HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, April 13
THE HOUSE saved President Jimmy Carter the trouble of vetoing the controversial emergency farm aid bill by soundly defeating the measure yesterday. Mr. Carter had promised that if the farm bill was passed, he would veto it. The bill would have provided federal subsidies to grain and cotton farmers. The surprisingly wide 268 to 150 vote against the bill cut across both party and regional lines. During the vote, the House galleries were filled with farmers. Mr. Carter had said he would veto the bill because it would cause substantial increases in food prices.

Friday, April 14
SOME LIBERAL SENATE Democrats showed signs of abandoning their support for the Panama Canal treaties yesterday and sided with Panama's distress over a United States security rights amendment. While Senate leaders worked on the amendment, liberal Democrats threatened to abandon the treaties as a means of opposing President Jimmy Carter's stand on unrelated energy issues.

Saturday, April 15
PRESIDENT JIMMY Carter sent to Congress yesterday the details of his plan to create a cabinet-level Department of Education. The move was in keeping with a two-year-old campaign promise the President had made. The proposed department would have a first year budget of $17.5 billion. This figure is more than the existing budgets of seven of the 12 cabinet departments. If approved, it would bring together 23,325 federal employees to run education programs now scattered throughout the government.

Sunday, April 16
IN A DRIVING rainstorm yesterday, a speeding Venice to Rome express train collided head on with a local train in Bologna, Italy. At least 41 persons were killed and scores more injured when three cars pitched down a 60-foot embankment, police said. The accident occurred in the mountains when the local train suddenly derailed into the path of the packed southbound Arrow of the Lagoon express. Police recovering bodies from the wreckage said the impact was so great that some bodies were completely dismembered and thrown into the branches of surrounding trees.

Monday, April 17
TREASURY SECRETARY Michael Blumenthal announced yesterday that the United States may sell some of its gold in Fort Knox to bolster the sagging American dollar. Another of President Jimmy Carter's inflation fighters said the government might stop purchasing goods from firms that are hiking prices, because price hikes are inflationary. Mr. Blumenthal said the government has a policy of "selling gold from time to time" and that when a final decision transpires a formal announcement of the sale will be made. The gold sales, if made, would be earmarked for use by jewelers and dentists.

Tuesday, April 18
THE SUPREME COURT yesterday upheld a federal judge's ruling that Michigan authorities must pay unemployment benefits to all women who request compensation for forced maternity leaves. The case that sparked the decision was an appeal by the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. The court's action provides no definite answer to whether employees violate federal law or the Constitution when they force women workers to take unpaid maternity leaves.

County Honors Fallen City Firefighter

Though most of the rubble and debris has been hauled away from 15440 Windmill Pointe drive, the site of The Pointe's worst fire in many years, no one has forgotten the tragic loss of City Firefighter Richard M. Tucker's life in fighting the blaze. The Wayne County Board of Commissioners last week passed a resolution commending Mr. Tucker, saying "No man is more worthy of honor than the man who sacrifices his life in the service of others..." The resolution was presented to the firefighter's widow ELAINE TUCKER and her daughters, LISA, 3, and LAURA, 7, on Thursday, April 13, with, (from left to right), City Manager THOMAS KRESSBACH, Wayne County Commissioner ERV STEINER and City Fire Chief ROBERT MARSHALL participating.

Push Plans To Beautify GP Woods

Commission Set for First Phase of 'Veterans Memorial Parkway' Plantings

By Roger A. Waha

Around two years of planning and hard work by the Woods Beautification Commission and the city culminated with the formal dedication of the "Veterans Memorial Parkway" project at the west end of the city, i.e., at the Harper Woods border along Vernier road, last October 2. Now, with the arrival of spring, the commission is making plans for a variety of plantings at the west end as part of the parkway's first phase of development, while considering a new fund raising effort later in the year to begin work on the second phase of this living memorial honoring American veterans.

Speak for Itself
At this point, an estimated $4,600 has been raised for initial work on the project, according to commission chairman Dr. Albert C. Howe. Of this amount, $900 has been used for expenses, leaving around $3,700 for first phase work.

Cinema League to Have Banquet, Film Festival

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League, which has been providing area residents with movies and slides shows for the past 24 years, will have its Annual Banquet and Film Festival Show on Monday evening, May 1, in the War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom and Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road. Punch will be served at 6 p.m., followed by dinner. League officers for the 1978-79 season will be elected, and then the audience will adjourn to the Fries Auditorium to enjoy six award-winning movies, selected from the Photographic Society of America's 1977 International Film Festival. The public is invited to join in the evening's festivities. Tickets at $7.75, available at the War Memorial's office, include admittance to the film show and dinner.

Woods Begins Meetings To Discuss New Budget; Proposal over $4,300,000

City Administrator Petersen Calls This One of Hardest Years Because of Increased Costs; Council Reviews Parks and Recreation, Public Works Allocations

By Roger A. Waha

The Woods Commission meeting met for the first time Thursday evening, April 13, to review the city's proposed fiscal year 1978-79 budget of $4,369,897, up from the current 1977-78 budget of $3,707,882.

At this session, the council gave its approval to the content of the parks and recreation and public works budgets, with further meetings slated during the week to review City Administrator Chester E. Petersen's recommendations for the general government and public safety departments, among other areas.

While the solons have an opportunity to discuss and make adjustments to the respective departmental budgets before giving each their okay, final approval will become a reality only when the council adopts the total budget, scheduled for the Monday, May 15, meeting. Adjustments may still be made before that time.

Notes Uncertainties
This was one of the hardest years in which to prepare a budget, said Mr. Petersen, who cited such factors as an extremely high rate of inflation and many uncertainties in the cost of goods and services.

In noting that most aspects of the city's operation reflect increases in cost, Mr. Petersen specifically cited such areas as the cost of living, salaries and fringe benefits, with workmen's compensation and liability insurance practically doubling.

The final picture of the city's debt service and operating tax levies awaits further input from the council and final approval. However, the solons will consider several recommendations from Mr. Petersen in this respect.

For the current fiscal year, the total millage is 11.82 mills—1.01 mills per thousand of the city's current assessed valuation for debt service and 10.81 mills per thousand for general fund operating purposes.

As proposed for 1978-79, because of the increase in state equalized valuation, debt service could be reduced to .91 of a mill, while the general fund tally could

Condition Of Streets Eyed in GP

Severe Winter Riddles Thoroughfares As Municipalities Patch Holes

By Wendy K. Settle

It's no secret that the severe winter of 1978 has almost destroyed some of The Pointe's pavements and the damage that Old Man Winter has done will cost Wayne County and the Pointe a considerable amount of money.

That is if the county and the municipalities can find the cash — and right now money belts are strapped pretty tight.

Because of the shortage of funds, most of the Pointes are patching the streets with a temporary substance called cold patch. The county would like to repave its roads that run through The Pointe but could only afford repaving with financial help from the cities.

In Bad Straits
The condition of Lakeshore road in The Farms and Shores has been the subject of over 15 complaint letters received by the Wayne County Road Commission. (WCRC). "That's a lot of letters for just one road," said Louis J. Sugo, WCRC director of public information.

"We're well aware of the condition of Lakeshore and we'd love to repave it but if you don't have the cash, what can you do?" Mr. Sugo asked. "We're in bad financial straits and the local communities are in the same boat."

Lakeshore is owned by the county and most Pointe officials feel that the WCRC should pay 100 percent of the repaving costs. But under Public Act 61, the county has the right to split the cost of road work with the community which the county road runs through.

Cites Standstill
The WCRC has split costs with about 40 communities which need road work this year. The standard split the county is offering is one-third cost to the community and two-thirds to be paid by the WCRC.

Mr. Sugo said that the only (Continued on Page 4)

Balance of YSD Assessment Paid By GP Shores

Trustees Approve Payment of Village's Remaining Share of 1977-78 Fiscal Year Budget; Municipality's Future in Division Hinges on Action of Other Participants

By James J. Njaim

The Shores Council at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday morning, April 18, bowed to the demand of The Woods that the Village pay the balance of its share of the Youth Service Division's, (YSD), 1977-78 fiscal budget. The Woods is the managing municipality of the division, which is headquartered in its Public Safety Department.

Acting on the advice of Village Attorney William Killebrew, with the concurrence of Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis, the council decided to remit its final payment of $1,293.67.

The payment was made with reluctance because the Village trustees felt that the method of allocation, based on State Equalized Valuation, (SEV), of real property, was not fair. The trustees were of the opinion that the fair share assessment should be based on population.

Why Monies Withheld
Participating members of the YSD are the five Pointes and the Board of Education. Each Pointe city manager, along with a School Board representative, comprise the YSD's board of managers.

The Shores' full share for the fiscal year was $12,635.67, half of which was paid last summer and $5,024.16 of which was paid after the first of the year. However, the Village withheld payment of $1,293.67 because officials felt that the method by which The Shores was assessed was far in excess of what it should have been.

Too, it was felt that The Shores' assessment was not justified because of the minimal amount of its juvenile cases referred to the YSD.

Reviews Outlook
Mr. Killebrew informed the council the balance must be paid because the Village had signed a contract for the full amount of $12,635.67 for the fiscal year and must abide by the provisions of the pact.

Mr. Jefferis had high praise for the work being done by the YSD. But because The Shores' contribution to the case load of the division is so small, it does not justify the amount it is

Correction

In its April 6 story about South High School's 50th anniversary, the NEWS incorrectly listed the senior class officers of South's first graduating class. The correct slate of officers is Russell Herbst, president; Jean Butler, vice-president; Helen Campbell, secretary; and Jack Refior, treasurer.

And concerning the story of Mrs. Ruth Flom, former dean of girls at South High School, the mother of Mrs. Flom's grandchildren mentioned in the story should be Dottie, not Joan.

Park Report Shows Hike In Fire Losses in 1977

The Park's fire loss for 1977 amounted to $209,266, or $13.47 per capita, based on a population of 15,641, as compared to a 1976 loss of $127,615, or $8.16 per capita, according to the 49th annual report submitted to the Park Council by City Manager Robert A. Slone on Monday, April 10. The report was initially submitted to the city manager by Fire Chief Philip Costa.

The chief said that he attributed the heavier fire loss last year to three factors: 1. Because the cost of building material and labor had risen sharply in 1977, as compared to the previous year, adding substantially to repair costs.

2. There were more residential fires last year, also fires have involved larger dwellings, resulting in more than usual damage, especially that of smoke to rooms. 3. The late report of a fire that caused the death of an elderly woman and $78,045 in losses to the building and its contents. Chief Costa referred to the February 25 fire that was fatal to Mrs. Cecile Londe, 71, of 792 Harecourt, widow of the late well known sports figure and former owner of Detroit's Olympia Stadium. The house was destroyed. "I feel our fire losses would have been much higher except for the fact that we have completed the 240-

Officials in GPW Hear Seniors' Plea

Council Considers Recommendation for Advisory Ballot Question As Further Study Unfolds

By Roger A. Waha

Interest on the part of the Woods Senior Citizens Commission for a seniors' housing complex has remained strong and unshaken for the past four years, despite the defeat of a ballot proposition at Ghesquiere Park in 1974.

Housing has remained a steadfast goal of the group and with planning consultant Brandon M. Rogers' recommendations for a complex in his preliminary draft of a land use plan, the seniors are seeking a plan of action to bring this matter before the voters once again.

As a result, the commission called a special meeting Monday morning, April 17, to further pursue this subject and, as an outgrowth of the discussion, unanimously approved a motion requesting the council to place an advisory question on the August 8 primary ballot.

Want Specifics
Staying away from specifics on the site and method of financing in the motion, the seniors only wanted an indication of the voters' feelings.

The motion by Dr. Albert Eckel asked the council to direct City Attorney George Catlin to prepare wording on a ballot question asking voters if they favor privately-funded senior citizens' housing.

This recommendation was considered by the solons at their regular meeting that same day. It was the overall consensus that the council would have no objection to placing such a question on the ballot as long as the wording was, in fact, specific in relation to a proposed site and method of financing.

Feeling a more thorough study was needed, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos told commission members the council could vote on the generally-worded recommendation, (which would probably have been defeated), while adding a more specific recommendation would supply a better answer from the community.

YSD Welcomes New Counselors

Two new counselors joined the Youth Service Division, (YSD), part-time counseling staff on Saturday, April 8. They are Nancy Beth Morrison, 22, of Whittier road and Mary Catherine Tiedeck, 21, of Kensington road.

