DR. COATS TO STAY ON JOB

HEADLINES
of the
WEEK
As Compiled by The Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, August 24
MARKIST GUERRILLAS, holding 40 to 60 legislators captive in Nicaragua, held off on their execution deadline and began to release some women prisoners after President Anastasio Somoza agreed to some of their demands. Officials said the president had agreed to release most of the 120 political prisoners in the country, and fly them, the guerrillas, and some of the hostages out of the country. The terrorists had threatened to begin killing their hostages unless their demands were met. Six soldiers were killed when the Marxists stormed the National Palace on Tuesday, capturing government officials.

Friday, August 25
NICARAGUAN GUERRILLAS were flown to Panama with 58 political prisoners and an undetermined amount of ransom, ending the 45-hour siege of the National Palace by the band of 25 who had held 40 to 60 government officials hostage. The terrorists were taken to an undisclosed location by Panamanian officials, who were expected to grant them asylum. Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza claimed the terrorists had Cuban support, but the leader of the rebels denied the accusation.

Saturday, August 26
A BIZARRE HIJACKING aboard a TWA jetliner bound from New York to Geneva, Switzerland, left investigators baffled as the culprit apparently walked off the plane unrecognized by the other passengers. The 78 passengers and nine crew members remained aboard the jet for eight hours after landing at Geneva before being safely evacuated. They feared the threats of a phantom hijacker aboard, who had claimed to have a bomb on the plane. The hijacker's long list of demands had included the release of convicted war criminal Rudolf Hess and Sirhan Sirhan, assassin of Robert F. Kennedy.

Sunday, August 27
ALBINO LUCIANI, 65, the Cardinal of Venice, was elected the 263rd Pope of the Roman Catholic Church in the shortest conclave in modern history. His election by the College of Cardinals came after just four ballots were taken. He chose the name of John Paul I, in deference to his two immediate predecessors. The new Pope had not been considered a top candidate for the papacy, and was described as a conservative with some liberal tendencies.

Monday, August 28
POSTMASTER GENERAL William Bolger warned postal employees he would call out federal troops if necessary to stop either a nationwide strike or widespread wildcat strikes after he refused to reopen contract negotiation talks with three postal unions. Mr. Bolger also told union leaders he could fire striking workers and bar them from holding other government jobs. The three unions had recently rejected proposed three-year contracts which would have provided a 19.5 percent wage and cost of living increase.

Tuesday, August 29
THE THREAT OF a nationwide postal strike virtually vanished Monday. The head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service broke the deadlock by presenting a plan that provides for binding arbitration if the U.S. Postal Service and the mail unions fail to agree on a contract in 15 days. The decision to resume negotiations came only hours before the midnight deadline for a strike that could have forced the mobilization of thousands of military reservists to help handle the mail.

Officials Learn about Emergency Evacuation Plan

Pointe officials were present when an emergency evacuation plan, designed to save the lives of 80 percent of Wayne County's nearly 2.6 million residents, was unveiled at a "crisis relocation" conference Thursday, August 24. Those participating included, (from left to right), Woods Public Safety Director JOHN DANKEL; Shores Public Safety Director JOSEPH VITALE; County Emergency Preparedness Director MITCHELL KOZAK; State Police Nuclear Protection Director THAD ZALE; City Fire Sgt. WILLIAM TAYLOR; Park Fire Chief PHILLIP COSTA; and Park City Manager JOHN CRAWFORD. (See story, Page 12.)

Musicale Slated for September 8

Big Evening Continues Family Tradition of 40 Years; Proceeds to Aid Inter-Faith Center

An appreciation of Grosse Pointe history, an evening of fun-filled entertainment and support for needed community services make up the Sixth Annual Musicale set for Friday, September 8, at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, at 8 p.m.

Gordon and Rita Blake of Shoreham road will carry on a family tradition by hosting some of the finest young folk and popular music talent in the Detroit area. The style will be cabaret, the atmosphere casual and the setting will be the Fries Ballroom overlooking Lake St. Clair.

All Contribute
But it's the unique family history which makes the Musicale special.

Mrs. Blake tells the story. "The Musicale began with Gordon's great-aunts, May and Elizabeth Fisher, who, starting in 1937, invited their many friends to come together once a year and celebrate their love of music and the arts," she said. "Everyone contributed something, according to his (Continued on Page 6)

Park Seeks Input on Law Governing Dog Droppings

By David Kramer
The Park Council on Monday, August 28, tabled a proposed ordinance that would have made it a misdemeanor for a person to allow his dog to defecate on anyone's property but his own unless the dog's owner cleaned up the mess immediately afterward. The measure was tabled for a 60-day period so that the council could have time to gauge citizen reaction to it. Councilman George Verdonck, who expressed displeasure with the proposal, opposed the motion to table. The proposed ordinance, which was drafted by City Attorney Herold Deason and recommended for council approval by the ordinance review committee, would have

Program to Save Trees In Park Via Chemical Injections Continuing

Two Year Experimental Plan to Compare Effectiveness of Arbotect 20S, Lignasan BLP Toward Halting Spread of Dutch Elm Disease Proceeds; Over 150 Elms Removed on City Property. Alone This Year

By James J. Njaim
Two young ladies who have been busy since June 19 injecting two types of chemicals into 51 Park elms, suspected of having a touch of the Dutch Elm Disease, (DED), completed their work on Tuesday, August 22.

The trees receiving the injections have been tagged and will be inspected next summer to see what effect the chemicals have had in checking or eliminating the blight, according to information from Park officials.

The ladies who have dedicated their time and effort in the experiment are Jina Miller, a June graduate of Otterbien College, Westerville, O., where she majored in Life Science, (Biology), and Deena Reese, a graduate of Rutherford B. Hayes High School, Delaware, O.

Which Is Best
Both are deeply interested in plant life and spend their summers working for the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Forestry Department, (USDAFD). In The Park they were working under the supervision of Dr. Harold F. Gregory of Elmhurst, Ill., principal plant pathologist of the USDAFD. Ms. Miller and Ms. Reese said they were out almost every day injecting the suspect trees with either Arbotect 20S or Lignasan BLP. The chemicals are not blended. Some of the elms would be injected with Arbotect and some with Lignasan, after which the tree would be numbered, while the type of chemical injected is marked on the tag.

Swarm Invades Windmill Park

The Park is currently trying to fight off an attack by bees which have been swarming about the Windmill Pointe Park over the last several weeks. City Manager John Crawford said the city had had a pest control expert come out to the park to see what could be done about the insects, which one resident claimed were so bad that "you can't even sit down for a picnic." Mr. Crawford explained the expert located one hive at the park which was removed. In addition, the city has been spraying the trash containers in the hope of keeping the bees away. Traps have also been set to capture the pests, he noted. "We've been working on it for the last couple of weeks," he said, adding that he found the bees to be "very annoying." Mr. Crawford said that removing pop cans from picnic tables may help keep the pests away, since they seem to be attracted to sweets. He noted the removal of the nest should help alleviate the situation, since pest control experts say a hive may contain from 2,000 to 7,000 bees. (Continued on Page 4)

Woods Sets Hearing on C License

Council to Give All Interested Applicants Chance to State Their Cases September 18

By Roger A. Waha
A public hearing date of Monday, September 18, was unanimously set by the Woods Council to give all interested Class C liquor license applicants an opportunity to state their cases in light of voter approval of a referendum question governing the issuance of one additional license in the community.

The council at its regular meeting Monday, August 21, set the hearing date on the request of Alex Bardy of Gabby's Restaurant, 19299 Mack avenue, who conducted a successful initiatory petition drive to have the question placed on the Tuesday, August 8, primary ballot.

Voters approved the question by a wide 3,037 to 1,830 margin. It asked if they favored the adoption of an ordinance amending the city code to provide that the council "may approve or issue its approval" of the issuance of one additional license.

Guidelines Approved
The ordinance was automatically amended with the favorable vote and now the council must make a decision on whether or not to issue an additional license, (which would make five such documents in the city), and, if so, to whom.

And this decision will probably be made at the hearing on the 18th. Seven prospective applicants will be notified by the city, with officials setting a Monday, September 11, deadline for the submission of all pertinent material. Applicants who fail to meet the deadline will not be considered. Along with letters to each applicant, the city is sending a copy of application guidelines and criteria requirements as approved by the council. At the same time, Public Safety Director John Dankel has been requested to conduct appropriate investigations of the applicants. The seven applicants, ac- (Continued on Page 6)

Second Effort For Funds Pays Off for GP City

Municipality Now Expects to Receive Full Share of Community Development Block Grant Monies after Rewriting Application

By Susan McDonald
Despite tougher federal guidelines that endangered funding earlier this year, The City of Grosse Pointe announced last week that it expects to receive its full share of 1978 HUD, (Housing and Urban Development), Community Development Block Grants.

HUD earlier rejected two-thirds of The City's $80,000 application because The City could not demonstrate the projects to be funded would specifically benefit the community's low to moderate income residents.

But The City recouped most of that money by re-writing the application for a new set of projects that meet HUD guidelines. The projects include the community's first home rehabilitation program and installation of sidewalk ramps to assist the handicapped and elderly.

To Develop Handbook
The community had originally applied for money to resurface and widen streets near the Village shopping area.

The first step in the rehabilitation program will be to develop a handbook, which will determine just how the money will be allocated to homeowners. The administrators will consider a variety of methods, including low interest loans, straight-out grants and a matching grant plan.

The City's Community Development Coordinator Lee Birmingham said the rehabilitation program will be specially aimed at helping many of the community's elderly residents maintain their homes.

A 1975 survey of the community conducted by planning consultant Brandon Rogers indicated that about 75 percent of its housing stock is between 30- and 50-years-old.

Important

A deadline change for news copy and display advertising copy will be instituted for the September 7 edition of the NEWS because of Labor Day, Monday, September 4.

All copy for the news section must be submitted by 5 p.m. on Friday, September 1, while the deadline for society copy remains the same, the Thursday before the issue in which you want the story to appear.

The display advertising deadline stays the same, Tuesday at 12 noon, with the exception of all real estate advertisements and society section ads which must be submitted by 5 p.m. on September 1.

Finally, the deadline for classified advertising remains unchanged at Tuesday at 12 noon.

Farms Seeks to Improve Mack-Moross Traffic Flow

By David Kramer
The Farms Council gave its approval to a Wayne County Road Commission plan to improve the traffic flow at the intersection of Mack and Moross roads.

The plan, designed partly to help alleviate the problem of through traffic using some of the side streets in the area, involves changing the timing of the traffic signals at the intersection, the construction of a curb cut for indirect left turns and a peak period parking ban on the east side of Mack to facilitate the use of an extra lane there for right turns only.

Representatives of the Wayne County Road Commission and Goodell-Grivas, a traffic engineering firm hired by the city, attended the meeting of Monday, August 21. Although the Goodell-Grivas recommendations called for the addition of a left turn phase at the intersection, the commission told the council that such a plan would unduly back up through traffic there, creating more congestion than what presently occurs. The changes to be made by the commission include setting the curb signal pedestals back somewhat so as to make them more visible to left-turners and retiming the lights to allow more amber time for motorists to make their turns. ### Tells How He Reached His Decision

School Board Members Greet News with Some Relief in Relation to Concerns over Potential Departure

By Susan McDonald

Amid threats of a black boycott of schools, Pointe Superintendent Dr. William Coats this week announced he will not accept the post of superintendent of the Memphis, Tenn., school system.

The announcement brought some relief to local Board of Education members, coming just a week before schools are scheduled to open.

"I hope now we can see some of the programs we've begun come to fruition," said Board President Laurance Harwood. "I'm assuming Dr. Coats will be around for some time now."

Dr. Coats explained his decision not to accept the post was based on a "complex number of issues."

Conditions Not Right

"The black board members feel they were not involved in any meaningful way in the selection process in Memphis and they're angry," he said. "A white superintendent of a predominantly black school system needs at least the support of black board members."

The Memphis school system has about 80,000 black students, more than 70 percent of its total enrollment. The three blacks on the nine-member board had supported Dr. W. W. Herenton, current deputy superintendent and the highest ranking black in the system.

A coalition of 17 groups, including the Memphis PTA, NAACP, Urban League and Black Merchants, had threatened an economic and public school boycott should Dr. Coats come to Memphis.

Dr. Coats, his wife and five daughters, visited Memphis last weekend and were greeted at the airport by a small group of pickets. He announced his decision to reject the offer upon his return to Grosse Pointe Monday, August 28.

"The conditions underlying the selection were just not right," Dr. Coats said. "The blacks feel the white board members went off in a room somewhere and de- (Continued on Page 2)

GP City Joins Regional Effort

By Susan McDonald
The City became the first Pointe community Monday, August 21, to join the seven-county effort for water quality management supervised by SEMCOG, (Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments).

In accordance with the federal Water Pollution Control act of 1972, SEMCOG was charged with developing an area-wide program of pollution control.

The City Council voted Monday to accept designation as a management agency under that program and agreed to provide financial support for implementation of a water quality program. Eventually, all southeast Michigan communities which operate sewage treatment or collection facilities will be asked to join the program.

The cost to The City will be about $117 annually. Designation as a management agency will help qualify the community for future federal and state grants for construction of facilities.

Communities which are eligible, but do not participate in the program, will be denied such funding in the future, according to City Manager Thomas Kressbach. Southeast Michigan sewage systems handle some 50 billion cubic feet of flow each year.

Debts soon overtake us no matter how far they run behind. We are all rewarded for what we gave — not what we take.

Woods Remains Interested in Block Grant Funds

(Continued from Page 1) agreeing to reimburse the city for the cost of the survey, (placed at over $2,000). Councilman George Cueter questioned how the information was certified? Mr. Petersen replied it will be certified by Nordhaus, with the Department of Housing and Urban Development, (HUD), abiding by the survey's facts based upon information he received from county officials. Concerns also were expressed over the honesty of citizens in replying to the questions. Councilman E.D. Grady noted that most surveys via telephone, (as this one would be), are generally reliable.

It was then suggested that the city send out a letter prior to the survey explaining the municipality's quest for monies, while enlisting the cooperation of citizens. While sharing some of Mr. Novitke's concerns, Mr. Grady felt if residents knew ahead of time what the city hopes to accomplish with the survey, they might be cooperative. With that, Mr. Grady offered a substitute motion that a letter be prepared in cooperation with Nordhaus and that the citizens be notified one week prior to the survey, with the council approving the letter before it was sent out.

As the situation grew more complex regarding rules of order of the council, City Attorney George Catlin advised the solons to first vote on Mr. Sobol's motion. This transpired and the motion fell 5-2 with Mr. Sabol and Councilman George S. Freeman voting in the minority. Roll Is Called Consideration of Mr. Grady's motion followed and the council approved it, 4-3, with Mr. Grady, Mr. Freeman, Mr. Cueter and Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos voting in the majority, while Mr. Sabol, Mr. Novitke and Councilman Thomas Fahrner voted "no."

Saying he didn't like the idea of a survey being taken by another entity and concerned over possible bureaucratic interference growing along the way, Councilman Robert E. Novitke moved, despite a feeling that he would like to see such monies come into the city, that any and all applications for HUD funds be discontinued at this time.

Councilman John Sabol felt the city should send out a questionnaire sampling citizen reception to a survey as a first step because of his concerns over the potential delving into the privacy of residents. He then offered a second substitute motion that the city send out a questionnaire to the citizens to assimilate their feelings on the survey, including a sampling of ques-

With this action, a letter explaining the proposed survey was being drafted for the council's informal review. If it receives the solons' blessings, it will be mailed to citizens in the northwest area possibly sometime this week. Indicating that the entire questionnaire also will be mailed, Mr. Petersen stated the letter will say the city is considering the northwest area as well as other areas toward applying for federal grant monies for physical layout improvements and other capital improvements.

It also will say that such proposed improvements would be beneficial to area residents, while stipulating that the cooperation of citizens is needed in answering questions over the phone. When the actual telephone survey will begin depends upon the schedule of Nordhaus, noted Mr. Petersen.

