

BARRICADES TO GO UP IN BRYES

HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by The Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, September 7
A SEVERE DROUGHT, coupled with recent high temperatures, combined to cut drastically the yields of such Michigan crops as soybeans and corn. While normal rainfall for the prime growing season of April to September is 14.65 inches, only 8.6 inches have fallen during the period this year. Forecasters call for no measurable precipitation until mid-September, when up to 2.5 inches may fall, probably hampering farmers' harvest efforts, and coming too late to help the crops.

Friday, September 8
THE HOUSE OVERWHELMINGLY SUPPORTED President Jimmy Carter's veto of a $37 billion weapons bill that included $2 billion for a nuclear aircraft carrier the President didn't want. The bill will now be returned to committee minus the carrier. The House move was seen as a major victory for the President. In other news, outbreaks of legionnaire disease were reported in four eastern cities with New York City reporting five confirmed cases, two of them fatal and all from the garment district.

Saturday, September 9
THE TISCH AMENDMENT was certified by the Board of State Canvassers for inclusion on the November ballot, as was the so-called Voucher plan for re-amping the funding for public education. The two tax proposals join the earlier certified Headlee amendment, and are likely to cause some confusion for voters who must choose between them. Tisch calls for an immediate 50 percent cut in property taxes, while the Voucher plan would grant state aid directly to parents of school children, who would decide what school their child would attend.

Sunday, September 10
WHITE HOUSE press secretary Jody Powell told reporters that while "substantial differences" remain, progress has been made in summit talks between Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin and President Jimmy Carter. It was the first official progress report since the summit began last Tuesday. Mr. Powell's statements were sketchy, although he did add that both the areas where progress was made and those remaining to be worked out were important issues.

Monday, September 11
NICARAGUAN REBELS gained control of the country's second largest city and parts of the capital, Managua, on Sunday, in an attempt to gain control of the government of President Anastasio Somoza. While no reliable casualty figures were available, it was feared that hundreds were killed in fighting around the country's major cities. In other news, police were searching for the remains of a small plane which crashed after hitting the Mackinac Bridge on Sunday in a fog. Debris was found in the water on both sides of the bridge, but no bodies were discovered.

Tuesday, September 12
GENERAL MOTORS Corp. announced a policy which will give UAW members preferential hiring rights to jobs at its new southern plants. The move was seen as a clear victory by UAW officials, who had long protested what they termed GM's "Southern Strategy" attempting to keep the union from organizing in its southern operations. GM has consistently denied taking an anti-union stand at any of its Sun Belt operations.

Talk on Sports-Related Injuries Proves Helpful

Presenting discussions Sunday and Monday, September 10 and 11, on sports-related injuries, psychological and social effects of competition on children and emotional stress were, (from left to right), DR. LYLE J. MICHELI, director of the division of sports medicine at Children's Hospital Medical Center, Harvard Medical School, assisted by DR. JOSEPH SPAGNOLI, assistant superintendent for instruction for Pointe schools, DR. BYRON ANDREOU, a local physician, and PAUL DECKER, Farms Little League coach. The talks were held for school personnel, parents and students at South High School. (See story, Page 10.)

GP Woods Seniors Eye Special Day

Third Annual Celebration Scheduled for September 16 at Lake Front Park Beginning at 12 Noon

By Roger A. Waha

Getting acquainted and having fun will highlight the third annual Woods Senior Citizens Day on Saturday, September 16, in the Lake Front Park bathhouse area beginning at 12 noon.

The day, so proclaimed by Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, will feature a variety of entertainment including square and social dancing, the Pozen Dancers, (Polish Women's Alliance Council), and gift presentations to the oldest Woods resident, the citizen who has lived in the city the longest and the resident with the most grandchildren.

Expand Offerings
"To have this highly respected foundation recognize that Grosse Pointe has the kinds of needs we outlined in our grant proposal is gratifying," Mr. Bruce said. "This is a significant gift and it should help us with other foundations."

To meet its $500,000 goal, the Neighborhood Club plans to submit proposals to other foundations, contact potential contributors in Grosse Pointe on an individual basis and conduct a community-wide fund raising effort, he added.

Dry Weather Increases Yellowjackets' Activity

By David Kramer

Yellowjacket insects have been bothering Pointe citizens in large numbers this year, swarming and stinging and generally creating a nuisance for residents outdoors.

Public health officials say the unusually high number of the pests which are not true bees is attributable mainly to the unusually dry weather this summer. They add that while little can be done about the problem, the insects should die off with the first few frosts.

Neighborhood Club Gets $75,000 Challenge Grant Toward Seniors' Project

Kresge Foundation Makes Award Which Is Contingent Upon Securing Balance of $500,000 Needed for Major Building Addition

The Neighborhood Club announced last week it has received a $75,000 challenge grant from the Kresge Foundation to expand its Waterloo avenue building to serve The Pointe's growing senior citizen population.

The grant is contingent upon securing the balance of $500,000 needed for the major building addition before next July 15, according to Mrs. Arthur B. Hudson, president of the club's board of trustees.

To house the expanded programs, the club plans to build a one-story brick addition to its facility at 17150 Waterloo avenue. About three-quarters of the 9,500 square-foot addition will be devoted to seniors' programs, according to Mr. Bruce.

The building will include a large, multi-purpose room, kitchen, lobby, offices and rooms for meetings, special activities and crafts.

Embarks on Program
Unlike the club's three-level main building, the addition will be barrier free, according to Mr. Bruce, and thus be accessible to seniors and the handicapped. The director said he would (Continued on Page 6)

Auditions Set For Symphony

Auditions for the Grosse Pointe Junior Symphony, open to all students through the 10th grade who are residents of The Pointe area and attend public, private or parochial schools, are set for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 25, 26 and 27, at North High School, 707 Vernier road.

The symphony, in its seventh season, was begun in 1972 to provide students who are members of their individual school band or orchestra an additional challenge for their musical talents.

Two evening concerts are presented during the year, in addition to two tours of the schools in the area.

Rehearsals take place following the auditions on Monday afternoons from 4:15 to 6:15 p.m. at North High School. For an audition time, call the auditions chairman, Nathan Johnson at North during the day at 343-2240 or 343-2187, or during the evening at 886-4914.

Board Eyes More Info On Project

Trustees Seek Additional, Independent Cost Analysis on Planned SHS Renovation

By Susan McDonald

As a bit of "added insurance for taxpayers" the School Board voted Monday, September 11, to seek an additional, independent cost analysis of the multi-million dollar South High School industrial arts renovation that is scheduled to begin this fall.

Project architect William Kessler told the Board that estimates conducted for his firm show the project can be constructed for $1,981,000—just $14,000 over the firm's preliminary "conceptual" cost estimates.

But at the suggestion of Trustee Joan Hanpeter, the Board agreed to seek one more estimate of the project before authorizing Kessler to advertise for construction bids.

Hope for Approval
"We're dealing with taxpayers' money and a very important project here," Trustee William Fleming explained. "I'd like to see us come as close as we can and I think a second estimate would help."

Superintendent Dr. William Coats told the Board that a second review of the costs also may help gain Michigan Municipal Finance Commission approval of a $2.15 million bond issue that the School Board authorized this summer without a vote of citizens to finance the renovation.

Administrators are hoping to get commission approval before the November 7 state elections when voters will pass judgment on the Headlee tax limitation amendment which may outlaw issuance of bonds without a vote of citizens.

An additional cost estimate may help expedite the approval process, Dr. Coats said.

Could Slow Process
The renovation project slated for completion by Labor Day 1979, will include a new, 18,000 square foot industrial arts building along Fish Creek road and extensive refurbishing of the existing industrial arts wing.

Cab Operations In Park Under Investigation

Officials Strive to Learn of Any Possible Violations in Purchase of Taxi Bond Plates; Council to Consider Further Report on September 25

By James J. Njaim

The Park Council on Monday, September 11, authorized City Manager John R. Crawford and Police Chief Henry O. Coonce to investigate any possible violations in the purchase of Park taxi cab bond plates, which permit the cab firms purchasing the plates to operate in The Park and the other Pointes. The owners of the two existing firms will be requested to be present at the next regular meeting on Monday, September 25.

Mr. Crawford and Chief Coonce will conduct their investigation and prepare a report for the council at that time.

It was brought out at Monday night's session that The Park is the only Pointe issuing cab bond plates and the other Pointes, having no provisions in their laws to issue such plates, have enacted ordinances which honor Park plates, thereby permitting the cab firms to operate in their communities. Harper Woods issues its own bond plates, it was said.

Come to Light
Alleged violations in the use of Park-issued plates, (or taxis operating in The Park without the plates), came to light Monday night when a former employe of the city, John Craocoli of St. Clair Shores, appeared before the council to request permission to purchase one bond plate immediately for the single cab he now has, and four more in the future when he buys more vehicles.

He will locate in a lot adjacent to the Engineering Building in Mack avenue.

At present there are 13 Park bond plates issued to Eastside Cab, Inc., owned and operated by Mary E. and Robert W. Case of 1314 Lakepointe, and 12 plates by Radio Cab, Inc., owned by Peter Theodore, Inc., formerly of 15246 Kercheval, and now of 3150 Woodward avenue and 10 Peterborough, both locations in Detroit.

According to Chief Coonce's report submitted to Mr. Crawford, Radio Cab purchased 15 plates in 1978, and later returned three to the police department.

The chief disclosed that the firm is selling to individual driver owners on a monthly payment system. A (Continued on Page 8)

Grosse Pointe's chapter of Ducks Unlimited will hold its first annual banquet and auction on Thursday, September 21, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club at 6 p.m. not on Saturday, September 16, as was reported in last week's edition of the NEWS. Proposed Dog Droppings Law Stirs Park Residents

By James J. Njaim

Park citizens are beginning to respond to their council's Monday, August 28, discussion to a proposed ordinance which will make it a misdemeanor for a person to allow his dog to defecate on anyone's property, unless the dog's owner cleans up after dropping immediately afterward, according to City Manager John Crawford.

The city manager said, on Friday, September 8, that he has already received a number of letters, and several phone calls from residents favoring such an ordinance.

A large number of citizens residing in the city have taken the trouble to appear at the Municipal Building, 15115 East Jefferson avenue, to personally voice their approval of such a law, he said. Only two persons, apparently dog owners, expressed opposition to the proposed ordinance, he added.

