

CITY, FARMS TO REASSESS

HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, February 23
PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER has urged the Secretary of Defense to study "alternative sites," (other than Michigan), for the construction of Project Seafarer. In a memo to Secretary Harold Brown, the President personally ruled out the construction of a 2,400 mile submarine communication project but concluded that there is "no alternative" to build a smaller version of the same project. The memo, for the most part, serves to confirm plans already proposed by the Navy.

Friday, February 24
CHRYSLER CORP. reported losses of $49.7 million in the fourth-quarter of 1977 yesterday. The troubled company also said that it will lose money in the first-quarter of 1978. The number three automaker said it managed a profit of only $163.2 million, ($2.71 a share), for the whole of 1977. The heavy fourth-quarter losses caused a sharp decline from the 1976 annual earnings of $422.6 million, ($7.02 a share). Chrysler, in a letter to shareholders, blamed the decline on lower unit sales.

Saturday, February 25
A TANKER CAR carrying 2,000 gallons of propane exploded yesterday in Waverly, Tenn., setting the town on fire, killing 11 people and injuring more. A second propane tanker on the 24-car freight train had to be foamed to keep it from exploding. Six hours after the blast devastated the town of 4,000, fires still burned in the downtown area. Waverly's Mayor Jimmy Powers has asked for federal help in rebuilding the town.

Sunday, February 26
THE OUTCOME is in doubt, but leaders of the United Mine Workers, (UMW), campaigned yesterday a 10-day campaign to win the striking union's approval of a new contract with the coal industry. If, when the secret ballots are all in on March 6, the approval is granted, significant coal deliveries are not likely until mid-March. So far, miners in four of the five UMW locals voted 357 to 163 against ratifying the contract.

Monday, February 27
A NOTHER FREIGHT train derailed yesterday in Youngstown, Fla., rupturing tank cars and spewing a cloud of chlorine gas across a busy highway. Authorities reported eight persons were killed and 67 were hospitalized. A five-mile radius around Youngstown had already been evacuated when officials called for more evacuations late last night due to the drifting fumes and possible explosions at the derailment site. At least 88 other people were treated and released at area hospitals for chlorine gas inhalation.

Tuesday, February 28
THE FIRST substantive test vote in the Senate on the Panama Canal treaties was rejected yesterday, with a 55-34 vote on an amendment which would have effectively killed the agreement. The vote, however, was not seen as a barometer of ultimate Senate sentiment on the treaties. Whether the treaties pass or not will not be known for several weeks. Before the vote on final ratification, dozens of amendments must be dealt with, which the Senate says will take weeks.

Senior Club Sends Plea To Carter

Club Members Urge Administration to Adopt More Prudent Fiscal Policy

By Wendy K. Settle
The Senior Men's Club of Grosse Pointe, in a letter and petition to President Jimmy Carter dated Monday, February 20, has requested that the President take another "long hard look" at his fiscal policy.

The petition, signed by 240 of the 1,000-member club, cites five reasons why the "administration and Congress should adopt a more prudent and conservative national fiscal policy."

Those five reasons include the following: 1) The shrinking value of the U.S. dollar; 2) The growing federal debt; 3) Continued sale by the Treasury of notes and bonds; 4) Proposed raise in the ceiling on the national debt; and 5) Spiraling inflation.

Will Keep Pushing
The petition gives no recommendations as to how the President could adopt "a more prudent and conservative" fiscal policy.

"We'll leave the recommendations up to the President," said A. D. Rueggsegger, chairman of the club's Legislative Lookout Committee and co-author of the petition. "But I'm not very optimistic about the response we'll get."

Cottage Hospital Cites 21 Employes for Service

Compliments from Cottage Hospital Administrator Ralph L. Wilgarde and Trustee John N. McNaughton lauded 21 hospital employes who were honored by the trustees at a cocktail and dinner party last month at the Lochmoor Club.

"You are the people who give Cottage Hospital its fine reputation for service," Mr. McNaughton said, declaring that he had "firsthand knowledge of the excellent teamwork among employes" because of his own hospitalization at Cottage last summer. Mr. Wilgarde congratulated the 21 persons receiving awards for their many years of service, and said that he was "proud of the people at Cottage when we had the

Disco-thon to Be Held at Grosse Pointe Hunt Club; Local Merchants Help by Donating Prizes

Local teenagers may discover a new way to have fun while raising funds for a community cause on Friday, March 10, at the FLEC, (Family Life Education Council), Disco-thon at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, 655 Cook road.

All proceeds from pledges will benefit FLEC which also supports Center Point Crisis Center, a medical clinic for young adults, a legal clinic, Dialogue, an adult help line, an alcohol education program.

Pointe and Harper Woods high school students are invited to participate in the Disco-thon. Students at North High School, South High and University Liggett may pick up sponsor forms at their schools. Forms also are available at the FLEC office in Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue, and Center Point Crisis Center, 17150 Maumee avenue.

Can Be Friends

Sponsors can be friends, family, neighbors or local merchants who may pledge any amount per hour of dancing. In order to be admitted to the dance, a student must bring his sponsorship form showing he has accumulated at least $3 in pledges per hour.

Those who wish to sponsor a dance may call 885-3510. Contributions are tax deductible.

First, second and third prizes will be awarded for the most money collected by

Farms Views Punch Contract

The Farms Council at its regular meeting on Monday, February 20, received a rough draft of the agreement being prepared between the city and the Punch and Judy theater.

The agreement, being written by City Attorney George McKean, maps out the conditions and safeguards that the council has asked the theater's management to follow.

When the final agreement is drawn up it will be signed by the representatives of the Punch and the city. It will then go on file as an agreement to the ordinance under which the theater operates, permitting live performances and regulating the quality of films shown.

The council expects to have the final agreement presented for its approval at one of the council's meetings in March.

Counseling Plan Proves Beneficial

Youth Service Division Program, Started in 1971, Helps Many Young People

The Youth Service Division's, (YSD), part-time volunteer counseling program has proven a valuable tool since its inception in 1971, as 288 young people have completed the assigned counseling period and have been favorably terminated.

Of the "favorable terminations," 34 have had subsequent adverse police contacts in the Pointe area, making the recidivism rate 11.8 percent. In other words, the rate of successful experience has been 88.2 percent, according to a review of the program in the YSD's monthly report for January.

In total, 376 juveniles have been officially assigned to the program, with the bulk of these being classified in the "favorable termination" category.

Real Good Rate

The second largest number, 37, were classified as "unfavorable terminations," i.e. due to a lack of cooperation and/or a bad attitude. Of these 37, 11 have had subsequent adverse police contact in The Pointe area, making the recidivism rate 29.4 percent.

In commenting upon these figures, Woods Det. Jack Peterson, division supervisor in the detective bureau, felt the recidivism rate of 11.8 percent was "a real good rate. I'm very satisfied with it and the counseling program overall, including its association with the division."

On the "unfavorable terminations" classification, the lieutenant cited the "tough 70.6 percent" and said this was an example of the determination of the counselors.

For his part, Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, YSD coordinator, stated, "The overall counseling program, while on a limited basis regarding resources and personnel, has been very effective throughout the Grosse Pointes on cases referred to them."

Deserve Credit

In fact, Mr. Petersen felt the division's program had a higher rate of favorable terminations "than some more elaborate counseling programs."

Energy Crisis Discussed by Local Officials

Police, Fire Representatives Hear Address from Edison Representative, While Local Merchants Strive to Cut Use of Power

By The NEWS Staff

Concern remains over the current energy crisis and local officials and merchants continue to make preparations toward conservation in light of the effects of the coal strike and recent pleas from Gov. William G. Milliken to cut back on electrical usage.

Public safety officials from all five Pointes were clued in on what to expect should Edison have to interrupt the power supply to The Pointe at a meeting with a company official on Wednesday, February 22, at the City of Grosse Pointe offices.

Manager of Edison's Detroit District, James Oliver, told the group of 15 police and fire officials that their biggest problems will probably come in the area of traffic and security should the power be shut off.

Will Be Notified

"If we cut power to a certain neighborhood, all the traffic signals there will go out," Mr. Oliver explained. "The traffic flow will probably be disrupted, and it's likely there'll be an increase in accidents."

"Once the power is restored, the synchronization of the traffic lights will be off."

In the area of security, Mr. Oliver said many of the alarm systems used by local businesses and citizens will continue to function during the blackout, as long as their back-up battery systems have been maintained in good working order.

Mr. Oliver said the public safety departments will receive notification of impending power cutbacks at least one day before they occur so plans can be made to prepare for the contingency.

Good Response

Edison is considering several plans to inform citizens their power will be cut off. The most likely of these involves interrupting power for a period of 60 to 90 seconds, restoring it for 10 to 15 minutes and then shutting it off for two hours.

The community will be informed of any such plans well in advance, Mr. Oliver added.

Meanwhile, John Lobb, assistant manager of the Detroit Division, which encompasses all the Pointes, Detroit and a dozen other communities, and serves 650,000 Edison customers in southeastern Michigan, said some of Edison's big customers have been contacted by phone with the company representative.

Correction

Larry Rankens, the public schools' new director of business affairs, will start out his job at an annual salary of $32,000, not $26,000 as reported in last week's issue of the NEWS.

Decision on GPW Police Head Expected March 20

By Roger A. Waha
The final decision on the naming of a new public safety director in The Woods will probably not be made until around Monday, March 20, said City Administrator Chester E. Petersen.

Five of the final six applicants appeared before an oral assessment board on Saturday, February 25, with the candidate who didn't appear, apparently because of a conflicting engagement, no longer considered, he said.

Mr. Petersen will now await a written report on the oral board from the public management firm The chairman of the board was Forbes McCann of McCann Associates, Inc. Other members included Court of Appeals Judge George Bashara, Oak

Authority Faces State Deadline

Incinerator Plant Told It Could Be Shut Down by July 1, 1979 Unless It Meets Code

By Wendy K. Settle

There is a strong possibility that the state Air Pollution Control Commission, (APCC), could shut down the Grosse Pointes-Clinton Refuse Disposal Authority by July 1, 1979, if the authority doesn't bring its incinerators up to state code by that date.

The authority has never passed the state's emission tests since the plant was built in 1972.

"We have been facing it, (the authority's), foot-dragging for the past five years," said Thomas Schimpf, assistant attorney general, environmental pollution division. "And every year we give them one more year to bring the plant up to code... and every year they flunk the test. They just don't want to meet state law."

Different Views

All garbage from the five Pointes, Harper Woods, Mount Clemens and Clinton Township is burned at the authority. The actual plant is located in Lipke road, between Fourteen and Quin roads, Clinton Township.

The problem the authority faces in meeting the state standards is surrounded by lawsuits, a bond issue, questionable test formulas and a severe disagreement between the state and the authority.

The authority says it does meet the code and the state says that it doesn't.

"We believe that our plant meets state code," said Edwin T. Hoover, general manager of the authority.

Mr. Hoover continued to say that the question lies with the formula the state uses to test the particulate discharge. Everything tested in the plant is related to the particulate count. The plant could pass other areas of the test but if the particulate count is too high, then the plant doesn't meet state code and the APCC can legally shut it down.

Property Values Rise 8 Percent

Officials Explore Need for Adjustments; Boards of Review Scheduled by All Pointes

By Susan McDonald and Roger A. Waha

Property values—and probably most property taxes—will soar an average eight percent in The Pointe this year as the result of community-wide reassessments in The City and Farms and new state equalized factors in The Park, Woods and Shores.

Citizens will be notified of their increased assessments—the highest in recent years—through the mails beginning late this week. For communities accepting the equalized factor from Wayne County, a flat percentage of about eight percent will be uniformly applied to all property.

In The City and Farms, however, the increase will vary from zero to as much as 20 percent on some property because of the reassessments.

Similar Problems

Officials in those two communities said they chose the house-to-house reevaluations, based on recent sales figures, in order to correct growing disparities between different classes of property in their cities. The Farms last reassessed in 1971. The City in 1972.

"Some homes, especially the middle and small sized ones, are selling and increasing in value much faster than the large homes," explained City Finance Director Dennis Foran.

"Every year that we apply a flat percentage to all the property the disparity continues to grow and puts an unfair burden on some taxpayers."

"The only solution is to reassess," Mr. Foran said.

Farms Comptroller Carrol Lock faced a similar problem in his community.

"The type of house that has increased in value most out here has been a two-story colonial, with about 15,000 square feet—not the very large homes," Mr. Lock said.

"Wherever our valuations are out of line with the market, we stay out of line or even get worse every year we apply the factor," he added.

Biggest Increases

As a result, owners of many of the large Lakeshore and Jefferson avenue homes in both communities will not face any increase in assessed valuation this year, while owners of smaller, more saleable homes may be hit with steep increases.

On the average, values of The Farms' 4,000 parcels of property will jump 8.8 percent, bringing total assessed values, (50 percent of market price), up to $138 million for the entire community.

The biggest increases in The Farms will be on such streets as Fisher, McMillan, Moran, Merriweather, Cloverly and Touraine roads, to name just a few, according to Mr. Lock.

Businesses, many of the new subdivision developments and most of Lakeshore road will face little or no increase, he said.

Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer said the council will meet on March 20.

GPF to View Reassessments

Farms Comptroller Carrol Lock will discuss the recent reassessment of Farms real property values at a public meeting Saturday, March 4, in the council chambers, 90 Kerby road, at 2 p.m.

Although citizens will not receive their individual assessments before the meeting, general questions about the procedure are encouraged.

City, Farms in Process of Reassessing Property

(Continued from Page 1) The city will consider adjusting its property millage tax in April when it starts budget planning.

In The City, the average increase will be about eight percent, but 65 percent of the homes will receive higher jumps, according to Mr. Foran.

Expect Complaints
 The hardest hit area will be north of Jefferson and east of Neff road where some properties may go up as much as 15 percent, he said.

Wayne County had proposed a 9.3 percent increase, (through a factor), for The City this year. Mr. Foran's lower reassessment, of eight percent, will bring the taxable evaluations to a total of $66 million for the entire community.

Both city assessors are expecting to hear quite a few complaints and appeals in coming weeks on the new assessments. Boards of Review dates have been set for Tuesdays, March 14 and 28, in The Farms, and Monday and Tuesday, March 20 and 21, in The City. Times have yet to be set in The City, while The Farms will meet on the 14th from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 6 to 9 p.m., and on the 28th from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The officials ask that citizens keep in mind the reasonableness of the valuation, in comparison to their neighbors, and the fact that the assessed valuation is to be 50 percent of the market value when they go before the Boards of Review.

Woods City Comptroller
 Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher said assessed valuations in the city, including both the residential and business sectors, will rise around eight percent in 1978 over last year.

The city's factor this year is placed at 1.23, whereas a factor of 1.14 was utilized in 1977. (A 1.00 factor is assessed at 50 percent of the market value.)

In noting all cities' rates have to be 50 percent of the market value, Mr. Hornfisher indicated that a higher factor had to be set to compensate because residential and commercial rates were below 50 percent.

The Woods, which last adjusted its own assessments, i.e., tax rolls, in 1975, used a 1.00 factor from 1968 through 1975. The factor then jumped to 1.07 in 1976.

This means that the roll figure, which could be changed if inequities become too great, will be the same in 1978 as in 1977 with the 1.23 factor being applied to assessments this year.

As an example, a home has an assessed valuation of $20,000, i.e., 50 percent of the market value, and when multiplied by the 1.23 factor, the total assessment would be $24,600. (Twenty-three percent of the $20,000 figure equals the additional $4,600.)

Mr. Hornfisher felt the higher factor was a good sign because it indicated that property values were increasing. "The market is very good," (also in relation to sales), he said, while noting that supply and demand is a big factor in this respect.

When asked if a higher factor necessarily means higher taxes for citizens, Mr. Hornfisher replied, "We adjust our tax rate to take into consideration an increase in assessed valuations."

Homes Sell Well
 Every year we compensate for the increase in assessed valuations when a new tax rate is considered at budget preparation time, he added.

