HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

THE BODY OF CHARLIE Chaplin, taken from its Switzerland grave 76 days ago in a macabre theft that seemed to stump international investigators, was found Wednesday in a shallow hole in a cornfield about 15 miles from the cemetery. Two alleged grave robbers were arrested. Police said they found Mr. Chaplin's coffin, buried two feet deep in the recently sown cornfield, after one suspect was grabbed Tuesday during a stakeout of 200 public telephones in Lausanne. Ransom demands also were made, first for $800,000 and then for $250,000.

Friday, May 19
PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER announced Thursday that the government will avoid or delay purchases of items with rapidly rising price tags. He suggested indirectly that consumers also review their buying habits. Mr. Carter stopped short of advocating an anti-inflation strike by buyers, but he asserted in a memo to agency heads: "Like any consumer, the government must react to high costs and the inflationary spiral. If goods or services are priced too high, the government must decide whether it can delay purchases."

THE HOUSE, IN A MAJOR victory for environmentalists, voted overwhelmingly Friday to preserve 102 million acres of Alaska's scenic splendors in national parks, wildlife refuges and wilderness. The bill setting aside the still unspoiled lands, with a total area equal to all of California, was approved 277-31 and sent to an uncertain fate in the Senate. In one swoop, the bill would double the size of the nation's national park and wildlife refuge systems.

ABOUT 1,300 FRENCH and Belgian paratroopers captured the mining center of Kolwezi, Zaire, Saturday and rescued 2,500 trapped Westerners, but not before the retreating Katangese rebels massacred about 150 whites. In one particularly gruesome attack, the rebels, who held the town for nine days, mowed down 34 men, women and children in a tiny room, witnesses said. French Foreign Legion and Belgian paratroopers occupied the town Saturday and began airlifting the shocked and weeping survivors to Kinshasa.

Monday, May 22
THE ROOF OF A church collapsed under tons of rain water at the start of Sunday services, killing a nine-year-old girl and injuring 60 persons — 57 parishioners and three policemen rescuing survivors — in Garland, Tex., a suburb of Dallas, Tex. Five of the injured were reported in critical condition. Some of the first rescuers reported victims with broken backs and bones, deep gashes and widespread shock and hysteria. Survivors were taken to five hospitals.

Tuesday, May 23
TUESDAY PRESBYTERIAN Church delegates voted overwhelmingly Monday in San Diego, Cal., not to sanction the ordination of acknowledged, practicing homosexuals. They went on to consider ordination for homosexuals who remain celibate or who try to become heterosexual. It was the first full-fledged confrontation of the issue by the governing body of a major Christian denomination. In a show of hands, after a debate at the church's 190th general assembly, only about 50 of the 650 voting delegates supported the ordination of active homosexuals.

Almost 500 children gathered at the three Grosse Pointe Public Libraries Saturday, May 13, to join in a balloon-launching climax to a week of activities centered around the libraries. Cards attached to each balloon requesting finders to contact the library. A prize is planned for the person whose balloon travels the farthest. (See story, Page 5.)

Boy Killed In Bicycle Accident

Parcels Student Strikes Woods Garbage Truck at Mack-Vernier Intersection

A 13-year-old Harper Woods boy was killed Monday afternoon, May 22, when his bicycle made contact with a garbage truck at the intersection of Mack avenue and Vernier road, reported Woods police.

The victim, Karl Schmitt of Hollywood avenue, Harper Woods, a seventh grader at Parcels School, 20600 Mack avenue, was apparently on his way home from school when the accident occurred, police said, and was pronounced dead on arrival at Saint John Hospital.

He was astride his bicycle, driving for the city truck, driven by Pietro Brancalone, 56, to turn and apparently edged his bike down the ramped curb cut into the traffic lane.

No Charges Filed
The bicycle made contact with the side of the vehicle and apparently the bike and the victim were pulled under the rear wheels of the truck. No charges have been filed, with the investigation continuing.

Det. Lt. Jack Patterson said the department has already interviewed four witnesses to the accident and their stories are basically the same. (Continued on Page 3)

Rotary Vial of Life Program Set As Model For County-Wide Plan

Commissioner Steiner Says Board of Commissioners Approves Resolution Laying Foundation Toward Encouraging Similar Vehicle in Other Communities; Task Force Eyed to Mobilize Resources

County Commissioner Erv Steiner announced last week the Vial of Life program sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club is going county-wide. In a news release, Mr. Steiner said The Pointe program will be the model for county-wide application after receiving "a very enthusiastic evaluation by the county health director.

Mr. Steiner, who represents the Pointes on the county board of commissioners, reported that the board on Thursday, May 18, approved a resolution establishing a plan for encouraging similar local programs throughout Wayne County.

The Vial of Life program involves the placing of medical information sheets for each family member in a small vial, (medicine bottle, in the refrigerator, with "Vial of Life" stickers on the front door and refrigerator to signal the vial's presence to emergency crews.

Need Uniformity
The plan sets a goal of Vials of Life in all 857,000 households in Wayne County, designates the county department of health as the central information and referral agency and provides for a community task force to spearhead the effort.

"The Vial of Life program is simple and inexpensive, yet in the opinion of the experts, can definitely save lives in medical emergencies," Mr. Steiner commented. "Its life-saving potential is indicated by the fact that there are about 87,000 emergency ambulance runs to homes in Wayne County per year."

GPW Adopts New Budget, Large Plan

Council Gives Approval To 10-Year Capital Improvement Program

By Roger A. Waha
The Woods' fiscal year budget for 1978-79 incorporating a two mill special capital improvement tax levy, along with a 10-year capital improvement program, (including fiscal year 1978-79), were unanimously approved by the council at its regular meeting Monday, May 15.

After a "silent" public hearing was held, the council adopted a resolution setting the budget at $4,318,982, higher than the current fiscal year total of $3,707,882. (In 1976-77, the total was placed at $3,424,968, while in 1975-76 it was $3,028,714.)

With this action, Woods taxpayers, based upon an average home being assessed at $25,000, will pay around $86.56 more in taxes in the new fiscal year.

Not "Locked In"
Considering debt service and operating tax levies, the total millage for 1978-79 shows a slight decrease under the 1977-78 total — 11.77 mills as against 11.82 mills. However, when the special two mill capital improvement levy is added on, the total millage for the new fiscal year reaches 13.77 mills.

On approval of the "Decade of Progress," Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos said, "We are telling the people we are planning a 10-year capital improvement program, while planning to levy two mills per year. But continuance of the program would be up to future councils."

"I hope future councils consider why we're levying two mills, and I hope they will continue with the funding."

But the mayor also made it clear that the two-mill figure isn't "locked in" for a 10-year period.

GP City Avoids Layoffs, Okays Tax on Rubbish

Council Approves .70 of a Mill Hike Toward Eliminating Projected Deficit of $90,445; New Budget Reflects 10 1/2 Percent Cost Increase over Current Fiscal Year

By Roger A. Waha
Emphasizing the need to avoid any employee layoffs, the City Council at its regular meeting Monday, May 22, unanimously approved an alternative of reducing expenditures and increasing revenues toward eliminating an anticipated $90,455 budget deficit in fiscal year 1978-79.

Under this alternative, one of three suggested by City Manager Thomas W. Kressbach in his budget message to the council, two and a half jobs, (one vacancy in both the police and fire departments will not be filled, while one-half body in public works-parks will become vacant through natural attrition), will be reduced, while the community's rubbish tax was hiked by .70 of a mill.

The total effect of this adjustment would save an estimated $90,720.

Other Avenues
With this action, the council then set the debt service rate at 1.61 mills, the operating rate at 20 mills and included the .70 of a mill rubbish tax rate for a total of 22.31 mills for 1978-79.

This compares with 1.69 mills for debt service and 20 mills for operating purposes for a total of 21.69 mills for the current fiscal year.

The total needed to run the city for the new fiscal year is placed at $2,113,935 as against $1,912,130 for the current year, a 10 1/2 percent increase.

In reviewing the deliberations of which course to take, the council also considered two other alternatives to relieve the anticipated deficit, including a six-man reduction in the work force in police, fire and public works departments, along with a 1.31 mills special rubbish tax revenue increase.

However, Mayor John King said, "We don't feel anyone on the council is interested in laying off our personnel."

Calling this overall decision-making process an anguishing situation, he noted that most city employees have been with the municipality for a number of years.

A deadline change for all news and society copy, along with display and classified advertising, will be instituted for the June 1 edition as the NEWS office will be closed on Monday, May 29.

All news copy must be submitted by 5 p.m. on Friday, May 26, while society copy must be in by 5 p.m. Thursday, May 25.

The display and classified advertising departments request that an effort be made to submit all copy by 5 p.m. on May 26.

Police Chief Robert Ferber estimated the city will realize about $9,000 in additional revenue through the new fine schedule. He said the increases have the support of Hill Merchant Ass'n, president Ed Kiska and Mayor Van Tiem said that Woeltje attempted to escape from The Farms local jail the day after his arrest, but his effort was thwarted by Farms police on Thursday, May 11, when an alert Moss road resident observed him entering a neighbor's house.

Planners in Woods Hear Consultant

Brandon Rogers Discusses Highlights of Document, Focuses Upon Seniors' Housing; Other Reports Given

By Roger A. Waha
An address from planning consultant Brandon M. Rogers viewing principal recommendations and objectives as listed in his preliminary draft of a land use plan and several sub-committee reports received the attention of the Woods Planning Commission at a special meeting Tuesday, May 16.

The commissioners are in the process of reviewing and making recommendations to the council on reports prepared by Mr. Rogers, with proposals on roof signs and political signs already under study at the council level.

On the 16th, besides Mr. Rogers' exploration of the land use plan which was unanimously accepted by the commission, sub-committee reports were given on the property maintenance code, portable signs, outside parking of motor vehicles at gasoline service stations and commercial vehicles and their storage.

Eyes Commercial Areas
The 18-page document, not including several maps and a table on land use from 1977 to the year 2000, provides recommendations in a variety of land use categories for the consideration of officials. A main focus of Mr. Rogers' address was on the subject of senior citizens' housing.

Mr. Rogers, in saying the city is predominantly a single family residential community which is 99.6 percent developed, indicated that further population growth could be accomplished by the conversion of single family areas and commercial areas to apartment usage.

However, any such growth in dwelling units might be offset by the decline in family size including fewer young families residing in the city. He also cited the potential of an excess number of classrooms in the future and the possibility of converting a school site to an apartment complex.

On the changing role of commercial property, Mr. Rogers said such areas are located along Mack avenue with ensuing problems such as parking and congestion growing worse.

In his plan, Mr. Rogers stated it recognizes that the city cannot compete with the full service, large shopping centers such as Eastland, while addressing himself to two commercial "cores" — along Mack between the westerly limits at Penney's and Littlestone road, and along Mack between Lochmoor and Brys drive. Both areas have a predominance of retail businesses.

As for the Seven-Mack Shopping Center, he stated this area, particularly the portion located in The Woods, offers an opportunity. (Continued on Page 6)

School Budget Talks Are Set

A public hearing on the Board of Education's 1978-79 fiscal year budget has been tentatively set for Monday, June 5, at Administrative Offices, 389 St. Clair avenue, at 8 p.m.

