HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, July 6

TORNADOES STRUCK two small towns in Minnesota and North Dakota, killing at least eight persons. Gary, Minn., and Elgin, N.D., were left in ruins by the twisters that struck early Wednesday morning. In other news, Israeli officials immediately labeled Egypt's new hard-line peace proposal "stubborn and unacceptable." Egypt's plan calls for Israeli withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and the West Bank of the Jordan River.

Friday, July 7

ISRAEL WARNED that it may enter the conflict in Lebanon if the Syrians do not end their "massacre" of rightist Christians there. To emphasize their point, the Israelis sent seven jet warplanes over the embattled capital city of Beirut. Meanwhile, Lebanese President Elias Sarkis threatened to resign if peace was not made soon between the two parties. In the sixth day of the Syrian siege, rockets set afire the Christian half of the city.

Saturday, July 8

UNEMPLOYMENT HIT a four-year low during June, down to 5.7 percent, but inflation worsened with a 0.7 percent increase during the month. Over the past 18-month period, the unemployment rate has declined steadily, so that it has now surpassed the Carter administration's year-end goal of 5.9 percent. However, the high employment rate for June is due mostly to white teenagers finding summer jobs. Food prices, meanwhile, suffered the highest increase: up 1.1 percent during the month.

Sunday, July 9

THE UNITED STATES, in a protest to the Soviet Union's treatment of dissidents, called off a planned trip to Moscow by President Jimmy Carter's chief science advisor. Secretary of State Cyrus Vance said he still plans to go to Geneva next week for talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko aimed at arms limitation. Two leading Jewish dissidents are to go on trial Monday. One is accused of treason and the other is charged with "anti-Soviet agitation and propaganda."

Monday, July 10

ISRAELI PRIME Minister Menachem Begin, answering Egypt's warning that failure of the upcoming Middle East peace talks could lead to a "dangerous situation," said yesterday that Israel is prepared to "rout its enemies." He said, "If they attack us, the nation will rout its enemies" at a rally in the Israeli coastal town of Yavne, only hours after the Israeli cabinet rejected the latest peace proposal from Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

Tuesday, July 11

SECRETARY OF STATE Cyrus Vance Monday defended his coming talks with Soviet officials as a way to prevent "mutual annihilation." But Mr. Vance said relations with the Soviet Union have been aggravated by the Russians' ill treatment of dissidents. He stated arms control negotiations that he will carry on in Geneva with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko beginning Wednesday should not be linked with other elements of Soviet-American relations.

DOCTOR HONORED

Dr. Louis C. Barbaglia of South Oxford road has been named the first president of the medical staff at the Samaritan Health Center, which was formed after the merger of Evangelical Deaconess and Saint Joseph Mercy Hospitals. Dr. Barbaglia also serves on the center's board of directors and is vice-chief of surgery.

Man Killed In Woods Accident

Detroit Dies Seven Hours after Auto Mishap at Intersection of Marter, Roslyn Roads

A 71-year-old Detroit man, who suffered multiple injuries after being involved in an automobile accident at Marter and Roslyn roads Sunday afternoon, July 2, died around seven hours later at Saint John Hospital, reported Woods police.

The victim, Mike Piotrowski, died in the intensive care unit, according to the hospital.

Police reported that Mr. Piotrowski and his wife, Viola, 72, a passenger, were driving westbound on Roslyn and failed to yield the right-of-way from the stop sign at the intersection of Marter.

Normal Procedure
His car was then struck by an auto traveling northbound along Marter. After impact, the vehicles ended up in the northwest corner of the intersection on the property of a Roslyn road citizen with a chain fence, four shrubs and a tree on city property being damaged.

The hospital reported Mrs. Piotrowski was treated for several rib fractures and released, while Ann Marie Baccala, 22, of Centerbrook (Continued on Page 6)

Cat Burglar Slips In, Out Of Homes in Park, Farms

Park and Farms police are looking for a man they believe is responsible for 12 breaking and enterings which have occurred in the cities since Wednesday, June 21.

The unusually bold "cat" burglar has actually broken into homes while he was being chased, police said.

Seven break-ins were reported to Park police between June 21 and Tuesday, July 4. In addition, one unconfirmed report of a break-in was received, and another break-in was reported on the Detroit side of Barrington road. Meanwhile, one attempted entry was made in Audubon road.

The cat burglar then apparently went to The Farms, where five break-ins and enterings have been reported to police since Saturday, July

GP Theater Announces New Season, Presents Production Awards

'King and I' Opens Group's 31st Year in October, Followed by Variety of Offerings; 'Clarences' Given in Acting, Directing, Technical Aspects of Performance

"The King and I," the enchanting Rodgers and Hammerstein musical which is currently enjoying a successful Broadway revival, will herald Grosse Pointe Theater's, (GPT), 31st season this fall.

As announced by president Dale Pegg of Fairholme road, this popular musical, which will open the season October 25 through November 4 at Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road, reverses a long-standing custom of having the big musical at the conclusion of the season.

Mr. Pegg's announcement of the 1978-79 season came at the close of GPT's 22nd annual "Clarence" award festivities Saturday evening, July 8, at the Detroit Athletic Club.

"Becket" Winners
Mary Lou Mantho of Edgemont park, retiring vice-president and social chairman of GPT, presided over the event.

Following cocktails and dinner, master of ceremonies Tom Kern of Mount Clemens introduced "Clarence" presenters who awarded the gold statuettes to winners voted upon by the membership and by GPT's awards committee. Acting and directing awards were tabulated by Park Mayor Matthew C. Patterson.

Awards for "Becket" were received by Mary Lou Johnson of St. Clair Shores, sound; Patricia Thompson of Oxford road, stage manager; Fran Downs of Blairmoor court and Lois Constant of Trombley road, costumes; Maril Witt of Yorkshire road, non-featured actress, (Saxon girl); Robert McKenna of Nottingham road, featured actor, (Archbishop); and William Clyne of Detroit, lead actor, (Thomas Becket).

Many Others Cited
Don Ross of Warren received the make up award for the clown faces in "Stop The World, I Want to Get Off."

Dennis and Olivia Wickline of Moross road, Detroit, received, respectively, director and producer "Clarences" for "How The Other Half Loves." Ginny Bowen of Whittier road, (set dressing), Marge Chesnick and Sandra Phelan both of Warren, (properties), and Arthur Thompson of Oxford road, (set design), also won awards for this production. Donna DiSante of Harper Woods was named best supporting actress for the role of Mary Detweiler.

Awards for "Hello, Dolly" were won in the technical areas by Charles Sator of St. Clair Shores, (lighting), David McDonald of Hamtramck, (vocal and musical) (Continued on Page 6)

The winning team from eight district qualifying tournaments throughout the state and the host team, The Farms City, will vie for the state title.

City Views Ambulance Agreement

Council to Consider Proposed Pact in Which Park Would Provide Emergency Service

By Susan McDonald

City residents will soon rely on the Park Fire Department to provide emergency medical treatment and transportation to local hospitals pending approval next week of an agreement between the two communities.

The City Council will discuss the agreement at its Monday, July 17, meeting and determine what charge, if any, to pass along to residents for ambulance service.

The Park Council approved the pact along with a charge of $50 per run at its Monday, June 26, meeting.

If approved, The Park will begin responding to City calls on Monday, July 24.

Offers Backup
City Public Safety Director Bruce Kennedy said the new arrangement will only slightly increase the time it takes to respond to an emergency call.

Requests for the service should still be directed to the City Police Department, which will then contact The Park department, which will, in turn, dispatch a vehicle.

City police will provide backup service on most calls, Director Kennedy said.

The City Council announced last April it would discontinue its ambulance service because new state regulations would make it too costly to provide.

Pointe Hosts Ruth Tourney

The 1978 Michigan Babe Ruth state tournament will be held in The Farms July 22 through 28. All-star teams of 14- and 15-year-old players from the state will compete in the double elimination tournament.

The winning team from eight district qualifying tournaments throughout the state and the host team, The Farms City, will vie for the state title.

All games will be played at Kerby Field located near Mack avenue and Moross road. The opening contest

GPF Council, Citizens View Old Question

Divergent Views Expressed on Fate of Lakeview Avenue with Residents Scheduled to Work Out Differences; No Action Taken by Solons at This Time

By David Kramer

An estimated 20 to 25 residents showed up to hear the Farms Council on Monday, July 10, address itself to the fate of Lakeview avenue between Carver and Mary streets.

Once again the residents of the vicinity expressed sharply divergent views on what should be done with the dirt road. All were in agreement that something should be done, however.

Although two council members, W. James Mast and Jack Cudlip, expressed interest in taking immediate action on the problem, which they indicated would be in the form of paving and lighting the street, the council decided to take no action on the issue.

"Spinning Our Wheels"
"This is the council's responsibility. The residents are too divided," said Mr. Mast. "I've been listening to this thing for nine years now."

Mayor James Dingeman said that the problem "keeps cropping up like a case of acne — we just can't get rid of it. Barring some very high degree of consensus of opinion, I think we're just spinning our wheels."

Specifically, the council viewed a petition signed by 15 area residents requesting the closing of the street. However, a number of residents, chiefly those on Moross road whose back lots abut the street, were opposed to any such solution, opting instead to pave, light and maintain it.

A number of residents complained about the condition of the street and the fact that it seemed to be a convenient place for people to loiter and park illegally.

"The beer cans are unbearable," said one Carver road resident. "The street is a mess."

The resident also asked why the cost of paving had never been presented to the residents of the street.

Solicitations Law Tabled

The Woods Council at its rescheduled regular meeting Monday, July 10, unanimously tabled any action on a proposed ordinance governing solicitations which has caused some concern among representatives of various organizations.

This action was taken because of the absence of City Attorney George Catlin.

The proposal is now scheduled to be considered at its second reading and final adoption stage on Monday, August 7.

Pointer Named Director Of Probation Program

By David Kramer

Mrs. Suzanne O'Shea has been named director of the Grosse Pointe Volunteer Probation Program. It was announced by City Municipal Judge Stan Kazul on Tuesday, July 11.

Mrs. O'Shea, a resident of The Pointe, has a total of 19 years experience as a probation officer. Most recently, she has worked for the Macomb County Probation Program for the past seven years.

Judge Kazul said he expected the contract would be signed with Mrs. O'Shea this week for the 20 hour a-week position.

She holds a BA degree from the University of Illinois and is presently taking

Harwood Selected President

Trustees Name William Fleming Vice-President; Special Meeting Set July 17 to View Voucher System, SHS Bond Issue

By Susan McDonald

Laurance Harwood, retired Bell Telephone executive who often calls himself the "senior citizens' representative" on the Board of Education, was elected president of the group for the 1978-79 school year on Monday, July 10.

Uniting Board members "so we can act as a team to accomplish our goals" will be the new president's major task during the year, Mr. Harwood said.

He was elected to the post by a 5-2 vote, with Trustees William Huetteman and Robert Warner casting their ballots for Mr. Huetteman as president.

Will Work Together
Mr. Harwood is beginning his sixth year on the Board and has served as its secretary, treasurer and vice-president.

Other officers elected at the Board's annual organizational meeting Monday were William Fleming as vice-president and Ann Ardussi as secretary. The Board's newest member, Jon C. Gandelot, was elected treasurer after both Mr. Huetteman and Mr. Warner rejected the post. Both men said they were too busy with business obligations to accept the treasurer's job.

