St. John announces $117 million building project

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Citing the need to modernize facilities and relieve congestion in areas of its present facility, St. John Hospital announced Tuesday, April 20, a $117 million modernization project. The program, according to hospital spokesmen, will make St. John's "the kind of hospital the area should have."

The construction and renovation project will be done in three phases. The first will be construction of a two-level parking deck, the second will be the construction of a four-level Concentrated Care building and the final phase will be renovation of the present facility.

"When the renovation is completed," spokesman L. Michael Smith said, "we will have the kind of hospital the area should have. The only thing we're lacking right now is physical plant (space)."

The Concentrated Care building will flank the west side of the present hospital, and will be built entirely in Detroit. No construction or expansion will take place within the Grosse Pointe Woods, city limits.

The primary use of the new building will be the updating of the trauma care facilities at the hospital, which is the designated trauma center for eastern Detroit and its environs. Facilities to be added and strengthened include care for cardiac patients, patients who have complications during pregnancies, critically ill infants, and patients suffering from severe disease and surgical difficulties.

No medical/surgical beds will be added at the facility, which can expand from its present 547 to 572.

Extra beds will go to intensive care treatment for adults, children and infants, spokesmen said.

In addition, the hospital will continue its program of assistance and training with the Woods as the city strives to make the transition to upgraded emergency medical care.

GROUND BREAKING for the project is scheduled for June, after final approval and issuance of the tax-exempt bonds, expected in six to eight weeks, Smith said.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development has agreed to a federal loan guaranteeing payment of the bonds, Smith said. The loan guarantee combined with the hospital's good credit rating and financial condition should mean a AAA rating from Standard & Poor's, the national bond rating company, he said. AAA is the highest rating the company gives for bonds.

Total cost for the modernization and financing is $117 million. About $76 million will be used for construction and renovation, equipment and contingency reserves. The rest will go to covering interest on the bonds over the 30 months of the project, fees and administrative costs along with certain required funds, according to the hospital.

In addition, the Capital Fund Division of the United Foundation has allocated $1 million to the project.

The project is expected to employ about 900 workers to assist in its completion, and the hospital will add 200 extra staff to man the new facilities.

Woods officials first found out about the plan about a year and a half ago, when the hospital held a public hearing for officials of the cities involved. As part of the approval process through HUD, the cities received a plan and were asked to comment on it, Smith said, adding that endorsements were received from all the cities.

"There's nothing new about it," Councilman Thomas Fahrner said. "We knew it was ultimately going to happen."

Fahrner said the city didn't know the timetable for the project, because the complexity of the financing made it difficult to say when the project would begin. He said the city was assured when the tentative plans were presented that construction would not spill over into the city.

FAHRNER SAID the hospital did point out that the construction workers on the project will be using the north lots in the city limits during the project. That lot also serves the Seven and Mack Shopping Center.

Woods Mayor George Freeman said he was pleased with the project and the better communication that has opened up between the city and the hospital.

"I think it will be helpful to the citizens of our community and to the community as a whole," he said. "The communication between the hospital and the city had improved greatly. I'm very pleased."

"I think it's great the hospital has the ability to offer this kind of project and service," Councilman Frederick Lovelace said. "This project won't have any adverse effect, I hope, on the residential areas of the city."

He added the project could be a way to get jobs in the area, not only on the construction staff but on the permanent staff to be added at the hospital. Many of the staff at the hospital now are residents of the immediate area, he said, and the chance for more jobs for the area is good.

St. John Hospital's modernization program will add a new look to the present building and create about 1,100 jobs for both construction and permanent staffing. The project, expected to take 30 months to complete at a cost of about $117 million, will strengthen the intensive medical and surgical areas of the hospital, which St. John spokesmen say have outgrown their 30-year-old facilities.

Woods whittles away at new budget

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Woods city officials are sharpening their paring knives as they continue deliberation on a proposed 1982-83 budget which projects a 7.2 percent tax increase and a 10 percent spending increase over the previous year.

The proposed $5774 million budget is $580,000 higher than the revised 1981-82 spending figure. Increases in all department budgets are expected in 1982-83.

The new budget also contains an allocation of about $120,000 for the proposed district court for the Grosse Pointes. In addition, city officials are projecting a $75,000 surplus from the 1981-82 fiscal year.

Woods Administrator-Clerk Chester Petersen said he hopes the council will be able to lower the millage rate by cutting the 1982-83 budget during upcoming study sessions. Final millage rates will be set after the council adopts a new budget in May, he said.

Meeting Thursday, April 15, the Woods Finance Committee stressed its objectives of cutting costs while maintaining the level of service. In that vein, the committee recommended the council cut about $40,000 from the two department budgets it reviewed, the department of public safety and general government.

Full-time and seasonal staff levels will be lowered in the coming year, but 14 part-time employees will be added to make up the difference. The total number of city positions will drop from 228 to 226.5, according to the document.

That half-person will be a paramedic, DPS director Jack Patterson said. As the city plans its conversion to either Limited Life Support or Advanced Life Support, state regulations mandate a paramedic on 24-hour stand-by, he said.

The city is now negotiating with public safety officers to institute a 56-hour week, like fire personnel schedules, Patterson said. Paramedics and six officers on a rotating basis would be affected by the change.

Because of the proposed schedule change, the city will add a dormer to the present vehicle garage to house the 24-hour stand-by personnel, Patterson said. The Finance Committee decided to extend one wall of the proposed dormer in such a way as to double the size of the addition. The new space will make living accommodations less cramped and add storage space, Patterson said.

Another benefit of the dormer will be its ability to house officers in case of blizzards or bad weather, Patterson added. Last winter, heavy snows made the trek to work for some officers who live far away from the city impossible, he said. The dormer could be used in case the winter this year is as bad, Patterson said.

Attrition will trim the full-time DPS staff by four people, but seven part-timers will make up the difference, Patterson said. The executive lieutenant position, vacated when Patterson was moved up to director, will remain unfilled. In addition, positions held by a clerk, officer and animal warden who plan to retire will not be filled by full-time personnel.

Two part-time employees will fill the animal warden position, which will give the city Saturday service for animals, Patterson said. Their lower salaries, fringe benefits and supplements will cut the payroll bill for the department. Other part-time staff will take clerical and administrative tasks from full-time officers which will increase the department's street patrol strength while cutting overtime costs, he said.

Cheers and jeers greet study of district court

By Susan McDonald

Grosse Pointe cities were advised to resist the legislature's attempts to convert their antiquated municipal courts to a district court system in a report issued to city managers last week by the accounting firm Coopers & Lybrand.

Officials in two cities criticized the document and its conclusions but, if the Woods council is typical, the study may succeed in stopping the proposed conversion this spring.

STATE SEN. John Kelly (D-Det.), who wrote the legislation that would create Grosse Pointe's new court, said the accounting firm's study contained several errors and falsehoods.

"I think it's unfortunate a firm with the former reputation of Coopers & Lybrand couldn't find someone to do the study who could read. Whoever did that ignored statistics and figures that have been compiled over the last two years showing a completely different cost situation," Kelly said.

The study "looks to me like a deliberate attempt to sabotage the district court. I find it remarkable the firm would produce a report of that type," Kelly said.

David Vincent, Coopers & Lybrand project director, said the firm "called it as we saw it." He said all the study's conclusions are supported by detailed information.

Five city councils commissioned the Coopers & Lybrand study to help them reach a decision on legislation that will expire May 11 unless they approve resolutions of support. The legislation, which has been approved by both chambers and signed by Gov. Milliken, creates a single district court with one judge with jurisdiction over all five Pointes. The court would commence in January, 1983, after judicial elections this November.

The Pointes and East Detroit are the only cities in Michigan that still operate municipal courts, which have limited jurisdiction and are not courts of record.

Coopers & Lybrand recommends against a conversion at this time because "there would be a negative economic impact." Its study indicates the cities net more than $250,000 a year off the municipal court system. The more sophisticated district court operation would cost the cities $200,000 a year, the report says. Coopers & Lybrand also predicts there would be a loss of police patrol time under a district court and notes the cities would lose control of their courts under the system.

The Woods council is the only body that has approved a resolution supporting the new court. But after the report was issued to council members at their Monday, April 19, meeting, several indicated they might rescind the resolution at their May 3 meeting.

Most city officials and Coopers & Lybrand agree that a conversion to district court is inevitable. But because of a provision in the Headlee Tax amendment that forces the state to pay for any programs it mandates, most observers believe the legislature will not force the cities to create a new court in the near future. Woods city attorney George Catlin told his council the state may do nothing if the May 11 legislation expires. He also noted, on the other hand, that the state may simply choose to abolish all municipal courts. In that event, the Pointes may be divided up and incorporated into surrounding district court systems, such as Detroit's or Harper Woods'.

That opinion is shared by Park City Manager John Crawford, and it worries him.

"I feel confident the state will simply abolish municipal courts by the first of next year," Crawford said. "It's just a question of time. I'm concerned if the city council's don't act this time in a positive way, we will end up in another jurisdiction with no control whatsoever. For us, that will probably mean Detroit."

