BARRICADES FALL IN GPW

HEADLINES

of the
WEEK
As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, January 5

COLEMAN A. YOUNG began his second term as Detroit's first black mayor yesterday when he was sworn in during ceremonies at Ford Auditorium. In his speech, the mayor said, "We proved our toughness . . . I think it's safe to say we're in better shape than four years ago." He pledged to continue an affirmative action program for minorities and women in the police and fire departments to make their membership representative of the city's population. He said the job for the next four years is to continue to rebuild the city.

AN EMOTIONAL President Jimmy Carter paid tribute yesterday to the thousands of American GIs who died on Normandy beaches on D-Day in 1944. As a military band softly played "Auld Lang Syne," the President was close to tears and he solemnly promised that the horror would never happen again. Mr. Carter is visiting France, one of the countries on his nine-day foreign trip, as the guest of French President Valéry Giscard d'Estaing. Today, the President is visiting Brussels and he will return home to the White House this evening.

Saturday, January 7

IN AN EMOTIONAL arrival speech, after his nine-day foreign trip, President Jimmy Carter stated two opinions that he had conceived during his journey. One was that Egyptian President Anwar Sadat was one of the bravest men on earth and second is that President Carter believes that the people behind the Iron Curtain want peace as much as Americans do. The President and his wife arrived in Washington Friday night after their exhausting tour that covered seven nations. Before leaving Europe, he also assured NATO ministers that he would spend more money next year to safeguard Western Europe.

Sunday, January 8

EGYPT AND ISRAEL have agreed on the principle of total Israeli withdrawal from the Sinai Peninsula and stressed that Cairo would not let any Jewish settlers remain on the reclaimed Egyptian territory. Egyptian President Anwar Sadat announced the agreement yesterday by saying, "I do not agree to the presence of a single Jewish settlement on my land . . . this is something I have categorically stated and we are finished with it."

Monday, January 9

NEW CAR SALES will decline by four percent and the automotive industry may be forced to lay off as many as 10,000 workers this year, according to the annual industrial economic outlook issued yesterday by the U.S. Commerce Department. Sizeable gains were predicted for most of the nation's other industrial endeavors, with economic growth pegged at four to five percent. The aerospace industry reportedly holds the greatest amount of hope for growth.

Tuesday, January 10

THE DETROIT LIONS fired coach Tommy Hudspeth yesterday, paving the way for the hiring of yet another coach — their fifth in the last seven years. Club owner William Clay Ford and general manager Russ Thomas, both recently returning from vacations, met at the Silverdome and informed Mr. Hudspeth of their decision. The ex-coach took his firing in good spirits and said, "I have no comments on the team or any of that. I hope everything works out great for the Lions."

Pair Found Dead in GPW Home

Police Classify Incident Suicide, Homicide As Mother, Daughter Succumb to Asphyxiation

A 32-year-old Woods woman, through her own apparent action, took her life and the life of her nine-year-old daughter after police discovered the woman's car in the garage with the ignition on and the gas tank empty. The woman's body was found in the family room, next to the garage, while the daughter's body was discovered in a bedroom late Saturday morning, January 7. They were found by the woman's father, his wife and son who arrived to visit the family from Columbus, O.

Starts Car

In his report, Det. Lt. Jack Patterson said it appeared that the woman, after sending her daughter to bed, went to the garage, started the car, propped the door open between the garage and family room and laid on the floor to await death. The lieutenant added apparently no one will ever know for sure whether the woman meant to take her daughter's life.

Police believe the action took place late Friday night, January 6, or early Saturday morning, with the cause of death being asphyxiation via carbon monoxide.

In the incident, the family cat also was found dead on the living room floor.

Based upon information received by the department, police said the woman was facing personal and family oriented problems.

The incident was classified as a suicide and a homicide.

GP Shores PSOs Ratify New Two-Year Contract

By James J. Njaim

The rank and file officers of the Shores Public Safety Department ratified a two-year contract with The Shores, retroactive to July 1, 1977, according to information released by Village Attorney William W. Killebrew and PSO Gary Mitchell, president of the Grosse Pointe Shores Public Safety Officers Ass'n. (GPSPSOA).

Details of the settlement was delayed until Mr. Killebrew returned from his vacation on Wednesday, January 4.

The Shores Council approved the contract at its

GPW Seniors, Planning Consultant Discuss Subject of Housing

Commission, Brandon Rogers Explore Facts, Figures Relating to City's Elderly Population; Subject to Be Viewed at January 24 Meeting of Planners

By Roger A. Waha

Members of the Woods Senior Citizens Commission explored the possibility of seniors' housing in the community when they met with planning consultant Brandon M. Rogers Friday afternoon, January 6, at city hall. Besides expressing a continuing interest in such housing, a commission project indicating the number of senior households in the community and their location via dots on a large map also was viewed.

This visual presentation revealed that there was no concentration of seniors anywhere in the city. In fact, the senior population is spread uniformly throughout the community with Mr. Rogers affirms the citizens for their efforts.

Saying the dialogue with the seniors was very helpful in relation to their drive for housing, Mr. Rogers stated he personally felt there was a need for such housing and would view this question, along with a variety of other areas, when he shares specific recommendations pertaining to land use and other priority items at the Tuesday, January 24, meeting of the Planning Commission.

Greatest Amount

At the meeting, which also was attended by Gerard E. McNamara, administrative aide, it was revealed that there are 6,605 taxed residences in the city with 2,439 being owned and/or occupied by senior citizens 60 and over. This totals 37 percent of such homes.

In viewing the breakdown per census tract, tract one, north of Vernier road, shows 33 percent of the homes owned and/or occupied by seniors; tract two, east of Mack avenue, south of Vernier, 32 percent; and tract three, west of Mack, south of Vernier, 35 percent.

Citizen Makes Big Discovery

A Thorn Tree lane resident made a surprising discovery last week and notified Woods police of his findings Thursday evening, January 5.

The citizen, Kurt Haller, told Cpl. Gerald Kensora that he found a hand grenade in a sealed canister in a false ceiling.

A further check was made and three more grenades were discovered, all in sealed containers.

The grenades were turned over to Selfridge Field personnel the following day with police noting it was possible that they were still live.

Mr. Haller feels the grenades may have been left by the prior homeowner, who's deceased.

Board Picks Firm for SHS Study

Kessler and Associates Selected to Complete Architectural Examination of Industrial Arts Complex

By Susan McDonald

After months of deliberation, the School Board selected the firm of Pointer William Kessler and Associates to complete an architectural study of South High School's Industrial Arts Building.

The vote was taken at the trustees' Monday, January 9, meeting.

The study, costing the school $13,000, will be used to plan a major renovation or new building project for South's vocational program. The renovation is expected to cost at least $1 million and may be funded by a bond issue.

Mr. Kessler's firm was one of four being considered for the project. Trustee Joan Hanpeter said she felt strongly about her choice after visiting works of all four firms.

Have "Bit of Flair"

"They, (Kessler), have both experience in renovating and building schools and there's a bit of flair and creativity to their work that I was looking for," she said.

In an informal poll all but two of the trustees preferred Mr. Kessler's firm for the job.

Two trustees had selected the firm of Ellis-Naeyaert-Genheimer, which employs several of the architects who worked on South's last major renovation several years ago. Ellis' projected fee for the study was $12,500.

Other firms being considered were Wakely-Kushner Associates, which wanted $10,000 for the study, and John Stevens Associates, asking just $3,500.

Trustee William Huettman said the Board evaluated the firms on the basis of background and quality of work, and did not put a strict emphasis on prices.

Needs Improvement

The Industrial Arts Building is in dire need of improvement and, last year alone, was the subject of 23 building and electrical code violations from state and local officials.

It was harshly criticized by the North Central Ass'n. last year for poor ventilation, severe crowding and hazardous conditions.

The building houses vocational programs, including wood, auto and metal shops, which serve about 600 students a year.

Board Renews Bid for Summer Tax Collection

Trustees Link Proposal to Capital Improvement Projects by Passing Resolution to Issue Bonds for Such Work; Forum Held Monday to View Issue

By Susan McDonald

Despite one city council's vote against it, the Board of Education renewed its efforts toward the summer collection of school taxes at its Monday, January 9, meeting by officially linking the proposal to much-needed capital improvement projects in the schools.

The trustees passed a resolution saying they will issue bonds to pay for certain capital improvements—the largest of which will probably be a renovation of South High School's Industrial Arts Building.

Any savings from the switch to summer tax collections, an estimated $350,000 a year, will be used to pay off those bonds, according to the resolution.

Woods Says "No"

The action is intended to assure the community and its representatives on city councils that the savings from the tax switch will be put to good use.

But the proposal to move from a December to July collection date has already run into problems in The Woods, which last month voted against the Board's request for a switch because it "would actually result in increased taxes for residents."

The plan is contingent on full support from all six municipalities in the school district.

School personnel deny the proposal will increase taxes and maintain, instead, that it's a "painless" way to increase revenues rather than raising the tax rate.

Superintendent Dr. William Coats said he has asked the Woods Council to reconsider its position and, at least, give his representatives an opportunity to explain the proposal in person. A spokesman for The Woods said only that Dr. Coats' request will be on the council's Monday, January 16, agenda.

None of the other councils have yet voted on the proposal. Meetings are being set up this month between school representatives and various councils.

Eye Minimal Cost

While school officials hoped for a second change in The Woods, they began (Continued on Page 2)

Film Previews Set at Liberty

The Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue, will resume its semi-monthly film program, Public Previews, on Friday, January 13, starting at 1:30 p.m. in the Exhibition Room.

As always, the program is aimed at adult patrons. A partial list of films to be shown include "How The Beginning Began," "Romeo and Juliet," "Hand of Adam," "The Golden Door" and "Pony Express." Other films may be added to the program if they arrive in time.

Programs are offered each second and fourth Friday of the month.

GP Symphony Concert To Feature Clarinetist

Clarinetist David Shifrin will be the guest artist at the Grosse Pointe Symphony's second concert of its 25th season on Sunday, January 22, at Parcels School, 20600 Mack avenue.

Felix Resnick will conduct the concert which begins at 3:30 p.m.

Mr. Shifrin, professor of clarinet at the University of Michigan School of Music, has a brilliant record of study and achievement.

He served as First Chair with the Cleveland Orchestra, was the first clarinetist to win the Philadelphia Orches-

Barriers to Be Replaced By Signs

Citizens Cite Traffic Safety Problems in Brys-Roslyn Area, Merchants Say Businesses Affected by Earlier Action

By Roger A. Waha

The barricades blocking the Brys drive-Roslyn road crossovers on Mack avenue, approved by the Woods Council in November in attempt to alleviate the heavy volume of traffic on Brys drive, will come down.

An estimated 25 citizens, including many merchants in the area, braved freezing temperatures and gusty winds to share their concerns over the temporary installation and the effect the barricades have had on traffic flow and business profits at the rescheduled regular meeting Monday, January 9.