On the election, Mr. Huetteman explained, "I consider the office of president very important," while adding he attaches less significance to the treasurer's post.

Mr. Gandelot accepted the job of treasurer just minutes after taking the oath of office. He was elected to the Board with about 70 percent of the vote in a contest with incumbent president John Bruce on June 12.

He had conducted an aggressive campaign for the post, challenging recent Board decisions to issue bonds without a vote of taxpayers, excessive administrative spending, oversized classrooms and what he called "sledge hammer" tactics against teachers.

After taking the oath Monday, Mr. Gandelot promised to work together with fellow trustees to improve the schools.

Attorneys Selected
"I worked hard to get this job... and I realize the hard work has really just begun," he said. "We may disagree with each other on many issues but I hope they will be (Continued on Page 2)

St. Paul Work To Begin Soon

Repair work to Saint Paul's on-the-Lake Church should begin soon, says Msgr. Francis Canfield, pastor of the church.

Meetings have been held with representatives of the Archdiocesan building commission but Msgr. Canfield said, "I think it will be another week or so before any definite decisions are made." The builder of the pipe organ in the church, Craig Nelson, has examined the instrument and has determined that damage will amount to $1,500 to $2,000, he said.

"One of the problems will be to protect the organ during roof repairs from dust and debris," noted Msgr. Canfield.

The church's slate roof and plaster false ceiling were heavily damaged in a fire on June 9. Original estimates for repairs were from $300,000 to $500,000, with six to eight months given as time for the work. The blaze was blamed on faulty wiring classes at Wayne State University toward a Masters in clinical psychology. Judge Kazul said she intends to gain a PhD in that field.

Mrs. O'Shea was a Detroit policewoman for three years. She then worked as a probation officer for Recorders Court for a period of 12 years before taking her present position with Macomb County.

In other news concerning the probation program, Judge Kazul said that Woods Judge J. Patrick Denis is scheduled to appear before the Woods Council on Monday, July 17, with another request for that city's share of $9,312.50 for the program's 1978-79 $25,000 operating (Continued on Page 8)

Old Question Viewed in Farms

City Manager Andrew Bremer said that figures had, in fact, been drawn up in 1975, showing a cost at that time of approximately $31,000. He guessed that the price today would be somewhere in the neighborhood of $50,000.

In the event the street was paved, the property owners whose land abuts the street would bear the cost by way of a special assessment. Mr. Bremer pointed out that if the street were closed, property assessments would increase, although not substantially.

Injunction Issued
In response to queries from citizens as to why the city had done little to maintain the road, Mr. Bremer replied, "It was the consensus of the people that it not be improved. It was felt that improving it would make it an attractive place to increase speed."

He added, however, that something should be done with the street. "It's an attractive nuisance right now,"

Plead Guilty To R/A Charge

Two Detroit men pled guilty to charges of robbery armed, (R/A), and the commission of a felony with a firearm late last month before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles Kaufman stemming from the hold-up of the Onassis Coney Island, 20760 Mack avenue, shortly after midnight on May 29, reported Woods Det. Charles Philip Hamel.

With this action, both Ricky Cohen, 26, of Mayberry and Goodman Johnson Jr., 27, of East Vernor are scheduled to be sentenced on Thursday, July 27.

Police said the men terrorized employes and customers and escaped with an estimated $800 in cash and some personal belongings of restaurant occupants. They were arrested a short time later by Park police.

They were stopped, after Woods police broadcast a description of the wanted vehicle and the suspects, by Park Officers Howard Carl and Timothy Mink at Devonshire and Brunswick.

Both also are under investigation by Detroit police for allegedly abducting a woman in Detroit prior to the robbery for the use of her car.

Hill Merchants Request Plan

A tree planting and beautification program for the On-the-Hill business district is currently being drawn up by David W. Schervish and Associates, landscape architects.

Mr. Schervish said the plan, which was requested by the Hill Merchants Ass'n. at a Wednesday, June 28, meeting, will make use of all the open areas On-the-Hill which are in need of some plantings. The plan calls for both trees and flowers to be planted.

In other action taken by the association at its meeting, officers for the 1978-79 year were elected.

Chosen as president was Frank Sladen of The Book Shelf. Elected vice-president was Mike Burns of W. M. Burns Furniture, while Pat Reynolds of The League Shop was chosen treasurer. Bill Adamo of the NEWS was named secretary.

Assessment of dues also was agreed upon by members. Retailers will be charged $25 per month dues, all non-retail stores with store front buildings, $10, and all other businesses, $5.

honest differences of opinion, not petty quarrels."

Other actions taken by the trustees Monday included the re-appointment of the firm of Hill, Lewis, Adams, Goodrich and Tait as attorneys for the system. The Board also renewed its membership with Michigan High School Athletic Ass'n. and the Metropolitan Detroit Bureau of School Studies.

Action on major annual financial items—such as designating banks and taking some $8.5 million in tax anticipation notes—was postponed until a special meeting Monday, July 17, because of a scheduling change made by the Municipal Finance Commission.

The trustees plan to take action on those matters along with a discussion on the voucher system, (no action was taken on the 10th), and the issuance of bonds to finance a $2 million building project at South High School. The meeting will be held at 389 St. Clair avenue at 8 p.m.

CABLE SYSTEM PROVIDES LINK
After a futile attempt in 1858 to establish trans-Atlantic communication via cables, a new cable system was laid and completed July 27, 1866, finally linking the United States and European nations. Portions of both the 1858 and 1866 cables are on exhibit at Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, along with the massive cable-sheathing machine used in the 1866 venture.

Seniors' Group Boosts Flyers

The senior citizens group which meets twice a month at North High School unanimously voted to expend $225 to cover printing costs of an estimated 6,500 flyers on the housing question at Ghesquiere Park, which Woods voters will consider as an advisory proposition during the August 8 primary election, reported Senior Citizens Commission housing chairman Audrey Dolgner.

After the decision was reached on Thursday, July 6, on the expenditure of the monies, donated over a period of time for coffee, trips, et al., Mrs. Dolgner stated contributions are being sought for printing, (and if monies are obtained, the funds will be returned to the seniors' group), and for postage.

The content of the flyers, which will feature a diagram showing the location of the proposed complex at the park, is currently being prepared.

Mrs. Dolgner indicated the flyers will be mailed at the end of July so they will arrive at every home a few days before the election.

The commission sought assistance from the seniors' group after the council unanimously denied the expenditure of approximately $500, (allocated for surveys and questionnaires in the commission's 1977-78 budget), to cover costs of printing and mailing the flyers to all Woods seniors.

Based upon the advice of City Attorney George Catlin,

The Board of Education accepted some $12,000 in gifts from parents' clubs at Defer, Mason and South High Schools at its Monday, June 26, meeting.

Under the School Board policy formulated three years ago, the trustees must grant approval to any gift from a parent's group that is over $500.

The South High Mothers Club donated $8,785 to the school for a number of enrichment programs and for purchase of equipment to be used by students.

The mothers will sponsor a three-day Civil War program at South next year, as well as speakers on classical architecture, music, photography and the art of mime. In addition, they will purchase about $6,700 in copy, audio-visual and filmstrip equipment for students.

South High dads will donate $700 to buy a softball pitching machine for use by the girls softball team and by gym classes.

The Defer PTO plans to purchase a new sound system for the gymnasium with its $960 gift.

At Mason School, the $1,500 gift from the PTO will buy books, shelves and carpeting for a new Adventure Reading Room.

Trustee Joan Hanpeter expressed some concern at the meeting about Board standards for accepting gifts.

She said that many of the donations were for the type of equipment and programs that are covered in the total school budget for other schools.

Mrs. Hanpeter said she would like to see a documented policy statement that would delineate those programs and types of equipment that are normally supplied by the Board, and those that could be purchased by parents' groups.

Stress Eyed In Seminar

Cost for this program is $10 per individual. However, to encourage husbands and wives to participate, a special price of $10 per couple is offered.

This is the total cost for the two-day session, which will include a written Stress, (Experience), Test, various nationally produced films on coping with stress, relaxation skills, exercises, diaphragmatic breathing and a number of suggestions and experiences, as well as literature on how to effectively handle stress in your daily life.

Kindergarten Course Slated

The War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, is planning a kindergarten readiness course for children who will be entering kindergarten this fall.

Mrs. Ronna York is the instructor. She has her MA in elementary education and was formerly associated with the Grosse Pointe School System.

The course will be held Mondays through Fridays from July 24 through August 18 from 9 to 11:00 a.m. The fee is $80 for the four weeks.

Park Fund Grants Hinge On Survey of Entire City

By James J. Njaln

The Park must fully complete an implementation cost survey of the Three Mile Drive Park and the Windmill Pointe Park, plus a land and housing survey of the entire city, before it can apply for state or federal government grants to pay for half the costs of development and improvements, said City Manager John Crawford on Thursday, July 6.

Improvements must include the development and expansion of the parking lot in the Windmill Pointe Park and the large parking lot owned by the city and located in Detroit.

John Stevens Associates, city architects, the firm which has been selected to do the study, was asked to first submit its fee for the entire survey.

The firm last fall drew up plans for the repair, improvement and expansion of the marina at the Windmill Pointe Park, supervising the contractors' work. The marina was ready for use when the park was officially opened on this Memorial Day.

Mr. Crawford said it cannot be determined whether or not the funding will be approved. Plans which were approved three years ago by the Park Planning Commission were submitted to the Park Council two weeks ago.

These plans included only the proposed improvement and development of the Three Mile Drive Park toward realizing its full recreation potential.

The city manager said these same plans must be brought fully up to date, with additional changes made. Now, the city is required to make a complete implementation survey of all recreational facilities, plus a survey of housing and land, which must be entirely completed before it can apply for grants from the state and for federal government to pay half the costs. The city would put up matching funds.

Mr. Crawford said, at this stage, it is premature to determine whether or not grants will be approved by the state, even if the architects complete their survey.

However, once the study is completed, it will be presented to the Planning Commission for its approval, and then forwarded to the council for final determination.

Then the applications will be submitted to the state and/or federal government for the grants.

Board Accepts Parents' Gifts

The Board of Education accepted some $12,000 in gifts from parents' clubs at Defer, Mason and South High Schools at its Monday, June 26, meeting.

Under the School Board policy formulated three years ago, the trustees must grant approval to any gift from a parent's group that is over $500.

The South High Mothers Club donated $8,785 to the school for a number of enrichment programs and for purchase of equipment to be used by students.

The mothers will sponsor a three-day Civil War program at South next year, as well as speakers on classical architecture, music, photography and the art of mime. In addition, they will purchase about $6,700 in copy, audio-visual and filmstrip equipment for students.

South High dads will donate $700 to buy a softball pitching machine for use by the girls softball team and by gym classes.

The Defer PTO plans to purchase a new sound system for the gymnasium with its $960 gift.

At Mason School, the $1,500 gift from the PTO will buy books, shelves and carpeting for a new Adventure Reading Room.

Trustee Joan Hanpeter expressed some concern at the meeting about Board standards for accepting gifts.

She said that many of the donations were for the type of equipment and programs that are covered in the total school budget for other schools.