'Big Foot' to Stand Trial, Makes Attempt to Escape

Jerry James Woeltje, 27, of Findley, Detroit, allegedly known as "Big Foot," had his examination before Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytel on Wednesday, May 17, on a warrant charging him with breaking and entering an occupied dwelling.

He was bound over for trial in Wayne County Circuit Court, with his bond of $25,000 being continued, while being remanded to the Wayne County Jail until his trial date. His pre-trial is scheduled for Thursday, June 1.

Woeltje, who is believed to be responsible for more than 100 daytime burglaries in the Detroit area in the past three months, was arrested by Farms police on Thursday, May 11, when an alert Moss road resident observed him entering a neighbor's house.

Woods Council Adopts New Budget, Big Program

(Continued from Page 1) an estimated $4,225,258 over 10 years for work to be done throughout the city. It's projected over this period that an average of over $400,000 per fiscal year will be needed for the improvements.

For 1978-79, the two mill levy would raise $393,856. A total of $221,100 is listed for the second phase of northeast relief storm sewer work at Briarcliff drive from Morningside to Van K, Van K from Perrien place to Blairmoor court and Morningside from Moorland to Woods lane.

The city is seeking $200,000 in unencumbered drain funds of the municipality from Wayne County for Briarcliff drive, Milk River-Morningside, for the first phase of such work.

The other $172,758 is planned for street resurfacing and/or repair of Emory court, Clairview court, Berns court, Young lane and Ida Jane.

In relation to the program, Councilman George Cueter asked if future councils could change the order of listed projects per fiscal year on a priority basis, depending on need and the availability of money?

Good Planning
In noting that monies will be kept in a separate account for special capital improvements, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said future councils could change the arrangement.

As for the total program itself, Mr. Petersen had earlier, stated that the city's auditors encouraged the city to adopt a 10-year program because it was good fiscal planning and would help stabilize the tax rate.

On the revenue side of the 1978-79 budget, the estimated revenues from sources other than taxes on real and personal property are anticipated to be $1,713,508. (The amount in 1977-78 was $1,641,988.) The largest total in this classification is from state-shared taxes, $824,610, followed by inter-governmental fees and charges, $597,009.

The amounts necessary to provide the proper funding of the debt service, the special capital improvements and the general fund appropriations are $172,792, $378,333 and $2,054,349, respectively. According to the resolution, the sums are deemed necessary to be raised by ad valorem tax levies on all real and personal property within the city.

All Show Increase
The amounts are scheduled for spreading on the 1978-79 tax role at the rate of .91 of a mill per thousand of the city's current assessed valuation for debt service, (down from 1.01 mills in 1977-78), and at the rate of 10.86 mills per thousand of the city's assessed valuation for general operating fund purposes, (up from 10.81 mills in 1977-78).

And for special capital improvements, the rate is placed at 2.00 mills per thousand of the city's current assessed valuation. Unlike the current fiscal year when a factor of 1.14 was applied to assessments by the county, the city had to incorporate a 1.23 factor for the upcoming fiscal year. The departments of general government, public safety, public works and parks and recreation all showed an increase in the new fiscal year over 1977-78. The differences are as follows:

General government, $370,552 in 1978-79, $354,092 this fiscal year; public safety, $1,622,384 over $1,518,323; public works, $1,416,148 over $1,373,490; and parks and recreation, $288,829 over $265,364. Playing key roles in all of the increases are salaries and wages, plus fringe benefits.

Other Budgets
As part of the resolution, the city also adopted its special fund and enterprise fund budgets.

The former budget includes Federal Revenue Sharing, $120,000; highway, $916,439; and motor vehicle and equipment, $372,690. The overall total is $1,409,129 in comparison to $1,178,431 in 1977-78.

Meanwhile, the enterprise fund budget, which isn't supported by tax monies, shows water-sewer, $1,146,300; parking, $146,590; boat docks, $34,300; concession, $4,733; and Youth Service Division, $162,973. It reaches $1,494,896 as against $1,131,519 in 1977-78.

Finally, the contingency fund for the new fiscal year reaches $69,944 in comparison to $20,000 for the current year.

Vial of Life Program

"In an emergency, it is as important to know that a person is not on medication, is not allergic to a medication, as it is to know what medical problems the person does have."

The resolution also calls the Vial of Life program to the attention of the Michigan Department of Public Health and the Michigan Ass'n. of Counties for potential state-wide application.

Worthy of Support
Based on a Steiner resolution, the Board of Commissioners had asked for an evaluation of the Vial of Life program initiated by the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club and local police and fire departments.

In this respect, Woods Det. Lt. Jack Patterson played a major role in starting the program in the area with the support of Rotary Club president Carl E. Meyering.

Vial of Life programs have been initiated or are under consideration in perhaps a dozen of the 43 municipalities in Wayne County.

Dr. Stearns concluded that the Vial of Life program is "definitely worthwhile and deserving of widespread support."

Mr. Steiner said the task force called for in the plan would play a key role in mobilizing the resources for county-wide application.

"The task force will consist of members from government, business and civic groups," Mr. Steiner said. "Its mission will be to encourage community participation and to look for ways of helping offset the costs to sponsoring organizations for vials and printed materials."

First Priority
"The Vial of Life is particularly important to elderly and other persons who have medical conditions, diabetes, for example, which might render them unconscious. So these people will be our first priority," Mr. Steiner explained.

"But the Emergency Medical Services Council, for example, would like to see a Vial of Life in every household so that complete medical information is available

Survival of the fittest doesn't always apply to those left.

It's a money losing proposition to laugh at other's expense.

Speech Therapy Eyed at Cottage

Marking observance of May as National Better Hearing and Speech Month, Ralph L. Wilgarde, administrator of Cottage Hospital, announced last week the appointment of Linda Lucille Sprague to the staff of the hospital's Speech Therapy Department.

An audiologist with a Master's degree from Michigan State University, Miss

Sprague takes hearing referrals from physicians, makes hearing aid evaluations and conducts tests for and fits hearing aids.

"With the new, expanded facilities at Cottage Hospital, we are now able to offer these professional services for hearing and speech evaluations, learning disabilities and therapeutic programs if indicated," Mr. Wilgarde said in a news release.

The audiology services are enhanced by the latest equipment, such as a sound booth and free-field testing, he said. Special equipment also provides testing for all ages from infant to geriatric.

The Speech Therapy Department is directed by Gary Cooper, PhD, and again this year will offer a summer speech and language program. Beginning Monday, June 12, and ending July 21, the six weeks program of two weekly hour-long sessions will include pre-school and school age groups of children with language, hearing and learning problems. The fee for the summer program is $60. When a family is unable to pay this fee, the child's school speech therapist or pediatrician should call the Speech Therapy Department at Cottage and arrangements for enrollment will be made.

Enrollment is limited. Information may be obtained by telephoning 884-8600, extension 2187.

Boy Killed in Accident

(Continued from Page 1) same as to what occurred. "We plan to go to the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office for a determination, which is normal procedure in such cases," the lieutenant said.

Shock and sadness over the incident permeated Parcels. Principal Morris F. Hanzek, who noted that Karl had a brother and sister who also attended the school, called him "a fine boy, who worked up to capacity." "It was a tragic thing to happen," Mr. Hanzek continued. "This has been a real concern of ours, the safety of the kids."

In calling the Vernier-Mack location "a high traffic intersection," he cited his distress over youngsters on bikes and skateboards in the immediate area.

AUSTIN IS PREXY
The Detroit Surgical Society recently elected Pointer Donald C. Austin, MD, as its president. Dr. Austin is chief of neurosurgery at Hutzel and Harper Hospitals.

In fact, in the school's last newsletter, Mr. Hanzek requested students to become more aware of bicycle safety. What happened on Monday tragically reinforces such a concern on the part of many in the community.

Nab Teen Car Thief in City

Two City police officers became suspicious of an automobile with Illinois plates parked in the Mack avenue and Rivard boulevard parking lot as they were cruising through the lot at 11 p.m. on Saturday, May 20.

The license plate just did not seem right to the officers.

The policemen, Virgil Beaupre and Richard Lanski, checked a little closer and discovered that a letter on the plate had been altered and arrested a 16-year-old boy sleeping in the car. The lad and the vehicle were taken to the station.

A check on stolen cars showed that the vehicle had been reported stolen by Deerfield, Ill., authorities.

Officers Beaupre and Lanski said that in checking over the plates, they found that the number was DP-8566. It is believed that the teenager had altered the "P" by converting it to an "R" and drove the car from Deerfield to The Pointe area, parking it in the lot.

The 16-year-old was formally processed and conveyed to the Wayne County Youth Home, and the Deerfield Police Department was notified of the recovery of the auto, a 1972 model.

Developer to Renovate French Baroque Mansion

By Susan McDonald
"It's a new philosophy for Grosse Pointe. Instead of tearing things down we're going to restore the old house and the grounds to just the way they looked in 1913."

That's Jerald Radtke talking about his new dream—a $1.3 million renovation of the French baroque mansion at 241 Lakeshore road, recently the home of the Junior League of Detroit Decorators' Show House exhibit.

Mr. Radtke, a real estate developer who lives in Bishop road, recently purchased the 1913 home and the six acres of lake frontage that surround it in The Farms.

Asking price for the mansion was $400,000 but Mr. Radtke and his realtor, Mary Walsh of Champion, are not disclosing the amount he paid.

He has big plans for the land, and has retained architect William Kessler to design the renovation. Kessler's not new to the restoration business. His credits include the recent restoration of the Livingston County Courthouse and the firm's own offices in downtown Detroit's Cornice and Slate Building.

Plans call for converting the mansion into four, or possibly five, condominiums, addition of one new home in the rear of the lot and turning the carriage house into a single family dwelling.

Each building will be on a one-acre lot, which leaves three acres open for a sweeping view of the lake, Mr. Radtke says.

But for all of the work he plans to do on the interiors, Mr. Radtke says not a bit of the buildings' exteriors will be altered.

"We're going to retain the integrity of the property and its old French character with the grape arbors, orchards and the old cobblestone road. Not a tree over four-inches in diameter will be touched."

Of course, before all that's accomplished, Mr. Radtke has months of work to do in Farms city offices.

Director of Public Service John DeFoe says he'll have to have the lot re-zoned from its present single family designation to multiple family. Site plan review, subdivision plan approval and public hearings will all be necessary before any work can begin, Mr. DeFoe says.

And, so far at least, no one at The Farms has heard a word from Mr. Radtke about the plans — although they have heard from his future neighbors.

"Most of the people calling us have just been curious about the development, but some are alarmed," says Mr. DeFoe. "I don't know what the guy's planning because I've never even talked to him."

Mr. Radtke said he hopes to take plans before the Farms Council in June.

His proposal is similar to what developers had hoped to do with Rose Terrace, before the group apparently ran into financial difficulties. Rose Terrace was eventually demolished, and a new subdivision is being constructed on its property.

But Mr. Radtke will simply not allow such a history to discourage him.