The pair join Mrs. Denise Cain, 26, of The Pointe, a counselor at the Northeast Guidance Center, who became a division counselor last July.

Each staff member receives $3 per hour and usually works from four to six hours per week.

Miss Morrison, who has a Bachelor of Science degree in social work, (while minor in sociology and religion), from Western Michigan University, was previously employed at the Summit Medical Center, Detroit.

While at Summit, she counseled teenagers and young women, along with young couples in emotional and stress situations. She attended Defer and South High Schools.

Miss Tiedeck is currently a student at Mercy College, majoring in social work. She also has been trained in counseling teenagers at Center Point.

She attended Saint Clare School and also Dominican and Our Lady Star of The Sea Schools. Miss Tiedeck has attended Mercy since September 1975 and also is minor in psychology.

GPW Seniors Resume Housing Drive

Sutton said she would prefer that the council table action on the recommendation so the group could pursue the matter in more detail.

With that, Councilman George Cueter, commission representative, moved that this subject be tabled to the Monday, May 15, meeting.

Will Seek Input

This action will provide enough lead time to place an advisory question on the primary ballot, as Mr. Catlin reported wording of the proposition would have to be submitted by June 8.

Prior to the meeting of the 15th, Mrs. Sutton said she will meet with her housing chairman, Audrey Dolger, contact Mr. Rogers and perhaps the chairmen of both the Planning and Citizens Recreation Commissions toward receiving input on a proposed recommendation for the council to consider.

At the commission's morning meeting, Mr. Rogers' recommendations for a complex, including, in order of priority, Ghesquiere Park, Seven-Mack Shopping Center and a school site, were discussed, along with the types of housing, locations and financing.

A suggestion of sending out a questionnaire to Woods seniors toward updating the results of a similar survey in the fall of 1974 also was viewed. Four years ago, 151 citizens indicated they wanted seniors housing, while four said they didn't.

The need for such housing was expressed by each commission member although specifics on location and financing, plus approach, varied to a degree. George Kallenbach, for example, questioned if The Woods was big enough to carry seniors' housing or would it be better to have a joint venture with the other Pointes?

Up to Them

Other opinions varied on the location with Mr. Kallenbach and Alice Cairns feeling Ghesquiere Park was the best bet, while Dr. Eckel indicated the Seven-Mack area might be more practical because of the convenience for shopping.

Mr. Cueter, who attended the commission meeting, suggested that the group present a specific request to the council, putting the burden on the solons to take some action regarding an advisory vote.

Since the last ballot proposition in 1974, he estimated that some 15 to 20 percent of new seniors have moved to the community.

"You have to make the people aware of these problems," he said in relation to the need for housing. "Let them know you care and that you want them, (the residents), to care, and that you are a viable part of the community having contributions to make."

Saying that anything can happen regarding sites, even in considering the Lake Front Park, Mr. Cueter told the seniors it was up to them to obtain support for housing.

Mr. Cueter also felt none of the five Pointes have really addressed themselves to the problem of seniors' housing. "If they did, we would have had something before," he said, while viewing the stigma of affluence many place on Pointe residents. He even suggested that commission members meet with representatives of the Senior Men's Club to obtain input.

Gets It Moving

For her part, Mrs. Sutton stated in 1974 the "new idea" of seniors' housing in the community didn't have the support of young people but she felt this attitude has altered today. But she added that both the site and method of financing should be spelled out in any new proposal.

However, Mr. Cueter suggested that approval of housing should be obtained first before telling the city and the community what was needed because of the ever-changing cost picture, among other areas. Still, Mrs. Sutton felt residents will ask many questions about funding, location, rent, et al.

As it turned out, based upon the council's response at the meeting, this was the case although Mr. Cueter's effort in getting the commission recommendation before the council the same day got the entire matter moving.

At the council meeting, Mr. Pinkos called the initial thrust an "exercise in futility" because even if the council placed the recommended question on the ballot, it really wouldn't accomplish anything.

Mr. Cueter told the council he felt the issue should be brought before the voters toward obtaining an understanding that seniors are still interested in housing and to get "the entire matter off the ground."

Saving Energy

He also said the seniors would still have to come back to the council with specific recommendations toward putting some burden on the city regarding consideration of precise sites and funding methods.

But the majority of the council was against any general worded question and the seniors ultimately agreed.

So the burden at this time is upon the commission which has to come up with a new proposal. Nonetheless, Mrs. Sutton indicated she was pleased with the way the action unfolded.

She particularly was happy with council consideration of the subject so seniors, unlike in 1974, wouldn't have to go the "old route" of circulating initiatory petitions house-to-house and preparing blueprints for a proposed complex, i.e., at Ghesquiere, while saving a great deal of physical energy overall.

Youth Service Division's Case Load Reported Up

A total of 80 complaints were referred to the Youth Service Division, (YSD), for follow-up and disposition last month, making the total for the first quarter of the year stand at 175. For the same period last year, 159 cases were investigated.

Sixteen larceny cases were reported. When considered with a related category, burglary, five incidents, a total of 12 identified juvenile males with two adult males and three juvenile females were involved. Ten complaints remain unsolved.

Malicious destruction of property incidents, totaling 16, involved nine juvenile males with one adult male and one juvenile female. Nine cases remain unsolved to date.

Sex offense reports, eight, have shown a jump in number due to incidents where high school males ride around the Pointe area accosting children they happen to see who are walking to and from school.

"This is a teenage idea of something to do for kicks and for peer bragging if they are able to escape apprehension and identification. It presents a problem for police follow-up unless some witness can come forth with recognition of defendants or an accurate license number of the vehicle used," the YSD notes.

The division also investigated six violations of controlled substances incidents. Two possession of marijuana cases involved two adult males and one female juvenile while one possession and delivery of marijuana case involved one male juvenile and one female juvenile.

A synthetic drug incident, an overdose, involved one female juvenile, while a synthetic drug and alcohol case, another overdose, involved one male adult.

Meanwhile, five runaway reports involved three boys and two girls. Two boys were apprehended by police officers and turned over to their parents, while one boy was arrested, refused by his parent and subsequently transported to the Wayne County Juvenile Home.

One girl voluntarily returned to her home, while the incident involving the other girl was a case of assisting another department inasmuch as she was a runaway from another county. But she was apprehended in The Woods based upon information provided by her father.

The girl was taken to the juvenile home upon her father's request as he feared she would immediately run away again if not held in custody until the family problem could be resolved in the county of residence.

Finally, three incidents of attempted fraudulent procurement, (forged prescriptions presented to local pharmacists to illegally obtain drugs), were investigated and taken to Wayne County Circuit Court for prosecution.

Give Sabbatical to Mrs. Kerns

Mrs. Kerns, an 11-year employe of the school system, will conduct an original study on instructional techniques for increasing creative responses in students. The study will complete her doctoral work at the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Kerns' was the only application for sabbatical received by the Board this year. Her leave, during which she will receive three-quarters of her salary, will cost the system about $8,000. In recommending that the Board grant the sabbatical,

'Big Foot' Hits Again in Farms

Two more burglaries occurred in The Farms this past week, bringing the total for March and April up to eight. At the scene of one robbery a shoe print was found that matched prints found at other breakings and enterings in The Pointes.

Nothing was found at the second burglary to tie it to the rash of robberies that have been occurring throughout the Pointes in March and April.

Both crimes were reported on Sunday, April 16. The first was in Hillcrest road at 12:45 a.m., the second in Roland road at 6:45 p.m.

Farms detectives reported that nothing was found at the Hillcrest road robbery to indicate that it was the work of the man suspected in six burglaries in The Farms, 12 in The City and one in The Park.

On the back porch of the Roland road home a dusty shoe print was found, that matched prints from the other 19 break-ins.

The Roland road home was entered between 10 a.m. and 6:45 p.m. when the suspect broke the porch door pane and unlocked the door. The owner, who wishes that his name be withheld, reported a total of $1,800 was stolen in property. Missing was a color television with a video tape recorder, two 35 mm cameras with cases and an AM-FM stereo system with turntable, speakers and cassette recorder.

Property totalling $440 was stolen from the Hillcrest road home between 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 15 and 12:45 a.m. on the 16th. The owner, who also asked that his name be withheld, reported missing a 10 channel scanner and an eight piece silver plated setting. He also reported that the bedrooms had been ransacked.

Police suspected the home was entered through a basement window. The detective bureau is investigating both robberies.

Orchestra Hall Date for SHS

Top musical ensembles from South High School will appear in Orchestra Hall, 3711 Woodward avenue, for an afternoon of music making Sunday, April 30, at 3 p.m.

The South Symphony Orchestra, Wind Ensemble and A Cappella Choir will present a concert of varied music, opening with Copland's "Fanfare for The Common Man."

The orchestra will perform Moussorgsky's "A Night on Bald Mountain" and the Choir and Orchestra will combine for excerpts from Vivaldi's "Gloria."

The Wind Ensemble will close the concert with Respighi's "Feast Romane." Proceeds from the performance will help send students to summer music camp and help defray the cost of refurbishing the groups' recently purchased, used harp. Condition of Streets way Lakeshore could be repaved is through the one-third, two-third split with The Farms and The Shores. "We've offered to share the cost with The Farms and Shores but they've rejected our offer. They claim that they don't have the money and we just can't afford to pay 100 percent of the cost," he noted.

So the possibility of repaving Lakeshore road is at a standstill. But patching is being done on the street by both communities and the county. "If the cities would accept our offer," Mr. Sugo added, "we'd be out there working in a minute."

Thomas Jefferis, Shores Village superintendent, and John DeFoe, Farms director of public service, both said they were patching Lakeshore as well as other streets in their communities. Patching also is being done in The Park, City and Woods.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach of Grosse Pointe City said, "We've been patching potholes for the past week. But it's difficult because there's still a lot of water on the streets and cold patch doesn't adhere well when it's wet."

Patching Costs
 Woods Director of Public Service Leonard Ocelnik noted that his city's crews have been out patching roads since January. "I think we've patched almost all the chuck-holes in the city."

He also said that The Woods has earmarked funds in its 1978-79 budget to repave some roads. Half of the road patching in The Park was done by a private contractor. "Our men just couldn't keep up," said James Ellison, Park director of public service. "I've never seen the roads in worse condition. This winter was definitely hard on the streets."

All of the Pointe communities have spent thousands of dollars just to patch their roads. Mr. Kressbach reported he didn't have exact figures but in the past his city has spent "a couple of thousand" on patching. The Farms and Woods noted that they've spent approximately $1,200 to $1,400 and The Shores estimated $500 for patching in their community.

Mr. Ellison added that because of hiring outside help, The Park's patching bill is above $2,000.

Repaving of some Pointe streets this year is planned by all the municipalities. Funds for the work are being included in the communities' 1978-79 fiscal year budgets.

However, the biggest motorist headache, Lakeshore road, is not one of those streets. But the portion of Lakeshore around Ford's curve in The Shores will be repaved at The Shores' expense, said Mr. Jefferis.

Pointe roads are in a bad way. Old age, increased traffic and the "Blizzard of '78" has left many Pointe motorists with flat tires, bent wheels and cracked axles.

But Mr. Sugo has consoling words for irate drivers. "The Grosse Pointes don't have it as bad as some other Wayne County communities," he said. "I could show you some areas on the western side of the county that don't have any roads at all, so to speak."

Farms Okays Group's Events

The Farms Boat Club's 1978-79 schedule of events was approved by the Farms Council at its regular meeting Monday, April 3.

The council approved the schedule subject to the facilities at the Pier Park being available. The vote was unanimous.

Some of the events included in the club's schedule are monthly meetings, the regatta from July 21 to 23, the August cornroast and the Commodore's Ball next February.

Shores, YSD

Future assessed payments will hinge on what the other participating members will do, Mr. Jefferis said, especially the Board of Education, which claims that its proposed assessment is so high that it might look into the possibility of forming its own security organization.

Asks for Funds for Sewer Work

The Woods Council which has been wrestling for some time to provide immediate storm sewer relief in the northeast area of the city unanimously approved a resolution which will be forwarded to the Wayne County Drain Commissioner's office for consideration.

This measure, which was considered at the council's regular meeting Monday, April 3, urges the drain commissioner's office to utilize available unencumbered funds of the city, placed at around $200,000, for such work.