Helping residents improve many of those structures was named a top priority by Mr. Rogers at the survey's conclusion.

Mr. Birmingham noted that HUD is "getting tougher on us in terms of just what projects they'll approve" and added it took quite a bit of extra administrative work to get final approval for projects this year.

Focus on Needs
While the rehabilitation manual is being written, City administrators will begin a "needs survey" in the community's lowest income areas with another $4,500 grant which was part of the Block Grant package.

The anticipated needs survey should make it easier for The City to secure future grants, he added.

Yet another large chunk of this year's block grant, about $20,000, will be used to remove obstructions to the handicapped and elderly at sidewalk intersections by knocking out the curbs and replacing them with gently sloping ramps to the street.

Dr. Coats said he's "not interested" in making a specific, long-term commitment to stay in Grosse Pointe, but added, "I'm here for what would appear to be a significant amount of time. I have nothing else in the mill right now."

In Memphis, the school board decided to reopen the process of candidate selection to fill the superintendent post at a meeting on Monday. Dr. Coats had not formally removed his application for the Memphis post at that time and was still considered a candidate by the trustees.

Grosse Pointe School Board members admitted they were concerned about the unsettling effect Dr. Coats' potential departure, after just two years on the job, might have on the schools.

Plan Eying Additional Parking Nixed in GPW

By Roger A. Waha

It was a long haul for Dr. Matthew Fontana, whose efforts for additional parking in the block between Hollywood avenue and Hawthorne road began in the spring at the Planning Commission level and reached a climax at the Woods Council's regular meeting Monday evening, August 21.

Appearing in behalf of the Grosse Pointe Woods Development Co., Dr. Fontana presented his case to the council as did residents of the immediate area, all of whom were in opposition to the proposal.

The final denouement was that the council unanimously denied the request, apparently because of the concerns of residents over the possible deterioration of property values in the area if the proposal became a reality.

Based upon the favorable recommendation of the Planning Commission at its July meeting after several tabling actions toward revamping the proposal, Dr. Fontana said he was shocked at the result.

When citizens who opposed the project were asked to stand up and an estimated 30 did, Dr. Fontana questioned if all, in fact, were residents, living in the immediate area, who would be directly affected by the plan. This, he felt, wasn't clarified.

He also stated he was upset at one citizen who, he said, lived adjacent to the affected property and agreed to the proposal in writing but then spoke against it, apparently after input from neighbors, at the meeting.

At the same time he wondered why no councilman raised any questions regarding his specific proposal as the discussion unfolded.

The property in question, which is owned by the development company, encompasses Arnold's Drug Store, Vic Tanny's, plus 60 additional feet toward Hawthorne, he said. It's located behind these commercial properties between the two streets.

GPW Prepares Offer to Police

The Woods Council met in a closed session after its regular meeting Monday, August 21, to discuss the status of wage and labor negotiations with the Department of Public Safety.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said last week, as an outgrowth of the session, he was in the process of preparing a new proposal, (a two-year pact), for the council's informal review.

If approved, it would then be forwarded to the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Ass'n., (GPWPOA), for its consideration.

Plans call for the proposal to be delivered to the GPWPOA sometime this week.

Farms Reports B-E's, Attempts

Two breaking and enterings and two attempted break-ins were reported to Farms police over a four-day period last week.

The concession stand at the Farms Pier Park was broken into on Wednesday night, August 23, with $20 in quarters, a small calculator and an unknown quantity of cigarettes taken, police said.

Ice cream and candy bars were strewn about the building, and the freezer doors were left open. Entry was gained by kicking in a rear door.

Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem said he was pursuing a lead in the case, feeling the crime was committed by youths.

Farms officers David Beekman and Dan Jensen discovered a break-in at the Farms Arco Station, 18210 Mack avenue, while on patrol Monday morning, August 21. They found a window pane in one of the garage doors broken.

Owner Paul Romain said the only items missing were keys to five customers' cars and a key to the inside locks of the garage doors.

An attempted breaking and entering also was reported on August 23 by a Maison road resident. The citizen said someone had tried in three different places to gain entry into the home. The culprit cut screens at two locations and pried a door-wall at the rear of the house.

In the same incident, the resident's unlocked garage was opened and a moped was taken. The moped was later found at Grosse Pointe boulevard and Moross road.

The father-in-law of a Moross road resident reported someone had attempted to break into his relative's home on Tuesday, August 22. Police said the side door appeared to have been kicked in, with the lock receiver broken.

The would-be-thief was stymied in his attempts when the receiver jammed in the door.

LWV Bazaar Set Sept. 2

Members of the League of Women Voters, (LWV), of Grosse Pointe are in the process of making final preparations for their "Bizarre Bazaar, Flea Market and Craft Sale" which will be presented Saturday, September 2, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on the South High School football field.

"The response has been very good by way of individual contributions and booth rentals," said Judy Morlan, project chairman. "The community is concerned and is willing to help."

Over 40 booths have been reserved so far with a large number being from The Pointe area, while others have come from as far away as Redford, Clawson, Trenton, Ecorse, Birmingham and Centerline.

Individuals, groups or even families may rent a booth for a $10 fee, with the variety of articles which may be sold being wide open. Booths featuring demonstrations also are welcome besides the normal array of baked goods, other foods, crafts, et al.

Already several items are scheduled to be presented including handmade articles from Appalachia, patchwork, handmade pots, leather goods, plus garage sales and flea markets.

For its part, the LWV will be having its own flea market, bake sale and concessions but members emphasize participation from the community is all important. The LWV also says there's still time to rent a booth for the event. Interested citizens should call Jo Ann Kelly at 331-8347.

Program to Save Trees Continues in Park

(Continued from Page 1) which chemical is best to check the spread of DED. Other elms, suspected of having the blight, will be injected with either of the two chemicals, it was said.

The ladies said holes are drilled at the base of the elms, near the roots, and either Arbotech or Lignasan are pumped through the holes under 30 pounds of pressure, after which the holes are sealed. The chemicals are taken up naturally through the tree pores with the sap. It is hoped that this method of control will be more effective than spraying.

To Continue Program
 James Ellison, director of the Department of Public Service, said that this year The Park has lost more than 152 public elms as a result of DED. More than 1,000 have succumbed to the blight over the last seven years, he said. The number of elms lost on private property is 124.

He said next year the city will conduct a survey and trees that show signs of DED will either be marked for injection of the chemicals or, if they are too far gone, will be cut down and removed. There are only about 4,500 or possibly 5,000 elms left on public and private property, he added.

Mr. Ellison noted only elms on city property, i.e., between the curb and sidewalk, and on other public grounds, have been treated this summer. The same will apply next year, to continue a two-year experimental program recently authorized by the council.

City Manager John Crawford said he is hopeful that the two-year trial period will be successful. He said the city's present method of dormant spraying with methoxychlor appears to be ineffective in controlling DED, but there is no other way since DDT was banned several years ago.

Marked for Removal
 Mr. Crawford said in order for methoxychlor to have the same effect, elms would have to be sprayed several times a year, which would be a very expensive process.

The city manager stated if it was permissible, he would like to see the city's elms sprayed with DDT at least once every two or three years, while using methoxychlor between the spaced years. This, he noted, would be a very effective way of controlling or eliminating the Dutch bark beetles, the bane of the beautiful shade trees.

He said The Park conducts a continuous survey of all elms and those that appear to be too far gone are immediately marked with a yellow "X" for quick removal.

The trees that have already been removed were done by the James Tree Service, which also trimmed elms showing slight traces of DED.

He said Dr. Gregory will prepare a report regarding the maintenance of the city's elms after the two-year experimental program has been completed. Dr. Gregory's report will determine whether the city should continue the injections, or if it would be more effective to spray and how often.

Cites Problem
 Mr. Crawford said the reason that The Park has so many elms today is because of the past spraying of the trees with DDT. He said the Dutch bark beetle has developed, in his opinion, an immunization against methoxychlor and that is why he favors the use of DDT every few years.

He pointed out that elms should be sprayed at least five or six times a year with methoxychlor to have the same effect as a single spray with DDT.

The only problem with the multi-spraying with the less potent chemical, he continued, would be that this would become a nuisance in that the spray could settle on parked cars, lawn furniture, windows and houses.

One answer to the Dutch bark beetle problem, Mr. Crawford noted, is to put up bird houses for Martins, which feed on these beetles. There is one such bird house in Windmill Pointe Park and another is being contemplated for the park. Houses for the birds also should be placed in strategic areas of the city, he said.

Wine Lines
 by John Lundberg

I always like to keep a few bottles of wine around the house just in case. Just in case I feel like drinking some, or just in case some friends drop over. Just in case I or my family is in the mood for some dish cooked with wine, or want a little wine with dessert. Just in case we feel like going on a spur of the moment picnic and already have the bread and cheese. Just in case I really need to relax a little after a hard day. As I said, I like to keep a few bottles of wine around the house, just in case.

And just in case you need some wine, come in and see us at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626. To Improve Traffic Flow

Motorists wishing to make a right turn from northbound Mack onto eastbound Moross will have a right turn only lane during the peak traffic hours of 4 to 6 p.m.

The lane, in which parking is presently allowed at all hours, is located in front of Sears Roebuck, 18950 Mack. The council's motion provided that the parking ban would apply to an approximately 200-foot length of the parking lane.

The changes by the commission will not cost the city any money, according to Russell Harrison of the commission, with the modifications set for completion by November.

The council had requested that the efficiency of the intersection be improved in the hope that it would stop through traffic from using Roland and Maison roads to avoid the congestion.

Mr. Harrison said the commission would review the possibility of closing several crossovers in Mack avenue north of Moross. One crossover, located at Maison road, currently remains barricaded. The actions taken by the council would not affect this barricade.

Mayor James Dingeman asked Police Chief Robert K. Ferber to discuss the possibility of moving the exit drive of the National Bank of Detroit branch further east on Moross.

Chief Ferber said he would meet with bank officials toward relocating the drive where customers could make a left turn onto eastbound Moross.

Mr. Harrison added the road commission would have an evaluation of the performance of the improvements made by next July.

Seeks Input

(Continued from Page 1) Mayor Matthew C. Patterson agreed, but added, "I wonder if we should warn people that we're going to do this if they don't do something about the problem."

Mr. Verdonck blasted the measure by saying, "You have comfort stations at the park and other public places for people. Now if a poor animal gets a cramp and has to go, its owner has to carry a bucket around or put a diaper on it."

Councilman Charles Tompkins noted police would have a "very difficult time" enforcing such a law.

Mr. Deason pointed out that the ordinance could be enforced in two ways: by police or by citizens who observed the act and later signed a complaint. He emphasized that removal of the droppings would have to take place immediately after the act for the dog owner to be within the law.

He said a similar ordinance is now in effect in other cities, noting that some people are now dumping their dogs instead of cleaning up after them.

In delaying action on the matter, the council stressed its desire for citizen input which they hoped would be generated by news of their proposal.

Proposals Get Okay of Planners

Two proposed ordinances, which have been under study by the Woods Planning Commission since the first of the year, were unanimously forwarded to the council for its action by the commissioners at their regular meeting Tuesday, August 22.

Both measures, which have been reviewed by sub-committees of the commission, include commercial vehicles and their storage and the outside parking of motor vehicles at gasoline service stations.

The commercial vehicles proposal defines such a vehicle as any stake truck, dump truck, highway tractor-trailer truck, semi-truck trailer or construction vehicle.

A pickup truck, the cargo compartment of which is not covered or does not contain a cap, and any van or carry-all type vehicle, also are deemed commercial vehicles if they exhibit two or more of the following characteristics:

- Commercial license plates.
- An advertising sign or lettering, business logo, business address and/or telephone number on the exterior or mounted or placed inside the vehicle so as to be plainly visible from the exterior in such a fashion as to convey or attempt to convey an advertising message to the public.
- Permanently mounted outside brackets or holders for ladders, tools, pipes or other similar equipment.

The proposal says that no commercial vehicle, truck or trailer shall be parked, housed or stored upon residential property or public streets and alleys except for the period actually required in connection with the delivery of merchandise or the rendering of any services or performances of any building construction.

It provides, however, that no more than one commercial vehicle of a rated capacity of three-fourths ton or less may be housed or stored when entirely within a suitable garage.

The proposal further provides that this requirement shall not apply to any business requiring truck delivery or service in the operation of the business.

Meanwhile, the only change in the gas stations proposal in the latest draft views rental car regulations according to City Attorney George Catlin.

Previously, the measure prohibited rental car vehicles but the section was changed to permit such storage upon service station premises providing such complies with parking space count stipulations and a 48-hour time limit.

Would you pay $1,000 for $1,884?

HARRY JUST HEARD ABOUT FIRST FEDERAL'S OFFER. I HAVEN'T SEEN HIM MOVE THAT FAST SINCE THEY READ UNCLE CHARLES' WILL.

We pay 8.00% annual interest on an Eight-Year Certificate Savings Account; no bank or savings association pays a higher annual rate of interest, and many places (possibly the one where you're saving) are not allowed to pay as much.

To earn this high interest—which is an effective annual rate of 8.24%—just deposit $1,000 or more and leave it in the account for the full eight years.

When you do, your $1,000 will grow to $1,884.54.

As you can see in the chart, this account is just one of many certificate savings plans we offer, all designed to help you have more money than you started with. Any of these accounts—even more than one—can be opened in addition to your First Federal Regular Savings Account. In fact, our Regular Savings Account is how many people get the minimum deposit for the certificate account.

Type of Account	Minimum Amount	Annual Rate	Effective Annual Rate	How and When Paid
8-Year Certificate	$1,000	8.00%	8.24%	Paid and compounded quarterly.
6-Year Certificate	$1,000	7.75%	7.98%	Paid and compounded quarterly.
4-Year Certificate	$1,000	7.50%	7.71%	Paid and compounded quarterly.
2½-Year Certificate	$1,000	6.75%	6.92%	Paid and compounded quarterly.
One-Year Certificate	$1,000	6.50%	6.66%	Paid and compounded quarterly.
Six-Month (26-Week) Investment Certificate	$10,000	Interest rate is the 6-Month Treasury Bill rate (discount basis) in effect on the date the account is opened plus ¼% per annum.		Paid at maturity.

Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal from certificate savings accounts.

Come and talk with us about your savings goals. We'll help you plan how much to put where and for how long. We'll even explain how to get a check each month for the interest you earn. If you already have a regular savings account or a maturing certificate somewhere else, just bring your passbook with you and we'll have the funds transferred to First Federal. You'll find it pays to do that. We know what money is for.

In emphasizing that all of the guidelines may not be thoroughly explored, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos said the criteria provided a suggested format for the council to follow.

City Attorney George Catlin, in viewing a concern some applicants might have in revealing certain information, indicated he knew of no invasion of privacy problems in this respect.

The suggested guidelines says that an applicant must furnish the council with the following information:

- Location of the establishment, zoning district and legal description and layout of the plat, including proposed parking facilities.
- Description of the proposed or existing building, including a photo or architect's drawing.
- Evidence of financial responsibility.
- Personal and previous business references.

Names and addresses of principals.

- Type of restaurant, seating capacity.
- Type of entertainment, existing or proposed.

Five criteria may be considered by the council in approving or disapproving any applications including recommendations from both the Department of Public Safety and building inspector, (eying six locational criteria, e.g., establishment must be in a free-standing structure), and financial responsibility of the applicant.

Big Musicale Slated

(Continued from Page 1) or her talents and the festival lasted for hours, sometimes days, spilling over into a nearby park as neighbors dropped by to listen and stayed to enjoy.

The Blakes took up the tradition in the early 1970's to enable young talent, singing the best of contemporary and traditional folk and popular music, to share their music with people of all ages.

For the last six years they have donated the proceeds to support the work of the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice, a non-profit community agency which promotes racial understanding and citizen involvement in the urban situation.

The performers this year include David Reske, Mary Foley, (a native Pointer whose parents live in William road), Dan Hollars, Karen Bouchard and Richard and Maureen DelGrosso, (Rich is a teacher at University Liggett).

