HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, January 3
COLEMAN ALEXANDER YOUNG formerly became the city of Detroit's first black mayor at an evening inaugural ceremony in Ford auditorium. His inaugural address included a stern warning to all Detroit criminal elements, telling them to "hit the road." Although Young took the oath of office on Friday, December 28, his Wednesday evening swearing in ceremony marked his public installation as mayor. A widely cheering crowd of about 2,000 was on hand to hear Mayor Young promise a tough stand and vehemently denounce crime.

Friday, January 4
PRESIDENT NIXON has initiated into law a two-step, 11 percent increase in Social Security benefits that will aid 30 million retired or disabled workers, widows and dependent children. But persons who earn over $10,800 a year and their employers will be assessed higher payroll taxes to provide for the $2.3 billion benefits hike. The first seven percent of the increase will go into effect with the April checks and the additional four percent will be paid starting in July.

Saturday, January 5
SENATOR SAM ERVIN has vowed to take the President to court in order to force him to turn over several hundred White House documents and 500 taped conversations to the Watergate Committee. The committee had asked for the documents and transcripts in three separate subpoenas delivered to the White House on December 19. But the President refused to obey the subpoenas referring to them as "unconstitutional usurpation of separation of power" by Congress. Senator Ervin denies there is anything in the Constitution that gives a president the power to withhold evidence from an authorized congressional committee.

Sunday, January 6
SECRETARY OF STATE HENRY KISSINGER and Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan have apparently reached agreement on the disengagement proposal Israel will present at the Geneva peace talks. Israel may be willing to move its troops nearly 20 miles back from the Suez Canal if Egypt reduces its forces on the east bank of the canal. After a four-hour meeting at the State Department in Washington, Dayan said he felt he was in a position to form concrete proposals by the Israeli cabinet.

Monday, January 7
TWO SENATE SUBCOMMITTEES have presented results of a two year study and found that big banks hold far more stocks in large corporations than was previously known by the government, investors, the public or the corporations themselves. In some instances the report said, a single bank holds enough stock to influence or control several competitors in a single industry. The reports cited six New York superbanks as examples. The report was published by the Senate subcommittee on inter-governmental relations, chaired by Edmund Muskie and the subcommittee on budgeting, management and expenditures, chaired by Lee Metcalf.

Tuesday, January 8
U. S. CAR SALES declined by a menacing 20 percent during the month of December. The slump is the sharpest monthly decline since the start of 1974 model sales in late September and reflects rising concern over the energy crisis and a softer economy. With at least 54,000 hourly auto workers already on indefinite layoffs, the December figures almost certainly point to further production cutbacks.

Kiwanis Club Gives Check to Foundation

Presenting a check for $250 and an engraved plaque in memory of former Woods Mayor Kenneth R. McLeod, past president of the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club, is Woods Mayor BENJAMIN W. PINKOS, (second from right), also a Kiwanian, and NEIL MADLER, president of the Kiwanis Club. Representing the Grosse Pointe

Foundation for Exceptional Children, Inc., is MRS. RUTH HALL GOVOSTES, director of the Foundation's program for handicapped area children, and four youngsters presently attending the program. The presentation took place last month.

First Baby Born in 1974 At St. John

First Detroit Baby Transferred to Hospital; First Pointe Baby Born in Hospital Elevator

Saint John Hospital certainly started the year with a bang as its first baby was born at 8:08 a.m. in an elevator between the third and fourth floors. The child, Jeff Laskowski, was delivered by Emergency Room Nurse Pat Shine, who previously worked in Delivery.

Jeff's mother, Mrs. David Laskowski (Janice) said that she had awakened in her East Detroit home and found that she couldn't sit up. She called the East Detroit Fire Department for an ambulance to take her to the hospital, but the department's ambulance was out on another call. They contacted another ambulance crew who took Mrs. Laskowski to the hospital.

It was in transfer from Saint John's emergency room to the delivery area that Jeff, weighing in at six pounds, 15 ounces, was born. The father, David Laskowski, is employed by Detroit Edison. The couple have another son at home, Jason, two years old. The hospital, located on Moross road, also boasts as a transfer the first baby

Goodyear Finally Makes It; Variance Approved

By Roger A. Waha
It was a long battle but the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company finally won. After around a half dozen appearances before The Woods Council, the company's request for a variance of the off-street parking requirements at 19391 Mack avenue, (the building formerly occupied by Pointe Dodge), was unanimously approved by the council.

YSD Officers Focus Upon New Rotation System Which Starts February 1

Various Aspects of Plan Discussed Including Training and Community Input; Two Personnel Decline Comment

By Roger A. Waha
The Woods, as managing municipality of The Youth Service Division, (YSD), recently proposed the rotation of division personnel every four years to other police functions, thus giving other members of the Public Safety Department experience in the division.

The NEWS contacted the four officers currently assigned to the YSD for their thoughts and comments on this plan. Three have been with the division since it became fully operational in August 1970. (They are Agent Michael Ferrence, Detective Thomas Podaszewski and Agent John Kendall).

Under the new system, Detective Podaszewski will be rotated to the uniform division on February 1. Then on July 1, either Agent Ferrence or Agent Kendall will be rotated to a new assignment. From that point, one YSD officer is scheduled for rotation to another assignment on an annual basis.

All four YSD members will be liaison officers under the rotation plan. Two will be based in the North High School district and two in the South High district. They will perform either or both liaison or investigative work, or split the workload.

At this time, the division has two liaison officers at each school, (Agent Ferrence at North and Agent Kendall at South), and two investigative officers, (Detective Podaszewski at North and Detective Donald Schmalz at South).

Weights Program
Agent Ferrence, who joined the Public Safety Department in May 1968, was in the uniform division for two years, three months, before being assigned to the YSD. "Initially, most of my reactions were purely emotional to the plan," he said. As a part of the YSD's founding and inception, "I feel I have part of my own self invested in it."
"As I looked at it, I had to realize I was looking at personal things. This was not good administrative thinking or sound logical thinking," Agent Ferrence continued.
Then he attempted to look at it in an objective fashion, "what was going on and why, to get a better grasp and feel of what was happening."
He weighed the current,

Pappas Guilty Of Tax Evasion

Theodore A. Pappas, of 1059 North Brys drive, was allowed to plea nolo contendere (no contest) over government objection to all counts of a three count indictment charging him with income tax evasion for the years 1969, 1970 and 1971.

Pappas failed to report $533,368.71 in taxable income for the three-year period including $415,262.25 for 1971. Investigation by agents of the Intelligence and Audit Divisions, Internal Revenue Service led to the indictment and no contest plea.

Pappas, age 43, a prominent engineer formerly employed by the Ford Motor Company, submitted his plea in Federal District Court before Judge Robert DeMascio. Before accepting the no contest plea, Judge DeMascio explained to Pappas that such a plea carries the same penalty as a guilty plea: 5 years and/or a $10,000 fine plus costs of prosecution on each count. Sentencing will be in six to eight weeks.

Memorial To Welcome Newcomers

Most Recent Residents of Pointe Being Honored at Annual Reception in Center

Any families who moved into Grosse Pointe in 1973 will be the honored guests of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at its annual New Residents Reception this Sunday, January 13, at 2 p.m.

Greeting the new residents as they come will be the Center's Board of Directors headed by Edward J. Hickey, III, president of the War Memorial Association, and Mrs. Hickey. Besides meetings of the Board of Directors, the afternoon serves to introduce new residents to the many cultural and community activities held at the Center. Representatives of The Pointe's schools, churches, governments and other civic organizations will also be on hand.

Included are the Audubon Society, Rotary, League of Women Voters, U.S. Coast Guard Flotilla 12-12, Women's Republican Club, Alliance Francaise, Grosse Pointe Jaycees and Kiwanians, Friends of the Library, Grosse Pointe Lawyers Wives, A.A.U.W., Senior Men's Club of Grosse Pointe, Men's Garden Club, Rose Society, Grosse Pointe Symphony, National Watch and Clock Collectors and many more.

To Be Given Tour
After being greeted, the new residents will be taken on a tour of the Alger Mansion, where they will be able to take in the Glenn Michael's sculpture exhibit, and then return to Fries Auditorium to see the Grosse Pointe Artists painting exhibit in the lobby. Finally, there will be refreshments and guests may stay to watch the Superbowl on TV if they wish.

The Center's staff has sent invitations to all known newcomers. They hope those who have not received invitations will consider this article an invitation to attend. The reception is for every member of the family from grandparents to infants. Baby sitters will be provided by the Center's Youth Council who are also serving as guides.

Others in Line
In the receiving line, besides the Hickeys, will be Mr. and Mrs. John E. Park, Mr.

Shores Reports Big Crime Drop Seen Last Year

Burglary Cases Cut in Half; Only Murder Case Was Glancy's Death After Attack Which Took Place in November 1972

By Roger A. Waha
The Shores had a "real big, general drop in crime" in 1973 in comparison to 1972, reported Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale.

"I attribute this general decline in crime to the fabulous job being done by our patrol division and detective division working in unison," the director continued. He also cited "community involvement" in reporting any suspicious activity.

"Our major crime has fallen," he said. In this regard, Director Vitale stated in 1973, the municipality had "the lowest amount of breakings and enterings we have had in 10 years."

Burglaries Halved
Last year, five burglaries of dwellings were reported as against 10 in 1972. Of the five incidents, two were solved by apprehensions. In breakings and enterings other than dwellings, two took place in 1973 in comparison to four in 1972. Meanwhile, attempted break-ins rose from two in 1972 to three last year.

Larceny over $50 incidents were up in 1973 as 41 cases were reported as against 32 in 1972. On the other hand, 13 larceny under $50 cases were reported last year in comparison to 20 in 1972. Director Vitale felt a reason for the increase in larceny over $50 incidents is the rise in cost of all properties.

In other areas of crime, assaults fell from 11 in 1972 to four last year; rape dropped from one incident in 1972 to none in 1973, and both robbery armed, (three reports), and stolen car cases, (one report), remained the same for both years.

One Murder Case
One murder case was reported last year as against none in 1972. (This was the death of Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., who was attacked by two men in November 1972 in his Lake Shore road home and died in April 1973 as a result of the beating).

Stolen bicycle complaints fell from 29 in 1972 to 22 last year. "The reason stolen bike incidents are down is because we have advised our residents to keep their garage doors closed. This is the most important thing. The thieves who ride around won't see those golf clubs in a garage, or bicycles."

"Another reason is because we moved the bike rack at our park inside the gate near the gate guard." It was located outside the gate before.
Vandalism Increases
Incidents of vandalism, however, rose from 42 in 1972 to 62 in 1973. "I don't know what to attribute this to," Director Vitale said. "It seems the youngsters in 1973 expended more energy in the area of vandalism than the youngsters in 1972."

At the same time, he noted that many of these reports were not serious types of vandalism, but rather minor

Farms Council Approves Increase in Water Rate

By James J. Njaim
At its regular meeting held on Monday, January 7, the Farms council approved an amendment to the Water Revenue Bond Ordinance which in effect increased the water rate to Farms householders, retroactive to January 1. The new rate has been increased from $2 per 1,000 cubic feet, to $2.30 per 1,000 cubic feet, or approximately 15 percent.

The minimum charge to local customers has been raised from $4.05 to $4.65. Under the amendment, the council can from time to time review the water rates and change them by resolution, whereas, under the old ordinance, changes were only made as prescribed by the law.

Expect High Court Edict Before June

Attorneys Are Optimistic Pointe and Other Districts Will Be Upheld on Their Stand

By Kathy Duff
A 65-page legal brief, defending Grosse Pointe's stand against cross-district busing, is now in the hands of the U. S. Supreme Court. The brief was filed on Thursday, January 3, by Douglas H. West, attorney for the Grosse Pointe School System.

It is now up to the N.A.A.C.P. (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) to file an answer within 30 days. It was the N.A.A.C.P. which brought the original lawsuit before U. S. District Judge Stephen Roth, charging that segregation existed in the Detroit schools. The lower courts then proposed the now famous cross-district school busing plan to achieve racial balance. The plan would affect 53 school districts over a 700-square-mile area and would involve 780,000 school children.

Also filing briefs against the proposed desegregation plan are William M. Saxton, who represents 40 suburban school systems, and Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley.

To Set Hearing Date
After both sides file their briefs, a hearing date will be set by the Supreme Court. A date in late February is expected, a date when each side will be given the opportunity to present 45 minutes of oral arguments.

The Supreme Court's opinion, which is expected before June, will prove a landmark decision for urban schools and the outlying suburban districts. It's hoped that it will settle the question, once and for all, of the inter-relationship between predominantly black city schools and the predominantly white suburban districts.

Commenting on the case, Mr. West said that he felt "extremely optimistic" about the outcome. In preparing the case, the attorney and members of the law firm Hill, Lewis, Adams, Goodrich and Tait researched past Supreme Court decisions and the voting record of each of the nine judges.

There have been two important school segregation cases in the recent past, Bradley vs. Richmond (1972) and Keyes vs. Denver (1973). In the earlier case, Justice Lewis F. Powell, a former member of the Richmond School Board disqualified himself and a deadlock vote resulted. In the Denver case, which Mr. West drew largely on in his brief, the justices ruled that sections of a single district could be considered "separate, identifiable and unrelated" and thus should not be disrupted.

Going Was Rough
So far, it's been rough going for the attorneys defending the suburban Detroit schools. After Judge Roth ordered a

City Approves Sale of Land

At its last regular meeting, held Monday, December 17, the Grosse Pointe City Council unanimously moved to accept Manager Thomas Kressbach's recommendation that the City sell approximately 2.8 acres of land.

The land, located on 14 Mile road between Gratiot and Lipke roads in Macomb County was acquired in the 1950's and once used for landfill purposes. Since it has not been used for this purpose in a long time, it serves no particular need for the City. Mr. Kressbach heard bids on December 12 from Hebrew Memorial Park, offering $15,000 and from John Cudia, offering $5,755 for the land. Since Hebrew Memorial Park's bid was the higher, the council authorized City officials to convey the real estate to that organization.

Woods Pool Problem Has Many Sides

Rebuild or Renovate Is Big Question; Manufacturers Not Being Cooperative

By Roger A. Waha
As the majority of Woods residents know the city has been struggling with problems at the Lake Front Park swimming pool since last summer.

The question is this: Will the old pool be completely renovated or will a new pool be constructed and, if so, at what location?

At the Monday, January 7, regular meeting of the council, this matter was explored by City Engineer Larry Pate, the solons, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen and two interested residents, Jack Shook, president of the Grosse Pointe Swim Club, and Donald Brown.

Gives Report
It's too early for any final council decision on what direction to take at this time—more information must be gathered and digested with the possibility of some hearings if the city goes the bond issue route.

