A PITTSBURGH judge ruled that the cousin of a critically ill man cannot be compelled to donate some of his bone marrow so that his relative may survive. The man, Robert McFall, is suffering from a rare blood disease which blocks formation of blood cells in his bone. His cousin, David Shimp, has refused to donate his marrow for health reasons which he hasn't divulged. Doctors say that Mr. McFall's chances for survival are slim without the transplant. Judge John Flaherty based his decision on common law, which says that "there's no duty to rescue someone or save someone's life."

GENERAL MOTORS Corporation announced that its second quarter earnings were the greatest in its history, while Chrysler Corp. reported a more than two-thirds drop in its second quarter profits from the same period last year. GM's earnings were said to be $1.1 billion, up one percent from last year's record second quarter. Chrysler managed a $30.5 million profit for the second quarter, but company officials have predicted that the firm will end up in the red this year, following a first quarter loss of $120 million.

INVESTORS, FEARING a weakening U.S. dollar, pushed the price of gold above $200 an ounce in a flurry of buying designed to protect themselves against economic uncertainty. The price rose a dramatic $7.12 in one day on the London market. An even larger jump of $7.25 was recorded on the Zurich market over the same period. Meanwhile, the dollar continued its slide in Japan and Europe, hitting record lows against the Japanese yen and the Swiss franc.

Sunday, July 30

PRESIDENT JIMMY Carter announced a set of 10 principles upon which he said a national health care plan should be designed. The principles were contained in a directive to Joseph Califano, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. Chief among the principles was that any plan should not be inflationary. Mr. Carter has been accused by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and organized labor of a failure of leadership on the health care issue.

Monday, July 31

EGYPTIAN PRESIDENT Anwar Sadat said Mideast peace talks will not continue unless Israel agrees to return all occupied territories to the Arabs and recognizes that the issue is not negotiable. Mr. Sadat also appealed for the U.S. to step into the talks again to present new ideas and alternatives. He called for the U.S. to act "as a full partner," not just a mediator. He was visibly angry at Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin's statement last week that the Arab countries shouldn't expect to get something for nothing in relation to the occupied territories.

GARBAGE CREWS, bus mechanics and 911 operators in Detroit went on strike this morning, putting a halt to garbage pick-ups and crippling the bus system. Uniformed police officers continued answering the emergency 911 phones and there was no disruption of that operation. The strike involves four locals of the city's largest union, Council 25 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. It was expected to spread to other locals, and no one, including union officials, know how long it will last.

Thunderstorm's Power Topples Big Elm in Park

One of several Elm trees lost in the community as a result of the Wednesday evening, July 26, thunderstorm is this beauty located in Bedford road near East Jefferson avenue. The tree, which knocked down an Edison street lighting fixture, dwarfs two interested spectators, (center, in street), who are obviously awed by the magnitude of what had occurred.

Committee Set to Eye Renovation

Advisory Group Formed in City to Assess Needs at Neff Park, Formulate Proposal for Bonds

By Susan McDonnald

A special advisory committee this week began study of a proposed renovation of The City's Neff Park to be funded by a bond issue that will go before voters this fall. Citizens who have agreed to serve on the committee are Clifford Crookford of Washington road, past commodore of The City Boat Club; John Chase of Washington road; Eugene G. O'Brien of Washington road, past commodore of the boat club; Peter Waggoner of Washington road; and John and Julie Strabel of Rathbone place. Council members Arthur Feters Jr. and Jeanette Duffield also will serve on the committee along with Mayor John King, an ex-officio member.

Largest Project

The group was scheduled to begin its work with a meeting and tour of the park on Tuesday, August 1. They will be charged with assessing needs at the three-acre park and formulating a proposal for bonds.

City administrators expect the bond request to total $200,000 to $225,000, which would raise the debt retirement millage rate by about 50 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

A special election on the bond issue has been scheduled for September 26.

Probably the largest project the committee will examine is replacement of the

New Probation Program Director Set to Meet Challenge of Position

Pointer Suzanne O'Shea Says She's Delighted Working in The Community, Emphasizes Importance of Personal Contact

By David Kramer

"I think I have the most interesting job in the world." So says Pointer Mrs. Suzanne O'Shea of her life's work as a probation officer. More specifically, she is referring to her new position as director of the Grosse Pointe Volunteer Probation Program.

Interviewed at her small, second floor office in The Park Municipal Building, where she assumes her duties this week, Mrs. O'Shea said the job of a probation worker also is "a very lonely job."

"You don't get to see what's been done when you deal with people — that's lonely. You wonder: am I having an impact?"

"It's a difficult and frustrating business and it's even worse for the volunteers because they're new at it."

Satisfying Part

Mrs. O'Shea has spent most of her working life with probation programs, most recently with the Macomb County organization. Before that, she worked out of Recorder's Court. For three years she served as a Detroit policeman.

"The only case I haven't had is a safecracker," she said.

With all her experience in "the big time," Mrs. O'Shea said she won't miss the big felony cases.

"The really satisfying part of the job is to work with someone who still has some hope," she said.

"I'm really delighted being here and I'm very impressed with the four local judges."

And she says there are advantages to working in a community like The Pointe. "This isn't a faceless, anonymous place," she said, explaining that there may be many people you may know who would be willing to help a probationer. The personal contact approach is superior to simply telling a young offender to report to one of the auto plants for a job.

Mrs. O'Shea feels that crime is a community's problem. As such it is unfair for a few volunteers to shoulder the entire burden, which often includes spending money out of their own pockets.

Loss of Freedom

"Crime is our problem. Young people are our assets. The young person next door who is heading for trouble is my problem too."

Crime is very expensive, she explained, and not only to the victim. The cost to society to have criminals arrested, put through the court system and perhaps incarcerated, when multiplied by the number of offenders today, is astronomical.

Insurance rates also reflect the incidence of crime, and society as a whole pays

LWV Gets Ready for Big Event

Group Invites Community to Take Part in 'Bizarre Bazaar' Which Is Set for September 2

By Roger A. Waha

Pleased over the response of its first "Bizarre Bazaar, Flea Market and Craft Sale" last fall, the League of Women Voters, (LWV), of Grosse Pointe is all set for another "community happening" on Saturday, September 2, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the South High School football field.

"We had people seeking us out after last year's event, asking if we are going to have it again," said Judy Morlan, project chairman, who teaches third grade at Defer School. "The response has been very good."

Last year, the LWV made around a $1,300 profit from the bazaar to enable it to continue to carry out a variety of projects within the community. A total of 43 booths were rented by individuals and community organizations for a $10 fee.

A Key Point

"We're looking for the community to come through again via a community garage sale. We want members of the community to become involved along with artists and craftsmen, too," she said.

The LWV will again rent booths for a $10 fee to individuals, groups or even families. The variety of articles which may be sold is wide open, said Mrs. Morlan, and "we hope for as many booths as possible."

Booths featuring demonstrations, e.g., a potter and his wheel, also are welcome besides the normal range of baked goods, other foods, crafts, etc.

For its part, the league will be having its own flea market, bake sale and concessions but participation from the community is the point being emphasized. "The

Edison Says Both Municipalities Suffer Most from Interrupted Service; Fallen Trees, Downed Wires Also Cause Problems in Clean Up Effort for Some Citizens, Officials

By The NEWS Staff

The thunderstorm of Wednesday evening, July 26, with winds screaming over 70 mph, affected a total of 4,767 customers in The Pointe, according to a report from Detroit Edison.

The power loss, which hit The Park and City the hardest, was for as little as from two to three hours up to as much as two days in a few areas, said James Oliver, manager of Edison's Detroit Division which encompasses the community. All power was restored in the area prior to 11 p.m. on Friday, July 28.

Besides the loss of power, all the municipalities in varying degrees reported fallen trees, limbs and branches and downed wires. Again, The Park and City, along with a few sections of The Farms, suffered the most damage in this respect.

Many Affected

Mr. Oliver stated 3,336 of Edison's 5,500 customers in The Park were affected, i.e., suffering interrupted service or having voltage too low to be usable, by the storm.

Meanwhile, 1,106 of Edison's 2,600 customers in The City were affected, and 149 of the company's 4,800 customers in The Farms. He stated 88 customers were affected in The Woods, out of 7,200, and 88 in The Shores, out of 1,100.

Overhead line crews from other Edison divisions helped work on public lighting along with correcting problems caused by the wind in combination with fallen trees and limbs, added Mr. Oliver.

THE PARK

Police received a total of 36 calls of wires down throughout the city. A 10-block area on the south side of Jefferson, including several blocks in Detroit, were without electricity from Westchester into Detroit, plus several isolated spots on the north side of the avenue, (individual homes).

The fire department reported receiving 43 alarms of which nine were false.

City Manager John Crawford said that two huge trees, one at Bedford and Jefferson, and the other at Balfour and Jefferson, were uprooted. The tree in Bedford road knocked down an Edison street lighting fixture, and then strangely, very gently toppled over and leaned against a house on the east side of Bedford.

The tree on Balfour also gently leaned against a house on the road. The owner of the Balfour residence,

GPW Voters To Consider Questions

Seniors' Housing at Ghesquiere Park, Additional Class C License Two Local Issues on Ballot

By Roger A. Waha

Two local issues will highlight the primary election ballot on Tuesday, August 8, for Woods citizens, while all Pointers will eye the posts of governor, United States senator, state senator, congressional representative, state representative, a number of county seats and judgeships, plus a tax renewal proposition, Wayne County Proposition "A."

Woods residents will consider two referendary questions including one on senior citizens housing at Ghesquiere Park and another viewing an additional Class C liquor license in the city.

Of the two questions, seniors' housing has caused the most concern amongst the citizenry, with many seniors citing a need for such housing in the community, saying the park is the only viable location at this time, while other residents in opposition say they do not want a complex at the park.

Mailing Flyers

"We've not given up," said Irene Sutton, chairman of the Senior Citizens Commission. "We are mailing flyers to around 6,500 homes in the city. I hope the citizens will read them."

The flyers show a diagram of the park and the proposed location of the complex, (at the northwest corner), plus six questions and answers in relation to the issue, some statistics and comments.

Saying she realizes some young people are against the proposal while having a sympathetic feeling for those who have expressed some concern over the loss of some trees, Mrs. Sutton stated the city with its parks and clubs is blessed with "so much open space."

In relation to this, she reiterated the need for such housing, while noting the commission felt a multi-level type of complex, (not necessarily one six stories), would be more feasible because it would take less ground.

The commission has investigated the possibility of the availability of a school site, she continued, with "no possible chance at this point" of such a location becoming available for housing.

Concerns Cited

On the complex, Mrs. Sutton stressed, "It would be a structure the city will be proud of, and it will be a matter of pride for the council to have such a building in the community."

Fox Creek Claims Life Of Man Escaping Police

Refusal to pay for food service at the White Tower, 15009 East Jefferson, on Tuesday, July 25, indirectly lead to death by drowning of a 25-year-old Detroit man, reported Park Police Chief Henry O. Coonce.

The man escaped police custody and ran west on Jefferson, south on Ashland and through a row of bushes, falling into Fox Creek.

The chief said that Officer John Schulte was dispatched to the eatery at 6:30 a.m. on the complaint of a waitress. The policeman apprehended the man walking west on Jefferson and talked to him about paying his bill. The man returned to the restaurant but refused again, to settle his bill and was taken to the station.

At the station, the man, who told authorities that his name was Julius Norwood and that he resides in Joseph Campau, Detroit, was formally charged with defrauding an innkeeper, a misdemeanor, and told that he was entitled to make one telephone call.

Norwood, the chief said, insisted that he would like to make a private call to his brother, or girl friend, and wanted to use the public phone in the municipal office. Permission was granted by platoon commander, Sgt. Charles Petrie, with the man being watched by the sergeant and other officers.

Norwood made a sudden

Farms Beaches Closed Again

Officials of the Wayne County Department of Health have once again closed the beach at the Farms Pier Park following the collapse of a major sewer in Macomb County.

The action came after the Macomb County Health Department closed all beaches from the Clinton River south to Eight Mile Road, (the county line).

Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer said the beach was closed on Monday, July 31, despite tests which showed the water was still safe for swimming.

"If the wind changes it could blow, (the sewage), right up on the beach," he said.

Mr. Bremer said that while the incident was unfortunate, he could sympathize with the officials in Macomb County.

"You can't back that junk up six feet into someone's

Tree Envelops Home in Farms

Of the four or five trees reported down in The Farms, this one, at 70 Moran road, was said to have been the worst. Crews remain in the process of cleaning up with Public Service Director John D. noting it's still early for a complete picture.

Big Event

(Continued from Page 1) more the community's involved, the more it becomes a community happening with the monies we make staying in Grosse Pointe," she stated.

The monies which the LWV receives will be from its own activities and the various $10 rental fees. They will go toward supporting the group's wide range of services to The Pointe.

These include voters guides during elections, candidates' forums, the booklet, "Know Your Grosse Pointe," the pamphlet, "Know Your Elected Officials," and a speaker's bureau wherein league members will visit any group or organization.

Getting It Together

Last year, the league took this avenue toward raising monies as against sending letters to local businesses seeking donations and then following up by telephone or personal visits because the solicitation approach hadn't produced dividends.

Saying the community was excited and willing to support the new venture, Mrs. Morlan noted league members felt good about the overall response.

"Our costs had gone up, we had to look at something else and we hit upon this idea which offers good visibility," she stated. "It was a way toward helping us get our finances together."

The LWV currently has around 100 members, whereas last fall the roster totaled approximately 128. A reason for this, besides the raising of annual dues from $15 to $20 last year, is because some previous members had other conflicts and couldn't spare the time to support the league and its activities, explained Mrs. Morlan.

Call to Rent

While some have failed to renew their memberships, the group is welcoming new members at a steady pace, she added. "And the people who are on our active list are active for the most part."

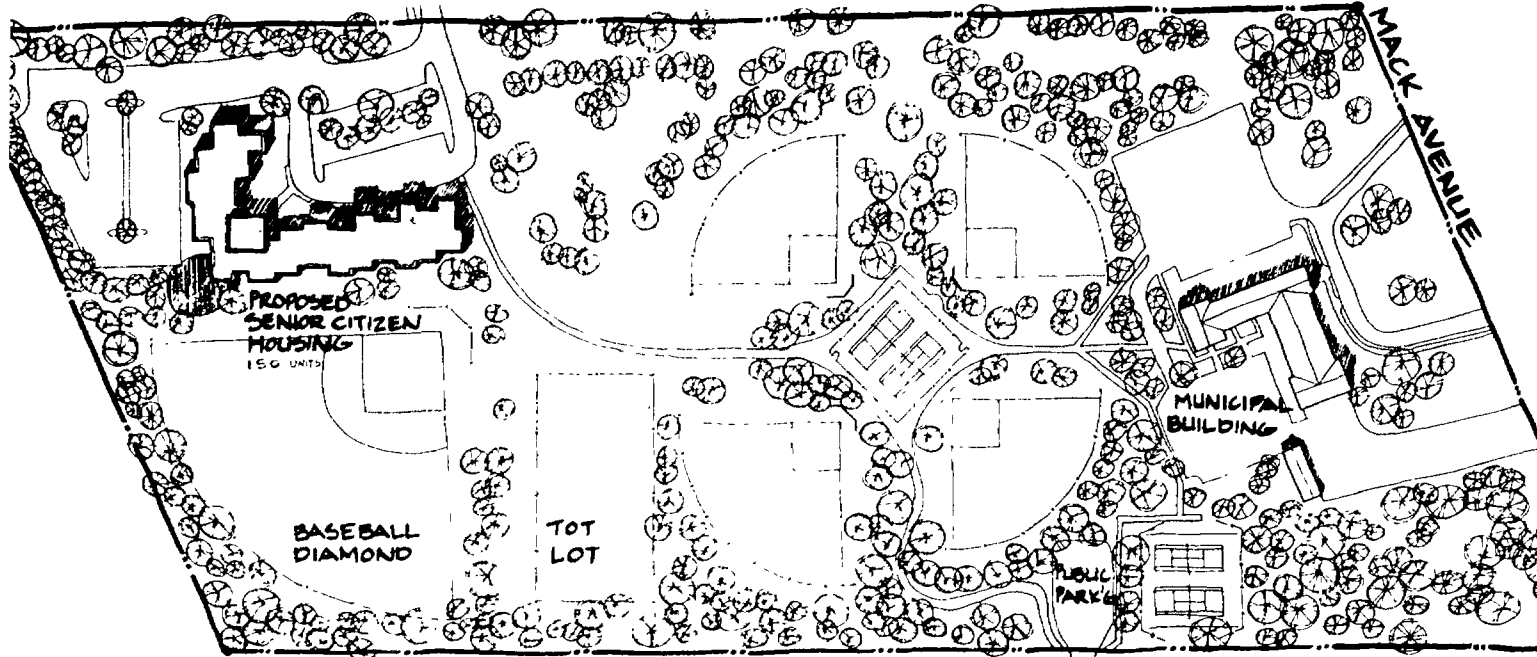

As preparations continue for the event, members have designated areas of responsibility.

