

JUDGES SEEK AID FOR PLAN

HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, March 23
ONE OF THE world's best know circus performers, Karl Wallenda, 73, died yesterday after falling 120 feet from a wire stretched between towers of a hotel in San Juan, Puerto Rico. The daredevil high-wire walker was doing a promotion act for the Pan American Circus. High winds sweeping between the towers of the beachfront hotel caused Mr. Wallenda to lose his balance and fall 10 stories to his death. Prior to his fatal plunge, the worst accident to the Wallenda clan occurred at Detroit's State Fairgrounds on January 30, 1962, when two were killed when his fabled seven-person pyramid collapsed.

A FEDERAL grand jury has indicted Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. of Detroit for defrauding the government of more than $101,000 by accepting kickbacks from staffers and using taxpayers' money to pay personal, business and office expenses. The 35-count indictment was handed down in U. S. District Court in Washington after a nine-month investigation. Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison. If convicted, Rep. Diggs also could be fined up to $224,000.

Saturday, March 25
THE UNITED Mine Workers, (UMW), voted yesterday to accept a new contract with the coal industry ending the 109-day-old strike. UMW President Arnold Miller said the 160,000 miners will be ready to return to work on Monday. Energy experts say the coal should be moving within a week and shipments can be back to normal by early April. That means that electrical cutbacks and the higher electricity charges that consumers have been paying may end shortly.

Sunday, March 26
AN ICE STORM, reminiscent of March 1976, encased the Midwest yesterday, shutting down major highways, stranding motorists and halting air traffic. The ice toppled trees and snapped power lines leaving hundreds of cities without electrical power. At least eight people were killed in the storm. Indiana, Oklahoma and Missouri each reported two deaths and Illinois and Iowa each reported one death. Chicago's O'Hare Airport had to shut down for only the fourth time in its history.

Monday, March 27
IN A LAST-DITCH effort to block the scheduled opening of Tokyo's new airport, more than 300 radicals stormed the control room yesterday and smashed all of the delicate systems. The protesters oppose the opening of the airport for environmental and political reasons. Authorities said the damage was so extensive that the airport's scheduled Thursday opening may have to be postponed. The protesters hurled fire bombs and swung steel pipes to destroy radar and communications equipment, flight charts, meteorological meters and runway lighting system controls.

Tuesday, March 28
PRESIDENT JIMMY Carter proposed an $8.3 billion program yesterday to aid the nation's cities with direct grants, job subsidies and numerous incentives to spur private and state investment. The urban package clearly would benefit Detroit and other large economically troubled cities with more money for jobs, housing, parks and health care. The details of the various programs are still sketchy and it is unclear exactly how much money Detroit might expect.

Pointe Students Get Ready for Superwalk

at Belle Isle, Stony Creek Park and Pontiac's Silverdome. Proceeds from the 20-mile event will be used in the continuing effort to eliminate birth defects and improve the quality of life for all children. Anyone wishing to participate must register first by calling the March of Dimes at 863-3000 so that a sponsor form can be filled out.

Incinerator Bond Issue Gets Okay

All Participating Communities Finally Approve New Smoke Stack, Land Fill Site

By Wendy K. Settle
All eight communities using the Grosse Pointes-Clinton Refuse Disposal Authority have now formally signed an agreement granting the authority permission to float a $12 million bond issue to build a new smoke stack and buy a land fill site. The last two cities needing to sign the agreement, The Farms and Harper Woods, both took council action at their meetings on Monday, March 20. Each council unanimously approved the measure supporting the sale of bonds. The other communities, St. Clair Shores, Clinton Township and the remaining Pointes had earlier signed the agreement.

Wheels to Roll

The authority will now start the wheels rolling with their attorneys and state revenue bond officials, said Leonard Mitchell, Farms representative on the authority's board of directors.

The authority needed the approval of all the communities, who send their refuse to the plant, in order to issue the bonds. The new stack is being

NHS Seniors Get Rewards In Assisting Immigrants

Two North High School seniors, Angie Lecoudis and Jeanne Ballew, have added an unusual and rewarding dimension to their student life this year. Both girls have undertaken the task of helping a student immigrant. Angie devotes much of her day and after school time to tutoring Aras Zengas, who arrived in The Pointe from Greece only last December. Jeanne is working with Francesco Favazza from Italy. Neither of the two boys had any prior instruction in English. Angie has some interesting observations about tutoring the foreign born. She feels, for example, that a tutor's knowledge of the students' native language

Students, Youngsters Find Child Development Course Valuable Asset

Pre-Schoolers Enjoy Variety of Learning Experiences, While High Schoolers Discover Directions in Employment

By Susan McDonald
When you're four-years-old, learning can be just as easy as sanding a block of wood—discovering the different surfaces and textures, the shapes, colors and grains. But even that takes some planning, as the high school students in Phyllis Henry's Child Development course are finding out.

The course is an educational program for pre-schoolers, a job training experience for the teenagers, a community service and a great way to recycle an unused classroom—all rolled up in one. It began last fall, with a group of students from both North and South High who had graduated from the schools' vocational child care course.

Carefully Designed
During the fall, they were assigned the task of designing, planning and building a child care center in an unused kindergarten room at Barnes Elementary School. They opened to pre-schoolers in November, and since then have been operating a full-fledged child care program, three days a week.

The teens designed the center carefully, keeping in mind the variety of learning experiences they wanted to offer the youngsters.

Each teen is assigned to one of several "activity areas" for the day, and is responsible for drawing up a detailed lesson plan in advance that will help develop the children's small or large motor skills, science, math, music, movement, rhythm, art, sensory or language skills. There's a pint-sized work table in one corner, where the pre-schoolers can saw a piece of wood, sand it down and pile up the odd-shaped blocks under the guidance of a high school student.

Students Also Learn
In another corner, the teens laid a carpet and anchored down a few tipped-over cans, just large enough for a five-year-old to crawl through. There's a small kitchen area, where the lesson for the day includes cooking popcorn, bagging it up and labeling the containers with each classmate's name.

The pre-schoolers have a ball, switching from station-to-station at will, enjoying the one-to-one contact and attention they get at each activity center.

And the high school students are learning a lot, too. Kim Black is pretty sure she knows what profession she'd like to enter after school, and Mrs. Henry's class is helping her to that goal.

"I'd like to work as a therapist for the physically handicapped. I know I'm learning skills here that I'll need in my work," she said. For Kim Jewell the class is an exploration. "I don't know what I want to do, that's sort of what I'm here for," she said.

Park Council Lauds Costa

The Park Council at its regular meeting Monday, March 27, made part of the record a commendation to Fire Chief Phillip Costa for his outstanding leadership in the handling of the Charles Helin mansion fire at 15440 Windmill Pointe drive, Saturday, March 18. A City firefighter, Richard Tucker, was fatally injured while helping to battle the flames which totally destroyed the huge mansion. The council also approved

Cul-De-Sac Plan Nixed In GP Park

Commission to Recommend to Council That Proposal Be Dropped Based on Survey

By Wendy K. Settle
The Park Plan Commission has "squashed" any future recommendations on the cul-de-sac plan. The overwhelming negative results from a public survey on the proposal forced the commission to unanimously recommend that the Park Council drop all possibilities of instituting such a plan.

"We're here to either squash this thing or find out if the people want it, and this survey tells us that the majority of the community doesn't want it," said Park Mayor Matthew C. Patterson at the commission's Tuesday, March 21, meeting.

Park City Manager and Acting Secretary of the Commission, Robert A. Slone, sent out 4,800 questionnaires on the cul-de-sac plan in early February. Park residents sent back approximately 1,281 responses by Friday, March 3.

"Con" Comments
In the six questions, the highest percentage against the plan was 76 percent, while the highest percentage in favor of it was 35 percent. The lowest percentage was 65 percent against and 24 percent in favor.

Mr. Slone read at random some citizens' comments written on the questionnaires. Of the 12 which he read, nine were "con" and three were "pro." One comment was from a man who had lived in a community that had tried a similar plan. "It didn't work," he noted, "and it just caused confusion and fire problems"

YSD Managers View Subject Of Finances

Board Instructs Shores to Pay Full Share of 1977-78 Budget, Agrees to Maintain Current SEV Formula for 1978-79; Group Meets March 28 to Discuss Two Fiscal Year Proposals

By Roger A. Waha
The Shores, which reduced its payment to the Youth Service Division, (YSD), budget for fiscal year 1977-78 because of a concern over the current allocation method utilized for funding, will have to pay its full share. The YSD board of managers approved a motion instructing the Village to complete its payment inasmuch as the budget was adopted by a majority of the managers and full payment is expected.

At the same time, the board, including the city managers of all the Pointes and a School Board representative, also approved a motion that the allocation formula, i.e., currently based on SEV, (State Equalized Valuation), remain the same for the 1978-79 fiscal year.

The former motion was from Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer and the latter motion was from School Board representative Dr. Joseph Spagnoli. Both were unanimously approved, 5-0, with Shores Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis abstaining on each.

Look at Alternatives

This action was taken at the managers' Tuesday morning, March 21, meeting in The Woods, which is managing municipality of the YSD.

In a related action, the managers approved a motion by Mr. Bremer that the group investigate a possible change in the allocation formula based upon two alternatives, the 1970 census and total school population, with the results of the study being discussed prior to approval of the division's 1979-80 fiscal year budget.

An amendment to this motion, from City Manager Thomas Kressbach of Grosse Pointe City, to include consideration of any other factors deemed appropriate, failed to pass so the managers then voted on the original motion.

With these questions apparently settled for the moment, the managers were scheduled to meet Tuesday morning, March 28, (after press time), to consider two budget proposals prepared by Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, YSD coordinator, for fiscal year 1978-79.

After this meeting, a luncheon for members only was set at the Lochmoor Club to

Herold Deason Named Attorney in GP Park

By James J. Njaim
The Park Council on Monday, March 27, regretfully accepted the resignation of City Attorney Richard D. Rohr, and promptly filled the vacancy by appointing Deputy City Attorney Herold Deason as his successor. Mr. Rohr, who has been city attorney for nearly 16 years, succeeding Pierre V. Heffler in 1962, submitted his resignation to Mayor Matthew C. Patterson, who announced it to the council. Messrs. Heffler, Rohr and Deason are members of the Detroit law firm of Bodman, Langley and Dahling. Mr. Rohr recommended Mr. Deason, who has been deputy city attorney for eight years as his replacement because Mr. Deason has been involved

City Faces Financial Problems

Administrator Kressbach Paints Grim Outlook for Community's New Fiscal Year Budget

By Susan McDonald
City councilmen are facing a grim financial picture this spring and may be forced to make some tough decisions to cutback services or raise taxes in coming weeks.

In a pre-budget financial report to the council Monday, March 20, City Manager Thomas Kressbach noted the community has overrun its budget by substantial amounts for the past two years, making up the difference between revenue and expenditures by using up reserves.

But "this approach cannot be continued," Mr. Kressbach told the council. In 1976-77 the city spent $37,350 more than it budgeted. This year, (fiscal 1977-78), the administrators estimate a $49,500 gap between revenues and expenditures.

Offers Alternatives
As a solution to the financial fix, Mr. Kressbach forwarded three possible actions: cutting back its public safety, (police and fire), force by 3.3 men, instituting curb-side rubbish collection or levying additional taxes.

"It's too early for us to make any decision on which measure—or combination of measures—we will have to take," Mr. Kressbach said. The council will review the budget in April.

"It's a very difficult problem to solve," Mr. Kressbach said. "We're facing some difficult decisions, but we have to start making them this year."

"We're not projecting a New York City type of financial crisis; we've prevented that by being prudent."

In his report to the council, the city manager cited a number of cost increases which have pushed the municipality into its present plight.

Probation Program Is Viewed

Assistance Sought from Pointe Governments to Subsidize Proposed $25,000 Budget

By Roger A. Waha and Susan McDonald

The community's four municipal judges, all of whom are members of the Grosse Pointe Volunteer Probation Program's board of directors, appeared before both the Woods and City Councils on Monday, March 20, to seek their assistance in an overall effort toward having all the Pointes subsidize a proposed operating budget of $25,000.

A main objective of their plan is toward providing better service to the community through hiring a part-time professional director to guide the growing program, founded in July 1974 as a non-profit corporation. The hiring of a full-time secretary also is being considered.

City Judge Stan C. Kazul, president of the board of directors, in saying the group also will appear before the Farms, Park and Shores Councils, expressed his hope that the municipalities would allocate funds for the program in their upcoming fiscal year budgets.

Should Get Together

In relation to this, Mr. Kazul suggested that the formula currently used to finance the Youth Service Division, (YSD), i.e., based upon State Equalized Valuation, be considered for the proposed plan.

Woods Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos told the judge that representatives from his community should first meet with officials of the other Pointes to learn their feelings on the proposal.

