THREE AMERICANS became the first persons to cross the Atlantic Ocean by balloon last night when their ship, the Double Eagle II, floated over the Irish coastline at the tiny western port of Louisburgh at an altitude of 20,800 feet. The men, Ben Abruzzo, 48, Maxie Anderson, 44, and Larry Newman, 31, all of Albuquerque, N.M., were reported overjoyed when they were informed by air controllers that they had reached Ireland. The same trip a year ago, but were forced to land off Iceland.

Friday, August 18
THREE AMERICAN balloonists, conquerors of the Atlantic, landed in a wheat field near Paris Thursday and were mobbed by thousands of Frenchmen who doused them with champagne and rose petals in a hero's welcome reminiscent of that given Charles Lindbergh 51 years ago. "I cannot believe this welcome," said Ben Abruzzo, one of the three adventurers — the first persons to cross the Atlantic in a balloon. "This is unimaginable to me." In the joy of the moment, thousands of well-wishers surged past police and, in the process, wrecked the balloon as they clambered all over it.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD took action to tighten credit with a move which would assure an increase in almost all interest rates. The board hiked its discount rate from 7.25 to 7.75 percent. This interest rate, which banks must pay in order to borrow money from the Federal Reserve banks, will be passed on to those borrowing money from banks. The board said it was taking the action in order to help curb inflation and bolster the sagging dollar in overseas markets.

Sunday, August 20
THE CARTER ADMINISTRATION promised action in the next few weeks to keep the dollar from continuing to plummet on the international exchange markets as financial analysts warn the crisis is the worst since former President Richard Nixon imposed wage and price controls in 1971. The dollar has lost over 30 percent of its value against the Japanese yen, 33 percent against the Swiss franc and 15 percent against the German mark in the past year. It also has lost ground to the British pound and the Italian lira.

Monday, August 21
TERRORISTS SUSPECTED to be Moslem fanatics burned 377 people to death after they set a movie theater ablaze with gasoline in Abadan, Iran. Fourteen people survived with serious burns when the terrorists, believed to be traditionalists opposed to the modernization of Iran, doused the interior of the cinema with gasoline and set it afire. Police said the theater's only exit had been locked as an anti-terrorist measure. It was not known how the arsonists were able to set the inferno with such relative ease.

Tuesday, August 22
EIGHT VISITING Congressmen were told by Vietnam officials that the remains of 11 U.S. servicemen have been found and will be returned to their homeland. The U.S. delegation met with Vice-Foreign Minister Phan Hien for two-and-a-half hours, during which time Hien urged the U.S. to drop the ban on trade with its former enemy.

AAA Honors Please GP Officials

Delight Expressed in Woods over Grand Award, Award of Excellence, in Farms over Award of Merit

By Roger A. Waha
Woods and Farms officials have expressed pleasure over the honors their communities received earlier this month in the American Automobile Association's 39th annual Pedestrian Safety Inventory.

The Woods, which has gone 20 consecutive years without a pedestrian fatality, earned the AAA's top honor, the Grand Award, for the fifth time, while also receiving an Award for Excellence for the 12th consecutive year in competition with more than 2,300 communities of under 50,000 population.

Meanwhile, The Farms earned AAA's third top pedestrian safety award in the last four years, said the Auto Club. This award goes to states and cities who have demonstrated a combined achievement in both its pedestrian safety record and pedestrian program activities.

Sharing Award
Besides its pedestrian safety record, The Woods also was cited for its outstanding accident prevention program and record, according to the Auto Club.

Woods City Attorney Gives Council Report On Status of Opinions

Conclusion on Two Documents Viewing Employees' Pensions Awaits Show Cause Hearing in Circuit Court, Related Hearing on Unfair Labor Practices Charge

By Roger A. Waha
The dispute between the city and the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Ass'n., (GPWPOA), in relation to two legal opinions requested by the council viewing employees' pensions remains at a temporary standstill pending a show cause hearing in Wayne County Circuit Court and the disposition of a related complaint filed by the GPWPOA and Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge 102.

One opinion from City Attorney George Catlin views the inclusion of unused sick leave payments in final average compensation for pension, while the other eyes recomputation of final average compensation for retirees.

Mr. Catlin, at a recent regular meeting, gave the council a status report on the lawsuit filed by attorney John R. Lyons in behalf of the GPWPOA, Lodge 102 and GPWPOA President Stephen Petrik against the city and its Pension Board, plus the unfair labor practices charge filed against the city with the Employment Relations Commission.

Adjourned Again
After some discussion, the council agreed to let both cases come to a conclusion and referred the entire matter to Mr. Catlin.

The show cause hearing ordering the city and the Pension Board to address themselves to why a temporary and permanent injunction should not issue directing that the defendants not make any changes in the computation of final average compensation pending the declaration of rights of the parties and the results of the unfair labor practices charge, was originally scheduled for Wednesday, August 2, in the courtroom of Judge Myron H. Wahls.

However, Mr. Catlin told the council that the hearing had been rescheduled by mutual consent to Friday, August 25. Now, he said last week that the hearing had been adjourned again to next month.

In relation to the complaint filed with the Employment Relations Commission, a hearing has been scheduled for Friday morning, September 8, in downtown Detroit.

Nothing Happening
Mr. Catlin informed the solons that a temporary restraining order was secured to prevent the city from implementing any changes in accord with the two legal opinions, which the GPWPOA (Continued on Page 4)

Brownell Hosts Big Field Day

The Grosse Pointe Metropolitan Club will sponsor its annual Field Day for local youngsters on Saturday, August 26, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Hot dogs, ice cream, cotton candy and popcorn will be offered, as well as clowns, races for all ages, a moon walk and the 40 and 8 Train, at Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue.

Everything is free to Grosse Pointe children who bring their park passes for admission. The event is sponsored each year by the Metropolitan Club, including Pointe police, fire and mail workers.

Chairman of this year's Field Day is assistant chief of the Park Fire Department, Dave Taylor.

Pointes Eye Damage by Big Storm

Park Faces Almost $10,000 in Costs Due to Heavy Rains, Winds of July 26; City, Farms Also Assess Destruction

By James J. Njaim
Cleaning up in the aftermath of the heavy July 26 rain and wind storm cost the city almost $10,000, paid to four firms hired to remove fallen trees and debris, the Park Council was informed on Monday, August 14, by City Manager John Crawford.

One firm hired came from as far away as Anchorville, Mich.

Depending on what had to be removed, costs went as high as $100 per hour, which could have included an entire uprooted tree at Bedford and Jefferson. The tree dislodged an electric street light pole, which had to be replaced by the Detroit Edison Co.

Not Normal Policy
The costs submitted by Mr. Crawford to the solons did not include that paid by private property owners, who had to pay damages and removals out of their own pockets. The actual storm damage cost of $9,645 was that paid for work done on city trees and property, the city manager's report revealed.

James Ellison, director of the Public Service Department, said that although it was not normal policy to pick up large limbs and sections of trees felled on private property as a result of the storm, the city, nevertheless, authorized the hired firms to haul away any debris left at the curb by residents because of the emergency.

The following firms were complimented on doing an excellent job: James Tree Service of Anchorville; E.A. Blake Co. of Harper Woods; Cal Fleming Landscaping of Roseville; and J. and W. Tree Artisans of The Woods.

The Blake Company worked a total of 41 hours from July 27 through August 2 at a cost of $100 an hour and James Tree Service, five hours at $100 an hour and five hours at $50 an hour, from July 26 through August 1.

City Committee Gives Approval To Bond Issue

Group Recommends to Council That It Issue $225,000 in Bonds to Finance Recreational Improvements with Emphasis Upon Renovation, Repair; Voters to Consider Proposal at Special Election

By Susan McDonald
The committee formed to study renovation of The City's Neff Park recommended Monday, August 21, that the council issue $225,000 in bonds to finance a list of 27 projects at the lakefront recreation area.

The bond issue will go before City voters in a special election on Tuesday, September 26.

Councilman Arthur Fetters delivered the group's report to city council on Monday.

He said recommended projects include a new filter system for the large pool at a cost of about $72,000, resurfacing of both pool floors, replacement of marina cable and buoy moorings with pile moorings, addition of Sunfish and Sailfish type boat racks that will allow more room for larger boats at the park and replacement of deteriorated docking.

Support Needed
In addition, the committee recommended some sprucing up of park grounds by planting new trees to replace several that have been lost to heavy winds and Dutch Elm Disease, repair, of storage buildings and resurfacing of parking lots.

"The projects . . . represent primarily renovation and repair, with a minimum amount of facility improvement," Mr. Fetters noted.

Mayor John King, who served as an ex-officio member of the study committee, commended the group for keeping costs down.

At the same time, he stressed the importance of citizen support of the bond issue.

"Without it, (the bond issue), we probably won't have any swimming in the pool next year," he said.

"The committee will meet again on Tuesday, September 5, in City Offices, 17147 Maudine avenue, at 7:30 p.m. Members of the group are (Continued on Page 4)

Park Seeks State Grant

The Park Council at its regular meeting Monday, August 14, approved a resolution authorizing City Clerk-Comptroller Nunzio J. Ortisi to apply to Lansing for a grant of $3,243, which will reimburse the municipality for overtime costs paid to city workers during last winter's heavy snow storms.

The state legislature recently approved the appropriation of monies from the State Contingency Fund to reimburse all communities for costs of the removal of snow following the heavy snowfall in 1978.

Memphis Board Offers GP School Head Its Top Job

By Susan McDonald
It appears likely Grosse Pointe will be looking for a new superintendent of schools next month, as the Memphis Board of Education voted 5-4 Monday, August 21, to offer the top job in its system to Dr. William Coats, The Pointe's present superintendent.

Dr. Coats, who has been with Pointe schools for two years, said he has several details to work out between school boards in both Memphis and Grosse Pointe before officially accepting the new position.

"Memphis is a beautiful community, and there's a strong recognition there of the importance of the school system to the survival of that city," Dr. Coats said on Tuesday, August 22.

"But there are a number of questions which I need to discuss with both school boards. Depending on how they are resolved, I'll either stay in Grosse Pointe or leave."

The vote on Dr. Coats came after a turbulent three-hour board meeting in Memphis Monday night that left the nine-member board split along racial lines.

Three black members of the school board voted for a black candidate, Dr. W. W. Herrington, currently deputy superintendent for instructional services in Memphis.

One black board member, George Brown, said there was a great deal of bitterness about the vote, and charged (Continued on Page 10)

Problems Pinpointed In Study

Report of Ministerial Association Reveals Some Surprises to Clergymen, Provides Foundation for Program Development

By Susan McDonald

Armed with one of the most extensive studies ever done of Grosse Pointe and its people, a coalition of local religious leaders are taking a fresh look at their community this summer in the hope they will be able to lead their congregations toward a better ministry to those with most pressing needs.

The study was conducted by the Grosse Pointe Ministerial Ass'n., including representatives of 22 religious organizations, and took more than a year to complete.

Hundreds of pages of information were collected by about 140 priests, ministers and lay people who sifted through census data, conducted interviews and surveys of The Pointe and surrounding areas.

Not The Intent
The group was looking for problems, and found them.

They found several hundred Pointers, most of them over 60 years of age, living below the poverty level.

They found a severe lack of housing, transportation and social programs for The Pointe's burgeoning senior citizen population.

Alcoholism among junior high students is growing, they discovered, as are reports of child abuse, divorce and family problems.

It all sounds very critical, but that was not the intent, says study leader Rev. Robert Linticum of Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

"It's easy to assume the ministerial association is being critical of The Pointe, but nothing could be further from the truth," Rev. Linticum explained.

"This is a truly magnificent community in which to live — one of the very best in the United States. But people hurt here, too, and it is the job of the church, in Christ's name, to enable people to deal with their hurts.

Easing The Hurt

Board Okays Tuition Hike

The School Board approved increases in tuition rates for the 1978-79 school year at its Monday, August 14, meeting.

The new rates are $2,575 for the elementary level, and $2,675 for secondary. The rates correspond with the system's per pupil costs, which is the legal limit for public school tuition.

Students living outside district boundaries are allowed to attend Pointe schools and pay tuition if they have spent the majority of a school year living within district boundaries and then moved out of town, or if they are at least juniors in high school, who wish to graduate from Pointe schools.

Trustee Joan Hanpeter said she was concerned that the increase in tuition may put a terrific burden on some parents.

Other trustees argued, however, that it would be wise to set tuition at actual per pupil costs because of the possibility that voters will approve a proposed Voucher system of financing education this November.

Schools may be forced to set voucher rates equal to past tuition rates under that plan.

The new rates were approved unanimously, with Trustees Ann Ardussi and Robert Warner absent.

Study Pinpoints Areas of Need in GP

(Continued from Page 1) areas in which the most people were hurting so that the association and its member churches could minister more intelligently to this community," he said.

After eight years serving Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Dr. Ray Kiely assumed he knew The Pointe pretty well. But he said he was frankly "startled and amazed" at some of the report's findings.

"Our community is obviously becoming older, but it came as some surprise to me to find we're serving our older members very poorly," said Dr. Kiely.

"They are suffering patiently and quietly, and many of us are not aware of it."

He was surprised, he said, to find The Pointe is not as uniformly affluent as he assumed. The researchers discovered more than 800 Pointers reporting incomes below the poverty level, ($3,100 per year), and 125 students in the school system whose parents are receiving Aid to Dependent Children, (ADC), welfare payments.

Form Task Force
 Median family incomes during 1977 ranged between $26,640 in The Park and $48,850 in The Shores, according to the report. For Rev. Kenneth Lentz of Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church, the most troubling problem pointed out in the report is the growing instability of families.

Interviews with social workers, psychologists and psychiatrists employed by The Pointe public schools indicated a large increase in numbers of divorce-related and separated family environments, increases in reports of child abuse and in the alcoholism rate among junior high age students.

It is just one of the areas the ministers hope to approach through a task force on Marriage and Family that will be convened soon by Rev. Roy Hutcheon of Grosse Pointe Congregational Baptist Church.

Through the task force, the group hopes to examine the problems families encounter on a three-generation basis, including youths, married couples and senior citizens.

"I hope something imaginative and creative will come from the task force to help each of us in our individual churches," Dr. Kiely said.

