A HOUSE-SENATE conference committee approved tax portions of President Jimmy Carter's long-stalled energy program, agreeing to tax gas-guzzling cars and provide tax credits to home owners who insulate their homes. The agreement, however, drew criticism from two groups of senators, including Michigan Sen. Robert Griffin, who threatened to filibuster the gas guzzler portion on account of possible ill effects on the auto industry.

A PLAN linking $164.5 billion in tax cuts by 1983 to restraints in federal spending, already approved by the Senate, seems likely to be approved by Congress. The measure, although opposed by President Jimmy Carter, had its chances for passage improve after House and Senate conferees worked out their differences. In a surprise move, the House voted to instruct its conferees to accept the Senate version of the bill. A final vote on the bill is expected Saturday.

Saturday, October 14
CARDINALS OF the Roman Catholic Church, for the second time in 50 days, began the task of choosing a new pontiff today, as they entered their conclave. They will not emerge from seclusion until 75 or more of the 111 electors agree on a choice. In other news, James Earl Ray, convicted assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was married to Anna Sandhu, a 32-year-old free lance artist, during a brief ceremony at the Tennessee prison where Ray is being held.

Sunday, October 15
SENATE AND HOUSE negotiators were working on a compromise tax bill they hoped would be acceptable to the White House while the energy legislation Congress struggled with for the past 18 months ran into further stalling as the legislators prepared to go home. In other news, Detroit police nabbed 209 people in an early morning raid of what they said was a $10,000 a week illegal drinking and gambling establishment.

Monday, October 16
CONGRESS, IN a marathon session lasting over 30 hours, passed an $18.7 billion tax cut bill that would cut taxes for 65 million couples and individuals next year. President Jimmy Carter is expected to sign the bill. For the average family of four earning $10,000 per year, taxes would be cut by $136 under the bill. It also allows homeowners 55 or older to take a one-time, tax-free profit of up to $100,000 on the sale of their house.

Tuesday, October 17
KAROL CARDINAL WOJTYLA of Poland was elected the 264th Pope of the Roman Catholic Church Monday, becoming the first non-Italian to hold the office in 455 years. The 58-year-old archbishop of Krakow took the name John Paul II, after his immediate predecessor who served for just 34 days. Cardinal Wojtyla's election came as a surprise as he wasn't considered to be a front-runner for the office. He also is the first Pope from a communist controlled country.

ATTENDS CONFAB
Margaret Beck of The Farms attended the annual conference of the Humane Society of the United States held in Dearborn. Mrs. Beck is a member of ARK Humane Education Service and a former member of the board of directors of the Audubon Society. She is a teacher in the Roseville Community School District.

Pointers Get Ready to Deliver Vial of Life Kits

These Pointe residents are picking up supplies for the door-to-door distribution of 5,000 Vial of Life kits to Park residents and an additional 5,000 kits to be distributed in churches in The Pointe and the near east side of Detroit. It's part of the Saturday, October 21, "Wayne County Walk for Life" chaired by County Commissioner ERV STEINER, (second from left). At the Jefferson Terminal Warehouse where some 500,000

vials await county-wide distribution are CHRIS BRICKER of Fisher road, LARRY GAREAU of Moran road and AL THOMAS of Pemberton road. Mr. Thomas is president of the Grosse Pointe Park Civic Ass'n, which is sponsoring The Park's program in cooperation with the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club and the Park Fire Department. GPF Police, City Await Arbitration

Negotiation Sessions Unproductive, Mediator Fails to Bring Both Sides Together Toward Resolving 12 Issues

By David Kramer
Farms police and the city are awaiting the services of a state arbitrator in an attempt to iron out differences on some 12 issues which remained unsolved in negotiations.

Police officers are currently working under the terms of the old contract, which expired June 30. Representatives of both parties agree it may be quite some time, perhaps as late as January, before a new contract is worked out in binding arbitration. Arbitration is the final measure in a three-step process required by law to work out differences in the case of public employee unions.

Pros, Cons of Voucher System Discussed by Group Representatives

Viewpoints on Proposition H Shared by Spokeswoman for Citizens for Local Control of Education, Which Is in Opposition to Proposal, And by Spokeswoman for Citizens for Educational Freedom, Which Is in Favor

By Susan McDonald
Will it bring chaos and confusion to the educational process in Michigan or will it establish a more equitable system with improved opportunities for all students? Depending upon whom you talk to in Grosse Pointe, the Voucher System—proposition H on the November 7 ballot—may do either.

On one side are Citizens for Local Control of Education, an outgrowth of the schools' PTO Council formed to fight the proposal. Co-chairman Judy Orhan says the Voucher System will be outrageously expensive and will mean local citizens will lose control of their schools.

On the other side of the issue is the local chapter of Citizens for Educational Freedom, headed in The Pointe by Marilyn Lundy. Instead of a loss of control, she says the Voucher System will increase parental control of their children's education, while improving schools by making them compete for students.

Long Trial on Horizon In Secret Tapes Incident

By Susan McDonald
A long trial may be ahead for Grosse Pointe teacher Frank Creelman, who was sued earlier this month by the school district for allegedly, and secretly, making tape recordings of his conversations with administrators.

At a preliminary hearing in Wayne County Circuit Court Friday, October 13, attorneys for both sides in the case emerged from judge's chambers agreeing to file written briefs and begin arguing the case at a hearing on Monday, October 23.

School Board Attorney Timothy Wittlinger said he expects to call four or five witnesses to the stand to prove that the tapes allegedly made by Mr. Creelman without the administrators' consent violate eavesdropping laws.

Mr. Creelman, 36, readily admits making the tapes of conversations with six school administrators over an 11-month period with a pocket cassette machine.

He said he made the recordings to protect himself because he was not allowed to have union or legal representation with him at the conference with administrators.

Mr. Creelman's attorney, James Miller, said he plans to argue that the eavesdropping law is unconstitutional. "We're going to attack the constitutionality of the eavesdropping statute; it's void because of vagueness in the (Continued on Page 4)

LWV to Discuss Nov. 7 Ballot

"Do You Know Your Head-lee from Your Tish?", a program to acquaint voters with the pros and cons of the 11 state-wide and one local, (Harper Woods), ballot proposals, will be offered to the public on Thursday, October 26, in the council chambers of the Harper Woods City Hall, Harper at Allard, at 7:30 p.m.

The Harper Woods Library Commission, as a community service, has arranged for Voter Service representatives of the League of Women Voters, (LWV), of Grosse Pointe to present an unbiased appraisal of the issues.

Proposal D Has Varied Responses

Mixed Feelings Shared on Proposition Raising The Drinking Age to 21 Years

By David Kramer
From the looks of the polls, the proposal on the November 7 ballot to raise the drinking age back to 21 will pass easily, although a survey of those Pointers most affected by the measure would indicate a much closer tally.

While high school students predictably are mostly opposed to it, a NEWS survey found that others involved with dealing with youth and youthful drinking had mixed feelings on the topic, with some questioning the need for a further hike, in light of the fact that the age will go up to 19 in December.

None of those surveyed felt the passage of Proposition D, as it is known, would completely curtail teenage drinking. They disagreed, however, on how much more difficult it would be for teens to obtain liquor.

Can Get Buyer
Youth Service Division Det. James Fowler said incidents of students coming to school under the influence at North High were very rare, numbering no more than 10 per year. He said his counterparts at South found the situation there to be similar.

"We don't have a problem with the 18-year-olds bringing alcohol to the schools and giving it to their younger friends. Maybe in Detroit it might be necessary, (to raise the age), but not here."

Det. Fowler speculated that the stringent rules regarding possession or use of alcohol at school or school functions may be why incidents of drinking are so low. A student using or possessing alcohol is subject to a suspension of up to 20 days, he said, adding, "It's very obvious if someone's under the influence."

"There's ways of getting it if they really want it," he continued. "The age change really isn't going to make a (Continued on Page 4)

SOCC Strives To Meet Needs Of GP Seniors

New Group, Which Is Outgrowth of Area's Nutrition Site, Moves Through Planning Process to Develop Goals And Directions; Committee's Report Explores Many Problems

By Roger A. Waha
It was born as a result of The Pointe's Out- Wayne County Nutrition Site for senior citizens, housed in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, and now SOCC, (Seniors Onward for Change Committee), is striving to meet the needs and improve the lives of senior citizens in the community.

Since last fall, a group of citizens representing the Pointes and Harper Woods began to meet on a regular basis to define problems affecting seniors and to seek solutions.

Their report, "Toward A New Day for Seniors: Strategies for Dealing with The Depth Needs of The Elderly," climaxes their exploration so far while providing the foundation for future directions.

Groundwork Laid
"The group developed out of a growing awareness of the people involved over the substantive needs of senior citizens which were not being dealt with by the nutrition program, which wasn't equipped to meet those needs," said Dr. Robert Linthicum, pastor of GPW Presbyterian and one of 17 members of SOCC's board of directors.

After first meeting last April, brainstorming and gradually picking up momentum, the group decided to go into a comprehensive planning process last fall and it was completed this spring, he said.

"The purpose of the planning was to determine the needs of seniors in Grosse Pointe, what agencies deal with those needs, where the needs are not being met and, in light of that, what has to be done," noted Dr. Linthicum.

Being able to define and meet a variety of needs has been a primary objective of the nutrition site's co-directors, Mary Aley and Diane Heavner, who also are members of SOCC's board of directors. With the growth of this group, both ladies feel its service to the community is decidedly important.

"I would think they would have the strength to do things that we wouldn't be able to do otherwise," said Mrs. Aley, in viewing the group's support of the site and the community in total. "It will bring into scope many things we wouldn't have thought of."

Gears Programs
Feeling SOCC has penetrated into the depths of various needs, including the importance of developing a community consciousness so such needs can be met, Mrs. Aley indicated the conclusions as outlined in SOCC's report were similar to those (Continued on Page 6)

Council Agrees to Try Again

A Total of $126,675 Being Sought for Senior Citizens, Capital Improvements in Northwest Area

By Roger A. Waha
Applications totalling $126,675 for Community Development Block Grant, (CDBG), funds were voted for resubmission by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, October 16.

After originally being denied such funds, the city was offered the opportunity to resubmit applications which officials say meet grant guidelines.

A total of $120,000 is expected in CDBG funds, while $6,675 is geared for special needs, i.e., in eying senior citizens.

Providing the foundation for the new impetus were several factors including the following: the recently completed Nordhaus Research, Inc., survey of the city's northwest area, DPW and engineering reports and contacts with the Out- Wayne County Nutrition Site for seniors, housed in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue.

Act As Subcontractor
Through the formation of SOCC, (Seniors Onward for Change Committee), an outgrowth of citizen concern over the needs of senior citizens, information on problems affecting the elderly was received by the city.

As a result, SOCC, which has prepared a proposed program budget for 1979 in the amount of $102,000, (with $68,200 being sought via grants and $33,800 via in-kind, volunteer community contributions), will receive $15,000 as part of The Woods' overall grant package.

SOCC officials now plan on appearing before the other Pointe and Harper Woods Councils to see if they are willing to participate in a minor home repair program, an ombudsman plan and an on-going needs assessment program.

As planned in The Woods, of the $15,000 currently required for the community's elderly needs, (SOCC's original budget was placed at $15,283), the $6,675 would come from special needs' funds and $8,325 would come (Continued on Page 2)

GPW Readies For Mediation

Mediation is scheduled to begin on Tuesday, October 24, toward resolving differences between the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Ass'n. (GPWPOA), and the city on a new contract for the union, which also encompasses public safety department corporals.

Officer Stephen Petrik, GPWPOA president, said the association's bargaining team of himself, Charles Philip Hamel and Donald Schmalz will participate City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher and Public Safety Director John Dunkel will represent the municipality.

The mediator is scheduled to be Richard Terepin, of the Department of Labor, Employment Relations Commission.

If there's no success on the mediation front, Officer Petrik indicated the association will probably request arbitration.

For his part, Mr. Petersen said, "We welcome the opportunity for mediation and we're still hopeful we can resolve any of the outstanding issues without going to binding arbitration."

A main difference between both sides rests in the association's request for pension improvements (Continued on Page 13)

Restaurant Owners Join Forces for Tavern License

By Roger A. Waha
The owners of two specialty restaurants in The Woods are combining forces on an initiatory petition drive in an effort to obtain two tavern licenses, (permitting only beer and wine by the glass), for their establishments, Le Cafe Francais, 20311 Mack avenue, (i.e., Kimberly Korner), and Da Eduardo, 19767 Mack.

Both Charles Moraco of Le Cafe Francais and Edward Barbieri Jr., representing Da Eduardo, hope to begin circulating petitions this week or at the latest, early next week.