Mr. Pate brought the council up to date on this subject by reporting he filed two designs, one for renovation and the other for a new pool, with Mr. Petersen last month. At this time, he said only one price estimate has been received including both designs.

In explaining the approach to the problem, Mr. Pate stated, "If the city is in the process of constructing a pool, the city would have to determine its size, (length, width and depth), heating, lighting," plus other factors. "The city would prepare a set of specifications on which the pool manufacturer would bid to a general contractor. At such a time when the pool is installed, the pool manufacturer becomes a sub-contractor."

Seek Information
He noted various types of materials are being considered including those of alum-

Pointe Busing Stand Defended in Legal Brief

 metropolitan busing plan, his judgments were upheld in the Court of Appeals. The case was sent back to Judge Roth, a situation which made people wonder if the U. S. Supreme Court would accept the case. The lower courts said that only an integration plan reaching into the suburbs could solve the problem of school segregation in Detroit.

In his brief, Mr. West attacks the lower courts on two counts of violation of due process of law. In the first instance, Mr. West says that the issue from the outset seemed to be the "remedy" of the segregation problem, rather than if a "violation" had been committed.

"The lower courts prefer to commence the discussion of the issues in this case with the question of remedy rather than that of violation. If the question is solely one of the nature of the multi-district remedy that is to be implemented, the problem of our right to be heard on all matters, including violation questions, may be somewhat limited."

Attack Time Limits
 The attorney also attacked the courts in stating that the suburban school districts had not been given adequate time to prepare their arguments. They were given exactly one week to prepare written briefs the first time the desegregation issue was raised before Judge Roth, and were not permitted to give oral arguments.

Another example Mr. West gives is as follows:

"On March 28, 1972, the District Court commenced taking testimony on a metropolitan plan, which was the first opportunity which the intervening school districts' attorneys had to participate in the proceedings. Only two hours later the District Court distributed its Ruling on Detroit-Only Plans, concluding that a metropolitan plan was not only proper, but necessary."

One of the central questions in the desegregation case is whether Detroit or State school officials ever willingly segregated Detroit schools. There has to be some proof that there was a willing violation of a student's constitutional rights or the Constitution cannot be summoned in defense.

Claims No Violation
 The attorney general, Mr. Kelley, argues that the State did not create segregation in either the Detroit or the suburban school districts and so there is no constitutional violation. He also states "... Unless the Supreme Court is to abandon the principles of racial equality it has enunciated from Brown ... to the present, and hold that majority black school systems are somehow intrinsically inferior to school systems with white majorities, it must conclude that a Detroit-only plan of desegregation satisfies constitutional requirements."

In his brief, Mr. West states that a new right will have to be established if the N.A.A.C.P. wins the case. "Unless the Supreme Court is now prepared to declare the existence of previously unrecognized 14th Amendment Rights — that black children have the constitutional right to attend a public school where white children are in the majority — the lower courts must be reversed."

Mr. West also proves that there has never been a dual school system set up in the Detroit area, that there has always been only one school system for all Detroit children. He also noted that "The present geographical boundaries of the Grosse Pointe School System were last determined in 1921 by the consolidation of five smaller rural school districts whose boundary lines were originally drawn along township lines and/or naturally existing boundaries."

"There has never been any gerrymandering of geographical boundaries for any reason whatsoever, much less for reasons motivated by segregative purposes." The attorney also argues the importance of the local school districts and its school boards to solve the administrative and educational problems within a district. He points out that districts will not remain demographically stable, since in growing, mobile societies, few do. In this light, it seems purposeless to ask school authorities to make year by year adjustments of racial compositions, Mr. West noted.

Other Side Set for January 12

The first Other Side of the New Year will take place at Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Saturday, January 12, from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. It will be for Grosse Pointe students in grades seven and eight.

The band for the evening will be Grosse Pointe's own "Snowbird." Band members will be selling tickets in the middle schools and they will also be on sale at the Memorial's office which is open day and night except Sunday evening. Admission is $1 if tickets are purchased in advance, $1.25 at the door. I.D. must be shown both at time of ticket purchase and when coming to the dance.

Doors will open at 7:15 p.m. and close at 10:30. Parents are asked not to drop off their children before the doors open and pick them up by 10:30 at the latest, after which time the Memorial will be closed and the Center will not be able to assume responsibility for them.

The dance will be chaperoned.

Even when today's money talks nobody looks bored.

Park Council Approves Hike in Taxi Cab Rates

Park citizens who might find a need for taxi cab services, will have to pay a higher fare. The Park council at a special meeting held on Monday, January 7, approved a rate adjustment to conform to that granted to Detroit cab firms by the Detroit Common Council.

The two Park-based cab firms to benefit by the rate hike are the Grosse Pointe Cab and The Veterans Cab Company, both of whom had petitioned for the boost, so that their fare charge would fall in line with that granted the Detroit cab companies.

Under the old rate, the fare was 50 cents for the first 1/5 of a mile, or fraction thereof, and 10 cents for each additional 1/5 of a mile or fraction thereof. Also under the old rate, the waiting time, that is, when the passenger asks the cab driver to wait, was $5 an hour.

The rate hike approved by the Park solons was set at 60 cents for the first 1/6 of a mile or fraction thereof, and 10 cents for each additional 1/6 of a mile or fraction thereof. The waiting time was boosted to $6 an hour.

In other business before the council, the solons approved the setting up of two separate banking accounts, one for funds to be used for maintenance and repair of residential streets, and the other for repair and maintenance of major thoroughfare under control of the city.

The council also approved the re-appointment of City Manager Robert A. Slone to his 18th term as the Park's legislative co-ordinator. His duties require that he keep in contact with elected public officials in Congress and the Michigan State Legislature. His name will be kept on file with the Michigan Municipal League (MML), which will keep him informed of State and Federal action affecting local governments.

As the city's legislative co-ordinator, Slone will in turn keep the council informed of whatever laws are passed that would have an effect on the Park.

In still other action, the Park council approved Mayor Matthew Patterson's nomination of Oswald W. Ziedler of 1025 Buickingham, to fill the unexpired term of Charles W. Gauss on the Tax Board of Review, Gauss resigned when he moved out of the city. The unexpired term runs to December 31, 1974.

The solons also approved the appointment of Robert V. LePlac of 1210 Bedford, and Robert F. Laitner of 846 Grand Marais, to the Park City Planning Commission.

LePlac replaces Dr. Roger McNeil, who was recently appointed to the city council following the resignation of Councilman O. S. Williams, who quit the post when he moved to San Francisco. LePlac will serve until December 31, 1975.

Laitner replaces I. Nels Jorgenson who resigned when he moved to take up residence in another community. Laitner's tenure will expire on December 31, 1976.

Energy Crisis Amends Budget

The City of Grosse Pointe has amended its budget in an effort to cope with the ever-present pinch of the energy crisis.

Action was taken at the last regular meeting of the council, on Monday, December 17 to authorize supplemental appropriations for departmental gas, oil and lubricants. As a result, an additional $1,150 has been allotted for the Police Department; $190 for the Fire Department; and $2,350 for the Public Works Department.

In addition to that, increasing projected expenditures of $80 for the Parking Fund and $95 for the Water Supply System were also provided for in the revised budget.

In a communication issued to the council members, City Manager Thomas Kressbach showed how dealings with The City's supplier, Shell Oil Company, had made this action advisable.

On October 31, The City received notice from Shell that, effective November 1, the price for regular gasoline would be increased 51 percent. Where The City had been paying 14.3 cents a gallon, they would now be charged 21.8 cents for the same amount.

Shell further notified The City on November 7, that their allocation would be cut back to 92 percent for that month and for the month of December. This meant a reduction from 5,500 gallons of fuel to 5,100 gallons.

The last word from Shell, heard on November 28, was that prices in effect at the time delivery of fuel is made will be what The City pays. This procedure was to begin on December 24.

Mr. Kressbach informed the Council that City personnel are doing all they can to eliminate unnecessary idling and driving of vehicles and to observe 55 mile an hour speed limits except during emergency situations.

In addition, the City has a part-time administrative assistance heads on methods to conserve its fuel supplies.

Building Lags in GP Farms

The Farms Building Department granted less construction permits in 1973, than in 1972, but the total value of the buildings last year exceeded that of the previous year, according to information released by John A. DeFoe, director of Public Service.

In his quarterly report, DeFoe disclosed that a total of 87 permits, seven for residential buildings and 80 miscellaneous (home additions, garages, etc.), were approved by his office. The total valuation of these permits amounted to $288,500.

In 1972, the number of permits was 89, five for residential buildings, and 82 were for miscellaneous constructions, having a valuation totalling $588,470.

The seven permits approved last year were for homes having an overall valuation of $551,000, and the 80 miscellaneous permits carried a valuation amounting to $277,500. There were no applications received for commercial construction during the year.

Install Pointe FOP Officers

The new officers of the Fraternal Order of Police, Grosse Pointe Lodge No. 102, were installed on Monday, January 7, following a brief ceremony, prior to the organization's monthly meeting held at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The installation officer who administered the oaths of office was Woods Patrolman Stephen Petrik, director of the FOP 4th District, comprised of Wayne and Monroe Counties.

Sworn in as president was Park Patrolman Andrew Meeker; vice-president, Woods Cpl. Robert Setchell; secretary, Farms Patrolman Philip Miglio; and treasurer, Shores Sgt. Donald Jacobs, who is the immediate past president.

The new president of Lodge No. 102, who with the other 1974 officers will serve for one year, was a former Lodge trustee and chaplain, both appointed positions.

The Michigan Fraternal Order of Police will hold its mid-season National Convention in Midland, on Saturday and Sunday, January 12 and 13. Representing the Pointe group will be Meeker, Miglio and Jacobs.

ELECTED PRESIDENT
Edgemere road resident, Frederick Ollison, III, was recently elected 1974 president of the Dry Cleaning and Laundry Institute. The Institute represents 350 cleaners in the Detroit Metropolitan area. Mr. Ollison is the president of Sanders Cleaning Company.

Cheer up, folks — things aren't always as bad as they are most of the time.

New Rotation System Discussed by YSD Officers

existing program and a variety of positive aspects including the educational level of the officers involved, community cooperation, community acceptance, the "positive things" the officers have done as a unit, e.g., rapport with young people in the community, and the help YSD personnel have given to other agencies when they started their liaison programs.

Recalls Seminar
In exploring favorable aspects of the plan, he recalled attending a seminar through the bureau with other youth officers from around the State in which one position paper was presented. This paper assimilated all the thoughts discussed at the gathering from the various agencies. One section of the position paper focused upon the life span of a school liaison officer, with the conclusion it was better to add new personnel after a number of years, (seven in this instance). The agent felt this point was something that was considered by the administration in its decision.

He thought the aspect of age regarding an officer's "life span" plays its role. "I don't know what the age is — this is an individual thing."

Speaks on Training
But here, it's not so much what the liaison officer feels, himself, but what the youth he is dealing with perceives. "It's a change of image by way of those you deal with, rather than yourself."

Another factor was training within the department. In this respect, he cited five functions: patrol, fire, the YSD, the detective division and traffic safety. "An officer would have a better knowledge of the overall police department if he is exposed to those functions," he said.

"An officer, including a supervisor, operating off of a broad base should be a better police officer than one operating off of a narrow base." This, he felt, was a theory in general police administration.

Still another factor is those who will come into the YSD will bring newer ideas to its operation, once they settle into their jobs, he said.

Negative Factor
On the other hand, Agent Ferrance discussed a potential negative aspect of the system.

"A bureau like the YSD functions primarily at the will of the people," he said, while stressing the "cooperation of everyone," e.g., the schools, social agencies, et al. "I don't really feel that the change of one person within the operation will diminish this except if the community is not in accord with it."

Here is where a possible negative aspect lies.

"The YSD, whether it succeeds or fails, demands a great deal of input," he stated. The agent felt much depends on how everyone, who has this input into the division, considers this plan.

"The bureau functions as a result of all input." On the matter of input, Agent Ferrance cited the role of the press in reporting YSD news through the years — keeping the public informed of developments on the division's front.

Finally, he said the interest in the rotation plan indicated "we have exposed the YSD and law enforcement in general to the community to where they have become concerned about activities in the law enforcement community."

Plan Has Merit
Detective Poeszewski, who joined the Public Safety Department in September 1964, has been in plain clothes for five and a half years, including two years in the detective division prior to the YSD. Before that, he was in the patrol division for two and a half years.

"I feel the plan has merit," he said. "From my personal vantage point, it's to my benefit inasmuch as everyone here from corporal on down is a public safety officer. There's no rank of liaison officer or a detective. It's an assigned position and a title given to you."

He felt the plan would help him "round himself out" by not specializing in one function and not "becoming blind to other aspects of the job. Since I came back here, (to the YSD), the five division has been revamped and I'll go back in cold." He said all public safety officers must operate all equipment in a vehicle now. Before an engineering group was designated for this.

As for his time in the YSD, the detective said, "I'm not crazy about change, but there's the practical side to look at, too. I enjoyed it, (division work), but I can't go on forever if I want to move up."

But what about the current YSD team? "It will be broken up but for the sake of geographical reference, we still will have officers as teams. Each officer will be expected to function in all capacities."

In conclusion, he feels the YSD is a branch of the detective division of the Public Safety Department. "In looking at it this way, we're all one. Our services are contracted by the other Pointes and the Board of Education. But all benefits are a Woods function" (as all personnel are assigned or employed by The Woods), he stated.

Through this new concept and its direct relation to YSD officers, Detective Poeszewski added, "I think we're just beginning to realize who we really are—all officers in the YSD are Woods officers."

Decline Comment
Previous to joining the YSD in August 1970, Agent Kendall was a member of The Park Police Department.

He told the NEWS: "The Grosse Pointe Youth Service Division is an organization bigger than any one individual. The future of the YSD is something I want very much to protect, and, therefore, I care not to make any comment on the rotation plan at this time."

Detective Schmalz, who joined the Public Safety Department in September 1963, was assigned to the YSD in May 1973 when former Patrolman-Detective James Davidson, who had been with the division since its beginnings, was promoted to sergeant and assigned to the uniform division. Detective Schmalz declined to make any comment.

Big Drop in Crime Reported in The Shores

cases. For instance, egg throwing is not like smashing a window in a home, and turning on a hydrant is not like shattering automobile windshields.

In other crime areas, the department reported one sex complaint last year and three in 1972; five disorderly person complaints in 1973 as against 12 in 1972; 37 narcotics cases last year in comparison to 39 the year before; one concealed weapon incident in 1973 as against two in 1972, and no attempted murder cases last year in comparison to two the year before.

13 Missing Persons
Possession of stolen property reports fell from seven in 1972 to four last year. Thirteen missing person cases were reported last year with a 100 percent recovery rate.

On the accident front, a huge deceleration was seen last year. Compared to 1973, when 80 accidents were reported, only 48 accidents took place last year.