"I'm tired of watching 'Taco Bells' going up along Lakeshore road," he said. "I know it's a new idea for Grosse Pointe, but I think we can make it work."

Shores Okays YSD Funding

The Shores Council at its monthly meeting held on Tuesday, May 15, agreed to pay its share of the Youth Service Division's, (YSD), 1978-79 fiscal year budget, provided the Board of Education, as it indicated earlier this month, pays 25 percent of the total cost.

Village President Gerald C. Schroeder said that he is of the opinion that there should be no problem if the Village went along with paying its share for another year, at least if the Board of Education has agreed to pay its 25 percent.

He said The Shores will again go along with the assessment of its share of YSD funds under the state equalized valuation, (SEV), formula, but for one year only.

It was brought to the attention of the council that during the past year, the Shores Public Safety Department released only four juveniles to the YSD for questioning, investigation and processing.

In relation to this, Village officials in the past have indicated their preference for a population, rather than an SEV, criteria.

The Shores' share of the new YSD budget is placed at $13,200, with actual costs being prorated on true 1978 equalized valuation. The total amount of the budget is $162,973.

'Big Foot' Slated to Stand Trial

He attempted to remove the vent and fan from the wall in the holding room, which, if he had succeeded, would have left an opening big enough for him to get through. He had all but one screw removed when the vent louver slipped loose and banged against the wall, swinging back and forth.

This was the noise that aroused the suspicion of Ms. Leikert. Two more minutes and Woeltje would have made good his escape, said Sgt. Van Tiem.

The sergeant disclosed that 20 minutes prior to Woeltje's arrest in The Farms, he was seen trying to break into a home in East Detroit.

He was frightened away when he saw a neighbor watching him after the citizen heard breaking glass. The witness promptly went into her home and called police, but the suspect escaped and drove to The Farms.

Sgt. Van Tiem said when Woeltje was arrested and searched, he had a gold watch which was identified as having been taken from an East Detroit home.

In a police lineup at the Wayne County Jail, Woeltje was positively identified by three East Detroit residents as the man who was seen breaking into homes in their city. East Detroit authorities have obtained a warrant charging Woeltje with burglary on the basis of the watch and the identification at the lineup, the sergeant said.

On May 11, the Moross road resident observed the suspect prowling around a neighbor's house when she looked out the window after her dog began growling. The resident saw the man enter the neighbor's residence and promptly called police.

Cpl. Ronald Wooten and Officer Philip Miglio arrived at the scene at about the same time, with Cpl. Wooten running to the rear of the house and Officer Miglio covering the front.

As the corporal arrived at the rear, Woeltje was coming out the back door. On seeing the policeman the suspect went back into the house and the corporal yelled to Officer Miglio that the man was still in the building. Seconds later Sgt. Van Tiem arrived and ran to the back yard, but Woeltje was already in Cpl. Wooten's custody.

The corporal, service revolver in hand, had ordered him to come out with his hands up, and the man, after yelling "I quit, I'm coming out," emerged with his hands high in the air.

As the man was being held

B-E Suspect

JERRY JAMES WOELTJE by the sergeant and corporal, Officer Donald Pilon, who arrived seconds after the arrest, searched Woeltje, after which Woeltje was placed in a scout car with Sgt. Alfred Martin and Officer Thomas Kelly and taken to the station.

At the station, Woeltje admitted breaking into the Moross home by kicking in a door with his foot, which measures size 12 in the tennis shoes he was wearing. It was said that he wears size 13 heavy boots when he wears thick stockings.

The neighbor who called police said that she did not observe any strange car in the neighborhood, but police found the suspect's car nearby. At the station, an on-the-spot search uncovered several license plates, believed stolen, several changes of clothing, a pair of gloves and two handguns.

Chief Ferber dispatched a letter of praise to the Moross road resident whose alertness led to the arrest of the man, the most wanted burglar by Detroit area police agencies. The chief also cited the efficient manner in which the officers responded to the resident's call and for the part they played in apprehending Woeltje.

City Okays Budget

Praises Service

While indicating the feeling that the council really didn't want to levy the additional rubbish tax, the mayor cited an informal poll taken by council members with citizens and it was determined, under the circumstances, that this would be the best route to take.

"I think everyone knows the City of Grosse Pointe in my estimation, and I'm biased, gives more service in the rubbish collection area in comparison to other communities," said Mr. King, while citing back door pickup, along with the services provided by the police, fire and public works departments.

"We don't want to cut these services if we can avoid it and we don't want to have to go into major cut-backs," he added.

Mr. King also recommended to the council that it consider the elimination of bulk rubbish pickup, e.g., washing machines and hot water tanks, and have people contract on their own. He felt the city could still perform this service but cited personnel and scheduling problems in this respect.

"Such an action would make personnel more available for our own city work and it could be a cost-savings measure we could live with," he stated.

Net Fees Raised

In relation to this, Councilman David Robb, in noting the council has wrestled with the rising costs problem for a long period of time, suggested that officials should look at other areas toward obtaining revenues.

Citing the quality of the tennis courts in the community, Mr. Robb suggested a minimal increase in the rate, from $1 per hour to $1.50, and the council unanimously concurred. The new rate will become effective on Saturday, May 27.

Then he moved that Mr. Kressbach and the administration study fines and penalties for city ordinance violations and also traffic violations, making recommendations to the council on any possible adjustments. The solons unanimously okayed this action.

Finally, on the bulk rubbish pickup, the council unanimously approved a motion authorizing Mr. Kressbach to review this matter and the possibility of levying some kind of charge for such service.

Currently, there's no charge to citizens for picking up such rubbish, which is usually done once a week on a Thursday or Friday. However, Mr. Kressbach said some residents put out bulk rubbish early, mixing it in with other garbage for pickup. As a result, officials will explore ways toward stricter enforcement on such collection procedures. "We'll also review different procedures for pickup by private sources," added Mr. Kressbach in relation to Mr. King's recommendation.

Reflects Cost

In viewing the overall document, Mr. Kressbach said the budget reflects higher costs in the area of insurance, showing up to a good extent in workman's compensation and hospitalization. He noted, in fact, that percentage increases in this area were even higher than hikes in salaries and wages in the various departments.

As for unemployment compensation, Mr. Kressbach called it "the single largest cost increase in dollars and cents."

He also cited increased costs in energy-related areas such as street lighting and natural gas toward heating municipal offices, with greater hikes expected in the future.

Personnel services account for 61.6 percent of the total budget, with contractual services making up 22 percent. Supplies and materials, capital outlay "and other" and contingency, highway fund contribution and reserve for adjustments comprise the rest.

Readers of All Ages Join Library Week Celebration

Hundreds of colorful balloons soared through Michigan's gray skies Saturday afternoon, May 13, climaxing six days and nights of festivities in celebration of the Grosse Pointe Public Library Week.

The balloon launchings — held at all three public libraries — began at 11:30 a.m. with "Detroit News" columnist Charley Manos, lifting off a five-foot weather balloon. An estimated 475 children then released to the winds their own helium-filled balloons.

A card was attached to each balloon, requesting the finder to contact the library. The person whose balloon goes the farthest will win a prize.

Still another feature attraction was Marjorie Brown's Storytellers, who performed before delighted children at each library branch prior to launching.

About 175 children participated in the second balloon lift off at the Woods Branch at 2 p.m., and about 150 children in the third balloon sendoff at the Park Branch at 4 p.m.

Spring showers stopped shortly before the first launch. But stormy weather added an appropriate touch Friday night, with the all-night "Read-In" of the adventures of Sherlock Holmes by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

The 8 p.m. "Read-In" began after the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library hosted a dessert party in the Central Library's main reading room for library patrons. The party was entertained by the Bottom of the Hill Gang. The "Read-In" also was recorded by Channel 7 television, and shown on the 11 p.m. news Friday night.

Alfred Hitchcock's classic, "The Birds," was shown at the Central Library at 11:30 p.m.

The week began Monday, May 8, with a plant exchange and gardening program, featuring demonstrations by Mrs. Robert LeFevre. The evening entertainment was provided by the Folk Group from North High School, led by Beth Ward.

The following day, Mrs. Ruth Peabody of the Moth Hole demonstrated the art of ornamental needlework, and Alexander C. Suezek and his students provided guitar music.

Kitty Carey of C. M. Gallery offered antique brass polishing instructions, and the South High School Band, conducted by Russell Reed, held a concert Wednesday.

On Thursday, a group of North High students demonstrated their sketching skills and others exhibited their 8 mm films.

At 10 a.m. Friday, the Central Library opened — and remained open until closing Saturday evening, more than 30 hours later. During those hours, amnesty was offered to all overdue books, according to William T. Peters, library director.

Joyce Detwiler from Pointe Pedlar demonstrated the art of the crepe several hours before the Friends' dessert party.

When the "Read-In" ended early Saturday morning, coffee and doughnuts were served. Volunteers began filling the first of some 700 balloons for the launchings.

Library Week was sponsored by the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, headed by Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker Jr. Mrs. Ross T. Kogel planned the week's activities.

Center Drive Short of Goal

With just a few days remaining until Memorial Day, the War Memorial Family Participation Campaign is still $12,577.73 short of the hoped for $150,000 needed to operate and maintain the Center and continue its activities for the community.

John R. Nicholson, chairman of the 1978 drive, is still hopeful that the goal can be reached by Memorial Day. He also expressed his thanks to the Senior Men's Club who conducted a recent telethon under the direction of Martin Hutchinson and Ed Gore. Almost $20,000 has been contributed as a result of their telephone calls.

To date $137,422.27 has been received from 5,441 donors as compared to $126,206.07 from 5,446 donors in 1977 at the same time.

Contributions are income tax deductible. The War Memorial is grateful to those who have already given and urges all citizens to support their community center.

AARP Chicago Confab Draws Pointer

Nora Blixt of Vernier road was among more than 2,500 delegates and guests who recently attended the Biennial Convention of the American Assn. of Retired Persons, AARP, at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Chicago, Ill.

Highlight of the convention was the presentation by the 11 million association of the prestigious Andrus Award to noted anthropologist and lecturer Dr.

Margaret Mead. The Andrus Award, named for the founder of the AARP, Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus, honors an individual whose outstanding achievements in later years exemplify the participation of older Americans in national life and prove that age is no valid measure of creativity and contribution.

Others featured during the four-day convention were actor and singer Theodore Bikel and U.S. Commissioner on Aging, Robert C. Benedict.

In his report to the convention, AARP Executive Director Cyril F. Brickfield outlined what he termed "a bill of national expectations" including calls for major national efforts to improve health care and public safety, to end government waste and inefficiency and to bring about meaningful, comprehensive tax reform.

J. Leonard Johnson of Jamestown, N.Y., also was sworn in as the new president of AARP, replacing Alice VanLandingham of Morgantown, W. Va.

Mrs. Blixt was one of nine delegates nominated to represent Michigan at the convention. AARP membership in Michigan was last reported as 374,897.

Woods Consultant Discusses Highlights of Land Use Plan

to plan a multi-purpose, commercial center, including a full-service hotel, which would add substantial tax and employment base to the city and provide a focal point of activity.