The petitions, which seek to amend the ordinance and have the council approve or signify its approval of two tavern licenses in the community, must bear the signatures of not less than 10 percent of registered voters, (a minimum of around 1,500 are needed). All signatures have to be obtained within 21 days before the date of filing the petitions with the city clerk.

An original hope of the petitioners was to have the referendary question considered next month via a paper ballot but this appears an impossibility, according to City Attorney George Catlin, from a time element, (e.g., after the petitions are submitted, the signatures would have to be certified and the matter would have to be considered by the council).

 from the city's CDBG monies.
 SOCC will act as a sub-contractor for delivering elderly needs, while the city's overall proposal requires the utilization of other contractors as well, such as a traffic consultant, an urban forestry consultant and an economic development consultant, notes Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara.

At the same time, he said the city engineering firm and an assortment of construction companies will be utilized in those projects involving capital improvements.
 Although the cost of proposed projects exceeds the amount of the city's entitlement, projects or portions of projects may be carried over and completed under subsequent entitlements, he stated. (The city was looking at $120,000 per year for a three-year period.)

With the council's favorable action, a "concept paper" will be submitted to the Wayne County Office of Program Development, with Mr. McNamara saying he hopes to learn of special needs approval within two weeks.

 The projects outlined include a variety of areas. On elderly needs, the minor home repair program, which would assist seniors in remaining in their homes, encompasses many areas, from a leaky faucet and the repair of holes in floors to painting.
 An ombudsman plan would link needy seniors with agencies who can provide assistance on a local level, with necessary follow-up toward solving problems.
 Meanwhile, the on-going needs assessment program will define and document seniors' needs and help the elderly understand and seek life as it is, while attempting to make that life meaningful and purposeful within its limits. (a SOCC objective).

Related to this, will be an effort to help the community to recognize the problems and needs of seniors.
 Seven-Mack Eyed
 Other projects outlined include Brys Drive traffic problems with a look toward a cul-de-sac, the problem of through traffic in northwest area neighborhoods and the objective of engaging a traffic consultant to analyze traffic patterns and the plan of ramping remaining sidewalks in the northwest area.
 Still other project areas include the relocation of fire hydrants in the northwest area which are less than 24' from the driveway approach, the looping of water mains, sewer replacement, tree care with ensuing plans to engage a consultant to develop a comprehensive program for the northwest area and Seven-Mack Shopping Center revitalization.

On the latter, the city plans to engage a consultant to prepare a redevelopment strategy for the center. This would be a first step in a process which is required prior to the council committing redevelopment funds.

The cost of all identified needs, according to Mr. McNamara, for the various projects reaches $252,610, with the largest amount, $93,700 going for water main loops.

Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, in urging a favorable vote on Councilman George Cueter's motion to resubmit, said the $15,000 would be channeled toward seniors' needs, while the other $111,675 would go toward capital improvements in the northwest area.

"It's in the best interest of the city to resubmit the application which would meet grant guidelines," the mayor said, while adding if The Woods wasn't a recipient, other communities would be.

"Because of the Nordhaus survey, we were able to resubmit our application," noted Mr. Cueter, who eyed the needs identified in the research project. Saying the grant offers tax dollars coming back into the city, he stated, "We owe this to our community." (to try again).

Councilman E. D. Grady, meanwhile, praised Mr. McNamara and others who worked toward preparing the grant material, while adding, "I feel good about it."

Besides Mr. Pinkos, Mr. Cueter and Mr. Grady, Councilmen Thomas Fahrner, Robert E. Novitke and George S. Freeman voted for resubmission, while Councilman John Sabul cast the lone dissenting vote.
 Mr. Sabul said he was concerned about an expanding project list from the first application, along with the city sinking "deeper and deeper into the federal bureaucracy" with such an effort, (in viewing potential strings being attached).

Dr. Robert Linthicum, pastor of GPW Presbyterian and one of 17 members on SOCC's board of directors, said SOCC representatives will now approach the other local councils, while indicating some city managers have already expressed an interest in the seniors' program.

Views Commitment
 While noting only those municipalities paying a share will directly participate in the plan to serve the elderly, Dr. Linthicum, in response to Mr. Freeman's question on the in-kind contributions, said the $8,110 listed for The Woods represents dollars in donated time from a variety of volunteers.

With this approach, he indicated SOCC is able to show the community's commitment toward helping the elderly. (For instance, the $2,400 listed for office rental was what it would cost the group if it had to buy the space, already donated by GPW Presbyterian.)

 it "actually going to work?"
 "Think of the tremendous number of people it will take to administer the program in Lansing. It's staggering—they'd have to distribute 2.5 million vouchers — just imagine the bureaucracy."
 Mrs. Orban does not, as do many opponents of the plan, attack the voucher as a "backdoor approach" for parochialism.
 "We don't feel it is a religious issue," she said. "Private and parochial schools would be hurt just as much as the public system. With state money comes state control, and the parochial schools would suffer."
 Rather than a loss of local control, Mrs. Lundy says the proposition will accomplish just the opposite — putting management of children's education squarely in the hands of their parents.
 "Instead of a couple of elected representatives on local school boards, parents themselves will be able to determine what kind of education is best for their children," Mrs. Lundy explained.
 "We're talking about parent control, rather than some amorphous 'community control' that ends up in the hands of just a few people."
 She predicts the legislature would increase personal income and business taxes to make up for the loss of property tax revenue for education if the proposal passes.

Meetings Slated
 "Grosse Pointe residents would gain a great deal by discontinuation of the property tax," she maintains, adding "the voucher would mean each child is getting an equal proportion of the state education dollar."
 Meetings have been scheduled in several local schools in the three weeks remaining before the election to discuss the voucher, as well as Tisch and Headlee tax proposals.
 On Tuesday, October 24, School Board members Joan Hanpeter and Laurance Harwood will discuss the propositions at Montiel School, 1275 Cook road, at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Harwood authored a resolution opposing the voucher plan which was approved by the School Board in July.
 That duo will speak again on Monday, November 6, at Ferry School, 748 Roslyn road, at 7:30 p.m. Trombly School, 820 Beaconsfield avenue, will host a presentation by the League of Women Voters on Wednesday, October 25, at 7:30 p.m. On the same evening, State School Board member Annetta Miller will speak on the voucher only at Defer School, 15425 Kercheval avenue, at 7 p.m.

 Meetings have been scheduled in several local schools in the three weeks remaining before the election to discuss the voucher, as well as Tisch and Headlee tax proposals.
 On Tuesday, October 24, School Board members Joan Hanpeter and Laurance Harwood will discuss the propositions at Montiel School, 1275 Cook road, at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Harwood authored a resolution opposing the voucher plan which was approved by the School Board in July.
 That duo will speak again on Monday, November 6, at Ferry School, 748 Roslyn road, at 7:30 p.m. Trombly School, 820 Beaconsfield avenue, will host a presentation by the League of Women Voters on Wednesday, October 25, at 7:30 p.m. On the same evening, State School Board member Annetta Miller will speak on the voucher only at Defer School, 15425 Kercheval avenue, at 7 p.m.

Meetings Slated
 "Grosse Pointe residents would gain a great deal by discontinuation of the property tax," she maintains, adding "the voucher would mean each child is getting an equal proportion of the state education dollar."

GPT Strives To Aid Center

The splendor and pageantry of Siam in the mid-19th century, when Western ideas had just begun to penetrate the Asiatic kingdom, form the backdrop for "The King And I," the famous musical play by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II, in a benefit performance for the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The Fries Auditorium is in great need of refurbishment and the Grosse Pointe Theater, (GPT), is starting the ball rolling by trying to raise $15,000 to $20,000 for the Center as its contribution.

Over the last 16 years, GPT has been in residence at Fries. GPT officials feel this is just a small way of saying "thank you" to all the people of The Pointe who have helped it to grow over this period.

Community co-chairwomen Mrs. Henry Drettmann of Windmill Pointe drive and Mrs. Charles Kaess of McKinley road have planned a gala evening for all.

Champagne and hors d'oeuvres will be served at 7 p.m. in the Crystal Ballroom, 32 Lakeshore road, followed by an 8:30 performance. After the performance, cast members in costume will join the after-glow in the ballroom.

Mrs. Drettmann and Mrs. Kaess have asked the community to step forward and support this important project. There are still approximately 250 seats available.

Tickets for the benefit performance may be ordered by enclosing a check for $50 per ticket made payable to Grosse Pointe Theater. Reserved seating will be assigned in order of receipt.

Orders are to be mailed to Grosse Pointe Theater, Benefit, Attn: Mrs. G. Samuel, 32 Lakeshore road, Grosse Pointe 48236.

Additional information is available by calling the GPT ticket chairman at 881-4004.

Gray Panthers' Leader Speaks

Maggie Kuhn, leader of the Gray Panthers, will be the first Forum speaker at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, on Monday, October 23, at 6:30 p.m.

Gray Panthers is a national lobbying group advocating rights and a new role for the aged.

Visitors of all ages are welcome to hear Ms. Kuhn. Reservations are required before Saturday, October 21, by calling the church office at 882-5330.

The dinner and program will cost $4 per person.

Ms. Kuhn feels that the old are being wasted and encouraged to kill time on trivial pursuits.

Instead, she says, "When the young and bright combine talents with the old and wise, the potential for creativity is boundless," according to the church.

The Forum brings speakers to the church twice a year.

Park Civic Association Set for Vial of Life Drive

Valuable time will be saved in future medical emergencies with the distribution of Vial of Life kits in Grosse Pointe on Saturday, October 21, according to a Wayne County Board of Commissioners news release.

The Grosse Pointe Park Civic Ass'n. in cooperation with the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club and the Park Fire Department will deliver the kits door-to-door to all Park residents.

The Grosse Pointe effort is part of a county-wide program sponsored by the Wayne County Vial-of-Life Task Force, chaired by Wayne County Commissioner Ervin A. Steiner Jr.

To help the effort, Mr. Steiner is donating 5,000 kits for distribution in his district which includes all the Grosse Pointes and a portion of northeast Detroit.

The Vial of Life is a small pill bottle that, when completed, will contain medical information on each family member. Emergency medical crews will look for it in refrigerators in case there is a household emergency.

Program participants will place a Vial of Life sticker on their front door and on their refrigerator to call attention to the containers.

The Rotary Club is supplying 3,500 vials and identifying stickers for The Park. The civic association, however, will supply the balance for the 5,000 Park residents, plus medical information forms, vial stickers, instruction sheets and phone labels.

'Cat' to Face Circuit Court

The suspected "cat" burglar, Floyd Harris, 27, of Dickerson, Detroit, was bound over for trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on a charge of breaking and entering of an occupied dwelling with intent to commit larceny, reported Woods Det. Charles Philip Hamel.

This action was taken at the suspect's Woods Municipal Court examination on Wednesday, October 11. His bond was raised from $25,000 to $35,000, two sureties or 10 percent, and he's currently being held in the Wayne County Jail.

Harris' scheduled pre-trial hearing date is Thursday, October 26, the detective said.

The suspect was charged in The Woods after Det. Hamel obtained a set of palm prints from a stolen vehicle allegedly used by the thief after the recent burglary of a Fleetwood road home.

These prints were sent to the crime lab and, late last month, he received confirmation that the prints on the trunk belonged to Harris. A warrant was then sought and obtained from the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office.

Harris, who's suspected of plaguing The Pointe and surrounding communities for several months, also is facing receiving and concealing stolen property over $100 charges in Detroit.

The suspect was arrested on September 15 at his home by Park Det. James LaPratt and a team of detectives from Detroit's 15th Precinct, Conner Station, after an exhaustive investigation.

Village Offers Tricks, Treats

Black cats will prowl and goblins will haunt every door on Saturday, October 28, when the Grosse Pointe Village Ass'n. invites all local witches, ghosts, pumpkins and other assorted Halloween revelers to the annual Costume Contest In-The-Village.

Prizes will be awarded for costumes in each of three age categories and every participant will be invited to "trick or treat" participating Village merchants after the contests.

Judging will be held in Kercheval avenue between Notre Dame and Cadieux. Children five years of age and under will be judged at 1 p.m., six- to nine-year-old youngsters are scheduled at 1:30 p.m. and those 10 through 12 should be present at 2 p.m.

The "grandest" costumes will not necessarily win. Halloween judges are given to whimsy and have a definite sense of humor, according to the association.

Special trick-or-treat bags will be given to participants, along with a list of participating Village merchants who will welcome the costumed youngsters with treats from contests' end until 3 p.m.

The area chairmen include Vincent and Evelyn Cerutti, Tom and Mary Callahan, Phil and Darlene Van Teim, Joe and Maura Grano, Sepp and Margaretha Kortschak, Bob and Jane Buhl, Pete and Cynthia Warner, Dick and Kay DiGregorio, Anton and Nancy Tewes and Frank and Ruth Zinn.

