HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by The Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, October 19

PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER has ordered the production of some components for the controversial neutron bomb, but has again delayed a final decision on whether to produce the weapon itself, officials said. The decision allows Mr. Carter continued flexibility on the issue while making it possible to bring the weapon into production in a much shorter time period. Administration officials said the move would be unlikely to affect the outcome of the current strategic arms limitation talks, (SALT).

Friday, October 20

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE were reported killed as Rhodesian warplanes bombed the outskirts of Lusaka, Zambia and guerilla bases in Mozambique. The raids represented a major escalation of Rhodesia's war against black nationalist forces. In other news, an unemployed auto worker has been charged with three counts of murder after a shooting spree which left five dead and two wounded in western Wayne County Thursday. Witnesses say the accused man, Billy Hardesty, 21, of Van Buren Township, was apparently under the influence of drugs at the time, and had a history of violent rages.

Saturday, October 21

ISRAEL, IN A surprise move, ordered its top delegates to the Israeli-Egyptian peace talks home for consultations, while one Egyptian said he would leave for Cairo. Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan said the move was taken because the week-long peace conference had reached an impasse over "fundamental principles." He would not elaborate on the difficulties, however.

Sunday, October 22

THE RHODESIAN MILITARY announced that airborne raiders had blasted 12 black nationalist guerilla camps, killing an estimated 1,500 guerillas deep inside Zambia last week. If the death figures are accurate, it would be the bloodiest cross-border operation by the Rhodesians in the six-year-old guerilla war. The military also said it had struck bases in Mozambique, although casualty figures there were not announced.

Monday, October 23

EGYPTIAN-ISRAELI peace negotiators have agreed on the terms to end 30 years of war between the two countries, it was announced by the State Department. The final terms still must be approved at the top levels of both governments, which may take several days. American sources said hopes were high that the document can be initiated before the end of the week and formally signed on November 19, the first anniversary of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's peace mission to Israel.

Tuesday, October 24

TOP U.S. OFFICIALS, acknowledging that "a big, big step" has been taken toward peace between Israel and Egypt, caution that further compromise by both sides will be necessary before a treaty can be signed. However they feel a treaty will probably be worked out by next week. The Israeli cabinet began studying the draft Monday night, while Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and his top advisors began looking it over a day earlier. One Egyptian official said he would ask for a change in some language, but emphasized the country hasn't rejected the draft.

'King and I' Opens New GPT Season

Robert Bowen And Lois Bendler Star in Musical Extravaganza at Fries Auditorium

Grosse Pointe Theatre opens its 31st season this week, turning the stage of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium into golden, glorious 19th century Bangkok: setting for Rodgers and Hammerstein's magical musical "The King and I."

It is the story of Anna, an English governess, and her confrontation with Oriental tradition in the persons of the King of Siam, his ministers, wives and children.

It is directed by Harry Albertson, whose latest GPT productions include "Man of La Mancha" and "Beckett." Producer is Jane Vreeland, of Audubon road. Musical director is John Pericin, of Ballantyne road.

Adds To Roster
Adding the role of Anna to her roster of past GPT successes, including appearances in "A Little Night Music" and "Cabaret," is Lois Bendler, of Shorepointe.

Robert Bowen, of Whittier road, unforgettable as McMurphy in GPT's "One Flew over the Cuckoo's Nest," is the King. He last impressed GPT patrons in "How the Other Half Loves."

GP Park Police Quell 175 Riotous Party Crashers

Park police were called to disperse a large group of party-crashing, fighting teenagers in the 800 block of Barrington road on Saturday, October 21, it was disclosed by Chief Henry O. Coonce. The incident started as a small house party and mushroomed when teens from surrounding areas heard of the affair.

Chief Coonce said that police officers arrived at the scene at 11:30 p.m. to find approximately 175 boys and girls fighting, some in small groups, or otherwise creating a disorderly situation. The crowd showed hostility toward the policemen, but the officers were able to clear the area within an hour, without harm to themselves. The chief said that other

Pointers Help to Spur Their Friends Through Grueling Marathon Race

Hundreds Line Streets to Watch As 2,000 Run Through Pointe on 26.2 Mile Course

By David Kramer
Grosse Pointe was invaded by a swarm of runners Sunday morning, October 22. And Grosse Pointe loved it.

While hundreds of residents gathered along the route of the Detroit Free Press International Marathon to cheer the runners on, dozens of Pointers were in the thick of it and, boy, did they appreciate those cheers.

A good portion of the 26 mile, 385 yard course was run through The Pointe, beginning at Wayburn and Jefferson, just past the 10-mile mark, and leaving at Kercheval and Wayburn, at about the 17-mile point.

Play Movie Themes
All along the distance between residents gathered to watch the marathoners. The South High marching band stationed itself at Fisher and Kercheval, where a good crowd gathered. The theme from "Rocky" and the "Lone Ranger" were heard over and over as the runners guzzled down water and Gatorade from cups handed to them as they passed the 15-mile aid station set up on The Hill.

Many of them acknowledged the cheers from the crowd with victory signs and waves. Most kept their concentration on the road ahead. Conversation flowed back and forth between runners, and offers were made to share drinks. Some noticeably got a lift from the strains of the band.

"It's nice to see a familiar face out here," said a black runner, when cheered on by a friend on the sidelines. The crowd laughed. The first runner to reach The Hill was Robert Ombler, the eventual winner of the race. He strode through without apparent effort at about 10:15. Everyone then turned to look for the next man, but they had about a five minute wait.

Then they came in bunches, and they kept coming for hours, each one at his own pace. Close to 2,000 runners made their way through, and most of the spectators stayed right where they were to cheer.

Bob Hays, who lives in Moran road, finished 22nd with a time of three hours, eight minutes. That time put him in the top 10 percent of runners, although it was 10 minutes slower than his fastest marathon.

Back on the Road
"I was surprised at how many people along the way knew who I was," said the 13-marathon veteran. There must have been 25 to 30,000 people along the entire route. The runners are pleased to have that.

Bob said he would be out again on Tuesday pounding the pavement. He's afraid if he doesn't get out there soon enough, he'll get out of shape.

Charlene Vettorello, of The Park, who ran with her husband, Sange, managed to take a ninth in the women's 35-and-over category even with the heel spurs she had picked up from running the Boston Marathon last April. Her time of three hours, 58 minutes wasn't enough to qualify her for the Boston event, and she will have to run another race in under three and a half hours to qualify for it next year.

She ran the second half of the race faster than the first, despite the nausea she felt toward the end that she blamed on the two aspirin she took at the 17 mile point.

Mrs. Vettorello, who teaches an exercise class at the Assumption Cultural Center, said she was running (Continued on Page 10)

Two Escape Death In Car Crash

Wreckage Spread over Two Blocks after Driver Runs Red Light at Fisher and Kercheval

An elderly Detroit couple narrowly escaped death Tuesday, October 17, in a spectacular accident at Kercheval and Fisher roads in which their car traveled more than 300 feet out of control, hit a tree and went flying 40 feet in the air before it landed on its top.

The couple, Onie and Anna Reagan of Gray street in Detroit, were trapped in their mangled vehicle for almost 20 minutes before police released them with the help of a Jaws of Life tool owned by Harper Woods.

Mr. Reagan, 75, is listed in good condition at Bon Secours Hospital while his wife, Anna, 62, is in fair condition.

Called a Miracle
Police said it was a "miracle" that more people were not injured in the accident, which occurred at about 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, just as dozens of elementary students were crossing the Kercheval-Fisher intersection from Richard School.

Police said Mr. Reagan was driving west on Kercheval avenue and ran a red light at Fisher road when the accident occurred. His auto hit one in the middle of the intersection that was waiting to make a left hand turn.

The driver of that vehicle, a 16-year-old Park girl, was not injured.

After the impact, City Ptl. Richard Lanski said the Reagan car accelerated, went over the curb on the north side of Kercheval and traveled 302 feet from the pavement to a tree a block away in Lincoln road.

After hitting the tree and a street sign, police said the car flipped over about 40 feet in the air and landed upside down on top of a sapling.

Marker Flies Block
A Park officer later found the Lincoln street marker on Washington road, another block away.

According to police, crossing guards at the Kercheval-Fisher intersection had just finished walking several dozen children across the street when the accident occurred.

Headlee, Tisch Tax Proposals Are Discussed

Officials Predict Cuts in Services and More Control from Lansing if Tisch, Headlee Are Approved

By Susan McDonald
Voter approval of either of the two tax-limitation amendments on the November 7 ballot would quickly put The Pointe's governments in a financial bind, forcing cuts in services and increased dependence on Lansing, according to several local officials.

Recognizing strong voter sentiment favoring tax limitation, none of The Pointe's six political bodies has dared take a stand for or against Headlee-Proposal E or Tisch-Proposal J.

But when asked about the effect the proposals would have on local finances, mayors, councilmen, city managers and finance directors are full of dire predictions for their small communities.

Feelings are strongest about the Tisch proposal which puts a 5.6 percent lid on the state income tax, (currently at 4.6 percent), and prohibits Lansing from mandating more programs on the local level without paying for them.

Tisch also cuts property assessments in half, to 25 percent of true cash value, and limits increases in the assessments to 2.5 percent a year.

Those provisions would hit Pointe city governments hard. The five municipalities would lose roughly $4.2 million in operating revenue immediately. That figure represents from one-quarter to one-third of the cities' individual budgets.

Grosse Pointe Schools stand to lose $10.2 million, or about 45 percent of their operating budget, under Tisch. If voters approve, a one percent income tax could be levied by the School Board to make up that loss.

While cities have no such income tax option, Tisch does allow them to raise taxes up to their 20-mill charter limits without a vote of the people. That option does not exist for Grosse Pointe City, which is already at its 20-mill limit. And for other Pointe communities, such as The Park which is at 18.7 mills, the millage increase would do little to offset the tremendous loss in assessments.

Thomas Kressbach, Grosse Pointe City's manager, summed up Tisch's impact on his community with a single word—"devastating."

The City would lose 36 percent of its operating revenues and "services would have to be slashed accordingly," he said.

In the long run, the effect would be to "take control of our revenue away from the city governments," said the City's Mayor John King. "We'd have to look toward the state to help us maintain basic services, and with that we'd get more state control." (Continued on Page 2)

Farms' Last Unpaved Road to Remain 'As Is'

By David Kramer
Despite Farms council members' agreement that it was no solution to the problem, they unanimously decided to leave the unpaved section of Lakeview avenue to remain as it is even though citizens have complained loudly about litter, loitering and illegal parking in the area.

Their action, taken at the council's Monday, October 16, meeting, was essentially a non-action recommended by City Manager Andrew Bremer after area residents were unable to agree on a solution to problems plaguing the street.

In a memo to the council, Mr. Bremer suggested the city adopt a policy of maintaining the road in a condition allowing police patrol

$4.5 Million Needed For Incinerator

Grosse Pointes-Clinton Refuse Authority Told to Comply with Pollution Standards

An expenditure of $4.5 million will be required to bring the trash reduction incinerator used by the five Grosse Pointe communities into compliance with federal air pollution standards by July 1, 1979.

Council members from Grosse Pointe City, Park, Farms, Shores and Woods and from Harper Woods, Clinton Township and Mt. Clemens met Wednesday night, October 25, with their representatives on the Grosse Pointes-Clinton Refuse Disposal Authority to review and to discuss alternatives.

The Authority serves the needs of all eight communities and its capital expenditures require the approval of the municipalities.

In a presentation to the officials of the participating communities, the Authority reported that it has been ordered by the State of Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission to correct inadequacies in the incinerator by the July date. The Michigan body's ruling was dictated by requirements of the Federal Clean Air Act.

