POLLUTION HEARING IS SET

HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, January 24
PRESIDENT NIXON, in an effort to encourage oil production within the country, moved that tax rules, allowing oil companies to credit their payments for foreign crude oil against their U.S. income tax, be amended so that companies will not have to look overseas for oil. In addition to that, the President stated in a message to Congress that he would like them to repeal the 22 percent depletion allowance for foreign production. The depletion allowance on domestic production would remain.

Friday, January 25
EGIL (BUD) KROGH JR., former head of the White House "plumbers" unit denied that he had been ordered to commit a burglary by President Nixon himself. Krogh, as he was sentenced to six months in prison for directing the break-in of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist's office, denied saying that orders to commit the crime had come to him "right out of the Oval Office," thus leaving open the possibility that Mr. Nixon could have passed on the orders or at least known of the burglary plans in advance.

Saturday, January 26
BILLIONAIRE HOWARD HUGHES failed to show for his federal court arraignment and the government asked that a warrant be issued for his arrest. Hughes is being charged with stock manipulation and conspiracy. U. S. District Judge Bruce Thompson will hold off making a decision on that request until Wednesday when he will hear arguments on a motion to dismiss the charges. Hughes, reputed to be in the Bahamas, was represented by attorneys who answered to the nine-count indictment that alleges he and others conspired to depress the price of Air West stock through trading and threats of litigation against airline directors who were opposed to the deal.

Sunday, January 27
STRIKING TEAMSTERS have broken their ranks, with Great Scott workers splitting from the former coalition of five striking Detroit area supermarket chain employees. Great Scott's decision meant that its truck drivers could return to work by Monday. Teamsters employed by both Great Scott and Chatham ratified a new contract offer from the coalition last Thursday, but striking workers for Farmer Jack, Kroger and Wrigley rejected the offer and remain on strike.

Monday, January 28
NEGOTIATORS FOR TEAMSTERS LOCAL 337 reached a settlement with Kroger, Wrigley and Farmer Jack supermarkets and agreed to withdraw pickets immediately. The strike will not end until the new contracts are ratified by each of the three groups of workers and meetings for that purpose will be held at varying times throughout the day. Employees of Chatham and Great Scott were called to return to work Monday morning.

Tuesday, January 29
THE ALREADY SHAKY BRITISH ECONOMY is now facing more trouble on two fronts. First, British railroad workers, angry because they could not work for overtime pay on Sunday, have staged wildcat strikes, throwing London commuter lines and long-distance runs into chaos. Equally disrupted is the mining situation, with mining leaders threatening to destroy British coal mines by flooding them if miners honor a strike call by their leaders. Newspaper polls have indicated that the miners will overwhelmingly approve a strike set for February 10. Britain depends on coal for 70 percent of its energy.

Storm Plays Sour Notes on Farms Carillon

The high winds of last Sunday morning, which gusted to as high as 62 miles an hour, toppled this big tree on the Joy bells and their control house on the grounds of the Farms Pumping Station. The repair work was started Monday and it's hoped that the four times an hour tolling of the bells will soon be heard again.

Pointes Seek Way to Give Aid to FLEC

City Officials Sympathetic to Need for Support but Face Problem of Legality

By Nancy Krumer and Roger A. Waha
A meeting between all Pointe city managers and mayors was held Wednesday morning, January 30, at The Woods Municipal Building to explore avenues towards aiding FLEC, (Family Life Education Council), which is seeking financial aid for its programs.
Dr. John H. Williams, FLEC president, recently told the NEWS the council had an estimated $11,000 for 1973. FLEC's operating budget is $52,000 and the organization is asking for 50 percent of that budget on a matching basis from the Pointes and Harper Woods.
FLEC representatives have already appeared before The Woods, Park, Farms, Harper Woods and City Councils. At The Woods' session last December 17, City Attorney George Catlin said the council had no authority, legally, to appropriate tax monies to FLEC.

Solons Sympathetic
However, the solons were sympathetic to FLEC's plight so Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos suggested that City Administrator Chester E. Petersen explore the possibility of a meeting to discuss what could be done to assist FLEC, if anything.
Mr. Petersen pursued this

Swedish Minister Guest Of Memorial Church for Very Busy Six-Week Stay

Rev. Walter Persson Is Secretary of World Council of Churches; Sees Many Changes Here in Last Few Years

By Kathy Duff
Spending six weeks in Grosse Pointe as the guest of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church in Lakeshore road is the Reverend Walter Persson. Reverend Persson, who lives in Stockholm, is secretary of the World Council of Churches. It was through this association that he met a close friend of the Reverend Ray Kiely, and an invitation to come to the United States resulted.
Speaking with the Swedish minister, it is evident that he is highly educated and a student of the world in both its religious and social affairs. It is not his first visit to the U. S.; a few years ago he visited Buffalo, N. Y., for two months.
"There has been a great change in the United States since 1969, the time of my last visit," Reverend Persson commented. "People are much more conscious of the problems in the world. They discuss them, they ask others' opinions, and they ask themselves what they can do. When I visited the States before, they were more concerned about strictly local problems. I have also noticed that people are willing to accept problems such as the energy crisis which we are now in. They don't complain; it is almost as though they think it's due."

Marvels at Watergate
"I am fascinated by Watergate, because such an investigation could not go on in another country. But here, everything is brought out. I think, in the long run, Watergate will be a very healthy thing."
"One of the questions I am asked most often is 'What is Christianity like in a socialist country?' The important thing is not what kind of system, but how the power is used within that system."
The visiting minister has ample chance to meet members of the community since his activities schedule resembles that of a candidate the month before an election. Reverend Persson has been the guest of honor at the Church's men's breakfasts, the women's study groups, confirmation classes, special dinner meetings, and numerous other gatherings.
"We are asked out to dinner about every night, and we really enjoy it. This trip is a learning experience for my wife as well as for me. Since she is an elementary school teacher in Sweden, she has the opportunity to visit many schools here. Today, she is visiting Montclair School in The Woods."

Discusses Education
Reverend Persson is very interested in education, especially the education of young people. He feels that many systems have the wrong approach, that the teachers think students are "empty containers" that they have to fill with knowledge.
"We should always reconsider our knowledge, the teachers and students should examine information and theories together, and the common product should be knowledge."
The Perssons left their four sons, ages 19, 17, 15, and nine, with relatives in Sweden. However, all the sons are used to a traveling family since the Perssons have lived in Belgium for a year, in the Congo for six years, and have traveled extensively in Latin America.
Missionaries in Congo
"When we were in the Congo, we acted as missionaries," Reverend Persson said. "However, we were interested in working with the people in their own religion. We weren't trying to convert them. I acted as inspector for the schools, and my wife was headmaster of one of the schools. We were both very busy."

High Wind Drops Tree On Carillon

Joy Bells Being Repaired After Being Picked on by Sunday Morning's Storm

A huge tree crashed down on The Farms' carillon at the corner of Moross and Grosse Pointe boulevard Sunday morning, January 27. The upper structure of the bells was smashed and several broken white planks lay on the ground. The tree, which now stretches across the lawn of The Farms filtration plant, is uprooted at its base.
"We have not been able to assess the damage," John Defoe, director of Public Works, commented. "The most important thing for people to know is that The Farms is going to repair the bells immediately, as soon as we can call in our specialist from Mt. Clemens."

Gift of Joys
The carillon has stood on the Farms corner since 1959 when Henry P. Joy, Jr., donated it to the city. The carillon had been in his family since 1929, when it was built by his father, Henry B. Joy, after a European trip.
It is said that when the Joys traveled in France, they were very impressed by a clock mechanism they saw. They commissioned two French craftsmen to come to their estate, Fair Acres, in Grosse Pointe, and build the clock and bell house. When the estate was broken up in the late 50's to make Fair Acres subdivision, the carillon was donated.

Special Noon Chime
The bells toll four times an hour with a special chime at noon. At that time, they give a soft version of the sound of Big Ben in London. Over the years, the bells have been cared for by a Mt. Clemens man who will be responsible for making the necessary repairs. It's hoped that the bells will sound as soon as the clock is repaired.
As far as other wind damage, Mr. Defoe termed it minor. "There were numerous small limbs and branches down, and three trees were reported down on private property, but nothing really major other than the Bells."

APPROVE LICENSES
The Woods Council unanimously approved the issuance of two licenses for private refuse collectors. The licenses went to Robert William Culton of Richmond, Mich., and Collin Johnson of Detroit.

Drop in Serious Crimes Reported In Woods for '73

Lesser Offenses Show Increase; Complete Tabulation of All Violations and Fire Losses Proves Interesting

By Roger A. Waha
In 1973, The Woods reported its lowest total of serious known crimes for any year during the 1970's. Part I offenses, (more serious crimes), fell from 690 in 1972 to 625 last year. In 1971, the total was 854, and in 1970 it was 703.

Part II crimes were up from 2,707 known offenses in 1972 to 2,811 in 1973. The overall total showed a slight increase from 3,397 in 1972 to 3,436 last year.
However, in order to get a better picture, the Part I and Part II total minus dog complaints, traffic complaints, parking complaints and miscellaneous, (city ordinance and State-Federal law violations), decreased from 1,789 in 1972 to 1,771 last year.

Drop in Burglaries
Under the Part I heading, the crimes of criminal homicide, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny-theft, (except auto), and auto theft are listed.
The Woods had no criminal homicides or forcible rapes during either year. Robbery incidents totaled eight for each year. However, clearances rose from three in 1972 to five in 1973. Aggravated assault incidents climbed from one in 1972 to two last year.