Crawford added that he was disappointed in the study. "They didn't look at options for (operating court) cheaply," Crawford said. "The report acknowledges that we are already running our court like a district court, yet we're only spending $93,000 a year to do it. They say it will cost over $400,000."

One night stands chase blues away

By Joanne Gouleche

Did I hear you say you're tired of the old weeknight routine? Monday night blazes and M*A*S*H reruns got you blue, sonny?

Before you settle down for the evening, step right up to puff pastry and learn how to plan your next Mexican fiesta. If you're adventurous enough, a "one night stand" about the meteorology of Michigan may just cure your boottube boredom once and for all.

Last year more than 8,000 persons left their easy chairs and M*A*S*H reruns behind to enroll in hundreds of continuing education classes sponsored through the Grosse Pointe public school system.

Continuing education department director George Eddington says the program is so popular that enrollment has steadily increased since its beginning in 1978.

"People out here like new ideas, new things," Eddington explained last week in his office at Brownell school. Classes on glass etching, souffles and folk guitar are open to non-residents as well.

This week most of the program's popular six-week spring sessions have begun.

EDDINGTON SAID the department

registered 3,434 persons in its 1982 winter adult education program, 351 more than it did in 1981. Final figures for the 1980-81 year show adult education enrollment jumped from 7,105 to 8,990.

The department also sponsors a Youth Enrichment Program and a summer driver education course. Both also boast enrollment increases.

It's easy to see why the program appeals to so many. A glance at the department's spring flyer lists more than 60 classes from basic skin care for men, German for travelers, wonders of wildflowers to keyboard harmony, just to name a few.

"A continuing education program should offer a wide variety of classes at the most convenient times," Eddington says. "If people want it we will offer it. The program is a very Young pianists strike happy note

By Irene Moran

William Ransom, a 24-year old music student at University of Michigan, won the top prize last weekend in the second annual state-wide piano competition sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival.

Five finalists were selected from 13 entrants to share performance engagements and $2,000 in prizes from the Michigan Foundation for the Arts at the event at the War Memorial. The finalists were selected during preliminary competition in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium on Friday, April 16. Ransom took first place honors in the final stage of competition on Sunday, April 18. His winning program included Beethoven's Sonata Opus 53, Waldstein, the Mephisto Waltz by Liszt and L'Isle Joyeuse by Debussy.

Ransom's Recital Award includes a $750 engagement fee for a performance at the 1982 Music Festival. Because the pianist is due to depart in early July for a year's fellowship in Japan, his recital date will be changed from August to Sunday, June 27, opening the 1982 festival season.

Ransom began his musical studies at the age of 7. When he was 15 he was accepted as a scholarship student at the Blair Academy of Music in Nashville, Tenn. While still in high school he performed with several orchestras in and around Nashville.

After attending the Oberlin Conservatory for one year, Ransom was accepted as a scholarship student of William Masselos at the Juilliard School of Music in New York City. He earned his Bachelor Degree in 1980 and Master Degree in 1981, both at Juilliard. His New York performances have included solo and chamber music recitals in Paul Hall at Lincoln Center, and two appearances on a Juilliard series in Alice Tully Hall.

In 1979 he entered the Ravel Academy in St. Jean de Luz, France, where he studied on a full scholarship.

Relaxing after a tension-filled weekend of competition, these young artists represent four of the five finalists in the second annual Grosse Pointe Music Festival Competition. Seated are third place winner Laura Kargul and first place finisher William Ransom. Standing are fourth place winner Mariko Sato and second place finisher Brandt Fredriksen. Missing is fifth place winner Norman Boehm.

War Memorial heads to the tulip festival

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's annual tour to Holland, Mich., will be on Wednesday, May 12, opening day of the famous tulip festival. Patrons will arrive at the center at 7 a.m. and have sweet rolls and coffee and then board a highway bus for their trip to Holland.

The first stop will be at Windmill Island for a picnic lunch, prepared by the memorial catering staff. There will be ample time before the parade to see the authentic Dutch windmill, "DeZwaan," more than 200 years old, surrounded by spectacular tulips, and visit "Little Netherlands," a miniature Dutch village.

The opening day parade features street scrubbing, Klompen Dancers wearing copies of authentic costumes from the various Provinces of the Netherlands, and floats.

There will be a stop at Veldheer's Tulip Gardens, one of the largest tulip plantings with more than a million flowers and a miniature Dutch garden with three Dutch windmills and a canal.

The finale is dinner at Pointe West, located on Lake Macatawa, just a block from the Lake Michigan beach. Patrons may have a cocktail on the terrace overlooking the lake before going in to dinner.

All meals are included, as well as the fees to the gardens and round trip transportation for $57 per person. There are still a few remaining seats on the bus. Tickets may be picked up at the center office, 32 Lakeshore Road, Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m.

 with Mme. Gaby Casadesus. While there, he performed with the Orchestra of Toulouse, in solo recitals and in master classes conducted by Zino Francescatti.

As winner of the 1981 Chicago Civic Orchestra Competition, Ransom also appeared as soloist with the orchestra in Chicago's Orchestra Hall, playing the Beethoven Concerto No. 4. He was three times the winner of the Nashville Musician's Union Scholarship Competition. He has performed with the Chicago Chamber Orchestra and appeared in a series of concerts in Florida under the auspices of the Chopin Society. He recently received a Rotary Foundation Award for a study in Tokyo, Japan, beginning this summer.

Currently he is a Doctoral student at the University of Michigan School of Music as a full scholarship student of Theodore Lettvin.

from Redford Union High School she entered the University of Michigan School of Music where she studied with Marian Owen-Hunt and Theodore Lettvin. Her other studies included Chamber Music with Eugene Bossart and Opera and Orchestral Conducting with Gustav Meier.

She attended Master Classes conducted by Andre Watts, Gary Graffman and Anthony Di Bonaventura. Kargul earned her Bachelor of Music Degree in 1978 and her Master of Music Degree in Piano Performance in 1980, both at University of Michigan.

In May of 1981, Laura was pianist with the University of Michigan Symphony during its European Tour. She appeared as soloist as well in chamber music performance in Geneva, Lyon, at the Festival of American Chamber Music in Evian, and over the French National Radio.

A $650 Concerto Award, a concerto performance with the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra ($250), under conductor Felix Resnick, and a concerto performance with the Warren Symphony Orchestra, with David Daniels conducting, went to 21-year-old Brandt Fredriksen. His playing of the Burlesque of Richard Strauss made him the winner.

Fredriksen began studying piano at the age of 6. After graduating in 1978 from Lakeland High School in Highland, Mich., he attended the University of Michigan School of Music for a year where he studied with Dr. Charles Fisher. During that year's summer Dr. Fisher was also his teacher at Interlochen's National Music Camp (University Division). During the following year his teacher was Nadia Reisenberg at the Mannis College of Music in New York City and currently he is a student of James Tocco at the Indiana University. He has also studied with Mischa Kottler and Flavio Varani.

This past January, Kargul was winner of the U. of M. Graduate concerto Competition. She played the Brahms Concerto No. 2 in B-flat Major, which she also performed with the University of Michigan Symphony under Gustav Meier in Hill Auditorium. From 1981 to 1982 she appeared regularly in the DMA Recital Series in Ann Arbor's Rackham Assembly Hall.

Sato, 27, was born in Tokyo, Japan. She attended Tokyo's Kunitacki Music College where she studied with Hiroko Kashu and received her Bachelor of Music Degree in 1977. She then came to the United States and in 1978 spent a summer studying with Brooks Smith at the Aspen Music School in Colorado. Mariko is currently pursuing her Master Degree in Music at the University of Michigan School of Music. Her teachers have been Theodore Lettvin, Eugene Bossart, Gary Graffman and Georgy Sandor. This was a first competition experience for Sato.

"The exceptional talent displayed by the young Michigan pianists made the contest a most exciting event," said competition director Alex Sucek.

The panel of jurors was led by the pianists Ilse von Alpenheim and Mischa Kottler. Sitting with them were Oakland University's pianist Flavio Varani, Detroit born pianist Cynthia Raim, Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra conductor Felix Resnick, and David Daniels, conductor of the Warren Symphony Orchestra.

For the preliminary judging the contestants played both a Bach work and a selection from the romantic period. The five finalists were judged for their performances of a classic, romantic and contemporary work, and at their option, entered the concerto.

The piano competition, with the Grosse Pointe Symphony Society as co-sponsor, and the Summer Music Festival, are part of the cultural activities sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association.

"It always gives us great pleasure to be able to present such outstanding programs for all communities to enjoy," said Dr. Mark R. Weber, War Memorial executive director.

Spaghetti invented by the Chinese, was taken to Italy by Marco Polo. Legend says he saw a Chinese cook making a sort of bread. The dough rose, spilling over the pot in strings. The cook collected the strings and tossed them into boiling water. Marco Polo ate it, thought it tasty, and carried the idea back.

Fredriksen was a recipient of the Bryce Award at Mannis College of Music and has also won Merit Awards, a Performance Scholarship and a Personal Faculty Scholarship at the Indiana University.