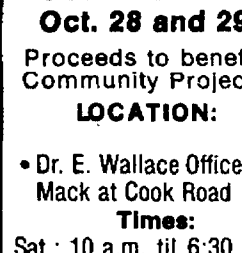

Churches participating in the program are Saint Paul's Rectory, 157 Lakeshore road, Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore, Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Maumee avenue, Christ The King Lutheran, 20338 Mack avenue, and Bethany Christian Church, 5901 Cadieux road.

The Wayne County Vial of Life Task Force was established by the County Board of Commissioners after County Health Director Dr. Perry Stearns and Detroit-Wayne County Emergency Medical Services strongly endorsed the program. It was brought to the attention of the board by Mr. Steiner.

The county hopes to cover some 800,000 households making it the largest Vial of Life distribution program in the nation.

Proposal D Draws Mixed Reviews

Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber disagrees, saying alcohol is very much a problem among young people. He would support the raising of the age to 21, although he thinks 20 is probably high enough.

The chief's support would be for a number of reasons, including what he calls documented evidence pointing to an increase in the death ratio of drinking drivers under 21 since the age was lowered to 18.

Eyes Correlation
 He believes that since the age was lowered the age of experimentation with booze has declined to the point where it now reaches the middle schools.

While agreeing that it probably isn't much of a problem during school hours, alcohol use is evident at school functions and at high school parties.

Further, the chief said that while there aren't statistics to prove it, there appears to be a direct correlation between the increasing number of malicious destruction of property cases and the lower drinking age.

Center Point administrator Marianne Cook, while stressing she spoke only for herself, supports the raising of the age.

"We should get it out of the high schools since alcohol is the number one drug abuse problem in America. It will always be available to youngsters, but it may make it more difficult if the age is raised. Alcohol is more of a problem than marijuana ever was," she said.

Problems with alcohol usually are a symptom of another problem, perhaps in the home, she said. The Family Life Education Council, (FLEC), has initiated an alcohol education program in the schools to make middle school students aware of the effects of alcohol usage.

Will Drink Anyway
 Charlie Sears, program director for Project Headline, which operates an alcoholism treatment center servicing eastside residents, agrees the age should be raised.

"Statistics show that the rate of traffic accidents involving alcohol in that age group, (18 to 21), has gone up," he said. "Why make it easier to get for the young people?"

However, Dr. Angela Kennedy, acting director of the Northeast Guidance Center, says, "My personal feeling is I don't see that there is ample evidence to substantiate raising the age. There are other ways to go about the problem."

Those whom the proposition most directly affects, those young people nearing or presently at the drinking age, have mixed feelings about it, though they are generally slanted against it. Many feel the proposal, if enacted, would change very little, since they could still find ways to obtain liquor.

"I don't think it's appropriate," said Jean Gallagher, a sophomore at South High. "They'll drink anyway because it won't be any harder to get."

Sophomore Cathy Hinsberg added, that if the age was raised, "the kids will drink just to spite the adults." She felt that drinking in school wasn't much of a problem, although it used to be.

Junior Todd Rowe agreed the age should be 19, but not 21.

"Nineteen will start controlling the younger kids and get it out of high schools, but if they raise it to 21 it will bring the drugs back, which are much more dangerous," he said.

"I think it's a pretty good idea to raise it to 21," said freshman Bayard King. "Then you'll stop those people who go out and drink and drive and kill someone."

"If a person is responsible for voting, registering for the draft, paying social security—if you're considered an adult—you should also be considered responsible enough to drink," said senior John Deaver.

"So many people ruin it, (the drinking privilege), because they can't handle it," said sophomore Sue Moran. "Now you won't even be able to drink in college." "If you're old enough to fight for your country, you're old enough to drink," said freshman Tim Livingston.

Junior Bob Orban said, "It's too bad that a few students who abuse the privilege should have it ruined for everyone else. Can you imagine college juniors not being able to drink?"

Letter Views YSD Function

A recent letter sent to faculty members at both North and South High Schools, signed by the Youth Service Division's four detectives, explored the function of the officers within the school system, while listing nine topics for classroom presentations.

The detectives, Jack Treppa and William Desilets, South District, and John Albrecht and James Fowler, North district, explained the purpose of the YSD within the school system, while citing a number of specific areas.

These include assisting the students with problems or questions they may have regarding law and law enforcement; assisting the school staff with security, trespassing, criminal conduct and traffic control; acting as liaison between the school and local police departments; and providing speakers for classroom presentations on topics related to law enforcement.

Stressing the aspect of "service" in the division's title, the officers also have the additional responsibility within the community of investigating all juvenile crimes, (those committed by persons under 17), crimes against juveniles, (abuse and neglect), cases of runaways and all cases of drug abuse, (e.g., alcohol and narcotics), regardless of the offender's age.

While welcoming suggestions for additional topics, the detectives mainly focus on the following subjects: substance abuse, constitutional rights and amendments/police procedures, juvenile laws, legal responsibility, criminal laws/civil laws, traffic laws, local ordinances, court systems and child safety.

YSD headquarters, housed in The Woods, (the managing municipality of the division), may be reached by calling 886-2908.

The detectives also are willing to speak to interested groups or organizations in the community, but they should be contacted ahead of time so specific dates may be scheduled.

Long Trial on Horizon

"The law requires that there be definable standards which guide conduct. That definition is so vague that by reading the law, you can't tell what you may or may not do."

Mr. Hiller added that the statute was declared unconstitutional last year for the same reason by an Oakland County Circuit Court judge.

Mr. Wittlinger disagreed with that argument. "Our research indicates the statute is not unconstitutionally vague," he said.

In the meantime, Mr. Creelman continues teaching shop and social studies classes at Parcels Middle School, as he has for the last 12 years. He is under a temporary restraining order forbidding him from making any more tapes or divulging the content of tapes already made.

In the suit, the school system asks for a permanent injunction forbidding Mr. Creelman from making any tapes and for $10,000 in damages. If a trial is necessary, it may be a long time coming. The Wayne County Circuit Court docket for civil suits is backed up four years, Mr. Wittlinger said.

The suit claims that divulgence of information on the tapes constitutes an "embarrassment and humiliation" to the six administrators.

It continues by saying they "cannot fulfill their obligations and duties as administrators... knowing there exists a possibility that their confidential statements" will be made public.

2,300 Joggers To Invade GP

This Sunday, October 22, is the date for the "Detroit Free Press" Motor City Striders International Marathon which will bring some 2,300 joggers through parts of The Pointe.

City Director of Public Safety Bruce Kennedy said motorists should be on the lookout for joggers and barricades from 9 a.m. to about 2 p.m. on Sunday. The route will include Jefferson Lakeshore from The Park limits to Kerby road, Kerby road to Kercheval avenue and back to The Park limits.

The joggers will be running with traffic and a lane will be marked off for them. Extra caution is advised by the chief.

SOCC Seeks to Meet Needs of Area Seniors

And, in emphasizing the experience of the board, she added only five of its members are under 60 years of age.

For her part, Mrs. Heavner said, "SOCC is the only group which is trying to do something in the field of social needs and services for people who really need help."

"Other people or organizations help in recreation and other areas but they don't really look into the needs of seniors and gear their programs toward meeting those needs."

Dr. Linthicum, who has assisted SOCC in the overall planning process, stated the group, after laying a number of needs out, felt major areas of pursuit were those of community consciousness and in helping the seniors themselves understand and accept life as it is, hence, shaping, (or reshaping), their own attitudes.

Compassion Needed
"SOCC felt essentially citizens in the community weren't really aware of how serious the problem is and how it has been accelerating as we have had significant changes in the population distribution in the community," he said.

(SOCC's report, for example, notes that, whereas the state has a norm of nine percent of a given population 65 years or older, The Pointe's has increased from a populace of 12 percent in 1970 to 14 percent in 1976. This percentage is now placed at around 18 percent according to Neighborhood Club statistics.)

Saying it was important to deal with this shift, Dr. Linthicum felt very few organizations have addressed themselves to, or have planned for, these changes and what they mean to the community, possibly because of an overall unawareness.

"We see ourselves as raising people's awareness of the growing number of senior citizens in the community and the kinds of problems which come along with such a population shift. There's also a need for us to approach the problem with compassion, (because we're dealing with those who helped build this community), while having a sympathy to the problems of aging," he stated.

The importance of the community becoming aware of what happens from the physical, social and cultural standpoints to a person who ages must be realized, he noted.

Related to this is another area discovered via the nutrition site and the report—many measure their worth by their employment and have problems when they retire regarding such measurement, Dr. Linthicum pointed out.

"We must address ourselves to have senior citizens see themselves as good and worthwhile in and of themselves," he said, the area of "productiveness" notwithstanding.

The SOCC report further explores some of these needs, many of which were uncovered at the nutrition site, and it was out of an awareness of such needs that the group began meeting "to see what we could do about our community and our own destinies."

On "The Needs of Senior Citizens," the report alludes to the stigma many attach to the area by noting, "Because the name of 'Grosse Pointe' is synonymous with wealth, it is easy to assume that there are no serious problems here. But we should not allow the affluence of some to obscure the needs of others."

Often A Fantasy
Eying the retirement years, which should be a time for opportunity and growth, the report notes that there are "truly significant needs" among many seniors, "needs intense enough that retirement as opportunity and growth is more often a fantasy than a reality."

Eight basic needs are outlined in the report including the following:

• The percentage of population over 60 in the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods is rapidly increasing; the towns as well as the citizens are ill prepared to deal with that reality.

• The inflationary spiral is eroding the fixed income on which the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods seniors are depending to pay their bills.

In noting that many seniors in the community are essentially long-term residents, the report says that they tend to be caught in a three-way economic bind.

First, they are not poor enough to be eligible for governmental assistance beyond social security, but are not wealthy enough to live comfortably.

Second, they are living in a community which sees itself as essentially upper-middle class and is therefore not sensitive to the problems of seniors within their midst.

Lack of Housing
Third, they apprehensively face a future in which living on a fixed income indicates only greater stringency in the face of ever-rising costs. • The lack of adequate alternative housing for seniors in the community removes most housing options for the seniors.

Noting the Pointes and Harper Woods are primarily communities of single-family homes, the report says there's little alternative housing for seniors except the maintenance of their present homes.

"The dilemma in which this places the senior citizen is severe. His alternatives are twofold. He must either stay in the home which he has purchased and in which he has raised his family. Or he must get out of the community!," the report states.

If a senior remains in his home, maintenance may be too expensive on his limited income, the structure may be too large for his needs and the home may not be designed for or equipped for him. If he must sell his home and leave the community to obtain more affordable and/or more suitable housing, years of relationship-building are broken.

Related to this, the report says that the typical suburban community in the Detroit metropolitan area experiences about a 12 percent sale of homes per year, while only about four percent of Pointe homes are sold.

"This means that people no longer needing a family home are not disposing of their homes—and this is occurring because there are no housing alternatives they can afford," the report states.

Peculiar Bind
At the same time, homes are not being replenished by younger families and the aging of the community accelerates.

• Transportation is inadequate for the senior in the community.

The dependence on the automobile places the senior in a peculiar bind, according to the report. Besides maintenance costs and ultimate vehicle replacement draining often already limited resources, the citizen, as he ages, finds it increasingly more difficult, and even dangerous, to drive.

"The result is inevitable—the senior citizen stays alone at home, and thus becomes both more isolated and less visible in the community," says the report.

• Physical limitations become a problem to seniors. Citing the difficulty of adapting to a life style of slowly-developing disabilities, the report cites a related area of physical limitations as the inability to cope with crime or to maintain one's personal safety.

• There's a distinct and widespread lack of community awareness of the needs of seniors.

Lack of Knowledge
Many of the aforementioned problems exist because the general populace is neither aware of their existence nor particularly cares that such problems exist.

• People in the community have difficulty in anticipating for and making adequate plans for the changes that come with advancing age.

Saying this problem is related to a lack of community awareness, the report notes, "Perhaps because retirement bespeaks both of a certain powerlessness and encroaching death, people are reluctant to deal with it in their own future."

• The senior citizen has difficulty in placing a proper (Continued on Page 7)

Arbitration Set in Farms

(Continued from Page 1) (GPFPOA), the union had "six or seven" negotiation meetings with the city since last March. When those sessions proved futile, a state mediator was brought in, and he, too, was unable to bring them together.

"The city administration is locked in," he said. "We feel they're trying to apply the same criteria to us as they have to other city employees."

Those criteria, he said, are not justifiable as the cost of living has gone up since those other contracts were negotiated.

City Clerk Richard G. Solak said the city has been trying to obtain a contract similar to those with police in the other Pointes and Harper Woods.

"The city has checked with the benefits of other surrounding communities and we feel our offer is comparable to what the others are offering," he said.