A petition bearing 260 signatures from residents and merchants protesting their erection and calling for their removal also was received by the council.

Two Votes Taken

Petitions from citizens cited the inconvenience and "very dangerous traffic patterns" from Hampton north to the city limits, while petitions from merchants said the barriers should be removed because traffic patterns created are making parking difficult during prime afternoon business hours, that longer routes for emergency vehicles to reach destinations are being created and that the barricades were "unsightly and make the area look terrible."

After a discussion which continued for around an hour, the council in two separate votes took the following actions:

(1), Requested that this subject be placed on the Monday, February 6, agenda with City Administrator Chester E. Petersen being asked to seek input and specifics from planning consultant Brandon M. Rogers on this question, and to obtain traffic counts on Brys and Old Eight Mile road.

(2), Approved a motion by Councilman E. D. Grady requesting that the barricades be removed and, as a temporary measure, that two "right turn only" signs be installed on Brys and Roslyn for east-bound traffic and two "left turn only" signs be put up on the medians at Brys and Roslyn affecting westbound traffic.

It was felt the respective "no turn" signs would deter crossing traffic and, in their way, serve as barricades, thus easing potential traffic safety problems, yet permitting more flexible access to business.

Decision Nears On Police Head

A total of 97 applicants for the position of Woods public safety director, including seven applicants from within the department, have been narrowed down to 12, said City Administrator Chester E. Petersen last week.

One, (or more), of the dozen includes an applicant from within the local force, although Mr. Petersen declined to say how many at this time.

A total of 62 applicants were screened out in the initial process, while another 23 were eliminated after a second screening, he said.

Now the services of a public management consulting firm will be engaged to prepare and administer a written exam, said Mr. Petersen.

After this transpires, the firm will rank the applicants on the basis of the test and "we will narrow them to from four to six and start personal interviews before an oral board." The makeup of the board hasn't been determined at this time.

Then a final decision will be made, probably before the end of this month.

Arbitration Panel Gives Nod to City

Ruling Supports Administrators in Cross Training of Police, Fire Departments

By Susan McDonald

The first reluctant City fireman signed out a service revolver and entered a police academy this week, after a state arbitration panel ruled that The City can force the firefighters to take police training.

After more than a year of hearings and deliberations, the panel ruled in support of city administrators who want to cross train both police and fire departments and eventually consolidate the forces into a public safety department.

Firefighters have bitterly resisted the merger through actions in Wayne County Circuit Court and the state labor department. The consolidation was actually passed into law by the City Council in October 1976 but has not yet been implemented. The plan is aimed at saving The City about $80,000 a year by reducing its manpower requirements.

Find Some Support

City Attorney Gil Cox said the 87-page award clearly supports the city's position on the question of training. He said he feels confident that an eventual settlement with both police and fire unions will allow The City to fully implement the consolidation.

Union officials called the award a "split decision" saying that though it was not exactly what they hoped for, they found some support for their positions.

Both parties signed the document on Tuesday, December 27. Union vice-president Alfred Finchman, also lowest on the seniority scale, immediately volunteered to enter the police academy according to the terms of the award.

But the union has not yet given up on their battle against the merger, said local president Lt. Tim Champagne, although it has no plans to appeal the arbitrator's award.

Lt. Champagne said he sees support for the union stand in award language that states "before a consolidation . . ."

TAY-SACHS THREAT

Tay-Sachs disease, appearing primarily in infants of Jewish of Eastern European descent, is a birth defect which affects the brain and ultimately leads to death, says the National Foundation-March of Dimes. In its search for a cure, the NF sponsors research projects dealing with biochemical genetics and cell biology.

Signs to Replace Barricades in Woods

(Continued from Page 1) ness establishments in the area. At the same time, it was felt that the heavy volume of traffic along Brys would still be alleviated with the new signage. Planner to Explore As a result, both groups of citizens, those concerned over a continual traffic flow along Brys and those concerned over a detrimental effect the barricades were having upon local merchants, would be satisfied as much as possible. (In each instance, the groups are concerned over traffic safety.) Both Mr. Grady and Mr. Petersen said when the signs are put up, the barricades will come down with the latter being instructed to notify the Wayne County Road Commission of the council's action. If the signs are in stock, they will be put up "right away," said Mr. Petersen. If they have to be ordered, it might take as long as three weeks. Mr. Rogers, when contacted by the NEWS on Tuesday morning, January 10, indicated when he appears before the Planning Commission at its Tuesday, January 24, meeting, to view the formulation of a land use plan, he will eye problems affecting Brys citizens. He said he plans to explore Brys drive in relation to other "Brys drives" in the city, (regarding the community's gridiron street system). Many Areas Eyed In relation to this, Mr. Rogers said he will focus upon several alternatives including looping, i.e., connecting two separate streets via a loop, medians, signage and possibly even a closure, all being considered on a trial basis as a first step. Realizing the problem confronting the council and the citizens in the area, he said it was difficult to please every homeowner and the merchants at the same time — calling this situation the "dilemma" of Brys drive. Mr. Rogers also said he will give attention to reducing through traffic in neighborhood areas, while viewing intersection "friction points" on cross streets at Mack, thus considering all thoroughfares entering Mack. Noting that the barricades were only a temporary measure and that another mode of action should be taken if big problems occur, Mr. Rogers said he hoped the citizens, however disgruntled, realize that the city went out and at least did something. At the meeting, local merchants blasted the barriers with Marty Iannace of Bob's Drug Co. saying that the area between Hampton and Brys consists of everyday shops, which need customers on a consistent basis. Plywood in Windows If area shops weren't patronized, (in relation to the barricades causing inaccessibility problems), some business people could be forced out of the community, he said, while adding, "I'd hate to see a lot of stores with plywood on their windows." Mr. Iannace also noted, with the barriers up, traffic from the lake and Harper avenue use the alleys "like an expressway." Calling the entire situation terrible, he said the council should admit its mistake and remove the barricades. Meanwhile, Angela Leone of the Cheese and Wine Basket said she has a little shop with the inconvenience caused by the barriers hurting the small business person. When businesses go, the city's goes with property values tumbling, she said. Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos stated the barricades were only a temporary measure but if they were never installed, based upon input from the public safety department, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores Police Departments, the AAA and Mr. Rogers, the city wouldn't have known the overall scope of the problems. "Extreme Hardship" Noting that around 50 percent of area citizens were unhappy with one aspect and 50 percent were displeased over another, the mayor said all arguments would be considered toward resolving the problems. In attempting to consider all factors of the situation, Mr. Pinkos also cited his concerns in the total area of public safety. Under the circumstances, he said it would be okay if there was a little inconvenience but it would be another thing if there was too much. He felt Brys drive does need relief from the heavy volume of traffic and said something should be done without any major inconvenience, yet, he noted, the businesses should be protected. Finally, the Grosse Pointe Merchants Ass'n. also knocked the barriers with association president Paul D. McCarthy saying in a letter to the council that the barricades placed "an extreme hardship on the merchants of the area."

Summer Tax Collection

(Continued from Page 1) the task of convincing the public of the plan's merit at a panel discussion at South High Monday afternoon, January 9. Board President John Bruce, Farms Mayor James Dingeman and "Pointer" publisher Paul McCarthy spoke to about 35 persons in attendance, including most of the School Board, several city officials, students and a number of senior citizens. Supporters of the plan, Mr. McCarthy and Mr. Bruce explained that while taxpayers would be forced to come up with their $18 million in taxes six months earlier than usual, the cost to them in terms of lost interest on savings, et al., would be minimal. Persons with mortgages who escrow their taxes, (about 60 percent of the community), would be allowed to reimburse their accounts for the early withdrawal over a period of 12 months in small increments, they said. Senior citizens, many of whom do not have mortgages and would have to come up with the full amount of their taxes in July, may get relief from the state, Mr. Bruce said. Persons over 65 years of age or those who are handicapped may postpone paying their taxes until February if their income is below $10,000.

Shores Pact

(Continued from Page 1) the sergeants and corporals, which is still in negotiation. Under the terms of the GPSPSOA contract, the public safety officers will receive a four percent increase in cost of living, under an escalator clause, to be reviewed quarterly for the first year, retroactive to July 1, 1977, to July 1, 1978, and three percent for the same period of the second year, 1978-79. With the retroactive clause for the first two quarters, the public safety officers pay jumped from $18,600 to $18,940, including firefighters pay. Both Officer Mitchell and Mr. Killebrew stated the negotiations went along smoothly and amicably. There was cooperation on both sides, they said. Both noted that the only changes in the contract, besides the cost of living escalator clause, is that officers retiring henceforth will receive a two percent increase a year in their pensions to a maximum of 10 years. They have seven paid holidays, including birthdays. Mr. Killebrew said the negotiations went along in a friendly atmosphere and that the association's demands were not out of line. Representing the Village during the contract talks, besides Mr. Killebrew, was Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis. The officers elected by GPSPSOA for a one-year term were Officer Mitchell, who started his third term Sunday, January 1; Archie Grieve, vice-president, second term; and Daniel Healy, who was picked to serve a third term as secretary-treasurer.

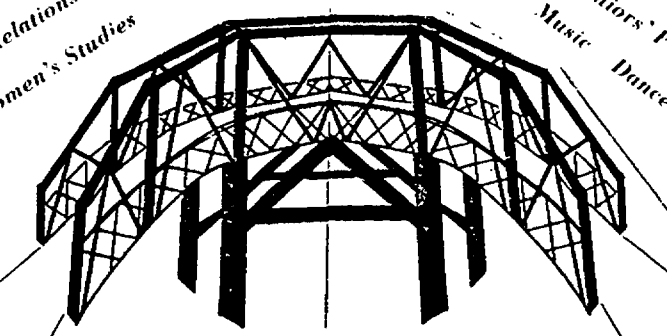

Stands Alone Though not on the formal agenda, Board Trustee Laurence Harwood came with a prepared presentation to the meeting. He was the only Board member to vote against the proposal last month. Mr. Harwood told the gathering that senior citizens and others on fixed incomes need more time to prepare for the tax switch. He proposed a gradual introduction of the change by splitting the tax bill the first year, with half due in July and the other half in December, and then moving on to full summer collection the following year. "Of course this would reduce the school system's savings for the first year, but I think it's a fair treatment for most of our citizens," Mr. Harwood said. In addition, he challenged the contention that all banks would pay the full amount of the early tax assessment, then gradually allow escrow account holders to reimburse their accounts. Some bankers will only pay the first $100 to $150 of an increased tax bill, he said. The few citizens speaking at the meeting expressed their own difficulty with coping with the proposed switch. One man received a round of applause for his suggestion a referendum vote be held on the subject.

Woods Views
New Treasurer

A committee of three Woods councilmen is currently in the process of reviewing an estimated 25 applications for city treasurer in light of the retirement of Helen L. Fox, who served her city for 37 years, on Tuesday, January 3.