Faces Deadline
Wet scrubbers, with which the incinerator has been equipped since its construction in 1972, have failed to meet the clean air requirements. Despite a series of delays granted by the state, the Authority has not been able to bring the incinerator into conformance with state or federal standards. Its unsuccessful efforts included bringing legal action, against the contractor who installed the system.

Upon being notified of the July 1 deadline, the Authority undertook a nationwide survey to ascertain what types of waste reduction facilities have been successful in meeting standards.

Thirty-six different facilities in 15 states and Canada were included in the survey. Half of the surveyed facilities used systems known as electrostatic precipitators and all of these were found to meet existing standards. Venturi scrubbers were used in six of the 36 facilities. Two of these failed to meet the law.

Of the remaining 12 systems, all using other types of controls, only one achieved compliance.

Tax Change Forum Slated

Christ Church Grosse Pointe will host an open, public forum "Toward an Understanding of the Tax Amendments" on Sunday, November 5.

The forum will be held at the church, 61 Grosse Pointe boulevard, from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Addressing the three tax amendments — Headlee, Tisch and Voucher — will be Robert Quellar, director of research for the Citizens Research Council of Michigan.

Marilyn Lundy, president of the League of Catholic Women, will speak on behalf of the Voucher plan as a representative of Citizens for More Sensible Financing of Education, the proposal's sponsoring group.

School Board President Laurence Harwood will speak on the effect the Voucher plan may have on public education. Grosse Pointe City Manager Thomas Kressbach will discuss the effect Tisch and Headlee may have on municipal government.

Coffee will be provided and there will be an opportunity for questions and answers.

Bond Issue

Mr. Mitchell represents Grosse Pointe Farms on the Authority. Benjamin Pinkos, Treasurer, representing Grosse Pointe Woods, estimated the additional cost of issuing bonds for the $4.5 million installation to be approximately $3 per person for each of the 150,000 residents living in the eight member communities.

The only realistic alternative open to the Authority is to close the incinerator and return to direct haul of trash to landfill operations, Mr. Mitchell said. The incinerator which reduces waste by 95 percent of its volume, produces an ash-like substance for landfill purposes.

Prior to opening the incinerator in 1972, raw trash was carried to several landfill sites near 14 Mile road and Gratiot. As that area developed, the Authority obtained access to a landfill at 25 Mile and I-94. That site was closed in 1977 and the Authority then found a new site at 27 Mile and I-94.

This area is expected to close in 1979 and other sites will have to be found still farther away.

Scrubbers Opposed

The ash residue from the incinerator is regarded as a desirable landfill substance and can be used for construction of road beds. The fact that it represents only five percent of the actual untreated waste production of the eight communities results in the substantial savings in hauling and handling costs as the fill sites move farther away, Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Pinkos pointed out.

Because of the present poor experience with scrubbers, the use of Venturi scrubbers to meet the standards is not recommended by the Authority.

Another alternative, to construct a resource recovery plant, was ruled out because of the capital investment, calculated to exceed $21 million.

Still another possibility is construction of a transfer station where trash would be compacted and transferred to larger trucks. This method would require seemingly insurmountable site renovation. It also is subject to challenge on an environmental ground.

Approval of the $4.5 million bond issue to finance electrostatic precipitators must be given by the legislative bodies of the eight communities participating in the Grosse Pointes-Clinton Refuse Disposal Authority.

If approved, the construction program would begin early in 1979 and would be completed by mid 1981.

Discuss Proposals

(Continued from Page 1) That sentiment was echoed in a resolution on Tisch approved by Farms council members this month. The resolution urges residents to "determine whether they wish to have their local taxes collected and disbursed openly by local residents and neighbors, (the councilmen), or by the state legislature in Lansing."

Most of the officials surveyed feel the Tisch proposal would result in an eventual shift of taxes, away from property to higher single business, income and nuisance taxes.

"Tisch won't cut taxes, it'll just shift them," said Park Finance Director Nunzio Ortisi. "Depending on your financial position, Tisch may increase your overall tax burden, especially if you're a high-income earner."

Headlee-Proposal E drew a more varied response from local officials and in some cases has their support.

Headlee limits total state revenue to its current proportion, (9.4 percent), of the personal income of all Michigan residents. State taxes could rise then, only as personal income in Michigan rises.

Under Headlee, local government units would be forced to put any new taxes, including most bond issues, to a vote of citizens. Local tax increases resulting from hikes in property assessment could not exceed the rate of increase of the Consumer Price Index, (CPI), which has averaged 6.2 percent annually over the last 10 years.

One local official, Woods Mayor Benjamin Pinkos, gives Headlee his wholehearted support, even though he strongly opposes Tisch.

"I don't understand how anyone could be opposed to the Headlee proposal," Mr. Pinkos said. "It's very equitable to the government. Taxes may be raised as the economy improves. It's just a matter of government learning to live like the rest of us do."

But very few representatives of the other cities share Mr. Pinkos' sentiments. Though obviously less drastic, and less immediate than Tisch, many officials say Headlee would cause them serious financial troubles.

"Headlee would have a deteriorating effect on City services, as contrasted to the devastating effect of the Tisch proposal," Mr. Kressbach said.

Though it would not immediately cut city revenue as Tisch does, the Headlee proposal would limit budget growth to CPI growth and most city budgets usually exceed that figure by one or two percent each year.

"Our costs, such as compulsory arbitration awards to police and fire, utility rates, social security and insurance, have increased more than the CPI in recent years," he explained.

"Under Headlee the difference would have to be made up through city service cuts, higher fees, new user fees or a combination."

School Board member Joan Hanpeter said the district could find itself in a similar bind under Headlee.

"Its impact would not be immediate and it's very difficult to assess what it will be in the long run, but there are some very bad implications," she said.

"Should any federal programs be mandated, for instance if we're told to install access to buildings for handicapped persons, there would be no funds to pay for the programs.

"We'd have to go to the citizens for a vote more often and that in itself is an expensive process," she said.

Most of the local politicians are hesitant to speak strongly on either proposal. They just warn: "if citizens want a tax cut, they must be prepared to accept similar cuts in services."

The Farms was again the recipient of an Automobile Ass'n. of America, (AAA), Award of Merit for its pedestrian safety record and pedestrian safety program activities. The city has had no pedestrian fatalities since 1972.

This year marked the eighth consecutive year The Farms has received the award. It was presented by Jack Hinsberg of the Pointe AAA office and a representative of the traffic safety engineering department of the association.

Accepting the award for The Farms at the council's Monday, October 16, meeting, were Mayor James Dingeman, Police Chief Robert Ferber and Traffic Safety Officer Joe Belanger.

Mr. Dingeman, in accepting the award, acknowledged the hard work of Officer Belanger and Chief Ferber. Officer Belanger, as part of his duties, presents traffic safety information to school children, and does surveys to help increase safety.

The Farms is one of 14 Michigan cities given top awards in the 39th annual AAA Pedestrian Safety Inventory. A record 2,656 U.S. cities plus 29 states participated in the program.

At a breakfast meeting at Jacobson's Monday, October 16, sponsored by the Family Life Education Council, (FLEC), the mayors of the five Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods signed a proclamation declaring the week of October 15 to 21, to be FLEC Week, to launch the organization's 1978 Fund Drive which will conclude Thursday, November 30. This year's goal was set at $80,000.

Dr. Joseph Beals, president of the FLEC Board of Directors, spoke of existing programs and future goals of the non-profit, community-oriented service organization.

Dedicated to the strengthening of the family unit, FLEC currently operates Center Point, a youth counseling service, an Alcohol Awareness Program for the high schools and middle schools, a Medical Clinic and Dialogue, an adult helpline which has experienced a 200 percent rise in phone calls over the past year.

City Fireman Is Graduate

City Firefighter Francis Thibideau was graduated late last month from the Criminal Justice Police Academy at Macomb County Community College, according to Director of Public Safety Bruce Kennedy.

Fireman Thibideau is the third city firefighter to complete police training as part of a consolidation of police and fire departments in The City.

Director Kennedy said he expects to have all 13 firefighters in the department complete school at the police academy by next July.

The police-fire consolidation was approved by the City Council in 1976 as a cost-saving measure.

It initially met with strong opposition from firefighters, but the men tentatively approved a three-year contract this spring that would allow the consolidation to be completed.

That contract, however, has not yet formally been approved or signed by the firemen or council.

Cottage to Show Slides on China

The Honorable Mark C. Stevens, Consul to Thailand and a former Farms councilman, will present a free slide show on China at Cottage Hospital, 159 Kercheval avenue, today, Thursday, October 26.

Two showings at 11:35 a.m. and 12:05 p.m. are scheduled in the lower level conference room of the hospital, 159 Kercheval avenue.

Another in the series of "Lunch Hour Slide Shows" held twice monthly for the benefit of hospital employees, the program will show highlights of Mr. Stevens' visit to China this March and April.

The public is invited to call Mrs. Margaret Hutchings, volunteer services director, at 884-8600, extension 2455, for advance reservations. Sandwiches and coffee will be available at nominal cost or a bag lunch may be brought.

Mr. Stevens has been Royal Thai Consul for 20 years. He also is president of the Detroit branch of the English Speaking Union, headquartered in New York City, and is the group's national travel chairman. He is a member of the Circumnavigators' Club and a retired senior vice-president of Detroit Bank and Trust.

Fire Destroys GPW Garage

A fire which originated in the garage of a citizen also spread to a 1977 van parked in the driveway, with embers then blowing onto the awning of a neighbor causing the covering to burn, reported Woods firefighters on Sunday, October 8.

The blaze, which started in the garage of William F. Sherman of 19867 West Doyle place, was reported at 6:17 a.m. with all units cleared at 7:51 a.m. No one was injured in the incident which brought a response from seven firefighters and seven auxiliary officers.

Upon his arrival at the scene, Lt. Peter Thomas found the garage ablaze with the fire extending to the van. While fighting the fire, embers caused by the wind ignited the awning at the residence of Harold Neil of 19973 West Doyle place.

It was extinguished with two one and a half inch lines and the booster line.

The lieutenant noted that the blaze was apparently caused by a heating lamp in the dog pen. This lamp was thermostatically controlled to go on when the temperature reached 35 degrees, with the temperature at 6 a.m. being between 32 and 33 degrees.

Police Called to Party

(Continued from Page 1) were absent from home. As in most cases of this nature, word began to spread that a party was being held at this home in the 800 block of Barrington and teens from everywhere, a few at a time, arrived.

"Naturally the house was not built to hold such a large crowd and it did not take long before the affair got out of control and spilled out onto the street."

Chief Coonce emphasized the fact that parents should always know what their children are doing, or what they are planning to do. In this case, because the parents were not at home, the teen members of the family decided to have a party and invited their friends.

"Within a short time, the word got around that a party was in progress at this particular home," the chief said, "and before long, more and more uninvited guests arrived. When our officers were dispatched to the area, they were faced by a hostile crowd of teenagers, many fighting in small groups, or were paired off."

"It was a touchy situation. The officers estimated the crowd at about 175 teenagers. We alerted the other departments asking them to stand by, just in case we needed them. Fortunately, our men were able to disperse the youths without calling for any assistance."

Whether there was any consumption of alcoholic beverages at the party is not known, Chief Coonce said. The officers of his department handled the situation in a credible and professional manner, without resorting to force, or themselves getting hurt. This was remarkable, he pointed out, because they faced a large group of very hostile youths, many of whom, while fighting, suffered bloody injuries and abrasions on faces and hands.

If parents do not keep sharper supervision on the activities of their teenage children, they may come home some day to find their homes badly damaged, or perhaps burned down, the chief warned. At teen parties where no adults are present, there is no telling what might really happen, he pointed out further.

Dog Law

(Continued from Page 1) er than have the pet owner subjected to a heavy fine and/or a jail term, on a misdemeanor charge?"

