HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the FEDERAL PROSECUTORS yesterday dropped all charges against the two nurses accused of the mass poisoning of patients at the Ann Arbor Veterans Hospital last summer. Filipina Narciso and Leonora Perez said in Ann Arbor that the dismissal proves their innocence. "It's all over and I'm happy," said Miss Perez. The dismissal, requested by U.S. Attorney James K. Robinson in Detroit and granted by Judge Philip Pratt, ends one of the most controversial criminal cases in the history of Michigan's federal courts.

Friday, February 3

LAWYERS FOR Patricia Hearst, in a final effort to keep her out of jail, asked the Supreme Court yesterday to overturn her 1976 conviction for robbing a bank in San Francisco. The government has 30 days in which to reply to her petition for review, after which the Supreme Court will decide whether she has raised legal issues warranting their consideration. If the review is denied, Miss Hearst will begin serving her seven-year prison sentence.

ADMINISTRATION OFFICIALS said today that the United States has decided to sell F5E fighter planes to Egypt. The plan now goes to Congress for its approval. The officials reported that no final decision has been made on the number of planes to be sold or the tack to be taken with Congress. That decision will be made when Egyptian President Anwar Sadat leaves Washington Wednesday after meeting with President Jimmy Carter. President Sadat has requested 120 F5E fighter planes.

Sunday, February 5

REPUBLICAN PARTY Chairman Bill Brock called the Justice Department a "political clearinghouse" yesterday and asked for the removal of Attorney General Griffin Bell, saying the department's situation is his fault. In a statement released by GOP headquarters in Washington, Mr. Brock charged that Mr. Bell had politicized his office — the nation's top law enforcement agency. Mr. Brock's charges stem from comments Mr. Bell made at a news conference held Friday about the firing of U.S. Attorney David Marston. He said that Mr. Marston had "politicized his office," and that's why he was fired.

Monday, February 6

EGYPTIAN PRESIDENT Anwar Sadat indicated late yesterday that he and President Jimmy Carter had failed to find a formula to resume full-scale Middle East peace talks during their weekend meetings at Camp David, Md. In a separate statement, President Sadat said that Assistant Secretary of State Alfred Atherton will return to the Middle East soon to keep trying. Mr. Atherton will engage in an Egyptian-Israeli shuttle to try to reach understandings so that full-scale peace talks could be resumed.

Tuesday, February 7

THE STRIKING United Mine Workers (UMW), reached a tentative settlement yesterday that will possibly end the record 63-day-old strike that has caused coal stockpiles to dwindle to critical levels in some areas. The announcement was made at a news conference by officials of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and the UMW. There is uncertainty, however, about the prospects for final approval in time to avert electric power dislocations later this month because of regional shortages of coal.

Cottage Hospital to Close Nurses Residence

Cottage Hospital plans to close the nurses residence at 158 Ridge road by the end of April. The hospital's administration has not as yet disclosed plans for the property after it is vacated.

The house is 50-years-old and is badly in need of repairs, the administration says. The spacious 48-room residence houses 22 hospital employees who are now seeking other accommodations.

Cottage Set To Shut Up Nurses Home

Officials Say Residence, Which Will Remain Open Until End of April, Is in Need of Repairs

By Wendy K. Settle
Cottage Hospital's board of directors has decided to close down the nurses residence located at 158 Ridge road.

Letters, received by residents of the house on Monday, January 30, stated that they must find other accommodations by the end of April. Cottage Administrator Ralph L. Wilgarde said the house is in desperate need of repairs which would cost between $350,000 and $500,000. "We just don't feel that we would be justified in spending the money it would cost to renovate it," he stated.

Anticipate Worst
"We could afford it," Mr. Wilgarde added, "but the question is are we justified in spending it."

"Any building that's 50-years-old needs a lot of repairs," said John McNaughton, hospital board member. "It's perfectly safe now, but we're closing it because we anticipate something going wrong."

"The plumbing needs repair, the wiring, the roof and gutters... all of that needs work."
Cottage has not decided what it will do with the house after it's been closed. "I don't know what they have in mind," said Alice Curtis, public relations director. Sources have suggested that

Board to Receive Petitions Of Soccer Fans Monday

By Susan McDonald
Believe it or not, the fastest growing sport in the Pointe is not snowballing—it's soccer. The number of teams at the local Neighborhood Club has mushroomed in the past few years from four to forty involving some 600 kids in the sport, and there are still hundreds more looking for an organized game.

As a result, a group of soccer fans is scheduled to present the School Board with petitions and a plan to start up a soccer program in the public schools on Monday, February 13, at the Board's meeting at Central Offices, 389 St. Clair avenue, at 8 p.m.

GP Woods Reports Big Decrease in Crime for Second Straight Year

Known Offenses Fall by 9.5 Percent in Comparison to 1976, When They Fell 18.3 Percent Under 1975; Team Effort Cited by Public Safety Officials

By Roger A. Waha
For the second straight year, the level of crime in The Woods has tail spun much to the delight of public safety officials. Known offenses fell by 9.5 percent last year under 1976, which also was a notable year as such offenses dropped by 18.3 percent under 1975.

Most classifications of criminal activity in both the Part I (more serious crimes), and Part II (less serious crimes), categories showed declines in 1977. The overall total of known offenses last year was 2,730 as against 3,015 in 1976. In 1975, this total reached 3,688.

Det. Lt. Jack Patterson and Lt. Peter Thomas, acting public safety director, both attributed the second successive drop to the coordination and cooperation of all departmental personnel, along with citizens, in an overall team effort.

Go Somewhere Else
In this respect, both men cited the work of the uniform patrol, the detective bureau, the Youth Service Division, the clerk dispatchers in obtaining and disseminating the proper information and the residents for their participation in reporting suspicious activity.

Summing up this effort, Lt. Thomas stressed, "We are creating the feeling, (on the part of criminals), that the opportunity to commit a crime isn't present in the community." Echoing this view, Lt. Patterson said if a criminal comes to the city and the opportunity to commit a crime doesn't present

Accosting Cases Are Suspended

The investigation into two separate accosting incidents which occurred in The Woods within a week last December has been suspended, reported Youth Service Division Det. John Albrecht. One involved two boys, six and seven years of age, while the other involved a 10-year-old girl. In each case, a man addressed the youngsters, with the boys walking home from Monteith School, 1275 Cook road, and the girl from a party store at Harper and Hawthorne, Harper Woods. In the latter incident, the suspect baited the girl with money from his car.

However, in each instance, the youngsters ran from the scene. The boys were shown a photograph, supplied by the Oakland County Task Force, of a suspect but were unable to identify him, while the girl reviewed seven mug shots without success.

At this point, Det. Albrecht said there are no leads anywhere, so the cases have been suspended pending the receipt of further information.

Siren Bid Accepted in GP Woods

Mechanism to Be Used to Warn Citizens of Impending Tornadoes; Lochmoor Club Okays Installation

By Roger A. Waha
The Woods has taken another step toward the installation of a storm warning siren, which would be utilized to alert citizens of an impending tornado, as the council last month unanimously accepted a bid for the mechanism, while requesting approval from the Lochmoor Club to have it installed on club property.

Bids were requested from 14 different companies but only W. D. Gale submitted one, in the amount of $11,480. After accepting the bid, the council stipulated that it was still subject to the approval of the Wayne County Office of Emergency Preparedness toward paying 50 percent of the installation cost.

The city's share of the cost will be paid out of the municipal improvement fund.

Good Decision

At the same time, a resolution was adopted and forwarded to the Lochmoor Club's board of directors requesting their approval to locate the siren on a wooden power pole to be installed in the vicinity of the golf course maintenance building as directed by the superintendent of grounds.

The Office of Emergency Preparedness has given the city's bid its blessing. Leland H. Onkka, assistant director, said last week the municipality's request has been forwarded to the federal government, which has to approve the bid and allocate necessary funds.

Mr. Onkka indicated his office should receive such information by March 31. Then the city will be notified and "they can go ahead and purchase the siren," he said.

Meanwhile, the club's board of directors has given its approval to the siren's installation, with a letter being sent last week to City Administrator Chester E. Petersen to this effect.

Frank Plunkett, club manager, said, "We are very happy to have the opportunity to be of service to the community." Noting that the center of the city rests on the club's property, he added the decision to place the siren there was a good one.

Permanent Park Flood Insurance Needs New Law

Council Must Approve Ordinance to Give Residents Living in Designated Flood Plain Area South of Jefferson Continuous Subsidized Federal Protection

By James J. Njaim
At a special hearing held late last month, The Park outlined a map designating most of the south side of Jefferson as a flood plain, thereby enabling residents to obtain subsidized flood insurance with funds provided by the federal government. The council has ample time to enact an ordinance which will make this subsidy permanent, City Manager Robert A. Slone said on Monday, February 6.

Present at the meeting held Tuesday, January 24, and chaired by the city manager were Robert C. Freitag, insurance administrator for the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, (HUD), and Donald R. Roney, consultant for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, (NOAA).

Others in attendance were James G. Elmer, director of the Park's Public Service Department, and Gordon Rutton of the Wayne County Planning Commission, plus several interested residents.

Would Be Permanent
Mr. Slone said subsidized flood insurance is already in effect, and that a number of residents have been purchasing such insurance since 1974 when Lake St. Clair crested to a record level.

However, the insurance has been made available on a year-to-year basis. With the enactment and approval of a local ordinance, the insurance program will become permanent, with homeowners in the flood plain area paying part of the premium and the federal government subsidizing the balance.