Meanwhile, burglary offenses tallied down from 105 in 1972 to 78 in 1973. Sergeant Thomas P. Kane attributed this decrease to the patrol division. "We run a highly visible and aggressive patrol. They are responsible for this," he said.
Burglaries of residences dropped from 79 in 1972 to 58 last year, while break-ins of businesses and public buildings fell from 26 to 20.

Bike Thefts Rise
Larceny-theft offenses topped from 556 in 1972 to 521 in 1973. The biggest decrease under this category was in the business and public buildings classification, (113 offenses in 1972, 71 last year). The biggest increase was in bicycle thefts which rose from 247 in 1972 to 268 last year.

In the last Part I offense, auto theft dropped from 20 incidents in 1972 to 16 in 1973.
Part II offenses include a variety of classifications such as arson, fraud, embezzlement, vandalism, sex related offenses, narcotic drug laws, drunkenness, disorderly conduct and runaways.
Vandalism Increases
Vandalism incidents jumped from 265 in 1972 to 337 last year. Accounting for much of this rise were vehicle over lawn reports, (45 in 1972, 100 in 1973).
Narcotic drug law offenses increased from 53 in 1972 to 71 last year. Marijuana cases jumped from 47 to 61 under this category. Sixty-eight of the 71 offenses were cleared, while 52 of 1972's 53 offenses were cleared.
On these clearances, Ser.

GP Park Police Contribute To School Crossing Safety
In the interest of safety, the Grosse Pointe Park Police Officers Association, (GPPPOA), donated $90 toward the purchase of 1,000 feet of red, reflector tapes, to be cut and placed on helmets and possibly be used as armbands, for the Safety Patrol Squads of Defer, Trombly and St. Clare de Montefalco Schools. It was disclosed by Police Lt. Gordon Duncan on Monday, January 28.
The donation, with the approval of the GPPPOA membership, was presented to the department by Patrolman Michael Korta, president of the organization.
The need for reflective-type tapes was stressed by Jessie Lowther, principal of Defer School, who first approached the Automobile Club of Michigan. Officials of the AAA informed the principal that the tapes were not on the program for this year, but it is scheduled as a pilot project for 1975.

However, because of the change to Daylight Saving Time, which means that children have to walk to school during dark hours of the morning, Lowther did not want to wait and asked the Park Police Department for its cooperation in this safety measure.
Delivery of the tape was scheduled for Monday, January 28. The tape is made of tough, durable paper with a red fluorescent color, and

Must Curb Fox Creek's Overflowing

Hope to Get Federal Government to Bear Most of Cost of $30 Million Project

A public hearing will be held in the Park municipal Building, 15115 East Jefferson, on Tuesday, March 5, at 7 p.m., to discuss the proposed establishment of a pollution abatement program for the Fox Creek Drainage District.

The Park council was informed by City Clerk Nunzio Ortisi on Monday, January 28, that petitions, signed by The Park and Detroit, have been officially acknowledged by Wayne County Drain Commissioner Charles Youngblood and the Michigan Department of Health and that the public hearing in the matter has been set for the March date.

It was pointed out that only two petitioners were needed, although other communities and agencies involved may also offer petitions if they wish. The Park and Detroit presented theirs on behalf of themselves, The City, The Farms, The Shores, The Northeast Wayne County Sewage Disposal System and the South Macomb Sanitary District, all of which have sewer lines connected together which pump overflow storm water into Fox Creek.
Program's First Step
The petitioners are the first step in the establishing of a pollution abatement program, designed to stop pumping of storm water into the creek, by order of the Michigan Health Department.
The Wayne County Drain Commission and the State Health Department have filed petitions for Federal assistance for the proposed project, which will cost an estimated $30 million and will be completed in several stages over a period of five years.
If the grant is approved, it means that the Federal Government would bear approximately 80 percent of the cost and the cities and agencies involved will pay a proportionate share of the remaining 20 percent. This will have to be done by bonding.
New Basins Needed
The program under consideration involves the establishment of a major retention-type basin facility for the combined discharge from storm and drainage, which are currently fed into Fox Creek.
The project calls for the construction of a newer and larger sewer enclosure and interceptor, starting from Fox Creek, located in Detroit, to a yet undefined located system construction route, to Conner, then to Manistique to Essex and down Essex to the Conner Creek Storm Water Pumping

Board Selects Millage Date
The trustees of the Board of Education set Monday, April 8, as the date for the millage election.
A public hearing on the upcoming millage will be Monday night, February 11. The actual amounts for the millage will be decided the following Monday night, February 18, after the trustees have weighed citizens' opinions at the public hearing.
Mr. and Mrs. John Cobau, of Oxford road, have accepted the top chairmanship. In the past, they have been associated with school affairs through their chairmanship of the Study and Action Committee.
The April date is critical since teacher contracts must be renewed Monday, April 15. The outcome of the election will have a strong bearing on the number of teachers retained for the 1974-75 school year.
Any resident wishing to donate his services for the millage drive should contact his local school principal or PTA president.

YSD's Plan For Rotating Under Fire
Expressing great concern over the recently proposed rotation system of Youth Service Division, (YSD), personnel, the Health Education Council of Grosse Pointe unanimously approved the mailing of some 400 letters to city and law enforcement officials stating their position on the issue.
This action was approved by members of the council at its Monday, January 28, meeting. All letters were put in the mail on the 28th to individual councilmen, mayors, city managers, police chiefs, Board of Education members, et al.
Praises Personnel
The letter reads as follows: "The decision to rotate the Youth Service Division officers with the Grosse Pointe Woods Public Safety Department officers has caused a serious concern. The effectiveness of the current agencies is not only a result of experience and adequate education for the post, but of suitable personality, temperament and enthusiasm."
The necessary rapport, which is evident now between the present young YSD officers and our students at all grade levels, is a non-transferable quality. With new officers, it will take months to achieve the same level of trust.
"Also, this highly specialized area of youth-police contact is more effective when an officer has the time for and personal involvement in preventive measures which can avert personal tragedy for the young people and their families and can save the community money."
All Pointes Affected
"While the Grosse Pointe Woods Public Safety Department has problems and needs relative to personnel rotation, the Youth Service Division affects all the Grosse Pointes. It might be wise for the Board of Education and the city governments of the Pointes to take the time to

Fox Creek to Be Subject of Hearing

The new system must be undertaken because of a directive received from the Michigan Health Department, to eliminate pollution of St. Clair Lake and the Detroit River.

Park Has Contract

The Park has a contract with Detroit, which is still binding until a solution is arrived at, whereby the Park has the right to pump storm water into Fox Creek. The contract has been in existence since 1938 and allows the Park to use the creek outlet during peak storm periods, pumping thousands of gallons per minute into Fox Creek.

Sometimes as a result of the tremendous amount of pumpage, the water overflows the banks of the creek and onto property of Detroit residents residing alongside the creek. This has been a problem for the past 25 years according to City Manager Robert Slone.

The city manager disclosed, however, that in order to maintain a good neighborhood policy, the Park pumps into the creek only about four times a year, and only if necessary, and sometimes less than that, if the Detroit storm water interceptor at Ashland and Jefferson can take the pumpage without any strain.

The Park has filed its own petition for improvements to five sections of its own sewer systems, which will cost the city an estimated $30,000, Slone and Ortisi said. The petition has been filed with the County Drain Commission and the State Health Department. It is hoped that a Federal grant will be obtained for this program, they said.

The local sewer improvement program, as well as the Fox Creek project, would not only alleviate pollution, but would aid in preventing the flooding of streets and home basements.

Slone and Ortisi said that if the Federal grant is obtained for the local project, the balance over and above the grant, if approved, will be paid for by the city alone, and will not affect the proposed Fox Creek's $30 million proposed program.

Systems in Question

The five systems in question on the local level are: the sewer in the alley between Maryland and Wayburn, extending from Vernor to Charlevoix; at the intersection of Kercheval and Whittier, extending east on Kercheval to Yorkshire to about 250 feet north on Yorkshire; and at the intersection of St. Paul to Yorkshire to about 150 feet north on Yorkshire.

Also, at the intersection of Harvard and Jefferson to east on Jefferson to Cadieux and north on Cadieux about 950 feet; and the sewer beginning at the intersection of Whittier and Vernor extending west on Vernor to Audubon and north on Audubon to the alley south of Mack.

As far as the Fox Creek project is concerned, it has been officially designated as the Fox Creek Enclosure Drain, and following the public hearing, if no objection or certiorari, (a writ issuing from a superior court calling up the record of a proceeding in an inferior court for review), is received within 20 days, then the project can be undertaken.

How the cost of the 20 percent balance is distributed is another matter and will take considerable discussion to determine the fair share to be paid by each of the communities and agencies involved.

All the tape necessary will be distributed to the three Park schools, and if any is left over, will be given to other Pointe cities, as far as they will go, if the communities are interested, all in the interests of safe school crossing, the lieutenant said.

The tape, which is one inch wide, will be cut into 15-inch stripes to be placed on Safety Patrol helmets, as well as possibly being used as armbands.

geant Kane stressed that police are dealing with "known" factors, e. g., suspected narcotics are sent to the crime lab for analysis, hence, a case can be cleared based upon the lab's report.

Many Violations

More motorists driving under the influence of liquor were nailed last year, (83), than in 1972, (46). Meanwhile, runaway reports fell from 33 to 1972 to 20 last year.

The total number of incident reports written fell from 7,945 in 1972 to 7,739 last year. On this, Sergeant Kane said, "Our people write reports on everything." Ambulance runs declined from 375 in 1972 to 362 in 1973.