Officer Reichling said one of the major issues in dispute is the cost of living allowance, (COLA). The city wants to take COLA out of the contract completely because, Mr. Solak says, "We feel if there's any basis for a cost of living allowance, it would be in a multi-year agreement."

The contract currently being worked out would be a one-year pact, replacing the old two-year agreement, which had a COLA, though a very small one, according to Officer Reichling.

According to the officer, the city refuses to negotiate a two-year contract, which the union would prefer. Mr. Solak, however, said the city too would rather negotiate a two-year pact, and denied refusing to negotiate one.

Another point of dispute concerns the city's requirement that an officer fill out a form requesting sick leave pay. The union maintains such a provision is an invasion of privacy, and the city already has enough rules and regulations to enforce any attempts at cheating.

Mr. Solak, however, said the sick leave forms have been required for at least three years, and the issue had been to an arbitrator in a previous contract negotiation, where it was determined to be proper.

Non-Paid Lunch
"It's the city's obligation to check up on sick leave and make sure it's used properly," he said.

Yet another issue is the city's request that officers work another half-hour per day without extra pay. In the past, policemen have received a half-hour lunch period with that time being included in their eight-hour shift. The city now wants the men to take a non-paid lunch.

That, says Mr. Solak, is consistent with contracts with other city employees.

Officer Reichling, however, says that officers are always on duty, even during their lunch break, and, if a call were to come, the officer would be expected to leave his lunch to help.

Other points of dispute include provisions regarding duty-connected injuries, longevity pay and holiday pay. The GPFPOA represents all police personnel below the rank of sergeant including detectives.

According to Officer Reichling, the Lieutenants and Sergeants Ass'n. usually waits to see what the terms of a contract with the GPFPOA are and patterns their contract after them.

When the arbitrator makes his decision, the terms of the agreement are retroactive to the point of expiration of the old contract.

The parties have asked for arbitration from the Michigan Employment Relations Commission, and are awaiting a list of available arbitrators from which they are allowed to choose.

"An underlying theme which persistently appeared in our research is the lack of esteem in which so many senior citizens hold themselves in the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods," the report says, while noting this lack of esteem manifests itself in many ways including loneliness, a fear of others, isolation, feeling that one is being discriminated against, living in the past, et al.

Distinct Levels
SOCC then placed the areas of need on two distinct levels: the physical, e.g., the financial crunch, inadequate housing, a lack of transportation and physical limitations, and underlying these, the second level, which must be adequately and substantially addressed "if true healing is to occur" for seniors in the community.

These include the essential need of seniors to understand and accept life as it is, seeking to make that life meaningful and purposeful within its limits, and for the community to recognize the problems and needs of seniors and to join with seniors in dealing with them.

In light of the needs, eight goals seemed to emerge, according to the report. In all cases, SOCC discovered there was at least some organization doing something in each goal area.

However, in eyeing five goals, the committee felt the community wasn't addressing the truly depth needs which deal with the whole way a person understands himself or understands others and thus constructs a style of life for himself. "It is to those needs that we feel called," the report says.

These five goals include the following:

- Provide an adequate mix of transportation for seniors for such activities as weekly marketing, occasional shopping, recreational and social activities, the conduct of business, health care and necessary trips to downtown Detroit.

- Help seniors deal with the lack of self-esteem by developing a sense of self-worth through enabling people to deal with their own feelings of loneliness and lack of self-esteem; develop programs that will support and affirm people and particularly help men to accept their need for others.

- Assist people to develop a style of life that gives them the opportunity to accept their situations and formulate a meaningful life style within such limits.

- Raise peoples' awareness of the need to plan for their futures, particularly provide counseling programs prior to and during retirement, for financial planning and knowledge of resources.

- Raise the consciousness of people to the needs and values of seniors.

The other three goals, which SOCC discovered have the attention of many organizations, include the following:

- Discover adequate means to deal with the crunch seniors are caught in between the inflationary spiral and fixed income, such as tax relief, other forms of rebate, et al.

- Encourage people to find ways to protect themselves against accidents, crime, et al.

- Develop a comprehensive approach to seniors' housing in the Pointes and Harper Woods.

Purpose Stated
In an attempt to build strategies to accomplish the goals, a study focusing upon the five dealing with "depth needs", SOCC said its basic purpose as an organization of concerned citizens was as follows:

"To be a resource, educational and community organizing and mobilizing body to address the problems of senior citizens in this community in a comprehensive manner, thus mobilizing the resources the community has to deal with these problems."

Saying its essential strategy is one of "reflection and action," SOCC cited several strategies which can be addressed once adequate funds have been received to undertake them. Plans view the five aforementioned areas of transportation, the lack of self-esteem, life style, raising peoples' awareness in planning for their futures and community consciousness.

"Evaluation of the effectiveness of programs emerging from this reflection-action process would need to be developed. Such evaluation should include in it all of the community groups and organizations participating in the action," the report notes.

"This planning group of concerned citizens, however, should be the agency through which all programming and staff would be accountable. Some means would have to be devised by which the people of this community would be elected to this planning group, so that the group itself is accountable to the people of this community."

Perspective Changes
Noting that in-kind contributions toward research on the project totals $3,075, so far, SOCC adds that immediate future directions should be the formulation of specific projects out of the goals and strategies.

The formulation of such projects and proposals should then be followed by exploration with foundations and other funding agencies in order to receive the grants necessary to employ staff and begin the execution of the programs, the report advises.

"Early in the process, while initial projects are first being formulated, an attempt should be made to contract with a foundation to provide initial seed money to begin the entire organizing, reflection and action process."

The donations of time by citizens working on this project has accumulated to over 470 hours since last October, the report says.

Saying he wasn't a participant at the group's beginning, Dr. Linthicum noted he originally didn't know that much about problems facing seniors via hard data. However, after he was asked by SOCC members about the future direction of seniors at the nutrition site and sat in on two meetings, his perspective altered.

It became necessary to begin a comprehensive planning process and Dr. Linthicum, who also has a strong interest in this field and at one time was head of planning for the Presbytery of Chicago, was asked to guide the group in this area.

"I helped them through the planning process and the evidence obtained convinced me that there's a problem," he said, while also citing facts obtained through the ministerial association study.

Along with Mrs. Heavner, Dr. Linthicum is a liaison between the nutrition site, SOCC and the church.

Other members of SOCC's board include Arthur H. Jamieson, chairman, of Harper Woods, Augustus Christie of The Woods, Bert S. Francis of The Woods, Helen W. Francis of The Woods and Robert B. Kinkead of The Woods.

More are Woodburn O. Ross of Harper Woods, Francis D. Lenhard of Harper Woods, Park Councilwoman Ann MacDonald, Dr. Raymond Miller of The Woods, Kryn Nagelkirk of The Farms, Ralph J. Ringel of Harper Woods, Farms Municipal Judge Robert H. Pytell, Adele C. Ryder of The Woods and Joann Ryan of Harper Woods.

The oldest member of the board is Dr. Miller, who was born in 1899.

FLEC Alcohol Session Stated

The Family Life Education Council, (FLEC), has scheduled five Alcohol Awareness Training sessions for area high school students during November.

The program, now in its third year, uses 11th and 12th grade students as resource people in seventh grade level discussions regarding alcohol.

With the help of films and pamphlets, facts and myths about alcohol are discussed along with how to make responsible decisions regarding its use. It is designed to help students clarify their values and ideas regarding such usage.

The high school students are exposed to 12 hours of training by professionals in the field of alcohol and to a three-hour session in group dynamics and discussion leadership.

They then go into the classroom situation and provide an opportunity, with the help of the multimedia materials, for the middle school students to discuss their questions and concerns.

Any 11th or 12th grade student may pick up the information and application forms at their high school office or from the FLEC office, located in Room B-5 at Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte avenue.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the FLEC office at 885-3510.

Class C Liquor License Bid Denied in Woods

Stating there was a mandate of the citizens for an additional license with the majority looking at Gabby's as the potential recipient because of the petition drive, Mr. Grady said, "If I don't go for it, someone else will."

Besides Mr. Grady, those voting for the original motion were Councilmen John Sabol, George S. Freeman and Thomas Fahrner, while Mr. Cueter, Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos and Councilman Robert E. Novitke voted against it. (The vote for the substitute motion to grant Gabby's the license was just the reverse with each councilman remaining consistent in his viewpoint.)

Mandate Not Clear

In relation to this, a proposed valet parking ordinance, originally created to be considered in relation to Gabby's for restaurants with 150 or more seating capacity, also was tabled. However, a feeling remained that some type of ordinance should be enacted in the future.

The councilmen voting for the original motion expressed a variety of reasons during the discussion.

Mr. Grady said, in viewing GPW Recreation, that the need for such a license, in this case, to stay alive and the long-term contributions of the business in the community were important considerations. However, Gabby's, Le Cafe Francais and Da Eduardo all built or bought their establishments aware that they had no C license, he noted.

Feeling a tavern license was more appropriate for Le Cafe Francais and Da Eduardo, Mr. Grady said it wasn't clear that a license at Gabby's was a requirement for its continuous competition with other area restaurants.

Citing some discussions with residents and a mandate which he felt wasn't that clear, Mr. Grady said all applicants, including Gabby's, should be denied.

Mr. Grady also reiterated his viewpoint later in the discussion by saying that each of the restaurants involved probably have substantial overheads with all owners going into their businesses without the assurance of a C license.

"Other family restaurants in the area do not have a license and appear to be prospering," he said, while noting that Gabby's wasn't in a special category regarding its future and a dependance on such a document.

Mr. Bardy, in reviewing

Mr. Grady's comments, questioned how the councilman can make such a determination when he isn't involved with the operation?

For his part, Mr. Freeman cited 15 reported contacts with Gabby's by the public safety department so far this year in a report submitted by Det. Thomas Podewzik. These included two fight reports, three suspicious person calls, four parking complaints, a fire run and a stray dog report.

He also expressed some concern over stolen car reports in the shopping center area, plus potential traffic flow problems near the restaurant as cited by Public Safety Director John Dankel, e.g., the driveway between Gabby's and Sweeney Florist as it now exists wasn't wide enough to accommodate two-way traffic.

City Attorney George Catlin indicated, however, that the city would have some control in this regard in relation to approving any site plan for valet parking for the restaurant.

Views Precedent

For his part, Mr. Sabol, who has expressed opposition to such requests in the past, said he would vote "no" for several reasons.

He felt if Gabby's received the license, a precedent would be set with anyone wanting such a document going the initiatory petition route and, if a favorable vote ensues, that the council will automatically give that petitioner the green light.

Mr. Sabol also expressed some concern over the possibility of a proliferation of liquor establishments along Mack avenue, (currently there are four C licensed establishments in the community and it could have up to 15 C or tavern licensed businesses pending council and Liquor Control Commission approval).

Finally, in eying the future, he expressed some fear over the fact, if more licenses were issued and they didn't help provide business owners with a consistency of income, that it was possible some could try other means such as go-go dancers.

He also mentioned concerns over long-range deterioration of the area in relation to massage parlors cropping up, plus prostitution.

Mr. Fahrner, meanwhile, viewed potential problems in relation to valet parking at Gabby's with cars entering and exiting the grounds, with the possibility of a big traffic jam becoming a reality.

Done "Excellent" Job

On the other side, Mr. Cueter, in disagreeing with Mr. Grady, said Gabby's has been in the community for several years and the changing economic climate has its effect on overhead costs.

Saying the need of having such a license for support appears to be a way of life for larger sit-down restaurants, the councilman noted Gabby's was a large taxpayer, has contributed to the community and that Mr. Bardy has "done an excellent job" in altering the restaurant's image, (i.e., from the Blazo days).

While expressing some concern over any possible proliferation of C licenses in the community, Mr. Novitke felt Gabby's was deserving and was capable of handling the responsibilities of having the document.

He stressed, however, that he would be opposed to any additional C licenses, while noting that both Le Cafe Francais and De Eduardo were suited for a tavern license.

For his part, Mr. Pinkos said if the voters determined that one additional license should be issued, he would vote for it.

At the same time, the mayor reaffirmed his position that Gabby's, of the four applicants, which also included A. George Aghassian of Memphis, Mich., was the only restaurant which met the criteria for a C license in viewing several areas including parking.

Not Alone

"Hopefully, Gabby's will enhance the community, be a first class restaurant and alleviate some of the problems in the area," said Mr. Pinkos.

And while not being in favor of valet parking at Gabby's, citizen Stewart Sharrow told the council he wanted Gabby's to have the license.

Mr. Bardy wasn't the only disappointed applicant. Mr. Aghassian, who had his home and business in the community from 1938 to 1958, had earlier told the council on September 18, (when the solons tabled action on this matter), that he was unanimously approved for a C license by the then village council in 1946.