Special guest star from the Theater of The Stars in Atlanta, Ga., is Cathy Baker-Hall. She is appearing at the Musicale for the first time and will contribute show music to the evening.

She also has appeared on national television, (Junior Special Olympics, Campus Crusade for Christ), and has played/sung leading roles in "Godspell," "Cabaret," "Funny Girl," "On a Clear Day" and "Fiddler on the Roof."

Guest pianist will be Billy Defibaugh, trained at Wayne State University, and a member of Bethesda Choir and Orchestra.

Master of Ceremony for the evening is Jim Turnbull of Barrington road. As in the past, they are donating their time and talent.

A special reception for the performers will be held in the oldest brick home in Grosse Pointe, the renowned Wardwell home in Jefferson avenue.

Admission for Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center supporters is free with tickets to the Musicale. Those who would like to become members, (with a donation), and come to the Musicale also may attend the reception.

The Wardwell home was built before 1800 and was recently donated to Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. A short history will be available at the reception.

Tickets for the Musicale are $10 per person, and $6 per senior citizen or student. Donations are tax-deductible.

The Inter-Faith Center will use the proceeds to support its 1978 programs in youth education for living in a multi-cultural world and neighborhood re-vitalization.

Other current programs of the center include adult education, community crime prevention and school consultation and training. These programs, designed to promote racial understanding, have both educational and action components.

Volunteer center supporters, representing 12 major churches and several hundred Pointe families, guide center policy, utilize staff to do research and involve themselves in citizen efforts to serve the community and nearby Detroit and Harper Woods.

The theme for 1978 — the future of Grosse Pointe and the future of Detroit are linked—sums up the thrust of the program.

The Musicale is the sum of many people's efforts besides those of hosts Gordon and Rita Blake. Susan Francis of Yorkshire road is program book co-ordinator, while other participants include Art Sherman of Hawthorne road, Diane Honstain of Moross road, Jane Grenard of Shelbourne road, John and Gail Urso of Westchester road, Betty Price of Windmill Pointe drive, Marty Ofraia, WDIV, Ann Mongoven of East Ballantyne court and Tom Kaufman of Gateshead, Detroit, among many others.

The center wished to thank the many local businesses which took out ads in the 1978 Musicale Program Book available on the 8th and to Punch and Judy Theater for assisting in the sale of tickets.

Young Merchants Show Their Wares

Every summer Saturday many garage sales are held throughout The Pointe. But how many are held by and for children? This one, held at the Lochmoor boulevard home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Howard Willet, is the first one the NEWS' has seen. Cooperating in the effort were, (from left to right) GEORGE DEEB, 9, WENDY WILLET, 9, BUFFY RIDDELL, 10, MICHAELA MARSTON, 8, and JENNIFER DEEB, 7. Mrs. Willet said the event was well attended, adding, "It was a learning experience for me and the children."

Cost of Salt Up This Year

The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, August 21, unanimously accepted the bid of the International Salt Co., Summit, Pa., in the amount of $13.80 per ton delivered. This is an increase of $2.40 over the $11.40 per ton price of last year.

City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher said the city only received two bids, with the other coming from the Morton Salt Co. of Chicago, Ill., in the amount of $15.40 per ton delivered. No bid was received from the Diamond Crystal Salt Co. of St. Clair, Mich.

Mr. Hornfisher attributed the higher price mainly to a scarcity of salt and increased costs overall.

"This is the first time we've had such a big jump," he said, while adding increases one year over another usually run at around $1.

GPW Planners Okay Change

A change in the previously approved site plan for Colonial Federal Savings and Loan Ass'n. on the west side of Mack avenue, between Lennon and Van Antwerp, was unanimously approved by the Woods Planning Commission at its regular meeting Tuesday, August 22.

The commission at its July meeting approved the plan but subsequently a thorough examination of a six-foot high brick wall along the alley at the rear of the property was made.

This examination revealed that the wall was structurally unsound and that it would have to be rebuilt, according to architect Gustaf R. Daniell.

Inasmuch as the wall's height was part of the approved site plan, any proposed adjustment would have to come before the commission.

"Since the zoning ordinance does not require a wall between business property and a public alley, and since the proposed new use of this property will not be a nuisance for the neighboring residential property, we hereby request that we be allowed to rebuild this wall to a height of four feet," said Mr. Daniell in a letter to the commission.

Stating there was little structural stability to the wall and that a six-foot wall gave a penitentiary effect, Mr. Daniell told the commission a four-foot wall would be more practical. He even indicated a sloping stone cap be included to prevent children from walking along the top.

GPF Beaches Stay Closed

It looks as if The Farms Beaches closed by a July sewer main break in Macomb County will remain off limits to swimmers for the remainder of the season.

Tests by the Wayne County Health Department have shown "fluctuating levels" of contaminants in the waters off the beaches, said Mike Andrews, assistant director of environmental health.

He said the tests would reveal safe levels of bacteria for a few days and then, with wind shifts, the counts would go up again to intolerable levels.

Mr. Andrews said while the levels are generally going down, with just a few weeks left in the swimming season it was doubtful the beaches would be reopened in time for bathers to use them.

The beaches at The Farms Pier Park and the Crescent Sail Yacht Club were closed on July 31 following the collapse of a major sewer line in Macomb County. That break necessitated the dumping of raw sewage into Lake St. Clair for a period of several weeks.

Although repairs have since ended the dumping, high levels of coliform, an intestinal bacteria found in the sewage, remain in the lake water.

Mr. Daniell added that Colonial Federal representatives preferred to eliminate the wall but if it was impossible to do so, (pending the commission's action), an attempt would be made to preserve it. But, still, it would be unsafe, he said.

The six-foot wall was erected when the property was utilized as a Jack-in-The-Box Restaurant and was geared for that type of operation.

Due to its reported condition and also the fact that no special public hearing would have to be held for such change, the commission approved the adjustment to a four-foot structure via Raymond Lynch's motion.

Center Offers Antique Talks

A series of illustrated lectures on antique furniture will be given at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, this fall by J. Jurdan Humberstone.

The lectures will be held Tuesdays, September 19 to October 24, from 10 to 11:30 a.m. in the Alger House.

On September 19, Mr. Humberstone will deal with the pilgrim period; September 26, the William and Mary period; October 3, Queen Anne; October 10, the Chippendale period which also covers Hipplewhite, Sheraton and Empire; and October 24, the Victorian era.

The series of six lectures is $30, while single lecture admissions are $5.50.

No one can break even today unless they get all the breaks.

Farms, P&J 'Reps' Seek to Resolve Differences

By David Kramer
 The Farms held off on its threat to stop the show at the Punch and Judy Theater Tuesday, August 22, after city officials met with the owners and their attorneys toward working out a pact concerning live shows.

City Attorney George McKean said he decided not to seek an injunction after conferring with Mayor James Dingeman and at least one council member, Lloyd Semple. He said they agreed with him the injunction was not necessary.

When asked why the injunction wasn't pursued, Mr. Semple said the threat had seemed to be sufficient.

"It occurred to us that we got them off square one and got them to sit down and talk," he said.

One of the theater's tenants, Chris Jaszczak, said later, "We were totally unaware of the injunction until Wednesday." (August 23), adding the show the Punch was airing was contracted for months ago.

The council had instructed Mr. McKean at its last meeting, (Monday, August 21), to seek an injunction preventing the theater from presenting a live show the next night featuring a singing group known as "the Talking Heads," who have received reviews in "Newsweek" and the "New York Times."

The council requested that the injunction be obtained on the grounds that the theater was no longer permitted to hold live entertainment. That permission, the council had claimed, had been revoked following the failure of the owners to sign an agreement limiting the types of allowable live shows.

The agreement, drawn up in February by the council acting as a zoning board of appeals, came in response to the original request from the theater tenants for a variance permitting live entertainment.

The council maintains that a zoning variance is required for live shows. The theater owners, however, maintain that live entertainment has always been permitted at the Punch.

A meeting was held on Thursday, August 24, at city offices between the theater tenants, owners and representatives of the council and city administration.

Mr. McKean said that, following a "lot of discussion," it was decided the theater tenants would draft a form of an agreement which he would present to the council with his comments.

He added he had no idea what the proposed agreement will say but hoped it would be close to the original one which the owners had refused to sign.

Mr. Semple, who also was present at the meeting, said, while he didn't care to comment on the content of the proposed new agreement, that it would be presented to the council at its next meeting on Monday, September 18. "That is the required timetable," he said.

"We're trying to reach an agreement consistent with the zoning board of appeals decision last February," he said. "It hasn't gone as smoothly as we would have liked."

Mr. Semple indicated one of the owner's objections to the original proposed agreement was its ability to be binding on future owners. He said he thought the agreement "should run with the land," both to assure that future owners do not show undesirable entertainment and to make it more legally intact.

He said that while unilateral ordinances governing permissible entertainment are being struck down by courts in other cities, a binding contract form of agreement would be more enforceable.

Mr. Jaszczak also declined to comment on the provisions of the proposed new agreement adding he would like to "separate the daily operations of the theater from working out the agreement."

He said a show which had been scheduled for September had been postponed because of the flap, with the next scheduled live show being October 1.

Meanwhile, Farms police have been keeping an eye on the operations of the theater in the face of complaints from residents, chiefly concerning noise.

A petition signed by 28 residents was presented to the council at a recent meeting asking the body to revoke permission for live shows. The petition claimed "the patrons are extremely noisy upon leaving the theater, sometimes as late as 1:30 a.m.

Recent surveys by Farms police, however, seem to show no unusual amount of noise from patrons, with officers in the most recent survey, taken early Saturday morning, August 26, emphasizing that a citizen complaint about noise in the area was unfounded.

Councilman W. James Mast, in a phone interview, said, "The noise complaints were to some extent an indication of their (theater operators), success." He added that any response to the complaints by the council would likely be in the form of limiting the hours of operation.

Mr. Semple said the petition and complaints would be a factor in council action concerning the Punch.

"There's a balancing act you have to play," he said. "I sympathize with the people about noise."

He said the council might consider passage of an ordinance prohibiting the start of shows after a certain hour.

"The Rocky Horror Picture Show" has been shown at the Punch for the last several months on weekend nights. The show begins at midnight and has become very popular and well attended.

Hurley Accepts Hospital Post

William L. Hurley was recently named the new director of development at Bon Secours Hospital.

Formerly associated with Watling, Lerchen and Co., Inc., for 15 years, and more recently with A.G. Edwards and Sons, Inc., the Grosse Pointe resident brings 32 years of experience as a financial consultant to his new position.

As head of the development department, Mr. Hurley will direct a program aimed at fostering contributions to Bon Secours Hospital. His responsibilities will include formulating programs to assist individuals and organizations interested in contributing to Bon Secours and making community members aware of the ways trusts and bequests can be designed to benefit the hospital.

In addition, Mr. Hurley will assume responsibility for coordinating the hospital's three fund-raising auxiliaries — the Guild, Bon Secours' oldest organization; the Assistance League, known for the Grosse Pointe Celebrity Series; and the Friends of Bon Secours Hospital, whose members provide free health education programs in the "Town Hall for Health Series."

An active member of the community, Mr. Hurley is a former Grosse Pointe City Councilman, was director of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Ass'n. and a past president of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries.

He is married to the former Mary Elizabeth Bartmeier and has five children.

Today's citizens are folks who have been hit hard by everything except falling prices.

Farms Eyes Traffic Study In Relation to Hill Plan

By David Kramer

The proposed development of the On-the-Hill district was again viewed by the Farms Council at its regular meeting Monday, August 21, when it discussed a traffic feasibility study drawn up by the traffic engineering firm of Goodell-Grivas.

The traffic study was designed to deal with the changing traffic patterns which might be caused by the development of the district as proposed by John Grissim and Associates, landscape architects.

City Manager Andrew Bremer told the council he would proceed to hold discussions with Cottage Hospital and the School Board toward getting the plan underway.

"I plan on getting dates with the hospital and the schools as early as next week," Mr. Bremer said, while adding the reopening of schools could delay meetings with the Board. He said he may have a preliminary report for the council some time in September.

The Goodell-Grivas report said that, while the overall concept of the plan was sound, a number of modifications should be made for purposes of traffic safety and flow.

One recommendation of the firm was for McKinley, between Ridge road and Kercheval avenue, to be made a one-way street. The firm said this change would be necessary in order to handle the increased traffic caused by the proposed closing of McMillan road.

The report also suggested that Muir road be widened where it intersects with Kercheval avenue. The extra lane would then be used for left turns only onto Kercheval.

Other recommendations included the placement of an overhead, lighted pedestrian crosswalk sign between Muir and McMillan roads, and a movement of the proposed fountain on Muir road so as to provide increased visibility for drivers exiting the Cottage Hospital lot.

The Grissim plan calls for a partial closing of McMillan road between Kercheval and Ridge roads. The part remaining would be made into a cul-de-sac located in front of Saint James Lutheran Church.

This move would result in more safety for the children at Richard School, who now have to cross the often heavy traffic on the street.

Other changes proposed by the Grissim firm included putting a curve in Muir road halfway between Kercheval and Ridge. This would allow more parking for the hospital but would infringe on land currently owned by the schools.

The plan also calls for the creation of another parking lot on what is now the playground of Richard School, abutting Kercheval.

While the school system land would be taken over by the city for the plan, it was thought by several council members that school officials might be receptive to the idea because of the proposed closing of McMillan to through traffic.

"We're talking about a trade off with the school system," said Councilwoman Nancy Waugaman, adding the council had to address itself to the hospital parking situation and the safety of children at Richard regardless of whether the Hill itself should be improved.

Councilman W. James Mast agreed. "We have committed ourselves to the hospital for some sort of change on Muir road," he said.

Mr. Bremer questioned the use of city funds for development purposes.

"I don't think the Hill merchants or the city would want to start this project without some sort of market study," he said, adding, "you're talking somewhere in the neighborhood of $30,000 to $50,000" for such a study.

He said he didn't feel a marketability study was "a legitimate use of general fund expenditures," while noting that it could be done by the city if general funds weren't used.

City Attorney George McKean said any form of bonding the city might use to finance the project would have to be put to a vote of the residents.

Mr. Grissim's plan was first considered by the council last summer. Subsequently, David Schervish, a landscape architect, introduced a proposed redevelopment plan for the On-the-Hill district this summer.

Burglar Hits Homes in City

The quiet, night burglar who's plagued the Pointes for several weeks apparently hit two City homes on Sunday, August 27, using an auto stolen from one home to haul away loot from another, according to police.

A neighbor notified police of suspicious activity around a Cadieux road home whose occupants were out of town, at about 3 a.m. Sunday. Upon their arrival, police discovered the home was entered through a rear kitchen window and had been thoroughly ransacked.

At about 4:30 a.m., a Lorraine road woman, who requested that her name be withheld, reported her home had been broken into while she was asleep.

Police said the thief entered the home through a rear porch door and made off with $40 cash, a television, check book, binoculars and the woman's car, which was parked in a locked garage with the key in the ignition.

That car was later spotted leaving the driveway of the Cadieux road home that had been robbed earlier that evening, police said. They suspect the thief went back and used the woman's car to haul loot away.

The abandoned auto was discovered by Detroit police on the lower east side Monday, August 28, at 12 noon.

In both homes, the hearing mechanisms of telephones had been removed by the burglar.

A list of items stolen from the Cadieux road home was not available.

HEALTH-ORAMA
Nearly 10,000 tri-county residents will receive free health tests at a United Foundation Health-O-Rama this year.

Woods Okays Kiwanis Plea

A solicitation request from the Kiwanis Club of Grosse Pointe was unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, August 21.

Citing National Kids Day on Friday, September 15, Robert B. Frederick, kids day chairman, asked if the club could sell peanuts on both the 15th and Saturday, September 16.

At the same time, he asked if Mayor Benjamin W. Finkos would proclaim both days National Kids Days in the city, and the council concurred.