Exception for Seniors
In considering the Lake Front Park, Mr. Rogers told the commission the city has more recreation area per capita than any other Pointe or even Detroit.

"It's important to preserve these open spaces, (including the Lochmoor Club and the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, too), with one exception — senior citizens housing," he said.

"Elderly housing has to be provided in the city or it will lose some of its residents, who have equity in their homes toward putting up the investment to move. And by moving, they will open up single family homes for younger families," said Mr. Rogers.

He recommended three sites for such housing including, first, Ghesquiere Park, followed by the Seven-Mack Center and a school site.

(The Woods Senior Citizens Commission is well aware of his recommendation on Ghesquiere Park in relation to their current efforts, via the August primary ballot proposition, to obtain citizen support for such housing)

Could Accommodate
Saying that the park location is ideally located near commercial businesses, bus transportation, et al., Mr. Rogers indicated the size of the park, (30.53 acres, zoned residential), is such that it can "easily accommodate such a facility and there would be no off-street parking problems."

As for the Seven-Mack Shopping Center, he noted a further investigation would have to be conducted regarding the "mechanics" of seniors' housing at this location, while viewing Saint John Hospital's expansion and an overall downtown central business district in that immediate area.

He said this location would actually be the number one site for such housing but at Seven-Mack, it would be two to three years off.

On a school site, in viewing declining enrollment, Mr. Rogers said he has urged school officials to steer any potential school closing toward this objective for the city.

In viewing a comment from Mr. Rogers on the need for open space and then his recommendation for seniors' housing at Ghesquiere, commission chairman George Rinaldi asked him how he rectified both statements.

Mr. Rogers said a housing complex at the park wouldn't take a major impact away from recreational usage, while noting many parts aren't even used for active recreation.

Cites Other Areas
In saying it would provide a lovely park-like setting, he stressed that necessary setbacks could be planned so it would have no adverse affect on surrounding residential structures.

In fact, he suggested that the city not experiment with such housing but "try one on for size" on a small scale and if such works out and there's an obvious demand, to look at the Seven-Mack area and/or a school site for a second phase.

He also eyed off-street parking and various prototypes, including the looping of streets, to ease such problems, while noting if all aspects of the plan are legally adoptable, a good foundation for zoning, traffic concerns, et al., would be provided.

Mr. Rogers suggested that the commission further digest the plan before it can be legally adopted.

"The number one control to carry out the plan is the zoning ordinance," he continued, regarding zoning amendments being utilized to implement the plan. "The zoning ordinance should gravitate toward and reflect the plan over a period of time, and certain piecemeal rezonings can be considered" as an immediate step.

He also stressed two other important areas — the proposed property maintenance code which would be reasonable and fair toward preventing any signs of deterioration and a capital improvement program and ensuing monies needed to carry out the plan, e.g., building new parking lots, property acquisition and necessary paving.

Build Up Base
In saying the city has a good tax base, bonding capacity and available millage and that it's perhaps the most solvent of the Pointes financially, Mr. Rogers emphasized the city can be kept viable, with both young families and seniors, plus a good commercial base with a vastly expanded Seven-Mack Shopping Center to be used by residents of The Woods, Farms, Harper Woods and Detroit.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, in saying he was disappointed in the land use plan, said The City, (at its 20-mill limit), and The Park, (at 19.50 mills), for instance, have reached millage peaks while The Woods has not.

"We can't continually have assessments going up to provide services the people want," said Mr. Petersen, who felt more of an emphasis should be placed on building the city's tax base, while noting, in light of rising costs, this is really a last opportunity to build up the tax base.

Mr. Rogers replied by saying the city could possibly double its commercial zoning base in the Seven-Mack Shopping Center, putting life back into the total area, while also stressing the importance of a property maintenance code for homes, along with adequate off-street parking to keep businesses viable toward avoiding vacancies and deterioration.

Then, Mr. Petersen suggested the development of the northwest area of the city, that the area could be redeveloped to its highest and best use, feeling there's 10 times the present current assessed valuation. It's properly redeveloped. "We must be innovative and not get in a position. The Farms, (at 17.95 mill City and Park," he stated. "We've got to work toward building our tax base a relieve property owners a high tax base."

Not Big Asset
Commissioner Philip Patanis said the city would have to initiate something in this respect, suggesting might be too long range for a developer.

"We are enjoying wonderful services now but as time passes, we might not enjoy them. We can only tax people to a point. We should look at every piece of property," said Mr. Patanis, who felt some property along Vernier road wasn't being handled properly because of depth.

"We have to create more tax dollars or many people won't be able to afford the taxes," he added.

"Single family homes aren't a big asset to the tax base," said Mr. Rogers, who felt there was little anyone could do to change The Woods into a Trenton, which is 95 percent industry. Over all, he felt the Seven-Mack area as a commercial business district, plus a maintenance code, would help in maintaining and even strengthening the tax base.

As for the property maintenance code, Commissioner Paul Rothenburg said the sub-committee reviewed the BOCA Code with additions, subtractions and corrections made for the consideration of the entire commission.

"Dubious Nature"
"It was felt by the sub-committee that the BOCA Code in its entirety didn't subscribe to the way the property maintenance code should be for Grosse Pointe Woods," he noted, while adding that all adjustments took into account suggestions from Mr. Rogers and City Attorney George Catlin.

This proposal is now scheduled to be typed up for the commission.

On portable signs, Commissioner Charles Van Hove, in behalf of the sub-committee charged with reviewing this matter, gave his approval to Mr. Rogers' report with the addition, besides no flashing lights on such signs, that no beacon or search lights be utilized.

Mr. Van Hove said flashing lights, along with beacon or search lights, would take up room on property, including sidewalks, and were "of a dubious nature." He felt such lamps were really not that necessary for local merchants on the advertising front.

And in reply to a question from Mr. Rothenburg, Mr. Catlin said beacon and search lights can be construed to be signs.

One other change also was made and this read, "No permission be given to any portable sign on, ("a median strip or margin of" was removed), any public right-of-way."

The commission then unanimously accepted the report and authorized Mr. Catlin to draft an ordinance incorporating the changes.

Eyes Exceptions
On the outside parking of motor vehicles at gasoline service stations, Commissioner George Couillard essentially agreed with a proposed ordinance draft with three exceptions including the following:

- Standard minimum off-street parking should require one parking space for each employe at maximum shift, plus one parking space for the owner and/or manager.

Why the "Light Bill" became the "Electric Bill"

It's simple. Back in the 1930s lights accounted for nearly all of the electricity used in your home. But as times changed and convenient, modern appliances were invented, lights became a much smaller part of your total electric costs. And today, with frost-free refrigerators, air conditioners, furnace blowers and ranges, lights actually account for less than 20% of the electricity you use. That's why proper use and maintenance of major appliances is so important. The more efficiently these big energy users operate, the more economical they'll be. And that can save a lot of money and a lot of energy. Detroit Edison can tell you how to get the most out of the major appliances in your home. So call or stop in at any Detroit Edison customer office for helpful information. Save where it really counts. The power is in your hands.

• Exceptions to parking prohibitions for rental vehicles, including 48-hour restriction, should not be allowed.

On this, the commission by a 5-1 vote, agreed that the proposed draft, the subcommittee's report and Mr. Rogers' report should all be tied into a final draft, with Mr. Rogers and Mr. Catlin being authorized to do such work.

Commissioner Robert Sabo cast the lone dissenting vote, feeling this topic should go to the council to avoid further delay.

Discusses Criteria
Mr. Patanis then gave a subcommittee report on commercial vehicles and their storage, with final action on this subject being tabled after some discussion.

Mr. Patanis viewed compliance with one of four of six criteria listed by Mr. Rogers in his report regarding the definition of a commercial vehicle.

The consultant recommended that a revision in such definition read as follows: The term "commercial vehicle" shall mean any stake truck, dump truck, highway tractor-trailer truck, semi-truck trailer or construction vehicle.

A pickup truck, either not covered or containing a cap thereon, or any van or carry-all type vehicle are also deemed commercial vehicles if it exhibits two or more of the six characteristics.

Mr. Patanis viewed four of these: commercial license plates, (current); a retail business or recognized commercial advertising, lettering, logo or business address and/or telephone number on the exterior of the vehicle; permanently mounted outside brackets or holders for ladders, tools or other equipment; and interior vehicle layout primarily designed to store products for sale, supplies, tool and other equipment identified with a business occupation.

The pair of criteria not originally cited were rated capacity in excess of three-quarter ton and more than two axles.

In Good Shape
Mr. Catlin felt, in viewing potential litigation in regards to the proposal, that the more criteria incorporated regarding defining a commercial vehicle, the better chance the city would have in obtaining court support.

A basic consensus in this area seemed to be to start with a strong law and modify it as necessary rather than with a weak one.

In relation to this, enforcement problems, along with expected residential complaints in relation to the related issue of recreational vehicles and their storage, were viewed.

On the zoning ordinance update project, the commission agreed to permit Mr. Catlin and Building Inspector Earl Wakely to continue their review of the report, with Mr. Catlin then working with Mr. Rogers toward compromising any differences, with the final report going to the commission.

Mr. Rogers said he recommended changes in 10 to 15 percent of the total ordinance, while saying the other 85 to 90 percent was in good shape.

Promote Welfare

Finally, on exterior design regulation of commercial buildings, Mr. Rogers said his subject matter is covered in depth in his zoning ordinance update project in relation to an architectural review board, which would promote the general public welfare of the city and preserve and protect the aesthetic and historical charm and beauty of the municipality.

In saying architectural control is becoming and can become a primary purpose of zoning, Mr. Rogers suggested the need for tight architectural review.

Mr. Couillard, in noting that such a board could expand the layers of city government, felt that the commission, itself, should actually compose the board.

The pride of achievement is not always as great as thankfulness for what we did not do.

All Incumbents Returned To Seats in GPS Election

Shores voters returned their incumbent council officials, including Village president, (mayor), three trustees, (councilmen), and Village clerk, to another two-year term in office.

Two challengers who sought to unseat at least two trustees lost by a substantial margin, although a little more than seven percent of the qualified voters saw fit to cast their ballots.

A total of 292 voters, out of 2,332 registered, cast their ballots in two voting precincts, located in the old Vernier School, according to an official tabulation.

The highest vote getter was Village Clerk Edmund M. Brady Jr., who received a total of 273 votes. He was followed by Village President Gerald C. Schroeder, with 265 votes, and Trustees C. Bradford Lundy Jr., 229, Robert C. Palmer, 206, and Carl Hedeen, who trailed with 197.

The challengers for the trustee seats, Vito Cusenza and Ms. M. A. Bartoszewicz, gleaned only 69 and 87 votes, respectively.

Mr. Schroeder was a Village trustee from 1955 until his election as president in 1971 while Mr. Lundy has been a trustee since 1964 and Mr. Hedeen, since 1971.