While not having any building as yet, he wished to have the license placed in escrow until a deal on some property could be closed.

Noting this couldn't be done overnight, he told the solons he was insulted at the way he had been treated and then left the chambers.

have the license placed in escrow until a deal on some property could be closed.

Citing his work in the community, he said this couldn't be done overnight, while telling the solons he was insulted at the way he was treated. He then left the council chambers before the main part of the discussion transpired.

North Takes Homecoming Game

Halfback JOHN BRUCIA, (44), runs the first half to help North High School to a 19-6 victory over the L'Anse Creuse Lancers on Saturday, October 14. With the score 12-0 at the half, the Lancers got their defense back together for the second half and managed to hold North to seven points for the rest of the game, but offensively could not repair the damage done by the Norsemen in the first half.

South Rallies to Win Homecoming Contest

By Bill Bradfield

It has to be written somewhere that you just can't lose a homecoming day football game. Nothing is supposed to go wrong as the spirited crowd anticipates a football victory and an excellent night ahead.

The South High School Blue Devils almost forgot that but came on brilliantly in the second half to take a 27-18 decision from the Roseville Wildcats Saturday, October 14, in a tense homecoming day football game.

The win leaves the Devils at 3-2 in the Eastern Michigan League, (EML), and 4-2 on the season.

Senior quarterback Bob Baker connected on two touchdown passes to Kevin Rinke, and junior John Cammett had a strong debut performance at fullback to pace South.

However, the Devils did not get moving until the second half of the game, as the Wildcats built up an 18-6 halftime lead.

The only Devil score of the first half came on Randy Steen's fumble recovery run which tied the score at 6-6. A strong Wildcat passing game accounted for the next two Roseville scores before the half ended.

The Devils came out looking like a new ball club in the second half as they went 70 yards on their opening drive with Baker hitting a perfect 14 yard pass to Rinke for the score. Rinke's extra point was good as the Devils closed the gap to 18-13.

John Cammett scored the third Devil touchdown on a one-yard plunge after senior fullback Brian Welsh and junior Todd Platt ran for a couple of key first downs to help sustain the drive. The two point conversion was good and the Devils were finally on top, 21-18.

Baker hit on his second touchdown strike to Rinke on an 85-yard play to ice the victory.

In order to have a more powerful offensive attack, coach Russ Hepner made a few adjustments prior to the Roseville game. John Cammett, who usually starts at the linebacker spot, was moved to fullback, a position which has not been a major strength for South all year.

Karl Tewes was called up from the junior varsity team to fill Cammett's old position. Coach Hepner commented on his team's performance.

McMILLAN IS V-P

Farms resident Francis W. McMillan II was recently named vice-president of the Automobile Drivers Division of Ralph C. Wilson Industries.

Deaf Tennis Star Spurs Team

Her name: Marie McKee. Her claim to fame: winning tennis matches and setting records at the Rochester Institute of Technology, (RIT), according to an RIT news release.

The 5'2" deaf student from The Pointe, is enjoying an outstanding season with the women's net squad. Recently the sophomore had a superb effort, capturing four matches in five days. The outstanding performance brought her RIT Athlete of the Week honors. It was her second such selection in two campaigns.

Playing number two singles for coach Ann Nealon's tennis team, Miss McKee was at her very best in recent weeks. Against Nazareth, she won in sets of 6-2, 6-4. Two days later she continued her win streak with sets of 6-3, 6-2 as RIT shut out Geneseo, 5-0.

In the toughest match of the season for the Tigers, Miss McKee put it all together to win by scores of 6-3, 6-3. The RIT squad lost, 3-2, (its first defeat of the season), to the University of Rochester.

Miss McKee recently made it six straight this season with a 6-3, 7-5 victory to help RIT down William Smith "B."

It has almost become automatic to see Miss McKee's name in the winner's record book. She currently is tied with teammate Chris Taylor, who plays number three singles, for most consecutive wins in a campaign. Both boast 6-0 marks and point toward undefeated records for the 1978 fall competition.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw McKee has only suffered one defeat in two years of tennis for the women's squad. Last year her lone defeat came against the University of Rochester as she lost in sets of 6-2, 6-3 in the number one slot. She admirably avenged that loss last week.

Currently she boasts a win streak of 11, including 1977 and 1978. And she recently took over the mark of most career wins with 14. Sandy Gordon, who played two seasons and graduated last spring, had set the record at 11. Last year Miss McKee was 8-1, accounting for the most wins in a season.

Majoring in medical records technology at the National Technical Institute for the Deaf, a part of the RIT campus, she is one of the prime reasons RIT enjoys a current record of 5-1.

Senior Heather Morgans is playing the number one slot in singles with Miss McKee in the two position. Miss McKee is a strong challenger for the number one spot, but feels confident in her number two role.

The petite player is aggressive and hard working at her singles game. It has paid off for the graduate of South High School. Last spring she was a finalist in the first Female Athlete of the Year competition. And her selection as Athlete of the Week in 1977 made her only the second female to ever win such an honor.

Sake stores well in a refrigerator, for long periods without losing its special qualities.

The worth of any endeavor is best figured by the need for it. The would-be reformer bases his sermons on text or pretext. The underdog gets plenty of sympathy, but very few bones.

South Wins Too

South quarterback BOB BAKER carries the ball during the Blue Devils' homecoming game. South took a 27-18 offensive battle from Roseville on Saturday, October 14.

SHS Rallies

"In the first half, our players wanted to do well so badly that everything just went the opposite. It, (the first half), was the worst played half of football I have seen since we've joined the EML," he said.
"I told the players, (at the half), that I was embarrassed and that they should be, too. We just called upon our character to represent the caliber of Grosse Pointe South football in the second half. Cammett and Welsh did a super job in blocking and running which gave them valuable playing time."

The Blue Devils will visit Port Huron Northern on Saturday, October 21, at 7:30 p.m. and take on L'Anse Creuse North in a critical home game the following week. In order to win the EML, South must win its next two games, while Mount Clemens must lose a game.

Park resident Brian O'Keefe was one of eight University of Detroit alumni honored with Tower Awards for their outstanding contributions to the university at the university's annual Alumni Reunion in October.

Inter-Faith Dinner Slated

Coretta Scott King, widow of the late Martin Luther King Jr., and Rosa L. Parks will be the guest speakers at the 10th Anniversary Dinner of the Metropolitan Detroit Inter-Faith Centers for Racial Justice, of which the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center is a part.
The dinner will be on Thursday, October 26 at the Mercy College Conference Center. The reception will be at 6:30 and the dinner at 7:30 p.m.
Special awards will be presented to Mrs. King, who is currently the president of the Martin Luther King Jr. Center for Social Change in Atlanta, Ga., and to Mrs. Parks, who, although currently a Detroit resident, refused to give up her seat on a public bus to a white person in 1955 in Montgomery, Ala.
Mrs. Parks' refusal marked the beginning of the civil rights movement led by Dr. King.
Community leadership awards also will be given to Avern Cohn, police commissioner, City of Detroit, and partner of Nonigman, Miller, Schwartz and Cohn; Reverend Nicholas Hood, Detroit councilman; and Reverend John Nowlan, pastor of Saint Rita's Parish, Detroit, and a long-time Metropolitan Inter-Faith board member.
The Grosse Pointe representative to the Metro Board is Rick Drabant of Balfour road. The Pointe center has been active in planning the dinner and expects a very large turnout of business, labor and community leaders from the Pointes and the entire Metro Detroit area.
"The Inter-Faith Centers' goal is to be the most effective vehicle for churches, community groups and minority and ethnic communities to work together toward a better understanding of one another and action for a more harmonious society," said Ed Egnatios, executive director of the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center.
"As a group which works primarily in white and suburban areas of Detroit, this anniversary dinner is an outstanding opportunity for us to celebrate the 10 years of success in showing that all people—whites, blacks and other minorities—can benefit from a more just and less discriminating society."
Tickets, (tax deductible), are $10 basic, $25, contributor and $50 sponsor. For more information on the dinner or the work of the Center, call 824-0350.

Owners Join Forces

Mr. Moraco and his partner, Ronald Serba, who own the Kimberly Korner of shops, and Mr. Barbieri, who owns the building formerly housing Little Caesar's, have been interested in a tavern license for some time.

As a result, Mr. Moraco suggested that they join together on the petition drive and share necessary expenditures for legal fees, printing, et al., and Mr. Barbieri agreed.

"Both of us have small dining rooms where our guests expect an atmosphere of leisurely dining," notes Mr. Moraco. "It seemed to me it would be wrong not to join forces since we're both after an identical thing for the same purpose."

Mr. Barbieri agreed. "We both operate in the community, are specialty houses and we are needed in the community," he said. "By getting together, we both felt we could do the job we want to do."

Both stressed the need of being able to serve wine with food, with Le Cafe Francais emphasizing French and European styles of cooking and Da Eduardo, an Italian continental style with "a touch of French."

"Our guests literally demand it, (wine with their meals), because it's their thought and it's my thought that fine food and a glass of wine are synonymous," emphasized Mr. Moraco. "The majority of our guests are world-travelers and most everywhere else they can get wine."

"The people who enjoy a glass of wine with their French-cooked meal now have to go elsewhere."

Mr. Moraco bemoaned this loss of customers, not only from the balance the serving of wine would have from the culinary standpoint, but also because it hurts financially.

While Le Cafe Francais celebrates its first anniversary early next month, Da Eduardo's opened in May. "A dining room dictates a bottle of wine," said Mr. Barbieri, who added he has no interest in liquor.

Like Mr. Moraco, he indicated that a lack of having a tavern license has hurt his business financially. Numerous potential customers, because they have been unable to obtain a glass of wine, have had to be turned away.

Wine, he said, makes a difference to a prospective customer as a complement to the meal.

"People have accepted our restaurant, people like it but something is missing. We can't survive without a bottle of wine," noted Mr. Barbieri.

Located on the same corner for 21 years, Mr. Moraco said Kimberly started with only a flower shop with related departments and then "we started to enlarge the departmental idea into small shops and brought this to conception."

"The cafe is purposefully of a small size, (it currently has around 16 tables), and purposefully intimate to create a relaxed, private atmosphere. Its design is based upon several European travels and ideas obtained," he said.

Luncheon is served Monday through Saturday between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m., while dinner is served Thursday through Saturday between 6:30 and 9 p.m. Meanwhile, a brunch is presented on Sundays between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

While dinner is by reservation only, Mr. Moraco suggests that citizens also make reservations for lunch and the brunch.

Da Eduardo, meanwhile, is open Tuesday through Thursday from 5:30 to 10 p.m. and on Friday and Saturday from 5:30 to 11 p.m. On Sunday, it's open from 3 to 10 p.m. The restaurant is closed on Mondays.

While no reservations are necessary, Mr. Barbieri suggests that citizens make them on weekends, (as the restaurant seats around 50 people).

Both men indicated if anyone is interested in helping circulate petitions, (he must be a Woods resident, over 18 years of age and a registered voter), they would welcome calls.

Mr. Moraco may be reached at 343-0610, while Mr. Barbieri may be contacted at 881-8540 after 5 p.m. except on Mondays.

Vote on Class C License Should Be Reconsidered

As it turned out, Woods citizens, who voted in the minority during the August primary election regarding the issuance of an additional Class C liquor license in the community, received their wish when the Woods Council on Monday, October 16, voted 4-3 to deny the issuance of such a document to any applicant. (See story, Page 1.)

The referendum question passed by a comfortable 3,037 to 1,830 margin with a majority of voters obviously thinking of Gabby's Restaurant as the potential recipient because of the effort of owner Alex Bardy, who conducted a successful initiatory petition drive to have the question placed on the ballot.

Mr. Bardy was stunned at the final council vote, which surprised many citizens in attendance at the meeting.

The NEWS feels that the voters gave a clear mandate to the council on this matter, with several officials, including Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, admitting that Gabby's, of the four applicants, best met the criteria, including parking, for a C license.

Granted, the councilmen voting to deny had some valid concerns, but the end result, in considering the voters' expression, is startling.

This isn't to imply that any local governing body has to agree 100 percent with the wishes of the voters in every instance time and time again, (although the will of the majority must, and should always be, considered and respected), as a variety of circumstances surrounding a given decision also must be considered.

In this instance, while there may be some parking problems related to valet parking, for example, and other related public safety concerns, (the massive parking lot, the immediate area will always have its snare of problems from the aspect of size, if nothing else), the pluses of citing Gabby's, (the wishes of the people notwithstanding), certainly outweighed any negative factors.

The owner is not a new hand in the restaurant business and his efforts to make Gabby's a pleasant, family-oriented establishment are commendable.

With the will of the citizenry looming strongly in the background, the council should reconsider its action at a future meeting.