Mr. Crawford said he is expecting more letters, phone calls and walk-ins, and all will be recorded, whether for or against the ordinance, for presentation to the council at its regular meeting scheduled for Monday, October 23. Following a discussion on the subject on the 28th, the solons, with one exception voted to table the matter for 60 days to determine citizen reaction to the proposed law. "It is remarkable that citizens have taken time to write or phone and even to come to the Municipal Building to express their personal opinion (Continued on Page 2)

GPW Okays Temporary Blockade

Council to Keep Eye on Situation for 90-Day Period, with Possibility of Cul-De-Sac on Horizon

By Roger A. Waha

After a public hearing which ran about one and a half hours, the Woods Council at its rescheduled regular meeting Monday, September 11, approved the installation of temporary barricades for a 90-day period in the area of the intersection of Eight Mile road and Brys drive and the intersection of Helen avenue and Brys.

Along with the temporary barricades, the motion stipulated that additional signage be placed on nearby streets to forewarn citizens of the Brys blockage.

At the same time, signs will be placed at the East Eight Mile-Helen intersection and the Brys-Helen intersection indicating that the thoroughfare is a "dead end" street. As a result, traffic will have to find other outlets, probably along Helen, Canton, Shorepointe drive and Roslyn, among other streets.

Will Make Decision
City Administrator Chester E. Petersen indicated that it will probably be about three weeks before the barricades are installed.

After they're up, for any unforeseen emergency reason, the council can order them removed if necessary but if all goes well, as is generally expected by officials, the council within the 90-day period, after traffic counts are taken on such streets as Brys, East Eight Mile, Roslyn and Hampton, will have to make a decision after a further assessment.

The alternatives, as cited by Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, include keeping Brys a two-way street, making it a one-way street or install a permanent cul-de-sac as is the long-range intention at this point. If the situation pans out and a cul-de-sac proves feasible, construction wouldn't proceed until the spring.

"It's incumbent upon us to try the temporary barricades," said Mr. Pinkos, who reviewed four years of effort in trying to ease the heavy volume of traffic which is plaguing citizens in the immediate area.

Majority in Favor
The mayor also told citizens, for and against the proposal, that Brys has been burdened with heavy volumes of traffic, including commercial, and that with the barricades, which would include reflectors, warning lights and "road closed" signs, traffic in the immediate area (Continued on Page 2)

Hearing Slated On C License

A public hearing will be held Monday, September 18, in The Woods council chambers, 20025 Mack avenue, at 7:30 p.m. at which time the council will hear presentations from applicants who are interested in obtaining a Class C liquor license for their establishment.

Voters approved a referendum question at the August 8 primary election, automatically amending the ordinance, indicating that the council may approve or deny its approval of the issuance of one additional license.

At the hearing the council is scheduled to make a decision on whether or not to issue an additional license, which would make five in the city, and if so, to whom. Officials have notified all interested applicants, totaling seven, on file and three met the Monday, September 11, deadline. They include Alex Bards Gaby's Restaurant, A. George Agassian and Edward Barberi, Da Ed oards (Continued on Page 2)

Saying there's no question about this, (a main concern of residents who spoke in opposition), Mr. Pinkos also cited a council interest over maintaining some kind of equity of traffic flow on city streets.

While around eight citizens spoke against the temporary barricades proposal, Brys citizen representative Bruce E. VanFarowe summed up the feelings of residents living in Brys and East Eight Mile.

(A hand count showed that the majority of citizens were in favor of the temporary measure.)

Reviewing the recent year-long process of trying to solve the traffic puzzle which has troubled citizens in the area, Mr. VanFarowe discussed the give and take between residents and council members, the fact-finding process involved and the gathering of data.

Praises Council

He cited the efforts of placing barricades to block the Brys-Roslyn crossovers along Mack, the placement of signs, police enforcement and other measures, all of which proved unworkable.

Meanwhile, Mr. VanFarowe noted, based upon the latest Brys-East Eight Mile traffic counts, which have increased this August in comparison to last August, that the problem is becoming worse.

He also expressed his sympathy to citizens living on nearby streets, e.g., Roslyn, over their concern of increased traffic after the barricades are up.

"If the plan is implemented, the first month will probably see pure chaos on Brys with residents looking for alternate routes. We need to put signage on Roslyn and have a police presence on the street," stated Mr. Van-

Farowe.

Praising the council for its deliberate manner in seeking solutions, he said there has been no waste of financial resources in striving toward a solution and felt that everything pointed to the temporary barricades, with necessary modifications, as the only one to give citizens some relief.

Prior to the council's vote, Councilman George Cueter asked Mr. Petersen if St. Clair Shores and Harper Woods had been contacted in relation to the proposal.

Opinion Viewed

Mr. Petersen said the St. Clair Shores city engineer indicated no objection while the city manager, as far as can be determined, wasn't opposed. Meanwhile, he stated, no comment was received from Harper Woods.

City Attorney George Catlin prepared a legal opinion on the construction of a cul-de-sac at the recent request of Councilman John Sabol.

He told the solons that such proposed construction would be in the confines of The Woods only, with the council having the authority to order such action.

He added the proposed location of the cul-de-sac, in his opinion, wouldn't interfere with the rights of abutting property owners.

Councilman Thomas Fahrner then made the motion which was ultimately approved, with a substitute motion by Councilman E. D. Grady failing by a 4-3 vote.

Mr. Grady's motion sought approval for the erection of the temporary barricades for a 90-day period, having a public hearing prior to a decision on a proposed permanent cul-de-sac and that a council committee be formed, along with the participation of Mr. Petersen and Public Safety Director John Dankel, to explore the possibility of making the I-94 overpass a one-way thoroughfare.

Explains Vote

Voting against the motion were Mr. Pinkos, Mr. Fahrner, Mr. Sabol and Robert E. Novitke, while Mr. Grady, Mr. Cueter and George S. Freeman voted in favor.

The vote on the original motion was then taken and only Mr. Sabol disagreed.

Saying he was against the possible spillage of traffic on neighboring streets with the temporary barricades, Mr. Sabol noted, while recognizing the problems affecting Brys citizens, the inconvenience residents on other streets would face.

He felt it would be better to make Brys an one-way street, and that such an action should be taken prior to the installation of the barricades.

Mr. Sabol also expressed some concern over emergency response, e.g., of public safety vehicles, with the barricades, while indicating they would have more flexibility if Brys were a one-way thoroughfare.

(Continued from Page 1) ion on the matter." Mr. Crawford said. "I urge our citizens to continue to do so, even if they write a brief note, pro or con, and keep them coming until the October 23 council session."

"All responses, written and verbal, will be marked on record and presented to the city council for its determination on whether or not to enact such an ordinance. It will more or less help our councilmen to make up their minds in the best interest of the community."

Mr. Crawford said this is an excellent opportunity for The Park's citizens to make their wishes known. The more responses received, the easier it will be for the council to decide, either way.

The proposed ordinance, drafted by City Attorney Herold Deason and recommended by the ordinance review committee, would require that a dog owner, after his pet defecates on another person's property, to have in his possession a proper container for such dropping so that it can be disposed of in a sanitary manner.

If the ordinance is enacted, a dog owner failing to comply with its provisions will be subjected to a $500 fine or 90 days in jail, or both upon conviction.

It was noted that New York City was the first in the country to enact such a law, and that several other communities throughout the United States followed suit, the last, being Albuquerque, N.M., on Wednesday, September 6.

Youth Beaten At Pointer Pub

An 18-year-old Farms youth was reportedly beaten by several unknown assailants behind the Pointer Pub, 18666 Mack avenue, early Tuesday morning, September 5.

According to police reports, the youth, who is an employe of the bar, was putting gasoline into his car at about 4:20 a.m. when a car pulled up behind him. He said he was temporarily blinded by the headlights and was unable to give a description of the vehicle.

The victim told police that several youths got out of the car and struck him about his head and body, then got back in their car and drove off.

The youth drove to Cottage Hospital, where officers took his report. Police said he suffered no injuries, with the victim having no idea who his assailants were.

Race Discrimination Case Complaint Appears Ended

By Susan McDonald

A race discrimination complaint against Pointe public schools was unofficially resolved last week when one of two black teachers in the system was promoted to first assistant at Barnes Elementary School.

The teacher, Carey Morton, filed the complaint with the Michigan Civil Rights Commission in June 1977 after she was turned down for the first assistant job she applied for.

She charged that her qualifications for the post exceeded those of some persons who received promotion, alleging she was denied the job because she is black.

Last week, Mrs. Morton said she was very happy with the promotion and considers it an appropriate resolution of the case.

The school system's Director of Personnel, Ronald Tonks, said he does not wish to comment on the case until the Civil Rights Commission formally reviews and possibly dismisses the charge.

After almost a year of field investigation, the complaint was referred to the commission's conciliation staff this spring, which informally recommended the schools promote Mrs. Morton, said Douglas West, school system attorney, in July.

A Lansing spokesman for the commission said only about a third of the cases investigated ever reach the conciliation level when "probable cause" is judged to exist.

The first assistant post is a semi-supervisory job in each of the system's 10 elementary schools.

Center Hosts Frank Varga

Noted sculptor Frank Varga, whose works are in the gardens and collections of many Pointers, is taking time out from his restoration of Saint Ann's Church to teach sculpture in the War Memorial's New Art Wing, 32 Lakeshore road.

Party Honors John Bruce

By Susan McDonald

Former School Board President John Bruce was honored at a party attended by more than a dozen public school employees, four Board members, campaign workers and friends Sunday afternoon, September 10.

The party was intended as both a tribute to Mr. Bruce and a fund raiser to help rid him of a campaign debt incurred during his unsuccessful bid for re-election last June, according to School Board member William Huettner, who hosted the event at his Sunningdale drive home.

Contributions of $5 per person were suggested in written invitations that were sent to a few members of the community and current Board members, with the exception of Trustee Jon Gandlot, who won Mr. Bruce's seat on the Board in June by a 7-3 vote margin.

Administrative employees of the public school system said they received personal, verbal invitations to the fund raiser from either Superintendent Dr. William Coats or other top administrators.

Dr. Coats confirmed in a phone interview that he had invited several of his employees.

"It was strictly a voluntary thing," Dr. Coats said. "I just figured some people who worked with John Bruce for four years might like to go, have a few drinks and thank him for his efforts."

Mr. Bruce said he has a campaign debt of under $500. He added that he intends to return checks sent to him by four members of the administration who did not attend the party.

