HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

DAVID BRUCE, veteran diplomat, was named Wednesday by President Nixon as the new chief American negotiator at the Vietnam talks in Paris. In the same television interview with senior newsmen from the major television networks, the President declined to put a timetable on the complete American withdrawal from Vietnam and refused to assert categorically that the U.S. forces would not re-enter Cambodia under any circumstances.

DENNIS McLAIN, returning from a 13-week suspension for bankrolling a bookie joint, got a standing ovation the first time he stepped out of the Tiger dugout and onto the pitcher's mound Wednesday night. Mayo Smith, club manager, pulled McLain in the sixth inning when the Yanks were leading 5-3. The Tiger's finally won the game, six to five in 11 innings.

DETROIT MAYOR GRIBBS announced Thursday that within the next week he will lay off about 350 city employees in an effort to save the city some $250,000 per month. He said the layoffs would last at least 60 days and will be extended indefinitely unless the State Legislature acts soon to give the city new taxing power.

A BRITISH JETLINER with 112 persons aboard lost radio contact two minutes before it was to arrive at this coastal city Friday. Residents of a seaside village 18 miles northeast of Barcelona, Spain reported they had seen a large plane fall into the sea. Port authorities believed the villagers witnessed the crash of a Dan-Air Airlines Comet which carried a crew of seven and 105 vacationing passengers. The plane was last heard from while it was in the Barcelona Airport landing pattern at an altitude of 6,000 feet about 12 miles away. All passengers 48 men and 53 women, three children and an infant, are believed to be dead.

ABOUT 400 NEGRO inmates rioted Saturday at Holmesburg Prison, in Philadelphia, wounding 86 persons and seizing white hostages before yielding to police armed with tear gas, riot guns, and dogs. The rioters took control of the mess hall for three hours and threatened to kill the hostages unless Black Muslim leaders were brought to the prison to hear grievances. The prisoners finally surrendered when hundreds of police converged on three sides of the mess hall, leveled riot guns into windows and threatened to fire a barrage of tear gas and un-leashed dogs.

TICKET BOOTHS were removed and the gates thrown open Saturday at the Atlanta, Ga. International Pop Festival, a three day carnival of music, drugs and love-making which attracted 200,000 people, and which showed promise of being bigger than the famed Woodstock Festival.

AN AIR CANADA JETLINER began to break up while attempting to land at Toronto, Sunday, fought for altitude while trailing flames and dropping parts, and smashed into a farm field, killing all 108 persons aboard. The DC8, bound from Montreal to Los Angeles, careened over a terrified farm wife and disintegrated in a cloud of smoke and rubble only 100 yards from another farmhouse where a family of 10 looked on in fright. Some 108 persons were believed dead in the crash, 25 of them Americans.

A STUDY TOUR AGENCY that shuttled innocents abroad for $1,000 a head ran out of money Monday and left 3,500 American students scattered from Paris to Athens on what one called the worst trip of his life. All had airline tickets back to the United States, but since the tour had been all inclusive, most had no money to pay for food and lodging until the chartered planes arrive. The trip was arranged by an organization called World Academy, in Cincinnati, O.

Woods Kids Boost Youth Division Program

A handful of youngsters, all children of residents of Saddle Lane, gathered recently to present a check for $458 to Woods City Manager CHESTER PETERSEN and, from the left, Public Safety Officers RUSS ALLARD, Corporal PETER THOMAS and STEVEN PETRIK. The money was raised by the youngsters at a backyard benefit fair and was presented to the city to help finance the Pointe's newly-established Youth Service Division, which will be quartered in the Woods police station. In addition to the money donated by the children, a number of housewives residing in Saddle Lane also volunteered their time and services as typists, mailers and community relations workers to the Division.

Barbara Thompson Elected President by 4-3 Vote Over Other Nominee, Lee H. Allen

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education elected new officers for the 1970-71 fiscal year at its annual meeting on Monday, July 6. Nominated for the presidency were Barbara R. Thompson and Lee H. Allen. Mrs. Thompson was elected by a vote of four to three, with Calvin J. Sandberg, Arnold F. Fuchs, Donald J. Semmler and Mrs. Thompson voting for Mrs. Thompson and Lee H. Allen and William J. Con Man's Plans Foiled As Ladies Get Suspicious

A last minute premonition, an alert bank official and good surveillance on the part of the City of Grosse Pointe Police resulted in the apprehension of a would-be Pidgeon Drop expert on Tuesday, June 30.

On that date, Joseph A. Tonari, vice-president and manager of The National Bank of Detroit, at Rivard and Jefferson, called City police to report two women had entered the bank and one of them withdrew a large amount of cash and the contents of her safety deposit box upon the request of a telephone caller who identified himself as a bank examiner.

Lt. Robert Van Tien and Cpl. Richard Clarke rushed to the scene, where the two ladies returned after becoming suspicious. Officers suggested that the bank manager keep the

Drive Heads Confident Both Final Amount and Number of Donors Will Exceed Figures Recorded in Last Year's Drive

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Family Participation Campaign continues to garner gifts. To date $89,548.27 has been received from 5,275 donors as compared to $87,961.43 given by 5,286 families by the same date in 1969.

Judge Neal E. Fitzgerald, president of the Center's volunteer board of directors and William J. Croul, treasurer and campaign chairman, are especially pleased to see the number of givers almost up to last year's level and they are confident as gifts continue to come in that the number of givers as well as the amount given will surpass 1969.

Many Events Slated
Grosse Pointe families will find a lot going on this summer at the Center they help to support. While many institutions are closed for the summer they may attend the outstanding Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival on Tuesday, July 21, for an evening of chamber music or on Tuesday, July 28, for a complete of Strauss.

There is a Family Film series of comedies in Fries Auditorium on Thursdays, July 9-30 featuring classics of Chaplin, W. C. Field, Turpin, Laurel and Hardy, Keaton and the great moderns — Jack Lemmon and Elaine May topped off by Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton doing their thing in the "Taming of the Shrew."

Teens may enjoy Movie Rocks each Monday night with feature films followed by dancing to the best rock orchestras such as The Rumor, The Rationals and Sounds of Night, Paul Newman, Lauren Bacall, Anthony Quinn, Peter O'Toole, Angie Dickinson and the like are in their "flicks."

Cleanup Job From Storm Continuing

Park and City Get Help from Three Other Pointes Not So Severely Battered

By Phil Lorranger
The massive cleanup operations resulting from the destruction wrought by the Wednesday, June 24, twister, which cracked through the Pointe, smashing trees and ripping down phone and electrical lines, continued in full swing last week throughout the City and Park.

Those two were the hardest hit of the five Pointe communities, which were dented by the small tornado, which ripped from black storm clouds shortly before 4 p.m. and skipped across the area at tree-top level, driving heavy rain squalls in front of it.

The violent storm, one of the worst to strike the Pointe in many years, left hundreds of trees twisted and scores completely uprooted, as well as causing extensive damage to the roofs of many homes. Some residents even reported chimneys smashed by the vicious blow.

Many Wires Down
In addition to damage, the storm also was responsible for the nearly 24-hour power failure in the hardest hit area. Some homes were without phones and electricity for even a longer period of time.

Fortunately, only one storm-related injury was reported. That occurred in the Park, when 35-year old Mrs. Ann Harnett, of Devonshire, was hit and pinned to the ground by a large tree limb at the height of the storm.

"We have had private foresters working 'round the clock since shortly after the storm," said Tom Kressbach, city manager. "Our own public works employees also have been working overtime to clean up the mess. We started out by taking care of the loose limbs lying about the area and now we are beginning to concentrate on the larger limbs."

Kressbach pointed out that the City had borrowed equipment from both the Woods and the Shores to help speed the cleanup operations and that the brunt of the work has been completed.