City Attorney Herold Deason, who drafted the ordinance at the request of the council, stated that a Michigan law prohibits a city from changing an ordinance violation from a misdemeanor to a civil penalty. A misdemeanor is still a crime, regardless of how small it is. The only way a misdemeanor can be designated as a civil penalty, is if it is permitted by the Park City Charter, and it must be so designated.

Look for a Sewer

The pet owner cannot pick up his dog's mess and dump it on the street, as this, too, would be contradictory to the new ordinance, Mr. Deason said.

There were many suggestions presented by Mayor Matthew Patterson, members of the council and by the people in the audience.

The end result of the suggested changes recommended by Councilman Graham was that the penalty was lowered to a $25 fine for each offense, with the burden of proof being placed on the private property owner, or any witness(es) who must come to court to testify; the word "immediately" was changed to "promptly," and for the convenience of the pet owners, droppings can either be dropped into the nearest sanitary sewer through the catch basin opening, or disposed of on the owner's property.

The council, with one member absent, voted for the ordinance with the changes.

WRONG APPROACH

The one who tries to advance himself by stepping on the heads of his friends seems to have his machinery in reverse.

Crash

Using a crow bar, City firefighters were able to release Mrs. Reagan from the passenger side of the car in about 10 minutes. Ambulance attendants administered oxygen to Mr. Reagan while officers worked about 20 minutes to release him.

Police said both victims were conscious and talking when they were taken to Bon Secours by ambulance.

Last Dirt Road

Mr. Mast, who has been on previous councils, said it was the previous council's consensus to discourage development of the lots, but added, "I personally am not opposed to the development of it. Until you have people living on it who care what is going on there, you're going to have the same problem."

On the other hand, he said, he enjoyed the "countrified atmosphere" of the street in its present condition.

"To my mind the only solution is to pave it and light it," said Mr. Cudlip. "And if you pave and light it, one of the Moross residents is sure to develop it."

Mr. Bremer, who said the city plans to spend about $800 per year towards maintaining the road, agreed problems on the street wouldn't be solved until it was developed, "because of the very isolated nature back there."

Another possible alternative, vacating the road with the land going to abutting property owners, was not considered a viable alternative because of lawsuits possibly resulting from taking away the Moross residents' buildable lots.

Councilman Joseph Fromm asked if it would be feasible to make the road private, to which Mr. Bremer answered that an agreement would have to be obtained from all adjacent property owners consenting to maintain the road, which he considered unlikely.

The council's motion included instructions to the residents to maintain the right of way along the road. Such maintenance, which they termed an obligation, included picking up the litter residents have been complaining about.

Other problems encountered by residents include loitering, illegal parking and drinking. The road remains the only section of unpaved roadway in The Farms.

Several council members expressed hope that the residents would be happy with the decision for several years, but all agreed it was not a solution, and that the issue would probably crop up again.

Mainly Miniatures Shop Opens on Fisher Road

The creation of miniature doll houses is one of the fastest growing hobbies in the country today.

Pointers Anne Boomer, Jean Harland and Nancy Shirar have combined their lifelong interests in the field with a keen business sense in opening the delightful Mainly Miniatures at 371 Fisher Road.

Even non collectors will find a trip to Mainly Miniatures fascinating. Almost everything found in a home is there in mini form! You'll find kits, tools, hardware, even wall sconces, gazebos, garden statues and goodies for the kitchen. Finished products for those of us who are all thumbs plus basics for those nimble fingered do-it-yourself from scratch types.

Creating your own world in miniature offers an exciting, rewarding opportunity for self expression. An increasing number of men are into miniatures as it relates to woodworking and model interests.

Miniatures were discovered in ancient Egyptian tombs. They have been a strong art form in the United States for generations with roots in England. The most famous doll house was that of Queen Mary.

Pointe resident, Dorrie Krusz whose "Sheldon's Tavern" miniature was featured in Architectural Digest will conduct a class on creating three different types of wreaths. If interested, you may call 881-7887 to reserve space in the class to be held Friday, November 10.

Mack Dancers Stop Traffic

Hilda Marshall and a group of friends stopped traffic for a while on Mack avenue late last month, all in the name of "Michigan Square Dance Week."

Mrs. Marshall hosted a group of about 30 square dancing friends in a demonstration of dancing skill on her driveway facing Mack late last month. Stuart and Elaine Micklethwait of Emory court, did the calling, and Alice and Jo Hill demonstrated new steps to the group.

The group made the most of one of this fall's last 80 degree days with cocktails, hors d'oeuvres and a brunch that began at 12 noon and lasted well into the evening, said Mrs. Marshall.

Farms Police Nab Shoplifter

Farms police had some trouble figuring the identity of a woman who was allegedly caught trying to shoplift some $339 worth of clothing from Hughes and Hatcher, 18920 Mack avenue.

The woman, finally identified as Ruby Jane Farris, 31, of 3311 Helen and 1380 Lenox, both in Detroit, was found to have a list of four aliases, not including another which she used to sign statements given to police.

Police reports said that Sgt. Alfred Martin was dispatched to the store on the evening of Monday, October 16, with a report that a woman security guard was fighting with a customer.

It was later learned that the guard had spotted three women, two of whom she said had concealed clothes from the store under their bulky coats. When the guard called for them to halt, Farris attacked her, police said.

While wrestling with Farris, the clothing fell out from under the suspect's coat. Meanwhile the other two got away, leaving behind more clothing. The apparel found on Farris included two pairs of blue jeans, a blazer and two skirts, police said.

When advised of her rights by police, Farris signed the name Mary Ann Jordan to the form. Later, at her arraignment, she signed the name Jean Jenkins to an affidavit requesting an appointment with Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell she would have to sign her real name to obtain an attorney, she did so.

At her arraignment Farris claimed she had been framed and pled not guilty to the charge of larceny over $100. Her exam date was set for Wednesday, October 25, and she was remanded to Wayne County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond, or 10 percent thereof.

A check with other area police departments revealed an outstanding warrant for Farris in Roseville according to police.

Holiday Gifts At GPA Fair

Grosse Pointe Academy, (GPA), students will have their own special preview of the school's annual Book Fair scheduled for Thursday and Friday, November 2 and 3, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Book Fair Chairman, Mrs. Angus McGarvah, has received many requests from grandparents and parents asking that children have time prior to the Fair to make a holiday list of their favorite adventures in reading.

The Book Fair, scheduled during the Academy's first parent conference sessions, is a fund-raiser for the school but, because it provides an excellent selection, it is now considered a marvelous holiday shopping opportunity for parents and community residents.

Since all Academy students from the early school through eighth grade attend French classes, a "French Corner" will offer games, dictionaries and very readable books for the young student.

Judi Zak, a faculty member, will be on hand to autograph her Christmas storybooks, "A Most Crooked Tree" and "The Secret Gift of Not Even A Mouse."

Cookbooks, novels, do-it-yourself books, advent calendars, mazes and craft-books are all included in the selection made by Mrs. McGarvah and Academy librarian, Mrs. A. J. Martin.

Parent Coordinating Council Chairman Mrs. Edward L. McDermott, assisted by Mrs. Michael Turnbull, will coordinate parent volunteers and provide coffee for all browsers.

The Academy campus, at Lakeshore and Moran roads, offers ample parking adjacent to the Moran entrance.

GP Inter-Faith Center Begins 1979 Fund Appeal

"An Investment in Our Community" is the theme for the 1979 fund-raising drive to support programs of the Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice. The annual appeal to Pointe families and individuals provides almost half of the Center's operating budget, according to chairman of the 1979 campaign Tom McGovern of Balfour road.

The funds maintain the Center staff and an up-to-date resource center, making possible a variety of community educational programs, Mr. McGovern said.

The Inter-Faith Center's efforts in neighborhood revitalization, crime prevention, education and consultation to schools are aimed to enhance understanding of race relations and to encourage community involvement with the goal of building harmonious relationships between minorities and whites, according to Mr. McGovern.

"It is our contention that the destiny of our community rests to a large degree with the success or failure of our efforts to assist the entire east side work toward the ideal of racial justice," said the Center's executive director Ed Egnatios.

Mr. Egnatios said he feels the Center's work during the past year has resulted in productive outcome for The Pointe. He cited the group's Crime Prevention Task Force, under the leadership of Kathy McGovern and Maura Corrigan Grano, both of Balfour road.

The Task Force has helped organize four block clubs in the Alter road area, which have addressed problems such as crime prevention and block beautification.

Other programs of the last year include the summer seminar "Promoting Social Understanding," which involved more than 125 Pointers; tours of Detroit emphasizing the future of neighborhoods, involving more than 100 Pointers; and the 10th Anniversary Dinner in May.

'Red Garter' Winner Eyed

What local Civic Club man has the most interesting legs? This burning question the Assistance League to Northeast Guidance Center proposes to answer with a "Mr. Red Garter" legs show contest.

It will be held in conjunction with the "Red Garter Revue" to be presented at North High School, 707 Vernier road, Thursday through Saturday, October 26 to 28, to benefit community mental health.

In a spirit of cooperation among civic organizations, six leading men's clubs, (Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary, Jaycees, Crisis Club and American Legion No. 291), each selected a representative whose "legs" were photographed in a unique pose.

Posters displaying the legs are at various locations throughout the Pointes, and will be in the auditorium lobby at showtime. Citizens are asked to cast a vote, (10 cents per vote), for their favorite.

The last night of the revue, contestants' "legs" will be on stage and the winner's club will divide proceeds of his votes 50-50 with the Assistance League.

Tickets are available for all three nights at Jacobson's Credit Office by calling 824-8000, or they may be obtained at the door.

Woods Okays Seniors' Bids

Two requests from senior citizens were unanimously approved by the Woods Council at a recent regular meeting.

The council first approved a bid of $200 permitting four Senior Citizens Commission delegates to attend the three-day conference viewing "Housing and The Elderly: The Conservation Alternative" Thursday through Saturday, October 19 to 21, at the Radisson Cadillac Hotel, Detroit.

Registration was placed at $32 per person, for a total of $128, while the other $72 will be used for sundry expenses, e.g., transportation and lunch.

The solons also approved the expenditure of $184 permitting the renting of a bus for a scheduled mystery trip on November 9. The cost of a SEMTA bus for eight hours was placed at the $184 figure, noted Senior Citizens Commission chairman Irene Suttoin.

Clout.

Kelly

Clout is the ability to get things done.

Our neighborhoods were worried about crime, the isolation of senior citizens, the deforestation of city streets, small businesses moving out, dilapidated housing, and the absence of youth recreation programs.

Many groups worked to solve the problem but most needed a helping hand.

Kelly found the answers. He matched resources to needs. He got things off the ground. Dial a Ride for seniors, trees planted with the help of the Army, formation of business groups, new housing programs based on private development and a volunteer youth program. It has made a difference.

The fight will go on and Grosse Pointe has a stake in it. What happens to Detroit will affect the Pointes in the near future. And Grosse Pointe has problems that need to be addressed too.

John has the experience and education to make State Government responsive to our community needs. He has a B.A. from the University of Michigan, a Master of Public Administration from Wayne State, PhD coursework at Georgetown and Wayne and two years at law school. He is an officer in the U.S. Army Reserves, worked for the U.S. Senate and presently teaches politics at the university level.

He can get things done. But with your help he can do much more.

Community support and Kelly — that's Clout.

Senator Griffin: A Leader

Mr. Levin: A Misleader

CBS network newscaster, Jed Duvall, said recently, "Griffin is considered one of the Senate's hard-working members, one of its best parliamentarians..." ("Capitol Cloakroom," Aug. 20, 1978.)

U.S. Senator Griffin is one of the ablest and most effective Senators in Washington. That isn't just a statement, it's the opinion of everyone who really knows the Senate.