They include Elinor Tacke and Fran Schonenberg, bake sale; Fran Higbie and Linda Von Rosen, flea market donations; Cathy Weyhing, project treasurer; Barbara Stickford and Karen Fahle, concessions; and publicity, Shirley Piku and Mrs. Stickford.

Meanwhile, citizens who would like to rent a booth should call Jo Ann Kelly at 331-8347.

SPEAK DISTINCTLY

In communicating with a hard of hearing person, speaking distinctly can be as helpful — or even more beneficial — than speaking loudly, according to officials of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation.

THE PROPOSED SENIOR CITIZENS HOUSING COMPLEX AT Ghesquiere Park, which Woods voters will consider at the Tuesday, August 8, primary election, is located at the northwest corner, (upper left).

Two Local Issues in Woods Highlight Election

"I'd like to feel the council will recognize the will of the people if the question is approved and not their own thoughts."

On the other side, citizens in opposition to the proposal have stated they aren't against seniors' housing per se but against the park location, feeling it would take land away from all residents.

They also have expressed other concerns in relation to financing the project over the long run, failure to meet the proposed bond issue, potential traffic and parking problems in the immediate vicinity, along with concerns over firefighting problems in relation to a multi-level building, six stories notwithstanding.

A similar question was defeated in 1975 by a vote of 2,525 to 1,647. It asked voters if they favored appropriate action to transfer a portion of city-owned park property, i.e., Ghesquiere, to a municipal building authority for the purpose of constructing a seniors' housing complex. However, the question residents will view on the 8th is more expensive.

Would Make Five

This question asks the following: Do you favor the creation of a building authority by the city for the purpose of constructing senior citizen housing for Woods residents only to be financed by a revenue bond issue not to exceed $4,500,000 to be repaid from rentals; such housing to be located in Ghesquiere Park on approximately three acres of land to be donated to the building authority by the city?

This question is to sample the feeling of the community on this proposal and if it passes, it's not binding on the council at all, noted City Attorney George Catlin.

Meanwhile, the liquor license question asks voters if they favor the adoption of an ordinance amending the city code to provide that the council "may approve or signify its approval" of the issuance of one additional Class C Michigan liquor license within the city?

The ordinance will be amended automatically if it's approved. Then the council will have to decide if it wishes to issue one additional document and, if so, to whom.

If an additional license is issued, it will make a total of five such licenses in the community, with the State Liquor Control Commission also having to give its okay.

The Woods could have up to 15 Class C Licenses pending council approval.

Says Need Is Great

This particular question reached the primary ballot because of the successful initiatory petition drive conducted by Alex Bardy of Gabby's Restaurant, 19299 Mack Avenue, with the council then placing the subject on the ballot.

Mr. Bardy, who has been at the restaurant for three years and who bought the business in May 1976, said the establishment needs such a license to survive in today's business climate.

"It's a matter of life and death for me," he said, while viewing the future and no foreseeable way of operating, considering increased costs, without such a document.

He felt the issuance of an additional Class C license via the proper discretion of the council wasn't detrimental to the business community in Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Farmington. In fact, Mr. Bardy indicated such issuance helped stabilize the community, making it more viable as against having a "bunch of run-down looking restaurants."

If the question is approved and if the council issues the license to Gabby's, Mr. Bardy said his plans call for a service bar, no cocktail lounge, with drinks being served at the table. Emphasizing his business will remain a family-oriented restaurant, he added it would contain "no cocktail lounge atmosphere."

Tough to Answer

Mr. Bardy said if Gabby's receives the document, he plans on refurbishing the interior of the restaurant. He basement," he said.

The Farms had a similar problem a year and a half ago when a sewer in Kerby road collapsed, necessitating the dumping of raw sewage into the lake for a period of several months.

That action, taken while repairs were being made, resulted in the beach being closed for almost a year. It was opened again this May 26.

A spokesman for the Crescent Sail Yacht Club said its beach also was closed.

Woods Planners Okay Colonial Federal Bid

By Roger A. Waha
A set of revised preliminary plans for the proposed Colonial Federal Savings and Loan Ass'n. facility to be constructed on the west side of Mack avenue, between Lennon and Van Antwerp roads, was unanimously approved by the Woods Planning Commission at its regular meeting Tuesday, July 25.

The property in question is currently being used as a Jack-in-The-Box Restaurant. Colonial Federal is planning to utilize the existing structure with modifications and to add to the building.

When the plans were first presented to the commission on June 27 by architect G.R. Daniell, officials felt the remodeling and renovation design lacked a Colonial appearance.

As a result, officials rejected the plans and requested that Mr. Daniell meet with Building Inspector Earl Wakely to receive further input.

Several commissioners praised the redrafted plans for their Colonial appearance. "The renditions as submitted are pleasing from a Colonial point of view," said Commissioner Peter Glezian, who felt the structure would be a credit to Mack avenue.

be handled through Mr. Wakely's office.

Meanwhile, Commissioner Robert Sabo stated he wished to compliment Mr. Daniell for the improved plans, saying they met the commission's view on Colonial architecture.

For his part, Mr. Wakely said the original plans contained a rounded circular front with a Chinese Pagoda appearance. However, the revised design featured "a different room," i.e., a gable style roof, shutters, mullions, among other aspects of Colonial architecture. "It was altogether different," he explained.

Now, the building inspector will work with the petitioner on interior adjustments and toward final plans.

Besides the renovation and remodeling, Colonial Federal also is planning the addition of a drive-in banking facility.

At the June meeting, Robert Powers, president of Colonial Federal, told the commissioners that the association is contemplating a move of its savings office from its Mack-Hunt Club location to the Jack-in-The-Box location. The site at 20247 Mack, as planned, will be used as an administrative and mortgage office.

Hill Plan Presented

Expresses Concern
"I did that to shock you," Mr. Schervish responded. "Now I can step down and get into the more traditional types of architecture." Mr. Mast added to Mr. Schervish's response, saying that "style is independent of the development itself. The concept would still be the same."

School Board President Laurance Harwood also said he thought the plan was interesting, although he expressed some concern about its encroachment on land currently owned by the schools, the Richard School playground and South High School play field. The plan calls for building a combination parking structure with streetfront shops on the Richard School playground, and a "view tower" restaurant or fountain on a portion of the South High field abutting Kercheval avenue.

One modification of Mr. Schervish's plan since it also was last viewed by representatives of the NEWS was a change in the type of multi-family residences he proposed for a portion of what is now McMillan Field and the permit parking area.

Might Be Interested
Citing this as one of the more controversial aspects of his plan, Mr. Schervish proposed that his original plan for ultra-modern, luxury apartments might be adapted to a townhouse concept.

He stressed that multi-family housing would not be unique in the Pointes, and added that it would be a significant addition to the plan, since it would create "that much more business for the shops On-the-Hill."

"I realize everyone of you is asking where the money is going to come from," Mr. Schervish said, adding that he would like to see The Farms do a feasibility study on his project.

He said that while a private developer could be brought in to do the job, developers have a tendency to take over. You have to pick one who has the same goals and ideas as you.

"I'll bet Henry Ford would be interested," he added.

One member of the audience asked what type of reaction he has received from previous showings of the plan.

Has No Idea
He said the plan could be implemented over a period of two or 10 years.

"We need people; we need involvement. You have to have a general scheme."

Contacted later, Mr. Mast said the presentation "was an indication of someone who had done a lot of work. What part of it is feasible is a good question."

Indicating that he thought the development plan might be too dense for the community, he added, "He, (Mr. Schervish), has developed it to within a half an inch of its life."

Mr. Mast said one of the more obvious problems with the plan is the ability of the existing streets to handle the traffic from such a dense development.

"I think he had some thought provoking ideas," he said, while noting he had no idea how other council members would react to the plan.

"Some of the things he suggested are things we've been working on," he said, while citing the relocation of the Standard station to the old Sunoco station lot and the offices at the corner of Muir and Kercheval.

Must Face Up
"The plan would require a developer. It's possible for the city to act as developer, but I don't see it happening," he said, adding that The Farms has no money to spare.

"I'd be overjoyed to see someone come in, (to the council), with a program that would face up to the parking problem," he said, explaining the solons had already turned down two proposed developments in the area for lack of parking.

Mr. Mast said he attended the meeting as "a concerned citizen" and also as a council member. He said he was not chosen as a representative of the council.

Fox Creek Claims Life

Trying to escape capture, Norwood dashed through a group of bushes, apparently not realizing he was close to Fox Creek, and fell into the canal.

Chief Coonce said that Norwood went through the bushes between 911 and 913 Ashland, and was unable to stop his momentum after seeing the creek ahead and plunged in head first.

As Norwood struggled in the water, one of the Park officers picked up a long tree limb and tried to give it to the man, but it was too short. Norwood went under and was not seen again.

"We do not know if the man's name was really Julius Norwood," Chief Coonce said, "but that is what we have on our records. Nor do we know if he dove down to swim under the water trying to get away, or if he could not swim, sank and drowned. This was certainly a tragic thing to happen."

The chief said that the Detroit Harbormaster Division and the U.S. Coast Guard, both stationed at Belle Isle, were called. Norwood fell into the creek at 7 a.m. and his body was recovered at 8:40 a.m., the chief said.

Since the drowning occurred in Detroit's jurisdiction, Detroit authorities are investigating the cause of death. They also will determine whether the drowning victim's name is correct by checking his fingerprints, it was said.

NEW CONDITION

In addition to presbycusis, which is a loss of hearing ability due to the aging process, officials of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation point out that a relatively new condition called sociocusis—a loss of hearing due to environmental conditions—has begun to afflict man.

Key Factors Cause Mishaps

For the first six months of the year, 152 accidents have been reported in The Woods with two main contributing circumstances accounting for around 45 percent of them.

These factors include failure of yield the right-of-way, 49 mishaps, and following too closely, 19.

As a result, Public Safety Director John Dankel, who feels enforcement can help drive down the number of accidents, told officers in an information sheet that increased enforcement on the pair of violations should have a desirable effect.

Other factors accounting for accidents include speeding too fast for conditions and "other improper driving," 13 mishaps, driver inattention, 12, and improper overtaking, 10.

Inter-Faith Center Series Views Education of Young

The fourth session of the community forum series "Promoting Racial Understanding," sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice, will be "Educating Our Young: Do They Have the Survival Skills for Living and Working in a Multi-Cultural World?"

Bike-a-Thon Big Success

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees had a successful "Ride for Reyes" bike-a-thon earlier this summer despite last minute problems due to bad weather and a mix-up created by another community organization, said Doug Dold, project chairman.

Through the efforts of the Jaycees and other volunteer workers and bicyclists, a total of $5,370.88 was raised. After expenses of $555, the net proceeds of $4,815.88 will be paid to the Reyes Syndrome Research Center at Children's Hospital, Detroit.

New bicycles were awarded to Kim Hodge of Uta and Bryan Kane of East Detroit for raising the most money in their age groups, said Mr. Dold. Meanwhile, a drawing was held and new bicycles were won by Mrs. Julie Merz and Kenneth Bresser, both of The Park.

Twenty gift certificates for bicycle accessories, donated by Pointe Cyclery, also were given out.

A total of 135 people participated in the event, with Mr. Dold indicating the Jaycees are considering a similar activity this fall.

GPW Nationals Take District

The Grosse Pointe Woods Nationals advanced to sectional play by becoming District Six champions with a 1-0 win over the Clinton Valley Nationals on Saturday, July 29.

The game, played at Hamtramck Memorial Field, featured a one-hitter by pitcher Mike Hall. The winning run was driven in on Tim Vreeland's sacrifice in the fifth inning.

The team will play the winner of District Seven on Sunday, August 6, at Richmond, Mich.

tion, Northeast Guidance Center, and Mary Kay Stark, educational coordinator, Focus: HOPE, High School Program.

The moderator will be Jere Thomas, of Manchester boulevard, chairperson of the Youth Task Force.

Mr. Egnatios discussed the upcoming session as the philosophical background for the center's educational program for young people.

"My presentation is really the basis for our new educational thrust for young people. I am anxious to share with members of the community our thinking on this subject and to listen to discussion of various points of view," he said.

"Our previous session of this series on affirmative action, worked out excellent because there were so many different and often opposite views expressed."

He went on to explain that "the panelists are being asked to comment on this topic based on their own experiences and to assess the accuracy of the judgments developed."

"However, a good attendance and participation would guarantee the highest quality discussion. I hope administrators, parents, faculty and even students, from both public and private schools in the community, might participate."

As all of the sessions, "Educating Our Young" is open to the public and admission is free of charge.

Planner's Work Eyed in Woods

A verbal status report on the services rendered by planning consultant Brandon M. Rogers to The Woods, tabled at the Monday, July 17, Council meeting, is scheduled to be considered by the council at its Monday, August 7, session.

Citing some concerns over the lack of work of the consultant and the commission reaching the council level as expressed at a recent council meeting, Commissioner John Kennedy questioned what can be done to have the council recognize that such work has occurred?

(Recommendations on roof, political and portable signs, for example, have already been referred to the council by the commission, with the first two items being approved by the council.)

Saying the council receives commission minutes, City Administrator Chester E. Peterson stated it's a matter of record what the commission has done. He added he would make note of the overall effort both of the commission and Mr. Rogers to the council.

For his part, Mr. Rogers told the commission at its special meeting Wednesday, July 19, that his job according to the contract, i.e., to formulate a land use plan and update the zoning ordinance, is "all in."

He praised the commission for its "tremendous amount of work" on the zoning ordinance, which is currently being studied by City Attorney George Catlin and Building Inspector Earl Wakely toward further input.

Probation Director to Meet Challenge

 for it, she reflected.
 "If you can turn that person, (the offender), around, he or she can become an asset instead of a liability. It's a tremendous burden to keep people locked up in jail when there's a lot of work to be done in the community."
 Price tags can't be put on things like having to lock the doors every evening, and not feeling it is safe to take a walk at night.

 "We've lost a lot of freedom because of crime," she said.
Different Emphasis
 Given the changing values of society, Mrs. O'Shea feels it is surprising that more young people do not opt for committing crimes.
 As a child, she said, "You couldn't do anything wrong and get away with it," lest your neighbor or even a stranger would tell your parents.
 "There was no conflict between values. Everybody agreed what was right and what was wrong."
 Today the emphasis lies in materialism, and young people may see status in some material acquisition, such as a fancy car. It may be less important to them how the car is acquired, she explained.

While most probationers are young people, occasionally there may be what Mrs. O'Shea calls the "situational offender." Such a person gets involved in a situation he can't find his way out of and thus commits a crime.
 As an example, she talked about the case of an immigrant woman whose husband died, leaving her without the slightest idea of how to cope in the world.