Until a final decision is made, Betty Doyle, deputy treasurer, is handling the responsibilities of the position. Councilman E. D. Grady, Robert Novitke and John Sabol are studying the applications, along with the recommendations of City Administrator Chester E. Petersen and City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher before making a recommendation to the council.

Mr. Grady stated this should transpire within three weeks.

Saying the committee will meet this week to continue the screening process, Mr. Grady noted the group is not only eyeing the position of city treasurer but also the possibility of redistributing some of the post's responsibilities to other positions, e.g., to that of comptroller-assessor.

But Mr. Grady added any elimination of the city treasurer position appeared unlikely.

Pair Charged with Theft of Three Snowblowers

In the summer, it's bicycles. In the winter, it's snowblowers.

This appears to be the unfolding pattern in relation to the larceny of these articles off residential property, mostly from garages.

The thefts of snowblowers are reaching the point of high incidence which has been reflected in the larceny of CB radios, said Woods Det. Charles Philip Hamel last week.

As in many incidents of bicycle theft, snowblowers are taken from garages which have their doors left open or closed but unlocked. As Det. Hamel points out, a prospective thief can tell who has a snowblower or not, either by seeing a citizen using the machine or by the neat job it does on driveways and front walks.

In an effort to minimize such thefts, the detective urged all residents to keep their garage doors closed and locked, rather than issue an open invitation to someone by leaving the door unlocked or up. He also suggested that residents engrave their driver's license numbers on valuable.

Citizens who keep their eyes and ears open in relation to suspicious activity also can play an important role in crime prevention.

Thanks to a watchful resident, two men were arrested in The Woods last week and charged with receiving and concealing stolen property over $100. The pair were allegedly involved in stealing three snowblowers from the garages of Fleetwood road citizens.

Charged in the incident, which was reported early Wednesday morning, January 4, were Joseph Anthony Ruggero, 19, of St. Patrick, Detroit, and Christopher Kenneth Mongogna, 19, of Orchard, Warren.

They were arraigned before Woods Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis on the 4th and the court entered a plea of not guilty in their behalf. Their examination date was scheduled for yesterday, January 11, and bond was set at $5,000 or two sureties. Mongogna was released on the bond but Ruggero was transported to the Wayne County Jail after the arraignment in lieu of bond.

The incident unfolded around 3:07 a.m. when the Fleetwood citizen thought he heard his garage door open. He looked outside but the door was closed. But, at this time, he heard someone run between the houses and went to the front of his home. He looked out the window and saw a van parked with its lights off in front.

It started to move slowly toward Jackson and then it stopped. Moments later, the citizen saw a subject place something inside the vehicle which subsequently went east on Fleetwood.

After the citizen's call, Cpl. Thomas Kerving responded to the scene with other officers and approached the parked van. Ruggero was found sitting in the front of the van, while Mongogna was found crouched down at the rear of the vehicle near three snowblowers.

Minutes later, the corporal drove to a Fleetwood home where the person reporting observed the subject place something inside the van.

At this residence, the garage door was found open and the homeowner said his orange and white snowblower was missing. A blower fitting the resident's description, including the portion of one blade being broken off, was found in the van. Two other suspects were spotted in the area and they, too, were arrested. However, the pair were ultimately not charged in the case.

Other Woods officers assisting at the scene included Lt. Bernard Kelly, James DaDeppo, Robert Rabe, Bruce Marone and Michael Makowski, along with Harper Woods officers.

Police Explore Assault Cases

Farms Police are seeking a warrant for a Detroit man in connection with numerous assault and malicious destruction of property, (auto), incidents which have occurred over the past two months in The Farms, The Woods, Detroit, Royal Oak and St. Clair Shores.

Patrolman Donald Pilon apprehended the 34-year-old suspect in the back parking lot of Krogers, 16870 Mack avenue, on Tuesday, January 3, at approximately 10:30 a.m.

"The suspect was 'technically arrested,'" said Det. George VanTiem. "But he was released pending identification and further investigation."

Det. VanTiem continued to say that if and when positive identification is made, police will seek a warrant for the man's arrest.

"But that's a week or two down the road," he added.

Five women have filed complaints with Farms police regarding the malicious destruction of property, (auto), and assault incidents.

The complainants all filed similar reports, stating that a man disabled their cars in a parking lot. When the women came out to their cars and realized the problem, the man approached them and offered assistance. Then he allegedly grabbed and assaulted them.

One such incident has been reported in the Woods, two have been reported in Royal Oak, one in St. Clair Shores and one in Detroit.

The description of the assailant in all cases, matches the description of the suspect who Farms police are investigating.

Hospital Group Names Leaders

The Friends of Bon Secours Hospital, the hospital's newest auxiliary, recently elected its 1978 officers.

Peter E. O'Rourke was vice-president, assisted by named presidents Roger F. McNeill, MD, and John R. Gehlert, Marilyn Meier will act as treasurer and Edmund M. Brady Jr., will serve as secretary.

The officers follow the service of the Friends' three founding directors, Mrs. Hans Gehrke Jr., Robert L. Gotfredson Sr. and Harry B. Howenstein, who directed the Friends early beginnings in 1976.

The Friends of Bon Secours Hospital sponsors numerous events aimed at community health education. Last year they offered a free glaucoma testing clinic which received a Lions Club award.

The Friends also coordinated three classes teaching cardiopulmonary resuscitation to community citizens. Known as CPR, the simple, life-saving skill can help prevent needless deaths occurring from heart or respiratory failure.

Over 1,000 area residents have taken advantage of the Friends CPR classes and more classes are planned for 1978.

Preparations also are being made for a community health problems.

More than 300 community residents are members of the Friends of Bon Secours, involved in developing programs to improve community health awareness.

GPW Seniors Meet with Planner

(Continued from Page 1) variety of types including public, subsidized, unassisted and luxury, among others, plus modes of financing including private development and state and federal programs.

But, he said, The Woods features a dilemma in relation to such housing — the city is about 99.6 percent developed and there is a scarcity of land for building.

He then asked the seniors if they were thinking of a single complex for those 60 and over as against having four- or eight-unit townhouses or rowhouses scattered throughout the community?

Mr. Rogers questioned the scattering of housing units into established single family areas and felt the "burying" of one big complex could change the character of a neighborhood. He indicated it might be best to have a complex on or near a major thoroughfare and close to shopping, entertainment centers and transportation.

Ups and Downs
 The planning consultant, in this respect, said he will be looking at such areas as Vernier road and Mack avenue, the Seven-Mack Shopping Center and vacant land in the city as potential sites for seniors' housing.

On the size of a housing structure, Mr. Rogers viewed both a vertical building, e.g., six stories with balconies, as against a two-story structure.

Wilbert G. Dolgner, an architect, said the higher a building goes, the cheaper a project becomes from an architectural standpoint.

Mr. Rogers then stated it might be possible to construct a complex above retail shops toward helping underwrite the costs of such a development — a multi-purpose type of building near shopping and transportation.

In reply, Mr. Dolgner said the way the city's business section is set up, there's not enough parking as it is but if such a complex is near other buildings and ensuing transportation, there wouldn't be that much of a need for parking.

Another Side
 (On the question of building height, city law specifies a maximum height of 35 feet for a single family unit, not including chimneys; 35 feet for two and a half stories for a two family structure; 35 feet for a multiple dwelling or commercial establishment; and 55 feet for public or semi-public buildings, e.g., churches or schools.)

In viewing another aspect of seniors' housing, Mr. Rogers made a point of some citizens giving up their homes, (taking into consideration rising taxes and utilities), but still missing such activities as working in the garden, et al., hence the need for a good site plan incorporating some open space.

But Irene Sutton, commission chairman, said there was another side to this situation in that widows, for instance, may find it difficult to maintain a home and don't want to bother with outside work.

In the fall of 1974, the commission coordinated a housing survey via a questionnaire, seeking input from seniors on their desires for housing.

While Mrs. Sutton indicated a new survey might be needed because of rising costs, the results of the first effort show a definite interest in this area with 151 citizens saying they wanted such housing and four saying they didn't.

To Update Records
 Ninety-two said they were interested in rental property only, while 20 voted for privately owned units. Meanwhile, 28 expressed an interest in both and 16 were undecided.

Fifty-seven, meanwhile, said they preferred a one bedroom unit, while 83 voted for a two bedroom unit. Twelve liked both and three were undecided.

Based on their income, 68 seniors said a monthly rental of between $100 and $150 was most suitable, while 40 wished rentals of between $150 and $200. Thirty-two voted for under $100, while five preferred over $200. Ten were undecided.

Commission member Alice Cairns said the next job would be to bring the records of the number of seniors in the community up to date. She hoped this project, which should be underway in about two months, would provide helpful information to the city.

Arbitration Panel

(Continued from Page 1) is instituted all related changes in hours, wages and other conditions of employment must be negotiated with the union.

Long Process
 The document also says that no men shall be required to perform any police functions after completing the training and that no one shall be reprimanded or disciplined for failing the course.

The arbitration proceedings began almost a year and a half ago to settle the city's 1976-77 contract dispute with firefighters. The process included eight full days of hearings, more than 1,000 pages of testimony from fire officials and experts from across Michigan and almost 50 separate exhibits.

Lt. Champine said the process cost the union almost $15,000. There was no such figure available from city offices.

During the hearings, the union argued against the concept of consolidation, alleging that it reduces the effectiveness of firefighting operations. The City argued that the plan is necessary in order to cut costs and testified that consolidated forces can work very efficiently and effectively.

Expresses Confidence
 With that contract settled, another round of arbitration is scheduled to begin soon in front of the same arbitrator, Inkster attorney Mario Chiesa, to settle the firemen's 1977-78 contract dispute.

The City also is set to begin arbitration to settle the 1977-78 contract with police officers. Former Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has been selected to hear that case.

City police officers agreed to take firefighting training last year and most of the men have completed a basic course. But The City has not yet successfully negotiated changes in either contract that would provide for public safety duties to be performed. However, Mr. Cox said he is confident that, having won on the training issue, negotiations will begin to progress toward a total consolidation.

Not Pick It Up
 "The whole trouble all along has been that we've become involved in an issue that has implications for police and fire unions outside The City and that has complicated the issue," Mr. Cox said, in reference to the International Fire Fighters Ass'n. support of its local.

"If we can get to a point where the men are thinking about their own situations and making their own decisions, I'm sure we can successfully work this out."

But personal feelings still run high against police work at the city fire house. As one firefighter testified during arbitration hearings, "When I left Vietnam in 1967, I put my gun down. I don't ever want to pick it up again."

North Clubs Present $1,000 Check

Yule Made Bright for Foundation

Christmas was especially bright this year at the Foundation for Exceptional Children, 16 Lakeshore road, thanks to two student groups from North High School.