The city has received preliminary plans from Pate, Hirn and Bogue, city engineers, for the construction of the first segment of the proposed relief storm sewer from the Milk River, down Briarcliff to Morningside drive.

This sewer would help provide immediate relief from the annual basement flooding problems experienced by northeast area citizens, says the measure. It then notes the city has been advised that there is an approximate total of $200,000 in unencumbered balances remaining in the city's share in various drain construction and/or debt funds.

These monies are on deposit within Wayne County and supervised by the various county and intra-county drainage boards.

As a result, the council urged the drain commissioner's office to take immediate steps which will authorize the construction of the proposed sewer and to utilize available unencumbered funds of the city for this purpose.

In exploring this subject, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said the last audit from the drain commissioner's office indicated the possible utilization of $200,000 in unencumbered funds for the first segment of the project.

As planned, an entire relief system for that area could cost between $420,000 and $440,000.

At the same time, if the council approves his recommendation in the overall budgetary discussion procedure, a separate two mill tax increase in capital improvements to finance the rest of the project could be instituted. This, he stated, would be separate from the operating tax levy.

In a communication to the council, John F. DeBusscher of Pate, Hirn and Bogue, explored cost figures of the proposed project.

He said the firm has estimated the cost to construct the sewer along the Briarcliff route, directly from the Milk River to Morningside, to be $230,400. "We have also updated the construction cost for the remainder of Briarcliff road, all of Van K drive and Morningside drive and have estimated the cost at $190,700," he stated.

This would make the overall estimated total to be $421,100, according to Mr. DeBusscher.

To Hear Expert On Miniatures

"Building Miniature Houses and Furniture" is the title of a slide presentation to be given by Mrs. Dorie Krusz at the Woods Branch of the Grosse Pointe Public Library on Wednesday, April 26, from 7:30-8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Krusz, who resides in Hollywood road, is the author of a new book which bears the same title as her talk. The beautiful 6' x 9' x 2' miniature house created and built by Dorie Krusz with all its incredible, authentic furnishings has been on display at Jacobson's in the Village and the Detroit Historical Museum.

The house is a miniature reproduction of an 18th century home such as a prosperous New England family might have inhabited. The model for the construction is the handsome Georgian style house known as Sheldon's Tavern which is still standing in Litchfield, Conn., truly a masterpiece.

Mrs. Krusz has formal training in art having attended classes at the Chicago Institute of Arts and Washington University at St. Louis. She is also the author of a fine book on model shipbuilding. At present, she is teaching a course in making miniature houses.

The public is cordially invited to attend this free presentation. The Woods Branch is located at 20600 Mack avenue, at Vernier road.

Continue Probe Of Helin Fire

For the present, no arrest has been made of a suspect in the March 18 Park mansion fire, although investigation in the matter is virtually completed, according to information released by Fire Chief Phillip Costa.

The chief, who indicated there is strong evidence indicating that the fire was arson, said legal formalities must be adhered to before the suspect can be taken into custody for further questioning and investigation.

The mansion, owned by Charles Helin, was located at 15440 Windmill Pointe drive. The fire gutted the building and destroyed its contents, a large part being valuable antiques, paintings and art objects gathered from Mr. Helin's numerous trips around the world.

The total loss was set at $2.5 million for the building and about $1 million for the contents.

City firefighter Richard Tucker died of fatal injuries when a wall of the mansion collapsed and fell on him while he was helping to battle the flames.

Fire Losses in GP Park Increase Last Year

(Continued from Page 1) hour State Training Council's prescribed training program for firefighters in 1976," Chief Costa stated in his report. "In 1977, we have continued to train on a regular refresher type basis.

"We have also fulfilled one of our 1977 goals, that of training 10 firefighters as fully certified Emergency Medical technicians (EMT), to provide a professional emergency medical service for the citizens of our community."

The chief pointed out that the Fire Prevention Bureau of his department has been active and has eliminated many fire hazards, with regular inspections of schools, mercantile businesses, multi-dwelling and house-to-house fire inspections in Fire Prevention Week during the month of October.

Last year the Park Fire Department responded to a total of 779 alarms, of which eight were under the Mutual Fire Aid Pact to The City and two to The Farms, as compared to 15 to The City and nine to The Farms in 1976. Of the alarms responded to in 1977, 31 were justified false alarms, and 10 were malicious, whereas, in 1976, 18 were justified and eight were malicious. Last year's alarms were 58 less than in 1976, the report showed.

In continuing his report, Chief Costa revealed that 1977 residential building losses amounted to $130,307.15; loss to commercial buildings, $5,000; to contents, $68,043; and automobile fire loss, $5,915.

The value of buildings involved was set at $3,570,300; contents, $1,291,650; and automobiles, $28,600.

"Mutual Aid proved its worth by supplying manpower and apparatus when needed at the scene of emergencies," Chief Costa said,

"be it an ambulance emergency or a fire call. As fire chief, I feel that the over-all Mutual Aid Program provides the citizens of the Pointe and Harper Woods with better fire protection, emergency ambulance and fire prevention services through the exchange of ideas and training."

The chief set the following goals for 1978, 1. To stay on top with new ideas pertaining to fire prevention and fire suppression; 2. To have an in-service training program, for refresher EMT training at local hospitals; 3. To replace the 1972 fire ambulance with a new model to better serve the citizens of the community; 4. To replace the front doors of the fire headquarters, which were installed in 1928 and are becoming inoperable; and 5. To continue to cooperate with other city departments in inter-departmental activities.

Law Blocks Free Trips

In addition, staffing a 24-hour emergency service under the new rules would cost about $200,000, according to Director Kennedy. He also noted that an addition to City offices would be necessary to house the new equipment.

The council is already facing some budget problems this year and is expected to make other cutbacks in services or manpower in order to avoid a third year of budget overruns.

Council members said they were reluctant to discontinue the service "but with these costs, it's just not realistic to continue it," said Councilman David Robb.

"The legislation is very unfortunate," said Mr. Robb. "I can understand the reason for it in the upper peninsula, where hospitals are so far away, but in a city our size it just does not make sense."

Looking past 1979, the council will examine three options for providing the service.

- Contract with either The Farms or Park, or both, to provide service at an estimated cost of $9,000.

- Contract for service with a private firm.
- Organize a central EMS with cities now in the mutual aid pact, (all of the Pointes and Harper Woods). A special millage assessment may be considered to finance the authority.

Most Feasible
While the option of contracting the service with The Park or Farms is probably the most feasible in the short run, Mayor John King strongly urged city officials to discuss the community-wide authority.

"It's certainly the most logical solution to the problem; the costs would be far lower if all the communities were sharing the equipment," Mr. King said.

"As the other cities begin facing some of the problems we're looking at now, I'd like to see us pursue this alternative."

POINTER ELECTED
The National Ass'n. of Merger and Acquisition Consultants has elected Park resident Edgar D. Flintermann to its board of directors. Mr. Flintermann heads Flintermann and Ass'n. in Grayton road.

DOCKSIDES

Grab a pair of Sebago Docksides when you're fitting out this Spring. The construction is rugged. The design is sound. Sebago, with years of experience making boating moccasins, engineered a combination of the finest materials into a super deck shoe. Then tested it in the 1970 Bermuda Cup Race. Results: remarkable performance.

Examine the elk tanned cowhide upper. Built to resist salt, perspiration, mildew. Test the white rubber, sure-grip, non-slip sole. Either ashore or afloat, this sole tread refuses to pick up sand or pebbles. Won't scratch brightwork or canvas deck. Lay hold of the rawhide lacing. Size up the salt-resistant, nylon and dacron stitching throughout.

Doakes craftsmanship. Quality that's handmade by Yankee craftsmen. Others try to imitate. Docksides are built to refute imitation... and they cost less.

PIPER'S ALLEY

Dear Friends:

Being in probably the toughest business in the world, the restaurant business, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you for the fine support you've shown towards Piper's Alley in the past 4 years and at the same time apologize wholeheartedly to any of those whom we've ever offended. If you haven't heard by now, our automatic 15% tipping policy is no longer in effect. You were right and we were wrong is the only statement we can make at this time.

Along with this new policy we also want you to know that as of the first week in April EVERY Sandwich (even our famous "Middle-Easterner") is now priced at only $1.95 during luncheons (from 11 to 4). Just think of it, we're lowering our prices for your luncheon pleasure and we're giving you the same quality and the same size as our older prices.

You might also be pleased to know that cocktail prices during lunch have been greatly reduced.

So, if it's been a while since we've seen you for lunch, stop in... you'll love the new decor and the new low prices.

Yours truly
Your Host—Bill Demerest

P.S. We have a great new "Dessert Parlor" and by the time this gets to press... great new Crepe dinners.

Beautification Commission Makes Plans for Spring

Money from the commission's Saturday, May 20, flower sale along with late donations also will be used to plant two of six large crown beds, said Dr. Howe.

As planned, a combined total of 56 plantings will open the first phase. At one bed, the smaller of the two, 12 Shadblow trees will be planted, while a grouping of 20 Redbud trees, 10 pinkish to white Crabapple trees and 14 Shadblow trees will beautify the larger bed.

Meanwhile, a local garden club is scheduled to handle plantings at the flower bed located at the west wall. Begonias will be included among the flowers.

Feeling that such work will speak for itself regarding the commission's long-range plan for parkway development, Dr. Howe also is looking forward to the first link of a modified irrigation system for the median after plantings take place.

He said it will take care of around one-quarter of the west side median and will encompass 10 sprinkler units, which will entirely cover one of the large beds, while a hose attachment will be needed to cover the second bed.

Must Show Interest
"By late fall, we hope to plant a dozen Austrian pines back of the west side wall. I hope monies from the flower sale and other late donations will help us complete this phase," he said.

As for the drive to raise funds for the second phase of development, Dr. Howe is considering a goal of between $3,500 to $4,000.

This effort, which will not get underway until the fall, will take a different direction from the solicitation procedure of the past. While the latter approach has been successful, Dr. Howe hopes to have a big event, such as a cultural or recreational type of presentation, toward obtaining funds for plantings in the spring of 1979.

If all goes as planned by the commission, all plantings at the west end up to the Mack avenue-Vernier road intersection should be completed within five years, said Dr. Howe.

But for this dream to become a reality, the commission and especially the community must continue to show interest in the unfolding project, he added.

Heart of System
The cost of west end work, including the early American-style brick wall saying "City of Grosse Pointe Woods Veterans Memorial Parkway," necessary plumbing, electricity and three flag poles, was just under $10,000.

This money came from a maximum total of $16,000 authorized by the council for the project. Another $2,850 for the inclusion of a three-inch irrigation tap, which Dr. Howe calls the heart of the entire irrigation system, also was allocated by the council.

Remaining funds will basically be utilized for work at the east end, i.e., east of the Mack-Vernier intersection. Dr. Howe said two proposals are currently being sought for a "reduced, inconspicuous" wall or an elaborate flower bed, flag pole and identification sign.

He also noted the commission is considering sign changes at the intersection, with all ultimate recommendations from the group needing council approval.

While parkway development was a main focus at the commission's meeting last week, the group also is viewing a new format for its awards night toward making it "more exciting," said Dr. Howe.

To Greet Newcomers
In this respect, the presentation of less awards is being considered, thus making the ceremony more suspenseful with the announcement of winners as against giving out certificates, previously known, to dozens of businesses.

The inclusion of residen-

GPW Discusses Budget

stem from the following: taxes paid to St. Clair Shores on the Lake Front Park which rose $13,118 making the total for the next fiscal year, $75,118, an increase of $4,643 in salaries and fringe benefits and a hike of $6,530 to heat the pool complex.

The council made one adjustment in Mr. Petersen's proposal which found $2,500 for a planned volleyball-basketball-badminton court being charged to the Lake Front Park bond issue to be used for capital improvements, and the placing of $1,500 in contingency for the replacement of new picnic grills and tables. As a result, the overall parks and recreation budget was decreased by $1,000.

At the same time, Councilman George Cueter, finance committee chairman, indicated he would like an inventory to be taken of all park equipment, e.g., grills and tables, to obtain a better idea of needs regarding the addition and/or replacement of such items.

Meanwhile, the public works department's proposed budget, as approved by the finance committee, is $1,416,148, over $42,000 more than the 1977-78 total of $1,373,490 which is an increase of around 3.11 percent, Mr. Petersen said.