Total ordinance citations issued, which includes traffic citations for all three platoons and the tactical unit, plus miscellaneous ordinance violations, dog ordinance violations, special officer parking and meter maid parking violations, dropped from 37,936 in 1972 to 33,168 last year.

The largest chunk of violations were issued by meter maids, although these declined from 30,163 in 1972 to 24,163 in 1973.

Of the 94 fires, losses were suffered in 26 of them. No loss was reported for the other 68. The highest classification of loss was the $50 to $499.99 category, (16 fires).

The most prominent cause of fires was incendiary by minors, (37), followed by the "other known causes" classification, (18 blazes). Of these, 18 were attributed to an internal combustion engine.

Carelessness was the next leading cause, (16 fires), while electrical causes followed, (11 blazes).

No deaths due to fire were reported in 1973 or in 1972.

North Actors In Competition

Theatre North, the drama club of North High School, will be competing in the District Drama Competition sponsored by the High School Forensic Association of the University of Michigan.

The competition will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on Friday, February 1, in the Performing Arts Auditorium at North. The public is invited and there is no admission charge.

Paul Johns, Dawn Robert, Bill Hosbien, Randy Petrilli and Kathy Wisniewski will present North's scene from its recent production of "Detective Story" by Sidney Kingsley.

North will be competing against Dominican, Redford Union and Livonia.

The winner will move on to a Regional and then to the State Wide Final. North won the 1971 State competition with a scene from "Barefoot in the Park."

Schools Delay Opening Time

The schools will continue to open 15 minutes later than usual for two more weeks, until Friday, February 15. Instead of opening at 8:45 a.m. as they did in the fall, school classes are beginning at 9 a.m.

The measure was approved by the School Board in light of the recent safety threat posed by children walking to school in the dark. Dr. Theos I. Anderson, superintendent of schools, noted that there had been about 10 children's deaths attributed to the establishment of daylight saving time.

Fire Activity

On the fire activity front, firefighters responded to 94 actual fires last year in comparison to 96 in 1972. Meanwhile, total alarms fell from 167 in 1972 to 158 in 1973.

Of the 94 fires, 20 were at dwellings, (as against 27 in 1972), and 41 were brush, grass and rubbish blazes, (up from 22 in 1972).

Adjusted fire losses, based on information from insurance agencies, rose from $22,250 in 1972 to $100,880 last year. The principal reason for this increase was the Shorepointe Condominium fire last June. The loss from this alone was $77,000. Losses on dwellings jumped from $16,910 in 1972 to $19,250 in 1973.

'Magic Bus' Saves Cash, Gas and Oil

"The Free Spirit Co-op Magic Bus" isn't particularly pretty but it's very functional. The reason is simple—it brings five Woods public safety officers, who are on the same shift, to and from work.

Their "combined idea" has a dual purpose: to conserve energy and to save money. The men feel their car pool, er, bus pool, will save an estimated $60 per week in gas, oil, insurance and overall maintenance. The bus gets 28-30 miles per gallon.

The vehicle, which was purchased from a private citizen, (the price is "classified" information), is a 1960 Volkswagen micro-bus. It's appropriately colored red and white, (just like the department's scout cars), and has tolled 78,000 miles. Despite its age, the officers said it's "mechanically sound" and only needed a few minor repairs before beginning its appointed task Monday, January 21.

Praises Officers
Public Safety Director Henry Marchand praised his officers' ingenuity. "It's a fantastic idea, a great deal," he said. "It's very clever, very original and very timely." And from the safety standpoint, "it reduces the possibility of accidents" by taking four autos off the road.

To make certain their new "old" mechanism gets the best of care, each officer has a position of responsibility: Patrick Fagan is director of transportation; Patrick McMath, procurement officer and test pilot; Charles Philip Hamel, engineering design consultant; William Desilets, mechanical engineering officer, and Bruce Marone, (apparently by default), director of utilities.

What all this simply means is this: the director of transportation is the main driver. He picks up his colleagues because he lives the farthest away from the job, (this covers 21 miles round trip). Now, that makes sense. But the rest of the job definitions are, well, a bit suspect.

The procurement officer made the original purchase for the "corporation." He also made the original test and inspection, (hence, test pilot), to make sure everything worked properly. (Such big titles when his job is primarily finished).

Varied Duties
Now, the engineering design consultant is responsible for renovating the interior, (which seats nine), and "taking care of any rust." He also is the engineering consultant to the mechanical engineering officer.

Whillecch makes one ask, "What does the mechanical engineering officer do?" Well, he's the tune-up man and greaser who also "puts in spark plugs."

As for the director of utilities... do you have any idea what he does? He's responsible for lighting, heat and all flat tires. And not only that. He must maintain the vehicle log book to determine who does or who doesn't get picked up on a specific day. (While the men rotate every month, they stay together all the time but if one gets lost in the shuffle...)

If all this seems complicated... it is. But rest assured everyone is cross-trained in the event someone isn't around to fulfill his duty.

Hope to Expand
The bus also will be used for recreational outings and moving, (if it becomes too crowded someone can always protrude through the vehicle's "pop top" escape mechanism. But it's energy conservation first and the "charter members" already have an eye towards expanding their venture.

"We will be available on a consultant basis to any group which is willing to start," (a similar venture), stressed the procurement officer and test pilot.

And not only that. The officers are (1), hoping to expand so one or more vehicles may be obtained for all three public safety department shifts, and (2), thinking about franchises to other Pointe police and fire departments.

In fact, the Youth Service Division, (YSD), according to the officers, has already approached them to see when the vehicle would be up for lease, (this particular bit of info was NOT checked out with the YSD). "We would never sell the vehicle, just lease it," stressed the procurement officer and, yes, test pilot.

But one wonders if they'd really give up such a "free spirit" as theirs — even for a moment.

SIGNS PROCLAMATION

The Woods Council unanimously authorized Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos to sign a proclamation citing "Grocers Week" in the city from Sunday, February 17, through Saturday, February 23. This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, January 21.

Storm Causes Area Damage

Fierce winds, which gusted to over 80 m.p.h. Sunday, January 27, did some damage in The Woods and very little in The Shores, according to Public Safety Department reports.

The Woods reported several wires down along with some tree limb calls. A tree was downed across the sidewalk at Morningside drive and Sunningdale, while one was uprooted at Ghesquiere Park at the Kenmore road entrance.

Screaming winds shattered the front window of the Grosse Pointe Laundry, 21138 Mack avenue, and partly toppled an awning in front of Wrigley's, 19237 Mack. A sign on a gas pump also was blown to oblivion at a local service station on Mack.

In The Shores, the winds blasted an Edison light at Ballantyne and Mooreland drive. The arm holding the light over the center of the roadway was broken and hanging down alongside the pole.

Pointes Seeking Ways to Aid FLEC Financially

matter, and after talking with Dr. Williams, the parley date was set.

"We want to determine from each city if they feel the same way our city attorney does. We also want to explore ways to see if the cities can help finance FLEC," said Mr. Petersen.

It was apparent at the last regular council meeting on Monday, January 21, that the City is being forced to take essentially the same position as the Woods solons took at their December meeting. And, FLEC spokesmen must have felt a sense of déjà-vu, when, once Mrs. Mary Evelyn Self had reported on the organization's floundering monetary status, City Attorney Richard Hinks advised the council that, in his opinion, there was no legal way to deal with FLEC's financial woes.

Limits Imposed

The Home Rule Act was mentioned as imposing limits that would prevent the council from being able to dole out City assets in such a way. Promising to study the matter, Mr. Hinks commented, "I don't want to be a cold damper . . . but it's necessary to determine the legality of taking any action on this."

The remarks came after Mrs. Self, one of FLEC's board of directors and chairman of its education committee, formally addressed the Mayor and councilmen.

In her speech, Mrs. Self traced the history of FLEC, beginning with its creation in 1966, and outlining the growth of its services. The program was taken under the wing of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education in 1967, and with a $10,000 grant from the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club in 1969, FLEC became an independent, non-profit organization.

Up until now, Mrs. Self stated, "FLEC supported all of its programs and services through memberships, fees and foundations . . . Although it is essentially a volunteer organization, there is still a need for paid supervisors, coordinators and secretarial staff, as well as overhead and maintenance."

Killed by Committee

Mrs. Self outlined FLEC's attempt to obtain federal funding. Under Act 54, the organization's request for money was denied because the Executive Drug Committee would not approve any kind of allotment for Grosse Pointe. In fact, Mrs. Self asserted, the federal government never even saw the appeal since the Committee pulled the request before it could be forwarded. A new Act 58 establishes an office of Substance Abuse Services and FLEC plans to re-apply for funding under this act.

The higher cost of living and the fact that most people are under the misconception that FLEC receives "its fair share" from both government and benefactors were both cited as reasons behind the recent downturn in contributions.

Mrs. Self concluded that since FLEC provides the community with "a highly qualified Board of Directors, skilled and dedicated volunteers as well as highly trained personnel," the organization is justified in asking each of the Pointes and Harper Woods to share its operational costs.

Using the matching basis criteria, with its citizens representing 8.4 percent of the total population of communities involved, FLEC is seeking $2,184 from The City.

Mayor Gives Views

The mayor and council

were obviously sympathetic to the organization's purpose and plight but were unable to take any action on the request. "Who do we start with and with whom do we stop?" asked Mayor John King, referring to the fact that other worthwhile groups have petitioned the council for funds in the past. "We always felt that the best answer to that was simply not to start," he said. "We are sympathetic but we just can't get The City involved in this problem," the mayor concluded.