Mr. Slone said if the ordinance is passed, flood insurance would be required by lending institutions. Flood insurance would be an option for those residents with mortgages prior to 1974.

He pointed out the maximum policy now is $35,000. However, in addition to this, $150,000 could be applied as a second layer, which also includes contents, raising the maximum obtainable to $185,000.

The sea level elevation of 57.5 feet has been determined as the flood stage elevation for Lake St. Clair by the NOAA, National Ocean Survey. Waivers could

School Head Nixes Honors Proposal Made Last Month

By Susan McDonald
Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Coats said he will not recommend approval of a plan to give extra grade points to students taking high school honors classes at the Board of Education's next meeting Monday, February 13.

The honors proposal was made by a group of North High students who last month told the Board that the extra point would encourage enrollment in the shrinking honors and advanced placement programs.

The students also presented the Board with petitions in support of their plan signed by 200 classmates. In effect, the plan would increase a student's grades by a full point in two

Theater Can Give Live Productions

Agreement Still Has to Be Signed But Verbal Understanding Is Reached

By Wendy K. Settle
When the Punch and Judy Theater reopened last October it could only be used to show movies. A Farms ordinance restricted the use of the theater to show films only through a non-conforming usage clause. But the new management of the theater had bigger and better plans.

Larry Lyman, manager, and Chris Jaszczak, program director, had an impressive schedule of events to be presented at the Punch. Those events not only included movies but live performances as well, and showing live entertainment violated The Farms' ordinance which applied to the Punch.

So after three months of consideration the Farms Council, meeting as a Zoning Board of Appeals, voted unanimously to allow the Punch to present live entertainment.

In granting the variance to the ordinance by resolution for a show later this month, the council asked Mr. Lyman and Mr. Jaszczak to guarantee that they would continue to show only high quality films and entertainment.

"We have a policy not to show X-rated films," Mr. Jaszczak assured the council. "And the live stuff we're bringing in, I'm sure you will find acceptable."

The council directed City Attorney George McKean to draw up the agreement between the theater and the city incorporating the appropriate conditions and safeguards.

"It will take a couple of weeks to draw it up," Mr. McKean said. "When it's done they, (the Punch), and we, (The Farms), will sign it and go from there."

Even though the agreement is not yet signed, a verbal understanding has been reached between the council and the management. Based on that understanding, the council made provisions pending receipt of the agreement.

Councilman Lloyd Semple noted, "The council doesn't want to dictate what the Punch shows on a daily basis. But we know what we don't"

FLEC Opens Legal Clinic

A clinic to provide education and counseling on legal matters will open Wednesday, February 15, under the sponsorship of the Family Life Education Council, (FLEC).

Attorneys will volunteer their time every Wednesday evening from 8 to 9:30 p.m. at Center Point Crisis Center, 17150 Maumee Avenue, in the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church Annex. Members of the Grosse Pointe Lawyers' Wives will be assisting at the clinic.

The Legal Clinic will be open to persons of all ages. No appointment is needed to talk to an attorney. Anyone may walk in or phone 881-7744 during clinic hours.

The attorneys will handle simple problems on the spot, and refer out more complicated legal matters. A donation of $3 to cover administrative costs will be requested.

FLEC, a non-profit, charitable and educational corporation, also sponsors the Medical Clinic for young adults, Dialogue, (an adult hot-line), and Center Point, a short-term counseling and drop-in center for young adults.

Presently FLEC is presenting alcohol awareness educational programs in local schools.

Additional information on the Legal Clinic or any other FLEC-sponsored program may be obtained by calling 885-3510.

Water Quality Info Offered

As part of its areawide water quality planning effort, the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, (SEMCOG), has prepared a series of Water Quality Memos to help citizens understand how water gets polluted and what is being done to clean up that pollution.

"We want citizens to learn about the SEMCOG water quality planning program," said SEMCOG Chairperson David H. Shepherd, mayor of Oak Park, in a news release "because, when that plan is completed, it will have an effect on every person in this area."

"The plan will help us reach the goal of swimmable and fishable waters in southeast Michigan, but reaching that goal will have a cost."

The Water Quality Memos are an easy way for citizens to become familiar with different aspects of water pollution control and the council's planning program.

According to Mr. Shepherd, each memo in the set of 16 is attractive and well illustrated and they are suitable for use in high school environmental studies programs.

Some of the topics covered include state water quality standards, water pollution terms, sludge disposal, water sampling and special problems of inland lakes.

Citizens can obtain a complete set of the memos by writing to SEMCOG Information Services Office, 800 Book Building, Detroit 48226, or by calling 961-4266.

SEMCOG is a voluntary association of governmental units in Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

In addition to planning for clean water, the council prepares long-range plans for transportation, housing, recreation, land use and criminal justice.

'Valentine' Contest Set

A personalized package of prizes will be at stake this weekend in the "Village Valentine" contest sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Village Ass'n., including all the stores in Kercheval avenue between Cadieux and Neff roads.

A "make over" at a beauty salon, an evening at the Summit of the Plaza Hotel with chauffeured Rolls Royce transportation, candy, flowers, champagne, luncheon and dinner at two Village restaurants, jewelry, gift certificates and a supporting bevy of gifts will go to the winner of the contest.

The contest is open to anyone 16 years or older, who must be nominated by someone else. The nominee can be friend, sweetheart, spouse, parent or teacher so long as only one nomination per person is made by any other person.

Application blanks, which are available at any participating Village merchant, are to be completed in 50 words or less explaining why the nominee should be named "Village Valentine."

The winner will be notified on Tuesday, February 14, and prizes awarded at that time.

Deadline for receipt of entries at participating Village merchants is Saturday, February 11, at 3 p.m.

The Burgundy wine growing region is divided into two parts — the Cote d'Or and Southern Burgundy. The best Burgundies come from the Cote region. This region is divided into two sections where the finest red Burgundies in the world are grown. Within each of these subdivisions, there are various vineyards. The problem with deciding on a good Burgundy is that within one vineyard the quality of the wine can vary. Grapes from the lower parts of the slopes are usually better than those from the upper slopes. Few wines vary quite as much as Burgundies. So, wine connoisseurs have to trust their palates and noses more than brand names.

And when it comes to choosing Burgundies, Brodeaux, Chablis, or Chiantis, see the experts at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair. 885-0626 for advice and assistance. Capital Punishment Eyed In FOP Petition Drive

Grosse Pointe Lodge 102 joined with other lodges of the 8,500-member Fraternal Order of Police, (FOP), last week in participating in a petition drive geared to placing a capital punishment amendment on the November 1978 ballot.

The State Lodge made its announcement at a press conference on Tuesday, January 31.

State FOP President Jack Brown, a lieutenant in the Ferndale Police Department, pledged his organization's support to the drive and estimated that his group's members would gather 100,000 of the 285,000 needed signatures by the June deadline.

The proposed constitutional amendment to Article IV, Section 46, of the Michigan State Constitution reads as follows: "The legislature shall enact laws providing for the penalty of death for those convicted of first-degree murder."

Lt. Brown said in a news release that FOP involvement in the petition drive is not an organizational endorsement of capital punishment.

However, he said it's the organization's belief that the issue should be resolved in the voting booth.

Saying numerous surveys have been made around the country with varied results and legislators nationally and in Michigan have been grappling with this question repeatedly without reaching any conclusions, Lt. Brown stated the FOP only wanted to see the controversy cleared up in the voting booth.

In fact, Lt. Brown sees the organization's involvement as a natural second step to the FOP endorsement of the Crime Victim's Compensation Law which became effective last October. The law provides for up to $15,000 in payments to the victims of violent crime or their survivors.

Youth Service Division Det. Patrick Fagan, president of Lodge 102, said his organization will man a booth at the boat show Saturday, February 11, which will focus upon the drive, plus the FOP's interest in child safety. In the latter case, "Kids, Don't Go with Strangers" bumper stickers will be available.

"The FOP is committed to a booth throughout the boat show," said Det. Fagan. "We'll be manning the booth on the 11th only, while other lodges will man it throughout the show. Petitions also will be available for citizens to sign at the booth."

As planned, the local lodges' activity in relation to the petition drive will find members, in their off-duty time, circulating the documents in the community, added Det. Fagan.

As for the state organization, it was founded in 1942 and is affiliated with the national FOP which has some 150,000 members. Woods Officer Stephen Petrik is vice-president of the State Lodge.

Signs Installed at Brys, Roslyn

Eight traffic signs, four indicating "right turn only" and four saying "left turn only," were installed quicker than expected last week in the Brys drive-Roslyn road area along Mack avenue.

Woods Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook said the eight signs are placed with four each back-to-back affecting both eastbound and westbound traffic on Brys and Roslyn. Two signs are located at the corner of Brys and Mack, two on the median at Roslyn and Mack and two on the median at Brys and Mack.

The "right turn only" signs would affect eastbound traffic along Brys and Roslyn, while the "left turn only" visuals would affect westbound traffic.

Officer Crook said the city installed the signs and will be responsible for maintaining them.

As with the previously installed barricades, the signs are considered a temporary measure toward alleviating the heavy volume of traffic using Brys drive. It also was felt that the signs would help ease access to area businesses. Merchants had earlier complained that the barriers hurt their business.

At this point, he said the situation will be studied, with traffic counts scheduled to be taken when the weather eases. He also noted that the signs provide more options for turning movements in comparison to the barricades.