"We can be a real force for change in the community," he continued. "The church helps build attitudes, and in this way stands in a uniquely powerful position."

Aging Population
 In addition to the task force work, the report, which has been condensed into a short "Statistical Analysis of The Grosse Pointes and Its Contiguous Communities," will be used by individual churches in analyzing their programs and setting goals.

Some of the more interesting statistics gathered by the researchers follow:

- The population over the age of 65 years in the five Pointes has increased from about 12 percent in 1970 to almost 19 percent in 1977. The senior citizen population of all five Pointes is equivalent to that of The Farms.

- Only about four or five percent of the homes in the Pointes change hands during a year, compared to an average 12 to 15 percent turnover rate nationwide. The average price of a home sold in Grosse Pointe increased from $57,400 in 1976 to $63,400 in 1977.

- In The Farms, 84 percent of the people over 25 years of age had graduated from high school and 38 percent from college. The state average is 53 percent graduating from high school and nine percent from college.

- Youths visited the Center Point Crisis Center with increasing numbers of family related problems, (33 percent of the total last year), and increased problems with alcohol, while the levels of drug, sexual and runaway problems remained steady or dropped over recent years.

- In the five Pointes, 52 percent of the employed population works in management and professional fields, 29 percent in service, 10 percent in skilled labor and nine percent in unskilled labor.

Solicitations Proposal

Changes Suggested
 With this foundation, Mr. Grady then proposed that the council ask Mr. Catlin to provide a rewritten ordinance incorporating various points including the following:

- That the law would become effective in January 1979, (as against having it become effective 20 days after the date of its enactment, which could readily have been sometime this fall under the current draft).
- That the ordinance should be more clearly aimed at door-to-door solicitations.

- That a permit procedure provide for up to a 90-day solicitation period, (as against a consecutive 10-day period with one solicitation per year per individual or group).

- Prohibit door-to-door solicitations when a "no solicitation" sign is displayed in public view at a residence or other building.

- That a special exception for hardship be considered by the council.

- That the council approve requests involving on-street activity, (as is the current practice).

Officials Contacted

This proposal is an outgrowth of the council's concern over the number of solicitation requests from various organizations on an annual basis. Such bids often number between 20 and 25. Citizen complaints over being bothered by solicitors also played a role.

But since the measure was approved at its first reading stage on July 10, officials have been contacted by numerous organization representatives who have felt the proposal was too restrictive and would stifle their fund raising activities in the city.

Prior to the proposal, the city viewed solicitation requests as a matter of policy with such bids coming before the council for its action.

Eye Damage

Total costs charged by the companies for these specific jobs came to $7,975.

Additional purchase orders were issued to James Tree Service for removal of a tree at 658 Barrington and two trees at 921 Trombley, the trimming of a tree at 335 Maryland and one at 1221 Whittier for a total cost of $600.

Other Cities Pay

Cal Fleming removed a tree at 1119 Beaconsfield, one at 805 Beaconsfield and a large section of a tree at 870 Trombley.

The firm trimmed trees at 1116 Beaconsfield, 715 Balfour, 1459 Beaconsfield and 1339 Maryland. It also installed rods and cables to hold a tree at 753 Barrington. The total cost was $1,070.

Meanwhile, City officials paid a contractor about $6,100 to cut down the nine trees which were destroyed by the high winds and to trim dangerous branches from several other trees.

The cost of repairing the roof at The City park bath house, which was dented when a tree collapsed on it, has not yet been estimated.

In The Farms, City Clerk Richard Solak said it cost the municipality around $8,100 in DPW expenses and in hiring contractors for the removal of damaged trees and necessary tree trimming.

Of all the Pointes, The Park received the most damage from the storm, although both The City and Farms also were hurt. The Woods and Shores escaped serious damage.

OPERATES PROGRAMS

The YMCA was able to operate 11 special summer programs through 10 branches for more than 1,200 children in 1977 with a special United Foundation Torch Drive grant allocated by United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit.

Repair Work Bids Accepted

Several bids for concrete work in the city were accepted by the Woods Council at a recent regular meeting. First, the solons accepted the bid of T and T Contractors of Fraser in the amount of $315,883 for concrete pavement repair, with the monies to come from the major and local streets fund.

John DeBusscher of the city engineering firm of Pate, Hirn and Bogue, Inc., indicated that the project's total cost as bid was around $38,204 higher than the firm's estimated construction cost.

In noting the cost for construction work around the state has "greatly increased this year with some work being bid coming in at twice the construction estimates," Mr. DeBusscher felt, while the bid was higher than the firm's estimate, the quote is lower than similar type work being bid around the area.

Then, the council accepted the bid of Ward and Van Nuck, Inc., of Mount Clemens in the amount of $88,799 for asphalt pavement resurfacing and miscellaneous asphalt repair, with the monies again being paid from the major and local streets fund.

In relation to this, Mr. DeBusscher said Ward and Van Nuck's original bid for such work reached $372,420, with unit prices bid for the project being around 50 percent higher than the firm's construction cost estimates.

Because of the high bids received, (a second was $387,803.50), another field survey was made of the project to re-evaluate the extent of proposed work.

As a result, only those asphalt repair areas the firm felt were absolutely necessary to reasonably maintain traffic on city streets were selected, he said, in effect reducing the work on this project.

"In some instances, we believe concrete base repair will suffice and therefore recommend certain repair areas be transferred to the concrete pavement repair program," noted Mr. DeBusscher.

PASS HIM BY
Life's most difficult task is to follow the fellow who always gets ahead of his story.

By eliminating most of the repair areas, the contract amount was reduced to the $88,799 figure, thus increasing the concrete repair program from $315,883 to $339,239 — a net reduction in bids received for both phases of repair work totaling $260,365.

The council then voted to increase the contract for concrete pavement and miscellaneous concrete pavement repair between the city and T and T from $315,883 to $339,239.

Lastly, the solons accepted the bid of J. J. Barney, Inc., of Detroit for concrete sidewalk work and curb cutting based on the following unit costs: sidewalk, four inches thick, $1.45 per square foot, sidewalk, six inches thick or driveway approach six inches thick, $1.70 per square foot and curb cutting at sidewalk ramps, $5 per lineal foot.

An additional 10 cents per square foot was agreed to be added to the unit price bids for sidewalk and drive approaches in order to defray the city's engineering, inspection and administrative costs.

The monies for the project will be paid from the general fund.

GPW Charter Amendment Eyes Tax Collection Fee

Woods voters are scheduled to consider a proposed charter amendment on the November ballot as the council at a recent regular meeting voted to concur with the recommendation of City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher on a change to hike the collection fee on city taxes.

The solons by a 5-1 vote also referred Mr. Hornfisher's memo to City Attorney George Catlin for preparation of a proposed charter amendment for submission to the governor and attorney general for their approval so it can be placed on the ballot.

In his memo, Mr. Hornfisher recommended that the charter be changed to increase the collection fee on city taxes, which is presently four percent from September 1 through March 1, at which time delinquent taxes are sent to the county for collection.

An addition to Section 9.16 of the charter was proposed. This section begins by saying, "All taxes paid on or before August 31 of each year shall be collected by the treasurer without collection fee. On September 1, he shall add to all taxes paid thereafter a collection fee of four percent . . ."

The addition then says, "And on October 1 and each month thereafter an additional one-half of one percent per month."

Mr. Hornfisher said, "Without an increasing penalty there is no incentive for a resident to pay the taxes for the entire six-month period, therefore, I feel this needs correcting."

Citizens who pay on time wouldn't be affected, while those who pay late would pay more and thus might have an incentive to pay on time, he stated.

Calling the collection rate of taxes "very good," Mr. Hornfisher indicated between 98 and 99 percent of the citizens pay on time, while noting the highest percent a resident would pay if he's late would be six and a half percent.

He also felt the proposed change in the charter would help the municipality in its collection of personal property taxes.

Casting the vote of dissent on the motion was Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, who felt the four percent penalty was adequate considering the city's good tax collection record.

GPW Accepts Bus Proposal

A proposal from the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club regarding the purchase of a new bus for the city was unanimously accepted by the Woods Council at a recent regular meeting.

The club's fund raising chairman, Robert B. Frederick, questioned if the city would join the club in purchasing a new bus, with the municipality paying $5,000 and the club the balance of the cost.

Two bids were received by the club. One was for a 66-passenger bus at a cost of $18,775 and the other was for a 54-passenger vehicle at $16,786.

Mr. Frederick said that the contribution toward purchasing the bus would contain "no strings attached," with the title to the vehicle being placed in the city's name without any preconditions as to the use of the bus by the municipality.

Councilman E. D. Grady felt a careful look should be given the proposal in relation to a potential broad use of the vehicle, i.e., other than as a park bus, and moved that this matter be referred to the Committee of the Whole for further study.

However, the prevailing feeling among the council was that the offer should be accepted and then a determination made on the use of the vehicle.

As a result, Councilman George S. Freeman offered a substitute motion that the proposal be accepted, with City Administrator Chester E. Petersen being requested to investigate types of buses from the safety and economic standpoints.

The city is currently in the process of obtaining bids for one 66-passenger school bus, with such bids being opened on Tuesday, September 5.

"We hope to have the bids for the first meeting in September," (probably Monday, September 11, because of Labor Day, September 4), said Mr. Petersen. "We also will have recommendations and a report on cost factors and operation."

Officials also are investigating the possibility of using one of the three older Kiwanis buses for senior citizen activities but, at this time, the cost appears prohibitive, he continued.

Mr. Petersen added the new bus may be a replacement for one of the other vehicles, while noting that specifications on the new bus view a diesel engine toward cutting down on maintenance costs along with automatic transmission.

Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann said the trio of older buses, (1962, 1965 and 1968), are safe, with the biggest problem personnel face being breakdowns and ensuing inconvenience to citizens waiting to visit the Lake Front Park.

No one needed tips on operating a hand fan efficiently.

Back in the days before high-speed fans and air conditioners, a lot of people depended on hand fans and cold lemonade to keep them cool during hot summer months. And quite frankly, there wasn't much you had to know about operating efficiency. Today, with convenient modern air conditioners, most people can keep cool with the push of a button. But air conditioners are a major electrical appliance. So, to keep them running efficiently and economically you have to maintain and use them properly. That's why Detroit Edison offers you the following air conditioning tips. Keep the air filter clean. Close all windows and shade out hot sunlight. Check to see that nothing blocks the flow of cool air. Always keep your air conditioner on a moderate setting, and on central units, set your thermostat at an appropriate comfort level but no lower than 75° By following these simple tips you can keep cool, conserve energy and save a lot of money. Enough money to keep you well stocked in lemonade. For more information, call or stop in at any Detroit Edison Customer Office.

Vial of Life Project Finished by Scouts

Van Tiem. These troop members not only distributed the Vial of Life containers to the elderly who might need them, but also inquired about the senior citizens' next door neighbors, or other neighbors, who might have an affliction and be interested in having the vials in their homes.

Chief Costa said the seven boys obtained permission from Park officials to check the city's voting records to garner names of persons of senior citizen age, which took some time to do. Once this was done, they immediately went to work until the selected area was covered.

"These Boy Scouts of Troop 96 did a very excellent job and are to be commended for their dedication," said Chief Costa. "We have had the Vial of Life program in operation for some time, but somehow, either a majority of the residents of our city are not aware of this, or appear not too interested."

"I am glad these boys, led by Life Scout Andy, decided to take up the cause of the Vial of Life."

The chief said persons with serious ailments, such as heart problems and severe allergies should take advantage of this vital program. The vials, which should contain written or printed information of the individual's problem, should be kept inside the home refrigerator, with a sticker on the refrigerator door indicating that a vial is therein, plus other stickers attached to house doors.

This way, he continued, in the event of an emergency, police or fire personnel, or any medical unit crews responding to that emergency, on seeing the sticker, can go to the refrigerator, check inside the vial and know immediately what the symptom might be.

Chief Costa said if any civic groups or persons are interested in helping distribute Vial of Life containers, they should contact him at the Park Fire Department, 822-6400.

Pleased over Honors

"I'm impressed," said Public Safety Director John Dankel, who joined the department in April.

While giving Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook credit for his efforts, Director Dankel, in citing the city's fine record, stated, "I heard about the city's record in pedestrian safety and feel the award bears it out."

An obviously delighted Officer Crook said, "The minute we get the award, I'm going right over to the schools, show it to them and thank all who are responsible. I want to have the award displayed at all the schools. That's their award, too."

"They were willing to listen and participate in the safety programs and it's my feeling they should share a part in it, too."

Big Accomplishment
He also cited the efforts and cooperation of the department, citizens, parents and the school crossing guards for their interest in the overall program.

"To go 20 years without a pedestrian fatality is something not too many cities are able to accomplish," said City Administrator Chester E. Petersen.

"This is a tribute to the dedicated efforts of the Public Safety Department in this particular area of accident prevention," he continued, while viewing the work of Officer Crook in cooperation with all departmental members.

Mr. Petersen also cited the cooperation of the school system, while praising the work of safety patrol youngsters and crossing guards.

In The Farms, Police Chief Robert K. Ferber said he was very happy over the honor. "We devote an awful lot of time for a small department toward traffic engineering programs and it has paid dividends as we are recognized for our efforts," he said. "The end result makes it all worthwhile."

Pair Sentenced In Woods Court

A 26-year-old Detroit man pled not guilty but was found guilty of a destruction of property charge stemming from an incident at the Speedway gas station, 19277 Mack avenue, early Tuesday morning, August 1.

Larry Bruce Scott gave his plea at his Woods Municipal Court hearing on Wednesday, August 16, and was sentenced to 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction, (DeHoCo). He also was directed to pay restitution to Speedway when a specific amount is determined.

Woods police said Scott threw a rock through the front door window of the business after he and another man, Bertram Reese, 27, of Mount Clemens were spotted acting suspiciously in the immediate area.

Reese was charged with possession of marijuana and he pled not guilty but was found guilty on the 16th. He was placed on non-reporting probation for two years and could have spent 10 days in DeHoCo or pay a $100 fine. He took the latter course.

Both men were observed by Cpl. Thomas Kerving acting in a suspicious manner, e.g., driving in the area of the station on two occasions and walking near the building.