Mr. Palmer, who served on the Village Board of Review for two years and on the Village Plan Commission for two years, was appointed a trustee in April 1973 on the death of Alfred Glancy. Then, Mr. Palmer was elected to office in his own right following an election to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Brady was appointed to his office when Village Clerk Dr. Clifford B. Lorange resigned after serving 44 years in that post. He retired from medical practice and moved to The Farms.

In 1976, Mr. Brady asked the voters to retain him in that office and he won a full two-year term.

Make Adjustments

Additional revenue also will be raised by increasing inspection fees, under the city's maintenance code, from $45 to about $65, according to Mr. Bremer.

Boat moorings will cost about one-quarter more than last year and dog licenses will jump from $3 to about $5, the city manager said.

The fee increases will add a total of about $24,000 to Farms' revenues next year.

In addition, the city recouped another $20,000 by reducing their fund for the purchase of property, (usually for parking lot purposes).

In total, the deletions and increases in fees total the $40,000 needed to cut the millage rate by 0.3 of a mill, from 18.25 to 17.95.

Mr. Bremer said he's "terribly concerned" about what inflation is doing to the city budget.

Hit With Demands

"We're just like the other cities; we've had tremendous increases in costs for utilities and insurance. There're no additional services in this budget, we're just holding the line," the city manager said.

In addition to a huge, and unexpected, sewer break in Kerby road that will cost the city about $74,000, (almost one-half mill), this year, The Farms has been hit with a number of other unbudgeted demands on its revenue.

Among them were an $8,800 traffic study, $8,000 to close off Belanger avenue in response to citizen demands, a $7,000 study plan for the Pier Park and $8,000 in police overtime to solve a string of arsons in the community.

Other budgeted costs increased substantially as well, Mr. Bremer pointed out. The Farms' general insurance ran $22,000 over the budgeted amount and workers' compensation payments exceeded the allocation of $45,000.

No! You are not seeing an optical illusion. Yes! You are seeing a very familiar "Big Boy" on the front lawn of South High School, all eight feet of him. It mysteriously appeared on South High School's lawn Monday morning, May 22. Could it be a prank of the graduating Class of '78? Certain NEWS sources lead us to believe this was the case. We will never tell, but it was returned to the Elias Brothers Restaurant, Mack and Vernier road, later that morning. What do you think?

Moody's Restores Bond Ratings of City, Farms

By Susan McDonald
Just as mysteriously as they were suspended two months ago, the AA bond ratings of The Farms and City were restored last week by Moody's Investment Advisory Service, Inc.

Officials in both cities said they were notified by telephone last week that their bond ratings had been returned to AA standing.

In both communities, Moody's left a simple phone message with office secretaries to the effect the ratings had been restored. No further explanation was offered.

Grosse Pointe officials discovered their ratings had been suspended in mid-March when they heard the announcement over local radio stations. Moody's said at the time that the two communities had not supplied the firm with sufficient information to continue the bond ratings.

City Finance Director Dennis Foran said Moody's requested a payment of $1,650 to restore the rating. But neither city has made any payments to the firm since ratings were dropped.

The firm claimed it had made several requests to City and Farms financial officials for information that had not been filled. Mr. Foran and Carrol Lock, controller of The Farms, both insisted they had filled out and returned the forms sent to them by Moody's.

Moody's provides financial reports on municipalities and industries to brokerage firms and banks throughout the U.S.

About 85 Michigan municipalities in the Detroit area, including Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham as well as the two Pointes, had their bond ratings suspended in mid-March, according to Donald Fichter, director of the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

Mr. Fichter said the commission has not yet been informed of the ratings' restoration. The municipal commission is the state agency that gives final approval to all bond issues.

Poupard Wins In Olympics

Just about everyone from Poupard School's Trainable Mentally Impaired class got involved in the action earlier this month when the Wayne County Special Olympics were held at Edsel Ford High School in Dearborn.

Awards were captured by Wendy Cope, a gold medal in bowling; swimmers Lisa Boyd, silver medal in 50 freestyle, Patty Lane, silver medal in 25 backstroke, Ann Desarmeaux, gold medal in 25 freestyle, and Miss Cope with two bronzes in the 25 freestyle and 25 backstroke.

More honors were won in track and field competition by Marcia Bronikowski, silver medal for softball throw, Karen Costan, bronze medal in 50-yard dash, Susan Mc-Nanney, bronze medal in 50-yard dash, and Ellen Powell, bronze medal in softball throw.

The inspirational athlete award went to Miss Desarmeaux. Top athlete in the county was Miss Cope, who won four gold medals.

The state Olympics will be held Thursday through Saturday, June 1 through 3, at Central Michigan University. Poupard representatives who will travel north to compete will be Miss Boyd, Miss Lane, Miss Cope, Miss Desarmeaux, Mr. Brown, David Pieronek and Miss Powell.

The students are coached by Bernie LeMieux. Their teachers are Sue Mack and City Kopp, assisted by aides Pat Wallace and Dee Hadam.

POINTER PROMOTED

Detroit Bank and Trust has announced the promotion of Farms resident James A. Blean to bank officer status as an assistant cashier. Mr. Blean had been working in the investment department.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Community Development Work!! This is something that every Real Estate Co. in the world should be closely associated. Who better is there to know the signs of property degradation as they appear? And who better to trust when the alarm is sounded?

Well, it isn't easy, and if you scream too loudly the circumstance has a way of pyramiding way out of proportion.

So how does a Real Estate Co. assume its obligation and keep his community "ahead" of par? We at Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. feel it takes a constant alert by every home owner in the City. A community spirit has proven to be the most powerful tool to maintain property values. So we strive to fire up a community interest—to get people involved—to keep them posted on property values. This way the problem signs are obvious to all—and hopefully why. Once this is made aware to all—it's easy to come up with solutions of cure.

This summer Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. is going all out. We have a full time man in charge of our Community Development Program, plus a full time creative designer to help implement some of our "dreams" for Grosse Pointe. Our man in charge needs help—lots of it. If you are a believer of community improvement and are willing to help—call Ed Brink, Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087—he'll enthusiastically tell you of some of our truly fantastic plans for Grosse Pointes' future—which, incidentally, have come from people just like you!

Letters to The Editor of The NEWS

To the Editor: The news of improved reading test scores by pupils in the Grosse Pointe Public Schools is satisfying. Even though test scores are only one index of a youngster's learning experience, they must be reckoned with.

However, there is a danger that this news will lull the community into believing that the school system is moving ahead nicely and divert the attention of parents and others from some serious issues.

Two pieces in last week's NEWS give us a hint of the problems that lie ahead. The decisions are now being made and stands are presently being taken that portend trouble down the road.

The NEWS reported that by a 5-2 vote the Board of Education decided to offer Superintendent Dr. William Coats a five-year contract, extending his term of office through the school year that ends in 1983.

Although the Board has the legal authority to enter into this long-range commitment to Dr. Coats' services, in effect, their action has placed the superintendent outside of the community.

Parents and taxpayers who believe that Dr. Coats' first two years as superintendent were hardly the unqualified success that would justify awarding him the longest contract state law allows, may wonder how well their interests are being represented.

Some who believe that the superintendent should have been obliged to make public a plan for handling the declining enrollments that loom ahead before that action was considered, see the Board of Education assuming an almost prophetic role in envisioning Dr. Coats as the "right" superintendent through 1983.

One wonders what kind of performance-evaluation criteria gave Dr. Coats such a high score that five Board members supported the motion extending his term. One wonders, also, why a majority of Board members should commit a community to their choice of superintendent for a period that extends three years beyond most of their terms of office.

What autonomy can a new generation of Board members exercise when they are locked into a contract developed by their predecessors?

Recently, the citizens of Flint became disenchanted with a superintendent who had just been given a long-term contract by the Board of Education. It cost the taxpayers of Flint $180,000 to buy up the superintendent's unexpired contract time so that they could hire a superintendent more attuned to the evolving needs of their school system. That is a costly price to pay to hold a superintendent accountable.

It should be noted also, that practically speaking, these kinds of contracts are totally one-sided. Although both parties are legally bound by the language of the contract, if the superintendent decides to move elsewhere before the contract has expired, he does so with impunity.

On the other hand, if a new Board decides to change superintendents prior to the expiration of the contract, it must honor its financial obligation to the superintendent who is leaving.

Board members Laurence Harwood and William Fleming should be commended for voting against the contract extension. The other education news that heralds trouble ahead is the joint "Letter to the Editor" submitted by Board candidates John Bruce and Jon Gandelot.

To keep the campaign "positive" and free of "innuendo," they have prepared a letter in which they treat the endorsement of the Grosse Pointe Education Assn. as though it were the plague. The letter is another case of a gratuitous attack on teachers, again exemplifying at the Board of Education level, the very innuendo that the two candidates profess that they wish to avoid.

Do they oppose contributions from the custodians' organization? From the engineers' group or the secretaries? Why must they publicly attempt to demonstrate their own virtue by singling out teachers as a group to be shunned in their election campaigns?

If Grosse Pointe is such a benighted community that a candidate supported by the teachers' association will be perceived by voters as someone who has sold out to teachers' interests, then we need more than higher reading scores to strengthen our education.

If the teachers are such a Macchiavellian group of opportunists that they would not support a candidate who simply expressed a willingness to consider their problems in a fairminded way, our children are in deep trouble.

It is ironic that the kinds of management stands toward teachers which surface occasionally in the NEWS are, historically speaking, precisely the kinds of attitudes that caused teachers to organize in the first place. The sad thing is that these attitudes persuade apolitical teachers, who couldn't care less whether their bargaining organization is a local, a regional or a statewide group, that they must consolidate to safeguard their interests.

An outside arbitrator had to be brought in during the most recent bargaining session to bring together the adversaries in our educational system. Present auspices suggest that the next bargaining session may resemble the siege of Troy.

The reading test scores, when viewed in the context of the larger picture, offer little solace. Sincerely, Henry B. Maloney, Of Hollywood avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods 62 priests of the Augustinian Order and 113 lay members of the faculty have combined their dedication, energy, talent and knowledge in educating 3,000 young men.

Many of these young men who have graduated from Austin presently hold positions of national and international prominence. Their chosen vocations have led them to achieve in the professional world, in industry, in the arts, in athletics, in religious life and most importantly in family life.

Regardless of their position in life, they retain fond memories of the close friendships they made during those high school years with members of their peer group and with many of their teachers. The memories are particularly poignant when they reflect on the lasting influence which Austin has had on their spiritual, educational and social development.

We, the priests and the religious of the Detroit-Grosse Pointe Vicariate, share with the alumni in their reflections. We have been continually impressed over the years with the caliber of faculty at Austin and the caliber of the alumni. Certainly both faculty and alumni have given generously of their time, talent and finance support to the parishes and institutions in this community.

We, the priests and the religious, will miss the friendship and loyalty of the Augustinian priests. They are faith-filled men who have given their lives to educating and to motivating young men to strive for the more important values of life: the values given us by Christ Himself.

We, the priests and the religious, will miss their assistance in pastoral ministry, their parish missions, their days of recollection and above all their counsel when it was sought.

And as we reflect on so many memories, we realize that there is no yardstick that could ever measure the good which the Augustinian priests have done for all of us.