Mrs. Hanpeter said she would like to see a documented policy statement that would delineate those programs and types of equipment that are normally supplied by the Board, and those that could be purchased by parents' groups.

Signs Erected In Brys Area

Two more traffic signs have been installed in the Brys drive-Mack avenue area, making a total of eight signs in the immediate vicinity.

Both signs say "Turn Left Only" with one being placed at the northwest corner of Brys and Mack and the other at the northwest corner of Roslyn road and Mack.

The visuals were installed as an added step toward reducing through traffic along Brys.

"The signs will assist motorists making turning movement from northbound Mack, indicating they will have to turn onto southbound Mack," noted Woods Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook.

Wine Lines

by John Lundberg

The quality of a wine in a given year depends on the amount of sunlight the grapes have gotten. Grapes are ripe when the proper balance of sugar and acid is present. Usually there are more good vintage years for white wines than there are for reds because the grapes used in making red wines have to be more exactly ripe when picked than those for whites. If the red wine grapes are unripe, the wine will be too light in color, lack body, and be too acidic. White wines do not need color nor as much body, and a small amount of acidity can give a freshness to the wine.

PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 features a fine selection of quality wines, both red and white, to please your taste. May we remind you that wine also makes a great hostess gift and is a marvelous way to say Happy Birthday or Happy Anniversary. We also custom-make gift baskets. Open: 10-10 Mon.-Thur.; 10-11 Fri. & Sat.

Grant Funds Sought by Seniors

 "We wanted to try again. We know the ropes better and we know there's a need, (to help seniors maintain their homes and to stay in their homes)," said Mrs. Alek. "There are lots of seniors who are unable to perform these tasks."

"We pointed out, (in relation to the application), that these people have given a lot in taxes and now, in times of need, could use something in return."

Coordinate Program

At the same time, she noted that the application was filed because of a lack of seniors' housing in the area, while emphasizing many citizens face hard times in home maintenance because of a limited income and physical disabilities.

"If this grant comes through, we could apply for more. We would become more of a force in the community," said Mrs. Alek.

If the OWLS are fortunate, the monies will be used to coordinate a home services program with some of the funds being used for two part-time handymen and to aid seniors in paying for necessary supplies.

The handymen will assist in coordinating the program and help train volunteers from schools, service groups and churches, she said.

Bob Kinkead and Bert Francis of the nutrition site polled the seniors with Mr. Kinkead indicating they learned there was a definite need for chore assistance on the part of many citizens.

"When a senior comes home from the hospital, how, when or where does he get someone to do the things he's not supposed to do for a week or for a month?" he asked.

For minor home repair, Mr. Kinkead said both "labor" and "parts" are needed. "Many seniors can't cope with maintaining their own home with ensuing high costs," he noted while saying it's difficult to get a plumber and an electrician for a small job.

With the program, the old time "Mr. Fix It" at a reasonable price would come to the fore to help the citizen and, at the same time, to help himself.

Mr. Kinkead added if the OWLS are successful, the program may even be expanded and, at that time, more specific guidelines may ensue in relation to areas of need and affordability.

An estimated total of $1.8 million in grants will be awarded to individual agencies or coalitions of agencies by the Area Agency.

Seventy percent of the monies will go to agencies based in Detroit while the other 30 percent will be distributed to county agencies outside of Detroit, said Laura Whidby, assistant director of the Area Agency.

Sixty-eight applicants, including 40 from Detroit, are seeking funds this year, she said, with the final decision on distribution scheduled to be made around August 17.

At this point, the Older Americans Act will be continued by Congress, she noted, but agency personnel are waiting to see what specific form it takes, along with the amount of total monies allocated for programs.

It's possible, she said, that more or possibly less funds than the estimated $1.8 million figure will be received. Meanwhile, the agency is proceeding with its review of all applications.

Last year, around $1.8 million was available with 54 applicants, including 37 agencies in Detroit, seeking funds.

In viewing needs, Mrs. Alek said that volunteers to assist in transporting seniors to the grocery store, the hospital and other locations remains a necessity at the site, along with individuals to help in crisis situations.

"It's difficult to handle all the requests we receive. We're also trying to get a file of people who can help," she said.

Those who are willing to assist site personnel may call Mrs. Alek or Mrs. Heavner at 886-4532 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Cat Burglar Enters Homes

 are found in the yards, the burglar must often times be scared off by police or persons in the neighborhood, he said.

The thief usually strikes between 2:30 and 5:30 a.m. He most often takes appliances such as television sets, stereos and microwave ovens. Other favorites are fur coats, purses and wallets. In one instance, the burglar stole a car with keys he found in the house.

In one case in The Park, the man took a ladder from a house and used it to climb into a second floor window of another house. Most often he gains entry by raising or pushing in screens of unlocked windows.

A Buckingham road resident surprised the man as he broke into her home on Friday, June 29, and was able to give police a partial description of the suspect.

She described him as a white male, 18- to 20-years-old, 5'10" tall, 160 pounds with short hair. She said he was carrying a pen flashlight.

Some of the houses that have been entered have been empty, with the residents out of town. But most incidents have occurred while the citizens are asleep upstairs.

In one case, a house with seven residents and two dogs was broken into, with no one hearing a thing.

Det. Field urged that any resident who sees a suspicious person in their neighborhood late at night should call police.

"We're always interested in people that might be up at the late hour — for instance, the woman who is feeding her baby or the paper boy," he said, adding that he will ask the paper boys in the areas of the latest burglaries if they saw anything.

He also urged residents to be more careful in locking their doors and windows. None of the houses broken into had deadbolts on their doors, which is the method of locking police recommend.

Det. Field said that screens should be secured to their frames with screws. This will make it more difficult for the burglar, since he will have to break the screen, resulting in more noise.

"The more noise, the better," he said.

Doweling rods should be placed in the tracks of sliding glass doors and pins should be inserted in the frames of double hung windows.

"The police would like assistance," he said, "Someone must see him. In this hot summer weather, it's going to continue."

Park Okays Traffic Sign Change with State Aid

The Park Council at its regular meeting Monday, July 10, approved a resolution to accept a grant from the state to pay for the cost of changing traffic signs throughout the community.

The State Highway Department, with money from the federal government, will pay 70 percent of the cost, and the city will pay 30 percent.

City Manager John Crawford said a study of the present traffic signs was made about two years ago, at which time every traffic sign was listed. Under a program scheduled for this year, only stop signs and dead end street signs will be replaced, he emphasized.

The city manager told the solons the signs must be changed as required by a recently passed federal law.

The law makes it mandatory that all traffic signs in every community, plus all state and federal roads and highways throughout the country, must be larger than those now being used. All must be of one uniform size to aid in eliminating accidents and fatalities, Mr. Crawford pointed out.

He informed the council if they did not opt for the change, with the help of the state grant, then the city will have to bear the full burden of cost, which by next year will be approximately $60,000.

If the solons act at once, the state will be notified that The Park wishes to participate in the program, using the grant from state.

The city manager told the council that the total cost of changing local traffic signs will be $58,228.87, of which $39,358.31, or 70 percent will be paid by the city.

Mr. Crawford said the federal law requires the change because sizes and shapes of signs in communities throughout the country vary making it difficult for motorists to see them. Eventually all traffic signs will be changed and will conform to the specifications required by the new law.

He said in 1978, the local program called for only changing stop signs and dead end street signs, at a total cost of about $17,000. The city will have to advertise for bids before the new signs can be installed, with the entire program scheduled for completion by next year, Mr. Crawford said. The Farms has already completed its sign changing program this year, he said.

Guns Removed In Woods B-E

Five guns, including four shotguns and a rifle, with a combined total value of $1,450 were taken from an Allard avenue home according to a report received by Woods police on Monday, July 3.

The citizen, Tom Handion, said he left home at 7:30 a.m. and returned around 12 noon to find the rear door open. However, he stated he didn't realize a break-in had occurred until two hours later when he noticed the guns missing.

A bedspread, removed from a twin bed, was possibly used to carry the guns from the home, police noted.

Neighbors in the immediate area said they saw or heard nothing.

Detroit Man Sentenced in Park Burglary

Nathan Orlando Moore, 20, of Dike street, Detroit, entered a plea of guilty to one count of breaking and entering an occupied dwelling and a second count of using a firearm in the commission of a felony at a trial held before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Harold Hood on Monday, June 19, according to Park police files.

Lt. Gordon Duncan said that Moore was sentenced to five years in prison for the use of the firearm, which he must serve before he begins serving eight to 10 years for the April 27 burglary of a Park home in Balfour road, wherein he threatened a woman he surprised as she entered her house.

Under a two-year-old Michigan statute, using a firearm while committing a felony means that a suspect, upon conviction, automatically must serve at least two years in prison, without parole, plus whatever sentence is imposed by the judge presiding at the trial.

Lt. Duncan said that Moore, who is considered a habitual criminal and who had committed a holdup in Detroit earlier on the date of the burglary, was sentenced to the five years on the gun charge because of his record.

Moore also went to trial in Detroit Recorder's Court on a warrant charging him with the holdup in that city, but it is not known what sentence he received, the lieutenant said.

On the April 27 date, the woman, whose name has been withheld, had seen Moore about 10 minutes before 8 a.m. walking on Balfour, a short distance from her residence. She was taking her children to school at the time.

She told police that she returned at about 8:13 a.m. and walked into her house. As she entered, she heard a noise on the second floor and was there to inquire who was calling.

At this point, a short, stocky man, later identified as Moore, and recognized by the woman as the man seen walking along Balfour near her home, appeared at the top of the stairs with a gun in his hand. He ordered her not to move or scream.

Paying no heed to the order, the woman bolted out the front door to a neighbor's house, called police and all units were dispatched to the area. However, by the time officers arrived, the culprit had already left the house. A search of the neighborhood was made and the man was found a block away, carrying a shopping bag. The suspect tried to flee, but Officer Barry Oleksy took up the foot chase across a front yard in Buckingham road, and over a fence before apprehending Moore in the rear yard. As the officer approached, service revolver in hand, Moore dropped the bag he was carrying and surrendered.

At the station, a search of the bag disclosed it contained a blue steel revolver, several items of jewelry, a small sum of money and a wallet, all taken from the woman's residence.

New Theater Season

Offers Suspenser
The prestigious Worker of the Year Awards were won by Becky Tharenos of Kensington road and Harry Albertson of Warren. Mr. Albertson was then named to direct the opening show, "The King and I." Mr. Pegg also announced the rest of the new season's offerings. "The Desperate Hours," an edge-of-the-seat suspense melodrama by Joseph Hayes, will play next January 10 through 20. This story began as a book, was made into an award-winning Broadway show and later became a successful motion picture. "Knock Knock," a very recent Jules Feiffer comedy, will be at Fries Auditorium next February 13 through 24. "Knock Knock" is the only one of the five GPT productions not available on the season ticket. It is the "Showcase" production, a fifth-play option for ticket holders.

This season, "Showcase" has been extended to a nine-day run due to the large demand for tickets.

A Key Classic
In the realm of the classic, Oscar Wilde's most successful play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," will open next March 28 and run through April 7. This delightful comedy has been entertaining audiences since 1895, and will be the first Wilde done by the group.