Why on earth should you open a checking account at a bank in Maine?

Because it'll pay you 5% interest on your money.

Here's a checking account that's a great example of Yankee thrift and ingenuity. It's a NOW account. It means Negotiable Order of Withdrawal, and it lets you write checks on an account that pays you 5% interest. And it's available only in New England.

But now it's being made available to you.

Put your money to work.

A checking account is convenient, and it helps you manage your money. But the money you put into a regular checking account just sits there.

With a NOW account you can put it to work for you, earning 5% interest right up until your checks clear.

Your money will go a long way when you send it a long way.

So fill out this coupon. We'll open a NOW account for you here at Bank of Maine. You'll have the convenience of checking with the interest of a savings account. We'll pay you that 5% interest on any balance in your account when your monthly average collected balance remains over $500. And when you maintain that monthly average collected balance of $500, there are no service charges on your account.

We'll also give you free checks. Postage-paid banking by mail. Free travelers' checks if you visit Maine. And a toll free number to call if you've got any questions.

And this is the bank in Maine to open an account at.

Bank of Maine is a federally-chartered bank, and we've been around a long time. Since 1836 in fact. And in all that time we've done our best to offer our customers the most helpful banking services and service. Wherever those customers are.

THIS IS OUR GUARANTEE

that you have never seen another house like this one. From the street it appears to be an English house with matching wings which come off a recessed entrance which is gained after crossing a walled courtyard. Inside you'll find a charming, four bedroom house with large living room, dining room and library. The two car garage is attached and there is an enclosed and screened porch on the rear of the house. Priced to attract the buyer who recognizes a value at $85,000.

WHAT MAKES THIS

a terrific buy at $38,500? The fact that this condominium has a new kitchen with all built-in appliances. The fact that the carpeting and draperies are almost new. The fact that the basement has been developed with party room and bar. The fact that this is an outside apartment with windows on three sides and has central air conditioning makes this offering look good at a price which is below that of other apartments for sale in the complex.

LET ONE OF OUR FIRECRACKER

salesmen escort you through this Center Hall Colonial with generously proportioned rooms. The large foyer has a magnificent staircase as its focal point. Fireplace in the family room, four family bedrooms and attached garage. In this market this house will probably be sold in a few days.

The well developed basement has an office, playroom, two bedrooms and another full bath. See this one before it's snapped up by another bargain hunter.

AN ARCHITECT'S DREAM

placed on a two-acre lake frontage lot which features magnificent landscaping and a swimming pool between the house and breakwall. The house was designed to take advantage of the ever-changing scene on the water. This all brick mini-mansion has fireplaces in six rooms, which include three bedrooms. One of the very best kitchens with a fireplace alcove, a new heating plant and revamped baths are some of the "pluses" of this offering.

WANT A MOVE-IN CONDITION

Emergency Preparedness Plan Heard by Officials

An evacuation plan which, according to emergency preparedness officials, could save the lives of most of Wayne County's 2.6 million residents in a nuclear attack, is under development in the county.

"We all hope, and like to assume, that the worst will never happen. But if it did, 80 percent of Wayne County's population could survive with this plan. Without it, only 20 percent might survive," declared Mitchell Kozak, director of the Wayne County Office of Emergency Preparedness, in a news release.

The plan was presented to officials and emergency preparedness directors from the 43 municipalities in Wayne County, including the Pointes, at a "crisis relocation" conference at the Hyatt Regency Hotel, Dearborn, Thursday, August 24.

Thad Zale, director of the nuclear civil protection unit of the Michigan State Police, said development of the plan for this area is the pilot project for the nation.

The plan calls for total temporary relocation of Wayne County's population to areas of Michigan outside the "high risk" zones and to similar areas in Ohio and Indiana.

Simultaneous movement of some 4.5 million residents out of the southeast Michigan "high risk" area would be accomplished within 72 hours under the plan.

Mr. Kozak said the plan would not be put into operation unless it was learned that Russia, which already has a national plan, was evacuating its urban populations during an international crisis.

He stressed that the evacuation would be optional. "That's why it is estimated that even with this effective plan, perhaps 20 percent would die," Mr. Kozak said.

"Experience with other disasters had indicated that 15 or 20 percent of the population would refuse to evacuate."

The most common form of transportation for the evacuation would be the family car, the meeting was told. Mr. Zale, whose office developed the preliminary plan, said it would serve as a deterrent against war.

"Russia has had a crisis relocation plan for its population centers for the last 18 years and has been improving it right along. In an international crisis, Russia could evacuate its urban populations within 72 hours while 80 percent of our population would be hostages in their own homes under the threat of nuclear annihilation."

The plan calls for evacuation along normal traffic routes to "host" areas in Michigan and the two adjacent states.

Residents of various sections of the county would evacuate along the routes which would get them out of the target area most quickly.

Generally, residents in the northern and eastern portions of the metropolitan area would use the I-75 corridor to evacuate to a 13-county host area of northern Lower Michigan — the Traverse City-Cheboygan area.

Residents in the west and southwest areas would evacuate to a 17-county area which would include the southern tier of Michigan counties plus areas in northern Ohio and Indiana. Mr. Zale said the U.S. Corp of Engineers has surveyed the host areas and found there are enough public buildings to provide temporary shelter for all "visitors."

He said surveys determined that the host areas could accommodate four visitors for every local resident, but the plan was designed to spread the visitors on a three-to-one basis.

A survey of grocery stores determined that normal food supplies would meet the increased demand for a week, allowing plenty of time for delivery of additional food if the emergency lasted longer. Families would be asked to take food and medical supplies with them as well.

Key workers from Wayne County, (e.g., police, fire and hospital and government functionaries), and their families would be relocated to nearby Lenawee County and commute to their jobs, Mr. Zale added.

During evacuation traffic would be controlled by law enforcement and other emergency personnel. Windshield stickers would identify to what host areas individual vehicles were assigned.

However, families with alternative shelter outside their assigned host area — such as a cottage or the home of relatives—would be allowed to go there, Mr. Kozak said.

The board of commissioners public safety and judiciary committee is now scheduled to review the plan and make recommendations for county participation to the full board.

The conference marked the beginning of a month-long series of planning sessions with smaller groups of Wayne County municipalities.

Mr. Kozak said the Wayne County Office of Emergency Preparedness would work with Mr. Zale's office in coordinating county-wide development of the plan.

Pointe officials who attended the conference included Shores Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale, Park City Manager John Crawford and Fire Chief Phillip Costa, Woods Public Safety Director John Dankel and City Fire Sgt. William Taylor.

Cottage Offers An Inside Look

Fifteen students from colleges and universities as near as Wayne State and as distant as Cornell in New York are completing summer orientation programs at Cottage Hospital.

The programs are designed to give them an inside look at what to expect if they become physicians or hospital administrators.

Administrator Ralph L. Wilgander said, "Cottage Hospital offers pre-medical and pre-administration students both at the graduate and undergraduate levels the opportunity to observe first-hand the inside operations of a community hospital.

"We believe the experience is invaluable in helping young people decide whether to continue their studies in the health care field. It also gives them an insight into many other areas of hospital work. Cottage is one of the few hospitals in the Detroit area to offer these programs."

Park resident David Graham, a first-year medical student at Wayne State University, is completing an eight-week program in cooperation with the American Medical Students Ass'n. project for Medical Education and Community Orientation. This is the fifth year Cottage Hospital has hosted the program.

Ross P. Lanzafame of Rochester, N.Y., a graduate student at Cornell University, is completing a 12-week administrative residency fulfilling a requirement of graduate school.

Thirteen undergraduate pre-medical and pre-administrative students have completed, or are currently completing, a program which includes an administration rotation introducing them to all facets of hospital operation, plus a month spent in one department of the hospital.

Philip J. Humes of Lock-moor boulevard, a pre-administration student, and Gary Gallardi of Saddle lane, a pre-med student from the University of Chicago, have completed the program.

DISASTER AID Victims of tornadoes, floods, severe winter storms and other major disasters receive aid from the American Red Cross with the help of United Foundation Torch Drive funds.

Park Reports Weekend Fires

Park firefighters were kept busy by a pair of fires in the early evening hours Saturday, August 26.

The first was a "stubborn" garage fire at 895 Lakepointe avenue, which was reported at about 6 p.m., according to Fire Chief Philip Costa.

Two motorcycles were completely destroyed in the fire along with most of the garage's miscellaneous contents. An auto was severely damaged as well when the overhead doors of the garage collapsed.

Though firemen don't know how the blaze started, they believe one of the motorcycles was leaking gas on the garage floor.

As soon as the clean-up job was completed on Lakepointe, the firemen were hailed to a house fire at 1418 Buckingham road.

That blaze caused considerable smoke damage throughout the home and heavily charred the kitchen, a bathroom and upstairs bedroom before it was brought under control, Chief Costa said.

Firemen believe the fire was started in the rear of the house by a contractor who was using a blow torch to strip paint from a window. The owners were not at home at the time.

Two other departments, The City and Farms, were eventually called to the three-alarm blaze. Chief Costa said his department discourages people from using torches to strip paint because of the potential fire hazard.

Fall Soccer Set at Club

The Neighborhood Club Soccer League is now accepting registration for the fall season.

Leagues are being formed for boys in the second through 12th grade and for girls in the second through eighth grade.

Register early or during the final registration period on Saturday, September 9, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the club, 17150 Waterloo avenue, officials advise.

For further information, call 885-4600.

MASTER OF NONE If you take too many tasks in hand you'll find you have put your foot in it.

Vial of Life Plan Boosted

The effort to place a life-saving "Vial of Life" in all 857,000 households in Wayne County has gotten a big boost with announcement of "a great breakthrough" on the cost problem, according to a board of commissioners news release.

It was announced at a meeting of the Wayne County Vial of Life Task Force Tuesday, August 22, that the group had reserved some 450,000 federal surplus vials, (small plastic "pill" bottles), at a cost of 1-1/10ths cents apiece.

"The lowest price we had previously was about six cents per vial even at manufacturer's cost, so this is a major breakthrough on costs," County Commissioner Ervin A. Steiner Jr., task force chairman, explained at the meeting.

Vial orders from four municipalities and three other sources were placed following the announcement. An order for 12,313 vials for the City of Southgate was placed by Patricia Kucharek, that city's commissioner on aging.

Ten-thousand vials were ordered for Highland Park by Richard Rissman, treasurer of Highland Park Rotary, the local Vial of Life sponsoring organization.

The City of Wayne ordered 8,000 and Grosse Ile, 2,500. In addition, County Commissioner Rose Mary C. Robinson ordered 6,000 which, she said, she would distribute to senior citizens in her district in Detroit's Cass Corridor area.

Orders also were placed for 2,000 vials for the Detroit "Food and Friendship" senior citizens program and 500 were ordered by Chapter 2188 of the American Ass'n. of Retired Persons.

Under the Vial of Life program, the vial, containing a medical information form for each family member, is placed as designated in the family refrigerator. "Vial" stickers on the refrigerator door and the household's front door alert emergency personnel to the vial's presence in a medical emergency.

The Wayne County Vial of Life Task Force, which includes two Pointe public safety officers, is making complete kits available to sponsoring groups at a cost of about five cents each. The kits include the vial, medical information forms, stickers,

Planners Okay Joint Dinner

The Woods Planning Commission, after some discussion revolving around the Open Meetings Act, unanimously approved a joint dinner with the council on Wednesday, September 20, with the location and time to be determined by City Administrator Chester E. Petersen.

City Attorney George Catlin informed the commission if such a session was held, proper notice of the meeting in compliance with the law would have to be given.

While saying socially oriented functions of a council in total and/or a commission in total may be a "grey" area under the law, this particular event he termed "black," while adding proper procedure should be followed.

In fact, he suggested, if the commission wished, it could follow a route where the business portion, if any, of the meeting could be open to the public and then officials could adjourn to dinner, with anyone desiring to observe this session being permitted to do so.

With such an approach, he said there could be no criticism or complaint over the city's handling of the matter in relation to the law.

In relation to this meeting, planning consultant Brandon M. Rogers suggested in a report presented to the council on Monday, August 7, that both the solons and the commissioners meet to review the preliminary draft of a land use plan on the 20th.

However, as it turned out, this subject will not be discussed on the 20th, officials said. Rather, a special meeting will have to be scheduled, instructions and information on other family safety devices, such as smoke alarms. The task force has set Saturday, October 7 as the target date for a massive "Wayne County Walk for Life" in which thousands of volunteers will be distributing the kits to family pick-up points and door-to-door.

The next meeting of the task force is scheduled for Tuesday morning, September 12, in the auditorium, 13th floor, City-County Building, Detroit. All interested persons and groups are invited to attend.

Shores Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale and Woods Det. Lt. Jack Patterson are task force members.

Net Tourney Big Success

An enthusiastic audience was on hand to applaud their favorite teams throughout the Grosse Pointe Grand Champions Tennis Tournament held last week at the Grosse Pointe Indoor Tennis Club.

Winners and runners-up from each of the five Pointes participated in various doubles divisions in the first tournament of its kind in the area.

Players and spectators alike agreed that it should become an annual event, and the club intends to continue and perhaps expand it in coming years.

Trophies were awarded by the club to first and second place teams in the junior and adult competitions.

In the boys 18 and under group, first place winners were The Park team of Larry Bauer and Todd McCoy, with Sanjit Jayakar and Ramin Azar of The Woods taking second.

The girls 18 and under victors were The Farms duo of Sharon McGann and Sharon Ruwart, with Cathy Gaskin and Kim Matthews of The Shores a close second. In the mens event, two Woods teams were victorious — Rich Brown and Bill Thompson in first, and the father-son team of Bill and Bob Waldeck, second.

The City's big winners were in the ladies group, with first place taken by Faye Robb and Nanni Coddens, while Trish Lane and Toni Robinson were runners-up.

In adult mixed doubles, Mark and Joan Levine of The Woods were first, and Ginnie Rice and Greg Catalano of The Shores were second.

Grosse Pointe Indoor Tennis president Ed Roney expressed special thanks to the tournament directors from each community for their help in getting the park competitions underway and completed in time to schedule this successful event, which wrapped up the summer tennis season.

Auto Owners Paying Less

It is costing $29 less per year for Michiganders to own and operate cars than it does for motorists nationally, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"The Michigan motorist who drives his intermediate-size car 10,000 miles annually will pay 19.35 cents per mile, or $1,935 annually. The national average is 19.64 cents per mile, or $1,964 per year," explained Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

Those figures are based on a recent study made by Runzheimer and Co. of Rochester, Wis., comparing second-quarter vehicle operating costs.

"The average per mile cost is a combination of fixed costs, (insurance, depreciation, taxes, license, et al.), and variable costs, (gasoline, oil, maintenance and tires)," said Mr. Ratke.

The survey shows that it costs an average of $3.78 per day to own a car in Michigan and an additional $.49 cents for each mile it is driven.

Costs are computed for an intermediate-size car that is kept four years and driven a national average of 10,000 miles.

James Wilkins Fatally Stricken

James W. Wilkins, long-time Pointe barber, died Thursday, August 24. He was 62.

A resident of Roseville, Mr. Wilkins began barbering in The Pointe area at the Country Club of Detroit. He later moved into a shop above Chet Sampson Travel On-the-Hill, and most recently, above Trail Apothecary Shop, also on-the-Hill, where his shop was located at the time of his death.

He was a member of the Kil Winning Lodge No. 297, F&M, and a veteran of World War II.

Turning The Corner

For citizens living in the immediate area of the former Lochmoor Lounge, 20934 Mack avenue, the news that the building has been closed for interior and exterior renovation based upon plans approved by the Planning Commission some three years ago, and delivered to The Woods building department in fall 1976, must be a dream come true.

Now known as Anton's Lounge and Restaurant, the estimated $275,000 renovation of the structure into what William Anton calls a "lovely restaurant" has been a long time coming for the owner, the residents and for the community in total.