Representatives from the North chapters of the Distributive Education Clubs of America, (DECA), and the Business Office Education Club, (BOEC), presented the foundation with a check for $1,000 during a December visit to the facility.

Both student groups joined forces several weeks before Christmas to sell fresh Florida grapefruit and tangelos to friends, relatives and members of the community.

Foundation director Dorothy Martins said the $1,000 will help pay the salary of a new speech therapist to help the physically or mentally handicapped pre-schoolers at the foundation.

"I was just one big goose bump when the check came," Mrs. Martins said. "I knew the kids were raising money for us but I had no idea they had made so much."

The foundation presently serves 23 handicapped children from all over the metropolitan Detroit area. Therapists there help the pre-school children develop their physical and mental skills in preparation for study in the public schools.

North students who made the presentation were Carol Bidigare, Renee Clemente, Mary Martin, Marcia Mogk, Roxanne Rivard, Pam Placko, Sue Fahrner and Denise MacDougall.

Teacher advisors for the groups, all from North's Business Education Department, are Thomas Boos and Brian Killian, who sponsor DECA, and Donna Leung and Gail Migliazzo, who sponsor BOEC.

School Board Cites Dr. King

The Board of Education joined the rest of the state in declaring Monday, January 15, a special holiday to honor slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

In a resolution approved at its Monday, January 9, meeting, the Board cited Dr. King as a champion of minorities and a fighter for the rights of all human beings.

"The members of the Pointe Board of Education hold a deep commitment to the basic principles for which he stood."

The state School Board is currently considering a similar step. The local Board's early action was hoped to set "a proper tone and example for the entire school community," according to Superintendent Dr. William Coats.

Dr. King was gunned down by an assassin on April 4, 1968. Less than a month earlier, he appeared before a crowd of almost 2,700 persons at South High School's auditorium.

Symphony Concert

Most recently, Mr. Shifrin was a top prize winner at the annual International Music Competition of the German Broadcasting Companies, held in Munich, Germany, last September, when he competed against 76 clarinetists, under the age of 30, from 16 countries.

In addition to a cash award, he was invited to appear as soloist with the Bavarian Radio Orchestra and the Berlin Radio Orchestra, to participate in television and radio broadcasts and a recital.

When he comes to The Pointe, Mr. Shifrin will join the community's own classical music orchestra to perform Rhapsodie No. 1, for Clarinet and Orchestra, by Debussy, and Weber's Concertino for Clarinet and Orchestra, Op. 26.

Debussy, famous French exponent of musical impressionism, when he first heard his Rhapsodie performed, called it "one of the most pleasant pieces I have ever written."

After meeting Heinrich Bermann of Munich, the greatest clarinetist of his day, Weber, the "father of German romantic opera," was inspired to complete three clarinet concertos, including the one Mr. Shifrin will play.

Other selections scheduled to be performed by the Grosse Pointe Orchestra are

Brahms' Hungarian Dances No. 1, No. 5, No. 6, and Dvorak's Symphony No. 9, in E Minor, "New World."

Brahms, among the greatest masters of the romantic period, always enjoyed hearing waltzes in the cafes of Vienna and the performances of the traveling gypsy bands. After a tour of Hungary, when he collected folk songs, Brahms published his fiery, warm, exciting Hungarian Dances.

During a three-day stay in the states, Czech composer Dvorak was drawn to the songs of the Negro and the music of the American Indian. "They are the folk-songs of America," he said.

He later immortalized the spirit and the folk idiom in his "New World" symphony, whose famous theme of the second movement, with words added, has become celebrated as the song "Goin' Home."

All concertgoers are invited to the social hour, which immediately follows the music, to meet the guest artist and members of the orchestra.

Regular admission is $4 and student admission is $1.50. Tickets are available at the box office just before the concert or by calling 331-0951 in advance.

Restrictive Truck Traffic Bill Set for Introduction

Wayne County Commissioner Erv Steiner has announced a bill will be introduced in the State Legislature to restrict truck traffic on freeways and highways throughout the state to the two right-hand lanes, according to a Board of Commissioners news release.

He received a commitment from State Rep. Joseph F. Young, of Detroit's eastside, that he will introduce a bill in the House this year to restrict the trucks to the two inner lanes in response to a request from Mr. Steiner and a resolution he introduced before the Wayne County Board of Commissioners in December.

Mr. Steiner's resolution calls for the amendment or repeal of a state law, (P.A. 170), passed in 1976 that gave trucks the right to travel on any lane of a three-or-more lane expressway.

The resolution urges the state to repeal or amend the law so that Wayne County communities would have "the right to control their heavily-traveled freeways."

"In the interests of public safety on our freeways, I am urging the State Legislature to knock down this law, which, in effect, created a uniform traffic code on a statewide basis," Mr. Steiner said. "Driving in Gogebic County can't compare with the hundreds of thousands of motorists who travel our freeways daily."

"I think the Governor, state legislators and others are beginning to realize this, particularly in the case of the double-bottom tankers. But I maintain that passenger cars require some type of driving advantage over all large trucks," he declared.

Mr. Steiner has asked the Governor, Secretary of State, the Attorney General, leaders of the House and Senate and members of the Wayne County delegation to consider his proposal.

In a letter to Mr. Steiner, Mr. Young said that the Legislative Service Bureau is already drafting the legislation based on Mr. Steiner's resolution and that he would introduce it this year.

Mr. Young wrote, "I certainly am in support of the concept of your resolution, however, I believe this should be a statewide regulation."

Mr. Steiner said he was "delighted with Mr. Young's plans to make this a statewide regulation."

He said that prior to the passage of P.A. 170, local communities had the right to adopt traffic ordinances.

"Many communities had strict restrictions on where and how fast trucks could travel through their area," Mr. Steiner said.

"Most of the time trucks were kept in the right-hand lanes and were required to drive five miles slower than passenger cars," he explained.

"Obviously this gave motorists an opportunity to safely get around trucks — and to drive our freeways at a constant speed without the fear of a huge tanker or other heavy vehicle lumbering along in the left lane and obstructing the driver's view."

Mr. Steiner said that when the 55 mph energy conservation speed limit went into effect—that placed cars and trucks into the same allowable maximum speed category.

"This law — coupled with the state law giving trucks the right to travel in any lane — has made driving more dangerous and more of a hassle for anyone who drives a passenger car. I think we need to bring some balance to our freeways again," Mr. Steiner stated.

His resolution has been referred to the Board of Commissioner's General Government Committee for a recommendation to the full board.

"I want the support of my colleagues on this issue — but as importantly I am seeking legislative and public support to change this law," he added.

Vandals Ruin Home in Park

Park police are still investigating the Saturday, December 17 break-in of the home of Darryl Worth, according to information released by Lt. Gordon Duncan on Monday, January 9.

The main objective of the person or persons, who entered the house by breaking the glass of the front door and reaching in and unlocking the latch, appeared to be mainly to commit vandalism, police said.

Those responsible for the illegal entry broke a number of eggs and poured whiskey on the dining room table, smashed the eggs against the wall of the living room, emptied a bottle of whiskey on the living room couch and rug and smashed eggs against the windows inside the living room.

Lt. Duncan said it appeared that the vandalism was done by juveniles. Assisting Park detectives in the investigation are officers of the Youth Service Division.

Apparently burglary was not the motive since the only thing missing was a comforter from a bed in an upstairs bedroom.

"Obviously this gave motorists an opportunity to safely get around trucks — and to drive our freeways at a constant speed without the fear of a huge tanker or other heavy vehicle lumbering along in the left lane and obstructing the driver's view."

Mr. Steiner said that when the 55 mph energy conservation speed limit went into effect—that placed cars and trucks into the same allowable maximum speed category.

"This law — coupled with the state law giving trucks the right to travel in any lane — has made driving more dangerous and more of a hassle for anyone who drives a passenger car. I think we need to bring some balance to our freeways again," Mr. Steiner stated.

His resolution has been referred to the Board of Commissioner's General Government Committee for a recommendation to the full board.

"I want the support of my colleagues on this issue — but as importantly I am seeking legislative and public support to change this law," he added.

Vandals Ruin Home in Park

Park police are still investigating the Saturday, December 17 break-in of the home of Darryl Worth, according to information released by Lt. Gordon Duncan on Monday, January 9.

The main objective of the person or persons, who entered the house by breaking the glass of the front door and reaching in, and unlocking the latch, was to steal between 10 a.m. and 10 p.m., appeared to be, mainly to commit vandalism, police said.

Those responsible for the illegal entry broke a number of eggs and poured whiskey on the dining room table, smashed the eggs against the wall of the living room, emptied a bottle of whiskey on the living room couch and rug and smashed eggs against the windows inside the living room.

Lt. Duncan said it appeared that the vandalism was done by juveniles. Assisting Park detectives in the investigation are officers of the Youth Service Division.

Apparently burglary was not the motive since the only thing missing was a comforter from a bed in an upstairs bedroom.

Quit Smoking Meeting Slated

Quitting smoking again? Smoke Watchers of Michigan will have an open, introductory presentation to show citizens how they can become successful, former smokers. The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, January 17, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, at 8 p.m. "Smoke Watchers is an open ended program of gradual withdrawal," says Don Hassenpflug, its director. "It is unrealistic to believe that everyone can stop on exactly the same day so each member moves at his or her own pace, generally requiring eight to 12 weeks to become a permanent non-smoker."

Behavior change is the backbone of the program, learning to control smoking in various situations one at a time. The members meet weekly in small groups to review the past week's progress and set new goals for the coming week. The program is successful because people actually learn to think of cigarettes in a new way. Not smoking becomes an achievement instead of a deprivation. For reservations and further information, call Mr. Hassenpflug at 645-1768. Pointer Barbara Kimball, a graduate of the program, is a group leader.

Woman Loses Purse to Thief

An armed robber held up a woman in front of 801 Barrington road, near Essex boulevard, as she was walking south on the street at 2:51 p.m. on Tuesday, January 3, revealed Park Police Lt. Gordon Duncan. The woman told investigating officers that the thief came up behind her and as she turned, the man pulled a blue steel revolver out of his coat pocket and demanded that she hand over her purse. The woman complied. After grabbing the purse, the gunman walked west on Essex toward a waiting automobile, with another person behind the wheel, and got in. The car then drove off and disappeared. The woman, shaken by what had happened, did not get a good look at the make or year of the car, nor did she see what the driver looked like. The victim told police that the holdup man was black, between 18- and 20-years-old, about 6' tall and was of slim build. That was all the victim could tell police, except that the purse contained $28 in cash and personal items.