Closing the season June 6 through 16 will be the musical story of Noah, "Two by Two." It offers a cast of eight and impressive credentials—music by Richard Rodgers, book by Peter Stone and lyrics by Martin Charnin.

Patrons holding GPT season tickets last season will receive their automatic renewals by Saturday, August 5.

Ticket chairman Carole Lombardini of Brys drive suggests that other potential patrons who wish to receive brochures and ticket applications call her at the box office number, 881-4004, or write "Tickets, Grosse Pointe Theater, 32 Lakeshore road, Grosse Pointe 48236."

Pellet Vandal Plagues Farms

The pellet gun vandal continues to strike in The Farms, with 14 incidents of smashed car windows and windows of residences and businesses being reported to police since Wednesday, June 28.

The incidents have occurred throughout The Farms, and all have taken place during the night hours.

Farms Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem said it is very difficult for police to apprehend the persons responsible for this type of vandalism since they most likely are driving around in a car.

Unless someone should happen to see the culprit at the moment the glass is shattered, nothing can be done by police.

Woods Lions Name Officers

The Grosse Pointe Woods Lions Club recently elected a new slate of officers, who assumed their posts on Saturday, July 1.

Assuming the position of president is Robert M. Fisher. The first vice-president is Daniel J. Mahfet, while the second vice-president is John W. Armaly Jr. Taking over the duties of secretary is John M. Easton, while the treasurer is Kenneth P. Klostermeyer.

The club meets on the first and third Thursdays of the month at the American Legion Memorial Hall, 20916 Mack avenue, at 6:30 p.m.

BASIC EDUCATION

According to the U.S. Department of Labor, the basic education provided in the Job Corps covers reading, mathematics, social studies and preparation for the General Education Development high school equivalency examination.

Man Killed

On Thursday, July 6, Det. Charles Hamel went to the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office with a request for a warrant recommendation against Miss Baccala. Going to the prosecutor's office for a determination is normal procedure in such cases.

The request was presented to William Joyce who, after hearing all the facts in the case, denied the warrant while noting that all evidence indicated the young lady was not at fault.

Cites Concern
Expressing a concern over stop sign violations now and in the past, Public Safety Director John Dankel in an information sheet to all officers requested an increase in the enforcement effort of such violations.

"Tickets, when issued fairly but with firmness, should help prevent future injuries and/or fatal accidents such as the one at Roslyn and Marter," he said.

This was the second fatal accident in the community in six weeks. On May 22, a 13-year-old Harper Woods youth was killed after his bicycle made contact with a Woods garbage truck at the intersection of Mack avenue and Vernier road.

Ambulance

(Continued from Page 1) comply with the more stringent regulations requiring sophisticated medical equipment on the emergency vehicle and extensive training for drivers and attendants.

Only Park Charges

The new regulations were approved by the state legislature in 1976, but will not take full effect until the end of this year.

The City has provided basic first aid and transportation to local hospitals to its residents free of charge for almost 40 years.

In recent years, it has transported injured citizens in a police station wagon, usually used for patrols. That vehicle, however, does not meet the new state regulations governing emergency ambulance service.

The other four Pointe communities still provide the service with only The Park charging residents for it.

People who think by the inch and talk by the yard usually are dealt with by the foot.

A LOVELY LADY FROM FRANCE
While few ladies of high fashion get away with a metal robe, not many argued with the beauty of a certain mits who had her first rivet fastened July 12, 1886. The lady in question, the Statue of Liberty, still stands in New York Harbor, a gift from the people of France. The impact her image had on the nation is staggering. One example of the people's feelings, an eight-foot tall wooden folk art rendition of the Statue of Liberty, is on exhibit in Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

The Indians repeated as champions of the American League with an impressive 9-1 win over the White Sox in a playoff game Thursday, July 6, at Kerby Field.

The Twins, with a perfect 13-0 record, captured both halves of the season to win the All-American championship without a playoff.

John Cammett struck out nine White Sox batters and the Indians' defense led by the keystone combination of John Heidt at short and Erwin Yee at second played errorless ball as the Tribe, winners of the second half, downed the White Sox, winners of the first half.

The White Sox took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first as leadoff batter Steve Wayman singled to deep short and scored on a triple to left by John DeBoer.

The Indians came back in the bottom of the first with two runs to take a lead they never relinquished. With two out, Cammett walked, stole second and scored on Mike Smith's single.

Smith took second on the throw to the plate and went on to third when the relay to second sailed into center field. He scored as John Cook was safe on first on an infield error.

The score remained 2-1 until the bottom of the fourth when Cook walked and scored on perfect sacrifice bunts by Mike Mahon and John Keane. Keane reached first safely on his bunt and scored on a single by Heidt and a fielder's choice by Yee.

The Indians added five runs in the fifth on singles by Mahon, Tom Keane, Yee and a bases loaded triple by Heidt.

The White Sox committed seven errors as only three of the Indians' runs were earned.

Following the game, league commissioner Forrest Piche presented trophies to the Indians. Chuck Campbell managed the team and was helped by coach John Baldyga. The players include Cammett, Heidt, Mahon, Smith, Yee, Rob Carr, John Cook, Tom Cook, Joe Hubback, John Keane, Tom Keane, Peter Keane, Mark Davey and Erich Woerner.

The Indians and White Sox finished the season with total records of 15-5. The Yankees finished third at 10-10 followed by the Tigers at 9-11, Red Sox, 7-13, and the Angels, 4-16.

The Twins, led by relief pitcher John Lundberg, defeated the Brewers 13-8 on Saturday, July 1, to complete its 13-0 season and win the All-American League title.

The team was managed by Don Chamberlin and coached by Art Weinle, Tom Kelly, Scott McPhail and Don Chamberlin Jr.

Players on the champion Twins were Lundberg, Steve Deola, Stu Morris, Mike Pajazolo, Scott McCarty, Mike Kelly, John Tien, Steve Webster, Andy Gracy, David Chamberlin, Curt Vining, David McRae, Mark Schulte, David Nurmi and Sean Kelly.

Let's Talk Real Estate
by John E. Brink

This is time of the selling season when home owners say "if they can get that much for their home, I could get that much more for mine!" So they list their home with a Realtor. The Realtor knows it's a hopeless situation, and he probably knows the seller won't come down. He goes along with the listing because that's his job — and also because way back in his mind he's seen some sell like this.

This causes double inflation and it ruins the market! A home owner selling his home cannot resist the temptation to price his home according to the one "just like his" even though his trusted Broker tells him otherwise. So the chain of double inflation continues.

We at Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. have our own computer that performs miracles, etc. This helps us prepare a comparable evaluation that literally proves what a home should be priced at! We don't believe in it to the penny but we agree with it to a specific range. From this point on we price your home strategically — to your liking — which takes in your timing and other personal things. What this gets down to is to make your representative prove his pricing formula. If a real estate representative pulls a price on the spur of the moment — and has nothing to back up his pricing strategy — beware! He could cost you thousands of dollars.

We at Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 can also show how we can tack on an extra $2,000.00 in value with our one year Warranty.

A signal will be sent over regular telephone lines and alert specially trained personnel who, in turn, will call an ambulance, your doctor, a relative, a neighbor, or whomever you designate.

Woods Okays Group's Bid

Three recommendations from the Beautification Commission were considered by the Woods Council at a recent regular meeting.

First, the group recommended the adoption of a proposed tree ordinance, based upon a measure drafted in Westerville, O., focusing upon the establishment of a shade tree commission to advise the council on all tree related matters.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, in noting the city already has a tree ordinance, suggested that this subject be referred to his office and to City Attorney George Catlin toward drafting an amendment to the city's present law, with the proposal then being referred to the commission for its recommendation.

The council unanimously agreed with Mr. Petersen's suggestion.

Then, the next two recommendations viewed the proceeds of the commission's recently conducted flower sale, with 50 percent of the proceeds being used toward defraying the cost of bedding and plant material in the city and 50 percent being used toward the development of the Veterans Memorial Parkway.

As it turned out, the sale made a profit of $950.90 after expenses, making a total of $475.45 for each area. But after further expenses for flowers were deducted, $353.82 remained for the parkway and $344.43 for city property.

The commission recommended that 13 Austrian pines be purchased for planting on the parkway, and also recommended that the services of a landscaping company be utilized for cleaning up the greenery around the municipal building. The council unanimously agreed in both instances.

Men have to commit blunders—otherwise they would not understand their limitations.

Planners Study Parking of Vehicles at Gas Stations

By Roger A. Waha

A proposed ordinance governing the outside parking of motor vehicles at gasoline stations, defining and regulating such parking, was unanimously referred back to a sub-committee of commissioners for further study by the City Planning Commission at its regular meeting Tuesday, June 27.

This subject has been at both the commission and council levels in the past and while both City Attorney George Catlin and attorney Mark H. Cousens, general counsel for the Service Station Dealers Ass'n. of Michigan, indicated they have come a long way toward resolving the problem, more work, particularly in relation to one sub-section, needs to be done.

The sub-committee of commissioners who will rework the proposal and make recommendations to the entire body include George Couillard, Philip Patanis and Raymond Lynch.

In a letter to the commission, and in speaking before it, Mr. Cousens cited some problems in relation to the sub-section which says that the building official shall first designate a parking space for each employee of the service station who is on the premises at the time of maximum shift, plus one parking space for the owner or manager of the station, plus two spaces for each station bay.

After designation of the required parking spaces for employees, owner or manager, and for the station bays, any remaining parking spaces shall be designated for the parking or storage of motor vehicles under the law.

Mr. Cousens told the commission such designations were confusing in relation to the number of parking spaces generated. For instance, he noted the number of employees a station utilizes at maximum shift can change on a day-to-day basis.

In his letter, he suggested language which would permit the operator to designate the number of places as employee spaces should he choose to do so but, in the alternative, permit an operator to park vehicles, subject to other restrictions in the proposal, without regard to the number of employees.

Mr. Cousens also felt some confusion develops between designating two spaces per service station bay and then permitting the balance of the spaces for parking or storage.

"The original suggestions made by myself was that towing vehicles might be held on the premises not to exceed one per service bay for the reason that it is contemplated that such vehicles are usually stored in the service bays overnight. The designation of two spaces per bay seems to be an unnecessary effort by the building official," he stated.

In relation to this, Mr. Cousens noted some stations would have problems regarding the parking of vehicles, e.g., a small but busy facility, while viewing cars awaiting repairs, a situation that's impossible to control because of individual job complexities.

"I'm concerned that the number of vehicles under repair may exceed the number of permitted parking spaces," he said, while citing some difficulty in interpreting the proposal.

The subject of renting cars and the need for such an operation toward generating income for operators also was viewed by Mr. Cousens. On this, Mr. Couillard said it was the sub-committee's intention not to prohibit rental operations but only to avoid giving extra parking for such.

The proposal says no service station shall keep or allow parked upon its premises any rental car, except a vehicle undergoing repairs.

This particular aspect also is scheduled to be reviewed again by the sub-committee.

State Seeks Grandparents

The Michigan Office of Services to the Aging announced recently that preliminary applications are now being accepted for Foster Grandparent Program grants. The deadline for submitting applications is Friday, July 21.

The Foster Grandparent Program offers opportunities for persons age 60 and older to provide individual care to emotionally and mentally disturbed children.