While some reductions are seen in this department's proposal in such areas as fringe benefits, $4,959, incinerator costs, $8,900, and grass mowing and tree removal, $23,300, because of less vacant lots to mow, increases not only swallow up these reductions but surpass them.

Eye Recommendations
Main hikes are seen in salaries and fringes, $21,705, street lighting, up by $8,660 to $333,660, building and grounds, $20,000, and appropriation to street repairs, $29,000.

Mr. Petersen noted that one mechanic and three public works operators, who retired and who will not be replaced, won't show up in the public works budget but in the water-sewer, highway and motor vehicle budgets because these personnel were distributed more in those areas.

The council also received recommendations from Mr. Petersen toward reducing costs and gave its blessing at this time to two of them.

One is changing the heavy trash pickup days on a quarterly basis to days of regular pickup on a quarterly basis, starting in July, and to require all commercial rubbish to be placed in bags out at the alley line on weekly pickup days. The latter will not become effective until May after the city so advises the merchants.

However, the solons didn't go for changing the weekly Monday morning brush pickup to the regular weekly collection day. On this, Mr. Cueter said it was a service the people look forward to, while Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos indicated it might only be done only on a volunteer basis.

On commercial rubbish, the council shared its displeasure over several factors including one business throwing trash in a wire cage with DPW personnel having to shovel it out. It was hoped this action, i.e., requiring trash to be picked up in bags, would reduce the number of man hours for commercial pickup.

Center Drive Gets $86,636 From 3,567

Fewer Givers Donate More Money Than During Same Period in Last Year's Campaign

To date, 3,567 donors have contributed to the War Memorial's 1978 Family Participation Campaign in comparison to 3,603 at this point in the 1977 drive.

The Center is pleased that so many givers of record are repeating and often enlarging their gifts.

To date, $86,636.27 has been received toward the necessary goal of $150,000. This compares with $79,515.77 donated by this date last year.

Anxious to Enlarge Follow-up letters have been sent to all Pointe citizens not yet heard from and a telephone follow-up will begin at the end of the month.

Officials are most anxious to enlarge their base of donors to insure the continued maintenance of the unique lake side civic, cultural and community Center whose buildings and grounds were given entirely without cost to the community and whose operations take no tax monies and still earn three-fourths of their own operational costs.

All gifts in whatever category are appreciated and necessary if the Center is to continue operations the next fiscal year beginning August 1, officials add.

Thieves Enter Woods Home

The citizen, who requested that her name be withheld, returned home on the 4th to discover a pried lock on an attached garage access door.

Missing items included a silver serving tray, creamer and sugar bowl, valued at around $700, a silver creamer, sugar bowl and tea pot, $700, six plates, six cups, six saucers in Rosenthal China "Royal Ivory" pattern, $300, and four frame Paris scene etchings on green velvet, $200.

Fifteen bottles of liquor, 24 bottles of beer, some jewelry and other articles also were reported missing.

Pointe Youths Join Clean Up

Twelve Pointe teenagers and dozens of Detroit area youths will join forces on Saturday, April 29, in a major clean-up effort of the M-59 highway in Oakland County as part of a global cleanup-fund raising drive organized by Adventure Unlimited (AU), a Denver, Colo. based international youth organization.

Pointers involved in the cleanup include, from The City, Amy, Jan and Linda Blanchard; from The Farms, Don, Gerry and David Chamberlin and Chris Chapelle; from The Park, Molly and Sandy Loy and Barbara Marsden; and from The Woods, Keith Outland and Bill Williams.

Tons of trash will be collected during AU's World Service Day "trashathon" when the youths armed with trash bags, gloves, rakes, shovels and high spirits descend on the area. Local residents and businesses have pledged cash donations to AU that increase in proportion to the amount of trash picked during the cleanup.

The same day, thousands of other young people in cities across the United States and in other countries will also be ridding their communities of trash and debris.

The money raised from the world-wide cleanup effort will help support wholesome youth activities locally organized by the three Detroit area Chapters of AU and provide a summer camp experience for deserving youngsters from across the United States.

WCCC Offers Classes in GP

Among the 24 classes offered in the northeast Detroit and Grosse Pointe area this spring by Wayne County Community College, (WCCC), is a variety of special interest courses, such as wine appreciation, parapsychology and disco dance.

The Community Services/Continuing Education classes will be offered at Austin Prep School, 18300 East Warren avenue, and Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road.

At a time when the "unbelievable" is becoming commonplace, "Parapsychology I" offers a look at some of the fascinating phenomena that challenge our realities.

The class will receive an overview of the basic language and concepts of parapsychology and examine scientific research and recorded experiences in areas of extrasensory perception, psychokinesis, out-of-body experiences, clairvoyance, hypnosis and regression.

Pre-cognitive dreams and other types of paranormal events of interest to class participants will be included.

The class will be held at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Thursdays, May 11 through June 29, from 6 to 8 p.m.

Other classes at Memorial Church will be "Arts and Crafts I" and "Rapid Reading." In the arts and crafts class, a variety of techniques may be taught including macramé, jewelry making, rug hooking, embroidery and quick point, a form of needlepoint.

The class will meet from May 11 through June 29 from 7 to 9 a.m. with a one-hour free preview on Thursday, May 4, at 7 p.m.

Participants in the "Rapid Reading" class can more than double their original reading rate, with improved comprehension and longer retention, according to the instructor, Elaine Connelly, vice-president of the Rapid Reading Foundation. The fee includes lifetime refresher services and a reading improvement guarantee.

The class will be held Saturdays, May 20 through July 8, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Free previews will be offered May 6 and 13 at 9:30 a.m.

Special interest courses at Austin will include "Conversational German I" and "Wine: An Introduction for Today's Consumer."

Wine Consultant Joseph Stearns will teach the wine appreciation class. Participants will hear what the great wines of the world are; how wines are made; reading labels, buying, storing and serving wines knowledgeably; use of vintage charts; which wines are best with which food; and how to get the best values for your money.

The fee includes the wines, but students should bring their own glasses. This class will be held Wednesdays, May 10 through June 28, with a free preview May 3 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Skateboard Bid Nixed in GPW

A query from Laurie Grove of Vernier road on having a special skateboard facility, i.e., a park, received a dim view from the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, April 3.

The youngster, who talked to her friends at school and received expressions of interest, said she has found sidewalks too rough and has resorted to streets, "which is dangerous."

At its meeting last month, the Citizens Recreation Commission nixed any such facility because the potential danger to young people was great and the resultant liability high.

Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann also told the commission that he has the authority to regulate and/or exclude the use of skateboards within park areas.

Citing the commission's feeling, the council, mainly

Pointers Swim in State Meet

All Pointes Swim Club had some exciting surprises in the State AAU championships on Saturday and Sunday, April 8 and 9.

In the girls state meet, at Royal Oak's Kimball High School, All Pointes big winner was Amy Bartoszewicz. She placed in five of her six entered events in the age 9- and 10-year-old group. Amy is one of the best 10-year-olds in the state and is the youngest member of the Bartoszewicz swimming family who boasts two former state winners, Mike and Gina Bartoszewicz.

Amy's five awards were sixth in the 50-yard free, ninth in the 100-yard free, fourth in the 50-yard breast, sixth in the 100-yard breast, and 12th in the 50-yard fly.

Other Pointers who swam well in the meet were Ryndy Ditmars, Wendy Woods, Cindy Tsangalias and Anne Vanker in the age 12 and under group. Their foursome won awards for their 12th place finish in the 200-yard medley relay.

Meanwhile, at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, All Pointes boys were churning up the pool. In the boys age 10 and under Mike Woods placed second in the state in the 50-yard breaststroke and sixth in the 100-yard breaststroke.

Bill Luberto was first alternate in the age 10 and under 50-yard fly and teamed up with Nick Noecker, Mike Woods and John Bourget to take third in the 200-yard medley relay. Dick Clark, Woods, Luberto and Bourget won awards for their seventh place finish in the 200-yard free relay.

In the 11 and 12 age group Joe Schmidt and Andy Scott were the big winners for All Pointes. Andy Scott won awards for his 12th place finish in the 100-yard free, fourth place in the 100-yard back and fifth place in the 50-yard back.

Schmidt was two tenths of a second away from being All Pointes first state champion in the 200-yard freestyle. He also won awards for his ninth place finish in the 500-yard freestyle and third in the 100-yard freestyle.

All Pointes has two more meets this season. On Saturday, April 15 the team will compete in the Michigan Metropolitan Winter League Championships at Clarenceville High School of Livonia. All Pointes will be competing against such state swimming powers as Clarenceville, Dearborn, Bloomfield Hills, Utica, Allen Park and Redford swim clubs. Clarenceville is the new AAU boys state championship team.

The following weekend, April 22, All Pointes will travel to Waterloo, Ont. to swim a long course meet against the third best AAU team in Canada.

As coach Les Roddis prepares his natos for the last two meets of the year, he has hardly had time to savor the teams success in the last two state meets. He hopes the Pointes oldest AAU club will uphold the winning tradition that All Pointes has held for the last 10 years.

Spend Sunday Afternoons with "The Swing Society"

By J. Rosemary Peralta

The sound of fine music is filling the quiet Sunday afternoon hours at Marge's Bar in Grosse Pointe Park. Led by trumpeter extraordinaire, Joe DeFoe, the Swing Society draws listeners away from their television sets and into the world of live, really live, entertainment at its very best!

Blending their special talents into a unique sound has been the essence of the Swing Society members for the past two years. By combining the vibrant trumpet of Joe DeFoe; the smooth sax of Jerry Galler; the rhythmic beat of Frank Isola's drums; the mellow vibes and trombones of Guy Roth; the exciting throb of Paul Detalo's bass and Don Barr's great guitar... the Swing Society has really gotten it all together!

Leader Joe DeFoe explains their sound this way: "We present swing in a relaxed style, often using Dixieland as a vehicle but our sound is not patterned after set ideas or a particular school of jazz. We try to be more fluid in our arrangements by not totally using or rejecting established forms. All of us enjoy playing and our audiences sure seem to enjoy listening. That's what it's all about... everyone having a good time!"

To join in the good times, drop by Marge's at Mack and Beaconsfield any Sunday afternoon, between 4 and 8 p.m. The atmosphere is warm and relaxed; the drinks are moderately priced; the service is excellent, and the music is, simply, great!

CARRY OUTS

by John Lundberg

If you are a big drinker of wines, it will be important to you to find a wine store that stocks what you like and takes good care of their wines and their customers. A lot depends on the honesty and intelligence of your wine dealer. Some questions you might ask about your wine merchant before you become a regular customer are: Does she/he keep the corked fine wines lying on their sides to keep the corks moist? Is the store neatly arranged so you can easily find the wine you want? Does she/he stock a large variety of wines? Will she/he accept a returned off-bottle for refund or exchange? Does she/he give discounts on wine bought by the case? A good wine merchant can make your wine drinking a lot more pleasurable.

You'll find it a pleasure to shop at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 for wines, beers and liquors. We feature a quality inventory for your selection and give a 10% discount off of our already low prices for wines purchased by the case. In addition, if you have a preference for a wine we don't have, we'll special order and stock it for you. Open: 10-10 Mon.-Thurs.; 10-11 Fri.-Sat.

HELPFUL HINT:

Wine bought by the case is usually less expensive than that bought by the bottle.

Children's Theater to Present 'Oliver'

Playing the old man Fagin and young Oliver Twist in the Children's Theater production of "Oliver," scheduled to open Saturday, May 6, at the Fries Auditorium are LEO BABCOCK, (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. James Babcock of Lakeshore road, and KEN DAVIES, son of Mrs. Richard Hackett of Whittier road and Kenneth Davies of Detroit. Forming the backdrop for the scene is the recently gutted Charles Helin mansion in Windmill Pointe drive.

Children's Theater Looks Forward to Big Production

A bit of Victorian England will come to the Grosse Pointe Children's Theater stage Saturday, May 6, when "Oliver" opens for six performances at the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road.

More than 80 local children will be involved in the rollicking, musical production following the exploits of such characters as The Artful Dodger, Mr. Bumble, Fagin and, of course, Oliver Twist.

Three, 2 p.m. matinees will be offered on Saturdays, May 13 and 20, and Sunday, May 21. In addition, three evening shows will be presented on Saturdays, May 6 and 13, and Friday, May 19, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are $1.75 for students and $2.50 for adults. Group rates are available. For reservations call 885-4068.