Stressing that the plan should have the support of all the communities, Mr. Pinkos said he felt such support would be forthcoming but didn't know if all municipalities would include funds in their 1978-79 fiscal year budgets.

As it turned out, the Woods Council unanimously approved a motion by Council-

Farms Okays Belanger Wall

The residents of Belanger avenue have been working through the Farms Council since the beginning of January to get permission to construct a wall at the end of their street.

After two public hearings and hours of debate, the council approved the construction at its regular meeting on Monday, March 20.

A special assessment was agreed upon to be paid by the residents and businesses affected by the wall in two installments. The first payment is due by this July 1, and the second by July 1, 1979, or the payments may be made with the citizen's taxes.

The six-foot concrete wall will block Belanger at the existing alley behind the commercial properties in Mack avenue. It will run along the alley between Kerby and Calvin roads.

The 20 residents will each pay exactly $281.45 for their lot and the six commercial businesses will pay between $147.75 to $653.18. All late payments will be charged a six percent late fee.

City Manager Andrew Bremer informed the council that all legal requirements for the wall were met and the city would now start soliciting bids for construction.

The citizens made their request for the wall when they presented a petition to the council in early January. The petition cited traffic from the bars in Mack avenue and excessive noise from the reasons for building the wall. (Continued on Page 4)

Aid for Probation Program Viewed

(Continued from Page 1) man E. D. Grady that Mr. Kazul's letter, background on the program and suggested operating budget be referred to the Finance Committee and the Committee of the Whole for possible action.

Meanwhile, City Mayor John L. King seemed somewhat skeptical over the funding plan inasmuch as The Shores has expressed its dissatisfaction over the YSD formula.

Cites Big Need

At the same time, City Manager Thomas Kressbach has painted a bleak picture regarding his community's new fiscal year budget, indicating several alternatives toward cutting costs including the possibility of cut-backs and layoffs could be taken.

Officials in the other Pointes also are taking hard looks at the cost question for the upcoming fiscal year.

In a letter to the Woods Council, Mr. Kazul said funding for the probation program has been derived from private foundation money and fees paid by the various defendants.

But since the program became a reality, its board has been aware of deficiencies and inadequacies in the operation with such problems mainly existing because of the lack of professional guidance, he stated.

In many similar programs, the judge is a full-time position, assuming the role of directing the probation department. However, noted Mr. Kazul, the Pointes have no full-time judges and "consequently, there is a lack of professional guidance which is greatly needed."

Viable Alternative

Mr. Kazul told both councils that the program was developed in 1974 with the participation of Judges Blair Moody and George Bashara, along with input from the local judges.

After foundation monies ran out, an attempt was made to finance the program through fees collected from probationers. But Mr. Kazul said, "We've gone from financial crisis to financial crisis," while noting some defendants were indigent.

Saying there's no chance of obtaining funds from Wayne County, which only supports circuit court, and the cost of using the county's probation department is prohibitive, Mr. Kazul indicated none of the judges, because of the current situation, actually use probation as often as they would like because no professional person is directing the program.

In fact, he even called a jail sentence or the issuing of a fine both negative actions, while stressing the courts must have a viable alternative for misdemeanants, i.e., closely supervised probation directly accountable to the respective municipal courts—hence, one-on-one contact.

The program encompasses about 40 probation volunteers, representing a broad spectrum of age groups and professions. "Our training goes through a series of sessions and we don't want to lose our volunteers, but they need direction. We have had volunteer directors but they've overstayed their presence," said Mr. Kazul.

Monies Would Return

Even with the budget, he made it clear that charges still would be levied on the defendants, with those funds being returned to the individual city from which the case originated.

As a result, some of the costs would be returned to the communities with the cities making up the difference between the operating budget and probation costs.

The local program provides services to persons pleading guilty or charged with or convicted of crimes under city ordinances but only upon reference or assignment to the organization by a municipal judge.

The services which consist of both presence investigation and post conviction supervision and counseling are provided by volunteers recruited from the community and trained to carry on such activities.

Besides providing counseling on a one-on-one basis, the volunteers also, where indicated, refer defendants to other community agencies both public and private.

On the question of presenting investigations, both Park Judge Beverly C. Grobbel and Farms Judge Robert H. Pytell, who appeared with Woods and Shores Judge J. Patrick Denis, stressed the importance of such an investigation and their feelings that a better job is done on the local level.

Budget Breakdown

At the same time, they noted that it costs $175 to do a presentencing report in the county.

Last year, 47 presence investigations were conducted through the program, bringing the overall total up to 229. A total of 60 probationers were handled during 1977 and, to date, 82 probationers have completed the program with 57 presently on probation.

Saying they have attempted to meet the program's financial needs through probation costs alone, which is no longer feasible, the judges have proposed the following budget for the consideration of the municipalities:

Salary and fringes, $20,500; payroll tax, $1,700; insurance, $1,000; telephone, $800; supplies, $500; and mileage and parking, $500.

Cul-De-Sac Plan Nixed

Other negative comments on the plan cited traffic inconvenience, racial segregation and expense.

The three positive comments were, "I really like the plan," "There are places for them" and "I firmly support this idea." None of the statements was accompanied by reasons.

The Park spent approximately $300 to conduct the survey. "We took the survey in the most economical and efficient way possible," said Commission Chairman George Helm. "The purpose was to find out how the community felt and what their interest level was."

A Low Level

Perhaps the "interest level" was best reflected by the total number of citizens who attended the meeting, 16. Only one man appeared before the commission to air his views on the cul-de-sac plan. Other residents at the meeting were interested in another agenda item.

Roger Ault of Lakepointe road noted he was not necessarily for or against the plan but he did feel the commission's questionnaire was not thorough enough and "discouraged the community from offering any other positive and stimulating suggestions."

Mr. Ault also wrote a letter to the commission stating his opinion but noted at the meeting he did not send in a questionnaire because "I was so occupied writing my letter."

The idea of turning many Park streets into cul-de-sacs, or mini-parks with turn-arounds that deadend streets was started by the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. around a year ago.

The plan's originator, John Brink, while admitting it's a "publicity scheme" that his company is doing "for business," also felt cul-de-sacs would be beneficial to the community.

The plan received a lot of publicity from the real estate company so Park officials conducted their survey without the promotional frills to determine how the public feels.

Big Asset

As in any good vocational program, Mrs. Henry makes sure the high school students explore all career aspects of the child care field, including salaries, working conditions and available jobs.

They learn about writing resumes, letters of application and interviewing for employment.

For parents in the community who were lucky enough to get their preschoolers enrolled in the class, it's a plain, good deal. The cost per month is $10 and there's already a waiting list for next semester's class.

Mrs. Henry, who has established similar programs in Romulus and Southgate public schools, is assisted by aide Vanda Kuras and paraprofessional Joan McShane.

Woods to Further Study Snow Removal Proposal

By Roger A. Waha

A snow and ice removal ordinance, which The Woods has been considering since the first of the year, was unanimously referred to the Committee of the Whole by the council at its second reading stage on Monday, March 20.

What was originally intended to control hazardous conditions, e.g., huge piles of snow, in commercial areas, the measure, through subsequent input from officials and citizens, grew to encompass residential areas, to the delight — and disdain — of some.

As a result, Councilman George S. Freeman's motion to approve the proposal, minus a section governing the removal of snow and ice on sidewalks in front of and parallel to residential property, midway through the discussion ultimately succumbed to a substitute motion by Councilman John Sabol to refer this subject to committee.

Several citizens in the audience were against having stipulations in the proposal requiring them to remove snow and ice. A main reason cited by some was the extra expense which would be incurred by the homeowner in hiring snow removal companies.

In fact, one citizen even questioned if the city had "ulterior motives" in having such a requirement.

In response, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos told this resident that his allegations were totally unfounded.

The mayor said that the city will continue to remove snow on all sidewalks and streets, stressing that the service provided is very good and will continue to be so or even better. "We shouldn't burden the residents with costs of hiring private contractors," he said.

(The section requiring citizens to remove snow and ice from sidewalks was originally added after one man at the February 27 meeting felt an ordinance should make it mandatory that sidewalks be cleared as many, despite city plowing, remained caked with ice.)

Mr. Pinkos also said on several occasions the proposal should only address itself to the commercial district with sections affecting residential areas being eliminated.

Not without a touch of irony, the mayor felt the city would even be "the greatest violator" of a section which says no one should deposit snow on another's property when the plows were utilized to clear the streets.

On the commercial side, Dr. Albert C. Howe, stressing a similar theme of hardship as expressed by citizens, cited a section of the proposal prohibiting the accumulation of snow in private parking areas. He said it would cost merchants big amounts of money to do this on a regular basis.

In fact, a snow removal contractor agreed, feeling such a provision would hurt small businesses.

For his part, Mr. Sabol said the proposal should contain a provision to regulate the height of snow on property toward avoiding accidents, e.g., drivers who are unable to see a thoroughfare because of huge mounds of piled snow.

The councilman also felt the section prohibiting the accumulation of snow and ice on sidewalks in commercial districts should specify a width of a path and City Attorney George Catlin agreed, saying the section could be revised to indicate a width of five feet.

With the variety of opinions on the proposal from both officials and citizens — and spring on the horizon — it probably won't be until next winter before the city has a snow removal law on the books.

Orchestras Eye April Concert

The Grosse Pointe Public School System will present its annual Orchestras-in-Review concert on Tuesday, April 11, in the gymnasium of North High School, 707 Vernier road, at 8 p.m.

The concert will include performances by the orchestras of the two high schools and three middle schools. The final performance includes a large massed orchestra, directed by guest conductor Robert Culver, combining the string players from all five schools with the wind players from the two high schools.

Tickets for the concert are available at the door at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. Senior citizens will be admitted free.

Worker Hurt At Home Site

Shores public safety officers dispatched to a new home construction site on Friday, March 24, arrived to find a worker bleeding profusely about the forehead. The injury resulted when a high pressure hose burst and a piece of the hose struck the worker on the head.

Injured was Sebastiano Fedele, 27, of Summer Lane East, Fraser, who was conveyed to Saint John Hospital by PSOs Archie Trevillian and Harry Hamilton for treatment of the wound and shock. It was not disclosed how many stitches were required to close the gash.

According to the officers' report, they arrived at the site of a new home construction at 916 Lakeshore road, and were directed to a room at the south side where they found Mr. Fedele bleeding badly.

After taking Mr. Fedele to the hospital, the officers returned to the site to find out the cause of the injury.

Workers at the scene said the man was using a high pressure hose to apply plaster to a wall, when the hose burst and its rear end struck the worker just below the hairline.

Mr. Fedele was working alone at the time of the accident, it was said, and other workers came to his assistance when he called for help.

Farms Police Report Thefts

Two Farms homes were entered over the Easter weekend. The first robbery on Thursday, March 23, is related to 13 other burglaries that have occurred in The City and Farms in the past month, police believe.

The second break-in on Saturday, March 25, in Lakeview road, (the citizen be withheld), does not appear to be the work of the robber suspected in The City's breaking and entering, police reported.

On Thursday at approximately 3 p.m. a Moran road home was entered and totally ransacked. Police do not know what was taken at 1:15 time as the homeowner was out of town at the time of the incident.

A foot print, found at the scene where the thief allegedly broke a rear window and entered the home, matches prints found at the other robberies in The City and Farms.

Thieves stole numerous pieces of silver from the Lakeview road home after entering through the unlocked front door. The homeowner's son was in the garage while the thieves removed a television, a silver tea and coffee service, some silver trays and a candelabra from the home.

"It is possible that this robbery is related to the others, but I really don't think so," said Det. George Van Tiem.

The robber apparently parked his car in front of the house next door, police said, and just walked inside. The detective bureau is investigating both cases.

State to Pay For Snow Job

Grosse Pointe will receive almost $10,000 in federal snow removal funds as a result of the Michigan state emergency declared in late January, according to a release from the governor's office.

The funds will be allocated to the public schools, which will receive $1,600, The Park, $7,215, and The City, $904.

The checks are part of a total of $2 million in federal funds that have been awarded throughout Michigan to help pay for snow clean-up.

The Federal Disaster Assistance Administration is reimbursing schools, colleges and local governments in Michigan for up to 75 percent of the cost of snow removal contracts for work done between January 28 and February 1.

Woods Eyes Police Cars

Bids on new police vehicles were considered briefly by the Woods Council at its Monday, March 20, meeting but no decision was made at that time.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said four bids were received from various dealerships with Roseville Chrysler-Plymouth being the low one. However, he said the dealership didn't meet specifications on the engine.

Mr. Petersen stated the city was seeking 350 or 360 cubic inch engines while Roseville's bid encompassed 400 cubic inch engines, which are in the city's current, 1977 Dodge Monacos, autos which have caused the city problems, particularly after the first of the year, since they were purchased.