Objective Viewed
 This woman, she explained, hadn't the slightest idea of how to manage money, and thus had none when her young daughters needed clothing. She was caught shoplifting.
 Having no one to turn to for help, she was put on probation.
 This, in essence, is the object of a probation program, she stated — giving individuals a person they can turn to for help.
 The probation worker attempts to treat each offender on an individual basis, looking at what factors were involved in his commission of a crime.
 "We try to help the young offender cope with society and the environment," she said. "We may help them get a job but we don't get it for them. We want to make them more self-sufficient. It may be helping them get back into school. Some need psychiatric treatment. Some just haven't found their niche in society."
Devote More Time
 "We try to teach them to be a contributing member of society, not a taking one. We tell them they have a place in society; that they are needed."
 An advantage to the volunteer type of probation program is that a volunteer can devote more time to an individual case. Professional probation officers may have 150 probationers to look after, she said, while the volunteer has only one charge.
 "The community is the community's business," she said. "When we participate in our community we can do it better than outsiders can. Our volunteers are from the community."
 "If we take away probation, we've given the judge only two alternatives: a fine or incarceration."
 Four of the Pointes, including The Park, City, Woods and Shores, have already agreed to pay their shares of the program's operating budget of $25,000. The Farms has yet to view the proposal.

Renovation

 pool's filtering system, which could cost as much as $100,000, according to City Manager Thomas Kressbach.
 Though the system has operated adequately so far this summer, it is old and its pipes are extremely rusted, Mr. Kressbach said. A single break could force the closing of the pool for several days.
 Other projects that will be considered include replacement of trees on park grounds, new roofs for several park buildings, repairs to the docking facilities and pilings and resurfacing of the parking lot.
Need Is Pressing
 The committee also may consider building new docks for small sailboats to free existing docks for use by larger boats.
 Mayor John King said the need for renovation and repairs at the park was "pressing."
 "If people want to swim at Neff Park next summer, we're going to need this bond issue," he said.

At a meeting last month, the council appointed John Stevens and Associates as architects for The City project. The firm has designed extensive improvements at The Park's Windmill Pointe Park. The law firm of Dickinson, Wright, McKean, Cudlip and Moon was named bonds counsel for the project.
 Mr. Kressbach said he hopes the committee can complete a preliminary study of the renovation in time for the council's Monday, August 21, meeting.

To Eye Parking At Gas Stations

A sub-committee of the Woods Planning Commission is scheduled to meet just before the commission's regular meeting Tuesday, August 22, to discuss a proposed ordinance governing the outside parking of motor vehicles at gasoline service stations.

City Attorney George Catlin, based upon input from the sub-committee and attorney Mark H. Cousens, general counsel for the Service Station Dealers Assn. of Michigan, said a rough draft of the measure should be ready at the meeting.

The sub-committee is comprised of Commissioners George Couillard, Philip Patanis and Raymond Lynch, although Commissioner Robert Sabo is scheduled to fill in for Mr. Lynch on the 22nd.
 Mr. Cousens, who requested attendance at the session, also is scheduled to be present.

Woods Cites Day for Seniors

A request from the Senior Citizens Commission that Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos proclaim September 16 as "Senior Citizens Day" in the city was approved by the Woods Council at a recent regular meeting.
 At the same time, the solons okayed a bid that the seniors be permitted to spend approximately $800 from their recreation budget for the cost of printing and mailing announcements, for the use of the park bathhouse and pool-deck, for the rental of equipment and for refreshments and entertainment.

AN OLD CONCERN

Although timely, concern over rising noise levels is by no means a recent development, according to officials of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation. They point out that concern about noise pollution dates back to ancient Rome when the lawmakers of that era placed restrictions on evening chariot traffic in an effort to reduce nocturnal noise levels.

GPW Upgrades Traffic Signs

The Woods Council recently authorized its city administrator and mayor to sign a contract with the Michigan State Highway Commission toward a traffic sign upgrading program in the city.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen in a memo to Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos and the council explained that the federal government several years ago enacted legislation which would require all traffic signs throughout the country to be, among other things, of a uniform size, shape and height.

Federal funds were subsequently made available through state governments to underwrite the costs of the program with the federal government indirectly paying around 90 percent and local governments around 10 percent.

In July 1975, with the aid of the Michigan AAA, a street-by-street survey was made to determine the number and cost of replacing and/or installing new traffic signs, he said.

At that time, the cost was placed at around $75,600 of which the city would have paid $7,560. "However, the federal program funding ran out of money and no action was taken on this city's grant application to the state," continued Mr. Petersen.

Earlier this year, he was advised that the community had been granted $24,000 toward its upgrading program with federal funds comprising 70 percent of the cost with 30 percent local matching funds.

As it turned out, the proposed contract received from the Michigan Highway Department provides for a total sign updating program costing $54,501.56. Of this amount, the federal government will pay $39,600.81 and the city, approximately $15,000, via the 70 percent-30 percent ratio.

The reason for the increase, said Mr. Petersen, is because some participating cities have either dropped out of the program or found that their projects were estimated in excess of their actual needs.

"Consequently, these surplus funds have been reallocated to our advantage!", he added.

Family Center Adds 9 Doctors

Bon Secours Hospital's Family Health Center recently added nine new residents to its staff, increasing the complement of family practice residents to 14.

Joining the center are first year residents Dr. Christopher Bush, Dr. Fraulin Canalia, Dr. Richard Davis, Dr. Eva Ettegui, Dr. Steve Jarard, Dr. Altagracia Otero, Dr. Mahmood Peshimam and Dr. Jack Wagner, as well as second year resident Dr. Peter Warrington.

The Family Health Center was opened in 1975 to provide primary outpatient care to families which do not have a personal physician. Under the direct supervision of physicians on Bon Secours medical staff, family practice residents offer personalized care in a program of extended medical education and practice.

The new satellite Bon Secours Family Health Center, which recently opened at 25901 East Jefferson avenue, St. Clair Shores, also has completely equipped examining rooms, doctors' offices, laboratory and x-ray facilities.

Family practitioners provide care in internal medicine, obstetrics, gynecology, pediatrics and minor surgery. This spectrum of skills allows the family practitioner to care for all family members in all life stages. Families usually see the same resident with each visit.

If residents, upon completing the three-year program, decide to enter private practice in the community, their center patients may remain under their care.

For further information, call the center at 744-7800.

YSD Investigates Entry of Lakeshore Road Estate

Youth Service Division, (YSD), detectives are currently investigating what appears to be the use of the Howard Love estate, 241 Lakeshore road, as a "party house" by a number of Farms youths.

According to YSD Det. William Desilets, six Farms youths had entered the then vacant house during "about a 10-day period." He said, "Apparently the house was broken into by one subject. The word spread that the house wasn't occupied." Since the incidents, the house is now occupied and police are reportedly giving the immediate area special attention.

He said that the original breaking and entering occurred sometime during the first week of July. The youths apparently did not cause any destruction until the last few nights they were there, he said.

The illegal entry of the house was discovered on Monday, July 17, when two doors at the rear were found open. A youth who was on the grounds at the time said he knew who was responsible for the break-ins.

An inspection of the building turned up a number of broken whiskey and beer bottles, smashed fluorescent light tubes and window panes, plus two candles melted into a mound of wax on the third floor.

Farms police were able to come up with three suspects, one of whom also was implicated in the arson of a fence in Hillcrest road on Thursday, July 13.

the youth originally got in through a basement window. Once they had gained entry, the doors were left unlocked until the discovery was made.

Det. Desilets said that while no formal complaints have been through the court system yet, "there's going to have to be some restitution made."

Everything is pending right now, he said, adding that the youths were originally put under arrest.

Recycle Cans at Eastland

Area recyclers will be joining the fight against muscular dystrophy on Tuesdays through Labor Day, when they sell their aluminum to Reynolds Aluminum.

The recycling unit will visit Eastland Center, 18000 Vernier road, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon each Tuesday.

In addition to paying the regular price of 17 cents a pound, Reynolds will donate an extra penny for each pound to the Muscular Dystrophy Ass'n., according to a press release from Reynolds Metals Co.

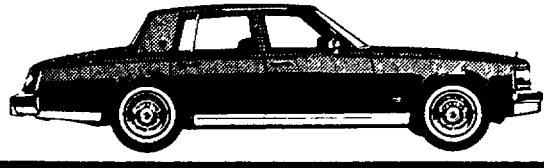

Items acceptable for recycling include clean aluminum beverage cans, pie plates, foil, frozen food and dinner trays and pudding and meat containers.

Aluminum siding, gutters, storm door and window frames and lawn furniture tubing, all cut to lengths not exceeding three feet, also are worth 17 cents a pound.

This aluminum should be free of all foreign materials and should not be mixed with the cans.

August 2, 1978

Dear friends and neighbors:

I would like to represent you on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners. Taxpayers have found their voices and are saying, loud and clear, that they want government to be less costly, more efficient and less interfering. If elected, I can and will carry this message to the Commission on behalf of the residents in the First District.

The incumbent has not been effective. According to 1976 official records, he missed almost 50% of the budget hearings, even though the greatest responsibility of the Board of Commissioners is to balance the County budget.

With participation such as this, is it any wonder that we are faced with a 12 Million dollar deficit? A renewal of one mill on the August ballot will save Wayne County from a projected 26 million dollar deficit.

A fiscally conservative voice is needed and I can give you that. My banking background and work with budget procedures gives me insight into some of the existing problems.

County salaries and fringe benefits remain 15% to 30% higher than those paid in comparable City jobs or private industry. The Detroit Chamber of Commerce and the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission cite this as one of the primary causes of the budget deficit.

The incumbent in the First District was one of the most vocal in favor of a raise-increase for Commissioners in 1976. Can we count on him to make the decisions necessary to bring these salaries in line?

A specific concern of many in Grosse Pointe is the condition of Lake Shore Drive. By anyone's standards this is a hazardous road. With the considerable gasoline and weight taxes allocated to Wayne County each year (almost $45 million expected in 1978) this most beautiful drive and important link to Detroit should be resurfaced. And yet, it is not even considered in the projected three year priorities of the Wayne County Road Commission.

Many of the majestic trees which line Lake Shore are terribly infected with beetles carrying the Dutch Elm disease. This spreads rapidly and is endangering all of the trees in Grosse Pointe. Spraying and early removal of those affected are also responsibilities of the County Road Commission. Why haven't the community interests been represented in these matters?

I consider the $16,252 salary and monthly expense allowance of $100 to be full time pay. I have no other business conflicts and so I can give full time to the needs of this community in County government.

May I have your vote?

Sincerely,

Barbara B. Gattorn

All Pointes Receive Damage from Thunderstorm

(Continued from Page 1) according to information, hired a private contractor to remove the fallen tree.
Given Top Priority
 The city manager said that The Park hired two contractors to remove trees and large limbs felled by the storm, including the tree on Bedford. Edison crews worked many hours to repair damage to wires and the knocked down pole. Some sparking wires fell dangerously near garages in rear yards but luckily there were no fires.

Mr. Crawford said that a number of life support units, including an iron lung for a paralyzed patient, were given top priority, and Edison crews restored electrical power for these units rapidly before working on residential power.

He noted the storm water pumping station pumped a total of 12,825,000 gallons of rain water into Fox Creek in one hour and 20 minutes, i.e., from 8:45 to 10:05 p.m., at a rate of 2,672 gallons per second. During this time period, .8 of an inch of rain fell.

Within two days all trees and limbs were cleared away and electrical power was restored.

THE CITY

Downed electrical wires knocked out power to a number of homes in The City. Trees and limbs also were reported downed by the high winds which swept through the community.

Police said well over a half dozen trees and wires were reported down. In one incident, a tree fell on a house at 670-680 Rivard boulevard, while in another a tree fell across the driveway at 572 Washington road. A tree also fell on a car in Rivard, between St. Paul and Maumee.

Officers responding to a call that there was no electricity at Mr. McCourt Shoes, 16980 Kercheval, discovered that the entire block was without power, on Kercheval between Notre Dame and Cadieux.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach said he was "disheartened" at the loss of about nine trees on the public right-of-ways, plus damage to many more.

Especially hard hit were some of the community's largest, healthy Elm trees at the lakefront Neff Park.

THE FARMS

In The Farms, fire officials received 12 reports of downed wires, while police were called on four reports of uprooted trees and fallen limbs.

Public Service Director John DeFoe said there were four or five trees completely down, with the worst incident being at 70 Moran. He said that crews are still cleaning up the debris, adding, "It's still too early for a complete picture."

Many of the city trees that fell had to be pushed onto private property in order to clear the roads. Those trees then have to be cleared off by city personnel, he said.

City Manager Andrew Bremer stated the cleanup was made more difficult by "the short group" of city employees available. He said he had no idea of the cost.

Moran road was apparently hardest hit in The Farms. Mr. Bremer said the road was particularly tough because of the narrow area between the curb and the sidewalk which necessitated pushing debris onto private property to a greater degree than on other streets.

THE SHORES

Considering the reports of damage to other Pointes, The Shores escaped very lightly, according to Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale.

The most serious damage was reported at the Ross Roy residence in Sheldon road, when a large tree in the rear yard was blown down striking the house and causing extensive damage to the roof and upper story.

The severe storm caused a power failure at 33 Deepplands when wires were blown down, causing a false burglar alarm to go off. The same occurred at 587 Sheldon, where public safety officers shut off the alarms.

Lights Knocked Out

There was a total area blackout from the south side of Stonehurst. North and South Deepplands to the north side of Fordercroft when wires snapped. A large limb downed at South Deepplands at the Lakeshore intersection was pulled away by officers to clear the way for vehicular traffic.

All street lights also were knocked out in the area of South Oxford road to Woodland Shores.

All electrical damages were relayed to Detroit Edison and power was restored by Thursday, July 27.

"We got off very lightly," said Chief Vitale, "considering how hard the other Pointes and Detroit were hit by the storm. If you want to make a comparison, we were very lucky. We were lucky, too, that we had no distress calls from boaters out in Lake St. Clair. They must have all come in when they got the storm warning."

THE WOODS

Like The Shores, The Woods also escaped the wrath of the storm according to public safety department reports.

Only a few reports of downed wires and branches were received by the department, with Public Safety Director John Dankel noting nothing serious was reported although there were some "spotty power outages."

Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann said the storm caused "no problems whatsoever" at the Lake Front Park, with a few small branches toppling to the ground.

In fact, Mr. Hallmann stated the big problem which park personnel faced was earlier in the month when the pool had to be closed for around seven hours on a Saturday when a water main, which fed the park, broke.

Gets 5 to 15 On R/A Charge

A 27-year-old Detroit man, who pled guilty late last month to charges of robbery armed, (R/A), and the commission of a felony with a firearm, was sentenced to from five to 15 years in prison on the R/A charge and two years in jail for using a gun in the commission of a felony, reported Woods Det. Charles Philip Hamel last week.

The man, Goodman Johnson of East Vernor, was involved in the holdup of Onassis Coney Island, 20769 Mack avenue, shortly after midnight on May 29.

Meanwhile, the detective said the sentencing date of Ricky Cohen, who also pled guilty to the two charges stemming from the same incident, has been adjourned to Thursday, August 10.

Clown Corps Sets Sign Up

The Grosse Pointe Clown Corps will have a new member registration drive on Wednesday, August 30, in the community room of The Woods city hall, 20025 Mack avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

Corps chairman Arthur J. Kuehnel said the group is willing to participate in a variety of events, e.g., carnivals, picnics and birthday parties, upon request.

He may be reached for further information at 881-8186.

EAR PLUGS BETTER

Inserting ordinary absorbent cotton into the ear canals does little to protect the user from the possible serious effects of exposure to excessive sound levels, according to officials of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation. They point out that properly fitted ear plugs made of soft rubber or similar materials usually offer far greater protection.

Band Together to Save Elms

Just about everyone on the 500 block of Lincoln road showed up bright and early Saturday morning, July 29, for a day's work to protect the remaining Elm trees on city-owned property from Dutch Elm Disease. Residents helped drill and inject the trees with a special chemical, Lignasan BLP, and contributed $200 to match a grant from The City to purchase the supplies.

Thieves Enter GPW Business

Thieves apparently entered Pointe Time and Jewel Shop, 19455 Mack avenue, through the roof sometime between Tuesday afternoon, July 25, and Thursday morning, July 27, according to a report received by Woods police.

Det. Charles Philip Hamel said between $25 to $30 in cash was found missing, with the culprits possibly being scared off from the scene.