Any public or private nonprofit agency or institution may apply for a Foster Grandparent grant. The grant award will cover the period of October 1, 1978, through September 30, 1979. The grantee must be able to provide 10 percent local match and meet other requirements.

Office of Services to the Aging Director Elizabeth J. Ferguson said, "I anticipate that the 1979 fiscal year executive budget will enable the office to initiate three new Foster Grandparent projects, as well as maintain existing projects."

To qualify as a participant in the Foster Grandparent Program, a person must be in good health and have an income of $3,450 or less. Foster Grandparents work with children four hours per day, five days per week, and 50 weeks per year. They receive a small tax-free stipend, lunch and transportation.

There are currently 14 Foster Grandparents projects in the state, five of which are totally state funded. Approximately 890 persons participate in the Foster Grandparent Program working with over 2,000 children.

For more information about the Foster Grandparent Program or a preliminary grant application, contact the Office of Services to the Aging, Box 30026, Lansing 48909 or call area code 517-373-8560.

through Sunday, July 14 to 16. The district winner will draw a bye in the first round and its first game will be Sunday, July 23, at 2:30 p.m. against the winner of District Four versus Five game to be played Saturday.

The host team, Farms-City, is celebrating its 25th anniversary of Babe Ruth baseball. As host team, The Farms-City will not have to compete in the district tournaments.

Twelve of the 15 players from The Farms-City 13-year-old All-Star team that captured the 1978 Ohio Valley Regional Championship will be competing for a place on the team. They include John Heid, Mike Mahon, John Cammett, Erwin Yee and Mike Smith of the Indians; Glenn Poche of the Red Sox; John DeBoer and Rex Ciavola of the White Sox; Mike McBrearty and John Vens of the Yankees; Chris Janis of the Tigers; and Paul Prophit of the Angels.

The 1976 13-year-old all-stars captured the District Two and Michigan State championships. They then went on to win the Ohio Valley Regional Tournament consisting of teams from Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio. John Hoben managed the team and was assisted by George Cairo, Mr. Campbell and Joe Maul.

Probation

Judge Kazul reiterated the need for the program, saying that "we could do it much more efficiently and with better results" than by using the Wayne County Probation Program.

He explained that the county would charge the courts $175 for each case for a pre-sentence investigation, plus $240 per year for each probationer sentenced. In addition, the courts would have to pay mileage for the probation officers to drive out from their offices downtown.

The Park and City Councils are the only ones which have approved their share of the operating budget. The Park's contribution was $6,632.50, while The City's was $2,805.

Seeks Skaters for Summer

You may have put away your ice skates for the summer but 50 members of the Grosse Pointe Skating Club are getting started for the summer program at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink, 4831 Canyon street, near the site of the former Austin High School.

Bill Lawson, board member of the skating club, which has a total membership of 125, talked about the students from ages four to 40 who come from as far away as Wayne, Trenton and Wyandotte, as well as all the Pointes, to skate here.

"There are few other sports which go as far to build stamina, grace and timing than ice skating," explained Mr. Lawson.

For many of these people, the work they'll put in this summer will put them on their way to becoming professional skaters, or for others, to advance toward their dream of the Olympic during the 1980's and 90's.

There's more to training young ice skaters than the school figures as many of our people will be working this summer on preparing to pass their tests, he continued.

The United States Figure Skating Ass'n., of which the Grosse Pointe Skating Club is a permanent member, has a prescribed set of nine tests, each of which is ascending in difficulty.

How do you get such dedication in a group of young people, particularly those under 16, when their school-mates may be planning nothing more challenging this summer than a lot of " goofing off?"

Mr. Lawson said the challenge of becoming a professional skater or winning amateur competitions draws young people like a magnet. They find a new set of friends, plus a new peer level of competition where skating plays a large part in how they evaluate themselves.

"My own daughter, Susan, 12, wouldn't be anywhere else during her summer break," he said.

Mr. Lawson explained though the summer session is underway, there is room for interested young people at all levels, including the beginning basic skills. The fall program, which makes ice time available during after-school hours five days a week, and on Saturdays, will begin September 5 and continue until March 31, 1979.

For further information, Mr. Lawson suggests you telephone club president Allen Lomax at 881-9508.

"It could be the beginning of an exciting adventure for you or your child," he added.

Sailors Gear for Massive Mackinac Race on July 15

By David Kramer

On Saturday, July 15, some 248 sailboats will line up in lower Lake Huron for the start of the annual yachting extravaganza known as the Mackinac race.

While nobody can give an exact count, probably 75 percent of those boats are from the Detroit area, and a goodly number, as would be expected, are owned by Pointers.

Bayview Yacht Club, sponsor of the event, has been putting the premiere race of the season on for 54 years. Its program says the object of the race is to develop in the amateur sailor a love of true seamanship, sportmanship and proficiency in the science of navigation.

The course, 259 nautical miles long, begins at the lower end of Lake Huron, proceeds northeast to Cove Island, off the east shore of the lake, then heads northwest to the finish line off Mackinac Island. Depending on the wind, it can last anywhere from two to five days.

According to Bill Rossiter, who helps handle public relations for the race, boats are classed into two main divisions, the International Ocean Rule, (IOR), boats and the Performance Rating, (PRF), classes.

As a rule, the IOR boats are the newer and fastest boats. PRF boats are several years old and are "outdated" by the latest racers.

Mr. Rossiter said that the IOR boats will be the only ones eligible to win the overall honors for the race. The PRF boats can only race among each other.

Each IOR boat is given a handicap based on a complicated formula which takes into account the length of the boat, the sail area and the weight of the boat among other factors. These ratings are updated every three years, he said.

Theoretically, each boat should have an equal chance of winning the race, and the winning margin should be provided by how well the boat is sailed.

The PRF boats are rated by how well they perform in past races. The Mackinac race will have six PRF classes and two IOR. Mr. Rossiter said the situation was exactly opposite a few years ago, with six IOR and two PRF. This is the first year in some time that Mr. Rossiter will be sailing in the race. "I've been doing publicity for 10 years," he explained. "I sure hated driving up to Mackinac Island while everyone else was sailing. This year I'm going to take the slow, scenic route."

Mr. Rossiter will be sailing on Ricochet, an IOR rated boat. While the boat is doing fairly well this year, he adds the perpetual crew member's complaint that the boat needs new sails.

One of the Pointers who will be participating in the race is Charles Bayer of Grosse Pointe boulevard. A Commodore of Bayview Yacht Club, Mr. Bayer is certainly no rookie to sailing in general or the Mackinac in particular. In fact, he figures he has sailed more consecutive Mackinacs than any other sailor.

He is a member of the "Old Goats," which is an honorary title bestowed upon those who have sailed a minimum of 25 Mackinacs. Mr. Bayer has sailed 31 consecutive Mackinacs.

He will be carrying a crew of six with him this year, all of whom are Pointe residents. They include Jerry Leone who Mr. Bayer says has "sailed with me for at least 25 Mackinac races."

Following the race Saturday, July 8, in Lake St. Clair, the crew was busy preparing the boat, the Old Bear, for the big one which was still a week away.

In addition to the obvious provisions of food and drink, Bayview requires dozens of safety items ranging from a radio direction finder to safety harnesses which would keep a crewman hooked to the boat if he went over the side in a rough sea.

Mr. Bayer, who has never won the race but has taken "four or five seconds" in his career, says that while "Mackinac crews are usually very efficient" and are an important factor in the race, a quick boat is a little more important.

What is it that makes the Mackinac race such a highlight to the seasoned sailor other than the fact that it is the longest race of the season?

"It's a fantastic thrill to be out on Lake Huron and not see land for so long," he said. "You're always trying to figure out what boat is next to you."

"Waking up at dawn and looking around to see how you're doing" is one of the most interesting parts of the race, he says.

He has had his share of mishaps. In 1955 he had his shortest race when his boat, "Old Rarity," lost its mast off of Port Sanilac. Undaunted, he motored all the way down to Detroit, caught a plane up to Mackinac Island and arrived in time to see the finish.

In 1963, a squall off Middle Island near Alpena broke the boom on Old Rarity. He refused to throw in the sponge, splicing the boom together and finishing the race. "We didn't win that one," he said. That race he considered to be the "roughest" one.

A problem of a different sort occurred in 1956 when a crew member had a seizure and had to be let off at Harbor Beach.

The longest race he ever had brought his boat over the finish line on Wednesday afternoon. That year, a man from Presque Isle "delivered" a case of beer and ice to the parched crew members, who had long since run out of such vitals.

In a career as long as Mr. Bayer's, there must be an amusing tale. His was one that was not too amusing at the time.

"We were going across Saginaw Bay and it was foggy that day. We heard a train whistle off to the west. We figured we must have drifted 30 to 40 miles off course into the bay. But it turned out to be a boat 'Masker' who had a choo-choo record and was playing it."

Every sailor has fears, even those with much experience. But what they fear most may differ.

"Some people fear fog the most," says Mr. Bayer. "I'm chicken. I fear winds the most. Usually when it's foggy it's not windy."

His favorite race was in 1970, the year he bought his present boat Old Bear and beat all the other Cal 36's, (boats of similar design), to the finish.

"We've just done about average in the races so far," he said. "This year's going to be different."

Environmental Projects Subject of Woods Grant

A grant of approximately $26,000 as part of the WORC (Work Opportunities Resource Corps), program, administered by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources via its manpower division, was recently received by The Woods.

With the funds, 16 young people between 15 and 21 years of age, many of whom are interested in forestry, plus two supervisors, (who are forestry students at Michigan State University), have been hired to work on environmental projects in the community.

Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara said because of the city's tree survey, conducted in 1976 and 1977, "we had the documentation which made it easier for us to get the grant."

Echoing this sentiment, Beautification Commission member Jean Rice, who participated in translating the survey data into a useable form, noted, "I feel the money was given to us to use because of the tree survey, which showed we were all ready to go with a program."

The young people involved are all from The Pointe, said Mr. McNamara, who noted they receive $2.65 per hour, while the supervisors receive $5 per hour. They all began work the middle of last month and will continue until late August with the young people working 10 weeks and the supervisors, 12.

Manpower has been broken up into two crews of eight young people and one supervisor, he said. One crew is following up on the tree survey and is involved in such areas as trimming trees, pruning problems and removal of cankers, all problems cited in the survey.

The other crew, continued Mr. McNamara, is involved in special projects, e.g., working in front of city hall, the cultivation and mulching of trees, the establishment of a decorative screen at the DPW yard, et al.

PWP to Hear Talk on Aging

Rev. Robert Hamilton, chaplain of Bon Secours Hospital, will be the guest speaker at the next general meeting of the Grosse Pointe Chapter of Parents Without Partners, (PWP), Friday, July 14.

He will discuss aspects of aging, with a question and answer period following the talk.

A coffee hour will precede the meeting at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, at 7:30 p.m. An afterglow, place to be announced, will follow the meeting.

Mary Brush, discussion director, will be the Grosse Pointe delegate at the International PWP Convention to be held in San Francisco, Cal., Wednesday through Sunday, July 12 to 16. The group was incorporated in the State of New York in March 1953, and now has chapters in every state, in Canada and in Australia with total membership of 162,000.

The annual Bob-Lo boat trip hosted by the Detroit chapters of PWP is scheduled for Sunday, August 6. There are special reduced rates for all PWP members and their children.