Awards of $200 each were won by the remaining three finalists Norman C. Boehm, Laura Kargul and Mariko Sato.

Boehm, 25, attended the Dondero High School in Royal Oak. His early studies were with Thomas Burns and Clark Eastham. Further studies were with Dr. Charles Fisher, Eugene Bossart and Benning Dexter at the University of Michigan School of Music where he earned his Bachelor of Music (1979) and Master of Music (1981) degrees. His first major performance was at the age of 16 with the Detroit Youth Orchestra at the Youth Arts Festival in Midland.

Since 1972, he has performed extensively throughout the Ann Arbor and Detroit area. Most recent appearances have been at the Young Artists Concert of the Cranbrook Music Guild in Bloomfield Hills and for the Ann Arbor Society for Musical Art.

Among the recent awards earned by Boehm is the Betty Brewster Scholarship Award by the Cranbrook Music Guild and the Ann Arbor Society for Musical Arts Young Artists Award of which he was the first prize winner.

Kargul, 26, began her musical studies at the age of 8 with Rebecca Frohman. She spent two summers studying at the Interlochen Center for the Arts' National Music Camp with Nelita True. After graduating

Garages hit by burglars

Grosse Pointe Park police received eight reports from citizens whose garages were broken into or burglarized between Tuesday, April 13 and Thursday, April 15, according to Chief Henry C. Coonce.

Thieves took generators, batteries, a space heater, power mower, bicycles and snowblower in the breaking and enterings, Coonce said. The crimes occurred on the 1300 block of Whit-tier, Kensington, Berkshire, Lakepointe and Nottingham and the 1900 block of Balfour.

Police arrested a suspect in the area Friday, April 16, but did not file charges against the man.

Open house activities are scheduled Thursday and Friday, April 29 and 30, at the Automobile Club of Michigan's new Grosse Pointe office, 15205 Mack. The 70-member staff will explain travel counseling and other services available to the public. AAA members and non-members also may enter a drawing to win a free Las Vegas trip for two. The 15,300 square-foot, energy-efficient building is nearly double Auto Club's former office, at 15415 East Jefferson, which closed in March. Parking is available in the adjacent 36-space lot and at nearby Seven Mile and Mack Shopping Center.

AAA opens new $1.9 million office

The Automobile Club of Michigan will hold an open house for the general public next Thursday and Friday, April 29 and 30, at its new Grosse Pointe Woods office, at 19299 Mack.

The 70 member staff will be on hand from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. to answer questions and explain the services Auto Club offers residents of the Grosse Pointes, Harper Woods and northeast Detroit.

Free gifts plus coffee and doughnuts will be available. Persons can enter a drawing to win a free weekend for two in Las Vegas.

Auto Club President Jack Avignone, Executive Vice-President Robert B. Janks and other club officials will attend ribbon-cutting ceremonies at 11:30 a.m. Friday. City and state officials and local business leaders also will attend.

"We are proud of our new facility which allows Auto Club to better serve our 28,800 area-members," said Grosse Pointe Manager Jack Piana.

The 15,300-square-foot structure is nearly double the size of former offices at 15415 East Jefferson in the Park. The new $1.9 million office was built with several energy-efficient features including fluorescent fixtures, double-glazed windows, concrete block walls and a ceiling insulated with double the amount of rigid foam recommended.

To speed customer service, the office also features computer terminals with quick access to policy information at Auto Club's Administrative Headquarters in Dearborn.

The building's parking lot will accommodate 36 vehicles and more space is available at the nearby Seven Mile and Mack Shopping Center.

This is Auto Club's fourth Grosse Pointe location since it began serving the area in 1930. Its first office was opened on East Jefferson and Wayburn. Thirteen years later the office was moved to the Packer Building, 15205 East Jefferson. In 1950, the office was moved to 15415 East Jefferson, where it remained until last month.

The Grosse Pointe office offers a full complement of services including auto, boat, home and life insurance, MemberLoans, plus world and domestic travel planning.

Business hours are 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday and 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. The telephone number is 343-6000.

40-voice Cantata Academy Choir presents Magic of Song at St. Paul

One of Detroit's foremost choirs, the Cantata Academy, will appear in concert at St. Paul Church in Grosse Pointe Farms on Sunday, April 25, at 4 p.m. The program to be presented by the ensemble of 40 voices is entitled "The Magic of Song."

Frederick Bellinger, Music Director of Cantata Academy, says song has always had the power to change our moods from even one moment to the next and the pieces chosen for this program will present the audience with an exciting variety. The caress of love in springtime is captured in "Rise Up, My Love, My Fair One" by Healey Willan, one of Capada's most prolific composers of the 1900s. "The Peaceable Kingdom," by American composer Randall Thompson, combines songs of joy and cries "for sorrow of heart." The sequence of choruses was commissioned for the Harvard Glee Club and the Radcliffe Choral Society in the 1930s.

The program includes other examples of joyful celebration from the music of America, Holland and England, featuring arrangements by Robert Shaw, Music Director of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra.

"The Magic of Song" could hardly be complete without a sampler of spirituals. Selections for the program range from the gentle "Children, Don't Get Weary" to the uninhibited excitement of "Ain't That Good News."

The Cantata Academy Choir will depart in a month for its fifth European concert tour. During its 22 concert seasons the Academy has made a number of appearances with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and has produced several major works in Orchestra Hall, the most recent being J. S. Bach's monumental "Mass in B Minor" with the Michigan Chamber Orchestra last year.

Ticket information for the April 25 concert can be obtained by calling 886-2314 or 885-8855. Concerts by the Cantata Academy are funded in part by the National Endowment for the Arts.

Pre-concert tickets are priced at $4 and $2.50 for students and senior citizens. Tickets purchased at the door are priced at $5 and $3 for students and senior citizens.

Jackson's 'Stevie' at DIA

Glenda Jackson will star in "Stevie," a critically acclaimed English film, at Detroit Film Theatre for one evening only, Friday, April 23. Two showings are scheduled, at 7 and 9:30 p.m., in the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium.

Tickets at $2, $1.50 for senior citizens, and D.F.T.'s 10-ticket $15 discount coupon books (good for 10 admissions to any D.F.T. weekend movie selections) may be purchased in advance through the museum ticket office, (832-2730), and at the door.

Called "a knock-out" with "the best performance by an actress this year" (1978), by The New York Times, the film is a portrait of the 20th century poet and novelist Stevie Smith, whose social observations inspired an entire younger generation.

On Saturday, April 24, at 7 and 9:30 p.m., Carole Lombard and William Powell will star in the 1936 comedy "My Man Godfrey."

Cottage wins parking deck delay

Robert Hicks, assistant division chief at the Michigan Department of Public Health in Lansing, confirmed last week that Cottage Hospital has asked for a 30-day extension on its request to build a parking structure in order to comply with the department's recently revised resolutions governing hospitals in de-bedding areas.

The extension would further delay Cottage's request for a Certificate of Need from the state giving it the go ahead to construct a four-level, 350-space parking deck at a cost of $3.5 million. The deck would be built on Kercheval Avenue.

The extension also delays two joint projects with Bon Secours Hospital, including the joint purchase of a full body Computed Axial Tomographic (CAT) Scanner to be located at Bon Secours for a total cost of $1.6 million and the consolidation of obstetric and newborn services at Bon Secours. Cottage would eliminate 18 obstetric beds and would add 19 adult medical-surgical and 20 psychiatric beds.

Hicks added the projects would probably appear before the department on Wednesday, May 12.

The average price of a two-bedroom house in California's Santa Monica at last report was $206,000. In Beverly Hills, it was $411,000.

important aspect of the school system operation."

Former Grosse Pointe school superintendent William Coats reorganized the continuing education department in 1978, but the program has been in operation in one form or another for more than 40 years, Eddington said.

Established in the 1930s, the continuing education department had been a part of the schools' community services program.

Eddington, a former assistant to the superintendent, has been continuing education director since 1978. He joined the Grosse Pointe school system in 1960 and earlier taught Spanish and French in Three Rivers, Mich.

The department recruits about 100 persons each term to teach the hundreds of three to 12-week classes. Most of the courses require fees.

"People, residents, former teachers will come into the office with ideas and we sit down and talk them over. We have a very talented staff who are just tremendous and knock themselves out," Eddington said.

Enrollment is up considerably in the popular "one night stand" classes where persons can delve into handwriting analysis, stress management training and nail grooming in about two to three hours.

Along with the one night stands, Eddington says regular cooking, dance and art history classes also draw a large number of registrants each term.

For the first time this year, some classes will be held at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House. "Using the Ford House enables us to offer a limited number of evening and Saturday classes when the school buildings are closed for the summer," Eddington said.

The director describes his job as "fun" and admits it's a lot of hard work coordinating 800-plus classes each year.

"We are always at the mercy of the post office," Eddington says, indicating his four-member staff relies heavily on the mails for registrations. "School activities and the weather sometimes pre-empt classes. Gym space is at a premium these days."