Voting attendance is only one of many factors to be weighed in judging a Senator. However, in this department, too, Senator Griffin stands well above the average.

Whether you compare worst years, or best years—or overall career averages—Senator Griffin's voting attendance record is better than most Senators whom Mr. Levin would hold up as models of vigor and effectiveness.

VOTING ATTENDANCE*

Senator	Career Average	High	Low
Robert P. Griffin	86%	99% (1958)	66% (1977)
Donald Riegler	80%	94% (1968)	29% (1976)
George McGovern	81%	98% (1958)	22% (1972)
Frank Church	80%	94% (1961)	54% (1968)
Ed Muskie	81%	93% (1974)	48% (1972)
Walter Mondale	85%	94% (1975)	51% (1976)
Howard Baker	78%	91% (1977)	51% (1972)
Barry Goldwater	67%	81% (1976)	43% (1970)
Jacob Javits	86%	94% (1961)	64% (1968)
William Fitzgerald	60%	75% (1975)	38% (1978)

Maire School Recycles Cans

Aluminum cans are now being collected for recycling by Maire School, 740 Cadieux road, according to the school's Environmental Education Committee and principal Leo Warras.

Aluminum beer and pop cans as well as aluminum dessert and dinner trays, aluminum lawn chairs frames and aluminum house gutters and siding are accepted for recycling.

The aluminum articles may be placed in barrels located just inside each entrance of the school building, and food containers should be cleaned.

School officials caution against driving onto the playground when dropping off the articles.

The Maire Environmental Education Committee began the recycling project in November 1976 with the help of students, parents and friends of the school.

Proceeds from the sale of aluminum are used by the school's Environmental Education Committee for maintenance of the school nature center.

Last year 230 pounds of the lightweight metal was collected.

Maire students have learned that recycling of aluminum takes only five percent of the energy used to make new aluminum.

The community also is asked to begin saving newspapers for the Maire PTO paper drive on Saturday, November 4.

Audubon Meets Nov. 1

The Grosse Pointe Audubon Society will hold its first fall meeting on Wednesday, November 1, at 8 p.m., at 66 Handy place.

The organization's new president, Mrs. Henry Kohring, will introduce Dan Hayes, head naturalist of the Seven Ponds Nature Center, near Dryden. The Grosse Pointe chapter is a co-sponsor of Seven Ponds with the Michigan Audubon Society. Visitors are welcome.

Class Explores Neighborhoods

A vacant store, a robbery, trees destroyed by disease and not replaced, "for-sale" signs evident on homes and neighborhood businesses, home repairs overdue—a neighborhood begins to slip.

What is happening? Is it the minority family that has recently moved in? Or is deterioration much more complex; a series of forces that coincide at one time and place? How are racial or ethnic fears a part of that?

Despite the fact that there are neighborhoods in Detroit and all over the U.S. where a multi-racial make-up is the basis for economic and social prosperity, why do racial change and deterioration often occur at the same time?

These are critical issues that may determine the future of our community. "Detroit and Its Neighborhoods: A Community-wide Renaissance or Impossible Dream?" is a six-part course offered by the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice on Mondays from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. starting November 6 and ending December 11.

The course will be taught by Edward S. Egnatios, MSW, Executive Director and will include guest speakers, a tour of Detroit's neighborhoods, an examination of the city of Detroit's future plans for the east side and an exploration of the problems confronting neighborhoods including redlining, some real estate practices, disinvestment of small business and inadequate community concern.

The course will also provide some basic suggestions for building healthy, prosperous, crime prevention-oriented neighborhoods.

Help Sought By Foundation

The Grosse Pointe Foundation for Academic Enrichment is seeking community-wide assistance in compiling a list of area resources which could be used by teachers to enhance the teaching of science.

"Our proposed Science Resource Roster could include individuals in one of the science professions or industries offering field trips," said Mrs. Lee H. Allen, foundation president.

"Although the compilation will include all levels from kindergarten through senior high school, the emphasis of the current thrust will be on the elementary years, kindergarten through grade six," she added.

Individuals wishing to be included in the listing, which will be made available to all teachers in The Pointe, may include retirees, physicians, dentists, businessmen or technologists.

Especially welcome to the roster would be people with visual aids such as slides or models which could help make a presentation more understandable to young people.

Persons offering their services should be available to make presentations during the school day. They should contact Mrs. Allen at 885-4284, foundation secretary Peggy Fox at 885-3799 or Dr. Alfreda Frost, director of elementary education, at 343-2022.

The foundation, an outgrowth of the Bokram Fund, was incorporated as an independent non-profit organization in 1971.

Its purpose is to supplement the curriculum of the public schools with enrichment opportunities not available through existing funding. All grade levels benefit from the programs.

Looking for a soft job is just another way of wasting time.

Pointe Doctor Issues Lung Hazards Warning

"Clear off the coffee table! Put away the sewing kit. Examine your child's stuffed animals!" says Dr. George Polgar of Lakeshore road, spokesman for the American Lung Ass'n. of Southeastern Michigan. Dr. Polgar is Director of Respiratory Diseases at Children's Hospital and Chairman of the Association's Child Lung Health Committee.

"These diverse admonitions are part of the Lung Association's campaign in the tri-county area to prevent the inhaling—or aspiration—of objects foreign to the lung," Dr. Polgar explains.

"The campaign is aimed at children or, more specifically, at their parents as the protectors of young lungs."

The American Lung Ass'n. of Southeastern Michigan chose the time of the kick-off of the annual Christmas Seal campaign to alert the public to the dangers inherent in holiday goodies, toys and small objects.

The Christmas Seal organization reminds the public that children have a natural urge to put things in their mouths. Many items around the house are dangerous. But

'Tower' Excels In Competition

South High School's student newspaper, The "Tower," recently won an All-American rating from the National Critical Service of the National Scholastic Press Ass'n.

The paper received marks of distinction in all five evaluative components. Special note was made of last spring's 50th Anniversary issue. The chief evaluator called the birthday edition a "collector's item," according to the school.

tons, beads, pins and even small bits of unchewed food such as crisp bacon, apple peels and peanuts can go into the lung instead of the stomach.

There may be choking, wheezing, loss of breath and occasionally even death. The object may even stay in the lung and cause trouble months or years later.

"Inhalation of foreign objects is the most common cause of accidental death in the home to children under age six," says Dr. Polgar. "It kills approximately 2,000 children a year in the United States. We treat two children a week at Children's Hospital alone for the inhalation of foreign objects."

This problem is enhanced during major holidays, starting with Halloween, when trick-or-treat goodies and a host of other small foods and toys are tempting to toddlers.

According to Dr. Polgar, this type of accident is very serious, but it also the most preventable.

"Ask your doctor at what age children can be trusted to chew foods. Always, no matter what age, teach them to chew food well, swallow carefully, and not to run or play with food in their mouths," adds Dr. Polgar.

Parents should take a good look around the home and put away small objects that could excite a toddler's curiosity. The American Lung Ass'n. of Southeastern Michigan says it is far better to prevent than to treat, which can be complicated and life threatening.

For more information on this subject — and how to protect the lungs of young children — the public is urged to ask for a pamphlet, "Keep Your Children From Choking," which is available without cost from The American Lung Ass'n. of South-Adams, Detroit, 48226.

Mogk Honored at South High

South High School's new principal William Mogk, a 24-year veteran of the Pointe school system, will be honored at a reception in the school's gym today, October 26, from 8:30 to 10 p.m., during the school's "Back-to-School-Night."

Refreshments will be served and all will be welcome.

Back-to-School-Night activities begin at 7:30 p.m. when parents will follow the daily schedule of their child from the first through the sixth periods.

During each class period, the teacher will briefly define the course of study, learning objectives, instructional methods, evaluation techniques and classroom procedures.

Mr. Mogk, appointed new principal of South replacing Dr. James Hoeh, who now is the assistant superintendent for administration services, assumed the duties of his new position on Monday, July 24.

He came to South from Pierce Middle School where he was the principal. Involed in the school's south district for 24 years, Mr. Mogk holds both Bachelors and Masters degrees from the University of Michigan and has completed 60 hours beyond Master's requirements at Wayne State University.

He and his wife Patsy and their four children have been Pointe residents for 14 years.

Thieves Hit Gas Station

For the second time this month, Grosse Pointe Service Station at Mack and Rivard was hit by armed robbers.

In the latest incident, on Sunday, October 22, at about 9 p.m., the thieves escaped with about $100 from the station's cash register and about $65 from the 15-year-old attendant on duty at the time, according to police.

The attendant told police he was robbed by three black men who entered the station and asked for change for a dollar. When he went into the station to get the change, the attendant said he was ordered to lay on the floor while the men took the money.

He said two of the men were carrying revolvers.

The station also was robbed of $100 on Monday, October 9. Police said four black men were involved in that incident.

South Second After Last Win

By Bill Bradfield
The South High Blue Devils football team currently is in second place in the Eastern Michigan League (EML), after a 21-6 upset victory in an away game against Port Huron Northern Saturday night, October 1. Quarterback Bob Baker once again found receiver Kevin Rinke, as the two combined on a 60-yard pass play and Baker ran three yards for another score to lead the Devils. Sophomore halfback Ted Formanczyk added another touchdown on a one-yard run.

"The team carried out our game plan 100 percent both offensively and defensively," commented Coach Russ Hepler. "We have always received a super effort from our guys against Port Huron Northern, and last Saturday we got as good an effort as we've ever had. From half-time against Roseville through the Port Huron game, we've had a complete team effort for six quarters of football." The Devils are coming into their most important weekend of football as they face first place L'Anse Creuse North at home on Saturday, October 28, at 1:30 p.m.

ULS Soccer Tops in League

The University Liggett School, (ULS), varsity soccer team advanced its overall record to 11-3 this past week with victories over Notre Dame and Bethany Christian High School. The team's leading scorer, Matthias Oertle, scored three goals against Notre Dame, leading his team to a 4-0 victory. John Kavadas scored the other goal in the winning effort. In the game against Bethany Christian, Oertle had four goals and Thornton Nickell had one for a 5-1 victory.

The ULS team is having an outstanding year, staying in first place in the Metro Suburban Soccer League since September and compiling a 6-0 league record. It boasts five of the top 18 scorers in the league and the top goal tender. Senior goalie Peter Worcester is a major reason for the team's success. In 14 games he has allowed only 17 goals for a 1.21 goals against average. In league play he is even better, allowing an average of less than one goal a game for a .83 goals against average.

This week the ULS team has two important games. On Tuesday, October 24, (after press time), the team played Bishop Gallagher. A victory here would clinch first place in the league.

Today, October 26, the team has a home game against cross-town rival Detroit Country Day School, a team that handed the Knights one of their three losses this year. Coach Luis Gomez and his team would very much like to end regular season play with a home victory over Country Day.

Pointers Run, Watch Marathon

She also was delighted by the spectator crowd. "More people than you realize know you and yell your name. It helps."

She said many out-of-town runners were asking after the race about "that nice area" they ran through, referring to The Pointe.

Her husband Sange ran the marathon in under three hours, two hours, 59 minutes, to be exact.

"I did pretty well what I expected to do," he said. It was a very interesting course compared to running around Belle Isle, (as previous Motor City Marathons have). I'm happy with my time and the people in Grosse Pointe were great."

Sange had a tough time getting through the Pointe, however, having pacing problems between the 10 and 16 mile marks. When he got it back together he was able to finish comfortably.

For Bob Hays, the last five miles "were rather tough. You don't know what pain is until you feel like you can't take another step and you still have six miles to go."

He said runners should feel pretty comfortable for the first 15 miles. Then they begin to feel the strain, and the talking between them begins to end at about 18 or 19 miles, when it's all they can do to keep the legs going.