He recommended that the bid be rejected and that the entire matter be referred to his office for further review and the council unanimously agreed.

As a result, Mr. Petersen told the council to purchase a Chrysler product, action would have had to be taken at the meeting, whereas time remained, (until around mid-April), to order cars from General Motors or Ford.

Hopefully, this subject will be considered by the council at its Monday, April 3, meeting, he added.

In relation to police vehicles, Councilman E. D. Grady, in citing the success of some communities with "down-

Molly's Ready for Fun

Take it from MOLLY CORBIN of The Park, the daycare center at Barnes Elementary School is a super place for a four-year-old to spend an afternoon. The center was designed, built and is now run by North and South High School students who are taking the schools' Child Development vocational course. The tunnel Molly's crawling through is one of several "activity areas" set up in the formerly unused Barnes classroom, designed to help develop the children's motor skills, language, sensory skills and understanding of math and science. (See story, Page 1.)

City Eyes Tight Budget

Action by the state legislature added $5,000 to the city's unemployment compensation bill and will add $15,000 to $20,000 in the coming year, the report states.

Another Consideration Blue Cross medical insurance costs for employees went up more than $8,000 and social security some $5,000, the report continues. In addition, retirement system costs rose by almost $16,000 last year.

An eight percent increase in the tax base, (a result of the reassessment of property values), will not be sufficient to bail The City out, Mr. Kressbach said.

"The property taxes make up only 65 percent of our general fund revenues," he said. "Our other revenues aren't increasing nearly that fast."

In addition, to the sharply increased costs, the city manager urged the council not to overlook the community's capital outlay needs. "Some of the redevelopment or renovation projects are as important to the city's 'quality of life' as the governmental services rendered," he said.

Those needs include street resurfacing, a program which has been cut back in recent years, replacement of fire equipment, including a 21-year-old replacement of pumper, major public works equipment and filtering system for the Neff Park swimming pool.

The suggested cutback in public safety officers, as part of the consolidation of police and fire departments, "is a complex matter, involving cooperation of firefighters and policemen, labor negotiations and training of personnel," according to Mr. Kressbach.

Eyes Rubbish Tax The council actually passed a resolution approving implementation of public safety in October 1976. Firefighters have resisted the change in Wayne County Circuit Court and arbitration proceedings, and full implementation.

New Attorney (Continued from Page 1) Mr. Deason, 35, who was born in Alton, Ill., was raised in Detroit and was graduated from Cooley High School in 1960. He is a 1964 graduate of Albion College, and a 1967 graduate of Chicago's Northwestern University Law School.

In 1968, he joined the U.S. Army Reserve, serving with the Army Intelligence Unit. After completing his required reserve "hitch," he was honorably discharged with the rating of staff sergeant.

Mr. Deason and his wife, the former Billie Kaemmerle of Cincinnati, O., have been residents of The Park for the past four years. They are the parents of Sean, 7, a Mair School student, and twins, Ian and Whitney, who are three years old.

mentation of the plan appears a long way off.

Eliminating The City's convenient side door trash pick-up service, another of Mr. Kressbach's proposals, would not save the city as much as public safety cutbacks would, according to the report. But the resulting reductions in personnel and equipment would produce a substantial budget savings, Mr. Kressbach said.

The last proposed option is an additional tax, which could be passed in the form of a rubbish tax, with a three-mill limit, under state law.

Director of Finance Dennis Foran, however, estimated that such a tax would only temporarily postpone a budget imbalance for two to four years.

The City currently operates its $1.9 million budget with a tax rate of 21.69 mills, (1.69 mills of which is for debt retirement purposes). One mill equals $1 for every $1,000 of State Equalized Valuation of property.

Each mill levied brings in almost $70,000 to City coffers.

Blaze Closes Restaurant

A fire which apparently started in a faulty fan motor will close the StuttGarter Hoff restaurant, 16825 Kercheval avenue, for an indefinite period of time, according to City fire reports.

Firefighters from The City were assisted by Park officers in battling the blaze which broke out at about 8 a.m. on Monday, March 20. Damage was limited to the kitchen ceiling area.

Restaurant owner Skender Pepellashi said he does not know when he'll be able to reopen the business.

POINTER PROMOTED J. Ronald Kelly of The Woods has been named to the post of account executive in the firm of P/R Associates, Inc. Mr. Kelly is an accredited member of the Public Relations Society of America and is a member of the Detroit Press Club. He holds a BA in communications from Michigan State University.

LOTTERY WINNERS Pointers Jeffery Cueter and Barbara Pride have both won $5,000 in the Michigan "Tic-Tac-Dough" lottery game. They are now eligible for the grand drawing to win up to $1,000,000.

Last Respects Paid to City Firefighter

FIRE DEPARTMENT AND MUNICIPAL OFFICIALS FROM THE CITY LEAD THE FUNERAL PROCESSION DOWN EAST OUTER DRIVE AFTER SERVICES THURSDAY, MARCH 23

SERVICES WERE CONDUCTED BY REV. WILFRID HOLMES-WALKER FROM SAINT PHILIP AND SAINT STEVEN EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Nearly 400 blue-uniformed officers from around 30 communities in southeast Michigan, Ohio and Canada joined with the family and friends of fallen City Firefighter Richard Tucker to pay him a final tribute on Thursday, March 23.

Mr. Tucker, 45, died on Sunday, March 19, at Bon Secours Hospital from injuries he suffered fighting a five-alarm fire the day before in Windmill Pointe drive. Witnesses said Mr. Tucker was fatally injured when a wall of the blazing Charles Helin mansion crumbled and fell.

The Rev. Wilfrid Holmes-Walker of Saint Philip and Saint Stevens Episcopal Church conducted the Thursday service at the Verheyden Funeral Home. The Detroit Fire and Police Department Band and a color guard from American Legion Post No. 75 also participated.

Mr. Tucker is survived by his wife, Elaine, and two daughters, Laura, 7, and Lisa, 3. Memorial contributions may be directed to the Richard M. Tucker Memorial Fund, City of Grosse Pointe, 17147 Maumee avenue, Grosse Pointe 48230.

Interment was at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

North High Seniors Find Rewards

Obviously, much of Argie's after school day is devoted to tutoring, but not at the expense of her own studies, which she always completes first.

"This experience has forced me to focus on language and to learn more about its structure," she explains. "In addition, it's great preparation for me when my family and I move to Greece."

Aras, who came from Cyprus, claims the best thing that's happened to him in the U.S. is meeting Angie.

Her help and the individual attention he has received from North English Department head Robert Reimer, Elizabeth Soby, the reading consultant, and parent aides in the reading lab, have helped him make himself understood with his new friends, as well as keep up with his studies.

Francesco came to the U.S. last September. Although he had no English background, he had studied German and Latin in a Swiss school.

His first impressions of North High, like Aras', were that the school was too big and that language would be an impossible barrier.

Again, the trio of Mr. Reimer, Mrs. Soby and Mrs. Carrasco came to the rescue. Francesco is now able to translate articles from Italian newspapers into English, and to translate the English news to his parents in Italian.

Jeanne, who is Francesco's student tutor, spends an hour every school day assisting him. She's joined him on field trips to the Detroit Institute of Arts, the Renaissance Center and Detroit Public Library.

Since Jean does not speak Italian, her methods of communication have often included sign language, and now, she's making Francesco describe snapshots to her in English.

"I've learned a great deal about personalities and how much influence one's cultural background has on personality," she says. Working as a tutor has made her appreciate and understand the complexity of her own language as well.

The Bi-Lingual Program at North was piloted during the final five weeks of last school year. At that time, there were 15 students in the district who were primarily Arabic speaking students, according to Mrs. Carrasco.

Now there are 46 students, scattered in 10 different schools, speaking 11 different languages. Volunteers are always needed, says Mrs. Carrasco. Interested individuals should leave their name and phone number with North High School by calling 886-8100.

Smoke Alarm Alerts Doctor

A smoke detector alarm, located in the basement, went off in the home of Dr. Walter Digiulio, of Stratton place on Friday, March 17. The doctor and public safety officers who responded to the scene could smell a strong odor of smoke, but were unable to locate its source.

The officers said there was smoke in the building, but when they searched the house from the attic to the basement, they could find no flames. They shut down all the electrical power in the building as they continued their search.

Since there were no flames visible, the officers felt the walls and discovered some heat in the northwest wall of a first floor bathroom. A hole was chopped through the wall, and the firefighters discovered charred insulation, but no fire.

Later, it was determined that construction workers next door, where a new house is being erected, attempted to use water from a hose faucet outside Dr. Digiulio's house and finding it frozen, used a blow torch to try to thaw the pipe.

The heat penetrated through the wall and started a fire, which ignited the insulation material.

When they chopped a hole in the inside wall, the officers found that the fire had burned itself out, but took the extra precaution to make sure it would not start up again.

Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale said it was not a big fire, but there was the possibility it could have been. He said he heartily endorses the installation of smoke de-tor alarms in every home. The first sound of alarm could very well save lives and property.

The construction company will affect repairs without charge to the doctor.

The death rate is anything above eighty miles an hour.

Profits from the sale, which will be held at Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation, 20422 Mack avenue, the Original Pancake House, 20273 Mack, the J. C. Penney Co., 19251 Mack, and Manufacturers Bank, Mack and Lochmoor boulevard, will be used for the Foundation for Exceptional Children and the Grosse Pointe Ass'n. for Retarded Citizens.

Voting against the motion were Councilmen E. D. Grady and John Sabol.

Mr. Grady made the original motion to approve the request but only from April 6 to 9 toward slowing the flow of solicitations in the community.

But Councilman Robert E. Novitke offered a substitute motion that the Jaycees should be permitted to conduct the sale for the seven days.

Mr. Sabol said he nixed the substitute motion because solicitation requests will expand to an "unbearable quality" unless some action is taken. At the same time, he felt approval of such requests on a consistent basis might lead to the appearance of undesirable elements in the community.

Costa Cited

Detroit, which has no Mutual Fire Aid Pact with the Pointes or Harper Woods, ordered three companies of its fire department on the alert in case of any emergency runs in The City, Farms and Park.

Chief Costa gave a verbal report to the council, describing the Helin mansion, which he said was "built like a fortress," and the difficulty in trying to put out the fire. Firemen battled the flames from 6:02 p.m. until 2:59 a.m. the next day, pouring many thousands of gallons of water on the flames before bringing it under control.

The chief said there were five stone chimneys. One collapsed during the fire, fatally injuring firefighter Tucker. Three chimneys have since been torn down because they were safety hazards, and only one chimney still remains standing, Chief Costa stated.

The chief said during the height of the battle, he requested advice from Chiefs Schultz, Marshall and LeFevre, and they informed him there was nothing more that could be done.

The council awarded the commendation to Chief Costa for his excellent leadership at the fire scene.

If you're losing interest in interest rate claims, try 7.75%.

REMEMBER TO KEEP THE DOOR CLOSED WHILE THE MACHIE IS MULTIPLYING.

We think a lot of people have been confused for a long time about savings interest rates. Lately, we think they've become more confused by the numerous attempts to "straighten out the confusion."

So here is a simple fact: we pay 7.75% annual interest, guaranteed for the full term, on a six-year certificate savings account; no place pays a higher rate, and many places (possibly including the one where you're saving) are not allowed to pay as much.

To earn this high interest—which is an effective annual rate of 7.98%—just deposit $1,000 or more and leave it in the account for the full six years.

Obviously, it's not the account to have if you're saving up for this summer's vacation or September college tuition. But it just might be the account to have for your dream vacation, or for college tuition for a child who's now twelve, or even as a supplement to your retirement fund.

Type of Account	Minimum Amount	Annual Rate	Effective Annual Rate	How and When Paid
One-Year Certificate*	$1,000	6.50%	6.66%	Paid and compounded quarterly.
2 1/2-Year Certificate*	$1,000	6.75%	6.92%	Paid and compounded quarterly.
4-Year Certificate*	$1,000	7.50%	7.71%	Paid and compounded quarterly.
6-Year Certificate*	$1,000	7.75%	7.98%	Paid and compounded quarterly.

*Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal from certificate savings accounts.

Easter Vacation Slows Center's Campaign Drive

Receipts in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association's 1978 Annual Family Participation Campaign have slowed down due to the fact that many families were out of town over Easter.

As of Monday, March 27, 1,051 families had contributed $26,858.50 in comparison to $27,777.75 received from 1,285 donors by the sixth day of last year's campaign. However, the campaign this year began a week earlier.

The Center is gratified that many families are considering the effect of inflation and are increasing their gifts proportionately. John Nicholson, campaign chairman, and Jack Monahan, president of the association, are confident that when schools reopen next week and families return to the Pointe, the drive will pick up momentum.