As in The Woods, assessed valuations will jump about eight percent in The Park's residential and business sectors this year over 1977, said James Ellison, director of public service.

The Park's factor this year is placed at 1.23, whereas last year it was 1.15. In both 1972 and 1973, it was 1.00, while in 1975 it was 1.04 and two years ago it was 1.09.

Mr. Ellison, who noted the last time The Park adjusted its own assessments was in 1972, also felt the higher factor was a positive sign. Saying the city is staying abreast with inflation, he noted that homes in the community are selling more than twice the assessed value.

In fact, he said some are selling two and a half to three times over such value.

Meanwhile, in The Shores, Thomas K. Jefferis said his community's factor this year is placed at 1.30.

Last year, it was 1.21, while in 1976, it was 1.14, in 1975, 1.08 and from 1972 to 1974, 1.00.

Mr. Jefferis estimated that assessments will rise around seven and a half percent in 1978 over last year, while noting the last time the Village adjusted its own assessments was in 1972.

Unlike his associates in The Woods and Park, Mr. Jefferis didn't feel the higher factor was a good sign because of the thrust of inflation it reflects, particularly in relation to the high selling price of homes.

Boards of Review in The Woods, Park and Shores, giving citizens who consider themselves aggrieved by their assessments an opportunity to speak, will be held this month.

In both The Woods and Park, the days of the Board of Review are Tuesdays, March 14 and 28, while in The Shores they will be held Monday, March 13, and March 14.

The Woods' times on both days are from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and from 1:30 to 5 p.m., while in The Park, the Board of Review will be held from 8 a.m. to 12 p.m., from 1 to 5 p.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m. In The Shores, the board will meet from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m.

Park Approves Jaycees' Plan

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees are going ahead with their plans for a Bike-a-thon scheduled for May 13 with the proceeds being contributed to the Children's Hospital Research Program for Reyes Syndrome.

The Park Council at a recent meeting granted the Jaycees permission to use the Three Mile Drive Park as the assembly and finishing point.

Douglas Dold, Jaycee representative, also asked for and was granted approval to change the date of the Bike-a-thon to May 14 in the event of bad weather. The hours of the fund raising event will be from 1 to 5 p.m. Mr. Dold said that May was picked because it is annually designated as bike safety month throughout the Grosse Pointe School System.

He told the council that between 300 to 500 Pointe residents and school students will participate in the Bike-a-thon under the sponsorship of the school system, with the Jaycees seeking sponsors from several large businesses in the Detroit area.

Mr. Dold said older students and residents will pedal their bicycles on Jefferson avenue and Lakeshore road and the younger ones will be given specific routes near the Three Mile Drive Park.

The council granted permission for the event with the understanding that the Jaycees coordinate their plans with the city manager and Police Chief Henry O. Counce and abide by the rules and regulations set by the police department.

By the time the Bike-a-thon takes place, City Manager Robert A. Slone will have retired. He will leave his post on Friday, March 31, but will remain a month to help his successor, John Crawford, who comes from Centerline, Mich.

Bible Series Set at Church

Mrs. Charles Wright III of LaSalle place will discuss the Old Testament prophet Jeremiah on Sunday, March 5, in Room 204 of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 18 Lakeshore road, at 10:30 a.m.

Her talk is part of a series at the church scrutinizing Biblical figures whose lives exemplify issues of today. The talks are open to the public.

At the same time, in the church lounge, Dr. and Mrs. William Leith of Westchester road will lead a study of the stages of individual growth and development.

Practicing therapists, the Leiths will show a video tape of the CBS special "Everybody Rides The Carousel" based on the findings of noted American psychologist Erik Erikson.

CURRENT EVENT
What this country needs is a New Year's resolution that will pay the Christmas bills.

NO PROBLEM
The thirst for knowledge has one big advantage—it leaves no sign of a hangover.

New Director, Officers For Inter-Faith Center

The Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice recently announced a new slate of officers and at-large delegates to its board of directors as well as a new executive director for 1978.

Officers include President John Urso of Westchester road, Vice-President Ann MacDonald of Balfour road, Secretary Katie Elslis of Three Mile drive and Treasurer Tom Kauffman of Gatehead, Detroit.

At-large members of the board of directors are Pointers William Francis, Joe Grano, Linda Grant, Diane Honstain, Father Tom Krell, Terry Lloyd, Willie Patmon, Betty Price, Gayle Queller, Arthur Sherman, Jim Simpson and Gail Urso.

The remainder of the board is made up of delegates from the center's active church members, who will be announced at a later date.

The Inter-Faith Center named former Pointer Edward S. Egnatios as its new executive director to succeed Gail Wingard.

Mr. Egnatios was graduated from University of Detroit High School and holds a BA from John Carroll University and a MSW from the University of Michigan.

He has served on the faculty of University of Michigan's Residential College for the last three years as the executive director of the Midwest Ass'n. of Housing Cooperatives.

Discussing the upcoming year, Mr. Egnatios cited new directions being formulated at the center.

"Our role in achieving racial justice in 1978 is a critical one. The Grosse Pointes exercise leadership throughout the Metro Detroit area; yet with leadership comes responsibility.

"We hope to remind Grosse Pointers that although we have been active for 10 years now, racism, particularly institutional racism, still cripples our social growth and personal happiness," he said. "We have a great deal to gain from recognizing the problem and seeking solutions to it within our own community.

"We hope to work more closely with member churches and interested community groups on this issue."

Mr. Egnatios continued, "The next year will see the formation of a new youth program at the center, designed to assist young people in preparing them to live in a pluralistic world.

"We also are in the midst of designing several adult educational programs on the Christian response to racism and the future of the Grosse Pointes," he added.

The center will continue the work of its Education, Crime and Housing Task Forces as well next year. The work is supported by Pointers through individual and church contributions.

Mr. Egnatios is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Egnatios of Lakeshore road.

The former director, Ms. Wingard, has been employed by the center for three and a half years and was praised by the board for her fine services to the center and excellent contributions to the Midwest Points during that time.

Jaycees Eye Fire Safety

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees announced this week that effective Wednesday, March 1, and continuing through Friday, March 31, they will be sponsoring a Fire Escape Awareness Program called "Red Balls for Freedom."

Lou Zedan, external programs director, said, "The purpose of this program is to increase the awareness of the Grosse Pointe community relative to the importance of fire prevention, fire safety and identification of bedrooms where children and elderly citizens are sleeping."

The red balls being offered by the Jaycees are three inches in diameter and designed to be placed on the window of bedrooms.

Such placement, according to Mr. Zedan, will allow firemen to prioritize rescue operations in those rooms displaying the red balls.

"Many communities throughout the nation have successfully implemented this program," states Mr. Zedan. "We feel it is our responsibility as a civic organization to do whatever we can to heighten the public's awareness that fire safety is nothing to be ignored."

The red balls can be obtained in quantities of three by sending $1 with a self-addressed stamped envelope to the Grosse Pointe Jaycees, P.O. Box 36124, Grosse Pointe 48236.

Musica Series Offer 'Elijah'

The Musica Series of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, will present Felix Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," performed by the Ann Arbor Cantata Singers and Orchestra, on Sunday, March 12, at 7 p.m.

This group of 40 singers and 40 instrumentalists of professional calibre has especially established itself in bravura performances of large works.

Begun in 1960, the Cantata Singers is directed by conductor Bradley R. Bloom, who has among his credits the preparation of choruses for Robert Shaw. The Ann Arbor Council for the Arts helps support the Cantata Singers.

Using Biblical texts, this romantic work approaches Handel's "Messiah" both in scope and popularity. Mendelssohn composed "Elijah" in 1846 for the Birmingham (England) Festival and it received immediate success, including commendation from Buckingham Palace.

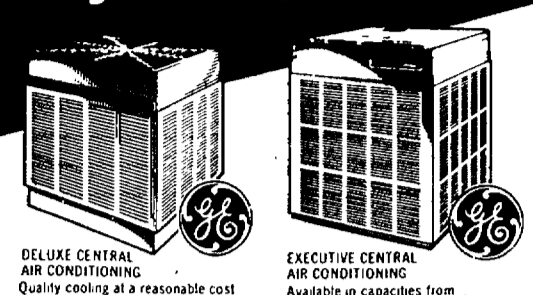

Many parts of "Elijah" have become favorites and standard repertoire for church choirs and soloists.

"Elijah" is divided into two sections. Part I deals with the curse of drought on the people of Israel, and the triumph of Elijah's God over the worshippers of the idol Baal. Part II shows Elijah's banishment to the wilderness, his holy visions and his ascent into heaven.

A booklet complete with background and text will be provided at the concert. Reservations can be made by calling 882-5330. Tickets are $3 for adults and $1 for students.

'Valhalla' Seeks Community Aid

The "Valhalla," North High School's award-winning yearbook, is celebrating North's 10th anniversary with a special edition. The theme for this year's book, New Directions, will explore the past 10 years and what the next 10 will hold.

Its staff is asking the community for financial support for the venture.

In order to subsidize the book's cost, the staff depends on contributions and the selling of advertising space. Without this money, a 25 percent reduction of the cost of the book to the students would not be possible.

As in the past, patronships are available to the entire community. For a contribution of $5, $10 or $15, the contributor's name will be listed as a Bronze, Silver or Gold Patron in the community section of the book.

This year the staff also is offering a section devoted to local professionals. For this often overlooked part of the community, the professional directory states the professional's name, address, occupation and telephone number, all for $15.

Advertising fills most of the community section. The advertising section of the book not only gives the local merchant a chance to show his support for the community's youth, but also creates a sound financial basis for the book, according to the "Valhalla" staff.

For more information on patrons, ads or the professional directory, send or phone inquiries to: The "Valhalla" Staff, Grosse Pointe North High School, 707 Vernier road, Grosse Pointe Woods 48236.

Because of printing deadlines, information must be received, by Wednesday, March 9.

YSD Managers Slated to Meet

A meeting of the Youth Service Division's (YSD), board of managers, including all Pointe city managers and a School Board representative, will be called within the next two weeks to make plans for the division's 1978-79 fiscal year budget, reported Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, YSD coordinator.

At that time, a request from The Shores, discussed at a specially called board of managers meeting in June, regarding the present method utilized to determine the allocation of each local government's pro-rata contractual share of the division's budget, is scheduled to be considered.

Last summer, Shores officials, while citing the fine quality of service the division provides, expressed a concern over the allocation method, currently based on SEV, (State Equalized Valuation), in relation to an overall feeling that The Shores, because of its low case load, wasn't receiving the full benefits it was paying for.

As a result, Village President Gerald C. Schroeder, speaking in behalf of the council, said the criteria should be based on population, rather than SEV.

NAMED MANAGER
Pointer Barrett O. Brink has been appointed a district manager at the American Appraisal Co. In this capacity, Mr. Brink will be responsible for the firm's business development activities in the state of Michigan.

PLUG UP THE HOLE IN YOUR WALL AND SAVE 24% IN HEATING COSTS!!!

You may not realize it, but every home has a furnace AND a chimney. This chimney is nothing more than a hole in the wall that lets the hot air escape. When the furnace goes "off," there should be some kind of device to PLUG UP this hole and keep the warm air in the house.

Just such a device was invented in Germany and has been used and proven throughout Europe. It is called EFFIKAL and it is an Automatic Damper System.

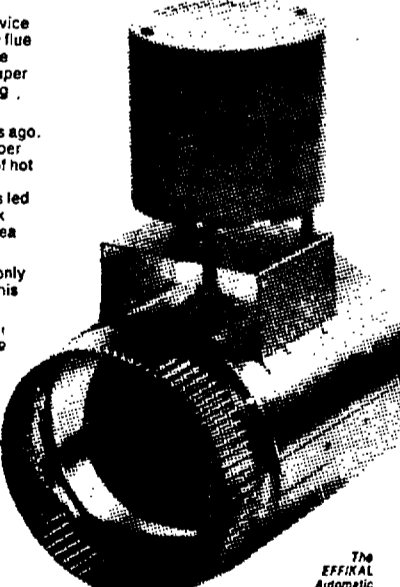

What is an automatic damper?
It is an electronic and mechanical fuel-saving device which when installed in your furnace-to-chimney flue pipe will open before the burn cycle and close the moment the burn cycle ends, thus preventing "super heated" air already in your furnace from escaping, while your furnace is at rest.

Our grandparents recognized this principle years ago. They would open and close their stove pipe damper by hand as needed, thus preventing the escape of hot air. The high cost of home heating caused by the extreme cold winters and possible fuel shortages led us to "rediscover" the old manual damper. It took today's technology to make our grandparent's idea work and work safely on modern furnaces.

The EFFIKAL Automatic Damper System is the only system that incorporates a Gas Flow Detector. This makes the EFFIKAL system absolutely failsafe!

As the name implies, the Gas Flow Detector detects the flow of gas. As soon as a flow of gas is evident the Flow Detector opens the damper automatically providing complete safety. Even if the pilot should go out and the gas valve should fail, the automatic damper would remain open and vent the dangerous gas out the chimney. As far as is known, the EFFIKAL Automatic Damper System is the only damper offered with such a high degree of safety!

This is why Michigan Furnace Company is proud to call the EFFIKAL Automatic Damper System a failsafe system.

• Tested at Detroit Testing Laboratory
• Approved in Greater Detroit Area

EFFIKAL means Efficient Calories

You can save 3% or 4% by lowering your thermostat or by installing the EFFIKAL. You can save an average of 24% on fuel and maintain your standard of living without sacrificing comfort — ergo through efficiency you can save a lot more than through conservation!

The failsafe Gas Flow Detector is exclusive with Michigan Furnace.

Energy Crisis Viewed

(Continued from Page 1) questing a 10 percent reduction. At this time, since the pleas were issued, he said information from across the entire system for all classes of customers have indicated a three percent reduction in usage. Mr. Lobbia feels this is a significant response since it has been about two weeks since the appeals were made and time remains for everyone to get rolling. "But we're still asking for a 10 percent reduction," he cautioned.

Concerns Remain
 While saying the overall picture was still on the bleak side, Mr. Lobbia said he was more optimistic with the proposed soft coal industry contract and the hope that it would be ratified. Meanwhile, coal conservation is still the keynote with Edison urging its customers to conserve until the contract is ratified and the outlook alters. Saying that many variables are involved in what appears an ever-changing situation, including key conservation efforts by customers, the use of oil over coal and the flow of some coal, Mr. Lobbia said the possibility of blackout does remain a definite reality. As for specific figures on energy conservation in The Pointe, he said the company has no way of measuring this "until we can read the meters and calculate the billings." At the same time, he added, "We really don't try to calculate what Grosse Pointe has done in relation to some other cities."

Meanwhile, in a communication to members of the Grosse Pointe Merchants Ass'n., which includes members, (97 last year), along both sides of Mack Avenue from The Park to The Woods, Robert F. Hill, president, requested everyone to tighten their energy belts after the group's board of directors met on February 22.

They were Mrs. Margaret MacRae of the x-ray department, Carolyn Thomson, chief medical technologist, and Mrs. Bessie Winkle of the nursing staff. Mrs. Margaret Smith, a medical technologist, was presented an award for her 15 years of service. Fourteen persons became eligible for the 10-year service award, which is the first award presented. They included Mrs. Ruth Boerner, Mrs. Dorothy Galarno and Mrs. Ann Reilly of the business office; Mrs. Yvonne Eldredge, executive housekeeper, and Mrs. Ann Ruska of the housekeeping department; and Mrs. Charlotte Fikes of the respiratory therapy department.

More are Ethel Harmala, director of medical records, and Mrs. Lois Komara of the medical records department; Mrs. Josephine Javorski of the laundry department; George Ludwig of the x-ray department; Mrs. Helen Peete and Grace Orlando of the dietary department; William Rudasill, assistant administrator; and Mrs. Shirley Whelan of the nursing staff. Trustees Mrs. Sterling E. Graham Jr. and Mrs. James E. St. Denis were in charge of the dinner arrangements. In addition to the awardees, guests included members of the board of trustees, departments' heads and employees who had previously received awards.