Sam Grzech of the establishment discovered the burglary when he stepped into a puddle of water directly below the hole in the roof through which entry was made.

Officer John Harwood reported that the approach to the roof was apparently made by climbing a power conduit and service box located at the southwest corner of the building. From there, a hole 2'2" by 1'2" was cut some 18' east of the west wall and 15' south of the building's north wall.

The thieves probably exited through the hole because both the front and rear doors of the building were secure.

Taken from the roof was a saw, hammer and pry bar left at the point of entry, while a hammer and canvas bag were recovered from inside.

This is the second break-in of a business to occur in The Woods within a month via a roof top entry. Thieves also entered the Grosse Pointe Pharmacy, 19795 Mack avenue, according to a July 1 report.

Karle Named to UF Position

Joseph V. Karle Jr. of Grosse Pointe was recently named to a top volunteer promotion position for the United Foundation's, (UF), 1978 Torch Drive by Rod Burton, Torch Drive promotion chairman, also of Grosse Pointe.

Mr. Karle, who will serve as advertising group chairman for a second year, will oversee the creation and production of all printed materials used to promote the Torch Drive, with the exception of the campaign solicitation materials.

Active in the Torch Drive for many years, Mr. Karle is senior vice-president and group account supervisor at Ross Roy, Inc. He is a member of the Adercraft Club of Detroit, Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, Lochmoor Golf Club and a director of the Grosse Pointe Hockey Ass'n.

This year's Torch Drive runs from October 17 through November 9 to raise operating funds for 137 health and community service agencies in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties. Last year's Torch Drive raised $42.6 million.

General Chairman for the 1978 Torch Drive is Arthur R. Seder Jr. of Grosse Pointe.

WHY GEORGE J. VERDONCKT FOR STATE SENATOR?

1. He desires to redevelop the residential and commercial areas of Jefferson-Chalmers.
2. He desires to redevelop the area of Harper and Chalmers.
3. He desires to maintain and improve the East Warren-Outer Drive section.
4. He desires to renovate, clean-up and remodel the Parkside Project.
5. He desires to use business tax subsidies to rebuild the "Connor Industrial Corridor."
6. He understands the "Grosse Pointes" position on "Home Rule." He will strive to maintain it.
7. He knows the "Grosse Pointes" are approaching its tax limitations.
8. He knows the "Grosse Pointes" can use increased revenue sharing.
9. He is aware the "Grosse Pointes" can use State Aid programs but without all of the strings.
10. He desires to make the "First District" the finest in the State.

ON ISSUES
TAX LIMITATION: He is for tax limitation. The Tisch Amendment is too drastic. The Headlee Amendment is more feasible but still needs some work.
EDUCATION: All senior citizens should be exempt from school taxes. He believes Income Tax is more equitable to support schools.
TRANSPORTATION: He believes in transportation linking areas like East-West (St. Clair Shores to Dearborn Hgts.) or North-South like (Downriver to Pontiac). All existing equipment should be used and modified rather than being scuttled. The Woodward subway will service very few people.

Bailey Cited, Gets New Post

Thomas E. Bailey, of Huntington road, assistant principal of Austin Prep, received "The Principals' Award of Meritorious Service" at graduation ceremonies earlier this summer.

He also received "The Certification of Recognition" from the National Ass'n. of Secondary School Principals of Washington for "professional contributions to educational leadership."

Mr. Bailey, a former administrator, teacher and speech and drama director at Austin for the past 19 years, was recently appointed principal of Waterford Lakes High School, Waterford, Mich. His responsibilities will include being coordinator and supervisor of the national college entrance examinations.

At Austin, Mr. Bailey was the founder and director of the Austin Players and a director of the Augustine Speech Festival. He also was chairman of the English Department.

In 1973, Mr. Bailey was presented the Carpenter Fries Award of Michigan as "Outstanding English Teacher of the Year." For four years he served on the National Genesee Board and was president of the Detroit chapter for four years. He also is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, the professional fraternity of education.

Mr. Bailey has administration certification from the Michigan Secondary School Principals. He holds a Ph.D. and MA from University of Detroit and a Masters of Education from Wayne State. He is an active member of the National and Michigan Councils of Teachers of English, the Michigan Speech Ass'n. and the National Ass'n. of English Chairmen. He has also taught College English at Detroit Institute of Technology and Speech in the Grosse Pointe Adult Education.

Park Police Chief Issues Warning on 'Cat Burglar'

People have a tendency to ignore a noise they might hear during the night, after being awakened by some sound, whether real or imaginary. Then they go back to sleep, only to wake up in the morning to find out that they have been visited by a night burglar.

The nocturnal intruder has been dubbed the "cat burglar" by Pointe police because he commits all of his burglaries during the early hours of the morning while his victims are asleep, said Park Police Chief Henry O. Coonce.

It is amazing, the chief said, that on at least two occasions, when the "cat burglar" entered homes, persons residing in the house failed to heed even the barking of their pet dogs.

He said there were dogs in some of the homes the silent intruder entered, but apparently the animals failed to bark, indicating that the "cat" might have a dog or dogs of his own or perhaps knew just how to handle his victims' pets. The thief shows no fear of dogs, the chief said.

Regardless of this, said Chief Coonce, the burglar must, in some way, disturb residents of the household by some kind of noise, but people just seem to pay no attention, not wishing to be disturbed from their slumber.

"The 'cat burglar', from all indications, appears to be a junky, (a dope addict), who takes only portable television sets, stereos, electrical appliances and money if he finds any," said the chief.

"This opinion is based on the facts that television sets, stereos, appliances and other such items have a ready market and can be converted into easy cash, just what a junky needs to take care of his habit."

This burglar first goes to the kitchen first, where more often than not, he would find a purse, perhaps on the kitchen table, he continued, while noting there might be easy cash for him to take in that purse.

Chief Coonce said the "cat burglar" might find a set of car keys in the purse, which he might use to carry away his loot or make an escape.

He stated this "particular fellow" has been operating for the last three months in The Park, Farms and Woods, just about the same time that "Big Foot" began breaking into homes in The Pointe.

The only difference was that "Big Foot," who was recently captured and imprisoned, operated in broad daylight, whereas the "cat" worked during the early dark hours of the morning.

Citizens are urged to call their local police if they see or hear anything suspicious in their homes, or even if they think they hear any suspicious noise. Don't be afraid to call police because you feel what you might have heard was nothing—Let the police find that out.

Woods Nixes Bid of SEMTA

A proposed installation of new bus stop signs on the part of SEMTA, (South-eastern Michigan Transportation Authority), received a cool reception from the Woods Council at a recent regular meeting.

A communication from Charles J. Bagnasco, supervisor, checkers, service facilities, was received and placed on file by the solons. He indicated SEMTA is in the process of installing new signs along each of its routes and wanted the input of officials on such installation.

Councilman Robert E. Novitke questioned SEMTA's authority in this instance and City Administrator Chesler E. Petersen replied SEMTA has no authority regarding your address and all facts as you know them are clear so that police can be notified and respond immediately.

The chief went on to say that the "cat burglar" has been seen at least twice, and that he was described as being young and very agile. His very boldness indicates that he is desperate for money and will take anything of value that can be easily disposed of for easy cash to fulfill his craving for narcotics.

All local law enforcement agencies are very anxious to put this "fellow out of business," the chief added.

Mr. Petersen also said the city has no bus stop signs or official stops, with citizens, who wish to be picked up, flagging down a bus.

In a communication to Mr. Bagnasco, Mr. Petersen noted his office would take exception to SEMTA's proposal for several reasons including those wherein the community has completed the removal of hundreds of regulatory signs deemed not needed in order to make the city more aesthetically pleasing and such proposed bus stop signs would require the loss of 23 on-street metered parking spaces on Mack avenue.

GP Woods-Shores Takes State Babe Ruth Championship

By Joe Fromm
In an all-Grosse Pointe final, Grosse Pointe Woods-Shores won the 1978 Michigan State Babe Ruth Championship for 14- and 15-year-old all-stars with two victories over Grosse Pointe Farms-City on Friday, July 28.

The Woods-Shores won the first game of the double elimination tournament over previously undefeated Farms-City, 8-2, and came back to win the nightcap, 4-1.

The two Pointe teams met earlier in the week as The Farms-City handed The Woods-Shores its only loss of the tournament in a thrilling 11-10 nine inning game on Tuesday, July 25.

The tournament, hosted by The Farms-City at Kerby Field, began Saturday, July 22, with nine teams from throughout the state. The other seven teams were Ypsilanti, Lincoln Park, Birmingham, Iron Mountain, Alpena, Port Huron and Dowagiac.

The championship by The Woods-Shores represents the first state title for 15-year-old all-stars from The Pointe or surrounding communities since Michigan Babe Ruth baseball began in 1952.

The Woods-Shores will now go to the Ohio Valley Regional Tournament in Owensboro, Ky., August 4 to 10. Their first game will be Saturday, August 5, against the Ohio champion. Seven states including Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kentucky and West Virginia will compete in addition to Ohio and Michigan.

The winner of the Ohio Valley tournament will compete in the national championship to be held in Newark, O., August 19 to 25.

Dave Monark came back after one day of rest to pitch The Woods-Shores to the 4-1 championship victory. Two days earlier, Monark pitched a five-hitter as The Woods-Shores downed Alpena, 6-4.

In all three games with their cross-town rivals, The Woods-Shores jumped into big leads in early innings. In the finale, the Woods-Shores took a 3-0 lead in the bottom of the first on a walk to Matt Costello, an error, and singles by Scott Young and Mike Seagram.

The Farms-City came back with a run in the top of the second on a single by John Cammett and a double by Glenn Piche.

The Woods-Shores added an insurance run in the sixth on a walk to Bruce Stewart, a sacrifice by Bill Babcock and an error on a hard grounder by pinch hitter Don Luberto.

The Farms-City outhit the Woods-Shores nine to four with John Heidt and Cammett collecting three hits each. The Woods-Shores got their hits when they counted and played outstanding defensive baseball, particularly by the infield consisting of Pete Mogk at third, John Clem at short and Costello at second.

Left-handed second baseman Costello made two excellent backhanded stops to take hits away from John Vens and Piche.

In the first game, The Woods-Shores jumped into a 6-0 lead in the first on walks to Young, Clem, Eric Schubert and Babcock, a double by Costello and singles by Stewart and Mogk.

Babcock was the winning pitcher, his second of the tournament, striking out nine while giving up only four hits.

The first game between the two Pointe teams on July 25 will be remembered for a long time by the players and the estimated crowd of more than 500 spectators.

The Woods-Shores took a 4-0 lead in the second and went into the bottom of the seventh leading 7-3. With one out, John DeBoer singled and Cammett followed with a 330-foot home run over the left field fence.

Paul Proffit singled and scored on a triple by Rex Ciavola. Mike Smith singled to drive in Ciavola with the tying run. John Hackett walked, moving Smith to second with the potential winning run. Piche hit a line drive that pitcher Karl Kurtz speared and turned into a double play to end the rally and send the game into extra innings.

The Woods-Shores moved back into a 10-7 lead in the top of the ninth. Costello led off with a triple. Young walked but Clem hit into a double play with Costello holding third. Seagram walked and Monark followed with a single scoring Costello. Schubert drove in Seagram and Monark with a triple.

In the bottom of the ninth, Cammett led off and reached first safely on an error. Proffit was hit by a pitch and Smith singled to drive in Cammett, cutting the lead to 10-8.

Hackett walked to load the bases. Piche also walked, scoring Proffit and making the score 10-9. With two outs and darkness setting in, Vens came through with his first hit of the tournament to drive in the tying and winning runs.

Cammett pitched the full nine innings for The Farms-City to pick up the win.

The Farms-City advanced to the finals after their victory over The Woods-Shores with a lopsided win over previously undefeated Birmingham.

The first six innings were played on Wednesday, July 27, but the game was suspended with the Farms-City leading 15-7 as the severe storm that hit The Pointe area approached.

Tournament rules require the full seven innings and the game was completed on Thursday with Birmingham scoring two runs. The final score was 15-9.

Ciavola went the six innings on the 27th to pick up the win. Mike Mahon pitched the seventh on Thursday.

The Woods-Shores after its only loss of the tournament to The Farms-City, came back on the 27th to down Alpena, 6-4. Monark went the distance on the mound but Alpena put up a struggle as they stranded eight runners on the bases in the last three innings.

The Woods-Shores advanced into the finals with a 9-2 win over Birmingham on Thursday, July 27. Costello struck out nine and gave up six hits for the win.

Following the final game, Michigan state Babe Ruth Commissioner James Watkins awarded trophies to members of the champion Woods-Shores and runners-up Farms-City.

Members of the team receiving trophies and who were not mentioned in the above highlights, but nevertheless played important roles in the week long tournament for their teams, were Craig Stafford, Jeff Kusch, Bob Schaefer and Jeff Stander for The Woods-Shores and Ervin Yee, Mike McBrearty, Greg Lapinski, Steve Groehn and Steve Wayman for The Farms-City.

Farms-City League president and manager of the tournament team, Chuck Campbell, presented a trophy to tournament director John Hoben in recognition for his hard work in putting the tournament together and for its smooth operation during the week.

Members of Hoben's committee were Stu and Barb Cammett, housing; Harold and Arlene Connell, program; Ken Foster and Don Chamberlin, advertising; Gail Baker and Marge Campbell, refreshments; Chris Block and Max McKee, field maintenance; Mike Johnson and Bill Haring, announcers; Jerry Mahon, admissions; and John Brooks, picnic.

Assisting the committee were many residents of The Farms, City and Woods who housed visiting players from outstate and others too numerous to mention. Mr. Hoben; the committee and league officials; Mr. Campbell; vice-president, Mr. Brooks; secretary Mary Collins; and treasurer Jeff Von Schwartz are to be congratulated.

The Farms Council should also be recognized for the financial support that made it possible for the league to bring the field up to Babe Ruth tournament standards and make the tournament possible.

All of Grosse Pointe can be proud that the two best teams in the State of 15-year-old baseball players came from here. The two teams fought hard and played well against each other in the tournament just as they have for the last four years.

As 12-year-olds in Little League tournament play in 1975 The Woods beat The Farms. As 13-year-olds in 1976, The Farms-City won a close 3-2 game over The Woods-Shores and went on to win the Michigan title for 13-year-olds as well as the Ohio Valley championship. This rivalry presumably will continue in the future.

This writer would like to add his personal comments of compliments to the committee, officials, spectators, coaches, and, most of all, the players from the entire state.

The players were outstanding in their fulfilling of the Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Code which is to develop "courage in defeat, tolerance and modesty in victory... control over emotions... spirit of cooperation and team play... into real, true citizens."

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink
When a house is sold during times like this when we have an extremely high rate of inflation many things occur. The buyer wonders if he should wait till the prices go back down. The seller wonders if he shouldn't wait a little longer to see if he might get more. The lending institutions must loan money based upon a premise somewhere between the buyers and sellers viewpoints. If they appraise too cautiously they lose out to those who have a little more confidence in the market. Naturally if they go too strong they could jeopardize their companies financial condition.

So we must be careful. We must have confidence in our Realtors who are listing the homes for sale. Realtors work on a competitive basis which is the basis of our grand free enterprise system. This is where the appraisers can have confidence in the Realtors in pricing homes. The Realtors have a degree of influence in the appraisers final decision. The lending institutions loan on the basis of an appraiser. So you can see it's a circle of events. Everyone depends heavily upon the others.

Buying direct from an owner — by passing a Realtor doesn't benefit anyone usually. In fact we've seen many disappointments that have been very costly. If you're thinking about selling or buying now is the time to stick very close to a Realtor. Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 has many qualified experts just waiting to offer any help they can. Why not call us now?

An Open Letter To The Voters Of Grosse Pointe Woods:

With the help of many hundreds of people in Grosse Pointe Woods, Gabby's Restaurant has now won approval by a nearly unanimous vote of City Council to have the request for one additional Class C Liquor License placed on the August 8 Primary Ballot.