Toughest in Memory
"This is the largest such undertaking that I can recall," he said. "Although the lion's share has been completed, I don't think we'll be anywhere near normal until the latter half of this week."

Kressbach claimed that the greatest amount of damage was to partially damaged trees, which were "shaved" by the twister. A lesser number of trees were completely destroyed. (Continued on Page 4)

Dr. Allan J. Canty Has Long History of Successful Research into Sex Crimes; Six-Year-Old Girl Victim of Shocking Attack

By Phil Lorranger
A new dimension was added this week to the investigation by a task force of Woods and St. Clair Shores police officers into the abduction and rape on Wednesday, June 17, of a six-year-old Grosse Pointe Woods girl.

Dr. Allan J. Canty, a nationally-respected authority on sex crimes, this week volunteered his services to the Woods police detectives' investigation of the bizarre crime. Canty, a resident of Detroit, has a long history of successful research into sex crimes, many of which were solved through his diligent efforts.

The 64-year-old psychiatrist was associated with Detroit's Recorder's Court Psychopathic Clinic for 39 years and served as its director for 21 years until his retirement in 1969. In addition, he worked with the famed Elliott Ness Federal Bureau of Investigation team in its glory years in the thirties.

Writer and Lecturer
He has written a number of articles for the Mayo Clinic medical journal, lectured before the International Association of Chiefs of Police, instructed members of the FBI's sex crime investigation units and taught in Cleveland.

Canty currently screens all prospective members of the Los Angeles police department, residing east of the Mississippi River, and provides the same service to the Woods Public Safety Department.

"We are pleased to have Dr. Canty's assistance in this case," said Woods Captain Henry Marchand. "He feels so strongly about such cases that he volunteered his aid to Public Safety Director Donald Coats."

Okay Police Pay Hike in Farms

The Farms council reviewed and approved a negotiated wage contract with the Grosse Pointe Farms Police Officers Association, on Monday, July 5, and authorized a meeting with the police and city negotiation teams, to "iron out" the wording of the contract and other minor details.

The meeting was held yesterday, July 8, between City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., and City Controller Carrol Lock, representing the city, and Patrolmen Earl Field, Donald Dewey, F. J. Belanger, II, and Gordon Evans, speaking for the Association.

The contract, which was ratified by the police officers on June 22, and waiting for council approval, gives the patrolmen $11,200 for the first year of the life of the contract, and $12,000 for the second year.

In addition, the negotiators reached an agreement in an increase in paid holidays, additional furloughs, increased hospital insurance paid by the city, more uniform allowance, paid training time, and overtime adjustments.

The city has not settled with the Grosse Pointe Farms Fire Fighters Association, nor with the Department of Public Works. Negotiations are still underway.

Estranged Husband Kills Wife, Self in Park Home

A former Park citizen, who had been living in Windsor, fatally shot his estranged wife in her Park home on Monday, July 6, then killed himself by firing a bullet into his head. The couple, parents of four children, had been separated since last November.

Pronounced dead on arrival at Bon Secours Hospital were George M. Quinn, 48, and Evelyn Quinn 46, who, with her children, lived at 1129 Berkshire.

City Manager Claims Few Candidates Qualify for Position Lieutenant Currently Serves

By James J. Njaim
Who understands the inner functions of a police department better than the department's own personnel? The personnel of such a department, or any other branch of civic government, for that matter, from the head man down to the rank and file, are responsible to the citizens and to the taxpayers who pay their salaries.

In a small department, a member therein, must, a large percentage of the time, wait for someone in high rank to retire, just plain quit, or even die, before the member has even a remote chance of winning a promotion, if this is made available to him. Sometimes they stay in the same rating for years before they have an opportunity to win advancement.

Chances are they might reach retirement age before they can add chevrons or insignias on their uniforms.

One case in point is the Farms Police Department, which has been without a police chief since Jack F. Roh left on August 26, 1969. Roh, chief for three years, resigned to start his own private investigative agency in Grand Rapids. He died one month later of a serious illness.

The position was offered to Lt. Vernon Sylvester, Roh's second in command, who for his own reasons refused the job. It was then offered to Det. Sgt. George Van Tien, who also declined the post, it was said by City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr.

Bremer said that when the post was turned down by Sylvester and Van Tien, both very able and dedicated police officers, then he (Bremer) determined to look elsewhere for a department head, including from within the department itself.

However, he pointed out, the better to evaluate the qualifications of any member of the Farms department, it was decided to seek candidates for the job from other departments.

Bremer said that he had originally anticipated and hoped to pick a man from the local force, but felt that he should not limit the scope to just the department. It is more important to obtain the services of a well qualified man, rather than just give the job to a man.

In the absence of a department head, Lt. Sylvester was made acting-chief, until the search for a permanent chief is successfully concluded. The lieutenant has rendered excellent services to the community and to the department, the city manager added.

"The reason we have not selected a new police chief as yet, is because not very many candidates can qualify for the job," Bremer said. "We have been waiting to pick the best man for this all-important position. We must give the job to a qualified individual, not just any individual. After all, we have to select the best for the people of the Farms."

Have 25 Applications
Bremer and City Controller Carrol Lock, who is also deputy city clerk, have received approximately 25 applications for the job vacancy from all over the country, since it was advertised in an official national police magazine.

Lock has been to cities in Missouri, West Virginia, New Jersey and other states, interviewing and giving written examinations to prospective candidates.

Bremer said that a point has been reached where four top candidates, including a Farms police sergeant, who have scored high in the written exams, will be given oral examinations this week by three qualified ranking police officials from Detroit area departments, who are capable of rattling off questions that will put the chief hopefuls on their mettle.

The city manager said it is hoped that a new police chief will be selected and on the job before the end of this month. (Editor's Note: Let's hope that the Farms will take a lesson from the Park, Woods and Shores, and also learn from its own experience, since (Continued on Page 2)

Other items in the economic package include an increase in annual holiday pay from $70 to $176 in December 1970 and to $264 in December 1972, a $25 increase in annual uniform allowance, improved hospital insurance including the addition of major medical coverage, one additional vacation day after three years, and an improvement in the rank differential for police corporals and sergeants.

Negotiating Team

The City's negotiating team consisted of Mayor David E. Burgess, City Manager Thomas W. Kressbach, Finance Director Dennis Foran, Director of Public Safety Andrew Tevaert, and Fire Captain Robert Marshall.

Representing the Fire Fighter's Association were President Stephen Madar, Vice President Robert Millington, and Secretary-Treasurer Gerald Mehl.

Representing the Police Officer's Association were President Virgil Beaupre, Vice President David Teolis, and Secretary-Treasurer Dennis Van Dale.

City police by the prosecutor due to lack of positive evidence. However, at the time of his arrest Kirilenko had a plastic package of suspicious-looking material on his person, which was later identified a hushish.

The prosecutor suggested City police charge Kirilenko under the City ordinance, disorderly person—possession of drugs. He was represented by attorney Neil Fink. He was fined $150 and turned over to immigration officials.

After the arrest the ladies involved told officers that they were contacted by a man by telephone. He told them that people employed at the bank, including high officials, were suspected of being involved in thefts from accounts. He then asked what the one ladies' balance was as of May 14. She gave him the information and then was told to take the phone off the hook, go to the bank and remove all the contents of her safety deposit box, because the diamonds she had there were probably fakes. She was also told to remove $1,650 from her account. The lady did as she was told. She also removed $5,000 in gold coins. They were then told to walk slowly outside of the bank where they would be contacted.