Board members Robert Warner, William Fleming and Ann Arducci attended the party. Other trustees said they could not attend because of prior arrangements.

Youth, Seniors Sought by JOYS

Students looking for after school and weekend jobs may find employment through JOYS, (Job Opportunities for Youth and Senior Adults).

JOYS is a volunteer service co-sponsored by the Junior League of Detroit and the Neighborhood Club. It is a job-referral service that seeks to match youth and senior adults who are seeking jobs with an employer in need of a particular service.

This year emphasis will be placed on increasing the number of seniors participating in the program. Persons may sign up by visiting the Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo avenue, during regular business hours.

JOYS representatives will be taking applications at both North and South High Schools on Wednesday and Thursday, September 20 and 21, between 11:20 a.m. and 1 p.m. Another sign up will be held Saturday, September 16, between 10 a.m. and 12 noon at the Neighborhood Club.

To qualify for JOYS referral service, students must be at least 12-years-old and reside within the Grosse Pointe School District. Names and phone numbers of references must be supplied.

Boaters Safe after Storm

Two Shores public safety officers attempted to rescue persons on two power driven boats in distress on Lake St. Clair, just off the George Osius Park and the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club piers, on Sunday afternoon, September 10, at the height of the 60 mph wind that hit several areas of southeastern Michigan.

Sgt. James Jurcak and Cpl. Daniel Fronczak responded to the distress call and found the boats just north of The Shores Yacht Club piers. Both crafts were caught in the heavy seas caused by the powerful wind which passed north of the Village.

The motors of the boats lost power and stopped when high waves engulfed their engines, causing them to stop.

The officers said when they responded to the distress call, they arrived in time to help Rex R. Wallace, 17, of The Woods out of the water. The youth was aboard a 16' boat with an outboard motor whose engine stopped.

After making a distress call, the boy dove into the water and swam to shore for help, leaving three friends aboard. He was taken to the Woods' Lake Front park by Sgt. Jurcak to pick up his car and boat trailer.

The officers notified the St. Clair Shores-based Coast Guard station of the second boat, 24' long, which was about 100 feet from the shoreline, and was informed that a Coast Guard crew would be sent as soon as possible, since the craft was out aiding other boaters.

The Coast Guard rescued

the occupants of the 24-footer, which was at anchor, but by the time they tried to come to the aid of the 16-foot boat, the wind had stopped and the water was calm.

Sgt. Jurcak and Cpl. Fronczak said that the 16-foot craft was not in too much danger because it was anchored in waist-deep water.

Although the wind velocity reached 60 mph, weather stations reported the heavy storm was neither a tornado nor a hurricane.

Driver Injured In LS Accident

A Woods motorist told Shores public safety officers that he had taken a glance at another car that was passing him and, while doing so, he ran off the roadway and slammed into a utility pole, severely damaging his car and injuring himself.

Involved in the Thursday, September 7, mishap was Mark Anthony Adamo of Woods lane, who told PSOs Gary Mitchell and Michael Kortas, he was headed north on Lakeshore road at 1:30 a.m. when a car passed him. He glanced at it for a brief second and the next thing he knew his car had left the road and slammed into an Edison pole in front of 874 Lakeshore.

Mr. Adamo was taken to Saint John Hospital by PSO Kortas, who was operating the emergency ambulance in response to the accident call. The driver suffered a bad cut on the forehead when his head struck the windshield on impact.

An official accident report said that Mr. Adamo was treated for the cut and released, and that the front end of his auto was so severely damaged it had to be towed away to a service station.

Detroit Edison was called and a crew was sent to inspect the pole for possible damage.

Since there were no witnesses to the mishap, no violation tickets were issued, it was said.

YSD Emphasizes Service
As School Year Begins

By Roger A. Waha
Members of the Youth Service Division, (YSD), are once again ready to serve the entire community this school year, with the four detectives already involved in myriad work details as the new year begins.

Woods Det. Lt. Jack Patterson, YSD supervisor in the detective bureau, said a flyer will be sent to each teacher in the school system within the next two weeks focusing upon the variety of services offered by the division.

Availability of the detectives, (two in the South High School district and two in the North district), remains an important key.

Lt. Patterson said at a meeting last week everyone reaffirmed the availability of one officer to the entire school system and local police departments on a daily basis as much as possible.

Between Monday and Friday, there should be a YSD detective available from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., he said, with officials invited to call the YSD office at 886-2908 between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. and Woods headquarters at 886-2700 after 4:30 p.m.

Lt. Patterson said the detectives also are available to the citizenry for speaking engagements if PTO's, church groups, service clubs, senior citizens and other organizations call the YSD office number during the day and give at least a two-week lead time for scheduling purposes. The detectives are happy to come out and speak to groups on a variety of anti-crime topics, the lieutenant said, while adding it also is an opportunity for exposure to the community in total. At this point, Lt. Patterson said until a few weeks pass, "we won't know what the problems are which cropped up during the summer" at the school level, with the pulse of the system yet to be tapped.

One concern is the total case load which the YSD is facing so far this year. As of early September, 725 cases have been referred to the division, a total which wasn't reached until last December 1, he said.

"The crime picture is spread out," stated Lt. Patterson, with increases seen in many areas but, at the same time, he pointed out a positive note in relation to the higher level — more response to, and an awareness of, services offered by the YSD is recognized in the community.

While penetration at all school levels, e.g., high, middle and elementary schools, is being viewed, no new programs are being considered at this time with the exception of a planned YSD-coordinated effort toward expanding the "eyes and ears" child safety program on a Pointe-wide basis.

This program, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, began in The Woods this spring when the club donated around $260 to purchase 250 pads, with the Kiwanis logo, and pencils for safety patrol youngsters and school crossing guards.

The objective is to provide extra "eyes and ears" on the street toward reporting any suspicious activity. At this point, the lieutenant said he will contact local police chiefs, seeking their support of the program with the hope of ultimately distributing some 1,000 pads and pencils to all safety patrol youngsters and crossing guards before the end of this month.

The plan calls for the exploration of the program in all schools within the community by school safety officers or other designated representatives.

Division detectives include Jack Treppa and William Desilets in the South district and John Albrecht and James Fowler in the North district.

Service to Aid
Widowed Starts

The Widowed Persons Service is beginning its second season serving Pointers in need.

On Sunday, September 17, the drop-in coffee social for those widowed will resume at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Widowed persons will gather on the third Sunday of each month to hear speakers on topics of interest to those living alone, while joining with others to share their concerns and problems.

The service has several purposes. It acts as a "listening ear" or a "shoulder to lean on" to newly widowed people. Often the best experts during the time of loss of a loved one is someone who has been through the grief process.

Sometimes a person who's not a friend or relative gives better aid and support because he or she has "no axe to grind."

Besides acting as a friend to the newly widowed, the service also plans social events and educational programs.

No reservations are needed and for further information, citizens may call the Family Life Education Council's Dialogue number, 881-0270.

Keg League
Starts Oct. 3

The Neighborhood Club will be offering a bowling league this fall for youths in grades five through eight on Tuesday afternoons, October 3 through December 12, at Maple Lanes, 18017 East Warren avenue, Detroit, from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

The fee of $25 and a club membership will cover the cost of two games per week with instruction. Shoe rental will be $2.50 for the 10-week session.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the club at 885-4600.

Girl Cyclist
Hurt in Park

A 15-year-old Park girl, name not given, pedaled her bicycle through a stop street and was injured when she was struck by an auto driven by a St. Clair Shores woman.

According to information released by Park Chief Henry O. Coonce, the girl cyclist was riding north on Whittier on Tuesday, September 5, at 8 p.m. She crossed the St. Paul intersection without stopping for the stop street and was struck by a car driven by Eileen O'Keefe of Mauer road, going west on St. Paul.

The girl was taken to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment of abrasions of the forehead and body pains, suffered when she was knocked to the pavement. Following treatment, she was released.

Chief Coonce said the woman driver was taken to the station where she made an official statement. She was found not to be at fault and was released without charge.

No violations were issued, the chief said, but the incident is still under investigation.

Club Receives Grant

(Continued from Page 1) like to break ground on the project next spring. The club embarked on its program to serve senior citizens after a study of population statistics for The Pointe. Officials found more than 18 percent of the population of the five Pointes is 60 years or older and that at least 40 percent of the homes in the area have at least one person 60 or older living in them.

Currently there is no center for senior activities located in The Pointe, although there are several nutrition and recreation programs offered at various churches. The Neighborhood Club hopes to provide a variety of services specially aimed at seniors, including travel, social service, nutrition and recreation programs.

Has Big Membership
The club, which has served The Pointe for 67 years, currently offers a full range of recreational activities for youths and adults. Its paid membership reached 6,200 persons last year.

Announcement of the Kresge Foundation award was made by William H. Baldwin, chairman of the foundation in Troy.

During 1978, the foundation made 203 grants after considering 1,229 applications. Since it was founded in 1924, it has made appropriations of more than $311 million to institutions of higher education, health service, art, social welfare and for the care of young and old people.

It was created solely by personal gifts from the late Sebastian S. Kresge and is not affiliated with any corporation or organization.

Touch Football Loop to Start

The Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo avenue, is starting a low contact seven-man touch football league this fall.

Team rosters and a $140 fee are due from interested participants by 5 p.m. Wednesday, September 20. For further information, call 885-4600.

FIELDS IS V-P
Park resident John B. Fields has been named a vice-president in the trust investment department at Detroit Bank and Trust. Mr. Fields joined the bank in 1969.

Big Day for Seniors

In fact, Mrs. Sutton said she hopes the group, which meets the first and third Thursdays in the North High School cafeteria at 3:30 p.m., may be able to meet once a week in the future.

"I want to invite all Grosse Pointe Woods seniors to attend. We will have answers to almost all of their questions, (in relation to seniors' activities), and we invite them to attend our meetings, (at North), or contact the Senior Citizens Commission," she stated.

Having such a day on an annual basis means a lot to Mrs. Sutton. "I feel whether seniors belong to any group, they have an opportunity to become part of a 'melting pot' of citizens in The Woods. The Senior Citizens Commission works for all Woods seniors and this day gives everyone a chance to meet people from all sectors of the community," she stated.

For his part, Mr. Pinkos, who may not be able to attend the celebration because of his attendance at the 80th annual convention of the Michigan Municipal League, cited the "active Senior Citizens Commission developing and creating programs toward keeping seniors involved. It's a great thing."