Park Continues Fire Inspection

Park firefighters are continuing their inspection of homes on the south side of Jefferson, between Barrington and Grand Marais, even though Fire Prevention Week, October 8 through 14, is over, according to Fire Chief Phillip Costa.

The inspections will not end until every home has been checked for fire hazards.

The chief said this does not mean that every citizen must let firemen in because inspections are strictly on a voluntary basis. Inspectors will not enter a residence if they are refused admission.

Firefighters will be in uniform and will display proper identification on demand, and if allowed inside, will check for fire hazards, will point them out and inform citizens on what to do to eliminate them.

Chief Costa also said any

Camera Club Meets Tuesday

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club meets on Tuesday, October 24, at Brownell School, 260 Chalfonte avenue, at 7:45 p.m. for a shooting session.

Visitors are welcome to attend the meeting, which will feature frogs, salamanders and other small creatures in preparation for an amphibian assignment. Refreshments will be offered.

citizen can call the fire department and request an inspection of his residence. Inspections are not compulsory, but strictly voluntary.

Another aspect of Fire Prevention Week was the lively contests between first through fourth graders at the following schools: Saint Clare de Montefalco, Defer and Trombly, with each school having its own contest.

Students were handed a list of possible home fire hazards to take to their parents, who, with their children, checked the basement, all other rooms and the attic. This included the checking of electrical outlets, wiring, et al. As they inspect, the list is checked off. If a fire hazard exists, it is corrected.

When the inspection is completed, the pupils took their lists back to their school to be evaluated for points. The room accumulating the most points is given a fire helmet trophy to be placed on display for one year.

Winners this year, each with their own trophy, include the third grade of Saint Clare, teacher Joyce DeRonghe; the third grade at Defer, teacher, Floyd Kitchen; and the two second grades at Trombly, teachers, Marguerite Scott and Lillian Kachadourian.

School Officials Pleased Over Results of Tests

By Susan McDonald

The results are in from last spring's Metropolitan Achievement Tests and they show Pointe public school students from grade one through eight made gains in almost every area of reading and math performance included on the exam.

As a whole, Pointe students ranked in the top 90th percentile in the nation on all but one of 30 reporting categories. In almost half the categories, the students were in the top 99th percentile.

The Metropolitan tests have been administered in Pointe schools for many years. Last year, the annual testing ritual was engulfed in controversy when a new program of "pre-test coaching" was initiated by school administrators.

Under the new program, teachers were supplied with sample questions, typical of those that appeared on the test, and were instructed to work with students on the style and format of Metropolitan questions, while passing along basic test-taking techniques.

Many teachers protested they were being asked to "teach to the test" and suspected that students' scores may be used to evaluate teachers, which the administration flatly denied.

The uproar heightened when it was discovered that Richard School students had been allowed to practice on the actual test they were to take a week later.

Despite the uproar, the school system's Director of Research and Development Roger McCaig said he felt the coaching program had no effect on the Pointe's national standing.

"The program had no effect on district data," Mr. McCaig said. "I hope it had an effect—or else it was a waste of time—on individual students' achievement, allowing them to reach the highest level their understanding of the subject matter would allow."

Overall, Mr. McCaig said he is "very proud of the students and teachers for such high achievement and the upward trend of the scores."

He said most significant improvements in the scores were in the area of mathematics, a curriculum area that has received extra attention in the last two years.

"I think the SIMPLE program, emphasizing life skills in math, had a significant impact," Mr. McCaig said.

SIMPLE stands for Systematic Instruction in Math, Planned for Learning and Evaluation. Its use in elementary classrooms began last year, while it has been used in the middle schools for six years.

Though he was elated with the overall results on the tests, Mr. McCaig said they also pointed out some areas that need improvement.

The average grade four student, for instance, scored in the 58th percentile for solving math problems, and in a comparison with students across the nation, all Pointe fourth grade students ranked in only the 66th percentile in that category.

"It's been a weak area, and one that we'll direct extra curriculum study to," he said.

Mr. McCaig presented a summary of test scores to the Board of Education at its Monday, October 9, meeting, and the trustees congratulated the administration and teaching staff on significant score improvements.

Parents Set Fall Opener

The Grosse Pointe Ass'n. for Retarded Citizens will launch its fall season with a pot-luck dinner for members and friends at the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, 240 Chalfonte avenue, Wednesday, October 25, at 7 p.m.

Hal Cornelius, president, will introduce new officers to the group. Vice-President is Hazen Ziggler, recording secretary, Mary Huxtable, corresponding secretary, Betty Strzempke, treasurer, Carolyn Lopicola, and board members, Russ Jones, Ted Penszynski, Jean Cornelius, Jack Lane and Gene Ignaziak.

The speaker for the evening will be Ray Smart, director of the Detroit Ass'n. for the Retarded, who will give an overview of residential housing for the mentally retarded.

Mrs. Huxtable is chairman for the dinner. Parents of retardates or interested persons wishing to attend may call her at 821-8241. The 1979 calendars designed by the retarded will be on sale at the meeting.

ON BETTER TRACTION
Contrary to popular opinion, underinflated tires don't provide better traction on slick surfaces, says the Tire Industry Safety Council. Underinflation causes excessive heat buildup, which reduces tread life and wastes gasoline.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools

Continuing with my series of columns summarizing the Board of Education's goals for the 1978-1979 school year, I am using this column to comment on the goal to Improve Communication in All Areas.

Essential to the realization of this goal is maintaining and improving existing communication media and forums as well as initiating new programs.

For quite some time, we have regularly used several communication media at the system-wide level. These include the following:

• Know Your Schools. This weekly column printed in the "NEWS" provides the opportunity for me to comment on topics of interest in the school system.

• Emphasis '78. Presenting an in-depth look at the operation of some phases of the school system, this newsletter is published three or four times a year and mailed to every residence in the school district.

• Superintendent Comments. At least once a month, I try to recognize staff and student accomplishments and activities in this flyer which is sent to all school employees and interested citizens.

• Emphasis Information. In an attempt to keep the public informed of activities sponsored by the schools and libraries, this monthly listing of dates of activities is distributed to all interested citizens, school employees and every person who has a Department of Community Services senior citizen's pass.

• It Happened Last Night. Distributed the morning after each monthly Board of Education meeting, this flyer details the Board's actions and summarizes the information presented at the Board meeting.

• Annual Report. This document is a detailed summary of the data associated with our operation, and lists goals and accomplishments of the various school departments. Last year, we introduced a pictorial annual report in addition to the usual booklet form.

These communication media are in addition to parent newsletters, school newspapers, PTA/PTO organization mailings and other special publications that are used to communicate with students, parents and the community at large.

All of our efforts at improved communication are not restricted to written publications.

The first monthly meeting of the Superintendent's Student Advisory Council for the 1978-1979 school year is scheduled for this week. Representatives of both high schools, certain administrators and I will be meeting each month to discuss concerns which are raised by the students.

In addition, there are many formal and informal parent, teacher and student discussion meetings conducted at the building level by the school administrators.

Recently, I have begun to speak at elementary school parent meetings. This forum provides me with the opportunity to personally meet many parents as well as react to their special concerns.

These meetings have been most beneficial for me, and I hope to schedule the same type of meeting at the secondary level.

One of the best ways for residents to learn about their school system is by attending Board meetings. Conference meetings are usually held on the first Monday of each month, with the regular monthly meetings scheduled for 8 p.m. on the second Monday of the month.

All conference meetings are conducted at the Administration Building while the regular monthly meetings are moved to different locations throughout the district, which is another attempt to improve communication by making it easier for the public to attend Board meetings.

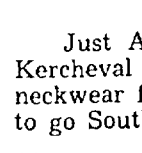

As this school year progresses I hope that the communication efforts just summarized and others which may be utilized will serve to keep all citizens informed about the schools and libraries their tax dollars are supporting.

Park Council Approves $235,852 for Projects

By James J. Njaim

The Park Council at its regular meeting Monday, October 9, approved expenditures totaling $235,852.89 for street and alley paving, the planting of approximately 200 trees, complete replacement of three huge doors, including all hardware and automatic door openers, at the fire station and the purchase of a new salt spreader.

The paving projects were given to two firms, the Morrison Co., which will do Projects No. I, II and IV for the low bid of $202,189.89, and Souter Asphalt Paving, which offered to do Project No. III for the low bid of $19,724. The bid on Project No. III was given to Souter because it was $2,857.74 lower than that submitted by the first company.

Project No. I is described as being Maryland, between Jefferson and Mack avenues; Lakepointe, between Jefferson and Mack; and Kercheval, at the west city limits to Nottingham road, (Wayburn Section).

The fourth phase of this project, the Mack business alley, Kercheval business alley and the Beaconsfield-Lakepointe alley, was deferred to a later time, so that sufficient funds will be on hand to complete the first three phases of the program. Project No. II eyes Beaconsfield, between Jefferson and Essex; Nottingham, between Jefferson and Hally place; and Fairfax, between the west city limits to Trombley road.

Meanwhile Project IV views the Mack business alley, between Harvard and Cadieux.

Project III is described as being Windmill Pointe Park's main pier and the park's tennis courts. The council was informed that as far as the tennis courts are concerned, only the asphalt topping will be applied.

The painting, or application of colored topping with markings, will have to be done in the spring and will cost extra.

City Manager John Crawford disclosed it will cost $6,821 for the planting of trees, less $1,000 for 25 trees that will be placed on private property at the expense of the property owners.

He said the city's 1978 tree planting program calls for the planting of 175 Norway maples, (two and a half- and three-inch bare root, and three- and three and a half-inch balled and burlaped which are taller), honey locusts and Marshall seedless ash, (two- and two and a half-inch bare root).

The council, prodded by Councilmen Douglas Graham and Dr. Roger McNeill, decided to expend another $900 for larger balled and burlaped trees because it was felt that many of the smaller trees were not apt to survive.

The extra appropriation raised the total cost to the city to $6,721. Mr. Crawford said the trees will be planted this fall and most of them will replace elms lost to the Dutch Elm Disease.

Some trees will be located in areas of the city where trees had never been planted before. Of course, he said, these will be located on city property, between the curb and the sidewalk.

An interested resident asked what she should do to have a tree placed in front of her house, between the curb and the sidewalk. She said she requested that one be planted last spring and was informed she would have to wait until fall.

She made another recent request and was told she will have to wait until next spring. She said that she was willing to purchase and plant a tree, if the city does not have her area included in the tree program for this year.

Mayor Matthew C. Patterson said under a city ordinance, a resident must obtain a permit from the Department of Public Service before any tree can be planted on public property.

Meanwhile, City Clerk Nunzio J. Ortisi informed the council that a total of $3,500 has been set aside in the 1978-79 fiscal year budget for two 10 by 10 doors and one 11 by 10 door for the fire station, plus hinges and other hardware and the automatic door opener for the three doors.

Fire Chief Phillip Costa

told the solons the present doors and equipment are about 50-years-old and most of the hardware is rusty, with the doors often hard to open, especially during heavy snows when the doors sometimes have to be kicked or pushed open.

Mr. Ortisi said the total cost of replacement is $5,300, but the money over and above that which has been budgeted can be appropriated from the contingency fund. The new doors will be installed as quickly as possible, he said.

Mr. Crawford recommended that the council reject the offer of the low bidder, R. J. Moeller, for the salt spreader. The company's bid was $1,783.61, the city manager said, but the reason for the rejection is because the spreader did not meet the required specifications.

Again, on the recommendation of Mr. Crawford, the solons accepted the bid of Astro Truck Equipment, the second lowest bidder, which offered to sell this particular equipment at a price of $1,918. All specifications have been met, he added.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

Real Estate is often interpreted as a problem for the seller or buyer that requires many experienced answers.

Often times the answers are simple knowledge of the money market. But often times, too, the problem is more complex. It requires qualified experience that can foresee market value and help determine saleability of your house.

For the seller it sometimes determines whether he should sell now or wait for a different reason. If this is the case will waiting also apply the same circumstances on the house he intends to purchase. Should the seller attempt to sell himself? How can a Real Estate Company do a better job. How can a Realtor earn his commission?

All of the answers to "problems" or "circumstances" are available from your Real Estate Co. The company that has the most sales aids is the company most qualified to solve the most problems. Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. offers a one-year warranty. They have their own desuper, they have a guarantee sale. They can trade. They can add a family room on houses they sell at cost. From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Mrs. John Vanderzee, president of Tau Beta Association, stood in the archway between two rooms of the Eleanor Clay Ford Farmhouse at the Tau Beta Camp in Columbiaville.

It was the last week in September, and Tau Beta members had come to the camp for the dedication of the farmhouse, built circa 1850, completely renovated now—with heat!—through memorial funds for Mrs. Ford.

And that is great news for Tau Beta and for the agencies and groups which can arrange to rent the camp year-round.