City police asked the NEWS to caution residents against any request for funds from unknown persons and indicated that any persons approached in this manner should immediately contact City police.

all hired departmental heads from outside their respective departments. Roh was a Grand Rapids police lieutenant when he was hired by the Farms. In three communities, the chiefs resigned to work for departments in other states. The Park, Woods and Shores, all of which had potential in their respective departments, picked new chiefs from within their departments, which gave personnel morale a tremendous boost.)

Center Repeats Tannahill Tour

By popular demand a second special Art Tour will be conducted by Grosse Pointe War Memorial to view the private collection of the late Robert H. Tannahill at the Detroit Institute of Arts. This second tour is scheduled for today Thursday, July 9.

Tour members will gather at the War Memorial at noon for luncheon catered by Helen Blair of the Center staff. During luncheon Pointer Ann Warren, formerly on the Museum staff and a lecturer for the Institute who will serve as special guide for the Grosse Pointe group, will give a brief talk.

Then the group will board a charter bus for the Detroit Institute of Arts to view the late Mr. Tannahill's discriminating private collection of some of the world's greatest masterpieces.

During his lifetime Mr. Tannahill devoted his energies and support toward making the Detroit Institute of Arts one of the very major museums of the country. In his will the Institute was a major recipient guaranteeing the continuance of its high standards.

Following the viewing of the Tannahill Collection the Pointe group will be guests of the Scarab Club where they will visit the personal studios of Joseph Maniscalco, Patricia Burnett, Bernice Carmichael and Beaver Edwards.

Light aperitifs will be served to all group members in the Club's refectory before boarding the charter bus to bring them back to the Center.

The entire afternoon — luncheon, charter bus transportation, guided tour of the Tannahill collection, visit to the Scarab Club studios and afternoon wine — is included for $5.50.

Reservations should be arranged at once as they are limited. They can be made now at the Center's office for individuals or parties.

Cadet John Kendall Undergoing Training

Cadet John A. Kendall, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kendall, 935 Ballantyne road, is receiving six weeks practical application in military leadership at the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps' basic summer camp at Ft. Knox, Ky. until July 23.

Cadet Kendall is one of approximately 4,000 young men expected to attend ROTC basic camp at Ft. Knox this year. He will train as a small unit leader and instructor in realistic exercises, and will receive command experience and the opportunity to use classroom knowledge in the field.

Kendall is a graduate of Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Mich. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta, Omicron Delta Kappa, Epsilon Delta Alpha and Phi Delta Phi.

Storm Clean-Up Continues

Park City Manager Robert Stone also reported that hundreds of trees in that community suffered severe storm damage and estimated that at least 50 trees would be lost completely.

"We're still at the clean-up work, but it's going to take some time before we finish the job or get anywhere near back to a normal state," he said. "We have been through every street at least one time and now we are concentrating our efforts on picking up all brush and debris."

Debris Stockpiled
Stone pointed out that the Park is stockpiling all storm debris at the Three Mile Park and said all those who wish to place their brush and limbs there may feel free to do so.

"We have had three private groups, our own men and the Wayne County road crews working hard at the job and we have made the project a priority item."

Although the Farms, Woods and Shores escaped major damage during the wicked storm, those communities had reports of some downed limbs and minor flooding. Large trees were felled on the South High School campus and at Beverly road and Lakeshore road, each completely blocking traffic on Grosse Pointe boulevard and Lakeshore respectively.

Killings

Londe, Sgt. George Blair, Cpl. Walter Paton and Patrolman Michael Kortas.

Park firemen conveyed Mr. Quinn to the hospital in the fire ambulance, and Mrs. Quinn was taken in a City police ambulance by City Patrolmen Ronald Pryor and Dennis VanDale, who arrived at the Quinn residence to assist.

Lt. Coonce said that the investigation of the murder-suicide is still continuing, and that there are still several matters in the double tragedy that must be put together.

He said that all the available information in the incident was presented to the Wayne County Medical Examiner's Office at an inquest Tuesday, July 7.

The Park had one other murder-suicide which occurred on September 25, 1959, when Mrs. Catherine Wassall, 55, who lived in Bedford road, was shot and killed by J. Dana Tomlinson, 72, in her home, when Mrs. Wassall rejected Tomlinson's proposal of marriage.

Tomlinson pumped five bullets into the body of Mrs. Wassall, three of them into her head at close range, after which he returned to his exclusive Palmer Park apartment in Detroit, where he fatally shot himself.

The murder victim and her killer had been friends for a number of years, and both had lost their spouses at about the same time, five years previously.

Mrs. Wassall and Tomlinson, a retired business executive, had been seen together on a number of occasions, and when Mrs. Wassall attempted to break off the relationship, Tomlinson shot her.

Detroit police, called to Tomlinson's apartment by an adjoining tenant, found the man dead on his bed, and his gun on the floor. Three notes found in the apartment, apparently written by the suicide, tersely disclosed that the murder of Mrs. Wassall had been planned since the previous March, when the woman rejected Tomlinson's offer of marriage.

Three Years Ago—

Three Years ago this July very smug whites including members of the G. P. Human Relation Council thought we were doing enough to speed the personal liberation of our black American brothers. We weren't and we were unaware until they spoke to us in frustration on July 23, 1967.

We have done little or nothing to change white ignorance, hatred and apathy. This time do not be either surprised or unaware for white America chooses to ignore rather than cure, fear rather than understand and buy guns and protection rather than provide aid and opportunity.

If we were serious about the American dream of freedom for all men we could have accomplished the transition in 3 years but as of now the ghetto, the suburbs, recreation and job opportunities are just about the same as 3 years ago. We are the leaders and we are responsible for change... and we have failed.

July 4 Thieves Work in Woods

Thieves visited two Woods homes in Severn road within the space of 24 hours this week, with both breaking and entering reports called to the attention of public safety officers on Saturday, July 4.

Ellwood Wachter, Jr., a resident of East Cleveland, Ohio, was visiting at the home of his father, Ellwood Wachter, Sr., of 1644 Severn, and, upon returning shortly after 10 p.m. on the day of the incident, noticed that the home had been ransacked.

He told investigating officers that the only item he could determine missing, was a 27-inch, color television console, which had been taken from the living room.

Police officials reported that a number of rooms had been ransacked and that a buffet, also located in the living room had been disturbed.

Shortly before 9 a.m. on the same day, officers had been called to the residence of Robert W. Brown, at 1689 Severn, where Reay Brown, son of the homeowner, told them that he had returned home at about 8:30 a.m. and noticed the ransacked condition of the house. Police found that a window on the south side of the home had been smashed and a screen had been ripped off, allowing the intruders to gain entry into the family room of the house.

Brown found two television sets with the electric cords wrapped up near an open window in the den. All rooms in the home had been thoroughly ransacked. The only item reported missing was a $20 bill, which had been kept in a cuff link box.

Investigation into both breaking and enterings is continuing.

advice has helped us immeasurably and he has helped throw some new light on the case," Marchand said. "We think his advice has also given us some new ideas, which will prove more than helpful."

Occurred on June 17
Prior to the outbreak of a violent thunderstorm, which rocked the community on June 17, the youngster left Ferry School, on Morningside drive, after the completion of the final regular classes for the year.

She told police that a small black vehicle, driven by a dark-haired, heavy-set young man, approached and stopped just in front of her. The driver got out of his vehicle, grabbed the youngster, placed her in the back seat and then sped off.

He drove to the Jefferson Beach Marina on the shores of Lake St. Clair in St. Clair Shores, where he forced her into the cabin of a dry-docked boat and raped her. After the attack, the man left the child in his car. The girl was found wandering in the area by two women, who took her home.

Although she has since been released from St. John Hospital, she had been listed in serious condition upon admittance, suffering from numerous injuries as a result of the vicious act.