Citizens on numerous occasions in past years appeared before the council and contacted the public safety department, complaining over the noise and litter emanating from the bar and over the clientele being served, (with an emphasis upon youth). The council responded by instituting a curfew at the Hampton road lot behind the lounge several years ago which helped ease the overall situation to some degree.

And while the situation stabilized for area citizens when Mr. Anton took charge, (with Mr. Anton emphasizing his efforts to relieve the establishment of "bad kids"), some concerns remained, not the least of which was when the renovation would begin.

It appears the entire situation reached a climax on Saturday evening, August 19, when police received several complaints with some being inter-related. These included the following: a man with a gun report which proved unfounded, a noise complaint which was handled on the spot and a trio of alleged violations forwarded to the Liquor Control Commission by police for a future hearing.

Police also reported an assault complaint which allegedly occurred at the establishment and involved two citizens who were beaten by some occupants. This incident remains under investigation.

The business, according to police, was cited for the following violations: removal of liquor from the premises, where a customer allegedly took two glasses of suspected alcohol outside, a sanitation violation, i.e., door left open without screens, and improper conduct, where an employe allegedly refused to cooperate with a public safety officer.

Mr. Anton, in saying he will address the alleged violations directly at the hearing, said he was planning to shut down the establishment a week or more after the reported incidents but decided to close the business that Saturday evening toward avoiding any chance of further trouble.

Saying past problems enveloping the establishment has "been a thorn in my side and in the neighbors," Mr. Anton, who has been involved in the restaurant business since 1974, (he created the Bull Market franchise and runs a restaurant of that name in downtown Detroit), is proud of his record, which, he stated, previously included no citations to the Liquor Control Commission.

Saying the delay in renovation work boiled down to litigation problems on a three-way agreement, Mr. Anton is now looking toward the future and said, if all goes well, the restaurant should reopen within 90 to 120 days.

The exterior of the establishment will have a "traditional type motif," he stated, incorporating some wood and brick, along with a bay window. At the same time, the interior, including a fireplace, will feature a wood motif and, again, emphasize the traditional.

The NEWS wishes the new business well, not only for Mr. Anton, but for the immediate neighbors and the community at large. The corner, it seems, has finally been turned and that's something to be happy about.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

Having lived in Grosse Pointe for more than 20 years, I have sadly concluded that Grosse Pointe has gone to the dogs.

I do not have reference to the quality of life, the character of the people or the nature of services rendered by the municipalities; all of these attributes of Grosse Pointe have been and are outstanding.

I am speaking of the canine population of this lovely suburb.

The people of Grosse Pointe are considerate of their neighbors, therefore, there are rarely loud parties or noisy machines to disrupt the serenity of this beautiful community.

There is, however, in many neighborhoods of Grosse Pointe incessant barking of dogs during all hours of the day and night. The circadian rhythm of dogs differs from that of humans, therefore, dogs often bark when humans try to sleep or relax quietly.

The people of Grosse Pointe are tidy, therefore, the streets and yards are free of litter. In contrast to the fastidious habits of the citizens of Grosse Pointe, its canine inhabitants are rather slipshod in the disposition of their excrement.

When the population density was very low, it mattered little how human excrement was disposed of. Ecological processes neutralized the health hazards associated with feces. When humans began to live in large clusters known as cities, the processing of excrement became one of the most important public health measures.

The introduction of sewers has been of more importance to health maintenance than the discovery of penicillin.

Similar considerations apply to animal populations, particularly those located in urban areas. The popularity of dogs has brought about an explosive growth of canine populations in our cities.

There has been, however, no corresponding technological development of processing of animal excrement. The result is an ever-increasing amount of dog feces in the streets and green areas. These are not only an esthetic nuisance but also a public health hazard.

Since there are no efforts to control dog population, it can be anticipated that this problem will get worse with the passage of time. In the age of human and animal overpopulation, neither species can be allowed absolute freedom of expression.

The people of Grosse Pointe are peaceful and friendly. One can, therefore, walk or jog through the neighborhoods day or night without fear of being abused by a fellow human.

The dog's sense of territoriality extends beyond the limits of his owner's property. It is, therefore, common to be pursued by dogs as one tries to walk in Grosse Pointe.

Dogs are noisy, belligerent and their toilet training leaves a great deal to be desired. We discipline our children and criminally prosecute adults for the behavior we tolerate in dogs. Disturbing the peace will land a person in jail, but a dog can bark with impunity hours on end.

The citizens of Michigan have passed an anti-litter referendum which will restructure a whole industry. An individual who litters is subject to a $100 fine; however, his dog may defecate in any public place.

Many a first time offender guilty of assault is languishing in jail, but a dog is entitled to his first bite.

Why should one endure from dogs what one would not suffer from humans? Emanuel Tanay, MD, Clinical Professor of Psychiatry, Wayne State University, Of Westchester road, Grosse Pointe Park

To the Editor: Recent announcements in Detroit and Grosse Pointe papers concerning Dr. Coats' (William Coats, superintendent of schools), conversations with and invitation to join the Memphis Public Schools as superintendent have many people in the community wondering about the accountability of our School Board.

It seems evident that our School Board has been intent on hiring young superintendents using Grosse Pointe as a stepping stone. As a result, their tenure here is so short it leaves the school system in the middle of newly initiated programs and goals which will never come to fruition.

This policy of hiring is affecting administration, remaining teachers, community and finally the children about whom the Board claims to be so very concerned.

Is it not possible to hire a superintendent of schools who has his "career climbing" behind him and will look forward to spending more than two years in this community?

And is it not possible to find a qualified candidate who will work with administration, teachers and community to restore some confidence in our system and a degree of caring for people, rather than test scores and national rank?

I feel the Grosse Pointe school community deserves an answer to these questions from the Board.

I also feel that perhaps as the Board pursues its next superintendent, open meetings should be held to allow members of the community to express their concerns for their school system and that the Board take into account these concerns in choosing the type of person, age, background and qualifications of any candidate for superintendent.

Mrs. Dwight Brown, Of Moross road, Grosse Pointe Farms

To the Editor: Orchids and kudos to Jeff Broderick of Huntington road for his humanity toward the puppies on Lakeshore road, ("Letter to The Editor," August 24 issue).

It is refreshing to know that someone is interested in helping those that cannot speak for themselves.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools

Certainly one of the most exciting activities of the summer was the educational travel program to Spain, Italy, Austria, France and Great Britain sponsored by the American Institute for Foreign Study and the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

Thirty-one of our high school students and school system advisors Sheila Joyce, Bob Bradley, Greg Heffner, Bill Taylor and Bob Welch, participated in the July trip entitled, "Roots of Western Civilization."

Others going with the group were Mesdames Heffner, Taylor and Welch, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ignasiak, parents of one of the students on the trip.

Most of the participants opted to receive credit for their travels, gaining the equivalent of a semester course by attending classes and lectures. These covered such topics as the Spanish Civil War and the history of London, and were conducted by resident instructors from European universities and schools.

In addition, students were required to keep an activities journal which was graded by the school advisors. Those who graduated from high school this past June were able to obtain college credit by meeting the same requirements as the high schoolers, and also preparing a research paper related to the trip.

The itinerary included stops in many European cities and visits to such famous attractions and museums as the Royal Palace and Prado Museum in Madrid; the Colosseum, Sistine Chap-

Bridge, Chess Set at Center

Beginning Friday, September 8, and continuing through the year, several sessions of Duplicate Bridge will be held at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, under the direction of Connie Gibbs.

Duplicate competition is set on Mondays beginning next month, except for Labor Day, from 12:30 to 4 p.m. and on Tuesday and Friday from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. It is $2 per game and coffee is complimentary.

Chess will be played at the Center every Tuesday beginning September 5 from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. Everyone of any age is welcome. Tournaments are held periodically with other groups.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters, Director of Public Libraries

Dorothy Parker once wrote that the two most beautiful words in the English language are: "Check enclosed."

While we still cling to the term English language, there is no question that English as spoken and written in America differs greatly from that used in England.

Many books have been written about the American language, but few have attracted more attention than Edwin Newman's STRICTLY SPEAKING, (Bobbs-Merrill Co., 1974). Mr. Newman, a broadcaster for the National Broadcasting Co., is justifiably alarmed at the misuse and adulteration of the English language in America.

Who's at fault—the newspapers, television writers, advertisers and all the President's men. He doesn't mention Archie Bunker.

Written in the form of entertaining essays, STRICTLY SPEAKING is the perfect tonic for those sensitive to the subtleties of language. It is not only a serious book, it is fun to read.

An example of Mr. Newman's wit may be found in the introductory chapter, "Watergate, in the course of revealing so much else about American life, also revealed the sad state of language; apparently form and substance are related.

"In Washington, as we learned from the White House transcripts, a President may speak of kicking butts, call a problem a can of worms, decide not to be in the position of basically hunkering down, anticipate something hitting the fan, propose to tough it through, sight minefields down the road, see somebody playing hard ball, claim political savvy and wonder what stroke some of his associates have with others.

"He may be told by members of his staff what is the bottom line, that a situation has cycled somewhat while another situation is a bullet biter, that a lawyer has done some dove-tailing for him, that a lot of people have to pull oars and that another man was a ballplayer who carried tremendous water for the President's cause."

Stuart Berg Flexner, a scholar of the American language and American social history and the major author of AMERICAN'S SLANG, gives readers a fascinating look at the American language in his latest book, I HEAR AMERICA TALKING, (Van Nostrand Reinhold Co., 1976).

Bringing together thousands of typical American words and expressions in their historical context, the author presents a penetrating account of the words that made our history—and the history that made our words.

This book has an unusual format, an intermediate between a dictionary arrangement and a continuous text. Its 38-page index helps but there are still problems finding specific references.

I wanted to find some information about the origins of the Statue of Liberty. I looked in the index and it wasn't listed. I finally found a lot of information about the Statue in a section on immigrants.

O. Henry had this to say about the Statue, "... Made by a Dago on behalf of the French for the purpose of welcoming Irish immigrants into the Dutch City of New York."

I HEAR AMERICA TALKING shows the variety, humor and pungency, the greatness and even the trivia of our language.

In his book BLACK ENGLISH, (Random House, 1972), Joey Lee Dillard presents a fascinating discussion of Black English, not only as an operative tongue in its own right, not only as having strong ties with other such operative tongues throughout the black Caribbean but also as a speech which has had noticeable word and accent influence on Standard American, whether Northern or Southern.

This is a well researched book with an extensive bibliography for the use of the serious student.

Mario Pei, America's foremost language watcher and word-debunker, alerts us to the latest "weasel words" that have insinuated themselves into the English language.

In his book DOUBLE-SPEAK IN AMERICA, (Hawthorn Books, 1973), weasel words are newly-minted phrases, words or novel interpretations of old words which may be "intentional slants, distortions and outright coinages inspired by a purpose of profit, propaganda or, at the very least, personal or institutional prestige."

Describing the audience as one of her biggest thrills on the trip, North High School student Cindy Cordoba explained that she and some other students were going through a museum when they learned that the audience was scheduled.

"Even though all of the museum's guides said that we were too late, we hurried over to the auditorium anyway, and we were admitted. I took several pictures of Pope Paul, and now when I see the television news about where the new Pope was chosen, I really understand it better," said Cindy.

For Dave Kuhnlein of South High School, one of the trip's highlights was having the opportunity to be a "matador" in a mock fight with a young bull.

"Following instructions and a demonstration by a professional bullfighter, four of us were given capes and went into the ring with the bull, which was about the size of a small pony," explained Dave.

He added, "Doing so many different things like this with the others on the trip led to all of us getting to know each other so well that we have already had four or five get-togethers during the month we've been home."

The group travelled through Europe by train, but crossed the English Channel by hovercraft between Calais and Dover. Transportation back to the States was a bit of a problem due to the strike by French air controllers, causing a 12-hour delay in leaving London's Gatwick Airport.

However, all arrived home safely and left behind the lands of flamenco dancers, catamounts, palaces and pubs. Now, plans for next year's trip are underway.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Had to have two smoke detectors installed at one of our sold houses to comply with the Certificate of Occupancy code. One of the places available to purchase a detector was the municipality itself. Favoring the free enterprise system I searched out a hardware who could benefit from the sale. The hardware store in fact was a little lower in price but this isn't my point. When I voiced my displeasure at this flagrant violation of our "system" I was reminded that you could also purchase plastic bags from the City Offices also.

Purchasing supplies from our City government isn't creeping socialism—it's just plain socialism! About the only way we can logically fight this is not to purchase anything from our local government! I can see that when the local government demands by-laws that you do certain things—such as bag our trash and install smoke detectors that they might have a loophole if there were no suppliers for the merchandise—but this is a ridiculous assumption!

It would certainly be a shame if our local governments decide to stock disposals and other items demanded by code. It would further be a shame if they decide to sell houses or cars or groceries!

This may sound a little anxious however our cities have no business messing around with our private operators. If a smoke detector is available by private enterprise our cities have no business whatsoever taking profit from "us"! So if you're buying your supplies from our cities let's think of our great little businesses that service our community and help them out. In fact if there is any person who feels they cannot find plastic bags or smoke detectors at a price competitive to our cities just give us a call at Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087. One of our associates will gladly pick them up for you and deliver them to you. While you're thinking about it why not let us appraise your home. It's just good business to know the value of your assets.

Members of the Detroit Unit of Recording for the Blind, Inc., will mark 20 years of service to the visually and physically handicapped in mid-September, and we're all invited to celebrate with them.

Date is Sunday, September 24. Place is Room 701, Science Library, Wayne State University. Hours are 2 to 5 in the afternoon.

The studio will be open for inspection, and among those who'll be on hand for the grand occasion are volunteers who, through the years, have helped to make the occasion grand.

People like Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Emmons, Jr., Miss Katherine Ogden, Mrs. Robert DeMascio and her daughter, Mary, Hervey C. Parke and Ervin LaRove.

People like Mrs. Kenneth W. Coleman, Mrs. Mark Reeve, Mrs. David Hadden, James B. Hughes, Henry C. Kohring and William J. Dennes.

People who've found, through Recording for the Blind, the satisfaction of being of service to others.

Their service is needed. And appreciated. They are delighted to welcome others to their ranks. There are some requirements, of course: two years of college or the equivalent in technical knowledge.

Readers cover everything from novels to textbooks to instructional manuals.

Think you might be interested? Come to the anniversary celebration, take a look at the studio, talk with the volunteers... the numbers to call for

They will view important floral and animal pieces, including a major limited edition of a black rhinoceros and calf.

Frank Cosentino, president of the Boehm Studios, is flying in from New Jersey for the evening. He will lecture on the history and fabric of porcelain, and will present his newly-published book: "The Boehm Journey to Egypt, Land of Tutankhamun."

The gala event is an appropriate kickoff for IBEX' new season. The club was founded in 1932 by Helen Moore Esling to give young women an opportunity to exercise their interest in the arts actively, via classes, and passively, via monthly lectures.

The first IBEX reception, in its founding year, honored Diego Rivera, who had just completed his murals at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The Boehm porcelains to be seen at Jacobson's are on a different scale than the massive Rivera work, but no less important on today's world cultural scene.

Tannahill Exhibit Opens With Gala

Mrs. Alger Shelden Chairs Cocktail-Dinner Preview of Art Collected by Grosse Pointe War Memorial Benefactor

A formal preview cocktail and dinner party with Dr. Frederick Cummings, director, Detroit Institute of Arts, will precede the opening of the distinguished Robert Hudson Tannahill Exhibition at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center Wednesday evening, September 6, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Alger Shelden is chairman of the dinner, assisted by Mrs. Stanley Dolega of the Grosse Pointe Artists Association, Mrs. Alvan Macauley and Mrs. John V. Renchard.

Honored guests include, in addition to Dr. Cummings, Michael Kan of the Detroit Art Institute, Mrs. Kan and Mr. and Mrs. William Bostick.

Mr. Bostick, former administrator of the Detroit Institute of Arts, was instrumental in selecting the very best and most representative works in the Tannahill collection for this showing.