An orientation period, wherein citizens can become familiar with the new signs, will continue until Sunday, February 19. During this period, no citations will be issued by the public safety department.

Await Decision on Police Head

It appears that a final decision as to who's named public safety director in The Woods will not be made until before the end of the month.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said last week that results as to the ranking of the remaining 12 applicants, who recently took a written exam as prepared by a public management consulting firm, were still being awaited.

After the results are received, he said the number of candidates will be reduced to not more than six, all of whom will then be interviewed by an assessment board of about five to seven individuals, including officials from other local governmental units.

At the same time, interviews also will be conducted with the candidates on a one-on-one basis.

He noted while he will not be a member of the assessment board, he will be an observer of it, as will members of the council's public safety committee.

A total of 97 applicants for the post, including seven from within the department, were originally considered. Then, 62 were screened out in the initial process, while another 23 were eliminated after a second screening.

The remaining 12 applicants, according to public safety sources, include three members of the local department, Lts. Jack Patterson, Bernard Kelly and Peter Thomas, although Mr. Petersen said he would neither confirm or deny this report.

City Approves A Renovation

Architect Larry Black got the okay from City Council Monday, January 16, to "recycle" one of the City's older homes with a garage addition and modern, vertical, rough-cedar siding.

The home, in 16921 East Jefferson avenue, was built in 1901 and is in dire need of repair, according to neighbors.

The house stands next to what is probably the oldest home in all of The Pointe, the Cadieux house, built in 1820 and moved to the Jefferson site some years ago.

There was some concern among city officials about the extreme contrast of styles the modernization will provoke in the neighborhood, especially in relation to the Cadieux house.

The neighbors' over-riding concern, however, is to see the house repaired. So, with their support, the council approved the necessary variance to allow the project to proceed.

The variance reduced the front yard requirement from 50 to 47.5 feet.

Decline in Crime

Increases were seen in two of the seven Part I crimes: robbery which rose from four reported incidents in 1976 to seven, and aggravated assault which went from one case to two.

The clearance rate in the robbery incidents has steadily improved over the past three years. In 1975, two of 10 cases were cleared, while three of the four in 1976 were cleared. Last year, six of the seven were solved.

Meanwhile, burglary reports dropped from 66 to 62 with clearances also falling from 24 percent in 1976 to six percent last year. Larceny-theft incidents fell from 430 to 387, (stolen bicycles dropped from 121 to 110 and vehicle accessories from 140 to 86), while auto thefts declined from 31 to 22.

Criminal homicides fell from one in 1975, (a manslaughter by negligence case in which a passenger in an auto accident died), to none last year. No forcible rapes were reported either year.

Clearances Up
 In the Part II category, the overall total of reported crime topped from 2,482 in 1976 to 2,250 last year, while clearances jumped from 54 percent two years ago to 62 percent in 1977.

Vandalism reports dropped from 303 to 299, (in 1975 there were 487 incidents). Malignant destruction incidents to dwellings did increase, however, from 45 to 57 last year, while vehicle over lawn reports climbed from 64 to 78. The largest drop in vandalism was to other dwellings, 54 two years ago, 39 last year.

In other classifications, sex-related reports decreased from 63 to 43, (prowler reports basically accounted for this, falling from 47 to 27), narcotic drug law incidents increased from 25 to 31, (with marijuana reports climbing from 21 to 29), and driving under the influence of liquor reports nose-dived from 75 to 48.

In the latter case, both Lts. Patterson and Thomas felt a stiffer crackdown on the part of the courts, along with AAA advertising campaigns, played roles in the decrease.

While there has been an improvement in the number of dog-related complaints, e.g., dogs at large, over the past three years, the problem remains, taking the time of officers which could be better spent in other areas. In 1975, a total of 749 complaints were reported, in 1976 there were 604 and last year 587 calls were answered.

Other statistics show that 8,228 calls were written up in 1976 and 8,228 in 1977 and 8,228 in 1978. A total of 383 ambulance runs were made in 1975, 437 in 1976 and 416 last year.

Reports on Fires
 On the firefighting front, officers responded to 194 total alarms in 1975, 193 in 1976 and 161 last year. Meanwhile, response to actual fires fell from 119 in 1975 to 88 in 1976 and down to 86 last year.

Three civilian deaths, (a mother and her two daughters, in a Prestwick road house fire), occurred last year, while one death, (a house fire in Sunningdale drive), occurred in 1976. No civilian deaths were reported in 1975.

Adjusted fire losses climbed last year to a total of $205,660 over the 1976 figure of $48,335. Such losses were placed at $161,811 in 1975.

The bulk of the monetary losses last year were in dwellings, $121,035, and in mercantile, $75,445.

In a final note, the big decreases in reported crime are impressive in their own right, but even more so when compared to previous years.

For example, based on computations at departmental headquarters, crime dropped around two percent in 1972 over 1971 but rose one percent in 1973 over 1972, five percent in 1974 over 1973 and two percent in 1975 over 1974.

Honors Plan

(Continued from Page 1) to figure which classes should be designated "honors" and allotted extra points. "Is Calculus really more difficult than Shakespeare or German Four or Chemistry?", he asked.

The suggested policy is questionable on philosophical grounds as well, Dr. Coats said. "Segmenting the curriculum into two parts, one of which is recognized as being more worthy than the other, may contribute to a type of elitism which we are attempting to reduce, if not eliminate," he told the Board.

"The purpose of a high school education is to learn," he emphasized. "The purpose is not simply to get the highest possible grade point average at the expense of exciting, challenging and meaningful learning experiences."

As a sort of compromise with the students, Dr. Coats proposed reviewing the grading system with teachers of honors classes. Bell-shaped grading curves, with proportionate numbers of students scoring in the lower and high grades, should not apply to honors classes. "Nearly all students in the honor classes should be getting 'A's' or 'B's,'" he said.

Most of the trustees on the Board expressed agreement with Dr. Coats' position. "I hope the students who brought this up don't feel turned off by the decision," said Trustee Joan Hanpeter.

Board President John Bruce stated the group brought to the Board's attention a real problem in the honors program with their petition. "I hope you, (students), will continue to stay involved and help us work out a solution," Mr. Bruce said.

COVERED BY ACT
 Most kinds of work done by patients in hospitals where an employee-employer relationship exists are covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act. The act is enforced by the Wage and Hour Division, U.S. Department of Labor.

To Close Nurses Home

The 22 residents now living in the 48-room house pay between $25 to $55 a month in rent. All of them are employees of the hospital.

John DeFoe, Farms public service director, noted that it might be difficult for the residents to find other places to live. "We do have some duplexes and multiple dwelling homes in The Farms," he said, "but I don't know exactly how many. I do know that there aren't a lot of them."

Built in 1928 Ms. Curtis said that Cottage would try to help find other living quarters for the residents, and the personnel department has a list of the employees who are looking for apartments.

The nurses residence was built and donated to Cottage in 1928 by Mrs. John Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ford furnished it completely.

Cottage Hospital's 25th anniversary "Annual Report" stated that the structure was built and donated to house hospital employees in an area where rental housing is hard to find.

"We regret this situation,"

Ms. Curtis lamented, "but there's nothing we can do."

Woods Council Discusses Budget Concerns

(Continued from Page 1) profits, for instance, going to a separate commission fund. Another concern was expressed in relation to the possibility that the sale could lose money, (it didn't last year).

As it turned out, the council approved the sale as handled last year wherein the city wrote the purchase order for the flowers, with profits being turned back to the municipality. In short, it was a city function from start to finish, and that's the way it will remain this year.

Then, the council authorized the purchase of one leather bound donor book in the amount of $35, plus the embossing of the cover in gold letters saying "Veterans Memorial Parkway, Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan" at a cost not exceeding $10.

Monies for this project were charged to the Veterans Memorial Parkway fund, which currently stands at around $4,300.

Prize Money Eyed
 When it came time to explore the third commission request for a city flag contest, along with the approval of rules and an entry blank, further concerns surfaced.

One was in relation to the cost of six flags, which at the least could run $25 each, (total $150), or $50 each, (total $300), depending on the material used, construction method, complexity of design and the number finally ordered, along with an estimated $30 for the printing of entry forms.

The bid for the flag contest was ultimately approved, with the cost being charged to the commission's 1978-79 budget.

A second part of the motion related to a concern over the city giving $50 to the contest winner and $25 to both the second and third prize winners. City Attorney George Catlin said he had reservations of using taxpayers money for this and recommended that the commission solicit cash prizes from local businessmen.

So as part of the motion, the commission was directed to solicit such monies in a manner they deem appropriate, with all entries becoming the property of the city.

(Commission member Jean Rice said the Grosse Pointe Merchants Ass'n. indicated to her during the meeting that they would put up the prize money.)

Compounds Problem
 As planned, the contest will close on May 15 at 5 p.m. with the winner being announced at the June 19 council meeting. The mayor and council members are scheduled to make up the panel of judges for the event.

which is open to all residents, minimum age 14. Entry blanks will be available beginning April 14 at several locations, including the municipal building, 20025 Mack avenue.

The overall aura of commission finances, including the overspent 1977-78 fiscal year budget and the charging of flag contest expenses to the group's 1978-79 budget, were motivating factors in the discussion over the current status of the city budget.

"The rate we're going, we have overspent two percent of the entire city budget. Things of this nature compound our problem," said City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, in noting the two percent equals around $89,000.