Since it was founded 25 years ago, Children's Theater has been under the direction of Sally Reynolds, a former Liggett School drama teacher, who held roles in the "Lone Ranger" and "Green Hornet" national radio serials.

Director of Music is Mrs. John Mazer, a graduate of the Detroit Conservatory of Music who has been associated with the children's group for 18 years.

So that as many children as possible have a chance on stage, theater members "split" roles. Tom Gebeck, Ken Davies and Louis Charbonneau will share the lead role of Oliver Twist. Dianne Millenbach, Mary Helen Berg and Denyse Wickline will play the role of Nancy; Tom Wisely and Leo Babcock will be Fagin; The Artful Dodger will be played by Mark Longwell, Joe Pellerito and John Wise; and Bet will be shared by Liz Johnson and Pauline Dionne.

Jay Schoenith, John Gentile and Tom Wisely will play Bill Sikes; Diane Crea and Dianne Millenbach will be Widow Corney; and John Wise and Leo Babcock will play Mr. Bumble.

Children's Theater brings together students of all ages from public, private and parochial schools in The Pointe.

Joe Pellerito, who's in his second year at the theater, feels the theater "is an excellent opportunity for children to come together and make a special thing we can call our own. Then, the next day, when it's gone, we still have our memories."

For John Wise, 16, "Children's Theater gives us a lot of experience, and it helped me overcome my shyness.

"It gives us a chance to make people happy and to add a little sunshine to their lives."

"Oliver" will be the theater's main production of this school year.

Publish Work Of North Poet

Pointer Brian Murphy, a senior at North High School, will have his poem, "Untitled," published next month in "The English Journal," a magazine with national circulation.

Brian's poem was submitted for the honor by David Harchick, creative writing teacher at North. The poem was selected for publication by the National Council Teachers of English at its Spring Poetry Festival.

Brian's work follows:

When I told her, "I'm glad you are mine."
She replied, "You are mine."
and I smiled.
When I asked her, "Do you love me a lot?"
She said, "You love me a lot!"
and I smiled again.
When I said, "If I go away, will you miss me?"
She asked, "Will you miss me?"
this made me laugh.
When I asked, "Would you still love me if I said that I hate you?"
She said, "I hate you!"
This made me so mad that I put her in a cage.
And I never feed her any crackers.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

When selling your home it's taken for granted that one Broker is as good as the other. Each Real Estate office offers to put up a for sale sign. Each offers to advertise and each is able to promise a sale in the very near future if not immediately. It would seem then that picking the proper Real Estate Company is elementary.

Now if you've agreed with all this, it's possible that you could be wrong. And, you would be underestimating the power of fringe benefits that are available to help a seller sell his home.

Here's what we're talking about. Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. offers a one-year warranty on all homes they sell. This has proven in other areas of the country to be worth an additional $2,000.00 in sales value. This means your house can sell for $2,000 more than a comparable home—if it is listed through Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. If we can get you $2,000 more for your home and it's say, a $70,000 home, this saves you almost half the commission. Like working on 3 1/2% rather than 7%. Think about fringe benefits. Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 has four such benefits. Call us today and we'll discuss selling your home—the best way!!

Gets Probation on B-E Charge

A 17-year-old Harper Woods youth was placed on three year's probation, issued court costs of $495 and sentenced to serve 60 days in the Detroit House of Correction starting this June after appearing before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Horace Gilmore on a breaking and entering charge earlier this month, reported Woods police.

The youth, Kelly Roy Pilotte of Beaufait road had pled guilty to the breaking of a North Oxford road home on February 23. He was arrested on February 2 after police received a tip from a watchful United Parcel Service driver, who spotted two suspects inside the home. Pilotte was arrested at the scene by Officer John DeLora, while another youth was apprehended a short time later by Woods and Shores police.

The second youth, who was 16 at the time of his arrest, turned 17 a short time later. He had a petition filed on him for breaking and entering with Wayne County Juvenile Court. This petition has been authorized for a court hearing and the division is currently awaiting a disposition notice.

Woods Facing Possible Bill

The Woods could be billed for some five years of electricity because an account which Detroit Edison apparently felt was closed is really open.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen informed the council of this development at a Thursday, April 13, meeting of the solons, sitting as the finance committee, in reviewing the proposed 1978-79 budget.

He indicated the DPW garage and old Marter road pumping station, which was demolished around five years ago, were billed on the same account, with the billing going to the pumping station.

However, when Edison recently checked the electrical load at the DPW building regarding the obtaining of recommendations on the use of a large stand-by generator, a call was made to get the load utilized on the meter which was still in place.

And the account was shown to be closed.

As a result, Mr. Petersen surmised that Edison would probably try to average out the cost.

He had no idea of the charge but felt it could be in the thousands of dollars.

SHS's 50th Anniversary Bash Proves Enjoyable

By Susan McDonald
Planning a birthday party for 2,000 people is not an easy task, but South High School's 50th anniversary bash last Thursday, April 13, fulfilled everyone's expectations for a good time.

It was a chance to get re-acquainted with lots of old friends, to follow up on the old high school romances and rivalries and to find out just what happened in the lives of the class sweethearts, athletes, comedians and "most popular" personalities.

Just about 2,000 people joined in the fun Thursday evening, according to South's assistant principal Sheila Joyce, who coordinated anniversary activities. From the first Class of '28 to the Class of '77, graduates came from as far away as California, Florida and Traverse City to attend the party.

A program of speakers and music opened the evening in the school gym. At the podium were former staff members Forrest Geary, who served as master of ceremonies, Frank Banach and Ruth Flom.

Others speaking were Superintendent Dr. William Coats, South High Principal Dr. James Hoeh, Farms Mayor James Dingeman and current South students Valerie Kvale and Leonard Bartoszewicz.

Entertainment was provided by the South Wind Ensemble and A Capella Choir with former music directors John Finch and Dewey Kalember as guest conductors.

After the program, classes met, grouped by the decade for separate reunions in rooms throughout the school.

The party Thursday was just part of a week of activities celebrating the school's anniversary, including afternoon teas, tours, art displays and talent shows.

The "Tower" staff compiled a special commemorative edition of the school newspaper to mark the occasion. The papers are still on sale at area drug stores. The grand finale came Friday, April 14, when workmen restored South's old sailing ship weathervane to its place on top of the school's 133-foot clock tower.

The restoration was a special project by the Class of '78, assisted by the Mother's and Dad's Clubs as well as other student organizations.

Siren System Gets Approval

The Woods recently learned that the federal government approved its application, through the Wayne County Office of Emergency Preparedness, for the installation of a storm warning siren system in the community.

The cost of the system is $11,480, with the federal government and the city each paying half of the installation cost.

A 90-foot pole was donated to the city by Detroit Edison in conjunction with the overall area of national defense, according to a company spokesman, and the pole, to which the siren will be attached, will be deposited on Lochmoor Club property this week.

THE SQUEEZE

With today's high costs it's not surprising that many people live on such a narrow margin in this wide world of ours.

The siren, which is 4'8" long, will be connected to the pole, which will be secured 11 feet into the ground, with the system being ready for operation by July, if not sooner.

Park to Ask Extension of Insurance Deadline

The Park council was advised on Monday, April 10, to ask the Federal Government for an extension of a six-month deadline before the city passes an ordinance that will make it mandatory for residents living in homes south of Jefferson, to take flood insurance under the Federal Flood Insurance Program.

City Manager Robert A. Slone told the council that a further survey of the area in question is needed before the ordinance is or is not passed because once enacted, it could create a burden to those living in the so-called flood zone designated by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, (HUD).

The city manager said that if the ordinance is passed, it would affect only those people who have mortgaged or financed their homes through loans under the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or through private banks. Those who have no mortgages on their homes will not be required to take out the insurance, which would be subsidized by the Federal Government, he said.

Mr. Slone said that if the council, after an extended study, decides not to pass a flood insurance ordinance, then no insurance will be available to anyone. That is why more time is needed to make a decision regarding the ordinance because flood waters, according to a recent survey, showed that there are only certain low areas where water comes through to flood the so-called flood plain area.

A re-study of the area south of Jefferson, which was coordinated by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is needed to make sure whether or not an insurance ordinance would be beneficial with regard to the Flood Insurance Rate Map and Flood Zones as drawn up.

Mr. Slone said that the request for an extension of the six-month deadline could well prove that insurance is not needed, if steps are taken to correct certain defects in low level areas, which on the Flood Insurance Rate Map creates Zone A-3, (Flood Elevation 578.5 feet).

At present, the city manager said, there are 88 householders participating in the Federal Flood Insurance Program in the area south of Jefferson. These householders take out $17,000 in temporary insurance on their respective homes at a cost of $87 a year. The cost is low because it is subsidized by the Federal Government. If the council enacts a flood insurance ordinance, it would place a burden on these people and possibly create an unneeded burden, especially if mortgages are owed on the homes.

The flood insurance only applies if the waters of Lake St. Clair backed up and caused damage to properties, not if the basement sewers back up for any reason, Mr. Slone pointed out.

The latest study, made early in February, brought out this possibility:

1. Almost the entire Zone A-3 is flooded by water possibly entering from a narrow strip of public right-of-way at the lakeward end of Grand Marais and from a long, slightly low portion of the Fox Creek dike between Korte and Jefferson in Detroit.
2. A small section of Bishop road, Ellair road and Edgemont rights-of way and front yards could be flooded by water entering from small low areas at the lakeward ends of each of these streets.

3. At the lakeward end of Trombley road, there is possibly a low area which might allow some overland flooding of Zone A-3. This low area is possibly high enough now because of work done during the high waters of 1972, 1973 and 1974.

It was disclosed by this study, that if the appropriate construction was completed, that less than four acres of The Park would be subject to overland flooding by floods of elevation 578.5 feet. All of this area is the lakeward yards of homes fronting on Lake St. Clair, it was pointed out.

This construction mentioned would be low dikes, or walls (less than two feet high) at the following locations, all lakeward:

1. A structure about 55 feet long and two feet high at the end of Bishop road;
2. A structure about 25 feet long and less than one foot high at the end of Ellair road;
3. A structure approximately 110 feet long and 1.5 feet high at the end of Edgemont park;
4. The structure at the end of Grand Marais needs to be checked to see if it needs raising slightly;
5. Possibly a structure would be required at the end of Trombley road;
6. The existing dike along Fox Creek would have to be raised one foot, or less, approximately 2,600 feet between Korte and Jefferson, with the consent and cooperation of Detroit, of course.

The February survey brought out that the west (Fox Creek dike) and south, (Lake St. Clair shoreline), barriers of The Park be surveyed to assure that all points are above the base elevation mentioned in the Federal Government's August 1977 study.

It was pointed out, in the February study, that if The Park can assure HUD that an adequate flood barrier existed along the city's entire threatened perimeter, it is believed that the agency would withdraw its flood zone designation of the area south of Jefferson. This, it was pointed out further, would eliminate the financial burden of required insurance for up to 1,000 residents and also lift restrictions which would be placed on land developments within the designated flood zone.

It was stressed still further, that the latest survey showed that the costs of the construction would be less than even the first year total payments the flood zone residents would have to pay the first year.

Assuming that there are 1,000 residents within the designated flood zone and that 30 percent of these are required to buy insurance, the first year cost would be 1,000 homes times 30 percent times $87 a home, at a cost of $26,000.

Which brings up the problem of where will the money come from. It could come from general tax revenue, or a special assessment from all beneficiaries, ($24,000/1,000 homes), or $24 a home.

Both the survey and construction work would require that rights of entry and permanent easements be obtained. While this may be time consuming, it will not be a serious problem. Since Fox Creek is in Detroit, construction work along the dike would require the cooperation of that city.

The survey report showed that possible environmental considerations could be problematic with some types of construction in the waters of the lake and the creek. A continued study might show that no construction will be needed in the lake or creek waters. Also, it is possible that environmentally earthen dikes may be preferable to concrete walls.

It was disclosed that if written assurance is obtained from HUD that if the necessary flood barriers are built, the floor hazard designation will not be imposed on The Park.

If this can be done, and construction is started soon thereafter, it should be completed by October 15 of this year.

Herbert L. Heger, who last year retired as the Park's director of Public Service, said that the time extension of the challenge period not only will give the city time to complete a new survey, but also permit time to make repairs to existing weaknesses in the present barrier system.