Pacing Is Problem
"When I hit the 20-mile mark, I had to mentally keep myself running," he said.

The real trick to the marathon, says Bob, is being able to pace yourself to run the entire distance at the same speed. What really gets to the runner isn't the breathing, but the constant pounding on the legs — straining the muscles, joints and connecting tissues.

Bob said he "felt pretty wrung out for about 15 or 20 minutes after the race." Later he went to a relative's home, had a few beers, ate spaghetti and ran around the block a couple times to stay loose.

The Vettorellos went to a post-marathon party, attended by many area runners. Everybody pitched in, bringing food and drink. One of the runners there was 64. All congratulated each other. Times were unimportant; finishing was what mattered.

The runners all were grateful to the Pointe police departments for their traffic control efforts.

Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber was especially thankful for the efforts of the 10-member Farms police emergency support unit, who were out in full force Sunday morning. The chief had one complaint: nobody from the race bothered to clean up the mess left by the aid stations.

JVs at North Stay Unbeaten

North's junior varsity football team extended their unbeaten streak to 15 games by defeating Clintondale 28-18. The young Norsemen, coached by Frank Sumner and Larry Aceto, are now 7-0 this year and have won their second straight JV Bi-County championship.

Clintondale fumbled the opening kickoff and on the first play of the game Mike Eugenio ran 22 yards for a touchdown. Eugenio also ran in the two-point conversion. On North's next possession they went 75 yards in 12 plays with Eugenio going the final five yards for the score. Quarterback John Clem passed to Scott Young for the two point conversion making the score 16-6.

In the second quarter John Clem passed three yards to tight end Jeff Roberts for a touchdown to give North a commanding 22-6 lead at the half. Reserve quarterback Scott Turnbull scored from one yard out to finish all scoring for North. Clintondale scored two late touchdowns in the fourth quarter to make the final score 28-18.

Mike Eugenio rushed for 256 yards in 19 carries to set a new single game rushing record. Mike has rushed for 1,294 yards so far this season and has established a new season rushing mark, with two games left on the schedule.

North plays at Centerline, St. Clement this week, then closes out its season against crosstown rival, South High on November 2.

'Poncho' Leads Cheers at EMU

Woods resident Helena Perez has been selected as an Eastern Michigan University football cheerleader. The daughter of Dr. Carlos and Rosa Perez, she was chosen to the 10-person squad last March.

"Poncho," as Helena is nicknamed for her Spanish heritage, spent this summer as an instructor for the United States Cheerleaders Ass'n. She taught cheerleaders gathered at colleges in Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio and Florida.

Why does this energetic pre-dentistry student put in the time and effort? Simple. "Cheerleading is fun," says Helena. "If you watch a game, you are going to cheer anyway. You might as well have the best seats and get it all out standing up instead of sitting down."

Cheerleaders "get the crowd organized and cheering together," she explains. "They do a lot off the field as well as on the field." They "promote spirit."

Part of the work off the field includes making signs for the game, decorating the locker room, putting candy out for the players and serving refreshments to the other team during halftime.

Ralph Gilden, adviser to the group, has high expectations for his cheerleaders. "Our goal is to become the finest cheerleading squad in the Mid-American Conference," he asserts. To do that they have provided a "new look" for this season including new uniforms, the formation of a Student Pepster Club and more audience participation in cheering.

Spectators will see Helena and the rest of the team in action at all Eastern football games.

Ski-Hi Club to Have Busy Season

The War Memorial's Ski-Hi Club under the leadership of Jack Dotson announces its most ambitious season yet. The Ski-Hi opener is set for Wednesday, November 8 at 7:30 p.m. and will feature a used ski and equipment sale following an illustrated presentation of skiing techniques by Ron Brown, head of the Pine Knob Ski School.

In order to participate in the ski sale or swap, one must sign up in the center's office before the meeting. There is no charge for those taking out membership but there is a 50 cent fee if you are not. It's a great chance to get rid of old outgrown boots, skis and parkas and pick up used equipment at savings, or just trade and swap.

Trio Given ULS Scholarships

John Bencie of Sunningdale drive, Jeffrey Lucas of Harvard road and Jeffrey Peters of Moorland road were among 11 students recently awarded Rose Phillips Himelhoch Memorial Scholarships to attend University Liggett School, (ULS).

The scholarships, established by the late Rose Phillips Himelhoch, recognize the students' outstanding personal achievement and integrity, according to the school.

The Pointe is one of 10 communities whose young residents are eligible for the awards. Students in middle or upper school not currently enrolled at ULS from Dearborn, Detroit, East Detroit, Hamtramck, Harper Woods, Roseville, St. Clair Shores, Sterling Heights and Warren as well as The Pointe, are eligible.

Students interested in making application should call the director of admissions, Toby David, at 884-4444 for more information.

Pointe Hockey Star at Albion

"Gees, why would you want to do a story on me?" asked Albion College freshman Tomasine Polizzi, from The Pointe. "I haven't done anything special." Oh, but she has. Tomi, as she is known to her friends, has scored six goals this year for Albion's field hockey team.

Tomi started playing field hockey while attending University-Liggett. While at ULS she also played basketball, tennis and lacrosse.

It is unusual for a freshman to take such a big role in the scoring picture, but Polizzi feels that hers is a small contribution compared to that of the rest of the Briton squad.

"Everyone has helped to put us where we are today," Tomi said.

The Britons are 8-1-1 and are favored to win the first WMIAA, (Womens Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association), title ever this season.

Tomi is unsure of what she is going to major in at this moment. "I want to take a lot of courses and see what really interests me, but right now I'm leaning towards either psychology or pre-law," she said.

Tomi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Polizzi, of Webber place.

Church to Hold Special Service

A special service of worship in the German language will be conducted at Saint Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church, 375 Lothrop road, to commemorate the 461st anniversary of the Protestant Reformation.

The worship on Sunday, October 29, at 3 p.m., will be co-sponsored by Saint Peter's G. and S. Evangelical Lutheran Church on Glenfield road, Detroit.

The service will mark the founding of Lutheranism by Dr. Martin Luther, who nailed 95 theses for disputation on the Castle Church door at Wittenberg, Germany, October 31, 1517.

The preacher will be St. Peter's Pastor, Ulrich Mueller, who is presently serving a five-year tour of duty arranged through the auspices of Lutheran World Federation.

He was formerly university chaplain at Ludwigsburg before assuming his new responsibilities in this country. He was raised near Stuttgart and is married to a native of California. They have four children.

His sermon will be "Das Gewissen."

The liturgist will be Dr. Kenneth R. Lentz, pastor of St. Paul's. The choir from St. Peter's will sing and organist David Fox and Marguerite Lawrenz, of St. Paul's, will play a piano-organ duet.

Hostesses at the Kaffeestunde after services will include Mrs. Walter Mueller of Colonial court, Mrs. Fritz Petzoldt of Hillcrest road and Leona Czeschinsky of South Brys drive.

Board Honors 80 Volunteers

The School Board honored 80 citizens who have volunteered their time to a variety of programs and activities in the public schools at the fifth annual Distinguished Service Awards Program, held at Parcels Middle School, on Monday, October 9.

The workers were presented with a signed certificate of merit and were named in a resolution of gratitude adopted by the Board.

Eight of the citizens were honored for the second time Monday. They were Geraldine Crowley, Jane Frame, Kay Candler, Cynthia Huebner, Sharon Klimchuk, Joan McKibbin, Millie Neuder and Theresa Thompson.

Two Honors Go To SH Artists

The art department at South High School recently received two top honors from national organizations.

Student Dane Lachiusa will be the first in recent school history to have a drawing reprinted in Scholastic Magazine's "Drawing and Prints" filmstrip, 1978.

In addition to Dane's honor, the art department recently received a citation marking its representation on the 51st National High School Art Exhibition held in June in New York City. The national exhibition was the climax of the 1978 Scholastic Art Awards program, which began with 50 regional exhibitions across the country.

From thousands of secondary schools participating in the program, South was one of 344 schools receiving the citation.

(b) No other motor vehicle may be parked or stored upon service station property unless the vehicle is under repair, awaiting delivery of parts, or is disabled and awaiting removal by the owner of such vehicle.

(1) A vehicle under repair may be parked and/or stored upon the premises, providing that the vehicle is under repair pursuant to a contract for such repair made between the service station operator and the owner or lessee of such vehicle. Vehicles parked pursuant to this section may be kept upon the premises for no longer than forty-eight (48) hours. Vehicles which must be parked for longer than forty-eight (48) hours shall not remain unless the service station operator notifies, in writing, the Director of Public Safety, or his representative, of the intention to retain such vehicle and the reason for such retention, together with a description of the vehicle. Upon such notification, the Director shall approve an extension of time for parking for an additional five (5) days only.

(2) The total number of vehicles parked upon service station premises shall not exceed the number set forth for that location as prescribed hereafter.

(c) No service station shall have parked upon its premises more than the number of vehicles allowed for that location as provided by the building official:

(1) Within sixty (60) days following the effective date of this Chapter, the building official shall commence a review of the site plan for each service station operating within the City.

(2) The building official shall designate the maximum number of parking spaces allowed for each location based upon the number of square feet of available space, being the total area of the station less existing building and islands, which allowances for traffic lanes. The number of spaces shall be determined and the station notified promptly upon such determination. Should the operator of the service station disagree with the determination of the building official, review may be had to the City Council, which may revise the determination upward, but not downward. Notice of the right to appeal shall be provided to the operator of the facility when the designation of spaces is made.

(3) The building official shall determine the number of parking spaces available for vehicles under repair, awaiting parts, or awaiting removal by the owner of such vehicle. Such parking space shall be at least ten (10) feet by twenty (20) feet in area. The building official shall first designate a parking space for each employee of the service station who is on the premises at time of maximum shift, plus one (1) parking space for the owner or manager of the station, plus two (2) parking spaces for each service station bay. After designation of the required parking spaces for employees, owner or manager, and for the service station bays, any remaining parking spaces shall be designated for the parking or storage of motor vehicles under the provisions of this Chapter.

6-13-4 RENTAL OF PARKING SPACE PROHIBITED: No owner or operator of a service station may rent, lease or otherwise permit the parking of a motor vehicle upon service station premises for a consideration, wherein the vehicle is not under repair or owned or leased by an employee of the station. A violation of this section shall be presumed when a vehicle is parked continuously for five (5) consecutive days between the hours of 11:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m., wherein permission for such parking has not been granted by the Director of Public Safety, it shall be a defense to a prosecution under this section that no consideration for parking was offered or received.

6-13-5 RENTAL CAR REGULATIONS: Rental cars may be stored upon the service station premises, provided, however, that such vehicles shall be parked in officially designated parking spaces and in compliance with section 6-13-3(b)(1) of this Chapter.

Section 2. EFFECTIVE DATE: This Ordinance shall become effective twenty (20) days after the date of its enactment.

Free Diabetes Tests Offered

Saint John, Cottage and Bon Secours Hospitals will be among the hundreds of institutions offering free tests for diabetes next month in cooperation with the American Diabetes Ass'n. Michigan affiliate.

Officials estimate there are about 200,000 people in Michigan who have diabetes and do not know it. The purpose of the drive is to identify these people and alert them to the need for proper treatment, the association says.

The most common symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, frequent urination, blurring vision, constant hunger or the slow healing of cuts and scratches. People over 35 years who are overweight and blood relatives of a diabetic are considered members of a "high risk" group likely to develop diabetes.

Bon Secours Hospital, 468 Cadieux road, will offer the tests Monday through Friday, November 6 to 10, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Cottage Hospital, 159 Kercheval avenue, will sponsor the tests Wednesday through Friday, November 8 to 10, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. At Saint John, 22101 Moross road, the tests will be taken Tuesday through Thursday, November 7 to 9, from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

Bazaar Set For Weekend

A bake sale, flea market and white elephant sale will be featured at a Christmas Bazaar at the Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo avenue.