After the rock was thrown, police converged on the pair and arrested them.

School Guard Workshop Set

Police from the five Pointes and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department will be among law enforcement agencies participating in a school crossing guard workshop Tuesday, August 29, sponsored by the Automobile Club of Michigan and the Michigan Department of Education.

The half-day seminar, one of eight held throughout lower Michigan this month, will take place at Schooler Community College, 18600 Haggerty road, Livonia, starting at 9 a.m.

The program was developed to comply with a new state requirement that all adult school crossing guards receive four hours of training and two hours of annual review from local police in traffic control, first aid and other areas.

Thieves Enter Car in Farms

An estimated $1,000 in articles was removed from an unlocked auto parked in the driveway of a residence, according to a report received by Farms police on Tuesday afternoon, August 15.

Margaret Peabody of Mirabeau place told Officer Philip Miglio that a set of golf equipment, including four woods, 10 irons, balls, gloves and a bag, was discovered missing, along with four stock wire wheel covers.

The golf equipment was valued in excess of $600, while the wheel covers' value was placed at around $400.

GP Farms Seeks to Stop Live Concert at Punch

By David Kramer
The Farms Council instructed City Attorney George McKean to obtain a court injunction preventing the Punch and Judy Theater, 21 Kercheval avenue, from holding a live concert Tuesday night, August 22, (after dark).

Mr. McKean said he would attempt to get a court order in Wayne County Circuit Court prohibiting the performance of a group, "The Talking Heads," on the basis of the theater is no longer permitted to have live entertainment.

The action was taken by the council at its Monday, August 21, meeting, as the first night of the concert was being presented at the theater.

"We gave notice they're not permitted to have live entertainment without a contract," Mr. McKean said. "We can shut them down tomorrow night if that's what you, (the council), want."

"I think they're playing games with us," said Mayor James Dingeman.

Councilman W. James Mast agreed. "They're dealing in bad faith," he said.

Mr. McKean said he did not know whether one day would be enough time in which to obtain an enforceable court order. He added that the city could be required to put up a bond to cover any damages which might result from closing the business down.

Councilman Lloyd Semple agreed the injunction route should be attempted.

"The judge may not give an injunction but that's no reason not to apply," he said. "I think we ought to let these people know we mean business."

Robert Welchli, attorney for the theater owners, said he was unaware of the city's intended action the morning following the council meeting. He had no comment on the matter.

Mr. McKean said he had been in the process of working out a new agreement with the tenants concerning live shows. He said he also had advised them the council would like to have the midnight movie, "The Rocky Horror Picture Show," changed to an earlier time.

Councilwoman Nancy Waugaman said she was not sure she wanted live entertainment permitted at the theater under any circumstances.

In a letter dated July 6, the council had given notice to the theater owners and tenants that live shows would no longer be permitted. That letter cited failure of the owners to sign an agreement "describing and limiting the type of entertainment" as cause for revocation of the city's permission.

"The Talking Heads" show is the first live show to be presented since the notice was given to the theater.

Found Guilty Of Bad Driving

Two youths were found guilty of reckless driving charges at their Woods Municipal Court hearing on Wednesday, August 16, stemming from an incident on July 23, according to court reports.

David Richard Barnett, 18, of Saddle Lane, pleaded nolo contendere to the charge while Jon Chevalier, 19, of Grand Blanc, pleaded not guilty.

Both youths were placed on non-reporting probation for one year, had their licenses suspended for 90 days, were fined $100 and $100 court costs.

Woods police said Barnett was the driver of a vehicle which struck a curb, flipped over twice and struck a tree on Lochmoor boulevard near Holiday road.

The passenger in the Barnett car, Mark John Mueller, 18, of Lochmoor was thrown from the vehicle and received multiple fractures and lacerations, plus internal injuries, according to a report from Saint John Hospital.

He was reported in good to fair condition at Saint John on Thursday, August 17.

Police also stated that both youths had reportedly been involved in a "cat and mouse" type of game prior to the accident.

Gets 4 to 10 For Robbery

A 27-year-old Detroit man, who pled guilty to charges of robbery armed, (R/A), and the commission of a felony with a firearm, was sentenced to from four to 10 years in prison on the R/A charge and two years in jail on the second charge, reported Woods police.

The man, Ricky Cohen, was involved in the holdup of Onassis Coney Island, 20769 Mack avenue, shortly after midnight on May 29.

He appeared before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles Kaufman for sentencing on Thursday, August 10.

Another man involved in the robbery, Goodman Johnson, 27, also of Detroit, was sentenced late last month on the two charges. He received from five to 15 years in prison for R/A and two years in jail for using a gun in the commission of a felony.

PWP to Meet On August 25

The Grosse Pointe Chapter of Parents Without Partners, (PWP), will meet at the Knights of Columbus Hall at Little Mack and Ten Mile road on Friday, August 25, at 9 p.m.

The group has switched its meeting place from the War Memorial, where it usually meets, because the Center will be closed on the 25th.

For more information, call 881-5892.

A PRIME CAUSE

Bacteria and viruses of head colds, influenza, measles, scarlet fever, meningitis and similar maladies can settle in the ear and can cause hearing losses, according to officials of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation. They point out such infections are a prime cause of hearing loss among persons from infancy through the teen years.

Woods Seeks Disaster Funds

The Woods Council unanimously approved a resolution seeking disaster funds due to the snowstorm of January 28 and the authorized City Administrator Chester E. Petersen to execute the application in the municipality's behalf.

This action was taken at a recent regular council meeting.

Mr. Petersen said the city was notified last month that Gov. William G. Milliken approved the implementation of a provision in Public Acts 390 to allow local units to receive up to $20,000 from the State Disaster Contingency Fund.

Once adopted, he said the resolution will be forwarded to the Wayne County Office of Emergency Preparedness.

The State Disaster Contingency Fund Grant resolution indicates that the city sustained "severe" losses of major proportions" because of the storm resulting in immobilization of transportation, commerce and city services and in particular the closing of roads and highways.

Because of the disaster, public damage and expenditures placed "an unreasonably great financial burden" on the city, totalling $5,696,83.

Mr. Petersen added that it appears the DPW overtime costs during a five-day period in excess of 140 percent of the normal budget will be paid to the city, with the application being worth $1,599.54 to the municipality.

Golf Tourney to Aid Hospital

The third annual Ever-Clear Invitational Golf Tournament and Presentation Ball will be held for the benefit of Bon Secours Hospital on Saturday, September 2, at the Plumbrook Golf Club.

Last year's tournament hosted almost 100 golfers.

Players may reserve starting times, beginning at 11:30 a.m., for a tax-deductible donation of $25. The fee also covers greens fees and unlimited food and beer. During the match, a golf cart, fully stocked with a cash bar, will escort players along the course.

Following the tournament, players and their companions may attend a Presentation Ball where they will enjoy a surprise appearance by a special guest.

Trophies will be awarded to the two best golfers and suitable awards will be given for "Best Dressed Player," "Mr. Divot" and "The Bowlers Award," for the golfer whose best score indicates that he should seriously consider a career in bowling.

For entry blanks and reservations, call Bon Secours Hospital's development office at 343-1520.

YSD Expresses Concern Over Malicious Vandals

A total of 96 complaint reports were forwarded to the Youth Service Division (YSD), last month, with one proving to be unfounded. This raises the total for the first seven months of the year to 584 in comparison to 469 for the same period in 1977.

Expressing some concern over the heavier load, the YSD said, "Even discounting the 17 accumulated incidents of malicious destruction of property, (MDP), forwarded to YSD in April by one department, The City, on the hope that YSD might be able to clear these cases as the work of one group of juveniles in that particular area, the monthly totals have, (excepting May), been consistently higher this year than 1977.

"As previously highlighted, this increase is not reflected in abuse of controlled substances. It is found rather in offenses which indicate a growing disregard for personal safety and personal property of others."

While there has been some invasion by juveniles from beyond Pointe area boundaries, the division notes these offenses primarily are committed by Pointe youths. MDP was the category of highest incidence last month with 23 such cases being reported, most of which remain unsolved at this time.

Types of vandalism were destructive use of fireworks, vehicle damage to lawns, building and vehicle window breakage by pellet guns, spray paint on private property, and eggs and/or tomatoes thrown against exteriors of homes. Pellet gun damage was the most extensive.

Larceny cases, 23, (one of which was unfounded), burglary, eight, possession of stolen property, five, attempt robbery unarmed, one, and fraud, one, involved 43 identified juvenile males in the company of three adult males and one juvenile female. Six of these cases remain unsolved to date.

The YSD said during July nine boy's bikes, two girl's bikes and one minibike were reported stolen, with all but one boy's bike being recovered.

Meanwhile, eight assault incidents involved seven identified juvenile males, one adult male and one adult female. Two cases have been suspended, unsolved.

Six offenses, seven reports, include four indecent exposing incidents, three of which have been closed, and two incidents of window peeping, neither of which is solved to date.

The possible attempted abduction has not been and probably cannot be proved or disproved, says the division. The child involved became alarmed when a vehicle stopped near her and, as she ran to her home, she heard the car speed away.

Runaways, six cases, were all boys. Two returned to their proper residences on their own volition, two were apprehended and turned over to their parents or guardians and two were arrested and taken to the Wayne County Youth Home.

Three arson cases, all of which have been cleared, involved six youths, ages 10 through 15.

Three marijuana incidents involved one adult male and five juvenile males. One driving under the influence, (marijuana), report involved one adult male and one juvenile male, while one minors in possession case, (beer), involved two juvenile males.

Eighteen applications for petition were filed with Wayne County Juvenile Court during July. This total equaled two previous months of record high filing.

"This high filing rate indicates the... experience of robberies, breaking and enterings, (with intent to steal), larcenies and individuals found in possession of stolen property, (primarily bicycles)," adds the YSD.

Cottage Names New PR Head

Madge Baron Lawson has been appointed public relations director of Cottage Hospital, 159 Kercheval avenue, announced Cottage Administrator Ralph L. Wilgarde last week.

Mrs. Lawson, a native of Detroit, has operated her own public relations counseling firm for the past six years in the Detroit area serving, among other major accounts, the Detroit Institute of Technology and the Detroit Science Center, Inc.

She was most recently an associate of Kenneth Drake Associates, Inc., of Detroit where she was project account executive for Hutzel Hospital in the Detroit Medical Center, and the 24th Biennial Clergy-Laity Congress of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of North and South America recently held in Detroit.

Mrs. Lawson is an associate member of the Public Relations Society of America. This March, she served as a panel member for "Transitions '78," a seminar for public relations professionals and students in communications at Oakland University, co-sponsored by Detroit area professional societies in the communications arts.

A graduate of the School of Journalism at the University of Michigan, Mrs. Lawson is a volunteer editor for a monthly community newsletter serving residents in the northeast area of Detroit.

The wife of William J. Lawson, senior project planner for the City of Detroit Community and Economic Development Department, Mrs. Lawson resides in Audubon road, Detroit. They have two daughters, Susan and Pamela.

Brownell Sets Registrations

New students who plan to attend grades seven and eight at Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte road, in September should enroll this month at the school.

Appointments may be made for Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, August 29, 30 or 31, between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. by calling Helen Lamphear at 343 2118.

Incoming seventh grade students and eighth graders new to the school are invited to attend a special orientation program on Wednesday, September 6, in the gymnasium at 10 a.m.

Pupil schedules and locker assignments will be mailed out to all students this week.

Parents with questions may contact Principal William Christofferson at 343 2115.

Pointers Win Decade Tennis

Two University Liggett School, (ULS), tennis coaches, a state squash champion, a Ford family heiress and a singer led Grosse Pointe to victory over Kalamazoo Sunday, August 13, in the city finals of the Decade National Amateur Team Tennis championship at Detroit Country Day School.

The winners advanced to the regionals held this month at Oconomowoc, Wis. Four regional winners: from the east, west, central and southern regions will play in the finals to be held in conjunction with the U.S. Open at Flushing Meadows Sunday, September 10.

The Pointe team swept all three doubles matches from Kalamazoo. Bob Wood, ULS athletic director and varsity tennis coach, and George Andrews, dean of students and junior varsity coach, defeated Aubrey Lipsey and Greg Alexander, 8-7, with a 5-3 tie-breaker.

In the women's doubles, Patty Mahon, the United States Squash Racquet Ass'n. state Class A champion, and Sheila Ford defeated Rita Byers and Molly Bergman, 8-7, with a 5-1 tie-breaker.

Ms. Ford twisted her ankle with her team in the lead, 6-2, but eventually won it with the extra game.

The Pointe team will play teams from Buffalo, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Indianapolis, Milwaukee and Minneapolis at the Olympia Resort outside Milwaukee.

"We're just a band of weekend warriors," said team captain Bob Wood, whose ULS teams have won seven straight state championships and 10 out of the last 13.

"We don't have a strong individual part of our team," he said. "We're solid all the way around — we have good depth."

Wine Lines
by John Lundberg

The only way to tell if you like a wine is to taste it. The problem comes once you have discovered a wine and want to remember what it tastes like. It is difficult to put down in words what a wine tastes like. There are some terms that are commonly used that might be helpful as long as you have a good sense of what they mean to you when you use them. Here are a few: 'Body' refers to the wateriness of the wine. A light bodied wine will have a pleasant liquid quality; a full bodied wine will have a taste that fills the mouth without being 'winny.' 'Astringency' is a combination of sharp and bitter tastes in young wine that tends to make the mouth pucker. It comes from tannic acid and usually disappears with age. 'Tart' is used to describe wines in which the taste of the acid is noticeable but not offensive.

Remember PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 for all your wine and liquor needs. If you're planning a party to bring the summer season to a close, come in and talk to us about the advantages of serving keg beer. You can choose from any keg beer available in the State of Michigan in either 1/2 or 3/4 barrels, and we will supply all the tapping equipment free of charge. Open: 10-10 Mon.-Thurs.; 10-11 Fri. & Sat.

HELPFUL HINT:
Vibration and temperature change are the two major enemies of stored wines.

The son of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. Gilbert Reid, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Molly Hastings Evans and Jamison Reid.

Interment will be at Woodlawn Cemetery.