Let's Talk Real Estate

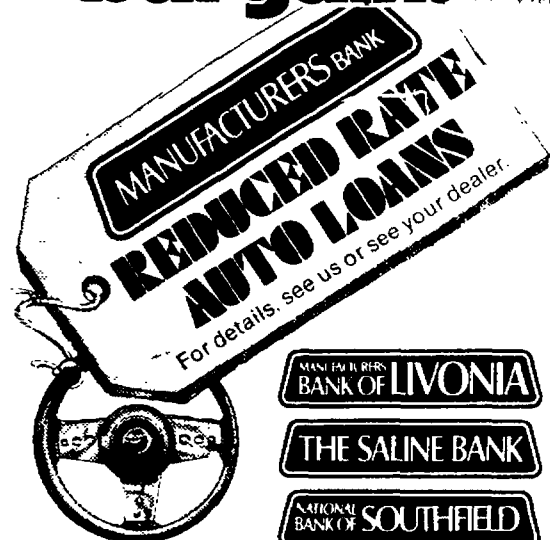

by John E. Brink

People keep calling Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. asking what they should do to their house to prepare it for its maximum sale price. Right now the market is so strong for the seller we're advising that they simply get their house on the market as fast as they can! This violates our usual idea that if you put two thousand in you'll get $4000 back in added value. But, the facts are that homes are getting above top dollar and there doesn't seem to be an end to it!

What this means is that if you're considering—simply considering selling you should get one of Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co.'s associates out to your house now. He'll show you our computer print out and just exactly where your house would be placed—price wise. He'll show you how the ERA one year conditional warranty will increase the value of your home. He'll show you how our on-staff designer is at your service, free of charge. He'll show prospective customers how a new kitchen, family room or extra bath could be added. This service alone will cost John Public around $500.00!

We can go on and on but why not see and hear first hand. You'll be amazed at the new value of your home. We'll also show you how to take advantage of this strange market by buying low and selling high. Give us a call at Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087.

Plea to Carter

(Continued from Page 1) Mr. Ruegsegger worked on the petition with the Club's past president Thomas O'Keefe. "Mr. O'Keefe had the idea and did the research. I followed up and wrote the letter," Mr. Ruegsegger said.

The two-page petition quotes "U.S. News and World Report" and the "Wall Street Journal" as research sources. Attached to it are eight pages of club member's signatures.

Mr. Ruegsegger noted the club's ultimate goal in this matter is to make the administration aware "of what he, (President Carter), is doing," he said. "We hope something will happen."

This is the first communication to the President that the club has sent. Mr. Ruegsegger said they are planning on sending more. "We're going to keep pushing along these lines," he added.

Others Get Document
 Copies of the letter and petition also were sent to the director of the Office of Management, the Secretary of the Treasury, the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and the respective chairmen of the Senate Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs, Budget and Finance and the chairmen of the House of Representatives' Committees on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs, the Budget and Ways and Means.

Sen. Robert Griffin also was sent a copy of the document but as of the NEWS press time, the senator had not received it.

Mr. Ruegsegger, who is an attorney and a Republican, concluded that he hoped that the club's petition would be recognized. "Something has got to be done about our nation's fiscal situation," he stated. "And something can be done if we just pull in our belts and curb our spending."

More Seniors In GP Woods

Woods senior citizens recently completed a review of voter registration information and discovered that around 506 more seniors are living in the community now than two years ago when the check then revealed 3,150 citizens.

While an estimated 635 seniors moved or were deceased within the two-year period, George Kaltenbach, who reviewed the records with other citizens, said the overall gain of 506 makes the current total 3,656 citizens 60 or older living in The Woods. Mr. Kaltenbach said this updated information will be an aid to the city in total, to planning consultant Brandon M. Rogers and in the organizing and scheduling of programs for seniors.

Others reviewing the records included Alice Cairns, Elizabeth Goelzer, Loretta Wilton, Edna Guimond, Dr. Albert Eckel and Fritze Komerska.

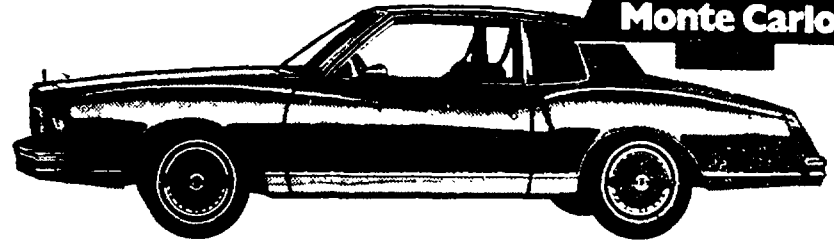

It's the trouble that's dumped on a man—not the trouble he expected—that is crushing.

Pleads Guilty To B-E Charge

A 17-year-old Harper Woods youth pled guilty to a charge of breaking and entering a dwelling with intent to commit larceny, before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Horace Gilmore on Thursday, February 23, and is scheduled for sentencing on April 6, reported Woods Det. Charles Philip Hamel last week.

The youth, Kelly Roy Pillotte, of Beaufait road, is charged with the burglary of a North Oxford road residence on Thursday afternoon, February 2, and he also is under investigation for the break-in of another North Oxford home, police said.

Meanwhile, Youth Service Division Det. James Fowler filed a petition on another Harper Woods youth with Wayne County Juvenile Court for breaking and entering stemming from the same incident. This boy was 16 at the time he allegedly committed the break-in on the 2nd, but is now 17.

Det. Fowler also filed a petition on the youth for possession of stolen property, saying that a shirt stud button, allegedly taken from the one home, was ultimately discovered when he was arrested with Pillotte on the 2nd.

In the one incident, Woods police received a tip from a watchful United Parcel Service driver, who spotted the suspects inside the home, which suffered a broken window. Pillotte was arrested at the scene by Officer John DeLora, while the fleeing youth was apprehended a short time later by Woods and Shores police.

Articles reported taken from the home in which the two youths were spotted, including a jewelry box with three diamond rings, two watches and a gold watch chain and bob, were recovered, along with the shirt stud button and a watch, valued at around $2,000, allegedly taken from the other residence.

Thieves Visit GP City Home

Thieves escaped with almost $4,000 in household appliances from a University place home on Thursday, February 23, according to City police.

Marjorie Whiteley told police she left her home at 688 University for just an hour and a half, between 6 and 7:30, and returned to find it ransacked and several items missing.

Police said the thieves left footprints similar to those found at the scene of a Washington road burglary earlier this month and the breaking and entering of a Farms home several weeks ago.

Among the items stolen were two stereo speakers valued at $600, a tuner, $899, amplifier, $479, pre-amplifier, $499, turntable, $535, microwave oven, $434, and a $500 television set.

The thieves apparently gained entry by taking off a storm window over the kitchen sink in the rear of the house and forcing the sash open. Police suspect two persons were involved, taking the items to a car waiting in the vicinity.

Little League Sign-up Set

Registration for Little League in The Park will be held at Defer Elementary School, 15425 Kercheval avenue, on Tuesday, March 14, and Thursday, March 16, between 6:30 and 8 p.m.

The fee for registration is $20 per player and $25 per family. The program is open to all Park boys and girls who will be age eight before August 1, 1978, and will not be older than age 13 before August 1.

Children registering for the first time are requested to bring a birth certificate.

NEVER LOSE VALUE

Faces State Deadline

The state and federal standard says that the plant cannot discharge more than .30 pounds of particulate per 1,000 pounds of gas. The last state test, conducted in June 1977, showed the plant discharging .49 pounds of particulate, according to a report from the attorney general's office.

State tests, reported Mr. Schimpf, over the past five years all show high discharges. In March 1976 a test showed .76; in October 1975, .51; June 1974, .38; April 1973, .58; and in October 1973, .377 was the test result.

Charles Towner, attorney for the authority, said, "We're contesting the state's emission standard testing formula." He added that if the state used a different formula the plant would pass the test.

But Mr. Schimpf reported that the contractor, the authority and the state "sat down and agreed on the testing formula before any testing was done."

Two years ago when the state told the authority that it wasn't meeting the standards, the authority went to the builder of the plant and sued the company for not building the plant up to code.

Wait Until Settled
"We disagree with the state's test results but just in case they're right, we want the contractor to build the plant to meet the state's code," Mr. Towner noted.

The lawsuit with the builder is still pending. In fact, the suit hasn't gotten into court yet. "We're still in the discovery stages of the suit,"

City Approves Refuse Bonds

The City Council became the fourth Pointe governing body to give its approval Monday, February 27, to the Grosse Pointes-Clinton Township Refuse Disposal Authority to issue $1.2 million in bonds for improvements to the facilities.

The bond issue will cost The City $4,500 a year, or about $2 per family.

Proceeds from the bonds will be used to finance construction of a new 200-foot exhaust stack that is intended to bring the incinerator into compliance with state clean air regulations and to purchase an ash disposal landfill site. The incinerator is now equipped with 100-foot exhaust stacks.

The facility is located in Lipke road, between Fourteen Mile and Quin roads in Clinton Township. It serves the five Pointes, Harper Woods, Clinton Township and Mount Clemens.

The new stack construction is taking place at the direction of the state Department of Natural Resources, which cited numerous complaints from Clinton Township citizens about the odors emanating from the short stacks.

All eight communities included in the authority must approve the bond issue. The Woods, Farms and Park gave their okay in January.

The plant runs 24 hours a day, except on weekends, burning about 500 tons of garbage a day. Cities pay $14.25 a ton to have their refuse processed.

The facility was built in 1972.

RUSCHE NAMED

John P. Rusche of The Farms has been named a vice-president of the Sandy Corp. in Southfield. Mr. Rusche has been business and production manager for one of the corporation's key accounts. In his new position he will oversee the production requirements for all of the company's accounts.

Mr. Towner said, "In three to six months we should be to court. It's a very involved case with a lot of parties and cross suits."

If the authority wins the lawsuit, and the state says the plant still doesn't meet the code, then the contractor will have to pay for the necessary work needed to pass the test.

"We're withholding payment of funds from the contractor until the suit is settled," stated Mr. Hoover. "And we want the state to hold off until our lawsuit is decided — that's our timetable. And the state isn't satisfied with our timetable."

But meeting the state's code isn't the only problem the authority faces. Odor from any such plant can be unpleasant and the people who live close to the plant have been complaining about the smell from the plant's smoke stacks.

Won't Solve Problem

So for the past few months officials of the authority have been lobbying to float a $1.2 million bond issue to build a new stack and for land acquisition for land fill.

The building of the new stack will not affect the particulate count or bring the plant up to code, but it will relieve the discomfort that the area residents are experiencing.

Mr. Hoover and other representatives of the authority have approached the councils of The Farms, Park, Woods and City regarding the bond issue. All of those councils gave their approval to help pay for the bonds.

The Shores has not yet taken any official council action and the other communities involved have taken a positive view toward the bond issue.

Mr. Schimpf said, "I think it's wonderful that they, (the authority), want to build a new stack and cut down on the smell. However, that won't solve their problem with the code."

Order Remains

John Shaffer, chief of the source-sampling unit of the state air quality control office, is the man who conducted the tests at the authority. He said, "Building a new stack has nothing to do with the particulate count; it will just cut down on the odor."

Sometime in April, Mr. Towner will represent the authority at a public hearing with the APCC. At that hearing, the state's complaint over plant non-compliance will be discussed.

As Mr. Schimpf put it, "At the hearing we, (the state), will show our evidence on why they don't meet the code and they, (the authority), will show why they think they do meet it."

Regardless of the outcome of the April meeting, in Lansing, the APCC's order remains—"clean up or shut up."

Parcells Plans Pancake Dinner

All the pancakes you can eat, three sausages and a beverage will be selling for $1.75 at Parcells Middle School, 20600 Mack avenue, on Wednesday, March 15, from 5 to 7:30 p.m.

Proceeds from the supper, sponsored by the school's PTO, will be used to supplement education programs. Tickets may be purchased from Parcells students, from the PTO pancake chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Roger LeClerc, at 884-6378, or by calling the school at 881-8950. They also may be purchased at the door the evening of the dinner.

At 7:30 p.m. there will be an orientation program for sixth grade students who will enter Parcells next fall.

"TOYS FOR MEN"

Tanker Ban Won't Hurt GP

By Wendy K. Settle

The State Senate has approved a bill that bans double bottom tankers carrying hazardous materials. But Pointe residents currently don't have to worry about their service stations running out of gas.

"Because of the neighborhood," said Standard-on-the-Hill owner Tom Pitlock, "Standard stations in Grosse Pointe are considered 'high priority' stations. I'm sure some other stations may suffer but I can guarantee that we'll never run out of gas."

Mr. Pitlock also is an area dealer representative for Standard Oil Co.

Steve Conlan, manager of the Village Standard station, agreed with Mr. Pitlock. "Our pumps are always at least half full, (the average gas pump tank holds 10,000 gallons). Standard Oil has been buying single bottom tankers for some time, so the banning of double bottoms really won't effect us," he said.

The Senate passed SB 1032 by a vote of 24 to 6, with the proposed ban becoming effective May 1. The bill also restricts single bottom tankers to carrying not more than 9,000 gallons of hazardous material.

A second bill, SB 1254, was passed by a vote of 30 to 0 along with the ban. That bill would give State Police the right to conduct random checks of all rigs throughout the year. A special state commission also would be created to study the designs of tanker trucks and recommend design improvements.

Mack avenue stations bordering the Pointes also said they were confident that they would always have enough gas.

Jerry Watson, owner of Watson's Service, a Sunoco station at 17450 Mack avenue, noted that he would have to plan ahead on his supplies. "It would be possible to run out of gas but I seriously doubt that I will," he said. "I keep my tanks full so I have three days leeway instead of one or two."

"It's possible that I could run out but not because of gas supplies... it's because of manpower and equipment," said Tom Lemanski, owner of the Shell station at 20397 Mack avenue. "But because of the way I order my supply, I really don't think I'll ever run out."

The two bills have been sent to the House Committee on Roads and Bridges. The state-wide ban on double bottom tankers would be enforced by the State Police.

Failures can be attributed to the want of thoughts as well as from wanton thoughts.

Woods Church Hosts Speaker

Dr. Jack L. Stotts, president of McCormick Theological Seminary, will lead a workshop on the topic, "Conflicts and Divisions: Necessities for Christian Ethics," at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, on Sunday, March 5, from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

Pastors and lay members of some 100 churches in the Detroit Presbytery and of the churches in Grosse Pointe have been invited to the workshop, along with the Woods congregation.

Dr. Stotts also will preach at the 11 a.m. worship service as the first Andrew F. Rauth Memorial Speaker, a program to bring outstanding pastors, professors and speakers of the Christian faith to the church. This service and the workshop are open to the public.

Dr. Stotts is author of "Believing, Deciding, and Acting" and "Shalom: The Search for a Peaceable City." His memberships include the American Society of Christian Ethics and the Society for the Scientific Study of Religion.

Prior to his current post, Dr. Stotts served churches in Wallingford, Conn., and San Angelo, Tex., and on the faculties of the University of Tulsa, Florida Presbyterian College and Saint Mary of the Lake Seminary. He also is a professor of Christian Ethics at McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, Ill.

Broken Main Causes Flood

Shores public safety officers were unable to locate the cause of flooded basements in homes in Shoreham road and Lakeshore lane on Tuesday, February 21, until it was discovered that a water main had broken in front of 35 Shoreham.

The resulting gush of water flooded the streets and the sewer system was unable to drain the water fast enough to prevent it from backing up through the soil pipes.

The first report of a flooded basement was received from Mrs. Agnes L'Heureux of 25 Lakeshore lane, who called the public safety department to complain of a flooded basement. She asked that the Village office be notified to send somebody to check the cause.

Harry McCole of the Department of Public Works was dispatched to look for the cause and was unable to find the reason. He suggested that Mrs. L'Heureux call a plumber to check out the house sewer pipe system.

Then other calls came in from Lakeshore lane and from Shoreham road, and Public Safety Cpl. Chester Painter checked the area and discovered the main break in front of 35 Shoreham.