"Most Effervescent"
Reflecting over the two past events, the mayor said he particularly enjoyed the presentations to the oldest resident and the citizen who has lived in the city the longest.

With the special day, Mr. Pinkos said he has found that most of the seniors who participate in the variety of activities including dancing, may realize they aren't as old as they like to think they are because most are very active.

"Senior citizens in their late 80's and early 90's are still buzzing around. They are most effervescent that particular day," he added.

Those planning to attend should bring their lunch, while coffee and cake will be provided.

Besides the regular social and recreational meetings at North, the Department of Parks and Recreation offers a number of programs for the seniors.

While the seniors admit not everyone who bowls, strikes, bowling at Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation, 20422 Mack avenue, is offered every Friday at 1:30 p.m.

Trips Planned
Rifle and pistol shooting under the guidance of Al Rente is provided on Mondays from 2 to 4 p.m. and on Thursdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at public safety department headquarters, 20025 Mack avenue.

Meanwhile, weekly bridge classes are held on Wednesdays at the Lake Front Park, and on Fridays at the old bathhouse from 1 to 4 p.m., seniors "take a shot" at shuffleboard. Weekly sewing classes also are held at the park on Wednesdays at 2 p.m.

Finally, several trips have been proposed including one to the Detroit Zoo on Wednesday, October 4, at 11 a.m., Hawaii from October 7 to 20, Mackinac Island from October 18 to 20, a mystery trip on November 9 and the Caribbean from November 25 to December 2.

Chorus Seeks New Members

The Grosse Pointe Community Chorus invites anyone over 16, who can carry a tune and is genuinely interested in singing with a congenial mixed choral group, to attend its first rehearsal, Tuesday, September 19, at Parcels Middle School, 20600 Mack avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

The registration fee is $7 for individuals, and $13 for couples. No auditions are required, and members need not be Pointe residents.

Members are looking forward to a fine Christmas Concert in December with choral selections ranging from sacred to popular. Additional information may be obtained by calling 886-0710.

(Continued from Page 1) mostly underground and will house auto repair, wood, metal and engine shops and offices. The existing building will be converted to house art, drafting and photography classrooms.

While the site is being excavated for the new building, plans call for laying adjacent foundations for an enclosed swimming pool which may be built some time in the future. Mr. Kessler estimated the cost of laying the pool foundations at between $20,000 and $30,000.

Board members said they have no present plans for constructing the $2.3 million pool, but noted that laying the foundations now may save money in the future if the pool is approved at a later date.

Trustee Robert Warner expressed some concern that the decision to seek an additional cost analysis of the project may slow construction schedules to some degree.

Mr. Kessler estimated that construction costs in the Detroit area increase at a rate of two to three percent each month. He added, though, that if the independent review of the project can be completed within a few weeks, it will not throw his schedule back at all.

Emotional Issue
The Board began to study possible renovations of the industrial arts wing at South High School late last year. The building had been harshly criticized in a North Central Ass'n. report on South and had been subject of at least 20 building and electrical code violations.

The $2.15 million bond issue will finance the industrial arts project, as well as several smaller improvements at other school buildings.

The decision to authorize bonds without a vote of citizens became an emotional issue during the June School Board elections. Jon Gandelot, who won his Board seat in a contest against incumbent president John Bruce, had campaigned strongly against the bond issue.

The bond issue will not raise the millage rate, but will offset a half mill reduction that was anticipated this year. The tax rate will remain at 38.72 mills next year.

All 6-Month Savings Certificates Are Not Alike.

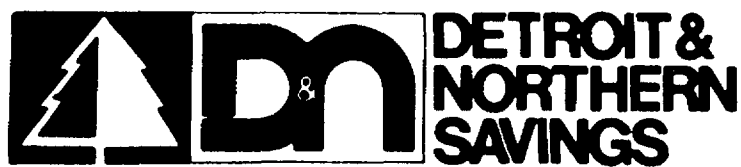

Examine these important points.

- 1. Rate: Some financial institutions pay only the same rate as the latest average auction discount rate on 6-month Treasury Bills. D & N pays you 1/4 of 1% more than the current discount rate* determined at the most recent weekly auction of 6-month (26-week) Treasury Bills.
- 2. Earnings: Some financial institutions do not compound your interest. D & N compounds your interest quarterly to produce an even higher effective annual yield.
- 3. Penalty for Early Withdrawal: Some financial institutions demand total forfeiture of interest for early withdrawal. Some do not even permit early withdrawal. At D & N, an early withdrawal earns the passbook rate less only 90 days' interest.
- 4. Renewal: D & N notifies you in advance of maturity of your 6-Month Savings Certificate, and we leave all the options to you. For your convenience, and in the absence of your specific instructions, your account will be automatically renewed at the then current rate. You will be notified of the renewal rate by letter. Some financial institutions automatically transfer your funds into a lower rate account unless instructed otherwise, placing you at an interest disadvantage.

Rauth Library Dedication Set Sept. 17

The Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, will dedicate the Andrew F. Rauth Memorial Library on Sunday, September 17. This 3,000-volume library was formerly the personal library of the late Rev. Andrew F. Rauth, former pastor of the church.

It will be dedicated in a ceremony conducted during the 11 a.m. worship service. Both the library and its stacks will then be opened for the congregation's inspection, and a display about Rev. Rauth will be in the Heritage Room of the church.

The Rauth Memorial Library is housed in two rooms and is particularly extensive in its Biblical and theological works. It contains every book written by Emerson, Voltaire, Wilson and Browning as well as all the books published by most of the great theologians of the 19th and 20th centuries.

Available to the members of the Presbytery of Detroit and the Grosse Pointe Ministerial Ass'n. as well as the members and staff of The Woods church, access to the library will be obtained by registering at the church office.

Rev. Rauth was pastor from 1943 through 1966, and pastor emeritus from 1966 to 1977. He died last September 26.

He served three churches in New York and Wisconsin before coming to the infant Woods Presbyterian Church. Under his leadership, the church grew from 300 members to over 2,000, its church school swelled to over 1,200 and the building at the corner of Mack avenue and Torrey road was built.

Dr. Robert C. Linthicum, present senior pastor, in announcing the opening of the Rauth Library, said, "The Andrew F. Rauth Memorial Library is perhaps the most fitting object that could be given in memory of this great man whose love for the Woods Church and the Grosse Pointe community went side-by-side with his great love for learning and for books."

"The tenacity and dedication that could build such a magnificent library was also the spirit that built such a magnificent congregation. And we have received the legacy of both!"

Extend GPT Ticket Date

Grosse Pointe Theater, (GPT), ticket chairman Carole Lombardini expressed concern because a large number of regular season ticket subscribers have not responded to their season ticket mailing.

The date when all replies were to be sent to GPT was Sunday, September 10. However, all regular season ticket holders will now have until Wednesday, September 20, to reply.

After that date, those who have not replied will be terminated as season ticket holders and their tickets will be made available to the growing number of GPT fans awaiting season tickets.

Mrs. Lombardini also advises that a mailing will be sent out on the 20th to all who have requested information on the shows for this season as well as regular single ticket subscribers.

Further information may be obtained by calling 881-4004 between 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Cab Operations Investigated

Chief Coonce further stated that the former location in Kercheval avenue is used to service "Radio Cabs." Officials of the firm have been instructed to service only those bearing Park bond plates, but a recent inspection showed this is not being complied with.

Views Ordinance
Too, the report revealed, drivers of cabs carrying Park bond plates have made complaints that unlicensed "Radio Cabs," which are on the same dispatch system, have answered Pointe cab calls.

"There is no distinction between Park bond plates and Park issued 'Public Vehicle' (PV), licenses by which to determine the difference," Chief Coonce stated. "PV licenses are issued to persons driving taxis. They must have no criminal record, and if they have, they are denied such licenses."

Mr. Cracolici charged that the owner(s) of Radio Cab, Inc., purchase The Park plates, which are renewed automatically each year, and assess employes purchasing their own cabs from the firm $10 each month for the use of the plates.

Although the drivers buy the cabs at a cost of more than $5,000, with many half paid for, the firm retains title to the vehicles until they are paid for, and as title holder the company buys the plates.

City Attorney Herold Deason, in reading a portion of ordinance controlling the operation of cabs in The Park, said that when a firm or person sells cabs, the bond plates automatically expire.

The purchasers must appear before the council for an authorization to get the bond plates before they can operate in The Park and the other Pointes.

Expresses Surprise
After the initial purchases of the plates, which expire on December 31 each year, they are automatically renewed for the following year, with the approval of the police department. It is not necessary to appear before the council every year to seek the plates, but cab firms must come before the council each time a cab fare increase is sought.

Mayor Matthew C. Patterson, who expressed surprise regarding the activities of the two cab firms authorized to operate in The Park, stated it was the first time he had heard of the matter.

He said that although Park cab bond plates are honored by other Pointe cities, they are not by Detroit. For that matter, the mayor added, The Park does not honor Detroit cab bond plates.

This means, he pointed out, that cabs licensed by the two cities can drop off fares, say from The Pointe into Detroit, and vice-versa, but cannot pick up fares unless they have the bond plates of the respective cities.

Mr. Cracolici charged that the $10 a month assessed cab owners by Radio Cab, Inc., is a violation of the law. He said that if he is granted a license to operate in The Park, he will comply with every aspect of the law as set forth.

In Poor Condition
Chief Coonce said before any bond plates are issued to any cab, the vehicle is given a thorough safety inspection and if it is not up to specification standards, it is ordered taken off the street until repairs are made and then the bond plate is issued when the cab's malfunctions are corrected.

Chief Coonce said that many of the cabs purchased by companies everywhere are rejuvenated police cars and other municipally-owned cars.

Auto sales companies completely overhaul these autos and put them in excellent workable condition before selling them to cab firms. Then it is up to the cab owners to keep their vehicles in a safe and proper operational order.

Councilman Douglas G. Graham said he has noticed that a number of cabs are in such poor condition that he is surprised that people want to get into them.

Mr. Cracolici, who said he has a 1977 model cab, will keep his vehicle and others purchased in the future in good working order. He also promised quick service after Councilman Dr. Roger McNeill stated, at Bon Secours Hospital, people have been known to wait from a half an hour to a longer time period before a cab arrives.

Close Vote
Mr. Crawford and Chief Coonce said that Radio City cabs have been recently checked out when they entered the city, and many were found operating in The Park without the proper bond plates.