He attributed the current situation to several factors including inflation, the cost of living, workman's compensation, insurance and severance pay for retirees, with more individuals retiring than anticipated.

Mr. Petersen also noted a reason why some personnel, who have retired or resigned, haven't been replaced as yet is because an effort is being made toward recouping some of the two percent deficit.

Eyes Communication
 Yet another problem which the city has had to contend with is overtime, which Mr. Petersen said is "killing us," along with the heavy volume of salt which has been used this winter, already much higher than the amount used last year.

While saying he wasn't completely sure how the current deficit will be made up,

(a $20,000 contingency fund wouldn't do the trick at this time), Mr. Petersen added by the end of this fiscal year, that deficit should disappear.

Finally, in relation to commissions and their budgets, Councilman E. D. Grady viewed the overall aspect of communication in a letter to the council.

He wanted all citizen commissions to provide a monthly budget analysis report and a brief quarterly status memo outlining their activities.

Mr. Grady felt a brief summary of what has been completed in the prior quarter and what is planned for an upcoming quarter would be of help to both the council and the commissions.

To Give Reports
 Viewing past discussions at the Committee of the Whole level in relation to commission guidelines, Mr. Grady said such budget statements would aid in providing a clearer accountability of each group's operating budget.

As it turned out, Mr. Hornfisher said the council already has such a report on the commissions through last December 31, and he was instructed to provide monthly updates to the council based upon that report.

Meanwhile, Mr. Petersen was asked to coordinate "tracking procedures" on a quarterly basis regarding each commission's plans.

Officials hope such approaches will help clear up any questions in relation to the status of respective commission budgets and assist in better planning on the part of all.

Bowling Alley Is Appreciated
 Mr. and Mrs. Jack Degriek, proprietors of Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation, 20422 Mack avenue, recently received a certificate of appreciation from the American Lung Ass'n. of Southeastern Michigan for their part in hosting a fund raising Bowl-a-Thon.
 It raised $3,000 for the prevention and control of lung disease and Mr. Degriek said this was the first time his establishment has hosted such an event for the association.
 All the kids participating got sponsors for how many pins they could knock down, with each bowling two games, said Mr. Degriek, who added the event was a "nice thing."

Hudson Grant to Interlochen

Pointer Joseph L. Hudson Jr., chairman and chief executive officer of the J. L. Hudson Co., announced that a $100,000 grant from the J. L. Hudson Co. has been given to the Interlochen Center for the Arts.

The grant will be used for funding scholarships at Interlochen for needy young people in Michigan. Special consideration will be given to young people from the Detroit metropolitan area and to minority students.

The Interlochen Center for the Arts operates the 50-year-old National Music Camp which sponsors summer sessions for young musicians, artists, dancers and drama students from all countries.

The camp also hosts four two-week summer sessions for Michigan junior and senior high school students.

In making the announcement, Mr. Hudson said, "We are very pleased to make this grant at a time when Interlochen is seeking matching endowment funds. We hope that our support will encourage other Michigan businesses to support this cultural center."

One year ago, the Interlochen Center received a $2 million leadership challenge grant from the Dow Foundation in Midland. The deadline for matching funds is this June.

In 1977, the J. L. Hudson Co. and the Dayton Hudson Corp. contributed five percent of their pre-tax income to civic and charitable organizations in the communities they serve. They are listed among the top 20 corporate philanthropists in America.

Mr. Hudson made the announcement at a luncheon held Thursday, January 26, in the Manufacturers National Bank executive offices in the Renaissance Center.

Among those in attendance were Hudson's Director of Civic Affairs, Joseph P. Bianco Jr. and Interlochen trustees Alan Schwartz, Ruth Vance, Dean Richardson, Judge Damon Keith and Mrs. John Riecker of the Dow Foundation.

According to Interlochen President Roger E. Jacobi, the Hudson grant brings Interlochen's matching fund to nearly $800,000.

Let's Talk Real Estate

 by John E. Brink

During the next nine months hundreds of homes will be sold. Perhaps 40% of these homeowners will leave Grosse Pointe and we'll probably welcome another 40% from areas all around the country. This is quite a lot of activity for a small community like ours. It's interesting to study what this movement does for or against our property values.

The people moving in are "transient" and probably will move again in about three years. Their next move after this one will probably be their last. Will they take care of their home with this knowledge in mind? Will they leave Grosse Pointe in as good a condition as they found it?

Our guess is that they are great people, they'll leave their home in better or at least the same condition as when they purchased it. Moving up the corporate ladder has taught them that moving from location to location can be very profitable during these days of galloping inflation. It has also taught them that they pay for wear and tear dearly so they respect their home and its condition.

Grosse Pointe makes many dear friends. Many people all over the country remember Grosse Pointe among their fondest dreams. And they are good for our property values because they appreciate property.

If you are moving soon be sure to have Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 stop by for a visit. You'll be surprised at how the top value can even be more than you imagined if you sell through Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. Why? Well for one reason we're the only company who can offer your home with ERA—one year warranty! Please call us 882-0087.

Woods, Shores Officers Join to Arrest Youths

Two Harper Woods youths, thanks to a watchful citizen and the quick response of Woods and Shores officers, were arrested Thursday afternoon, February 2, and charged with the breaking and entering of a dwelling in North Oxford road.

Woods Det. Charles Philip Hamel said the pair are under investigation for the burglary of another North Oxford road residence, which also was reported on the 2nd.

One youth, Kelly Roy Pillotte, 17, of Beaufait road, was arraigned on the charge Friday, February 3, and a plea of not guilty was entered in his behalf by the court.

Bond was set at $10,000 or 10 percent and he was transported to the Wayne County Jail in lieu of bond, pending his examination date scheduled for yesterday, February 8.

The other youth, a 16-year-old juvenile who will turn 17 on Monday, February 20, will be charged as a juvenile. The Youth Service Division filed a petition with Wayne County Juvenile Court, charging him with breaking and entering. He was taken to the Wayne County Youth Home last week.

The incident unfolded when patrolling Woods Officer John DeLora was stopped by a United Parcel Service driver. The man said he had just been to the home, spotted a broken window and two persons inside, who he felt didn't live at the residence.

At the house, the officer found the kitchen window broken, saw Pillotte inside and asked him for some identification. At this point, the juvenile came up behind the youth and asked what was going on. Upon seeing Officer DeLora, he stood motionless.

But he didn't stay motionless for long as the officer, after requesting assistance, went to the front, entered and saw Pillotte alone in the kitchen.

Other cars were alerted to be on the lookout for the fleeing juvenile, who was ultimately apprehended after a foot chase through some Benefits which include an increase in intelligence, energy, creativity, efficiency and happiness, according to those practicing TM, will be described.

Pleads Guilty in Murder Case

A 31-year-old Louisiana man, who pled guilty to first degree murder in the death of a Woods businessman last January, was sentenced to life imprisonment in Macomb County Circuit Court last month.

Daniel B. Clements was charged in the death of Jack Whitely, 60, vice-president of the Goss Mechanical Contracting Co., Detroit, whose body was found at the Shorian Motor Inn, 20000 Nine Mile road.

At the same time, James A. Dunn, 36, also from Louisiana, is charged with first degree murder in the incident. Sgt. William Hannah of the St. Clair Shores Police Department said last week that Dunn's trial ended in a hung jury, with indications being that the prosecuting attorney's office is planning to proceed with a new trial.

The sergeant stated there's a possibility of including or amending the original complaint to incorporate felony murder as against the previous aiding and abetting.

If a new trial commences, it will probably be in March or April, he added.

The pair were arrested last February in a Pittsburgh, Pa., cafe after police spotted an illegally parked pickup truck which matched a description given authorities in the incident.

Clements and Dunn were ultimately extradited based upon the approval of a Pittsburgh judge after a hearing was held on Michigan's request.

State Offers Assistance In Heating, Electrical Bills

If home heating and electrical bills have become too burdensome to bear this winter, the state may be able to help out, especially if you're a senior citizen.

This month, the Michigan Department of Social Services began distributing application forms for up to $200 in heating bill grants. The $38 million aid package was approved by the legislature just before it recessed in December.

In Wayne County alone, officials estimate that almost 150,000 residents, including at least 35,000 senior citizens, will qualify for funds.

Persons in households where at least one person is 65-years or older qualify if they have incomes of $7,000 a year or less. The amount of relief could vary between $60 and $200 and is primarily dependent on 1977 household income.

Those younger than 65 years will qualify if they have incomes under $3,700 for one person, $4,900 for two, $6,100 for three and $7,300 for a family of four.

In a push to reach all eligible citizens, the state is mailing applications to anyone they believe to be potentially eligible. In addition, power suppliers in the Detroit area, including Michigan Consolidated Gas, Consumers Power and Michigan as Utilities companies, have been mailing applications to all their customers.

Only City Manager Thomas Kressbach has a supply of application forms at Grosse Pointe City offices, 17147 Maumee avenue.

Anyone needing help filling out the forms may call the toll-free number, 1-800-292-5930, for assistance.

Application forms must be postmarked no later than April 30.

The state hopes to begin sending out payments by the end of February and to have the entire $38 million grant allocated by August.

In most cases, the payments will be made directly to the fuel supplier. People who qualify for assistance, but have already managed to pay their bills, will have the grant applied to their accounts to offset future heating expenses.

The grant is not limited to homeowners. Renters - also can get assistance as long as they're billed directly for their heat or electricity.