They have always given themselves unselfishly to this community and we pray that (Continued on Page 14)

Gives Reminder on Park Passes Woods Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann reported that citizens should have their park passes validated for the Memorial Day weekend holiday.

"At this time of year, residents often take their park passes and lay them away somewhere in their homes. Come the holiday weekend, they want to enter the park and are not allowed to do so. To gain admittance, the passes have to be validated," he noted. To do this, citizens should go to city hall, 20025 Mack avenue, prior to the big weekend.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools

Partly as a result of a recent accident in one of our schools, and partly because I am impressed by the precautions generally taken by staff members, I wish to discuss safety procedures in our system's physical education classes.

Just how alert are we to protecting students from potential danger?

As a result of our recent investigation, we are reassured that the physical education program is well monitored and that responsible procedures are implemented. A summary of procedures used at the middle school levels follows:

1. Spotters/Catchers: Every effort is made to protect the safety of students using our equipment. The number of spotters depends upon the nature of that equipment. The trampoline, for example, requires the use of from four to six spotters.

2. Mats: Safety mats are provided around each piece of equipment to assist in preventing injury.

3. Instruction: There are several quite legitimate ways in which instruction may be provided prior to using a piece of equipment. These are personal demonstration by the instructor, demonstration by proficient students with accompanying comment by the instructor and filmed demonstrations of technique.

4. Teacher Monitoring of the Classes: As with all instructional programs in the schools, a teacher must supervise an entire class and cannot possibly be everywhere at once. Physical education classes in Grosse Pointe are quite reasonable in size.

5. Accident Reporting Procedures: These procedures are common for all accidents which occur within the school environment. Teachers are required to first consider the welfare of the injured student and to promptly notify the school administration.

Administrators must immediately notify parents and do whatever is necessary for the welfare of the injured student. Following the emergency, the teacher fills out a school system accident report, providing details and naming witnesses.

This is sent to the office of the superintendent.

The central administration has always encouraged and continues to encourage the use of supplementary materials for use in instructional programs. A special budget is available for such purchases and our central Instructional Materials Center arranges any previews of materials requested by teachers.

Physical education instructors generally seem to prefer live demonstrations, possibly because performance techniques frequently change and canned media demonstrations quickly become outdated.

Time for instruction on various pieces of equipment is not prescribed since this obviously varies with the complexity of the exercises performed.

Instructors circulate from group to group after establishing the best possible safety environment and make every effort to prevent accidents.

(Rev.) Peter S. Lentine, Pastor, Saint Philomena Parish, Vicar, Detroit-Grosse Pointe Vicariate

Editor's Note: The Vicariate includes Saint Martin, Saint Philip Neri, Saint John Berchmans, Saint Juliana, Saint Philomena, Saint Matthew, Our Lady Queen of Peace, Saint Ambrose, Our Lady Star of the Sea, Saint Clare of Montefalco, Saint Paul, Bishop Gallagher High School, Dominican High School, Saint John Hospital, Bon Secours Hospital, and Saint Joseph Home.

Austin's last commencement was held Sunday, May 21, at Saint Clare of Montefalco.

To the Editor:

The four Grosse Pointe judges have requested funding from their respective municipalities for the Grosse Pointe Volunteer Probation Program, for the first time in its four years of operation.

We are simply unable to operate such a program any longer without some paid professional assistance.

I am constrained to write this letter because I wish to clear serious misconceptions of this program which were included in an article specifically about the Youth Service Division, (YSD), in the May 18 issue of the "Grosse Pointe News."

1. The courts' probation program is not a duplication of YSD services. As a matter of law, and fact, the Youth Service is an arm of the police. The courts' probation department is an arm of the court.

What has been suggested by the article is that the police who originally charge the offender, and thus believe the offender to be guilty, would then be involved in the sentencing powers of the court by presentence investigation and recommendation of sentence! Incredible and totally unconstitutional.

The municipal courts in the Grosse Pointes will remain independent and impartial and will continue to serve the community with a probation department that is an impartial and professional arm of the court, and independent of any police agency.

Ordination Service Set

William Patrick Hennessy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hennessy of The Woods, will be ordained as a pastor of the American Lutheran Church.

The Service of Ordination is to be celebrated at his home congregation, First English Evangelical Lutheran Church, 800 Vernier road, on Sunday, May 28, at 11 a.m.

Preaching for the worship will be Rev. Harold Goers, pastor of Saint Matthew's Lutheran Church, Washington, D.C., while the Rev. Paul Keppeler, pastor of First English, where Mr. Hennessy has been a member with his family for 20 years, also will participate in the service.

Mr. Hennessy has received a call to be pastor of Saint Peter's Lutheran Church in North Tonawanda, N.Y., where he will be installed on Sunday, June 4. The congregation has a history of nearly 100 years on the Niagara frontier and has a confirmed membership of 195 persons.

After graduating from Grosse Pointe High School in 1967, Mr. Hennessy attended the University of Michigan where he received a Bachelor's degree in general studies.

Upon completing three years of academic work at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Columbus, O., he was granted a Master of Divinity degree in June 1977. During his study, he also served a year of internship at Saint Matthew's Lutheran Church, Washington, D.C.

During the past three months, Mr. Hennessy has been serving on an interim basis at First English Lutheran Church, working with the program for youth and assisting in worship and doing visitation work.

or any other outside influence.

Furthermore, the Youth Service Division or any juvenile program by law has jurisdiction only to age 18. When an offender becomes 17 he is subject to adult criminal process and YSD has no authority over such an offender.

There is no duplication whatsoever of the program requested by the four judges. I am sorry that the citizens of our five communities might have been misled by what they read.

We, as judges, are expected by those who have elected us to conduct our courts with integrity, justice and fairness. We shall do nothing less for this community.

But we need the assistance of the community to fund the program, independent of any police agency, so that we have a proper alternative to jail for the offenders who appear before us from age 17 upward.

I feel sure that our communities when knowing the law and facts will support our program.

Sincerely, Beverly C. Grobbel, Municipal Judge, Municipal Court for the City of Grosse Pointe Park

To the Editor:

I want you to know of a situation that has occurred in my area, relative to mail delivery.

We received no mail delivery on two days of two successive weeks. This is most unusual as we customarily receive mail every day. We subscribe to two papers that are delivered on the days that this occurred, the "Grosse Pointe News" and the "Sandusky Republican."

On April 21 we received the "Grosse Pointe News" a day late, with the balance of our two-day mail delivery. On the 27th, we received no mail again, and never did receive the "Grosse Pointe News." The Sandusky paper has not been received for two weeks.

We called the Grosse Pointe branch of the post office and were told that a substitute was on these days and that all the papers on this delivery were lost. They claimed that an investigation was being made.

I have learned that other pieces of mail were apparently lost to people in our area and at this point I am not sure what may be missing other than what I am aware of.

To me, this seems due to incompetent help, and to one that has always been aware of the penalties incurred by tampering with the mail, I am amazed to learn of the lack of responsibility that has crept into the post office department.

I would like to know what you are doing about the matter. Our regular mailman is very competent and courteous.

Yours truly, David V. Mirku, Of Beaupre road, Grosse Pointe Farms

(Editor's Note: This letter from Mr. Mirku, which is dated Tuesday, May 9, was sent to the U.S. Post Office, Superintendent of Carriers, 1401 West Fort street, Detroit. A copy was sent to the NEWS.

Expressing concern over this report, post office officials indicate around eight complaints have been received regarding such delivery.

One official said at this point there is no investigation because there's nothing to go on. "There's nothing we can do about that incident, as none of the mail has showed up. We have no idea what was lost."

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters, Director of Public Libraries

Most of us, when we think of language, think of our ability to communicate with one another by human speech, but we can and do communicate in many other ways. Few, if any of us, use only one language.

Our public library is filled with language books of all sorts. Some examples are given below.

AMESLAN; AN INTRODUCTION TO SIGN LANGUAGE, (Joyce Motion Picture Co., 1972), by Louie J. Fant Jr. has been reprinted each year since 1972.

Ameslan is an acronym made from the words, American sign language. Ameslan does not follow the English grammatical scheme. It is a wholly different language from English. In its structure, it has more in common with Chinese than English.

This book is not a dictionary of signs. There are around 375 signs covered, and that comprises a small portion of the several thousand signs of Ameslan. The objective of this book is not to teach signs, but rather, how to put signs together the way deaf people do.

The book is not a self-teaching device. You must have a fluent signer demonstrate the signs for you.

Music has been called the universal language. Learning to read the language of music is essential for the student and performer. It also can be a source of increased enjoyment for the intelligent listener.

Robert Lilienfeld, a pianist, composer, choral conductor and teacher of music has written LEARNING TO READ MUSIC, (Funk and Wagnalls, 1976), in an attempt to demonstrate that reading music is neither difficult nor mysterious.

Believing that there is a very large component of the musical ABC's which can be self-taught and, in fact, should be, the author has designed his book as a self-teaching manual of elements of musical notation and music theory.

Anyone who wants to increase the pleasure he derives from music, who wants to write a song, who plans to play a musical instrument, or who plays one by ear and wants to increase his skill, will find LEARNING TO READ MUSIC an invaluable guide and teacher.

Games and sports with a defined set of rules are another form of language.

In 1972, millions of people round the world followed Boris Spassky of the USSR and Robert Fischer of the USA as they played for the World Chess Championship.

in Reykjavik, Iceland. Probably chess is the best-known game in the world. Children as well as adults can learn to play it. The rules are the same the world over.

HOW TO PLAY CHESS, (Hamlyn, 1977), by Kevin Wickes is a new and comprehensive book on the subject. The text is abundantly illustrated with over 140 two-color diagrams, enabling the reader to follow the moves step-by-step. At the end, you should be a competent player, able to enjoy the "Royal Game."

All cultures have evolved or inherited number systems of some sort.

If one wants to study the historical and cultural relationships of numbers and mathematics throughout recorded history the immense work undertaken by the distinguished German scholar Karl Menninger, NUMBER WORDS AND NUMBER SYMBOLS, (MIT Press, 1970), is the best possible book. Originally it was published in Germany in 1958. The book speaks to the language of mathematics that has culturally united the western world. The book is not easy reading but it is well worth reading.

A computer is stupid. If we tell it what to do and how to do it, the computer is fast and accurate. Beyond that, it knows nothing.

The computer age has resulted in a new language that remains a deep, dark secret to most of us, but COMPUTERS MADE REALITY SIMPLE, (Croswell, 1976), by Kent Forter assures us that the language is not impossible to learn; in fact it is easy.

How many languages do you know? Remember the book BODY LANGUAGE, the best seller of a few years ago? Its author Julius Fast wrote that even a shrug of the shoulders was part of a language.

It is not too difficult to tell types of stemware apart. The goblet glass, used for water, is the largest. Models range in capacity from nine to twelve fluid ounces. The sherbet champagne glass, while shallower and shorter than the goblet, is about twice as wide. This glass can be used for dessert dishes such as ice cream or fruit cocktail, as well as for champagne. The cocktail glass is similar to the wine glass, except that it is shorter and has a wider mouth opening. Although the cocktail is served from the bar, it is included by tradition in stemware patterns.