Heat means ecological trips in autumn, winter, spring. It means cross country ski weekends. It means an all-season opportunity for the camp to be of service to organizations which can put its facilities to good use.

In summer, the camp accommodates 80 children and staff. It has always been used by Camp Midcha for diabetic children for a good part of the season, but it is available for use by other groups, too.

The heated farmhouse has five bedrooms, a kitchen, bathroom and living room. It's available now; soon another cabin with heat also will be available.

Soon, too, a brochure will be ready. Anyone (Continued on Page 30)

Cheryl Woodbury Is Honor Attendant for Her Sister; Dale Eugene Dey Serves As Brother's Best Man

A gown of soft, off-white chiffon, styled with bishop sleeves, a full skirt and attached, chapel train, was Shelley Elizabeth Woodbury's choice for her marriage Saturday, September 16, to Timothy Edward Dey.

Marilyn Grace Ventimiglia, a member of the Grosse Pointe Theatre, and Peter Michael Walliko, GPT's historian, exchanged marriage vows Friday, September 8, at an evening ceremony in Roseville's Sacred Heart Church.

The 7:30 o'clock rites at which Father Bohdan Kosicki officiated were followed by a reception at the Vintage House, Fraser. The newlyweds vacationed in Toronto. They are making their home in Detroit's East Side.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Michael Ventimiglia, of Roseville, and the late Mr. Ventimiglia, wore a gown of white polyester chiffon over taffeta, styled with an A-line skirt, fitted bodice, illusion neckline and bishop sleeves, trimmed with silk Venise lace.

Matching lace trimmed her cathedral length mantilla and headpiece. She carried white roses and gardenias.

She was attended by a sister, Roseanne Marie Ventimiglia, as honor maid, and bridesmaids Beverly Lord, Claudia Smith, Paula Walliko, sister of the bridegroom, and MaryAnn Williams.

Silk-screened orange flowers were scattered over their sleeveless frocks of ivory chiffon, the bridesmaids' lined with ivory satin, the honor maid's with peach chiffon crepe.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Walliko, of Audubon road, asked Robert M. Alexander to act as best man. Jon Graham, of Washington, D.C., James Tucker, Michael Ventimiglia, the bride's brother, and Thomas Walliko, of Dayton, O., brother of the bridegroom, ushered.

The bride's mother's high-necked gown of beige chiffon over coffee taffeta featured an attached, beaded, long-sleeved jacket. Carnations and gardenias formed her corsage.

Silk-screened flowers accented the bridegroom's mother's orange crepe gown, styled with belled, chiffon sleeves and a modified cowl neckline. Her corsage was fashioned of roses and gardenias.

In subsequent concerts, the Civic Orchestra will feature three conductors for each performance with the addition of DSCO administrator Raymond Turner, DSO principal trombonist.

The program for the Monday, October 23, concert will include Berlioz's "Roman Carnival Overture," Haydn's Symphony No. 77 and Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 6 ("Patheque").

The concert will launch the Civic Orchestra's "Monday Evening Series." A total of twelve performances, including five orchestral concerts, six chamber music concerts and a special concerto competition between the Detroit Symphony and the Civic Orchestra will be played.

General admission box office is $3. Tickets for future performances will be sold on a reserved seat basis at $5 with general admission tickets $3, sold on concert nights at the box office.

Civic Orchestra Chamber performances will be held at the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Tickets for these concerts will be available at the door on the night of the concert on a general admission basis only for $3.

For DSCO season ticket information, contact the DSO ticket sales department at 962-5524.

The Detroit Symphony Civic Orchestra sponsored by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra with the support of major funding from the J. L. Hudson Company, is a training orchestra, based in part on the Youth Orchestra which the DSO established in 1970.

Geared for young pre-professional musicians, the newly formed Detroit Symphony Civic Orchestra was established to provide these musicians with rigorous and realistic professional training of the highest possible quality.

Membership in the DSCO is strictly dependent upon ability with no age restrictions. Candidates must win their position by audition and, for those of post-college age, must be actively pursuing a career in symphonic performance.

Festivities Will Include "Sill Bord" Or Herring Table in The Alger House of The Grosse Pointe War Memorial

For the third consecutive year, members of the Detroit-Swedish Council, Inc., are preparing the many foods that will be served at its benefit smorgasbord in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Alger House, Sunday, October 29.

Marvin R. Anderson, Swedish consul for the state of Michigan, and Mrs. Anderson, together with Wesley R. Johnson, president of the council, and Mrs. Johnson, will greet guests.

They will be assisted by Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Jones and Mrs. Gust Dahlen, of Devonshire road.

The festivities, with Mrs. Ata Berker, of Birmingham, as chairman, will begin at 5 o'clock when a variety of herring and anjovis dishes will be displayed on the "sill bord," or herring table. The smorgasbord at 6 o'clock will include a variety of breads, cured salmon, pork and veal head cheese, liver pate, meatballs, red cabbage, potatoes, lingon and pickled beets and fresh cucumbers.

There also will be ham baked with mustard sauce, tomato aspic with shrimp and brown beans in molasses. A cheese tray with fruit salad will be available.

Present All-Messiaen Concerts

One of the world's foremost composers, Frenchman Olivier Messiaen, will celebrate his 70th birthday December 10. In honor of this event, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will present two all-Messiaen concerts Friday and Saturday evenings, October 20 and 21 at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

DSO associate conductor Werner Torkanowsky will be on the podium as pianist Yvonne Loriod and Ondes Martenot player Jeanne Loriod make their debut appearances with the DSO.

The Women of the Kenneth Jewell Chorale also will be on stage. The program will include the DSO premiere of three works by the French composer: "Trois Petites Liturgies," "Oiseaux Exotiques," and "L'Ascension."

The Friday evening concert will be the first performance in the Friday Evening subscription series, and in a continuation of last season's policy, each concert in the series will be preceded by a free Prelude program at 7:30 o'clock.

This Friday, the Prelude will feature an on-stage discussion of the music of Olivier Messiaen. Mr. Messiaen, who is expected to be present and will be introduced to the audience, is one of the world's most original and respected modern composers.

A mystic by nature and persuasion, he strives to find a relationship between progressions of musical sounds and religious entities. He often makes use of asymmetrical rhythms using exotic percussion instruments and electronic wave-generators, "Ondes Martenot".

Tickets for the Friday performance, preceded by the free Prelude, are $8, $6.50 and $5 with students half-price.

Tickets for the Saturday performance at 8:30 o'clock are $10, $8, $7, $6 and $4. They are available at the Ford Auditorium Box Office and Master Charge and VISA charge card customers may phone in orders at 962-5524.

Windsor residents may phone in orders toll free at 258-9499.

Dominican Sets Dinner Dance

Dominican High School will celebrate its 38th birthday at the second annual auction dinner dance for alumnae, parents, faculty and friends Saturday, November 4, at Hillcrest Country Club.

Admission, by ticket only, is $35 per couple, $17.50 single. Further information and reservations may be obtained by calling Dominican High, 882-8500.

Grosse Pointe high school students named Presidential Classroom students who travelled to Washington, D.C. to take part in a week-long study of the Political Process included DANIEL SMALE, JILL CHAPMAN, SALLY KUSHNER, BARBARA GABRIART and ELIZABETH FUQUA.

School of Government Hears Newswoman

The School of Government, Inc., held a meeting Wednesday, October 18, in the Detroit Athletic Club. A board of directors meeting began at 10:15 o'clock followed by a luncheon at 11:45.

The program at 1 o'clock featured Mrs. Ester Van Wagoner Tufty, head of the Tufty News Agency National Press Club, Washington, D.C. who discussed the news reporter off the record, world wide events and the importance of a two-party system.

Mrs. John T. McMullen, a Pointer, is president of the group. Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker, also a Pointer, is program chairman.

Luncheon Held By Town Club

The Colony Town Club held its festive fall luncheon and card party at the Fairlane Club Wednesday, October 18, beginning at 11:30 o'clock with cocktails.

Planning the event were co-chairmen Mrs. Carl H. Schulte and Mrs. H. Philip Schuyler, and committee members Margaret Barrus, Grayce Cruikshank, Mrs. William C. Walters and Mrs. C. Lloyd Yohe.

Club members gathered at the Meyer L. Prentiss Cancer Center Wednesday, October 4, to attend a demonstration of equipment that the club has given to the cancer center.

Bell Reviews Growth Over 100-Year Period

Over 100 years ago, Emma Nutt became the first woman telephone operator in the country, introducing "the voice with a smile" to 60 telephone customers in Boston, Mass., reports a Michigan Bell news release.

She was hired on an "experimental basis" by the Boston manager of the Telephone Despatch Company, (later to become New England Telephone Co.), in an effort to improve telephone service. It seems the boys who manned the switchboards at the time had been noisy, boisterous and rude to customers.

Emma's professional, courteous manner was such an improvement that the manager hired her sister, Stella Nutt, two hours later.

It wasn't long before hundreds of young women were hired as operators in other cities around the country. Michigan's first female operators — Bessie Snow Balance, Emma Landon and Minnie Schumann — were hired in Detroit in 1879, a year after the city's first telephone exchange opened.

The tradition of women operators was quickly established and until a few years ago, "the voice with a smile" was invariably feminine. Today, however, more than 300 of Michigan Bell's 4,200 operators are men, and about 6,500 of the 100,000 Bell System operators nationwide are men.

At the time Emma Nutt was hired, the operator's job was becoming more demanding. The number of telephone subscribers was beginning to grow and operators had to remember the names, and later the numbers, of all customers in an exchange.

By 1906, the telephone had become a necessity and because every call had to be connected by an operator, "the voice with a smile" was everybody's sweetheart.

At the end of World War I, there were 100,000 operators in the U.S. They sat primly in straight-backed chairs along massive manual switchboards. It wasn't uncommon then for an operator to handle calls for more than 2,000 telephone circuits.

The introduction of automatic dialing in 1919 solved the "woman power" problem for telephone companies, but operators feared that automatic dialing might mean the end of their jobs.

In 1922, a New York newspaper predicted that "within 10 years every telephone in the metropolitan district will be used without one word being spoken to an operator because the operator will be made of brass or steel."

That prophecy proved unfounded.

Dial service was introduced in Detroit in 1923, and Michigan's last manual phones faded into history in 1974 when electronic switching replaced St. Ignace's old-fashioned "Number, please" switchboard.

The conversion to nationwide dial service wasn't 100 percent completed until this year when the country's last manual switchboard in Avalon, Cal., was replaced with a new modern electronic system.

Technology continuously has been changing the telephone operator's job. Gradually, the number of manual tasks needed to complete calls or give number information decreased and operator equipment became less and less cumbersome.

Today, most Michigan Bell operators haven't seen an old-fashioned switchboard in quite a while, and many have never seen one.

Almost all of the company's operators today use the sophisticated electronic push-button equipment. At a touch of a button, they do in a few seconds what used to take several minutes.

And today, operators handle only a fraction of the total calls.

Of the nearly 13 billion long distance calls Americans make annually, only about 11 percent are handled by operators. Last year, that small percentage amounted to more than 54 million operator-handled long distance calls in Michigan alone.

Today, on the 100th anniversary of their profession, Michigan Bell operators will assist customers with some 1.8 million calls — the average for a normal business day — but they'll take time for a special break today.

At small and large gatherings throughout the state, Michigan Bell operators will share coffee and cake with co-workers and community residents who have been invited to drop in and wish "the voice with a smile" many, many happy returns.

GP Doctor Uses New Technique

A neurosurgeon at Harper-Grace Hospitals is the first doctor in Michigan to use a new way of removing brain tumors, according to a news release.

Dr. Donald C. Austin of The Pointe, vice-chief of neurosurgery, (surgery dealing with the nervous system), at the Harper Hospital Division, said the new system, called Biotome, can function through a tiny hole in the skull through which the tumor is sucked out using microsurgical techniques.

According to the surgeon, the device offers several advantages over other procedures used for brain surgery. Large tumors or diseased tissue can be removed in a

Seniors Needed To Assist JOYS

Job Opportunities for Youth, (JOY), was expanded to Job Opportunities for Youth and Senior Adults, (JOYS). The organization is a volunteer community job referral service sponsored by the Junior League of Detroit and the Neighborhood Club.

JOYS provides job referrals for teenagers and senior adults with particular skills in painting, gardening, sewing, needlepoint, baby-sitting, housekeeping, carpentry and cooking.

The community has a great need for employees with specialized skills such as these. To qualify as a senior adult you must be 55-years-old, live in the Grosse Pointe School District and have a willingness to work.

JOYS needs help to make its effort successful. Interested senior adults may register at the Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo avenue, or call the club at 885-4600 for information.

Smoke Alarm Saves Family

High sounding smoke alarms were given credit for possibly saving the lives of a Park family at 11:30 p.m. Saturday, October 14, and keeping fire damage to an absolute minimum, according to Park Fire Chief Phillip Costa.

