Concert Set Jan. 17

Program Book Will Be Distributed by Juniors at "American Classics" Night; Afterglow Scene Will Be Jim's Garage

Members of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra gathered yesterday in the Statler Hilton Hotel for their January luncheon meeting were joined—rather unconventionally—by vivacious Nancy (Mrs. James) Tompkins, who arrived in the Hotel's dining room via her motorcycle to promote the Juniors' Souvenir Program Book Concert Night afterglow party scheduled for Jim's Garage following the Orchestra's January 17 performance with guest conductor Morton Gould.

The Souvenir Program is one of the largest of the Junior Women's annual projects. This year's Book profits have contributed more than $34,000 to the Detroit Symphony's Maintenance Fund with business firms in Michigan and neighboring states participating to aid in the support of the Orchestra.

Theme of the 1970 Souvenir Program is "Symphonies Are For People" and Tony Spina, chief photographer for the Detroit Free Press, has again produced the pictorial content.

Mrs. John Morova is general chairman of the 1970 Book. Her assistant chairmen include Mrs. Robert Ketchum, responsible for layout and printing, Mrs. William Howard, in charge of the Birmingham area, Mrs. Richard Mills, of the Pointe area, and Mrs. Edmund Irwin, of the Detroit and Dearborn areas.

Mrs. Charles Insley heads the patrons committee, Mrs. George

Forbes the billings committee and Mrs. William Joyce and Mrs. Tompkins are masterminding the afterglow committee. The Souvenir Program is presented each year at its own special concert, this year one of the Kresge Concert Series with the theme "American Classics."

Mr. Gould will lead the Orchestra at 8:30 o'clock Saturday night, January 17, in Ford Auditorium.

The Mother's Boy's Jazz from Ann Arbor will entertain at the black tie afterglow which will be limited to members of the Junior Association and their guests.

At yesterday's general meeting special recognition was awarded Mrs. Vernon Fitch and Mrs. Howard for their outstanding sales efforts on the Program's behalf.

A cruise wear fashion show was presented by Bonwit Teller and Association President Mrs. David Lott introduced the Symphony's new general manager, Marshall Turkin and Mrs. Turkin to the Juniors. Mr. Turkin, a native of

Tilley-Mighell Troth Is Told

The engagement of Katherine Louise Mighell and Jefferson Wright Tilley, son of Mrs. Wright Tilley, of Lakeland avenue, and George Cook Tilley, has been announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Scott Mighell, of Long Beach, Calif. Kathy is a senior at Scripps College, Claremont, Calif. Jeff has been graduated from Grosse Pointe University School and Harvey Mudd College, Claremont, and is currently studying for a Doctorate at California Institute of Technology under a National Science Foundation grant.

Mrs. Tilley and Jeff's two sisters, Suzy (Mrs. William Taylor Lincoln) and Tucker (Mrs. Ralph Erman Deeds), and Mr. Deeds will be flying west later in the month to attend the January 31 wedding in Long Beach.

The couple will live in Pasadena.

MR. and MRS. ERNST ALBERTUS MENICK-STROTHER, of Amsterdam, The Netherlands, announce the birth of a daughter, ELISE MENICK-STROTHER, December 30. Mrs. Menick-Strother is the former SARAH LEE STROTHER, daughter of MR. and MRS. CHARLES PORTER STROTHER, of Pemberton road,

Chicago, at 43 has already gained acclaim as manager of the Kavina Festival in Chicago, (it's comparable to Meadow Brook), general manager of the Fort Wayne, Ind., Philharmonic Orchestra and general manager of the Honolulu Symphony. He comes to Detroit from Cleveland where he managed the Blossom Time concerts.

BBB Is Ready To Help Public

The Better Business Bureau can be a real help to consumers. Kathleen Bufton, Extension Home Economist for Wayne and Oakland counties, says the BBB was originally created to protect business by building up public trust.

In order to do this it protects the public from unscrupulous businessmen.

Officially, she says, the BBB tries to persuade the business community to practice self-regulation with regard to business practices. It tries to build and maintain public confidence.

The BBB also tries to safeguard consumer buying power by providing information and education services which keep dollars flowing into legitimate businesses and not into illegitimate ones.

It's reassuring to know, Mrs. Bufton adds, that only companies with clean records may join the BBB. And membership can be canceled if any shady practices take place.

Not every city in Michigan has a Better Business Bureau at this time Mrs. Bufton points out. However if enough consumers felt they were valuable more bureaus could be opened.

How could you use the BBB? "Put yourself in this situation," Kathy Bufton suggests.

You have a complaint about one of your local businesses. The first step is to put this complaint in writing and give it to your BBB. If it is a valid complaint the BBB will ask for the company's side of the story or send a BB shopper to make an unobtrusive personal check.

If the whole thing was an honest mistake the BBB will try to negotiate an understanding between you and the business in question. If it appears the merchant was really out to skin the public however the facts may be presented to the advertising departments of local broadcasts and newspapers. This often serves to cut off the merchant's advertising.

If this doesn't work the BBB may threaten the merchant with full public disclosure.

If all else fails and actual fraud is involved the case is turned over to the city or state lawmen for appropriate action.

In fact in the absence of a Better Business Bureau Kathy Bufton encourages consumers to report unscrupulous practices to the local Chamber of Commerce, the Attorney General's office or the local state prosecuting attorney.

"Some Chambers of Commerce will pay attention to consumer problems. However their primary purpose is to serve business interests."

The Attorney General's office definitely serves a watchdog function. Sometimes it can even help with individual problems of fraud. It encourages citizens to report fraud or shady business practices," she explains.

Whether there is a local Better Business Bureau or not you should still follow the BBB slogan: "Before you invest, investigate," Kathleen urges.

Margaret Oyaas Will Say Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Oyaas, of Rivard boulevard, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Jane, to William Naumes, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Naumes, of Marlborough, Mass.

The bride-to-be was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School and Connecticut College and is currently in the Ph.D. program in Economics at Stanford University.