Woods Church Hosts 'School'

A unique "school for parents" will open its doors to metro-Detroit area residents on Thursday, September 14, when Mrs. Dorothy Mongoven of The Woods begins an eight-week session of Dr. Thomas Gordon's PET: Parent Effectiveness Training.

The classes will be held on eight consecutive Thursday evenings at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue from 7 to 10 p.m.

According to Mrs. Mongoven, the course is open to fathers and mothers of children of all ages, to single parents and to all interested adults working with youth.

"Parenthood is the only major job in our culture for which no training is required or even available," according to Mrs. Mongoven, "and PET can bring to the metro-area the effective interpersonal skills needed to fill the void."

Founded in 1962, in California, the program has spread across the country with over 5,000 authorized instructors teaching classes of approximately 25 parents how to listen so children will talk, talk so their children will listen and solve problems so that no one in the family loses.

The resulting closeness and cooperation has been reported to make both children and parents happier and to eliminate the so-called generation gap.

Mrs. Mongoven is a certified marriage and family counselor, and her class is restricted to 25 persons.

Interested parents may learn more information by contacting her at 777-7410 or by calling Rev. David Eshelman at 886-4300.

Shores Okays Paving Project

The Shores council at its regular monthly session Tuesday morning, August 15, accepted the only bid submitted for the repair and resurfacing of the entire parking lot and drives of the Village Service Center, west of the municipal building.

The lone bidder was the firm of Ward Van Nuck, which offered to do the job for $17,490.

The council agreed that the area was in terrible shape and if left alone too much longer, the center would become a series of mudholes.

The solons also agreed to place Lochmoor boulevard curb repairing on the priority list for next year. It was disclosed that the cost of the project had been estimated at $20,000.

Village Superintendent Thomas K. Jefferis informed the council that money will be in the 1979-80 fiscal budget for the Lochmoor program.

The next meeting of the Shores council has been postponed from Tuesday, September 19, to Tuesday, September 26, at 8:30 a.m.

DETROIT CLINIC

The Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic's unique practice of treating the whole child—his emotional, mental and social needs, as well as his physical handicap — has made it a leader in orthopaedic services. Currently DOC serves 3,200 patients a year with Total Drive dollars.

Why on earth should you open a checking account at a bank in Maine?

Because it'll pay you 5% interest on your money.

Here's a checking account that's a great example of Yankee thrift and ingenuity. It's a NOW account. It means Negotiable Order of Withdrawal, and it lets you write checks on an account that pays you 5% interest. And it's available only in New England.

But now it's being made available to you.

Put your money to work.

A checking account is convenient, and it helps you manage your money. But the money you put into a regular checking account just sits there.

With a NOW account you can put it to work for you, earning 5% interest right up until your checks clear.

Your money will go a long way when you send it a long way.

So fill out this coupon. We'll open a NOW account for you here at Bank of Maine. You'll have the convenience of checking with the interest of a savings account. We'll pay you that 5% interest on any balance in your account when your monthly average collected balance remains over $500. And when you maintain that monthly average collected balance of $500, there are no service charges on your account.

We'll also give you free checks. Postage-paid banking by mail. Free travelers' checks if you visit Maine. And a toll free number to call if you've got any questions.

And this is the bank in Maine to open an account at.

Bank of Maine is a federally-chartered bank, and we've been around a long time. Since 1836 in fact. And in all that time we've done our best to offer our customers the most helpful banking services and service.

Wherever those customers are.

PURDY & TOLES

An absolutely fabulous residence situated in the "heart of the Farms." So much to offer here — central air conditioning, sprinkler system, beautiful patio, superb grounds — just the beginning — a lovely Georgian Colonial with the living room, family room, library, master suite and rec room all having wood burning fireplaces — add five family bedrooms, maids' quarters and magnificent kitchen — What else?

Exciting business opportunity — in the Village — zoned business. Great for doctor, dentist, insurance, etc. Offering 3 suites, 4-car garage, 90' frontage, good on and off street parking. Charm, charm, charm.

Only $62,500 takes and "what a buy." A very nice 3 bedroom Colonial with 1½ baths and oversized family room — property not too large to take care of — add a full basement, central air conditioning, 2 car attached garage and extra doctor or dentist suite — Good deal!

Outstanding vacant lot for sale — start building immediately — 100' x 250' on 3 Mile Drive between St. Paul and Jefferson — $37,500. There's a bonus — grant, almost Olympic sized, heated swimming pool with pool equipment and filter. Build your house right around it.

1st offering — Oxford Road — won't last! The cutest thing — 3 bedroom Bungalow, 2 down and 1 up bath, full basement and extra large modern kitchen with breakfast area — carpeting — almost new roof — nice yard.

IF YOU HAD THE OPPORTUNITY to live anywhere in Grosse Pointe, wouldn't you choose to live right on the lake? Doesn't the idea sound great of having your swimming pool just a few steps from your lakefront terrace, between the breakwall and the house. The architect took advantage of the view south to the Canadian shore by locating all the major rooms facing the lake. A total of six fireplaces grace the major social rooms on the main floor and three of the four family bedrooms. The large, family-sized kitchen was designed with the idea that the formal dining room need seldom be used. A large eating area and fireplace are features of this kitchen. Take a look and we're sure you'll be taken away.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools

In this week's column, I am pleased to share the results of two summer activities conducted by our Department of Special Education.

The first is a tuition-free summer recreation program for trainable retarded children. In its 14th year, the program started at Barnes Elementary School on June 20, and continued through Friday, August 4, under the leadership of Cynthia Kopp and Bernie LeMieux.

A new feature this year was the addition of occupational therapist, Ann Eickhoff.

Throughout the program, physical activities such as calisthenics, swimming, ball

Woods Stars Stay Alive

The Woods Babe Ruth All-Stars remain alive in the double elimination World Series being held in Newark, O., after they beat the Stanford, Conn. team, 1-0, in nine innings on Monday, August 21.

The Woods dropped its opening game of the series to New Orleans, La., 2-1, on Saturday, August 19. They were scheduled to play Moses Lake, Wash., on Tuesday night, August 22, (after press time).

In the New Orleans game, losing pitcher Bill Babcock struck out five and gave up five hits. Winning pitcher Juan McWilliams had a no-hitter going until the seventh, when Mike Seagram doubled for The Woods.

Karl Kurtz picked up the win for The Woods against Stanford as he went the full nine innings, striking out 11 and allowing only three hits. During the game, The Woods stopped four Stanford rallies in different innings.

The Woods currently holds the titles of Michigan State Champs and Ohio Valley Regional Champs. They are the most successful Babe Ruth team in Pointe history.

games, hikes, crafts and picnics were emphasized. On Mondays and Fridays, the students went to The Woods Lake Front Park for swimming and other recreational activities, while on Tuesdays and Thursdays, they stayed at Barnes to conduct community car washes.

In order to facilitate mainstreaming, the students were taken on field trips each Wednesday to such places as Greenfield Village, Tiger Stadium, Metropolitan Beach, the Ren Cen, the Belle Isle Boat Races, McKinley's Airport and Fort Wayne.

One of the most interesting activities was the landing of the Detroit Police helicopter at Barnes, with a demonstration of how helicopters are used in police work.

The second summer program of the department was the Title I Summer School at the Children's Home of Detroit. Our school system uses Title I funds to contract with the staff of Academic Improvement and Development, Inc., to conduct this program for emotionally impaired students.

For six weeks, participants are provided opportunities to maintain and improve their skill levels in the subject areas of reading and math.

Groups of four to five students attend five periods of 45 minutes each and, in addition to their work on academic skills, are offered free-choice educational games as a means of behavior modification reward.

As a result, the children are developing positive relationships with adults and enhancing their feelings of self-esteem. Test scores also have shown that significant academic progress in both the school year and summer programs is made by nearly all participants.

Through these programs, we are striving to meet the needs of special children in our community and consider the programs to be quite successful.

Training Plan Dies in Woods

A request for funds on a 50-50 matching basis via the Intergovernmental Personnel Act, (IPA), toward a training program for city management staff was viewed by the Woods Council at a recent regular meeting.

The solons, after some discussion, decided to receive and place on file the memo exploring the program from City Administrator Chester E. Petersen.

It appeared the overall consensus of the council was that, inasmuch as the city already provides a tuition refund program for employees attending school, that no further action should be taken. Besides this, however, other concerns also surfaced.

In noting the city was in the process of developing a training program for management staff, Mr. Petersen said the objective is to train management personnel to better understand their jobs as well as the jobs of other management personnel.

The program also would help them to work in concert to achieve administration goals and to implement council policy.

It would involve five steps including a needs assessment, i.e., to determine strong points and weak points and to draft a list of recommendations, a commitment phase where management personnel identify their jobs as they perceive them, two training phases and a follow up phase.

Mr. Petersen added he didn't expect the cost of the program to exceed $16,000, i.e., $8,000 in IPA monies and $8,000 in city funds. If the city was successful in obtaining the grant, the program wouldn't be started until before next January.

Saying there was a need to provide some kind of training program for middle level department heads and personnel, Mr. Petersen told the council the city has no training program for the purpose he described.

He said it would be up to the city to obtain instructors with the possible utilization, as planned, of a teacher from either Wayne State or Michigan State to instruct department heads.

While seeing "great value" in such a program, Councilman E. D. Grady also expressed some concern over potential federal government interference in relation to guidelines — a concern also shared by Councilman John Sabol.

For his part, Councilman Robert E. Novitke, also bothered by program guidelines, indicated he wanted more information on the total plan.

With the council's action, Mr. Petersen stated no application will be pursued with the proposed program a dead issue at this time.

With the council's action, Mr. Petersen stated no application will be pursued with the proposed program a dead issue at this time.

Training Plan Dies in Woods

A request for funds on a 50-50 matching basis via the Intergovernmental Personnel Act, (IPA), toward a training program for city management staff was viewed by the Woods Council at a recent regular meeting.

The solons, after some discussion, decided to receive and place on file the memo exploring the program from City Administrator Chester E. Petersen.

It appeared the overall consensus of the council was that, inasmuch as the city already provides a tuition refund program for employees attending school, that no further action should be taken. Besides this, however, other concerns also surfaced.

In noting the city was in the process of developing a training program for management staff, Mr. Petersen said the objective is to train management personnel to better understand their jobs as well as the jobs of other management personnel.

The program also would help them to work in concert to achieve administration goals and to implement council policy.

It would involve five steps including a needs assessment, i.e., to determine strong points and weak points and to draft a list of recommendations, a commitment phase where management personnel identify their jobs as they perceive them, two training phases and a follow up phase.

Mr. Petersen added he didn't expect the cost of the program to exceed $16,000, i.e., $8,000 in IPA monies and $8,000 in city funds. If the city was successful in obtaining the grant, the program wouldn't be started until before next January.

Saying there was a need to provide some kind of training program for middle level department heads and personnel, Mr. Petersen told the council the city has no training program for the purpose he described.

He said it would be up to the city to obtain instructors with the possible utilization, as planned, of a teacher from either Wayne State or Michigan State to instruct department heads.

While seeing "great value" in such a program, Councilman E. D. Grady also expressed some concern over potential federal government interference in relation to guidelines — a concern also shared by Councilman John Sabol.

For his part, Councilman Robert E. Novitke, also bothered by program guidelines, indicated he wanted more information on the total plan.

With the council's action, Mr. Petersen stated no application will be pursued with the proposed program a dead issue at this time.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

This letter is in response to one written by Mr. R.C. Lucas, published August 10. Ostensibly, Mr. Lucas sets out to chastise a councilman for suggesting a putting green be built at Three Mile Park, that would only benefit a "special interest" group of residents.

In fact, Mr. Lucas spends the balance of his letter pushing his own "special interest" plans for the park, the same tiresome "we-need-another-baseball-diamond" chant we residents have heard, and responded to, in the past.

The possibility of a baseball diamond at Three Mile has been considered, and rejected, a number of times in the past, and for good reasons.

First, it is my understanding that the land for the park was originally given to the city for the express purpose of establishing a "quiet, contemplative setting for Park residents who wish to enjoy the scenic beauty of our area" free from the noise and activity of organized recreation.

Moreover, we have ample facilities that are available for Little League, Babe Ruth and other organized baseball activities. Mr. Lucas dismisses these facilities as being the property of the Board of Education and implies that only through the great generosity of that august group, do our youngsters have anywhere at all to play baseball.

I would remind Mr. Lucas that the Board owns that property only in the sense that it holds it in trust for all of us, the taxpayers. It is not "their" land, it is ours!

It was purchased and developed for the education and benefit of our children. What more logical extension of the use of that property could there be, than to permit those same children, whom it was originally intended to benefit, to play baseball on it?

Why should we spend additional tax dollars to duplicate facilities that already exist in our city? We are already spending substantial amounts to maintain a number of baseball diamonds as part of our school system.

There are four diamonds at Defer School, three at Pierce and the potential for three more at Trombly. Surely 10 diamonds in a single city the size of ours is sufficient for even the most ardent baseball fan.

Can't the "special interest" group that enjoys the peace and quiet of the present Three Mile complex have just one facility, for them?

Mr. Lucas says we should be ashamed that our Little League facilities do not match the magnificence of those in Hamtramck. Well, we don't have Hamtramck's Chrysler Plant, Ann Arbor's University or Sandusky's Cedar Point, either. Am I obliged to feel ashamed for all of those omissions, as well?

As for the putting green—I cannot muster wild enthusiasm for the project, either. But I suspect it would cost far less than the development of a baseball stadium similar to Hamtramck's, and I think the "click" of putters might be far less noxious, in the setting of Three Mile.

than the ubiquitous cry of "play ball!"

Perhaps we would all benefit if more of us stopped to consider that not all "change" is necessarily progress; that often, things are the way they are, because that's the way people want them!

Paul D-B Davis, of Lakepointe avenue, Grosse Pointe Park

To the Editor:

This is a sad tale but one which fortunately has a happy ending—but no thanks to a Grosse Pointe Farms police corporal and desk officer on duty the evening of Thursday, August 10.

Since this has been my only contact with Farms police, I'm afraid I'm considerably disappointed with their professionalism and I think the community should know about it.

While on my way home along Lakeshore, I noticed two young black Labrador puppies on the median at Lakeshore and Warner.