Woods Seniors Keeping Active

The Woods Senior Citizens Group, which is under the auspices of the city's parks and recreation department, recently elected officers for the new year. Irene Sutton was selected president, while Stewart Sharrow was named vice-president, Irene Berno, secretary, and Laura Schofield, treasurer. The seniors meet on the first and third Thursdays of each month at the North High School cafeteria, 707 Vernier road, at 3:30 p.m. All Woods seniors are invited to participate in the programs, which include a short meeting and bridge, pinochle or bingo playing. At the same time, the group participates in a variety of activities. Bridge classes, intermediate and advanced, began Wednesday, January 11, in the new bathhouse at the Lake Front Park at 9:30 a.m. The classes will continue for eight weeks. Sewing/craft classes, which started Monday, January 9, in the bathhouse, also continue for eight weeks from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Meanwhile, rifle and pistol shooting resumed on January 9 from 2 to 4 p.m. at public safety department headquarters. This activity is held on Mondays and more participants are needed. Open bowling at the Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation, 20422 Mack avenue, is held every Friday at 1 p.m. Adele C. Ryder is in charge of this activity. Finally a bus trip and luncheon to the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Historical Museum is planned for Wednesday, January 25, at 11 a.m. from The Woods city hall. The cost is $4.50, and Leonard Reese should be contacted by interested seniors at 884-2833. A bus trip also is planned on February 22 to the International Institute at a cost of $8.50 for dinner and entertainment. Mr. Reese may be contacted for further information.

Climbs a Tree To Enter Home

Someone entered a Fleetwood road home, apparently by climbing a tree to the second story, and took an estimated $613 worth of articles. Woods police received the report Thursday afternoon, December 29. Officer Paul Shields felt the culprit climbed a tree located south of the family room to the roof area, containing a flat sun deck. Entry was then gained through a dutch door. Some ransacking in the residence transpired with several items reported missing. These included a black and white TV set, valued at around $90, an AM-FM stereo radio, $102, a cuckoo clock, $50, a gold watch, $50, a gold necklace, $30, and a man's black sapphire ring, $150. Other articles reported missing include a tape recorder, AM radio and an electric volt tester.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

If your house is worth $80,000, can you sell it for $90,000? Yes you can but not because it is worth it but because of the low of supply and demand. Many homes are purchased by people who need occupancy rather urgently. If there are no homes in their price range they are usually forced to the next higher range. What does this have to do with you? Well it means that you should cultivate a good sharp real estate company. This company should understand the law of supply and demand. They should understand what sells property and how to go about getting the most for their customer. Then too, there are simple things that we call extra benefits that help get the most value out of your house. Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. is the only company in Grosse Pointe that can offer "ERA's" one year conditional warranty. We are the only company with an on staff designer who will—at no cost to you—prepare plans to help after your home. We're the only company who will contract renovating work for you at no profit to us. So, you can see there are ways to get the most out of your Real Estate Co. We've listed just a few of the real advantages. Call Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 and let us tell you more about our very dynamic Co.

1978 — WILL GROSSE POINTE PROPERTIES CONTINUE TO APPRECIATE?

We believe that 1978 could be a record year for Grosse Pointe property owners. We feel Grosse Pointe is one of the finest, most desirable communities to be found anywhere. Inflation continues to shrink the purchasing power of our dollars, therefore it takes more of them to make a purchase now, and this fact of life appears to be with us for some time to come. Finally, demand for clean, well maintained properties is strong. Therefore a sale of property now should result in a most satisfying price . . . provided the Realtor you pick to represent you has the marketing tools and the expertise to use them. One final word. Desire. It's what winners are made of . . . and it's the backbone of our organization.

Why not call us at 889-0800 to discuss your Real Estate plans for 1978.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools

Residents of the school district may be unaware of the potential long-range impact which a recent action of the Michigan Education Ass'n. (MEA), may have on our system.

I am referring to an article headlined, "3,400 Unite in Teachers' Union Local," which appeared in the December 5 issue of the "Detroit News."

The article states that "the MEA has successfully merged 12 school district teacher units in Macomb County and the Grosse Pointe district in Wayne County into one bargaining and administrative unit," referred to as Local One.

When asked about this matter, GPEA President Janice Greene stated that the units had not been merged for bargaining.

Ms. Greene said that our teachers asked to join Region Six, (Macomb County rather than an area with headquarters in Trenton), which is a Coordinating Council.

According to Ms. Greene, our teachers did not ask to join a regional bargaining structure.

Ms. Greene says that discussion of the unified bargaining concept will be an agenda item with members of the Grosse Pointe Education Ass'n., (GPEA), in the near future.

She contends that our teachers have not yet yielded any of their bargaining rights to the 12-unit group and that Local One simply is an administrative, informational agency similar to Coordinating Councils to which the GPEA has belonged for some time.

Nevertheless, regional or state-wide bargaining of teacher contracts has been one of the MEA's goals for some time. I believe that regional bargaining has serious overtones for our community and merits extensive discussion by both interested citizens and staff members.

In my opinion, regional bargaining of the type described in the "Detroit News" article would erode seriously local control of our schools and would very much limit the ability of your Board of Education to meet the special needs, hopes and aspirations of our community.

The creation of MEA-NEA Local One with Grosse Pointe teachers in it raises a number of serious questions which I believe that we, they and the community should ponder.

Among them are the following:

How will the bargaining unit be defined?

Is the new bargaining unit an accomplished fact or will our teachers have the right to determine their own destiny?

Will Boards of Education be forced into multi-employer bargaining?

Does regional bargaining mean that a single contract would be negotiated for, and applied locally to, all members of all local units?

What real options are available for this staff and this community?

In conclusion, let me say that we will work in a positive and professional manner with any legal collective bargaining arrangement which might develop.

We are simply attempting here to initiate some dialogue by indicating several significant questions and concerns.

Wine Lines
by John Lundberg

When you walk into a wine store, you may get very confused by the number of wines available. Basically, there are only four types of wine. Table wine is made from fermenting the juice of freshly squeezed grapes. Sparkling wines, like champagne, are made by adding bubbles to this basic formula. Fortified wines are made by adding brandy, and the last type, aromatic wines, get their special taste and aroma from herbs, roots, flowers, or spices. All true wines fall into one of these categories.

There's no need to be confused about wines; we at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 will be happy to answer your questions and aid you in your selection. We feature an outstanding collection of imported and domestic wines, including a large variety of inexpensive but good half gallon and gallon table wines. Open: 10-10 Mon.-Thurs., 10-11 Fri., Sat.

FINE WISDOM

The best American wines are considered to be dry table wines.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
On December 22, 1977, your paper carried an article on Grosse Pointe Woods' acceptance of bid for a new fire apparatus. The article stated that the Michigan Fire Rescue bid listed 10 exceptions to the specifications with no explanation of the exceptions.

Each exception taken by Michigan Fire Rescue was either equal to or better than the city's specifications. The exceptions are as follows:

1. "Rear tow eyes attached directly to frame inside rear compartments." The city specifications required the tow eyes to be attached below the rear platform. This is not good engineering practice and is not as stable as frame attached tow eyes.

2. "Engine shall have single exhaust." The city specifications required dual exhaust. The Federal Government OSHA regulations forbid tampering with exhaust systems as installed by manufacturers.

3. "Fuel tank fill through rear fender." The city specifications required a hinged door.

4. "Water tank fill to be lid type, eight-inch." The city specifications required a screw type cap—five-inch.

5. "Hose body shall be aluminum." The city specifications required 12-gauge steel. By constructing fire apparatus of aluminum sheet and heavy extrusions the rust problem prevalent to all steel is eliminated. This feature alone, not listing other advantages aluminum offers, would make the body superior to steel.

6. "Water tank shall be marine grade aluminum." The city specifications required steel. The aluminum tank has the non-rusting feature plus a built-in anode system for added protection. Coast Guard cutter hulls are made of the same grade aluminum and there is no evidence of a cutter rusting and sinking.

7. "Compartments shall be aluminum. Extinguisher compartments not available." The city specifications required steel and the rear side compartments to be slanted on the rear edge. Again aluminum eliminates the rust problem and all compartments are framed with 3/16 inch, double wall extrusions. Construction methods prohibit slanting of compartments.

8. "Roll out battery trays are not required." The city specifications required batteries to be mounted on roll out trays which is necessary due to construction methods of some manufacturers. Michigan Fire Rescue's vehicle has a hinged, lockable cover, top and front one piece, which lifts up exposing the battery for service or removal. However, roll out tray were offered if the city insisted.

9. "Arrow type rear signals not available." The city specifications required arrow rear turn signals. Due to method of construction Arrow signals cannot be installed.

10. "Stripe to be gold leaf." The city specifications required stripe to be a decal stick-on. Gold leaf is far superior to decals.

Note that exceptions 1, 5, 6, 7 and 10 are superior to the city specifications and exceptions 2, 3, 4, 8, 9 and 10 are of little or no consequence.

In addition, Michigan Fire Rescue's price was lower and the delivery date was earlier. The city was also advised that the deluxe gun mounting was not "the best" and it was suggested the gun be mounted in a more convenient location, which the city agreed would be to their advantage.

Michigan Fire Rescue did everything possible to offer a superior vehicle at the best price, and did! To simply state that 10 exceptions were had taken is misleading and, although not stated, implication is given the apparatus is inferior to the one selected. Not so! The reasons for exception should be explained as the preceding paragraphs have attempted to do.

Thank you for your time. Perhaps this will be printed and perhaps not. It's your decision.

Sincerely,
R. W. Daugherty,
Michigan Fire Rescue
Equipment Corp.

(Editor's Note: In response to this communication, Woods Lt. Allan Selby, who was one of six members of the public safety committee to review and evaluate six bids, said, "The committee was charged with picking the truck which was best suited to the needs of the community with an eye to being of a reasonable price."

He stressed that the committee was unanimous in its choice of the Seagrave apparatus both on the basis of it fitting the city's needs and its specifications. At the same time, he said also taken into consideration was "the fact that the Seagrave is a long established company and since we already have some of their equipment we are in a position to judge the quality workmanship and service provided by the company."

Lt. Selby then noted Michigan Fire Rescue's equipment, "although it may be good equipment, is little known and was not familiar to members of the committee."

He added, "Although the price of both pieces were close, ($74,000 bid from Young Equipment Co. as against a $73,698 bid from Michigan Fire Rescue), the Seagrave was undoubtedly the wisest choice."

To the Editor:

Well folks, we've done it again. We've killed off another small specialty shop. Or more accurately, we let another local plant store die from neglect and disinterest.

Maybe it should come as no surprise. After all, due to bad management, shortage of capital investment, poor location, etc., 80 percent of all small businesses go under within their first year. But Nature's Creations served us well for four years.

Our loss is no big deal, really. We still have K-Mart and Kroger for plants. And it is probably just as easy to over-water a $7 waffle plant as it is to over-water a $10 waffle plant.

It is certainly simpler to purchase a Maranta along with our bread and milk than it is to search for a parking space on Mack avenue.

But Nature's Creations was always a good place to go for a mother-in-law gift. We would spend $20 on her anywhere. And when the plant came from Nature's Creations, Mom couldn't accuse us of giving her a sickly Syngonium.