Mrs. Pat Horne, FLEC executive secretary, also attended the meeting. She mentioned that one solution might come in the form of The City contracting for the purchase of FLEC's services. "Then," Mayor King pointed out, "you will no longer be a charitable organization." "Yes we will," Mrs. Horne stated, "but we would be a charitable organization providing a social service."

Once, or Annual? Councilman Lorenzo

Browning expressed concern over how involved any commitment of finances on The City's part could become. He asked whether granting the sum would be a one-time thing, or if the council would annually receive a request to pledge money. "We are requesting 50 percent support for our present budget," FLEC representatives replied.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach then informed the council of Wednesday's meeting of representatives from all the Pointes and the solons unanimously moved to table FLEC's appeal until they could study both the results of the joint meeting as well as Mr. Hinks' findings on the legal implications of appropriating such funds to FLEC.

conduct an in-depth study of the most effective ways to manage the YSD.

"Perhaps the YSD should draw in qualified and interested officers from the other Pointes; perhaps YSD should be exempted from the rotation requirement. These, and other possibilities, should be explored before any drastic changes in this splendid program are put into effect.

"With the impending rotation system scheduled to begin on February 1, 1974, it is imperative that action be taken immediately."

Shores Reports Big Drop In Fire Losses in 1973

By Roger A. Waha
While The Shores reported more actual fires in 1973, the community's total fire loss was down in comparison to 1972.

Public Safety Department firefighters answered 51 alarms last year, including 43 actual fire calls and eight false alarms. The total fire loss was $3,179.

In 1972, 48 alarms were answered. Of these, 33 were for actual fires and 13 were false alarms. The total fire loss reached $8,146.06.

According to figures released by Sergeant Charles Wenrich, fire marshal, 18 dwelling fires took place last year in comparison to 18 in 1972. Meanwhile, auto blazes rose from five to six last year; grass, brush, leaf fires jumped from two to nine, and fires classified as "all other" climbed from nine to 10. One blaze, classified under "public assembly," took place in 1972, (at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club).

The total loss of dwellings, (residential), fell from $3,328.78 in 1972 to $1,474 last year. The total loss on contents of dwellings topped from $4,092, 28 in 1972 to $465 in 1973. In the "other fire losses" category, (e.g., vehicles, boats, machinery not in buildings), the total increased from $625 in 1972 to $1,240 last year. The loss on buildings other than dwellings was zero in 1973 and $100 in 1972.

Defective electrical appliances and carelessness were the most prominent known causes of fires in 1973, as 10 blazes apiece resulted from each.

Citing ways to prevent electrical appliance fires, Sergeant Wenrich stressed that all dryers, for instance, should be kept clean from lint and be properly ventilated. Lint, also, should be cleaned out from under a refrigerator.

A major fire due to carelessness is a cooking fire. The sergeant emphasized the importance of not leaving grease burning on the top of a stove when talking on the phone, for example. Paying attention when cooking, he said, was most important.

Overall, Sergeant Wenrich felt the best way to prevent fires was to use "general common sense" and "general good housekeeping" measures.

He suggested, "Flammable liquids should be stored in their proper containers and away from furnaces and hot water heaters." In fact, he said very few such liquids should be stored inside the home.

"You also should take precautionary measures when burning a fire in your fireplace. Make sure the flues are open and the fire is completely out before you go to bed."

And when dumping ash trays into a basket, make certain all cigarettes are totally extinguished.

Church Offers Organ Recital

The Grosse Pointe Congregational Church invites the community to an organ dedication recital to be held at the church, 240 Chalfont, on Sunday, February 3, at 4 p.m. An hour of outstanding music will be presented on the new organ by Kent McDonald, organist and choirmaster of St. James Episcopal Church in Birmingham, Mich.

Mr. McDonald holds Bachelor and Master of Music Degrees from the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N.Y. He studied under Marcel Dupre, celebrated French organist and composer.

In 1966, Mr. McDonald was named Outstanding Organist and Teacher of the Year by the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs. Currently he serves as the Michigan State Chairman for the American Guild of Organists, and he teaches piano and organ at Oakland University. He has appeared as a recitalist before many audiences in the U.S.A. and Canada.

The new organ is a Wicks Custom-built organ. It was contracted for in September 1972; work was begun in May 1973 and completed in August 1973. The organ has two manuals, 11 ranks of pipes, and chimes on a separate keyboard. It has 650 pipes.

Mr. McDonald will play an informal, delightful selection of music to show the listeners the magnificent variety of tones that can be played on this type of organ.

A tea and reception will be held in the church lounge after the recital. There is no admission charge.

Eighth Grade Meeting Slated

Brownell Middle School has planned a meeting for eighth grade students and their parents on Monday, February 4, at 7:30 p.m. The purpose of the meeting is to plan for the students' entry into high school in September 1974.

Since Brownell sends students to both North and South High Schools, pre-South students will meet high school representatives in the boys' gym, while prospective North students will gather in the girls' gym.

In both places, members of the school administrative staff and Brownell counselors will be present to discuss enrollment and orientation procedures. They will also answer questions from parents and students.

Choppers Have Many Admirers

Shores and Woods public safety officers were participants in a helicopter demonstration at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Wednesday, January 23.

Two Wayne County Sheriff's deputies, Tom Davenport and Mike Geldmacher, told the officers about the chopper's take-off, flight and landing techniques, besides taking many of them for a "spin" over the area.

The county recently purchased two helicopters through a Federal Government grant. "The helicopters will be used to assist all law enforcement agencies, and will be available to all Wayne County communities, for surveillance work," said Shores Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale.

In calling the demonstration a "real revelation," Director Vitale stated, "Once a criminal has been spotted, there's no way I know of the criminal can get away. That's the beautiful thing about it."

Other Shores officers participating in the demo included Sergeant Donald Jacob, Corporal Dan Fronczak, Sergeant Charles Wenrich, Detective Sergeant Frank Mustazza and Officer Bruce Darlington.

Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jeffers and Village President Gerald Schroeder also were at the scene although neither rode in the chopper. "Mr. Jeffers and Mr. Schroeder stepped aside to allow the officers to ride," Director Vitale noted.

Woods "reps" included Public Safety Director Henry Marchand, Lieutenant Roland Symons, Sergeants Thomas P. Kane and Bernard Kelly, Corporal Thomas Kerving, Detectives Everett Plumb and Donald Sun and Officer Bruce Marone.

Director Vitale said the two-seat choppers, which cost around $65,000 apiece, have a public address system for crowd control and will be fitted with high intensity lights. They have a speed of around 109 miles per hour.

It's reported the pilots can see within a 50-mile radius when airborne. When tuned in to local law enforcement agency frequencies, they can spot criminals attempting to escape from police. The pilots then can give the exact location of fleeing criminals.

If this experimental program is a success, and the helicopters prove their worth, it's hoped the Federal Government will allocate a further grant for the purchase of more.

Park, City and Farms law enforcement officials were recipients of a similar demonstration Monday, January 21, at The Park's Windmill Pointe Park as part of an overall program for all county law enforcement agencies.

Lieutenant James Hill of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department is in charge of the helicopter division.

Set Suspect's Pre-Trial Date

A pre-trial conference date of Thursday, February 7, has been scheduled for a 28-year-old New Baltimore woman, who's charged with embezzlement of over $100, reported Woods police.

This action transpired at the Wayne County Circuit Court examination of Sandra Randall.

Police said she was originally charged on the basis of a $462 check which she allegedly converted to her own use. The suspect worked as a receptionist and bookkeeper at the Mack avenue offices of two doctors whose books were found to be $20,692.86 short by a professional auditing firm last July.

Women's 'Lib' Arrives At Lake Shore Bus Line

It was a chilly November morning when Edith Glenn and her 19-year-old daughter hopped into the family's delivery van and drove to the SEMTA Lake Shore garage on Edlie Street in Detroit.

Mrs. Glenn was taking her daughter to apply for a job as a bus driver. Shortly after their arrival, however, it was learned that Mrs. Glenn's daughter was too young for the position. So, Mrs. Glenn herself applied for the job and was hired as Lake Shore's first woman bus driver.

How does a housewife with five children adjust to the rigors of maneuvering a large bus through traffic? "Well," stated Mrs. Glenn, "I really like working with people, and besides I have been driving my own delivery van for a long time now. "Driving a bus is not that much different and Lake Shore has an excellent driver training course."

If one woman bus driver is good, two should be even better.

Earlier this month Zella Cirullo became the Division's second woman bus driver. After driving 60 miles round-trip to her previous job as a waitress, she decided to try her hand at driving a bus.

The two women bus drivers received the same training as their male counterparts. All drivers receive at least 16 hours of driver training with an instructor without passengers on the bus. This is followed by a minimum of six days driving regular runs with a trainer. All bus drivers are required to have a chauffeur's license.

Both women stated they have been treated with kindness and friendliness by their fellow workers and trainers. Passengers also are extending encouragement to them.

When SEMTA bought the Lake Shore Coach Lines Incorporated in 1971, it not only purchased buses and garage facilities, but also a well-used pool table which has been in the bus drivers' lounge for many years.

Both women bus drivers

Woods Employs 3 Meter Maids

The Woods Department of Public Safety has become a more attractive operation of late.

For the department has a new meter maid, Sue Thomas, 22, of Anita avenue, who began "checking out" cars along Mack avenue on Wednesday, January 2.

Miss Thomas joined Dorothy Graul and Laurie Scrimgeour, all of whom make it a little bit easier for male offenders, at least, to receive violations.