Being a dog lover, but who usually doesn't stop for strays I couldn't drive on without stopping to help the two helpless pups. The pups had collars, were well groomed and obviously weren't street runners.

A Grosse Pointe City patrol car came by shortly, but since it was in The Farms all they could do was radio Farms police with the report. The response received back startled even City police — "Let them go — they'll find their way home." Right — two month-old pups on the median of Lakeshore road.

After checking several houses in the area and talking with people out walking, we were no closer to finding their home or a resolution. But we knew the resolution was not to leave the pups to their own means.

We thought we'd give Farms police a chance to redeem themselves and went to the station seeking assistance. We shouldn't have wasted our time.

One desk officer, not the one on the radio, tried to be helpful and gave us some leads. But the corporal who entered the picture certainly wasn't the public safety officer I'd want in my city.

Comments like, "We don't have time to waste on things like that," and "Take 'em back where you found them and dump them," said with obvious disdain, were too incredulous to believe.

I can accept the fact that The Farms may not have a dog warden, and that the police certainly do have more important things to do. But the attitude and manner in which these facts were explained to me certainly left me with a very low opinion of at least two representatives of The Farms.

Some may think I'm making a big deal of this—and I am!

It is my opinion that the police are a reflection of the community, and I think it extremely important that they handle themselves appropriately, whether it be a big deal or not.

I'm happy to say that the public safety officers in my community, Grosse Pointe Woods, in my limited experience, present a far better professionalism than their neighbors.

Jeff Broderick, Of Huntington road, Grosse Pointe Woods

P.S. By the way, we later found their owners. "Tail" ended—at least for the pups.

Woods-Shores Stopped, 10-0 The Woods-Shores Nationals successful season came to an end on Thursday, August 17, when the Ashtabula, O., team socked three homers in blanking the Pointers, 10-0, on a no-hitter. Woods-Shores was one of four teams competing in the Central Region Little League playoffs held in Taylor, Mich., last week. Other teams were from Palatine, Ill. and East Tonka, Minn. Although the tournament was single elimination, the Woods-Shores played a consolation game on Saturday, August 19, and were beaten by the Minnesota team, 2-1. In that game, pitcher John Menzo struck out 16 and allowed only two hits, but one was a homer. Dave Waldeck got two hits, while Mike Hall, Menzo, Tim Sheridan and Mike Walowiak each had one. The winner of the tournament, Palatine, advanced to the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa. Play there began this week. The Woods Nationals captured the state title on Saturday, August 12, with a 3-1 win over Petoskey.

This summer certainly has not been a lazy one for Edye Longyear, of Balfour road, Diane Schoenith, of Lakeland avenue, and Penny Simon, of Vendome road, who, between raft trips down the Colorado River, entertaining summer guests and an occasional golf game have been in the midst of organizing the Project HOPE/Saks Fifth Avenue charity benefit.

It's set for Thursday, September 7, at the Fisher Theatre. Major attraction will be a personal appearance by Oscar de la Renta and a presentation of his fall-winter '78 collection.

Deborah Spitzley, fashion director for the Saks Fifth Avenue Detroit store, and a Pointer, is also assisting in coordinating the event.

Project HOPE, (Health Opportunity for People Everywhere), is the principal activity of the People-to-People Health Foundation, Inc., an independent, non-profit corporation.

Its Number One objective is to teach modern techniques of medical science in the world's developing areas.

This year, 1978, is a Very Special Year for the HOPE organization, as it marks HOPE's 20th anniversary of service as one of America's top "ambassadors" abroad.

The benefit begins at 11:30 in the morning, with wine and an array of culinary delectables. (Continued on Page 21)

One Hundred and Seventy Artists and Craftsmen to Exhibit on Grounds of Grosse Pointe War Memorial

The Grosse Pointe Artists Association's biggest and most colorful annual event, the Fall Art Festival, will be presented Saturday, September 9, on the grounds of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

This 19th annual exhibit will feature the work of 170 artists and craftsmen from the metropolitan area, outstate Michigan and other states.

Included will be oil paintings, drawings and watercolors, serigraphs, pen-and-inks and batiks in a wide range of subject matter, plus sculpture, terra cotta and bronze.

There also will be original designs in jewelry, plus wood-carvings, leathercrafts, pottery, stoneware and quilts.

Every year, "new" crafts are added to the festival. Scratchboard, scrimshaw and tinsmith work will be there this year. Joseph A. Boucher, of Merit Island, Fla., will display his beautiful, 20th century botanical and contemporary art works.

Barbara Matheson, of East Lansing, a talented 14-year-old who has already had her own one-man show, will be doing on-the-spot portraits.

Additional demonstrations

18. Maternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. RAYMOND R. DEGRAENE, of East Doyle place. Paternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. RAYMOND W. MAKS, of Rockford, Ill. At home are HEIDI NOEL, three-and-a-half, and ERICK, two.

will be given by other exhibitors: potters and weavers, glass blowers and workers in leaded glass, wood carvers, sculptors, et al.

Proceeds from the exhibitors' entry fees and prize tickets will be donated to the War Memorial's new Art Wing. Prizes will be original works of art.

Light lunches will be available. Bells will peal from the Memorial Church carillon, delighting artists and browsers/shoppers, for whom the festival is free: there is no admission charge.

A shuttle parking service has been arranged at Grosse Pointe South High School for the exhibitors, increasing the amount of guest parking available at the War Memorial.

Parking also will be available on the south side of Lakeshore road and in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church lot.

The festival will run from 10 in the morning until 5 in the afternoon. Corinne Doglega is again serving as general chairman.

Co-chairmen are Lee McKinley and Elizabeth Jefferis. Other committee chairmen include Julia Ford, Marge Caulkins, Evelyn Snyder, Clara Peters, Carolyn Siefert, Chloe Boehm, Molly Flinterman and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stelma.

Lola Rose Mazza Wed in Late July

She Selects Victorian Theme for Rites at Which She Becomes Bride of William Russell McIntyre, Jr.

Lola Rose Mazza and William Russell McIntyre, Jr., exchanged marriage vows Saturday, July 29, at a 1 o'clock ceremony in Saint Joan of Arc Church which was followed by a reception at the Gourmet House.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mazza, of Maison road, and the late Isabell Mazza, is a graduate of Hope College, with a Bachelor of Music degree. She teaches piano, and plans to continue private instruction in addition to performing and substitute teaching music in grades K-12 in the public schools.

The bridegroom, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Russell McIntyre, of Holland, Mich., holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Physics from Hope College. He is a quality control technician, with a strong interest in computers and microprocessors, employed by the Simicon Division of Robert Shaw Controls of Holland.

The newlyweds vacationed at Lake Geneva, Wis., and are at home on their country acreage in Holland.

In keeping with the Victorian wedding theme, the bride chose a gown of ivory chiffon styled with a chapel length train and a Queen Anne neckline and bodice trimmed in Venice lace.

Matching lace circled the wrists of her sheer, fitted, chiffon sleeves. Her chiffon veil was long and fell from a lace-trimmed cap. She carried a bouquet of ivory and white silk roses accented with baby's-breath and cascades of pearls.

She was attended by a cousin, Donna Forsythe, of Dyer, Ind., as honor maid, hostess Lianne Clover, of Los Angeles, Calif., and bridesmaids Mrs. Michael Mazza, of Mount Clemens, Jane McIntyre, sister of the bridegroom, Martha McIntyre, another sister, Joann Pandori and Deborah Iwanow.

Members of the wedding party wore chiffon frocks in soft pink and soft lilac, with flounced hems and neckline-to-elbow illusion overlays, and riding hats with netting, and carried pink, orchid and ivory silk flower nosegays and linen handkerchiefs trimmed with braided, Victorian lace.

Best man was James D. Riggs, of Holland. In the usher corps were Gregory Caskey, of Madison, Wis., Tom Gwilliam and Richard

Mr. McIntyre, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Russell McIntyre, of Holland, Mich., claimed LOLA ROSE MAZZA, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mazza, of Maison road, and the late Isabell Mazza, as his bride Saturday, July 29, in Saint Joan of Arc Church.

Hoeksema, of Holland, Rodney Luhn, of South Bend, Ind., and Michael Mazza, the bride's brother.

chose a formal length, powder blue gown and a corsage of powder blue silk roses, baby's-breath and greens.

Fall Wedding Date Is Made

Making plans for a mid-October wedding are Karen Elaine Costakis and Joseph A. Nemesi whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Costakis, of Fair court.

The bride-elect received her Bachelor of Arts degree this March from Michigan State University's College of Business.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Nemesi, of Grand Blanc, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from MSU's College of Business in August, 1977.

Stepping-Stone College Offered

The University of Michigan program Academic Interlude is now accepting registrations for the fall, 1978, term.

Interlude is the successful seminar college which offers a woman who has been out of school a number of years the opportunity to go back to school without the usual hassle of large classes, transcripts, grades, exams and impersonal treatment.

The small classes are taught by university faculty at the Rackham Building, Detroit, on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10 to 2 o'clock.

Courses are offered in Architecture, Mathematics, Theology, Sociology, Literature, Art History, Video Taping, Writing, Biology, Aging and Botany. There is also a seminar in Career Development.

Successful graduates of the program, including several Pointers, have gone on to complete degrees, to graduate school or into business. Four are now involved in university teaching.

Academic Interlude is designed to be a "stepping-stone school" for women at a "decision making age" who want to change their lives but aren't sure what they want to do.

Tuition is $528 for the eight-month course. Enrollment is limited. Registration information may be obtained by calling 832-7400.

Pointers to Exhibit At Algonac Art Fair

A trio of Pointers, Sonja Preuthun, Elena Ackerman and Bette Prudden, will be among exhibitors at the sixth annual Algonac Art Fair, set for Saturday and Sunday, September 2 and 3, from 11 in the morning to 7 in the evening both days "on the river" at Algonac.

Bette will be bringing her pastel portraits back to Algonac for the sixth straight year. Sonja features silver and enamel jewelry. Elena does oil paintings, watercolors and acrylics.

Young Drivers Take to Roads

Expect 100,000 fledgling drivers on Michigan streets, roads and highways this fall, says Dr. Robert Nolan, new director of Michigan State University's Highway Traffic Safety Center.

"These are Michigan boys and girls who took driver education in this year's public school summer sessions. They have had only 30 hours of classroom study, plus six hours of behind-the-wheel training and a few hours of family-supervised practice.

"They are off to a good start, but they have only 'entry level' skills, and they need all the help they can get," Dr. Nolan advises parents and other drivers.

He urges parents to help their fledgling drivers. "Let them drive you to the shopping center, the market, the downtown area," he recommends.

"Expose them gradually to heavy-traffic, multiple-lane driving. Devote some time to rural driving . . . different crowns and curves, view obstructions, possible farm vehicles.

"Take them out driving in the evening and at night. Chances are their training included no real night driving.

"Let your sons or daughters share the highway driving on your fall vacation trip. And then, when winter comes and it first begins to freeze, see them through their first hours on icy roads and streets."

Dr. Nolan, who has taught driver education and driver educators for more than a quarter of a century, suggests that parents and youngsters set some mutually agreed upon guidelines for use of the car: time limits, how many passengers, how far and where. He suggests they also talk over insurance.

"Driving is a responsible job and the youngster who has some responsibility in setting the rules is likely to feel more responsibility for observing them," he counsels.

He also believes that parents have the right to inquire about the car in which their child is to ride. "The automobile carries a most precious cargo," he says.

Lace Accents White Organza Gown and Picture Hat She Selects For Early June Rites in Olivet Congregational Church

At home in East Lansing while he completes his studies at Michigan State University's College of Engineering are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roland Keever, who vacationed in the state of Washington following their early summer wedding.

Mrs. Keever is the former Dana Marie Putney, daughter of Mrs. Kenneth Putney, of Olivet, and the late Mr. Putney.

Mr. Keever is the son of Mrs. David Keever, of Washington road, and the late Mr. Keever.

The 2 o'clock rites Saturday, June 3, in Olivet Congregational Church, The Reverend Robert Doner presiding, were followed by a reception at Olivet Middle School.

A white organza gown, full-skirted and featuring a ruffled, cathedral train, was the former Miss Putney's choice for the early afternoon rites.

Lace accented her bodice, her long, full sleeves and ruffled collar, and matching lace appliques trimmed her picture hat. She carried a Colonial bouquet of daisies and rosebuds, with baby's-breath.

In peach Qiana frocks with print chiffon capes were Linda Putney, honor maid for her sister, and bridesmaids Peggy Kueppers and Mrs. Joseph Barkley, of Lansing. Susan Keever, the bridegroom's sister, and Lisa West, the bridegroom's niece.

Each wore a picture hat and carried a single rose, with baby's-breath.

James Rumora was best man. Guests were seated by Michael Martin, of Grand Rapids, Richard Jobe, of Lansing, Joseph Hoffdahl, of Olivet, nephew of the bride, and Kevin Sadowsky, also of Olivet, the bride's cousin.

Kelly Sadowsky was flower girl for her cousin. Benjamin Graves, of Olivet, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride wore a street length, three-piece blue knit, the bridegroom's mother a street length, two-piece flowered knit. Each mother wore a rosebud and carnation corsage.

The fashion is Europe. The feeling is Jaeger.

Nothing can compare to the Jaeger feeling. It's more than European styling. More than international chic. It is the special Jaeger touch that puts our fashions in a class by themselves.

The spirit of that Jaeger feeling is illustrated here in our coordinated check skirt and rounded collar blouse.

The merino cardigan over blouse - sashed with a corded belt, is beautifully complemented by our expertly detailed velvet jacket.

Even the matching velvet hat is Jaeger's own - and works to pull together a total fashion look with the Jaeger touch of sophisticated style.

A feeling only Jaeger can create.

Rites in Mid-July for Miss Beaufait

Reception at Hillcrest Country Club Follows Late Morning Ceremony at Which She Is Wed to Robert Gerard Farrer

At home in Beaconsfield avenue are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gerard Farrer, who exchanged marriage vows Saturday, July 22, in Saint Clare de Montefalco Church.

The bride is the former Luann Marie Beaufait, of Cadieux road, daughter of the Leonard Beaufaits, formerly of Cadieux road, now of Evart, Mich. The bridegroom is the son of the Richard Farrers, of Richland.