Excluded from receiving aid under the program are persons who already receive energy allowances from other assistance programs or persons who have liquid assets, (savings, stocks, bonds or checking account balances), that total $15,000 or more.

Brownell Sets Casino Party

Brownell Middle School students and parents, and next year's sixth graders who are now attending Kerby, Monteith, Richard and Barnes Schools, are invited to a Casino-Pizza party on Friday, February 17, at 6:30 p.m.

The party will be held at the school, 260 Chalfonte avenue. Tickets are $3 in advance or $3.50 at the door.

Party chairman is Mrs. John Vismara.

St. James Sets Lent Services

Saint James Lutheran Church, in McMillan road near Kercheval, is observing Lent with a variety of worship experiences at Wednesday night Vespers, all but one beginning at 8 p.m.

The emphasis on the coming five Wednesdays is designed to motivate and mold the interest of adults and children, enabling families to come to church together as a weekly Lenten discipline, says the church.

On February 15, Bill Harlow will show the film, "The Word in a Silent World," and will talk about ministry to children through the Detroit Lutheran School for the Deaf.

On February 22, the Adult Chancel Choir, the Children's Choir and the Handbell Choir will offer a variety of music at a Lenten Choral Vesper Service prepared by Herman Clein, Mrs. Frank Dicey and Mrs. Robert Ambrose, including a homily by the pastor.

"To God Be The Glory," a multi-media presentation of Jesus' life, death and resurrection will be presented by Bob and Arleen Bush on March 1.

The congregation will celebrate an authentic Passover Meal on March 8 at 6:30 p.m. The Women's Guild will prepare the dinner, which will be prefaced by a short film explaining the dynamics of this tradition.

On March 15, the young people will structure the service and lead the worship at this service for all ages, assisted by the Guitar Choir, led by Ellen Smith.

Seniors' Guide Ready to Go

The Wayne County Office on Aging will distribute copies of a comprehensive, county-wide senior citizen directory at a meeting set for today, February 9, at Wayne County General Hospital, "J" Building, 2345 Merriman road, at 10 a.m.

The meeting, to last about an hour, will include an explanation on how to best use the directory to serve senior citizens.

The Office on Aging staff has extended invitations to about 50 social service personnel, municipal recreation directors and senior citizen coordinators throughout Wayne County.

The directory, compiled by the Wayne County Office on Aging Information and Referral staff, will assist these leaders in providing seniors in their communities with basic information. The directory was developed through a grant of Title III Older American's Act funds from the Detroit-Wayne County Area Agency on Aging.

In addition, seniors in the Detroit-Wayne County area are urged to call the centralized information and referral phone number, 963-8800, if they encounter any problems or if they wish to inquire about benefits that may be available to them.

Pleads Guilty of Larceny

An 18-year-old Farms youth, who's charged with larceny under a Woods ordinance, pled guilty to the charge and is now scheduled for sentencing on Wednesday, February 22, pending a pre-sentencing report from the Grosse Pointe Volunteer Probation Department, reported Det. Thomas Podewick.

The youth, Michael Bryk, appeared in the Woods Municipal Court on Wednesday, January 25, and also was ordered to pay $130 in restitution to the Manufacturers National Bank, 20200 Mack avenue.

He was involved in obtaining paper currency at the bank last November in exchange for 13 rolls of coins and steel washers, the detective said.

The youth also admitted perpetrating the same offense at Manufacturers National Bank, 20000 Van Dyke, Detroit, in which $50 in restitution was made, and at National Bank of Detroit, Van Dyke and Eight Mile road, Detroit. In the latter case, the bank already debited $40 from the family's account.

He gave himself up to police after his picture, taken by video equipment in The Woods' branch of Manufacturers, was published in the NEWS.

Shores' 1977 Fire Loss Less Than Previous Year

By James J. Njalm
The Shores' fire loss during 1977 amounted to $30,595 less than 1976, according to information released by Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale. The loss is $8,000 less than for 1976.

The director said the Shores Department of Public Safety answered a total of 42 alarms, of which 27 were to residential fires, five were in response to Mutual Fire Aid to other departments and 10 were false alarms.

The total loss in home fires amounted to $17,000, to contents in these structures, $12,305, and miscellaneous fires, (garages, cars, etc.), reached $1,290.

In traffic activities, Director Vitale said his department responded to 67 reported accidents last year, including one fatal. One fatal also was reported in 1976.

The lone fatality last year was Edward William Evatz, 49, of 915 Lakeshore road, who died of multiple head injuries when he lost control of his car, which left the roadway and smashed into a tree on an island in front of 1005 Lakeshore on May 15.

Public Safety Officer Daniel Healy, who was patrolling along the road, witnessed the accident through the rear view mirror of his scout car. The accident victim was conveyed to Saint John Hospital by Shores ambulance and was pronounced dead on arrival.

Director Vitale said reportable accidents in 1976 reached 76; in 1977 the number was 44.

He disclosed a decline in all categories. There were 55 property damage accidents in 1976, as compared to 44 last year. Meanwhile, 14 persons reported various types of injuries, from whiplash to bleeding wounds, in 1977, whereas in 1976, the number was 22.

State Honors Choirmaster

A legislative resolution sponsored by State Rep. David H. Evans of Mount Clemens, has paid tribute to Edgar P. Billups, former organist and choirmaster at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, currently associated with Saint Paul's Episcopal Church in San Diego, Cal.

The resolution, adopted by the House and Senate, is being transmitted to Mr. Billups "in testimony to the high esteem in which he is held by the Michigan Legislature."

"During his many years of serving the religious community with his outstanding musical skills," Rep. Evans said, "Mr. Billups has earned a widespread and loyal following within the Detroit area. During more than a decade of service at Christ Church, he built the reputation of the church's choir to new heights of distinction."

Under the direction of Mr. Billups, the choirs performed at Meadowbrook Music Festival, with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, at Carnegie Hall and Saint Bartholemew's in New York City and at the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Billups came to Christ Church after five years of service as organist and choir-

INGALL APPOINTED

Pointer Dr. John F. Ingall recently joined the Michigan Cancer Foundation as associate medical director. Dr. Ingall is a graduate of London University's Kings College and Westminster Medical School. Before joining the foundation, he practiced medicine in London and Buffalo, N.Y., where he was assistant, dean and assistant professor at the State University of New York.

Snyder Views Energy Aid Law

Legislation authorizing a new energy assistance program, which would benefit an estimated 300,000 Michigan households, was signed into law the end of December and became effective Sunday, January 15, said State Senator Joseph M. Snyder in a news release from his office.

The program provides a maximum payment of $200 to eligible persons. Payments will be made directly to the energy supplier on behalf of the recipient, Sen. Snyder said.

He stated the program also has provisions to help those persons who have heat included in their rent, but who pay for electricity directly to another energy supplier.

"Applications, (for the assistance), which are presently being distributed statewide, can be obtained from county social service offices, local area agencies on aging, fuel suppliers and other community organizations," Sen. Snyder said.

The senator, who is a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee and chairman of the Legislature's Joint Special Committee on Aging, said his office will help anyone who has difficulty obtaining an application.

"It is important that senior citizens be aware that the program provides assistance for them, as well as for low income households," Sen. Snyder said. "In fact, it is estimated that 50 percent of the recipients of this program will be senior citizens."

Sen. Snyder noted the state has established the following toll-free hotline number for persons to call: 1-800-292-5930.

Sen. Snyder warned that, according to Department of Social Service rules, applications must be submitted by this April 30.

At Standard Federal Savings...you have until February 14 to set up your own retirement plan... and Get a Big Break on Your 1977 Taxes, too!

At last! A genuine tax break for hardworking people, including self-employed, who don't belong to a retirement plan at work.

With an Individual Retirement Account at Standard Federal Savings, you can save for the future at the impressive rate of 7 3/4%. Deduct whatever you save — up to $1,500 a year — from your gross income or $1,750 if, in addition, your spouse qualifies. You will defer every penny in tax on your IRA, including the interest earned, until you withdraw your funds at retirement. At that time you will probably have less income and possibly be in a lower tax bracket.

If you look out for yourself then you should look into IRA

Stop by any office of Standard Federal Savings. We'll be glad to give you the whole story.

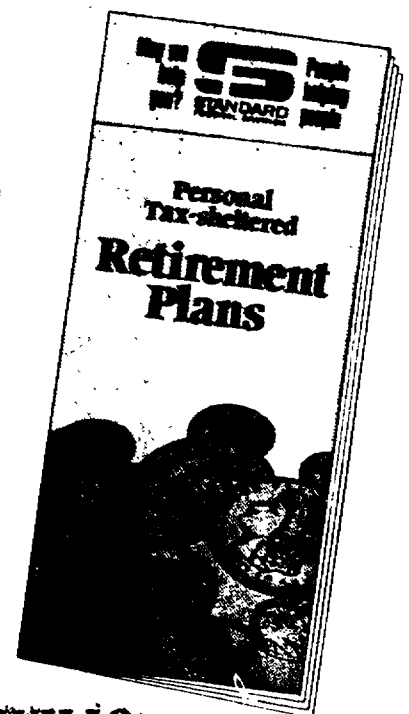

First, read this.

The conditions of IRA are simpler than you might think. For your information, the 7 3/4% rate applies to deposits of not less than three years for deposits of $500 or more. Lesser deposits earn at our passbook rate.

Better yet, read this.