Eddington pointed out while the continuing education program may be popular, there is stiff competition from local churches, the Grosse Pointe War Memorial and the Neighborhood Club, which also offer continuing education classes.

School Supt. Dr. Kenneth Brumel is chairing a series of meetings to improve coordination of activities offered by the school system, the War Memorial and Neighborhood Club, Eddington said.

Even with classes ranging from decorative tile painting to estate planning, Eddington said there's no end to ideas for continuing education classes.

"I like to see us bolster our career and vocational classes. One of the subjects we should focus on is word processing. We have a deficiency when it comes to that. Beyond that, though, we frankly haven't begun to scratch the surface with new offerings."

Woods starts budget-chopping

the city's switch to improved ambulance care by about $22,000, Petersen said. The half-mill tax levy approved by voters last November will raise about $163,000, while the budget will run about $185,000.

The subsidy is part of the city's commitment to better medical care and ambulance service, Finance Committee members said.

In the general government budget, which covers council expenditures as well as office staff at the municipal building, the committee decided to fill the position of deputy comptroller with a deputy comptroller-assessor as soon as the present deputy comptroller retires.

The election budget increased this year because elections in the upcoming fiscal year will be double that of the previous year. There are two elections in 1982, compared to one last year.

The council trimmed about $13,000 out of its own budget by limiting the number of members who will attend conferences around the country in the coming fiscal year and other cost-cutting.

The Finance Committee was scheduled to meet Tuesday, April 20, to discuss the proposed budgets for the Department of Public Works and the Parks and Recreation. Final budget review and cuts will take place before the council takes the budget before a public hearing for adoption in May.

Dr. Harrison hosts plastic surgery show

Farms doctor John W. Harrison, D.O., recently began a radio show on cosmetic and reconstructive surgery which can be heard every Friday morning on WBRD (1430 AM) between 6 and 8:45 a.m.

Dr. Harrison's next show, Friday, April 23, will be a discussion of the facelift and care of aging skin. Other topics he plans to cover are eyelid surgery, brow lift, chin augmentation, ear correction, chemical peel, skin contouring, tummy tucks and tattoo removal.

Dr. Harrison said one of the most commonly performed surgical procedures is rhinoplasty, or nose surgery.

Sen. Kelly celebrates Arbor Day with seedling tree give-away

State Senator John Kelly, D-Detroit, will give free seedling trees to persons attending the Arbor Day celebration he is sponsoring at noon Sunday, April 25, at Baldock Park in Detroit.

"For more than 100 years, citizens have celebrated family life, trees and agriculture on Arbor Day," said Kelly, chairman of the Senate Corporations and Economic Development Committee. "It is a traditional celebration which symbolizes the value of contributing to the future well-being of our communities in the planting of trees."

Kelly's Arbor Day celebration will be highlighted by a children's kite-flying contest following a tree planting ceremony. Local officials and community representatives will participate in the festivities at the park, located across from Wayne County Community College's Ausin Campus, at Canyon and Warren.

Persons attending the celebration will receive free Austrian pine seedlings, courtesy of Kelly.

Kelly has donated tree seedlings to citizens of east side neighborhoods each year since 1977 when he initiated Project ReTree as a community service to promote civic spirit. Local citizens have planted more than 10,000 trees as a result of the project, according to Kelly.

This year marks the 110th anniversary of Arbor Day and the 100th anniversary of its celebration in schools.

Arbor Day began on April 10, 1872, when settlers planted more than one million seedlings on the treeless plains of Nebraska to protect their farms and provide a source of building materials.

Ten years later, a group of school children planted the President's Grove at Eden Park in Cincinnati.

District Court

Woods Administrator-clerk Chester Petersen called large parts of the $7,000 study "boilerplate" and said a cost analysis he completed earlier this year on his own was more accurate than the Coopers & Lybrand study.

"It doesn't appear to be a very in-depth study. I didn't find much new information," Petersen said.

In the Farms, City Manager Andrew Bremer said he thought the study accomplished "just what we asked them to do." He added that at this time, anything that would cost taxpayers more money would probably be viewed unfavorably by council members.

They planted 21 trees, one for each president who had served up to that time.

Educators have continued to hold Arbor Day programs in schools across the nation since then. And students have continued to plant a tree for each president at Eden Park.

Persons who are unable to attend Kelly's Arbor Day ceremony can obtain free seedlings by contacting their local church or community organization. For further information contact Sally Repeck, Kelly's district representative, at 839-5608, or 517-373-7346.

Pointe doctor will receive Weiner award

Walter H. Seegers, Ph.D., of Grosse Pointe, an internationally respected scientist and physiologist, has been chosen to receive the Lawrence M. Weiner Award of the Wayne State University School of Medicine Alumni Association.

The award, which recognizes outstanding achievement of a non-alumnus, will be presented at the Alumni Association's Medical Alumni Reunion Day, Wednesday, May 5, at the Michigan Inn in Southfield.

Dr. Seegers has been associated with Wayne State University School of Medicine since 1945, serving as chairman of the Department of Physiology from 1946 to 1981 and chairman of Pharmacology through 1974. He received his degrees from the State University of Iowa.

Dr. Seegers is the author of six books, more than 400 scientific papers and numerous book reviews and book introductions. He has presented invited lectures around the world, and holds memberships in scores of scientific organizations.

The Lawrence M. Weiner Award was established by the medical Alumni Association in 1979 to honor the unique and vital role non-alumni have played in the Medical School's development. It is named for Lawrence M. Weiner, Ph.D., former deputy dean of the WSU School of Medicine, who was the first recipient of the award.

The Alumni Association will present its Distinguished Alumni Awards to James D. Fryogle, M.D., cardiovascular surgeon and president of the Michigan State Medical Society, an Ernest J. Ring, M.D., Associate Professor of Radiology and Chief of Vascular Radiology at the University of Pennsylvania.

For further information on the Medical Alumni Reunion Day, or reservations, call the WSU Department of University Relations, (313) 577-1495.

Good citizens join Law Day celebration

The Grosse Pointe Lawyers' Wives Law Day Committee will celebrate Saturday, May 1, the 25th anniversary of Law Day. Law Day activities aim to foster respect for the law and to assert the understanding that the law has an essential place in the life of every citizen of the United States.

A program will be held on the eve of Law Day, Friday, April 30, at the Grosse Pointe Woods Municipal Building. The public is welcome to attend.

The program will begin at 7:25 p.m. with the launching of helium balloons containing the names of students who participated in the Law Day Essay Contest. The contest was offered to all 8th grade Grosse Pointe students, and the student whose balloon is retrieved from the farthest location will receive a $25 savings bond.

Winners of the essay contest were: First place, Joseph Sullivan, from St. Clare of Montefalco School, who was awarded a $100 savings bond; second place, Christopher Oipari, from Star of the Sea, awarded a $25 savings bond; third place, Raymond Quarsarano, from Star of the Sea; fourth place, Martha Berschback, from St. Clare; and fifth place, Patty Guillaumin, from Star of the Sea, all awarded a Law Day T-Shirt and a certificate of merit. Savings bonds for the essay contest were donated by Price Waterhouse.

Following the balloon launch, the program will continue inside the Municipal Building where guests will be greeted by members of the Law Day Committee, and the president of the Grosse Pointe Lawyers' Wives, Mrs. Herold Deason. Essay contest winner, Joseph Sullivan, will read his prize winning essay entitled "The Legal Profession — Protector of the Bill of Rights. Essay contest winners will also be awarded their prizes.

Judge Patrick Denis will give a brief speech on the significance of the law over the past 25 years and present Concerned Citizens Awards to recipients. The awards are given to citizens who have been nominated by the local police departments as being worthy of receiving recognition for their actions in aiding the community.

The awards include a $50 savings bond given by the Grosse Pointe Lawyers' Wives, and they will be presented to Mark Valesky, of Detroit, Mrs. Edward Langs, of the Park, Mrs. Walter Shortman of the Park, and Robert Kain of the Farms.

Once the awards have been presented, formal recognition will be made of the attorneys within the community who have volunteered their time to work at the FLEC (Family Life Education Council) office.

The program will conclude with a short reception in the lobby.

Other Law Day activities planned are the distribution of Law Day leaflets to all Grosse Pointe schools and a Law Day Lesson Plan to be completed by fifth graders in the school system.

School's out but thieves are in Grosse Pointe North High School was broken into early Monday morning, April 12. Woods police reported nothing appeared to be missing.

Police were called to the school about 7 a.m. that day by an English teacher at the school who pointed out a broken window on a south building door.

Officers and the teacher checked the building and found the glass in the door of the school's computer room had also been broken out. Police reported nothing in the room appeared to be disturbed, and the door was locked.

The computer room contained several cathode ray tubes, or CRT's, and one television set.

A school administrator appeared after being called by police and told officers that two "Apple" computers and tape drives had been taken home by teachers over the Easter vacation.

The rest of the school was searched by police, who reported everything appeared to be in order, with no signs of anything missing.

LWV plans annual meet

The League of Women Voters (LWV) of Grosse Pointe will hold its annual meeting on Saturday, April 24, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, 855 Cook Road, the Woods.