It's a once-in-a-50-year opportunity, and members of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan are making the most of it.

"A Time for Growing," the 49th annual convention of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., will be held this year in Michigan, at the Detroit Plaza Hotel.

Mrs. William Hedley, national president, is coming from Clayton, Mo., to preside.

But the Big Work, and the Big Fun, of the June 4 through 8 gathering of gardeners is in the hands of the hostess state federation.

Pointe's Summer Music Festival Opens June 18

Four Concerts Comprise Summer Series at Grosse Pointe War Memorial; Lawn to Be Opened for Pre-Performance Picnics

By Irene Moran

The traditional Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival will open its 21st season Sunday evening, June 18, at 7:30 o'clock, with the appearance of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Werner Torkanowsky.

The concert will be staged at terrace on the lakeside of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Programmed are the overture to "La Gazza Ladra" by Rossini, Symphony No. 4, A Major, Opus 90 ("Italian") by Mendelssohn, "Der Rosenkavalier" Suite, Opus 59, by R. Strauss and "Estancia" Dances by Ginastera.

In case of rain, the concert will be held in the Performing Arts Center of Grosse Pointe North High School.

Maestro Torkanowsky holds the post of guest conductor and associate to the music director with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

He assumed that position in September of 1977, after serving 14 years as music director and conductor of the New Orleans Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra.

He made his debut as an orchestral conductor with the Minneapolis Symphony, (now Minnesota Orchestra), in 1960. His Detroit Symphony conducting debut was in January of 1961, after which he appeared with the orchestra frequently. This is his Grosse Pointe debut.

Torkanowsky was born in Germany in 1926 and emigrated with his parents to Israel when he was six years old. He received his earliest training from his mother, who was a concert pianist, and later began studying violin with members of the orchestra in Tel Aviv.

In 1948 Torkanowsky arrived in New York to study violin with Raphael Bronstein; from 1954 to 1959, he studied conducting at L'Ecole Montoux.

In 1961, as winner of the coveted Naumberg Award, Torkanowsky made his first guest conducting appearance with the New York Philharmonic.

Since that time he has reached the podiums of most major orchestras in the United States, in France, Spain, Italy, South Africa, Israel, South Africa and England.

He has also conducted performances at festivals such as Ravinia, Aspen, Festivals of Two Worlds in Spoleto, Italy, and the Casals Festival in Mexico.

Plans for the summertime series of four outstanding concerts were announced at a recent festival committee meeting by chairman Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford, of Hillcrest road.

The three remaining concerts will be held on consecutive Wednesday evenings, at 8 o'clock, starting July 5 with a program featuring Cynthia Raim, concert pianist.

Miss Raim is a native of Detroit. Since the age of six her musical accomplishments have gained her much recognition as a young artist.

When only seven she was awarded a scholarship from the Music Study Club of Detroit for studies with Mischa Kottler. She attended Interlochen as a scholarship student both at the National Music Camp and Interlochen Arts Academy.

Her studies continued at the Curtis Institute of Music from which she was graduated in 1977.

She will perform works by Beethoven, Chopin, Prokofiev and Schumann. The con-

Mrs. Sanford commented. "The beautiful lakeside and gardens of the War Memorial make a perfect setting for the festival evenings. We also extend a welcome to our suburban friends to join us."

Assisting Mrs. Sanford with festival duties are Frederic DeHaven, artistic director; Irene Moran, public relations; Mrs. Ralph F. Urso, telephone committee chairman; and Alexander C. Sucek, founder, consultant.

July 12 will feature a banquet of 18th century orchestral music by Detroit Symphony Orchestra members, with Frederic DeHaven conducting.

Mr. DeHaven is known to Grosse Pointers for his work at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, where he holds the post of organist and choir-master.

Among the invitations extended to his choir last season was a performance at Meadowbrook which was very well received.

The past two Grosse Pointe Festival seasons have been headed by DeHaven. His musical background and expertise is reflected for the third time in festival programming under his direction.

He will conduct selections by Bach, Handel, Vivaldi and Mozart. The concert will be held in the Fries Ballroom. July 19 features the Fine Arts Quartet. This American foursome, now in its 32nd year, is internationally acclaimed as one of the top rank ensembles of chamber music.

In the United States, the Quartet has been a major factor in the growing interest in chamber music. Performances on radio, television and in recordings have appealed to a wide public, presenting outstanding concerts of the quartet literature from Haydn to Bartok and beyond.

The Quartet's program will include works by Mozart, Britten and Schubert. The concert will be held in the Fries Ballroom.

Prior to each concert, the War Memorial's grounds will be open at 6 o'clock for picnicking. Guests are welcome to bring their own picnic hamper, thermos and cooler or order picnic box suppers which are available at $3.75 each by prepaid reservation three days in advance.

Picnics will be held in the Ballroom in case of rain. "It will be an exciting and interesting musical summer," Eugene J. Eschaki, Mrs. Robert G. Hartwick, Mrs. Nils R. Johaneson, Dr. and Mrs. John Lesesne, Dr. and Mrs. Kim K. Lie, Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Macdonald, John R. Nicholson, Thomas R. Quilter, III, and Mr. and Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford.

Assisting at the concerts will be War Memorial Auxiliary members Mrs. John H. Stephenson, auxiliary chairman, Mrs. Octave P. Beauvais, Virginia H. Downing, Mrs. Charles Elliott, Mrs. James T. Farley, Mrs. John McNamara and Mrs. William Hurley.

The festival's beginning can well be remembered by many friends who joined to support it, making it into the outstanding musical event it is today.

It was founded in the summer of 1958 by Alexander C. Sucek with the purpose of filling the gap in the musical life of the Grosse Pointe community.

John W. Lake, executive director of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association contributed to the premier planning which has provided War Memorial sponsorship throughout the years.

The first music director was Paul Olefsky, then principal cellist of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. The late Mrs. Frank W. Coolidge organized the first committee to promote the project.

The first series of three concerts was presented outdoors and staged on the front entrance steps of Alger House with the audience seated in the fountain court.

New Leader for Assistance League

MRS. THOMAS SIEBER, (left), will pass her Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center presidential gavel to MRS. DOUGLAS COOKE this morning, at the league's 13th annual meeting and luncheon. The program begins at 10 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe Club. It will be highlighted by the presentation of a check from the Assistance League to DR. ELI RUBIN, director of the NEGC since the league's inception, who will be retiring from the center this summer. In the past 11 years, the league has raised over $200,000 for the center.

Its 300 members volunteered over 13,200 hours, excluding countless hours given by board members and project chairmen, to accumulate approximately $40,000 for the community mental health center this year.

Some of the projects responsible for this profit were the new Santa Haus, a Gold Dust Saloon party, a Millionaires' Party, the Guidance Gazette supplement to the NEWS with its patrons party, a fashion show, bridge benefits, the Happy Hostess Cookbook and the Detroit Auto

Show Charity Preview.

Leaving the board along with Judy Sieber are arrangements chairman Mrs. John (Toni) Stewart, historian Mrs. David (Nancy) Olson and telephone chairman Mrs. Roy (Beverly) Leinweber.

Taking office with Ellen Cooke are Mrs. Anthony (Fran) Pastoria, president-elect; Mrs. Archie (Mary Lou) Grieve, Mrs. Gary (Lisbeth) Oates and Mrs. Murray (Dorothy) Filkin, first, second and third vice-presidents, respectively; Mrs. George (Elaine) Hathaway and Mrs. John (Christine) Eickhorst, recording and corresponding secretaries, respectively; and Mrs. Edwin (Marilyn) Stedem, treasurer.

Standing committee chairmen are Mrs. Robert (Cheryl) Waldeck, arrangements; Mrs. John (Joy) Williams, by-laws; Mrs. Gary (Sue) Switzer, historian; Mrs. Hugh (Sharon) Nelson, program; Mrs. Christopher (Sharyn) Mannino, publicity; Mrs. Michael (Beth) Kastner, records; and Mrs. Norb (Chris) Kreuter, telephone.

The post-luncheon program will feature The Pointe Chorale, a 20-voice choir from Grosse Pointe North High School.

Friends Join Together to Aid Historic Orchestra Hall

Nearly 400 individuals interested in the rebirth, restoration and preservation of one of the world's acoustically perfect concert houses have organized as "Friends for Orchestra Hall," acquiring memberships in categories ranging from $15 to $500 to keep the hall in operation.

The Friends held their first meeting in mid-May at —where else?— Orchestra Hall, Woodward avenue at Parsons street in downtown Detroit.

The idea, according to Paul Ganson, Save Orchestra Hall president, was "to meet each other and learn more about the programs and activities at the hall."

Wine and cheese were served, and the Trio presented a musical program. The evening was designed to put the Friends in a volunteering mood for, according to Renee VanDewater, chairman of volunteers, Orchestra Hall needs help in a wide variety of areas: clerical to research, usher to graphic designer, speaker to building craftsman.

"A great many skills are required to help make Orchestra Hall the vibrant, scintillating place it once was," Mrs. VanDewater noted.

"Of course, one of our main thrusts will be fund raising projects," she added.

The Friends are conducting a mail program, under the supervision of Jack Duquette, fund raising chairman, during May and June. A three-installment "Historic Series" dealing with the Building of Orchestra Hall, its Golden Era as a classical concert hall and the Paradise Theater and Jazz Era is being sent to persons who have demonstrated an interest in the arts.

The series also will be available in installments upon request at the box office.

"What we've tried to do," Mr. Duquette explains, "is to capture some of the magic and the ambience that is so much a part of this great concert hall, distill it into words and let Detroiters know what a wonderful and unusual treasure they have."

The organization of Friends for Orchestra Hall comes at a propitious moment in the Save Orchestra Hall movement. A benefit performance by the Detroit Mormon Concert Choir has been scheduled for tomorrow, Friday, May 26.

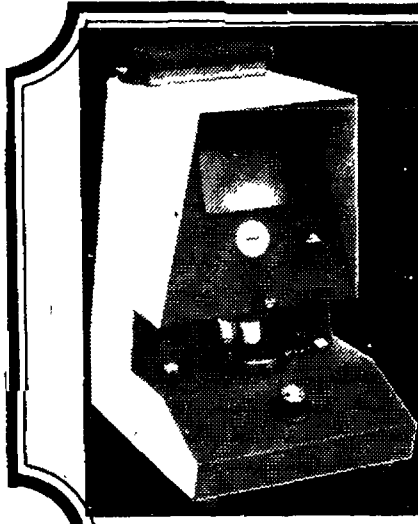

Thanks to this benefit, and several sizeable corporate gifts from the Bendix Corporation, the Burroughs Corporation, the Ford Motor Company Fund and BASF Wyandotte Corporation, Sandor Kallai, Orchestra Hall's executive director, has been able to contract for the restoration of the side-walls to begin before this summer.

"This restoration marks the first truly major aesthetic improvement strictly for the benefit of audiences attending concerts at the hall since the Gordy Foundation helped with restoration of the oval lobby ceiling and the chandelier," Mr. Kallai observed.