Mr. Heger, who was visiting in The Park from his home in Houghton Lake, Mich., said he favored the special assessment procedure for all beneficiaries involved, to cover costs. However, he said, from past experience, when work on private property is necessary, it is not only time consuming, but also frustrating, as in many instances unavoidable property damage could exceed the cost of the project.

He said that during a Sunday, March 5 television broadcast, the U.S. Corps of Engineers announced that the threat of high water in Lake St. Clair could take place this June, if run-off and wind conditions prevail.

NHS Holds Exchange Day

Foreign exchange students from 27 countries converged on North High School Friday, April 15, for a day of discussions with some 1,500 North social science students.

"I think the kids learned more today than they could in a whole year of social studies classes," said project coordinator Kathy Herschelmann, assistant principal at North.

"It was exhausting — the kids stood on stage for six hours straight — but it was good."

The high school students discussed everything from the politics of South Africa to dating customs in Brazil with the 55 Youth for Understanding and American Field Service exchange students.

"The cultural personalities were very apparent, because we sent three or four foreign students — each from a different country — to each social science classroom," Mrs. Herschelmann explained.

The students came from nations in South America, the Near East, Europe and Africa.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

This week I plan to continue to describe our goals for the 1977-78 year. Up to this point I have included information on 11 of our total of 22. Let me share with you today some background on four more of our Board-approved goals:

12. Increase appropriate in-service activities.
Such needed activities include training related to personnel practices, the supervision of instruction, the management of evaluation systems and the implementation of new programs and staffing changes.

Workshop Aids Social Workers

A two-day workshop to help social workers develop self-awareness will be held Friday and Saturday, April 28 and 29, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road.

Sponsored by Wayne State University's Continuing Education in Social Work Department of the College of Lifelong Learning, the workshop was planned in cooperation with a committee of eastside social workers.

The workshop will help participants increase their self-awareness and will explore means to actualize their values and self-direction at work.

Staffing the workshop will be Caroline Pomeroy; Dr. Ronald Urick of the WSU College of Education, specialist in staff development and author of "Alienation" and Farms resident Lucie Jenkins-Johnson, assistant professor and WSU coordinator of Continuing Education in Social Work.

Workshop times are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on April 28 and from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on April 29.

The registration fee including two lunches is $40. For further information, call 577-4713.

Exercise Class Set at Center

The War Memorial has engaged London's Ricky Dove to get the ladies back "with it" through gymnastics, which combines dance with exercise to shake off the pounds.

The group meets Mondays at the Center, 32 Lakeshore road, from May 8 to June 26 from 1:15 to 2:45 p.m. The fee is $21 for seven weeks.

Traveling abroad with valuable jewels takes a certain amount of forethought and planning. Before leaving prepare a proof of ownership for Customs so to preclude a duty problem when returning to the country. If you have not documented ownership before leaving, there might be a problem proving that the jewels were not just purchased abroad and therefore not subject to duty charges. Another precaution is to make sure the hotels or homes that will be visited, have adequate safes or storage for jewelry without worry of robbery. Take care of these items, you can dazzle everyone with a feeling of security.

Gifts that are just a little bit different can be found here at VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, 881-4800. Our diamond department features carefully selected and graded diamonds for style and value. For the bride, we have elegant engagement and wedding sets in all price ranges. We invite you to bring in precious stones from your old jewelry and we will re-set them in a custom made setting. Master Charge and BankAmericard welcome. # Letters to The Editor of The NEWS

To the Editor:

On my return from our family Easter vacation, I read the front page article "Teachers Cite Concerns over Testing Plan" in your March 23 issue and the "Letter to The Editor" from Mrs. Susan Mozena in the March 30 issue. It was not exactly my favorite way to return home.

Predictably, in the March 23 article Susan McDonald echoes a statement by Doris Cook in the teachers' union newsletter that grossly distorted and attempted to make fun of a presentation by Roger McCaig, the schools' director of research and development on staff-in-service day.

Ms. McDonald's use of words like "pet" program and "coaching" are opinion words normally found on the editorial page. Knowing her self-acknowledged bias for the union's point of view, I have no quarrel with their use. But, please, not in a news article. Use them where opinions are proper and labeled as such.

The March 30 response by Mrs. Mozena comments on the lack of trust and good faith, the attitude she perceives between teachers on one side and the administration and the Board of Education on the other.

She acknowledges that although "the teachers are probably not blameless," she is "most impatient with the Board of Education as it is with that body that the ultimate responsibility lies."

For myself, I wish to state that I perceive very little bad faith on the part of either side. What we are experiencing is simply the predictable concerns and issues emanating from the collective bargaining process.

It is our responsibility as a Board to consider what is best for kids and the taxpayers.

In that regard, we will continue to evaluate the performance of all employees as a means of improving our services to our students and citizens.

Mrs. Mozena then takes some liberties with the facts. Quoting her letter, she states: "At Richard School the normal daily work was interrupted for two weeks while the students were drilled on the tests..."

One would think only test drills took place all day for two weeks when in actual practice the drills occurred no more than 20 minutes a day.

"Principal Jay Flowers inadvertently allowed students to practice on the form test that they were to be taking on the real testing situation..." thereby implying that he had somehow intentionally cheated.

Nothing could be further from the truth. It was he who discovered that such an incident took place, reported the problem and made arrangements for an alternate test. Finally, the oblique slap at Superintendent Dr. William Coats, "a new superintendent whose track record with employe relations has not been the best."

Dr. Coats is an excellent superintendent whose record far exceeded that of the 150 other applicants for the position.

He has used modern management tools to achieve the best possible results from our

CPR Lessons Prove Helpful

The Friends of Bon Secours Hospital sponsored classes in cardiopulmonary resuscitation, (CPR), during the evenings of Monday, April 10, and Tuesday, April 11, when over 300 people learned life-saving skills. Another 74 persons were recertified.

The simple, life-saving skill can help prevent needless deaths occurring from heart or respiratory failure. The two evening sessions also included instruction in

Star Wars Fair Slated at Mason

Mason Elementary School will sponsor its tri-annual fair on Saturday, April 22, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the school, 1640 Vernier road. The theme for this year's fair is "Star Wars Fantasy" and the entire day has been planned for a lot of "way-out" fun.

There'll be a "Jawas Sand Crawlers" boutique, offering shell mirrors, hand-painted pots, pillows and many plants donated by Grosse Pointe Garden Clubs on the inside. Parents, Mason children and girl scout troops at Mason, including Troop No. 1584, have all donated their time in organizing the fair. Tickets are 15 cents apiece and all proceeds will be used to purchase educational equipment and trips for the children.

talented staff. This included leading his staff of administrators, (the largest group being principals and their assistants), in communicating and establishing mutually acceptable goals and objectives, evaluating success or the lack thereof, praising the strong points and working to improve the weak points.

In this Dr. Coats is an acknowledged expert, sought after as a lecturer and consultant. These skills were the very reason he was hired.

It's no secret that for his management skills, the superintendent is and has been a frequent target of the Michigan Education Ass'n. (MEA), and the Grosse Pointe Education Ass'n.

The leadership of those two union groups prefer no evaluation, no overseeing the teacher's performance. They thrive on teacher unrest. It is they who have created whatever uncomfortable feeling may exist in the community.

I believe this community deserves the best from our staff. I believe we get it from a vast majority of them. We must use the best leadership skills to get the best for our kids for the taxes we pay.

The alternative is to roll over and play dead. In effect to let the MEA take control of our school system. I am disappointed that Mrs. Mozena has been

Pointers Assist Weather Alert

Wayne County officials are well prepared to warn the public to take cover from potentially dangerous spring weather including tornadoes, severe thunderstorms and flash floods.

County Commissioner Ervin A. Steiner recently checked with the Wayne County Office Emergency Preparedness, (OEP), regarding plans to protect the public from threatening weather.

The commissioner said in a news release the OEP and a specially-trained volunteer staff of ham radio operators have a well-developed communications plan to cover its 51 station Skywarn tornado watch network.

Pointers involved in the communications plan are Woods residents John E. Wiley, Clifford Heldt and Everett Hawley. These men man their ham radios and feed information on weather conditions to the central Skywarn tornado watch network. Within 30 seconds of a funnel sighting, the Skywarn program is capable of broadcasting a warning throughout six counties in southeastern Michigan, Mr. Steiner noted.

When severe weather conditions are indicated, the group of specially-trained volunteers rush to their spotter stations to begin the watch for potential funnel clouds. From April to July is when most tornadoes occur.

The operators are equipped with radios that provide immediate two-way voice contact with their base station located at the Wayne County Emergency Operating Center in Westland.

Many Records Set by GPSC

The Grosse Pointe Swim Club, (GPSC), coached by John Sfire, and assisted by Chet Ricker and Vince Galent, participated in the Macomb County championship meet on Saturday, April 8.

The GPSC took home the league trophy by leading the other eight clubs in total points. Many of the swimmers broke records for this annual event.

Those who won dual first place gold medals for individual events were Nick Trost in the boy's age 15-year through high school 50-yard free and fly; Mark Stoyka for the age 13 to 14 100-yard breast, setting a 1:06.25 record, and the 200-yard individual medley with a 2:17.30 record and Tom Bartsch in the age 11 to 12 100-yard IM with a 1:06.89 record and a 55.70 record in the 100 yard free.

Sara Brieden set records in the age 13-14 girl's 100-yard free with 56.56 and 50-yard free with 25.58.

Those who took home gold for winning one event in the age 15 through high school were Toby Lindheim in the 100-yard IM, Dave Howe for the 100-yard free and Steve Soderberg for the 50-yard back with a 26.32 record.

For the age 13 to 14 it was Jerry Coyle in the 50-yard free and Jeff Colton in the 50-yard back setting a 1:00.48 record. Matt Smith placed first in the age 10 and under 50-yard fly and Augie DeLuca placed in the age 8 and under 25-yard free. For the girls it was: Karen Strong in the age 13 and 14 100-yard breast with a 1:14.96 record, Ann Mitchell in the age 11 to 12 200-yard free setting a 2:13.21 record, Colleen Lorenz in the age 11 and 12 50-yard breast, Krystin Strong in the age 10 and under 100-yard IM, and Sandy Smith in the 25-yard breast with a 20.64 record. Those who took home second place medals were Steve Soderberg, Mark Clark, Dave Howe, Taylor Henkel, Tom Cobau, Jim Strong, Margaret Wittmer, Cathy Bousson, Lynn Mollahan, Sandy Smith, Kelly Bartsch, Karen Strong, Julie Mihelick, Ann Verona, Ann Mitchell, Michelle DesRosiars, Amy Rentschler and Krystin Strong. Third place winners included Jeff Colton, Toby Lindheim, Jerry Coyle, Geoff Brieden, Steve Kientle, Matt Smith, Dave Chadwell, Blair Schooff, Karen Strong, Amy Rentschler, Mary Lou Coyle, Nancy Vetorelli, Sue Wilson, Stephanie Smith, Cathy Bousson and Sue Germaek. Grosse Pointe's relay teams placed first in 11 events.

so easily misled about this issue.

William F Huetteman, Vice-President, Grosse Pointe Board of Education

To the Editor:

In an effort to establish improved communications with the residents of the Grosse Pointe areas served by your respected publication, the following information may be of interest to your readers:

In the past several months, the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners has received a number of complaints about the chockholes and generally poor condition of Lakeshore road, particularly in The Farms and Shores areas.

It is essential that the residents and motorists using this section be made aware that in January 1976, both communities were offered cost-sharing agreements that would have resurfaced Lakeshore road. Both communities rejected the road commission's offer.

The only reason this county road has not been resurfaced is the refusal of the local communities to participate in the costs — a one-third cost — which would enable the Wayne County Road Commission to afford the remaining two-thirds cost.

The road commission has, for the past three years, re-

Pointers Assist Weather Alert

Mr. Wiley, Mr. Heldt and Mr. Hawley are among the 135-member volunteer staff that is available to man carefully-selected lookout points throughout Wayne County's 622 square miles.

Generally, the lookout points are located in shopping center parking lots and along open roads so that the ham operators can monitor the weather from their cars and report conditions on their mobile radios.

"The Wayne County volunteers are particularly important in helping avert tornado disasters because tornadoes can't be detected by radar until they have hit the ground and picked up a lot of debris," Mr. Steiner said.

The Skywarn network is designed to provide an early warning system that can save lives. "With the mobile stations linked to the Wayne County Sheriff's radio transmitter, a spotter's warning can be broadcast immediately over an inter-county police radio network covering Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, Washtenaw and St. Clair Counties," he said.