The city manager said he had a complete report from Chief Coonce on the cab situation, which was ready for presentation if the council wanted to hear it. However, the council, by a 4-3 vote tabled the matter until the next regular meeting and authorized Mr. Crawford and the chief to conduct an investigation.

Voting in favor of tabling were Mr. Patterson, Dr. McNeill, Councilman Clayton Alandt and Mr. Graham. Those against were Councilmen George Verdonck and Charles Tompkins and Councilwoman Ann MacDonald.

'Cat' Invades 3 Park Homes

The modus operandi, (method of operation), of three break-ins have Park authorities believing that a "cat" burglar is on the prowl again, according to information released by Police Chief Henry O. Coonce. The incidents were reported to have occurred during the night of Thursday, September 7.

Entered were the homes of Susan Krebs of Bishop road, Joseph Dettlof of Kensington road and Richard Maceroni of Three Mile drive, all while the families were asleep, the chief said.

The forcible entries were made between 12 a.m. and 8 a.m.

The first to make a report to the authorities was the Krebs family. Investigating officers discovered that the nocturnal intruder entered the home by cutting the screen and opening the window at the rear of the house.

Reported missing was a set of luggage, a set of silverware, several articles of clothing and a portable radio. The burglar escaped by leaving through the front door. The amount of the loss is not known.

At the Dettlof residence, the burglar entered by cutting the screen of the rear screen door, which was locked, then opening the inner door. No loss was reported, Chief Coonce said. A member of the family had awakened at 3 a.m. and turned on the downstairs light, apparently frightening the invader, who escaped the way he had entered.

Mr. Maceroni called police to report his house had been broken into. The "cat" entered the residence by removing the screen and climbing through the kitchen window.

Missing, authorities were informed, was a portable color television set, several ladies fur coats and the family car from the garage. The year and make of the auto was not given, nor was the total amount of loss known.

Adult Program Planned at Club

The Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo avenue, is offering a new program this year for adults over 20 to provide various activities for both single and married adults.

Currently co-rec activities in volleyball and softball as well as a fencing club, running club and community tennis are offered.

Other events tentatively planned are open activity nights at one of the schools, social events such as theater, sporting activities and concerts.

If you would like to meet new people and have a good time, officials invite citizens to attend its kick-off meeting Friday, September 22, at the club beginning at 8 p.m.

Center to Hold Class on Aging

The class will consist of 10 lecture-discussion sessions and three field trips to local facilities serving the elderly. It will meet Thursdays from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m., and it carries four hours of college credit.

Registration materials are available at the War Memorial.

North, South Gridders Open with Victories

By David Kramer. The North High Norsemen and South High Blue Devils both won their season openers on Saturday, September 9, in close, tightly-fought defensive battles.

Included in this year's defense will be Long, a safety who coach Krucki said will probably run the 100-yard dash in under 10 seconds during spring track.

Co-captains of the Norsemen are Ferlito and Martin. Starting juniors for offense include guard John Woolon, halfback Gary Ludwiczak and quarterback Brown.

haven't won it two years in a row yet and, according to coach Hopper, it won't be easy to win this year.

Coach Jim Krucki said defensive back Tony Ferlito did an especially outstanding job in an overall defensive game. North's offense was held to 149 yards, while the Norsemen defense kept the losers back to 153 yards, including only 59 rushing.

Kevin Bertelsen will return as starting offensive tackle, as will guard Jeff Carter, wide receiver Bill Fleming and tackle Matt Martin.

The Blue Devils won the league title last year with a perfect 7-0 record. But they necessary, they will be held on Lake St. Clair on Sunday, September 17 and Monday, September 18.

Baker, who played safely last year and will be in the quarterback spot this season, also returns.

Bayview Seeks to Defend Claim to Canada's Cup

By David Kramer. Exciting match race sailing is taking place on Lakes St. Clair and Huron this week as Bayview Yacht Club defends the 79-year-old Canada's Cup against a challenge from the Royal Hamilton Yacht Club, (RHYC), in Ontario.

The first boat to win four out of a possible seven points will take the cup. The long distance race counts two points, the others are worth one.

Coach Hopper, who stresses defense, is moving two of last year's offensive starters to outside linebacker this year. They are John Commett and Brad Wilson.

The NEWS interviewed both coaches last week to assess their feelings about the coming season.

Keeping the prized trophy at Bayview will be the responsibility of Terry Kohler, a 43-year-old industrialist from Sheboygan, Wis. His boat, Agape, won the right to defend after beating two other locally based American contenders.

Match racing is very different from such races as the Bayview Port Huron to Mackinac race in that there are only two boats which race evenly, (no time handicaps). Match racing tactics differ in that the boats must "cover" each other and attempt to take each other's wind if they hope to win with such evenly matched machines.

Handling the backfield will be halfback Jim Heidt and fullbacks Brian Welsh and Rich Harrison.

Dr. Lyle J. Micheli, director of the division of sports medicine at Children's Hospital Medical Center, Harvard Medical School, spoke at South High School, Sunday and Monday, September 10 and 11, on the increasing number of injuries to children who participate in sports.

Observation trials were held beginning in June for the purpose of choosing the American boat considered best suited to defend the cup. These races were held on Lake St. Clair and were closely watched by a five-man selection committee from Bayview.

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will launch its 25th season on Monday, September 18, at 8 p.m., with "United Flight 81, Invitation to Paradise," an award-winning 16mm movie, photographed in Hawaii by Dan Paull, narrated by Doris Paull.

Returning for the special team's squad will be Randy Steen, Tom Schneider and Dana Myers.

Through arrangements made by Dr. Byron A. Androu, a local physician, the public school system's division of instruction, and Saint John Hospital, Dr. Micheli spoke to residents and coaches, physical education teachers and administrators from the public, private and parochial schools in the community.

All three American boats had their winning streaks, but after they all had modifications made to their hulls or rigs during lulls in the trials, the addition of a keel to Agape proved most successful.

It will be shown at the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road, and is open to the public without charge.

Members-at-large are William C. Filbee, Arthur and Dorothy Schmidt, Otto Streck and Fern and Rip Zwickey.

An Unsettling Experience

The entire sequence of events surrounding Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Coats' interest in a similar position on the Memphis Board of Education, his selection by a 5-4 vote, (and an ensuing split between black and white members), and his ultimate decision not to accept the position over-seeing a predominantly black school system is obviously unsettling for the community.

If one considers a need for stability and continuity for a period longer than two years, (as the NEWS does), for an individual in such a position, (making the assumption the individual in question doesn't have a touch of wanderlust), Dr. Coats' planned move elsewhere was startling.

Its effect on the total citizenry, school officials not withstanding, in relation to his eying of another post, after apparently becoming settled in The Pointe, is somewhat displeasing in itself, (no one is implying he or anyone else should stay for 10 years either), but now after his selection, reaction to it and his decision to stay in the community for an undetermined period of time, one may only wonder to what degree, if any, Dr. Coats' leadership qualities have been affected.

He's undoubtedly stuck with opinions, (both pro and con), over his interest in the Memphis position but more than that, considering his original selection, ensuing turmoil regarding a black boycott of schools if he should come to Memphis and his decision to stay, the NEWS questions how effective Dr. Coats will now be in serving the community, (in comparison to the pre-Memphis period).

Besides inherent questions on what effect this all may have on his leadership ability, personally and in the eyes of others, the NEWS also is concerned over the superintendent's credibility and to what effect, if any, it has suffered.

Another point, so noted by Mrs. Dwight Brown of Moross road in her "Letter to the Editor," (August 31 edition), views the accountability of the School Board.

"It seems evident that our School Board has been intent on hiring young superintendents using Grosse Pointe as a stepping stone," she says. Her concern is that the school system will not have an opportunity to see completely through to fruition newly initiated programs and goals because a superintendent's tenure is short.

The important aspect of teamwork has obviously been affected to some degree by this sequence of events—to what extent, however, may not be known for some time.

And the fact that Dr. Coats signed a five-year contract that the trustees had approved by a controversial 5-2 vote in May apparently doesn't hold that much water in this instance.

For in a great variety of cases today, it appears that contracts unfortunately, for one reason or another, don't mean a lot anyway.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools

Shortly before the start of this school year, 19 of our high school students graduated from the Medical Aid Co-Op Program in a ceremony conducted at Cottage Hospital.

In its ninth year, the program was initiated in 1969 through the efforts of Ralph Wilgarde, administrator of Cottage Hospital, and Frances French, Carolyn Scarborough and Loujane Beynon of the school system.

From the first graduating class of three students, the program has grown and expanded to the point where this year's graduates bring the total number of students completing the program to 226.

Follow-up studies with past graduates show that most of them have continued in their training and entered into professions related to health care.

Adding emphasis to that finding was the presence of two former students who spoke to the medical aides at the graduation ceremony.

Paula Bartowiczewicz, RN, a 1972 graduate of the program, reported that she is currently employed at Bon Secours Hospital as a staff nurse and related some of the various health care jobs she has had since leaving the Medical Aide Program.

Another former student, Charlotte Parks, who participated in the program in 1976, commented on her work at Northern Michigan University, where she is enrolled in the associate degree nursing program.

Summarizing the educational experience the Medical Aide Co-Op students receive at Cottage, Loujane Beynon, the summer coordinator of the program, explained that hospital staff members, Victoria Boyce and Debra Brait, serve as instructors for the students during their five-week training session.

In addition to the 80 hours the students spend in the classroom during that time, they also participate in approximately 100 hours of clinical experience under the supervision of the Cottage nursing staff as coordinated by Renna Kennedy, RN, director of nursing, and the assistant director of nursing, Carol Belback, RN.

Upon completion of the five-week training session, the students are certified as having met the qualifications to be nurses' aides and orderlies. During this school year, the program graduates who are now seniors continue to participate in the co-op program under the supervision of Nancy Waugaman

To the Editor:

Each week the Grosse Pointes lose more of their beauty, and in turn our properties become less attractive. The cause is two-fold: first, the Dutch Elm Disease is destroying one of our great assets; second, we are coping inadequately with the problem.

Some claim that new, expensive chemicals will protect these beautiful trees, and blocks have banded together to apply these new cures. But the sound of the chain saws continues daily and elm after elm is felled.

We have no basis for believing that our elms are any sturdier or disease resistant than those which once lent charm and beauty to Cadieux, Charlevoix, Outer Drive and the streets of Windsor.