"It should add immeasurably to the beauty of the hall and the pleasure of audiences attending events."

The second annual Rent Party has been set for Friday, June 16. The rent party idea was born in the 30's, when Depression Era folks invited neighbors "in" for a party.

Jazz musicians of the period often entertained, and a small charge would be levied for the refreshments, enabling the host to pay the rent and other expenses.

Appoint Peggy McBride As Alpha Phi Governor

Pointer Margaret M. McBride has been reappointed to a two-year term as district governor of Alpha Phi International Fraternity, Inc. one of the oldest social sororities for women, founded in 1872 at New York's Syracuse University.

Peggy works, in her position, with collegiate chapters of Alpha Phi at Michigan State and Western Michigan Universities, the University of Michigan and Adrian College.

She visits each of these chapters at least once a year to review their programs and policies.

She plans district leadership schools for collegians and their advisers and organizes district workshops for specific problem areas.

The wine industry owes a lot to the church. Many of the earliest and still best known vineyards were run by the monks in their monasteries throughout France. It was a monk who developed the process and ingredients that made sparkling wines, better known as champagne, possible. In the United States, the Franciscan monks planted missions and vineyards all the way from Mexico through California. They used cuttings from grapes that had been brought to Mexico on Spanish galleons. These mission grapes may not have made the best wines, but they were planted on some of the best grape growing land in the U.S. All that was needed and was eventually found was the proper grape.

And for the proper wine for every occasion, see us at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair. 885-0626; we will be happy to advise you in selecting the right wine for your needs, taste and budget. Goodman Pierce Inc.

ONE OF POINTE'S FINEST
Possibly the most elegant home available in the Grosse Pointes. There are many well decorated homes in the Pointes, but the owners of this home have gone far beyond beautiful decorating, they have spent thousands of dollars updating the electrical and plumbing. A new furnace was installed with electrical controls allowing emergency back-up use of the rebuilt original furnace. The pumps and filtering equipment for the Olympic sized pool has been completely refurbished. Very few people today can afford homes such as this one, but those who can will have peace of mind knowing not only is their home beautiful of appearance, but also structurally sound for many years to come.

CUL-DE-SAC

We are continually asked about homes on cul-de-sacs! Well we have found one—a newly decorated three bedroom, 2 bath ranch featuring a large living room with natural fireplace and a picture window that overlooks a beautifully maintained private cul-de-sac, a two car attached garage and large side yard.

The good ones do reach the market through Grosse Pointe Real Estate Board member firms. For instance if you were looking for a charming house with a private lake-front park on a dead-end street, it came on the market Wednesday and we sold it that day. ALL Grosse Pointe Real Estate Board member firms know the house was for sale. We listed it and sold it to one of our customers. It's That Time Of The Year...

When many important decisions are being made, such as:
Are we properly prepared for those final exams?
Is this the year to have that operation . . . to redo the garden . . . to buy the boat or new car . . . paint our house . . . take that special vacation . . . send the children to camp . . . deciding on which college next year . . . to sell our house and buy the one we'd really enjoy more?

Whatever decisions you're confronted with — it's "selling your house and/or buying a home" . . . We strongly suggest, it's time to take the guesswork out of your decisions and rely on a professional real estate firm . . . if you want to maximize your results!

After all, would you want to go to a doctor, lawyer, or dentist who was spending his time attempting to sell his house instead of attending to your requirements, which he was trained for but didn't have time to accommodate your immediate problem because he was busy playing at the real estate business.

It's time for you to know that we don't practice medicine, dentistry, law, insurance, etc. . . . we just practice real estate. We'll get the job done for you . . . in a safer way, in a way that you can trust. Call us! We'll give you our time and reliability.

222 Merriweather Road — Open Saturday 2-5

This outstanding custom-built, one owner home has a total of 6 bedrooms, 4-1/2 baths, library, garden room, games room, etc. . . . even a master bedroom (24'6"x14') with fireplace. The perfect home for those who wish to live in one of those "One-of-a-Kind" homes

KEVIN CONLEY AND JANET PETERS, STUDENT CO-CHAIRMAN OF THE 1978 UNIVERSITY LIGGETT SCHOOL FAIR

By Ann Wallace

Fun! Fun! and more Fun! That is the plan for the University Liggett School Fair scheduled for Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3, at the school's Cook road campus. But don't be deceived. The day of the fair is not the only time for fun. The many hours spent by ULS students in preparation for the fair were fun in themselves.

Another — and very important — measure of success is the amount of funds that are raised by the fair.

Student co-chairmen Janet Peters and Kevin Conley emphasize that without these funds, the tuition at the school would be much higher. "Many scholarships also are made available," notes Kevin, "which enable more students to attend ULS."

It All Takes Time
"We started making plans for this year's fair this past January and February," explains Janet, "with the kick-off for prize ticket sales March 15 in the lower school and March 16 in the middle school."

"After our spring break, we began the ticket sales April 5 in the upper school. In the lower and middle school, there is much competition from room to room and person to person for the greatest amount of ticket sales."

"There are incentives given such as ice cream parties, trophies and tickets to some sporting events," Kevin continues, "so lower and middle student enthusiasm is very strong."

"While there also is enthusiasm among the students for the ticket sales in the upper school, their greatest effort lies in the 'manpower' segment of the fair."

Manpower is the number of people used to organize and physically run the fair. They set up booths and carry everything that one can imagine, literally from "soup to nuts," with maybe a few hamburgers here and there.

"Our manpower co-chairmen, Jeff Skau, Letty Kuhnlein, both juniors, and Stacy Mizers and John Ottaway, sophomores, have been busy at work for months organizing students to perform certain tasks," notes Kevin.

"They have to be able to judge a person's ability and place him or her in the job that best suits his/her personality. Certain people like to be included in the 'security' force. Others are especially suited to working with the very small children."

"So the manpower chairmen have quite a job matching up their workers," continues Kevin, "but they really do a very good job. I worked in manpower when I was in the 10th grade, and while it was a big job I enjoyed it very much."

Both Janet and Kevin are seniors and the fair is their senior project. They began working full time on the fair Monday, May 8, as their formal classes ended Friday, May 5.

Are Many Projects
There are many senior projects in which the students may be involved," explains Janet, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Peters, of Warner

Nino Of Robert's Place Says... "Beautiful hair has special effects. Natural hair is never one color. Let us redo your style and dimensional coloring on natural or tinted hair. Consult with us." Robert's Place, upstairs at Walton-Pierce in the Village... 886-4130.

Martha of Martha's Closet suggests you update your wardrobe from her new collection of rope and silk braided belts. One size fits all... and they are perfect over shirtdresses or over tunic blouses... come in and see Martha's collection of suburban to country sportswear. Our new Ciaokhaki skirts with coordinating tops and our Jamispant sundresses have just arrived. Great prices! 375 Fisher Road.

with the addition of the water under pressure, the weight is just tremendous."

Change in Set-up
This year, there is a change in the set-up of the booths. All of them will be outside, under tents. Nothing will be inside the hockey rink, as was the case last year.

So when the gates open Friday afternoon, June 2, at 4 o'clock, the visitor will be greeted by a sea of tents, all housing special treats, some edible and some playable.

The midway, of course, is not covered, as might be expected to be some mighty big tents to cover the "merry-go-round" or the "zipper."

The Friday, June 2, hours for the fair will be 4 to 10 o'clock in the evening. Saturday, June 3, the fair opens at 10 o'clock. It closes that evening at 10. There will be an admission charge.

Janet, who is 18 years old, has been a ULS student since she was three, when she was enrolled in the pre-kindergarten classes. So she has seen many fairs in her years.

Her favorite courses include English and creative writing—especially the short story. She also enjoys art classes and is looking forward to developing her interests at Regis College, located in Denver, Colo.

Would Love To Teach
"I would like to teach art to young children," notes Janet. "I love English but I may decide to major in art in college."

"I have enjoyed sports at ULS very much and have played field hockey and lacrosse. Other sports I especially enjoy are skindiving and skiing. When I graduate, June 6, I plan to go Banff in Southwest Alberta, Canada, to ski. That should be really great."

Kevin is planning to spend the month of July in France. He is the winner of a scholarship given by the Alliance Francaise of Grosse Pointe which will provide him with room and board, transportation and a stipend enabling him to study at the Alliance school in Paris.

"That trip should be a very fine experience," exclaims Kevin, "and it should be a very interesting summer."

When I return, I am planning to go to Manitoulin Island, the largest island in Lake Huron, and just sit and fish for awhile.

Goes To Yale
"Then I will be preparing to attend Yale University, where I will study the classics, English, and Latin, which is my favorite language."

"Acting in the plays at ULS," continues Kevin, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Glynn Conley, of Three Mile drive, "has given me much pleasure. I have acted in seven plays, both comedies and dramas, but not musicals."

"As far as sports are concerned, football and track have been favorites. I have been a ULS student for four years and my family has been much involved in the school. My father was an English teacher in the upper school and my brother, Glynn, now is a fourth grade teacher in the lower school and is a varsity football coach."

The scholarship fair began in 1951 at Grosse Pointe University School, prior to the G.P.U.S.-Liggett merger.

Its success over the years has resulted from all the enthusiasm and the cohesiveness involved in its planning. This year isn't any different. The enthusiasm is tremendous! The fair will be a big success!

Culminating it all Wednesday evening, June 7, will be presentation of the National Gold Seal award to a single, outstanding individual.

Speaking of Outstanding Individuals...

... how about Lee Ann McCarthy, the Volunteer Action Center of United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit's "Volunteer of the Month" for May?

Lee Ann began supervising the Fontbonne Auxiliary of Saint John Hospital's Puppet Project in the fall of 1976.

It was a challenging commitment, for the group was pledged to produce 200 puppets, a week.

The project has succeeded beyond anyone's expectations. The Fontbonne Puppet People have not only been able to provide a pleasant diversion for Saint John's pediatric patients, ages two through eight, but have been able to donate 300 puppets to Children's Hospital of Michigan, 100 each to Bon Secours and Holy Cross at Christmas time.

Plans are underway to continue this sharing at other holidays during the year.

"Lee Ann spends many outside hours recruiting, begging for materials, sewing machines and other items necessary to do the job," notes Virginia M. Douglas, director of volunteers at Saint John, "and she has many groups outside the hospital — Girl Scouts, church and retiree groups — involved as well."

Her enthusiasm, leadership and rapport with the volunteers are major factors in the Puppet Project's success.

Mrs. McCarthy is a former school teacher. She and her husband, Thomas, are the parents of four.

So Lee Ann knows children—and knows that to be separated from parents for a hospital stay can be a strange and sometimes frightening experience for a young child.

It helps to have a friend, and friends are what the Fontbonne Puppets are: magic mites who help to cushion the hurt and dry the tears, a "nice" part of being in the hospital.

Included among Bachelor of Science degree candidates at Miami University, Oxford, is THOMAS F. SCHERR, who majored in Applied Science. daughter of MRS. ANTHONY BOZICH, of North Brys drive, has been initiated into Phi Theta Kappa national honor society, at Marymount College of Virginia, Arlington, where she is a freshman majoring in Nursing.