Arts and crafts by the Village Club members will highlight the event scheduled for Saturday, October 28, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sunday, October 29, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Proceeds are designated for the Senior Citizens Building Fund.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

There are a great number of residents of all ages who participate in and take advantage of services which are offered through our schools and libraries. That fact relates to another of the Board of Education's goals for the 1978-1979 school year — To Improve Services to the Community at Large.

Important in achieving this goal are the services and programs of our public libraries. In addition to the Library's special summer activities which I wrote about in an earlier column, several programs operate throughout the year.

One library service that is very much appreciated by the elderly residents of our community is the out-reach program to senior citizens. In this program, a librarian visits senior citizens in their own homes and those in nursing homes, bringing books and providing the social contact that is so important to these people.

The Children's Story Hour, book talks by librarians to community organizations, the Family Film Series and the Friends Film Forum are examples of those programs.

Another branch of the school system which serves the community at large is Continuing Education, a part of our Division of Instruction. Continuing Education program areas are adult education, bilingual instruction, driver education, and youth enrichment.

Assisting in the planning, implementation, and evaluation of these program areas are two citizens advisory committees which meet periodically to review all phases of the operation.

In order to appeal to the many different interests of our residents, 12 new courses were added to this Fall's adult education program.

These courses ranged from the Never-Throw-Anything-Away Cooking Class to Introduction to Bird Watching. Plans are already underway for other new additions to next session's list of offerings, including a course designed especially for senior citizens. A revised method of registration is also being considered.

To improve communication about Continuing Education programs, the format of the flyer publicizing the classes and activities was changed, and newsletters are periodically being sent to those individuals participating in the programs.

Our community has several social, recreational and special-interest organizations with which the school system co-sponsors activities. Most of these cooperative efforts are coordinated through our Department of Community Services which provides assistance varying from arranging meetings and rehearsal sites in school buildings to helping with the duplication of newsletters.

The Department has also worked closely with service agencies such as the Family Life Education Council and the Health Education Council, sponsoring several activities including the School Health Clinic Volunteer Program conducted in all secondary and some elementary schools.

In addition, a safety school for traffic violators is sponsored with the Michigan Department of Education and arrangements for special training classes of the Wayne County Health Department are being made for the first time.

Numerous opportunities for residents to enjoy special school facilities and functions are provided by the Department. The Family Fun Nights co-sponsored with the Neighborhood Club is an expanded community swimming program offering in-structural, recreational and competitive activities; and senior citizen passes issued for free admission to most school sponsored athletic contests, dramatic and musical productions are examples of these opportunities.

Another phase of our service to the community at large is that provided for students enrolled in the private and parochial schools of Grosse Pointe.

Our Department of Special Education Services makes available remedial reading, speech correction, vision and hearing testing, and homebound and hospitalized teaching programs as well as the services of the school social worker and psychologists for the schools.

An additional possibility for improving services to private and parochial schools presently being explored is the opportunity for their use of our computer system.

An arrangement of this type would enable cooperating schools to avoid the expense of establishing their own computer programs, and would produce enough volume to reduce our use rates without restricting the operation.

Through the implementation of these programs we are striving to make our school system responsive to the needs of our residents and hope to improve our service to the total community.

What Goes On at Your Library

Labels, labels, labels, life is filled with labels. There are all kinds, but the kind I mean are the ones which enable us to identify something in terms of past experience, good or bad.

Take the Best Seller list—that's a kind of label and a prestigious one at that. Readers all know of it, authors dream of making it, publishers love it.

Everyone knows that somehow the Best Seller list is truly reflective of what's good to read. Get hold of one of the listed books and you're in for a treat. Well, maybe most of the time. Just for once though be persuaded to try some authors and books which haven't made that list.

Here are a few from the last couple of years' which various library staff members have read and enthusiastically recommended. It's a mixed bag, reader's choice.

THE GINGER TREE is by Oswald Wynn. Mary Mackenzie is a young Scottish Presbyterian woman who sails for Peking to marry her fiancé, a military attaché. The year is 1902, she's only 20, is completely innocent, but somehow wonderfully independent.

Life is very restrictive in Peking for one of such spirit. Mary rebels and gets involved in scandalous doings and is faced with what seems to be a hopeless future as an outcast, but she survives and in time prospers.

The book is remarkable for the many details of life in China and Japan. It's a gripping story told through journal and letters.

GREEN ICE is by Gerald A. Browne. The big heist is the point of this story about the "emerald connection". Most of the action takes place in South America and features a ruthless, ex-diamond merchant who has been exiled from his native Italy by the international diamond cartel.

He's under edict of death if he even so much as looks at another diamond and he can't live anywhere but South America. The inactivity falls on him and he soon turns his attention to la, ma, teria verde.

Enter a jaded ex-advertising man looking for fortune and adventure anywhere. He's the hero, a stalwart actually, with some noble streaks, who finds more adventure than he bargained for. Add an all-around super-girl who manages to walk a tight line between these two men.

They're all bigger than life in this story of situations bigger than life. It's a suspenseful mix of international jet set, a mafia-like organization, greed and cunning and all centering around the jewel market.

THE LIVING ROOM is by Sol Stein. Shirley Hartman is a bright, superbly attractive young woman who has seized just about everything she thought she wanted from life.

Now she discovers that being a public figure at age 28, and in-demand guest on talk shows, the recipient of the Mayor's civic award and the savior of the Ford account isn't enough.

She finds now that she needs room to live too. There's something beyond career success and involvement with a man and this is the very readable story of how she seeks out what is needed to fulfill her destiny.

SOUTHERN LADIES AND GENTLEMEN is by Florence King. Southerners have been known to have a few skeletons in their closets, but Florence King's family had so many there was no room left for clothes.

The old southern stereotypes come in for close scrutiny in this tongue-in-cheek account of a society long characterized by oft repeated generalities. It's a humorous treatment of the better known clichés often made fun of by non-southerners.

But as is so often the case there's a good deal of truth hidden way down deep, and Ms. King lays bare some of the pretenses and disguises so easily glossed over. The truths are unveiled in hilarious yet realistic terms. It's quick reading and funny.

CHILD OF THE MORNING is by Paulette Goddard. Egypt 3500 centuries ago is the setting for this novel of Hatshepsut, the first woman Pharaoh. Constant opposition to her reign because she was a woman often found her in danger lending a jarring note to her life of opulence.

Hatshepsut had full power and she used it. During a difficult marriage, she bore two children to ensure the succession. An enduring relationship with her chief architect gave her comfort. The unusual circumstances of her reign and the details of everyday life in that time make a fascinating story, well told.

TRIUMPH IN PARIS is by David Schoenbrun. History buffs know that Benjamin Franklin was America's first emissary to France. What might not be so well known are other, more social facets of his life in Paris. A darling of French society, Franklin made Paris his own.

Labels, labels, labels, life is filled with labels. There are all kinds, but the kind I mean are the ones which enable us to identify something in terms of past experience, good or bad.

Take the Best Seller list—that's a kind of label and a prestigious one at that. Readers all know of it, authors dream of making it, publishers love it.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

An attack on inflation will be available for the taxpayers this coming November election. This can be a combination in the passage of both the Headlee and Tisch amendments, a tax limitation and tax reduction.

To be effective the passage of both amendments is necessary as the Headlee only limits the state spending to the present levels. The Tisch cuts property taxes but does not limit state expenditures. Both must be passed to achieve any relief to the pressure of inflation.

The fact that our country is overburdened with government bureaucracy is manifested by the large chorus of protesters made up by politicians and organized public employees. These people are highly irritated when only a crumb is removed from the dessert tray of their voracious appetite for public funds.

Sincerely,
Louis J. DePerro Jr.,

The real test of character is what we can bear when adversity strikes, not what we accomplish when the going is good.

Many Learn CPR Technique

Almost 500 people learned lifesaving skills when the Friends of Bon Secours Hospital sponsored classes in cardiopulmonary resuscitation at the War Memorial, Tuesday, October 10, and Wednesday, October 11.

Another 135 persons also were recertified in the technique.

Known as CPR, this simple skill can help prevent needless deaths occurring from heart or respiratory failure. The two evening sessions also included instruction in the Heimlich maneuver, a simple technique which often saves choking victims.

Both skills were taught according to Michigan Heart Ass'n. standards.

Since the Friends of Bon Secours began sponsoring this free health education program in 1976, more than 2,000 citizens have been certified or recertified in these lifesaving skills.

Class participants include persons of all ages. However, an increasing number of young people are joining the Friends of Bon Secours classes, the hospital reports. The safety skills taught in the programs are useful in fulfilling baby-sitting responsibilities and sport situations.

The Friends of Bon Secours will offer the classes again next April as a continuing part of the group's "Town Hall for Health" series.

MCF Sounding Cancer Alert

Detroit is one of 16 high priority risk areas recently identified by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, (HEW), in its campaign to alert people who have worked with asbestos in the past, reports the Michigan Cancer Foundation, (MCF).

The MCF is the designated agency in the Detroit area to help HEW conduct the awareness program. Workers who believe they may have had exposure to asbestos are invited to call a special toll-free number, 1-800-462-9191, for more information.

Approximately eight to 11 million workers in the United States have been exposed to asbestos since World War II. Asbestos was commonly used in Detroit's automotive and aircraft industries. Recent studies have underscored the risk of asbestos-related disease development among those who were exposed many years ago.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by John E. Brink

The Real Estate business is without a doubt the most fascinating of all business. Doctors amuse themselves investing hard earned after-tax dollars and find that Real Estate is more profitable than practicing medicine. Lawyers find that their specific knowledge in many varied fields opens the way to extremely profitable ventures—again, more profitable than their practice.

Businessmen dabble here and there in Real Estate and after years building a business find their fortune is truly in the Real Estate acquired here and there.

Everybody loves Real Estate. Now here is the secret to its success: whenever a transaction occurs in almost any kind of Real Estate every person involved wins. The Seller, Purchaser and salesperson all do well.

The field of Real Estate is so broad it would be difficult to know it all. That's why the associates of Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. have "outside" counselors who know the different aspects of property ownership. Our specialty is Residential properties but the ownership aspect can be from a single family to a syndicate. The tax problems, depreciation and writeoffs are significantly different with each owner.

What's the point of all this? Simply that Real Estate is a technical business sometimes requiring specific knowledge. If we don't know, we are but a phone call from our experts who will know. If you have a house to sell, who knows, perhaps a technicality may help you sell for a few thousand more. And if it's there Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 is a sure bet to spot it for you.

Wine Lines
by John Lundberg

In the United States, wine manufacturers make up the names of their wines as they are created. The name of an American wine gives you no information about where the grape was grown and what kind of grape it might be. There is no guarantee of quality because the wine comes from a great vineyard. With American wines, you have to know the taste and quality of individual names. In France, it is different. The wine industry is much more controlled and the name of the wine must tell the area in which the grape was grown, and thus the grape type.

At PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, Detroit, it is different also. We offer a full line of distilled spirits, domestic and imported beer and a variety of wine to compliment your evening and your dining enjoyment. At PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE you never have to be confused. Just come in and ask us, and we'll answer your questions. Open 10-10 Mon.-Thurs., 10-11 Fri. & Sat., noon-10 Sun. Tel. 885-0626.

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

When members of the Colony Town Club's Cancer Loan Closet Foundation visited the Meyer L. Prentis Cancer Center recently, they learned first-hand how their generosity has helped cancer patients for more than 30 years.

The foundation, first of its kind in the nation, has served as a model for others throughout the United States.

It is a philanthropic interest of the club, currently under the aegis of Constance Wagner, president, Ruth Engstrom, secretary, and Beth Hutton, treasurer, Pointers all.