"Life is not long, and too much of it must not pass in idle deliberation how it shall be spent."
—Samuel Johnson

In exporing various reasons for this decline, Director Vitale said, "One of the reasons our accident rate took a big drop is the fact that 1972 was the first year 18-year-old drivers could drink. Our records indicate this, (the situation in relation to accidents), has tapered off somewhat."

And, of late, the director noted, "I've noticed a big drop in traffic on Lake Shore road due to the energy crisis, and also that people are driving slower."

One Fatal Accident
One fatal accident was reported in both 1973 and 1972. Sixteen injury accidents took place last year in comparison to 24 the previous year. Meanwhile, 31 non-injury accidents transpired in 1973 as against 55 in 1972.

Ambulance runs fell from 95 in 1972 to 85 last year. In the arrests categories, felony arrests totaled 14 last year and 30 in 1972; misdemeanor arrests were up from 27 in 1972 to 41 last year; traffic arrests also were up from 170 in 1972 to 179 in 1973; juvenile arrests jumped from 12 in 1972 to 36 last year, and fugitive arrests rose from 122 in 1972 to 312 in 1973.

Total ordinance violations, encompassing traffic, village and juvenile violations, fell from 2,365 in 1972 to 2,075 last year.

In the area of prosecutions, circuit court prosecutions totaled two last year and 11 in 1972; municipal prosecutions, (regarding violations of general Village ordinances), reached 37 last year and 55 in 1972; traffic prosecutions totaled 450 in 1973 and 420 in 1972, and convictions reached 470 last year and 672 in 1972.

Accused Park Burglary Suspects to Stand Trial

Two men charged in warrants with breaking and entering an occupied dwelling with intent to commit larceny, waived examination at a hearing held before Park Municipal Judge Joseph Urso on Wednesday, January 2. The pair were surprised by Park officers inside the house of L. F. Tucker, 1039 Cadieux, on December 28, and taken into custody.

A bond of $2,500 each was continued by Judge Urso, who released the accused men after binding them over for trial at the next session of Circuit Court.

Charged are Ronald C. Ridge, 20, of 21931 Nine Mile road, St. Clair Shores; and James R. Thwait, 21, of 671 Fairview, Detroit. The duo stood mute at their preliminary hearing held before Judge William E. Speer on the December date, the last day Judge Speer held court before turning over the office to Judge Urso, who defeated him in the November 6 election. A plea of innocent was entered for them by Judge Speer at the time.

According to information released by Police Lt. Gordon Dubois, Tucker arrived home at about 6:25 p.m. on December 28, coming from work and went to the rear of the house to unlock the door. He noticed the glass pane of the door was broken and went to the home of a neighbor to call police.

Patrolmen Collin LaLonde, David Hiller and William Crandall were dispatched to the Tucker residence on a "burglary-in-progress" radio message. Crandall covered the front of the building and LaLonde and Hiller went to the rear. A radio call for assistance brought Park Cpl. Charles Petrie to the scene to stand watch with Crandall, when the first two officers heard noises in the house.

LaLonde and Hiller entered the home through the rear door, service revolvers in hand, and on searching the first floor found it completely ransacked. They heard a noise on the second floor and cautiously went up the stairs.

The patrolmen saw two bedrooms, one with the door closed and the second with the door open. Peering inside the opened bedroom, LaLonde and Hiller saw a white male standing in the doorway of the bathroom and ordered him to raise his hands.

As the policemen approached the suspect, (it was not disclosed if it was Ridge or Thwait), they saw a moving figure in the bathroom. A second white male made a dash to escape, but was stopped by LaLonde and Hiller, who put in a call for further assistance. City Patrolman John Drummond was dispatched to help.

"The officers at the scene did an excellent job," Lt. Duncan said. "While two officers were searching the house and apprehending the suspects, the others searched the area, especially the rear of the property, to make sure no one else was around. We appreciate the assistance sent by the City Police Department, which is an excellent indication of the type of cooperation given by all the local law enforcement agencies. We certainly are very proud of the way all the policemen involved handled this case."

"We are also grateful to Mr. Tucker for his coolness in the situation, and making it possible for the apprehension of the suspects who were found in his home. We appreciate any help from citizens in the prevention of any crime. Mr. Tucker's action is a perfect example of how citizens and police can work together."

Tree Trimming Plans Amended

Although it's hardly the time of year to worry about it, Grosse Pointe City residents should consider themselves forewarned that the tree trimming program will be run a little differently from now on.

In action taken at the last regular Grosse Pointe City Council meeting, held on Monday, December 17, its members unanimously moved to accept the recommendation of City Manager Thomas Kressbach that the procedure be somewhat amended.

The City is presently nearing completion of what Mr. Kressbach terms "phase one" of the tree trimming program. "Phase one" involved the trimming of all City street trees and cleanup by the City's public works crew. This process spanned a seven year period and has yet to be completed since some parts of trees on Maumee avenue and Charles place still be trimmed.

A "phase two," Mr. Kressbach explained, would consist of modified standards that limit trimming to removal of dead wood approximately two inches or more in diameter and the elevation or removal of limbs that impair street light visibility or interfere with roofs. In general, the amount of trees to be trimmed would be pared down to cover only what is really essential for safety either to the public or to the tree.

Mr. Kressbach went on to explain that the "phase two" approach would permit a larger geographical area of the City to be covered each year and the trimming cycle could be shortened to four or five years.

For the coming year, the City Manager has made contract arrangements with Shock Brothers Incorporated for a daily rate rather than on a price per tree basis. The landscapers will earn $175 a day and the City public work forces will continue to provide cleanup and chipping.

Church to Host 'Kaleidoscope'

St. Paul Lutheran Church will host a live "Kaleidoscope" program entitled "There is Nothing Like an Old Fashioned Hymn" at 8 p.m. on Sunday, January 13. Presenting the program will be Mike Whorf, of radio station WJR, and the Max Davey Singers.

Sponsoring the event is the Grosse Pointe Christian Day School located at 1444 Maryland avenue.

Mr. Whorf has received nation-wide recognition for his excellent "Kaleidoscope" programs which deal with a variety of subjects. He has researched the history of the sacred hymns to be sung by the Max Davey Singers. The program includes a variety of hymn arrangements, from Beethoven's "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee" to hymns as familiar as "Holy, Holy, Holy."

The Max Davey Singers are a mixed chorus of 35 singers. They have appeared in concert at Ford Auditorium and many other places in the Detroit area. The group participated in the opera presentation of Jerome Hine's "I Am the Way" in the spring of 1973.

The Art of Home Decor
Ed Maliszewski
Carpeting

Space means as much as objects, when it comes to good design. Therefore, if you space all objects evenly apart on a mantle and give no importance to any of them, by utilizing a larger space between them, your design will not be as pleasing as it might if you were careful to use blank areas wisely. The same holds true in the arrangements of books, dishes or art objects. If an object is important, it is important enough not to be crowded while on display.

See the beautiful displays of carpeting at ED MALISZEWSKI CARPETING, 21435 Mack, 776-5510. We carry Lees, Mohawk, and Barwick to name a few... in all styles, patterns, and colors. novate or build a new pool and the location of same." He stressed the city is striving "for the best pool possible" at an economical cost.

Pool Substandard Last September Macomb County Health authorities inspected the pool and advised the city the structure should be completely replaced or that the renovation of the existing facilities, as well as the pool itself, should take place.

This report said the facilities were "substandard in many respects. The swimming pool has many noncomplying items which should be given attention in the interest of protecting the health and safety of the people using it."

"Hydraulic Problem" "Ever since the Department of Health advised us on this, the city council has been actively pursuing this problem," stated Mr. Petersen. "We attempted to get feasibility reports from professional pool engineers but they declined to do so. We're relying upon Mr. Pate for these reports."

In noting that pools are basically a "hydraulic problem," Mr. Pate said, "The principle of a pool's design and the hydraulics of it won't change from one pool to the next. We have to consider the type of material used, its longevity and money to be spent."

A "Monster" In calling the pool at the Lake Front Park a "monster" and a "problem," Mr. Shook expressed his concern over the type of pool which would subsequently be installed.

While he admitted thinking in terms of The Woods being a leader in having a pool for competitive swimming, Mr. Shook also said he was considering a pool that the future community can use and be proud of.

He added, "I'd hate to see The Woods spend a lot of money and have an inadequate pool in 15 years."

Mr. Petersen told the NEWS when it's time to get down to basic, final designs, comments will be obtained from residents interested in this subject. "The council is aware of the fact that the pool must meet the needs of all the people in the community."

Mayor Pinkos summed up the situation at one point when he said, "The council has not decided what direction we will take. Mr. Pate is checking location feasibility, new pool feasibility, renovation feasibility, plus cost. We also will consider the proper type and method of financing."

Many Problems Much agony was spent by Parks and Recreation personnel last summer battling the shaky facility, plus Mother Nature.

The problems included the seepage of lake water into the filled pool because of the pressure created by the lake level being higher than the pool level, plus the clogging of the filter plant and drains from the apparent washing of new concrete into the system via a prior resurfacing of one-third of the pool.

Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann also stressed the pool's "antiquated filtering system" which did not "allow or enable us to maintain clear water conditions, especially on crowded days."

Churches Slate Joint Service

The Reverend Dr. Addison Wright, professor of sacred scripture at St. Mary's Seminary and University in Baltimore, will be the guest preacher at the third annual service of Christian Unity sponsored jointly by Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, and St. Paul's on the Lake on Sunday, January 20.

The 8 p.m. service will be held at Christ Church, 61 Grosse Pointe Boulevard, Grosse Pointe Farms. An ecumenical dinner for families of both parishes at St. Paul's School will precede the service.

This marks the third consecutive year that parishoners of these Catholic and Episcopal churches have observed this service of unity. It follows a recent report from an international commission of Anglican and Catholic scholars who announced wide agreement between the two Christian bodies on the nature of the priesthood.

Dr. Wright was rector and professor of scripture at St. John's Provincial Seminary in Plymouth, Michigan, from 1968 to 1971.

He studied for the priesthood at St. Thomas Seminary in Connecticut, his native state, at St. Mary's in Baltimore and The Catholic University in Washington, D.C. His graduate work was done at Catholic University and the Pontifical Biblical Institute in Rome.

Author of "The Literary Genre Midrash" and several articles on Holy Scripture, Dr. Wright also serves as associate editor of the Catholic Biblical Quarterly and is a member of the board of control of the New American Bible.

Okay Goodyear Variance

On this, City Attorney George Catlin said a building permit will not be issued until all the conditions are met.

At the December 17 session, the council awaited a review of Goodyear's new plans by the Public Safety Department including the aspects of egress and ingress.

In his memo to City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, Public Safety Director Henry Marchand said, "In reference to the proposed off-street parking design as presented to the City Council on December 17, 1973, please be advised that although there is a deficiency in the required number of parking spaces, the design will work very well for the 10 spaces available."

"The plot plan indicates that there will be more than ample space between each parked vehicle and the aisle width is more than sufficient for easy maneuvering. Therefore, my only suggestion would require all vehicles exiting the lot to head out onto Mack avenue and not be allowed to back out."

"The installation of one or two signs at the exit of the lot with the words, 'Do Not Back Out,' should control this possibility."

"If the City Council consents to a variance of the off-street parking requirements for this location, the Department of Public Safety will approve the parking lot design as submitted."

As for the consent petition conditions, these include maintenance of the grounds in and around the building, rubbish and trash removal maintenance, efforts towards keeping noise levels down, the removal of two driveway approach aprons on Newcastle, the servicing of vehicles inside the building, etc.

Goodyear plans to operate a service store on the premises including the servicing of autos and the sale of various appliances, televisions, et al.

Attempt to Hide Identity Fails; Driver in Trouble

A Willow Lane resident who used his brother's name when he was arrested following a traffic accident on Thursday, January 3, was issued four violation tickets by Farms police, replacing the two he originally received. In re-issuing the tickets the arresting officers used the man's correct name. Charged with four law infractions was Christopher Carhart Valade, 20, of 37 Willow Lane, who was taken into custody by Farms Patrolmen Kenneth Pine and Gordon Evans at 8:05 a.m.

The officers received a radio run to 77 Moross road, to investigate an accident, and arrived to find Valade behind the wheel of an automobile, a 1966 Chevrolet, which had rammed into a 1974 Chevrolet van truck parked in front of that address. A witness identified Valade as the accident driver.

The policemen said that when ordered out of the car, Valade had difficulty in standing, his speech was slurred and his eyes were bloodshot and that he appeared to be under the influence of liquor. The patrolmen said they detected a faint odor of alcohol on the man's breath.

Pine and Evans informed Valade, who had given his brother's name, that he was under arrest for being drunk in a public place.

Valade demanded a breathalyzer test and was conveyed to the Woods station. He was given two tests, and both registered zero.

The Farms officers said that while at the Woods station, Valade continued to stagger and his speech was still incoherent. He was released from the Farms station where he was issued a violation ticket for careless driving and another for being intoxicated while driving in the city.

Valade was detained in the local cell and his father was called. On arrival at the station at 10:45 a.m. the parent gave police his son's true identity.

The arresting officers destroyed the original arrest card and cancelled the previous tickets issued, and using the accused man's true name, gave him a violation ticket for careless driving, another for driving while his license was suspended, a third for concealing his identity, and a fourth for drug intoxication, in violation of Farms Ordinance 185, Section 16A.

Valade was released on a $1,000 personal recognizance bond and is scheduled to appear before Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell on Wednesday, February 13.

Valade's troubles were not over. He was released to City police on their traffic warrant, and later to Kalamazoo authorities, who also wanted him on a warrant for a traffic violation.

Center Offers Buffet Dinners

A wide selection of classes is offered this semester, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Richard Dove from London began his class in Synchronicity on Monday, January 7. The course, which meets Mondays 1:15 to 2:45 p.m., is a combination of rhythmic exercises and dance. The fee is $35 for 14 weeks.

Weaving classes begin Monday, January 14, and continue through March 18. The hours are 7:30 to 9:30 in the evening. Classes are open both to serious senior high school students and adults. Linda Douchet, WSU Fine Arts major is the instructor. Class members learn to design pillows, shoulderbags, wall hangings, and then wear their wares on hand looms. The fee is $35 for 10 weeks.

Painting in all media is presented by Lorraine McCarty on Tuesdays, January 15 to March 19. Intermediate classes are held from 9:30 a.m. to noon and from 7:30 to 10 in the evenings. There is a 12:30 to 3 o'clock afternoon class for more advanced painters. Students may work in any media they wish. The fee is $45 for 10 weeks.

Beginning Needlepoint is taught by Cynthia Carson and Donna Stuart on Wednesdays 1 to 3 p.m., January 16 to March 6. Two basic and five elaborate stitches are taught and each student completes at least three pieces and receives much individual attention. The fee is $36 for eight weeks plus $5 for materials.