He has prepared the catalog for the exhibit, and also the scroll of major donors to the War Memorial's New Art Wing. The scroll will be unveiled at the dinner gala.

Music School Is Expanding

The Detroit Community Music School heralds the opening of its 52nd year of musical instruction with the announcement of a widely-expanded curriculum and the opening of a North Woodward Branch in Bloomfield Hills.

Endeavoring to offer the most relevant musical education, traditional to contemporary, the school is adding studies in jazz and popular music and African music and dance to its course offerings this year.

A new choral program, the Renaissance Singers, is being established. The String Department will be enriched by a new association with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

In addition, DCMS this fall institutes a three-year certificate program to prepare qualified high school students for entrance to university music schools and conservatories.

Well-known Detroit jazz artist Bess Bonnier will head the jazz and popular music program at DCMS, along with Martin Kosins. James Tatum will serve as consultant.

Included will be weekly jazz performance workshops, history and development of jazz and popular music in America and private instruction in composition and songwriting.

Studies in African music and dance will be taught by Kwasi Adounum, an instructor from Ghana who has taught at the University of Michigan Extension Service. These classes will be available to both adults and children.

The Renaissance Singers, a new choral ensemble, will be made up of 10th, 11th and 12th graders from the metropolitan area. They will represent the school and the city on various occasions throughout the year including workshop performances

Mrs. Gregory Louisell

MARY BRADY BROWNING, daughter of the Lorenzo D. Brownings, of Lakeland avenue, was married Friday evening, August 25, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church to Mr. Louisell, son of Mrs. Michael Sadaj, of Harvard road, Detroit, and the late Joseph Louisell.

Louisell-Browning Vows Exchanged

Newlyweds Are Vacationing on Antigua, Will Return to Make Their Home in Lakepointe Avenue

A cruising reception aboard the Bob-Lo Boat, the SS Columbia, followed the early evening wedding of Mary Brady Browning and Gregory David Louisell last Friday, August 25, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo D. Browning, of Lakeland avenue. Mr. Browning is president of Bob-Lo, Inc.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Michael Sadaj, of Harvard road, Detroit, and the late Joseph Louisell.

Monsignor Francis Canfield, pastor of Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore, officiated at the 6:30 o'clock rites for which the bride chose a princess style gown of white organza appliqued with Duchesse lace.

Her skirt extended into a cathedral train. Her lace bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline.

Matching lace edged her cathedral length, two-tiered illusion veil, falling from a lace Juliet cap, and she carried a Colonial arrangement of white silk roses, stephanotis and baby's-breath.

Honor attendants were Mrs. Kelly Ketterman, sister of the bride, and Anne M. Kotts. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Sheldon D. Hall, Jr., of Urbanna, Va., another sister of the bride, Mrs. Michael G. Browning, of Indianapolis, and three sisters of the bridegroom: Marcia and Livia Louisell and Mrs. Robert Heidt.

They wore floor length frocks of mauve Qiana, sashed in mauve at their Empire waists, styled with scoop necklines and cap sleeves. They carried bouquets of needlepoint ivy and baby's-breath, and wore sprigs of baby's-breath in their hair.

James L. Louisell was best man for his brother. Groomsmen included John C. Louisell and Paul C. Louisell, two other brothers, and a quartet of the bride's brothers, Michael G. Browning, Geoffrey H. Browning, Robert D. Browning and James W. Browning, as well as Peter C. Griffin and John C. Couvreur, of Mount Clemens.

Flower girl was Courtney Youngblood, the bridegroom's niece. She wore a short-sleeved, floor length dress of white cotton eyelet layered over bright pink, with a matching pink satin sash, designed and fashioned by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Harold Gorry.

Courtney carried a basket of Sweetheart roses and baby's-breath, and wore sprigs of baby's-breath in her hair.

Ring bearer was Michael G. Browning, II, the bride's nephew.

The mother of the bride chose a floor length, long-sleeved dress of dusty rose crepe. It featured a ruffled, scoop neckline and was gathered at the waist by a pearl grey satin sash.

She carried a single white cymbidium orchid, with accents of baby's-breath.

Mrs. Sadaj's floor length gown of white organza hand-painted with floral motifs featured long, full sleeves. She, too, carried a single white cymbidium orchid with baby's-breath.

The newlyweds are vacationing on Antigua. They will return to make their home in Lakepointe avenue.

The new Mrs. Louisell attended Western Michigan University and is presently an executive secretary with William C. Roney & Company, Detroit. Mr. Louisell attended Kalamazoo College. He is president of Cytrack & Louisell Distributors, Inc.

with the Kenneth Jewell Chorale.

The choir also will tour during the summer months. Auditions are currently in progress.

The Detroit Symphony and DCMS will collaborate this year in an expansion of the String Department. Under auspices of a new DSO program, the Detroit Symphony Civic Orchestra, promising young string players from the Detroit community will be provided with private lessons at DCMS, completely or partially subsidized by a grant from the orchestra.

While maintaining a program of quality instruction in all areas of music and dance for all ages, DCMS is putting increased emphasis on strong pre-musicianship training for very young children.

Currently, Orff-Schulwerk training for three-to-five-year olds is offered. The Suzuki-Rupert violin and Pace Contemporary Group Piano programs also provide pre-musicianship and applied instrument training as well.

Teacher training courses and seminars for current classroom teachers in violin pedagogy, Pace Group Piano pedagogy, Orff-Schulwerk techniques and African music and dance will be offered in response to interest.

Located at 200 East Kirby street in the heart of the University-Cultural Center area, the Detroit Community Music School is the oldest school of its kind in the metropolitan area.

It was the first accredited community music school in Michigan and has earned a distinguished reputation for providing quality music and dance instruction.

Private and group lessons are available in piano, all orchestral instruments, voice and dance.

A new satellite branch of the school is being opened this fall at the Bloomfield Hills Academy for the convenience of citizens in the North Woodward area.

The 1978-79 academic year begins September 14. Further information, catalogues or application forms may be obtained by calling 831-2870 Monday through Friday, between 9 and 5 o'clock.

Receiving Bachelor of Arts degrees cum laude during spring commencement exercises at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., were WILLIAM D. DAHLING, JR., son of MR. and MRS. WILLIAM D. DAHLING, of Hawthorne road, who majored in Political Economy while enrolled in the Environmental Studies Program, and DAVID A. COOLIDGE, JR., son of MR. and MRS. DAVID COOLIDGE, of McMillan road, who majored in the History of Ideas.

Mr. Chalmers Weds in West

falling from the shoulders. A Venise lace cap caught the triple-tiered bridal veil, outlined in matching lace.

The bridal bouquet was a cloisonne arrangement of silk flowers.

Mrs. Paul S. Wemhoff, honor matron for her sister, and bridesmaids Mrs. Terence Gallagher, Paula Gager, of Rochester, N.Y., Mrs. Julio DiLaurentis, of Kingsville, Ont., and Sandra Luff carried arrangements of purple statice and baby's-breath.

Self belts sashed their frocks of mauve pink Qiana, styled with shirred bodices and elasticized necklines.

Douglas MacEachern came from Nantucket Island, Mass., to serve as his brother's best man.

In the usher corps were Kenneth MacEachern, of Sault Ste. Marie, Robert Gregory MacEachern, three other brothers, and Donald MacEachern, the bridegroom's cousin.

The mother of the bride wore a mauve pink and white floral print jersey, ruffled at wrists and hem. Lace ruching rimmed the neckline of the two-piece, shell beige knit costume selected by the bridegroom's mother.

Both mothers wore corsages of white gardenias.

Robert Deneweths Vacation in South

Mary Marguerite Cronenworth Is Attended by Her Sister at Rites in Early July; Bridegroom's Brother Is Best Man

Sterling Heights is home for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Raymond Deneweth, who vacationed at Myrtle Beach, S.C., following their marriage Saturday, July 8, in St. Clair.

Father James Opferman officiated at the morning ceremony.

It was followed by a breakfast at the St. Clair Inn and an afternoon lawn reception at the St. Clair home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cronenworth.

The former Mary Marguerite Cronenworth chose a traditional, lace-trimmed white gown for her summer wedding. Lace edged her veil, and she carried an arm bouquet.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. D. P. Cavanaugh, at the 10 o'clock rites.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Deneweth, of Anita avenue, asked his brother, R. A. Deneweth, to serve as best man.

The Robert Deneweths

Marriage vows were spoken in St. Clair Saturday, July 8, by MARY MARGUERITE CRONENWORTH, daughter of the Charles Cronenworths, of St. Clair, and Mr. Deneweth, son of the Raymond Deneweths, of Anita avenue.

Miss Clifford Wed in East

Marriage vows were spoken Saturday, August 19, at noon in Saint Paul's Chapel, Broadway at Fulton street in New York City, by Leslie Lee Clifford and Peter Bolton Snyder.

She is the daughter of former Pointers Mr. and Mrs. Franklin King Clifford, who now make their home in Clearwater, Fla., and Coeburn, Va. Mr. Clifford is an independent consulting engineer and mine operator and Mrs. Clifford, known professionally as Dr. Clare Knight Clifford, is a clinical and neuro psychologist.

Mr. Snyder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Mesier Snyder, of Lawrence, Long Island, N.Y. Philip Snyder is a retired sales manager of Ecco Business Systems, New York City.

The bride is the granddaughter of Webster Bonham Knight, of Detroit, and the late Mrs. Knight, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lowell Clifford, of Douglaston, N.Y.

The bridegroom is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mandeville Mullally, of Hewlett, Long Island, N.Y., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Mesier Reese Snyder, of Summit, N.J.

The Rehearsal Dinner was held Friday, August 18, at the Colony Club. The World Trade Center's "Windows on the World" was the setting for the luncheon reception following the ceremony.

Mrs. David Lowell Clifford came from Ann Arbor to serve as her sister-in-law's honor matron. The bride's sister, Mrs. Richard Olsen Baer, of Columbus, O., the former Kristin Clifford, was bridesmaid.

Best man was Robert Mullally Snyder. Ushers were Philip Mesier Snyder, Jr., Mr. Baer and Dr. David Lowell Clifford.

The new Mrs. Snyder, a University Liggett School alumna who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Mass Communications from Simmons College, is a market coordinator with Polygram Distribution, Inc., a record distributor, in Woburn, Mass.

The bridegroom was graduated from the Berkshire School, Sheffield, Mass., and

The wedding is planned for August 11, 1979.

Miss Osborn, a Grosse Pointe South High School alumna, was graduated in June from Michigan State University, in Medical Technology, and is now serving an internship at Henry Ford Hospital. Her sorority is Chi Omega.

Mr. Montague, son of former Pointers Mr. and Mrs. Eugene B. Montague, who now make their home in Howell, also was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School.

He attended Michigan State University and is completing work at the University of Detroit for his degree in Accounting. He has been named to the National Dean's List.

Emerson College, Boston, Mass., with a Bachelor of Science degree in Mass Communications.

He is a news production assistant with WNAZ-TV in Boston.

Shores Setting for La Leche

La Leche League of Detroit Northeast will hold the first meeting of its next series Thursday, September 14, at 8 o'clock in Grosse Pointe Shores.

The name, La Leche, is Spanish and means "the milk." La Leche began in a Chicago suburb nearly 21 years ago when one mother who had successfully nursed her baby helped another who wanted to breastfeed.

The league is a non-sectarian, non-profit organization. Its purpose is to help encourage good mothering through breastfeeding.

The group meets the second Thursday of each month. A series of four meetings will discuss, informally, different phases of breastfeeding.

Topic for the September meeting is "The Advantages of Breastfeeding to Mother and Baby." Discussion leaders will be Margaret McNaughton, 882-8531, and Ann Backhurst, 882-0069, either of whom will be happy to answer questions and provide further information.

All women who are interested in nursing their babies are invited, as are their babies. One need not be pregnant to attend.

Detroit Garden Center Slates Craft Classes

Reservations are being accepted by the Detroit Garden Center, headquartered in The Moross House in East Jefferson avenue, opposite the University Club, for craft classes beginning Wednesday, September 13, and continuing Wednesdays for eight weeks.

Fee for each workshop is still $2, reports Helen Stickle, chairman, and each will feature a sales table where craft kits may be purchased.

Pre-registration is necessary via checks sent to the center, where more information may be obtained by telephone: 259-6363. Free parking is available on either side of Jefferson or behind the center, in Woodbridge street.

The workshops run from 10 in the morning until 2 in the afternoon. Participants should bring their own bag lunches. Beverages will be provided.

The first workshop on The Living Wreath, conducted by Van Askounas, is filled. Waiting list applications are being accepted.

Betty Haynes will conduct the second program, on Porcelain Violets, September 20, and Dottie Vickland will show how to fashion Macrame Angels September 27.

Ribbon Wreaths will be Helen Stickle's topic October 4. Woven Pots with Dried Flowers will be Wanda Oziunk's topic October 11. Mary White Ford will lead the workshop on Dried Flower Pictures October 18. Fernande Biglin has planned a Surprise Christmas Project for October 25, and the series closes November 1 with Rose Govig's Christmas Project.

MOT Issues Casting Call

Michigan Opera Theatre is putting out a call for local singers and dancers to perform in "Show Boat," the second production of MOT's 1978-79 season, opening October 27.

Auditions are scheduled for Saturday, September 9, at Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts. Singers will be heard from 10 in the morning to 2 in the afternoon. Dancers may try out from 7 to 9 in the evening.

All persons auditioning must be at least 18 years old and must be available for rehearsals two weeks in advance of opening night and for 14 "Show Boat" performances.

Rehearsals will be held October 9 through 26: Monday through Friday from 7 to 10 in the evening; Saturday from 10 in the morning to 1 in the afternoon, 2 to 5 in the afternoon and 7 to 10 in the evening; and Sunday from 2 to 5 in the afternoon and 7 to 10 in the evening.

Performances are scheduled for October 27, 28 and 31 and November 2, 3, 4, 9, 10 and 11 at 8:30 in the evening; October 29 and November 5 at 6:30 in the evening; and November 1, 7 and 8 at 1:30 in the afternoon.

To assure a position on the audition roster, applicants should call Sandra Perkins at MOT, 963-3717, Monday through Friday between 9 and 5:30 o'clock.

Singers, who will be trying out for roles and chorus positions, must be able to read music and must have stage performance experience. They should prepare two opera or musical theater selections and bring the sheet music for these pieces.

Piano accompaniment will be provided, but singers may bring their own accompanist if they prefer.

Dancers must be proficient in musical comedy technique, incorporating a background in jazz, ballet and tap.

National Smoker Study Hails Merit.

'Enriched Flavor'™ cigarette scores high marks in five key areas.

Can MERIT deliver the flavor of leading high tar brands?

Does MERIT satisfy smokers over a long period—or are MERIT smokers slipping back to old high tar favorites?

Read the bottom-line results of new research conducted with smokers like yourself.

MERIT Breakthrough Confirmed

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers rate MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading high tar cigarettes tested! Cigarettes having up to twice the tar.

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers confirm taste satisfaction of low tar MERIT.

And in detailed interviews conducted among current MERIT smokers:

Confirmed: 85% of MERIT smokers say it was an "easy switch" from high tar brands.

Confirmed: Overwhelming majority of MERIT smokers say their former high tar brands weren't missed!

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 MERIT smokers not considering other brands.

First Major Alternative To High Tar Smoking

MERIT has proven conclusively that it not only delivers the flavor of high tar brands—but continues to satisfy.

This ability to satisfy over long periods of time could be the most important evidence to date that MERIT is what it claims to be: The first major alternative to high tar smoking.

NOTICE OF HEARING ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

Notice is hereby given that the Zoning Board of Appeals will meet in the City Hall at 90 Kerby Road, Grosse Pointe Farms on at 8:00 p.m. to hear the appeal of Mr. Nicholas Revelos, owner of the premises located at 244 Williams Avenue, from the denial of the Building Department to issue a Permit for the renovation and enlargement of a family room at the rear of his home at the foregoing address. Such Permit issuance was denied for reason that the proposed enlargement of the family room at the rear of the home located at the foregoing address would infringe upon minimum required open rear yard space of 30 feet, leaving a rear yard of 20 feet, and thereby requiring a variance from the provisions of Article XIII, Section 1300 of the City's Zoning Ordinance.