Her fiancé, a Cornell graduate and member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, holds an M.B.A. degree from Cornell and is currently writing his doctoral dissertation at the Stanford School of Business Administration.

A summer wedding is planned.

Artists Market Slates Exhibit

The Figure Today, featuring drawings, paintings, sculpture and photographs, is the subject of the exhibit scheduled to open this Sunday, January 11, with a 2 to 5 o'clock reception at the Detroit Artists Market in Randolph street.

The show will continue at the Market through February 19. Gallery hours are 10 to 5 o'clock Monday through Saturday.

Cupid's Capers Party Slated For February

Eastside Michigan State University Alumni Club to Present Traditional Valentine's Fete at Hillcrest Country Club

A fearless committee of Michigan State alumni is confident the romantic legend of St. Valentine will overcome the superstition of Friday the 13th as plans get underway for their annual dinner-dance in February.

The Eastside MSU Alumni Club annually sponsors this gala affair, called "Cupid's Capers," in conjunction with the observance of St. Valentine's Day.

This year's event is scheduled once again in the scarlet ballroom of Hillcrest Country Club.

While the affair begins with a cocktail reception at 8 o'clock on Friday, February 13, it's slated to conclude at 1 o'clock on the 14th—St. Valentine's Day on the calendar. Music will be provided throughout the evening by The Crestmen.

General co-chairmen of the dinner-dance this year are Robert and Fran Trinklein, of Centerbrook court. It's the first major effort on behalf of the club for the Trinkleins, he having only recently been elected to the organization's board of directors.

All area MSU alumni and their escorts are invited to attend the event.

Reservations and ticket information are being handled by ticket chairman Robert Paton, of Wendy lane. Mr. Paton's phone number is 884-2363.

'Other Sides' Set at Center

Two big "Other Sides" are scheduled this weekend at Grosse Pointe War Memorial. On Friday night, January 9, from 7:30 to 10:30 there will be a Junior "Other Side" for Grosse Pointe students in grades seven and eight of the private, public and parochial school. Two new bands will alternate playing so that music will be continuous. "Toby Wesselfox" and "The Tackle Box". This is, as usual, a non-date casual affair. Admission is 75c by tickets purchased in advance or $1 at the dance. There is free checking service and a coke bar is available. The dance is chaperoned by parents and Center staff and protected by the police.

There will be a "Super Senior Other Side" Saturday night, January 10, featuring the great Scott Richard Case Band, the S.R.C. Even though it's a super other side, ticket price for the first 300 tickets sold will be just $1.50. After that, the admission will be $2. Only one ticket can be purchased by an individual.

Tickets will be sold at the door only if capacity has not been reached before. The dance is for Grosse Pointe students in grades 9-12 or students attending school in Grosse Pointe. There will be a strict check on identification both at time of ticket purchase and at the door of the dance.

Square Dance Set for Jan. 12

For the eighth consecutive year the Council of Grosse Pointe Square Dance Clubs will offer a free dance for novice couples, as well as experienced dancers. The purpose of this annual affair is to give couples who have never square danced an opportunity to try this popular activity.

Couples with no previous experience find it very easy to follow the calls of a local caller, Wes Rea, who has a well-deserved reputation for his skills in teaching. With each call explained before the music starts, the new dancers are amazed at their success!

This free dance will start promptly at 8 p.m. on Monday, January 12, at Brownell Junior High School located on Chalont between Kerby and Fisher roads. Residents and their friends are invited.

Many couples who attended the free dance in other years and enrolled in the class for beginners are now dancing regularly. They are finding square dancing one of the most rewarding activities that they have ever experienced.

Lessons in square dancing for the beginner will be offered again this year at Mason School on Mondays starting on January 19 at 8 p.m. Classes for the experienced dancer are also available. The Grosse Pointe Public Schools, Department of Community Services, co-sponsors these dances.

Additional information may be obtained by calling 884-2988.

The lessons are taught by Wes and Julie Rea, Grosse Pointe Woods residents, who have been teaching in this area for many years.

laining the troops . . . so, rather than disappoint Series season ticket-holders, he and Balmain's Valerie have agreed to "switch spots."

Now Valerie's coming in March. And Sebastian, who couldn't make it today, calls next Thursday. Got that straight?

Dinner By Candlelight

Back to dinner with the lights on, plain food plainly served on a plain, white tablecloth.

Of course supper by candlelight's charming, if it's by choice.

But suppose you've planned a party and, just as the first guests arrive, the lights go out? . . . And it's NOT just a blown fuse—Christmas trees DO that, that we can deal with—but something much more major?

And, although Edison's there on the spot, the "something" takes time to fix . . . and, while your guests are munching nuts and enjoying cocktails, your beautiful beef tenderloin's cooling instead of cooking in your electric oven?

Fortunately Mary Bruce has a lot of candles.

So she lit them all, and smiled, and re-filled champagne glasses from a silver pitcher . . . and meanwhile, back in the kitchen, Johnnie Lane, the Bruces' housekeeper, Irma Jones, there to help out for the evening, and Pauline Berry, another helper, organized a backyard food shuttle service, carrying the meat, vegetables and potatoes over to next door neighbor Mrs. George A. Schemm's kitchen, cooking them in Mrs. Schemm's oven, and returning them, piping hot, to the Bruces' table.

Fortunately Irma knows her way around the "borrowed" kitchen very well: She works regularly for Mrs. Schemm.

Fortunately Maumee's a very neighborly avenue. Fortunately dessert was ice cream-and-creme de menthe. Hot apple pie would have been just too much!

The "Little" Clubs

Back to regular sessions for the "little" clubs, groups small enough to gather in members' homes.

Mrs. J. Crawford Frost, Jr., of Fair Acres drive, will be hostess to the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club next Monday afternoon.

She'll be assisted by Mrs. Joseph M. Dodge and Mrs. Harold R. Smith. Charity Sucek will present a program on The Growing and Use of Herbs.

Libri Club meets next Monday too, in the Elm court home of Mrs. Sherod B. Scott, for luncheon and a talk by Lillian Hicks who's associated with the Fisher Theatre.