Father Edward J. Sweeney, who officiated at the wedding of the bride's parents 28 years ago, presided at the 11 o'clock ceremony.

The late morning rites were followed by a reception at Hillcrest Country Club, after which the newlyweds left to vacation on the East Coast. Belgian lace covered the Daisy mums, white carnations, pink rosebuds, baby blue starflowers and baby's breath formed their bouquets.

Thomas Farrer was his brother's best man. Ushering were Gregory Farrer, another brother, and Michael Brennan, of Troy.

Two other brothers, Richard Farrer, of Grand Rapids, and Frederick Farrer, of Kalamazoo, and Julia Smith, of Phoenix, Ariz., the bride's former Aquinas College roommate, participated in the church ceremony, giving scripture readings.

The Reverend Harry Farrer, of Butler, Ind., gave the dinner invocation.

The mother of the bride wore a scoop-necked, pink and lavender-on-white-sheer flowered print, styled with long, full sleeves. The bridegroom's mother selected an accordion-pleated gown of azalea pink polyester, with an elbow length, accordion-pleated cape of matching chiffon.

Both mothers pinned corsages of white Japhet orchids and azalea ribbon to their purses.

While in Grosse Pointe for the wedding, the bride's parents and the wedding party stayed at the Devonshire road home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carrier.

Rudick-Mullan Rites Are Read

Lochmoor Club's patio was the setting Saturday, June 3, for the wedding of Marti Lou Mullan and Gregg Robert Rudick, who are at home in Sterling Heights following a two-week camping trip to Bar Harbor, Me., Cape Cod and the New Jersey shore.

Marti is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William L. Mullan, of Sunningdale drive, who accompanied her to meet her bridegroom, son of Mrs. Harold O'Neill, of Anita avenue, and Robert Rudick, of Mount Clemens, as singer-guitarists Scott Nixon and Scott O'Berski sang and played "Sunrise, Sunset."

The ceremony was conducted by Rabbi Sherwin Wine, of Birmingham. Attendants were Wendy Mullan, sister of the bride, and Lyle Edwards, a close friend of both the bride and bridegroom.

A buffet luncheon at Lochmoor followed the wedding.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. MacFarland, of Somers Point, N.J., and Mr. and Mrs. William Mullan, of Horsham, Pa., and the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rudick, of West Palm Beach, Fla., his sister, Marla Rudick, of East Lansing, and step-sister, Marla Loree, who came from Florida.

The bride is presently employed as a nurse assistant at Saint John Hospital, and is a student at Macomb County Community College. The bridegroom works for the American Red Cross in Detroit.

Taking part in Wayne State University Law School's 50th anniversary was Pointer ARTHUR NEEF, Law Dean Emeritus and former WSU provost.

Exhibit Focus On Eyeglasses

A fascinating collection of historic eyeglasses and spectacles is on exhibit at the Detroit Historical Museum. Numbering about 75, they represent only a small part of a larger collection owned by Mitchell Cohen, of Detroit, who has been collecting eyeglasses for over 20 years.

The history of eyeglasses dates from the early centuries of modern times, but it was not until the development of printing in the 15th century that they became a popular necessity.

Colonial Americans wore glasses, most of them imported from England. It was Benjamin Franklin however who made the first truly American contribution to the eyeglass: the bifocal.

Holding glasses in place has always been a problem, especially after hand-held lenses became unpopular. Strings, bands and bows were all used at various times.

One interesting development in this evolution was the "pince-nez—which literally pinched the nose. Their popularity waned in the 1930's when fashion frames became popular as manufacturers began to experiment with different materials and colors.

Today, eyeglasses have become part of the fashion industry. They have come a long way from the Middle Ages when they were considered an interference with God's natural order.

Exhibit pieces range from 18th century lornettes, (single lens hand-held type), to the early fashion frames of 30 years ago. Included also are bifocals and pince-nez.

"Eyeglasses and Spectacles" will be at the Detroit Historical Museum until Sunday, September 24. Museum hours are 9:30 to 5 o'clock Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 1 to 9 Wednesday and 1 to 5 Sunday.

Community Music School Receives Grant

The Detroit Community Music School has been awarded a $78,300 grant from the Kresge Foundation of Troy for major renovation of its Kirby street building.

This funding facilitates the first steps in a wide-scale development plan for the rapidly growing inner city institution, located in the heart of the University Cultural Center area, oldest school of its kind in the metropolitan area.

Opened in 1926 as a part of the Tau Beta Settlement House in Hamtramck, the school currently provides quality musical instruction to over 1,000 Detroit citizens of all ages.

The Kresge grant will enable the school to make essential repairs on its 23-year-old building which incorporates a 75-year-old structure, once the home of the Detroit Institute of Musical Arts.

In addition to repairs plans call for redesigning several classroom spaces and, in particular, creating a library-learning center to house the extensive collection of music manuscripts and memorabilia collected over the last 52 years.

Speaking on behalf of the school, Sharon DeHaven, of LaSalle place, development director, said, "The Detroit Community Music School is gratified by the Kresge Foundation's confidence in our future. It is our understanding that the foundation made 203 such grants this year after considering 1,229 qualified applications."

The Kresge Foundation was created in 1924 solely by the personal gifts of the late Sebastian S. Kresge. It is not affiliated with any other organization or corporation.

The clubhouse of Meadowbrook Estate was the setting for the wedding of Myrna Lynn Asch and Walter Allen Maddox, who exchanged vows Monday, July 10, at noon, on the exact day and place of their meeting two years earlier.

The former Miss Asch, who has been making her home in Devonshire road, Detroit, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Asch, of Midland.

The bridal gown of flowing ivory chiffon was styled with a re-embroidered Alencon lace yoke, and long, slim sleeves. The chapel length veil fell from a cap of small, ivory chiffon roses.

White roses and stephanotis formed the bridal bouquet.

Jean Robinson, of Ann Arbor, in an Empire gown of topaz matte jersey, carrying yellow roses and daisies, attended the bride.

Mistresses of ceremonies were Ellen Shertzer, of College Station, Tex., the bride's sister, and Myra Moeller.

Wesley Jacobs was best man for Mr. Maddox, who has been making his home in Fleetwood drive where the newlyweds are residing after a bicycle trip in Vermont and a vacation in New Hampshire's White Mountains.

The mother of the bride wore a formal length dress and jacket in a melon shade. Her flowers were two cymbidium orchids.

The 32 guests were treated to a private concert by Detroit Symphony members Joseph Goldman, violin, LeAnn Toth, violin, Hart Hollman, viola, and Debra Fayroian, cello, in a string quartet.

Officiating clergyman was Fred Campbell, of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church. A trumpet fanfare played by William Beger followed Mr. Campbell's pronouncement of the couple as man and wife. A dinner reception at the Meadowbrook clubhouse followed the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Maddox holds a Bachelor of Music degree from Oberlin College, a Master of Music degree from the University of Michigan and a Master of Arts degree in English from Michigan State University.

She is presently a teacher in the Detroit Public Schools. Mr. Maddox has both graduate and post-graduate diplomas from the Juilliard School of Music, New York City. He is a violinist in the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

To Tour Four Historic Detroit Churches

A special evening tour of Detroit's historic churches will be offered this evening, Thursday, August 24. The sponsors of this tour, as well as the series of monthly tours throughout the year, are the Detroit Historical Society, the Detroit Historical Museum and the National Society of the Colonial Dames of America in the State of Michigan.

This evening's tour will cover four churches. First stop is Fort Street Presbyterian with its majestic, 265-foot spire still dominating the western fringes of downtown.

Following will be First Presbyterian at Woodward and Edmund place. Romanesque Revival in style, this building of rock-faced red sandstone was built in 1889. The third church is Trinity Lutheran, Gratiot avenue near the Strohs Brewery, characterized by beautiful stained glass windows. It is considered a modern adaptation of 16th Century English Gothic church architecture.

The last church is St. Mary's, Victorian Gothic with a basilica-type interior, it dominates the city's lively Greektown area.

The tour leaves the Detroit

Historical Museum at 5:30 o'clock and returns at approximately 10 o'clock. Transportation is via the museum's Historymobile. The $8 per person fee includes a dinner served at one of the churches.

More information regarding this tour and the tour program in general may be obtained by calling the Detroit Historical Society, 833-7934.

DSO Creates New Orchestra

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, with the support of major funding from the J. L. Hudson Company, is undertaking a major reorganization of its training program for young, pre-professional musicians.

Based in part on the Youth Orchestra which the DSO established in 1970, the expanded and updated program will revitalize the training orchestra, providing it with a new name and new musical and administrative leadership.

It will also establish an inner city string program offered in collaboration with the Detroit Community Music School, as well as a new Monday evening concert series.

Mrs. Stephen M. Shier

Setting for the candlelight rites at which DIANE MARIE MOODY, daughter of Michigan Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Blair Moody, Jr., of Willow Tree place, spoke her marriage vows to Mr. Shier, son of the William G. Shiers, of Roslyn road, Saturday, July 15, was Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Miss Moody Wed to Stephen Shier

They Are at Home in Mount Clemens after Hawaiian Vacation; Mid-July Rites Are Followed by Reception at Lochmoor Club

Dr. Ray Kiely presided at the candlelight ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church at which Diane Marie Moody became the bride of Stephen Martin Shier. The 6 o'clock ceremony Saturday, July 15, was followed by a reception at Lochmoor Club.

The bride is the daughter of Michigan Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Blair Moody, Jr., of Willow Tree place.

Her late grandfather, The Honorable Blair Moody, was a United States Senator from Michigan and a nationally-known commentator and correspondent for The Detroit News.

Her late grandmother, Mary Moody Dumont, was a well-known sculptress.

For her marriage, the former Miss Moody selected a gown of French organza and appliqued Alencon lace. Her full skirt and cathedral length train were bordered with an organza ruffle overlaid with the scalloped lace.

Her Empire bodice featured cap sleeves and a V-

neckline outlined in pearls on the floral design lace.

A Juliet cap of matching, beaded lace held her lace-bordered, fingertip length, triple-tiered illusion veil. She carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids with white Sweetheart roses, stephanotis and baby's-breath.

Susan Beth Moody, honor maid for her sister, carried a white wicker basket filled with melon-colored Sweetheart roses, yellow and white daisies and blue statice.

Bridesmaids, their baskets filled with yellow and white daisies, blue statice and baby's-breath, were Patricia Wooliam, of Kalamazoo, the bride's cousin, and three sorority sisters: Gale Sokol, of Redford, Linda Hardy, of Flint, and Linda Ziemer, of West Bloomfield.

Their yellow silk organza dresses featured off-the-shoulder, ruffled collars edged in Duchesse lace and straight skirts, falling from Empire waists, bordered with deep, lace-edged ruffles.

Each wore a single, yellow rose and baby's-breath in her hair.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Shier, of Roslyn road, asked William J. Quinn to act as best man.

Guests were seated by Dean and Lee Shier, the bridegroom's brothers, Blair Moody, III, Brian and Peter Moody, the bride's brothers, and Dave Greene, of Traverse City.

Mrs. Moody selected a long, chiffon gown floral printed in soft shades of blue, lavender and aqua. Blue statice accented her wrist corsage of white Sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

The bridegroom's mother chose a formal length, navy and white dress and a corsage of phalaenopsis orchids

named the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. The new administrator will be Raymond Turner, DSO principal trombone.

Mr. Turner, who was administrator of the former Detroit Symphony Youth Orchestra from 1972 to 1976, will work closely with two conductors newly appointed to the DSO conducting staff in reorganizing and redirecting the Civic Orchestra.

The Civic Orchestra's primary conductor will be Kenneth Jean, named DSO assistant conductor earlier this summer. He will be assisted by Martin Fischer-Dieskau, the DSO's new conductor fellow for 1978-79, as well as Mr. Turner.

The new funding for the program comes as a $45,000 grant awarded by the J. L. Hudson Company for underwriting support over a period of three years. "The DSO is greatly indebted to Hudson's for their continued interest in and support of our activities," says DSO assistant manager Bruce Carr.

"We particularly appreciate this expression of their faith in the future of Detroit's young musicians."

The reorganization has been undertaken with the needs and already existent resources of metropolitan Detroit in mind.

"Many suburban areas have established their own youth orchestra programs since 1970," notes Carr, "and these provide a fine introduction to orchestral playing. But the experience of performing major repertory with major conductors under the tutelage of actual performing members of a national symphony orchestra is perhaps the only way that otherwise sufficiently prepared young musicians can be exposed to the professionalism necessary to complete their training."

Membership in the Detroit Symphony Civic Orchestra will be dependent strictly upon ability, with no age restrictions. Candidates must win their position by audition and, (for those of post-college age), must be actively pursuing a career in symphonic performance.

High school and even junior high school musicians who qualify will be eligible for full membership in the Civic Orchestra.

Preliminary auditions for the Detroit Symphony Civic Orchestra will be held at Ford Auditorium Sunday, August 27, Thursday, August 31, Friday, September 1, Tuesday, September 5, and Wednesday, September 6.

"ALOHA"

"Aloha." It's the Hawaiian greeting of friendship and welcome. And you'll hear it often on these romantic islands. You'll hear it on the beautiful sandy beaches that stretch for miles along an azure surf. In the mountains that reach toward the heavens. You'll sense it in the blueness of crystal Hawaiian skies. And you'll feel it in the caresses of the warm Hawaiian sun. Start your vacation by playing golf, tennis, water skiing, sightseeing or just lying in the sun. Go back-packing, horseback riding, surfing, scuba diving. Soon you'll find yourself in perfect step with the leisurely and relaxing Hawaiian way of life.

Hawaiian travel programs leave almost every day for one to three weeks, stay in luxurious hotels to condominiums and you may visit one or all of the islands as you choose. Also, stop over in California or Las Vegas to complete your memorable vacation.

DSO Creates New Orchestra

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, with the support of major funding from the J. L. Hudson Company, is undertaking a major reorganization of its training program for young, pre-professional musicians.

Based in part on the Youth Orchestra which the DSO established in 1970, the expanded and updated program will revitalize the training orchestra, providing it with a new name and new musical and administrative leadership.

It will also establish an inner city string program offered in collaboration with the Detroit Community Music School, as well as a new Monday evening concert series.