Guest speaker will be Virginia Schwartz, nominee from Michigan for United States League of Women Voters Board. She is currently vice-president of program for state LWV.

Also on the program will be Ramona Kraemer, former president of the Dearborn LWV and current advisor to the league.

Local substance abuse panel seeks community participation

A group trying to maximize community awareness of substance abuse in Grosse Pointe is inviting residents, parents and youth to participate in a series of meetings of the Community Drug and Alcohol Abuse Council.

Lola Bryant, a member of the state chapter of the National Council on Alcoholism and the CDAAC, said the council has formed four sub-committees to alert the public to substance abuse and provide the opportunity for coordination of prevention and intervention programs.

"Our main concern is prevention. Everybody should be a part of this, including seniors and youth, too," Mrs. Bryant said.

The sub-committees will be meeting at Montelth school, 1275 Cook Road, Wednesday, April 28 at 4:30 p.m.

The council's goals include encouraging a comprehensive community education program on substance abuse and promoting consistent legal policy in the Grosse Pointes to deal with those who abuse alcohol.

Why Be Examined By An Ophthalmologist?

An ophthalmologist has had many years of training in the recognition and treatment of all kinds of vision problems, including those caused by diseases of the body as a whole. For example, it is not uncommon for an ophthalmologist to recognize untreated diabetes, high blood pressure, or the visual type migraine. And, if glaucoma is suspected, follow-up tests are required that only an ophthalmologist can perform.

So there's more to examining eyes than testing for glasses. But, if he finds that you need them, an ophthalmologist will give you a lens prescription to take to a reliable optical company of your choice.

Obituaries

Dr. Alfred Heacock Whittaker

Services for Dr. Whittaker, 86, of the Pointe, were held Saturday, April 17, in Old Christ Church, Detroit.

He died Tuesday, April 13, in Henry Ford Hospital. Born in Portsmouth, O., Dr. Whittaker's 60-year career demonstrated interests in both medical and historical pursuits. He adopted Detroit as his home after his 1922 graduation from Ohio State University and residences at the Bellevue division of Cornell University and Roosevelt Hospital, New York.

A pioneer in industrial medicine, Dr. Whittaker's extensive library devoted to industrial and occupational medicine is now housed in the Whittaker Library at the University of Galveston in Texas.

Dr. Whittaker was also co-author of two books, "Music and Medicine" and "Occupational Health in America." His research on the history of medicine earned him the American Medical Association Exceptional Merit Award in 1947. Other awards bestowed on Dr. Whittaker include the Ohio State Alumni Achievement Award, Citizenship Award and Centennial Award. During his undergraduate years at Ohio State he was a member of Kappa Sigma and Alpha Kappa Kappa fraternities.

Professional memberships included the International College of Surgeons, American Association of Surgery Trauma, and past presidency of the Academy of Surgery in Detroit, the American Association History of Medicine, the Michigan Association Industrial Medicine and Surgery and the Detroit Physicians Club. He was a Diplomate American Board of Preventive Medicine and a member of the American Medical Writers Association.

Dr. Whittaker was past president of the Wayne County Medical Society, the Industrial Medical Association, the Detroit Historical Society and an emeritus member of the Board of Governors, Wayne State University.

Dr. Whittaker also belonged to the American Red Cross, the American Legion, Prismatic Club, Acanthus Club, Friends of Grosse Pointe Library, Grosse Pointe Historical Society, William J. Stapleton Foundation, Detroit Club, Detroit Athletic Club, University Club, Country Club of Detroit and the University Clubs of Chicago and New York.

Dr. Whittaker was a veteran of the Texas-Mexican border dispute in 1918 and served with General Pershing in his pursuit of Pancho Villa.

In 1957, he was appointed by Gov. G. Mennen Williams to the bipartisan Mackinac Island State Park Commission, a post that took him back to the island where he had previously been instrumental in establishing a national medical shrine to the research of William Beaumont, a pioneer in the study of the human digestive system.

Locals at bat for WSU Tartars

A pair of Pointe high school graduates will play for Wayne State University's varsity baseball team this season.

Junior Jack Roberts, a University Liggett School alumnus, is listed on WSU's roster as a pitcher. The 6 foot 2 inch, 180-pound Roberts, is a lefthander. He played at ULS under coach Haklin.

WSU freshman Ted Formanczyk is a center-field prospect for the Tartars this season. The 5 foot 9 inch, 175 pound graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School, where he played under coach George Durditch, bats left and throws right.

Prohibition popularized the dry martini. The gin was so bad that tender tasters had to touch it up with vermouth to get it past their tongues.

'Funny Girl' will open early

Grosse Pointe Theatre's final musical of the season, the Broadway hit "Funny Girl," has elicited such interest that an additional performance has been added to accommodate audiences, according to director Bob McKenna, of Nottingham Road.

The musical classic, which includes such hit songs as "People," "Don't Rain On My Parade" and "I'm The Greatest Star," has been scheduled for two weeks of performances beginning Wednesday, June 9.

"We found it necessary, due to demand for tickets, to open a night early," said McKenna. "Opening night is now Tuesday, June 8, and although some seats are available for the other performances, we expect them to be bought up very fast."

"Funny Girl" is a biography of the irrepressible and dynamic Ziegfeld Follies star, Fanny Brice, with music by Jule Styne and lyrics by Bob Merrill. The show captures the struggles of young Fanny on her road to stardom, and demonstrates the gaudy vitality of America in the 1920s and 1930s.

In the title role, Theresa Selvaggio of Bellefontaine Road, essays the flamboyant star through her years of struggle to eventual triumph on the Broadway stage in a stunning series of singing, dancing and comedic scenes. Ann Diebel, of Park Lane, plays Fanny's unstoppable mother, Ciro Vitale, of Outer Drive, is the love of Fanny's life, and Don Ross is the love-struck hoover who helps her to the top.

The people who help Fanny — or hurt Fanny — during her rise are played by Paul Corbett, of Moran Road, Patricia Ellis, of Fairholme Avenue, Nancy Fisher, of Cadieux Road, Laura Granger, of Oxford Road, Tim Hallsworth, of Hampton Road, Joe Herbon, of Allard Road, Jim Kallardos, of Morros Road, Tom McCarter, of Pemberton Road, Karyl Morris and Terri Turpin, both of Lincoln Road, and John Wiseley, of Trombley Road.

Others in the cast include Tony Amata, Cathy Ballew, Mike Barron, Janine Bavely, Eula Berassa, Cheryl Berger, Marie Boyle-Asmus, Jeanne Chrisman, Francine Darling, Gigi Gaggini, Carey Garback, Diane Graham, Mary Ann Gustafson, Karen Hebenstreit, Jann Hight, Cliff Levin, Jim McHugh, Joe Rice, Tom Sanderson, Rik Seike, Val Sisto and Peter Walliko.

Director McKenna added that rehearsals were already in progress, with Mary Lou Johnson, of St. Clair Shores, as producer, Keith Sips, of Anita Avenue, musical director, Jack and Sue Petz, of Mapleton Road, as set designer and decorator, and Chuck Chrisman, of Vernier Road, and Steve Linne, of Lakepointe Avenue, as technical directors. Choreographer is Arlene Schoenherr, lighting designer is Dick Vreeland, of Audubon Road, sound is by Dave Hertzberg, props by Tony Stockl, of Hollywood Road, and makeup designer is Carole Lombardini, of Brys Drive.

Gwenn Samuel, of Moran Road, is responsible for the actual running of each performance as stage manager. Assisted by Suellen Fausel, Mickey Di-Santi, of St. Clair Shores, is assistant producer, and costumer is Chancey Miller.

"Funny Girl" is, in Director Mc-

Kenna's words, "A show that is really for the whole family, with something for everybody. It's about love and family and friends and what success is—and is not. It's warm-hearted and heart tugging, melodic and funny."

The production opens June 8, at Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road. Ticket and reservation information may be had by calling the theater box office at 881-4004. Admission is $7.

Woods man awarded $235,000 in school bleacher suit

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education and an attorney for a Grosse Pointe Woods man have reached a $235,000 settlement stemming from an accident at Grosse Pointe North High School nearly four years ago.

William Babcock, 50, of Severn Road, fell from North's bleachers in 1978 while watching his son Bill play baseball. In a suit later filed in Wayne County Circuit Court, Babcock charged he suffered several injuries to his neck and back as a result of the fall, claiming the bleachers were defective.

Babcock's attorney Gary C. Berger said a suit is still pending against the manufacturer of the bleachers, Standard Steel Industries of Michigan. Berger said surgery has failed to correct Babcock's injuries and he has been unable to return to work. Babcock was a manufacturers representative.

Learn to plan your retirement

For people who are planning their retirement, who have already retired or have responsibility for the care of elderly members of their families, the spring/summer roster of classes scheduled by the public schools' Department of Continuing Education offers a number of possibilities.

Slated to begin at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, May 3, in room C11 of Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte is "Are You Planning for Your Retirement?" Dr. Joel Olah, a gerontologist trained at the University of Michigan, who developed the four-week class several years ago, will speak at the introductory session.