Assistant hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. John S. Dages, Mrs. Elmer A. Conway, Mrs. David L. Gamble, and Mrs. Joseph T. Reader.

January's a busy month for Deeplands Garden Club. It also meets Monday, in the East Jefferson avenue home of Mrs. John Cook with Mrs. Thomas Munson serving as assistant hostess.

The program will center around the planning of a summer garden with emphasis on new flowers of 1970 and those useful for dried arrangements. Mrs. Stuart Davidson, program chairman, is to be assisted by Mrs. Urban Borech who will illustrate her talk on the art of drying flowers with examples from her own garden.

Deeplands Club ladies have invited husbands to join them the evening of January 15 for a buffet dinner at Lochmoor.

In charge of arrangements for this annual mixed get-together is Mrs. Edward Weber, of Wedgewood drive.

All sounds very normal, doesn't it? Isn't it GRAND!

Mrs. Baker Wed To Mr. Kujath

Mrs. Gladys H. Baker, of Port Huron, and Harold C. Kujath, of Grayton road, were married Saturday, December 27. The Reverend Ronald W. Schmidt officiated at the rites in Faith Lutheran Church.

The newlyweds vacationed in New York City and will be making their home in Grayton road.

Congregational Ladies To Meet

The annual business meeting of the Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church will be held next Tuesday, January 13, at 12 o'clock in the Church lounge.

Program for the day will include the installation of new officers for 1970 by Mrs. George Pruessner.

Luncheon will follow the meeting for which reservations may be made in the Church office by Monday, January 11.

A program to be announced will follow the luncheon.

To Have Dinner Before Theater

For "The Man Who Came to Dinner", Grosse Pointe Theatre's next offering at Grosse Pointe War Memorial beginning Thursday, January 22, the Center will very appropriately offer pre-theatre candlelight buffets.

These are a great boon not just for the men who come to dinner but for all the many ladies who have earned an evening out and would like to be able to dress up and enjoy the evening without going near the kitchen.

It is suggested that friends can gather four or six at one house for cocktails, then come on down to 32 Lake Shore at seven where they will be able to get the best of the free parking, hang up their coats free of charge and enjoy hot bouillabaisse as they go down the buffet line where delicious relishes, assorted salads, many hot dishes including standing rib roast beef and an array of home made desserts await them.

After dining, it's fun to look at the paintings in the lower foyer before going in to enjoy the play which is an all time favorite. The buffets, tax and service included, are $4.75 and the theatre tickets $2.75 more.

Set Park Garden Club's Meeting

The Grosse Pointe Park Garden Club begins the New Year with a luncheon meeting Monday, January 12, at noon in the Dean lane home of Mrs. Howard R. Poppen whose co-hostess will be Mrs. Arthur E. Fleming.

"Starting the Seed" is the title of a lecture on the How-To of Indoor Gardening Methods to be presented by members Mrs. Frederick E. Gould and Mrs. Robert C. Palmer.

Plan Pear Tree Quester Meeting

240,000 ATTEND FETE
Nearly 240,000 persons visited the 1969 Christmas Carnival, an increase of 70,000 over last year's attendance at the free holiday spectacular held annually at Cobo Hall. At 6 p.m. Dec. 28 when the show ended, the total attendance for the 19-day show was 239,849. Last Year, Christmas Carnival was visited by 170,317 persons during a 16-day period. The daily attendance average was $12,613, compared with 10,645 in 1968.

Dance Classes Being Formed

Ballroom dancing classes are conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Forrest at Grosse Pointe War Memorial. While bowing to the current fad steps and movements, the Forrests still insist on good manners and dress. They also teach the boys and girls to dance and enjoy something other than straight rock 'n roll so that they can feel easy and poised in any social situation they may meet.

A new class is planned for 5th and 6th grade boys and girls on Thursday afternoons after regular school from 4:30 to 5:30 beginning January 15. Seventh and eighth graders will be enrolled on Friday evenings from 6:45 to 7:45 starting January 16th and there will be a special two-hour every other Friday class, also beginning the 16, for older students in grades 9-12.

The fee for all classes is $20 for a 10-week term including a free party at the end with orchestra, favors and lots of refreshments. Enrollments for all groups are being taken now in the Center's office.

A special Thursday Night

Dance Club is open to adults, both single people and married couples, beginning January 15 at 8 o'clock with a second session at 9. Here they learn the latest steps and enjoy an evening of pleasant dancing. Membership is $15 for the season for single people or $25 for married couples.

TREATED FOR OVERDOSE

Martin Vertregt, 19, 1132 Wayburn, was admitted to Bon Secours Hospital on Friday, January 2, for an overdose of heroin. Vertregt was taken to the hospital by three friends who found him at a home in Newport in Detroit. The youth had been admitted to the hospital twice before. The first time on June 4 was with an arm infection and the second time on November 18 for an overdose of heroin.

The most difficult part of getting to the top of the ladder is getting through the crowd at the bottom.

Never try to dictate the right-of-way, motorists—give it.

Ronald Bourne To Claim Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Stinson, of Mount Pleasant, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jane, to Ronald Bourne, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bourne, of Lincoln road.

Both the bride-elect and her fiancé are seniors at Western Michigan University. He is presently student teaching at Grosse Pointe North High School.

A June wedding is planned.

Sunday Concert Now A Sellout

Sunday's 16th annual Detroit Symphony Orchestra Girl Scout Concert sponsored by the Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit has been sold out.

The concert, which is open to the public as well as to the Girl Scouts, will be conducted by Valter Poole and will feature the Detroit Severo Ballet Company.

Bridge Classes To Begin Soon

Bridge classes are slated to begin for Grosse Pointe Adults during the first weeks in January. Carrie Kiley, the indomitable and personable Grosse Pointe bridge authority, will continue to provide instruction in classes designed for beginners as well as those who want their game sharpened for the tournament level.

The Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools advises that beginning, refresher, and players classes are to be offered both night and day for interested adults.

The 10-week sessions are open for enrollment now. Adults are urged to call the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 or 885-0271 for reservations. Registration fee for all bridge classes is $10.00.