The orchestra will be re-

Mrs. Stephen M. Shier

Setting for the candlelight rites at which DIANE MARIE MOODY, daughter of Michigan Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Blair Moody, Jr., of Willow Tree place, spoke her marriage vows to Mr. Shier, son of the William G. Shiers, of Roslyn road, Saturday, July 15, was Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Miss Moody Wed to Stephen Shier

They Are at Home in Mount Clemens after Hawaiian Vacation; Mid-July Rites Are Followed by Reception at Lochmoor Club

Dr. Ray Kiely presided at the candlelight ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church at which Diane Marie Moody became the bride of Stephen Martin Shier. The 6 o'clock ceremony Saturday, July 15, was followed by a reception at Lochmoor Club.

The bride is the daughter of Michigan Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Blair Moody, Jr., of Willow Tree place.

Her late grandfather, The Honorable Blair Moody was a United States Senator from Michigan and a nationally-known commentator and correspondent for The Detroit News.

Her late grandmother, Mary Moody Dumont, was a well-known sculptress.

For her marriage, the former Miss Moody selected a gown of French organza and appliqued Alencon lace. Her full skirt and cathedral length train were bordered with an organza ruffle overlaid with the scalloped lace.

Her Empire bodice featured cap sleeves and a V-

neckline outlined in pearls on the floral design lace.

A Juliet cap of matching, beaded lace held her lace-bordered, fingertip length, triple-tiered illusion veil. She carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids with white Sweetheart roses, stephanotis and baby's-breath.

Susan Beth Moody, honor maid for her sister, carried a white wicker basket filled with melon-colored Sweetheart roses, yellow and white daisies and blue statice.

Bridesmaids, their baskets filled with yellow and white daisies, blue statice and baby's-breath, were Patricia Woollam, of Kalamazoo, the bride's cousin, and three sorority sisters: Gale Sokol, of Redford, Linda Hardy, of Flint, and Linda Ziemer, of West Bloomfield.

Their yellow silk organza dresses featured off-the-shoulder, ruffled collars edged in Duchesse lace and straight skirts, falling from Empire waists, bordered with deep, lace-edged ruffles.

Each wore a single, yellow rose and baby's-breath in her hair.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Shier, of Roslyn road, asked William J. Quinn to act as best man.

Guests were seated by Dean and Lee Shier, the bridegroom's brothers, Blair Moody, III, Brian and Peter Moody, the bride's brothers, and Dave Greene, of Traverse City.

Mrs. Moody selected a long, chiffon gown floral printed in soft shades of blue, lavender and aqua. Blue statice accented her wrist corsage of white Sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

The bridegroom's mother chose a formal length, navy and white dress and a corsage of phalaenopsis orchids.

FIRST OFFERING SHORT AND SWEET

This is the house, the beautiful street, the right price — the one in a million that filters on the market. It's a 4 bedroom with one and two half baths, plus a sun room. Seller has commissioned us to move fast on the sale. Can you hurry along if we tell you it's in the very low 60's?

ST. CLAIR ON THE LAKE

Luxury Condo Townhouse, a short stroll from lakeside — it's a two bedroom, recently built complex. There's lots of extras with this excellent investment. Outside there's a secluded redwood deck area and a garage, all beautifully landscaped. The price has been trimmed to sell.

GROSSE POINTE SHORES

One of the most striking homes in the peace and quiet of this superior section of the Pointes. The owners are prepared to accept offers for the 10 bedroom, 5 1/2 bath splendor of this fine residence. View the interior by making an appointment with us now, and discover the opportunity of a lifetime.

COLONIAL OF QUALITY

Truly a well-planned home of class with four bedrooms, two and a half baths. The location is lovely and there are many nice features, including two fireplaces. Call us now for appointment — the price is in the early 100's.

COUNTRY CHARM

The beauty of this home on Washington is so outstanding — it would be so difficult to recreate. The owners of this lovely 4 bedroom 3 1/2 bath house are meticulous to a degree, and someone is going to be so fortunate to inherit such love and care. There are lots of good points which have to be seen. Make your date now and do not wait.

GROSSE POINTE SHORES

Enter this majestic Colonial on Roslyn Road and be instantly impressed. This is a big comfortable 4 1/2 bedroom with family room. There's two and two half baths on two floors, plus a separate apartment set-up on the third floor — could be the one for you!!

GROSSE POINTE WOODS

Here is a charmer, once more kept like a new pin by careful owners — we always like to give them credit. It's a 2 bedroom semi-ranch with an unfinished 2 bedroom/bath situation on the upstairs section. The Cul-de-Sac location is most desirable plus it has quick occupancy. Hurry on this nice house.

WARRANTY

Would you buy a home if the owners gave you a one year guarantee on all support systems — or would you risk buying without it? Most of our offerings have it built into the price, so think it over.

INCOME PROPERTY

A 4/3 rental situation with two car garage. This presents a nice investment, and the new buyer will be happy with the way it shows. The sellers have taken great care of the property, therefore the income is excellent. There's central air as a bonus.

Classes Slated For Diabetics

Cottage Hospital, 159 Kercheval avenue, will offer free classes for diabetics this fall.

Hospital dietitians will conduct the classes on Thursdays, September 7, October 5 and November 2 from 7 to 9 p.m. in Board Room "B."

Reservations should be made by calling 884-8600, extension 2651.

The classes are open to anyone who has diabetes or must prepare meals for a diabetic. Family members are encouraged to attend. Participants should bring a copy of the diet prescribed by their physician.

"We teach diabetics how to adjust their diet, to learn how to order from a restaurant menu and how to read the labels of prepared foods," said James W. Southway, director of food services at the hospital.

This is the fourth year Cottage has offered the free classes.

5 Pointes to Share in $220,684 Highway Fund

The State Highway Commission report, dated Thursday, August 10, showed that for the 1978 second quarter distribution of the state gas tax, the five Pointes stand to receive a total of $220,684, as compared to $217,075 received for the same period in 1977.

The commission disclosed that revenue from the gas tax edged up a mere 1.8 percent in the second quarter of this year in comparison with the same three months last year.

Diesel fuel taxes were up 12.9 percent for the April-June period, but license fees based on vehicle weight declined by 1.1 percent, producing a 1.5 percent increase in the chief revenue sources for the State Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

"This compares with five to six percent increase in gas and weight taxes that was the norm only a few years ago," said Commission Chairman Peter B. Fletcher of Ypsilanti.

"Lighter automobiles and more efficient engines have combined to level off the revenue earmarked for Michigan's transportation program."

The nine-cent-a-gallon gas tax yielded $103,084,832 in the April-June quarter, an increase of $1,867,061 over the second quarter of 1977. Revenue from the seven-cent-a-gallon diesel fuel tax totaled $6,404,958, up by $732,144.

Interest earned by the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund climbed $542,506 to $1,888,159. Including other miscellaneous revenue, gross receipts amounted to $149,328,075, up by $3,646,452, or 2.5 percent.

Proceeds are being distributed to the State, counties and municipalities after deductions of $14,758,615 in grants and collection costs. They include $5,617,111 to the General Transportation Fund for public transportation purposes; $1,279,012 to the State Waterways Fund; $1,857,480 to the State Trunkline Fund and $6,005,011 for collection costs.

Under the formula set by the State Highway Commission, The Woods will receive $79,030 as its share of the 1978 second quarter collected revenue; The Park, $56,841; The Farms, $46,332; The City, $25,650; and The Shores, $12,831.

By comparison for the same period in 1977, The Woods received, $77,645; The Park, $55,847; The Farms, $45,765; The City, $25,207; and The Shores, $12,611.

Net proceeds totaling $134,569,460, (up by 2.6 percent), leave $59,592,925 for the Department of State Highways and Transportation as its 44.5 percent share; $48,227,141 for the 83 county road commissions as their 35.7 portion and $26,749,394, or 19.8 percent to the more than 500 municipalities throughout the State of Michigan.

Michigan Bell Has New Idea

Michigan Bell last week proposed a new method of paying for Directory Assistance that would save telephone customers $15 million a year.

Donald M. Lambe, Michigan Bell assistant vice-president, said in a news release nine out of 10 customers would benefit — with most saving 53 cents a month, or $6.36 a year, that would be shown as credits on their bills.

The plan, filed with the Michigan Public Service Commission for approval, would replace the present system of spreading Directory Assistance costs among all customers whether they use the service a lot, a little or not at all.

"Its purpose," Mr. Lambe said, "is not to increase Michigan Bell profits but to reduce and redistribute the costs of Directory Assistance so that all customers save money except the relatively few who make heavy use of the service."

Mr. Lambe explained that Michigan Bell proposed the change only after an extensive statewide effort to listen to and learn what consumers think should be done about a major problem—the rising costs of Directory Assistance.

Last year, he said, Directory Assistance operator costs alone amounted to $28 million and under the present system are expected to about double to $55 million annually by 1982.

"Our customers told us in overwhelming numbers they feel the fair thing to do is shift away from the present system where the big user and the non-user share equally in paying these costs," he said.

The proposed plan would provide savings for customers who make 10 or fewer Directory Assistance calls a month — with a 20-cent charge for each call over 10.

Customers who make no more than five Directory Assistance calls a month would receive the maximum savings of 53 cents.

Those who make six calls would save 43 cents, seven calls would yield a 33-cent savings—and so on up to 10 calls a month which would be the near "break-even" point. A customer who made 10 calls a month still would save three cents.

Persons with handicaps who have trouble using telephone directories would be exempt from the proposed charges. Nor would there be a charge for Directory Assistance calls from coin telephones.

The plan proposed last week was preferred by most customers in a statewide survey conducted earlier this year for Michigan Bell by Market Opinion Research, Inc. (MOR).

By a margin of 6-1, customers surveyed by MOR said they favored a Directory Assistance charging plan based on usage as opposed to the present method of spreading costs of the service.

Strong support for a charging plan also was voiced during a series of 45 public forums and 160 other meetings around the state where Michigan Bell sought the opinion of consumers on the Directory Assistance issue.

More than 5,400 customers attended the statewide sessions and nearly 2,400 others wrote or called the company to offer comments.

"We committed ourselves to filing a charging plan only if the concept received solid support both in the survey and at the public forums," Mr. Lambe said.

"Customers have shown they understand that, contrary to popular myth, Directory Assistance is not a 'free' service," he said. "Their sentiment is clear—they want people who use Directory Assistance to pay for it, not those who don't."

Twenty-two states already have Directory Assistance charging plans, he added.

Summer Burns Serious Hazards for Children

Lisa, two-and-a-half, ran happily across the beach to the circle of stones with sand piled inside. Then she was screaming, her hands charred from charcoal still smoldering at 800 to 900 degrees under the thin layer of sand.

That was three years ago. Today, Lisa, (not her real name), still returns to Children's Hospital of Michigan for reconstruction of her hands. Some fingertips have been lost.

Summer pastimes hold hidden hazards of accidental burns for many children, warns Dr. James R. Lloyd, a pediatric surgeon who is director of the Burn Center at Children's Hospital in the Detroit Medical Center and clinical assistant professor of Surgery at Wayne State University School of Medicine.

"The average age of children brought to the Burn Center is four to five years, an age when they still need close supervision," says Dr. Lloyd, who has been a member of the medical staff at Children's for 19 years.

"Parents who are aware of potential burn hazards can prevent their children from suffering pain and often disfigurement. Parents have often told me, 'I never dreamed this could happen,' but a moment's forethought can keep a summer outing from becoming a tragedy."

A little-known danger of motorcycle riding, for instance, is tail-pipe burns, caused when a child riding behind the driver touches his legs to the hot exhaust.

In addition to beach fires which are not drowned before being covered with sand, many dangers are inherent in the backyard barbecue grill. Adults who use gasoline to start a fire sometimes cause an explosion from the rapidly expanding fumes. The same is true when burning brush piles.

Or a parent may add starter fluid to speed a slow charcoal fire; the flames can travel up the stream of fluid to the can, creating an explosion as well as fire.

Small children may stumble and fall into a hot grill placed on the ground, as did young Joe. Both arms, his back, one leg, a hand and part of his face was seared. Young burn victims have been treated at Children's after touching dry ice packed around ice cream containers; for grasping hot camping lanterns and hurricane lamps; for getting into paint stripper used outdoors; for electric burns from lights strung at backyard parties where the loose plug was in contact with damp ground.

The list goes on — a busy mother puts her young infant outside in the shade, forgetting that the sun will move to glare directly on the baby's tender skin.

Gasoline spilled on cement while refueling a lawnmower explodes when a child drops a metallic object into the puddle, creating a spark.

Burns from these and other causes last year brought 600 children in for treatment at the Children's Hospital Emergency Room. Some 234 were serious enough to require hospitalization.

"Parents tend to underestimate the seriousness of burns to a child," says Dr. Lloyd. "A burn that covers half the head and face of a one-year-old affects 85 percent of the infant's body area, while the same burn on an adult would cover only 3.5 percent of his body. A child's head is much larger in proportion to his body than that of an adult."

Adults responsible for children should keep in mind these simple first aid measures for burns:

1. Put out the fire and get the child horizontal so the flames don't flare up on the face and hair. Smother the flames with a blanket, tablecloth or coat; use a hose or swimming pool if nearby.
2. Remove the burned clothing. If some clothing is adhering to the burns, cut around the stuck portion and do not try to remove it.
3. Remove the burned clothing. If some clothing is adhering to the burns, cut around the stuck portion and do not try to remove it.
4. Wrap the child in a clean sheet, tablecloth or blanket, keep her warm and dry and get emergency care. If a doctor's office is closer than a hospital, go there first.

Skilled medical care is necessary to replace lost body fluids, reduce pain and prevent infection, even before the wound itself is attended to.

At Children's Hospital's 12-bed Burn Center, the highly trained burn team includes physicians, nurses, occupational and physical therapists, psychiatrists, social workers and dietitians.

Dr. Lloyd feels strongly that any child who has suffered a burn should be seen by a physician. "A burn involving the entire arm of a child represents 10 to 15 percent of the body area. That is considered a major burn. Even small burns can be life-threatening if they are deep."

"The most serious burns are those on the hands, face, feet and genital area. Hospitalization is always recommended for these burns."