When firefighters arrived the family was standing on the front lawn in their night clothes and house robes.

The first to awaken from sleep was Gregory Chrzanowski after a smoke alarm went off on the stairwell on the first floor of his $120,000 home at 1005 Berkshire road.

Mr. Chrzanowski ran downstairs, opened the basement door and, when smoke belled out of the basement, he promptly closed the door and phoned in the alarm. He then awakened his family and escorted them out of the house.

Chief Costa said when the alarm was sounded City firemen responded, but returned to their station when it was found they were not needed.

The chief said that a small fire was contained near the laundry area of the basement, and that fire damage was very minimal. However, smoke damage was heavy throughout the residence.

The fire was believed to have originated when linseed oil was rubbed on outdoor furniture stored in the basement and the saturated piece of cloth was left on a piece of furniture, with clean rags placed on top of it.

Chief Costa said the linseed oil, an organic substance, broke down becoming hotter and hotter until spontaneous combustion caused the rags to burst into flames. The resulting fire was confined to the section of the laundry room.

"I have no doubt in my mind that the smoke alarms saved the lives of the Chrzanowski family," Chief Costa said, "and the prompt calling of the fire department by the owner was instrumental in keeping damage down to an absolute minimum. There are smoke alarms strategically located in every part of the house, which is a good thing."

The chief also said he appreciated the City Fire Department's response on the first alarm, but was glad they were not needed.

He said Park firefighters and equipment were at the scene and back in the station within 38 minutes.

He said smoke alarms should be made necessary equipment in all homes. Any fireman would be glad to inspect houses and determine where alarms should be best located. More and more homeowners everywhere are installing such alarms, one of the most useful gadgets ever invented, Chief Costa emphasized.

Group Studies Attendance

The school administration has named a 12-person committee to study and recommend changes in attendance procedures and practices at Pointe high schools.

Representing North High School are Diane Rentschler, a parent, Eugene Miszcak, student, Arthur Wienle, teacher, Neil Curtis, counselor, and Florence Miller, assistant principal.

From South High School representatives are Margaret

Dietz, parent, Valerie Kvale, student, Robert Bradley, teacher, Gerald Morrison, counselor, and Donald Messing, assistant principal.

Serving as co-chairman of the committee will be Director of Secondary Education Robert Welch and Assistant Superintendent for Instruction Dr. Joseph Spagnoli.

To avoid disappointment learn to expect the unexpected.

PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law, to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, who may also designate not more than two co-paying agents, which may be located outside of Michigan, qualified to act as paying agent under the law of the State in which located or of the United States, both of which shall be subject to approval of the undersigned.

Under the terms of said constitutional and statutory provisions, if for any reason the School District will be or is unable to pay the principal and interest on the bonds when due, then the School District shall borrow and the State shall lend to it an amount sufficient to enable the School District to make the payment.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $43,000.00 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the School District must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from December 1, 1978, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium.

The fees of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone for services rendered in connection with such approving opinion are expected to be paid from bond proceeds. Except to the extent necessary to issue their unqualified opinion as to the validity of the above bonds, Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone has not been requested to examine or review and has not examined or reviewed any financial documents, statements or materials that have been or may be furnished in connection with the authorization, issuance or marketing of the bonds, and accordingly with no express any opinion with respect to the accuracy or completeness of any such financial documents, statements or materials.

A lovely long white jersey is styled with a softly pleated, deep veed bodice, the midriff is encircled with golden beads and topaz. Beading accents a brown chiffon evening dress that's fashioned with a fuller neck, a removable chiffon capelet and a halt dancing skirt. A midnight blue chiffon crepe dress is sparked with rhinestones and beading. It's from Victoria Royal. There's lots of beading and glitter in the fashion picture right now. MRS. ARCHIE GRIEVE, OF SOUTH BRYSDRIVE

By Ann Wallace

" . . . and that's it!" Mary Lou Grieve exclaims with a bright smile and much enthusiasm as she completes the list of the many fund raising projects of the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center.

As chairman of these projects and first vice-president of the league, her responsibilities involve setting up committees with chairmen and solving the innumerable problems that develop throughout each project, but Mary Lou has tremendous confidence in her committee chairmen as they all are experienced workers for league projects.

"I joined the Assistance League three years ago," notes Mrs. Grieve, "when a girlfriend of mine invited me to go to a meeting. It has proved to be a very fine experience as I have found the members to be very friendly and dedicated to the cause of providing mental health care."

Why A League?

The Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center raises funds so that the center may continue its efforts as a comprehensive community mental health center for people of all ages, children to senior citizens.

It seeks to aid the person who may be experiencing depression or great stress which interferes with daily life. The center hopes to alleviate these problems and others, such as spouse abuse or child abuse. Anyone may call 824-8000 for more information or assistance.

"The staff at the center," continues Mary Lou, "strives to help people recognize their own problems, face those problems and, finally, cope with and solve them."

"I was asked to be League projects chairman this year. After a family conference with my husband, Archie, who is a public safety officer with the Grosse Pointe Shores Police Department, I assumed the duties of the position."

The Red Garter Review, scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 26, 27 and 28, at 8 o'clock on the stage of the Grosse Pointe North High School Performing Arts Center, is the current project being planned by the Assistance League.

New York Director

"A Meet the Director Party" was held at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club October 3," explains Mrs. Grieve.

"At that time, everyone who was interested in participating in the review in any aspect, from singers, skit players, showgirls and costume makers to lighting and staging people, gathered to meet the director, Garry Bruch, designated by the Jerome Cargill Producing Organization of New York."

Mary Lou adds that she met with the cast and crew and then, bright and early October 4, rehearsals started for what everyone hopes will be a successful evening of entertainment and fun for everyone.

"There are approximately 260 men and women involved in the production," Mrs. Grieve continues. She adds that with the help of her very supportive husband, who helps out with baby sitting for their two children, nine-and-a-half year old Brian, a student at Ferry School, and Allison, a delightful, blond three-and-a-half year old, all is moving ahead very well at this time.

"The people working on the committees, under Jan Arndt as chairman, Marilyn Stedem, co-chairman, and talent chairman Fran Pastoria, really make my job so much easier," says Mary Lou.

'Legs Contest'

"We are all anticipating a 'Legs Contest', which will occur on stage during the Saturday evening, October 28, performance."

She explains that various men's organizations in the Grosse Pointe area, such as the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Kiwanis Club, the American Legion Post No. 291, Rotary Club and the Crisis Club, have been contacted to designate a representative to compete in a contest to choose the best pair of legs.

"Photographs of these legs," adds Mrs. Grieve, "which are all decorated, at least, with a red garter, are being displayed in-the-Village and on-the-Hill."

"Accompanying the photos are small donation cans where, for 10 cents, one can vote for the best pair of legs. The proceeds will be evenly divided between the sponsor organizations and the league."

"It is another way of raising more funds," adds Mary Lou, "and creating interest for our production. Besides that, it is lots of fun!"

On the last night of the performance of the Red Garter Review, the winner will be decided after a "viewing" by the audience.

"On stage," Mary Lou continues, "the 'legs' will parade behind a curtain raised just high enough for leg viewing. Then the winner will be decided."

"Along with many skits, there will be some walk-on ads from various businesses in the area. This, too, along with the skits and dancers, will add up to one big evening of fun for all."

General admission to the Red Garter Review is by ticket at $6. A $10 patron admission includes a seat in the front section of the Performing Arts Center and a listing in the souvenir program.

A $15 patron admission Friday evening, October 27, will include a champagne after-glow at the Lincoln road home of Susan and Ronald Moore following the evening's performance. Reservations are limited.

Seating for $15 patrons also will be at the front of the auditorium and with a name listing in the souvenir program. All seats are reserved.

Tickets Available

"Ticket order forms have been mailed out," Mrs. Grieve continues, "to all organizations and groups in the area. Tickets are available at Jacobson's credit office from now on or at the door the evening of the performance. Call 824-3000 for more information."

"We hope for a big audience throughout the performances, including, we hope, senior citizens and students who may attend the dress rehearsal Wednesday evening, October 25, at 7:30 o'clock. Tickets will be $1.50 at the door."

Mrs. Grieve, a native of Detroit who moved to Grosse Pointe when she was five, has met many new people in her position as projects chairman as well as renewed some old friendships with classmates who attended Ferry School, Parcels Middle School and Grosse Pointe South High School with her.

"My husband preceded me in the same schools, with the exception of Ferry School," reflects Mary Lou. "He attended the Vernier School and then Ferry School after it was built. He was the 'duty patrol boy' on the corner of Hawthorne road and Morningside drive" right in my own neighborhood.

"Since he now works in the same area in which we both grew up, we consider ourselves true natives. My mother went to the old Cadieux School in Saint Clair avenue. It is now the school administration office."

Archie Assists
Mrs. Gieves notes that her husband is truly supportive of her efforts in the Assistance League and they both have enjoyed its various activities.

Among league projects that already have occurred this year was "Friday Night Fever" September 29, a "get-acquainted" evening for members, husbands and guests so that all could meet new members and exchange ideas for the coming year.

New members were welcomed and board members introduced.

This year's fund raising projects began early in August with a summer cocktail party at the Renaud road home of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Maschmeyer. Mr. Maschmeyer is the father of Ellen Cooke, the Assistance League's current president.

Santa Haus Returns
Following the Red Garter Review, the very popular "Santa Haus" will be repeated at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

"This was such a success last year and lots of fun for one and all, children and adults," notes Mary Lou. Scheduled for November 27 through December 22, it will be preceded by a preview party, "Supper with Santa," at the Hunt Club Saturday, November 25.

The Assistance League, as well as the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults and Boys Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, have been invited by the Detroit Auto Dealers Association to take part in the Auto Show Preview Friday, January 12, 1979.

"This is a formal party," explains Mrs. Grieve. "The three organizations will have sent out thousands of invitations to people all over the area."

"The Auto Dealers permits each organization to keep the entire proceeds from the sale of their tickets. This is indeed a wonderful way of raising lots of money interested in receiving one may contact Mrs. Francis E. Brossy, 44 McKinley place, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan 48236.

Mrs. Vanderzee, standing in the archway, explained how the farmhouse had been renovated through the joint efforts of Tau Beta members, largely under the supervision of Mrs. William Finkenstaedt—and with memorial funds for Mrs. Ford.

Mrs. Harold Wadsworth reminisced about looking for property for a camp and buying it in Columbiaville when she was president of Tau Beta. That was in 1929. The camp was built in 1934.

Mrs. Theodore Buttrick read the tribute to Mrs. Ford written at the time of her death for the Tau Beta Newsletter by Mrs. Renville Wheat. Box luncheons were served at the Kanzler Cabin.

Debut for Pipe Organ

The Casavant Pipe Organ at Old Christ Church, Detroit, first new pipe organ to be built for a downtown Protestant church in many years, makes its formal debut Monday evening.

Six outstanding organists from the metropolitan area—David Palmer, Daos Grobe, Dorothy Rohrbach, Donald Renz, Huw Lewis and David Wagner—will perform in this opening recital.

The 54-rank organ, built by the Casavant Company of St. Hyacinthe, Que., was designed for Old Christ Church by Dr. Malcolm Johns, of Rivard boulevard, the church's organist and choirmaster.

The first stage was installed in May, 1976. The last shipment included the Choir Organ division, the Pedal Organ reeds and the rear Gallery Organ. The Gallery Organ is playable not only from the Chancel console but from a small, separate keyboard in the rear gallery, making it possible for two players to perform together.

Monday evening's recital at 8 o'clock will follow another "first": the first joint meeting of the Detroit Chapter of the American Guild of Organists with the Windsor Chapter of the Royal College of Canadian Organists.

Post-concert, to which we're all invited, there'll be a meet-the-artists reception. We're all invited to that, too.

Return to Their Roots

As Americans take an increasing interest in tracing their roots, many travel abroad in search of a new awareness of their ethnic heritage.

Two hundred participated in such a search this summer, in Cracow, Poland. Among them were Steven and Maria Chryppinski of Trombley road.

Some were students, some adults. All attended courses at historic Jagiellonian University, where daily classes in the Polish language, at beginning to advanced levels, were supplemented by lectures in English in Polish history, culture and contemporary society.

There were extracurricular cultural activities, too, and excursions to the scenic areas of southern Poland around Cracow, and to Poland's capital, Warsaw.

The Cracow summer study program is part of Summer Sessions in Poland sponsored annually by The Kosciuszko Foundation of New York City, a non-profit organization which promotes educational and cultural exchanges between the United States and Poland.

Is it a good program? Is it a good idea to check out where you come from, (so, the saying goes, you can better know where you're going)? Just ask Steven and Maria!