DPW Superintendent Stan-

ley Vernier was notified of the incident and a crew was dispatched to the scene. The water was first turned off to permit the flooded street to drain away and the water in the basements to recede.

The water was then turned on again at a low pressure to effect repairs during the day, but during the night of Wednesday, February 22, it was completely turned off, except for 15 minutes at 7 a.m. until the damaged water line was repaired.

It was not disclosed how much water entered the basements of the homes, or how much damage it had caused.

Abduction Case Has New Date

The Wayne County Circuit Court trial date for a 21-year-old Detroit man, who's charged with robbery armed and assault with intent to murder stemming from an incident last October at the Eastland Shopping Center, was adjourned from Thursday, February 16, to Wednesday, March 8, reported Harper Woods police last week.

The suspect, Richard Johnson, is allegedly involved in abducting a 30-year-old Woods woman and her six-year-old daughter at knife point, forcing them to drive on the I-94 freeway and slashing the woman in the abdomen area.

After the auto struck the median, the fleeing suspect was apprehended a short time later by Harper Woods police in the area of Brys Park, St. Clair Shores.

The woman was treated at Saint John Hospital and ultimately released, while the daughter wasn't injured in the incident.

Center Hosts Art Auction

The Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice will hold its annual art auction on Saturday, March 4, in the Fries Ballroom of the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road.

Albert Scaglione, PhD, of Parkwest Galleries, will conduct the auction, beginning at 7:30 p.m. with a champagne preview of the 150 pieces of original art.

A catalog will be available describing the works, including those of Dali, Escher, Calder, Chagall, Picasso, Miro, Alvar, Appel and Friedlander.

Admission is $3 at the door. Master Charge, Bank Americard and American Express cards will be accepted for art purchased. Tickets and catalogs also may be purchased from the Inter-Faith Center office, 15120 Mack avenue.

Chairing the event are Joseph and Maura Grano.

The Center for Racial Justice is a non-profit organization, composed of representatives at large from the community and from each Pointe church. The center seeks to promote better understanding among members of all races and religions in the Detroit area.

YSD Counseling Proves Beneficial

 The one-on-one counseling approach was working to the advantage of the young people, putting them back into the mainstream of the community, while making them aware of their responsibility to the community as a whole, he continued.

"The YSD and its counselors who have contributed to the program deserve much credit for the high percentage of results achieved," added Mr. Petersen.

The third largest number, 18, were classified as "never seen" with nine of the young people having adverse contact later with police, thus making the recidivism rate 50 percent. Of the nine, there was one death resulting from a drug overdose.

Professional Help
 As the program is voluntary, with participation being agreed upon by the juvenile and his parent, attendance cannot be forced. Usually the offender is then warned and released with the admonition that a subsequent offense will definitely be referred to juvenile court, says the YSD in relation to the "never seen" classification.

Then, 15 juveniles were "referred to professional counseling" with four having adverse contact later. This makes a recidivism rate of 26.7 percent. Agencies assisting the YSD in this area include Catholic Social Services, Psychiatric Institute of Michigan, Lafayette Clinic or the Northeast Guidance Center.

Two other categories, "moved from area before counseling period completed," 11, and "seen, but assigned period of counseling not completed for an undetermined reason," seven, have no recidivism rates.

At the same time, unofficial counseling occurs at parental request or when a juvenile requests a second counseling period.

The YSD normally has three part-time counselors, who make $3 per hour, on its staff but on several occasions, depending on the case load, two counselors prove sufficient. When a trio of counselors are on staff, they each work between four to six hours per week.

Good Atmosphere
 This program was initiated as an alternative, intermediate resource to turn to for juvenile offenders in lieu of Wayne County Juvenile Court.

"It is not, strictly speaking, professional counseling, though the counselors are in their senior year of undergraduate study or better in fields of Social Sciences or Criminal Justice, and... participation is entirely voluntary on the part of the counselee and agreed to by a parent," says the YSD.

This program was initiated in the division, is "distinct in that the counselors are purposefully not many years older than the counsees but clearly have their lives under control, (in vernacular of the day, 'have their heads together'), and good rapport usually can be established, providing a comfortable atmosphere for talking."

The counselors are good listeners and have been trained to ask questions which help the counselee articulate repressed or vaguely formed thoughts.

"Once counseling and respect have been established

Center Eyes Band Battle

The War Memorial's Youth Council will hold its fifth annual "Battle of the Bands" on Sunday, March 12, at 6 p.m. Auditions have been taking place for two months and the committee has voted and chosen the six bands it feels represent the best bands in the area.

The bands chosen to compete are Fergus Kennedy's Purple Haze, Jeff Eickmann's band Fugitive, Bill Miller's band Fallout, Terry Hopman's band Eternity, Jim Junker's, Voyager and Ricky Lamore's "Grit Kids."

These bands will play one 45 minute set each the night of the contest. The bands will be judged in two categories, the most popular band, chosen by the audience and the most "all around talented" chosen by a panel of judges experienced in the field of rock music.

The battle has become so popular over the years, that the center is holding the function in the entire Fries Building, both auditorium and ballroom. Three bands will play upstairs, while three bands play downstairs simultaneously allowing continuous music.

Tickets for the battle can be purchased at the War Memorial's front office, from band members of from Youth Council members for $2.50. They should be purchased early, as all previous battles have been sold out.

For further information, call the War Memorial at 881-7511.

Brownell Sets Rummage Sale

Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue, will hold its annual rummage and bake sale in the school gym on Saturday, March 18, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Monies from this sale, as well as from the selling of calendars and placemats at other times of the school year, are used for summer scholarships to Michigan music camps and for special music clinics at Brownell taught by visiting professional musicians.

The music program at Brownell is an active one as many instrumental groups and soloists compete annually in music festivals. Student instrumental groups also visit other schools and learn from their programs.

YSD Reviews January Incidents, Child Safety

A total of 34 complaints involving juvenile offenders and abusers of drugs of all ages, were referred to the Youth Service Division (YSD), in January for follow-up investigation by the Pointe police departments.

Saying this case load is remarkably low for a 31-day month, the division reported it is one over last January's total, also a very cold winter month.

Besides reviewing the reported incidents, the YSD focused upon the reports in The Pointe and Harper Woods area of children being accosted by men in vehicles. In every instance, the apprehended child backed away and ran home or to school, reporting what occurred to parent or teacher.

"We wish to note here the invaluable result of parental guidance and advice and of the child safety program put into effect approximately one year ago by the YSD and the school systems, public and private," notes the division.

The most important information needed by patrol and investigating officers, besides the usually good description of person and vehicle, is an accurate license plate number by which the registered owner can be determined.

"The keen sight and clear, sharp mind of a youngster can be of inestimable value if the license plate is ever in his view, and he is mindful of the importance of this information," says the division.

At the same time, the YSD cautions, "By no means should the child stop or even pause before fleeing in order to determine the license number. Getting away is the number one priority. But knowing the importance of the license plate number may improve the mental note-taking, even under the stress of the moment."

Last month, seven malicious destruction of property, (MDP), cases were reported.

WINS CONTEST

Gloria Santavica, daughter of Mrs. Olando Santavica of East Detroit and a senior at University Liggett School, was a first place winner in the Lawrence Institute of Technology Writing Contest. She won her $50 first prize for her critical essay entitled "God in C. S. Lewis' Narnia Tales."

These involved three identified boys and one girl. Four of the incidents remain unsolved to date, pending the receipt of new information or evidence.

"Types of MDP were the usual broken windows, thrown eggs and snowballs or ice, pickets broken from fence; and 1) an illegal entering of a church with destruction of two Christmas trees and living seasonal plants; 2) a corner mail collection box stuffed with snow," reports the division.

Meanwhile, a total of seven runaway cases, all girls, occurred. Three were self returned, while one voluntarily came to the division office and agreed to her parents being called for a family conference to air the problem.

Another had flown to California from where she contacted her parents, who arranged for her return flight and informed the YSD investigating officer that all members of the family felt the underlying problem was being identified and solved.

One girl was arrested and transported to the Wayne County Youth Home, while the last incident proved to be an elopement, which the parents accepted and no further division involvement was needed.

Larcenies, five cases, breakings and enterings, two, robbery not armed, one, possession of stolen property, one, and the unlawful taking and using an auto, one, involved 11 identified male juveniles with two adults. Of these categories, two incidents are not breaking.

One of the breaking and entering cases, specifically of a dwelling in The Park, also was an incident of arson with the juvenile responsible, (not a resident of The Pointe), attempting to cover the B-E/larceny by setting fire to the home's interior, causing thousands of dollars in damages.

Only one incident of Violation of the Controlled Substances Act was reported, involving one male juvenile and one male adult, while no cases of Violation of Liquor Laws or drunkenness were reported.

One application for petition, on the aforementioned burglary-arson incident, was filed with Wayne County Juvenile Court and the court quickly authorized the document on the 14-year-old boy.

Cancer Patients Can Get Help

Getting used to ostomy isn't easy. But with few adjustments and a little care, many patients lead active, normal lives.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation's East Service Center, 21312 Mack avenue, provides special assistance to persons who have undergone ostomy surgery, (creation of a small opening in the patient's side to permit the elimination of body wastes).

Ostomy surgery may be due to cancer, abdominal injuries, ulcerative colitis or obstructions of the bowel.

Eugenia Tokarz, RN, a Michigan Cancer Foundation rehabilitation nurse, helps patients cope with problems they may face after surgery. She also provides ostomy supplies and tips on diet and exercise.

The center is a service of Cancer Action Now, (CAN), the citizens action campaign against cancer, co-sponsored by the Michigan Cancer Foundation and the American Cancer Society and funded by the National Cancer Institute and the United Foundation.

It serves the residents of the Pointes, Detroit's east side, Harper Woods, Warren, Roseville, St. Clair Shores, Mount Clemens and surrounding areas.

The center also provides counseling, transportation, medical supplies and information to cancer patients and their families.

For more information, call the East Service Center at 881-2413, Monday through Friday. Ostomy patients may see Ms. Tokarz by appointment on Fridays from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Good judgment is founded on the true value of things—not on individual opinions of them.

Be prepared, clean up the little tasks of today, and be ready to tackle tomorrow's big ones.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters, Director of Public Libraries

Long before Alex Haley wrote ROOTS, Americans were busy searching for their ancestors. Genealogy began in 1771, the year Ebenezer Watson published a 24-page pamphlet on the Stebbens family of Hartford, Conn. It gave births, marriages and deaths from 1707 to 1771 for the Samuel and Hannah Stebbens' ancestors.

No library in the metropolitan Detroit area comes close to providing the depth and range of genealogical materials that are contained in the Burton Historical Collection in Detroit's Main Library, but your local library does have a number of books that can get you started in a modest way.

AMERICAN AND BRITISH GENEALOGY AND HERALDRY, (American Library Ass'n., 1970), is a selected list of books compiled by P. William Filby.

The book is intended for use by librarians, genealogists, historians or individual family researchers who are tracing family origins.

From a great number of possible titles, some 1,800 have been selected for inclusion as basic to research in the field. The extensive coverage includes both regional and ethnic groups of the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

Moreover, for each state of the United States, (except Alaska), there is a selected list of books considered the most useful for researchers in that state or peripheral states.

Family histories and general county histories have not been included in this highly selective list.

A time tested guide for amateur genealogists is Gilbert H. Doane's book, SEARCHING FOR YOUR ANCESTORS, (University of Minnesota Press, 1960).

Many people would like to know more about their ancestors, but few know how to go about it.

This book will help as it tells you how family records should be laid out, what information is necessary and desirable to use, how to guard against wrong information and wasting time on false leads and, in general, how to obtain the greatest amount of data with the least effort.

A chapter on how to go about finding ancestors in the old country is especially helpful to anyone going to Europe.

A readable and entertaining book, it is enlivened by touches of humor.

A Bicentennial project of the Michigan Daughters of the American Revolution was a book edited by Leontine Hollister Kleinert entitled HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL RECORD OF THE MICHIGAN DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, (DAR, 1976).

The book contains the record of officers and committees from 1964-76, as well as an account of the activities of the various state chapters. Elizabeth Cass Chapter is the local chapter and is very active in promoting genealogical research.

Ancestors of Michigan Daughters of the American Revolution members from 1964-76 are listed.

Another useful tool for ancestor searching is the HANDY BOOK FOR GENEALOGISTS, (Everton Publishers, Inc., 1971), edited by George B. Everton Sr.

Arranged by an alphabetical listing of states, the book is a genealogists' checklist of historical records maintained by each state and each county within the state.

Following the section on the United States, the genealogical records of 12 foreign countries are briefly discussed.

THE UNITED STATES CENSUS COMPENDIUM, (Everton Publishers, Inc., 1973), was compiled by John "D" Stemmons.

In this work are listed not only census records, but also any type of document that can be used as a census such as tax lists, petitions, oaths of allegiance, church members, directories, poll lists, et al. In general, military records have been omitted, except in the early colonial period.

Ancestor searching may be fun but one thing you can be sure of is it is hard work searching for elusive and forgotten ancestors. Good hunting!

Thieves Enter Bank Building

Two breakings and enterings were reported at the Manufacturers Bank Building, 20180 Mack Avenue, on successive days, Sunday, February 19, and Monday, February 20, reported Woods police. Two pocket calculators were reported missing.

On the 19th, Officer John Harwood learned that the culprits entered by breaking a window on the south side of the building. The area broken, approximately one foot in diameter, was under the window latch. The only offices reported entered were bank offices on the building's east side.

Then on the 20th, a cleaning lady entered the office suite and discovered where persons unknown had entered offices and broken into a number of desks. The window which was broken the previous day, and which was temporarily secured, remained untouched. Police said no signs of forced entry were seen.

The culprits apparently searched several desks as paper clips were found on the floor. Those involved also entered a refrigerator and took a paper bag with a sandwich. The bag was found stuck in the refrigerator door, while the sandwich was left on the floor in the middle of the main office area.

Take care—heed your conscience and your worries will take care of themselves.

Pointe Players Offer Operetta

In celebration of its 50th anniversary, the Pointe Players of South High School will present "Little Mary Sunshine" on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 9, 10 and 11, at South's auditorium, 11 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

All performance begin at 8 p.m. Tickets are $2.

The operetta is a satire based on Gilbert and Sullivan's opera "Naughty Marietta." Mary Sunshine, played by Sue Keegan, runs an inn in Colorado in the late 1800's, paying for the mortgage by the profits she makes on her chocolate chip cookies.

Helping Mary keep control of her inn are a group of forest rangers, lead by captain Big Jim Warrington, played by Eric Peabody.

For more information, call South High at 884-3200.

Wine Lines

by John Lundberg

The aging process is important in making fine wines. Tannin, a chemical substance in the skin of the grapes, is the element that makes the aging process necessary and simultaneously allows wine to stay fresh for long periods of time. The problem is that tannin in young wines causes a bitter taste. With age, the bitterness leaves. Beaujolais and light chiantis only have to age for a few months to reach their peak while other wines, such as red Bordeaux, Chanti Riserva, and California Cabernet Sauvignon need two or three years to come to maturity.

You can rely on the wine experts at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 to help you select a wine that is properly aged and right for your taste and budget. We feature an extensive inventory of imported and domestic wines and offer a 10% discount off of our already low prices for wine purchased by the case. Hours: 10-10 Mon.-Thur.; 10-11 Fri., Sat.

HINT:
Red wines, once opened, do not store well. Try to finish it when it is opened.

Open Meeting Law Eyed

The value of the "Open Meetings Law" to citizens and the press, which serves all segments of the community, continues to remain immeasurable, despite some inherent flaws in the legislation which could be rectified in the future.

Last week's story which reported the comments of public officials representing all Pointe municipalities and the School Board, ranging from the adjustment, (and acceptance), of some to the law, which became effective last April, to the obvious displeasure of others, i.e., some School Board and Park officials, showed fascinating extremes.