The Cancer Loan Closet Foundation purchases items needed to serve the cancer patient at home, including wheelchairs, walkers, crutches, hospital beds and dressings.

All supplies and equipment are distributed through the Michigan Cancer Foundation's offices in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe counties.

The Colony Town Club visitors were hosted at the Prentis Center by MCF's Patient and Family Care Service. Social workers and rehabilitation nurses discussed their work and demonstrated some of the items purchased by the club.

"Through the generosity of the Cancer Loan Closet Foundation," noted Sharon Klein, manager of MCF's Patient and Family Care, "the Michigan Cancer Foundation has the opportunity to provide the highest level of patient care in the United States."

Fear of Mammography Can Be A Health Risk

Women are risking their health because of a misplaced fear of one of the most sophisticated methods of breast cancer detection, believes Dr. Michael J. Brennan, of Three Mile Drive, president and medical director of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, noting that the number of women using the foundation's mammography, (breast x-ray), services has declined by 40 percent in the last two years.

"I'm disturbed by this trend," says Dr. Brennan, "because without question it means that women whose breast cancers may be detected in their very early stages may not seek care until the disease is further advanced to more dangerous stages."

"Middle-aged women who attend breast cancer screening clinics regularly reduce their likelihood of dying of breast cancer before they are 65 by at least 50 percent. This is the strongest protection there is against death from breast cancer."

The following characteristics are considered to place a woman at a higher-than-average breast cancer risk: if she is 50 years of age or older, has a family history of breast cancer, a history of cystic or "lumpy" breasts or is childless or bore her first child after 30.

"Having one or more of these characteristics doesn't mean a woman has cancer," says Dr. Brennan. "It does mean she should be familiar with her own physical geography, be alert when there is a change in breast tissue and let her physician know of the change."

Dr. Brennan adds that about one-fourth of these smaller breast cancers can be diagnosed only by mammography.

The risk of breast cancer occurrence increases by only .07 percent at the most with each use of mammography," says Brennan, "and many physicians believe the risk is much less than that.

Barrett-Diamond Vows Exchanged

Renee Chapman Comes from Iowa to Serve As Her Sister's Honor Matron; Pair Vacation in Montreal and New York

The Reverend William Kehayes, The Reverend Demetrios Kavadas and The Reverend George Dovas officiated Sunday, September 24, at the evening wedding of Eugenia Christine Diamond and Lawrence T. Barrett, Jr.

The 5:30 o'clock rites in Saint Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church, Detroit, were followed by a reception at The Fairlane Club.

The newlyweds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Diamond, of Fairford road, and son of Mrs. Ingrid Barrett, of Gibraltar, and Lawrence Barrett, of Orlando, Fla., vacationed in Montreal and New York and are at home in Neff road.

The bride's gown of ivory satin and pearly Alencon lace featured a bodice detailed with an appliqued, portrait neckline and wrist length, stem sleeves. Her skirt, which flowed from an Empire waist into a full train, was appliqued and bordered with the pearly lace.

She wore her mother's cathedral length veil, secured by a lace cap, and carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and trailing ivy. Her attendants' frocks of deep apricot Qiana were topped with matching, chiffon floats. They wore silk flowers in their hair and carried Colonial bouquets of fall flowers.

Renee Chapman came from Des Moines, Iowa, to serve as her sister's honor matron. Bridesmaids were Christine and Elizabeth Diamond, of Natick, Mass., cousins of the bride, Lisa Diamond, of Topsfield, Mass., another cousin, Carol Palmieri, of Scarsdale, N.Y., and Cathy Berchum.

Junior bridesmaid was Melissa Nalbandian, who resides in New Jersey, another cousin of the bride.

Best man was Donald Farmer, of Mount Pleasant. Ushers included Peter Diamond, the bride's brother, Timothy Mellish, Rick Swiderek and David McLaughlin. Gregory Nalbandian, of New Jersey, the bride's cousin, was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride wore beige chiffon and attached a white orchid to her copper beaded bag. The bridegroom's mother selected

Mrs. Basil Lukos, church sponsor, wore jersey print and carried white orchids.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas

September Rites Revealed

Marriage vows were spoken by Hedwig H. Gibson, of Saint Clair Shores, and Felix J. Dolecki, of Sheldon road, Wednesday morning, September 27, in Saint Hyacinth Church, Detroit.

Arthur M. Gibson, III, gave his mother in marriage. Officiating at the 11 o'clock ceremony were The Reverend Boleslaw Krol, The Reverend Zigmund Jozwiak and The Reverend Deacon Stanley Mazur.

The newlyweds, who vacationed in northern Michigan after a reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, are building a home in Harrison Township.

The bride was attended by her daughters, Anita Yvonne Sohaski, who served as matron of honor, and bridesmaids Virginia Karen Isbill, Gloria Hedwig Sullivan and Jarlath Rose Warren.

Their A-line frocks of ivory and coffee chiffron featured square necklines, Empire waists and shoulder draping. They wore flowers in their hair and carried matching bouquets.

The bride, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Okoniewski, of Detroit, wore a gown of ivory Chantilly lace, styled with a square neckline, Camelot sleeves and cathedral train.

A Camelot cap caught her pearl-edged, cathedral length veil, detailed with sequins and piping. She carried a flower-covered, mother-of-pearl missal.

Victor, Al and Art Dolecki, brothers of the bridegroom, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Z. Dolecki, of Detroit, and Philip J. Sohaski were best men.

Ushers were Brian, Bruce and Allen Dolecki, nephews of the bridegroom. Shannon Sullivan and Yvonne Isbill were flower girls. Arthur M. Gibson, IV, and Barry Dolecki were ring bearers.

Grant Is Awarded to Casgrain Hall

Headquarters of League of Catholic Women Receives Funds to Purchase Used Elevators And Repair Service Elevator

Casgrain Hall, an agency operated by the League of Catholic Women of Detroit, has been awarded a $93,000 grant by The Kresge Foundation of Troy. According to William H. Baldwin, foundation chairman, all monies will be used for the purchase and installation of two used elevators and the repair of a service elevator in the eight-story building.

Located in Parsons street in the heart of Detroit, Casgrain Hall is a residence hotel which provides modestly-priced living and dining accommodations for single men and women of limited means. It also offers meeting and activities facilities for the community.

The hall's "Parsons Table," a cafeteria open to the public, serves neighboring senior citizens and those living and/or employed in the medical and cultural centers nearby.

Currently, 120 senior citizens and others on limited incomes or special social service programs reside in the charming, old building. It was built in 1927 and still serves as headquarters for the 8,000-member League of Catholic Women.

The league, an organization of volunteers and professionals operating four social service agencies and four Bargain Counter resale shops in the tri-county area, participates with other civic, church and community groups in the rebuilding of lives and neighborhoods.

"Casgrain Hall's greatest contribution is to provide privacy, dignity and independence for people on minimal incomes," explains executive director Kay Beard, also noting the stable influence of the building in an "exciting, revitalized neighborhood that has hit bottom and is on its way back."

Mrs. Beard said that the Kresge grant will purchase two five-year-old elevators from the recently-raised American Red Cross Building. They will replace Casgrain Hall's original elevators, which she describes as "about ready to give up the ghost."

League of Catholic Women president Marilyn Lundy, of Ballantyne road, notes that without the Kresge grant, the eight-story building might have been forced to close.

"With useless elevators we would have a useless building," said Mrs. Lundy. "There is no way our many elderly or disabled residents could climb so many flights of Phase I has still another activity scheduled for the end of the month—a trip to Greenfield Village, (admission is $3.50), on Saturday, October 28.

stairs." Both Mrs. Lundy and Mrs. Beard praised The Kresge Foundation for its support of Casgrain Hall.

"I don't know what organizations like ours would do without big foundations such as Kresge," said Mrs. Beard. "Because of Kresge's generosity we are going to be able to provide better service for our residents in the future."

"Our whole reason for being is to be of service to the people who live here and to enhance their quality of life. To many who live here, we're their only family."

Casgrain Hall is maintained by funding from residents' rent receipts, private donations and heavy League of Catholic Women subsidies. (Continued on Page 22)

Hall Grant

(Continued from Page 21) explains Mrs. Beard. She noted that there are currently rooms available for single men and women of all ages, colors and creeds.

Casgrain Hall is one of 203 recipients of grants made by The Kresge Foundation in 1978, selected from 1,229 qualified applications. Such grants are generally toward the construction and major renovation of facilities and almost always require the raising of additional money on a challenge basis.

Since the founding of the foundation in 1924, appropriations of more than $311 million have been made to institutions in the areas of higher education, health services, the arts, social welfare and the care of the young and old.

The Kresge Foundation was created solely by the personal gifts of the late Sebastian S. Kresge. It is not affiliated or associated with any other corporation or organization.

Big Milestone Passed by Bell

Michigan Bell last week installed its six millionth telephone, passing a major milestone in Michigan communications history.

The occasion was celebrated at the Lansing Civic Center's new Senior Center where a commemorative telephone was dedicated to Michigan's senior citizens.

Pointer David K. Easlick, Michigan Bell president, said the dedication was in recognition of the important contributions organized groups of senior citizens have made.

"It has been through the concerns expressed by groups like the American Association of Retired Persons that Michigan pioneered what has become known as 'lifeline' service," he said.

"Lifeline or Budget Service is designed to provide low cost telephone service for those on limited or fixed incomes.

While the first telephones were crude wooden boxes, the commemorative six millionth phone is a modern coin telephone equipped with a volume control receiver

Churches Join For Big Bazaar

Saint Michael's Episcopal Church in The Woods has joined in an effort to share fellowship and program activities that "transcend city-suburban boundaries" with Corktown's historic Saint Peter Church.

The first joint effort of the companion churches will be a Community Fair and Bazaar, featuring an international buffet and handicraft sale, scheduled for Saturday, November 4, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Saint Peter's located across the street from Tiger Stadium in Michigan and Trumbull avenues.

Saint Michael's Eleanor Cornelius Guild, under the direction of Doris Fullwood, will contribute to the unusual menu including North American Indian, Jamaican, East Indian and Mexican foods.

Saint Peter was founded by Irish and Scot immigrants in 1858. It's a small, but culturally diverse parish with a variety of outreach services.

The brick Gothic building contains many memorials associated with Corktown. Renovations are currently being conducted and include the installation of two stained glass windows.

Among the many benevolent organizations that began under the auspices of Saint Peter are the Arnold Home for the Aged, Saint Peter's Home for Boys and Detroit's first halfway house for prisoners.

Skateboard Injuries Soar

It's only a thin slice of board, resting about five inches off the pavement, attached to four silver-dollar sized wheels.

But last year, 25 people in the U. S. lost their lives in skateboard accidents, and another 106,000 skateboarders were sent limping into the hospital emergency rooms.

Bicycles have a solid, number-one grip on the federal government's ranking of hazardous products in the home.

National figures from the National Injury Information Center, (NIIC), show that in the last four years the number of skateboard-related injuries has soared to 30 times the 1973 figure—from 3,680 to the 106,000 a year ago!

A recent NIIC study points out: All 25 skateboarding deaths involved head injuries.

One-third of the injury victims had been skateboarding for less than a week.

Most were seriously hurt the first time they tried skateboarding.

The most frequently injured skaters were in the 10-14 year age group.

Fractures represented one-third of all injuries.

Four hazard patterns were recognized as most dangerous for skateboarders.

The NIIC also emphasizes checking equipment before use and urges that proper clothing, (including gloves, shoes and helmet), be worn for maximum protection.

The Insurance Information Institute reminds adult cyclists and parents of children who ride wheeled toys to follow a few safety rules that will help avoid painful injury and eliminate hundreds of deaths resulting each year from carelessness.