The warning can then be relayed via community sirens, radio and television, added Mr. Steiner.

Skywarn was organized two years ago by Wayne County OEP in cooperation with the National Weather Service, (NWS).

Church Slates Honesty Talk

Honesty is much more than sincerity or trying to "do the right thing," said a Christian Science lecturer.

According to David W. Rennie of Denver, Colo., honesty has a profoundly religious, spiritual basis. He contends that honesty is not dependent on shifting human circumstances but is centered on powerful spiritual laws that Christ Jesus lived.

Mr. Rennie will develop these remarks in his upcoming lecture "Honesty -- The Power of Its Deeper Dimension." His talk will be given at the Sixth Church of Christ Scientist, in Kercheval avenue at Alter road, Detroit on Saturday, April 22, at 11 a.m.

The lecture is open to the public and admission is free. "Jesus' honesty," Mr. Rennie noted, "was a matter of bearing witness to His Father, His God and our God." This deep underlying integrity and obedience to God were cited as reasons why the Master healed the sick and comforted those in grief.

"This transforming and healing spiritual power also was evident in Paul's experience," Mr. Rennie said, "because it opened the apostle's eyes to an understanding of health and compassion which related to God rather than just to human reformation."

Discuss Values At North High

North High School Humanities and American Studies students met recently with representatives from five religious organizations for a discussion of "Spiritual Values and 20th Century Man"

Panelists were Rev. G. Charney, from Saint Joan of Arc Roman Catholic Church, Rev. J. P. Fabry, from Christ the King Lutheran Church, Rev. D. Kavadas, from Assumption Greek Orthodox Church, Rev. E. Huffman, of Bethel Baptist Church, and Robert Welch, from Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church. Mr. Welch also serves as the school's director of secondary education.

questioned that all communities participate in a share of the construction cost; and, with the exception of the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores, the City of Grosse Pointe Farms and Romulus, all remaining Wayne County communities have agreed to local participation when requested.

It should be stressed here that the Wayne County Road Commission has continued to assign all its available resources, (without regard to overtime costs), to this and other areas with high maintenance priority.

Basically, the funds available to the road commission are derived from the gas tax and license plate, (weight), fees. There has not been an increase in the road commission's funding since 1972, and the effects of an annual six to eight percent inflationary factor has forced severe reduction in personnel, equipment and materials.

Regrettably, the road commission has found it necessary to establish a policy which requests local participation in the costs of road construction or reconstruction performed within incorporated boundaries.

When Grosse Pointe Shores and Grosse Pointe Farms refused to participate in the 1976 proposed agreement, the board was forced to delay any major improvement of Lakeshore road.

While the area is not scheduled for resurfacing this year, (1978), the road commission still stands ready to reinstate the projects, provided, funds are available and agreements are reached with the communities.

Sincerely,
Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners,
Thomas P. O'Rourke,
Managing Director

To the Editor:

Because of the volume of expressions of sympathy and support my daughters and I have received, (many anonymously), following the death of my husband, Richard M. Tucker, I have no way other than through this medium of acknowledging our deep and heartfelt gratitude for those sentiments.

We have received condolences not only from individuals and organizations throughout Michigan and our neighboring Province of Ontario, but also from many other parts of our nation. The concern and sympathy conveyed in those condolences have been a great source of comfort to me, and I am sure to firemen, policemen and their families everywhere.

Although they were directed to us in our bereavement, they were also testimonies to the strong sense of community and sharing of humanity felt by those who sent them, and for that too we should all be thankful.

Sincerely yours,
Laura Lisa and
Mrs. Richard M. Tucker

From Another Pointe of View

To the rest of the world, the grunyon is a fish . . . but to us, Pointers and Detroiters, grunyon in the plural means music: The Grunyons, a group of local businessmen who love to sing in the style of the Yale Whiffenpoofs, the Four Freshmen . . . and The Arbors, the University of Michigan's super contribution to the world of popular music.

What could be more fitting, then, than that The Grunyons play host to The Arbors in their first public concert in this area, "The Arbors and All That Jazz," Monday evening, April 24, at 8 at the Fisher Theater?

Also featured in this one-night-only event will be four of Michigan's leading jazz instrumentalists—Bess Bonnier, Jack Brokensha, Tom Brown and Joe Lo Duca.

Bess is very well-known to Pointers, having produced and appeared in many musical events at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church. There isn't a jazz buff within a hundred miles who hasn't raved about her performances with Jack Brokensha.

Jack . . . well, in the world of jazz, he's a legend in his own time. To these two, add Tom Brown and Joe Lo Duca—and you have a musical combination guaranteed to light up the sky.

THEN add The Arbors, headquartered now in Chicago. They spend much of their time doing commercials, (you'd be surprised how many times you've heard them on TV), but their first love re-

Three Bonsai Classes Slated

Bonsai classes have been scheduled on three Thursdays, April 27, May 25 and June 29, by the Grosse Pointe Garden Center, under the aegis of Mrs. Monte J. Edelen and Mrs. Harley G. Higbie, chairmen, who suggest early registration as enrollment is limited.

Reservations will be honored in the order in which they are received in the Garden Center Room at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Members may telephone 881-4594 and leave their names with Mrs. Harry Frost, room director.

There will be a charge of $7.50 for the June class, where Keith Scott will be in charge of instruction, and that class will be limited to 15 people.

The Garden Center reminds members that spring is the time to start preparing trees for the autumn Horticulture/Bonsai Show in the War Memorial's Fries Crystal Ballroom. Show date this year is September 14.

The autumn show traditionally features an outstanding display of Bonsai created from many different types of plant material.

Their Eyes Are on 'A Far Country'

Pausing from rehearsals of "A Far Country," to be presented tomorrow, and Saturday evenings, April 21 and 22, at The Players Playhouse in East Jefferson avenue, are actors NORMA GOHLE and SUSAN DAVIS, (standing, left and center), director BETSY WORLEY and actor JOHN DIEBEL, all members of the Fine Arts Society of Detroit, which is putting on the show for members and their guests.

Fine Arts Embarks For 'A Far Country'

John Diebel to Portray Dr. Freud in Drama at The Players Playhouse Tomorrow and Saturday Evenings

The Fine Arts Society of Detroit will present an absorbing drama involving an episode in the life of Sigmund Freud, "A Far Country," at The Players' Playhouse on East Jefferson avenue Friday and Saturday evenings, April 21 and 22.

Directed by Betsy Worley, the play revolves around the first use of psychoanalysis by Freud, played by John Diebel. Norma Gohle takes the part of his wife, Martha.

The play begins in 1938 as Freud, then 81, is being escorted from his home to leave for England from Germany during the Nazi regime.

As Freud thinks back, the scene changes to his youthful days and an enactment of the earliest employment of his then-revolutionary techniques.

Susan Davis plays the role of his patient, Elizabeth, with Charles S. (Terry) Davis, III, playing a relative.

Rounding out the cast are Fine Arts members Bud Pearce, Albert Jarvis, P. J. Hughes and Anne Diebel, all of whom have significant parts in this drama where each role is an essential part of the story. Julie Sibley will play Freud's sister, Mike Hughes one of his colleagues.

The presentation utilizes a split set reminiscent of the Victorian era, designed by Don Worley, with period costumes coordinated by Isabel Pearce.

Performances Aid Music at Wayne

First of Two Programs Featuring WSU Faculty Artists to Be Presented This Sunday Afternoon at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club

Friends of Music at Wayne State University, organized in response to a long-standing need to increase public awareness and appreciation of the WSU Music Department, has scheduled two benefit performances, both followed by champagne and hors d'oeuvres, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Both are set for Sunday afternoons, at 3 o'clock. Both are designed to secure scholarship funds and to spotlight the fine quality of musical offerings at Wayne State.

The first, this Sunday, April 23, will feature Ray Ferguson, harpsichord, Charles Postlewaite, guitar, and Marilyn Jones, flute, in works by J. S. Bach, Narvaez, Ponce, Villa-Lobos, Ibert and selections from the Fitzwilliam Virginal Book.

The second, Sunday, June 4, will present the Wayne State/Detroit Symphony Woodwind Quintet — Paul Schaller, clarinet, Donald Baker, oboe, Ervin Monroe, flute, Robert Williams, bassoon, and Eugene Wade, French horn—in a program ranging from Baroque to contemporary music.

All featured artists are members of the WSU music performing faculty and the Detroit Symphony.

General admission to each concert is $10 per person, including the champagne and hors d'oeuvres.

Your hairdo—is it easy to care for, or do you always have to worry? Most experts say that the hair that is usually most attractive and easiest to care for combines a complimentary style with a very professional cut. So before you spend another day looking at the same old you, reflect a little about how easy your life could be with the right hair style. A minimum of hair care and a generally improved appearance. Consult an expert for a cut that will be the carefree go-everywhere type—the type that is most important for today's busy life.

At GROSSE POINTE COIFFURES, 10427 Mack Ave., 884-2090, we are specialists in correcting hair problems and damaged hair: hair that is not healthy due to poor permanents and poor care in the past. Let us properly condition your hair, give it body, and show you how to properly care for it, with or without professional help. We strive to make your visit with us, the most relaxing time of your busy week.

TRAVELWORLD
By DICK D'ANDREA
GERMANY
Castles, fortresses, lovely churches, a rich, good scene and historic inns, cathedrals, churches, a rich cultural scene, good food and beautiful scenery—these add up to a lot for your travel dollar. Germany is expensive and no one is denying it, but an experienced traveler can cope with the price structure if willing to settle for less than deluxe accommodations and services. There is good value in clean comfortable smaller hotels. Various tour packages can help stretch travel budgets.

Travelers have to get into the authentic Germany. Go out into the countryside and discover the different regions. Away from the big cities where businessmen cluster, prices and lifestyles are at a less lofty level.

A few events of note this year include a Mozart Festival in Wurzburg (June 10-24), German Derby Week in Hamburg (June 24-July 2) for racing fans; Munich's Opera Festival (July 9-30); the Bayreuth Wagner Festival (July 25-August 28) and Munich's Oktoberfest, from September 16-October 1.

You can travel within West Germany with the German-Rail Tourist Card that also offers free or discounted travel on some bus and boat routes.

TRAVELWORLD's staff can assist you with your travel to Germany or any other European destination you may select. Stop in at 21127 Mack (North of Vernier) or call 882-8190.

Greeting NMI's 'Miss Inspiration'

MR. and MRS. EMIL GROB were among Pointers who met BONNIE SHERMAN, (left), the Neuro-Muscular Institute's "Miss Inspiration," at a recent supper at the Detroit Golf Club hosted by Dr. Maurice Castle. Bonnie was unable to sit or walk at two-and-a-half. Today, thanks to the treatment she has received at the NMI clinic, she not only walks but drives her own car and holds down two jobs. She will be formally presented to assembled guests at the Neuro-Muscular Institute Boosters for Crippled Children's benefit dinner dance Friday, May 5, at Fairlane Club.

Gala May Party to Benefit NMI

Fairlane Dinner Dance to Benefit Funds for Clinic for Crippled Children; "Miss Inspiration" to Be Presented

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Grob, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Howe, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hyman, Jr., Mrs. Paul Grubbs and Mr. and Mrs. Aaron E. Wilcox were among Pointers attending a recent Sunday night supper at the Detroit Golf Club hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Castle.

The gathering brought together Neuro-Muscular Institute Boosters for Crippled Children, to form a committee to finalize plans for a gala NMI benefit dinner dance.

The party is planned for Friday, May 5, at Fairlane Club. Presented at it will be Bonnie Sherman, one of the first cerebral palsy patients treated at NMI by Dr. Castle.

Bonnie, unable to sit or walk at two-and-a-half, has now completed high school, walks and drives her own car and is holding down two jobs — one of which is orthopaedic aide at a school for crippled children.

NMI calls her its "Miss Inspiration." Bonnie terms the results of the four operations, physical therapy and professional healing arts that she has obtained through NMI "a miracle."

A child with any disability interfering with normal development, congenital or acquired, may be considered a candidate for NMI's services, regardless of ability to pay. Dr. Castle, an orthopaedic surgeon, is responsible for the unique concept and funding of the clinic in 1968.

Since then, he and his colleagues, professional members of the clinic team, have donated their skills to bring the healing arts into play for the benefit of the clinic's young patients.