Woods Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, for example, said he is willing to discuss anything at all relating to the public welfare, the law's eight listed exceptions to closed meetings notwithstanding, while City Mayor John L. King likened his community's council meetings before and after this law became effective to the "town hall" concept.

On the other hand, the comments of some School Board members, based upon past attitudes and modus operandi, were not surprising. While concerns over discussing personnel evaluations in public are understandable, still it's the public's business because such personnel are responsible for serving the citizenry.

If some Board members have difficulty in communicating as completely as they would like in an open meeting and if, in fact, they feel it has limited their effectiveness as public officials in any way, that says more about the often apparent "rubber stamp" approach, i.e., hash it out in private, vote, (usually unanimously), in public, which has enveloped Board exchanges, (or lack of), in the past.

The point is that the public's business should be responsibly discussed in public.

Meanwhile, Park Mayor Matthew C. Patterson, who has served his city well for almost 14 years, cited the constant interruptions and delays which occur during public sessions, thus tending to slow the council down and limit its frankness. But actually, despite moments of frustration for all, (including representatives of the press on occasions), that's what it's all about.

The mayor also stipulated his feeling that the law was unnecessary because there is nothing underhanded going on in his community. His statement is appreciated but he shouldn't take the law personally, for it affects all communities, many who do have and/or have had "underhanded" dealings, throughout the state.

At the same time, officials did point out a defect in the current law — it doesn't effect all segments of government uniformly. The main exception cited in this respect was partisan caucuses of members of the state legislature. Such caucuses, whether on a state or county level, should be open to the public.

The law also contains other holes. One is when a public body properly calls a closed session to view subjects permitted for discussion in private. What actually is to stop any public body from discussing other matters than the one so stipulated toward rendering a decision at some point in time?

Another problem is in relation to the interviewing of candidates for a key governmental position. According to Attorney General Frank Kelley's opinion, (No. 5183), the act doesn't apply to committees and subcommittees of public bodies which are merely advisory or only capable of making recommendations concerning the exercise of governmental authority, because such bodies are not legally capable of rendering a final decision.

But Mr. Kelley went on to say if such a subcommittee contains the entire body of the public body which it serves, it would be a violation of the act to allow such subcommittees to meet in closed session.

Hence, three members of the Park Council, forming a subcommittee, were able to interview personally, (and by phone), candidates for the post of city manager. Technically called an application review committee, they were in touch with around 50 applicants and their actions, let it be made clear, were in compliance with the law.

While it might be cumbersome to permit the public's attendance at the majority of one-on-one interviews, the NEWS feels the law should be amended to permit public attendance at interviews after the number has been whittled down to, say, the five most preferred.

The public's presence when a city gets down to the nitty-gritty in such a case would be decidedly beneficial toward assessing the "finalists" for the position—prior to the decision of a public body.

But, despite some holes, the law is a good one for all concerned—the citizens, the press and public officials.

Attorney Moon to Give Talk

The balancing act by which lawyers counsel clients will be described by Pointer Charles R. Moon Jr. in a talk Sunday, March 5, in the Barbour Chapel of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, at 10:30 a.m. Mr. Moon of Vendome road will discuss specific situations in which legal and Christian ethics contrast as part of the church series "What Would You Do?" A specialist in municipal law and finance, Mr. Moon is presiding partner in the firm of Dickinson, Wright, McKean, Cudlip and Moon.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
As president of the Grosse Pointe Education Ass'n., I have been asked by many teachers to reply to a statement made by Dr. William Coats, superintendent of schools, concerning the recent snow day.

In the "Know Your Schools" article of February 16, Dr. Coats said he was "delighted that there were no mishaps or serious problems" as a result of the delay in closing our schools on January 26. Unfortunately, that statement is not accurate.

Per teachers' experiences, there were indeed "mishaps and serious problems" that day. These ranged from cars stuck or stalled to a serious automobile accident. One teacher's car was destroyed after being hit in the rear by a car filled with South High School students, (who, like the teacher, would not have been driving had school been called off earlier).

That teacher will have to pay $3,000 more than her auto insurance allowed for a new vehicle. That debt, plus physician's costs, is the result of having to drive to school on January 26.

Another teacher received a broken toe while attempting to push her car. Yet another staff member paid $10 for taxi-fare to school since she could not use her car. Numerous near-accidents have been reported, also.

Many Grosse Pointe teachers do not live in Grosse Pointe where "the streets are flat, etc." In fact, many drive over 20 miles to work. Thus, while we appreciate the Board's concern for the educational functioning of our school system, we do think there is cause for concern for the safety and welfare of students and staff.

We do not agree that there were no real problems encountered on January 26, due to the late closing of schools.

Sincerely,
Janice M. Greene,
president,
Grosse Pointe
Education Ass'n.

To the Editor:

I see where the trustees of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education have voted their intent to raise additional funds through a bonding proposal and increasing the millage without a vote of the people.

I am a member of the Grosse Pointe Woods Senior Citizens and, as such, meet with the group in the cafeteria of North High. We are grateful to the School Board for granting us this privilege.

However, I am aghast at the wanton destruction and litter. I had occasion last week to help set tables for a potluck dinner, and I would say conservatively that there are 30 or more tables so deliberately mutilated that the tops will have to be replaced before long.

These are beautiful formica topped tables, and I assume, were expensive.

I asked one of the maintenance men working in the adjoining room whether there was any supervision during lunch period, and he said, "No." In this school, the students run the school. Look at this mess—and this is an every day occurrence.

You wouldn't believe the litter on the floor. Not only are the tables being ruined, but the beautiful full length drapes have now been reduced to half length due to rips, cuts and large holes—constantly made larger.

It makes me sad and very angry that in a community such as this where every facility is furnished for the young people, that they in turn do not show some respect for school property.

I think the parents of children caught doing the damage should be held directly responsible. I can't help wondering if this is the way they live at home.

An irate senior citizen taxpayer, (who requested that her name be withheld)

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

During meetings of the Board of Education, staff members, trustees, students, and citizens talked at length about the pros and cons of awarding extra honor points for advanced courses at the senior high level.

At the request of staff members and community residents who were in attendance at those sessions, I am sharing the statement of our rationale for rejecting the request. While I appreciate and respect the input from the small group of North students, my basic position is in opposition to the proposal.

Several of the underlying issues which were indicated during the meetings are summarized below:

1. It is difficult, perhaps impossible, to identify the courses to be designated as advanced courses. Is Calculus really more difficult than Shakespeare or German Four or Chemistry or Figure Drawing Four or World Regional Studies-China?

Even a preliminary look into these issues suggested that it is misleading and inaccurate to stratify the program of studies into two parts, honors courses and regular courses.

Clearly, in terms of difficulty there is more variation among courses in the regular program than between the honors and regular programs.

It is clear even to a casual observer that more than two levels of difficulty exist. This being the case, a fair system to award honor points based on course difficulty would make it necessary to establish an index of course difficulty, rate each course for difficulty, place it on a scale and tie the grade point value to this index.

2. What denotative meaning does the word "difficult" have in the context of a "difficult course"? Certainly some teachers are more difficult than others.

Perhaps the best teacher is the most difficult. Should students receive extra honor points for having what might be the best teacher? How is teacher difficulty measured? How is course difficulty measured? If the 25 students in Calculus were to enroll in Shakespeare, would Calculus be more difficult than Shakespeare for all 25, or would some students find Calculus easy and Shakespeare difficult? Is Chemistry more difficult for a bright science major than Writing Workshop is for a student of limited ability?

An examination of these issues suggests the conclusion that one student's snap course is another student's downfall and that any definition of course difficulty is relative, not absolute.

3. Even if it were possible to stratify the curriculum into two or many levels in a way that would be educationally sound, past experience suggests that implementation of such a policy often results in a practice never intended or imagined by the policy-makers.

One effect of such a policy is that some bright students begin taking courses for the wrong reason. Students quickly discover they can earn a B in an honors course with much less effort than an A in a regular course and still get credit in terms of grade point average for an A.

4. Even if it were possible to overcome the objections already raised, adoption of such a policy is questionable on philosophical grounds.

The very process of segmenting the curriculum into two parts, one of which is recognized as being more worthy than the other embodies a value statement about the overall curriculum and the young people it is designed to serve. It contributes to the type of elitism which we are attempting to reduce, if not eliminate.

Because many students are barred from honor courses, the proposal recommended would make it mathematically impossible for most students to earn as high a grade point average as those fortunate enough to be admitted to advanced classes.

In summary, I believe the solution is two-fold. Teachers need to view honor students in much the same way that colleges and universities view graduate student, that is, nearly all students in honor classes should be getting A's or B's. The bell-shaped grading curve should not apply to these students.

The other more important issue involves counseling both in the school and at home. Students should be advised to take courses based on how much they will learn and how that learning will contribute to their personal and career aspirations. Also, college credit is often given for Advanced Placement courses.

Students should not take courses simply because they are easy. The purpose of a high school education is to learn. The purpose is not simply to get the highest possible grade point average at the expense of exciting, challenging and meaningful learning experiences.

Of course, the two, (course difficulty and grade point average), need not be in conflict. If students learn, they will get good grades, score well on SAT tests, etc., and be able to pursue their chosen profession.

If they take easy courses simply to get high grades they may not be so fortunate.

The system we now have is much more consistent with reality—that is, with the university environment and the world of work—than a system which would award extra honor points.

Certainly many essential courses in college and work experiences are more difficult than others. Our educational system should help students make decisions on long-term rather than short-term benefits.

For the reasons presented above, I did not recommend any official action by the Board of Education. However, students, parents, teachers, Board of Education Trustees, community residents—all should be aware that the whole matter of student grading is one which we shall continue to monitor with great care.

When we believe that a change in procedure would represent an improvement in the educational process in which our students are involved, we would again consider well-thought-out proposals and be totally receptive to studying them in depth.

Snow Removal Action Urged

The president of the Grosse Pointe Merchants Ass'n. in a communication to Mack Avenue merchants is urging them to fully cooperate with removing snow on sidewalks in front and on the side of their establishments.

Robert F. Hill, association president, stated this subject was viewed by the group's board of directors who met on Wednesday, February 22. Citing poor cooperation in the past, Mr. Hill said, "This is hardly conducive to good citizenship, let alone smart business practices. We, of all people, should know that clean walks and grounds make our street and city more attractive."

He felt such cooperation was "a strong inducement to invite our citizens to shop in their own community," while citing the number of times merchants have heard complaints about the streets in Detroit and other cities. "The city is trying to do its share, why can't the merchants? If not only for pedestrians safety, and customer encouragement, how about personal pride on your business?"

"Let's get to it and show Grosse Pointe we care!" urged Mr. Hill.

Counseling Cuts Crime

In pursuing "value," the Youth Service Division's part-time volunteer counseling program has proven to be an effective tool toward helping juvenile offenders. (See story, Page 1.)

The division, itself, since it became fully operational in August 1970, has served the community well and its counseling program, based upon information included in the YSD's January monthly report, has been decidedly effective.

For instance, the main classification, "favorable terminations," encompasses 288 juveniles out of the total of 376 counseled since 1971. The recidivism rate in this classification is 11.8 percent, which means that 88.2 percent of the young people on the program haven't had adverse criminal contact in The Pointe area.

It goes without saying that this plan is an integral part of the overall YSD function which emphasizes service, not only in the main area of law enforcement, but also in a variety of other ways including the formulation of programs, e.g., the division coordinated the child safety program, referrals and many speaking engagements and one-on-one contact with young people within and outside the schools.

From Another Pointe of View

Welcome to March: the beginning of the end, (I hope . . . I hope . . .), of winter. Let's hear it for the crocuses and the Easter Bunny! Was there ever a sound as sweet as the drip of melting snow?

And "Cead Mile Failte Oit"—a hundred thousand welcomes to you—Saint Patrick. There's not an Irish drop of blood in my body but green's a grand color, and I've been to some grand parties in my time on March 17.

Like last year's Saint Patrick's Day dinner, given by Bon Secours Hospital Assistance League Group One in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

That was FUN . . . and this year there'll be fun again in the Crystal Ballroom March 17, as Group One stages its Second Annual Saint Patrick's Day party.

There'll be cocktail service at 6:30, dinner at 8. There'll be Irish music. Reservations at $25 per couple, (checks payable to Bon Secours Hospital Assistance League, Group One—write very small, say a prayer to Saint Patrick and you CAN get it all in), must be received by a week from tomorrow, Friday, March 10.

They are being accepted by Mrs. Stanley Renouf, 561 Lakeland avenue, Grosse Pointe, Michigan 48230. Kay Renouf, 886-1264, and Betty Crawford, 881-4441, will be happy to provide more reservation information by phone.

An 'Avant' Evening For Show House

Bill Harrington's Band Is Coming from New York To Play at Dinner Dance Gala; Decorators Move in After Party

Junior League of Detroit members will enjoy a gala evening at their Decorators' Show House Friday, March 3. This "avant" party, named because it will take place before decorators start work on the Stephens home at 241 Lakeshore road, is scheduled to begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Guests will approach the house by the lake entrance. A valet service will handle all parking.

Symbolic of the evening and the spirit of the house are the pineapple finial sculptures on the stone walls and wrought iron gate of the main courtyard; the pineapple is a symbol of hospitality in architectural decoration, dating from Colonial times in America.

Entering via a marble foyer with a curving staircase, guests will circulate through elegant rooms where cocktails and hot hors d'oeuvres will be served and magnificent French paneling, classic moldings and relief sculptures can be admired at leisure.

Chairmen of the event are Mrs. William C. Beardslee and Mrs. John M. Lesesne. "We will be providing continuous entertainment through the evening," Mrs. Lesesne observes. "I don't know where you could find a concentration of such good music in one location."

"We are featuring Bill Harrington's dance band from New York — Harrington has played for many important parties on the east coast in recent years and is very much in demand—and, in addition, we have a local jazz group under the direction of Chuck Robinette which will play in the cabaret room."

A gourmet buffet supper will be served during the evening.

The Decorators' Show House, which will open on April 29 and run through May 21, is a fund-raiser of the Junior League of Detroit. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Owen F. Keeler, Jr., and Mrs. Richard P. Kost.

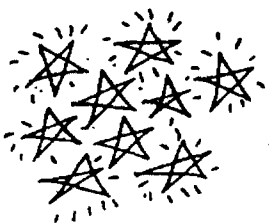

David Edwards to Claim Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Sherman, of South Haven, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Beverly Ann, to David Lynn Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Edwards, of Chalfonte avenue. A spring wedding is planned.

Miss Sherman, a graduate of Western Michigan University, teaches English. Speech and Dramatics at Benton Harbor High School.

Her fiancé, who was graduated from Grosse Pointe North High School and holds a Master of Arts degree in Geography and Cartography from Michigan State University, is employed as a county planner by the Shiawassee Cooperative Extension Service.

Wed at Lake Tahoe

Saint John's Episcopal Church in Zephyr Cove, on the edge of Lake Tahoe, was the setting for the Saturday, December 17, wedding of LAURA TRENT CHALLY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Edwin Benjamin, of Sherman Oaks, Calif., and JOHN FORD JONES HUMPHREYS, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Arthur Humphreys, Jr., of Cadieux road and Paget, Bermuda.

Humphreys-Chally Vows Exchanged

Balsam trees and red poinsettias decorated the church on shore of Lake Tahoe where Rites are Read a Week Before Christmas

John Ford Jones Humphreys, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Arthur Humphreys, Jr., of Cadieux road and Paget, Bermuda, claimed Laura Trent Chally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Edwin Benjamin, of Sherman Oaks, Calif., as his bride a week before Christmas.

Setting for the rites Saturday, December 17, was Saint John's Episcopal Church in Zephyr Cove, on the edge of Lake Tahoe.

Balsam trees and red poinsettias filled the church where The Reverend John Langfeldt officiated at the 4:30 o'clock ceremony.

A reception and wedding dinner followed at the Waystation Inn in South Lake Tahoe, Calif.

The bride wore a white, country gown, fashioned with Martha Washington sleeves, a natural waistline and a skirt worked in alternate squares of Venice lace and eyelet and dotted swiss.