As a recent article which appeared in this newspaper pointed out, Gabby's has been a very valuable asset to this community for the following reasons:

- 1.) Gabby's pays more taxes than any other restaurant in the City.
- 2.) Gabby's provides important additional income to the community through the salaries and wages we pay our staff.
- 3.) Gabby's has won numerous beautification awards from the City for its attractive landscaping.
- 4.) Above all, Gabby's provides excellent food and service at very reasonable prices.

In addition, the article pointed out that in order for Gabby's to maintain its high standards of food and service without increasing prices, it would be vital that it acquire this Liquor License.

We hope, therefore, that you will make a special effort to visit the polls on Tuesday, August 8 and cast a "YES" vote for the Referendum regarding one additional Class C Liquor License.

Thank you for your support,

THE BEAUTIFUL SWAN

Like the ugly duckling that became a swan, a beautiful Contemporary is materializing where an old home once stood. The guiding genius of this exciting, modern home is Larry Black, who has turned many "a sow's ear" into a silk purse. By purchasing now, your special touches can be included. We'll be glad to show you our "Swan!"

OPEN SUNDAY 2 - 5

928 MOORLAND

WHAT THE PHOTO DOESN'T SHOW YOU! That a major price reduction will allow you a rare opportunity to purchase this "special care colonial" at a big savings. That you can move in immediately after the closing... that there's extra insulation and central air to insure you comfort at a "comfortable" rate. That there are enough big closets to support your family and many of their friends. That this "Scott-Built" charmer has four bedrooms, 2½ baths, family room and first floor laundry. That there could be a line up on Sunday, better come early!

808 BARRINGTON

IT ISN'T $75,000... IT JUST LOOKS IT! At a time when other nice 3 bedroom homes with bath a den and sun room are in the "Seventies" this charming value stands out like a sail boat in a speed boat race. The taxes are less than $875.00. There's a two car garage. And a 60' lot. But reading about a great opportunity is like a kiss from your sister... at $58,500 (an almost forgotten price these days) shouldn't we be looking for you Sunday?

SHOWINGS AT YOUR CONVENIENCE

WHERE ARE THE MINT JULIPS?

Its about the only thing not included with this beautiful and spacious Colonial in the Farms. The setting for this special offering couldn't be more attractive if it was on a hillside in Atlanta, where many of the most beautiful Southern Colonials are to be seen. Inside its a combination of detail and decor that makes each room unique on to itself. Naturally the 17.2x18.2 living room has a fireplace. And the richly paneled library does too. But wouldn't a superb meal with friends taste even better with a cheery blaze emanating from the fireplace in the dining room? Now visualize how you'd enjoy the fireplace in the master bedroom. Isn't it time to treat yourself to the luxury you've earned?

THE IRRESISTIBLE BEAUTY OF LAKE ST. CLAIR Could be yours at a mere fraction of their replacement costs and with view of the water which are guaranteed to dazzle and delight you and your family through the years to come. We speak not of one, but of two special offerings gracing Lake Shore Drive, each unique onto itself. If a fine residence "on the water" is your wish, we'll show how to fulfill it, at a cost for less than you'd expect to invest for your own "piece of the lake!"

DAVID WILLISON BUILT IT!

Cul-de-sac in the Woods, surrounded by other beautiful newer homes, we present a truly fine Cape Cod, built as only David Willison can. His floor plans are always excellent, with excellent rooms sizes, and special attention to detail. Naturally, you want more information — better hurry!

IT ISN'T JUST THE ENGLISH...

That "flip their bowlers" over a choice English home on a gracious setting. Astute Grosse Pointe buyers have been snapping up these "never to be duplicated again" investments as fast as they appear. And, at $114,000, this five bedroom, three bath offering won't be an exception, especially with a 24' master bedroom, abundant closets, and a convenient enclosed porch, just off both the living room and den! "Time waits for no man," and neither will this fine home!

COULD A CLASSIC NEW ENGLAND COLONIAL BE IN YOUR FUTURE?

It might, if you appreciate the beautiful way brick, stone and cedar shake shingles have been blended in this most attractive five bedroom Colonial. And there's the 3½ baths that a growing family needs, plus a modern kitchen, den and first floor laundry, too. If it sounds like the best home you could enjoy for $110,000 you're right... if you hurry!

COOL WOODS RANCH

If a fine ranch is your desire, why not enjoy this fully and economically air conditioned newer Ranch home? The condition and decor are like new, and there's 3 bedrooms plus two baths, a family room with fireplace and a most desirable, two car attached garage, too! And there's just been a big price reduction.

STERLING HEIGHTS RANCH — UTICA SCHOOLS! Lovers of large beautiful lots, rejoice, a gorgeous yard is part of this attractive package. A fine 3 bedroom ranch with family room, attached garage, spacious kitchen with built-ins, and a low "below competition" price of $51,900 complete the package!

HANDY MAN SPECIAL $15,900!

This property needs help now, but once done would be excellent income producer for years to come. The owner "wants out" and will accept reasonable land contract terms!

Seniors' Housing A Painful Dilemma

The Woods is a community which is around 99 percent developed and, as a result, available land for building is at a premium. At the same time, city planning consultant Brandon M. Rogers in his preliminary draft of a land use plan for the community notes a need for senior citizens housing.

Saying the problem recognizes that a substantial portion of single family homes are owned and occupied by seniors "who do not need or want the responsibility and expense of maintaining a detached home and lot," Mr. Rogers cited a survey of the Senior Citizens Commission which found that over one-third of the single family homes, evenly distributed in each of the city's three census tracts, are owned and/or occupied by persons 60 or older.

"An earlier survey of housing senior citizens revealed 97 percent desired housing built for senior citizens, primarily for rental and with two bedrooms per unit," he said. Mr. Rogers concludes there's a demand for quality and efficient rental multiple dwelling units.

Aware of the maturing age level of residents, Mr. Rogers then viewed possible sites for such housing, feeling that Ghesquiere Park is a "suitable location for such housing, it being a secluded, well landscaped large site near the municipal building, park facilities, shops and offices on Mack avenue and public transportation."

He continued by saying, "The use of approximately three acres of the 30-acre park area for a mid-rise, (six story), housing facility would not appreciably remove land from recreation use, nor generate undesirable vehicular traffic.

"It is felt that Ghesquiere Park can well serve as a spacious setting for the municipal building, senior citizen housing and city-wide recreation activities, including any future indoor community center."

Mr. Rogers also recommended two other locations for such housing including the Seven-Mack Shopping Center and the possibility of a school site.

On Seven-Mack, he noted that only half of the commercial center is in The Woods and "optimum redevelopment of the area is dependent upon joint planning and land assembly with the City of Detroit, Saint John Hospital and major property owners. Because of these time restraints this area is of second priority for senior citizen housing."

On a school site which, because of declining school age population, might be deactivated and a first option for reuse given to the city, he felt this should be explored further.

The Senior Citizens Commission, despite a similar ballot defeat in 1975, feels that Ghesquiere Park is the best location for such a complex considering the availability of land for development.

The commission maintains that such construction will not raise taxes, with funding coming from a revenue bond issue not to exceed $4,500,000 which will be paid off by rentals. A total of some 150 units are being considered in the multi-level complex, which may not necessarily be six stories at all.

While some trees will undoubtedly fall if the proposal becomes a reality, the commission says none of the existing recreation facilities will be taken away, with the angle of one baseball diamond being adjusted. It also stresses that the structure will be privately funded for the city only.

There are approximately 6,500 homes in the city. Of these, around 2,800 are owned by seniors. The city itself has a population of over 3,700 seniors.

Convinced that there is a need for senior citizen housing in the community, the NEWS agrees that Ghesquiere Park, of all potential and possible sites, is currently the best location for such housing.

Any complex at the Seven-Mack area seems light years away at this time and, while city and school officials have touched upon the possibility of a school site becoming vacant in the future, this may not become a reality for years. (In fact, if a site becomes vacant tomorrow, other alternative uses for such a building also would be considered.)

While recognizing these factors, questions raised by citizens in opposition to such housing also have merit. Hence, the painful dilemma.

The idea of using recreational land, although it is zoned residential, for any housing complex is of some concern to the NEWS. Hence, the view taken by some residents that nothing should be built at this time which would take away land from all citizens is well taken.

Other concerns expressed by residents in relation to a building authority and revenue bond issue, e.g., what may ultimately happen if the project goes sour along the way and who, in the final analysis would be affected, also is appreciated.

There are so many variables involved in undertaking such a project that many clear cut answers really cannot be given by anyone.

What it comes down to in the opinion of the NEWS is simply this: the pluses outweigh the minuses and a "yes" vote should be given to the referendum question to get the proposal to first base so further questions may be clarified via a building authority, feasibility studies, many public hearings, et al.

If it doesn't prove feasible for whatever reason during the initial stage, (and before any taxpayer's money is spent), it then should be scrapped.

For the need for such housing remains and at this time, (and in the foreseeable future for that matter), the park location appears to be the only real viable spot.

If the question is approved, it should be noted it would be no guarantee that the council, (five of six councilmen indicated they were against the proposal), would, in fact, create a building authority. However, not to bow to the will of the people in such an instance would be foolish.

It's a very tough subject but the NEWS feels in the long run the question is worth support. R.A.W.

C License Deserves Nod

If voters approve the referendum question regarding the issuance of one additional Class C license in the community, the ordinance will automatically be amended permitting the council to take such an action.

If the council decides to follow this course, it will make five such licenses in the community which could have up to 15 pending council approval. The State Liquor Control Commission also would have to give its blessing on the document.

This subject matter, less agonizing than the seniors' housing question, is basically an "instant replay" of the effort put in by Jack Degriek of Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation last year via his successful initiatory petition drive to have the question placed on the ballot.

Like Mr. Degriek, Alex Bardy of Gabby's Restaurant said such a license would be a big boon to his business considering ever growing costs of running the establishment. Coming off a successful initiatory petition drive of his own, Mr. Bardy indicated receiving the license is a matter of life and death for his business.

The NEWS supports voter approval of this particular question and, as in the case of Mr. Degriek, Mr. Bardy would be the odds-on favorite to receive the document if the council decides to issue an additional license.

Emphasizing his objective of maintaining a family-oriented business, Mr. Bardy isn't a new hand in this business. He has, for example, previously operated the Plantation Restaurant in Mack avenue in The Woods and the Hawthorne House in Kercheval avenue in The Farms.

The NEWS feels, not only because of his obvious interest via the initiatory petition route, but also because of the improvements in the building, (and he plans more if he receives the license), since the Blazo days, that Mr. Bardy's effort deserves support.

However, in the final analysis, the question must be approved and the council must decide if it will issue the document and to whom. While most citizens along with the NEWS will obviously look at Gabby's as the prospective recipient, (something the council recognizes), it's best to take one step at a time. R.A.W.

Letters to The Editor of The NEWS

To the Editor: Growth is the only undisputable sign of life.

Are we busy being born or are we going to be busy just dying? Grosse Pointe Woods citizens will have a choice on the August 8 ballot proposal regarding senior citizens housing.

I want to thank the "Grosse Pointe News" for its excellent coverage on this very controversial subject.

I'm sure that most of the negative attitudes are because of a lack of understanding! Every home, 6,500 in The Woods will be receiving a flyer with the complete and true facts. A photo will show the three acres out of 30 that we are asking for.

(The senior citizens hand folded 11,700 pieces of literature and stamped, addressed and enclosed them in the envelopes! We didn't have enough financial contributions and even delivered them door to door.)

We have in The Woods city park areas as follows: Fifty-five acres, Lake Front Park, 30, Ghesquiere Park, 3.4 acres, Sweeney Park, and 3 acres, Chene Trombley, for a total of over 91 acres.

We also have eight public and three private schools, six churches, the Hunt Club and Lochmoor Club.

All the above have recreation areas or open grounds! Added together gives a ratio of 10 acres per 1,000 people—more space per capita than any other Grosse Pointe, more than Detroit or any other city.

In view of the above facts, why would anybody be giving three acres for a cultural senior citizens residence. The Senior Citizens Commission never at any time said it would be a six story building! But in an effort to save ground space and expense it suggested a multi-story building.

I can understand reluctance to cut down trees, very few if any will be removed. Trees and grass can be replaced!

I can remember how sad I felt 40 years ago when trees had to be removed in order to build our house. But, oh the estimable reward to our family of having our own home! My husband planted many trees and flowers along the sidewalk (Three of them have been lost to elm disease.) All original homeowners must have felt the same.

What about the City Hall, the bathroom, parking lots, tennis courts, schools and churches.

Ghesquiere, so-called park, is still zoned, the area we are asking for, as one family residential district, R-1-D. Three years ago the commission investigated the possibility of acquiring a school site. We even wrote the Ford estate asking if we could purchase enough land for senior housing for all the seniors of the Mack and Seven-mile area also was contacted. None of the above property was available and remains the same to date.

The commission also recommended that the council study the feasibility of senior housing in this city. To no avail Harper Woods will break ground for their housing on November 1, 1978.

What should be a moral issue has become a political one. Our elected officials are obligated to consider the dictates of their constituents, rather than their personal feelings. I'm hoping we will have the support of all the councilmen and the mayor.

Senior citizens have many privileges—granted. Allow me to quote my daughter, Barbara Hern, "Sometimes I think I should resent them, but mother if you did not have these so called 'goodies,' enabling you to take care of yourself and I with five children in school, and my mother-in-law now in her third year in a nursing home, I wouldn't know which way to turn."

Another thing. We want to help our Woods business people by patronizing them whenever possible. A great deal of our pleasure consists of dining out either in groups or as individuals and, as of now, we are forced to go out of the city because we have no place to dine in a family type restaurant, (like Gabby's), where we have a choice of a glass of wine or a cocktail if we desire one.

We are not rocking chair people, but in the business of living and enjoying the fruits of many years of labor!

Recently, in Washington, D.C., the Senate overwhelmingly voted to proceed on some federal dams and other projects even if they endangered rare forms of wild life, if members determined that it benefits to mankind would clearly outweigh those of preserving endangered species.

And are we, 3,700-plus senior citizens, either to be preserved as experienced, interesting human beings with a right to live on our community in a cultural senior citizens residence in Ghesquiere Park or are we going to just be busy dying.

Irene Sutton, Chairman, Woods Senior Citizens Commission

To the Editor: In your July 20 issue, "The Grosse Pointe News," there were several articles relating to the senior citizens of Grosse Pointe Woods.

One article, "Awareness of Community Necessary to Help Meet Needs of Senior Citizens," surveyed areas in which older people need help. It was quite comprehensive but some serious problems of oldersters were not mentioned (including) trying to cope in 1978 on a fixed 1960 income.

Transportation is another worry. Eyes, legs and cars are worn out and taxi's are too expensive for us. They are a luxury we can't afford.

Houses once built for growing families now have one or two occupants and are too expensive to heat and maintain these days. We are very distressed at not being able to keep things going as before.

Who are these senior citizens anyway? They are over 3,700, about 17 percent, of The Woods' population. They occupy approximately 2,800 of the 6,500 homes in our city.

You may ask why don't they give up their homes and move elsewhere. The answer is, of course, "This is their home!" They have lived a lifetime in this very community raising their families and participating in the affairs of their city. Their roots go very deep and to give this up would spell disaster at their age.

I will admit there are some (who are) lucky among us but they are not the ones interested in or needing city housing. These folks move to the Shore Club, Hilton Head or Arizona. The less fortunate just hope they can continue living in this community that has been their home for the last 20, 40, yes even 50 years.

Mr. Purdy ... and Mr. Bengston, (in regards to their "Letters to The Editor"), moved into our town because of the opportunities offered in our well established city. They preferred to locate, I am sure, in a well established community that had so much to offer, rather than in a new area with an unknown future.

The credit for the type of city we have today is due to the people who came here when the area was new. Many are still around. They are now called senior citizens. They planned and worked and worried and paid for it.

The park Mr. Purdy and his little friends enjoy was developed long before his arrival, as were the other parks including the well attended Lake Front Park. Most of the municipal buildings, schools, churches, clubs, roads and other facilities were already built, functioning and many paid for before many of our present citizenry arrived here.

These things were provided for you by the foresight of these same seniors you read and talk about. They have been your benefactors. Now that circumstances have altered their life styles and are appealing to you for help, are you going to turn them down?