The fact of the matter is that elms are dying and our best efforts do little to delay the process.

Let us take a look then at the inadequate way in which we are coping with the process. When an elm dies it is sometimes replaced with a small sprig of a tree which is 15 to 20 years from being a shade tree. Vast sections of streets have not been replanted and reflect the ugliness of this neglect.

Current replanting policies by the Pointes are inadequate, irregular and often inappropriate. They've decided that the beauty of our close-planted elms is not to be duplicated, and when they plant new trees they space them farther apart.

The solons also have decided that the uniformity of trees which has lent beauty to the Pointes, Paris and other beautiful areas is not to be repeated. Now one sees a random mixture of curb side trees: slow-growing Oak, feathery locusts, Maples of all types and a fair variety of other trees.

What was once the grace of cathedral elms is becoming a hodge-podge of neglect. Although more committees are now trying to keep pace with current losses, they have not replaced trees that fell in prior years. Steadily we are losing ground and one need look only at Cadieux above Warren to see the ultimate result of this process.

Also, we do not anticipate. We wait until a 50- to 70-year-old tree dies and is removed before we plant a new sapling. We either forget that it takes time for trees to grow, or we don't care about the contributions which full grown trees make to both scenery and property values.

If we cared, we would have done more. We would, for example, have developed a policy on which trees are most appropriate and hardy, and would have settled on them for all curbside use.

Second, we would have replaced all the trees that are missing, restoring the beauty that once characterized the Pointes.

Third, we would start alternate plantings, giving the new trees a chance to grow to maturity before their neighboring elms fall.

If the people of the Pointes really care they will take and demand action. If they don't then the Pointes will continue to lose their beauty and future property values will reflect this loss.

Frank W. Wylie, Of Washington road, Grosse Pointe City

To the Editor:

As one of the Farms Council members that voted to approve the purchase of a new radar unit which was the subject of a letter from City resident, Bob Orban, in his letter published September 7, I feel that I should respond.

First, I wish to commend Mr. Orban for his interest in excess and unnecessary government expenditures. As a taxpayer and as a council member, I share his concern. It is for this reason that I recommend to all citizens of Michigan that they think seriously about two ballot questions in the November election.

The Tisch amendment and the voucher proposal both will drastically reduce local property taxes and replace them with some unidentified higher state tax or taxes to be disbursed back to the local communities.

In local governments and school boards of education, the citizens have an opportunity to vote for all council and school board members. At the state level, citizens have a minority influence by voting for only one out of 110 representatives and one out of 38 senators.

The way to control taxes is to control spending which can be done more effectively at the local level where it can get the exposure and response of local citizens like Mr. Orban.

The further the distance between the source of tax monies and the expenditure of these monies, the greater the opportunity for waste, corruption, special interest spending and the lack of flexibility and accountability.

As far as the issue of the purchase of the radar unit questioned by Mr. Orban, as a council member I do not feel I was "conned" by Chief Robert Ferber.

First, it was a budgeted item open to public review and comment. The budget was approved by the council in May and, to the best of my knowledge, there has been no adverse reaction from Farms residents.

I have to believe they are satisfied with the job of fiscal restraint being exercised by the administration and the council in these difficult times.

Secondly, and more important, is the fact that the greatest criticism I personally receive from Farms residents is speeding on our residential streets particularly with concern over the safety of our small children.

I wholeheartedly supported Chief Ferber's recommendation in what I firmly believe are the wishes of Farms residents. I ask Mr. Orban if he can equate the expenditure of $2,985 with the possible loss of the life of a small child? I can not.

Sincerely, Joseph L. Fromm, Councilman, Grosse Pointe Farms

Kiwanians Set Peanut Sale

A community-wide Kid's Day Peanut Sale to raise funds for activities in the community will be held on Friday, September 15, and Saturday, September 16, in The Woods by the Kiwanis Club of Grosse Pointe, said club president Michael Shaheen of Kensington road.

Activities supported by the peanut sale are scholarship aid to local children, youth athletic programs, financial and active support in the fight against drug and alcohol abuse, aid to the handicapped and mentally disturbed children and assistance to needy families.

Kiwanis buses also provide transportation for the youth and senior citizens to the Lake Front park, while another activity was a free blood pressure check clinic sponsored for the benefit of the citizens of the community.

At the same time, the club recently offered to join with the city in purchasing a new bus for the exclusive use of the municipality.

According to Mr. Shaheen, club members will become peanut salesmen on street corners throughout The Woods for the two days in an attempt to raise $5,000. A bag of salted in the shell peanuts will be given to each person making a donation to help support club projects.

Any men in the community, who are interested in the work of Kiwanis and who would like to actively participate in its projects, should call new membership chairman Richard Brennan at 889-0678.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters, Director of Public Libraries

Guest Columnist Diana M. Howbert, Children's Librarian

Each summer the Children's Department sponsors a Reading Club and each summer the response is overwhelming. Over 1,200 children, whose ages range between five and 12, signed up at the three libraries.

Reading certificates are awarded to those children who read at least 10 books. Of the number who qualify for a certificate over half read many more books than the minimum requirement. Lists of 60 to 80 books are not uncommon.

What are they reading? Surprisingly enough, they choose many of the old favorites enjoyed by their parents and in some cases their grandparents. Dr. Seuss of CAT IN THE HAT fame is still a perennial favorite as are the "family stories" of Carolyn Hayward, the "Betsy & Eddie" books.

All of Beverly Cleary's books are still in demand — HENRY HUGGINS, BEAZUS & RAMONA and MOUSE ON A MOTORCYCLE.

THE LITTLE HOUSE series by Laura Ingalls Wilder continues to attract new readers. Many of the children have discovered this delightful series via the popular television program.

Television also has helped to introduce a whole new generation to the Hardy Boys and Nancy Drew. A new addition to the mystery scene for the younger reader is ENCYCLOPEDIA BROWN. A further twist is added for the reader who is asked to help solve the mystery, (answers, of course, are provided in the back).

"Something funny" is a constant request and MR. POPPER'S PENGUINS by Richard Atwater continues to amuse as does HOMER PRICE by Robert McCloskey, CHARLIE & THE CHOCOLATE FACTORY by Roald Dahl and STUART LITTLE by E. B. White.

Science Fiction and the world of fantasy still have an enthusiastic following with perhaps C. S. Lewis' THE CHRONICLES OF NARNIA heading the list for many children.

Among the older children, 10 to 12 years, there is a continuing interest in "realistic fiction" which presents children in a contemporary setting coping with problems that many readers also are facing.

Judy Blume, of course, is the master of this genre. Right on target, Ms. Blume blends sympathy with a wry sense of humor to describe the joys and agonies of growing up. Any mother reading ARE YOU THERE GOD, IT'S ME, MARGARET is bound to laugh with a wince of recognition. Ms. Blume has a perfect knack for capturing all the joys, fears and uncertainties that surround a girl approaching adolescence.

As well as returning to old favorites, our readers are constantly making new discoveries. Here is a selective list of some new titles that have become increasingly popular, some of which are bound to become modern classics.

THE GUEST: A moose welcomes a snail as her houseguest and his sudden disappearance causes her great concern.

SPEEDBOAT: Jasper Raintoast, friend of Tweedy-

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH CARRUTHERS? When Carruthers, the bear becomes very contrary, his young friends, Emily and Eugene, begin to worry and try to make him happy until they finally realize just what is the matter with him.

YUMMERS: Emily Pig accepts Eugene Turtle's advice to walk as a way of losing weight but runs into too many tempting edible diversions.

Judith Viorst.

ALEXANDER & THE TERRIBLE, HORRIBLE, NO GOOD VERY BAD DAY: From the time he wakes up with gum in his hair until he gets into bed that night and bites his tongue, Alexander suffers through a day of unmitigated woe and bedeviling.

MY MAMA SAYS THERE AREN'T ANY ZOMBIES, GHOSTS, VAMPIRES, CREATURES, DEMONS, MONSTERS, FIENDS, GOBLINS, OR THINGS: If his mother has made other mistakes, can Nick trust her word that there are no goblins and such lurking around at night?

10TH GOOD THING ABOUT BARNEY: In an attempt to overcome his grief, a boy tries to think of 10 best things about his dead cat.

Constance Greene. ISABELLE THE ITCH: When she takes over her brother's paper route, Isabelle finds an outlet for her excess energy and a way to make friends out of enemies.

BEAT THE TURTLE DRUM: A young girl learns to cope with her feelings about her sister's accidental death.

Bette Greene. SUMMER OF MY GERMAN SOLDIER: Sheltering an escaped prisoner of war is the beginning of some shattering experiences for a 12-year-old girl in Arkansas.

Norman Fox Mazer. FIGURE OF SPEECH: The very special relationship between Jenny and her grandfather leads to tragedy when Jenny's parents want to place him in a home for senior citizens.

THE GREAT BRAIN Series by John Fitzgerald is set in turn-of-the-century Mormon Utah. These books relate the hilarious adventures of the author's older brother and his wild schemes to get money.

Thieves entered Hill and Hill Tobacconists, Ltd., 19529 Mack avenue, sometime between 6 p.m. on Saturday, September 9, and 10 a.m. on Sunday, September 10, according to a report received by Woods police.

James Simon of the store told Officer Robert Rabe that a number of pipes and lighters were removed from several display counters, although no specific inventory has been compiled as yet.

Police said the culprits gained entry by sawing a middle bar of a 4' by 4'-16 pane window, bending the bar back and entering through a 16" by 16" opening. Then, the thieves pushed open an interior 2' x 4' window which was locked.

The incident is under investigation by the detective bureau.

Let's Talk Real Estate by John E. Brink

I have a customer who has been diligently looking for a house in the sixty five thousand dollar range for six months now. During this time the price range for comparable homes has risen and now is seventy to seventy five thousand dollars.

This is a difficult situation for our buyer because he finds that he must either settle for less or reevaluate his finances and have to afford the new price range. It isn't that we haven't had ample opportunity to purchase a home in his price range—in fact there were a few that got away and a few more that didn't appeal. So now our potential buyer is hoping to adjust his specifications so that he can find a home he can appreciate and afford.

This is why Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. can help him so much. We can redesign the exterior of homes. We can alter floor plans and even go so far to contract the work to be done at cost! This allows our prospect to purchase a house with a bad kitchen and actually put in a sparkling new one with the end cost results less than if the seller had been wise enough to do himself before he decided to sell.