Pick up your copy of our helpful free brochure at any office of Standard Federal Savings or phone us at 643-9600 and we will be happy to send you a copy of our booklet.

DO IT TODAY! IF YOU DON'T LOOK OUT FOR YOURSELF, WHO WILL?

If you contributed $1,500 each year to a IRA account earning 7 3/4% annual interest, compounded quarterly, here's how your tax-deferred dollars grow.

No. of Years	Total Deposits	Total Earnings	Total Retirement Funds
5	$ 7,500	$ 1,998	$ 9,498
10	15,000	8,439	23,439
15	22,500	21,403	43,903
20	30,000	43,940	73,940
25	37,500	80,531	118,031
30	45,000	137,748	182,748

Federal law prohibits the payment of an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) time deposit prior to maturity and before the depositor is age 59 1/2, except due to death or disability, unless three months interest is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to the regular savings rate. Under certain conditions, early withdrawal before age 59 1/2 could result in federal excise taxes.

Tax Break '77
DEADLINE
February 14,
1978

If you are not covered by a regular pension plan, you can save a lot of 1977 tax dollars with a D&N Individual Retirement Account, and enjoy many additional benefits as well. Why settle for less?

- 1. Receive 1977 tax credit through Feb. 14, 1978. Your 1977 I.R.A. deposit can be made in 1978. Your 1977 tax credit applies to all Individual Retirement Account deposits made through February 14, 1978.
- 2. Tax-deferred deposits. You can save up to $1,500 per year or 15% of your gross annual income, whichever is less — and not pay income taxes on it until retirement. Household accounts are available, too, also tax deferred until retirement. A great tax break for you.
- 3. Tax-deferred interest on savings. Another tax break for you. Your D&N I.R.A. will earn a big interest rate. The earnings on your I.R.A. account are tax deferred until retirement, too, when you're apt to be in a much lower income tax bracket and, thus, will pay less taxes. If you're serious about saving money, come in and see us.
- 4. High rate of return. We offer a bonus for tax-savings-minded people — Our GIANT-EIGHT, a 3-year Savings Certificate that pays you an interest rate of 7.75% per year — and we'll compound your interest daily to give you an annual yield of 8.05% per year. Guaranteed.

Additional benefits — more good reasons to open your Individual Retirement Account at D&N:

- 1. Low minimum deposit — You may open an I.R.A. account with as little as $1 and add to it in any amount at any time.
- 2. New 3-Year Term — A new 3-year term is available on 7 3/4% I.R.A. accounts at D&N.
- 3. A record of earnings — Each participant receives a statement annually which reflects all deposits and accrued earnings.
- 4. Insured safe — I.R.A. accounts are insured safe to $40,000 by a permanent agency of the U.S. Government and by the strength and experience of a pioneer Michigan financial institution.
- 5. No Cost — D&N I.R.A. accounts are still administered free. Shop and compare — you'll choose D&N.

Today, the plastic revolution has almost completely taken over the coaster industry. But, did you know that in past centuries, coasters were fine household items crafted out of silver with the utmost care? The first coasters, made in the middle of the eighteenth century, were circular stands with low rims 2" to 3" in height. They were used for holding decanters or bottles. Most of these coasters had a wooden base with a silver disc inset in the center. The family crest or initials were engraved on this disc. Mother-of-pearl or bone were also used for the disc. The design in rims varied from pierced geometric patterns to ornate Bacchanalian scenes.

Letters to The Editor of The NEWS

To the Editor:
We, the Grosse Pointe North Student Curriculum Committee, would like to make clear our stand on the issue of awarding a bonus grade point to those students enrolled in an Honors or Advanced Placement Course.

It would seem, according to a "Letter to the Editor" in the Thursday, January 26, issue of the NEWS, that North student Bill Cobau presumed our position to be in favor of this proposal. This is not so.

We do agree this idea has some merit. But any plusses derived from this program are so overruled by the negatives that we feel we must take a stand against it, and for several reasons.

First of all, when awarding bonuses to those who take more challenging courses, we must ask ourselves several questions: Are we to pay our students for getting an education? The original incentive for taking an honors course was the advantage the AP student would have over the student in an "easier" class — the wider scope taken, the surplus of material covered.

Isn't this payment enough? Although the AP course requires more homework than the lower-level class, the increased knowledge received is "bonus" enough. If a student's only debate over whether or not he would take an AP class is that he could possibly receive a higher grade in an easier course, then perhaps he doesn't belong in the AP class.

At this point, we must question the student's values — what is he looking for in an education? Is it useful knowledge and abilities or a high grade point average? If it is the former, we have no need for "bonus" points. If it is the higher grade, perhaps the student should examine his reasons for getting an education more closely.

Our second reason for opposing this program lies in the question of where to draw the line on which classes are to be awarded bonus points and which aren't. Certainly there must be art and English courses which are more difficult than the other ones.

Who, then, is going to decide which classes are going to get an extra grade point and which are not and how are they going to decide? Who is going to "play God," in a sense?

This individual must not stop here. If he is going to be completely and utterly fair, he must also decide which teachers are more difficult than others and put them into levels or groups. And by doing this, we fear that among the students there would be, by virtue of teacher- and course-difficulty ratings, a variety of groups or inclusions.

Included would be an elitist group of students in higher classes with tougher teachers and a lower class of students in lower-level classes with easier teachers. We feel that this type of division among the students is not desirable.

Another reason we oppose the idea of extra honor points is that for every person you are rewarding justly, there are probably just as many you are compensating unjustly.

By hindering, we mean the offering of bonus points for AP courses could possibly lure in those students who are not ready for the AP workload. And compensating the adept student who would take the class, and do well anyway, makes this bonus an undeserved reward.

This program also dictates that it is easier for one student to be the same for another — and this simply isn't true. For example, some students find classes such as art, auto-motives or physical education easy while others find them more difficult.

With all these negative factors to consider, we the Grosse Pointe North Student Curriculum Committee, must take a stand against this proposal. There are just too many problems which would arise if this program were implemented. In theory it may sound good, but in fact it is very impractical.

However, if the real reason behind the origin of this idea was to keep up falling enrollments in the honors courses, we suggest that a closer look be taken at the inter-building program. Under this situation, all students interested in an honors course, such as AP Chemistry would meet for class at one high school. This program would be similar to the ones in effect now, namely, the Vocational Automotives classes at North and TV and Radio Repair at South. These programs seem to be running successfully. Why not apply this system to the AP courses?

The Grosse Pointe North High School Student Curriculum Committee, Michael Villaire, James Clinton, Claire Curtis, Suzanne Gotham, Cathy Franklin, Brian Kritzman, Stephen Lazurenko, Peter Loren and Susan Saalen.

To the Editor:
On Thursday, December 15, while driving on Lakeshore road, I saw a home where the drapes were on fire. There were six women in the car and we drove up the drive blowing the horn hoping to call attention to anyone in the home.

We were unable to see if anyone was in the home, so I went to a fence and screamed to a neighbor who was sitting down to dinner. He told me he would call the fire department. We kept checking to see if anyone was in the house but we were still unable to see because of the smoke.

A police car came up the drive and the officer got out and walked over to the front of the house.

All of a sudden, the side door opened and a woman in a robe with nothing on her feet came out coughing. My boss took off her coat and covered her up. I then saw through the smoke a pair of legs and I ran into the house and pulled a man in a robe out of the house and shut the door because he kept insisting on going back into the house.

These two people were cold with very little on so I looked through the police car for a blanket and could find none.

I went back to the fence and screamed to the neighbor who, in spite of his neighbors' house burning, continued to eat his dinner with his family.

I asked if he could bring blankets and slippers for these people. Ten minutes later he brought one blanket and one pair of slippers for two people. He again left not offering any help.

After both fire trucks were there, we left, but not before I saw the neighbor who had come to watch the fire. I asked him if he could bring another blanket and slippers for the gentleman. This man just looked and said nothing.

What a sad world we live in, when we can't give help to a neighbor in need.

The only reason I am writing is to find out why your police cars do not carry blankets to use in emergencies such as this. Also, what do you suppose parents tell children as a reason for eating dinner while a neighbor's house burns?

Jaqueline Larese, Of Dearborn, Mich.

On the morning of Thursday, January 26, we awoke to find that the snow prediction had arrived. We turned our radio to WJR at 6:30 to hear the list of school closings. We listened carefully until 8 and did not hear any mention of Grosse Pointe Schools being closed.

After telephoning various parents in our school district, they too confirmed that they had not heard Grosse Pointe Schools listed in the closings on the stations they had tuned in.

At 8:40 we phoned Mason School to report that our child would not be attending school that day due to the blizzard conditions. We were informed that the schools were closed — but by that time teachers and children had already trudged through a severe snow storm, only to be sent home. This certainly does not coincide with our "E" program and children's safety program.

Upon calling the School Board on Monday, January 30, we were informed that the decision to close had been reached by Dr. William Coats and Ben Zenn and had been reported to the news media at 7.

Evidently Grosse Pointe got lost in the shuffle of school closings by all radio stations. Individual schools were not notified of closings until after 8 a.m.

Surely there was enough warning for the board to make some plans to issue instructions to avoid this senseless trek of little people through these terrible conditions.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters, Director of Public Libraries

While it is certainly true that the best way to raise a successful garden is by trowel and error, reading a book or two of instructions won't do any harm.

Indoor gardening is growing in popularity and seems especially appealing when there are 12 inches of snow on the ground and the temperature stays well below the freezing mark for weeks on end.