Follow up letters will be mailed the second week of April to unresponsive citizens and a telethon, (by phone), manned by the Grosse Pointe Senior Men's Club will take place the end of the month as an added effort.

The goal of $150,000 will hopefully be achieved by Memorial Day, officials say, so the Center can complete its budget and continue operations in the new fiscal year beginning August 1.

Progress of the campaign can be followed on the thermometer at the entrance of the Center's grounds, 32 Lakeshore road.

Figures show over 250,000 (including repeats), taking part in nearly 2,500 events at the Memorial. Of these, half were programmed and sponsored by the Center itself.

GPW Approves Wind Screens

The Lake Front Park will have new wind screens on the north side of its 10 tennis courts as the Woods Council at its Monday, March 20, meeting approved the purchase of the screens in the amount of $1,538.75 from Midwest Sports Nets, Manchester, Mo.

Monies will come from the Lake Front Park bond issue.

With the new screens, tennis players will have further protection as screens were already up last year on the south side of the courts.

Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallman conducted a survey of several locations and discovered that the Neighborhood Club, The Farms and The City presently have wind screens on their courts, while Harper Woods plans on installing them this summer.

He noted both The Shores and The Park, however, do not have such screens.

Mr. Hallman felt the screens would be beneficial in cutting down distractions for players and help in eliminating the wind factor.

Jewels & gems

by Jerry Valente

It is easy to see how the roles of men and women differed in other centuries by exploring items made for the use of one or the other of the sexes. Take the vinaigrette, for example. This was a tiny silver box — sometimes less than an inch in length! It had two lids: the top hinged lid and an inner gilt and pierced lid, also hinged. Under the inner lid, the lady of 1800 placed a small piece of sponge which she had soaked with strong perfume. Whenever she felt a spell of fainting coming on — which women frequently did — she would open her vinaigrette and take a sniff.

If you are a buyer of unique items, come in and see the antique jewelry and object of art left with us on consignment by their owners, here at VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, Detroit, 881-4800. Some of the art objects and antique jewelry we have on display date back to the 14th and 15th century. We invite you to bring in antique and estate jewelry and leave it with us on consignment. There is no cost for this service.

Abduction Case Under Scrutiny

An eight-year-old Woods boy was approached by a man in a vehicle and asked if he wanted a candy bar while the youth was walking along Mack avenue near Littlestone road on Monday afternoon, March 20, reported Woods police.

After asking the question, the youth ran and was chased by the man. The boy said he went into the Christian Science Reading Room, 19613 Mack, to escape his pursuer with the suspect ultimately driving away.

A friend of the boy, who ran on ahead, told police he saw nothing but the eight-year-old has stuck by his story.

The suspect was described as a white male, between 17 and 18 years of age and had dark hair below his ears. He was wearing a black leather jacket and ragged jeans.

Meanwhile, the vehicle was described as a black over green older model Pontiac, "jacked up" in the rear with an orange and blue ball saying "76" on tops of the antenna.

The case is currently under investigation by Youth Service Division Det. John Albrecht.

Dinner to Honor Retiring GPP City Manager Slone

By James J. Njaim

Officials and employees of The Park are going all out to make sure that City Manager Robert A. Slone has one of the best retirement parties ever held.

Mr. Slone will be honored on Saturday, April 8, at the Harper Woods Community Center, 19748 Harper Avenue. Cocktails will be at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be at 7:30 p.m. Subscription is $12.50 a person, which includes a gift, cocktails, dinner, dancing and plenty of refreshments.

Citizens interested in paying tribute to the city manager are requested to submit their subscription and reservation to Mr. Slone's secretary, Erma O. Nyiri, treasurer of the banquet committee, no later than tomorrow, March 31.

Mr. Slone, whose retirement was to have been on March 31, has agreed to remain on the job until Friday, April 28, at the request of Mayor Matthew C. Patterson and the council until his successor, John Crawford, Center Line city manager, takes over on Monday, April 24.

Mr. Crawford, 40, who has been city manager of Center Line since 1969, had to give the Center Line Council a 60-day notice that he was quitting his job to take over the post in The Park. The 60 days expires on Friday, April 21.

However, since submitting his resignation, he has been commuting back and forth to The Park, has met all department heads and has been guided by Mr. Slone on what to expect regarding his duties.

Mr. Slone also has been sending his successor information on general city activities and programs so there will be a smooth transition when Mr. Crawford takes over.

"Mr. Crawford and I have been keeping in very close touch with each other in regards to what is going on in our city," Mr. Slone said. "This is so that Mr. Crawford will better acquaint himself with what is going on here. He is a fine, vigorous man and will make a good city manager."

When he leaves, Mr. Slone, who had served as city manager in Flushing, and Rochester before coming to The Park, will have completed more than 20 years of service with the community. He and Mrs. Slone will live in Elk Rapids, Mich., where they have built a new home.

On the Retirement Banquet Committee, besides his secretary, are Mr. Patterson, City Clerk Nunzio Ortesi, Police Chief Henry O. Coonce, Patrolman Andrew L. Meeker, Fire Chief Phillip M. Costa, Assistant Fire Chief David A. Taylor, Thomas Stack, deputy director of the Department of Public Works, and Walter T. Kolar, DPW crew chief.

YSD Managers Discuss Finances

honor Park City Manager Robert A. Slone on his retirement from not only his post but as a member of the board of managers.

Population Criteria

The Shores originally expressed its concern over the allocation method last spring when the council approved a resolution saying that the Village contribute a total not exceeding the amount contributed during fiscal year 1976-77.

It also urges all members of the board of managers to allocate the costs on a population basis "inasmuch as such an allocation would be more representative of this service."

It's the feeling of the council that going the population route would be more equitable because of the Village's low case load in comparison to the other Pointes.

At the same time, Mr. Jefferson in a letter to Mr. Petersen said the council is appreciative of the accomplishments of the division, while feeling it's a great asset to the community.

Payments are received by participating cities in July and January and The Shores paid half of its total $12,635.67 share in the summer, but only $5,024.16 on its second payment after the first of the year — $1,293.67 short of its overall allocation.

Must Send Letter

At the meeting, Mr. Jefferson said the council approves what the division has done "but we feel we have a small amount of cases and feel strongly about the method of cost."

In response, Mr. Petersen said it becomes the obligation of any participating community to pay its share after the budget is adopted unless a community indicates it wishes to withdraw from the division. In fact, he stated it was the opinion of The Woods' city attorney that the Village was obligated to pay.

(According to the division contract, Mr. Petersen said any community which intends to withdraw must send a letter prior to May 1 before the automatic renewal date for all communities on July

1 for a given fiscal year. (Meanwhile, the school system has to send a written notice to participate by April 1. If it does not, a verbal indication will be accepted until formal action is taken by the School Board.)

Mr. Jefferson, who along with Village President Gerald C. Schroeder, expressed their concerns over the allocation method at a special meeting of the managers last June, also said the Village is an older, mature community, with the YSD being used as much as it needs to be.

Notes "Dilemma"

But Mr. Petersen said Shores officials also should consider residents, who not only attend North High School, but University Light and other private schools in the community.

Prior to Mr. Bremer's motion authorizing The Shores to pay its full share, Dr. Spagnoli, in attempting to bring the discussion to a head, said the managers should formulate their position on a specific formula for the agreement of all, with The Shores either accepting the formula or withdrawing from the YSD.

Then, he continued, members can get together again and keep the formula, modify it or, at the worst, disband participation if The Shores decides to bow out.

Mr. Jefferson said he will have to report actions taken by the managers to his council, which doesn't meet again until late April.

On the future status of the division and alternate methods of financing, Mr. Jefferson noted if the allocation method was based on the 1970 census, costs for The Shores, City and Farms would drop, while contributions for both The Woods and Park would increase.

For his part, Mr. Bremer speculated if the formula was changed to population, both The Woods and Park could drop out, while noting The Shores' dissatisfaction over the SEV method. "We're in a dilemma either way," he said.

in our community. I'd hate to see it cutback or disbanded."

Changing Shares

The proposals which the managers will consider show an estimated increase in the 1978-79 budget of eight percent, from a total of $150,927 in 1977-78 to around $163,000 for the new fiscal year.

One proposal has the school system, as in the past, paying one public safety officer's salary and fringe benefits, plus a share of the counseling services. Hence, the schools would pay around 20 percent of the total budget.

However, the second proposal eases the overall cost to the cities with the schools paying 30 percent of the total budget.

The Woods currently pays the most of all the cities and around 25 percent of the overall budget, said Mr. Petersen.

Be honest in your convictions and you'll have fewer problems.

These improvements, as the contract says, "include but are not limited to acquisition and construction of a new stack and to finance land fill sites for future use of the authority."

Farms City Attorney George McKean, author of the contract, said, "The word 'incinerator' applies to the new stack. The new stack is the improvement to the incinerator... as mentioned in the contract."

A plan for payment of the bonds also is set up in the contract. All the cities "collectively shall each month pay one-sixth of the interest to become due on the next interest payment date... and one-twelfth of the principal to become due on the next principal payment date."

Each municipality's share of the payment shall be determined by the percentage of burnable refuse which a particular city takes to the authority. If the incinerator is not operating, payment will be based on the individual city's population.

The contract concludes by noting that the communities involved will still have to pay, per ton, for the service of having the authority burn their garbage. This bill is over and above the principal and interest payments for the bonds.

YSD Investigates 61 Incidents in February

The Youth Service Division, (YSD), received a total of 64 complaints last month for follow-up investigation. Three proved to be unfounded, making a total of 61 actual offenses which is considerably lower than the 95 incidents reported last February.

Malicious destruction of property cases led the incidence list as 12 such reports were received, with one proving to be unfounded. Seven cases remain unsolved to date, while seven youths and one male adult have been identified in the cleared cases.

Sex offenses, eight cases, was the category of next highest incidence, with one case proving to be unfounded. One case of criminal sexual conduct against children under 10 years of age has been brought to court.

Three incidents of indecent exposure, one window peeper, three attempt abductions and one report of a male, in ski mask, suspiciously following a 10-year-old boy as he walked toward his home during the late afternoon, also were reported.

Burglary, seven reports, larceny, seven, and robbery not armed, one, involved a total of seven juvenile males, one adult male and two juvenile females. Nine of the reported incidents are unsolved to date.

Meanwhile, runaways, six cases, involved three boys and three girls, with one report of a missing girl proving to be unfounded.

The three boys were arrested in Needles, Cal., and held for pickup by parents. One girl was arrested and transported, accompanied by her mother, to the Detroit Transit Alternative Runaway House for a two-week cooling off and counseling period.

Another girl was self returned, with she and her parents starting family counseling with a private psychiatrist this month.

Yet another girl, 16, on the unfounded missing report, alleges to have been a rape victim in the parking lot of the Seven-Mack Shopping Center, at the rear of Winkelman's or Sander's, (Detroit venue). The attacker is alleged to have been a black male in his late teens or early 20's.

Four marijuana incidents were reported involving one male adult, five male juveniles and one female juvenile, while one marijuana and alcohol case, (i.e., driving under the influence of), occurred involving one male adult.

The YSD also noted that one incident of child abuse, culminating in the child's overdosing on pills and requiring medical care, was temporarily but immediately resolved by transporting the juvenile, with the consent of the parent, to "The Sanctuary," a Macomb County halfway house, with counseling, facility for juvenile runaways or children in distress.

Seven applications for petition were filed with the Wayne County Juvenile Court, five of which have received court action so far.

Cinema League Visits Britain

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present "Highlights of Britain," a 16mm sound film by George Leggatt, when it meets Monday evening, April 3, in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road, at 8 p.m. The film was made last September on a tour of England, Scotland and Wales.

There are views of London, with all its pagantry, the Tower of London, Buckingham Palace, Piccadilly Circus, Trafalgar Square and after a cruise on the Thames River, the tour proceeds to Windsor Castle.

The camera next focuses on the mysterious prehistoric stone monuments of Stonehenge and many of England's famous cathedrals, such as Salisbury, Winchester and Coventry. Shakespeare country includes a visit to lovely Stratford-upon-Avon and Anne Hathaway's cottage.

The movie includes scenes in Plymouth, England's most famous naval port, Bath, Tintagel on the rugged coast of Cornwall, Wells, Warwick Castle, Bleinheim Palace and the medieval walled city of Chester.

In northern Wales there are views of the charming town of Llangollen and remote Tintern Abbey in its picturesque setting.

The film concludes with splendid scenes in Scotland, land of heather, bagpipes and kilts. Edinburgh is visited with its castle, lovely gardens and Holyrood Palace, and there are spectacular views of Scotland's lochs and hills.

The public is invited to attend this program without charge. A reception for Cinema League members and their invited guests follows.