Are you going to begrudge giving three acres of a 30-acre area to provide a place for these older citizens of your city? Is a home for deserving people of less importance than a picnic area or tennis courts used by only a few people for a few months of the year?

I hope you show your gratitude to these worthy people by voting "yes" on August 8 to give the city the go ahead to see if housing for elderly citizens of our community is a feasible, workable project.

Mildred Becker, Of Torrey road, Grosse Pointe Woods

To the Editor:

Much has been written and said concerning the proposed senior citizens housing complex in Grosse Pointe Woods. What has struck me about that debate is that nowhere have I heard the truly underlying and substantive problem raised.

No matter how the vote goes on the advisory question on August 8, that problem will still face the Grosse Pointes. It has the potential of becoming a crippling problem unless we openly and honestly face it.

All that the advisory vote will accomplish is to either begin to deal with the problem or worsen it. The problem is simply this: the senior citizen population of the Grosse Pointes is steadily increasing and the community is ill-equipped and ill-prepared to deal with that reality.

In 1970, the percentage of senior citizens in the Grosse Pointes was 12 percent, in 1976, 14 percent, and in 1978, 18 percent. At the same time, the decline in school age children was at a comparable rate. The population of the Grosse Pointes is becoming inevitably older.

But our community is not adequately prepared to cope with an aging population. The only alternatives senior citizens have who find they can no longer manage the home in which they live is to find a smaller home, (which they must still manage), or leave the community.

Unlike most cities, there is very little alternative housing specifically constructed to meet the needs of seniors—no condominiums, no apartment buildings, no town houses, no residential care facilities—nothing but three convalescent homes.

The need for senior citizen housing in Grosse Pointe Woods is acute!

I hear many people say, "I'm not opposed to senior citizen housing. I simply don't want it in Ghesquiere Park." Again, let's be realistic about this. What other truly viable alternative is there?

Ninety-nine percent of all the land in the Pointes is already developed. The other two sites suggested—a school site or Seven-Mack—were never true options, only theoretical considerations. Ghesquiere Park is the only viable alternative—the only open land left.

To oppose the Ghesquiere Park site, therefore, is really to oppose senior citizen housing in principle because there simply is nowhere else to build that complex!

The secret of the success of the colonists in New England was their capacity to submerge their individual desires for the good of the whole community. The final criteria for any decision made in the town meetings of that pilgrim band was "What will serve the needs of the most people?"

It is true that the senior citizen housing complex will cost us a few trees, a skewed baseball diamond and some privacy.

But the price we would have to pay would bring to our community the opportunity for truly gracious living for hundreds of members of Grosse Pointe Woods who have helped to build this city in which we now live, raised their children here and now must find other housing.

Is not a vote for the advisory question a vote for the common good?

Sincerely, Dr. Robert C. Linthicum, Of Littlestone road, Grosse Pointe Woods

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

I am a senior citizen, and am proud of the distinction. I have been a resident and taxpayer in Grosse Pointe Woods for 23 years. I am strongly in favor of senior citizen housing. There is definitely a need for such, as stated by Brandon Rogers, the city planning consultant hired by the City of Grosse Pointe Woods.

It is only natural that opposition to a housing complex be made by certain individuals.

I take strong exception to the articles printed on the front pages of the "Grosse Pointe News," both the July 20 and July 27 issues, written by our news editor, Roger A. Waha, who is obviously biased and opposed to our project.

Especially the article on July 27, in which Mr. Waha admitted to having privately and individually spoken to the mayor and the councilmen, and then writing, and I quote, "A proposed senior citizens' housing complex at Ghesquiere Park fell to defeat in a poll last week of Woods council members."

The mayor and councilmen were very wrong to state their personal convictions to the press on this political issue immediately before the public's voting.

I congratulate Councilman E.D. Grady, who had the intelligence and the good judgment to withhold his personal opinion.

This very biased article by Mr. Waha should never have been printed.

There is no vacant private property in Grosse Pointe Woods suitable for an apartment site. The Ghesquiere Park site would not remove any playground area. It will enhance the park. It will be totally self sustaining through rentals. It will be a great asset to the city and at no cost to the taxpayers.

I strongly urge all senior citizens, and all those who hope to become seniors some day, and those who love to live in Grosse Pointe Woods, to vote "yes" on August 8.

Sincerely, Stewart A. Sharrow, Of Ford court, Grosse Pointe Woods

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter on behalf of the Assistance League to the Northeast.

Guidance Center to express our concern with regards to the solicitation ordinance which the city council of Grosse Pointe Woods proposes to enact.

The Assistance League, now in its 14th year, is a non-profit organization which raises funds to help support the Northeast Guidance Center, the only mental health agency serving the five Grosse Pointes, Harper Woods and the eastside of Detroit. The center provides guidance and counseling services to individuals and families.

In 1977-78, the Assistance League raised over $40,000 for the Guidance Center. Without the generous contributions from local residents and businesses alike, the Center could not continue the high level of service we, as a community, have come to expect.

One of our largest fund raisers is the "Guidance Gazette," an annual supplement to the "Grosse Pointe News" which helps the Assistance League raise funds through advertisements from local businesses.

Most importantly, the "Guidance Gazette" provides public awareness of the special services the center offers to our community. With all the stresses in day-to-day living, it is good to know that we are not alone with our problems.

Since the wording of the proposed ordinance is so broad we are not only concerned with our group but also the many other groups who have projects already scheduled to be held in the City of Grosse Pointe Woods.

The Assistance League, along with groups such as the Grosse Pointe Jaycees, urge all Grosse Pointe Woods businesses and residents to let the members of the Grosse Pointe Woods City Council know by Monday August 7, how you feel.

The enactment of this ordinance could mean the end of many worthwhile school, civic and community oriented non-profit organizations, from which all residents of Grosse Pointe Woods benefit.

Sincerely, Mary Lou Grive, of South Brys drive, Grosse Pointe Woods. First vice-president, Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center

Fund Established For MOT Growth

Individuals, Businesses, Foundations And National Endowment For Arts To Be Sources for New Monies

Lynn A. Townsend, chairman of the board of directors of Michigan Opera Theatre and retired chairman of Chrysler Corporation, has announced formation of a development campaign for the benefit of Michigan Opera Theatre.

Robert E. Dewar, chairman of K-Mart, Inc., has been named to head the campaign, which is projected to raise $1.3 million over the next three years.

The Premier Fund is designed to afford MOT greater artistic growth, to provide more community outreach in opera education and performance, provide training and employment for young singers, promote the production of American opera and provide a base of financial stability for the company.

Sources for this fund will be comprised of the following: Individuals — $300,000; Businesses — $345,000; Foundations — $375,000; and National Endowment for the Arts — $250,000.

The National Endowment for the Arts portion of funding reflects an anticipated grant from the NEA Challenge Grant Program.

At a kickoff luncheon for business involvement Thursday, July 13, at noon in the LaSalle Room of the Detroit Plaza Hotel, the goals of the fund were explained.

"MOT's dramatic growth and success over the past seven years has proved that the opera company has become a major resource for Detroit and Michigan," Mr. Townsend said.

"Through the Premier Fund, we intend to assure MOT's continued growth and to firmly establish Michigan Opera Theatre as one of America's premier opera companies."

MOT Calling for Dancers

Michigan Opera Theatre has scheduled auditions for dancers to perform in the first two productions of its 1978-79 season, Bizet's "The Pearl Fishers" and Kern and Hammerstein's "Show Boat."

The auditions will be held in the form of a dance class this Saturday, August 5, at 10 o'clock onstage at Music Hall. They will be conducted by Dominic Missimi, director of "The Pearl Fishers."

"We are particularly interested in people who have a strong background in classical and modern dance. Some knowledge of primitive dance would be especially helpful," Mr. Missimi notes.

MOT's production of "The Pearl Fishers" will be choreographed by Anna Marie Schary, a featured performer with several modern dance companies. Her Broadway experience includes work with Peter Genarro and Jerome Robbins.

Dancers selected to perform in "The Pearl Fishers" must be available for rehearsal September 16 through 28 weekdays from 7 to 10 in the evening and weekends from 10 to 1 o'clock, 2 to 5 o'clock and 7 to 10 o'clock.

They must also be available for all performance dates: September 29, October 4 and 7 at 8:30 o'clock; October 1 at 6:30 o'clock and October 4 at 1:30 o'clock.

Dancers selected to perform in "Show Boat" must be available for rehearsal October 9 through 26, in the hours listed for "The Pearl Fishers," and for 14 performance dates October 27 through November 11.

The person to contact for further information, and to reserve a position in the auditions, is Pam Starkweather. She may be reached at Michigan Opera Theatre, 963-3717.

Wardwell-Willetts Vows Are Spoken

Denver to Be Home for Newlyweds Who Vacation on Bermuda Following Early July Rites in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe

A gown of sheer satin chiffon, styled with a scoop-necked, cap-sleeved bodice of English net and re-embroidered Alencon lace and pearls, was Susan Elizabeth Willetts' choice for her marriage to Jeffrey Holbrook Wardwell.

Lace appliques accentuated her skirt, and her cathedral length veil fell from a headpiece of lace, carried down through the length of the veil, clasped at back with a single rose.

She carried a bridal bouquet of Eucharis lilies circled with stephanotis and ivy.

The new Mrs. Wardwell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Burton Willetts, of University place. Mr. Wardwell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Otis Wardwell, of Kercheval avenue.

Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, was the setting for the 6 o'clock rites Friday evening, July 7.

Fall Bride

A September wedding is being planned by MARIE EILEEN SPINDLER and Gary Robert Hernbroth whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Spindler, of Balfour road.

Both the bride-elect and her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hernbroth, of Warren, attended Macomb County Community College.

tered bouquet print on white silk organza. Their skirts ended in wide ruffles. Their bodices, laced with spaghetti straps, were topped with sheer shawls.

Their bouquets were fashioned of Mid-Century orange lilies, with shoots of ivy.

Gregory I. Stahl was best man. Guests were seated by Jonathon O. and Sheldon E. Wardwell, brothers of the bridegroom, Gregory M. Nelson, David Carmichael, Bruce F. MacFarlane and Charles G. Gardella.

The mother of the bride wore a soft, geometric watercolor print of jade chiffon. Her bodice was spaghetti-strapped, her floor length skirt formed of tiers of crystal pleats. A jade chiffon scarf covered her shoulders, and a single Eucharis lily formed her wrist corsage.

The bridegroom's mother selected a formal length

Feature Marine Art at Dossin

An exhibit of 20th century marine art is on display at the Dossin Great Lakes Museum. The paintings are by Paul L. LaMarre, Jr., a native Detroit and graduate of the University of Detroit.

Featured are paintings of lake steamers, motor vessels and tugboats, among them the "Parker Evans," "Edmund Fitzgerald," "William Clay Ford" and "Henry Ford II."

As financial director of the Gaelic Tugboat Company, LaMarre is able to combine a job with a hobby. Often, he is able to travel on the very ships he depicts on canvas.

He works from first-hand observations, old and contemporary photographs — and especially from stories and tales related to him by Great Lakes sailors and captains.

This last resource he finds particularly interesting, as he feels "the stories add the human element to these magnificent lake vessels."

Contemporary Marine Art will be at the Dossin Great Lakes Museum until Sunday, September 10. The museum is located on Belle Isle and is open from 10 to 5:45 o'clock Wednesday through Sunday.

Admission is by voluntary donation.

Four Candles for A First Birthday

HEATHER, BETH, KENNETH and DAWN, quadruplet children of MR. and MRS. KENNETH HOLLIDGE, returned to Hutzel Hospital, the place of their birth, to celebrate their first birthday Monday, July 24, and they were petted, pampered, piled with gifts and presented to the metropolitan Detroit area by three television outlets. It was an exciting, but exhausting, day for the four babies and their "second mother," VIOLET MALONE (rear), who shares the daily care of the children with Mrs. Hollidge.

Actually, it was the quads' second birthday party. They had been showered with attention just the day before, Sunday, July 23, at a family party at the Hollidge home in Lakeside court.

At Hutzel they received a huge, stuffed animal and a gift certificate from the hospital gift shop, presented by Mrs. Charles Kessler.

Wary of strangers, they all were at ease with Dr. Enrique Ostrea, chief of Pediatrics, and Dr. Frederico Mariona, chief of Human Parturition, the obstetrician who delivered them and whom they have seen periodically through their first year.

Beth has taken her first step—trying it on for size half a dozen times. Heather is standing alone, and Kenny and Dawn are making valiant attempts to pull themselves into standing positions.

Aside from the usual summer colds and winter sniffles, all four are in excellent health.

Beth, clearly the most precocious, has seven teeth. Heather has six, Kenny four and Dawn, the youngest by several minutes, is working on her third.

"We can never tell how much Hutzel Hospital has meant to us," Mrs. Hollidge said. "Everyone was so wonderful when the babies were born, and I'm sure the care the quads got then, and the continued concern of the doctors this past year, is responsible for our having such healthy children."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hollidge were equally warm in their praise of Mrs. Malone, a Grosse Pointe mother whose six children are now grown. Violet has lived with the Hollidges, helping to care for the quadruplets, since last September, when they were considered big enough to leave Hutzel and start a very active life in their own home.

Festival Week Fare Is Varied

The Preservation Hall Jazz Band kicked off the seventh week of the summer season at Meadow Brook Festival last Tuesday, August 1, and the Virgil Fox Organ Concert, which had been rescheduled from July 9 to August 2, was canceled due to the fact that Mr. Fox's leg injury had not improved enough to allow him to perform.

The Symphonic Series this evening, Thursday, August 3, features popular, Russian-born conductor Oleg Kovalenko and violinists Henryk Szerzyng and Gordon Staples, concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The symphony will be conducted on Saturday, August 5 by Theo Alcantara, newly-appointed music director of the Phoenix Symphony and guest conductor with orchestras throughout this country and abroad.

Featured artists are young Romanian violinist Sylvia Marcovici and organist Ray Ferguson. Pavilion seats, ranging from $6 to $8, and lawn tickets, at $3.50 each, are available for both Thursday's and Saturday's concerts.

Festsingers Arlo Guthrie and Pete Seeger step into the Meadow Brook spotlight Friday, August 4, with a diverse medley of traditional folk works and new musical offerings. The pavilion is sold out. Lawn tickets are available at $5 each.

Ending the week Sunday, August 6, is Meadow Brook's "Pop Opera Nite" featuring music from La Traviata, Rigoleto, Faust, La Boheme, The Barber of Seville and other popular operas.

Theo Alcantara will conduct the DSO. Soloists include soprano Louise Russell, mezzo-soprano Barbara Windham, tenor Enrico di Giuseppe and bass Ezio Flagello. The pavilion is sold out. Lawn tickets at $3.50 each are still available.

All performances are held

Vaden-Brossy Rites Are Read

At a family wedding Sunday, July 30, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Brandon Brossy, daughter of Mrs. George Basarich, of Notre Dame avenue, and Francis E. Brossy, III, of McKinley place, spoke her marriage vows to Larry M. Vaden, of Danville, Va.

The bride, a graduate of University Liggett School and Marshall University, will attend Law School at Washington and Lee University.

She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Sidney M. Cadwell, of Beaufort, S.C., and the late Francis E. Brossy, Jr., and of Mrs. Frederick S. Johnston, of Southern Pines, N.C., and the late Guy C. Smith.

Mr. Vaden also was graduated from Marshall University. He is the son of Mrs. John L. Vaden, of Richmond, Va., and the late Mr. Vaden.

After a wedding trip to New York City and New England, the newlyweds will make their home in Huntington, W. Va.

A Grosse Pointe Visit For Collins Contingent

It's been HOT in Texas this summer, and Betty Collins, who brought Susan and Martha up from San Antonio for their annual visit with her mother, Mrs. C. Herbert Ewing, of University place, and Dr. Ewing, was congratulating herself on having escaped to the "cool" north — which has been pretty hot itself this summer, but all things are relative — until the mini-tornado struck last week.