A 1969 graduate of South High School, Miss Thomas has enjoyed her job so far. "I like working with the public and working outside," she said. This love for the outdoors isn't a surprise as her hobbies include skiing, tennis and scuba diving, (she's currently taking a scuba class at Lakeview High School).

Although she's been on the job less than a month, Miss Thomas has already met some "good" people and some "crabby" ones. However, "the good outnumber the bad," she stressed.

She works from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday. So far Saturday has been her busiest day. She distributed 80 tickets on one Saturday and 77 tickets on another. This compares with the average issuance of 50 tickets during a week day.

Miss Thomas applied for the job after spending two and a half years as an executive secretary in the housewares division of General Electric.

As for her new position, which she describes as a "good, exhilarating, healthy job," Miss Thomas said, "I hope I can continue working here."

So, batten down those meters, motorists.

Knights to Hear Mr. Cahalan
 Gabriel Richard Council Knights of Columbus, located in 18000 East Warren avenue, will hold its annual corporate communion and breakfast on Sunday, February 3, at the council hall.
 Council chaplain, Reverend Paul Onderbeke will celebrate mass at 9:30 p.m. and a breakfast served by the Daughters of Isabella will immediately follow. Guest speaker will be the Honorable William C. Cahalan, Wayne County Prosecuting Attorney.
 Chairman for the communion breakfast is George Williams. Fred Polvin is handling publicity. All members are required to make reservations.

Take Issue with the Need Of Upcoming Elections
 The Woods Council unanimously backed a resolution by Councilwoman Joan M. Mullan disapproving of the Tuesday, February 26, primary election and the Tuesday, March 19, special election. Voters will select a State senator to fill the unexpired term of Second District Senator Charles N. Youngblood, Jr.
 This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, January 21.
 The resolution notes it is estimated the cost of these two elections will exceed the sum of $8,000 for The Woods. It also states, "It seems appropriate that, in this circumstance, the Governor of the State of Michigan should appoint a replacement for the unexpired term involved."

 Therefore, the council urges the Governor and the appropriate legislative committees of the State House and Senate to provide for the appointment of a State Senator and State Representative to fill unexpired terms rather than conducting a Primary Election and Special Election.
 A copy of the measure will be forwarded to the Governor and the Municipalities and Elections Committee of the House and Senate.
 Mr. Youngblood, who is appealing his conviction on a charge of bribing a State official in a liquor license deal, resigned his seat this month. As a result, the election was called.
 The second Senate district includes The Woods, Grosse Pointe Township, Harper Woods and portions of Detroit's east side.
 Candidates desiring to enter the primary must do so before the Friday, February 1, filing deadline. Mr. Youngblood's successor will reportedly serve the nine months which remain of his term.

Youths Appear In Woods Court
 Three youths appeared before Woods Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis stemming from an incident last November 10, according to court reports.
 Douglas Albert Davidson, of Harper Woods, was charged with interference with a public safety officer. He pled not guilty but was found guilty and was fined $150 in court last December 12.
 Another Harper Woods youth, Dale Van Hesse, appeared before Judge Denis on December 19. He also was charged with interference with a public safety officer. He pled not guilty but was found guilty, and fined $30.
 Thomas Earl Rice, of The Woods, also appeared in court December 19 on a charge of failing to comply with a police order to disperse "riot." His case was adjourned until June 19.

Nedzi Speaks to Kiwanians
 Congressman Lucien N. Nedzi (D., Mich.) called for a visible measure of sacrifice on the part of America's oil companies.
 The congressman said he perceives a sense of cooperation and sacrifice on the part of individual citizens but no evidence of such attitude in the case of the oil industry.
 He spoke at the "Energy Crisis" at a dinner meeting of the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club Tuesday, January 8.
 "There is public uneasiness about the oil companies," he said. "The sharp increase in industry profits is part of the reason. Another part is political in origin and stems from the $5 billion in contributions, some illegal, the oil companies gave to the Nixon campaign in 1972."
 "There is a feeling," Congressman Nedzi added, "that the industry may seek to use the crisis to gain tax concessions, anti-trust breaks, and an easing of environmental standards."
 "The absence of independent information about oil statistics continues to be a sore point."
 He noted the public's "deep suspicion that the giant oil companies are in the process of ripping us off in a giant-sized manner."
 Turning to emergency measures already adopted, the congressman said lower speed limits, Sunday gas station closings and year-round Daylight Savings Time will all help.
 "Our short-term goal," he said, "can reasonably be to absorb the shortages in our personal lives to a degree which minimizes the effect of the shortage on industry and jobs."
 This approach can only provide partial relief, however. Seventy percent of our energy usage is industrial and commercial.
 The congressman indicated reservations about gas rationing.

Center Offers Riding Lessons
 The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center is offering young Pointers an opportunity to learn horseback riding and training throughout the winter at Rochester Hills Riding School.
 Well-staffed with qualified instructors, the Riding School first trains students to care for the horses, then instructs them in the fine points of flat riding. Students can later elect to take jumping lessons.
 Lessons run for 15 weeks and are offered on Mondays and Tuesdays. The Monday term begins February 4; the Tuesday term, February 12. The School bus will pick students up at the War Memorial Center at 4 p.m. and return them by 8 p.m. Students should bring their own lunch.
 Flat instruction is $97.50 for the term and jump lessons are $112.50. Both fees include round trip transportation.

Center Slates Boating Class
 A free course of instruction in safe boating will be taught by the U. S. Coastguard Auxiliary Flotilla 12-12 at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial beginning Monday, February 4.
 Interested persons are invited to pre-register, but regular sign-up will take place on February 4, prior to the first class, The Safe Way to Boating Enjoyment taught by George Davis.
 Second class will focus on the The Sailor's Language, and will be taught by Frank McBride, commodore of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.
 Subsequent classes will include Boat Handling, taught by Jerry Austerberry; Fire Prevention, taught by Chief Desmond Cushing; First Aid, taught by Fred Volkman; and Use of Radio and Telephone, instructed by Dr. Jose Coppen.
 Other classes will deal with legal requirements, rules of the road, aids to navigation, use of compass and charts, marine engines, Marlinspike Seamanship, sailboating and weather problems. Texts, charts, ropes and other materials needed for the course will be provided at cost.
 Classes will continue each Monday evening through April 22 with a review and examination on April 29. Coast Guard Certificates of Mastery will be awarded on May 6.

If you like the idea of having your cake and eating it too, the new 2.0-liter Porsche 914 should be very appealing.
 Not only does this superbly engineered sports car get an incredible 29 miles to the gallon, but if you figure in the fuel tank capacity (16.4 gallons) you could conceivably travel from New York to Washington and back on one tank of gas!
 All this economy while you're driving in style in one of the finest handling cars ever designed.
 With its mid-engine balance and rack-and-pinion steering, the Porsche 914 is renowned for its cornering ability and for hugging the road.
 And with the big fuel-injected 2.0-liter engine (that Porsche engineers specially developed), coupled to a 5-speed gear box, even 50 miles an hour can't take the fun out of driving.
 So if you've been thinking the Porsche 914 is the right car at the wrong time, think again.

Woods Reports Big Drop In Accidents Last Year

By Roger A. Waha
"We're real proud of our record last year," said Woods Traffic Safety Officer Stephen Petrik while reviewing the city's vehicle collision and injury report, plus the pedestrian injury report. The officer has a right to be proud as total accidents topped from 321 in 1972 to 272 last year. This was a 15.26 percent decrease.

No fatal accidents were reported during either year. Meanwhile, injury accidents fell from 74 in 1972 to 61 in 1973, a 17.56 percent drop. Property damage accidents were down, too, from 247 in 1972 to 211 last year, a 14.57 percent decrease.

The pedestrian accident report was the same each year: no fatalities and three injuries. The Woods, in fact, received its third Grand Award in seven years for pedestrian safety from the Automobile Club of Michigan last July.

In 1966 and 1971, The Woods also was so honored, being judged the safest U. S. city of its size. The Grand Award is the highest tribute which can be given to any city through the National AAA Pedestrian Safety Inventory. The Woods has gone over 15 years without a pedestrian traffic death.

Officer Petrik attributed this decrease to the road patrol which he called a "preventative measure." "Our cars are readily noticeable," he said, and cited an example of a speeding motorist checking his swiftness upon seeing a scout car, and then slowing down.

He also felt the city's ordinance prohibiting parking from 3 a.m. to 5 a.m. has "knocked off a lot of parked car accidents."

Officer Petrik also had sound words of praise for those involved on the pedestrian safety front. He cited school patrol boys, crossing guards, teachers, safety sponsors and the police department itself, for the job they have done with youngsters. He felt they were the "best going."

Dorothea Joyce Concert Guest

Former Grosse Pointe schoolteacher, Dorothea Joyce is being billed as a special guest to appear at a concert given by Australian singing group, the Bee Gees and members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, on Friday, February 15, at Masonic Auditorium, beginning at 8 p.m.

An accomplished songwriter, with a million seller to her credit, Ms. Joyce wrote the lyrics to the title song of Elliot Kastner's award-winning film, "Jerome." She has just completed work on her first book, "Adam, Adam, Adam, Charles the King."

Ms. Joyce is scheduled to open the concert.

"Our police department patrols the school areas every morning and evening while the children are going to and from school," he added.

While accidents fell, violations climbed. In 1972, a total of 4,786 violations were issued. But in 1973, violations totaled 5,400. "Anytime violations are up, accidents are down," Officer Petrik stressed.