Reservations may now be made for the League's May 1 Annual Banquet and Film Festival Show of award-winning movies selected from the Photographic Society of America's 1977 International Film Contest.

Tickets are available at the War Memorial's office at $7.75, which covers admittance to the dinner and film show.

Dinner to Honor Retiring
 GPP City Manager Slone

By James J. Njaim
 Officials and employees of The Park are going all out to make sure that City Manager Robert A. Slone has one of the best retirement parties ever held.

Mr. Slone will be honored on Saturday, April 8, at the Harper Woods Community Center, 19748 Harper Avenue. Cocktails will be at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be at 7:30 p.m. Subscription is $12.50 a person, which includes a gift, cocktails, dinner, dancing and plenty of refreshments.

Citizens interested in paying tribute to the city manager are requested to submit their subscription and reservation to Mr. Slone's secretary, Erma O. Nyiri, treasurer of the banquet committee, no later than tomorrow, March 31.

Mr. Slone, whose retirement was to have been on March 31, has agreed to remain on the job until Friday, April 28, at the request of Mayor Matthew C. Patterson and the council until his successor, John Crawford, Center Line city manager, takes over on Monday, April 24.

Mr. Crawford, 40, who has been city manager of Center Line since 1969, had to give the Center Line Council a 60-day notice that he was quitting his job to take over the post in The Park. The 60 days expires on Friday, April 21.

However, since submitting his resignation, he has been commuting back and forth to The Park, has met all department heads and has been guided by Mr. Slone on what to expect regarding his duties.

Mr. Slone also has been sending his successor information on general city activities and programs so there will be a smooth transition when Mr. Crawford takes over.

"Mr. Crawford and I have been keeping in very close touch with each other in regards to what is going on in our city," Mr. Slone said. "This is so that Mr. Crawford will better acquaint himself with what is going on here. He is a fine, vigorous man and will make a good city manager."

When he leaves, Mr. Slone, who had served as city manager in Flushing, and Rochester before coming to The Park, will have completed more than 20 years of service with the community. He and Mrs. Slone will live in Elk Rapids, Mich., where they have built a new home.

On the Retirement Banquet Committee, besides his secretary, are Mr. Patterson, City Clerk Nunzio Ortisi, Police Chief Henry O. Coonce, Patrolman Andrew L. Meeker, Fire Chief Phillip M. Costa, Assistant Fire Chief David A. Taylor, Thomas Stack, deputy director of the Department of Public Works, and Walter T. Kolar, DPW crew chief.

 honor Park City Manager Robert A. Slone on his retirement from not only his post but as a member of the board of managers.

Population Criteria
 The Shores originally expressed its concern over the allocation method last spring when the council approved a resolution saying that the Village contribute a total not exceeding the amount contributed during fiscal year 1976-77.

It also urges all members of the board of managers to allocate the costs on a population basis "inasmuch as such an allocation would be more representative of this service."

It's the feeling of the council that going the population route would be more equitable because of the Village's low case load in comparison to the other Pointes.

At the same time, Mr. Jefferis in a letter to Mr. Petersen said the council is appreciative of the accomplishments of the division, while feeling it's a great asset to the community.

Payments are received by participating cities in July and January and The Shores paid half of its total $12,635.67 share in the summer, but only $5,024.16 on its second payment after the first of the year — $1,293.67 short of its overall allocation.

Must Send Letter
 At the meeting, Mr. Jefferis said the council approves what the division has done "but we feel we have a small amount of cases and feel strongly about the method of cost."

In response, Mr. Petersen said it becomes the obligation of any participating community to pay its share after the budget is adopted unless a community indicates it wishes to withdraw from the division. In fact, he stated it was the opinion of The Woods' city attorney that the Village was obligated to pay.

(According to the division contract, Mr. Petersen said any community which intends to withdraw must send a letter prior to May 1 before the automatic renewal date for all communities on July 1 for a given fiscal year.

(Meanwhile, the school system has to send a written notice to participate by April 1. If it does not, a verbal indication will be accepted until formal action is taken by the School Board.)

Mr. Jefferis, who along with Village President Gerald C. Schroeder, expressed their concerns over the allocation method at a special meeting of the managers last June, also said the Village is an older, mature community, with the YSD being used as much as it needs to be.

Notes "Dilemma"
 But Mr. Petersen said Shores officials also should consider residents, who not only attend North High School, but University Liggett and other private schools in the community.

Prior to Mr. Bremer's motion authorizing The Shores to pay its full share, Dr. Spagnoli, in attempting to bring the discussion to a head, said the managers should formulate their position on a specific formula for the agreement of all, with The Shores either accepting the formula or withdrawing from the YSD.

Then, he continued, members can get together again and keep the formula, modify it or, at the worst, disband participation if The Shores decides to bow out.

Mr. Jefferis said he will have to report actions taken by the managers to his council, which doesn't meet again until late April.

On the future status of the division and alternate methods of financing, Mr. Jefferis noted if the allocation method was based on the 1970 census, costs for The Shores, City and Farms would drop, while contributions for both The Woods and Park would increase.

For his part, Mr. Bremer speculated if the formula was changed to population, both The Woods and Park could drop out, while noting The Shores' dissatisfaction over the SEV method. "We're in a dilemma either way," he said.

Taking Hard Looks
 While both Mr. Bremer and Mr. Kressbach viewed the aspect of cooperation expressed by local officials in the YSD venture, Mr. Petersen indicated the uncertainty of the situation puts his city in a precarious position in relation to preparing the YSD budget.

And as for the upcoming fiscal year budgets in each municipality, all officials will be taking a hard look at costs with Mr. Kressbach telling the managers he will look at the division budget proposals "very carefully" along with other budget needs.

In fact, in citing his overall concerns over the 1978-79 budget year in his community, Mr. Kressbach indicated a gloomy outlook and wanted Mr. Petersen, as YSD coordinator, to have this in mind regarding his municipality's participation, although he didn't say The City wouldn't take part.

Pending further action when the managers discuss the budget, the reality of some adjustments in the current makeup of the division does remain a possibility. Whether any changes are proposed, however, awaits the managers' action.

Mr. Bremer summed up the entire situation from his city's perspective when he said, "We all have to look within our own budget but the YSD service is vital to us with South High School in our community. I'd hate to see it cutback or disbanded."

Changing Shares
 The proposals which the managers will consider show an estimated increase in the 1978-79 budget of eight percent, from a total of $150,927 in 1977-78 to around $163,000 for the new fiscal year.

One proposal has the school system, as in the past, paying one public safety officer's salary and fringe benefits, plus a share of the counseling services. Hence, the schools would pay around 20 percent of the total budget.

However, the second proposal eases the overall cost to the cities with the schools paying 30 percent of the total budget.

The Woods currently pays the most of all the cities and around 25 percent of the overall budget, said Mr. Petersen.

Be honest in your convictions and you'll have fewer problems.

Bond Issue Approved

 built to comply with complaints made by residents in the area and the state on the odor created from burning garbage.

The four-page contract maps out the conditions under which the cities agreed to let the authority issue the bonds.

It states, "The municipalities approve... the total principal amount required to finance all of the cost of the incinerator, the machinery, equipment and site," (for land fill).

The contract notes that the cities agree to let the authority determine what necessary improvements need to be done. These improvements, as the contract says, "include but are not limited to acquisition and construction of a new stack and to finance land fill sites for future use of the authority."

Farms City Attorney George McKean, author of the contract, said, "The word 'incinerator' applies to the new stack. The new stack is the improvement to the incinerator... as mentioned in the contract."

A plan for payment of the bonds also is set up in the contract. All the cities "collectively shall each month pay one-sixth of the interest to become due on the next interest payment date... and one-twelfth of the principal to become due on the next principal payment date."

Each municipality's share of the payment shall be determined by the percentage of burnable refuse which a particular city takes to the authority. If the incinerator is not operating, payment will be based on the individual city's population.

The contract concludes by noting that the communities involved will still have to pay, per ton, for the service of having the authority burn their garbage. This bill is over and above the principal and interest payments for the bonds.

DEMBEK PROMOTED
 Park resident Christopher J. Dembek has been named assistant vice-president of the trust business development department at National Bank of Detroit. Mr. Dembek received his Master's degree in finance at Wayne State University and his Bachelor of Arts degree in English literature from Michigan State University.

YSD Investigates 61 Incidents in February

The Youth Service Division, (YSD), received a total of 64 complaints last month for follow-up investigation. Three proved to be unfounded, making a total of 61 actual offenses which is considerably lower than the 95 incidents reported last February.

Malicious destruction of property cases led the incidence list as 12 such reports were received, with one proving to be unfounded. Seven cases remain unsolved to date, while seven youths and one male adult have been identified in the cleared cases.

Sex offenses, eight cases, was the category of next highest incidence, with one case proving to be unfounded. One case of criminal sexual conduct against children under 10 years of age has been brought to court.

Three incidents of indecent exposure, one window peeper, three attempt abductions and one report of a male, in ski mask, suspiciously following a 10-year-old boy as he walked toward his home during the late afternoon, also were reported.

Burglary, seven reports, larceny, seven, and robbery not armed, one, involved a total of seven juvenile males, one adult male and two juvenile females. Nine of the reported incidents are unsolved to date.

Meanwhile, runaways, six cases, involved three boys and three girls, with one report of a missing girl proving to be unfounded.

The three boys were arrested in Needles, Cal., and held for pickup by parents. One girl was arrested and transported, accompanied by her mother, to the Detroit Transit Alternative Runaway House for a two-week cooling off and counseling period.

Another girl was self returned, with she and her parents starting family counseling with a private psychiatrist this month.

Yet another girl, 16, on the unfounded missing report, alleges to have been a rape victim in the parking lot of the Seven-Mack Shopping Center, at the rear of Winkelman's or Sander's, (Detroit venue). The attacker is alleged to have been a black male in his late teens or early 20's.

Four marijuana incidents were reported involving one male adult, five male juveniles and one female juvenile, while one marijuana and alcohol case, (i.e., driving under the influence of), occurred involving one male adult.

The YSD also noted that one incident of child abuse, culminating in the child's overdosing on pills and requiring medical care, was temporarily but immediately resolved by transporting the juvenile, with the consent of the parent, to "The Sanctuary," a Macomb County halfway house, with counseling, facility for juvenile runaways or children in distress.

Seven applications for petition were filed with the Wayne County Juvenile Court, five of which have received court action so far.

Cinema League Visits Britain

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present "Highlights of Britain," a 16mm sound film by George Leggatt, when it meets Monday evening, April 3, in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road, at 8 p.m. The film was made last September on a tour of England, Scotland and Wales.

There are views of London, with all its pagentry, the Tower of London, Buckingham Palace, Piccadilly Circus, Trafalgar Square and after a cruise on the Thames River, the tour proceeds to Windsor Castle.

The camera next focuses on the mysterious prehistoric stone monuments of Stonehenge and many of England's famous cathedrals, such as Salisbury, Winchester and Coventry. Shakespeare country includes a visit to lovely Stratford-upon-Avon and Anne Hathaway's cottage.

The movie includes scenes in Plymouth, England's most famous naval port, Bath, Tintagel on the rugged coast of Cornwall, Wells, Warwick Castle, Eleinheim Palace and the medieval walled city of Chester.

In northern Wales there are views of the charming town of Llangollen and remote Tintern Abbey in its picturesque setting.

The film concludes with splendid scenes in Scotland, land of heather, bagpipes and kilts. Edinburgh is visited with its castle, lovely gardens and Holyrood Palace, and there are spectacular views of Scotland's lochs and hills.

The public is invited to attend this program without charge. A reception for Cinema League members and their invited guests follows.

Reservations may now be made for the League's May 1 Annual Banquet and Film Festival Show of award-winning movies selected from the Photographic Society of America's 1977 International Film Contest.

Tickets are available at the War Memorial's office at $7.75, which covers admittance to the dinner and film show.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters, Director of Public Libraries

The general encyclopedia is a work usually of many volumes that contains a collection of articles giving essential general information about all the various branches of knowledge, arranged alphabetically by subjects and names for easy use.

Such well-known encyclopedias as ENCYCLOPEDIA AMERICANA, ENCYCLOPEDIA BRITANNICA, COLLIER'S and WORLD BOOK are general encyclopedias.

There is another group of encyclopedias that limit their articles to a specific field of knowledge or area of interest. This week we'll look briefly at a few.

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF WINE, (Hastings House, 1965), by Frank Schoonmaker, is an excellent book for those who don't know Dubonnet from Romanee-Conti. The book is particularly helpful in that all foreign words are spelled out phonetically.

David Ewen, a man who writes more books about music than anyone, has compiled a vast, informative and entertaining storehouse of opera facts in his book, THE NEW ENCYCLOPEDIA OF THE OPERA, (Hill and Wang, 1971).