Dr. Arthur Hillegas, Grosse Pointe resident and retired scientist, will host the remaining sessions during which experts from various fields will speak on retirement planning. The class has been designed to help those from age 30 and on who may be thinking about retirement to make wise decisions in planning for the future. Fee is $12.

A class designed primarily to be of interest to those who have already retired from the business world is slated to begin at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, May 5. "Successful Retirement Living" has been planned by Dr. Olah, Dr. Hillegas and Mrs. Perry TeWall, president of Seniors Onward for Change. The class will focus on the realities of finance, consumerism and health which are faced by those who have left the world of work. Resource people will serve as speakers on a variety of pertinent topics. No fee is charged for the class, which will be held in room C-15 of Brownell Middle School.

On Thursday, May 13, the Department of Continuing Education and Seniors Onward for Change will co-sponsor, along with the Crime Prevention Bureau of the Detroit Police Department, "Community Crime Prevention." Although not designed solely around the interests of the elderly, the speaker will deal with con games and crimes affecting the retired. The free offering is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. in room 164-166 of South High School, 11 Grosse Pointe Boulevard.

The Department of Continuing Education and the Northeast Guidance Center will co-sponsor two new-for-spring offerings. "You and Your Aging Parent" will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. on Monday, May 17, in room A-1 of Brownell Middle School. It will be taught by Dr. Jonathan York and Carol Zielinski of the Northeast Guidance Clinic.

More and more persons are confronting a new problem: How to help aging parents while still taking care of their own needs and families. The conflicts brought about by role changes and dependency put an enormous amount of stress on the adult child as well as on the aged parent. The seminar will focus on the major issues of parent-to-grown child relationships, as well as community resources available to help. Fee is $6.

"Senility—Myths and Realities" will be taught by Dr. York and Mary Ann Collinson. Described as a "nonsensical look at the growing problem of senility, with practical approaches to assisting the impaired older person to function better," the class will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. on Tuesday, May 25 in room A-1 of Brownell Middle School. Fee is $6.

In addition to the classes outlined above, the Department of Continuing Education offers a wide variety of offerings in its spring/summer program.

Full information on the spring/summer program is found in the yellow flyer mailed to residences in the school district the week of March 29. Copies are available at the Department of Continuing Education, located at Brownell Middle School, as well as at the Central Library and the Park and Woods branches.

Call 343-2178 for more information.

Continuing education is set for spring

Most of the six-week classes scheduled by the public schools' Department of Continuing Education begin this week.

To accommodate those who wish to enroll in person and to buy texts used in the various classes, the office of the Department of Continuing Education, located at Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte, will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. through today, Thursday, April 22.

Normal office hours, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday, will be in effect again the week of April 26.

In addition to the six-week classes, a number of two- and four-week, as well as single-session classes will begin each week between April 19 and June 28. "One-night stands" are scheduled morning, afternoon and evening and, for the first time, include offerings in the early summer.

A flyer detailing the spring/summer offerings of the Department of Continuing Education was mailed to all homes in the school district the week of March 29. Copies are available at the Continuing Education office as well as at the Central Library and in the Park and Woods branches.

Call 343-2178 for more information on the spring/summer Continuing Education program.

Board accepts $20,000 gifts

The Board of Education has accepted more than $20,000 in gifts from local PTOs, the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Library and the Exchange Club of Grosse Pointe. The board must approve gifts of more than $500.

- Trustees approved the following PTO donations:
- Defer School—$1,000 for library books.
 - Ferry School—$709 for a video tape camera.
 - Mason School—$1,300 for a micro-computer.
 - Richard School—$1,000 for library chairs, playground benches and office equipment.
 - Trombly School—$1,300 for a micro-computer.

The board of directors of the Friends of the Library voted to donate $14,585 in gifts to the library, including a reading machine for the partially sighted, book purchases and film rentals. The Exchange Club of Grosse Pointe donated a set of 28 photographic reproductions of historical documents to North High School valued at $650.

Union City comes to Punch & Judy

The scene — Union City, New Jersey in 1953. Across the Hudson River, the bright lights of Manhattan shine in the distance. But in Union City, life is flat and drab, just the sort of dump where a seedy accountant with a restless, two-timing wife might become murdered. Just by accident.

Punch & Judy Theater will present the Detroit premiere of "Union City" Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 23 through the 25 for three showings daily.

The critically acclaimed film, which stars Deborah Harry, lead singer of the rock group Blondie, takes the elements of the film noir of the 40s and early 50s—adultery, murder, cynicism, urban claustrophobia and glamor—and filters them through a new wave sensibility.

In addition to featuring Deborah Harry, "Union City" marks the screen debut of rock singer Pat Benatar. The film's musical score was composed by Chris Stein, lead guitarist and cofounder of Blondie.

Health care group cites St. John

St. John Hospital of Detroit has been awarded a Certificate of Accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH).

Glenn A. Wesselmann, hospital executive vice-president, said St. John was evaluated during an on-site visit by a team of JCAH surveyors who conferred with the professional staff.

Accreditation means that the hospital has voluntarily sought to be measured against the JCAH's national standards. The accreditation program assists facilities in pursuing high quality health care through education, evaluation and consultation. JCAH accreditation is professional, national recognition.

Voting rights wins local support

Katie Elsila, co-director of the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice, recently presented Sen. Donald W. Riegle, Jr. (D-Mich.) with more than 500 signatures urging extension of the Voting Rights Act of 1965. The signatures were collected during a petition drive sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice, the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters, the Grosse Pointe branch of the American Association of University Women and the Grosse Pointe Ministerial Association.

In thanking Ms. Elsila, Riegle stressed the importance of cooperative efforts, such as the one undertaken by the four local groups.

"We were gratified by the response to our joint effort," Ms. Elsila said. "Our cooperative petition drive effort was successful and we look forward to working on common goals in the future."

The Voting Rights Act of 1965 was enacted to protect the constitutionally guaranteed voting rights of citizens whose voting strength may be diluted by such tactics as at-large elections, racial gerrymandering, literacy tests, poll taxes and physical abuse. The Act gave thousands of blacks and other minorities access to the ballot box, Ms. Elsila said.

Major provisions of the Act are scheduled to expire in this August, unless Congress acts to extend them. A conservative coalition, led by Senator Strom Thurmond (R-S.C.) and Representative Henry Hyde (D-Ill.) is leading the effort to weaken or eliminate the Act.

President Reagan has said that he will sign the Voting Rights Act bill that reached his desk.

Suzanne Suski, president of the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters said, "we strongly believe that the evidence, both historical and current, proves the need for extending the VRA in 1982."

Annual meeting and show for Cinema League

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League, which was organized in November, 1954, will hold its annual meeting and banquet on Monday, May 3, in the Crystal Ballroom and Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road.

Punch will be served at 6 p.m. followed by dinner. The annual meeting and election of officers will be conducted by President J. Ross Bush before the group adjourns to the auditorium to view John Jakel's super-8mm movie "Around the World in 31 Days" and Robert Makara's 16mm film "Liechtenstein."

Jakel's voyage around the world starts with views of Zurich, Switzerland, and the magnificent lake area around Lucerne.

Bombay, India, provides scenes of crowded outdoor laundries and the Elephanta Caves. Highlights in Colombo, Sri Lanka, are the great zoo, with its famous elephant circus, farms and rice paddies. Photographed in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, are the Batu Caves and the National Museum.

An outrigger canoe ride is taken in Bali, and Mt. Kantamani, an active volcano, is filmed before visiting the capital city of Denpasar. A dugout canoe ride is taken to Pagsanjan Falls in the Philippines. Film of Hong Kong, famous for its excellent shopping, features views of the crowded harbor.

Both Japanese and United States World War II remains are shown in Guam and beautiful, sunny beaches are filmed in Hawaii before the group returns to Detroit via San Francisco.

Robert Makara takes viewers to a fairytale European country that remains both peaceful and independent. There are scenes in medieval Vaduz, one of the world's tiniest capitals, and the lovely mountain resorts of Gastei, Malbun and Steg in "Liechtenstein."

Tickets at $10 per person for the entire evening are available at the War Memorial's office. The event is open to the public.

Artful jouster snatches purse

The art of jousting is gone but not forgotten, it seems. Woods police are looking for a man who, riding a bicycle and using a long wooden stick as a lance, speared a purse from the arm of a Southfield woman while she walked down Mack Avenue.

Police were called to the A. H. Peters Funeral Home about 6:30 p.m. Thursday, April 15, at the report of the purse snatching. The victim said she was walking south on Mack from Vernier when a white male, described as having blond hair and wearing a heavy white turtleneck sweater, rode by her on a bicycle and speared her black leather purse off her arm. The robber then turned down a side street, according to the victim's account.

It was the first purse snatching of this type to occur in the Woods, police said.

The empty purse was later found in an alley just south of Beaufait and returned to the woman. Her wallet, containing about $31 in cash and numerous credit cards along with her driver's license, was taken from it.