Bicycles are now generally expected to be operated under the same rules and local traffic ordinances as motor vehicles and should always be properly equipped with reflectors and other safety devices.

Parents should be wary of allowing their children to ride toys such as the three-foot high "Big Wheel" tricycle near streets where both rider and toy are obscured from motorists whose cars have four-foot high fenders.

The Institute suggests that parents attach some sort of flexible pole with a brightly colored flag to the rear of the toy to warn approaching motorists.

Group Honors Pointe Justice

The Gold Good Citizenship medal was presented to Michigan Supreme Court Justice G. Mennen Williams by the Michigan Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, (SAR), when he recently addressed the society's opening fall meeting held at the Round-Table Club, Plymouth.

The club room was filled to capacity to hear the speaker trace the spirit of the United States constitution from the earliest settlers seeking freedom in the new land, according to a release from the group.

The medal, one of the highest awards of the national organization, was presented to the Justice for his extensive and outstanding contributions during his many years of public service.

"Behind, and an essential part of, our great constitution is the indomitable spirit and fire of the past, present and future. That spirit and fire is our love of liberty, our love of freedom," said Justice Williams.

PLAY SOCCER AT WMU North High School graduates Gary Shammass and Joe Vier are currently members of the Western Michigan University soccer team.

North's DECA Names Leaders

Members of the North High School chapter of DECA, (Distributive Education Clubs of America), assembled at the North auditorium Thursday, October 5, to initiate new members and formally induct the organization's officers for the coming school year.

Interested parents, co-op program employers, school administrators and former club members attended the evening ceremony.

Michigan Ass'n. of DECA President, Patrick Kelly, and State DECA Regional Vice-President, Richard Lepping, co-chaired the meeting and conducted the initiation and induction ceremonies.

Mr. Kelly, a 1978 graduate of North, said "It was an honor and pleasure for me to return to North and see such an enthusiastic local chapter developing."

DECA is a nation-wide organization operated by and for students enrolled in high school Distributive Education programs. Its primary purpose is to help develop future leaders for marketing, merchandising and management occupations through various educational activities.

North's DECA has a membership in excess of 100 students.

The newly elected DECA officers are seniors Carol Bidigare, Mary Martin, Carl Bengtson, Alex Kruse and Steve Schucker. Junior officers are Fred Andary, Bonnie Bonanno, James Davey, Peggy O'Rourke and Curtis Pudlo.

Faculty advisors for DECA are Brian Killian and Thomas Boos.

In order to make his point a good speaker must drive it home.

Another Busy Month Ends For Youth Service Division

Eighty-three reported offenses were referred to the Youth Service Division, (YSD), for investigation last month, with one proving to be unfounded.

The total for the first three-quarters of the year stands at 766 cases; a jump of 137 over the same period last year.

Leading the case load were larceny reports, which totaled 20. With assorted offenses, burglary, two, and unlawful driving away of an auto, one, the involved subjects were 11 male juveniles, (in the company of two male adults), and two female juveniles. Five of the larcenies have been suspended pending the receipt of additional information.

One robbery armed was reported, but investigation proved it to have been a deliberate false police report by the complainant as an attempt to gain revenge upon two Detroit youths who sold him a tobacco cigaret, (with ends loosened and twisted to resemble a hand-rolled cigaret), under the pretense it was marijuana.

Malicious destruction of property incidents, (16), involved four identified male juveniles. Ten of the cases remain suspended for lack of sufficient information or evidence.

The YSD says that runaway incidents, (15), "would appear to be very high this month; however, nine of these reports originated from the Children's Home of Detroit, (Grosse Pointe Woods), where the impetus to run away often is strong among new residents."

In fact, one boy accounted for five of the reports, and two boys, running together, accounted for three, the division notes.

Altogether 15 boys and six girls appeared on separate official reports as runaways. One was arrested and transported to the Wayne County Juvenile Home, 10 were arrested and returned to their parents or guardians and 10 were self returned to their respective homes.

Six offenses, four cases, consisted of one attempted molesting, a 15-year-old boy who was, in fact, trying to attract the attention of a young woman, plus three accosting incidents, asking girls if they wanted a ride.

One such incident involved a 20-year-old male citizen whose vehicle license was noted by one of the accosted girls. Upon questioning the suspect, the investigating officer was convinced that he intended no offense and was simply offering to give three girls a ride to school.

A somewhat similar incident, carried in the August report as still under investigation, also proved to have been unfounded. The other two accosting incidents last month proved to be pranks of high school students.

The four violation of controlled substances cases focused upon the use of marijuana or hashish. They involved five male juveniles and one male adult.

Meanwhile, seven applications for petition were filed with Wayne County Juvenile Court and, so far, no court action has been taken.

Pointe Counter Points

by Pat Rousseau

Posh Collectors . . . look forward to trunk showings at Walton-Pierce. Here's good news. The Cruise and Spring collection will be informally modeled at the Grosse Pointe store Friday and Saturday, November 3 and 4. It will be in the Somerset store Monday, November 1. Informal modeling 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. . . . John Yella will be here with the collection to help you select styles, fabrics, colors and coordinate print and solid color blouses with some of your choices. You probably have seen the Walton-Pierce ad on page one of Society. The dress and jacket in the pretty floral print is of cotton and would be a good choice for south. The smart Ultra Suede suit would go south, beautifully and into spring. You'll find impressionistic prints inspired by Monet water lilies in daylight to sunset colors on chiffon. Prints in primary colors on white backgrounds splash cotton and polyester crepe-de-chine. White laces looking handmade, show-off their Irish and French inspired designs with nude underlinings. Newsy polyester shantungs come in resort brights and are fashioned into travel-wise dresses that can match Ultra Suede colors in coat dresses that take on cardigan, reefer wrap and three button bib cruise coat. ## Looking Forward to Met's Visit

DGOA Begins Planning Opera Week

Together, heading the association's volunteer general committee, they share a wide variety of responsibilities designed to insure the artistic and financial success of the Met in Detroit.

Both of the general committee's new chairmen share an avid interest in opera and are active in other civic affairs.

Thelma Riccardo, wife of Chrysler Corporation's chairman, served as general co-chairman of last year's Met season.

A native of Grosse Pointe, graduate of the University of Michigan, she is currently a member of the board of trustees of Detroit's Mercy College and active with Focus Hope, the University of Michigan Alumnae Club and the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

With her husband she has served as a general chairman for the Meadowbrook Music Festival and Theatre and as general chairman of the Sixth Biennial Religious Arts Exhibition.

The Riccardos, members of Holy Name Parish, have five children and seven grandchildren.

Lucy Easlick, wife of the president of Michigan Bell Telephone Company and a Grosse Pointe resident since 1973, is a native of Ann Arbor and, like Thelma Riccardo, attended the University of Michigan. She is a member of Collegiate Sorosis.

She belongs to the Boys Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit Women's Association, Women for the United Foundation, the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, the Women's Division of Project HOPE and the Michigan Lung Association for which, on November 5, she will co-chair a benefit evening with Beverly Sills.

The Easlicks, parents of three children, are members of the Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

At the mid-October meeting Wilber Hadley Mack, of Country Club drive, DGOA president, expressed appreciation for the efforts of the volunteer group which has been so instrumental in the continued, steady growth of the association over the past years.

Last year's attendance reached a record high, with over 28,000 ticket holders for seven productions. Mr. Mack then announced the slate of operas scheduled for 1978, with a new production of Donizetti's "Don Pasquale," featuring Beverly Sills, opening the season Monday evening, May 21.

The following night will feature Poulenc's "Dialogues of the Carmelites," performed in English and featuring native Detroiters Maria Ewing, winner of the DGOA's Grinnell Scholarship in 1970, along with Regine Crespin and Jerome Hines.

Verdi's "Otello," starring Jon Vickers, Sherrill Milnes and Gilda Cruz-Romo, is scheduled for Wednesday, May 23, Puccini's "Tosca," featuring Luciano Pavarotti with Magda Olivero and Cornell MacNeil, for Thursday, May 24.

Wagner's "Tannhauser," with Leonie Rysanek and Mignon Dunn, will be presented Friday. Two Saturday productions close the Met week: a matinee, in English, of Smetana's "Bartered Bride," with Nicolai Gedda, Teresa Stratas and Jon Vickers, and an evening performance of Verdi's "Don Carlo," with Paul Plishka, Vasile Moldoveanu and Gilda Cruz-Romo.

An Evening with Beverly Sills

Beverly Sills wants to personally relate to her audience, in a warm, intimate atmosphere, so she has requested that guests at "An Evening with Beverly Sills," the benefit for the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter March of Dimes for which she has volunteered to provide a program, be limited to 400.

It will be a gala evening, beginning at 6:30 o'clock with a reception. Dinner's at 7:30, after which the internationally-acclaimed opera star who has served as National Mothers March chairman for the March of Dimes for many years will present her songs and reflections.

Ms. Sills and her husband, Peter Greenough, are the parents of two birth-defected children. Meredith (Buffy), 19, is deaf. Peter (Bucky), 17, is mentally retarded and epileptic.

Their births took Ms. Sills from the concert stage for several years until, at her husband's urging, she returned to share the gift of her voice, and herself, with others.

Tickets for "An Evening with Beverly Sills" Sunday, November 5, in the Detroit Plaza Hotel's Renaissance Room are $125 per person. Ticket information may be obtained by contacting the March of Dimes office, 864-6000.

Unique contemporary home in Grosse Pointe Farms

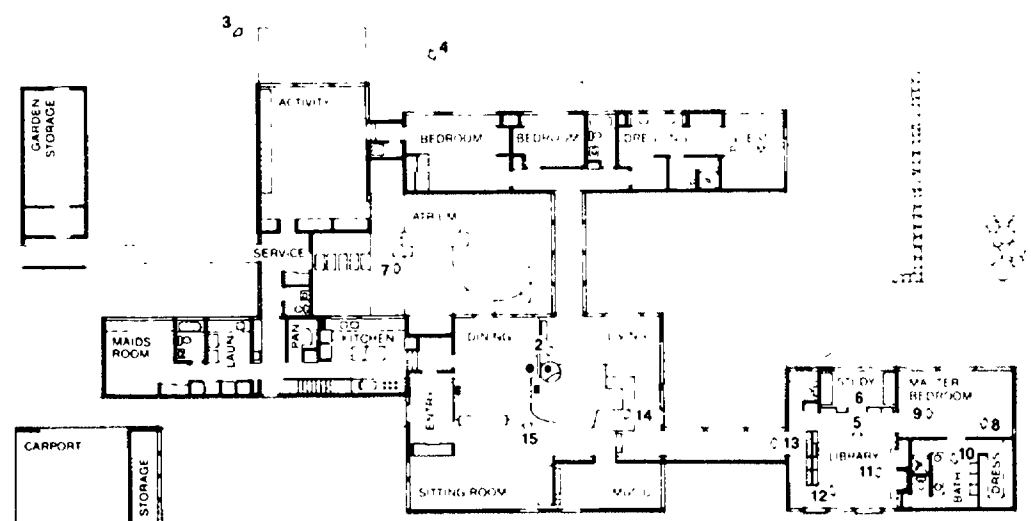

A pine shaded ridge shelters this exquisite contemporary home in the last of the Pine Woods where once many Grosse Pointers, young and old, played.

At the heart of this elegant residence is the 30'x40' atrium. Above, tower pines and hemlocks. The setting sun lights the tall west windows of the soaring tri-level living room, spanned by massive 45' redwood beams.

A skillful wedding of landscape and interior design allows each room its own view of woods and gardens. Liberal use of skylights and thermo-pane glass admit floods of light while conserving energy.

Easy living is the motif. Crisp architectural detail exploits the beauty of natural materials—black walnut, white marble, stainless steel and glass—selected for strength and durability as well as esthetic quality.