The most significant operas, well over 100, of the past and present are treated in detail, act by act, scene by scene, with descriptions of the principal arias and information about the composition and performance history.

Biographies of composers, librettists, singers, conductors, impresarios, stage directors, critics and musicologists are included. From Abandon d'Ariane, an opera minute by Darius Milhaud, to Zwischenfalle bei einer Notlandung, a 1966 opera which uses a full range of electronic technology, it's all here.

The ENCYCLOPEDIA OF THE BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES, (Van Nostrand Reinhold, 1970), edited by Peter Gray, offers a reliable survey of the biological sciences of today. The work is made up of articles contributed by 600 eminent biologists from more than 30 countries, covering the broad scope of zoology, botany and the related life sciences.

Varying in length from 500 to 5,000 words, the articles encompass such relatively new fields as biological clocks, cytochromes and space biology.

Lucid and matter-of-fact in presentation, this 1,027-page reference book will help teachers and students as well as scientists and researchers.

Fishing becomes more than a pole, a length of string, a hook, a worm and a body of water hopefully containing fish, in this giant of a book entitled, McCLANE'S NEW STANDARD FISHING ENCYCLOPEDIA, (Holt, Rinehart and Winston, 1974), edited by Albert J. McClane. Fishing becomes a very sophisticated technique.

All methods of fresh and saltwater angling — ranging from giant marlin to panfish — are expanded upon. Hundreds of black and white and color photographs and sketches illustrate the book. Profile portraits of 372 species of fish are included along with descriptions of nearly 1,500 species of freshwater and saltwater fish.

As the saying goes, "You can't find a better book."

With the baseball season opener only a week away it's time to look at the records, and no sport keeps more records than baseball.

THE BASEBALL ENCYCLOPEDIA, (Macmillan, 1974), brings the record up-to-date through the 1973 World Series. It contains 1,300,000 facts, a chronological list of teams and batting, running and pitching leaders for every year since 1876. Well, you know how it goes in baseball—if not, this reference book 1,532 pages long will set the record straight.

The big one I saved till last. Van Nostrand's SCIENTIFIC ENCYCLOPEDIA, fifth edition, (Van Nostrand, Reinhold, 1976), edited by Douglas M. Considine, is big — 2,370 pages. It's also the most comprehensive one volume reference work of its kind.

Principal areas covered are earth and space science, life science, mathematics and information sciences, energy technology, materials sciences, physics and chemistry.

Students below college level will find this work heavy going, but for college students and practicing professionals it's almost indispensable.

VINTAGE YEAR

1903 proved to be a very hot year for the fledgling automobile industry. At the 3rd National Automobile Show, which ran from January 17-24, all the latest styles were introduced. These included square hoods, honeycomb radiators and a new entry in the automotive field, the 1903, 7.3 horsepower, one cylinder Cadillac runabout. The Transportation Collections of Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, offer visitors a chance to view the first year Cadillac, as well as other 1903 models, including the Packard Model F, Marr Autocar, Martini Touring car and the curved dash Oldsmobile.

GPSC Boys Do Well in Meet

The Grosse Pointe Swim Club, (GPSC), boys won the second place team trophy in the Michigan AAU Boy's State Championships Friday through Sunday, March 17 to 19, in the Western Michigan University pool in Kalamazoo.

Three state records were set by GPSC members. The team of Jeff Colton, Mark Stoyka, Mark Clark and Jerry Coyle set a new record in the age 13 to 14, 400-yard medley relay. Colton also set records in the 200-yard backstroke and the 100-yard back.

In the age 10 and under group, GPSC took fifth, sixth, seventh and ninth places in the relays, butterfly and medleys.

The 11- and 12-years olds team of Tom Bartsch, Tom Cobau, Matt VanTiem and George Schoof took first in the 200-yard freestyle relay. The same team combined to place third in the 200-yard medley relay.

In the 50- and 100-yard freestyle, Bartsch placed first, then finished third in the 500-yard free and second in the 50-yard butterfly. Cobau took second in the 50-yard free and third in the 100- and 200-yard free.

Other GPSC boys who placed in the meet were Matt Smith, Geoff Brieden, Aaron Krickstein, Jeff Clark, John Gallant, Jon Neelson, Ken Bacuilis, Jack Shope and Mike Santo.

More are John Ellis, Nick Trost, Toby Lindheim, Todd Lindheim, David Howe, Steve Soderburg, Dave Woolen, Steve Kienly, Matt Brady and Pat Coyle.

At the council meeting on Monday, March 20, the solons unanimously approved a motion authorizing City Administrator Chester E. Petersen to accept a compromise financial offer and to proceed to receive proposals for correcting deficiencies in the filter building.

The compromise figure was placed at $4,400, while Mr. Petersen said the city still alleges certain responsibilities involving a total dollar cost of approximately $8,425.

However, in a letter to City Attorney George Catlin, Thomas L. Munson, attorney for TMP Associates, said, "We do quarrel with the proposition that the amount in controversy really involves a total dollar cost of approximately $8,425."

But in an effort toward settling the matter, Mr. Munson responded to Mr. Petersen's overture toward settling the matter, which involved differences over a dividing wall, tennis court work and boiler repair.

Mr. Petersen originally suggested a payment of $4,600, while Mr. Munson responded with an offer of $4,200. Agreement was ultimately reached on the figure of $4,400.

GP Theater Plays Zany Comedy at War Memorial

The Grosse Pointe Theater, (GPT), continues its production of Alyn Ayckbourn's "How The Other Half Loves" Thursday through Sunday, March 29 to April 2, and Wednesday through Saturday, April 5 to 8, in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road.

Performances begin at 8:30 p.m. except for Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

The show is a brilliant comedy and has earned the author the reputation of being the Einstein of farce. "You will double your pleasure, double your fun with this international hit of mad-cap marital capers in a novel staging that doubles the laughs," says the GPT.

Two apartments are seen simultaneously, each inhabited by couples unaware of each other. Their zany schemes hatch, clash head-on and finally pratfall into farcical confusion and the happiest of endings.

"The show is one of the funniest we have ever presented," says director Dennis Wickline of Moross road.

A theatrical veteran in GPT, Mr. Wickline is presenting his first show as a director. He has worked on every aspect of theater from backstage to acting, the latter most recently as Dr. Diaforus in "Imaginary Invalid."

He also is completing nearly a year's work on a feature film that he has written and directed called "Sheer Luck Holmes and the Pithenstein Sword." Over his years with GPT, he has won awards for best sound and best supporting actor.

The producer is the other half of the Wickline family, Olivia Wickline. She has been a member of GPT for over seven years and also has won two awards for props and set dressing. She has acted as producer for the last three movies her husband has made.

Woods Okays Fee for MML

The Woods Council at its Monday, March 20, meeting unanimously renewed its membership in the Michigan Municipal League, (MML), from April 1, 1978, through March 31, 1979.

It will cost the city $2,746 with provisions being made in this year's budget for such membership.

Wine Lines

Most of the wines produced in the world are called Table Wines. Table wines are not necessarily the most expensive wines. This label means that the wines are natural, or unfortified; still, that is, not sparkling; and contains no more than 14% alcohol. In price they run the gamut from the top to the bottom, from Beaujolais, Chianti and California Burgundy to Chateau Lafite-Rothschild and Chambertin.

And you'll find them all — fortified, sparkling and table wines — at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626; let us help you select a balanced collection. Wine is also a fine gift for special occasions and we will be happy to suggest an appropriate wine. Hours: 10-10 Mon.-Thurs.; 10-11 Fri., Sat.

HELPFUL HINT:
A balanced wine cellar will contain some sparkling wines, some fortified, but mostly versatile table wines.

Letters to The Editor of The NEWS

To the Editor:
I am responding to Susan McDonald's article in last week's NEWS on the school testing program, and to Superintendent Dr. William Coats' column on the same subject. I am the parent of a Richard first grader and I am concerned about the situation which exists now in the Grosse Pointe School System.

Too many parents in this community have remained apathetic about our schools for too long. Do they realize the extent of the tension which exists between the school administration and the Board of Education on the one hand, and the teachers and their union on the other?

There is a lack of trust and good faith, a "we-versus-they" attitude which is very disturbing. It is disturbing because, while the antagonists, (and that is the only way I can describe them), battle out their differences, it is the welfare of the students and the concerns of their parents which are suffering. And I, for one, am tired of it.

I am impatient with both sides, but most impatient with the Board of Education, as it is with that body that the ultimate responsibility lies. I have resided in Grosse Pointe almost nine years, and I have never seen the educational scene as disturbed as it is now.

And what is the Board doing about it? I see them doing nothing but perpetuating the combative attitude. The teachers are probably not blameless, but one has to realize that, as employees of what is in fact a large corporation, and given the current job market for teachers, they have been understandably concerned about their job security under a new superintendent whose track record with employee relations has not been the best.

The specific case in point here is the school testing program. Dr. Coats says that tests should be a "natural extension of daily work." At Richard School the normal daily work was interrupted for two weeks while the students were drilled on the tests that they would be taking.

Dr. Coats states, "Too much emphasis on the importance of a test may produce a climate of anxiety and tension." The practice at Richard did just that.

Obviously the students ought to be familiar with the standardized testing format, but the drill at Richard reached ridiculous levels.

Principal Jay Flowers "inadvertently" allowed students to practice on the form of the test they were to be taking in the real testing situation. This mistake would not have happened if the tests had not been in the school so far ahead of the testing date, and if the students had not been drilled on a form of the test so close to the real test.

Roger McCaig, director of Research and Development, calls teaching to the test unethical. At Richard there was concentrated teaching to the test.

Dr. Coats' Teacher A and B in last week's column tell a lot about his philosophy of education. Obviously he prefers Teacher B, who "always reads or displays the test directions the day before the test." (does this include drilling for two weeks?)

I prefer Teacher A, who believes "that the best test is one which requires students to use and apply what they have learned in a new situation instead of repeating a drill exercise." Isn't that what we want for our children, the ability to reason from what they have learned in school?

The best tests are learning experiences in themselves, with questions designed to test the students' mastery of the basic skills or information in the course and other questions to test the students' ability to use creatively the course skills or information in new situations.

All of Dr. Coats' column was a raison d'etre for the testing situation in the schools right now, and he did not seem to take into account the fact that there are differences between standardized tests and tests in the context of the course, differences between a short familiarization of the students with the testing format and the long drill at Richard.

When these concerns were raised at the March 13 School Board meeting, not one Board member questioned Dr. Coats on this or commented in any way. Instead they gave him a few moments in which to collect his thoughts, and let him respond.

low-scoring students on these tests, the low scores are used to "help supervise teachers." The teacher is asked to revise his or her teaching methods, and there is a follow up to see if the revisions are carried out.

In other words, the subsequent test scores are noted with great care. That is, the test scores play a part in the evaluation of each teacher.

I acknowledge that teacher evaluation is difficult, and that we have a right to know how teachers are doing with our children. The administration has stated and restated that test scores are not used to evaluate teachers, but it is obvious that the pattern of scores is significant.

Given the anxiety level of the teachers in this school system, it is not surprising that this whole testing season, and its mismanagement, has added fuel to the fire.

And our kids are right in the middle of it.

To the Editor:
I have just received a rather curious document showing that the Grosse Pointe Schools are scheduling 91 different types of extra-curricular activities—everything from Yoga to Astrology.

I would be interested, (since they charge for these classes), as to exactly how much income this brings into the Central Board of Education.

I understand they are going to enforce a millage without the courtesy of a vote from The Pointe residents.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

In the second of my columns devoted to presenting portions of the school system's position paper, "Preparing Students for Tests," I wish to comment on some practices to be followed in four important areas: (1) Motivation and Preparation, (2) Format, (3) Content and (4) Standardized Tests and Objective—Referenced Tests.

Motivation, Preparation
Students should be thoroughly prepared and motivated for taking tests. Just as any athlete is prepared physically, intellectually and emotionally for a contest or as any adult prepares himself or herself for any challenging life task such as a job interview, each student should be prepared for a test so that he or she can attain a level of achievement commensurate with his or her true skill or knowledge.

No coach would refuse to prepare a team for a specific game, arguing instead that each school should receive whatever final score it deserves without any special preparation.

No sincere job applicant would decline to prepare for an interview on the basis that the personnel officer should have the opportunity to make a selection from equally surprised, unprepared candidates.

And no teacher should refuse to prepare students for a test on the basis that students might attain higher scores with the preparation than they would have without it.

Students should be provided with an equal opportunity to succeed, not an equal opportunity to fail.

No description of preferred practice about how to prepare students for tests can replace professional judgment. Too much emphasis on the importance of a test may produce a climate of anxiety and tension.

Too little preparation may communicate to students a sense of indifference resulting in second-best effort and unreliably low test results. No list of rules can be announced to insure that students do their best on tests.