As for the tree survey, a few streets still need to be surveyed and plans call for the young people to finish it. It revealed approximately 4,000 existing trees on the city right-of-way and 2,000 potential planting sites.

With the information garnered by Mrs. Rice and other citizens, the results were used in the cooperative tree planting program initiated in the spring. Of the trees purchased through the program, the majority of them were donated to the city for planting on the right-of-way.

Organizations and church groups in the area, some of whose members do not reside in The Woods, donated around $645, four meals and over 80 volunteer hours in translating the tree survey data into useable form.

The city itself contributed some $800 in transportation costs and supportive services to complete the survey.

Orchard Gives Big Surprise

By James J. Njaim

Park Det. Sgt. James LaPratt and his wife, Mary Ann, were flabbergasted and happy when they found out that they had become one-third owners of a 1,800-tree cherry orchard in Manton, Mich., situated on Highway 131 and 42, about 40 miles from Traverse City and about 11 miles from Cadillac.

The sergeant said he was informed by his wife's brothers and their wives, Philip and Sally Walter and Peter and Sharon Walter, that they had purchased the orchard from an elderly couple, and included the sergeant and his wife as partners.

Sgt. LaPratt said his brothers-in-law and their wives first knew the orchard was for sale when they read the "Property for Sale" column in the classified section of the NEWS.

The three couples talked about buying the orchard, which also has a large number of apple and plum trees, and the in-laws decided that it was "sink or swim," visiting Manton and negotiating the sale. Then, they notified the sergeant and his wife that the deal had gone through.

They purchased the Webster Orchard, which has been a family tradition for more than 70 years. Sgt. LaPratt did not give the Websters' first names, but said that Mr. Webster was a retired engineer and Mrs. Webster was a retired police officer of the Detroit Police Department. The Websters were forced to sell because of age and ill health.

The sergeant said that the sale included the Webster name and business goodwill. For many years people have come from miles around to pick the cherries. The pickers were allowed to carry away about 70 percent of the fruit, with the rest going to a nearby commercial canning company, Sgt. LaPratt said.

Sometimes, however, the canning firm would contract for all the cherries in the orchard, depending on the demand. One advantage is that the orchard is the only

Boaters Should Watch Wakes

As citizens quickly move into summer's boating season there are many hazards that are of a recurring nature. One of these hazards is wakes from boats, reports a Wayne County news release.

Marines, boat docks, refueling stations and public boat ramps all require passing boats to slow their speed. Boaters are responsible for the damage that their boat's wake causes, with big wakes possibly causing docked boats damage.

While on the water citizens also should be aware of what another boat's wake can do. A big wake from a passing boat can catch the casual drift fisherman by surprise and put him in the drink. Small vessels may not, by the rules of the road, hamper the navigation of a larger vessel in a narrow channel when the larger vessel can only navigate safely inside the channel.

All mariners also should reduce speed when maneuvering in areas where small boats are operating.

Any responsible citizen will be as active in meeting civic duty as pursuing personal rights.

Orchard Gives Big Surprise

one of its kind in Wexford County.

There are only three states in the entire country that cultivate and grow cherry orchards because of the ideal climate: Michigan, Washington and Oregon.

Because the cold weather was so tenacious this year and did not release its hold on the state until late May, the cherry crop will be about a week late before it is ripe for picking, Sgt. LaPratt said. He estimated that Monday, July 10, should just about be the day.

He said approximately 49,000 pounds of cherries were plucked from the trees last year, while hoping this amount will be equalled or bettered this year.

"This has been a family tradition for many years," Sgt. LaPratt said, "and we intend to keep it that way. The orchards have been in the Webster family all this time, but apparently the younger generation did not want anything to do with the orchard. But when we took it over, we promised we would continue with the tradition, as if it was in the same family."

Fine Arts Quartet Closes Summer Music Festival

By Irene Moran

The fourth and closing concert of the 21st annual Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival will be held on Wednesday, July 19, at 8 p.m. with the appearance of the Fine Arts Quartet.

It will perform in the War Memorial's Fries ballroom, 32 Lakeshore road, a setting most appropriate for chamber music.

The program will consist of the Quartet in G Major, K. 387, by Mozart, Quartet No. 3, Opus 94, by Britten, and Quartet in D minor, D. 810, "Death and the Maiden," by Schubert.

One of America's great ensembles, the Fine Arts Quartet, has been hailed by concert audiences the world over. This season marks 32 years of its existence.

In the United States, this quartet has been a major factor in the growing interest in chamber music—presenting performances of the quartet literature from Haydn to Bartok and beyond.

The quartet has videotaped many programs on chamber music for the National Educational Television network. From grade school up, viewers have seen the group in movies produced by Encyclopaedia Britannica Films.

Among the world's most prestigious auditoriums, the Fine Arts Quartet has been heard from the Edinburgh Festival to the Salle Gaveau, from the Beethovenhalle to Lincoln Center, from the Concertgebouw to Sydney's Town Hall, from the Vienna Konzerthaus to New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art.

It has performed for one of the largest catalogues of chamber music recordings of any ensemble in existence, covering the repertoire from Bach to Bartok and others, and it also has completed the only cycle of Haydn quartets on record.

The quartet's annual Chicago chamber-music series at the Goodman Theater of the Art Institute is one of the leading musical sound-boards in America today.

Its members are teachers as well as performers, and have lectured, coached and conducted seminars at Northwestern University, the Cleveland Institute of Music, the Aspen School of Music and the Royal Conservatory of Copenhagen. Since 1963, they have been professors and artists-in-residence at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

Leonard Sorkin, first violinist, studied at the American Conservatory, the Chicago Musical College, and with Misha Mischakoff. He is a former member of the Saldenberg Symphonette and the Chicago Symphony, and was concertmaster of the American Broadcasting Co. Orchestra in Chicago. He plays a Guarnerius del Gesu violin, (Cremona, 1731).

Abram Loft, second violinist, studied with Herbert Dittler in New York. He holds a PhD in musicology from Columbia University and was formerly assistant professor of music there. Mr. Loft was also on the faculty of the Manhattan School of Music. Mr. Loft's violin is a Tommaso Balestrieri, (Mantua, 1772).

Bernard Zaslav, violinist, a native New Yorker and graduate of the Juilliard School of Music, joined the Cleveland Orchestra at the age of 18. His musical career has included chamber music, solo recitals, recordings and membership in string quartets. Mr. Zaslav's viola is an "ex villa" J. B. Guadagnini, (1781).

George Sopkin, cellist, studied with Daniel Saldenberg in Chicago and with Emanuel Feuermann in Switzerland. He also attended the Chicago Musical College. Mr. Sopkin is an alumnus of the Chicago Symphony and played with the Pro Arte Quartet. He and Mr. Sorkin organized the Fine Arts Quartet. Mr. Sopkin's cello is a Matteo Goffriller, (Venice, 1731).

The music festival, which has become a summer tradition, is part of the War Memorial Center's planned activities in the Grosse Pointe community.

Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford, festival chairman, and her committee extend gratitude to all supporters of this 1978 festival season.

For an opportunity to meet the quartet artists, Mrs. Sanford invites everyone to join in the receiving line after the concert.

The Memorial's grounds and lakeside terrace will be open at 6 p.m. for picnicking. Festival-goers may bring their own picnic fare or order "al fresco" box suppers which are available at $3.75 each by prepaid reservation three days in advance. In case of rain, the picnics will move indoors.

Early arrivals also are welcome to view the Trial Gardens of the Grosse Pointe Garden Center and the Memorial Garden, which is maintained by the Alger family.

Festival admission prices are $8.50 per person. Groups of 20 receive a 15 percent discount. Student tickets, (through college), are at half price.

Ticket and picnic box supper reservations may be obtained by mailing checks, payable to Grosse Pointe War Memorial Ass'n., to 32 Lakeshore road, Grosse Pointe 48236, or by visiting the War Memorial office.

For further information call 881-7511 or 881-1256, and donations are welcome.

GP Marathon Set by Club

The Neighborhood Club will sponsor its first in a series of marathon races in the community on Saturday, July 15.

The three-mile race will begin at the club, 17150 Waterloo avenue, at 8:30 a.m. Awards will be given to the top three finishers in each division, while participation awards will be given to all finishers.

The divisions will be 16 and under boys, 16 and under girls, 17 to 29 men, 30 to 39 men, 30 and over women and 40 and over men.

Participation fees are $1 for those 15 and under, and $2 for citizens 17 and over.

Jewels & gems by Jerry Valente

Think of jewelry as a gift for any occasion. People of all ages and sexes often wear, and prefer to wear, some kind of jewelry. Men are increasingly wearing neckchains and bracelets, as well as continuing to wear tie clips, watches and the like. And of course, what woman doesn't love wearing jewelry of any kind? Check the styles worn by your intended gift recipient. What kinds of jewelry do they presently wear? Perhaps a matching or supplementary piece would be most appropriate.

There's a simply super midsummer in store for Professor Malcolm Johns and his wife, Marian, of Rivard boulevard, who have been invited to the Virgin Islands by the Moravian Churches of St. John, St. Thomas and St. Croix.

The Johnses will conduct one week mini-music workshops on each island, each week culminating in a Sunday services performance.

Over 200 organists, directors and singers have registered for the workshops, and Professor and Mrs. Johns have sent large quantities of new anthems to be studied, and to form the nucleus for a music library for the Virgin Islands Music Conference.

Gerry Fisher and Lou Wilcox were among several members of the Detroit Women's Council of the Navy League of the United States especially honored at this year's Navy League Ball, held June 24 at the Detroit Yacht Club.

For Gerry (Mrs. Thomas K.) Fisher, it was the second Navy League honor in less than a year. Just last fall, she received a beautiful plaque for her dedicated work in organizing the Detroit Women's Council and her willingness to serve on the ball committee through the years.

And last month, at the '78 ball, she was presented with the Navy League flag. She and Tom will be flying it on the yardarm on their deck near

A Birthday Serenade for Mrs. Utley

It was a champagne celebration for MRS. S. WELLS UTLEY when approximately 45 friends and family members gathered June 27 in the early evening at her Pine court home to wish her a Happy 90th Birthday—and there was a very special "Happy Birthday" serenade featuring Detroit Symphony Orchestra Board Vice-President PIERRE HEFTLER on the auto harp, Symphony Board President ROBERT B. SEMPLE on the clarinet, and DSO

Concertmaster GORDON STAPLES, who followed the trio's performance with a Bach prelude. Mrs. Utley, a longtime member of the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony and an active concert patron and supporter of the orchestra for more than half a century, recently donated $25,000 to the DSO. The money will be used to establish the Utley Instrument Loan Fund for DSO musicians.

The fund will be used by selected members of the orchestra to purchase new instruments for use in symphony performances.

"We are grateful for Mrs. Utley's generous gift," President Semple commented. "By making these loans available to our musicians we are making it easier for them to purchase new instruments."

Present Unique Group Of Chinese Paintings

A unique exhibition of Chinese paintings opened at the Detroit Institute of Arts Wednesday, June 21.

"Studies in Connoisseurship: Chinese Paintings from the Arthur M. Sackler Collection" is an important loan presenting traditional brush paintings and calligraphy by 24 outstanding artists active in China from the 14th to the 20th centuries: 173 paintings in the form of album leaves, hand scrolls and hanging scrolls.