FRIENDLY CONFINES

The Tigers out-homered every opposing American League club in Tiger Stadium in 1969 except the Baltimore Orioles and Washington Senators.

Dinner, Theater Night Planned

A delightful dinner and evening with George Bernard Shaw is set by Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association for this Saturday, January 10. The candlelight dinner will be served in Alger House at 6:30 following which guests will board a charter bus complete with after dinner coffee and set ups and travel in a carefree comfort straight to the entrance of the Detroit Institute of Arts Theatre where a block of reserved seats await them for a performance of "Pygmalion," one of Shaw's most winning and popular plays excellently performed by the John Fernald Company.

A very few places are still open for this pleasant evening. Cost of dinner, service, transportation and theatre is $11.

Yule Party Held By St. Paul Cubs

St. Paul's Cub Scout Pack 61 held its annual Christmas party on December 16 . . . it was a bang-up affair, featuring an inspection, a unique holiday band, with homemade instruments, a sing out and presentation of individual stripes and awards.

Den Six and Four won the inspection honors. Every Cub Scout won an award, either a first year star, a Bobcat pin or Bear Badge.

Highlights of the affair were boys from each den playing such homemade instruments as nail sticks, drums and tambourines, and Ted Monaghan, who made a dramatic entrance in full Indian headdress.

Grand Marais Club To Meet

The Grand Marais Garden Club, a branch of the Michigan Division of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, will gather Monday, January 12, at 12:30 o'clock in the Chalfonte avenue home of Mrs. A. P. Teetzel.

Co-hostesses are Mrs. Rose Bush and Mrs. Robert Armstrong. A workshop will follow the business meeting and tea.

Short and to The Pointe

(Continued from Page 13) MR. and MRS. LOUIS ZIMMERMAN, of Stephens road, announce the birth of a son, GEORGE HERBERT ZIMMERMAN, II, Christmas Day, December 25. Mrs. Zimmerman is the former ANN MODENA, daughter of MRS. FRANK MODENA, of Holyoke, Mass. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Herbert Zimmerman, of Kenwood road.

Back at Camp Pendleton, Calif., is Marine Lieutenant MICHAEL CERRE after a holiday visit with his parents, the ARTHUR A. CERRES, who journeyed from The Pointe to welcome in the New Year at Osage Ski Club where they share a converted-into-a-ski chalet one-room schoolhouse with BARB and BILL BAVINGER and ANN and ED HICKEY.

DR. and MRS. RICHARD D. ANSLOW'S Kenwood court home was the setting for a tea Tuesday afternoon, December 30, honoring Dr. Anslow's grandmother, MRS. ARTHUR J. DAVIES, who makes her home in St. Louis, Mo., when she's not popping here and there about the globe—and who celebrated her 100th birthday last week!

Jose Greco Brings Troup To Temple on January 16

Although Jose Greco, who brings his dance company to the Masonic Auditorium Friday, January 16 at 8:20 p.m., spends most of the year traveling to similar stages all over the world, the concert hall is by no means the only place avid followers can see him.

The Greco Company's world tours have been spectacularly successful. But Greco also has the distinction of being the first artist to have ever been booked into the Empire Room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York for two engagements within a six-month period. In addition, Greco and his troupe have appeared at the Sahara Hotel in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Greco has played on Broadway to standing-room-only houses and has been seen on TV on the Perry Como, Ed Sullivan, Bob Hope, Dinah Shore and Hollywood Palace shows. The Voice of Firestone devoted a whole program to his Company as did Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color show.

LINDA SCHULTE, who has completed requirements magna cum laude for her Bachelor of Arts degree in Social Work at the University of Detroit, was honored by her parents, MR. and MRS. ALFRED SCHULTE, of Fairford road, at a surprise dinner party Sunday, December 21.

Movigoers saw Greco as one of the stars of Stanley Kramer's monumental production of "Ship of Fools," based on Katherine Ann Porter's best-seller, in which Greco played, logically enough, the fiery leader of a flamenco troupe. Other film assignments have included "Around the World in 80 Days" and "Holiday For Lovers."

Much earlier than these triumphs, Greco was invited to choreograph a Spanish dance sequence for "Manolete," the motion picture about the famed Spanish matador. Organizing a small troupe of dancers from among his friends and colleagues, he worked tirelessly with them until the 10-minute ballet was a creation of beauty, excitement and virtuosity. In Paris, the film ran for six months and the dance sequence stopped the show at almost every performance, when the audience would demand that the dance sequence be re-run.

Tickets for the Friday, January 16, performance of Jose Greco and his company are available at the Masonic Auditorium boxoffice, Grinnell's downtown and all J. L. Hudson ticket centers.

Suczek to Give Guitar Lessons

A new term of Folk Guitar classes taught by Alexander Suczek will begin at Grosse Pointe War Memorial January 21 continuing on Wednesday evenings for 10 weeks.

The 7 to 8 o'clock class is for beginners and involves group playing and singing from special instruction sheets. No music theory or reading of music is involved but basic chords, strums and well known folk songs in several languages are learned.

Mr. Suczek's 8 to 9 o'clock class is for more advanced folk guitar students presenting elaborations of strums, barred chords and more difficult songs.

Mr. Suczek has taught literally thousands of students to enjoy the guitar. A troubadour, a musician by avocation, he is a Harvard graduate, a magazine editor and founder and director of the Grosse Pointe Music Festival.

Fee for the 10 week term is $17. Advance enrollment is suggested.

Church Offering Art Travelogue

St. Paul Ev. Lutheran Church, Chalfonte and Lothrop, Grosse Pointe Farms, announces a series of six lectures by William Peck, Curator, Ancient Art, The Detroit Institute of Arts, beginning on January 11, at 9:30 a.m. in the Bethany Room.

Mr. Peck has excavated in Egypt and has published many articles on the subject. At the Institute he has been responsible for a number of exhibitions featuring Egypt and Rome.

He was educated at Ohio State and Wayne State University having received a Master's Degree from the latter where he also is a popular lecturer.