Also on Wednesdays, January 16 to March 6, from 7:30 to 9:30 in the evening, William A. Bostick, administrator and secretary of the Detroit Art Institute comes to Grosse Pointe to teach Calligraphy, the fine art of Italian.

Handwriting. The fee is $45 for 8 weeks plus $8 for supplies.

On Thursday evenings, January 17 to March 28, there is a basic course in Auto Mechanics taught by Eugene Kleeman of Chrysler Corporation. The fee is $25 for ten weeks.

Sculpture is also offered on Thursday evenings, January 17 to March 21, from 8 to 10 o'clock. It is taught by Hungarian born instructor Frank Varga. One may work in clay or bronze. The works will be fired by Mr. Varga in his own studio. The fee is $40 for ten weeks.

Finally on Thursday nights, January 17 to March 21 at 8 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Forrest host a Dance Club for those interested in keeping up with and practicing both traditional ballroom dancing and the latest steps.

Experience is merely an alarm clock that calls our bluff. Speaking of higher education—there's no other kind today.

Outpost Coffee House

Friday nights 8 p.m.-12 midnight at Miller Hall behind Christ Episcopal Church

Even unskilled observers can look at the things going on in the world these days and see that things are not getting any better. In the past year we have faced national and international crises: scandals, wars, hijackings and murders, with no relief in sight. Where is the peace that people have fought for all these years? The Bible says that "the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost." Do you see that the very things we all have been searching for are found in the kingdom of God? Righteousness, Peace and Joy!

But how does a person find the kingdom of God? Jesus Christ said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man comes to the Father, unless he comes through me." That seems to answer the question.

If we would only believe God, take him at his word, we could have righteousness, peace and joy.

That is what Outpost Coffee House is here for! To share this good news with the community. We may not be able to change the world, but we can help you find righteousness, peace and joy in your own life. Come and see for yourself.

Theatre Slates Extra Shows

Noel Coward needs an extra night. So does Robert Anderson.

And Grosse Pointe Theater, in the midst of a busy twenty-sixth season, will oblige both writers and local theater patrons by adding an extra performance for each of its next two productions.

With a near sellout for the eight regular season ticket performances, the ninth night for Coward's sophisticated comedy "Private Lives" and Anderson's powerful drama "I Never Sang for My Father" has been scheduled in response to the demand for tickets by Pointe theatergoers.

"Private Lives," Grosse Pointe Theater's next presentation at Fries Auditorium, opens with two newly married couples honeymooning in adjoining suites on the French Riviera. The situation is a bit less blissful than anticipated, as groom A and bride B discover that the neighbor is a former spouse. Complications immediately set in — and therein lies the tale of one of Noel Coward's most successful comedies.

Featured in the role of Amanda Prynce (bride B) is Mrs. Donald Cole of Cameron place. T. Michael Pullin (groom A), Barbara Trudel, Jim Rodgers, and Thea Gillooly of Whittier road complete the cast. Hank Houston, who last directed "A Case of Label" for the group, guides the production. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stult of Muir road are producer and technical director. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lau of Berkshire road designed the set.

Other Pointers assuming chairmanships are Mrs. Fred Guertler of Meadow lane, costumes; Ron Smauel of Moran road, lighting and sound; Ruth Ann Bliss of Ridgmont road, properties, and Mary Lou Mantho of Edgemont park, set dressing.

The additional performance for "Private Lives" will be Tuesday, January 22 (regular schedule is Jan. 17-20, 23-26). The ninth performance for "I Never Sang for My Father" has been set for Tuesday, March 26 (regularly scheduled performances are March 21-24, and 27-30).

Tickets for the additional performances are available by calling the box office at 881-4004.

Grosse Pointe's Newest Condominium

Your neighbors will include an award winner of one of the highest civic honors; a distinguished Detroit attorney; a member of an outstanding Detroit banking family; a well-known connoisseur, restaurateur; a sportsman who is an international winner in yachting circles; an outstanding advertising executive; a retired board chairman, those who take an active part in the city's industry and social life and one of Detroit's leading realtors and land developer who knows a great place to live when he sees it.

Why They Bought. Some bought before the building was finished. Others have looked around and thoughtfully compared condominium living to home ownership and apartment renting, they then made their move to the Jefferson Apartments.

They were influenced by the convenient prime location, all new construction and truly gracious living. Here is a typical spacious floor plan of an apartment home which features 9 foot ceilings, natural fireplaces, individual heating and cooling, top of the line G. E. kitchen with an icemaker and a washer-dryer. A wet bar is conveniently located for entertaining. Insulated walls, floors, plumbing and windows insure maximum quiet.

The Jefferson Apartments is an adult community.

There are three separate elevators and approximately a thousand square feet of private storage. Exterior maintenance, gardening and snow removal are arranged. Residents are homeowners and enjoy tax deductions and the investment security of being a property owner and equity advantages.

A network of the most modern security systems guard them, their home and possessions.

A CLOSED TV MONITORING SYSTEM covers the entrance, outside parking areas and inside garage. The caller can be viewed from a selected channel on the Owner's TV set in each apartment. The doorman and manager's office views the same areas.

THE ENTRY COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEM is a new system conceived and engineered by Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Using a touchtone panel telephone in the lobby, the caller dials the owner's apartment. This enables each party to have a private conversation. During the time the caller is in the entrance vestibule, he is under surveillance by the concealed TV camera.

AN ON-GUARD ALERT SYSTEM features a control panel in the manager's apartment and the attendant's office. This notifies of an intrusion into any apartment when the occupants are away. The doorman or manager controls the system by activating the apartment's security supervision at the request of the owner.

THE FIRE PROTECTION ALERT SYSTEM gives supervision added protection to all occupants of the building and will insure notification of each individual occupant of a fire in an unoccupied apartment.

Further elements of security are the uniformed doorman-attendant and around the clock resident caretakers.

The Jefferson Apartments is located 2 blocks from a beautiful park with boat slips, 3 blocks from Grosse Pointe Village shopping, 20 minutes from downtown Detroit by bus.

Don't worry about selling your home. Visit us and learn of our new trade-in program for your home, and our new pricing policy.

The model apartment is open 12 to 5 daily except Wednesday. Enter on Neff or St. Clair Roads. Priced from $69,000.

Water Rate Hike

The System shall be measured by a meter installed and controlled by the city. Water charges shall be established from time to time by resolution of the city council.

Bremer, in a memorandum to the council, stated that because of the increase, a liability of approximately $70,000 to the General Fund will be paid as soon as possible. This has resulted from substantial improvements which were made, coupled with a drop in water revenue for the year ending June 30, 1973, compared with June 30, 1972, of about $50,000, due to weather conditions.

He also stated that it is anticipated that this, (increase), will provide revenue to result in operation on a small profitable level, on a full-year basis. The nature of the water operation is very dependent on weather, and therefore, wide variations can occur on a year-to-year basis.

"In addition," the city manager said, "it is suggested that the Water Department absorb the costs of remote reading devices on all replacement meters when replacement has been determined to be to the advantage of the Department."

Bremer informed the solons that any meters for new construction, or replacement, due to neglect, will be sold with the remote device.

Any home owner who wants the remote device, at any time determined by them, could buy one for $30, at the current cost.

Bremer suggested to the council that customers, other than new construction, who have paid for the device up to this point, receive a credit on their water, in an amount equal to the cost paid. He estimated that this will cost the city between $2,000 and $3,000.

"On the total basis," the city manager said, "the cost to the Water Department of the Remote Reading Program could aggregate a minimum of $100,000."

"To the extent that funds are available, additional replacements and improvements will continue to be made to the Water Plant and distribution system. A good portion of the system is over 40 years old, and it has been the policy of the department to upgrade and maintain the system in good condition."

Carroll Lock, city comptroller said that the last time the city raised water and sewage costs to its citizens was on January 1, 1970.

The increase to Farms householders will not affect the City, which buys its water from the Farms at wholesale, and resells it to its own householders.

However, Lock said, the Farms reviews water costs to the City, its only customer, each fiscal year, ending June 30. On July 1, 1973, the wholesale price to the City was hiked from $1.1718 per 1,000 cubic feet to $1.3412 per cubic feet, or about 15 percent. The City pays its own sewage cost to Detroit.

Get Watch, $80 In Woods B-E

While an Anita avenue resident was away, someone entered his house by throwing two patio blocks through the inside and outside glass of a bedroom window. Woods police received the break-in report from a neighbor Saturday, December 22. After his return home, the citizen told officers missing items included $80 in cash and a ladies wristwatch, valued at around $150.

Adults Offered Many Classes

A variety of activities are offered for the entire family at the Neighborhood Club. Adult activities include Bowling, Basketball; and Volleyball Leagues, Self Defense, Judo, Tap Dancing and Knitting.

Classes include a Stock Market Study and a C.P.R., (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation), class.

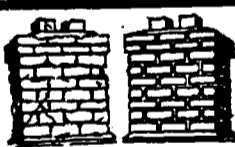

The Stock Market Study is a course in investment fundamentals. It is held at Snow, Nuyen, Kurtz and Company, 17108 Mack avenue. It begins Monday, January 14 and continues to March 4, from 7:30-9:30 p.m. The fee is $10 payable to the Neighborhood Club.

C.P.R. is a technique used to save lives and prevent irreversible brain damage by keeping oxygen and blood circulation in a victim's body until medical aid arrives.

A qualified C.P.R. instructor will teach this class at the following times: Tuesday, January 15, from 7-10 p.m.; Wednesday, January 16, from 8:30-11:30 a.m.; Thursday, January 17, from 7-10 p.m.; Tuesday, March 12, from 7-10 p.m., and Wednesday, March 13, from 7-10 p.m. Pre-registration is necessary for one of the above classes. There is no charge for this public service, offered at the Club. Call 885-4600 for additional information on activities and classes offered by the Club.

South to Give Winter Concert

The Grosse Pointe South High School Bands and Orchestra will present their annual Winter Concert on Thursday, January 24, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium at Parcels Middle School.

After intermission the Symphony Band will begin its portion with a rousing Sousa march, "King Cotton." The "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" by J. S. Bach will follow.

North Students To Play Jan. 16

Grosse Pointe North's three instrumental orchestras, the Symphony Orchestra, the Concert Band and the Symphony Band will be in concert on Wednesday, January 16, in the Performing Arts Center at North.

The Concert Band will also play three selections: Gio-vannini's "Overture in B Flat," Stuart's "Three Ayres from Gloucester" and Luigi's "Ballet Egyptian."

Chris is in her fourth year of membership in the Grosse Pointe North Symphony Orchestra, and is a member of the Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra conducted by Dr. Paul Freeman. She is a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Program.

SPORTS FANS! I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Oddly enough, some football teams have done better without a coach than with one. For example, Yale played the 12 seasons from 1876 through 1887 without a coach and won 71 games while losing only 2—and that's the best 12-year record in the history of the school—better than in all the years they've had coaches!

Can you guess who is the only player in football history to make the official All America football team as both a lineman AND A BACK? ... This unusual record is held by Bronco Nagurski. He was picked as an All-American at tackle and also at fullback when he played for Minnesota in the late 1920s.

Did you know that five of today's big league pro football teams had different nicknames when they first started? ... The Washington Redskins original nickname was Braves.

Rescued Puppy Returned Home

A small puppy, wandering in the area of Hollywood avenue and Marter road, was rescued from the chill of winter, (not to mention those menacing autos), by a Woods public safety officer Thursday afternoon, January 3.

While on patrol, Officer Ronald Hayden spotted the black and white pup, took it to the station and placed it in a dog cage. That was around 4:49 p.m.

At 5:20 p.m., a Roslyn road woman called the department about a lost puppy and was told of the incident. A short time later, owner and pooch were reunited, thus making this new year truly a happy one.

Middle Schools Expand Language Curriculums

The middle school language program is designed to meet the particular needs of pre-adolescents, (the in-between years).

A variety of offerings is available. Both seventh and eighth grade students may elect French or German or Spanish. It is possible to experience all three languages by the close of grade eight.

In the seventh grade introductory foreign language program, classes are offered on a 10-week basis, meeting every other day from September to January or from January to June. The program is not designed for advance placement in the eighth grade but does provide the student the opportunity to explore more than one language. A student may elect two languages or one language along with another interest area.

These experiences form the base for determining whether or not a student wishes to pursue a language in future years.

Offer Parents Training Class

A new concept in Parent Effectiveness Training classes will be offered by Grosse Pointe Schools Community Services.

The P.E.T. study group will meet for two sessions with each lasting two and one half hours. The fee for this group is $15 per person.

The group allows interested parents to experience the skills of the class with a minimum commitment of time and money.

Parents wishing to enroll in the regular seven-week class that follows will have the cost of the study group deducted from the class fee.

One study group will be held on Tuesdays and the second on Thursdays beginning January 8 and 10, respectively.

For further information and enrollment contact the Adult Education offices 885-3808.

South High Cagers Drop to 1-5

By Mark Emery
South's cagers were handed another defeat Friday, January 4, this time against Sterling Heights Stevenson in an EML contest. South's offense was completely shut down by the Titans as the Devils' overall record fell to 1-5.

Again, South's inability to mount an offense led to their embarrassing defeat. South was held in check throughout the game as a tenacious Stevenson team stopped what little offense South could establish.

Stevenson proved to be stronger than South had anticipated as the Titans controlled virtually every aspect of play. South was without an offensive threat through the first three quarters. The Devils scored only four points in the first quarter and then seven in both the second and third quarters.

South began to substantiate an offense late in the fourth quarter by outscoring the Titans, 19-15, but this was little consolation as South was handed its second EML defeat.

The Devils controlled the boards with 51 percent of the rebounds. Pete Grambo led the way by pulling down 12 rebounds. South was hurt immensely by turnovers as they gave the ball up on 18 different occasions.

Stevenson showed why they are favored to take the EML title as they held South to only 37 points, the lowest score the Devils have had this year.

Pete Grambo also led South with 11 points. Ron Heldt was second to Grambo with eight, all of which came late in the fourth quarter.

First Baby

born in Detroit. Mrs. Samuel Moore, of Detroit, delivered at Zieger Hospital 27 seconds after midnight. The child was brought to Saint John's Neo-Natal Intensive Care Unit for specialized medical care. The baby girl, as yet unnamed, weighed five pounds, 13 ounces at birth. Caring for her is Dr. Ali Rabbani, of North Rose-dale court, who is the hospital's Chief of Pediatrics.