Pink satin ribbon accented the ruffled lace at the rounded yoke of her scoop neckline and the wide edge of her sleeves and bottom tier of her skirt.

A sash of wider pink ribbon under Venice lace circled her waist, its streamers falling to the hem of her skirt.

Her headdress was a circlet of fresh pink rosebuds, white daisies and baby's-breath with narrow pink and white satin ribbon streamers cascading down her back, and she carried a round, Colonial bouquet of matching flowers.

In a pale pink satin frock with petal sleeves and neckline was honor maid Diane Smith, of Los Angeles. Her Colonial bouquet featured red Sweetheart roses, white daisies and baby's-breath.

James Arthur Humphreys, III, came from Lancaster, Pa., to serve as his brother's best man.

Ushers were Henry Frieze Vaughan, III, of Atlanta, Ga., Charles James Lamb, of Philadelphia, Thomas Harley Hayes, of Agoura, Calif., and Carl Kempner, of New York City.

The newlyweds, who vacationed at a Lake Tahoe ski resort, are at home in Agoura. The new Mrs. Humphrey attended high school in Studio City. She is starting her final year at the Pierce College School of Nursing.

Her husband was graduated from the Choate School, Wallingford, Conn., and the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business, and is now associated with the Security Pacific National Bank in Los Angeles.

Meetings Planned By Pointe AAUW

Members Will Travel to Lansing for Legislative Day in Mid-Month; General Session is Set for March 16

The March agenda for the Grosse Pointe Branch American Association of University Women is full, with special interest group meetings scheduled throughout the month.

International Relations members gather today, Thursday, March 2, at 1 o'clock in the Touraine road home of Phyllis Rabbideau, who will be assisted by co-hostesses Marion Hopson and Mable VanDagens.

Marie Webster and Ann Nicholson will present "The Decade of Women," pinpointing where women find themselves today, advancements and regressions in their social, economic and legal status.

Politics of Food meets Tuesday, March 7, at 9:15 in the morning in the Hampton road home of Mary Leech to discuss the Future Organization and Control of Agriculture in the United States.

Resource people are Mary Louise Krebs, Jane Thimme and Grace Harrison, who also serves as co-hostess. La Casserie's guest Wednesday evening, March 8, at 7:45 o'clock in the Neff road home of Dorothy Jossman will be Jacques Bajer, a founder of the Alliance Française de Grosse Pointe. Co-hostess is Dorothy Rieven.

Sexism in Children's Literature will be Sandy Van Doren's topic at a Kaleido-

It's Girl Scout Cookie Sale Time!

When MRS. CHARLES WITZKE, of Rivard boulevard, packs her daughter's lunchbox, she's sure to include some fresh Girl Scout cookies—which is not surprising, since Mrs. Witzke is area manager for the Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit's annual cookie sale, which opened Friday, February 24, and will continue through Sunday, March 5. Smacking their lips in anticipation of a treat are Girl Scouts JULIE WITZKE, (left), 10, of Junior Troop 940, and eight-year-old JENNIFER SMITH, of Brownie Troop 2226. Both girls attend Richard Elementary School.

Some 20,000 Detroit-area Girl Scouts will participate in the 1978 sale. For safety reasons the GSMD Council, which covers most of Wayne County, does not permit its scouts to sell cookies door-to-door.

As an alternative, through the cooperation of merchants and other local business persons, cookie booths are set up in neighborhood stores and banks. Each is staffed by an adult and two scouts except during school hours, when two adults operate each booth.

There will be more than 600 cookie booths in operation during the 10-day sale.

This year there's a new addition to the Girl Scout cookie family: the Snow Drop, an iced devil's food cake-type cookie with a touch of marshmallow. It joins the five traditional favorites: chocolate mint, peanut butter pattie, vanilla sandwich, shortbread and PB, (peanut butter sandwich).

Packaging of the cookie boxes is also new this year. Colorful scenes of Girl Scouts involved in a variety of troop activities are pictured, instead of the national park scenes that have appeared on boxes for the past few years. The price remains the same — $1.25 per box.

Another new aspect of the 1978 sale is the Cookie Connection, a direct phone line established specifically for ordering cookies in Wayne and Oakland counties.

Interested customers who are unable to purchase cookies through a local Girl Scout or at a neighborhood cookie booth may place a phone order by calling 646-8210.

Explaining the importance and necessity of the annual cookie sale, Mrs. Thomas E. Coulter, of Westchester road, GSMD president, notes: "Approximately 45 percent of our total operating budget is raised by the cookie sale.

"With the approval of the United Foundation, we conduct this once-a-year fundraising event to supplement our Torch Drive funds and Girl Scout camping fees.

"The revenue raised helps support our many year-round programs, including the operation of our three camps."

Kolping Center to Host Afternoon Card Party

Doors open at 2 o'clock this Sunday, March 5, at Kolping Center in East Jefferson avenue, St. Clair Shores, (between Nine and 10 Mile roads), on Kolping's Spring Card Party.

Prizes will be featured. Luncheon will be served at 4 o'clock. Reservations at $2.50 per person donation are being taken by Laura Remke, 286-7669.

Mary Margaret Hubert and Mitzi Rhodes are chairing the afternoon.

Church Circles Slate Sessions

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Circles will meet next Tuesday, March 7. The Parable of the Last Judgment found in Matthew 25:31-46 will be studied.

Meeting at 9:30 in the morning will be Circles One and Four at the church, Circle Two at the home of Mrs. Alfred S. Warren in Stratford place and Circle Three at the home of Mrs. Hansel D. Wilson in Neff road.

Mrs. A. A. Beardslee, of St. Clair Shores, will be hostess for Circle Five at 1 o'clock. Also gathering at the afternoon will be members of Circle Seven, at the Chalfonte avenue residence of Mrs. Richard C. Edwards.

Circle Eight will meet at 7:45 in the evening at Mrs. Wallace P. Ernsberger's house in Pemberton road. Circle Nine convenes at 7:30 at Mrs. William R. Leith's home in Westchester road.

All members and friends are invited. New members may contact Mrs. Joseph H. Spitzley, Circle chairman for further information.

David Morgan Weds in Ohio

Christ Lutheran Church, Columbus, O., was the setting Saturday, January 14, for the wedding of Debra Sue Helber and David Michael Morgan.

She is the daughter of Daniel F. Helber, of Logan, O., and the late Louise E. Helber. Dr. and Mrs. Donald N. Morgan, of University place, are the bridegroom's parents.

The 1:30 o'clock rites at which Pastor Charles Sandrock officiated were followed by a reception at Honka's Provincial House, Columbus.

The newlyweds vacationed in Florida and are making their home in Ypsilanti.

Venice lace, Brussels embroidery and pearl clusters accented the bride's white polyester knit gown, styled with bishop sleeves and a full, chapel train.

Matching lace edged her waltz length, silk illusion veil. Her nosegay featured yellow roses and baby's-breath.

Her attendants wore emerald green polyester knits styled with spaghetti straps. Empire bodices and matching chiffon capelets edged in satin ribbon.

They carried nosegays of yellow roses, pale green spider mums, stephanotis and baby's-breath, with yellow and pale green trailing ribbons, and wore yellow rosebuds and baby's-breath in their hair.

Diane E. Hess, of Columbus, was her sister's honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Amy Morgan, the bridegroom's sister, and Sandy Geygan, of Dallas, Tex.

Best man was David L. Colton, of Dallas. Ushers

April Bride

Planning an April 22 wedding are SUSAN JEAN STEKETEE and David Kim Otis, a student at Cooley Law School in Lansing, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Stekete, of Chalfont avenue.

The bride-elect and her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard L. Otis, of Ypsilanti, both hold Bachelor of Arts degrees from Michigan State University.

May Bride

At a midnight supper given by her sisters, Mrs. William J. Drechsler and Mrs. James P. Brennan, the engagement of DAYNA MILBRAND and Dr. Donald B. Shumaker was announced. They plan a May 27 wedding.

The bride-to-be, daughter of Phyllis Greene Milbrand, of Birch lane, and Otto I. Milbrand, of Birmingham, received her Juris Doctor degree from Wayne State University. She is a member of the Women Lawyers' Association and the Macomb County Bar Association.

Catholic Women to Hold Luncheon

Proceeds from "Her Helping Hands" Will Help Support League's Work in Detroit; Four Agencies to Benefit

The League of Catholic Women of Detroit has invitations in the mail for a luncheon and fashion show on Thursday, March 16, at the Detroit Plaza Hotel in Renaissance Center. Cocktails at 11 will precede luncheon at noon.

Saks Fifth Avenue will show the Albert Nipon collection, with Mrs. Nipon commenting.

Theme of the afternoon, "Her Helping Hands," underlines the support luncheon proceeds provide for league agencies.

These include Barat House, a home for emotionally disturbed children; Casa Maria, a nursery school and recreational facility in the Trumbull avenue area; Project Transition, a pilot program for education for women

Jr., of Ballantyne road, is current president of the League of Catholic Women.

Many other Pointe women, including the Mesdames Joseph Wright, Leo Marx, Richard Mullaney, Philip Meathe, Francis Lynch, John Cook, Emmet Dohancy, Anthony Lesh, Eugene Cadieux, William Shelby and A. S. Bush and Miss Charlotte

Dey, are active board members. Luncheon donation is $12, ($25 patron, including one ticket). Last year's event was a sellout, and the committee anticipates a repeat SRO crowd.

The League of Catholic Women has been a positive force in the Detroit area since 1905.

A Lovelier YOU
by JOE

A crisp short hair cut can do a great deal for your morale. It can get your hair out of your eyes, off the back of your neck, and it can unburden your head. Why not try it? Many ladies look great in a short cap of hair, with a layered look that is easy to keep, and nice looking, as it is complimentary to their persons. Even on the most stay home type days, don't forget to wear a little make-up. It will perk you up and make you feel as if life is presentable, even if no one is looking.

Have a comfortable hair style too! That's where GROSSE POINTE COIFFURES comes in. We're located at 20127 Mack Ave., Grosse Pointe Woods, 881-8090, and we're here to see that you get the latest in hair-fashions that are easy to keep. For instance, our blow-combing hairdos are easy to take care of and so are our feather cuts. All of our operators are highly qualified, well trained, and creative.

were J. Scott Corrier, of Columbus, and Mark Valente.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length gown, white-patterned in pink and floral on a turquoise background, with a matching jacket. The bridegroom's mother's long, platinum grey gown was ruffled at cuffs and collar.

Schedule Mid-Century Toastmistress Contest

Six members of Mid-Century Toastmistress Club — Dorothy Adams, Dorothy Brantley, Alice Brown, Helen Kornacki, Mary Evelyn Self and Marguerite Vincent — will be competing at the local club's regular meeting next Tuesday, March 7, at the Grosse Pointe Central Library for the opportunity to represent Mid-Century in a speech contest at council level.

The all-member speak-offs were held last month. Members not performing on a given day participated as judges of their peers. Guest judges have been invited for the final contest.

Although this speech contest highlights the year, it represents only a small part of Toastmistress' training program.

Emphasis is also given to conducting meetings, introducing speakers, spontaneous speaking, leadership train-

Set Millionaires Party At Notre Dame High

Notre Dame High School Parents Guild will host a Millionaires Party Saturday, March 4, starting at 7:30 o'clock at Notre Dame High in Kelly road, Harper Woods.

Refreshments, games and prizes will be featured. Proceeds will go to school support. Admission is $3 at the door.

Her fiancé, son of St. Clair Shores, and Dr. Jay Shumaker, of Fern Park, Fla., received both his Doctor of Dental Science degree and his Masters degree in Orthodontics from the University of Michigan.

He is president of the Michigan Multiple Sclerosis Society; diplomate, American Board of Orthodontics; director, Michigan Society of Orthodontists; and past-president of the Eastern Dental Society.

His children, Daniel Barker Shumaker and John Barker Shumaker, as well as Mrs. Kenneth Latronico, of Chicago, were among those who enjoyed cocktails and smorgasbord at the post-Thanksgiving engagement party.

ing, analytical listening, parliamentary procedure ... skills of particular value to women who would like to participate actively in community affairs but are held back by a lack of self-confidence.

Toastmistress is an opportunity for personal growth for businesswomen and homemakers alike who seek a stimulating, challenging outside interest. Visitors are welcome to attend two Mid-Century meetings without obligation.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Florence Nolte, 881-0582.

Pops Features King of Swing

Antal Dorati, music director of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and the legendary King of Swing Benny Goodman will team with the orchestra Friday evening, March 3, at 8:30 o'clock and Sunday afternoon, March 5, at 3:30 for performances in the DSO's Weekender Pops series.

The program, blending classical and jazz, will feature Dvorak's Slavonic Rhapsody in A-flat major (Op. 45, No. 3), Ravel's "Rapsodie Espagnole," Weber's Clarinet Concerto No. 1, Enesco's Romanian Rhapsody No. 1 and Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2.

The concert will conclude with a jazz set by Benny Goodman and his Quartet.

Goodman brought a new dimension to jazz in 1935, introducing the Swing Era. The legendary Benny Goodman Quartet with Goodman on clarinet, Teddy Wilson on piano, Lionel Hampton on vibraphone and the late Gene Krupa on drums was immortalized when Goodman brought jazz to

J. P. Crandall to Take Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wixson, of Avoca, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Roberta Ann, to James Patrick Crandall, son of former Pointers Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Crandall who now reside in Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Wixson was graduated last year from Central Michigan University. Her fiancé, a Grosse Pointe South High during their pre-release period from correctional facilities; and Casgrain Hall, an Inner City residence offering low-cost housing.

All provide viable services within the city of Detroit.

In addition, four Bargain Counters, located in Berkley, Detroit, Dearborn and St. Clair Shores, help support the league in its far-reaching efforts — and are a source of low-cost, good-condition second-hand items for residents in their areas.

Mrs. C. Bradford Lundy.

Funds raised via the 1978 Project Luncheon will go to Grosse Pointe Youth Services, FLEC (Family Life Education Council) and the Wayne County Juvenile Court.

Tickets are available through today, Thursday, March 2, by calling 884-6025. Not pictured but also serving on general chairman Dorothea Vermeulen's committee are the Mesdames Frederick Clark, George Coticchio, Clair Pike, Ralph Jossman, Carson Grunewald, Michael Crane and Richard Dorman.

A Dinner Tour For Newcomers

Progressive Encounters of the Third Kind is the theme of Grosse Pointe Newcomers' annual progressive dinner, set for Saturday, March 11.

Cocktail pouring begins at 7 o'clock in the homes of Chuck and Lois Baker, Dick and Marge Cameron, Roger and Carol Jacklyn, Bill and Evelyn Langman, Dave and Carmen Linn and Phil and Helen White.

Opening their homes for dinner are Bob and Nancy Alukonis, Tom and Kerry Brown, Sheldon and Etta Rae Blazer, Walter and Frances Garthwaite, Fred and Sylvia Chirardini, John and Beth Gustafson, Howard and Bette Joondeph and Bruce and Carol Larson.

Dessert will be served by Chuck and Sharon Bencie, Mike and Bonnie Crow, Paul and Aannlee Hennie, Bill and Wanda Leith, Dave and Sharon Shrake, Ron and Mary-Eileen Wehrmann and Fred and Susie Wilson.

To top off the evening, everyone will gather at the Golden Lion for an afterglow. A cash bar will be available.

Chairing this year's progressive dinner are Neal and Dorothy Combs. Their committee includes Andy and Alice Baetz, Stephen and MaryPat Byrnes, Ed and Claudia Evans, John and Beth Gustafson, Ron and Linda Jerzewski, Fred and Sheila Osann, Pete and Erma Perani, Bob and Karen Ream, Tom and Linda Sullivan, Bob and Lynn Van Raaphorst and Steve and Kay Wasinger.

Couples who have recently moved from an area not touching the boundaries of Grosse Pointe are eligible for Newcomers membership. Interested persons may contact the membership chairman at 882-8461 or 882-6992.