Suzanne Mitchell, assistant curator in charge of Asian Art, describes the Sackler collection, housed for many years at Princeton University, as one of the finest of its kind in the Western world.

Heart of the exhibition is a group of more than 40 paintings by Tao-chi, (ca. 1641-1710), an individualistic and very popular painter of the early Ch'ing dynasty.

"His work is wildly expressive," notes Ms. Mitchell. "A single brushstroke can convey amazing vitality." The Tao-chi paintings in the show demonstrate the full range of his skill in landscapes, figures, bamboo, flower or vegetable subjects, as well as in the art of calligraphy.

The Thomas Wilsons

At a candlelight service Saturday, June 17, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church LINDA LEE HENRY, daughter of the George David Henrys, of University place, became Mr. Wilson's bride. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Wilson, of Plymouth.

A number of tracings and freehand copies as well as identified forgeries were purposely acquired for the Sackler collection to enable comparison and, by contrast, to define the inimitable and genuinely personal quality of Tao-chi.

Throughout the show, viewers are challenged by forgeries and legitimate copies as well as original works.

Copying or imitating earlier masterpieces as part of a painter's training is a time-honored Chinese practice, as well as a traditional expression of reverence for past masters.

Amazing variety can be discovered in all the artists' work through the physical handling of the brush, (wrist movement, pressure, etc.), and the expressiveness of the brushstroke itself in terms of dryness, wetness or whether the line is flowing, halting, angular, rounded, flat or oblique.

The large format exhibition catalogue contains 386 illustrations and is available from the museum shops at $29.50. This extraordinary scholarly work was written by Marilyn and Shen Fu.

Shen Fu, formerly a member of the research staff of the National Palace Museum, Taipei, is now on the faculty of the Department of the History of Art, Yale University.

Marilyn Fu, his wife, is former assistant curator in the Far Eastern Art Department of the Metropolitan Museum.

The catalogue, published in 1973 by the Princeton University Press, is now in a second, revised edition.

"Chinese Treasures from the Arthur M. Sackler Collection" was selected for a lengthy tour of United States museums and galleries under auspices of the International Exhibitions Foundation, Washington, D.C.

It is open to the public without charge through Sunday, July 30. Regular hours at the Detroit Institute of Arts are 9:30 to 5:30 o'clock Tuesday through Sunday.

To introduce visitors to the fine points of Chinese painting, free public tours are offered each day at noon and 2 o'clock, meeting at the exhibition entrance.

Group tours for 10 or more persons may be arranged at 1 o'clock daily by advance appointment, by writing or telephoning Mrs. Risko in the Education Department, 833-7980.

Two guest lecturers will discuss aspects of the exhibition on successive Sundays: July 9, "Tao-chi—A Painter Without A Style" will be pre-

Linda Henry Bride of Thomas Wilson

Mid-June Rites Are Followed by Reception at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club; Newlyweds Vacation on Hilton Head Island

Linda Lee Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George David Henry, of University place, and Thomas Lynn Wilson, son of the John Edward Wilsons, of Plymouth, exchanged marriage vows Saturday, June 17, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

For the 7:30 o'clock candlelight service, Dr. Ray H. Kiely officiating, the bride chose a gown of ivory organza. Appliques of Alençon lace and seed pearls accented her mandarin-necked bodice.

Her cathedral length train fell from an Empire waist, and her illusion veil was held by a Juliet cap trimmed to match her gown. She carried a Colonial bouquet of peach-tinged white roses, peach daisy mums and baby's-breath.

Bridesmaids, dressed identically in pale peach Qiana and carrying Colonial bouquets of daisy mums and baby's-breath, were Mrs. Arthur Lowe, the bridegroom's sister, Beth Haumesser, of St. Louis, Mo., Joice tenBoesch, of Southfield, and Cynthia Ziskie, of Rochester.

Acting as best man for his cousin was Craig Carlson, of Plymouth. Seating the guests were Mr. Lowe, Donald Kolander, of Harrison, James Lawson, of Plymouth, and Michael Stang, of Clearwater, Fla., the bridegroom's cousin.

Special music before and during the ceremony was provided by Mrs. Maters and Mrs. Gustave Carlson, vocalists, and Barbara Dourjalian, organist.

Both mothers wore floor length chiffon, the bride's seafoam green, the bridegroom's smokey aqua, and both wore wrist corsages of white roses.

After a reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, the newlyweds left to vacation on Hilton Head Island, S.C. They are now at home in West Bloomfield.

Feature Great Lakes Vessels Art Exhibit

"Ships of the Great Lakes," an exhibition of 31 paintings by Karl Kultruff, of Sterling Heights, is now on view at the Detroit Historical Museum.

Kultruff, commissioned by the Detroit Historical Society Guild, depicts over 300 years of navigation on the Great Lakes, from the French barque "Le Griffon," (1679), to the motor vessel "Stewart J. Cort," (1972), one of the longest ships on the lakes.

The ships represented in the paintings are based primarily on the collection of model ships at the Dossin Great Lakes Museum on Belle Isle. Some were added because they better represented a type, or because the museum lacked a specific vessel.

"Ships of the Great Lakes" will be at the museum until Sunday, July 16. Museum hours are 9:30 to 5 o'clock Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 1 to 9 Wednesday and 1 to 5 Sunday. Admission is by voluntary donation.

State Artists Form Caucus

The Michigan Artists Caucus, initiated by Michigan artists who saw the necessity for an organized and direct statement of their needs, was formed during the First Michigan Congress on the Arts; June 15 through 17.

The caucus intends to establish a statewide artists' communication network and to assist in solving problems facing Michigan artists.

Proposed MAC projects include:

- 1) Creation of a statewide artist mailing list.
- 2) Development of an umbrella service organization capable of stating artists' needs and dealing constructively with these needs through other organizations.
- 3) Development of artist representation on state and federal agencies and at the White House Conference on the Arts.
- 4) Creation of an active lobby force for concerns affecting Michigan artists.
- 5) Development of methods to implement First Michigan Congress on the Arts resolutions relating to artists.
- 6) Increased public visibility of Michigan artists' works.

Of particular note is a proposed Arts in Education Project that makes available 500 artist-in-school visits by MAC members. The project represents $50,000 in donated time by artists involved in MAC.

The caucus also intends to secure additional workshop facility space with the cooperation of Michigan colleges and universities. Regional discussions will be scheduled to discuss additional concerns of state artists.

Any artist interested in being listed on the statewide mailing list should send name, address, artistic medium and areas of concern to the MAC temporary mailing address: Michigan Council for the Arts, 1200 Sixth avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

Additional information on the Michigan Artists Caucus may be obtained by contacting Tom Rudd, Support to Individual Artists coordinator, Michigan Council for the Arts.

TRAVELWORLD
By DICK D'ANDREA

AUSTRIA

Quite rightly, Austria burnishes her treasures—her art, architecture, her cultural achievements, her palaces and museums and her long, rich history. No need for building tourist attractions, Austria has sufficient to attract and to hold visitors. In fact, there are many who return yearly to a favorite Alp or Valley and the reassurance that life retains its traditional patterns. But though it reveres the traditional, Austria is definitely part of today—with the full spectrum of modernity: Fine hotels, roads and transportation, year-round sports and cultural activities.

This is Schubert Year, the 150th anniversary of Franz Schubert's death, to be celebrated all over Austria: special concerts in Vienna, Graz, Linz, Salzburg and Innsbruck. The Vienna Festival (mid-May through June) will recall the scope of his work.

To get the best value for your travel dollar, Austrians suggest that Americans forego the top-dollar deluxe hotels and dining, and try instead the smaller hotels, inns and pensions.

Travelworld's staff can assist you with your travel plans to Austria or any other destination. Stop in at 21127 Mack (North of Vernier) or call 882-8190.

She Wears Exact Copies of her Mother's Wedding Gown and Veil for Ceremony at Which She Becomes Bride of Kenneth Schmidt

A reception in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Crystal Ballroom and gardens followed the Saturday, June 24, wedding of Juliet Mazer and Kenneth L. Schmidt in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

She is the daughter of Commander and Mrs. John Mazer, of Loraine road. The Alvin F. Schmidts, of Stanhope avenue, are the bridegroom's parents.

The newlyweds, who vacationed in Las Vegas, Florida and Stowe, Vt., are at home in Lothrop road.

For the 5 o'clock ceremony at which Dr. Ray Kiely presided, the bride wore exact copies of her mother's wedding gown and veil, the former fashioned of English tulle and lace, the latter a mantilla studded with lace and pearls.

She carried a copy of her mother's wedding bouquet of white orchids and ivy.

Honor maid Barbra Gilstorf, a former Pointer now teaching in Annapolis, Md., and honor matron Mrs.

Symphony Jrs. Hosting Picnic

Some 40 members of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, their families and guests, will gather this Saturday, July 15, at 6 o'clock in the picnic area behind the box office at Meadow Brook — unless it rains, in which case everyone meets backstage.

They'll be bringing a picnic supper, complete with wine and hospitality, for members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and their families. The idea is to get DSO members and the Juniors together: a "getting-to-know-you" affair in a casual, country atmosphere.

Special guests will be Kazuhiro Koizumi, conductor for that evening's Meadow Brook Music Festival performance, and Lorin Hollander, pianist, guest performer.

Mrs. Robert C. Buhl, of Harvard road, is chairing the event.

They Plan A Week's Camping Trip in The Upper Peninsula in August; Lace Accents Bride's White Eyelet Gown

It was a garden wedding, on the lawns of Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore, and a garden reception, under a yellow and white striped canopy at the Bedford road home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rayl, for Diane Margaret Rayl and Michael Robert Seaver.

Her tiered skirt ended in a flounced hem. Floor length streamers fell from her picture hat, trimmed with white rose appliques, and she carried white daisies, white rosebuds and baby's-breath.

She was attended by Barbara Bolek, in a floor length frock of pale yellow chiffon featuring a stand-up, ruffled collar, and a wide-brimmed, matching, flowered hat, of lace and chiffon.

White daisies and yellow rosebuds, with baby's-breath, formed her bouquet.

Sculptures in Place At Meadow Brook

Four striking, new, aluminum sculptures are on exhibit at the entrance walks to Meadow Brook Music Festival this summer. They were created by Michael R. Kapetan, a Michigan artist whose public commissions include a sundial for the Rochester Community Schools and a carved Bacchus for the Michigan Opera Company. Entitled "Jacob's Ladder," "Delta," "Delphi" and "Gnomon," the totem-like figures are geometrically constructed of equilaterally triangular tubes welded of straight and curved strips. As an ensemble, they create a whole new sculpture out of the spaces between them.

Wedding in June For Michele Dube

She Speaks Vows to Dan Michael Kasunic at Evening Ceremony Followed by Reception at Alcamo's Hall

At an early evening ceremony Saturday, June 24, in Saint Brendan's Church, Michele Dube, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Dube, of St. Clair avenue, spoke her marriage vows to Dan Michael Kasunic.

A reception at Alcamo's Hall followed the 6:15 o'clock rites. The newlyweds are returning from a Florida vacation to make their home in Frankfort, Ind.

Silk Venise lace trimmed the bride's Empire-waisted, high-necked, long-sleeved gown of white silk organza. Matching lace accented her Camelot headpiece and fingertip mantilla. Her train was chapel length.