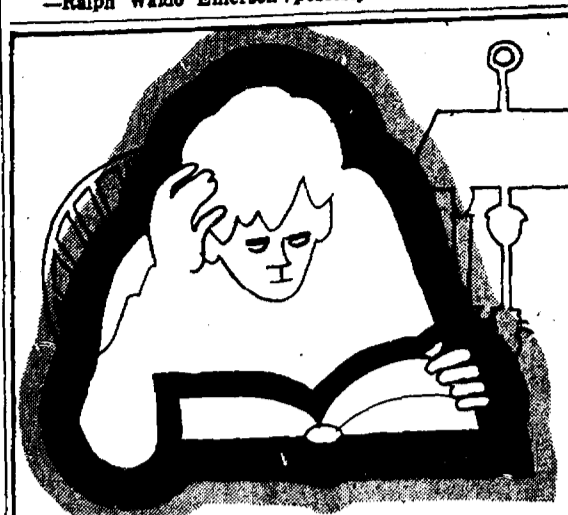

Bon Secours Hospital also had a New Year's baby when Mrs. Donald Sansoterra (Patricia) delivered a baby girl at 9:47 a.m. The Sansoterras, who are residents of Detroit, named their child Shannon Allison.

Cottage Hospital maternity patients really took their time this year. No babies were born the first three days of the new year, however, three women delivered on Friday, January 4. Rebecca Ann Vandenburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Vandenburg (Grace), of Mt. Clemens, was born at 10:49 a.m. last Friday.

It was quite a different story last year when all three Pointe hospitals had new year babies before 7 a.m. January 1. It was quite evident this year that there HAS been a drop in the birth rate!

"Solitude, the safeguard of mediocrity, is to genius the stern friend."

Judge Pytell Hears 9 Cases

Michael Connors of 1114 Berkshire, entered a plea of guilty to careless driving, at a hearing held before Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell on Wednesday, December 19.

Connors was sentenced to one year probation with no pleasure driving permitted until February 8, 1974. In addition he was assessed court costs of $75.

Ronald T. Taylor of 11475 Dewitt, Belleville, pled guilty to driving with defective car equipment and driving while his operator's license was suspended. Judge Pytell set sentencing date for January 9.

Joseph A. Caramagno of 28816 Palm Beach, Warren, pled not guilty to possession of marijuana and not guilty to a second charge of possession of an instrument adapted for use of controlled substance. He was found guilty of the first charge and not guilty of the second and will be sentenced on February 13.

The court accepted the plea of guilty entered by Jay Scott Jeffery of 1441 Somerset, who was accused of driving with expired license plates. He was fined $10 for the offense.

Thomas Foley of 22247 Virginia, East Detroit, pled guilty to speeding 35 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone. The court accepted the plea and ordered the man to pay a fine of $60.

Alexander Fish of 19641 West King court, accused of using improper license plates on the vehicle he was operating, pled not guilty. He was found guilty and was fined $10.

Verna C. Polack of 22438 Alger, St. Clair Shores, pled not guilty and was found not guilty of disobeying a red traffic signal.

Harry Freilburger of 2628 Alter road, Detroit, accused of hotrodning, pled not guilty to the charge and was found guilty. He was assessed a fine of $15 and ordered to pay court costs of $15.

Richard Conboy of 451 Maison, charged with disobeying a red traffic signal, pled guilty to the offense. The court accepted the plea and gave him a suspended sentence.

Library Offers Family Films Tonight

Tonight, Thursday, January 10, is Family Film Night co-sponsored by the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library and the Grosse Pointe Library. Four entertaining films will be featured.

"Caterpillar" is a 16 minute, color animated tale of a small boy and a talented dancing caterpillar who performs to the catchy tunes of a harmonica. He achieves great fame, suddenly disappears, and re-emerges as a butterfly.

"Skater Dater" is an 18 minute award-winning account of a young boy's emergence into adolescence; when he gives up his skateboard for the company of a young girl.

A hen named Rosie struts around a barnyard to the tune of "Turkey in the Straw," luring a fox into one disaster after another in the five minute film entitled "Rosie's Walk."

"Magic of Disneyland" is a 21 minute guided tour of Disneyland Park in California all the way from "Main Street U.S.A." to "Tomorrowland," from "Pirates of the Caribbean" to "It's a Small World."

The general public is invited and the movies will be shown in the exhibition room of the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue. For additional information, please inquire at the circulation desk or call the Library's audiovisual department at 884-2200.

Pointes to Pay Higher Bill for Street Lighting

By Roger A. Waha
 General's office, added Mr. Smith.

While Detroit Edison did not receive the full $59 million rate increase it requested the Michigan Public Service Commission, by a 2-1 vote Friday, January 4, approved a $45.7 million rate hike for the company, (including the $28.84 million interim rate increase granted last September 12).

Around 35 communities, including The Park and The Woods, joined together to fight Edison's proposed street lighting increase.

"The original percentage increase for street lighting in this case was on the order of 13 1/2-14 percent," said Attorney James Smith, who represented The Park in this case.

While noting that the percentage increase for various municipalities would vary somewhat as there are many street lighting rates, (depending upon the kind of lamp, pole, etc.), Mr. Smith said his guess is that many communities purchasing their street lighting from Edison will have an increase in the range of six to 10 percent, with the majority in the area of around 8 1/2 percent.

His "guess" was a good one as an Edison spokesman said the average overall street lighting increase was 9.2 percent.

The Park's, for instance, has been computed at 8.3 percent. On this Mr. Smith stated, "The Park is actually obtaining a savings of about one-third of what Edison originally sought." This is the smallest increase in street lighting that has been received from 1968 to date as past increases ranged from 30 percent to 65 percent, he added.

Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jeffers said Edison told him his percentage hike was 8 percent. Edison reported the percentage jump for the Woods, Farms and City was also around 8 percent.

Mr. Smith felt the joint efforts of the various communities in fighting the proposed street lighting increase played a role in the Commission's decision regarding the lower percentages than were originally requested in this category.

He cited testimony given by Park City Clerk-Comptroller Nunzio J. Ortisi and Woods City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher, along with representatives from other cities.

Mr. Smith also noted the expert testimony given during the hearings and stressed that given by Alexander Wiskup, independent utilities consultant from Washington, D. C.

"The participation of efforts, here, had their impact on the Commission's decision," he also said, "The Commission didn't say one thing about street lighting in its order—not one word."

Voting for the hike were William G. Rosenberg and Lenton G. Sculthorp, Republican members of the Commission, while Democrat William R. Ralls nixed the increase.

Mr. Smith noted Mr. Ralls felt that the Commission should have reduced the utility's charges by $7.6 million annually rather than authorizing rate hikes. This was essentially the position of the intervening communities and the UAW-CAP, Wayne County, Detroit and the Attorney

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard
 GUEST COLUMNIST: Louise Leeson

All of us at the Grosse Pointe Public Library are proud and happy that Glen Michaels, known Birmingham artist, has an exhibit of bronzes, tapestries, paintings and assemblages now showing at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial through January 13, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Glen Michaels said, in an interview published in the Detroit News, "I guess you could call me an architectural sculptor." This is a typically modest expression, but by no means does justice to the brilliance and diversity of his talents; he is also a gifted oil painter, water-colorist, illustrator, caricaturist, jewelry designer, musician and teacher, as well as creating fascinating pieces in glass.

Inspiration is a rather insipid word. Many years ago Sheldon Cheney defined it as "that unexplainable eruption of creative energy." This eruption can be, and has been in some periods, chaotic. In Michaels' work the natural elements he uses are under his positive control. In creating the assemblages each piece is placed solely by Mr. Michaels' hands. It follows that at no time is the creator separated from his creation as it progresses. The placing of each small tile, each piece of bronze, silver, glass, reflects order and unity. To give a text-book name to such work would be limiting and ungenerous, and in his own words, Glen Michaels does not like to be "walled in." His large concepts reflect delicacy and sensitivity.

Glen Michaels needs no one to beat the drum for him; his reputation is well established. He is noted for his energetic and dynamic wall assemblages. This area is fortunate to have works of his in Wyandotte General Hospital, Dearborn's Ford Library, Mt. Clemens Public Library, as well as Wayne State University Medical School. At Wayne his mosaic wall of brass, bronze, Tiffany glass, Pewabic tiles and Texas bluestones is in the Gordon H. Scott Hall of Basic Medical Sciences. He also is represented in the World Bank in Washington and Chase's Park Plaza Hotel in New York. Grosse Pointe is fortunate in that one of his works will be placed at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, in the near future. He constructed the terrace paving at the home of W. Hawkins Ferry. A complete list of Mr. Michaels' credits and commissions could fill this column without a word added.

The young man who "came out of the West"—Spokane—wanted to be a concert pianist when he was eighteen, but at an even younger age he wanted to be a cartoonist. Despite the long hours of practice in music his pencil and sketch pad were kept handy near. After his army stint in World War II he won a scholarship to the Yale School of Music. In addition to this demanding program

Michaels audited Yale art classes. Lack of little formal training in art did not stop Glen from "pounding the pavements," as he puts it, with his portfolio. A sale to Harper's magazine sent him home to the West to take a fine arts degree at Eastern Washington College. He majored in painting at Cranbrook Academy of Art in Bloomfield Hills, where he received his master's degree.

We are indebted to everyone connected with bringing Glen's exhibit to our community. In a surprisingly short time each part in the endeavor has meshed, to our good fortune. The logistics and arrangement of a show can sometimes be hair-raising. Mrs. William Delbridge, a librarian who has worked with us, saw Mr. Michaels' work in Mt. Clemens and had a dream of having it in Grosse Pointe. Her conversations with Mrs. Don T. Galvin, Jr., a new director on the Board of the Friends of Grosse Pointe Public Library, led to the exhibit being sponsored by our Friends of the Library and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Of prime importance is the consent of the artist, or the dream isn't realized, but, God bless, the man said yes! Et voila! Here it is! We extend our sincere thanks to all of you.

We at the Libraries will be forgiven for regarding Mr. Michaels and his family as honorary citizens of Grosse Pointe, with what we consider justifiable pride. Mrs. Glen Michaels (Jacqueline) has returned to our system as Chief of Children's Services. We have had the pleasure of meeting Suzanne, Paul and John Michaels, who have had a trip to the library to "see where mother works."

Biographical sketches may be important to satisfy a normal human interest—the desire to know and touch a creative life. At their best they may be a search for a clue to the well-springs of creativity; at their worst they may be presumptuous. Critical analysis of method and technique is worthy in its place, which is not within the scope of this column, but we can see and enjoy the "explosion of creative energy" in these intensely interesting and beautiful creations in Mr. Michaels' exhibit. Our town is favored in having an opportunity to view the work of an artist of stature. Thank you, Glen Michaels.

To View Career in Real Estate

Dr. James N. Heaney, a well-known real estate authority, will speak on "Career Opportunities in Real Estate" at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, Wednesday, January 16, at 8 p.m. He will discuss various aspects of the profession, pointing out both the challenges and rewards of a career in real estate. Dr. Heaney will also emphasize the changing requirements in today's market and the need to encourage talented people from every age level.

A member of the Michigan State Bar, Dr. Heaney practices real estate law. He is a past vice-president and member of the board of directors of the Detroit Board of Realtors, and has also served as a board member of the Michigan Real Estate Association. He has been active for many years as director of the Detroit School of Real Estate. He is a graduate of the Georgetown University of Notre Dame and holds degrees from the University of Notre Dame and the University of New Mexico.

The talk will be followed by a question and answer period. There is no admission charge, but reservations are suggested due to limited seating capacity.

The lecture is sponsored by Silloway and Company.

Slate Lectures at Bon Secours

Bon Secours Hospital will host a four-month series of lectures on recent advances in medicine. James M. Keeney, Sr., M.D. is program director.

The Thursday morning breakfast meetings begin this week and feature guest lecturers from schools of medicine at Wayne State University and the University of Michigan. Several members of the university faculty are also members of Bon Secours' medical staff.

Muir Clapper, M.D. will kick off the series on Thursday, January 10, with a discussion of new medical im-lications on fainting. Subsequent programs will deal with other frequently seen problems from hypertension to venereal disease.

The 14-week course is accredited by the American Academy of Family Practice and is open to all medical and osteopathic physicians.

Practicing physicians of the community have taken the opportunity to stay abreast of the many new findings in clinical medicine through the years at Bon Secours due to a grant to the hospital from the James and Lynelle Holden Fund.

APPOINTED

Carsten L. Fedders of Hunt Club Drive was recently appointed assistant vice-president of the Municipal Bond Department of the Bank of the Commonwealth. Mr. Fed-ders joined the bank as a mail clerk in 1958. He attended Wayne State University and graduated from the Detroit Institute of Technology in 1971.

Musical Marathon To Aid Symphony

Orchestra's Junior Women's Association to Coordinate 21-Hour Radio Broadcast; Donors May "Buy" their Favorite Compositions

Music lovers will be given an opportunity to program their favorite classical compositions and lend financial support to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at the same time when a special 21-hour Musical Marathon is aired over Radio Station WJR/760 next month.

Beginning at 8 Sunday morning, February 10, and continuing through 5 Monday afternoon, February 11, the Marathon will be hosted by Karl Haas, WJR Fine Arts director.

Along with the broadcast of recorded symphonic works chosen by Marathon donors the program will feature the voices of various station personalities, conversations with Orchestra musicians and other notables from the music world, a musical roundtable and quiz and special interviews, including one with new Principal Conductor Aldo Ceccato.

WJR has contributed the air time as a public service to benefit the Detroit Symphony. Co-ordinating the entire project is the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, with Mrs. James E. Beall, of Bedford road, as general chairwoman.

Mrs. Beall has announced that presubscription pledges will be taken by Association members in the lobby of Ford Auditorium prior to Detroit Symphony concerts.

Pledges also will be accepted over the telephone during Musical Marathon hours only, at (313) 875-2555, by members of the Junior Women's Association, who will serve as volunteer operators around the clock.

Every contributor, regardless of gift size, will receive a special edition of the master Musical Marathon list of over 300 classical compositions, personally autographed by Karl Haas, Aldo Ceccato and Conductor-in-Residence Paul Freeman.

In addition, for every $5 contributed a Marathon donor will receive a coupon worth $1, redeemable when tickets are purchased for single performances of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at Ford Auditorium and Meadow Brook Music Festival, Hilberry Classic Theatre, Bonstelle Theatre, the Music Hall and for specified dates at Masonic Auditorium.

The amount of presubscription or telephone donations will be applied toward the price assigned various categories of classical compositions: for example, the "cost" of hearing a pre-selected overture or composition of short duration will be $25. A suite or related works will be $50, a symphony or concerto $100.

All donors will be acknowledged on the air, and if one contributes $25 or more a special dedication of the selection may be requested. If a lesser amount than the (Continued on Page 15)

Club. It's set to begin at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Michel Skaff and Mrs. Nabil T. Tawile, social affairs coordinators, have cocktails and luncheon planned for noon.

The post-luncheon program will feature mezzo-soprano Cynthia Blough, accompanied by Kay Engle at the piano.