Now, I can't wait to ask the K-Mart clerk why my Squirrel's Foot fern isn't getting its furry feet. Do you suppose the Kroger produce manager would mind ordering a Spathiphyllum in a four inch pot? Can Frank's Nursery repot my Tillandsia Ionatha?

We used to run to Dave at Nature's Creations with our problems and somewhere else for our purchases. Oh, well.

If K-Mart ever decided to clean clothes and deliver pizza, our Mack avenue merchants might as well roll up the sidewalks.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters, Director of Public Libraries

A man who works with his hands is a laborer. A man who works with his hands and his head is a craftsman. A man who works with his hands, his head and his heart is an artist. A man or a woman who works with 10 thumbs and an instruction book is a do-it-yourselfer.

If you want a job done right and slowly, do it yourself. Your public library can supply the books that will give you step-by-step directions on how to build or repair practically anything.

Let's start with WINE-MAKING AT HOME, (Funk and Wagnalls, 1972), by Homer Hardwick.

The author, whose interest in home winemaking started over 40 years ago, assures us that most of the world's wine is made at home not at the commercial winery.

Our government, noted for its ingenuity in taxing all luxuries and most necessities, has let the home winemaker get off easy by not taxing the first 200 gallons, (that's a lot of wine!), providing that a permit known as Form 1541 is first obtained from the Assistant Regional Commissioner, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division.

Now with a tax permit in hand our would-be winemaker reads chapter two to find out about the tools of the trade. With a lot of shopping at farmers' supply and hardware stores as well as chemical supply houses, all the apparatus is assembled. The break-even point is now 50 gallons of good wine.

Author Hardwick notes that there are 85 different fruits, vegetables and grains used in winemaking. The book contains some 200 recipes from which to choose. All of the decision making precedes the actual making of the wine—a chancy bit of business that demands close attention to the smallest detail.

From fermenting vat to corkscrew, the information is all here; anyone for Gooseberry Champagne?

Between trips to the basement to check on the wine, you might as well learn the fine art of piano tuning. J. Cree Fischer, recognizing the shortage of piano tuners in 1907, wrote, PIANO TUNING: A SIMPLE AND ACCURATE METHOD FOR AMATEURS. In 1957 the book was republished by Dover Publication in which a few out-of-date sections have been omitted.

A good piano tuner is still hard to find. After looking through this book of instructions, I know why. By page nine if you're still with it probably a career in piano tuning awaits you; otherwise let's try a more common do-it-yourself skill.

HOW TO DO YOUR OWN PAINTING AND WALL-PAPERING, (Harper and Row, 1976) by Jackson Hand is a highly illustrated instruction book which should save your back and hours of time.

Two-thirds of the book is devoted to instructions on interior and exterior painting, with the final chapters dealing with the role of wallpaper in home decorating and step-by-step instructions.

An excellent index and many black and white illustrations add value to the book.

Dorothy Jackson, a professional auto mechanic of long standing, has turned author. She has written WHAT EVERY WOMAN SHOULD KNOW... ABOUT HER CAR, (Chilton Book Company, 1974).

The book is divided into eight chapters, which cover most situations and problems that might arise with your car. She directs her remarks directly to women, "Ladies, if you can read a recipe book and follow the instructions, you can follow this book and profit from it."

Men could also profit from reading Mrs. Jackson's clean, non-technical treatment of a familiar yet little understood subject.

If doing your own car repairs doesn't excite you do-it-yourselfer instinct, how about your lawnmower?

Tom Cuthbertson has dedicated a book to Archie Bunker entitled, MY LAWN MOWER HATES ME, (Speed Press, 1974).

This original manual for hand and power mowers, illustrated by Rick Morrill, attempts to humanize a hated machine. There is plenty of time to read this one before your grass and crabgrass starts growing and you find your — it worked in November — power mower doesn't work when you need it most.

Need tools? Your library has them for loan along with all the books you'll ever need to make you self-sufficient — well, almost.

Citizens Join MACLD Group

A group of Pointe parents and educators are organizing a local chapter of the Michigan Ass'n. for Children with Learning Disabilities, (MACLD).

Their first meeting will be on Tuesday, January 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

The session will give parents and professionals who are interested in the disabled learning child an opportunity to become a member and help form a local chapter in this community.

A representative from the state level of MACLD will speak at the gathering.

The federal definition of a disabled learning child states, "Children with special learning disabilities exhibit a disorder in one or more of the basic psychological processes involved in understanding or in using spoken or written languages."

"These may be manifested in disorders of listening, thinking, talking, reading, writing, spelling or arithmetic."

"They include conditions which have been referred to as perceptual handicaps, brain injury, minimum brain dysfunction, dyslexia and developmental aphasia."

"They do not include learning problems which are due primarily to visual, hearing or motor handicaps, to mental retardation, emotional disturbance or to environmental disadvantage."

Further information regarding the meeting may be obtained by calling Susan Leclerc at 884-6378, Sharon Selby at 886-1976 or Paula Rocco at 772-6895.

Collecting silver spoons is a fascinating hobby for silver connoisseurs and history enthusiasts alike. Up to 1700, most spoons were made in the same general size, although their length varied from 5" to 7". But by the beginning of the eighteenth century, spoons were produced for specific purposes. One could buy teaspoons, table spoons, and dessert spoons in the same pattern. The basting spoon had an over-sized bowl and an extra long handle. The serving spoon was in between the basting spoon and the tablespoon in size. The mustard spoon had a deep bowl and a curled handle—it resembled a small ladle.

Katie Bowen, eight, comes home from Defer School—and goes to bed. She sleeps two hours, then gets up for early dinner with the family.

Katie's brothers, Christopher and Robbie, 13 and 12, respectively, go to University of Detroit High School, arriving home in Whittier road around 4 in the afternoon.

They don't have to sleep . . . but there is a general "rest for an hour" rule. The other pre-dinner hour must be devoted to homework.

Weird schedule, right? Well: Christopher, Robbie and Katie wouldn't have it any other way. Because after-dinner it's off to rehearsal, for Grosse Pointe Theatre's "Becket," and all young soldiers, monks and princes must be wide awake for that.

So must barons. Of course, since Bob Bowen has been an adult for some time now, he's not required to take a post-work rest. So must "backstage ladies." Props are Ginny's department. She has no desire to trod the boards, but she's an A Number One sarcophagus builder.

"Becket" is a Bowen Family Production. As the First Baron, Bob—known around the house as The Black Knight, (because of his costume)—gets to do murder in the cathedral.

Christopher gets to do double duty: as a French baron and a young English soldier. He's also handy to have around the stage when it comes to shifting (Continued on Page 26)

Women's Group Previews Spring

Bill Bliss to Be Celebrity Designer Star at Fairlane Manor March 15; Pointers Serve on Symphony Benefit Committees

The Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and the J. L. Hudson Company joined forces to present the first fashion show benefit for the DSO in 1947.

Association members who appeared in that show included Mrs. William R. Shaw and Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley, both of whom became president of the Symphony Women in later years.

Mrs. Lou Gordon, Mrs. Bert Cremers and Mrs. F. Robert Krue also modeled in the show, which was held in the auditorium of Hudson's downtown store.

The format was changed to a gala evening extravaganza, Fashionscope Symphorama, in 1970. Four of these Fashionscopes were held at Ford Auditorium, with members of the orchestra providing the music.

Eventually, increased costs of the evening production dictated a return to a daytime program. Fashion Fiesta, held in 1975 at Raleigh House, drew a sellout crowd to luncheon and Hudson's presentation of summer fun clothes.

The scene changed in 1976 to Fairlane Manor, where a stunning show of Sunshiner Fashions was staged by celebrity designer Kasper.

This season, the Symphony Women are again working with Hudson's to produce an exciting fashion show luncheon at Fairlane Manor, and this season will see another of America's celebrity designers starring in the Symphony Women's spring benefit

Bill Bliss will bring his spring collection of well-tailored, ladylike clothes for the suburban life style to Fairlane Manor March 15.

Maureen Wright, director of Merchandise Promotion for Hudson's, announced at a mid-November kickoff luncheon that Bliss would do the show.

The luncheon was held naturally! — at Fairlane Manor, where guests were treated to a preview of the menu award-winning Chef Jean J. Casper will feature in March.

General co-chairmen Mrs. Kenneth G. Hanson and Mrs. Samuel L. Carman hosted the kick-off party.

Among those present were Mrs. H. Wayne Nelson, president of the Women's Association, Mrs. Robert A. Gerisch, vice-president, and committee chairmen, including Pointers Mrs. Frank A. Germack, Jr., in charge of invitations, and Mrs. William H. Bundesen and Mrs. Kim K. Lie, responsible for prizes.

Alcama's Hall Is Setting for Reception Following Autumn Rites in Saint Joan of Arc Church

Returning to the Detroit area to make their home after a two-week wedding trip tour of Quebec and New England were Mr. and Mrs. William Francis Johnson, who exchanged marriage vows Friday, September 2.

Mrs. Johnson is the former Karen Ann Nowak, daughter of the Erwin S. Nowaks, of Oxford road. Mr. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Johnson, of Ypsilanti.

Attendance Up For Symphony

Total attendance figures for the 1977-78 Detroit Symphony season at Ford Auditorium to date reflect a dramatic 30 percent increase, according to a year-end report issued last Thursday, January 5, by the orchestra's executive director, Marshall W. Turkin.

"We are pleased to report increases on every front this season," said Turkin, "including a 13 percent overall increase in season ticket sales, and a 24 percent increase in single tickets sold thus far for subscription events."

"In addition, our first mid-season festival—November's Beethoven Festival — was a remarkable success, with five of the seven performances enjoying capacity audiences.

"Performances of the just-concluded Christmas Festival were extremely well attended, with nine soldout houses.

"Our total attendance figure for all Detroit Symphony events at Ford Auditorium between September 23 and the close of 1977 was 110,141."

The report also shows the orchestra now has 17,338 season ticketholders, registering a $76,000 increase in total dollar sales for season tickets this year over last season.

Ticket revenues from the Beethoven Festival topped the $100,000 mark. From the Christmas Festival, they were over $90,000.

"Maestro Antal Dorati's arrival in our city flagged the beginning of a new era for the orchestra," Turkin concluded, "and our public has been caught up in the musical excitement generated by our new music director as he and our Detroit Symphony move forward into a future certain to record even greater achievements."

Maestro Bertini will conduct the orchestra in a program which includes Brahms's Piano Concerto No. 2 and orchestral excerpts from Berlioz' "Romeo et Juliette."

Gelber returns to the DSO after a highly acclaimed European tour last season. The young South American pianist has received critical accolades in both hemispheres.

Arthur Rubinstein, to whom he has been compared, says simply: "He is a genius."