Reward Increases
In other action on the case, the Detroit News this week added the crime to its Secret Witness program, announcing a $1,000 reward to anybody supplying information leading to the arrest and conviction of the criminal. This reward supplements the combined $5,000 in reward money being offered by the Woods and St. Clair Shores City Councils. A number of individuals and groups are also offering rewards in the case.

"Although we are not ready to arrest anybody yet, we feel that we are on the right track and Dr. Canty's presence enhances our position," claimed Marchand.

Church Opens Coffeehouse

The Annex Coffeehouse, especially for teenagers, will be open Wednesday and Thursday, July 8 and 9 and July 15 and 16, from 8:30 until 11:30 p.m. at Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church.

The Norman James Band will be performing on July 8 and July 9. There will be a one-dollar cover charge. Soft drinks, coffee and donuts will be served. The group features low-volume rock, so those in attendance can talk as well as listen.

Any adults interested in working with the coffeehouse should call the church on Wednesdays between 9 a.m. and 12 noon, at 881-0420.

Woods to Widen Park's Entrance

The Woods City Council on Monday, July 6, by a unanimous vote approved a resolution calling for the widening of the Ford court entrance into Sweeney Park so that the Department of Public Works may more easily move in maintenance equipment, despite the outcries of a number of residents opposed to such a move. The easement will be widened to the maximum width of 10 feet to enable the DPW to transport tractors and mowing equipment to the park without damaging the lawns of those residing along Ford court.

"We will have to use the Ford court entrance about twice a year on the average — more in the summer months and less in the winter," said Woods City Manager Chester Petersen. "Presently, it is quite difficult to get this maintenance equipment into the park and we feel this move will go a long way towards solving the problem."

Petersen also pointed out that the four other entrances into Sweeney Park — Fair court, Marford court, Baltree court and Clairview court west — will also be used to bring equipment into the area on a rotating basis. The concrete used on the widening project will be tinted green.

In other action, the Council accepted a $100 reward, offered by the Ferry School PTA, which will be added to the present reward monies being offered to the person or persons providing information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person responsible for the abduction and rape on Wednesday, June 17, of a six-year-old Woods girl. Reward money in that case now totals $7,300.

Girl Bicyclists Out for Records

For a bike-riding group of Brownell Middle School students, a little taste of success has whetted their desire to try for even more bicycling glory. The pedaling trio — Barbara Whittingham, of 189 McKinley, Linda Whittingham, of 490 Colonial, and Jane Schumacher, of 627 Washington — walked into the offices of the NEWS on a recent, wet Wednesday to report that they had just returned from a round-trip bicycle trip to Port Huron, a feat which would throw many a good cyclist.

"We left The Pointe on a Friday afternoon and it took us six hours to reach our destination, which was just north of Port Huron," said the proud girls. "Actually, we could have done it even faster, but Jane's aunt and uncle were following us in their station wagon and they wanted to stop for lunch."

Mr. and Mrs. John Rivett, of St. Clair Shores, used their family car as a "side wagon" for the trip, equipping it with supplies to meet any emergency.

The spunky trio returned during a rainstorm and managed to make even better time coming home — five and one-half hours. All three wore bright orange sweater vests to enable motorists to easily see them and prevent any accidents.

"This was by far our longest trip, but we have our sights set even higher for our future trips," they claimed.

LOSS TO THIEF
Peter Daw of 294 Hillcrest, complained to Farms police that someone entered his garage and stole his 21-inch power mower, valued at $179. He said the theft occurred between 9 a.m. and noon of Thursday, July 2.

Fashion Designers Throw Ladies Unattractive Curves

By Pepper Whitelaw
Was it just last fall we were scurrying about having our coats and dresses shortened to fit in with the "latest" fashion trends? Was it just last fall we were cleaning out our closets and ridding ourselves of all those "unredeignable" fashions? Well, here we are contemplating this fall's fashions only to find we should have saved all that material we lopped off last year.

Other than the expense involved in replacing a whole wardrobe, this "new look" is having a traumatic effect on the average woman. Why, it's just been within the last few months that we finally convinced ourselves, in direct relationship with one's age, were tasteful and proper, and now this. Why, it seems like only yesterday that we spent 20 minutes convincing ourselves it was all right to go out in broad daylight wearing the new short lengths. Then it got easier to wear them. They gave us a feeling of freedom and youthfulness that was a real morale booster, and NOW the two-headed monsters called Fashion Experts, tell us, oh so casually, that short lengths are out. They've even had the audacity to suggest we cut those "out of date dresses" in the middle and attach cummerbund-like centers to bring them up to date (can't you just visualize a whole army of Cossack-type looking women).

The midi is sort of the step-sister to the mini and maxi — a direct result of fashion designers' indecision and avarice.

So gals, if you're listening to the high moguls of fashion get ready for that Mary Poppins image, (And I don't mean ala Julie Andrews). Forget about all that knee care, knees aren't "in" this year, it's the peek-a-boo neckline. I don't know how this strikes the rest of you but it's knocked exercise program clear out of whack.

I've been concentrating all my efforts on leg exercises and let the rest of me just sit there. Now I am faced with taking a fast course on upper torso development and I consider this unfair. After all the "mature woman" has enough to do with cooking meals, chattering children, and bridging the generation gap without constantly shifting her weight around!

I'm hoping women will assert their independence this fall by doing their own thing — short, long, midi, maxi, mini, wear what you like and try making your smile the focal point of your fashion wardrobe. That never goes out of style!

Thieves Blanked In Robbery Try

Although thieves made a mess of the home of William Matouck, of 658 Anita, on Tuesday, June 30, the only items they obtained were a small number of coins.

Woods public safety officers said the thieves gained entry to the home by coming through an unlocked garage door entrance. They pried open a storm door, ripping off the handle in the process. It appeared that a pair of hedge clippers were used to pry the door.

After gaining entry, the thieves proceeded to ransack a number of rooms, dumping clothes on the floor and throwing a number of paintings out of a closet. The missing coins were taken from metal containers in the living room.

Investigation into the case is continuing.

BB'S BREAK WINDOW

You probably have a savings account you can sell to us at a profit.

Think First.

Money. More people are making more of it than ever before. And having more trouble hanging on to some of it. That's understandable. Charge cards are more plentiful than ever before. These are unusual times.

That's why we're making an unusual suggestion.

What's a person to do?

If you've been saving money in a savings account you're a giant step ahead of most people. But maybe you're not doing as well for yourself as you could be.

Your present savings account may be earning a lower rate of interest than First Federal Savings can pay. Many places aren't legally allowed to pay as much as we pay. That's why you should sell us your account.

We'll transfer your current balance (plus any interest due you) to an insured First Federal account.

Then, when you collect interest next time, you'll collect more. In any type of account you select. (That's how we pay you.) We have certificates with various maturity dates and interest rates and regular passbook accounts. They all earn the highest interest rates available in Michigan (from 5% to 5 1/4% to 5 3/4% to 6%).

Here's what you should do.

Bring your present passbook to one of our 24 offices. Or mail it in. We'll take care of all the details of transfer. And in a few days, you'll have your First Federal Savings passbook. Complete with our higher rate of interest and special Daily Interest that's paid and compounded quarterly.

We've just made you a pretty good offer. Think about it. Think about your money.

We can do more for you if you'll think First.

Blaze Blamed On 'Hot' Wires

Overheated wiring in an attic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Argo, of 1876 Stanhope, on Wednesday, July 1, led to a blaze which destroyed most of the attic and the roof of the home.

Woods public safety officers battled the fire, which broke out shortly after 9 a.m., for more than two hours, on the hottest day of the year.

"The heat was almost unbearable," said Corporal Peter Thomas, who was forced to break open a portion of the roof to reach the base of the fire. "The thermometer read nearly 93 degrees, but I'm sure it was well over the 100-degree mark in that attic."