Arrangements for the day are being finalized by Mrs. Robert L. Kaiser and Mrs. Adrian V. Wallace. Hostesses, in addition to the Mesdames Skaff and Tawile, will be Mrs. Mark C. Stevens, Mrs. Robert Jay, Mrs. Walter McKeown and Mrs. Carl Weideman.

Mrs. Lyndie R. Martin, chairman of ways and means for the Symphony Women, is in charge of the Promise Tree gala.

After cocktails and a buffet dinner, auctioneer Larry DuMouchelle will begin to dismantle the Tree, stripping its branches of Committee members' gift guarantees.

Currently, Mrs. Martin is busy filling those branches, collecting contributions of antiques, furniture, picture frames, linens, holiday weekends, et al., stimulating contributors to stimulate their imaginations to come up with even more exotic goodies.

She's looking for items worth $20 and up. Budget category donations will be put to another use later on.

The whole purpose of the Promise Tree, of course, is to support the Pointe Symphony, which will present coloratura soprano Sally Wylie as guest artist at its premier 1974 concert January 27.

Other concerts are scheduled for Sunday, March 31, and Sunday, April 28. Each musical program will be followed, as always, by a meet-the-artists reception.

Three Meetings For Monday

The Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club begins its 1974 season Monday afternoon, with members gathering in the Touraine road home of Mrs. G. Thomas McKean to hear all about Flora and Fauna in Ancient Art and Wildflowers in Newfoundland.

Speaker is Mrs. Daniel Clifford. Assisting Mrs. McKean as hostesses will be Mrs. Hugh Stalker and Miss Thirza Morrow.

Also on Monday, Mrs. William Champion will be opening her Beverly road home for Libri Club's first 1974 meeting. Co-hostesses are the Mesdames George Brooks, Rex Brophy and David Gamble. NEWS columnist Virginia Leonard, of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, will give a book review.

And also on Monday, members of the Grand Marais Garden Club will hear Mrs. Robert Russell their meeting at 10:30 o'clock, the general membership arriving at noon for luncheon and a regular business session. The Mesdames Edward Biederman, Cecil Shuert and Elmer Rolley will assist the hostesses.

Garden Center's Annual Meeting

Mrs. Russell, chairman of the Trial Gardens, is a member of the board of trustees of the Grosse Pointe Garden Center, which begins the New Year with its annual meeting tomorrow.

Garden Center President Mrs. Edward R. Harrigan has asked Mark C. Stevens, world traveler and raconteur par excellence, to show his beautiful colored slides of English gardens.

He'll be speaking and showing following a noon luncheon in the War Memorial's Alger House.

Miss Moekle Wed To John Skinner, II

Detroit Athletic Club Reception Follows Morning Ceremony; Pair Will Make their Home in St. Clair Shores

Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, was setting for the wedding of Beatrice Anna Moekle and John Scott Skinner, II, Saturday, January 5. The 11 o'clock rites at the which The Reverend Douglas Styles presided were followed by a reception at the Detroit Athletic Club.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moekle, former Stephens road residents who came from their home in London, England, for their daughter's marriage, and granddaughter of Mrs. Herman L. Moekle, of Notre Dame avenue, and the late Mr. Moekle, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rock, of Woodville, Tex.

Her long white gown was trimmed with Alencon lace, and she wore a shoulder-length veil. Her only attendants were her sisters, Janet and Cynthia Moekle, dressed in yellow velveteen with brown accessories.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon D. Skinner, of Elm court, and grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Scott Skinner, of Edinburgh, Scotland, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hubbard, of Detroit.

He asked Steven Strehler to act as groomsmen.

Spring Bride

PAMELA FREEMAN and Thomas Eschmann, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Freeman, of Briarcliff drive, are planning a spring wedding.

Both the bride-elect and her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eschmann, of East Detroit, are graduates of Lutheran High School East. Miss Freeman is in Delta reservations. The prospective bridegroom teaches in Southfield.

French Film Showing Set

Mrs. Garfield Tourney, program chairman for the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe, announces that the next event on the busy group's schedule will be a showing of the prestigious French film "Un Homme et Une Femme" (A Man and a Woman), this Sunday afternoon, January 13, at 3 o'clock in the auditorium of University-Liggett School's Cook road campus.

Since its debut in 1966 "A Man and a Woman" has been widely acclaimed in international film circles. It won Academy and Golden Globe Awards and was recipient of Le Grand Prix of the International Catholic Film Guild. It also earned distinction at the Cannes Film Festival.

Director Claude Lelouch, whose latest offering "La Bonne Annee," (Happy New Year), has been receiving excellent reviews and will soon be seen in the greater Detroit area, won his first important film recognition with "A Man and a Woman."

His later movies include "Vivre Pour Vivre," "La Vie, L'Amour et La Mort," "Le Voyou" and "Smic Smac Smoc."

The cast of Sunday's romantic picture features several international stars, including Anouk Aimee and Jean-Louis Trintignant, who first attracted wide public interest in a Bardot film, "God Created Woman," and who also appeared in "Night at Maud's" which enjoyed an extensive local run.

The Alliance's presentation of "A Man and a Woman," shown in color and in the French version with English subtitles, will be free to Alliance members.

Susan Sendelbach Wed In St. Paul's

Noon Rites at Which She Became Mrs. Clifford Paul Fetters Are Followed by Reception in War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom

Susan Mary Sendelbach and Clifford Paul Fetters exchanged marriage vows Saturday, December 29, at a noon ceremony in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore, with the Reverend John C. Reed, S.J., of Toledo, presiding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Sendelbach, of Handy road, the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Fetters, of Fairfield, O.

A champagne reception in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom followed the rites, for which the former Miss Sendelbach selected an ivory satin gown, featuring an organza bodice and sleeves appliqued with flowers of Alencon lace, crystal beads and seed pearls, and ending in a Cathedral train.

More lace edged her fingertip illusion veil. She carried a cascade of ivory roses, baby's-breath and stephanotis.

Honor maid Mary Gay O'Neill, of Chicago, wore a gown of hunters' green velvet, styled with long sleeves trimmed in ivory lace, and a matching velvet Juliet cap.

May Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Marco Santi, of Roslyn road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter CARRIE LEE to John Kenneth Kraft, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kraft, of St. Clair Shores. A May wedding is planned.

Bridesmaids, dressed identically, were Ann Wilcoxon, of Grosse Pointe and Boston, and Maura Sendelbach, the bride's sister. They carried small cascades of variegated red and white carnations.

Gregory Fetters acted as best man for his brother. Ushering were Louis Sendelbach, Jr., the bride's brother, and Michael Riemers, of Minneapolis.

The bride's mother wore a long gown of burnt orange overlaid with metallic silver and pinned matching roses to her purse. The bridegroom's mother's floor length gown, long-sleeved, was fashioned of powder blue jersey. White orchids formed her corsage.

After a short wedding trip to Chicago the couple is at home in South Bend while the bridegroom continues his studies at the University of Notre Dame. He expects to receive his degree this May.

The bride received her Bachelor of Arts in Speech Education from St. Mary's College, Notre Dame.

Mrs. Clifford Fetters

In Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore Saturday, December 29, SUSAN MARY SENDELBACH, daughter of the Louis Edward Sendelbachs, of Handy road, became Mr. Fetters' bride. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Fetters, of Fairfield, O.

Kovar-Fisher Vows Spoken

Exchanging marriage vows Saturday, January 5, in the Bethlehem Chapel of the Cathedral of Saint Peter and Saint Paul, Washington, D.C., were Carolyn Ann Fisher and Richard David Kovar, of McLearn, Va.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Fisher, who moved to East Outer drive, Detroit, a few years ago, after more than 17 years' residence in Devonshire road.

Mr. Kovar is the son of the Timothy J. Kovars, of Venice, Fla.

The candlelight ceremony was followed by a dinner reception at the Officers Club of Fort Leslie J. McNair.

The bride's silk-faced white satin gown featured a fitted bodice. Satin ruffles circled her throat, wrists and hem. In addition to a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's-breath she carried her mother's and grandmother's wedding prayer book and the lace handkerchief fashioned by her great-grandmother for her maternal grandmother's wedding, and wore her paternal grandmother's sapphire ring.

Catherine Fisher, who attended her sister-in-law, wore a red velvet Empire gown.

Find Marriage Game Helpful for Couples

An Oakland University professor has developed a classroom "marriage game" to help make students more aware of their life preferences and of the many give-and-take situations they would face as husband and wife.

Jesse R. Pitts, OU Department of Sociology and Anthropology, gives the "marriage game" as part of a course on the Sociology of the Family.

His course will be offered during the winter term at the OU extension site at Shrine High School in Royal Oak. In the game, players decide whether or not to marry, to have children, how to budget time and money, et cetera.

Results of their decisions are then expressed in tested quantities of security, esteem, enjoyment and ego support displayed by the partners.

These quantities are given token values. The tokens are then exchanged by the partners or banked with the professor and counted in the students' scores.

The three-hour weekly sessions are divided into two periods. In the first session the major sociology theories about marriage and the family are discussed. The class then divides into couples to play the "marriage game."

For the young, whether actively contemplating marriage or not, this is a chance to learn the realities of marriage and the problems involved in reconciling differences.

For the mature it is a chance to review values and to become aware of the priorities that govern them, often unconsciously, in the choices they make.

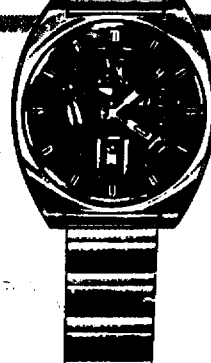

Pitts, a researcher in the field of marriage and divorce statistics, is currently studying the divorce rate in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills during the 1960's.

His preliminary work involved analysis of the statistics of marriage and divorce for people who were married in 1963 and 1968 and who received their divorces in Oakland County.

Second phase of his research involves calling up the parents of those people married in 1963 and 1968 to see whether or not their grown children are married or received a divorce out of the county.

In the first study Pitts is collaborating with Betty Roth, a 1972 OU graduate from Birmingham. In the second project he is working with the social organization Parents Without Partners.

Labels Provide Sewing Guide

Knowing the necessary care procedures for the fabric you buy can be one of the most important steps in home sewing, says Bernetta Kahabka, Extension Clothing Specialist at Michigan State University.

"Much time and money can be wasted on a finished garment that's cleaned once and ruined forever," she says. "Permanent care labels are the sewer's guide and helper in avoiding mishaps."

The care instructions or a code number representing a specific set of care instructions should be found on the end of the bolt on which fabric is wrapped.

When you buy fabric, the salesperson should give you a care label which has these same directions on it.

Miss Kahabka suggests keeping track of the cleaning instructions by sewing the label right into a seam of the garment for a permanent reference.

"Care labeling can also be helpful in choosing lining and interfacing fabrics that require the same care as your outer garment fabric," the specialist explains.

"You might also decide that a certain fabric requires care you don't want to bother with even though you like the fabric."

And if you follow the care instructions and obtain unsatisfactory results, you have a better basis on which to lodge a complaint.

"Care labeling was instituted by the federal government for the consumer's protection. It's up to you to use it for your own benefit in choosing, evaluating and caring for your fashion fabrics," Miss Kahabka points out.

Coffee Concert Set Tomorrow

Friday morning's NBD Coffee Concert audience will hear two first performances by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of Sixten Ehrling, at 10:45 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

Martinu's Les Fresques and Wieniawski's Violin Concerto No. 1 in F-sharp minor, featuring guest violinist Itzhak Perlman, appear on a Detroit Symphony subscription series program for the initial time.

Since his 1964 Leventritt Competition victory Itzhak Perlman has been a concert hall favorite throughout the world, establishing himself as one of the world's greatest violinists.

Italo Babin, cellist, and Nathan Gordon, violist, both Orchestra principals, will appear as soloists in the program's third selection, Strauss' Don-Quixote.

The same program will be offered Saturday evening, January 12, beginning at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

The very popular Coffee Concert series, presented in cooperation with the National Bank of Detroit, offers a mid-morning chance to relax over complimentary coffee and pastry starting at 9:30 o'clock.

A fashion show featuring easy-to-sew styles will be presented by Stretch-and-Sew immediately preceding this week's concert.

Tickets for the Friday morning concert are priced at $6.50, $5 and $3.50. Group discounts are available at 100 NBD offices.

Saturday evening tickets are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office, 961-0700, all Hudson's and Grinnell's stores.

A limited number of tickets for students and senior citizens is available at Ford Auditorium Box Office beginning at 7:45 o'clock concert night.

Miss Scherer Says Vows December 15

Florida is pre-Christmas Vacation Destination of Newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Martin William Stagner; Southfield to be their Home

Linda Lee Scherer chose a gown of silk organza over blush taffeta, its bodice and short puffed sleeves encrusted with Chantilly lace, for her Saturday, December 15, wedding in the Barbour Chapel of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church to Martin Wil-

Her skirt ended in a band of Chantilly lace holding a deep flounce and her short illusion veil and Chapel length veiling train fell from a pearl and crystal crown.

Her Colonial bouquet was fashioned of stephanotis, iceberg mums, pink Sweetheart roses and baby's-breath.

The 3:30 o'clock rites at which Dr. Ray Kiely presided were followed by a reception in the North Deeplands road home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Carl Henry Scherer, who chose a floor length dinner suit featuring a hot pink velvet skirt and paisley lame jacket printed in shades of shell and hot pink and silver for her daughter's wedding.

Mrs. Scherer's corsage featured phalaenopsis orchids. The bride, who is also the daughter of the late Mr. Scherer, was escorted down the aisle by her uncle, Robert Reynolds, of Alpena, and attended by her cousin, Mrs. John A. Doll, of Highland, Mich., whose floor length spruce green frock featured full sheer sleeves.

Mrs. Doll's headpiece was a circlet of spruce green velvet ivy leaves holding a face veil. She carried pink carnations, deep pink rosebuds and baby's-breath.

Mr. Stagner is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Ross Stagner, of Pleasant Ridge. Mrs. Stagner selected a long shirtwaist of soft green and silver sheer and a cymbidium orchid corsage for her son's wedding.

Best man was Terry Court-right. Ushers were Gregory Stauch and John A. Doll. After a vacation in Florida the newlyweds are at home in Franklin Towers, Southfield.

Returning to Henry Ford Hospital's Division of Pulmonary Diseases as a staff physician is DR. PAUL A. KVALE, of Allard avenue, who recently completed a Fellowship in Pulmonary Diseases at Brompton Hospital, London, England.

July Bride

Plans for a July wedding are being made by VIRGINIA K. HAAS and John J. Mazur, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Haas, of Stanhope avenue.

The bride-elect, who attended Saint Scholastica High School and Aquinas College and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Western Michigan University, currently resides in Johnstown, N.Y., and teaches in the Gloversville Enlarged School District.

Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Mazur, of Amsterdam, N.Y., is an alumnus of Wilbur H. Lynch High School, Fulton-Montgomery Community College and State University College, Brockport, N.Y. He also is a Gloversville District teacher.

The Martin Stagners

At an afternoon ceremony Saturday, December 15, in the Barbour Chapel of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church LINDA LEE SCHERER, daughter of Mrs. Carl Henry Scherer, of North Deeplands road, and the late Mr. Scherer, was married to Mr. Stagner, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ross Stagner, of Pleasant Ridge.

March Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Elliott, of Touraine road, have announced the engagement of their daughter ELIZABETH ANNE, of Little Rock, Ark., to Peyton E. Rice, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Peyton E. Rice, of Little Rock.

Elizabeth is a graduate of Wayne State University. Peyton, a Washington and Lee graduate, is now in Medical School at the University of Arkansas.

They plan a March 14 wedding here in The Pointe, in Saint Paul's Church.

Start Economic Study Sessions

The Grosse Pointe Democratic Women's Discussion Group begins its study of John Kenneth Galbraith's "Economics and the Public Purpose" Wednesday, January 16.

The study will continue via weekly meetings starting at 9:15 o'clock in Betsy Schoff's home in Lochmoor boulevard.

The book focuses on the power of corporations in American society and reveals myths that prevent structure of the economy in the national interest.

Members of the group who will lead discussions include Georgia Greenspan, Nell Barbour and Cheri Swarthout.

Upon completion of the book speakers will be invited to challenge the thesis that "left to themselves, economic forces do not work out for the best."

New members and guests are welcome. Chairperson Susie Lewis, 898-4415, may be contacted for further information.

Alpha Phi Schedules Pound Party Meeting

Detroit-Grosse Pointe alumnae of Alpha Phi will meet Tuesday, January 15, at the Anita road home of Glyn Broman for a business session beginning at 8:30 o'clock, followed by a Pound Party. Gift-wrapped white elephants, contents unknown, will be auctioned off at a per-pound price. Proceeds will provide magazine subscriptions for Alpha Phi's Gamma Nu Chapter at Miami University.

All area Alpha Phis are invited and should make reservations with Mrs. Broman at 881-0785 by Tuesday, January 14.

Bid Questers 'Come To Fair'

Come To The Fair is program subject for the Grosse Pointe chapter of Questers' meeting tomorrow, Friday, January 11, at the Roslyn road home of Mrs. Siegfried Franz.

With the United States Bicentennial in the planning stages for 1976 there is great interest in world exhibitions and souvenirs of fairs of bygone days.

Mrs. Pierre Palmentier, presenting the program, will speak briefly on other world fairs, but her talk will be primarily on the Great Columbian Exposition in Chicago, (1892-93).

The discussion will be illustrated with various mementoes of this and other fairs owned by Mrs. Palmentier and members of the group.

Miss Mary Coyne and Mrs. Wallace Temple will assist Mrs. Franz. Luncheon follows the program.

Canned Food Big EMU Item

The trial-and-error process of selecting canned food faced by the common consumer is avoided at Eastern Michigan University — but then Eastern is not a common consumer.

The EMU Food Service buys food for more than 4,000 students who eat in the University's dining halls. There is no room for experimenting in such a situation, says Ronald Ellis, unit manager.

"When we order canned food, we order it in quantities that last three months to a year," Ellis said. "When ordering amounts that large you make sure you want what you're getting."

Ellis was sitting behind his desk in Dining Commons Number 3. His office, located off to the side of the huge gleaming kitchen, muffled sounds of lunch preparations by white-uniformed women.

"We have a system that works pretty well," Ellis said. "Our aim is to get the best product for the lowest price, and I think we are doing this."

Bids are sent to several companies after estimating the quantity needed. The three lowest bidders are then asked to submit three or four institutional-size cans of the product for examination.

The can cutting, as the examination is called, is conducted by a panel of six including Ellis, Eastern's dietitian Mrs. Margaret Brown and a student manager. Foods tested are anything that is canned including pudding, vegetables, fruit, chili, relishes, olives, sauces and soups.

Labels are removed from the cans after they are coded so that panel members do not know which brand they are testing. The best-tasting brand is then selected.

If none of the companies are acceptable, the next lowest brands are examined.

The food must meet certain standards in appearance and aroma as well as taste. Panel members check for blemishes, seeds, uniformity and color. There should not be any mechanical damage or excessive skin, and pit removal should be complete. The aroma and flavor should complement each other.

"We also check the drained weight of the product," Ellis said, "and count the number of pieces. If there are supposed to be 124 chunks of pineapple in a can, we'll make sure there are."

"When the students go through the cafeteria line they first smell the food then see it. We want to be sure it will appeal to them and that they will like it when they try it."

The most popular vegetable is cut green beans with 500 of the big 12-can cases ordered after the recent winter "can cutting."

Other food orders included 30 cases of vanilla pudding,

Antique Talk Set At GPYC

The ladies of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club will gather in GPYC's formal dining room next Thursday, January 17, for luncheon and a discussion on the Art of Collecting Antiques.

Stalker and Boos is in charge of the presentation, and Mr. Stalker and Mr. Boos have asked those attending to bring favorite family heirlooms they've always wondered about for on-the-spot history and value analysis.

Mrs. James S. Powell is chairman of the day. Mrs. Curtis C. Carmichael is co-chairman. The Mesdames James Barker, Addison Barush, Frank McBride and George Siebert are committee members.

Mrs. Thomas Burke and Mrs. Jerry Kirsch are general GPYC ladies' chairman, and Mrs. James Fisher is honorary general chairman.

Hranchook-Schulte Vows Are Spoken

Bride Wears Her Mother's Heirloom Wedding Gown; Pair Are at Home in Mount Clemens after Hillsboro Beach, Fla., Vacation

Exchanging marriage vows Saturday, November 24, in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore were Constance Ann Schulte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Schulte, of Vernier road and Hillsboro Beach, Fla., and Mark Stanley Hranchook, son of Dr. and Mrs. Michael Hranchook, of Bloomfield Hills.

The 2 o'clock rites at which Father James Cronk presided were followed by a reception at Lochmoor Club.

The newlyweds vacationed in Hillsboro Beach and are at home in Mount Clemens.

The bride wore her mother's heirloom wedding gown, fashioned of candlelight slipper satin and featuring leg-of-mutton sleeves and a Cathedral train. Victorian in design, its Empire waist was defined by a deep diamond pattern encrusted with beading.

A lace headpiece, framing her face, held her imported silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of gardenias accented with stephanotis sprays.

She was attended by her sister, Natalie A. Schulte, as maid of honor, carrying a teardrop bouquet of pale pink and white mums, wine baby's-breath and greens, and by bridesmaids Christine A. Schulte, another sister, and Barbara and Helen Hranchook, the bridegroom's sisters, carrying arrangements of matching flowers.

Their frocks of azalea iridescent taffeta with embroidered lace bodices and cuffs were sashed with velvet ribbon.

Michael Hranchook served as his brother's best man. In the usher corps were Matthew Hranchook, another brother, and the bride's brothers, Richard J. Schulte and Dr. Henry J. Schulte, of Ann Arbor.

Merry Widow Opens Jan. 18

The Merry Widow whirls on to the Music Hall stage starting Friday, January 18, when Michigan Opera Theatre opens its final production of the 1973-74 season.

The operetta stars Catherine Christensen in the title role. John Reardon of the Metropolitan Opera will alternate with Charles Roe as the male lead, Danilo. Set in Paris at the turn of the cen-

Sweden Topic For Phase I

The Reverend H. Walter Persson, ecumenical minister from Sweden, will talk on The Excitement of Sweden, Its Young People and Advanced Society at a meeting of Phase I, an all-singles group, at 7:30 o'clock this Sunday, January 13, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

A member of the World Council for Christian Education, The Reverend Persson is also a leader in the Swedish Mission Covenant Church. He arrived in the United States January 1.

A social hour will follow the program.

The Hilberry Classic Theatre is destination for a Phase I theatre party Saturday evening, January 19. The production will be "The Play's the Thing."

Phase I meets every Sunday night at Memorial Church and invites singles from 20 to 40 to attend. Further information on the group's activities may be obtained by contacting Gust Jahnke at 882-5330.

tury, the musical play includes a cast of 80 singers and dancers.

Featured performers will be Michigan singers Mary Wakefield and Edward Kingins and Jan Rubes of Canadian television. Director and choreographer is Lois Bewley, a ballerina formerly with the Jerome Robbins and New York City Ballet Companies.

A special early evening show is slated for Sunday, January 20 at 6:30 o'clock.

Other performances are planned for January 18 at 8:30, January 23 at 2:30 and January 25 and 26 at 8:30 o'clock.

Ticket prices are $3, $5, $7 and $9. Student and senior citizen discounts are available, and Michigan Opera Theatre offers a group rate for parties of 25 to 200 people. All performances are in the Music Hall. Tickets are available at Hudson's and the Music Hall Box Office, 963-7680.

The Merry Widow will be sung in English, as are all Michigan Opera Theatre productions.

Madrigal Club Sets January Auditions

Auditions to sing with the Madrigal Club of Detroit will be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday evenings, January 14 and January 21, in the rehearsal room at Covenant Baptist Church, James Couzens highway, Detroit.

There are openings for all voices in this women's chorus, which has been performing good music of all periods for 59 years. Applicants must be able to sight-read and be at least 18 years of age.

Anyone interested may contact either audition chairman Mrs. Neil McCallum, 476-0126, or Club president Mrs. E. T. Hart, 533-9623, for further information.

Mrs. Mark Hranchook

Wedding vows were spoken by CONSTANCE ANN SCHULTE, daughter of the Henry J. Schultes, of Vernier road and Hillsboro Beach, Fla., and Mr. Hranchook, son of Dr. and Mrs. Michael Hranchook, of Bloomfield Hills, Saturday, November 24, in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore.

Church Circles Slate Sessions

The Women's Circles of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will begin the New Year with meetings next Tuesday, January 15.

Morning Circles, gathering at 9:30 o'clock, include Circle One, at the Lincoln road home of Mrs. Ralph B. Netting; Circle Two, at the Kensington road home of Mrs. Walter Pattee; Circle Three, at the Berkshire road home of Mrs. Arlington Lecklider; Circle Four, at the Clairview road home of Mrs. L. Gaylord Hulbert; and Circle Nine, in the Church Lounge.

Afternoon Circles, gathering at 1 o'clock, are Circles Five and Six, at the Church; and Circle Seven, at the Devonshire road home of Mrs. James L. Weckler.

Evening Circle Eight will meet in the Deaplans court home of Mrs. Leo E. Vaught.

Any woman wishing to join a Circle may call Mrs. Peter J. Koenig, Jr., chairman, 888-0618, for further information.

Alpha Mu DKG's Plan Focus Session Jan. 14

Alpha Mu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma will hold its first meeting of the new year Monday, January 14, at Parcels School Library at 4 o'clock.

This focus meeting will honor 50 years of Delta Kappa Gamma. The Research committee, Esther Meldrum, chairman, Joan Kubista, Jane Barrett and Nancy Booth, will lead a discussion from the floor.

Topics to be considered at local, state and national level are outstanding achievements of Delta Kappa Gamma, strengths and weaknesses of the organization and most important — future goals.

Refreshments will be served by the Scholarship committee, including Maureen Allan, chairman, Emily Baker, Ruth Curtis and Martha Hoke.

President Geraldine Bertovick asks members to note the new starting time due to heating conditions in the School.

Receiving Masters degrees from Western Michigan University December 19 were Painters PATRICIA L. JAHN, Master of Science in Librarianship, SALLY L. CLARK, Master of Arts, and CAROLYN G. RUIFROCK, Master of Occupational Therapy.

Macomb Law Wives Meet Next Thursday

The Lawyers' Wives of Macomb County will hold a general meeting next Thursday, January 17, at 8 o'clock in the Mount Clemens home of Mrs. William V. Wendt.

Program for the evening will feature Greg Petty discussing and demonstrating Working with Dried Flowers.

The program was planned and scheduled by the program committee headed by Mrs. Wendt and co-chairman Mrs. Thomas Ciaramitaro. Among their assistants was Mrs. Philip Greco, of Moorland drive.

Dessert and coffee will be served by the social committee, including Mrs. Thomas D. Rinehart, of Hampton road.

All members are invited to attend.

Sewing Costs Can Go Down

Higher fabric prices have both home sewer and clothing manufacturer considering ways to cut costs, says Bernetta Kahabka, Extension Clothing Specialist at Michigan State University.

"The availability and price of natural and manmade fibers to be processed into fabrics are key factors in the economics of home sewing," the specialist explains. "And when fibers are scarce and demand is high prices per yard of fabric go up accordingly. Sewing then costs more for both the clothing manufacturer and the home sewer."

Linings, interlinings, interfacing, trims or accessories needed for your garment also added to the total cost of a finished product.

So when fabric is scarce and high in price, cut costs by making adjustments like these:

—Substitute a less expensive fabric in pocket linings.
—Make styles which use fewer garment pieces.
—Eliminate flaps, extra trims and cuffs, or make false cuffs.

—Use less interfacing and lining.

Your best bet to make real savings in home sewing is to use uncomplicated patterns. Miss Kahabka says. Simpler styles usually don't require as many extras and may take less time to sew, so you make a double savings.

MR. and MRS. EMMET E. TRACY, JR., (Marilyn Hallett), of Elm court, announce the birth of a son, EMMET TRACY, III, December 20. The new Emmet Tracy has a year-old sister TIF-FANY.

Concelebrating a mass at Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore Friday, December 28, in honor of the 50th wedding anniversary of MR. and MRS. JOHN P. REED, of Kerby road, were THE REVEREND LEONARD WALLACE, THE REVEREND ALBERT ZINGER, THE REVEREND PE-TER LENTINE and THE REVEREND VINCENT WELSH. The Golden Anniversary pair were attended by two members of their original wedding party, MRS. ROY G. FLAGLER, Mrs. Reed's sister and HAROLD ALLOR. The original wedding mass was also celebrated in Saint Paul's Church, in 1923. The 6:30 o'clock 1973 service was followed by a reception in the Reeds' home at the Warren Chateau, given by their children, Mr. Reed and the former ELIZABETH MASON have 23 grand children and seven great-grandchildren.

Mr. Huetteman Claims Bride

At a late afternoon ceremony at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Saturday, December 22, Candace Kay Kline became the bride of John Huetteman, III.

Kristie Kline, of Albion, was her sister's maid of honor. Donald D. Andree, of Jeddo, served as best man.

The new Mrs. Huetteman, formerly of San Francisco, Calif., is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Kline, Jr., of Sault Ste. Marie. Mr. Huetteman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Huetteman, Jr., of Algonac, formerly of Lakeshore lane.