Philippine visitor at Baptist church

Dr. Alfredo G. Saure, professor of theology and evangelism at the Philippine Baptist Theological Seminary will preach at the 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. services at Grosse Pointe Park Baptist Church on Sunday, April 25.

Dr. Saure is a member of the faculty of the Asia Baptist Graduate Theological Seminary. The church is located at 15635 Mack Avenue.

There has never been a tribe of people who didn't in some way decorate their bodies — with clothes, mostly, or with stain, or bones and stones.

Single parents vow active role in 'Super Walk'

Parents Without Partners, Chapter No. 192 of Grosse Pointe, has announced it will support the second national March of Dimes, Birth Defects Foundation, Super Walk, Walk-America this month.

The announcement was made by Maggie Curran, president of the Grosse Pointe Chapter of Parents Without Partners, Inc. This year, plans are being made to involve more than 900 PWP chapters across the United States in the March of Dimes drive. It is estimated that about 90,000 single parents, teens and children will participate in the effort.

Each year more than a quarter million infants are born with physical or mental defects. About 50,000 of these infants will die before they reach their first birthday, according to Annett Pryce, Teamwalk Department of Volunteers Director of the local March of Dimes chapter.

"I am pleased that PWP will be supporting the Walk America campaign locally and nationally," Pryce said.

PWP Inc. is an international non-profit educational organization of divorced, separated and widowed parents in the United States and Canada. Founded in New York in 1957, PWP is today organized into 1,000 chapters which offer programs of educational, family and social activities.

The purpose of PWP is to help the single parent and their family make the transition from a two-parent home to a one-parent home more easily.

For more information on activities sponsored by Parents Without Partners, call 881-5892 or write to: PWP Grosse Pointe Chapter No. 192, Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236.

Learn to cope with aging parents

The Older Adult Service Unit of Northeast Guidance Center announced recently it is forming another support group for families with aged members entitled "As Parents Grow Older."

The group is designed to provide information and assistance to family members interested in learning to deal more effectively with any problems and concerns they have concerning their aged relatives.

The group will meet once a week for six weeks beginning Wednesday, May 12, through Wednesday, June 16, from 6 to 8 p.m. at Redeemer United Methodist Church, 20571 Vernier Road.

Enrollment is limited to 12 participants. The fee for the six weeks is $30. A maximum of two people per family may attend for a fee of $30. Participants should plan on attending all six sessions since much of the success of the group is based upon a feeling of mutual understanding and shared concern between members, according to the center.

For more information or registration information, contact Carol M. Zielinski at 824-8000, Ext. 285.

String Quartet takes top honors

The University Liggett School String Quartet, oboist Gina Dodge and flutist Delphine Davison took top honors earlier this month at the Michigan Band and Orchestra Association's State Level Solo and Ensemble Festival.

Quartet members David Wu, Anita Gugala, David Butzu and Roger Wu combined to earn a First Division rating, while Delphine and Gina received the same ratings for their solos.

As a result of the competition, David Wu was invited to perform with the State of Michigan Honors Orchestra at the Youth Arts Festival in Mount Pleasant on May 22. The Honors Orchestra is comprised of the top 100 instrumentalists in the state as determined by their proficiency examination at the state level.

During statewide juried competition in March, four Upper School Elan dancers were selected to perform at the Michigan Youth Arts Festival at Central Michigan University on May 21 and 22. Colleen Darby, Brooke Beardslee, Cynthia Fler and Tracey Matthews will join the Interlochen troupe and eight other companies in the dance "Kiva."

Suzanne is state finalist

Suzanne Starnes of Grosse Pointe Woods has been selected state finalist for Michigan's homecoming queen pageant this Sunday, April 25, at the Holiday Inn East in Grand Rapids. Suzanne will represent Grosse Pointe North High School.

Michigan's homecoming queen will receive a state scholarship and an all expense paid trip to Las Vegas to compete with queens from other states for America's homecoming queen June 25 to 28 at the Riviera Hotel.

Trash Bash '84

Donned in sweatshirts and jeans, these North High School girls are gearing up for the school's Trash Bash on Saturday, April 24, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Clothes, housewares, toys, furniture and sports equipment will be on sale as well as baked goods and refreshments. Proceeds will be used to develop a special fund for the Class of '84. Ready for some trash bashing are (seated, left to right) Linda Yanik, Cheryl Boardman and Cindi Tsangalis. Standing (left to right) are Kathy Bakeman, Peggy King and Lisa Taylor.

Begonias benefit South students

Orders are being taken for the Grosse Pointe South Mothers Club's annual Impatiens sale. Proceeds will benefit South's scholarship fund, the drug and alcohol abuse program and other school programs.

This year, Wax Begonias have been added to the sale. Flowers will be sold in flats of 36 plants, at $10 per flat, and must be ordered by April 30. No flats will be available for sale the day of delivery. The flowers will be delivered to homes on May 21 and 22, by South students and parents.

To order, see the order blank in this issue of the Grosse Pointe News. For further information call 499-3593.

'College Choice' airs on cable TV

University Liggett School has announced the presentation of a special program to be aired on Grosse Pointe Cable TV on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, May 3, 5 and 7, at 7 p.m. each evening.

The show, entitled "The College Choice" is a community affairs program that provides a frank and informative discussion of the steps every student and parent should take in gaining acceptance to the college or university of their choice. Featured guest is Pedro Arango, college counseling coordinator.

"The College Choice" was produced and directed by Bruce Keigen. Parents and students with questions about the show should contact the school at 884-4444.

South scores top rating

By Tara Sendelbach
South High

Grosse Pointe South's Symphony Orchestra received top marks last month at the annual District Orchestra Festival held at Mount Clemens High School.

Competing orchestras were graded by four judges on tone, intonation, rhythm technique, interpretation, general spirit and selection. Each of these categories is graded on an A, B, C scale. The orchestra is given an overall grade ranging from one to eight with one being the highest.

South's musical selection included "Procession of the Nobles," by Rimsky-Korsakov; "Sentimental Sarabande," by Britten; and the "Finale from Symphony Number Five," by Shostakovich.

South was the only Grosse Pointe school orchestra to receive an overall one rating. Ralph Miller, director of the bands and orchestra at South, said, "The judges were very difficult this year, and I'm extremely proud that our orchestra received a one."

What goes on at your library

By Helen M. Leonard

As the awareness that the older segment of our population is an ever-increasing one grows, so does the interest in the thoughts, the concerns, the needs, the wisdom and the humor of older adults.

Reflection on that interest among general and professional readers and responding to it, the library has acquired a fine and diverse collection of books on the subject of aging.

From the about 100 volumes in the collection, I have chosen several that treat the areas mentioned above.

Under the category of "thoughts," one might consider several books: Simone de Beauvoir's "The Coming of Age," Alex Comfort's "A Good Age" and Malcolm Cowley's "The view from Eighty." Although differing in approach, each contains serious, reflective thoughts on how the aging person views life.

Every age has its concerns and entrance into the "older" age is no different. For example, Amram Ducovny has written about fraud in "The Billion $ Swindle," Bert Kruger Smith has dealt with the needs all humans share which are sometimes denied to the elderly in "Aging in America" and Alex Comfort's "A Good Age" and Malcolm Cowley's "The Crime and Gerontology."

Physical vitality together with the fear of losing it occasionally create special needs among the aging. "Preventive Care" by Alice Hornbaker, "How to Feel Younger Longer" by Jane Kinderlehrer, "Stay Youthful and Fit" by Lawrence Lamb and "Sixty Plus and Fit Again" by Magda Rosenberg all demonstrate valuable information about preventive care via nutrition, hygiene and proper exercise.

Margaret Craven in "Again Calls the Owl" perhaps best exemplifies the quality of wisdom we so often associate with older adults. Several other selections which might recount this achievement are: "Until the Singing Stops" by Don Gold, "Living Longer and Loving it" by Deborah Geller and "Growing Older" by George Ancona, each of which celebrates long life.

Humor is ever-essential to the human situation and Marjorie Roulston's "Keep Going and Liking It," Richard Armour's "Going Like Sixty," Cleveland Amory's "The Trouble with Nowadays" and Hugh Downs' "Thirty Dirty Lies About Old Age" all are the works of writers who shed a tongue-in-cheek (and frequently a jaundiced eye) attitude towards their youngsters.

Teenagers look for resources when choosing a college or finding a job; young marrieds when choosing a place to live; parents-to-be when choosing an obstetrician. So, too, older adults consult references which help with their selections. Several of the best are: The National Council on Aging's "Resources for the Aging, an action handbook"; Len Biege's "The Best Years Catalogue; a source book for older people; a directory of societies and clubs" and Craig Norback's "The Older American's Handbook" which offers practical information and help in many areas of life.

Professionals who work with older adults can find many titles from which to choose. Dealing with recreation and social work is Florence Vicery's book "Creative Planning for Older Adults; a leadership and training guide." The National Retired Teachers Association's bibliography "Learning About Aging" in 1981 covers a multitude of topics as does Vernon Coleman's "Everything You Want to Know about Aging" which deals with the conduct of life, care and hygiene. Those interested in nutrition in later years might look at Adeine Shell's "Feel Better After 60 Food Book." Finally, from the physician's point of view, there is "Getting Older and Staying Young" by D. D. Stonecypher, M.D.