The lectures at St. Paul will be in the form of a travelogue from the land of the Tigris and Euphrates via Babylon, Jerusalem and Rome and will cover a time span from man's beginning to the days of early Christianity. The public is invited.

Questers Group Gathers Today

Mrs. Richard Noyes will open her South Oxford road home today, January 8, at 1 o'clock to members of the Fox Creek Questers Chapter. Co-hostess will be Mrs. E. G. Evenden.

Antique clocks is the subject of a talk to be given by Lawrence Ruby.

Open Thursday and Friday evenings!

PURDY & EDGAR'S
NEW YEAR'S OFFERING, AND
OTHER DELIGHTS

WE FULLY EXPECT to be snowed under with visitors at these two open houses Sunday afternoon. At 12 Alger Place you'll be pleasantly surprised when you step inside the large entrance foyer. A graceful staircase leads up to four bedrooms and three baths. There is a step-down living room, separate dining room and splendid family room with fireplace and antique brick flooring. Just three years old, this white colonial is just the ticket for the family that wants to live near the lake and on a deadend street.

LET IT SNOW, let it snow, let us show you one of the better buys available in the Pointe today. At 1239 Yorkshire, just off Kercheval, where our sign bids you welcome. Baby it's cold outside, so come on in and warm up to this four bedroom with family room. We've got our love to keep you warm so come by Sunday between 2:30 and 5.

BY APPOINTMENT

BUTTON UP your overcoat, and we'll turn up the thermostat. The owner of this larger house on Washington is tired of keeping this on ice. We think a hot deal will be forthcoming because our client tells us his selling resistance is melting. This is the only six bedroom, three bath house with a new kitchen we could cook up in the forty thousand range.

KEEPS COMING on like a song, and this little ditty can be had for a song. Any kind of offer might be sweet music to the ears of the owner of this smaller Cape Cod in the Farms. He's instructed us to launch a full scale selling effort. $7,900 is all the do re mi required.

A NEW ORLEANS colonial just five years old, and nestled on a deadend street which leads to the Lake. As you would expect in a house of this calibre, the master bedroom has its own dressing room. There are a total of four bedrooms and two full bathrooms and two lavatories. The family room is larger than the living room, and it looks out into the backyard and the heated swimming pool. Large mortgage balance at 6%.

ONE OF THE Pointe's fine older mansions, this graceful beauty has been kept in the peak of condition. The new kitchen is certainly worthy of being placed on a "kitchen tour." Two of the four master bedrooms have fireplaces and every bedroom has a bath. Two extra rooms for entertaining on the first floor to complement the large formal living and dining rooms. The spacious grounds include a separate carriage house and secluded garden leading from one of the social parlours.

PERIAPS YOUR preference is an English Colonial on a lovely tree-lined street in the Park. We have one on Yorkshire with four family-sized bedrooms and a warm, paneled family room. Convenient to schools, shopping and transportation, for the buyer in the forty thousand dollar range.

Police Notes

RING AND WATCH STOLEN

City police received a report from Mrs. Alice McKnight, 17610 Mack, by mail on December 11, of the theft of three rings and a watch valued at $1000 from her terrace apartment on Wednesday, December 10. She said she left her apartment for about 20 minutes on that date and when she returned discovered the theft.

CONVERTIBLE TOP SLASHED

Gerald A. Johnson, of 20066 Fairway drive, reported to Woods police on Friday, December 12, that vandals had cut a five-inch square hole in the left front side of the convertible top of his 1968 Chevrolet, while it sat in the parking lot at Grosse Pointe High School.

REPORTS THEFT

Edward Griffin of 5027 Wayburn, Detroit, informed Farms police on Sunday, December 7, that while his car was parked at the rear of the Farms Water Filtration Plant, 29 Moross road, someone broke into the vehicle and stole his track tape deck, and several tapes. He totaled his loss at $132. The thief left a note, stating "Shall be returned in four months" and signed it "Mr. X or Y."

FENDER DAMAGED

City police received a report on Sunday, December 14, from Stanley Redding, 527 Notre Dame, who stated that sometime between 8:30 a.m. and 7 p.m., on that date persons unknown hit the left rear fender of his car which was parked at the Notre Dame address.

BOY BITTEN

Seven-year old Matthew Par-dock, 305 Lincoln, was bitten by a male Newfoundland dog belonging to Richard P. Doerer, 300 Washington road on Friday, December 12. The skin on Matthew's back and shoulder had been broken. The owner was told to impound the dog at home for 10 days.

DOG BITES OWNER

Seven-year-old Karen Kee, 387 Neff, was bitten by the family dog on Sunday, January 4. Karen was treated at Cottage Hospital for a bite on her left wrist, and released.

THEFT REPORTED

George Van, Jr., of 450 Moran road, disclosed to Farms police, that his car was broken into and a $75 stereo tape recorder, and nine stereo tape decks, valued at $5 each, were stolen. He said the vehicle was parked at Lothrop and Moran, from 11 p.m. December 11 to 7:30 a.m. December 12.

BUSMAN'S HOLIDAY

Five Tigers — Infielders Ike Brown and Cesar Gutierrez and Pitchers John Hiller, Daryn Patterson and Fred Scherman — are spending their off-season playing winter baseball.

Most of the people who try the wrong thing once usually try it too often.