My taxes have been increased on an increased valuation of my home of $6,000. I have married grandchildren, but I'm still paying 80 percent, approximately, for school taxes. The taxes are forcing me out of Grosse Pointe and probably the state.

I thought the Board of Education and schools were to teach students. Why has the Community Services expanded so, and does it pay, and do we need it?

The Board of Education at the present time has finally admitted that they can save $500,000 of our tax money by billing in the middle of the year, this after a considerable pressure which has made them the laughing stock of the whole community.

Do we need all these activities, are they paying their way and are they attended? Since they are using my money, I would like an answer.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Clarence D. Blessed,
Of Moran road,
Grosse Pointe Farms

P.S. Thirty-five years ago, my husband put forth a plan to consolidate all police and fire departments in order to save tax monies. Nothing has been done about that either!

Editor's Note: In reply to some of the questions raised in the letter, Carl A. Schoessel, chief administrator of the Department of Community Services, said costs per class vary depending upon enrollment of the class.

Most classes cost 75 cents per instructional hour, he stated, with the department being self-sustaining to a degree with the program part paying its way.

"The enrollment fee charged covers the cost of operating the class with any money made on some of the classes going into the general fund," said Mr. Schoessel. If we were on a total self-sustaining basis, we would charge like, for example, the War Memorial, he noted.

On the question of expansion, he stated around 6,000 individuals a year participate in the adult education program, which, he felt, indicates a definite need for such activities.

"We try to utilize some of the empty space in the schools," (for classes), he continued, with "all new classes being in response to community interest."

According to the school system's 1977-78 fiscal year budget, anticipated revenues were placed at $124,000, while anticipated expenditures were listed at more than $235,000.

Finally, on the millage vote question, Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Coats has said the School Board has not committed itself this year to raise millage for a bond issue without a vote.

To the Editor:
For the first time in my life I am embarrassed and disgusted that I am a Catholic.

The sad part of it is that the almighty did it. Oh, no! Not the good Lord, but in today's day and age something that is even more almighty—the dollar!

I have thought about this and I must admit the Rev. Raymond Ryan taught me a lot, and for this I thank him.

He taught me the Augustinian Sense of Values. First, the dollar. Then, obviously far down the line, 400 young men who if they ever go to church again to listen to hypocrites preach their homilies to them will be a miracle.

And further down the line are the 800 parents, who believed that the Augustinians had made a lifetime commitment to their community and not one that ends when the dollar becomes more important.

These same parents and many, many others who have worked so hard for so many years, now watch all of their work go down the drain. And for what?

The almighty dollar. The Provincial of the Augustinians sold out all of the Detroit east side for money.

When the Augustinians were going to close a school they operate in Tulsa, Okla., the people solved their problem; they raised money, big money, and the Provincial said, "Well stay."

He came to Detroit in November and at a $100 a plate dinner he announced to the audience that it was not money that closed Austin, it was the lack of personnel.

When the past Provincial told him that additional help was not needed, the present Provincial informed him that Austin would still be closed.

A group of concerned Austin parents went to Chicago and were insured in front of the Augustinian group that money was no problem. But, in the end, up popped the devil. No, I take that back.

It was the almighty—yes, the almighty dollar.

Well, I want to thank the Very Rev. Raymond Ryan for teaching me and 400 young men a proper sense of values.

Care not for youth, or their parents, or their hard work, or the community. Make money! Lease the Mack Avenue frontage for more than was paid for the property, then sell the rest of it.

Oh, thank you, Rev. Ryan, I'm glad you face the Lord with this. I wouldn't want it on my conscience.

Sincerely,
Richard Mutschall,
Of Whittier Road,
Grosse Pointe Park

To the Editor:
Even though the publicity regarding reassessment in The Farms and City informs us the raise is five to 15 percent, you will find many of us have been socked 25 percent or more.

My property has been increased $7,000 in the last four years. This is a "sock it to 'em" taxation.

It is all structured on the premise that some similar house in your neighborhood sold for "X" dollars. Therefore, whether you sell or not, you suddenly discover you are living beyond your income.

And the Board of Review could care less. I believe the state should take a new look at the state equalization laws, before we all lose our homes.

GPW Council Approves Three New Ordinances

Three ordinances were unanimously approved by the Woods Council on Monday, March 20, at their second reading stage, with all measures becoming effective on Sunday, April 9.

The trio of laws cover the subjects of auto parking lots, handicapped parking spaces and disorderly person.

On auto parking lots, City Attorney George Catlin said the amendment includes all parking lots containing seven spaces or less in a commercial area. The ordinance previously included lots of eight or more spaces.

In making it basically deals with the Mack Avenue commercial district, Mr. Catlin said such legislation was needed on the inspection front for lots of seven or less spaces to make sure they, too, were "up to snuff."

Such lots will now be inspected once a year by the building department.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen also indicated the new law should help reduce the amount of debris, i.e., gravel or stones, emanating from unkept lots which end up in the street and across sidewalks.

Meanwhile, the amendment viewing handicapped parking provides for the regulation and control of such spaces in the community.

Mr. Catlin indicated there was nothing as yet in the Uniform Traffic Code on this subject so the section was drafted providing for the control of such spaces locally.

The council did make one change in the draft before approving it.

It says it shall be unlawful for any person to stand or park a vehicle in any parking area designated for the use of handicapped persons unless the vehicle contains license plates indicating that the registered owner is handicapped.

At the same time, it also stipulated, regarding identification indicating the owner is handicapped, that there be prominently displayed on the vehicle a permit issued by the State of Michigan, (formerly saying, "Director of Public Safety"), to the effect that the owner or operator is a handicapped person.

Councilman John Sabol said citizens should receive a false sense of security if they received a permit from The Woods' public safety director when parking in other cities. The council agreed so the "State of Michigan" was substituted in the law's language.

As for the disorderly person measure, this was a refinement in language due to the state decriminalizing being drunk in public, bringing local law in line with state law.

This measure reads it shall be unlawful for any person to be disorderly, defined as someone intoxicated in a public place or in a motor vehicle, and who is either endangering directly the safety of another person, property or is acting in a manner which causes a public disturbance.

City Approves Building Plans

The City Council gave its okay to plans for renovations and additions to several local businesses at its Monday, March 20 meeting.

Approval was granted for additions to both Notre Dame Pharmacy and the building now occupied by Piche's Barber Shop.

The pharmacy, 16926 Kercheval avenue, will get a one-story addition, 21 by 47 feet in area, on the west side of the present building. The barber shop, 17005 Kercheval also will get a single-story addition at the rear of the building.

The council also gave its approval to a plan to renovate the fronts of three Village shops at 17045 and 17047 Kercheval avenue. The shops, Buhler's Village Meats, Campus Shop and Fischer's Cards, will get new brick facades and awnings.

Woods Grants Bid of Lodge

A request from Acanthus Masonic Lodge No. 558 F&AM, one of the owners of The Pointe Masonic Temple, 1850 Vernier road, to use the Lake Front Park for an annual picnic was unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its Monday, March 20, meeting.

The group will have its family picnic on September 10, with around 125 persons in attendance.

Daniel N. Foreman, lodge secretary, said many of the members live in The Woods, while promoting the event will be an orderly affair.

The great French novelist, Marcel Proust, made a little cake famous when he recalled that, in thinking of his childhood, he remembered eating these little cakes with flowery tea. The cakes are called Madeleines, and what makes them special is their shape. Made in a fluted pan, they look like shells, and are a light, delicious companion to tea. Consisting simply of flour, butter, and sugar, with a touch of lemon peel, they are moist and light. Serve Madeleines for a light after dinner dessert, or with afternoon tea.

Dyngus Day to Benefit Orchard Lake Schools

The Orchard Lake Schools' Ladies Auxiliary will celebrate Dyngus Day Saturday, April 1, with its annual dinner dance at Transfiguration Parish.

However, in many instances today, cologne or perfume is used instead of water and the custom takes on a "fun" aspect of boy-chasing-girl and vice versa.

Mass will be celebrated at 7 in the evening, followed by dinner at 8 and dancing from 9 to 1 in the morning. Music will be provided by the Quo Vadis orchestra. Dinner will be prepared by Peter Curtis, chef at the Orchard Lake Schools.

Donation is $10 per person. Reservations are being accepted by chairperson Marcella Cieslak, 891-2132, Dorothy Rycheik, 891-0136, or Mary Glover, 892-8283. Proceeds will benefit SS. Cyril and Methodius Seminary, St. Mary's College and St. Mary's Preparatory at Orchard Lake, northwest of Detroit.

A 50th birthday dinner party and concert honoring the famed National Music Camp of Interlochen Center for the Arts will be held Tuesday, April 18, in Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The Detroit Area Friends of Interlochen are hosting the celebration, with Pointes Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Bradley as chairpersons.

Proceeds will benefit the Friends of Interlochen Scholarship Fund which is disbursed to qualified students in the Detroit area.

Friends co-presidents Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Yee, of Troy, with the Bradleys who also serve as co-presidents, extend Interlochen's Golden Year celebration invitation to alumni, parents of students and friends.

Assisting the Bradleys with party duties are Mrs. Alfred D. Moran, public relations, Mrs. Kurt C. Drath, decorations, Ms. Juanita Coffee, hostesses, and Dr. Judith I. Parkhurst and Ms. Judy A. Betts, advertising.

The evening will begin in the Crystal Ballroom with a 6:30 o'clock cocktail hour, (cash bar). Arriving guests will be greeted by Ms. Coffee and her hostesses: Mrs. Walter J. Burczyk, Ms. Betts, Mrs. Drath, Mrs. Edward P. Frolich, Mrs. Eugene Kopitzki and Dr. Parkhurst.

During a brief ceremony preceding dinner Mrs. Bradley will introduce Interlochen President Roger E.

Jacobi and Mrs. Jacobi and George J. Worden, director of development at Interlochen, and Mrs. Worden. Mr. Worden will continue as party toastmaster.

Dessert time will be climaxed by the lighting of 50 candles atop a multi-tiered birthday cake.

A concert by the Interlochen Arts Academy Piano Tour begins at 9 o'clock in Fries Auditorium. The tour group of eight, all students at the Interlochen Arts Academy, have been recognized as among the most talented high school piano players in their home states: Florida to Wisconsin. The majority are scholarship students.

Their repertoire ranges from Baroque to contemporary, with emphasis on Bach, Beethoven, Chopin and Liszt.

The pianists are touring Michigan as part of the Interlochen Outreach program, supported by the Michigan Council for the Arts.

They include Cullen Bryant, of Little Rock, Ark., a freshman piano major; Kenneth Duke of Barrington, Ill., a junior piano and trumpet major; Roberta Mangold, of Burlington, Wis., a junior piano major; Blake Ray, of Grand Rapids, a junior piano and harp major; David Sauro, of Frederic, a senior piano major; Janet Watkins, of Savannah, Ga., a junior piano and voice major; Thomas Wise, of Stuart, Fla., a sophomore piano major; and Robert Wolski, of Villa Park, Ill., a junior piano and French Horn major.

Alex Hordy, of Gabby's Restaurant, will host the troupe's dinner stop.

Since Interlochen's beginning, metropolitan Detroit patrons have shared in its existence and growth.

The Kresge Foundation funded the 4,000-seat Kresge Auditorium on Interlochen's lakefront.

The late Mrs. Frank Wellington Coolidge, a long-time Pointer, went on money-raising missions ordered by "General Joe" Naddy, Interlochen's founder. She was his "brigadeer," traveling throughout Michigan seeking funds.

Concert pianist Izi Szanto, a camp faculty member for several years, initiated the idea of local recitals for Interlochen.

Among Detroit area members sitting on Interlochen Center's board of trustees are three Pointers: Edward P. Frolich, Dean E. Richardson and Mrs. Joseph A. Vance Jr.

Birthday dinner reservations at $15 per person, $25 patron, may be obtained by sending checks, payable to Friends of Interlochen, to 1323 Three Mile drive, Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan 48230.

Further information is available by calling 882-4927 after four in the afternoon, or 884-4387.

Birthday donations from those unable to attend are—of course!—most welcome.

Friends of Interlochen and guests supporting the party include Pointers Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brackett, Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Crossen, Dr. J. C. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Noel Haberek, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Heller, Professor and Mrs. Malcolm Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Muer, Charles Parcells, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rinke, William M. Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. David Ruwart, Leonard Swanson, Miss Jean Wayman and Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Wu.

He Claims Vicki Joyce Johnson As His Bride in Mid-January; They Vacation in Idaho, Nevada and Colorado

Bethel Lutheran Church, Palatine, Ill., was the setting Saturday, January 21, for the wedding of Vicki Joyce Johnson, daughter of the J. Albert Johnsons, of Long Grove, Ill., and Thomas Lester McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester McIntosh, of Sheldon road.