Tickets for the Thursday and Saturday evening performances are available at $9, $8, $7, $6, $5, $4 and $3.50.

They may be purchased at the Ford Auditorium box office, Hudson's and Ward's ticket outlets and the Detroit Tonight desk at Plaza Hotel in Renaissance Center.

Bruno Leonardo Gelber was born in Buenos Aires to a pianist mother of French and Italian descent and an Austrian violinist father.

His mother began teaching him the piano at three. He made rapid progress until he was stricken with polio at the age of seven.

Although afflicted with paralysis the child wanted to

Mrs. Axel W. Joob

NANETTE SUZANNE KOTZ, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward A. Kotz, of Lewiston road, was married Saturday, December 17, in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore to Mr. Joob, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Joob, of Dexter.

Joob-Kotz Rites Read in December

Pair Are at Home in Ann Arbor after Pre-Christmas Nuptials; Lace and Seed Pearls Accent Bridal Gown

A reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club followed the wedding of Nanette Suzanne Kotz and Axel William Joob Saturday, December 17, in Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore.

Monsignor Francis X. Canfield presided at the 12:30 o'clock rites for which the bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward A. Kotz, of Lewiston road, chose a white jersey gown.

Long-sleeved and Empire-waisted, it featured a Mandarin-collared bodice of Venetian lace accented with seed pearls.

Matching lace trimmed her chapel length veil, and she carried white roses.

Carrying baskets of yellow roses and miniature white carnations, with trailing ivy, were honor maid Virginia Margaret Kahn and bridesmaids Jacqueline and Suzanne Kotz, sisters of the bride, Mrs. Edward A. Kotz, Jr., of Tallahassee, Fla., their sister-in-law, and Jane Taylor, of Ann Arbor.

Their floor length, green jersey frocks were styled with Empire waists and V-necked, capped bodices.

Mr. Joob, son of the Emmanuel Joobs, of Dexter, asked David Taylor, of Ann Arbor, to serve as best man. Ushering were Charles Kotz, brother of the bride, Gary Joob and Paul Schoeppe, of Port Wayne, Ind., brothers of the bridegroom, and James Hunt.

An ice blue, floor length gown, featuring an accordion-pleated jersey skirt and a long-sleeved, embroidered bodice, was Mrs. Kotz' choice for her daughter's wedding.

The bridegroom's mother's beige gown, also floor length, featured a lace bodice with a Mandarin collar.

The newlyweds will make their home in Ann Arbor.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Koch, of San Francisco, Calif., the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, and Dr. Kotz, Jr., who came from Tallahassee with his wife and family.

'Student Prince' Opens The New Year for MOT

Michigan Opera Theatre's production of Sigmund Romberg's rousing operetta "The Student Prince" opens Friday, January 20, at the Music Hall Center, with Charles Roe singing the lead role of Prince Karl Franz.

Additional performances are set for January 22, 25, 27 and 28, with two extra, non-subscription performances scheduled for January 21 and 28.

This newly revised version of "The Student Prince" is a collaborative effort by Frank Egan of the Leo Burnett Agency, director and choreographer Tad Tadlock and MOT's musical director Mark Flint.

The popular operetta has been revised to provide musical and dramatic cohesion to the poignant love story.

The show will incorporate many added attractions often absent from most productions. A ballet, written by Mr. Flint and choreographed by Ms. Tadlock, will highlight the second act. A fencing match will open the show's final scene.

Charles Roe is an old friend of the Michigan Opera Theatre. He made his MOT operatic debut in 1971, singing Rinaldo in Puccini's "La Rondine" in MOT's first season at Detroit's Music Hall Center.

Roe holds the distinction of being the only principal singer who has performed in each MOT season, having sung in such productions as "Così fan tutte," "Tosca," "Madame Butterfly" and "The Barber of Seville."

Roe is currently a member of the New York City Opera. Singing the role of Kathy, the Heidelberg waitress who wins the Prince's love, is Mary Wakefield.

A native of Michigan, Ms. Wakefield is comfortable on the operatic stage as well as in musical theatre. She has studied at the University of Michigan, Indiana University and in Munich, Germany.

Meeting Time For Methodists

The United Methodist Women of Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church will hold their first general meeting of the new year on Tuesday, January 17, at 12:30 in the afternoon.

Following luncheon, a pledge service will be conducted by the Reverend Perry A. Thomas. Also on the program is a slide talk by Mrs. Thomas Doan on "The King Tut Exhibit," which she and her husband visited in Chicago.

The Samaritans Fellowship Group is hostess for the day. Devotions will be led by Mrs. Eugene Choy. Reservations may be made through tomorrow, Friday, January 13, by calling the church office, 886-2363. Nursery care will be available.

Her performance in "The Student Prince" marks a return engagement with Michigan Opera Theatre, where she has also appeared in "The Merry Widow" and "Die Fledermaus."

Andreas Poulimenos, a professor of Music at Bowling Green University, will perform the role of Dr. Engel.

Poulimenos recently sang at Lincoln Center's Alice Tully Hall with the Armenian Cultural Association, and with the Grand Rapids Symphony in the "Lord Nelson Mass" and in the "Grand Rapids summer pops concert."

He returns to the MOT stage after his triumph as "Sharpless" in last season's production of "Madame Butterfly."

Several local personalities, including Paul Winter, long known for his work in Detroit radio and television, will perform in supporting roles.

Also appearing will be Leon C. Petrus, Bruce Hall and Sam Roelofs, as well as Kenneth Young, Meredith Parsons, David Parsons and Mary Callaghan Lynch.

Performance dates for "The Student Prince" are January 20, 21, 26, 27 and 28 at 8:30 o'clock, January 22 at 6:30 and January 25 at 1:30 o'clock.

Tickets may be purchased at the Music Hall box office in Madison Avenue from noon to 6 o'clock Monday through Saturday, or by telephone, 983-7680, from 10 in the morning Monday through Saturday, using a Master Charge, BankAmericard or Hudson charge card number.

Artists Market Accents Youth

The creative productions of a quartet of young artists currently working and studying in the Detroit area will be featured at the Detroit Artists Market mid-January through mid-February.

Visitors also will have an opportunity to examine the sculpture of Bruce Peterson, an MFA candidate at Wayne State University, and to explore the art of printmaking as demonstrated by the work of Paul Levi of Wayne State.

This first show of the New Year will be on view through February 4 in the main gallery of the Artists Market located in Randolph street in Harmonie Park. Gallery hours are 10 to 5 o'clock daily.

Children's Day Slated By Women of Wayne

Women of Wayne Alumni will entertain the young set at a Children's Reception Party and Redpop Theatre Party Saturday, January 14, from 4 to 6 o'clock at Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts.

More paper bags and string will be used for games and activities during the reception in Music Hall's party room.

Tickets at $5.50 per person are available at Alumni House on the WSU campus. Mila Bednarz chairs the planning committee.

Other Women of Wayne events planned for early 1978 include an afternoon Opera Party February 4 for a performance of Bizet's "The Pearlfishers" at Rackham Auditorium, and a three-part "Managing Your Life" Saturday conference series, opening January 28 at Mercy College Conference Center with a one-day session on "Increase Your Vitality."

These will be Mr. Fiedler's 39th and 40th appearances with the DSO.

Maestro Fiedler will conduct the orchestra in a program consisting of Chopin's "Polonaise militaire," (arranged by Glazunov), followed by his Concerto No. 1 for Piano and Orchestra, E minor, Opus 11, featuring pianist De Groot.

In addition, the orchestra will perform the Overture to Rossini's comic opera "Il turco in italia," Strauss' waltz "Voices of Spring," selections from Jerome Kern's "Show Boat," Barbara Streisand's "Evergreen," Neil Sedaka's "Love Will Keep Us Together" and Walter Mur (Continued on Page 26)

Distinctive Dining by Larry Lavigne

WHEN SOUP IS served in a cup it's easy to figure out which way to tip the cup. But many of us are unsure of the correct procedure when the soup is served in a soup plate. While it may be easier to tip the plate toward you, it should be tipped away from you to avoid spilling soup into your lap if the plate is tipped too far or if the soup drips.

When you dine at LAMBARDI'S RESTAURANT, 17125 E. Warren at Cadieux, Detroit, TU 5-9100, you can enjoy our 'rosely' selected house wines, Grosse Pointe's finest burgundy, rosé chablis, served by the glass, 1/2 litre and full litre. Cocktails are available for your pleasure as is premium draft beer. We serve the finest Italian food in the area with all sauces, grated cheese and pasta made in our kitchen. Try us, you'll like us! May we at LAMBARDI'S, take this opportunity to wish our many customers and friends, a most Healthy and Happy Holiday Season!

HELPFUL HINT:
Gigantic, attractive soup mugs are now available in most stores.

Straight Seven On Cloud Nine

The Straight Seven Club hopes to be the Lucky Seven Club. The members are hoping that one of them will be picked to represent the group in the Michigan game sometime in February.

After more than two years since the club was formed, the club, all Park employees, finally may be on their way to riches. Their lucky day was Thursday, January 5, when one of the weekly lottery tickets purchased from Lou's Party Store, 15201 Charlevoix, hit the lucky dual numbers of 91 and 377.

Members of the club are comprised of Fire Chief Phillip Costa, Assistant Fire Chief David Taylor, Fire Sgt. Anthony LaBonty, City Treasurer Jean Trimble, Assistant Director of Public Service Jean Mentor, Erma Nyri, secretary to City Manager Robert A. Stone, and Gergette Vercaigne, who is presently on temporary leave of absence from the Violation Bureau.

It was disclosed that after the money is put into the "kitty" each week, one week one of the male members would buy the tickets, and the next week it would be up to one of the women.

Since the club was formed, and legally registered with the county's Assumed Names Office, it has won a total of $300 after investing $208 since its formation. From the winnings, $140 was reinvested into the lottery and the balance divided among the members.

On Friday morning, January 6, the winning ticket was rushed to the Lottery Commissioner's Regional Office in Oak Park to be registered. On Monday, February 27, a member(s), or an appointed representative of the club, will have to be present in Lansing for the drawing of the six contestants who will compete for the $100,000 weekly prize, with a chance to repeat the following week and each week thereafter as long as they keep winning.

The names of the winners, there will be 16 in this case, are placed in a small tumbler, which is mixed, then, six names of those who will vie are drawn.

Those whose names are not drawn are guaranteed $2,000. As for the six contestants, they will win at least $5,000 in the televised Michigan program on WWJ-TV, Channel 4, in Detroit, held every Thursday night. They could go on, perhaps, to unseat the $100,000 winner of the previous week and win that amount themselves.

Mrs. Vincent Peters, wife of a Farms police officer, won a total of $412,000 about two years ago before she was unseated as champion. To date no one has equaled that amount.

Good Luck, Straight Seven Club.

Pointer of Interest

GROSSE POINTE PARK MUNICIPAL JUDGE BEVERLY CURRAN GROBBEL, OF THREE MILE DRIVE.