Hungarian Pair to Join Dorati This Week

Antal Dorati, Detroit Symphony music director, will be joined by two other native Hungarians, cellist Janos Starker and cimbalom player Marta Fabian, tonight and Saturday evening, March 2 and 4, at 8:30 o'clock DSO performances in Ford Auditorium.

The program includes the American premier of Zsolt

Durko's "Hungarian Rhapsody," the orchestra's first performances of Prokofiev's Sinfonia concertante for cello and orchestra and of Stravinsky's "Scherzo a la Russe" and Kodaly's "Hary Janos Suite."

The two clarinet soloists in the Durko work will be DSO principal Paul Schaller and second clarinetist Douglas Cornelien.

Miss Fabian will perform in both the Durko piece and the Kodaly.

Budapest-born Janos Starker has appeared with the DSO twice before, most recently in November of 1971. He is one of the most recorded cellists of our time.

Starker emigrated to the United States in 1948 after a European career that began as a child prodigy.

He served as principal cellist for the Dallas Symphony, the Metropolitan Opera and the Chicago Symphony before beginning his world tours as a solo artist 20 years ago.

Cimbalom player Marta Fabian is a brilliant virtuoso of that unusual and difficult instrument.

The Hungarian cimbalom is a descendant of the medieval dulcimer, a stringed instrument having a flat soundboard with 10 or more parallel strings which are struck by small hammers. This will be Miss Fabian's debut with the DSO.

Tickets for both performances are available at $9, $8, $7, $6, $5, $4 and $3.50. They may be purchased at the Ford Auditorium box office, all Ward's and Hudson's ticket outlets and the Detroit Tonight desk at the Plaza Hotel in Renaissance Center.

Master Charge and VISA charge card customers may order tickets by phone at 962-5524.

Janos Starker, has been called "an aristocrat among cellists and an Olympian among musicians." He is celebrating his 30th year in the United States and his 20th as a touring solo artist.

Mr. Starker is a dedicated champion of living composers. He has recorded concertos by Peter Mennin and Antal Dorati and the Sonata for Cello and Piano by David Baker.

Marta Fabian was born in Budapest in 1946 and has been playing the cimbalom since the age of eight. She is the soloist of the Budapest Chamber Ensemble, specializing in contemporary works.

'Effort' is A Success

The fourth annual dinner to benefit Effort, Incorporated, will be held Saturday, March 11, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

Effort presently maintains two residences for mentally handicapped young men and women: Howell Manor and Trombly House. The homes provide an environment of love and security, an alternative to institutional living, a response to the question that all parents of mentally handicapped children must confront: what will happen to my child when I am no longer there to see to his welfare?

Effort was founded by a Pointer, H. Ford Prince. Dr. Harry Wolf is executive director.

PATRICIA ANN HASTINGS and Craig Wilton Henderson whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brittain Hastings, of Roslyn road, are making plans for an October 21 wedding.

Miss Hastings, a Grosse Pointe North High School alumna, attended the University of Dayton and received her degree in Retailing from Tobe-Coburn, New York. She has been living in Chicago where she is a buyer of men's sportswear for Baskin Clothing Company.

Mr. Henderson, son of former Pointers Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Logan Henderson who now make their home in Hartford, Conn., was also graduated from Grosse Pointe North High School.

He received his degree in Accounting from Western Michigan University's School of Business Administration. He is now associated with the First Boston Corporation in Chicago.

Tuesday Musicales Quintet to Debut

This Month's Concerts Are Scheduled for March 7 and 21 in The Lecture Hall of The Detroit Institute of Arts

Five new Active members will give their first performances for Tuesday Musicales of Detroit this month: on March 7 and 21. Both morning concerts will be held 10:30 o'clock in the Lecture Hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Instrumental and vocal soloists performing for the first time are Mrs. Kuno Fernholz, of Cadieux road, Mrs. Abraham Horowitz, of Southfield, Mrs. David Kuick, of South Lyons, Miss Shirley Meunch, of Warren, and Miss Sheila Stephenson, of Huntington Woods.

The March 7 concert, planned by Mrs. Edward Wilson, of St. Clair Shores, will open with Mrs. Kuick playing selections for unaccompanied flute: Honnegger's "Danse de la chevre," Telemann's "Fantasia in A minor," David Gregory's "Solo from Avator" and Eugene Bozza's "Image."

Soprano Mrs. Fernholz, accompanied by pianist Mrs. Wilson, will sing Handel's "Oh! had I Jubal's Lyre," Schubert's "Lachen und Weinen, Op. 59, No. 4" and "Der Musensohn, Op. 92, No. 1" and three "Poemas Nortenos" by Angel E. Lasala.

Pianist Miss Muench will perform Chopin's Mazurka in A minor, Op. 17, No. 4 and Ballade in F Major, Op. 38, No. 21.

Contralto Mrs. Stephen Toth, of Detroit, will sing Schubert's "Der Doppelganger," Handel's "In Battle, Fame Pursuing," (from "Deborah"), and E. Charles' "When I Have Sung My Songs." Mrs. W. Gerald Skelley, of Berkley, will provide piano accompaniment.

The program closes with pianist Mrs. Horowitz performing three Rachmaninoff preludes — G sharp minor, F minor: K. 238, K. 239 and Sonatas in B flat Major: K. 544, K. 545.

Soprano Mrs. David G. von Oeyen, of Detroit, accompanied by pianist Mrs. Thomas I. Young, of Loraine road, will sing six songs by Pietro Cimara: "Fiocca la neve," "A una rosa," "Scherzo," "Stornello," "Novole" and "Canto di Primavera."

Pianist Mrs. Hubert Watson, of Oak Park, will perform Debussy's "Buyeres," "Minstrels" and "Le Petit Berger" and Poulenc's Suite in C Major, Presto, Andante and Vif.

Sarasate's Spanish Dance, Op. 26, No. 7 and the Allegro non troppo from Saint-Saens' Concerto in B minor, Op. 61, No. 3 will be performed on the violin by Mrs. Howard W. Lawrence, Mount Clemens. Pianist Mr. Walter J. Burczyk, of Littleton road, will accompany Mrs. Lawrence.

Copland's Passacaglia, the Prelude from Ravel's Le Tombeau de Couperin and the Fugue from Barber's Sonata, Op. 26 will be performed on the piano by Miss Stenhuson.

Mrs. Ellwyn A. Gilbert, of University place, is Tuesday Musicales' current president. Membership chairman Mrs. Donald I. Lahti, (Active) 358-3827, and Mrs. Donald F. Hansen, (Associate), 886-3867, may be contacted for more information.

Planning a wedding? Harvey's Compleat Traveler at 345 Fisher Road not only has a fine selection of invitations, but they also have an unusually good choice of gifts for members of the wedding party. Sylvia Morin, left above, and Ann-Brink are holding legal-sized leather folders which are perfect gifts when monogrammed. (Monogramming is done free at Harvey's-Compleat Traveler.) Personalized sterling silver and 14 K gold jewelry, or elegant leather gifts from Harvey's makes beautiful and lasting mementos for the bride and groom to give their attendants. Ann and Sylvia will also help you select the right luggage for the honeymoon!

Ms. Van Doren is a member of the Grosse Pointe Schools' Education Task Force on Textbooks. Julie Demcnak will serve as co-hostess. Sylvia Keating will be in charge of children's snacks.

Evening Stitchery meets Tuesday evening, March 14, at 8 o'clock in Phyllis Brewster's Lochmore boulevard home to receive more instructions on crewel-embroidery. Further information may be obtained by calling 882-3548 or 886-9149.

The Book Discussion Group will meet the following Tuesday, March 21, at 7:30 in the evening in the Maumee avenue home of Cathy Beirne. Clara Boreicha and Janet Ankiel will lead a discussion on "Zen and the Art of Motorcycle Maintenance."

Daytime Stitchery meets Tuesday morning, March 21, at 9 o'clock in the Lakeland avenue home of Beverly Bedell to continue work on pulled thread or plaid stitch eyeglass cases. Julie Demcnak will serve as co-hostess.

Barbara Thompson will speak on Genealogy at an Instant Replay meeting Wednesday evening, March 22, at 7:45 o'clock in Anita Unger's home. New and prospective AAUW members are especially welcome.

Nina Berry will lead Play Reading members in William Inge's "Picnic" Thursday, March 23, at 1 o'clock in the Touraine road home of Harriet Helms.

Contemporary Literature meets Tuesday evening, March 28, at 7:30 in the evening in the Handy road home of Mary Bell Taylor to discuss "The Thorn Birds" by Australian novelist Colleen McCullough. Mary Louise Krebs will serve as co-hostess.

Slate Suburbia Club's Meeting

Suburbia Garden Club gathers Tuesday, March 7, at Lochmore Club where guest speaker Mrs. Carl Larsen, who will be at Jacobson's March 16, will talk on Egger: the art of creating works of art by decorating real egg shells.

Vi Larsen works with eggs as small as a wren's, as large as an ostrich's—and all sizes in between. Eastern museums have displays of the art form.

Mrs. James B. Doll is hostess for the day. Mrs. William Beckenhauer, Suburbia president, will preside.

Workshops on Colleague-Alumnae Relations and a Program and Development Idea Exchange will be directed by Ruth McCartney, of Moline, Ill., Beta IV's district director, and Sue Bousquet, of West Lafayette, Ind., Beta area coordinator.

Joan Montgomery, poet, song writer, singer, guitarist and self-therapist, who embarked on her career following a cerebral hemorrhage, will entertain.

Gail Highland, of Bloomfield Hills, is chairing the event. Kathy Cleveland, of Bedford road, Detroit, is accepting reservations at $2 per person.

Phi Mu, founded March 4, 1852, at Wesleyan College in Macon, Ga., first woman's college to award degrees, is celebrating its 126th anniversary with the return of the sorority's executive office to Atlanta, Ga., state of its founding and incorporation.

AAUW's general meeting this month is slated for Thursday, March 16, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club where Rabbi Sherwin T. Wine, from the Center for New Thinking in Birmingham, will speak on Women and the Power to Change.

Grosse Pointe Branch members will travel to Lansing Wednesday, March 15, for AAUW's Legislative Day. This year's theme is Michigan Women on the Move.

Family Law in Michigan will be the topic of morning keynote speaker Henry Bashins, family law chairman of the Michigan Bar Association. Luncheon speaker Mildred Jeffrey, chairman of the National Woman's Political Caucus, will talk on Cracker Barrel Politics Phase Two.

Further information or reservations may be obtained by contacting Suzanne Suski or Jane Ford.

Series Presents Concert Today

Music For A While, a morning concert series, will present its third concert of the season today, Thursday, March 2, at 10 o'clock in the Music Room of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Ample parking is available at the rear of the church. Admission is $2 at the door.

Dorothy Ignasiak, soprano, accompanied by Cheryl Chateau, will open the program with "Spirate pur, spirate," "O del mio amato ben," "Freschi luoghi, prati autentici," all composed by S. Donandy, and "LaBonne Cuisine, (four recipes), Plum Pudding, Ox Tails, Chicken and Rabbit at Top Speed" by Bernstein.

Trio II in B flat Major (K. 502) by Mozart will be performed by Betty Peterson, violin, Mary Eliason, cello, and Janet Young at the piano.

The concert will close with a Prokofiev sonata in D Major, Opus 94, for flute and piano, presented by Hanna Lahti and Louise Gall.

The public is invited. More information may be obtained by calling 885-8110 or 882-2983.

New Quartet for DKG's Beta Delta

Birthday Party Honors Cadillac

The 322nd birthday of Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac, founder of Detroit nearly 277 years ago, will be commemorated tomorrow, Friday, March 3, with a party at the Detroit Historical Museum.

The night's festivities, sponsored by the Detroit Historical Society, the French Festival of Detroit and the North American Indian Association, promise unique entertainment and refreshments.

Guests will enjoy wine and cheese, French bread and Indian venison soup while French-Canadian square dancers and can-can dancers perform. "Recorders Court" will play 18th century French folk and court music.

A diorama and mural depicting Detroit in the early 18th century will be unveiled that night. It is a gift to the museum by numerous French groups in the metropolitan area, including the French Festival of Detroit, the Alliance Francaise de Detroit, the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe, the French Women's Benevolent Club, Le Club LaSalle, Paroisse St. Joachim de Detroit and Societe St. Jean Baptiste de Detroit.

Tickets for the evening, at $5 per person, may be purchased through the Detroit Historical Society, 833-7934, or at the door tomorrow night.

Arts, Crafts and Dolls at Lutheran High North

The Lutheran High North Ladies Guild will sponsor an arts, crafts and dolls show Saturday, March 4, from 10 in the morning until 4 in the afternoon, and Sunday, March 5, from 11 until 4 o'clock, at Lutheran High School North in 24 Mile road, just west of Romeo Plank road and north of Mount Clemens.

Some 70 craftsmen, including an exhibitor who makes antique reproduction porcelain dolls and will demonstrate his pouring techniques hourly, have agreed to display their wares, ranging from jewelry, needlework and paintings to weaving, macrame and quilts.

Special feature at this fourth annual Breath of Spring exhibit will be talks by "The Doll Lady," Barbara Lewis Coker, lecturer, poet and author, at 11 and 2 o'clock Sunday in the school library.

She will have a display of hand-crafted dolls made out of clothespins, nuts, dried apples, corn husks and cloth, as well as dolls from her own collection, and will be available throughout the show to speak personally with fans and fellow collectors who are encouraged to bring their dolls to meet her — she will be glad to offer information on value, origin and age.

Snack bar luncheons will be featured Saturday. A Salisbury Steak Plate Dinner is on the agenda for noon service Sunday. The Ladies Guild will sell baked goods and doughnuts, made while you watch.

Admission is 75 cents for adults, 50 cents for Senior Citizens, free for children 12 and under. Proceeds benefit the school's extra-curricular program.

Ribbon Farms Meets Tuesday

Mrs. Joseph Scanlan will open her Merriweather road home to members of the Ribbon Farms Chapter of Quilters next Tuesday, March 7, at 12:30 o'clock. Mrs. Harold B. Lee will give the program on Australia.

Enjoy All Winter Sports But Heed Heart's Rules

Now that winter is here, do you listen apprehensively to every weather forecast, hoping against hope you won't hear the words "for tomorrow, four to six inches of snow?"

As you're trying to get your thoroughly chilled car to turn over on a 10-degree morning, do you find yourself longing for a warm, white-sand beach?

Or are you one of those thousands of people who cringe in their air conditioning, away from summer's heat, but at the first sign of snow gleefully bundle up and head outdoors?

If you're in the last group, you have lots of company. There are several million people who wouldn't trade a snowy, pine-covered Michigan hillside for all the beaches in Florida.

Our southern cousins don't know what they're missing. Downhill and cross-country skiing. Sleighrides. Snowmobiling. Ice skating. A short trip to the front yard to build a snowman with the kids. And all that exercise and fresh air can make you feel great — as long as you know the limits of safety, especially as they relate to your heart.

Dr. Sol Pickard, Henry Ford Hospital cardiologist and president of the Michigan Heart Association, lists a few things to remember for those who like their exercise 'cold and white.'

"You should know, for instance, that cold temperatures make your body act quite differently from the way it does in a nice, warm room.

"In cold weather, in order to conserve heat, the body's blood vessels constrict, making it harder for the heart to pump blood. Vigorous physical activity, such as that required in skiing or skating, requires yet more work from the heart.

"Then, too, wind — even self-created, such as in snowmobiling — can drive the temperature down farther yet, (the wind chill factor we hear about in winter weather reports).

"One way to keep warmer,"

Regina High Mothers Plan March Windfall

The Regina High School Mothers' Guild will present a March Windfall card party Thursday evening, March 2, at 7:30 o'clock in the Regina High gym in Kelly road, Harper Woods.

Donation is $2.50. Prizes, favors and refreshments will be featured. Further information may be obtained by calling M. M. Lewandowski, 372-0019, or Regina High, 526-0220.

says Dr. Pickard, "is to wear several layers of light, warm clothing. They will insulate you better than one layer of heavy clothing and less energy is expended moving around in light clothes.