If you're in the spiraling price category and it seems you're chasing a star—ask the people at Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 how you can still purchase in your price range and be more than happy after it's all said and done. Your family will be very pleased!

Beautification Group In Woods Wins Honor

By Roger A. Waha The Woods Beautification Commission was selected to be placed in the Hall of Fame in the 1978 Keep Michigan Beautiful, Inc. (KMB), Awards Program, the group's third such honor.

Frank H. Abar, KMB president, notified commission chairman Dr. Albert C. Howe of the award earlier this month while saying the official presentation will take place at the awards banquet October 24 at the Lansing Hospitality Inn.

Dr. Howe, decidedly pleased over the honor which reflects commission accomplishments between last June and this June, said he hopes to have a delegation represent the group at the banquet.

Such accomplishments include the dedication of the Veterans Memorial Parkway project, the group's flower sale, its awards night and work on the city's tree survey, among other areas of endeavor.

"I think the award reflects, as it has in the past, a recognition of our community through what it has done through our commission," said Dr. Howe, in relation to citizen awareness and the cooperation of the council.

Feeling the commission is a permanent entity in the city, he said, "There is always something new to do, something to follow up on. It's needed as part of city government and it can only grow in the future."

Emphasizing the point of involvement, Dr. Howe said the commission seeks more participation from the citizenry toward making everyone proud of the community on the beautification front.

Wine Lines by John Lundberg

One of the most important steps in making red wine out of varietal grapes is the blending process. Even if the grapes are handled the same way, each lot or group of grapes will have slightly different qualities. It is the job of the blender to put together the different lots so that the best qualities of each is preserved or even enhanced. A great winemaker will be able to put the lots together to create a great wine, whether working with a vintage year, lots from the same year, or creating a blend of the same varietal grapes from non-vintage years.

You'll find a full range of wines, from good to great, at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626. You'll also find all types of mixes and liquors to make your favorite mixed drinks, beer from all over the world, and a wide array of party snacks. Free delivery service. Country Club of Detroit Takes First Place for Second Consecutive Year in Three-Year-Old Competition

Eighty women from five area clubs participated in nine doubles matches, scheduled Thursday mornings throughout June, July and August, in this year's Ladies' Inter Club Tennis League.

They gathered Thursday, August 31, at the Country Club of Detroit for their league's third annual trophy luncheon. The Country Club won first place in the competition for the second consecutive year. A plaque was awarded to the top-rated team, and each of its 16 members received a tennis medal.

In second place was the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, in third the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, Indian Village Tennis Club and Lochmoor placed fourth and fifth, respectively.

The Inter Club League was formed in 1976 to provide competitive team tennis for the best women players in each club. A club representative and her assistant organize each team and serve on the league board. Ann Salot and Peppy Mitchell represented the Country Club this year. Katie Molloy and Sandy Mosides represented the Hunt Club. Happy Echlin and Betsy Morris the GPYC. Eileen King and Marilyn Monahan Indian Village and Cheryl Raven and Barbara Beyster Lochmoor.

Doris Brucker, who has been coordinator for the past three years, made the awards presentations, praising all members for their fine play and cooperation.

Rowene Neidow, who has served as secretary, was singled out for her efforts in starting the league and presented with a "founder and secretary" engraved medal.

Happy Echlin, who will be the next coordinator, thanked Doris and Rowene for their leadership and contributions to the league. Serving with Happy as secretary-treasurer in 1979 will be Sue O'Rourke.

They are selected by American Embassies in countries around the world: leaders or potential leaders in their own countries, in fields such as government and public administration, business, science and transportation.

They are representatives of the foreign press, educators and students.

They come to learn how we live and work, most with specific business, cultural or educational purposes—and, through the International Visitors Council of Metropolitan Detroit, they are helped to realize their objectives.

IVC, a non-profit organization which serves sponsored visitors to the Detroit area, programmed almost 500 visitors, from 80 different countries, last year.

In August alone, 92 international visitors from 15 different countries were assisted during their short-term Detroit stays.

Professional consultations and field trips to industrial, scientific and educational facilities were arranged. So was sightseeing. So was home hospitality.

Many were guests in Grosse Pointe, for among the families involved in the IVC program are many Pointers. The Ronald Haughtons, for instance, and the Frederick Murphys, and the Alex Suczeks, and the Paul Duikas.

The fashion is Europe. The feeling is Jaeger.

Nothing can compare to the Jaeger feeling. It's more than European styling. More than international chic.

It is the spirit of Jaeger as illustrated here in our marvelous coordination of wools. The grey flannel skirt, shown with detachable cummerbund, creates a soft lavouette with waist shirring. And the lavish lambswool and cashmere of our houndstooth jacket highlights our meticulously detailed wool crepe of richly-colored cream.

Even the coordinating wool tie and hat are Jaeger's own, and work to pull together a total fashion look with the Jaeger touch of sophisticated style.

A feeling only Jaeger can create.

DSO's Festival to Focus On Schubert and Vienna

Highlighted by the American premier of a rarely-performed opera, a musical congress of international scope, orchestral and chamber and lieder recitals, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's Schubert and Vienna Festival November 2 through 15 is expected to be the largest musical tribute to Franz Peter Schubert offered in the world during the 150th anniversary of the composer's death.

In 1977, the Detroit Symphony began an annual musical tradition with the enormously popular Beethoven Festival, marked by the debut appearances of Maestro Antal Dorati as the DSO's music director.

This year, for the second of the orchestra's annual mid-season festivals, plans

Married in July

At a morning ceremony Saturday, July 1, in the Grosse Pointe Academy Chapel SHARON GROB, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil C. Grob, of North Renaud road, and R. DONALD WORTMAN, son of Elizabeth Wortman, of Pompano Beach, Fla., formerly of Audubon road, and the late Albert Wortman, spoke their marriage vows.

Galliard Brass Ensemble Plays Before And During Ceremony; Reception And Brunch Follow at Lochmoor Club

Yellow and white daisy mums lined the aisle of the Grosse Pointe Academy Chapel and filled the altar area where, framed by a wrought iron arch covered with ferns, baby's-breath and ribbon, Sharon Grob and R. Donald Wortman exchanged wedding vows.

The Galliard Brass Ensemble, a classical quintet from Ann Arbor, played before and during the 11 o'clock ceremony Saturday, July 1, with The Reverend James Sheridan, O.S.A., officiating.

Readings were given by Alex Wortman, brother of the bridegroom, and usher Tony Vehar.

Sharon, daughter of the Emil C. Grobs, of North Renaud road, wore a sleeveless, Qiana gown, hemmed in crocheted lace and styled with a lace bodice embroidered with seed pearls.

Her lace-edged picture hat and floor length veiling with embroidered floral accents were designed by her mother. White gardenias, stephanotis and trailing ivy formed the bridal bouquet.

Honor maid Judy Grob, sister of the bride, sang "Let Me Sing You A Love Song" and accompanied herself on the guitar.

Judy and bridesmaids Debbie Worzniak Grob, Mary Phillips Thomson, of Grand Rapids, and Janet Wu, of Boston, wore white dotted swiss dresses fashioned with ruffled, off-the-shoulder necklines and tiered, gathered skirts.

They carried bouquets of long-stemmed, yellow silk roses and fern, tied with yellow ribbon. Each wore a matching rose in her hair.

Don, son of former Audubon road resident Elizabeth Wortman, who now makes her home in Pompano Beach, Fla., and the late Albert Wortman, asked Dennis Hebert, of East Tawas, to act as best man.

Guests were seated by Steven Grob, Jeff Watts, of Chicago, and Mr. Vehar.

The mother of the bride wore an afternoon dress of off-white chiffon printed with garden flowers, and carried a matching stole.

Mrs. Wortman selected an afternoon dress of off-white Qiana, accented with pink flowers and a neckline ruffle. Both mothers wore flowers in their hair.

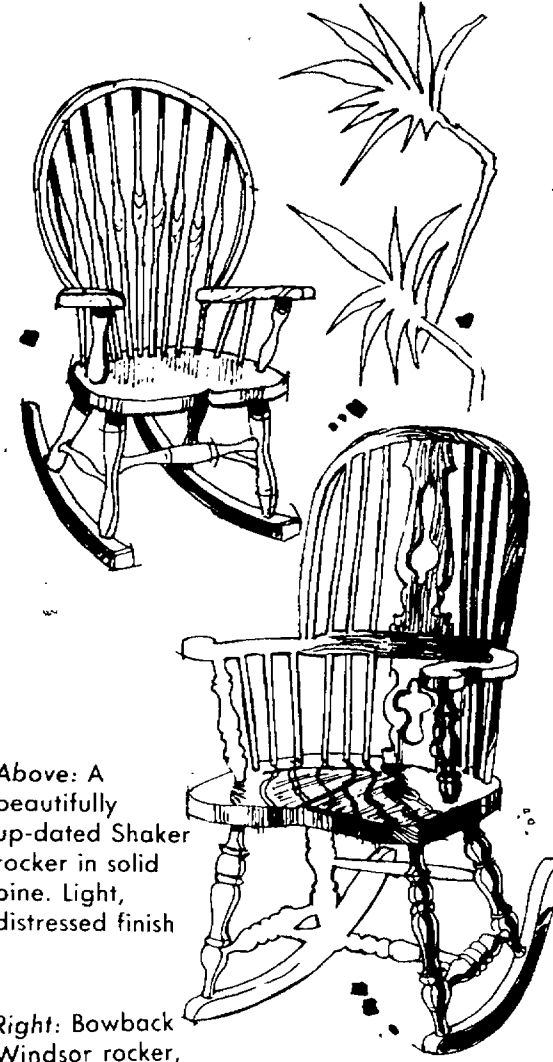

A reception and brunch at Lochmoor Club followed the morning rites. After a two-week trip to Canada the couple is at home in Ann Arbor where Don, a landscape architect, is associated with the consulting firm of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May.

Sharon is a clinical social worker with Downriver Guidance Clinic.

"If it was said during our Beethoven Festival last season that Detroit became a musical metropolis for a fortnight, this will be true tenfold during the Schubert and Vienna weeks," observes Maestro Dorati, "as nowhere else on the five continents is a similarly concise and comprehensive demonstration and celebration of Schubert and his influence being offered."