And, wading through the University place/Kercheval avenue intersection to the Ewing home, (the University place/St. Paul avenue intersection was impassable: fallen tree and downed power line), Betty couldn't help but ask herself, "Who needs this?"

Mini-tornado aside, it was a good trip for the Collins Contingent. The girls were born here, when Betty, a former NEWS staff member, and Bob lived in McKinley avenue. They've been back regularly since moving west, first to San Francisco, then to Richardson, Tex., then to San Antonio, where they've built a beautiful home.

Mrs. Ewing got together a group of "old" neighbors and friends for a luncheon reunion. Susan and Martha ranged on their bikes from the Country Club to Kerby Field, rendezvousing with former friends and making new ones.

Bob flew up for the final weekend, arriving last Thursday. He missed the storm, (some people are born lucky), but made the cottage reunion in northern Michigan with Betty's sister and brother-in-law and their family, who live in Chicago.

Bob flew back Monday. Betty and the girls left Tuesday. They'll be back again next year. Hopefully, the mini-tornado won't.

Miss Mac Married to Cyril Grobbel, III

Mrs. Edward Rutkowski Comes from Traverse City to Serve As Her Sister's Honor Matron; Christopher Grobbel Is Brother's Best Man

The marriage of Mary Ann Catherine Mac and Cyril Anthony Grobbel, III, took place Saturday morning, July 1, during a nuptial high mass in Saint Clare de Montefalco Church.

The Reverend Joseph E. McCormick, OSA, officiated at the 10 o'clock, double ring ceremony. Robert J. Pare, OSA, served as deacon. The bride's nephews, Edward and Thomas Rutkowski, were altar boys.

A reception followed in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Ballroom.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur John Mac, of Whittier road, wore a gown of veiled English net fashioned with a detachable, cathedral train of sheer illusion.

Hand-corded Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls and crystals formed her Empire bodice.

Motifs of the lace were scattered over her A-line skirt and French scalloped hem, and more lace bordered her long mantilla. She carried a cascade of white roses and Stephanotis.

Mrs. Edward Rutkowski, who came from Traverse City to serve as her sister's honor matron, wore a long dress of blue Qiana featuring an Empire bodice styled with a horseshoe neckline accented with Venice lace.

Bridesmaids, dressed identically, were Janice Bore-nitsch and Melea Grobbel, the bridegroom's sister. They wore wide-brimmed hats, trimmed with blue chiffon, and carried Colonial bouquets of blue daisy mums and white statice.

Flower girls Cassandra and Anastasia Grobbel, two other sisters of the bridegroom, were in long, blue frocks, their bodices accented with smocking. They wore blue daisies in their hair and carried baskets filled with blue daisy mums and white statice.

Christopher Grobbel was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Anthony Grobbel, Jr., of Three Mile drive.

Seating the guests were David Watson and Jason Grobbel, another brother of the bridegroom.

Ring bearer was David Rutkowski, the bride's nephew.

Mrs. Mac chose a floor length gown of dusty pink Qiana, styled with a rounded neckline and pleated bodice, for her daughter's wedding. She pinned white gardenias to her purse.

Muted pin stripes accented the bridegroom's mother's white dress. Blue cymbidium orchids formed her corsage.

The newlyweds vacationed in northern Michigan. They will make their home in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Detroit Institute of Arts Obtains Matisse Work

Broad community response to a $360,000 fund-raising drive has brought a cut paper painting by Henri Matisse, (1869-1954), and a stained glass window fabricated from its design into the permanent collection of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Never before in the Art Institute's 93-year history has the Detroit community been asked to contribute such a large amount of money to acquire a masterpiece for the permanent collection.

The related works, each slightly more than 11 feet long and two-and-a-half feet high, are titled "The Wild Poppies," ("Les Coquelicots").

The Friends of Modern Art of the museum's Founders Society organized the campaign, led by Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Jospey, of

Married in June

Exchanging marriage vows Saturday, June 10, at a candlelight ceremony in Grosse Pointe Baptist Church were PENNY DARLENE WARTIAN, daughter of the Charles Wartians of Audubon road, and MICHAEL JAMES ROGERS, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Rogers, of Middlebury, Ind.

Franklin, co-chairmen of the Matisse fund-raising committee.

The drive began last summer. It reached its peak when the spectacular exhibition of "Henri Matisse Paper Cut-Outs" opened in September.

A number of major supporters of the effort emerged, as well as smaller but much appreciated contributions from many individuals and groups—like the members of a sixth grade class at Foote School in Lincoln Park, who raised $10 toward the purchase.

Early in the campaign, $100,000 was secured from endowments of the Founders Society.

The full impact of the French master's brilliant late period was visible in "Henri Matisse Paper Cut-Outs," organized by Dr. John Hallmark Neff, then curator of Modern Art at the Detroit Institute of Arts, and Jack Cowart, of the St. Louis Art Museum.

The show opened at the National Gallery in Washington, D.C., was enjoyed by 80,000 visitors in Detroit and concluded its tour in St. Louis.

Neff, a Matisse scholar, recommended purchase of "The Wild Poppies," describing Matisse as the most important artist of the 20th century and the only one thus far to have a late great period like Titian or Rembrandt.

Assembled in brilliant and varied colored segments on a white ground, "The Wild Poppies," done in 1953, is a fine example of the artist's achievement in this technique.

It is a maquette, or study, for a stained glass window intended for a Dominican convent in Lyons, France. The window glass, eventually produced by Paul Bony of Paris in 1969, also was included in the purchase.

The two versions of "The Wild Poppies" were previously owned by the Pierre Matisse Gallery, New York City, and have been exhibited in Bern, Amsterdam, Zurich, Paris and Basel.

Both the cut-out and the stained glass interpretation are being installed on the main floor of the Art Institute's North Wing. Mary Jane Jacob, associate curator of Modern Art, said this area was chosen so the cut-out could be prominently displayed and the stained glass could be seen from both sides, permitting natural light to enhance its colors.

Dr. Frederick J. Cummings, museum director, added that the Art Institute's representation of Matisse is broad in terms of chronology and media, and that Detroit had the distinction of acquiring, in 1922, the first Matisse oil painting purchased by any American museum.

This is the popular sunlit interior "The Window." Other Matisse paintings in the DIA collection are "Coffee," (1917), "Poppies," (1919), and "The Black Ribbon," (1921).

The museum also owns two small Matisse bronzes as

Candlelight Rites for Penny Wartian

Mexico and Northern Michigan Are Vacation Destinations for Mr. and Mrs. Michael James Rogers; They Will Live in Nashville

The Grosse Pointe Yacht Club was the setting for the reception following the wedding of Penny Darlene Wartian and Michael James Rogers Saturday, June 10, in Grosse Pointe Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wartian, of Audubon road. Mr. and Mrs. James L. Rogers, of Middlebury, Ind., are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend William Taft and Dr. Herbert Hiller presided at the 6 o'clock, candlelight rites. Organist was Robert Kitley. Vocal soloist was Roy Rogers, Jr., uncle of the bridegroom.

Special guests included the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Rogers and Mrs. George Mann, all of Middlebury.

The former Miss Wartian wore a Queen Anne-collared gown of French silk organza. Appliques of Alencon lace, pearls and iridescents over English net accented her Empire bodice and long sleeves.

A deep border of lace edged with rows of scalloped pearls hemmed her skirt and cathedral train.

More lace and pearls outlined her cathedral length veil of English silk illusion, falling from a lace and pearl-appliqued Juliet cap, and she carried a cascade of white roses and baby's-breath.

In frocks of yellow chiffon were Dr. Pamela Wartian Collier, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids Darlene and Cheryl Gray, of Louisville, Ky., Mary K. Wartian, as one of his finest drawings in an American collection, "The Plumed Hat," plus numerous graphic works — lithographs, aquatints, the "Jazz" album of serigraphs — and a limited edition rug based on his paper cut-out "Mimosa," also seen in last fall's Matisse exhibition.

The two new acquisitions may be seen during regular hours at the Detroit Institute of Arts: 9:30 to 5:30 o'clock Tuesday through Sunday.

Stouder, Bradley L. Stouder and John Swantzentruber, all from Middlebury. Ring bearer was Mathew G. Williams, cousin of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of pale shrimp chiffon, fashioned with a keyhole neckline, and a long, sheer-sleeved matching coat, with a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom's mother chose a formal length gown of sea green chiffon featuring a square-necked, pleated bodice. She pinned her cymbidium orchid corsage to her purse.

The newlyweds vacationed in Mexico and northern Michigan. They will make their home in Nashville, Tenn.

GOLDEN ERA

by Thomasville.

At the turn of the century, American furniture designs exhibited a special ambience of livability and charm. The ideal of comfort and tranquility was seen in the late Victorian, even Edwardian designs. These designs illustrate the perfect blend of sophistication and cultural history that brings the warmth and beauty of nostalgic furnishings into the mainstream of today's eclectic room settings. Mirror accents on these pieces are etched for authenticity. Several cast aluminum pieces are finished in a matt black tone to achieve the look of wrought iron so popular for ornate fences and balcony ironwork in earlier times. For this Golden Era collection, Thomasville chose rustic pecan veneers and oak solids. The mellow fruitwood finish is distressed to provide the look of prized antiques. Hardware includes a white knob with brass finished backplate, a period brass ball design and a finger-grip pull. Here are exciting designs of yesterday, yet beautifully stated for today's lifestyles.

Inside the Mothers Club

The executive board meeting of the Grosse Pointe South High School Mothers Club was called to order June 5 by its president, Cynthia Huebner.

The meeting was officially opened by Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools, who termed the 1977-78 school year a very successful one for the school system, and especially for South High.

He described his role as seeing that the board-approved curriculum is indeed presented in the classrooms of the system.

In her president's report, Mrs. Huebner first thanked the 24 mothers who helped supervise student elections. She also introduced Mrs. Leon Jacobi, a past-president of the Mothers Club, welcomed new board members and visitors and gave special thanks to her corresponding secretary, Marge Pierce, for bringing the historical notebooks of the Mothers Club up-to-date. Mrs. Huebner distributed a sheet of figures on the year's financial activities, detailing the sources and disposition of all Mothers Club monies.

The $3 dues received from each family cover operational expenses of the club. Extra funds are largely the result of big fund-raising functions, like the Night at the Races, the Fertilizer Sale and the Spring Benefit.

In addition to scholarships, this year's money has been used to enrich programs in the Social Studies and Foreign Language Departments and to help finance a trip for the Tower Staff to receive their award as best high school paper in the United States.

Mothers Club funds also paid for a two-day jazz workshop this spring.

Other expenses included part of the costs of the installation of the weatherware and South High's 50th anniversary celebration, the The-sauri traditionally presented to the top five percent of the Senior Class and funds to finish the loudspeaker installation in the auditorium.

Claire Kay reported the awarding of 13 scholarships amounting to $3,500. Additional money is set aside to take care of any late applications.

Mrs. Kay commented that

They're Having A 'Bookish' Summer

GINIA LEONARD, publicity chairman, CAROL SHIPTON and SANDY TENKEL, co-chairmen of collections, PHYLLIS RABBIDEAU, general chairman, and SYLVIA SANDERS, marking chairman. The 16th annual sale is set for Wednesday through Saturday, September 27 to 30, at Salem Memorial Lutheran Church in Moross road, Detroit.

the Mothers Club also awards scholarship money from other organizations and funds, including Rotary, the Lions Club, the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club, Alpha Delta Kappa, the Class of 1956, the Alice Kelly McKee Memorial Fund and the Benson McClure Memorial Fund.

Mrs. Huebner distributed copies of a letter to the faculty listing Mothers Club enrichment contributions for the year and plans for next year.

Enrichment programs for 1978-79 already approved include a three-day Civil War Program, filmstrips and speakers for the Language Department, magazine subscriptions for the English Resource Center, five workshops for the orchestra, demonstrations and lectures by a photographer and a mime group.

Equipment for the school to be purchased with Mothers Club funds includes a sign press, a movie projector, a spotlight, filmstrip projectors, audio-visual carts, a dry copier and a file cabinet for alumni records.

Mrs. Huebner introduced Detective Patrick Fagan of the Youth Service Division, who has completed four years at the school and is rotating out to regular duty. She gave him a letter from the Mothers Club expressing appreciation for his service at South.

Dr. James Hoeh attempted to clarify why students were to return for two half-days of classes after final exams. He described these half-days of regular classes as the result of a student panel's recommendation last year. Many students desire a follow-up of the final exam and an opportunity to discuss it with the teacher.

These days are regular student attendance days, according to the teachers' contract.

Mrs. Huebner continued assessing the events of the year. She thanked Jessie Davies for her supervision of the mailing and for her help with the Christmas staff breakfast.

She also thanked Mary Krueger, incoming president-elect, who volunteered for, planned and executed the first welcome meeting and tea for parents of students new to South.

Hi-Pointes is the Mothers Club vehicle of communication between school and parents, and Lucy Prost, editor, has been most instrumental in its success.

As vehicles of communication, the Neighborhood Groups also are crucial; Mrs. Huebner thanked co-chairmen Marg Dietz and Jayne Warner for their fine work.

Co-chairmen Betty Spencer and Alis Fern were similarly commended for their organization of 100 mother-volunteers. These volunteers were honored at a tea.

Fall Rummage Sale Planned

At a luncheon at the home of their president, Mrs. Bernice Bates, of Audubon road, plans for a rummage sale to be held Thursday, October 19, in the Grosse Pointe Congregational / American Baptist Church Social Hall were discussed by members of the church women's association.

Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Donald Cook will be co-chairmen of the sale this year, with Mrs. Edward Richert as special projects chairman. Mrs. Walter Kurtz will be financial chairman. Mrs. Lewis Slater will be in charge of the culinary department. Mrs. Richard Allor is doing publicity.

Chairmen who have volunteered to work on this fall project include Mrs. Peter Robertson, Mrs. A.L. Sandeaus, Mrs. Frank Turpin, Mrs. Leonard Slowin, Mrs. George Polen, Mrs. Ralph Bressler, Mrs. Dudley Arnold, Mrs. Robert Veit, Mrs. Alex McNeill and Mrs. Monte J. Edelen.

The sale, running from 9 in the morning until 3 in the afternoon, will feature such items as women's, men's, infant's and children's clothing, shoes, hats, handbags, furniture, appliances, linens and a Lothrop Shoppe featuring all-new items.

SEMTA Seeks to Aid Seniors

Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority, (SEMTA), general manager Larry E. Salci has signed a contract for 48 lift-equipped small buses, 17 of which will be used to improve and expand county-wide transportation services for the elderly and handicapped in Wayne County, according to a news release.

Essential Transportation Service, (small bus service for the elderly and handicapped), is now operating in portions of Wayne County. The Authority plans to consolidate the diverse programs now operating and expand service to cover the entire county.

Ten of the 17 new buses for Wayne County will be used to initiate the county-wide program, which is expected to go into operation in early 1979.

Of the remaining seven, five will be used to replace older vehicles, one each will go to Detroit Paratransit and Wayne seniors programs, (both of which will be consolidated into the county-wide operation during fiscal 1979), and the remaining three will go to the Nankin Transit Commission. The other two vehicles will be used to provide "accessible" service for persons in wheelchairs in existing general public Dial-A-Ride operations in Trenton and Redford.

The remaining 31 buses from the total order of 48 will be used in other counties to expand or initiate county wide essential transportation service, or to replace vehicles with 100,000 miles or more.

The 48 buses are being purchased from the Michigan based Great Lakes Coach Sales Company for $1,148,640. Great Lakes is located in Portage. Thirty-six of the buses are 100 percent state funded and 12 are funded 80 percent federal and 20 percent state.

The buses are all air conditioned and have a seating capacity of 10 to 12, with space for two wheelchairs.

The 48 buses are part of a total of 100 small buses which SEMTA has programmed for fiscal 1979. Eighty-five of those buses would be used for service expansion, and 74 of the 85 would be used in the county-wide elderly and handicapped service expansion program.

However, purchase of the remaining 52 vehicles is dependent upon passage of a Statewide General Transportation Funding package.