Woods fire officials claimed that an overheated wire resting against a number of stored, plastic clothing bags caused the blaze to ignite and the flames shot up into the overhead rafters before the blaze was discovered.

"In addition to the heated wires, which were even more taxed than usual because the residents had a large fan on high speed all night long, which was attached to the same circuit, the absence of a roof vent added to the heat build-up," said Thomas.

After observing smoke coming up through the shingles of the roof, the firefighters used picks to open the roof and inserted a large-diameter booster hose through the opening.

Damage to the home was confined to the attic and the second story, although some water damage was recorded on the first floor.

Estimates of the loss from the fire were not reported.

Worrell Named Health Officer

Dr. Calier H. Worrell, past-president of the Family Life Education Council and active fighter against drug abuse, has been named Associate Wayne County Health Officer by the Wayne County Health Department.

Dr. Worrell was originally hired by the Grosse Pointes-Harper Woods Health Council on April 15 of this year on a trial basis as a medical professional working primarily on drug abuse. The Health Council has not had a medical doctor on its payroll since the death of Dr. Thomas Davies in 1966, but due to the growing drug problem felt a real community need for such a paid professional.

In order to properly carry on his work Dr. Worrell was appointed to this position.

Dr. Worrell's health office hours will be on Tuesday afternoons and Wednesday mornings of each week in the Grosse Pointe Park Municipal Building, 15115 East Jefferson.

Dr. Worrell's duties include acting as a professional referral medical doctor, assisting the police departments and Youth Service Bureau; helping the community in notifying and working with parents of known drug users; participating in various meetings and seminars related to drug abuse and acting as coordinator for other doctors in the area. He is also responsible for drug abuse commitment at Lafayette Clinic, Marine Hospital and other clinics as they are developed.

Recently in a one-month period Dr. Worrell worked with approximately 25 families who had members involved in the drug abuse problem.

Local drug abuse clinics are currently operating at Bon Secours Hospital and 17150 Waterloo. The clinics are staffed by private psychiatrists under the direction of the Family Life Education Council. Dr. Worrell acts as a referral professional for the commitment of drug abuse patients needing clinical services.

The clinics conduct small group therapy sessions of seven to eight persons for both parents of drug users and teenage drug users. Bon Secours teen group meets on Mondays and Thursdays at 10 a.m. The parents group meets on Wednesdays at 10 a.m.

Participants must be escorted to and from the sessions by their parents and submit to three urine tests per week.

Any persons interested in the clinics may call FLEC at 885-3510, for information and if they so desire, may do so anonymously.

Thieves Steal Stereo, TV Set

Investigation by Woods public safety officers into the Wednesday, July 1, breaking and entering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Young, of 1953 Norwood, continues, although no clues have yet been uncovered, according to Woods detectives.

Entry into the home was made between the hours of 7:45 p.m. on Tuesday, June 30, and 1:30 a.m. on Wednesday, July 1, by thieves who took a stereo set, two speakers and an eight-inch portable television set.

Police pointed out that the illegal entry into the home was made by tearing out a screen covering the kitchen window, smashing an eight by 12-inch pane of glass and unlocking the window.

The living room, dining room, bedrooms and a hall closet were ransacked. The thieves left by walking out a back door, leaving it open.

D'you Know That?

By Paul Schweitzer

In matters of romance, pity the poor male CRICKET. He has the rather extraordinary task of charming his ladylove—who is stone-deaf!

According to the American Museum of Natural History, the female is totally deaf. She has no ears. She locates her mate through her sense of smell — readily attracted by a special fragrance omitted by the male.

The cricket sounds you hear, under the star-studded skies of summer nights, are not love-sings. In fact, they are not even voiced. The male cricket produces the sounds by fretting his wings, as a warning to other males to keep away. It is his way to stake out a claim to his territory.

An easier way of staking out claims to your property is by consulting with SCHWEITZER in all matters of Real Estate. Over 100 reliable sales people to handle your needs promptly. SCHWEITZER REAL ESTATE, 21300 Mack Ave. PHONE: 886-4200, and 18530 Mack Ave. PHONE: 886-1270.

Police Captain Jogs 500 Miles

To visitors at the office of Captain Henry Marchand, of the Woods Department of Public Safety, the sage police official offers the advice that running is the best way to maintain one's physical fitness.

Marchand does more than advise, he practices what he preaches and this week the mercury-footed captain completed the final mile of 500, which he set as his jogging goal last July.

"I've been jogging along Cook road just about every day on my way towards reaching the 500-mile mark," said Marchand. "I finally reached it this week and I feel pretty cocky about the whole thing. Actually, my original goal was 600 miles, but bad winter weather led to a revision."

Marchand has been jogging

daily for the past two years, after reading an article on the merits of such activity for the betterment of health and physique.

"I want you to know that this has just been jogging," he said. "I leave the fast trot for the younger members of the force."

Jaycees Install New Officers

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees recently installed new officers at a dinner and cocktail party held at the Golden Lion Restaurant.

Newly elected officers include Kenneth Roy, president; James Yeomans, internal vice-president; William Swasey, external vice-president; John Ruh, secretary; and Kirt Leighton, treasurer. James Ivers and Robert Smith were named to the board of directors.

New president, Kenneth Roy, is confident that the Grosse Pointe Jaycees will have a very productive and exciting fiscal year. Several new community projects are planned, including a Veterans Assistance Program, and a review of the need for a single government for all the Grosse Pointes.

The Jaycees are also hoping to host the State of Michigan Jaycees' Junior Tennis Championship later this year and to continue sponsorship of track and field events, Jaycee Tennis Tournament and War Memorial Tee Dances. The group also plans to have another Halloween Pumpkin Sale and a Pancake Dinner.

The Pointe Jaycees, organized in the fall of 1968, are a group of men between the ages of 21 and 36 whose main objective is individual development of members through community service and civic betterment programs. The hope to recruit other men who would like to help them in this objective. Anyone interested can contact Alan Lang (884-2845).

Many Pointers Enroll At EMU

A number of Pointe high school students, anticipating enrollment at Eastern Michigan University this fall, recently attended a one-day orientation program held on campus.

During their visit, they received individual and small group counseling and registered for the fall semester. A campus tour, an opportunity to meet other freshmen in residence hall surroundings, and 24 hours to become acquainted with campus routines were other parts of the program.

Those attending included James Biasell, of Balfour road; Joseph Dakoshe, of Barrington road; Elizabeth Mary D'Hondt, of Hamilton court; Josette Einheuser, of Saddle lane; Peter H. Hartz, of Fisher road, and Allen Hoffman, of Hampton road.

More were Johanne D. Kanney, of Bishop road; Jacqueline Robison, of Stratford Lane; Cathy Wendt, of Bedford road; Jim Treanore, of Lakepointe avenue; Deborah Chagot, of Hampton road; Margaret Potter, of Kenmore road, and Donna Schultz, of Torrey road.

Movie-Rocks Offered Teens

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Youth Council has a great series of Monday night Movie Rocks for Teens going this summer. The program continues on Monday, July 13, with "The Great Race" with Jack Lemmon, Tony Curtis and Natalie Wood being shown being shown in air conditioned Fries Theater at 7:30 followed by a rock 'n roll dance from 9:30-11:30 when the very popular "Sounds of Night" will play.

These Movie Rocks are real bargains. Both feature a terrific movie and dance with a great band. They may be attended for a total cost of just $1.25 by ticket purchased in advance at the Center's office. The cost is 25c more at the door. The Movie Rocks are open to Grosse Pointe students in grades 7-12. ID is required both at the time of ticket purchase and at the door.