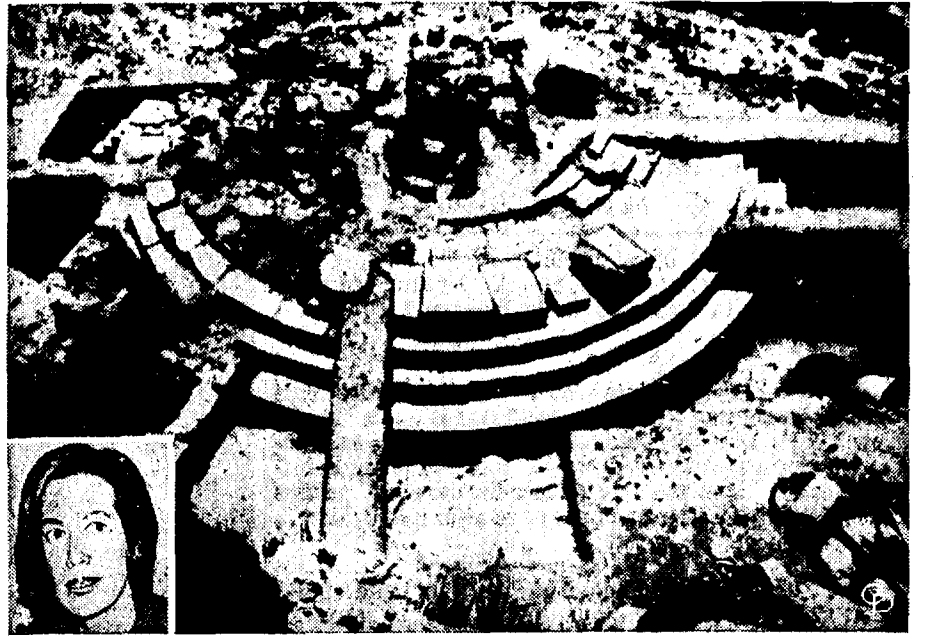

KILLED BY MISTAKE — Police Lt. James D. Bohanan, 42, of Vandalla, Ohio, was shot and killed by mistake during a Secret Service shoot-out with a suspected counter-terfeit gang. Two other men were wounded. None of the police or agents were in uniform. Four Dayton men were arrested.

IMAGINE STAID Congress' surprise to see Rep. Charlotte Reid, R-Ill., in this pantsuit for the final pre-1970 session. She used to be Annette King of radio fame. The outfit, a gift from her office staff, is black wool with gold buttons and a gold chain belt in back. She is modeling it in the Rayburn Room of the Capitol.

BABIES EAT LSD-COATED CANDY — Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wilson carry their children, Patrick (left), 18 months, and Samantha, 2½ years old, from Germany Emergency Hospital in San Francisco after the children were treated for consuming LSD-coated candy accidentally. The father told police the candy was a gift to him and was intended for "religious purposes."

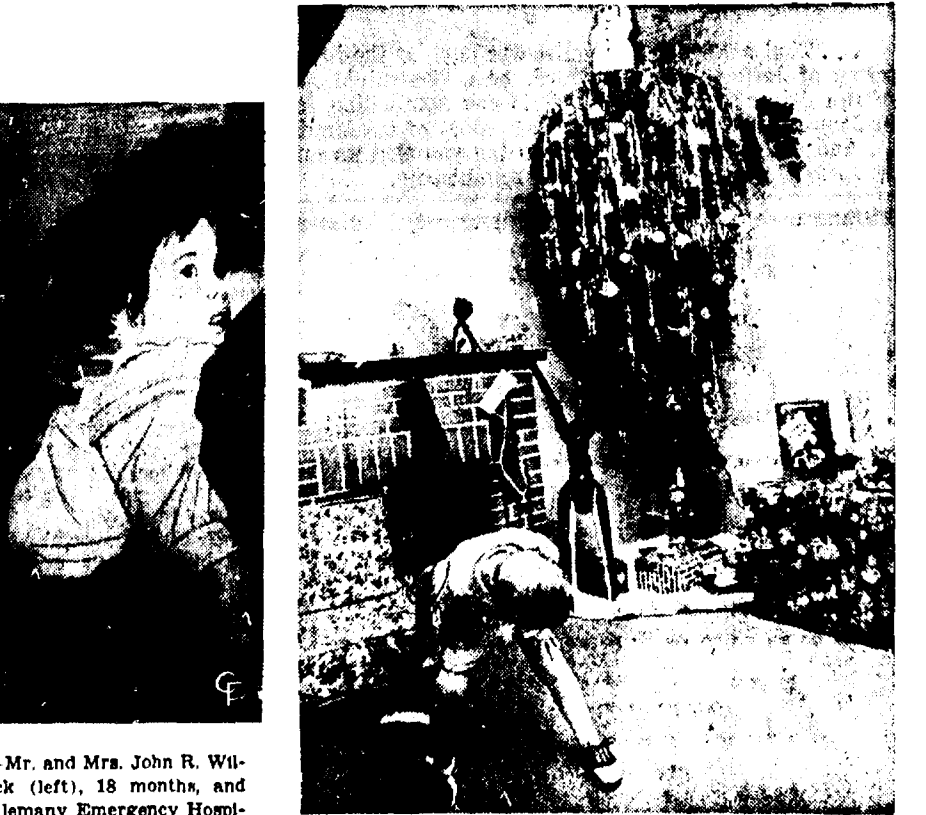

APHRODITE'S TEMPLE BELIEVED UNCOVERED—This partly-excavated, circular Greek temple at Knidos, Turkey, is believed to be the original temple of the goddess Aphrodite—Goddess of Love. It was discovered by archaeologist Dr. Iris C. Love (inset), an assistant professor at Long Island University. It is hoped further excavations in the ruins on the coast of the Aegean Sea may result in recovery of the famous nude statue by sculptor Praxiteles.

BAD DAY FOR DUCKS—This duck resting on the beach near Carpinteria, Calif., is barely able to move after getting doused in the big oil slick that leaked from offshore drilling along more than 20 miles of shoreline north of Los Angeles.

IT TAKES TWO TO TANGO — Tricia Nixon, daughter of the President and First Lady, and her steady beau, Edward Finch Cox, arrive at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City, where they tangled into the early hours at the 15th annual International Debutante Ball. She was junior chairman. Cox, 23, is a first-year student at Harvard Law School.

IN BAY CITY, Mich., 2½-year-old Lisa Müller looks upside down at her Christmas tree, which hangs from ceiling. Her parents said they wanted "to be different" this year.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

We thought it might be interesting . . . this first month of a new decade to look back 10 years, see what was happening in Grosse Pointe in January, 1960 . . . Do you remember . . .