The Hearing will be public. Interested property owners or residents of the City are invited to attend.

16 New Classes Added to Adult Ed Program

A total of 16 new offerings in the Adult Education program operated by the public schools' Department of Continuing Education have been scheduled for the fall, according to Dr. George Eddington, supervisor of the program.

"These new courses are in addition to the university-credit offerings, the usual courses in arts and crafts, sports and exercise, home-making activities, career and vocational education, foreign languages, music, dance, special interest and self-improvement classes that are being repeated," Dr. Eddington stated.

Among the new courses is one in cooking, "The Never-Throw-Anything-Away - Cooking Class," on Wednesday nights for 10 weeks by Jeanette Duffield.

Mrs. Duffield will share a lifetime's store of cooking hints in the class designed to help Pointers to cope more successfully with the inflated cost of food.

Mrs. Duffield, who has studied with Dione Lucas of Cordon Bleu fame, will emulate the thrifty French housewife as she demonstrates basic soups, sauces and successful recipes with lesser cuts of meat.

Richard Benoit, Pierce Middle School science instructor, will teach the fundamentals of bird watching.

one of America's fastest growing leisure pursuits. Three Wednesday evening classes will be combined with three Saturday morning field trips for marsh birds, hawk-watching and migratory water fowl.

"How to Raise an Emotionally Healthy, Happy Child" is the title of a series of six lectures and discussions in which Dr. Lorraine Colletti will highlight the needs of children at various stages and phases of their growth and development from infancy through adolescence.

As the mother of three children and a pediatric psychologist in private local practice, Dr. Colletti draws from both personal and professional experience for the series.

"Perspective on Europe: Art History for The Traveler" has been designed either as preparation for a trip or as a post-travel experience. Instructor June Nelson, an author and art historian on the staff of the Department of Art and Art History at Wayne State University, spent a year and half studying in Florence, Italy, and has toured Europe extensively a number of times.

Mrs. Nelson's Tuesday evening presentations at South High School on the major monuments in Greece, Italy, Spain, Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and England will be illustrated with slides and personal commentary.

Another new offering, co-sponsored by the Department of Continuing Education with Vital Woman, is "Fitness Celebration." On Wednesday night women will be able to develop their awareness of health and fitness through a balanced program which includes attention to diet, swimming, awareness of one's body, tips on jogging and running, visual poise and dance.

Another new course, also co-sponsored with Vital Woman, is "Dancefit." Becoming physically fit can be achieved through swaying, stretching, hopping, skipping and jumping. The course meets for an hour, twice weekly for 10 weeks.

A class in macrame also is slated. Students will learn all the basic knots as they make their first two projects, a plant hanger and a sampler towel holder, then let their imaginations run wild on their third endeavor during the 10-week course.

Eleanor Grifo, a registered dietitian with the American Dietetic Ass'n., who holds a graduate degree in Community Nutrition, will teach "Nutrition: A Practical Approach" on seven Tuesday mornings.

Using a simplified approach to nutrition which she developed as an instructor at the University of Tennessee and for the Dayton, O., Health Department, Mrs. Grifo offers a course for those interested in their own health and well-being.

In addition to her simplified presentation on the chemical composition of the body and the composition of foods, Mrs. Grifo will discuss what happens to vitamins and minerals during cooking and storage, what is considered an adequate diet, what one should know about the most common additives, lifelong dietary habits and facts every intelligent consumer should know.

"Employability Skills" is a no-fee course offered by Jayne Warner at North High School. Where are the jobs today? Where will the jobs be in the future?

A fast moving society makes it imperative for men and women to stay abreast not only of new fields of employment, but also of the skills required to enter them. Students enrolled in the course will have access to the latest personal interest inventory testing techniques and to the computer-based Michigan Occupation Information System, (MOIS).

Dorothy Mongoven will present "Teacher Effectiveness Training," (TET), designed not only to teach the same basic human relations skills as the Parent Effectiveness Training, (PET), course but to give additional training in the area of special skills required for teachers.

This course is designed to help the teacher to perform better such functions as facilitating self-directed learning in students, in conducting more productive student-centered classroom discussion and in fostering a classroom climate of intellectual freedom and creativity.

"French Literature" will be offered on Wednesday nights by Janet Bacharach Schroeder. It is designed for students with a reading ability of French equivalent to approximately that of two years of high school language who do not wish to forget it. Ideas and themes found in French newspapers, magazines and contemporary fiction will be discussed in English.

Edward Tillotson, a programming consultant and former instructor at Wayne

State University and the University of Michigan, will teach interested Pointers how to get the most out of their programmable calculators.

Using a RPN, ("Reverse Polish Notation"), calculator, Mr. Tillotson will help those enrolled in his Wednesday night eight-week course at South High to program their calculators to solve problems encountered daily in their business and personal life.

This course is designed to find reliable solutions to both simple and complex problems in finance, real estate, engineering, marketing and sales and statistics by fully exploiting the potential of the RPN calculator.

"Calligraphy," will be taught by Sybil Oshinsky, a Detroit-area painter and teacher, who learned the basics of Calligraphy at the Rhode Island School of Design.

Three new dance classes are slated for the fall. They are "Disco and Ballroom Dance," "Jazz Dance" and "Spanish Dance," all taught by Mary Kuczajda.

Disco and Ballroom is a combination of today's disco steps and the romantic movements of ballroom dancing. Students will become aware of two social dance forms blending into today's latest dance steps.

Jazz Dance, which is due to be the newest "in" craze, will recreate the steps of the 1930's and 1940's made popular by Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire.

Spanish Dance will enable students to learn the staccato level stomping formed in Andalusia as well as to manipulate the castanets. "Leaded Glass Workshop," a shorter version of Stained Glass Workshop, also will be offered. Students enrolling in the course will design and create suncatchers using copper foil and lead methods.

A full description of the new courses as well as a complete listing of all the offerings of the Department of Continuing Education is contained in a brochure mailed to all residents of the school district this week.

Registration for the fall session will begin on Tuesday, September 5, with most classes and activities slated to begin the last week in September. Registrants should call 343-2178 beginning September 5, then mail in their tuition checks as soon thereafter as possible.

Early registration is urged since a number of the classes have limited enrollment.

Center Asking for Volunteers

Volunteer Services at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, which does helpful work for the community, is in need of more helpers and workers.

The Service Guild for Children's Hospital meets each Tuesday beginning September 5 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. making bandages, swabs and a host of other needed supplies.

They are the only group permitted to work away from the hospital.

Volunteers earn hash marks and caps for service, and often work for a special need at the hospital. They bring a sack lunch and coffee is provided.

The Cancer Crusaders meet each Monday beginning September 11 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Workers are always needed to distribute materials and make, collect and issue finished pads for those in need. As well as workers, the group is always in need of clean white cloth.

Braille Transcription, to teach sighted people to transcribe the many reading materials and instructions for the blind, is taught free of charge by Mrs. John McNamara on Thursdays, September 21 to May 24, from 10 to 11:30 a.m.

Instructional and other materials are furnished at cost, (about $10), and manuscripts are submitted to the Library of Congress at the end of the course to receive a transcriber's certificate to work for Leader Dog, the Red Cross and similar organizations.

The War Memorial maintains a free loan closet where citizens in need may borrow crutches, walkers, wheel chairs, hospital beds and other hospital equipment as long as it is in stock.

Citizens also may borrow blood from the community blood bank free of charge in case of emergency if it is replaced by relatives or friends within the year.

Woods Buys New Trucks

Two new trucks for the DPW were approved for purchase by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, August 21.

The solons accepted the bids of Jefferson Chevrolet Co. of Detroit in the amounts of $4,310 for a half-ton pickup and $7,160.16 for a 12-foot van.

Leonard Ocelnik, DPW director, said the department's present pickup truck at the Lake Front Park is in need of replacement, with the 1970 vehicle having over 56,000 miles on it.

Meanwhile, the 1973 water department van has over 32,000 miles on it and was termed dangerous because of the amount of load it carries.

Mr. Ocelnik felt a large vehicle would be beneficial for several reasons including the prevention of overloading dangers and eliminating excessive trips to the garage for supplies.

He suggested the 1973 van could be kept for street maintenance to replace one of the three disposed vehicles.

GI LOANS

GI home loan eligibility can be used an unlimited number of times provided the veteran applicant has no outstanding VA guaranteed loan.

You dearly loved
old Aunt Hester,
but that antique jewelry
she left you
is for the birds.

You shouldn't, and probably wouldn't, sell treasured family heirlooms without careful consideration. But you shouldn't just automatically keep every inherited piece either. Tucked away in a safe deposit box you may have jewelry that just doesn't suit your taste or lifestyle. Jewelry that could be exchanged for something you'd like much better or that could even be traded for cash.

After all, times, tastes and values do change. A ring, or broach left you years ago may now be worth considerably more than you ever imagined.

The best way to find out for sure, is to have it appraised by experts.

At Charterhouse we're buyers, sellers, brokers and appraisers of fine jewelry, antique timepieces, and Georgian silver.

With worldwide resources at our fingertips.

We can help you to decide which pieces are worth selling and which pieces are worth keeping.

Just call our resident appraisers for assistance and advice.

Crescent Hosts Scherer Memorial, DRYA Races

Two separate race events were held on Saturday, August 26, and Sunday, August 27, at the Crescent Sail Yacht Club.

Skipper John McAllister II and his brother, Dave, took two firsts and a third with a total of four and a half points to win the 15th annual J. Otto Scherer Memorial Junior Sailing Championship on Sunday at the club.

A steady 12 to 15 knot southeast wind provided the competitors with ideal weather conditions.

Skipper Ron Sherry and crew Wesley Smith finished in a very close second place with four and three quarters points. They took two seconds and a first making the final race the most exciting of the three-race series.

Third place was won by skipper Nick Cost and his crew Dave Balcrak of Bayview Yacht Club. They took two thirds and a second.

Skipper Stu Argo and crew D. J. Hazebrook from Bayview finished fourth and skipper Kate Abramson and crew Joe Norton of the Great Lakes Yacht Club took fifth.

This series was run for the 15th straight year by Commodore Herbert J. Mainwaring. He was assisted by Mrs. Mainwaring, Jo Dan Harting III, Chris Groschner, Bernard Tonowski, Edwin Boothroyd and Maynard Rupp.

The races were sailed in Junior Flying Sloops. Competition is limited to boys and girls 17 years and under. The perpetual trophy is a memorial to the late Mr. Scherer of The Park in recognition of his achievements in establishing the Junior Sailing program in this area. Mrs. Scherer presented the trophies.

On Saturday, the Detroit River Yachting Ass'n., (DRYA), race was sponsored by Crescent. Generally light airs prevailed, with some of the large boats racing on the "A" course finishing at 7 p.m.

In the IOR A class, Fujimo out of the Great Lakes Yacht Club took top honors. Sine Qua Non took first in the PRF A class.

IOR B honors were taken by Hotflash from Bayview Yacht Club, while Longshot, also out of Bayview, took first in PRF B.

The CIC's were taken by Bayview's Disruption, while PRF C was won by Whiskers of the North Star Sail Club.

PRF D and E were won by Bayview's Vivo and Crescent's Janta, respectively. In MORC A, it was Special K from the North Star Sail Club, while MORC B was still in dispute.

On the C course, Spectrum took the Cal 20's for Crescent and E. D. Cowler took first in the Raven class.

Banshee won the multi-hulls for the host club, as did Dandy Dancer in the Crescent class. Picadilly took first in the Etchells for Bayview.

Finally, Crescent members took all first places on the F course, with John Allister taking the Flying Juniors, Lee Greening winning the Finos, Fred Eng taking the Lightnings and Loretta Sherry winning the Thistles.

The tent dinner following Saturday's race was the best attended ever, with 314 race participants, according to Rear Commodore Frank Boehm.

He said the event was "overall, a very successful regatta."

GP Swim Club Slates Sign Up

The Grosse Pointe Swim Club's annual membership meeting will take place Thursday, September 14, at the North High School cafeteria at 8 p.m.

All parents of Pointe children interested in competitive swimming in AAU sanctioned meets should plan to register their swimmers at this time. Schedules depending upon group placements will be available soon after registration. There will be no swimming on the 14th.

Swim Club president Art Colton explains there are no requirements for membership other than residence in The Pointe, plus appropriate fees. New members will be accepted on a first-come, first-serve basis.

The club has been responsible for developing and training five of the current top 10 swimmers in every age group in the metropolitan Detroit area, according to head coach John Sfere. Many of the club's swimmers hold state championship and national rankings.

With an eye to the future, coach Sfere notes that the club's instructional swimming program has accepted swimmers as young as three-years-old. The club places children at their competitive level according to cutoff times established by the Michigan AAU so that they compete against swimmers of similar age and capability in major area meets. Less experienced swimmers compete in races at inter-club meets.

The philosophy of the program places a premium on the development of young swimmers as whole people. Individual improvement, attitude, self-discipline and good sportsmanship are all given consideration with competition. The greatest emphasis is placed on improvement.

Families having questions regarding the swim club program may call the following members for information: Mrs. Helen Van Tiem, 881-2470, Mrs. Margie Smith, 886-5102, or Mrs. Marion Coyle, 499-1575.

Membership chairman Tom Shope looks forward to seeing returning families and to welcoming newcomers at the meeting.

GPW Approves Drain Tax Hike

The Woods Council unanimously concurred with the recommendation of City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher and increased the city's drain tax from 3.00 mills per thousand to 3.20 mills per thousand assessed valuation.

This action was taken at the regular meeting Monday, August 21.

In a memo to the council, Mr. Hornfisher cited several reasons for the increase including the following:

- The operating maintenance of the Milk River Pumping Station this year jumped by $11,753.55.

- The rebate fund on the Milk River Drain and Black Marsh Drain is now depleted, therefore, the city no longer has any credit on these issues. (Last year was the final credit, which was in the amount of $72,165.98.)

- This year, due to repair work, the city had a maintenance charge on Girard Drain No. 1 in the amount of $4,900.70.

The city's payment cost increased this year because of the Milk River Pumping Station charge, the loss of credit and the additional maintenance charge, he said. These three items hiked the cost by $88,820.23.

Clown Corps Activities Set

Members of the Grosse Pointe Clown Corps are making plans for a busy September which will include participation in a variety of activities.

They will visit the Harper Woods Memorial Park on Monday, September 4, to participate in a barbecue for muscular dystrophy, while on Saturday, September 9, they will take part in the Grosse Pointe Artist Ass'n. art festival at the War Memorial.

Following a membership drive on Wednesday, September 27, at Woods public safety department headquarters at 7:30 p.m., the group will attend a Tiger baseball game for members and their families on Saturday, September 30.

Plans call for the corps to participate in the Detroit Fire Prevention Parade and a Halloween party in October, while registration drives will continue through the fall and winter.

Membership in the group is open to any youth who lives in the Pointes and the east side of Harper Woods. Participants are in the first through 12th grade.

If any group such as the Cub Scouts, Brownies, Blue Birds or Camp Fire Girls, needs clowns for any kind of entertainment, they are invited to call corps chairman Arthur J. Kuehnel at 881-8186.

The corps also enjoys entertaining at birthday parties and other activities.

PWP Plans Discussions

The active Widow and Widowers' group of Grosse Pointe Chapter of Parents Without Partners, (PWP), will meet on Friday, September 1, for a discussion moderated by Beth Reed.

All members or prospective members of the group are welcome to participate. For information, call the discussion director at 882-0316.

To be eligible for membership in PWP, a person must be the parent of one or more living sons or daughters, and be single by reason of death, divorce, separation or never married.

General PWP meetings are held the second and fourth Fridays of each month at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road.

For more information on the group's activities, call 881-5892.