GROWING IT INDOORS. (Saturday Review Press, 1975), by Richard W. Langer is a hefty, information-packed volume of 365 pages telling you everything you need to know to successfully grow all kinds of indoor plants, from the familiar to the exotic, from the easy to the fussy.

Over 250 different plants, grouped by family, are individually discussed in Part One. Part Two, on overall care, tells you what questions to ask when buying a plant, how to select the right soil mix and pot, when to water, fertilize and prune and much more.

The book is illustrated with over 100 line drawings by Susan McNeil and contains an index of 21 pages.

Virginia Beatty, an internationally known horticulture expert, has joined with the editors of CONSUMER GUIDE magazine in writing a practical guide for successful indoor gardening entitled, RATING AND RAISING INDOOR PLANTS. (Simon and Schuster, 1975).

This remarkable book provides you with information needed to correctly select plants for your home and life style. It tells you how to keep your plants "happy" and healthy, plus how to make more plants; a veritable treasure-trove of facts, inside tips and decorative ideas.

For everyone who shies away from growing house plants because of the dirt, the fuss and the fear of things drying out if left for a few days, here is the first book devoted to growing plants indoors in nothing but water.

THE INDOOR WATER GARDENER'S HOW-TO HANDBOOK. (Walker, 1973), by Peter Loewer, is a modern telling of the old hydro-culture started by the English botanist, John Woodward, some 300 years ago.

If you've tried your hand with house plants and experienced frequent failures, you probably over-watered. Hydroculture will substantially increase your win-loss score as an indoor gardener.

The view from your window need never be barren or gray. It can be green all year long. John Bracken in his book YOUR WINDOW GREENHOUSE. (Crowell, 1977), tells you how.

Under the controlled conditions of a window greenhouse you can grow all those plants that just don't make it on their own indoors, and add to your green thumb prowess by raising vegetables, herbs and exotics as well as getting a head start on spring with annuals and perennials.

Detailed construction diagrams and easy-to-follow instructions make it possible for the beginner to construct a window greenhouse. However, you can buy a prefab.

A final reminder, house plants aren't born, they're made. There is no botanical species native to an environment enclosed by four walls and a roof. This means, if you stop to think about it, that getting any plant to grow successfully indoors is a real triumph for you the grower.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools

Although I have recently been discussing other matters of importance to the schools and the community in this space, I want this week to return to a description of our Board-approved goals for the schools and libraries for 1978.

I propose to discuss briefly four more, (from the total list of 22 goals), in order to give readers an idea of the direction in which the schools and libraries are headed during 1977-78.

Goal Eight: Develop, implement and evaluate a "Management by Objectives" model for the school system. To achieve this end, administrative workshops are being continued with a variety of special projects established to outline goals. Each administrator in every department and instructional unit is developing specific objectives for his or her areas of responsibility and relating these directly to the approved general school system objectives.

Goal Nine: Review and update Board of Education policies.

Because we do not believe that at the present time the Board's policies are sufficiently comprehensive to provide general guidelines for all areas, it is necessary to continue to develop, revise, implement, formally approve, publish and circulate policies relative to a number of important concerns.

Goal Ten: Adopt and implement a new system of teacher evaluation.

This project, begun in 1976-77, requires developing and implementing a new instrument for teacher evaluation which will differentiate among various levels of teaching performance and allow the identification of teacher strengths and areas needing improvement.

Goal Eleven: Review, modify and implement an improved plan for evaluating administrative performance.

In order to meet this goal, the process involved will include refining methods of determining contract renewal and awarding performance pay.

This brief description of four of the school system's goals for 1977-78 brings to 11 the total discussed in these columns to date. In future issues I shall devote space to the remaining 11.

Registration fee is $7 for individuals and $13 for couples. No auditions are required and members need not be Pointe residents.

The chorus is planning a Spring Concert in April with choral selections ranging from sacred to popular, and also will be rehearsing for a guest appearance with the Grosse Pointe Symphony at its May concert.

Further information may be obtained by calling 886-0710.

Puppet Theater Visits Schools

Chicago's famed Melikin Puppet Theater entertained students at Maire Elementary and University Liggett Schools with giant hand puppets in "Shoes and Ships and Sealing Wax" on Tuesday, February 7.

The performance at Maire was sponsored by the school's PTO.

The kids' favorite poems were given a new slant when performed by the colorful figures specially designed to help dramatize "The Walrus and the Carpenter," "Casey at the Bat," "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" and "Custer the Dragon," among others.

Presented in cooperation with the Detroit Institute of Arts Detroit Youtheatre, the Melikin Puppets have toured throughout Michigan since 1969. They were recently invited to perform for the National Festival of Puppeteers in California.

The Melikins have presented classic tales expressly adapted for young audiences throughout the Midwest. Detroit Youtheatre performances have included "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow," "Aesop's Fables," "A Christmas Carol," "The Sword and the Stone" and "The Greatest American."

As part of the Detroit Institute of Arts "Show on the Road" program, Melikin's "Shoes and Ships" will tour Michigan in February.

Nationally recognized as the largest center of performing arts for young people, the 12-year-old Detroit Youtheatre has contributed productions to the museum's touring program since its origination in 1974.

"Show on the Road" is partially funded by a grant from the Michigan State Legislature which enables professional performing arts companies to present exceptional productions to young people and adults across the state.

Now I KNOW that when Fine Arts Society of Detroit decided to do "A Community of Two," the charming, off-beat comedy by Tony Award winner Jerome Chodorov, as its February production, nobody could have predicted the Midwest would still be reeling from January's blizzard of the century . . .

I know these things take time, that rights must be secured, parts cast, rehearsals scheduled . . .

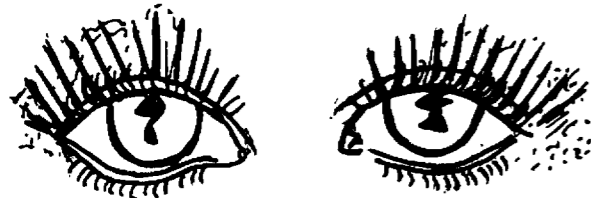

I KNOW there was no way to know, back at the beginning, that "A Community of Two" would be so particularly apropos in Detroit in the Winter of '78 . . .

But it does seem an awfully clairvoyant choice.

The play concerns a 40ish divorcee whose affairs become hopelessly entangled when she is locked out of her apartment in New York during — you guessed it! — a blizzard.

"A Community of Two" will be presented tomorrow and Saturday evenings, February 10 and 11, at the Players Playhouse in East Jefferson avenue.

Ann Diebel appears as man-across-the-hall Michael Jardin's girlfriend, an anthropologist just back from Lapland, (something else we can relate to this year; I don't know about you, but I wouldn't have been surprised to see a herd of reindeer wandering up Kercheval two weeks ago).

Argerich Plays in DSO Debut

Maestro Klaus Tennstedt will be on the podium when Argentinian pianist Martha Argerich performs with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in her Ford Auditorium debut appearances this evening, Thursday, February 9, Friday morning, February 10, and Saturday evening, February 11.

Thursday's and Saturday's concerts are at 8:30 o'clock. Friday's NBD Coffee Concert at 10:45 will be preceded by a complimentary coffee hour at 9:30.

Hal Youngblood, host announcer for DSO public radio broadcasts and executive producer of Radio Station WJR, will conduct an on-stage pre-concert interview at 10:15.

The program includes Mozart's Overture to "Le nozze di Figaro," Chopin's Piano Concerto No. 2 and Schubert's Symphony No. 9.

Internationally-acclaimed pianist Argerich is credited with a flair for the dramatic that allows her to seize the imagination of an audience and hold it spellbound.

A recent New York Times review characterized her as "fired with a temperament that made her a performer who would probably be unable to play a work dispassionately even if she wanted to."

Tickets for the Thursday and Saturday evening performances are available at $9, $8, $7, $6, $5, $4 and $3.50.

Friday morning's Coffee Concert ticket prices are $8, $6.50 and $5.

Tickets may be purchased at the Ford Auditorium box office, all Hudson's and Ward's ticket outlets and the Detroit Tonight desk at the Plaza Hotel in Renaissance Center.

Master Charge and VISA charge card customers may order tickets by telephone at 962-5524.

A limited number of $2 tickets for students and senior citizens is available at the box office starting at 7:30 o'clock concert nights.

Klaus Tennstedt, born in Merseburg, Germany, in 1928, studied piano, violin and theory at the Leipzig Conservatory. In 1948 he became first concertmaster at the Municipal Theater in Halle/Saale, then the theater's main conductor.

In 1958 he became general musical director at the Dresden Opera. In 1962 he became director of the State Orchestra and Theater in Schwerin.

Distinctive Dining by Larry Lavigne

An appreciation of food has often been likened to an appreciation of art, beauty, and the finer things in life. A want of taste with respect to food is, by the true gourmet, considered comparable to a want of taste with respect to aesthetics. Said the French writer Guy de Maupassant, "To be without a sense of taste is to be deficient in an exquisite faculty, that of appreciating the qualities of food, just as a person may lack the faculty of appreciating the quality of a book or a work of art. It is to want a vital sense, one of the elements of human superiority."