By Donna Moran

Beverly Curran Grobbel is a low key lady who knows the law, and her outstanding interest is to give service to others. She has made eight in accomplishments. She recently was sworn in as Grosse Pointe Park's fourth municipal judge, the first woman to be elected to that post in the city's history.

She assumed the office the first day of the new year: Sunday, January 1.

Her key word is organization, and everything about Beverly is organized. How else could a woman with eight children earn a Law degree and become Assistant Prosecutor and Senior Trial Attorney in Macomb County?

For one thing: Beverly never loses her cool and is unruffled by trivia. Consider this 11th hour trauma the day of the primary election: during the night, someone stole every single "Grobbel for Judge" sign and poster. No other candidates' signs were taken.

Takes It in Stride Most people would have howled "Foul play!" but Beverly was undisturbed. "The people who know me will vote for me," she said. And they did. With or without signs, she was a winner.

Beverly is also an extremely hard worker, and has the ability to put first things first. Her main priority has always been home and family. Now that her children are older, she plans to devote herself more fully to community life.

"My husband, Cy, and I were both born in Grosse Pointe. We have a stake in the community, and want to keep it a safe, wholesome, family town."

She began working on her Law degree, at the University of Detroit, when she had six children at home. She was graduated in 1968. "Getting a degree after marriage broadened my life and enlarged my scope of thinking."

Believes in Youth "For 10 years I taught 11th grade Religious Education classes at Saint Clare, and spoke to high school civics classes about the law and our judicial system of justice. As I observed different stages of children's lives I found that, as they grow older, there is hope for all of them. They all have the potential to be good citizens."

During Beverly's at-home years she went through an artistic phase. The walls of her living room are covered with oil paintings she has done.

There are portraits of the children and some still-life flower scenes; one, particularly outstanding, is a view

Program for Retired School Personnel Set

The Detroit Association of Retired School Personnel will meet Friday, January 13, at 1 o'clock at Westminster Presbyterian Church, Hubbell at Outer Drive west. Elsa Holderried is program chairman.

Investments for retirees will be discussed by Melvin D. Rousek, vice-president, Trust and Investment Department, Detroit Bank and Trust.

Mr. Rousek, a native of Nebraska, has been in the Detroit area 15 years. He attended the University of Omaha and completed graduate work at the University of Michigan.

He worked briefly for Sears Roebuck and Company and served in the Air Force during World War II prior to joining Detroit Bank and Trust.

Cookies and beverages will be available beginning at about 12:15 o'clock.

of meadow flowers and butterflies, all in varied shades of blue.

Beverly also does beautiful needlepoint. She has made eight pillows, (one for each child), and eight chair seats, with a white background and oriental design. While working at the Macomb County Prosecutor's Office, she taught many of the "burly" detectives and police officers how to needlepoint.

Yes, You Can "I told them: if Tony Grier can do it, you can, too!" She laughs. "Many of them were embarrassed at first, as they considered needlepoint to be sort of an 'unmasculine' activity."

"But in the end, they were proud of their work."

Occupying a place of honor in the Grobbel household is a silver plaque which reads: "To Beverly Grobbel . . . in appreciation for the many years of dedication and friendship above and beyond the call of normal duties of the Macomb County Prosecutor's Office . . . Also, for not playing golf on Wednesdays. From the guys of the St. Clair Shores Police Department."

Plants are another of Beverly's interests. They flourish under her touch. The Grobbel sunroom is alive with them; unfortunately, the greenhouse attached to the garage is empty now.

Back to the Earth "We used to grow orchids and several varieties of cactus and begonia out there. But last winter the heat went out on a cold night, and killed them all, so we have to start all over again."

Beverly's husband, Cyril— "Cy" to family and friends — is proud of his wife's accomplishments but is a person in his own right, too.

Cy is a solid citizen who knows who he is, where he has been and where he is going. He is the owner of the Grobbel Meat-Packing Company, established by his grandfather in 1883. The whole family has been working hard at the business ever since.

"Cy deserves a special medal," Beverly says, "for getting up every morning of his life at 4:30 and being on-the-job promptly at 5 a.m."

The Grobbels are a family that works together and are supportive of each other. Oldest son Cy, III, 26, has worked his way up to being the company part-time and is a Law student at U. of D.

Next in line is 19-year-old Chris. He works as a cook, and is learning how to cure the Grobbel beef.

Regan is 17: the family musician. She plays both guitar and piano, and is a student at Grosse Pointe South High School.

Jason, 14, is a story in himself. He's already made his mark on the world as a professional entertainer and a puppeteer.

At the age of 10, Jason presented himself to the manager of Jacobson's in-the-Village and was promptly hired to produce and direct marionette shows for the customers. He has also performed at the old Hotel Staller and many of the local country clubs, and is under contract with the Gail-Rice Agency.

Short and to The Pointe

(Continued from Page 15) VICTORIA A. POST, daughter of MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR POST, of Brys Drive, a sophomore ROTC cadet at Western Michigan University and president of the WMU chapter of the Association of the United States Army, recently was in Washington, D.C., where she shook the hand of the Army Chief of Staff, GENERAL BERNARD ROGERS, and heard speeches by General of the Army OMAR BRADLEY, now retired, and United States Secretary of the Army CLIFFORD ROGERS. . . .

MICHAEL L. ENGELBRECHT, son of the HARRY ENGELBRECHTS, of Harvard road, a junior at Western Michigan University, is program chairman and second vice-president of the student chapter of the Society of Manufacturing Engineers (SME). This was the first group to tour the newly-completed Clark Equipment Company computerized warehouse, located near Kalamazoo. Following the tour, the students and faculty advisor attended a dinner meeting at Kalamazoo Valley Community College. . . .

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL PETTEYS, of the Birch, announce the birth of a son, BRIAN MATTHEW, November 18. Mrs. Petteys is the former MAUREEN CROSS, daughter of DR. AND MRS. HAROLD E. CROSS, of North Deeplands road, where a family dinner was held Sunday, December 18, following Brian Matthew's baptism at Our Lady Star of the Sea Church. KATHLEEN CROSS SCHROEDER, of Richland, Wash., and KEVIN CROSS, of Marblehead, Mass., Maureen's sister and brother, served as godparents.

Wheaton College senior BARBARA GRACEY, daughter of MR. AND MRS. PAUL C. GRACEY, of Touraine court, recently was appointed president of the Republican Club at Wheaton College. A graduate of Pine Manor Junior College, Chestnut Hill, Mass., Barbara was editor of the student newspaper and interned in the press office of Massachusetts Governor Dukakis. She was a student coordinator for President Ford's presidency campaign.

Last in Line Nine-year-old Cassandra and seven-year-old Anastasia, (Stacy), students at St. Clair, are helpful to their mother. They know that they come from a family with high standards and do their best to measure up.

Beverly and Cy have given their children rather unusual names as they feel that having distinguished names, particularly in a large family, makes each child feel more individual.

All three of the older girls are named Mary — but in different languages. Melea is "Mary" in Chinese, Marita in Spanish and Regan in Gaelic. In English they all would be "Mary Grobbel."

In an age when generation gaps and disintegrating family life are common, it is refreshing to know an old-fashioned family like the Grobbels. They do not have a TV-centered household.

From an early age, the children learn the virtues of working and cooperating with each other to achieve family solidarity, and they've learned the rewards of togetherness.

Any community would find it an asset to have a family like this living in its midst. Grosse Pointe Park is fortunate, as the Grobbels call it home.

From Another Pointe of View

scenes for "Becket" is being performed without a curtain.

The actors cart the furniture, move the props. Since props, in "Becket," include such things as thrones and tombs, the actors have to be in pretty good shape.

"I think," says Ginny Bowen, "they were cast for their size."

Robbie is The Little Monk, Becket's young friend, who is also murdered at Canterbury. It's good type-casting. An ice hockey goalie, Robbie is used to falling down.

Katie is King Henry's small son, Richard, (later the Lion-Hearted), and a French page. Katie could care less that she's playing boys. She's PLAYING—that's what counts!

Katie got her hair cut last week. It didn't phase her. Actually, it's rather a neat haircut, for offstage Katie can flip it back and look like a girl again. Onstage, she's very much Medieval youth.

And that's the end of the Bowens-in-Becket, for that's the end of the Bowens. "Unless," says Ginny, "they want to use the dogs as horses—and at the rate I'm going, they may HAVE to use the dogs as horses."

Take that last sentence as it is meant, pre-performance histrionics, with a grain of salt. Sure, Ginny's dining room table was still fabric-covered last weekend, she was still cutting out drapes for the horses . . . but she'll get them done. On time and well.

Ginny is an organized lady. She has to be. Her "Azteca de Oro" shop, in its first season in Kercheval-on-the-Hill, is doing very well. Ginny has managed to convince "the Mexicans who execute her dress designs that 'American women really ARE that tall and long-waisted.'"

The Bowens have done a Grosse Pointe Theatre workshop together, but this is the first time they have all been involved in the same major production.

If it weren't for the hockey, they'd have it made. "I have two boys in two different leagues," Ginny explains. That's a logistics problem in itself. "I have a big piece of paper, with who's in what act, what scene, when . . . AND the hockey schedule."

The calendar helps. Of course, there are times when knowing where you're going isn't enough to avert panic, because there still remains the problem of how you're going to get there.

But it's worth it. For "Becket." The play opens next Wednesday, January 18, in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Theatre. It will run through that weekend and the following weekend, January 25 to 28.

And then . . . Ginny Bowen goes right into another show. "We strike on a Sunday. On Tuesday, we start work on 'And Miss Reardon Drinks A Little.'" More cutting, sewing, building . . .

"After that," says Ginny, "I think I may take a sabbatical."

I wonder why.

Annual Luncheon for Garden Center

William A. Lyman, AIA, architect, will speak on "Early American Furniture—A Broad Survey from 1650 to 1800," illustrating his talk with slides, at the Grosse Pointe Garden Center's annual luncheon meeting Friday, January 20, at noon in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Alger House.

Mrs. Daniel Clifford, general chairman of arrangements, has asked Mrs. Carl B. Larson to do the table decorations.

Mrs. Clarence E. Maguire will preside at a brief, post-luncheon business meeting, when the year's reports will be condensed into a history to be given by Mrs. J. Crawford Frost, Jr.

Mrs. John N. Failing, Jr., will present the slate of new officers selected by a nominating committee that included herself as chairman, Mrs. Byron B. Phillips, Mrs. Arthur O. A. Schmidt, Mrs. James B. Ogden and Mrs. Livingstone Howard.

Officers for 1978 will be elected.

Recently participating in LEEN DOLSON, now the Central Michigan University's first chair percussionist in Annual Band Day was former Mason County Central High Grosse Pointe South High School Spartan Marching School percussionist KATH Band, near Ludington.