City's Tennis Champs Named

Dave Robb and Pete Short were victorious in the men's doubles division, Nannie Coddens and Faye Robb were champions of the women's doubles and Todd and Crit Leibbrand won the mixed doubles division of the First Annual City of Grosse Pointe Doubles Tennis Championships. The tournament, held at the Elworthy Field, had been going on for two weeks, with championship matches played on Sunday, August 13.

Robb and Short defeated Bob Coddens and Kurt Leibbrand 6-4, 6-4 to win the men's championship; Coddens and Robb defeated Trish Lane and Toni Robinson 6-2, 7-6, to win the women's division and Todd and Crit Leibbrand defeated Chris Charlton and Trish Lane 6-0, 6-1 to capture the mixed competition.

All of the finalists will be invited to participate in the Grosse Pointe Grand Champions Tennis Tournament to be played later this month at the Grosse Pointe Indoor Tennis Club.

'Clean and Clip' Benefit Slated

The Michael James Coiffures beauty salon, 20525 Mack avenue, will hold its second annual "Clean and Clip" session on Monday, August 28, with all proceeds going to the fight against muscular dystrophy.

The shop's 14 professional beauty operators will donate their services for the event between 2 and 8 p.m. Full shop services will be available at regular prices. Apointments are not necessary.

Burglar Visits Pointe Wharf

An apparently hungry thief entered the Pointe Wharf, 18310 Mack avenue, Sunday evening, August 20, and made off with several cartons of ribs, frog legs and steaks, in addition to an undetermined amount of cash.

According to Farms police, the culprit gained entry via a rear door which was found pried open by officers on patrol. A pry bar was found inside the building and a trail of frog legs led down the alley for a short distance. Police said the cash register was opened and a cigaret machine was tipped over and damaged.

The owner was unable to give an exact amount of the cash missing from the register, although he estimated the amount of food stolen at about $100.

Police have no suspects in the case.

Pointer Plays Key Role In Big Plant Conversion

When the first 1979 Chrysler New Yorker rolls off the line at Chrysler's Lynch road assembly plant, it will be a personal achievement for M. T. Krag of The Park.

As plant engineer, he plays a key role in helping to coordinate a massive $57 million renovation and conversion of the 50-year-old plant to produce new automobiles.

Mr. Krag, 36, has been with Chrysler 13 years, the last year at the Lynch road plant. Before his assignment to Lynch road he was a product engineer at Chrysler Corp. headquarters in Highland Park.

At Lynch road, Chrysler is taking apart an entire assembly plant and putting it back together again in just three months. Supervising installation of new equipment and making sure it works properly when the plant resumes production is Mr. Krag's job.

"Anytime you make changes of this magnitude you're bound to have some difficulties with the new operation in the pre-production stages," he said. "The name of the game is problem solving."

Mr. Krag is woking with some of the most advanced auto assembly equipment in the industry at Lynch road. Chrysler is equipping the body shop there with the latest technology, including sophisticated electronic controls and new robot welders. The robot welders are a first for a Detroit auto assembly plant.

Bike Hits Car Rider Injured

An eight-year-old boy suffered a fractured skull when the bike he was riding struck an automobile Thursday evening, August 17, according to Farms police.

The lad, Keith G. Spencer of Fisher road, was reported in guarded condition the following day at Saint John Hospital.

Police said the boy was going down his driveway toward Fisher road, entered the thoroughfare between two parked cars and struck a vehicle driven by William D. Corbo Jr., 23, of Hillcrest road, Detroit.

The vision of the driver, police added, was obscured by parked cars on the road. The motorist said he stepped on his brakes and swerved, with the child hitting the side of the auto.

No violations were issued in the incident.

Collectors . . . of Liz Claiborne coordinates will be glad to know there is a new selection at Walton-Pierce. Look-like-silk (really polyester) skirts, blouses and vest-jackets come in lilac or seafoam green. The three pieces go together beautifully. It is a fashion-wise choice for early fall parties and dinners. We think it would go into holiday and cruise plans. From Kimberly has come a mohair, acrylic blend winter white coat and dress ensemble. The coat is styled with a soft collar and tie closing. The sleeves have pull thru gathering. Ernst Strauss picked wineberry Ultra Suede for the jacket that tops a handsome gray and wine plaid vest and skirt. The shirt is creamy white with a black grosgrain ribbon tie. One of the finest ribbed corduroys we've seen is slate blue printed with tan and red paisley for a two piece Beene Bag dress. Siroto Sport is another great line for collectors. We like the rich brown velvet blazer which would update so many things in your wardrobe. It is shown with Siroto's fine brown tweed skirt, pants and vest. Another Siroto blazer is a classic camel with brass buttons. It tops coordinates of navy and camel plaid. Reversible coats are the "in" fashion. T.T. Mallo's offering is a tan poplin car coat that reverses to natural looking but really man-made lamb. A versatile coat from Main Street is tan poplin with a brown plaid lining that buttons in or out.

If You Have A Flair . . . for decorating with color, you should see what you can do with Coppes cabinets. They're available in a rainbow of 14 different colors, in addition to the many wood stain finishes. See samples today at Mutschler Kitchens, Inc., 20227 Mack Avenue, 884-3700.

Pointe Symphony Says 'Thank You'

At the mid-July benefit for the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra, held in Jacobson's d'Hondt way, MRS. LYNDE R. MARTIN, president of the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Association, presented a plaque of recognition to CLARENCE F. WASCHER, general manager of Jacobson's, Grosse Pointe, as a token of appreciation for his consistent support of community interests and the Grosse Pointe Symphony.

Mrs. Michel A. Skaff was chairwoman of the July 14 "Symphony Under the Stars" concert and buffet in Jacobson's St. Clair Dining Room.

Her committee included Mrs. Henry Drettman and Mrs. Joseph M. Scanlan, in charge of hostesses, Mrs. Harold Lee, invitations, Mrs. Boyce M. Tope, posters, Mrs. J. Louis Bush, program, Mrs. Ross Cook, publicity, and the Mesdames Elmer L. Barber, Eugene K. Groves, Elmo L. Joseph, Paul Ruble, Nabil Tawile and Anthony Vermeulen, tickets. The program featured a march by Sousa, a Strauss waltz and selections from Rossini, Bizet, Webber, Loewe and Kincade. Felix Resnick conducted the Pointe Symphony in the benefit pop concert.

Horticulture-Bonsai Show Scheduled

All Are Invited to Enter Fruits, Flowers and Vegetables in Annual Harvest Exhibit; Show Date is Thursday, September 14

"Show What You Grow" is a slogan calling for action, and the Grosse Pointe Garden Center has adopted it as motif for this fall's Horticulture and Bonsai Show, urging all home gardeners to enter exhibits.

Show date is Thursday, September 14. Place is the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Crystal Ballroom. Hours are 2 in the afternoon to 9 in the evening.

Five hundred visitors viewed the open-to-the-public, no-charge exhibit last year. Many came in the evening, for the extended hours enable husbands and friends-who-work to see the harvest from Pointe gardens: any great show needs lookers as well as exhibitors.

So there will be space for more participants, each person is limited to one entry for each of the 10 classes in the horticulture section, four specimens in the Bonsai area.

A Bake Sale will be open for business when exhibitors arrive at Fries Auditorium with their entries between 8:30 and 10:30 in the morning. So many Garden Center trustees are gourmet cooks that each one has been asked to bring at least two donations.

Bake Sale proceeds go into the Garden Center treasury that supports education in horticulture through lectures, shows, scholarships and a lending library.

The "early birds" will find a great selection of goodies to assure them of a delectable weekend.

Mrs. Clarence E. Maguire, in her second term as Garden Center president, has asked Mrs. Monte J. Edelen and Mrs. Harley G. Higbie to head the Bonsai section of the show.

Mrs. Carl B. Larsen and Mrs. Robert S. LeFevre are in charge of the horticulture section. Both duos are assisted by many, many able volunteers. All sorts of accolades should go to the Top Five, however. Virginia Maguire has used her flower-bright patio for many summer gatherings.

The business-of-the-day is Garden Center business, and Dr. Maguire gets the dividend: luncheon beneath the trees almost every day.

Esther Edelen and "Dot" Higbie teach the Bonsai Workshops where so many Garden Center members have learned to fashion miniature trees and plants in the Japanese fashion. The results are magnificent at every work. The Horticulture-Bonsai Show will feature a Conservation Table, supervised by Miss Christine Edwards, with educational ideas for children, dried flower presses and some dried flower cards made by Mrs. Robert G. Russell.

And there is always, of course, a place for visitors to sign up as members supporting the Garden Center. Mrs. John A. Dodds is membership chairman this year.

Once again, capable Mrs. Harold R. Smith has been persuaded to undertake the schedule and entries. Schedule copies will be in the Garden Center Room at the War Memorial after Labor Day.

Placement of exhibits and recruitment for the horticulture section are the responsibility of Mrs. Russell, present Garden Center library chairman, always active with the Trial Garden.

Mrs. Richard P. Joy, III, is chairman of the Trial Garden, and anyone who attends any event at the War Memorial from early spring into late fall always pauses to admire its beautiful beds.

Mrs. William A. Cole and Mrs. L. William Moll are in charge of props and staging for the show.

Mrs. J. Crawford Frost, Jr., has called representatives of all the local garden clubs to ask for volunteers to make the attractive place settings displayed on tables in the center of the showroom.

Mrs. Dan Lee Johnson heads the corps of hostesses being asked to serve during the afternoon and evening of the show.

Mrs. H. Rollin Allen is responsible for getting the judges, and Mrs. Henry S. Walker is in charge of arranging for their luncheon after they have completed their work.

Garden Center treasurer Mrs. J. Lane Donovan is in charge of finances. Mrs. James A. Lafer is handling show publicity and the Newsletter again this year.

Mrs. Bill O. Brink is chairman of the Bake Sale.

Meadow Brook Music

Sunday's Mostly Mozart Nite is an afternoon program, beginning at 2 o'clock. Featured artists will be pianists Misha and Cipa Dichter.

Pavilion seats for all three Mozart concerts range from $6 to $8. Lawn tickets are $3.50 each.

A special daytime luncheon concert performed by the Musica Aeterna String Ensemble is planned for Friday, August 25. It will be held in the outdoor English Garden at Meadow Brook Hall.

A summer lunch will be served at noon, with the full-length concert immediately following. Tickets for this event, including lunch, are $12.50 each. Reservations may be made by calling 377-3316.

The focus turns Friday evening, August 25, to one of the country's top female recording stars, Helen Reddy, who entertained a record-breaking, sell-out crowd last summer at Meadow Brook.

She returns with a variety of her award-winning songs: "I Am Woman," "Delta Dawn," "I Don't Know How To Love Him" and many others.

The performance begins at 8:30 o'clock. All pavilion seats are sold out. Lawn tickets are available at $6 each.

The distinctive sounds of Cab Calloway, the "hi-de-hi" man, will fill Baldwin Pavilion Sunday evening, August 27. This veteran showman, singer and bandleader celebrated his 70th birthday a few years ago.

Pavilion tickets are $7, $8 and $9. Lawn tickets are $5. Sunday's Cab Calloway concert begins at 7:30 o'clock.

(Continued from Page 21) The Archives of American Art is a national organization affiliated with the Smithsonian Institution. Its purpose is to collect, record and make available to scholars original documents and materials relating to American art and crafts.

Tickets for the Lawnday Fete, at $50 per person, may be obtained by sending checks, payable to the Archives of American Art, with stamped, self-addressed envelopes to Archives headquarters here, 5200 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48202.

Bob Mounsey, of Jacobson's, is creating the Lawnday Fete decorations. Leading florists will garnish the tables with their finest arrangements . . . and, of course, there will be an open, complimentary bar, with music to sip by.

Michele Comes Back

She left when she was a baby, returning to Belgium with her parents at the conclusion of her father's business assignment in The States, so there was very little Michele DeMyttenaere remembered about America.

There's very little of her visit here this summer that she'll ever forget.

Michele, just graduated from high school in Brussels, is in the midst of a two-month visit to the United States, touching base with old family friends and taking a look at this country's architecture before she returns to Brussels to begin her own architecture studies.

She's been to the Washington, D.C., area, staying in Lynchburg, Va., with the Robert Hornes, who lived a while back in McKinley avenue.

In fact: Mary Horne learned of Michele's impending visit upon her return from a stay in Bishop road with the Richard Beaudrys, (Bob was in Tokyo and Taiwan, so Mary figured she was entitled to take off, too), who are also DeMyttenaere friends.

In The Pointe, Michele stayed first with Dr. and Mrs. Kim K. Lie in Bedford road, then moved over to the Beaudrys. Susan Beaudry had met the DeMyttenaeres, friends of her husband's family, in Belgium on her honeymoon, and was delighted to return their hospitality by showing their daughter around.

Michele loved the view from the top of Ren-Cen. She thought Belle Isle's Scott Fountain was beautiful. She was a delightful, enthusiastic guest, whose English, (at home, the family speaks French, although Michele studied English at school), improved day by day.

So did Susan Beaudry's. Susan drove Michele to her next stop, in Novi, last week. Michele is in Birmingham now, and will go on to New York, to stay with family friends in Park avenue, before flying home to Belgium.

Meanwhile, back in The Pointe, Susan Beaudry is still enunciating beautifully. There's nothing like having a houseguest from a non-English speaking country to sharpen one's own command of one's own language.

NOW Sets Walkathon to Raise ERA Funds

A Walkathon for Equal Rights will be sponsored by the National Organization for Women Saturday, August 26, beginning at 9 o'clock on Belle Isle.

The walk will follow a 10-mile course around the island, beginning at the casino. Bikers, roller-skaters and persons in wheelchairs are invited to participate with the walkers.

This local walk, sponsored by the Metro-Six NOW Chapters, is one of hundreds to be sponsored nationwide by NOW commemorating the 58th anniversary of the ratification of women's right to vote.

Funds raised will support NOW's efforts to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment. ERA has been ratified by 35 states; three more are needed. A resolution to extend the deadline for ratification from March, 1979, to June, 1982, was recently approved by the House Judiciary Committee. Action by the full House was also affirmative.

Persons interested in participating or contributing to the walkathon may call 758-0272 for further information.