Students who aren't interested in the movie are requested not to come until 9:30 so that those who wish to enjoy the film may do so without interference.

VANDALS AT WORK

City police received a report from the William Howe, Jr., 662 Neff, that persons unknown had thrown raw eggs on his car and let the air out of the tires sometime around 2:55 a.m. on Friday, July 3. The youth's father awakened at that time and saw a young man near his sons car. He shouted to the youth who fled. Police checked the area but could find no trace of the culprit.

Students Earn Rotary Awards

Paul O'Donnell, a graduating senior from South High School received the Rotary Club's Service Award, an engraved wrist-watch, at recent commencement exercises at South.

The award is granted to the student who has demonstrated during his high school years generous and unselfish service to school and community. Principal Jerry Gerich said, "The young man who is the recipient of this award has made an outstanding record as a student, citizen and student leader."

Mr. Gerich said the Grosse Pointe Womens' Club and Optimists have also been generous to South High School with scholarship donations.

George Curren received the duplicate award at North High School.

New Book Earns Praise

By Pepper Whitlaw
In these days of protest and dissent many of us lose sight of the kind of country we live in and the men who have made and are making it great. Not so with Russell H. Lucas, of 16900 E. Jefferson avenue, scholar and patriot.

Mr. Lucas has skillfully and lovingly edited a book entitled "Outstanding American Statesmen" containing four articles on presidents Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower, written by William Harbaugh, Arthur S. Link, Frank Freidell and Alfred D. Chandler, Jr., distinguished scholars who are highly authoritative on these presidents. The articles were originally prepared as lectures for the Society of Mayflower Descendants of Michigan, of which Mr. Lucas is Past Governor, and presented in part at the War Memorial.

Because the past is a guide to the present and only by understanding the past can we avoid its errors but retain its insights, this book is one that should be read by housewife, college student and businessman alike.

In order to get an over-all view of the public's attitude on this book the NEWS asked Mrs. Phillip Loranger, housewife, University of Detroit graduate and former school teacher; Julie Spencer, a Junior at Western Michigan University, and Robert Orr, director of Grosse Pointe Public Libraries, to jot down their opinions. What they say, interestingly enough, reflects the attitudes of their peer groups.

Mr. Orr felt that at a time when our nation faces many critical problems that it was rewarding to read how past presidents met the challenges they faced.

He said, "The articles are extremely readable, thought-provoking, well written. Each of the scholars has devoted years of research which enables him to write with the highest authority. Each emphasizes the particular contributions made by his subject. Of special significance is the manner in which each of the four presidents faced up to the problem of war, of the efforts made to avoid becoming involved, and of the way in which they conducted themselves once involved. Because war and peace are dominant issues of our time, the book has special importance."

"Although two of the subjects were Democrats and two Republicans, all with their weaknesses and strengths, their supporters and detractors, the picture the reader gets above all is four presidents whose patriotism and ability were above challenge, and whose efforts made our nation stronger and better for the generations to follow."

Miss Spencer mentioned that these four men had strong public followings. "Patriotism said follow the President right or wrong. The presidents were backed strongly by the citizenry. Today due to education and media, people are better informed and do not follow a President blindly."

"In the years these four men were presidents other countries of the world looked up to the United States either as a nation on the rise, or as the most affluent, strongest nation in the world. Today we are still looked upon as affluent and influential but persons in other countries are questioning our morality. World-wide, just as in our own country today, the United States is losing some of

Scoring the Pointes

With the close of the school sports year, the record and scorebooks have been closed and a nearly three-month break is in the works for most high school athletes. For some, the summer vacation will be slightly abbreviated.

Although classes will not begin for most students until the resumption of the regular school football players will be called upon to report to the early summer practices in late August, prior to embarking on another gridiron season.

Gone from the scene this fall will be a number of graduated seniors, many of whom will continue their efforts on the gridiron under collegiate coaches, but, based on eyewitness observations of the upcoming grid squads, the Pointes should do well in competition the coming season.

What troubles most high school coaches is the growing trend on the part of students—athletes and non-athletes alike—to forsake physical activities in the summer for the more leisurely type of entertainment. There is nothing more discouraging than to see a student in good shape in the spring report back to classes with a roll around his or her middle in the fall.

Few students enter summer programs of organized physical activities in the summer. Most are left on their own and the job of getting themselves up to participate in some good, healthy exercises sometimes is beyond them.

Compounding the problem is the fact that many high schoolers take full or part time employment during the summer season leaving them little time for any physical activity.

What coaches are urging students to do is to set aside just one short period of their day, whether it be in the morning or evening hours, and establishing a regular conditioning program for themselves.

Such a course of action will not go a long way towards helping to keep them in good shape, but it will also make them a lot happier and keep them mentally alert, too. I think I'll take their advice.

Traffic Group Urges Caution

With child traffic fatalities in Detroit more than 100 per cent higher this year than they were in the same period in 1969, and because excessive speed has been the chief violation in accidents in which drivers were considered at fault, the Traffic Safety Association has combined the two factors into a poster designed to alert motorists to these problems.

The poster shows a young girl running into the street in front of a fast-moving car and carries the message, "Check Your Speed." More than 1,200 of these are now being erected on street-side standards in the Detroit area. Another 1,200 are being posted throughout the state by local safety organizations.

The records of the Detroit Police Accident Prevention Bureau show that in the first five months this year 18 children under 16 years of age have been killed in Detroit traffic compared with eight in the same period last year. Five of the 18 met death in the month of May.

The records also show that speeding and driving without due care and caution which always contains the element of driving too fast were violations in 32 of the 59 accidents in which drivers were found to be at fault.

"An extra five miles of speed, particularly on a residential street where children are at play, can get a driver into an accident which may end tragically," the Traffic Safety Association said. "A child at play too often isn't thinking of traffic dangers and he may suddenly dart into the street in front of a car."

"The child will be legally to blame in most cases, but the driver who strikes a child will never be able to forget it."

Public Schools in Focus

Last week it was my pleasure to review some of the accomplishments of our senior high students during the 1969-70 year.

The Tower, student newspaper of South High, was awarded a rating of "All-American" by the National Scholastic Press Association.

Tom Heholt of North High received All-State Honors and qualified for the All-State Swimming Team.

Nancy Scott, a senior at South High, was elected secretary of the Office Education Association.

The North High basketball team won its first district tournament title this year.

John Gianakis of the Class of 1973 at South High won an honorable mention in the National Scholastic Art Contest.

Musicians from both North and South High distinguished themselves in the State Solo and Ensemble Festivals this year.

Students at North High earned 38 awards in the 1970 Detroit News Scholastic Writing Awards Contest.

Three girls at South High, Mary Hamilton, Bonnie Sattelmeyer, and Donna Leung, received awards for achievement in their respective fields during the Seventh Annual Spring Cop Banquet.

Students from North made a fine showing in the Annual Scholastic Art Awards competition sponsored by Crowley's department store.

Janet Collins of South High won the "Betty Crocker Home-maker of Tomorrow" award for the school.

The team of North High School students who participated in the Detroit area television quiz bowl in November won over their competition. And Chris Pittel, a 1969 graduate of South High, who served as a model for Seventeen, was selected to go to Rome as a guest of the magazine during the promotion of the film, "A Lion in Winter."

Valhalla, the annual North High, received a first class honor rating in the 49th competition of the All American Yearbook Critical Service.

Nine students from South High qualified as Semifinalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

The Tower, student paper at South, was one of nine high school papers given special mention in the national Journalism magazine, Scholastic Editor, as an outstanding news paper.

These items are only part of the story of public education in Grosse Pointe. High school volunteers, including members of the South High Varsity Club, have participated this year in a fifth and sixth grade tutoring program at Lingeman School and elsewhere in Detroit.