The newlyweds will be residing in Grosse Pointe Woods.

Quester Group Meets Jan. 11

4155 UNIVERSITY, 2 bedroom with expansion attic, carpet, garage, patio. Reasonable. By owner. TU 2-6719.

BY OWNER — 22820 Gary Lane, St. Clair Shores, 3 bedroom brick ranch, 1 1/2 baths, central air, 2 car garage. TU 4-9553.

HERE TODAY, GONE TOMORROW, once you see this you'll beg, steal or borrow. This delightfully decorated colonial is grey brick with aluminum cladding above. Almost new carpeting throughout and a super family room is behind the dining room, make this a cut above the rest. This is the first, and quite possibly the last time this house will be advertised.

FOR ALL OF YOU who have been searching in vain for that perfect single story house with a master suite and a guest room, this could be the place. It is located on a deadend street in the Farms, has a secluded lot with swimming pool, is centrally air conditioned and is missing just one thing... you.

OUT WITH THE OLD, in with the new. And you could be out in the cold if you wait too long before checking out this offering in the City of Grosse Pointe. There are four bedrooms and two baths on the second floor. Third floor has two more bedrooms and a third bath. There is a formal dining room, living room with fireplace, den and first floor den. Minor decorating may be required, but what do you want for $42,500?

SHOULD BE SOLD this week. Only an old timer in the business can remember when you could buy a three bedroom house in this location with a cathedral ceiling in the living room with open rafters, full basement, two car garage, spruced up kitchen and a 1964 price tag of $32,500.

JUST AS BRIGHT inside is this little, yellow colonial with a spanking new kitchen, fresh decorating from top to bottom, yards and yards of new, wool carpeting and perfectly proportioned for a couple or swinging single. Priced to be picked up at $34,000.

A STATELY HOUSE located in the Farms just a few feet from the Lake has become even more attractive because now it is available for purchase. Designed by Albert Kahn Associates, this petite mansion offers a large entrance foyer with marble floor, a large formal living room with magnificent fireplace, and the dining room, library and living room all face the lake. Five bedrooms and four baths comprise the second floor. This one will appeal to everyone... we wish we had more.

CHARM INSIDE AND OUT is standard equipment in this beautifully maintained three bedroom colonial on LaBelle. New carpeting and draperies throughout make this one ready to move into. Just a short hop to Mack-7 shopping, and a low interest mortgage to step into.

SABINA IMHOF OF BASEL, SWITZERLAND, AND TONNANCOUR PLACE

By Nancy Kramer

Talking with 17-and-a-half-year-old Sabina Imhof is a little like settling down in a favorite chair to watch a good film on T.V. She's that interesting and that easy to talk to.

But analogies only go so far and given a choice of the two, you would be wise to forego the movie and stick with Sabina. It's guaranteed entertainment and you might learn something from this year's American Field Service exchange student for South High.

Conversation comes easy; no holds barred. Even that little matter of an accent comes in handy since it prompts the inevitable "where are you from anyway?"

The answer is Basel, nestled in the northern part of Switzerland, just below the border between France and Germany.

Compares Cities And, as one thing leads to another, she'll go on to compare differences between her homeland and ours.

Sabina's seen enough of Detroit proper to contend that, even though Basel is Switzerland's second largest city, it seems to have the upper hand over Detroit in smog and pollution control. "Basel is very clean and no cars are allowed to drive inside." Detroit architecture is strange too. "The buildings in Basel are all very old."

Another plus in Basel's favor is a backdrop of mountains; something Detroit can't even hope to equal. But Sabina is unfazed about Michigan's comparative flatness. "People always say to me, 'Don't you miss the mountains?' She shakes her head. "How can I miss the mountains when I have the lake so close by? When you are born and raised with the mountains always there in the background you take them for granted. You don't miss them while you are away."

Attitudes Vary Attitudinal variations rather than geographical differences have posed the greater difficulty as far as adjusting goes. She feels that, perhaps, Americans work too hard. "Life here is so business-oriented. Everyone seems to live for the weekends. In Switzerland we do things all the time. Parties aren't just reserved for the weekend. If we want to party on a Wednesday, that's when we party."

The work ethic doesn't just apply to parents either. Students she has come in contact with seem, to Sabina, a little overly concerned with money. That may be harder for her to accept since very few Swiss students work. "But here, the ones that do (work) run around asking 'How much do you make an hour?'"

Another curious thing about South students: "Although once you get to know them they are very nice, fun to be with and friendly," she explains, "you have to make the initial effort to seek them out. For some reason they are reluctant to make the first move."

Tough at First This idiosyncrasy, Sabina thinks, may have made getting into the South routine a little trying at the outset of the year. That, coupled with the absence of her "big sister" during the first two weeks of classes. Compounded further by the fact that even though one may have studied the English language in theory, in practice, it's a lot harder putting it to use on people who can't understand anything else.

The memory comes to her with a smile now, but she admits frustration ran rampant those first few days. "I would try to ask a question of someone and they would just look at me, puzzled, and ask, 'What language do you speak?'"

The language barrier was probably the hardest thing for her to master but with the help of her American parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Crossen, she's overcome that difficulty and feels much more socially confident as a result.

Daughter Big Help Another shot in the arm for her social life has been their daughter, 17-year-old Phyllis. Sabina's grown fond of the whole family, (there are two more Crossen girls away at college), and says she feels like she's always been one of them.

"They hosted another exchange student a while ago so they know how to make you feel at home." And, even though her parents, three younger sisters and a little brother are waiting for her in Basel, their generous and steady supply of letters keep her up to date on happenings back home.

Sabina is convincing when she explains that her busy schedule affords her "no time to be homesick." School, and school-related activities like parties, plays and concerts are major time consumers. Recently she teamed up with South's ski club and since Mrs. Crossen teaches piano, Sabina decided to take lessons, though not from her. Because of their closeness, "Mrs. Crossen didn't think that would be such a good idea." Instead, she provides encouragement by seeing to it that Sabina take in various recitals and concerts whenever she can.

Only Female There The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club is financially responsible for securing Sabina's passage to America and she returns the favor by showing up at their weekly meetings, plainly delighted to be the only female in regular attendance.

Lately, other local organizations and groups have caught on to her speaking potential and Sabina's been the recipient of numerous invitations to publicly recount her experiences.

"It's a good thing they didn't ask me until I knew what I was saying," she laughs.

Career-wise, Sabina is standing at the proverbial crossroads.

"I might like to teach," she says, "or maybe just go home to help out in my father's business." He is a self-employed engineer and Sabina's mother does her part by keeping all his books in order.

Few Go to College Her indecision about which direction to take accounts, in part, for her presence here in America. Swiss education regulations require only nine years' mandatory schooling, unless the student wants to go on to college. That entails four more years. Sabina's played it safe by going the full 13 though she claims the majority of Swiss students don't continue through college.

"Most of them learn a trade and serve four year apprenticeships or else they go to business school." Even if her long-range career plans haven't jelled, for the moment, Sabina knows exactly what she'd like to do.

Wants to Travel "I wish to travel." Cross Germany, France and Italy off her list of places to see. She's already dropped in on friends there. She's taken trips to the Crossen family cottage in Michigan's upper peninsula and to her own family relatives' home in the Chicago area. And, come February, it's possible she may accompany Dr. and Mrs. Crossen on jaunts to Las Vegas and New Orleans.

Returning to Basel without taking in all that the United States has to offer is out of the question. There's a reason for that. "In Switzerland, they dream of America." If you went there everyone would say, "Oh please come over to my house and tell us all about America."

A surprising attitude in the wake of recent events here? Not really. Have Same Problem "We have the same government problems in Switzerland that you have in this country but no one ever hears about them. American newspapers are good because they don't try to cover for the government. The Swiss press hides this type of thing."

Her own feelings about American politics in general?

Maliszewski's, 21435 Mack Avenue has been expanded to twice the size and remodeled. They still have the same charming boutique atmosphere and personal service. The orientals on display can be ordered in other sizes. Of course, there is their usual great selection of carpeting and area rugs . . . 776-5510.

Storewide Sale . . . which includes furniture, lamps, accessories and decoratives is now in progress at Shore Bank and Trundle Sleep Shoppe, 23155 Mack Avenue, south of 9 Mile . . . 773-2650.

Bijouterie Jewelry by Cueter . . . features top craftsmanship and contemporary or classic design with prices to suit everyone. SWEET AND SOUR PORK CHOPS

Contributed by Kathy Dale From the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center's "Happy Hostess."

- 4-6 rib or loin pork chops
- 1 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 c. water
- 1 chicken bouillon cube
- 1 c. hot water
- 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire
- 1 tsp. soy sauce
- 1/2 c. pineapple juice
- 1 Tbsp. vinegar
- 1/4 tsp. prepared mustard
- 2 Tbsp. cornstarch
- 2 Tbsp. cold water
- 1 9-oz. can pineapple cubes
- 1/2 green pepper (sliced in thin strips)
- 1 tomato (cubed)
- 1/2 c. celery (chopped)
- 4 c. hot cooked rice

Brown chops thoroughly without added fat. Add salt and 1/4 c. water. Cover and simmer 30 minutes. Remove chops and pour off fat. In the skillet, melt bouillon cube in 1 c. hot water and add Worcestershire, soy, pineapple juice, vinegar and mustard. Combine cornstarch with cold water and stir into skillet mixture. Simmer until thick, stirring constantly. Add chops and remaining ingredients, except rice. Simmer 5 minutes. Serve over steamed rice. Serves 4.

"Everybody just tries to point the finger at someone else. No one wants to take the blame for doing anything wrong."

Don't read Sabina wrong. She's not being critical, just open. She likes the United States. "I'm very happy to be here," she says with an equal amount of candor and you know she isn't just trying to be diplomatic.

The way she tells it, trying for the A.F.S. scholarship was half the thrill of winning it.

Inspired by some school friends who won scholarships and were sent to California, Sabina decided she might just give it a whirl herself. Apparently, "keeping her cool" was one major success factor.

"Other kids would get so nervous before their interviews, but I just went and had a good time at them. I really didn't worry about whether or not I would be chosen."

Didn't Have Family It wasn't until after she got word of her acceptance that fear set in and that was only because she had no idea where A.F.S. would place her. "I didn't have a family until July and I was supposed to leave in August."

School buddies only added to her concern. "They kept asking me where I was going and that made me all the more nervous."

But the happy ending of course, is that A.F.S. found Sabina a most satisfactory home.

Two A.F.S. chapter members, Mrs. Jack Otto from North and Mrs. Donald Spencer from South High are trying right now to make the same sort of provisions for next year's exchange students.

Seeking Families They ask that, prior to the close of the month, families interested in opening their home to an A.F.S. student contact them. Mrs. Spencer's address is 711 Trombley road and her phone number is 921-4355. Mrs. Otto lives at 72 Moorland drive and her phone number is 886-1816.

It's obvious that the benefits of hosting a student from one of the 60 countries participating in the program are endless. A chat with Sabina Imhof will verify that fact.

Short and to the Pointe

MICHELE DORENE COOK, daughter of the KENNETH COOKS, of Bournemouth road, has won a $4,000 University Honor Scholarship to attend DePaul University next year. Michele is a student at Grosse Pointe North High School, where she ranks in the top five percent of her class. University Honor Scholarships, originated in 1967, are awarded to the most outstanding candidates for admission and are based entirely on superior qualities of scholarship, leadership and citizenship. Financial need is not a factor.

CHARLES R. PETERSON, son of the CHARLES PETERSONS, of Berkshire road, has been named to the Fall Quarter Dean's Honor Roll at the Milwaukee School of Engineering.

To Entertain Swiss Miss

Due to New Year's Week, the Windmill Pointe Garden Club has scheduled its regular meeting for the third rather than the first Wednesday of the month. Members will gather next Wednesday, January 16, at 12:30 o'clock in the Trombley road home of Mrs. Theodore Foster.

The Club will be entertaining one of Grosse Pointe South High School's foreign exchange students, Sabina Imhof, from Switzerland, who is living with the family of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Crossen, of Tonnancour place.

For more detailed information on Sabina, we invite you to turn to the NEWS Feature Page, Miss Imhof is this week's "Pointer of Interest."

Offer Matinee Merry Widow

A luncheon and matinee has been scheduled by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association for Wednesday, January 23, at 12:30 o'clock when Pointers are invited to dine in the Center's Crystal Ballroom overlooking Lake St. Clair before boarding a charter bus for a performance of Franz Lehár's "Merry Widow" at the Music Hall.

"The Merry Widow" has some of the happiest, most lively music ever written. It will be performed by the Michigan Opera Theatre.

Catherine Christenson appears as the Widow, John Reardon as Danilo and Edward Kingins as Camille. The setting is Paris at the turn of the century.

The complete afternoon is offered at $11.50 per person. Reservations should be made in advance at the War Memorial's Office.

Eastern Star Ladies To Hold Card Party

Grosse Pointe Chapter 432 Order of the Eastern Star will hold a card party Saturday, January 19, at 7:30 o'clock at the Pointe Masonic Temple in Vernier road. Reservations may be made by calling 884-2198 or 884-4197.

Name of the game at the New Year's Eve party hosted by MR. and MRS. CHARLES WILSON MORRIS, JR., of Earl court, was paddle tennis.

Flying in from Philadelphia to spend the Christmas holidays with their families in The Pointe were DR. MICHAEL B. SIMSON and DR. SHARON PASTOR SIMSON with their year-old son MICHAEL DAVID. Both Michael David's father, son of DR. and MRS. CLYDE SIMSON, of Lakepointe avenue, and his mother, daughter of MR. and MRS. MICHAEL PASTOR, of South Oxford road, are 1962 Grosse Pointe High School graduates.

Navy Fireman MICHAEL G. VANDEN BOOM, son of MR. and MRS. CORNELIUS VANDEN BOOM, of Cloverly road, was commended as a crew member of the USS Pawcatuck for his efforts as part of the United States Sixth Fleet task force in the Mediterranean during the latest Middle East crisis.

Antique Show Slated At Bishop Gallagher

An antique show and flea market will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, January 25, 26 and 27, at Bishop Gallagher High School in Harbor Woods.

Fifty dealers will be exhibiting. There will be craft displays, candy-making demonstrations, a photographer and a bake sale. Hot meals will be available.

A special exhibit, on loan from George Charles Loik, will be 75 soda and mineral bottles dating from 1840 through 1900. Mr. Loik has bottles from 30 of the 60 companies in business during this period, including an original Faygo red pop bottle.

Show hours are 1 to 10 o'clock daily. Donation is 75c. The event is sponsored by the Bishop Gallagher Fathers' Club, proceeds will go into the School's tuition fund.

Well . . . we have made our economic bed, so now we'll slump in it.