Of the 272 accidents which occurred last year, 151 of them, (or 55.5 percent), happened on Mack avenue. The officer felt the reasons for this was the amount of traffic along this thoroughfare, along with business parking where motorists move in and out of parking spaces.

Cottage's Annual Report

the number of beds; and, the general contractor has made plans to have his workmen park elsewhere.

"The facts I have related are public knowledge, they have been published in The Grosse Pointe News and other papers," Mr. Wilgarde pointed out.

"We believe our good faith and sincerity cannot be doubted in our attempts to solve the parking problem. We feel a great responsibility toward the hundreds of people who have used Cottage Hospital facilities through the years and consider this their 'family hospital.'"

The Michigan Department of Health and the State Fire Marshal's Office require renovation of the old building, he said, "and we begin the year of 1974 with the hope that The Farms Council will be able to work with us in resolving our problems and granting us a building permit."

ELECTION OF OFFICERS
In the election of officers and members of the Board of Trustees, Mr. McNaughton was re-elected President of the Board. Chosen to serve with him were:

First vice-president, Howard F. Smith, Jr.; second vice-president, W. Merritt Jones, Jr.; treasurer, Earl I. Heenan, Jr.; assistant treasurer, Cleveland Thurber, Jr.; recording secretary, Mrs. Clarence E.

Bessert; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. Miles O'Brien; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Cyril J. Edwards, Jr.; assistant corresponding secretary, Mrs. Roy M. Tolleson, Jr.

Re-elected to three-year terms on the Board of Trustees were Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. George R. Fink, Mrs. Carl B. Grawn, Mrs. James McMillan, Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Longyear Palmer, Mr. Smith, and Mrs. Cameron Waterman, III.

Swedish Minister on Visit

According to her husband, Mrs. Persson missed only short periods of her teaching career for the birth of her four sons. Reverend Persson, when asked what provisions Sweden has for maternity leaves, broke into a big grin when he began to answer.

"In Sweden, either the father or the mother can take a child care leave. The couple decides who has the more important job, and then one will stay on the job. In my office, there is one man who is away on a child care leave."

Asked his family's favorite activities, he said that they enjoy "getting out in nature". Among the sports he listed were cross country skiing, skating on the lakes, and hiking and swimming in the summer.

In comparing life in Sweden to that in the United States, Reverend Persson noticed several distinct differences. First of all, he explained that there was a state church in Sweden, headed by the recently crowned king, 27-year-old Carl Gustaf.

"Other religions, of course, are allowed. Actually, I am more of a congregational minister than a Presbyterian, which is the denomination of Memorial Church. Religion is taught in the schools, but when the government wishes to approach the schools or the churches, it is through the Ecumenical Board so that good relations are maintained. I am a member of that Board.

"In Sweden, we also have fewer private schools. I would think that less than one percent of the children go to private schools. My wife teaches first through third grades. Students have the same teacher for three years before going on to the next teacher. The classes are also smaller; my wife has only 19 students in her class. We feel that the teacher gets to know the needs of the individual student much better that way."

Another thing that the Swedish minister noticed was that the role of men and women is much more distinct here. He cited many of the Church groups being labeled the "men's breakfasts" or the "women's study groups". "I don't believe in 'category' thinking. For example, in Sweden, we don't have college campuses where all the students live together. I believe that students should live next to workers, next to business executives, next to all segments of society. I think it makes for a healthier society."

As far as the Memorial Church, Reverend Persson is quick to express his admiration. In discussing the members, he said that he found them very open-minded and eager to learn about different lifestyles. He was also impressed by the high participation in Church activities by the members.

The members have given the visiting minister a very warm welcome. As we walked through the lower corridor, a display case was set up which featured items from Sweden, lent by the congregation. Also in the basement were several custodians who were cleaning up from the last night's dinner meeting when 320 people came to see Reverend Persson's slides of Sweden.

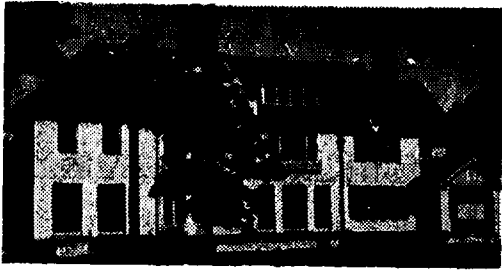

Reverend Persson's tenure will end in mid-February after he gives his last sermon Sunday, February 10. It's hoped that the minister will be able to take back to Sweden as much understanding as he has left here with us.

Pointer Heads Pro-Life Group

Local Pro-Lifers, an anti-abortion group, boarded two planes at Metro Airport Tuesday, January 22, and headed for Washington, D.C. The purpose of the trip was to lobby for passage of a Human Life Amendment to the U.S. Constitution with Senators Robert Griffin and Phil Hart, along with other local representatives. General Chairman and co-ordinator for the effort was Pam Dillon, of Lincoln road.

The Michigan pro-lifers also took part in a rally outside the United States Capitol with other pro-lifers from across the nation. Pointers on the Washington trip include Mrs. Donald Cooper, of McKinley avenue; Mrs. Richard Benoit, of York-shire road; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Imrick, of Grayton road; Mrs. John Hogan, of Fisher road; and Rosemary Lemke, of Bishop road.

The pro-life people feel that the United States Supreme Court decision on abortion of one year ago this week is a "Great American Tragedy." They say that the voters of Michigan were particularly disturbed by the decision since it followed closely on the heels of their own choice at the polls not to allow abortion-on-demand.

Pro-lifers will cite new onslaughts against the dignity of human life since the rendering of the Supreme Court decision, including such areas as euthanasia and experimentation on retarded and handicapped children. Such indignities have prompted the formation of a statewide coalition of right to life groups to combat the decision.

The group, Michigan Citizens for Life, whose president is Wayne County Circuit Judge James Ryan, held a rally in Kennedy Square last Sunday, January 20, from 2 to 3 p.m. Among the speakers at the rally were Lieutenant Governor James Brickley, House Speaker William Ryan and Wayne County Prosecutor William Cahalan.

SPORTS FANS!

Of all the sports events ever held in America, which one drew the most requests for tickets? . . . It was the Notre Dame-Army football game of 1946. . . More than 1-MILLION ticket requests were received for that game to set the all-time record.

What would you say have been the biggest upsets in sports history? . . . A national sports service recently took a survey and here are their picks. . . In football, the Jets beating the Colts in the 1969 Super Bowl. . . In baseball, the Braves, coming from last place on July 4, 1914, to win the pennant that year. . . And in golf, a 20-year old unknown ex-caddy, Francis Ouimet, winning the 1913 U.S. Open.

Here's quite a baseball oddity. . . There was once a pitcher who pitched only one complete big league game in his life—but that one game was, amazingly enough, a no-hitter. . . His name was Bobo Holloman. . . Despite pitching a no-hitter in the American League in 1953, Holloman was never able to pitch another complete game in the majors before that or after that!

On the darker side, he stated, it appears that young persons are experimenting more frequently and perhaps at an earlier age with alcohol, marijuana and synthetic drugs. Even more revealing is the flagrant and open use of marijuana.

Farms' 1973 Drug Arrests Up, Police Chief Reports

Narcotic-Drug Law violation arrests made by the officers of the Farms Police Department showed an increase from 69 in 1971 to 78 in 1972 and 177 in 1973, according to an annual report submitted to City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., by Police Chief Robert K. Ferber.

The chief revealed that there are many factors which resulted in the large increase of arrests in 1973, and at least one such factor, perhaps, tends to distort the real usage of marijuana and synthetic drugs during the previous years.

"That factor," Chief Ferber stated, "is the result of the completion of one year of permanent shifts by the officers of the Uniform Division, with approval of management. Because they choose their own permanent shift, a marked increase in work out-put has been noted in many areas, including narcotic-drug arrests."

Marijuana usage or possession accounted for 166 of the 177 narcotic-drug arrests last year, the chief pointed out. The other nine arrests involved the synthetic drugs of methaqualone, tuinal, demerol and phenylcyclidine; all controlled substances under State law and city ordinance.

"I am of the opinion that the turn-about we are experiencing is the result of the cooperative effort of parents, churches, schools, community agencies, the Youth Service Division, and above all, the young adults themselves," Chief Ferber said.

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Around about 1900, Hughie Cannon, piano player in a downtown Detroit saloon, sat down and wrote a song.

"Bill Bailey, Won't You Please Come Home" is what he called it.

A few years later, Jerome H. Remick, Inc., published the first of its 60,000 titles. The Remick roster of songs eventually included such standards as "Pretty Baby," "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles," "Smiles," "Moonlight Bay," "By the Light of the Silvery Moon," "Bye, Bye Blackbird."

Jerry Remick published the earliest songs of Cole Porter and Richard Rogers—and gave George Gershwin his first job: as a song-plugger.

Richard A. Whiting came to Detroit as Remick's office manager. He stayed to become one of America's most famous composers, turning out tunes like "Too Marvelous for Words," "Japanese Sandman," "You're an Old Smoothie" and "Ain't We Got Fun."

Today we've got Motown. Bet you didn't know we were living in the Pop Music Capital of America!

The Junior League of Detroit has taken Whiting's "Ain't We Got Fun" as inspiration/theme for its community musical revue, a love song to Detroit, about Detroit, by Detroiters, to be presented Friday and Saturday evenings, March 1 and 2, at the Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts.

The show, a light-hearted history of Detroit from Cadillac's landing to the present, spotlights the wealth of music generated by Detroit composers and publishers. The cast includes community leaders and celebrities as well as Junior League members and their husbands.