You will more than appreciate the foods we serve here at LAMBARDI'S RESTAURANT, 17125 E. Warren at Cadieux, Detroit, TU 5-9100. We not only feed our customers well and give them their money's worth, but we also cater to banquets and private parties. We will even create a menu for your special party. You can also enjoy our specially selected house wines, California's finest burgundy, rose and chablis, served by the glass, 1/2 litre and full litre.

GOURMET TIP:
When deep-frying, remember that hot fat rises several inches when you drop food into it. Choose a pan that is deep enough.

Kim M. Menagh Wed to Mr. Shea

She Wears Mother's Marriage Gown of Ivory Skinner Satin, Carries Duplicate of Mother's Bridal Bouquet

The Charles R. Menaghs, who moved from Blairmoor court to Montana in June, returned to The Pointe in late August for the wedding of their daughter, Kim Michelle Menagh, and John L. Shea.

Setting for the rites Friday evening, August 26, was Saint James Lutheran Church.

The Reverend George Kurz and Father Harry Hofmaster presided at the 7:30 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Detroit Yacht Club.

The newlyweds vacationed in Toronto. They are at home in Madison Heights.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory skinner satin, accented with hand-sewn seed pearls and crystals. Her train was cathedral length.

Pearls, crystals and applique covered the cap holding her fingertip illusion veil.

She carried a duplicate of her mother's wedding bouquet: white orchids, shattered carnations and stephanotis on Mrs. Menagh's original, white satin wedding ring circlet.

In frocks of creamy beige voile styled with lace-edged bodices, flaired sleeves and triple-tiered skirts of cafe au lait lace were honor matron Mrs. Richard McGregor, of Osceola, and bridesmaids Polly Easton, Mrs. Brent McCreedy and Mrs. Peter Juziuk.

They carried brass cricket boxes filled with dried flowers in shades of beige, apricot, gold and green, with apricot and cafe au lait velveteen streamers.

Mr. Shea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Shea, of Harper Woods, asked William Mel Oakley to act as best man.

Ushers were George S. Shea, a brother, Clayton J. and Jason C. Menagh, brothers of the bride, William Stipek and Lloyd D. Switzer.

The mother of the bride wore a mint green knit, its bodice accented with crystals and beads. The bridegroom's mother chose coral chiffon, also bead-accented.

Elizabeth Cass DAR Cites Good Citizens

Elizabeth Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, meeting Monday, February 6, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, awarded DAR Good Citizen pins to 10 students from local high schools.

The boys and girls, nominated by the faculties of their respective schools for qualities of leadership, dependability, service and patriotism, are now eligible to compete for state and national DAR Good Citizen awards.

A $1,000 scholarship will be presented to the National Good Citizen during the DAR's Continental Congress in Washington in April.

Mrs. John Kirsch, chairman of the Elizabeth Cass Good Citizens committee, presented pins to Grosse Pointe South High School student Catherine Williams, Grosse Pointe North student Edward Hammer, Harper Woods High student Lorna Rose, Bishop Gallagher High student Linda Marchiori, Regina High student Maureen DeLave, Saint Florian High student Paul Selcyn, Hamtramck High student Victoria Bolek, Saint Ladislaus High student Roberta Biringer, Lincoln High student Ted Stephens and Warren High student Linda Rybinski.

Mrs. Marvin Putnam, a member of the DAR National Speakers board, presented a copy of "The Washington Landmarks," a book on the DAR, to each recipient.

After a short business meeting guest speaker Mary G. Wilbert, from the Detroit Edison Company, spoke on "It's Your Energy: Use It Wisely," illustrating her talk with slides.

Members of the chapter and the community are invited to view the American History Month exhibit assembled by Mrs. Philip White and Mrs. E. J. Holihan in the display case at the Grosse Pointe Main Library, Kercheval avenue at Fisher road.

Heart of Gold Luncheon Set

Eight metropolitan area volunteers will be honored for outstanding community service at the 11th annual Heart of Gold awards next Tuesday, February 14, in Cobo Hall.

The 11:45 o'clock luncheon, co-sponsored by the Heart of Gold Award Council and Women for the United Foundation, is open to the public.

Guest speaker will be Lenore Hershey, editor-in-chief of the Ladies' Home Journal. Michigan's First Lady, Mrs. William G. Milliken, also will attend.

Tickets for the event are $7.75. They will NOT be available at the door. Ticket information may be obtained by calling the Heart of Gold office at 965-7100, Extension 247.

Nominations for Heart of Gold awards were submitted last November by community agencies, groups and individuals throughout the Detroit area.

Award Council members, who represent 45 leading women's organizations, narrowed the field to 29 semifinalists from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Each of the eight finalists, selected by a panel of community leaders, will receive the traditional gold, heart-shaped charm symbolizing extraordinary community service during the past year.

Serving as final judges this year were Paul Borman, president, Borman's, Inc.; Walter F. Brown, vice president, Uniroyal, Inc.; David J. Gillespie, chairman of the board, Kenyon and Eckhardt, Inc.; Levi Jackson, urban affairs manager, Ford Motor Company; Robert D. Matuja, vice president, Groesbeck Lumber Company; Mrs. Arthur R. Seder, Jr., and Mrs. Gerard R. Slattery, both Farms residents.

Chairman of the Heart of Gold Award Council is Mrs. Wilbur H. Boutell. Vice chairman is Mrs. Eugene A. Cafiero. Both are members of the board of Women for the United Foundation.

Lenten Dramas Set at St. Paul

A series of six chancel dramas will be presented by the pastors and members of Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church, 375 Lothrop road, during Lent.

The first drama, "Salvation for Sale," was presented on Ash Wednesday, February 8, by players Dr. Richard Jacobs, Norma Jacobs, Pastor Paul E. Christ, Wendy Launs, Tim Fick and Donna Ireton.

The remaining plays will be presented every Wednesday during Lent at 7:30 p.m. and usually at morning services at 10 a.m. The plays were written by W. A. Poovey, professor of homiletics at Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque, Iowa.

They were designed to enliven one's faith and increase personal involvement in Lenten worship, using broad themes from the life and teachings of Jesus.

The series will offer a variety of dramatic types—biblical, modern, parable and morality—as it presents with simplicity and reverence the themes of dealing with guilt, Christian love and the revelation of God.

Remaining plays in the series include "All Things New" on February 15, "From Here to There" on February 22, "The Man Who Returned" on March 1, "Through the Veil" on March 8 and "The Great One" on March 15.

South Cagers Lose EML Lead

By Wallace Bruce

South High's Blue Devil basketball team dropped out of the three-way tie in the Eastern Michigan League (EML), in an embarrassing 73-49 loss to Sterling Heights Stevenson on Tuesday, January 31.

An impressive opening surge by the Titans left South trailing 22-3 after the first quarter. Foul trouble on the Devils' part gave Stevenson 23 points from the line.

South's high scorers were center Jim Parsons with 13, and guard John Hartman with 12. Now, with Stevenson and Roseville tied for first in the league, South is hopeful, for Roseville still has to play both the Titans and the Devils.

South was barely edged by Port Huron in a 66-60 overtime decision on Friday, February 3.

With a 17-point lead in the third quarter, and a 43-28 score at the end of that period, South replacements came in from the bench and were outscored 28-13 in the fourth quarter to tie the score at 56-56 at the end of regulation time.

In overtime both John Hartman and Kevin Connolly made four points to secure a victory.

High scorers in the game were Parsons with 21 points, and Bob Baker and Hartman with 16 and 15 points, respectively.

DCD Defeats Liggett, 2-1

The University Liggett School, (ULS), hockey team lost to its arch rival, Detroit Country Day (DCD), School, 2-1, on Thursday, January 26.

ULS was at a disadvantage from the start without first string defenseman Bill Seaver. Then in the first period, with ULS leading 1-0, the Knights lost another starter, Jamie Todd, when he broke his collar bone.

The second period was Country Day's. They controlled play continuously, posting 19 shots and scoring twice. Despite a good performance in the third period, ULS failed to come back.

In two other games against Pontiac Catholic on Saturday, January 28, and Lakeland on Sunday, February 5, ULS controlled the puck and defeated Pontiac, 15-0, and Lakeland, 5-3.

The Knights record in league play is now 9-4, and their overall mark is 14-4.

Tax Program Airs Feb. 14

Are social security benefits taxable? Do tax preparers have to give clients copies of their returns? Will the usual April 15 federal income tax filing deadline really give way to an April 17 rush?

Tax questions like these, as well as inquiries from any citizen wishing advice, will be answered on Channel 58 as it links up with other Michigan public television stations to present "Countdown April 17."

This special evening of televised tax help, originating at the Detroit station, will be Tuesday, February 14, at 7:30 p.m.

Viewers from around the state will be able to phone in their tax questions to a team of over 80 IRS experts and tax researchers. People who tune in also will see a new "Viewers' Tax Test," in which changes and complexities in the tax laws will be explained by the quiz method.

A half-hour program to open the lines for questions and explain the new tax laws which will affect filers starts the program. Then, while regular programming resumes, viewers can continue to call in their questions.

During lengthened station breaks at 8:50 and 9:50 p.m., the IRS will make reports on those questions asked most often by viewers calling in.

Finally, at 11 p.m., "Countdown April 17" will feature another 30-minute program which will wrap up the whole evening's proceedings.

PWP to Hear About Grief

The next general meeting of the Grosse Pointe Chapter of Parents Without Partners, (PWP), will be held at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, Friday, February 10.

Coffee and conversation begin at 7:30, the meeting at 8:30 p.m. An afterglow, place to be announced, is held after the meeting.