"Also," he adds, "never smoke outdoors in cold weather."

Hallmarking enables the silver collector to establish the date of a piece and its authenticity. Under the system of hallmarking, the law requires that every piece of silver or gold must be stamped with the appropriate series of marks. These rules were established in England many centuries ago, some as early as 1180. These were not just to protect the buyer, but to guarantee goldsmiths' wares by their own will, not by outside enforcement. Hallmarks were refined and modified over the course of hundreds of years. Provincial centers modelled their system on London's. The lion passant was used by everyone to mark the Sterling standard.

Everything in quality jewelry can be found at VALENTE JEWELRY, 15501 East Warren at Kensington, Detroit, 881-4800. We give our personalized attention to all your needs. For someone not familiar with jewelry, knowing and having confidence in your jeweler is of the utmost importance. If you are a buyer of unique items, come in and see the antique jewelry and objects of art left with us on consignment by their owners. We invite you too to bring in antique and estate jewelry and leave it with us on consignment.

GEM TIP:

Booklets containing lists of marks can be obtained at most silver dealers.

1ST OFFERING
Can you find a three bedroom home in the Farms for under $40,000? We have one all ready to move in! The owner has certificate of occupancy, and it's within walking distance to the Hill shopping area, library, schools and the Cottage Hospital. Hurry and we'll show it to you.
Right on the Lake with 60' of steel seawall, a 4 unit apartment complex in Harrison. This is a beautiful location and investors should take a look. The lot is 220' deep.
In Grosse Pointe Shores there are many mansions! The discriminating quality buyer should survey this regal 10 bedroom, 5 1/2 bath residence which nestles among the best — it's just off the fabulous Lakeshore. May we set an appointment for you?
Presenting a tidy brick bungalow in Grosse Pointe Woods, two bedrooms on 1st floor with bath and the same on the 2nd floor. Lots of storage space and a 2 car garage. There's also a screened porch — priced early 50's.
TWO beautifully kept 3 BR Colonials, nicely decorated and in the price most can afford. Step out and view them both:
Center entrance, nice bedrooms, lovely basement, and a breakfast nook. There's a two-car garage and professional landscaping. This comfortable home is in the early 30's.
This one is really neat and so well maintained. Has a step down paneled family room, lovely kitchen, and a lav. on the 1st floor. Has a fireplace too. You may want to take advantage of the assumable mortgage at 5 1/2%! It's in the late 20's.

South Tankers Are Undefeated

The South High School swimming team clinched an undefeated season with a 59-24 win over Eastern Michigan League, (EML), opponent East Detroit on Friday, February 24.

In the meet, Blue Devil swimmers captured first place in every event, and the medley relay team of Steve Soderberg, Jed Kuhn, Nick Trost and John Hessburg set new varsity and pool records.

Other winners for South were Toby Lindheim, 200-yard freestyle; Mike Bernard, 160-yard individual medley; Hessburg, 60-yard freestyle; Bob Chapelle, 100-yard butterfly; Trost, 100-yard freestyle; Pat Coyle, 500-yard freestyle; Soderberg, 100-yard backstroke; Kuhn, 100-yard breaststroke; and the freestyle relay team of Ace Dickson, Dave Zimmer, Rob Wood and Randy Singely.

On the following Saturday, February 25, South traveled to the Bloomfield Hills Invitational and brought home the first place trophy.

Leading the Blue Devils in that effort were Trost, who established new varsity and meet records by winning the 100-yard butterfly championship and Soderberg, who also established new varsity and meet records with his win in the 100-yard backstroke.

South tankers will be participating in the EML Championships this week, seeking to continue to keep their undefeated league record.

The team will then go to the Michigan High School Championships at Michigan State University on Friday and Saturday, March 10 and 11.

Cards, Tennis Party Slated

Members of the Trombly School PTO will sponsor a Tennis and Cards Party at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, 655 Cook road, on Saturday, March 11.

Tennis will begin the evening at 6 p.m. and organized party bridge games will start at 7 p.m. The buffet supper will be held from 9 to 11 p.m.

Guests are welcome for supper only and may organize their own card games.

Tickets for tennis and supper are $11, cards and supper are $8 and supper only is $8. There will be a cash bar.

Checks should be made out to the "Trombly PTO."

For more information, call chairman Rosemarie Lamb at 821-8041.

Robbers Visit GP City Home

City police are investigating a breaking and entering that netted burglars more than $1,000 in stereo equipment and other items on Wednesday, February 8.

Sally Le Plae of Washington road, who reported the crime at about 9:45 p.m. on Wednesday, said she had been away from the home since 8 a.m. that morning.

All the rooms were ransacked by the thieves, who apparently gained access by breaking a front, leaded glass window and reaching across to open the door chain, according to police.

Lt. Robert VanTiem said the footprints left on a back porch by the intruders appear similar to those left near the scene of a recent burglary in The Farms, i.e., cleat type with star.

The items reported missing include a stereo turntable, valued at $300, two speakers, valued at $400, a receiver, $145, and a $180 camera. The thieves also took $150 in cash.

'Peter and Wolf' Set at Parcels

The Parcels Middle School PTO will present the Interlochen Arts Academy performance of "Peter and the Wolf," the Prokofiev ballet, on Thursday, March 9, at 7:30 p.m.

The performance, to be held in the Parcels auditorium, 20600 Mack avenue, is open to the public free of charge.

Academy students dance the roles of Peter, his grandfather, the hunters and the forest creatures. The program is part of the "Interlochen Outreach" series.

21Z—SNOW REMOVAL & LANDSCAPING

Charlton Weston, Ava Gardner and David Niven are featured in "55 Days at Peking" in the Friends Film Forum series on March 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the Exhibition Room of the Central Public Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

Remember Car at Tax Time

The family automobile could provide a $542 deduction on 1977 federal income tax forms for some Michigan motorists, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"That figure would apply in the case of a person who purchased a new automobile for $5,500 at the beginning of last year, financed $3,000 of the purchase price for three years at 10 percent annual interest and drove the car at least 10,000 miles strictly for pleasure," states Auto Club Touring Manager Joseph Ratke.

The four percent state sales tax paid on the new car would provide a $220 deduction, and first-year interest would be $272, Mr. Ratke noted. If the car achieved the federally mandated 18 miles per gallon, it would consume 555 gallons traveling 10,000 miles, with deductible Michigan gas tax of nine cents per gallon, or $50.

State gas taxes, sales tax and loan interest on a car are just three allowable deductions for motorists who file the long federal tax form.

Others listed in the Auto Club booklet, "Automobile Income Tax Deductions," include finance charges on

Directory Assistance Input Sought by Michigan Bell

Michigan Bell has launched a statewide consumer program asking telephone customers what they think is the best way to solve the problem of soaring Directory Assistance costs.

Pointer David K. Easlick, Michigan Bell president, announced last week in a news release that the program will include open public forums and meetings with consumer organizations and other community groups throughout the state.

"This is a new kind of effort by our company to find out what telephone customers themselves would prefer be done about a serious problem that we share," Mr. Easlick said.

"Directory Assistance isn't free, it's really very costly and today everybody's paying the same for it whether they use it a little, a lot or not at all."

He said customers will be asked to express their opinion on two options.

One would be to retain the present method of spreading the costs of Directory Assistance evenly among all customers regardless of how often they use it.

The other would establish a charge for Directory Assistance based on usage. This second approach would result in lower monthly bills for most customers while heavy users would pay more than at present.

Mr. Easlick pointed out that 21 other states have adopted charging plans and that nine out of 10 customers are saving money as a result.

Adoption of a similar type of plan in Michigan, he said, would give most Michigan Bell customers the same kind of cost reduction benefits.

In contrast, because all Michigan Bell customers currently share equally in paying for Directory Assistance, the $27 million expense of providing the service in 1977 actually cost each customer about $8.40 for the year.

Mr. Easlick said if a charging plan were put into effect it would not apply to handicapped persons who have difficulty using telephone directories. He noted Michigan Bell has worked closely with organizations representing the handicapped to develop a simple, dignified method of exempting them.

He added that a charging plan would not be designed to increase Michigan Bell revenues. The company would benefit, he said, because a charging plan would tend to check the growth of Directory Assistance usage.

"The main purpose simply would be to redistribute the cost of Directory Assistance so that only the heavy users would be charged while most customers would save," he explained.

"And an important point is that the savings refunded to customers would come from less operator expense and less capital investment — not from the charge itself," he said.

Mr. Easlick said

Today Walton-Pierce presented a fashion show for the Grosse Pointe Lawyer's Wives at the War Memorial. It was a preview of spring and summer and included swimwear, sports separates, sun dresses, travel costumes, spring suits, cocktail and evening dresses. Mother-of-the-bride, bridesmaid and bride closed the show. It was a sampling of the lovely fashions that now abound at Walton-Pierce. Come see them! The Lilly Pulitzer collection includes solid color skirts in pink, blue, lime and white. They team with her polyester and cotton blend short sleeve knit tops in a bouquet of floral prints. From Herman Geist has come a group of coordinates featuring printed pants. Choose pink geranium, flower garden, blue and pink strawberry and blue and green frog print. There are print blazers also. Solid cotton polyester gauzy pleat blouses come in yellow, pink, blue and white. Pick a pink tulip pleated skirt that folds into a single pleat. Top it with a bright pink rounded neck cotton shirt from Tapemeasure. A handful of canvas totes are in. They are decorated with a blue jay, flower or tennis racket and are priced $27.50. In the Gift Department new crystal goblets and serving pieces are gleaming.

Back to Work for Janet and Linda

Furlough time is running out for Grosse Pointe South High School graduates JANET DUNN, (right), Class of '63, and LINDA DUNN, Class of '67, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dunn, of Ridgemont road. Both girls are missionaries with the Navigators, an interdenominational, international organization with staff in 32 countries around the world.

Janet, who spent two years at Wheaton College, received her Bachelors degree from Northwestern University and her Masters degree in English from the University of Illinois. She came home last October after her second term in Japan.

Linda also spent two years at Wheaton. She completed work on her Bachelors degree at Michigan State University.

Linda left for Nairobi in 1974 after three-and-a-half years in Nairobi, Kenya.

Janet was the first to join the Navigators. She left for Japan in 1971 to teach English and start small Bible study groups for university students. Home on furlough two years later, she was delighted when Linda suggested they go out for coffee. Linda wanted to share some "wonderful news" with her sister.

"Ah," thought Janet. "Linda's about to be engaged"—but the wonderful news was not a person but an offer: to go to Kenya, East Africa, as a secretary with the Navigators.

Linda left for Nairobi in the spring of 1974. Later that summer, Janet flew back to Japan.

In Japan, Janet rents a small house with two Japanese girls. They live Japanese style. Rice is on the menu twice a day.

Using her home as a student center, Janet trains Bible study leaders, prepares material for introductory Bible courses and counsels students. She is fluent in Japanese, so communicating with her Japanese director and his wife is no problem.

While Janet battles cold winters and hot, humid summers, Linda enjoys temperate weather 12 months a year in Nairobi, considered by many to have the world's ideal climate.

She alternates her time between office work and campus ministry. During the day Linda handles a heavy volume of bookkeeping, correspondence and communication at the Kenyan Navigator office.

Evenings she is on campus at the University of Nairobi, helping Christian girls learn to share their faith or organizing Bible studies for students.

Linda uses her apartment, a great deal to entertain Kenyan students — and she finds her knowledge of Swahili, the trade language of Africa, stands her in good stead when she goes grocery shopping in local markets.

Both girls are enjoying their time in The Pointe. They often take walks at the Farms Pier, reveling in the beauty of ice sculpture and drifting snow.

Officially on furlough, they're on the road a great deal, visiting supporters and speaking on Japan and Kenya. Neither begrudges this on-the-road time; both are excited about their work, and anxious to share it with others.

Janet leaves for Japan in early March. Linda will return to Nairobi in May. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn know they will find their home rather quiet after the girls leave, but visits to their son and his family in Lansing, and their other daughter and her family in Charlotte, N.C., are always on the agenda.

And there are memories of their trips—to Nairobi in 1973, to Japan in 1977 . . .

The DUNNs, having seen what their daughters are doing, understand the love their girls have for their work in Kenya and Japan.

Woods Garden Club to Meet

The Grosse Pointe Woods Garden Club will meet Tuesday, March 7, at noon in the North Duval road home of Mrs. Edgar Netherton, who will be assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. Carl Berndt and Mrs. Elton Ireland, to continue a Therapy Project under the direction of Mrs. George Miles.

The project, started last month, involves crafts for philanthropic work.

Meeting Night For La Leche

The La Leche League of Detroit Northeast will hold its next meeting Thursday, March 9, at 8 in the evening in the Roland road home of Connie Frey.

"La Leche" is Spanish, meaning "the milk." The non-sectarian, non-profit league's purpose is to help encourage "good mothering through breast-feeding."

La Leche League began in a Chicago suburb 21 years ago, when one mother who had successfully nursed her baby helped another who wanted to breastfeed. This is still the basic approach, although the league is now international in scope.

Today, more than 3,800 La Leche groups are helping thousands of women in the United States, Canada and 43 other countries.

The local group meets the second Thursday of each month. Margaret McNaughton will lead a discussion on

As is the case all year round, you shouldn't start out too fast with vigorous exercise. It shouldn't be taken in "binges."

Williams College President John W. Chandler has announced that Professor Daniel O'Connor, (B.A., University of Detroit, 1955; postgraduate studies at the University of Munster, Germany, on a Fulbright Scholarship; M.A. in Philosophy, University of Toronto, 1958; Ph.D., Yale, 1961), has been named Dean of the College.

He has been chairman of Williams' Philosophy Department since 1976. He will assume his new duties July 1 when Professor of English Peter Berek, who has been Dean of the College since 1975, goes on sabbatical leave, and will resume full-time teaching duties upon Professor Berek's return.

Philosophy is Daniel O'Connor's professional academic pursuit; his avocation is the creative and performing arts. He completed vocal studies at Toronto's Royal Conservatory while earning his Masters degree.

He has been in numerous plays, operas, concerts and ballets at Williams, and plans to work toward an increase in the creative and performing arts there and to promote more cultural activities in student residential houses.

World Day of Prayer

Men and women in 170 countries join tomorrow, Friday, March 3, in a World Day of Prayer spanning six continents. This 92nd celebration, sponsored in the United States by Church Women United, will be observed in many languages, by Protestant, Orthodox and Catholic Christians.

This year, Pointers will attend the service at Saint Ambrose Catholic Church from 1 to 2 in the afternoon. A tea will follow in Saint Ambrose Parish Hall, Maryland at Hampton road.

The worship service for 1978, "Community Spirit in Modern Living," has been prepared by the Church Women of Canada, reflecting their concern for community living and sharing.

Speaker will be The Reverend Ronald Cypres, pastor of Saint Gregory and former co-pastor at Saint Ambrose.

World Day of Prayer chairman for the Grosse Pointe area is Mary Robson, a Saint Ambrose parishioner. Next year, services will be at the Grosse Pointe Baptist Church under the direction of Mrs. Francis Faust.

Rose Society Slates Clinic

The Grosse Pointe Rose Society's meeting next Wednesday, March 8, at 7:45 o'clock in the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval avenue at Fisher road, will feature a Rose Clinic conducted by prominent local priz winners.

Forrest Geary will tell how to select healthy roses. David Bogart will speak on planting, Harold Lee on pruning, John Stephens on feeding and Robert Seebor on sprays. Residents of Grosse Pointe, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores are cordially invited. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Richard Joy, III.

Elizabeth Cass DAR To Meet on Monday

Elizabeth Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet Monday, March 6, at the home of Mrs. R. J. Hummel in Touraine road for a dessert luncheon. Mrs. Paul Cornelissen and Mrs. Edward Holihan will assist the hostess.

Guest speaker Andrew J. Belanger, of the United States Immigration Bureau, will talk on Illegal Entry of Aliens.