. . . That Grosse Pointe Woods' "new" Municipal Hall was completed that month? . . . And that it was a "good" New Year's Eve, the weather holding steady—not like the ice storm that ushered in 1959 and left many Pointers hosting all-night-and-well-into-the-next-day parties that were to have ended an hour or so after midnight? . . .

. . . That a final glimpse of The Debutante of the Year, Charlotte Ford, before she flew back to school in Italy caught her shopping on Mack avenue in a leopard coat . . . "her ash blond hair shoulder length," whoozit noted, "the beehive style abandoned except for party evenings" . . .

. . . That intercollegiate basketball moved into the Grosse Pointe (South now, Only then) gymnasium for the third consecutive year January 23, with Lawrence Tech's Blue Devils facing Indiana Tech's Warriors in a contest benefitting the Grosse Pointe Park Little League Baseball Program? . . .

. . . That smoked hams were selling for 35 cents a pound, standing rib roasts for 69 cents a pound, Grade A fresh eggs for 35 cents a dozen? . . . And banks proudly advertising savings account interest rates of three percent? . . .

. . . That Sandy Brown's engagement to Walter Briggs Fisher was announced? . . . And Mary Kay Tracy was busily preparing for her February 27 wedding in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore to James Duncan Farley . . . And Kitty Crane and Edward T. Gushee, Jr., revealed their plans for a spring wedding? . . .

. . . That The Reverend Erville B. Maynard, third Rector of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, was a "Pointer of Interest" during the Church's 30th anniversary month, (interestingly—and not at all planned—that way—last week's "Pointer of Interest," our first for 1970, was Mr. Maynard's successor, Christ Church's fourth rector, The Reverend Arnold A. Fenton)? . . .

. . . That only a pile of rubble remained as razing continued at the site of the once magnificent mansion of the late Dr. and Mrs. Harry N. Torrey? . . . A decade later the Torrey property is the beautiful Deeplands subdivision . . .

. . . That local movie houses were showing "Pillow Talk," "The Best of Everything," (film version of that "shocking" book by Rona Jaffe), and, at the kiddie matinee, "The Prisoner of Zenda," (well, some things don't change)? . . .

. . . THAT THE GROSSE POINTE NEWS PUBLISHED ITS THOUSANDTH ISSUE? . . . That milestone paper's date was January 28, 1960 . . .

. . . That Whoozit spotted Walker L. Cisler, "home fairly recently from a jaunt half-way around the world," (we repeat: Well, some things don't change), enjoying a Sunday bicycle excursion "in a very natty beige cashmere jacket and cap"? . . .

. . . That foreador pants were "in"? . . . And skirt lengths were well below the knee? . . . And women wore their hair short, and fairly tightly curled? . . . And there wasn't ONE wig advertisement in ANY of our January 1960 papers? . . .

. . . That for the first time Grosse Pointe High School had no mid-winter graduating class? . . .

. . . That the Mothers Committee of Liggett School sponsored the opening night benefit performance of "Dear Liar," starring Katherine Cornell and Brian Aherne, at the Shubert Theater? . . .

. . . That a special committee appointed to formulate plans for the William H. Fries Auditorium on the grounds of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial held its first meeting in the Provencal road home of Alger Shelden, committee chairman and former president of the War Memorial Association? . . .

. . . That Farms' home and commercial property owners were notified of a July 1 deadline for the installation of "garbage grinders," (we call them disposal now) or incinerators . . .

. . . That a 76-year-old cyclist was hurt, at the intersection of Jefferson and Bedford, by a 78-year-old hit-and-run driver? . . . And THAT is our nomination for our January 1960 paper's Front Page Story of the Month . . . And on THAT note, after assuring you that no one was seriously injured, we end our reminiscing.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. EDWARD MAZZOTTA/DR. ELAINE MARY HACKER, OF CHRISTINE DRIVE, WITH CATHY AND GEORGE

By Janet Mueller

It had been One Of Those Days—we all have them—and Elaine Mary Hacker Mazzotta had had it. So she said, in an "announcing" voice—as we all say, in an "announcing" voice, occasionally—"I am going to quit!" . . . And George, who happened to be within range of the announcement, stared up at her, horrified.

"You CAN'T quit, mother!" he exclaimed. "Then I can't be proud of you!" George knew, of course, deep down that he didn't need to worry.

As much chance of mother "quitting" as of the moon changing places with the sun. Mrs. Mazzotta WON'T stop being Elaine Mary Hacker, M.D., specialist in Obstetrics and Gynecology, in practice with E. Rae Hudspeth, also a woman—and a Pointer, with offices in Mack avenue and the Fisher Building, member of the staff of Hutzel, Deaconess and Cottage Hospitals, Clinical Instructor, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, Wayne State University.

And Dr. Hacker WON'T stop being Mrs. Mazzotta, Ed's wife, George and Cathy's mother, the lady who runs the house in Christine drive, who makes grape jelly "from our own grapevines," who sews on buttons, mends clothes, whips up a new breadspread for Cathy, shoots a few baskets with George.

Has Own Opinion

She's quite a remarkable person. But SHE doesn't think so.

"I don't have any hobbies," she reports. Not regretfully; as a statement of fact. (The breadspread? The grape jelly?—Those aren't "hobbies;" that's simply being Mrs. Mazzotta.) "I have two children, so I suppose you could say my 'hobbies' take their cue from them: I play football, basketball, baseball; I swim . . ."

Cathy, 12 December 30, is a Brownell student. George, 10, is at Kerby. "I think," Elaine muses, "they're pretty independent, well-adjusted. I've always tried to make certain they weren't 'overwhelmed' by a mother who works."

They're not. How well they know just exactly who Elaine is and what she does was beautifully expressed once by a younger Cathy, answering a teacher's query. "Well, she's 'mother' at home but when she goes outside she's 'Dr. Hacker.'"

Born on a Farm She was born sans the "Dr.," plain Elaine Mary Hacker, in a farmhouse in Clontarf, Minn. "Mother had four children. The only one born in a hospital was my brother."

Now "Mother," Elaine admits, WAS a remarkable person. "She had to quit school in the seventh grade to take care of HER mother."