OF THE
CITY COUNCIL, ACTING AS A BOARD OF APPEALS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE ZONING ORDINANCE

CITY OF
Grosse Pointe Woods
MICHIGAN

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City Council, meeting as a Board of Appeals under the provisions of Section 5-11-5 of the 1975 City Code of Grosse Pointe Woods, will meet in the Council-Court Room of the Municipal Building, 20025 Mack Avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods, on

at 7:30 p.m. o'clock to hear the appeal of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron H. Piggott, 861 South Oxford, Grosse Pointe Woods, who are appealing the denial of the Building Inspector to issue a Building Permit for property described as:

The West 55.0 feet of Lot 224 and the East 15.0 feet of Lot 225 of Arthur J. Scully's Eastmoreland Park Subdivision.

Mr. and Mrs. Piggott propose to construct an addition to their home located at 861 South Oxford. A Building Permit was denied because Section 5-4-1 (F) of the 1975 code requires a side yard setback of eight feet for a home in a R-1 single-family residential district. Mr. and Mrs. Piggott desire to add an addition that would extend 3.6 feet into the side yard setback. In accordance with Section 5-4-1 (F) of the 1975 City Code, an addition such as proposed by Mr. and Mrs. Piggott cannot be built on said lot unless a variance is granted.

This will be a public hearing and all interested parties are invited to attend.

Monday Evening, September 18, 1978
at 7:30 p.m. o'clock to hear the appeal of Shorewood E.R. Brown Builders, Inc., 20431 Mack Avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods, who is appealing the denial of the Building Inspector to issue a Building Permit for property described as:

Lot No. 109 of Marks and Mahoney Subdivision No. 3 (575 Canterbury)

Shorewood E.R. Brown Builders propose to construct a circular drive at 575 Canterbury. A Building Permit was denied because Ordinance No. 369 prohibits a paved parking area which exceeds thirty percent in coverage the required front yard area for a residential lot in an R-1 zoned district. In accordance with the provisions of Ordinance No. 369 and Section 5-11-5 of the 1975 City Code of Grosse Pointe Woods, said circular drive cannot be constructed unless a variance is granted by the Board of Appeals.

This will be a public hearing and all interested parties are invited to attend.

FIRST OFFERING
GROSSE POINTE WOODS
Here's one to suit your needs if you are looking in the 50's!! Its a 4 bedroom two story, one and a half bath, Den and Breakfast room. In this range they are rapidly becoming so scarce. We advise haste — make a call now.
FIRST OFFERING
LOVELY COLONIAL.
We offer this outstanding home, in the Tudor style for your consideration. Its a genuine family residence with 4/5 bedrooms, three and two half baths. You will certainly be impressed when you see the features, including natural woodwork. We think the price — in the 80's — is excellent value.
GROSSE POINTE SHORES
Center entrance Colonial in the best section of the Pointes. An imposing residence of style and class, this had 4 bedrooms plus a separate suite on the 3rd floor. There's a great 1st floor, big family room, two fireplaces and so much more. If this is your market we shall be happy to tell you the details.
CENTER ENTRANCE COLONIAL
Look this lovely home over from the outside, then view the well maintained interior. This ready to move in residence is a beauty in all respects with its 4 big bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths. The superb condition and the excellent floor plan raises this one above the rest. Its ready to show.
GROSSE POINTE SHORES
May we take your offer to the owners? They want to sell their imposing Georgian mansion — in the prestigious Shores. Only a step from the lake, there's more bedrooms and baths than you'll need. A great home for entertaining. We advertise this with great sincerity, so call us now for an appointment.
ST. CLAIR ON THE LAKE
Townhouse Condo in the luxury Manor. We think the price — mid 60's — is just right for this offering. Has so many nice features with its 2 bedrooms plus the trimmings. Remember they are difficult to find, especially close to the Lake, so do not hesitate.
A LITTLE GEM
We cannot find any homes in the Pointes around the 50's — but what's this? One at $41,500!! Yes, it's true, three bedrooms too. Next to the Village — it has just come back on the market. We sold in hours last time — so hurry!!
INCOME PROPERTY
We present an income 4/3 which is different — only because its so well kept and maintained. The plus features in property investment!! Look this one over and see why the rents are so good. The price is in the 50's.
WARRANTY
Take the risk out of house buying — most of our offerings have a guarantee built into the asking price.
DETROIT
Come into our office and discuss our variety of listings — some income.
VACANT LAND
Six lots in St. Clair Shores, $24,000. Lakeshore Drive — the last of the few $78,000.00.

Man Injured In Fight at Bar

A Woods man has been charged with felonious driving following an incident which occurred at the rear of the Pointer Pub, 18666 Mack avenue, early Tuesday morning, August 22.

Peter Lawrence Koester, 19, of Blairmoor road allegedly drove a car into another man, Joseph Edmund Kaspor of Oxford road causing a chest injury to Mr. Kaspor requiring 24 stitches to close.

The incident apparently stemmed from a number of fights which were occurring at the bar.

Koester was arraigned before Park Municipal Judge Beverly C. Grobbel on the felonious driving charge. He was freed on a total of $192 bond pending his examination date of Wednesday, August 30.

In addition to the driving charge, Koester was wanted on two traffic warrants, one in The Woods and the other in St. Clair Shores.

Farms Officers David Beekman and Gerald Deburghraeve were on patrol when they heard a Detroit dispatcher broadcast a report of a man down in the rear of the Pointer Pub. Upon arrival, an Emergency Medical Service vehicle was in the process of conveying Mr. Kaspor to Saint John Hospital.

The officers put out a bulletin to other area departments, describing the vehicle and the name of the driver. The description was supplied by witnesses in the area.

Koester was picked up by Woods police approximately 15 minutes later and was taken to The Farms station.

According to witnesses, a fight broke out in the drive between the bar and the Farms Delicatessen, 18660 Mack. During the fight, the car allegedly driven by Koester was moving down the drive when it stopped and a passenger got out, leaving the door open.

The witnesses said the car then sped up in reverse, striking Mr. Kaspor and another man at the rear of the bar.

Another fight had occurred about 20 minutes before the incident, witnesses said. That altercation sent another man to Saint John Hospital where a head wound was closed with four stitches.

SHOULD HAVE TEST

The ability to hear better in noisy places than in quiet locations may be the sign of a hearing loss, according to officials of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation. Persons experiencing this condition should have a hearing test at their earliest convenience, the officials add.

Pointe Counter Points

By Pat Rousseau

The Evening Tuxedo . . . styled for fashionable ladies comes in different versions at Walton-Pierce. A black crepe vest with a roll satin collar and black and rhinestone buttons shelters a black crepe dress with satin straps and a side slit to show a pretty leg. A double breasted crepe tuxedo jacket tops a slender skirt. Then there is a sleeveless black crepe wrap dress with a satin tuxedo roll collar. Looking for a corduroy coat? One of the smartest we've seen is from Cheetahsport. It is made of wide wale corduroy in the color of autumn wheat. It's extra is Dupont Zepel that repels rain and stain. The perfect choice for sunny or skies that shower. Diane Von Furstenberg's silver gray poplin is collared with gray dyed opossum and lined with cozy gray pile. If you like the jumper look and feel, you'll enjoy wearing the fine corduroy slate blue jumper with an elasticized waist. It comes with a charming little floral print blouse. Another choice is a beige wrap jumper paired with its creamy white, silky blouse. For evening, there's a long platinum chiffon dress set off by a silver sequined bolero. A long melon chiffon dress is sparked with a bugle beaded bolero. There's so much fashion to see at Walton-Pierce with more stock than ever before. Stop in today and park in the free parking lot behind Walton-Pierce. Just another convenience for Walton-Pierce customers.

Let The Experts . . . at Mutschler Kitchens, Inc. design a kitchen that is truly your own. They have Wood-Mode, Coppes, Rutt and Poggenpohl cabinets. And each is available in a multitude of styles, woods, and finishes, including a rainbow of colors to fit your decor. Stop in and see them today at Mutschler Kitchens, Inc., 20277 Mack Avenue, 884-3700.

Soap Special . . . at the Notre Dame Pharmacy . . . 4711 soap. You get four bars for $4.50 . . . regularly $7.

HONEYMOONS!! Where to go? Mr. Q. Travel has two excellent booklets to help you plan a trip to an island . . . California, Colorado, Arizona, Canada. We extend our warmest wishes on the beginning of a long and happy life together. Travelwise travelers always ask for Mr. Q. 886-0500.

Now's The Time . . . to shop for and if you like layaway pieces of the Spode Christmas Tree pattern . . . tea cups and saucers, Tom and Jerry Mugs, tidbit trays. Find them at the Squirrel's Nest, 19849 Mack.

Campus-Bound Students . . . have you put off getting those new glasses? Woods Optical Studio is standing by to give you fast service and the styles you want. Classic shapes, thin rims and amber color are the trends. Stop by 19599 Mack between 7 and 8 Mile Roads . . . 882-9711.

Timely Offering . . . at Bijouterie if you buy a Technos lady's or man's watch, you will get another Technos watch free for a limited time only. Stop at Bijouterie, the diamond and gold place of Grosse Pointe, 19860 Mack corner of Huntington. Closed Mondays . . . 886-2050.

Hurry . . . to Ed Malizevski Carpeting, 21435 Mack for Lee's Factory Authorized Carpet SALE. It ends September 2. Don't miss the savings . . . 776-5511.

Ron Ruel Says . . . Why worry about natural wavy or curly hair? Now the time is right for you. Frizz, curls and waves are in. This look can be designed just for you through a good cut. Hair that is layered so no matter which way you shake your head the voluminous style will fall right into place. Ron suggests cut and lamp drying for this sultry look. MRS. DAVID OLSON, (LEFT), OF BISHOP ROAD, AND MRS. PHILLIP A. HALL OF HEATHER LANE

By Janet Mueller

They met in San Francisco. Which was odd, as they'd both been living in Grosse Pointe for years . . . but it took an Industrial Distributors Convention to bring Matina Hall and Nancy Olson together. They'd accompanied their husbands, (Phil is president of Hall Industries; David is Michigan District Sales Manager for General Electric Carbonyl), to the West Coast.

"That was three, four years ago." As couples and as individuals, it was a fortunate conjunction.

Now the Olsons and the Halls celebrate holidays together. In The Pointe, they're both nuclear families: no relatives in the immediate vicinity, other than the children.

Cozy Group of Eight Tina's Dan, 18, just graduated from Grosse Pointe North High School, is about to go off to Ferris State. Steve, 22, works for his father and will attend Michigan State University in the fall.

Nancy's Kari, 15, will be a junior at Grosse Pointe South High School this year. David, 10, is still at Maire.

Thanksgiving for eight is so much better than Thanksgiving for four, and two cooks have a much better time in the kitchen. Especially if they're Matina Hall and Nancy Olson, working together.

"I do a lot of baking," says Tina. So does Nancy. Neither has to be pushed to the cake pan/cookie sheet; for both, it's a relaxation.

This fall, Nancy and Matina are working together out of the kitchen, co-chairing "The French Connection," a fabulous evening at Jacobson's in-the-Village featuring cocktails and dinner and music and a showing of Yves St. Laurent's, Rive Gauche clothes, with commentary by an Yves St. Laurent Paris representative.

It's set for Saturday, September 9. It begins at 7, with a cocktail hour.

Dinner Dance Follows The fashions will be shown from 8 until 9, after which patrons will gather in Jacobson's St. Clair Room to complete the evening with a prime rib dinner and dancing until 1 in the morning.

And there's more . . . Mireille (Mrs. Warren S.) Wilkinson is coordinating a display of French antiques from DuMouchelle's and Danielle's. The Belle Isle Conservatory is donating plants to provide a blooming background.

Invitations for the evening, (black tie optional), a benefit for Operation LINC—nator, a clearing house, a bridgebuilder, a catalyst."

The Goals of LINC Its goals, (again quoting Barbara Willett), are 1), to catalog the needs and resources of the community and link the needs with the resources; 2) to establish a medium through which diverse members of the Greater Detroit community can meet and learn from one another; 3) to provide LINC volunteers with meaningful experiences, utilizing their time and talents.

It was established as a pilot project of the Junior League of Detroit in 1971, in response to a suggestion by New Detroit, Inc. The League officially terminated sponsorship of Operation LINC this June. LINC continues, with its own tax exempt status, as an independent agency, with Mrs. Willett as president.

In 1973, community volunteers joined Junior League volunteers in working for LINC. In March, 1975, LINC moved into its present office in East Jefferson avenue, convenient both for volunteers and donors, accessible to projects, with a large basement area for storage of donated goods.

Makes It on Own Now, after seven years, LINC is going it alone: a success by Junior League standards, judged healthy enough and important enough to the community to survive on its own, drawing support from the community which recognizes the unique and essential service LINC provides to Wayne County non-profit organizations. From July, 1977, through this June, Operation LINC distributed $88,237.75 worth of used goods to 110 organizations.

It's a question of matching the resources, (which are there), with the needs, (which are there). Suppose a Senior Citizen club needs a film projector? Suppose a church is cleaning house, and discovers a good, albeit used, projector in its basement?

Make the LINC. Suppose the Senior Citizen club then needs someone to run the projector? Suppose a member of a high school service club, with experience running a film projector, is Another Service Opportunity Fourteen Michigan Cancer Foundation volunteers from the Mack Avenue Office combined business with pleasure at their monthly meeting in mid-August at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The gathering, hosted and sponsored by Anne Momeyer, of Moorland drive, gave the women an opportunity to initiate plans for a volunteer recruitment program.

It is through the dedicated efforts of volunteers that the MCF, a Torch Drive Agency, is able to provide its much-needed services to cancer patients within Grosse Pointe.

So . . . a plea goes out, for concerned people who are willing to give a few hours each week, in the office and/or in the field.

New Artists Market Season

The Detroit Artists Market opens the 1978-79 exhibition season Friday, September 15, with its traditional, multi-media presentation of new works by contributing artists.

This first fall show will include paintings and drawings, ceramics and weaving, jewelry, glass and photography, all on view at the galleries in Randolph street through mid-October.

There'll be a 4 to 7 o'clock wine and cheese reception celebrating the opening.

The Artists Market, now in its 46th year of continuous operation, is a non-profit organization operated almost exclusively by volunteers.

Chairman for the current year is Mrs. Robert LeFevre, of Lincoln road. First, second, third and fourth vice-chairmen are, respectively, Mrs. Michael Van Lokeren, of Beverly road, Mrs. Jon H. W. Clark, also of Beverly road, Mrs. H. Hudson Mead, of Washington road, and Mrs. Ferdinand Cinelli, of Country Club drive.

Mr. Mead is treasurer. Mrs. Foster Redding, of Lakeview court, is secretary. Mrs. John N. McNaughton, of Edgemont Park, is corresponding secretary, and Miss Hope Whitten, of Cadiex road, is assistant secretary. Among members newly-elected to the board of directors are Mrs. James Draper, of Merriweather road, and Mrs. James Kenary, of Moran road.

More are Richard Platt, Margaret Conzelman, Mary Jane Jacobs, Douglas Semivan and Mrs. Henry Wineman.

The Artists Market was begun during the Depression, to offer Detroit area artists a place in which to exhibit their work.

It continues to invite submissions from artists living within a 60-mile radius of Detroit. All works are reviewed for acceptance by a professional jury, which meets the first Wednesday of every month.

Detroit area residents and visitors are encouraged to visit the Market's galleries in Harmonie Park and to participate in its activities.

Memberships, at a reasonable fee, entitle members to invitations to openings, all publications and participation in such special events as visits to artists' studios and other opportunities to explore the art scene in Detroit.

Make the LINC. It's a Bargain. And it's a bargain. For every cash dollar invested in Operation LINC's operating expenses, approximately $3 in goods is collected and distributed to qualifying community organizations. And it pays a bonus dividend in goodwill for, through LINC, the suburban volunteer and the grass roots city group come into direct contact. The volunteer learns about them, and they learn about her. A LINC is made.