One scene set in the grill of "The Roaring Pontch," (the old Pontchartrain Hotel), in 1915 presents a group of automotive pioneers gathered to compare notes on their newest gadgets. A Detroit Zoo modern musical number features cages containing some of the city's best-known Lions, Tigers and Red Wings.

There'll be a salute to radio — which began commercially in Detroit — by Hal Youngblood, executive producer for WJR, and a brand new song, "My Wonderful Michigan," by Detroit pianist Matt Michaels and singer Bob Taylor.

Honorary chairman of "Ain't We Got Fun" is Mrs. Jerome H. Remick, Jr., of Ridge road, the late music publisher Jerry Remick's daughter-in-law, a past-president of the Junior League of Detroit.

General chairman is Mrs. Richard M. Silven, of Lincoln road.

Tickets, priced at $50 patron, $30 sponsor, $15, $10 and $7.50 general admission, are available at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Friday night patrons and sponsors are invited to a complimentary pre-performance dinner at the Detroit Athletic Club, Saturday night patrons and sponsors to a University Club Afterglow.

Youth Orchestra to Play Russian Work

The Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra conducted by Paul Freeman will present its most ambitious concert program to date in Ford Auditorium at 3:30 o'clock next Sunday afternoon February 3.

Prokofiev's Alexander Nevsky, a cantata in seven movements for choir, orchestra and soloist, will be performed in collaboration with the Detroit Public Schools.

Three hundred singers, music students selected from five city high schools, comprise the massive chorus. Participating schools include Chadsey, Cody, Cooley, Finney and Mumford.

Mezzo soprano Carole Walters, 1974 recipient of a grant from the National Opera Institute, will be vocal soloist.

Miss Walters was 1972 winner of the International Music Competition held in Munich and 1971 first prize winner of the Young Artists Competition sponsored by the National Arts Club in New York.

The music originally was composed by Prokofiev for the Russian film treatment of Alexander Nevsky directed by Sergei Eisenstein in 1938. It was recast as a cantata for performance as a concert work the following year.

Alexander Nevsky deals with a moving chapter of Russian history. It is set in 1240, when Russia was under siege by the Tartars and its European neighbors, especially the Germans, Swedes and Poles.

Dr. Freeman, Conductor-in-Residence of the Detroit Symphony and Conductor of the Youth Orchestra since its inception in 1970, has chosen to open Sunday's concert with Copland's Fanfare for the Common Man.

Also included on the program will be MacDowell's Piano Concerto No. 2 in D minor, featuring Daniel Horn, the 1972 Detroit Piano Technicians Guild Award winner, as soloist.

Horn, a senior at Franklin High School in Livonia, made his debut as soloist with the Detroit Symphony last January at a pair of school concerts, followed by his initial appearance with the Youth Orchestra at a March concert in Ford Auditorium.

Tickets for the Youth Orchestra concert are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office, 961-0700, for $1.

Proceeds will go to the Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra Scholarship Fund.

General admission Afterglow tickets are $6.50. Proceeds from this 1974 edition of the Junior League follies will be returned to the community, as are all Junior League funds raised from the community, in the form of Junior League projects and services.

The League's current projects are Operation LINC and the Kern Block Pavilions.

Building A Pyramid of Treasures

Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley, of Bishop road, gave a luncheon a few days back to explain to prospective hostesses how the Pyramid Party concept can build a monument of treasures for the Detroit Historical Society's spring Attic Antique Sale.

Here, according to Barbara Wrigley, is how the whole thing works:

A person has a small party, inviting five friends, asking each to bring one Sale item donation. Each of the five guests, in turn, gives a similar party, inviting five friends, who in turn give similar parties...

Results can be colossal!

Hostess commitments were received from several of Barbara's initial luncheon guests, and the Detroit Historical Society Guild offered to pick up donations received at parties and transport them to the Detroit Historical Museum, where they'll be catalogued and stored until Sale days April 20 and 21 at Historic Fort Wayne in Jefferson avenue.

Proceeds will be presented to the Detroit Historical Commission, to assist in the restoration of the Fort Wayne Museum which was recently designated Detroit's principal historical project for the United States' Bicentennial celebrations.

Mrs. Wrigley emphasizes that contributions need not be genuine antiques—but they should be of some value, with appeal to buyers. Everyone, she suggests, has former treasures or decorating "mistakes" tucked away in the attic or basement.

A "mistake" in one home may be the perfect touch in another.

The sale will be open to the public, and public donations are invited. Information on making a tax deductible donation may be obtained by calling the Society Office, 831-0168.

A Chopin Afternoon

The romantic melodies of Chopin will set the mood for Theatre Arts Club of Detroit's Friday, February 8, presentation at the Players Playhouse in East Jefferson avenue.

Nora Conklin Skitch will sing songs of the period, accompanied by Alma Chapman Exley. Maxine Zeitz will play a beautiful Chopin composition.

Play of the day is a one-acter, "Not Like Other Men," an episode in the life of George Sand whose romance with Chopin is history, directed by Louise R. Young, produced by Mrs. William R. Evans and Mrs. Carl E. Schlegel.

Cast members are Ruth Fildew, Trudie Meyer, Joann Koch, Jane Combrinck-Graham, Lu Eisenbrey and Pat Worrell. Mildred McIntosh will be holding script.

The afternoon will conclude with a tea in the Players' Founders Room. Assisting tea chairman Mrs. Jesse C. Hurley will be Mrs. Taylor Seeber, in charge of table decorations, and the Mesdames John J. Devers, Andrew Malott, Russell Bauer, Lester McIntosh, Gerald Jordan, Windsor Davies, John W. Nelson, David Gamble, Kennard Jones, Fred Flom, Herbert Ewing, W. David Kludt, Charles Markley, Charles W. McGill, Adam C. Cook and Robert Sucek and Miss Winifred Eliason.

David Larson To Claim Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeSandy, of St. Clair Shores, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Lynn, to David H. Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. David B. Larson, of Hawthorne road. A spring wedding is planned.

DYC Commodore Honored At Ball

Red, White and Blue Party Decor Used Throughout Club; Many Pointe Members and Guests Are Among Diners and Dancers

The 1974 Detroit Yacht Club Officer's Ball was a smashing success, with over 600 members and guests turning out to honor Commodore and Mrs. Wayne J. Dupuis Saturday evening, January 19.

Other officers installed at a colorful ceremony following cocktails, dinner and the Grand March were Vice Commodore James W. Alexander, like Commodore Dupuis a Pointer, Rear Commodore Robert A. Kusino, Fleet Surgeon Dr. Stewart Weaver, Fleet Measurer Wayland B. Weaver, Jr., Fleet Captain John Uzoris, Secretary George Pearson and Treasurer Robert Van Cleave.

Entertainment chairman and Mrs. William Irwin chose a patriotic red, white and blue theme for the decorations.

A huge bouquet of red and white carnations with blue baby's-breath stood in a silver vase on a table in the center of the lobby, and on the right side of the stairway a flagstaff held a large American flag.

The large DYC banner was displayed on the left at a matching angle. Red, white and blue ribbon draped the stairway bannisters.

The color theme was carried through the dining room and ballroom. Arrangements of red carnations, white mums and blue bachelor buttons centered each table. Baskets hung in all the archways.

Greens and red, white and blue ribbon trimmed the wall sconces, in the East Lounge, and large arrangements of greens flanked the bandstand.

Flags, (borrowed from the Fisher Building by Chairman Irwin), of all the United Nations hung in the ballroom, dining room and each lounge, and six large American flags depended from the crossbeams of the Main Ballroom ceiling.

The receiving line formed at 7 o'clock in front of trel-

Save your energy. Call us for more details.

OUT WITH THE OLD, in with the new. And you could be out in the cold if you wait too long before checking out this offering in the City of Grosse Pointe. There are four bedrooms and two baths on the second floor. Third floor has two more bedrooms and a third bath. There is a formal dining room, living room with fireplace, den and first floor den. Minor decorating may be required, but what do you want for $42,500?

FOR ALL OF YOU who have been searching in vain for that perfect single story house with a master suite and a guest room, this could be the place. It is located on a deadend street in the Farms, has a secluded lot with swimming pool, is centrally air conditioned and is missing just one thing... you.

ALL GOOD THINGS come to those who wait and we are very proud to offer this most exquisite contemporary on S. Brys Drive. Every feature is special from the Philippine mahogany and Domino lite stone exterior to the fully equipped kitchen which will delight the most fastidious chef. Four family bedrooms plus that secret bedroom over the heated garage. There's central air conditioning and an intercom system.

MRS. KIM K. LIE, OF BEDFORD ROAD, WITH HER CHILDREN

By Janet Mueller

Mado Lie has been at home in Asia, Europe and America. She was born in Indonesia when it was still a Dutch colony. Her father worked for the Dutch government there. In 1950, with the situation in newly-independent Indonesia politically unstable, her family moved to The Netherlands.

Mado went to college in Leiden, where she met her husband. His background parallels hers. After graduation from Medical School he wanted to take additional training in The States so, in 1958, the newlywed Dr. and Mrs. Kim K. Lie came to Detroit.

They've been home here ever since.

The Lean Years

They came to Detroit as a pair. They moved into a tiny downtown apartment and Kim began his internship, followed by his residency, followed by a fellowship in hand surgery.

In those first years he walked to the hospital, (there was no place in the Lies' budget for a new car, and no need for one, really: the downtown apartment was chosen for its "handiness"), and ate a lot of made-by-Mado peanut butter sandwiches for lunch.