Dorati has programmed at least one significant musical event a day during the festival period. "We will present," says the Maestro, "rather generous samples of all facets of Schubert's work, staggering to contemplate, which is the focal point of what can be called the Vienna School in music."

The DSO's Schubert and Vienna Festival is comprised of 14 performances designed to give a comprehensive sound picture of Schubert's Vienna, the emergence of the Second Viennese School and the flowering of the Viennese Waltz Empire.

"We wish to enlarge the format of our first music festival, dedicated to Beethoven," Maestro Dorati states. "This year's festival goes beyond focusing upon one great musical artist and has emerged from its planning stages as an exciting and monumental event in the world of music."

Concerts will take place in halls throughout the Detroit area, including Ford Auditorium, Orchestra Hall, the Detroit Institute of Arts Recital Hall and the Community Arts Auditorium at Wayne State University.

The full Detroit Symphony Orchestra will give four festival performances under the baton of Maestro Dorati, beginning on opening night, Thursday, November 2, at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium with a program consisting of Schubert's Symphonies Nos. 1, 8 and 9.

The orchestra next appears Tuesday, November 7, at 8:30 o'clock at Ford Auditorium, joined by violinist Itzhak Perlman and contralto Maureen Forrester for a program featuring the world concert premier of Schwartz's "Epilog Zu Rosamunde" and other instrumental and vocal works by Schubert, Wolf, Schoenberg, Berg and Webern.

The orchestra will close the festival with a performance Wednesday, November 15, at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium. Maestro Dorati will accompany bass Peter Lagger in a performance of Schubert's song "The Wanderer."

The program also will feature (Continued on Page 30)

Five Pointes Club to Meet

The Five Pointes Garden Club will travel to the Detroit Zoological Park for a tour of the Matilda Wilson Bird House and Collection of Exotic Plants Monday, September 18.

Mrs. Frank Seydler, who has made the arrangements, asks members to bring a box lunch and meet in the parking lot of Saint Michael's Church in Sunningdale Park at 11 o'clock.

Daughters of Isabella Circle Schedules Party

County Sets Two Classes

Wayne County Community College will offer two courses in The Pointe this fall. "Opera Appreciation" will meet at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, on Mondays, September 25 through November 18. "Cancer for the Layperson" will be held at North High School, 707 Vernier road, on Wednesdays, October 4 through November 1, from 7 to 9 p.m. Founder and general director of the Piccolo Opera Co., Margorie Gordon, will conduct the opera course between 7 and 9 p.m. She has performed with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, Philadelphia Symphony, NBC Symphony, Detroit Symphony and the Pittsburgh Symphony. The class will explore French, German and Russian operas, focusing on the works of Bizet, Gounod, Debussy, Mussorgsky, Wagner and Strauss. The four-week course on "Cancer for the Layperson" will explore several important issues concerning cancer, through guest speakers. Registration for both classes may be conducted at Wayne County's Community Services office, 4611 Woodward avenue, or on the first day of classes. For more information, call the college at 832-4750.

Schools Offer Bridge Classes

The fall program listing of adult education courses offered by the public schools' Division of Instruction—Continuing Education includes a wide range of Bridge classes. The schedule has been arranged to accommodate those with varying degrees of knowledge and skill with the game. Beginners' classes are slated from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. on Tuesdays. Refresher classes are scheduled from 1 to 3 p.m. on Tuesdays and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. on Wednesdays. Those who do not wish further instruction in Bridge, but enjoy playing, are encouraged to join one of the players' groups, slated from 1 to 3 p.m. on Wednesdays and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. on Thursdays. The 10-week courses, taught by Pauline Bontekoe, cost $20. For starting dates and registration information, call 343-2178.

Seeking Aides For Red Cross

Red Cross reports that there are over 125 volunteer positions available in Detroit as the organization gears up for its 1978 Volunteer Recruitment Week, September 18 through 24. This year's theme is "Serve. Grow. Make a Difference." Volunteers are needed to work on mobile blood collection units where they assist Red Cross nurses with non-medical duties such as registering blood donors, labeling and numbering blood containers, escorting donors to the canteen area and serving refreshments. Individuals are needed to serve in the same capacity at the Red Cross Blood Center in Detroit, and there are a variety of administrative positions open in all services. There are volunteer opportunities available at Henry Ford, Southwest and Grace Northwest Hospitals as well as in transportation work, in the food service and the Service to Military Families department at the Southeastern Michigan Chapter headquarters in Detroit. Persons interested in growing through service to the community may contact Red Cross, 833-4440, for further information.

Under Fashion Quiz . . . Do you have a variety of slips in several lengths? You're going to need them. Do you have a slip with a front slit? With side slits? Skirts are slit for day and evening. Do you have a camisole with dance pants or a teddy? Do you have just the right bra for that sexy black slip dress? These needs came to mind when we were fitting the Walton-Pierce show for Oakland Hills Country Club and for the Fashion Group show, both on the same day, of course. It's a busy fall. You can find all your under fashions in the Lingerie Department of Walton-Pierce. As for the black crepe slip dress, it comes with a violet jacket. There are other versions, too! Adele Simpson combines black crepe with black sequins for an elegant long evening dress, the skirt is deeply slit on one side. From the Nipon Boutique there are many selections for party time. We like the wrap style that features a tucked bodice. Then there is a creamy white jersey with the contrast of black trim. One of the important looks for evening is the tunic and pant look and Walton-Pierce did an entire sequence for the show with a variety of this look in black, white, wineberry, blue and emerald green. Come see for yourself.

If You Have A Flair . . . for decorating with color, you should see what you can do with Coppes cabinets. They're available in a rainbow of 14 different colors, in addition to the many wood stain finishes. See samples today at Mutschler Kitchens, Inc., 20227 Mack Avenue, 884-3700.

Enjoli . . . the brand new fragrance from Charles of the Ritz is at the Notre Dame Pharmacy. Try this new contemporary scent . . . 6 fl. oz. eight hour natural spray cologne priced $3.75. There are other sizes, too.

Fashion Jewelry Designs . . . from Napier, Hobe and Trifari are sure to complement your fall wardrobe . . . stickpins, lariat chains, earrings and bracelets at the Squirrel's Nest, 19849 Mack Avenue.

For The Adventurouse . . . Caracas, Venezuela and Angel Falls combining hotel accommodations and camping while canoeing to the Falls. This is truly an unusual vacation. Travelwise Travelers always ask for Mr. Q., 886-0500.

Bijouterie . . . the diamond and gold place of Grosse Pointe is having its Annual Remount Special Sale. In addition to a 20% savings through September, they will buy your old mountings at today's top gold prices. Save two ways and enjoy the quality of Cueter's Bijouterie, 19860 Mack corner of Huntington, Grosse Pointe Woods. Closed Mondays.

Woods Optical Studios . . . tells us there is a slow steady change taking place in eyewear for men. Slightly smaller, not a bulky with a classic proper look. They have several versions for you to see and be seen in. The look is a happy marriage of the John Denver and John Chancellor looks. Stop by 19599 Mack between 7 and 8 Mile Roads, 882-9711.

Customweave Carpeting . . . is one of the heaviest nylon carpets you can find. It comes in twenty five decorator colors or you can custom order your own color. It is known for its long wearing quality and beauty. See it at Ed Maliszewski, 21435 Mack, 776-5511.

Pegasus . . . has added a new Cordura luggage series made for the stylish traveler. It's light weight, durable, abrasion resistant and colorful. Every item is trimmed in belting leather for good wear and good looks. Harvey's Compleat Traveler has it . . . 345 Fisher Road.

Add A Little Interest . . . to your bath with a smartly framed print or small grouping. Whether you like the look of barn wood or butcher block . . . chrome or bamboo, this line of pictures is so right for your bath . . . Wicker World, 20643 Mack Avenue.

Take Advantage . . . of the Box Sale of Lenox candles at "the little store," 17037 Kercheval. There's also a special on Yorktown Pfaltzgraf cooking pieces for microwave, serving pieces, twenty piece dinner set and more.

Ron Ruel Says . . . Perms to express your personality is the Fall '78 forecast. Before you decide to have a perm, you owe it to yourself to know what the process is all about and just what kind of effect it will have on your hair. Ron suggests a total control Pyrametric cut to start the beginning of your new look. ture pianist Tedd Joselson and offer Schubert's "Wanderer" Fantasy, Liszt's orchestration of that work and dance music by Schubert, Lanner and both Johann Strausses.

The Detroit Symphony also will participate in the United States premier of Schubert's opera "Alfonso und Estrella" Saturday, November 11, at 8 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

Maestro Dorati will conduct the DSO in this concert version of the Schubert opera as soprano Elisabeth Soderstrom, tenor Curtis Rayam, baritone Steven Kimbrough and baritone William Parker make their debut appearances with the orchestra and are joined by bass Peter Lager.

The opera is set in Spain during the Moorish period. Full of conspiracy and action, it is the complex love story of Alfonso, the son of the exiled king, and Estrella, the daughter of the usurping king.

In addition to the orchestral performances, the festival will feature a wide variety of other musical offerings.

Two examples of Schubert's chamber music will be provided by the Detroit String Quartet and other DSO chamber players Friday, November 3, at 8:30 o'clock in the Recital Hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

On Saturday, November 4, at 8:30 o'clock in WSU's Community Arts Auditorium, the Bern String Quartet will be joined by pianist Ilse Von Alpenheim and bassist Robert Gladstone, with special appearances by pianist Antal Dorati, mezzo-soprano Elsie Inselman and baritone Bruce Hall, in a program of Schubert works.

The Bern Quartet will be in residence at Wayne State University during most of the Schubert Festival, offering a series of master classes and recitals.

For lieder aficionados, there will be a recital Sunday, November 5, at 7:30 o'clock in the Detroit Institute of Arts Recital Hall featuring soprano Elisabeth Soderstrom in a program of songs by Schubert, Schumann, Brahms, Wolf and Strauss, accompanied by Martin Katz.

The Soiree Musicale Wednesday, November 8, at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium is sure to be a festival favorite. Festival guests including Antal Dorati, Ilse Von Alpenheim, Elisabeth Soderstrom, Maureen Forrester, Peter Lager and several DSO soloists will participate in a "Schubertiad": an evening of informal music-making.

The festival also will feature performances by the Marlboro Trio, pianist Murray Perahia and the Interlochen Orchestra and Choir. The International Schubert Congress, co-sponsored by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Wayne State University, is designed to be an integral part of the Schubert and Vienna Festival.