Again this year volunteers from both high schools gave up their Saturday afternoons to teach swimming to handicapped children.

This year the excellent joint Science and Humanities Symposium was held again at North High. Theme of the fourth annual program was "Ape to Apollo—the Progress of Mankind."

Earth Day was observed effectively throughout the school system on April 22. The program organized at South High under the direction of Eugene Wigglesworth of the science department was an outstanding one.

I think the sampling of activities in which our students have excelled this year, and which I have presented during the last two weeks, will give readers of this newspaper an idea of the scope of our program in Grosse Pointe and the many fine contributions that our youngsters are making.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Edgar:

As a former member of the Board of Education and one of the five members who voted for the Grosse Pointe Youth Services Division, I would like to answer Mr. Fuchs' letter and take this opportunity to give my reasons for voting for the Division.

The splendid story on the front page of the June 25 issue of the Grosse Pointe News completely covered the aims and organization of the proposed division.

At two public meetings several Board members emphasized the pressing need for an organization that would bring all the Grosse Pointe municipalities and the Board of Education together as a powerful and effective way to help solve the serious problems facing so many of our young people today. The municipalities have responded to this need and all five of the Grosse Pointe city councils have voted to join and financially support a Youth Services Division.

By contractual agreement the Board of Education will pay 17 percent of the total annual budget and have full representation on the Board of Managers of the Division. Well over two-thirds of this financial obligation will be met by reductions of expenditures already listed in the proposed budget for 1970-71. The remaining amount will be paid by the five municipal governments. Salaries for two school liaison officers, two detectives and one clerk, and the cost of office equipment make up the total annual expenditures.

The community has every right to expect the Board of Education to become financially and legally involved in an organization that will help our school population in so many ways. We cannot or should not expect to sit on the outside and serve only in a "liaison capacity."

With its broad base of community membership the Grosse Pointe Youth Services Division is a giant step forward, and I heartily disagree with Mr. Fuchs when he labels it an "outside organization."

Alive Mary Hykes, (Mrs. Paul G.) 459 Rivard.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

As I told you in my last column, Detroit has just been visited by the annual convention of the American Library Association. A speaker of great charm on Sunday night, June 28, was Sam Levenson, comedian and nationally known television personality.

The speaker turned out to be just as witty as ever, with jokes and pithy remarks flying so thick and fast that it was almost impossible to take notes. I'll try to decipher my jumbled words and give you some of his flavor. For example: "Someone broke into the Kremlin and stole next year's election returns!" He started in by emphasizing the "humor of freedom." If you can't do your thing seriously, then use humor — it sometimes can be much more forceful. "Yesterday I shoveled four feet of 'partly cloudy' from my front steps!" Definition of capitalism: "if you have two cows, you trade one in and buy a bull!"

As he usually does, Mr. Levenson harkened back to his childhood, referring to papa who used to be head of the family; he (papa) did not believe that all men were created equal; today a father is only a pal to his sons. There are two ways of raising a child — forehand and backhand! The speaker felt he could help all psychiatrists if they would ask the child just one question: "Who do you think you are, anyway?"

Two parents plus a houseful of books represent an open door to freedom, whether you have money or not. "If you ever need a helping hand, you'll find it at the end of your arm." Getting back to freedom again, freedom of opportunity represents the changing of the circumstances of your life through your own efforts. A fallacy — every child MUST go to college. Teach love of country to your child. Be sure that he learns the meaning of such words as "God," "free," "land," "flag," as early as possible. All this may stop throwing stones at the age of 21. Books will always be the best open doors for children — it is their best approach to the freedom that Mr. Levenson was speaking about.

As a complete change of pace, I would like to mention two new books which I have recently read. The first is extremely pertinent to all of us since it deals with the Detroit race riots. It is entitled: WHEN THE FIRE REACHES US and is written by Barbara Wilson Tinker. The protagonist is Danny Sands from Pine Street in Detroit, relating his ghetto childhood, (he was discovered in a garbage can by Uncle Ambrose); many of the other characters are also orphans. Those families who had fathers usually had only a pathetic authority figure to look up to.

Danny and his friends mature into their individual roles of adjustment — social work, Civil Rights, crime and prostitution. When the ten days of riots erupt in July of 1967, Pine Street makes the papers for its paradoxical episodes, such as two black men being shot by the National Guardsmen attempting to rescue a 90-year-old white woman from a burning house; a pregnant black girl flinging herself across the body of a white flower child for protection. And all of these are Danny's friends — innocent victims.

There is a certain wry humor in Danny's recital and the people who live on Pine Street are well-drawn. The dialogue is sure and the narrative relentless. For all of you who lived through the riots, I think this is a book you will want to read. The author, Robert Deane Pharr, has said about it: "Another TO KILL A MOCKINGBIRD. Only this is in blackface."

Again — a quick change of pace but still another book. This time I refer to THE HONEY BUNCH by Patricia Zelver. This is a well-done novel if you are searching for one with no great problems, or one that is not filled to the hilt with sin, sex and perversion. THE HONEY BUNCH represented three girls who grew up inseparably in a small town in California. One of the Trio, Susanna, when first met, is teaching creative writing — a sort of Jean Brodie. She had wanted to write, but when unsuccessful, went on to teach. The second girl, Janet was the "activity" girl who became an interior decorator but never could successfully obtain a husband. The third girl — Honey — had all the boys buzzing around her, and betrayed the Trio by marrying twice and finally settling down to undemanding middle age as a somewhat dowdy homebody.

There is nostalgia, irony and romance in this book; the author has a good eye for social detail and acute observation. I think that some of you might like to read it.

Summer's planning time for members of Hope Ship League who've announced they'll sponsor a major project, a great big red, white and blue 10th Birthday Party for Project Hope to be staged next fall, September 28, in the Ballroom of the Detroit Hilton Hotel.

Roger Bailey, of Fisher road, who with Mrs. Bailey is current League president, was on hand at the recent luncheon in Hugo's-at-the-Park Shelton where guests including Pointers Mrs. Russell Bauer, Mrs. Maxine Clements and Mrs. Herman Sattler, from the Women's Division for Project Hope, and Dean Richardson, president of the Men's Division, heard all about the autumn anniversary extravaganza.

And all about the League . . .

Its purpose is to promote interest in and raise funds to help finance Project Hope. Its activities are geared to singles and married people over 21 who are interested in helping less fortunate people to help themselves.

It was founded by 17 men and women in September, 1967—and now boasts a roster of 388 active members.

Its most recent fund-raising activity was last month's Good Ol' Summertime Lawn Party at the Russell Bauers' Lakeshore road home, an affair which brought together over 300 guests, but League members work on "little" fund-raising projects too, such as selling handicrafts.

This Birthday Party, though: This is a BIG one! And among those making big plans for it are several Pointe League members, such as the Eugene Casarolls, Jr., of Sunningdale drive, in charge of tickets and seating, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mills, of Lincoln road, who head the Special Affairs committee.

Charmaine Kaptur, of Bedford lane, is among those serving on the decorations corps and Carol Roller, of Roslyn road, has charge of the Birthday Party program.

Congratulations Are in Order

The Braille Volunteers of Grosse Pointe held a luncheon last month at the War Memorial to honor some REALLY Very Important People: Members of the Braille Transcription Class who recently completed their course and members who received their transcribing certificates from the Library of Congress during the past year.

He was honored for his particular contribution to the betterment of Masonry, his devotion to the principles of Knights Templar and his unusual service in obtaining new members. Emroy M. Ford To Wed July 11

Emroy Moran Ford and Mrs. Geraldine Olinger, who will be married this Saturday, July 11, in the Chapel of San Francisco's Grace Episcopal Church, will return from a Hawaiian vacation to make their home in Mr. Ford's Woodland place residence August 1.