Then Dr. Lie began to prosper professionally, and his family began to grow. And grow. And grow.

The Lies moved first to Northwest Detroit. Seven years ago they came to Bedford road. They're home there now. All eight of them. Mado and Kim Lie didn't plan to have six children. She's from a family of five; her parents, two brothers and two sisters are still in The Netherlands. Kim is one of nine children. His family is scattered all over; he has a brother and two sisters in The Netherlands, a father in Singapore, some siblings in The States.

Their Wishes Doubled

Kim and Mado, courting, talked about having children. They wanted to have children. Two, say, or three would be a nice number.

They love having half a dozen. The young Lies range from 13-year-old Winston to seven-month-old Gunther, "a very good baby, since he's number six."

A bad Baby Gunther wouldn't stand a chance: the odds are against him. Marc, seven, Lancelot, five, and Percival, three, are typical.

They love having half a dozen.

Now Is The Time... for fondue and I've got the cheese plus a tried and true recipe for you. Special Switzerland Swiss! The Merry Mouse, corner of Kercheval and Notre Dame.

Gorgeous Gold... new mountings for resetting stones have arrived at Bijouterie Jewelry by Cueter. Bijouterie will be open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., closed Mondays. BankAmericard and Master Charge for your convenience... 19860 Mack Avenue.

Exclusive In The Village... at the Merry Mouse... the new Assistance League cook book called Happy Hostess. It's $3.50 and all proceeds go to the Northeast Child Guidance Clinic.

Ask For... Alpha Five-in-One shampoo at the Grosse Pointe Coliseum. It's a new Revlon discovery that conditions, doesn't take out color, and strengthens hair from tip to shaft. 20335 Mack Avenue... 881-7252.

Do You Know Holly Hobby?... She'll make a charming Valentine. See her on mugs, plaques, vases, pill boxes, teapots, soaps at the new WRIGHT'S GIFT AND LAMP SHOP, with convenient free parking next to the building 18650 Mack Avenue.

Think Spring... with colorful gay, made-up dry floral arrangements at the Shores Bunk and Trundle Sleep Shoppe. If you want to make your own, join the classes. Call 773-2650... 23155 Mack Avenue.

It's The Last Few Days... of the sale at Wicker tradition she attended Dutch schools in Indonesia. "Our whole background was western. We spoke Dutch at home." Indonesian was reserved for conversations with servants and shopkeepers.

In Holland, where foreign languages are a required part of the school curriculum Mado learned English. Arriving in Detroit, she found she could read it and she could write it, "but I couldn't speak it very well."

Lessons in English

Dr. Lie, interning at an American hospital, was forced into quick English language fluency. His wife, at-home, listened to the radio, switched on the television to observe speakers' faces, catch the nuances behind dictionary definition words. Together, the young Lies took in a lot of American movies.

"You don't," Mado believes, "really learn a language until you have to use it, every day."

She learned fluency not only in the language but in the culture.

Mado Lie is home in America.

She's a member of the Women's Auxiliary to the Wayne County Medical Society and of the Women's Auxiliaries to Cottage, St. Joseph, Children's and Grace Hospitals. She served eight years on the Grace Hospital Auxiliary board.

She's a member of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts and has served as a volunteer in the museum's Gift Shop and Art to the Schools program.

She belongs to the Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Children, the Grosse Pointe Foundation for Exceptional Children and the Detroit Association for Retarded Children.

It's Never Easy

Winston is a full member of the Lie family. "It's never easy to accept," Mado says, speaking of Winston, "but I think perhaps our European background made it easier to accept. In this country, until Kennedy, retarded children were not talked about, were hidden away."

"In Europe this was not the case; we would see retarded children on buses with their parents, walking along the streets..."

Neither the subject nor the persons were tabu; the Lies could accept Winston, with sorrow certainly, but also with joy, and without fear.

Mado has done Speakers Bureau work for the Childbirth Without Pain Education Association. She and Dr. Lie are members of the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe and of Detroit's Pro Musica Society, and the whole family enjoys the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club. "It's a great family club."

Heads Symphony Group

Currently Mado has taken a leave of absence from the Art Institute Founders' volunteers and has let her other commitments, of necessity, slide until her term as president of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit

World, 20643 Mack Avenue. Remember classes in decoupage, papier tole, tinseling and macrame are always in progress, so call for your reservations 886-8469.

The Reason Why... La Bonbonniere can offer you so much is because the new owner, Bowman's Farm Cupboard, a favorite with hostesses in Bloomfield and Birmingham, has the know-how, insists on quality and has hired fabulous chefs. Danish chefs, Fleming Wedel and Kurt Graven were chosen by the combined Scandinavian countries for the Montreal Expo. Before that, they represented Denmark at the New York World Fair. And then there's expert pastry chef, Peter Graf who is much in demand for his pastries and special wedding cakes. La Bonbonniere truly custom-caters for Meadowbrook, for private parties, for bank openings, you name it. Call 882-0067 for more information or stop by 19487 Mack Avenue.

Rose Society Seats Officers

The Grosse Pointe Rose Society recently elected a slate of officers for 1973-74, headed by Kenneth M. Wheeler, vice-president of the City National Bank and chairman of the board of trustees of Grosse Pointe Congregational Church.

New first vice-president, (programs), is Dr. Woodburn O. Ross, retired dean of Wayne State University's Monteith College. Second vice-president, (membership), is Ralph Lubric, retired manager of the Lubricator Division of McCord Corporation. Third vice-president, (publicity), is Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford.

Other officers include Mrs. Elmore Frank, treasurer, Mrs. Mark Loush, recording secretary, Mrs. Joseph A. Quasarano, corresponding secretary, and Harold Lee, official Rosarian. Forrest L. Geary is immediate past-president.

The board of directors includes the officers plus Norman Cure, William T. Ireland, Mrs. Paul Mabarak, Mrs. Louis Parent, Mrs. Donald Ross and Henry Young.

The Society's purpose is to promote the growing of better roses. General meetings are held the second Wednesday of each month at the Grosse Pointe Central Library. The public is cordially invited.

Symphony Orchestra is over. When you're president of the Symphony Juniors, and you have four children in three schools, (Winston in Detroit, Roxanne and Lancelot at University-Liggett) Marc at Trombly, and two at home, and you have a husband you enjoy being/doing things with, you decide this is NOT the year to plunge into a new or pick up threads of an old activity.

Until May, Mado Lie's hands are full. The Symphony Juniors' presidency is one May-to-May term. "The year has gone so fast, it's unbelievable!" Mado marvels.

Has Auspicious Start

Of course, she began her term with a bang, Gunther making his appearance one week after she became Madame President. Excellent timing that. "I had my first board meeting with my officers. The baby was born the next day. I was back for the next board meeting."

The Symphony Juniors, ranks drawn from all over the metropolitan area, sponsor a variety of fund-raising and social projects throughout the year and two big annual projects: The Christmas Walk and the Symphony Souvenir Program.

This year's Christmas Walk was its usual great success. Souvenir Program Night, when the Juniors first present their program to the Symphony audience, is set for Saturday, February 9. It marks the start of one of the biggest weekends in Symphony Juniors' history.

The Juniors are sponsoring, for the first time in Detroit, a 21-hour Musical Marathon. From 8 o'clock on Sunday morning, February 10, through 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, February 11, Radio Station WJR/760 will broadcast Detroit Symphony selections "purchased" by the listening public. Purchase prices will be donated to help support the Symphony.

Special Features

The music will be interspersed with special interest features, including interviews with Orchestra members and musical celebrities, (some via long-distance calls), appearances by local broadcasting personalities, a stump-the-experts quiz and a musical round table.

There will be special "premiums" offered throughout the Marathon, things-to-do sort of things like box seats for a Met-in-Detroit performance, Royal Series Symphony tickets, a week at a tennis camp, a suite, two dinners and a breakfast at the St. Regis, and services-by-Symphony-members sort of things, like a gourmet dinner cooked by that superb French chef cum musician Maxim Ganowski and the Schoolcraft String Quartet's pledge to play for a private party.

Karl Haas Directs

In charge of everything on the air will be WJR's Fine Arts Director Karl Haas. The station is contributing the air time as a public service and the Juniors are coordinating the project under general chairman Mrs. James E. Beall.

"The luckiest thing that happened to me," says Mado, "in connection with the whole Musical Marathon was getting Eugenie Beall to serve as general chairman."

The Juniors will be manning phone banks at the station throughout Musical Marathon hours, and plans are afoot for a series of Marathon parties in private homes, with listener-guests joining forces to subsidize playing of their favorite pieces. Prices start at $25 for short works. Top-of-the-line symphonies and concerti are $100.

"I want to emphasize," says Mado, "that it is NOT necessary to 'buy' a whole work. Listeners may pledge small amounts, to be applied toward specific compositions. When a composition's price is reached it will be played, and dedicated to all who requested it."

To Acknowledge Donors

All donors will be acknowledged on the air. Each will receive, regardless of gift size, a special edition of the Musical Marathon Master List, (available now at Hudson's, Grinnell's and the Symphony Office), personally autographed by Karl Haas, Symphony Conductor Aldo Ceccato and Conductor-in-Residence Paul Freeman.

Donors of $25 or more may request a special dedication.

For every $5 contributed Marathon donors will receive a coupon worth $1, redeemable when tickets are purchased for single Detroit Symphony concerts at Ford Auditorium and the Meadow Brook Music Festival, specified Masonic Auditorium dates and performances at the Music Hall and Wayne State University's Hilberry Classic and Bonstelle Theatres.