Father was pretty remarkable too. He finished the eighth grade, went one year to Agricultural College . . . then HIS father became ill and he too had to quit.

"Had to"—not "wanted to." The Hackers' formal education may have been brief but they never stopped learning. And "Education," they taught their children, "is very important. What you learn nobody can take from you."

Their oldest daughter, who died in 1964, held a Masters degree in Nursing Education. She was married to an Associate Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Minnesota.

Farm Is Modernized Elaine, of course, is an M.D. Her brother manages the farm, completely modernized now, completely automated. Her younger sister, whose husband is an Electrical Engineer, is the family artist: Her charming flower studies, delicately blue and white, compliment the Mazzottas' blue and white living Elaine's been a working physician ever since she received her M.D., with time out only for vacations—and babies. Never too much time at any one time, though. When her first child was born . . . "I delivered a Medical student's wife at 9 in the evening and Cathy was born at 3 the next morning." Elaine was back at work at the end of three weeks.

With George . . . "I had office hours and left around 6 . . . I remember we had a big rain storm. George was born at 1:15 the next morning; we got to the hospital half an hour before . . ."

Three weeks later Dr. Hacker was back in her office.

Plan Regular Vacations

The vacations are a regular part of the Mazzotta schedule. "The children and I," says Elaine, "probably get away a bit more than Ed. I think my time is a little easier to juggle. (Mr. Mazzotta's an engineer). Rae and I have a very 'lady-like' arrangement: We try to accommodate ourselves to each other's interests and commitments."

Last summer Elaine, Cathy and George drove 4,100 miles, through Colorado, Wyoming, South Dakota and Minnesota, in about two weeks. One year Elaine took the children to Niagara Falls over Easter vacation. Another time, with Ed, they made it down the Au Sable in a canoe—"And nobody fell in except Cathy."

Elaine tries to go home to Minnesota every year. She wants George and Cathy to have some time on the farm.

Plenty To Learn

"I've got a lot of useless information in my head," laughs the Farmer's Daughter. "I can harness a team of horses, shuck grain, do all sorts of things they simply don't do today, in this age of automated farming. But I still think there are lots of things children can learn on a farm . . ."

Like the proper treatment of animals. The Mazzottas' two cats, Cleo and Precious, spend just about all their time outdoors, even in the coldest weather. "And they're VERY healthy."

Elaine runs her own household, with the minimum of help. "I have a girl who comes in in the mornings and leaves at 4:30 or so in the afternoon. She's off on weekends. I do the cooking."

"When we planned the house, (Ed designed it—the Mazzottas moved in four years ago), we planned it so it would be efficient, with plenty of closet space, (each upstairs bathroom has its own linen closet, to save steps), and a pantry that can be stocked for weeks."

Has Home She Wants

It's a house for living in, not looking at.

"I don't," says Elaine, "want a house; I want a home."

She's got one. Every room is large, from the library with His and Her desks for the doctor and the engineer to the family room furnished in Early Mazzotta, (including a pair of end tables and a coffee table Ed made).

Elaine's the decorator. She decided on color schemes and materials. She made the library draperies, antiqued the desk in the upstairs hall—and, most recently, replaced the bedspread she'd embroidered years ago—it took first place in the State Fair when she was in the eighth grade—with a new pink one in Cathy's room.

All quite unremarkable accomplishments, says Dr. Elaine Mary Hacker Mazzotta, who considers herself quite an unremarkable person.

That's not what we think.

FRUIT TOSS

Contributed by Anne Campbell for Symphony Junior's Cookbook "No Second Fiddle."

- 1 can pineapple chunks
2 small cans grapes
1 large can mandarin oranges
1 medium can fruit salad
1 cup small marshmallows
1 pint cup cream

Drain all the fruits and mix together the night before you need the salad. In the morning combine with sour cream and marshmallows. Store in refrigerator. Serve 6-8 people.

Will Dedicate Ski Flying Hill

A special joint committee of the Michigan Legislature has been established to act as official state of Michigan hosts for the International Ski Flying Meet which will serve as dedication for the Copper Peak Ski Flying Complex near Ironwood, February 27, 28 and March 1.

State Rep. Leonard S. Walton, D-Detroit, Chairman of the House Tourist Industry Relations Committee, will serve as chairman of the special committee which will seek to coordinate the hosting activities.

The jump is one of only five such "flying" hills in the world, all of the others being in Europe. It was constructed through the joint efforts of the Upper Great Lakes Commission, the U.S. Department of Commerce, the Michigan Economic Development Commission and local groups and is operated by the Gogebic Range Ski Club, a non-profit organization.

An estimated 35 jumpers from at least eight nations will compete in the inaugural jump which is expected to receive international television and news coverage.

"We are hopeful that this dedication competition will help foster international good will and will enhance the possibilities of bringing other international competitions to Michigan," Chairman Walton said in announcing the committee.

"This is a great opportunity to demonstrate to winter sports leaders of many nations the great potential Michigan has as host state for these activities," he said.

The international record jump from a "flying" hill is 541 feet set last year at Planica, Yugoslavia, where Marshal Tito presided over the dedication of the world's fourth "flying" complex.

Jumps in the 540-foot category are considered possible off the Copper Peak jump. Facilities include parking for 10,000 cars, double deck stands for judging, press, radio and television coverage, concession stands and other facilities for spectators as well as top facilities for the competitors.

MR. and MRS. GARY K. EVATZ, of Warren, announce the birth of their second child, a son, DAVID MATTHEW, January 1. Mrs. Evatz is the former VALERIE CHANCEY, daughter of MR. and MRS. HARRY J. CHANCEY, of Grand Marais boulevard. Paternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. STANLEY EVATZ, of Thorn Tree lane. Young David, who arrived at 3:43 a.m., was the first baby born at Bi-County Hospital during the new decade.

Carl's Corner

I understand that many people walked out on the Princeton production at the War Memorial, and that this was the first and only time it's happened to this performing company.

Well—I didn't see it, but thank God Grosse Pointers have the guts and courage to get up and walk out if they don't like something—that's one of the many reasons it's fun to live here.