The prospective bride, from Palm Springs, Calif., visited The Pointe last week, staying with the William K. Muirs, of Ridge road, who gave a cocktail party for the engaged pair July 1.

A similar party was hosted by Mr. Ford's cousins, the Frederick S. Fords, June 29 for family friends.

Attending the pair at their wedding will be Mr. Ford's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Winans. Also present at the nuptials will be Mr. Ford's two sons, Emroy M. Ford, Jr., and Thomas Evans Ford.

Spending Fourth of July weekend with her son, FRANK W. COOLIDGE, JR., his wife and two daughters in Winnetka, Ill., was Mrs. FRANK W. COOLIDGE, who moved recently from McKinley avenue to the River House. But she was back Monday night because she'd promised to attend — and wouldn't miss—the dinner and opening concert of the Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival Tuesday at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Dorothy Coolidge, the Festival's first chairman who with founder ALEX SUCZEK continued to mastermind Festivals for several years until they became going concerns, (she calls the Festival a her "13-year-old child"), is honorary chairman of this summer's Festival. Her "43-year-old" child, Pro Musica, long-established as one of Detroit's musical traditions, has elected Mrs. C. president of its Board for 1970-71.

Miss Little Married To Bruce W. Grimes

Reception at Fisher Road Home of Bride's Mother Follows Fourth of July Rites in Grosse Pointe Memorial

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church was the setting for the marriage of Letitia Ellen Little, daughter of Mrs. Thomas J. Little, III, of Fisher road, and the late Mr. Little, and Bruce William Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Grimes, of Jonesboro, Ga., Saturday, July 4.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Thomas J. Little, IV, who with his wife and children, Virginia and Tommy, came from Acton, Mass., for the wedding.

The Reverend Richard W. Mitchell assisted by the bride's cousin, the Reverend Coliu Campbell, rector of St. Clare Episcopal Church in Ann Arbor, officiated at the afternoon rites which were followed by a reception at the home of the bride's mother.

The bride wore a pure white silk organza Princess gown trimmed at her high neckline and short sleeves with Brussels lace and featuring a modified circular train.

Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a coronet of lace and ivy leaves. She carried a bouquet of white geraniums and ivy.

Mrs. J. B. Shoemaker, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., served as matron of honor. Mrs. Robert K. Ramers, of Pleasant Hills, N.J., and Myra Unger, of Atlanta, were bridesmaids.

They wore floor length gowns of flowered print in shades of pink and orange, Olive green and white. Pink ribbons outlining their bodices were tied at their backs and fell in streamers. Mrs. Shoemaker's ribbons were a deeper shade of pink.

They carried basket arrangements of pink gerbera, orange zorina, Sweetheart roses, yellow daisies and ivy.

John M. Hoerner, Jr., of Atlanta, acted as best man. Ushering were Kevin J. and Christopher J. Grimes, brothers of the bridegroom, John D. Little, brother of the bride, Robert K. Ramers and John V. Campbell.

The bride's mother wore a street length cyclamen pink silk dress with a squared neckline and trapunto embroidery at her hemline and short sleeves.

The bridegroom's mother selected a street length beige lace dress.

Following a vacation in northern Michigan and Canada the newlyweds will make their home in Atlanta.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Thompson, Raymond Thompson and Marjorie Odle, all of Washington, D.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Reily G. Adams, of Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. H. Beard Adams, of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Pfeifer, of New Canaan, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beatty, of Annapolis, Md.; Deanne Delbridge, of Los Angeles; Mrs. F. Binney Hemeon, of Morristown, N.J.; Mrs. Abram Nesbitt, of Palm Beach, Fla.; Charles Rose Ingram and Hugh Potter, both of Atlanta; and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pusey, of Canaan, N.M.

Youth Orchestra Auditions Held

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra held its first auditions June 15 for the Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra which will begin its initial season next fall.

More than 250 talented metropolitan area youngsters descended upon Ford Auditorium to demonstrate their musical ability before panels of leading Detroit music educators and members of the Symphony.

Every section of the orchestra was represented as youngsters came in a steady stream to occupy every available space in the auditorium.

Because of the overwhelming response from applicants seeking a coveted chair in the Youth Orchestra further preliminary auditions have been scheduled for July 17 and August 27.

Final auditions will take place during the weeks of September 14 and September 21.

Paul Ganson, assistant principal bassoonist with the Detroit Symphony and administrator of the Youth Orchestra, stated that over 300 applications are still being accepted.

After the auditions he said, "I am really very pleased about the response and tremendously impressed with the musical abilities of many of the youngsters. . . . Some, of course, do not meet the very high standards set for the Orchestra. However I have no doubt that we will be able to complete the membership."

"We are very much inspired by the overwhelming enthusiasm generated here today by the youngsters, their parents, the music educators and especially the members of the Detroit Symphony," stated Dr. Paul Freeman, newly appointed conductor-in-residence of the Detroit Symphony who will also serve as conductor of the Youth Orchestra.

After sitting in on many of the individual auditions Dr. Freeman noted, "We will have a very fine nucleus with which to work and we will continue to explore all possibilities in an attempt to get the most deserving young people to participate."

In addition to providing an opportunity for young talented musicians to receive additional orchestral experience in a professionally-oriented environment the Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra will serve as a type of training orchestra for the Detroit Symphony.

A wide variety of music will be read and performed, thus providing further exposure to the vast orchestral literature.

A second scholarship for the Youth Orchestra has been announced by Gordon Staples, concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony, who will provide an opportunity for the youngster chosen to serve as the concertmaster of the Youth Orchestra to work and study with him.

Last month Duke Ellington announced that he would help create the first scholarship as an adjunct of the Orchestra's overall program.

From Another Pointe of View

Adams, Mrs. Robert Lorentz, Mrs. Frank Tramosch, Mrs. Lee Wiggall and Mrs. Lee Zeunen. Our special congratulations to all eight.

The party, (41 Volunteers and guests were present), was planned by Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald with the assistance of the Mesdames Deiling, Willett and Zeunen.

Special guests included Miss Harriett Helms, coordinator of Children's Services, Grosse Pointe Public Library, and James Hechlik, supervisor of Programs for the Physically Handicapped of Warren Consolidated Schools, in charge of 65 blind children, ranging from pre-through high school, in his district. Twenty-five of these read Braille, the others large print.

Mr. Hechlik spoke, showed slides and brought one of the new Electric Braille Writers to be examined by the Pointe Volunteers.

To the Volunteers Mr. Hechlik pointed out that despite innovations and inventions the individual transcriber will always be necessary. Someone has to do the actual work of getting the words down—and the Braille Volunteers of Grosse Pointe have, in the past two years, transcribed 12,500 pages of Braille (168 volumes) including textbooks, foreign language books, music instruction manuals and fiction for adults and children.

This summer the Pointe group is busy transcribing 22 books requested by schools and libraries in Michigan and neighboring states.

Volunteers are also transcribing special volumes for a Wayne State University student who is working toward her Masters degree.

Last fall the Volunteers traveled to Lansing to visit the Michigan State School for the Blind, to observe the children there at work and play and through observation to gain further understanding of the world of the visually handicapped.

They returned more committed than ever to their work—and more anxious than ever to interest others in making the same commitment.

Braille Transcription Classes resume in September at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center with Mrs. John McNamara, voluntary teacher for the past five years, again serving as instructor.

You couldn't pay her for her time. You couldn't stop her from donating it.

You could call her at TUXedo 1-9566 and ask her what it is that makes Braille Transcription such a satisfying avocation, why transcribers work overtime on their own time to finish books — and how you can enroll in her class this coming autumn.