Mrs. Dan Kasunic

Saint Brendan's Church was the setting Saturday, June 24, for the wedding of MICHELE DUBE, daughter of the Joseph P. Dube, of St. Clair avenue, and Mr. Kasunic, son of the David E. Kasunic, of Trombley road.

She was attended by a cousin, Mary Kay Dube, as honor maid, and bridesmaids Diane and Lora Kasunic, the bridegroom's sisters, in frocks of maize Qiana.

The honor attendant's Colonial bouquet featured white daisy mums, yellow Sweetheart roses and baby's-breath. The bridesmaids' bouquets featured white and yellow daisy mums and baby's-breath.

Gary Kasunic was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Kasunic, of Trombley road.

Guests were seated by David Goetz and Robert Krueger. Becky Matthews, the bride's cousin, was flower girl. Todd Dube, the bride's brother, was ring bearer. The mother of the bride wore pale blue chiffon. The bridegroom's mother selected a powder blue gown, with a chiffon capelet.

Festival Offers Music Variety

Meadow Brook Music Festival's fourth week of the summer season offers a wide variety of classical and popular performers.

The Symphonic Series Thursday and Saturday, July 13 and 15, features widely-acclaimed Japanese conductor Kazuhiro Koizumi in his first Meadow Brook appearance.

Highlighting tonight's concert will be internationally-known violinist Ruggiero Ricci, celebrating his 50th year as a performer.

Saturday evening, Koizumi and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will be joined by Lorin Hollander, a talented and innovative artist who has performed with almost every major orchestra in the world and has appeared extensively on network and public television.

Pavilion and lawn tickets are available for both symphonic programs.

Again this summer, the public is invited to attend select daytime open rehearsals. The first, Wednesday, July 12, featured Conductor Koizumi and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Rehearsals begin at 1:30 o'clock. The grounds open at noon for those who wish to bring picnic luncheons or purchase light salad plates at the Trumbull Terrace dining area.

It's nostalgia night tomorrow, Friday, July 14, when the spotlight shines on four favorite quartets: the Four Lads, Four Freshmen, Pied Pipers and Ink Spots.

Except for a few seats, the pavilion is sold out for this program by the "Fabulous Fours." Lawn tickets are available at $4 each.

A Russian-French Pops Evening with Andre Kostelanetz and the Detroit Symphony is scheduled for Sunday, July 16. Featured soloist will be soprano Carole Farley.

The program includes Offenbach's "Orpheus in Hades," light music from Russian masters, Ravel's "Bolero" and several other selections.

Pavilion seats at $6 and lawn tickets at $3.50 are still available.

All performances are held in the outdoor Baldwin Pavilion on the Oakland University campus in Rochester. Programs begin at 8:30 each evening except for Sunday, when the concert starts at 7:30 o'clock.

Tickets may be purchased at the Festival box office or at any Hudson's, Sears, Montgomery Ward's or Grinnell's ticket services. Additional information may be obtained by calling 377-2010.

GROSSE POINTE PUBLIC SCHOOL RETIRES JOHN ROHRER, PRINCIPAL OF FERRY ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, AND LAWRENCE KENNEDY, ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT OF PERSONNEL.

By Susan McDonald

Grosse Pointe Schools lose two of their finest veteran administrators this summer when both John Rohrer, principal of Ferry Elementary School, and Assistant Superintendent of Personnel Lawrence Kennedy leave their posts for the "good life" of retirement.

As top man in the personnel department, Larry Kennedy has interviewed, tested and selected just about every teacher to join the school system for the last 15 years. As the Board of Education noted when it announced his retirement this spring, "much of the credit for the system's outstanding staff must go to him."

It's been quite a responsibility, and one that's grown tremendously in recent years to include the negotiation and administration of complex labor agreements and a variety of fringe benefit programs, in addition to the traditional hiring and firing of staff members.

Man in Middle
Larry's found himself the "man in the middle" during the last two years of bickering between teachers and management in The Pointe—and right now he's very glad to be out of the hot seat.

"I wish Ron Tonks and Jim Hoeh, (who will take over some of Larry's past responsibilities), all the luck improving employee relations," Larry said. "I hope they'll be able to get them back to where they were a few years ago."

He's made a clean break with Grosse Pointe and, along with Beverly, his wife of 32 years, is looking forward to some well-deserved rest and recreation. They've sold the big house in Three Mile drive that was home for 19 years. It only made sense, now that four of their five children have gone their own ways. Larry, Jr., and wife are out in Plymouth with three children; Alice and husband and their son are settled in Grosse Pointe; Susan and her husband are in Eugene, Ore.; William in Detroit; and the youngest, Bruce, still at home.

Larry and Bev have settled down in a quiet, isolated cul-de-sac in Harper Woods—so quiet in fact, "it's a real 'happening' when a car comes down the street," according to Larry.

Smalltown Boy
It's probably not unlike the place Larry was born at—Aloha, a resort town near Mullet Lake in northern Michigan with a year around population of about 40 people. Talk about quiet.

But it didn't take Larry long to move on to bigger things. Fresh out of high school in 1934, he enrolled in the University of Michigan to study math, but the Depression put an end to that in short order. Back to work, he wandered from job to job—banker, grocery store manager, vacuum cleaner salesman—until the Army got him in 1942.

He served as a captain in the Infantry in Europe during WWII and met Bev, who was working as an Army nurse, in Normandy.

Back at home after the war—married and kids coming fast—Larry found good use for the variety of job experiences he'd gained during the Depression. He was determined to get back to school, but money was short as ever. While he took on two jobs at a time in addition to his studies, Bev operated a board house off campus for male students.

"Now that I think back,

Theresa are planning for themselves as soon as the job at Ferry School is done this summer. Finally, he'll have the time to enjoy the lakefront he's been living on since 1969, when the Rohrs moved from The Pointe out to Harrison Township, on the edge of Lake Saint Clair.

Gaggle of 'Grands'
The Rohrs' three daughters have supplied plenty of grandchildren for them to visit, too. Linda and her husband have four children; Suzanne and husband another four, and they're still waiting for the youngest, Kathy, who's busy investigating oil spills and other hazards with the Environmental Protec-

I'm not sure exactly how we managed," Larry muses, "It was a hectic few years; crazy but fun. There were Bev and I, our three kids and 24 students—one happy family."

System Works
But it worked. In 1950 he received his Bachelors degree in Mathematics and the following year a Masters in History from the University of Michigan.

After a short stint teaching Social Studies in South Lyon, Larry was recruited by Grosse Pointe in 1953. First working as a teacher at Pierce School, then as administrative assistant, director of professional personnel and, finally, assistant superintendent of personnel.

His involvement in the community didn't end there. He was an active member of Little League and Babe Ruth boards of directors and held several leadership positions at Grosse Pointe Methodist Church.

But he plans to call his time his own now, split between "loving our grandchildren, a bit of traveling, fishing and golf" up at their cottage in the Thumb.

It's about the same course John Rohrer and his wife

Stage vs. School
By the time he reached Cass Tech High School, opportunities to travel across the country were coming in and, although John was willing, mother drew the line.

"She insisted I finish school, right up through college. I was furious."

He went to University of Michigan on a full music scholarship and kept on playing, for a while holding the drummers' spot in Jimmy Dorsey's Big Band.

After college he had, to say the least, an unusual wartime experience. Assigned to the Air Force Radio Production Unit, John spent a good part of his stint in Los Angeles helping produce the 15-minute Big Band spots that lifted spirits across the nation during the war.

"When I think of experiences like that, I have to conclude that I've led a heck of a charmed life. I was in and around Hollywood most of the war years, going to parties, meeting stars and working with the best musicians in the country. I barely knew there was a war going on."

Goodbye, Show Biz
In the meantime he met and married Theresa, who was working as a model in Chicago. When the war was over, both had plenty of opportunities open to them: Theresa in movies and John as a musician, but they both decided then and there to quit show business.

In 1951 John gave all his musical equipment to a "talented but destitute" friend. He hasn't performed publicly since.

Why?
"You must remember, I'd been performing since I was six years old. I'd played with WJR radio, the Detroit Symphony, worked in Hollywood and traveled through South America. I'd had a whole range of experience in music," John explains.

"Theresa and I both knew what it was like to live 'on the road' out of a suitcase. It was not the kind of life we wanted so we agreed to quit and try to live a normal life, with a home and a family."

Exciting Career
He happened on a teaching position at Yale and, as his luck would have it, discovered a vocation just as exciting and fulfilling to him as music.

"Teaching was thrilling for me from start to finish," he explains. "Just to watch that light bulb go on, to see the effect of all your efforts with youngsters—I get a real kick out of it."

The Yale experience began a new career for him. At the time of his retirement, John had lodged a total of 32 years in education including

OF COURSE, Gerry tells us, it will be flying high when she entertains Navy officers and Detroit Women's Council officers, who meet at the Fisher home.

Lou (Mrs. Aaron E.) Wilcox, of Loraine road, who has served as an officer of the Detroit Women's Council and is now on the executive board, was presented with an exquisite, handcut crystal WARA pedestal cake plate, in appreciation of her publicity work for many, many Navy League Balls.

"Outside of making a hole in one some years ago, while playing Indian Trails Golf Course in Grand Rapids with Ed and my brother-in-law, Coby Byl, the second biggest surprise of my life was receiving the award for publicity from Mrs. Maurice Castle, ball chairman, and Mrs. George Belleau, council president, who represented the council and the ball committee."

Lou suggests that perhaps the gift symbolizes that publicity is the "frosting" on the cake—while the cake symbolizes the hard work each year of the ball chairman and her committee.

But what's a cake without frosting? . . . And Lou, who has written publicity for seven council presidents, many of whom have served for two years, is one of the best "frosters" in town.

Besides turning out copy for the Navy League Ball, she has written reams of publicity for the Detroit Review Club since the 50's.

And she recently took on the job of publicity chairman for the NeuroMuscular Institute Boosters, a group dedicated to helping Dr. Maurice Castle's work in orthopaedic surgery, with crippled children.

Lou describes herself as "primarily a fundraising type of person." A few years back, when she was chairman of the Council of International Clubs for the Michigan Federation, she gave the largest CARE party in the United States.

That money went to Greece, and Lou has helped to raise thousands of dollars for various other philanthropic projects.

As a former advertising woman and public relations person, she was press chairman for the General Federation of Women's Clubs convention held several years ago at Ford Auditorium.

She set up typewriters for the 42 newspapers that were represented, saw to it that the reporters were given daily advance copy of what was going on . . . "That was one of the hardest—but the most exciting—jobs of publicity I've ever done."

A Personal Note . . .

After the ball, there was no letdown for Lou and Ed.

They had Something Special to look forward to: a flying Fourth of July visit from their granddaughter, Patricia Dieters, a former Pointer who was graduated last year from Endicott College.

Endicott is located in Beverly, Mass., on a beautiful, 200-acre site on Massachusetts Bay, and Pat, like so many of her college friends, fell in love with the Boston area and is still living near the college.

Pat and one of her former Endicott roommates have found an apartment in Beverly, two blocks from a beach and only a 15-minute drive from Peabody where Pat, who majored in Medical Terminology and Secretarial Work, is secretary to a doctor.