The 3 o'clock rites at which The Reverend Jim Kragnes presided were followed by a reception at the Lincolnshire Marriott, Lincolnshire, Ill.

Soloist was Johanna (Mrs. Ellwyn A.) Gilbert, of University place, president of Tuesday Musicales.

The newlyweds, who met skiing in Wisconsin, vacationed in Sun Valley, Idaho, Lake Tahoe, Nev., and Vail, Colo. They are making their home in Schaumburg, Ill.

The bride, who holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Carroll College, Waukesha, Wis., is an accounting supervisor with Addressograph Multigraph, Schaumburg.

Mrs. Gene Sekel, of Buffalo Grove, Ill., honor matron for her sister, and bridesmaids Kris Johnson, another sister, and Mrs. John Theroux, of Sudbury, Mass., the bridegroom's sister, wore periwinkle blue matte jersey, styled with dirndl skirts and detachable, cowl necks concealing peasant necklines.

Blue satin streamers and bows accented their bouquets of pink and white Elegance carnations, German status, pink and white silk baby's-breath and blue silk cornflowers.

Flower girl Robyn Johnson, of Blue Grass, Iowa, cousin of the bride, carried a small spray of matching flowers in a small basket.

Best man was Bruce Loud, of Arlington Heights, Ill. Guests were seated by Mr. Theroux, Mr. Sekel and Dale Johnson, brother of the bride. Ring bearer was David Hardt, of Hoffman Estates, Ill., cousin of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a long, brown chiffon gown, fashioned with a peasant neckline, long sleeves and a double length skirt. Her corsage of silk flowers featured pink rosebuds and beige baby's-breath.

Gold and silver bugle beads in a chain effect accented the Empire waistline and edged the long, tapered sleeves of the bridegroom's mother's V-necked, formal length gown of champagne Qiana. Her corsage was similar to that of Mrs. Johnson.

More lace edged the sham Eton jacket that covered her princess bodice. Her fingertip mantilla and Juliet cap were also of lace, matching the gown.

She carried a fan arrangement of white roses, white Elegance carnations, dried German status, blue and pink silk baby's-breath and blue silk cornflowers, with white satin streamers and bows.

For her marriage, the former Miss Johnson chose a white satin gown. Her flared skirt and attached, chapel train were edged in scalloped Venice lace, matching the lace appliques on her English net sleeves.

by John E. Brink

It always seems such a shame that people will live in their home for years and put up with literally hundreds of problems. When it comes time to sell they pull out all stops and dump thousands of dollars making their home attractive for the next owner! Our theory is to "live" and enjoy your home all the while you are in it. This way you, too, can enjoy all the nice things you are fixing up for the next owner.

This goes for such major things as family rooms, new kitchens, carpets and, naturally, decorating. You can just about consider your home as a standard model. The deluxe version has all the nice things. You wouldn't buy a standard Ford and then the week you sell it add air conditioning, stereo, white wall tires, etc., etc. . . . then why do it with your home.

This brings up another point to consider for buyers. You can use the theory—buy a standard home and then make it the deluxe model exactly as you like it. This gives you the flexibility of buying many homes that qualify only by location. You can add the extra rooms and plus features yourself.

Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co., 882-0087, has its own staff designer free to you to use as you desire. He'll help you make that standard-job deluxe. The pricing formula works in your favor also—meaning—what you put in you get out plus some! Let the associates at Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. tell you more about buying by location only! It's fun.

Center Sets Art Classes

The new spring term of art classes will begin on Friday, March 31, in the War Memorial's new Art Wing, 32 Lakeshore road.

Wayne State University instructor Daniel Rosbury will teach painting in oil and acrylics on Fridays from 1 to 4 p.m., until Friday, May 19.

A protege of Robert Wilbert in New York, Mr. Rosbury teaches in the same vein but in his own individual style. The fee is $40 for the term.

Louise Janssen Nobili, head of the Wayne State University art department, will present "A Creative Approach to Water Color" on Mondays at 9 a.m. to 12 noon, April 3 through June 12.

Mrs. Nobili asks that students bring some of their work to the first class. The membership in her class is limited so advanced enrollment is suggested. The fee is $74 for the term.

Lorraine Chambers McCarty will come from her Royal Oak studio each Tuesday beginning April 18, (a week later than announced in the Center's March activity card.) Her classes will continue through June 6. She will teach classes mornings, afternoons and evenings.

Classes will be held outdoors on the Center's lake-side terrace and lawn or in the gardens whenever weather permits.

The morning class from 9 a.m. to 12 noon will be for both beginning and intermediate students in painting. The afternoon class, from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. is titled "Power and Actions of Color." It will involve exploration of harmonies, interactions, symbolisms and psychic emotional values expressed by color.

The evening class from 7 to 10 p.m. will offer instruction in both drawing and painting. The term fee for each of Mrs. McCarty's classes is $49.

Mrs. McCarty has won 23 first prizes in exhibits and has had 29 solo shows. Her works are in collections around the world.

Sculpture will again be taught at the Center on Monday evenings beginning April 10 by Frank Varga, who returns from executing a commission in Germany just in time to begin his spring terms.

The class will meet from 8 to 10 p.m. Students work in clay and can have their sculptures fired or bronzed. The term fee is $40.

Honor Writers At North High

Four North High School students have been selected finalists in the National Council Teachers of English, (NCTE), annual Writing Awards Program.

The students, Steve Lazurenko, Lisa Loush, James MacDonald and Sue Mashour, will submit an impromptu writing assignment along with one sample of past work for judging later this year.

The students were among 56 North High writers who recently participated in the NCTE "write-off."

Other North English students will participate next month in Eastern Michigan University's Authors' Conference, featuring playwright Edward Albee as guest speaker.

Students planning to attend the conference are Tracy Barlow, Ed Boesiger, Kevin Campbell, Alexandra Georgas, Mary Monte, Brian Murphy, Marjorie Reid, Annette Rener, Lisa Roth, Karen Schumer, Jack Szytman, Prov Vitale, Nancy Williams and Rob Zeiger.

The students will have their manuscripts printed in Eastern Michigan's con- anthology as well.

Junior Tourney Draws Netter

Lisa Micou, 14, of The Farms recently competed in the same junior tennis tournament that launched some of the nation's greatest players.

The 11th Annual Planters Easter Bowl brought together more than 400 players between the ages of 11 and 18 at the East River Tennis Club, New York City.

Lisa followed the path of Jimmy Connors, Dick Stockton, Brian Gottfried, Vitas Gerulaitis, Betsy Nagelson, Tracy Austin, Joanne Russel and many other netters who started their careers in this top junior tournament.

Literature Group Meets

The Grosse Pointe Council of Better Literature for Youth will hold its annual meeting and delegate luncheon Friday, March 31, at 12 noon, at Christ the King Lutheran Church, 20338 Mack avenue.

Guests of honor will be the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph P. Fabry, Mrs. Ben Monterosso, president of the Women's Guild of the church, will be honorary hostess.

NHS Presents Cabaret Night

North High School Bands and Orchestra will present the 10th annual Cabaret Night on Friday, April 7, in the North Cafeteria, 707 Vernier road. The performance begins at 8 p.m.

The North High Stage Band, conducted by Nathan Judson, will play tunes ranging from the big band sound of the 1930's to the rock and roll of the 1970's. Theme of this year's Cabaret is "Star Dust."

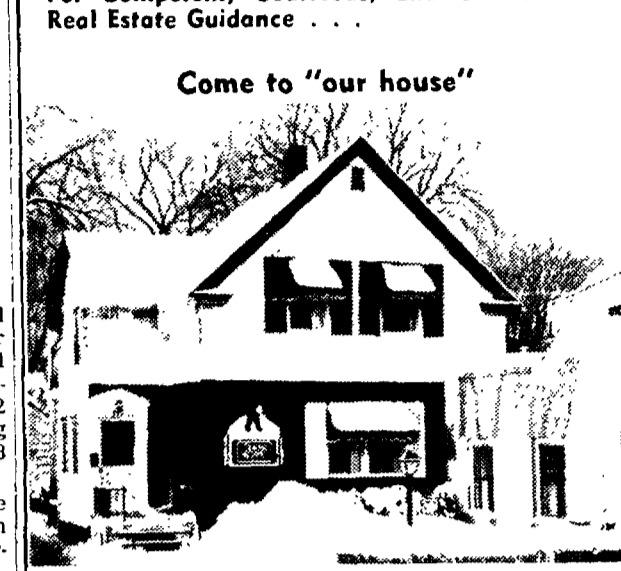

People of all ages are invited. There will be refreshments and dancing.

Tickets are $2 per student, $2.50 per adult. They will be available from any member of the bands and orchestra, or at the door.

FRANK AND CATHERINE DATTILO, OF RIVARD BOULEVARD

By Janet Mueller

It's "The Punch," all right, and it's a weekend, and it's matinee time — but where's Errol Flynn, swashbuckling through Sherwood Forest as Robin Hood? Where, for that matter, is the movie screen? And the WHERE: kids running out to the lobby to get more candy, kids lost, looking for their seats, kids giggling, whispering, nudging other kids...

In this Punch, you can hear a pin drop. In this Punch, instead of candy wrappers there's a discarded Dunkin' Donuts box. There are coffee cups, half full. On stage, there's a rehearsal in progress.

"Detroit!" A Celebration of the Spirit by Francis M. Dattilo, Jr., is scheduled to open in three weeks at the Punch and Judy Theatre in Grosse Pointe, and this is the first time, (except for a reading), that the actors have been on the Punch and Judy stage. They're blocking out the action.

Who Goes Where "Okay, at that point you can cross over and sit down again."

"If she does that, she'll be blocking Bill."

"I'll knock her down if she's in my way." General laughter, on stage and in the audience which consists of an actor who doesn't come on until the very end and Francis M. Dattilo, Jr., who, in the way of authors whose scripts are in the hands of directors, is sitting quietly four rows back, watching — like a hawk.

Frank's been through this before. "I love creating. It sounds corny, idealistic, but I do." He's both writer and producer. ("I'm always scheming, thinking..."), and he can't quibble when Catherine calls him a workaholic. "I am one."

Catherine, now... Catherine spent their second wedding anniversary in India. When you're married to Frank, you have a choice: go when the opportunity arises, Frank or no Frank; persuade Frank to go and then spend half the trip persuading Frank he's enjoying himself; or stay home.

A Happy Solution Catherine went. She was happy. Frank stayed. He was happy. When they got together again at the end of two-and-a-half weeks, they both were happy.

Weekdays, during regular working hours, Catherine manages a travel agency in New Baltimore. Frank's with Ross Roy, in charge of the Dodge Car catalogs. Dodge is GREAT! — make no mistake — but Frank's personal pride and joy happens to be a 1964 Studebaker Hawk. Only 1,700 of them were made. It's not your everyday sort of car. Frank drives his only on Sunday afternoons, along Lakeshore. If the weather is good.

Back to The Punch, and enter Catherine, at a half-run, slightly out of breath, wearing a "Detroit!" T-shirt. She joins the audience.

When "Detroit!" opens at The Punch Friday, April 7, (it will also run Saturday, April 8, and Sunday, April 9; curtain time for all performances is 8 o'clock), Catherine will be the first person on stage.

Did You Know... Perini's is open at 11 a.m. Sundays? A delicious full course meal is only $3.75. You'll enjoy so many good things at Perini's such as home made bread served hot at all times. Perini's is open until midnight Friday and Saturday. For that late lunch, served from 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., you may choose from the $3.25 menu. Those popular Kentucky Hot Browns are $3.25... the mini version is $2.25. There is convenient parking... 10721 Whittier. Call 371-2484.

Patsy's Place... Makeup lessons taught. Elysee and Viviane Woodard cosmetics. Pat Setter and Shelle, 884-5446.

(Continued from Page 13) Island, Fla., recently, as guest of the William G. Whytes, who recently purchased their John's Island golf cottage from the Don Woods, of The Pointe, and with him came 14(!) Secret Service people who were, to say the least, ubiquitous... but former Pointer Denny Gordon managed to break through the cordon long enough to present the famous visitor with a packet of photos: mementos of his John's Island stay.

Denny believes in direct action. She simply marched up to Mr. Ford as he was dining at the Beach Club and said, "At the risk of being shot, here are some remembrances taken this morning." Mr. Ford loved it!

No Trouble in Tahiti

Accompanied by two guitars, Carol De Gaetano, of Beaufait road, sang American songs to a cheering crowd of French and Tahitians recently in Papeete. Their favorite number? "When the Saints Come Marching In!"

It was, reports Carol, a beautiful vacation. The ocean water was warm, the sun shone every day, the mean temperature was 85 degrees... Carol, I hate you!