Support for the program has come from Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital, the Metropolitan Society for Crippled Children and an occasional grant, but as yet no stable, adequate base for defraying costs to maintain the clinic has been available.

The NMI Boosters are working to provide money for the clinic's immediate and long-range needs. Among their priority items is funding for a professional social worker who will be able to help families involved with raising multi-handicapped children: this is a traumatic experience for young parents, and they badly need help.

Now for The Judelaires
Members of the semi-professional chorus known as The Judelaires are busy Monday nights, preparing for their annual spring show to be presented Sunday evening, May 21, at Dominican High School.

They're busy other nights, too, for, prior to the May performance, they're presenting various segments of the show at nursing homes and private parties in the metropolitan area.

"Broadway Through the Years" is the 1978 spring show theme. Memorable musicals from each decade of the 20th century will be spotlighted.

The curtain rises on costumed and choreographed medleys from a pair of operettas: "The Red Mill" and "Naughty Marietta."

The action continues through the likes of "Porgy and Bess," "Kismet" and "South Pacific" to the present day's "Hello, Dolly" and "Annie."

Distinctive Dining by Larry Lavigne

Have you ever enjoyed the delicious deep-fried fish called "tempura"? If you have you will be pleased to know that "tempura" batter mix is available in the foreign food section in most supermarkets. It is great for deep-frying fish and here is a twist that will surely please your palate. Instead of adding water to the mix, use beer. You may have had fish prepared in beer batter before, but never as tasty as this. The tempura beer batter just lightly coats the fillets and fries to a crispy, thin crust that does not overwhelm the fish. Inside, the fish will be flaky and nearly greaseless. For improving the other half of your fish and chips, try washing the spuds thoroughly, but do not peel them. Cut and deep-fry, peelings and all, until golden brown.

Any time of the day enjoy a delicious meal at LAMBARDE'S RESTAURANT, 17125 E. Warren at Cadioux, Detroit, TU 5-9100. We have a special Businessman's Luncheon menu, we have delicious dinners after church on Sundays, our dinners are expertly prepared and served and we can cater to any banquet or private party. LAMBARDE'S is known for its excellent Italian dishes, seafoods, top choice meats, etc. Enjoy our specially selected house wines, California's finest Burgundy, Rose and Chablis, served by the glass, 1/2 litre and full litre.

Talk on Glass For Questers

Mrs. Eugene Chosy, a member of the Fox Creek Chapter of Questers, spoke at Grosse Pointe Chapter of Questers #147's meeting last Friday, April 14, at 10 in the morning at the home of Mrs. Wallace Temple in Fisher road.

Mrs. Chosy's subject was Carnival Glass, produced between 1900 and 1920. This brightly-colored glassware, often referred to as the Poor Man's Tiffany, was usually given away as prizes at carnivals, (hence the name), or as gifts to attract purchases at stores or places of amusement.

Mrs. Chosy's fine collection was started when she was given a piece as a child.

Luncheon followed the meeting, with Mrs. Pierre Palmentier and Mrs. M. L. Van Dagens assisting Mrs. Temple as co-hostesses.

MRS. LEE A. ALLEN, OF MOROSS ROAD

By Ann Wallace

The poets are coming! The poets are coming! Yes, Michigan poets are coming to Grosse Pointe North and South High Schools the week of May 1 to May 5. This unique event—the Poets-in-Residence program—will be sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Foundation for Academic Enrichment.

The purpose of this foundation is to supplement the curriculum of the Grosse Pointe Public School System with enrichment opportunities not available through existing funding.

Mrs. Lee A. Allen, its current president, explains that all grade levels, elementary through high school, benefit from the enrichment programs.

"We are very excited about the Poets-in-Residence program," notes Mrs. Allen, "as we have been about all the programs which have ranged, for example, from environmental projects at several schools to a creative writing workshop, an annual high school art show, an economist-seminar workshop and a professional artist's demonstrations and workshops."

Introduced Method
"The Foundation introduced the Orff Method of Music Instruction into the school system and now it is a part of the curriculum. This is an example of the philosophy of the group—try new ideas and hope for success."

"The Poets' endeavor," continues Marieke Allen, "is a cooperative effort made possible by funds available from the Foundation, the Parents Booster Club at North High School and the Michigan Council for the Arts."

The Foundation, incorporated as an independent, non-profit organization in 1971, is an outgrowth of the Bokram Fund which was established as a memorial to Jan Bokram, a young woman and active school supporter who was killed in an automobile accident.

When Jerry Gerich retired as principal of Grosse Pointe South High School, a fund, designated for use at South, was established in his honor. Another fund honors Jesse Lowther, retired principal of Defer School.

Although the Foundation's original emphasis was toward the arts, it now includes studies in the sciences, social studies, humanities, the environment and learning encouragement for students with learning disabilities.

Offset Cutbacks
"The Foundation began," Marieke notes, "at a time when there had been cutbacks in some of the arts programs. As I wanted my children and all other students to experience all aspects of education, the availability of the opportunities for cultural endeavors indeed was very welcome."

"Since that time, the financial situation in the schools has improved but the Foundation still functions by its philosophy of trying new ideas with hopes of having them implemented into the school system.

"In the Poets-in-Residence program," continues Marieke, "we are attempting to help stimulate the vast creativity of the students in language arts."

"There will be both men and women poets presenting a general program to all the students at the high schools, with more in-depth discussions and demonstrations given to those students in the Creative Writing, American Literature and American Studies classes."

Poets Were Screened
The poets have been screened by the Michigan Council for the Arts, adds Mrs. Allen, in respect to personality, achievement, and number and quality of publications. All of them are involved in education in some aspect.

"We are now in the process of arranging transportation and accommodations for the poets," explains Mrs. Allen. "They are coming from all over Michigan."

The poets in residence will include Jack Driscoll, an instructor at Interlochen Arts Academy; Dr. Conrad Hilberry, currently a professor on the staff of Kalamazoo College; Dr. Janet Kauffman, an instructor at Jackson Community College; Judith McCombs, on the staff of the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit; and Simone Juda Press, assistant professor at Siena Heights College in Adrian.

Both Men and Women
"At each high school, there will be both a man and a woman poet, each day, presenting the various classes," states Marieke. "They will, I am certain, present some of their own poetry and then hope to have the students read poetry they have written during the seminar."

"This also might be done," explains Marieke, "at a reception for the poets planned for Thursday evening, May 4, in the Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The public is invited to this reception as well as students and their parents. This certainly is an enrichment part of the program."

"There will be a $1 donation to help defray the cost of the evening. Students and senior citizens will be admitted free."

A project that met with much success at the high schools, Mrs. Allen notes, concerned the United States history classes. An in-depth study of the American Civil War, via slides and artifacts, was presented in December to these history classes at both high schools.

"This program has been recommended as a part of the history curriculum at the schools," Marieke continues.

Four Singers Presented
"A seminar, Excursions in Music, was offered at the middle schools, involving four singers, who presented, 'The Pick of the Opera.' Arias were sung from West Side Story, among other operas, to acquaint the students with this aspect of the musical world."

"The Foundation," Mrs. Allen adds, "now is involved in plans for art shows involving students in the Grosse Pointe School System."

"One is an art design contest. Final winners will be selected from all the schools by a panel of judges from the Foundation and community, with a total of four winners: one from each of the elementary, middle and high schools."

To Pick Final Winner
"A final winner" will be chosen Friday, April 28, from the previously mentioned finalists. The primary judging will have been Friday, April 21, when the two best entries from the elementary schools, three best entries from each middle school, and the 10 best from each high school will have been chosen," notes Marieke.

All judging will occur in the School System Central Offices, 389 Saint Clair avenue, in the second floor Department of Instruction Conference Room.

"The Foundation," continues Marieke, "has no logo to place on its many publications. So we are solving that problem by having a contest for all art students in the school system. I know we will have many entries as there are 15 schools."

"Presentation of awards for this contest will occur June 4-9, during the All District Art Show that will be held at the War Memorial. The prize at each elementary, middle school and high school level will be $10."

Will Award Bond
"The grand prize," explains Mrs. Allen, "will be a $25 United States Government bond or equivalent. The judges will be members of the Foundation and one advertising representative."

Environmental projects for the schools, in the form of creating nature areas in the playgrounds of the elementary schools and the planting of trees throughout many of the school grounds, have been funded by the Foundation, notes Mrs. Allen.

"Trombly School," adds Marieke, "is redesigning its whole playground, a tremendous project! Barnes is establishing a bird feeder

"The parents are helping out with labor in hopes of creating more and more interest in the 'out-of-doors' for their children."

Create Rock Garden
"The Lowther Fund is for environmental studies and it has been well used," continues Mrs. Allen. "At Ferry School, a rock garden is being designed with possibilities of an outdoor classroom being utilized."

"Mr. Lowther has worked for the improvement of our environment and was very active in the Grosse Pointe Woods Beautification Program in its efforts toward improving the appearance of the city."

"There has been work done, together with the Mothers Club and Garden Club, at South in improving the grounds."

Planted Many Trees
"There have been trees planted at many of the schools," Marieke notes, "and some of them have been dedicated. At Brownell, there is a tree as a memorial to all the teachers who have retired from Brownell. The 'Homeier Tree' stands at Kerby School honoring Dr. Custer Homeier, a principal at that school for many years."

"All these projects, like everything else, require much funding and we do appreciate so very much all that we receive. In these days of uncertainty in funding of education, our Foundation for Academic Enrichment might serve in a much larger capacity as time goes on. We will see."

And at The Hilberry...
The Understudies, the Women's Committee for Wayne State University's Hilberry Theatre chaired by Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker, Jr., of Merriweather road, will gather at the Hilberry the first Wednesday in May for an afternoon "Midsummer Night's Dream."

It's their traditional May Matinee Theatre Party, and it will be preceded, per tradition, by a subscription luncheon at 11:30 o'clock at WSU's McGregor Center.

The curtain rises at 1:15. Again per tradition, there'll be free parking and shuttle bus service between McGregor and Hilberry for all Understudies and their guests.

Reprise Performance
Last year, in The Pointe, their performance was sold out, and an eager audience waited over an hour while the Chicago Children's Choir tour bus fought a traffic jam around the Detroit-Windsor tunnel and past RenCen.

The boys and girls arrived to a thunderous ovation and left with echoes of an even greater one ringing in their ears.

This year, scheduling is not as tight. The Chicago Children's Choir, sponsored by the First Unitarian Church of Chicago, will present a 7:30 o'clock concert Saturday, April 29, at the First Unitarian Universalist Church of Detroit.

Tickets are $3 general admission, $5 patron, $150 for students and senior citizens.

Directing The Judelaire is the multi-talented De Shaheen, of Yorkshire road. Her right arm is accompanist Janet Drolshagen. Tickets for the May 21 performances are available now, and can be reserved by contacting Kathy Maximuk at 886-3258.

Marieke Sellenraad Allen was born in Bloemendaal, The Netherlands. She came to the United States in 1950 hoping to finish her medical education, (which she began at the University of Amsterdam), at Columbia University in New York City.

"Because of many problems," explains Marieke, "I decided to join my brother, Fred, who had come to Detroit two years before."

Enrolled at Wayne
"I enrolled at Wayne State University and finished my Bachelor of Science degree in Occupational Therapy, a profession I enjoyed very much as it combined art, psychology and medicine."

After working in the profession for a few years, Mrs. Allen then devoted her time and efforts to the needs of her growing family, having married her husband, Lee.

Besides these obligations, Marieke has been much involved with almost every aspect of the school system, from president of the PTO at Brownell, to a millage worker and Kerby Carnival fundraiser, to a member of South High Mothers Club and the South High School Band and Orchestra Parent Club.

She has been an avid supporter of her husband's terms on the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

Given Many Awards
Her many awards include Den Leader Coach from Boy Scouts of America, 1974, and the Meritorious Achievement Award in 1976 from the Grosse Pointe Public School System for originating a citizens newspaper.

Marieke and her husband, who is president of a wholesale firm handling basic industrial materials, have five children: Horace, 22, a student at Hope College, who is sharing the responsibility of the family's tree farm in Frankenthum owned by Marieke's brother Fred; Jan Willem, 20, a student at Purdue University, majoring in Civil Engineering; Adrian, 17, a student at Darrow Preparatory School, New Lebanon, N.Y.; Carel, 15, a South High School student, and Eleanor, nine, a Kerby School student.