A Prime Catch of Driftwood

Driftwood collectors missed the area's catch of the year when this specimen was removed from Lake St. Clair last week off of Lakeshore road near Harbor Hill. The remains of the tree, which had rested just offshore from the breakwall since the ice melted this spring, was finally removed in a joint effort by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Farms Department of Public Works. The corps used a log boom to hoist the eyesore onshore where it was hacked apart with a chainsaw.

Center's Blood Drive Today

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile will be collecting donations of blood in the War Memorial's air conditioned Crystal Ballroom today, Thursday, August 3, from 2 to 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Blood Council representing various churches and civic organizations in The Pointe area, drive officials hope to replenish the Grosse Pointe Community Blood Bank maintained by the War Memorial for free loan of blood to Pointers in case of emergency.

VA Eyes Use of GI Bill

Time is growing short for those veterans who wish to enroll in college or other GI Bill training this fall, cautioned Frank Kilcullen, director of the VA, (Veterans Administration), regional office, Detroit, in a news release.

Students enrolling for the first time this fall under the GI Bill should already be in contact with the school of their choice. Acceptance by the college requires an application as well as testing and deposits in many instances.

Veterans who wish to draw GI Bill benefits must be accepted by an approved VA institution and begin training on a specified date in order to receive their first check at the end of the first month. Many business and technical schools also require prior enrollment and acceptance sometime before actual classes begin.

About half of the Michigan Vietnam Era veterans have taken training under the GI Bill, and eligibility for training ends 10 years after discharge.

Mr. Kilcullen said as a result of this record the VA is making every effort to urge those eligible veterans to use the GI Bill benefits before they expire.

Veterans in training full time receive $311 a month, and other benefits are available. Full information is available at the VA or from any veterans service organization.

Club Marathon Is Big Success

The Neighborhood Club's first community mini-marathon race was a huge success. The three-mile race was held at the club on Saturday, July 15.

The following participants received awards for their performance: boys 16-and-under, first place, Wright Nelson; second place, Mark Osler; third place, Mark Denis.

Men's 17 to 29 first place was taken by Dave Denis; second place, Paul Denis; third place, Paul Lewis.

In the men's 30 to 39, first place was taken by Dennis Choate; second place, Charles Emmons; third place, Don DeMeulemeester.

Funding Aids Seniors' Sites

Wayne County is inviting some 350 senior citizens living in 42 suburban communities including The Woods, to come back again for hot noon meals after the nutrition sites had been affected by June cutbacks, which ran three to five percent across the board.

The invitation was prompted by "good news from Lansing" that additional state funding is on its way to provide more meals for out-county seniors, according to a recent Wayne County Board of Commissioners news release.

Jarrette Simmons, chairman of the board of commissioners, and Commissioner Edgar L. Harris, said that the extra funds are the result of a "vigorous protest by county commissioners to the serious cutbacks in the Out-County nutrition program" that they say were caused by "totally inadequate federal state funding."

Up until early June the county had been serving 2,800 meals a day at 47 nutrition site locations using state and federal monies provided under the Older Americans Act.

She said the county was forced to begin "turning away" nearly 200 senior citizens each week because the funding did not meet the demand for the noontime lunches.

Mr. Harris added, "Now we want those seniors to come back — and we can even serve about 150 new seniors!"

The commissioners said that the state has promised an additional $15,246 to fund a maximum of 350 more meals daily through September 30.

The county is currently serving about 2,640 lunches every day. The new funding will allow the county to serve nearly 3,000 meals a day.

"The State of Michigan Office of Services to the Aging also has guaranteed that the level of funding will continue through fiscal 1978-79."

Torch Drive Taps Pointers

Two Pointe residents have accepted top volunteer leadership positions in the United Foundation's 1978 Torch Drive.

Rod Burton of The City, president of Burton Advertising, Inc., has been appointed chairman for promotion in this year's Torch Drive.

Elliott H. Phillips of The Farms, partner in the law firm of Hill, Lewis, Adams, Goodrich and Tait, will serve as chairman for special gifts.

The appointments were announced by Arthur R. Seder Jr. of The Farms, general chairman for the 1978 campaign. Mr. Seder is chairman and president of American Natural Resources Co.

The 1978 Torch Drive will be conducted from October 17 through November 9 to raise operating funds for 137 health and community service agencies serving Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

Mr. Burton, immediate past president of the Adcraft Club of Detroit, will supervise all Torch Drive advertising and media promotion activities, as well as the production of this year's campaign solicitation materials.

In addition, he will oversee the activities of the United Foundation Speakers Bureau and the organization of such traditional Torch Drive events as the Miss Torch Contest and Sports Day.

Mr. Burton chaired the Miss Torch program in 1975 and was group chairman for special events in the 1976 Torch Drive.

Before starting his own advertising agency in 1968, Mr. Burton was president of Marketing Unlimited, Inc., a New York-based marketing management consulting firm. Prior to that he was a vice-president and account supervisor for Maxon, Inc., a Detroit-based ad agency.

A graduate of Michigan State University, Mr. Burton is president of the Detroit Chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

Mr. Phillips, who served as chairman for special gifts in last year's Torch Drive, will again direct the special campaign solicitation of specially selected individuals, family groups and foundations.

A special gifts group chairman in 1975 and 1976, Mr. Phillips is a trustee of two agencies that receive Torch Drive funds, Boys Republic and the Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic.

He is president of the Detroit and Canada Tunnel Corp., a graduate of Harvard College and Harvard Law School.

— as long as attendance at the meals averages 2,800 to 3,000 per day," she said.

Meanwhile, Mr. Harris warned, "If the seniors don't return for lunch, and if approximately 150 new seniors don't take advantage of the opportunity, the county will lose the newly-approved level of funding."

Caroline Lewis, director of the Out-County Nutrition program, said the program received $388,000 in federal nutrition funds and $386,000 from the state for fiscal 1977-78.

"This new money is indeed welcome — and I am glad the state was able to come to the rescue and realized the pressing needs of many seniors living in the out-county," she added.

The Pointe's Nutrition Site is housed in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue. It's open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. For further information, call 886-4532.

Heart Attack Signs Viewed

If your husband, (or your wife), had a heart attack in bed tonight, would you know what to do? For that matter, would you even suspect that it was a heart attack?

"Many people," says Dr. Sol Pickard, Henry Ford Hospital cardiologist and president of the Michigan Heart Ass'n., (MHA), "do not know the warning signs of a heart attack, and many, sadly, wait until it is too late to get help."

"Heart attack warning signs are often mistaken for something minor such as indigestion or an attack of burpitis. You should know the warning signs and what to do if you or someone close to you is experiencing them."

The most common signs of a heart attack include the following according to an MHA news release:

• Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of the chest, lasting two minutes or more.

• Pain may spread to shoulders, neck or arms.

• Severe pain, dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath also may occur. Sharp, stabbing twinges of pain are usually not signals of a heart attack.

"You should remember these signals and know what to do if someone you are with is having them, because," says Dr. Pickard, "the first few hours following a heart attack are the most crucial. In fact, minutes count."

During 1978, about 600,000 people in this country will have a heart attack. Of those, 350,000 will die before they reach the hospital. Many thousands of those people might be saved if they heeded the warning signals.

"First of all," warns Dr. Pickard, "expect a 'denial.' It's normal for a person to deny the possibility he is having a heart attack. But you must insist on taking prompt action."

"Call your community emergency medical service. You should have this number by your phone at all times. If you yourself can get the person to a hospital with 24-hour emergency cardiac care, do so—but under no circumstances let the person drive himself."

"Finally, if the person has lost consciousness and his heart has stopped beating, give mouth-to-mouth breathing and chest compression, (cardiopulmonary resuscitation), if you are properly trained to do so."

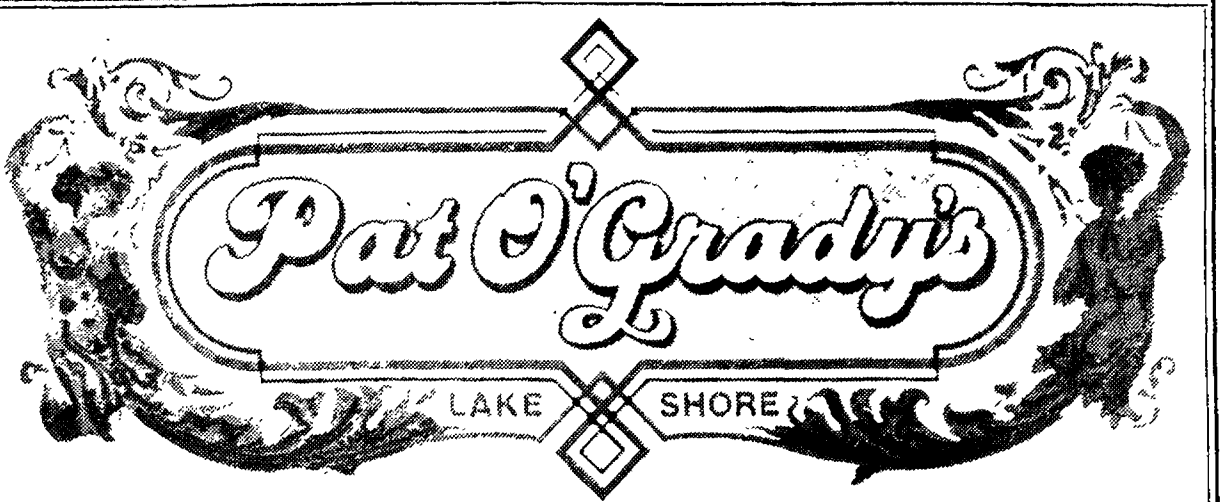

"I strongly advise everyone to learn these warning signs and actions, and learn them well. Delay spells danger when it comes to a heart attack, and precious minutes can be wasted by not knowing the warning signs or what to do when they occur."

Dr. Pickard added, "Anyone who wants more information on these warning signs, or who would like to learn CPR should call the MHA. We'll be glad to answer questions and send out free literature."

The MHA is a United Way agency.

PROVES VIEW SOUR

Even though the Patent Office expressed doubts on the value of the invention, it issued a patent to Gail Borden August 19, 1856, for condensed milk. Borden went on to prove the Patent Office's view was sour. The many fascinating developments in the dairy industry, including early milk bottles and cream separators, are reflected in the special exhibits of the Domestic Arts Collection at Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn.

Braille Volunteers Celebrate Spring

The Braille Volunteers of Grosse Pointe gathered June 1 at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center for their traditional spring luncheon honoring members who have completed the course in braille transcription and members who have received their transcribing certificates from the Library of Congress during the past year. Among those celebrating the season and the occasion were, (back row, left to right), MRS. THOMAS HARRIS, newly certified transcriber, MISS JEAN SELLS, assistant braille instructor, MRS. FRANK BERLI, newly certified transcriber, CINDY BARGIEL, a teacher consultant for the Visually Impaired in the Macomb County Intermediate School District which serves 21 local districts, MRS. JOHN WOLZKO, newly certified transcriber, and MRS. JOHN McNAMARA, voluntary teacher for the Braille Transcription Classes scheduled to resume in September at the War Memorial. Miss Bargiel, who holds both a Bachelor and a Master of Arts degree in Special Education from Wayne State University, was guest speaker. Assisting her in her presentation were, (front row, left and right), CATHY AHO, a blind student at Macomb Community College, and CARLA EARLES, an eighth grade student at Oakwood Junior High School, who is also blind.

Each of the speakers stressed the importance of brailled material in enabling the blind to function as independently as possible in a sighted world.

Miss Bargiel feels that braille, when used by the blind in a class with sighted students, helps blind students to reach their full potential and work to their maximum capability.

Carla and Cathy both spoke of the enjoyment they derive from being able to sit down quietly and read for their own personal pleasure. Carla shared her skill with the group, reading her favorite poem, Poe's "Annabelle Lee," from a braille copy.

Cathy, a sophomore, noted that braille has added immeasurably to her grasp of college courses, spelling and current events. All three speakers thanked the Grosse Pointe Volunteers for the materials their efforts have provided.

The volunteers, during the past year, have transcribed 5,000 pages of braille, including textbooks for junior high school, high school and college students, foreign language books, poetry, scripts for plays, cookbooks, instruction manuals, letters, photo albums and fiction for adults and children.

They are busy this summer transcribing 20 books requested by schools in Michigan and neighboring states.

They are deeply indebted to Mrs. Irma Van Slembrach, Mr. and Mrs. George Santoro, Mrs. Cyril Verbrugge, Miss Harriet Helms, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peeler, Preceptor Alpha Eta, Mrs. Thomas Gibbons, Mrs. George Steyer, Mrs. I. D. Gay, Mrs. William Niemetta, the Mesdames M. L'Heureux and E. Smith and Mrs. David Keever, whose generous contributions in the past year have helped members not only to produce a greater volume of bound books but to do so without interrupting their work for the solicitation of financial aid.

Members who have completed the course in braille transcription during the past year and were honored at the June luncheon are Mrs. Gay, Mrs. Keever, Mrs. George Atkinson, Mrs. Leo De Voight, Mrs. Robert Stephens and Mrs. Theodore Zeugner.

The party for 50 volunteers and guests was planned by Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald with the assistance of Mrs. Jack Chilingirian and Mrs. Dale Steiger.

Special guests were Mrs. Geraldine Petcoff and Miss Christine Tlusty, who teach Principles of Effective Time Management, Analyzing How the Secretary/Manager Team's Time is Being Utilized, and Techniques for Improving Utilization of the Secretary's Time.

Wider Opportunity on the five major Hawaiian Islands.

This "Hawaii Hoolaulea," sponsored by the Girl Scout Council of the Pacific, honors the Bicentennial of British explorer Captain Cook's discovery of the Hawaiian Islands.

Its focus is on the unique heritage and culture of old and new Hawaii. Its participants will visit Oahu's metropolitan Honolulu, the volcanoes of Maui, Kauai's Grand Canyon of the Pacific, Molokai and the "Big Island" of Hawaii.

Planned activities include Polynesian craft demonstrations, hula lessons and a gala luau.

In from New Zealand

Peg and Bill Cook, who live in Te Luke, Bay of Plenty, New Zealand — in the heart of the kiwi fruit country, just south of Auckland — are continuing their five-month trip around the world after a super five-week stay with Peg's sister and brother-in-law, Curl and Ed Tutag, of Radnor circle.

It's a sentimental journey for Bill, a Royal New Zealand Airforce officer who was shot down at the Battle of Arnheim 44 years ago. He is now on a nostalgic pilgrimage to look up and visit the families in Holland who protected him and got him back to Allied lines.

His squadron is having a reunion in Cambridge, England, this month . . . and OF COURSE Bill wanted to be there . . . and OF COURSE if one is traveling all the way from New Zealand to England, one might just as well go on around the world as go back the way one came . . .

Grosse Pointe was the Cooks' second stop. They broke the Pacific leg of their journey in Tahiti, where they rendezvoused with an exchange student they'd hosted in New Zealand.

After a week of sun, sand and "catching up," it was on to Grosse Pointe, where Curl and Ed had a delightful time showing their delightful visitors around and introducing them to family and friends.

Curl and Lib (Mrs. George A., Jr.) Nicholson, of Cadieux road conducted their own Cooks Tour, taking Peg and Bill on a 3,000-mile trip through 13 states and Ontario, Canada.

"We gave them a good, old-fashioned tour on the origins of this country," Curl reports. There were stops in Boston and Plymouth, (to go through the Mayflower), in Newport, R.I., Philadelphia, Washington, Williamsburg and Lexington, Ky.

"It's hard to say what they liked best," Curl muses. "My sister kept saying, 'It has been like Christmas every day here.'"

Peg Cook found the number of beautiful trees in all the cities a delightful and unexpected surprise.

"My brother-in-law will dine out for years on his story of mastering the totally computerized metro system in Washington, D.C."

But Bill Cook's greatest thrill, undoubtedly, was catching a large muskie in Lake St. Clair, off Jim Diamond's boat.

Both Cooks agree that New Zealand looks to this country as the most powerful in the world and the best hope for the world. They agree, too, that it's a great place to visit . . . and everyone who met the Cooks agree that they are great guests to have.