Sorting out the contenders

To nobody's great surprise, the Michigan UAW last week endorsed U.S. Rep. James Blanchard, Pleasant Ridge Democrat, for governor of Michigan. The action was taken by the UAW Community Action Program (CAP), the union's political arm, and marked the first time since 1970 that the union has endorsed in a primary.

Why did the UAW depart from recent practice? It apparently felt Blanchard needed the kind of political and financial support the UAW can provide if he is to be nominated. Blanchard's name is something less than a household word in Michigan and he does face a batch of other Democratic candidates. His strongest threat comes from William Fitzgerald, the former state senator who was the party's choice in 1976 and won the UAW's endorsement in the general election that year.

The UAW's endorsement, of course, does not mean that all UAW members will march arm and arm to the polls to vote for Blanchard. In the past, there has been more than a hint that some UAW members even voted for Republican Gov. William Milliken who, of course, is retiring this year.

As so often happens, the Michigan AFL-CIO through its political arm followed the UAW precedent and also endorsed Blanchard. The AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education said it took the action because of Blanchard's

"ability to garner support from other segments (of the electorate) outside the labor movement," but Federation President William Marshall indicated the organization's real fear is that Fitzgerald may win the nomination. Marshall said he wasn't enthusiastic about Fitzgerald in 1978 and is "less enthused today," but acknowledged Fitzgerald still has the highest name recognition in the Democratic field.

WITH THE Democratic primary contest appearing to narrow down to Blanchard and Fitzgerald, the field in the Republican primary also seems to be coming down to only two or three strong contenders. Lt. Gov. James Brickley and Richard Headlee, the Farmington Hills insurance executive and property tax cut booster, are regarded as the front runners with L. Brooks Patterson, the Oakland County prosecutor, given an outside chance.

Perhaps the most curious campaign is being run by Sen. John Welborn, Kalamazoo, who is seeking the GOP nomination by blaming Gov. Milliken for the state's economic depression. An ultraconservative, Welborn may, however, help Brickley by taking votes that might otherwise go to Headlee, believed to be the strongest conservative contender. If that proves to be the case, Welborn might well help nominate Milliken's choice for the GOP nomination, Brickley.

If so, it would just prove again that politics makes strange bedfellows.

An issue but no contest

It can be viewed as a compliment to Jon Gandelot and the Board of Education in general that nobody filed against the school board president for the single post to be filled in the school board election June 14.

In fact, it is a tribute to the board and to Gandelot that citizens of the Grosse Pointe school district are so well satisfied with their representation on the current board that none of them felt compelled to do battle with one of the incumbents.

YET IT IS disappointing, too, that the public will be deprived of the kind of discussion that would inevitably have resulted had several challengers entered the race and made a hard-fought campaign of it.

True, Gandelot is planning to get out into the community to talk with as many people as possible and, equally important, to hear what the people have to say. He is expressing opinions about the swimming pool issue, enrollment declines, school funding, escalating staff salaries and other issues that affect the voters and taxpayers of the district.

He is to be commended for taking this approach in view of his lack of opposition. It is as good a substitute as can be found for the discussions that often emanate from the heat of a contested election campaign. But it will work satisfactorily only if the people who have been grumbling about the schools, especially when they get their tax statements, take advantage of the opportunities to question Gandelot at his coffee sessions and other gatherings he will attend during his campaign.

With Gandelot unopposed, the only issue to be determined at the June 14 election will be whether the voters wish to support or oppose a proposal to begin a $125,000 feasibility study for a new swimming pool in the south end of the school district.

Because the school board put this advisory question on the ballot, some people have concluded the board itself has come out in favor of the feasibility study and the pool. That is not true. As Supt. Kenneth Brummel emphasized last week in a letter to the Grosse Pointe News, "The board itself is not committed to the construction of a pool nor to the expenditure proposed by the committee."

In the same letter, the superintendent made it clear the board has other options for the use of any revenues that could result from the recent increases in assessments on Grosse Pointe homes. The options include a rollback of the millage rate which would offset in whole or in part the increased assessments on residential property.

In these times, with people already complaining bitterly about their property taxes as well as a variety of income and other taxes, it does not seem reasonable to even make a feasible study for a pool estimated to cost approximately $3.5 million.

THERE IS A well organized group which favors the pool proposal to serve South High School swimmers who now have to hold their swimming meets at North High and to practice at the Brownell School pool. We concede this is an inconvenience to swimmers and their families but we simply cannot see a new pool as deserving of a very high priority on the list of Grosse Pointe's needs in times like these.

The board put the advisory issue on the ballot to satisfy the demands of the 2,000 people who signed petitions asking for it. That would indicate the pool proposal has some support and the number of signers ought to warn opponents to show up at the polls. Otherwise, a minority of voters could approve a plan that we think lacks the support of the majority of district residents.

Doggone lucky cat!

By Tom Greenwood

Dr. Seuss once wrote a book called the "Cat in the Hat." Two alert Grosse Pointe kids have rewritten it, only now it should be re-named the "Cat in the Window Well."

The night of April 4 was raw and windy, typical for this time of year. Mrs. Joseph Thompson, of Radnor Circle, briefly opened her front door to greet a friend, and Timmy, her blue-eyed male Siamese cat slipped into the street.

That was the last anyone saw of Timmy for two weeks.

When he didn't come home, Mrs. Thompson began searching for Timmy and advertising in local newspapers.

"I didn't want him to go out that night because cats can get lost when it's windy," said Mrs. Thompson. "They lose the scent of their home. They can also get hit by cars because they can't hear them coming."

Hopes were dimming until April 18, when Liz, 15, and Doug Sutherland, 11, of Stanton Lane, knocked on the door—with Timmy.

"We found him in a deep, concrete lined window well in back of our neighbor's garage," said Liz, a freshman at South High School.

"We had heard a cat meowing for days, but thought it was our own. Then, when we couldn't find our cat, and still heard the noises, we decided to investigate."

The Stanton Lane sleuths found Timmy at the bottom of the window well, blinking nervously at the faces peached above him.

"The well was narrow and deep," said Doug who attends St. Paul School. "It was deeper than I am tall. He couldn't jump out and there was nothing to climb on. He was scared of us at first, but we eventually got him out and took him home. Boy, did he eat."

All concerned believe the cat was in the window well for the entire two weeks. While he had lost a lot of weight, snow and rainwater apparently kept him alive. A name tag around his neck enabled the Sutherlands to find Mrs. Thompson.

"I don't know how he got down there, but I'd say he was four to six pounds lighter when he got out," said Mrs. Thompson. "When I got him back, he looked like he had been at an Elizabeth Arden Fat Farm. The vet said he looked pretty good otherwise, so I'm slowly fattening him back up."

One life down Timmy, eight to go!

From one News to another

The Grosse Pointe News is happy to join in extending congratulations to the Detroit News for winning a Pulitzer Prize for its series of stories exposing mistreatment of sailors aboard a Navy aircraft carrier.

In winning the award for public service, probably the most prestigious of the Pulitzer prizes in journalism, the News fulfilled one of the major functions of the American press: to keep an eye on the performance of public officials and public institutions and to expose conduct that runs counter to the public interest.

In performing its watchdog role, the press often faces criticism for invading the privacy of individuals and getting into matters that are said to be none of its business. But its business is serving as the eyes and ears of the public. That is why newspapers such as the Detroit News investigate reports about mistreatment of sailors as well as many other stories affecting people in one way or another.

In passing, we think the Free Press also deserves a tip of the hat for its handling of the story of the News' award. The Free Press not only carried the story on page one and headlined the News but it also gave an editorial salute to its victorious competitor without even mentioning that over the years the Free Press has won more Pulitzers than the News has.

It is well to remember that Detroit is fortunate in having two good daily newspapers in a hotly competitive situation. Only a handful of American cities can still boast that distinction. That competition, we think, stimulates the kind of good, factual reporting that the News performed to win its Pulitzer.

Cities, counties hit record low in 1981 housing

Residential building permits issued in 1981 for southeast Michigan hit a record low total for the second consecutive year, according to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

The 5,648 permits issued during 1981 in the seven-county region fell well below 1980's record low total of 10,562. In contrast, the building permit total in 1977 was 27,252.

The Pointes issued 10 permits for single family dwellings in 1981, but seven demolitions left the net total at three. None of the cities issued permits for two-family or multiple dwelling construction.

Grosse Pointe Shores issued three single family dwelling permits and ordered no demolition in 1981, leaving a total of three new homes. Grosse Pointe Farms also issued three permits, but ordered one demolition, leaving a net gain of two homes. The Woods issued two permits for construction and had no demolitions, leaving two new homes.

Grosse Pointe Park fell at the bottom of the gain in housing, issuing one permit, but ordering four demolitions for a net loss of three homes. Grosse Pointe City's net loss was one home. The City issued one construction permit, but demolished two homes.

All counties in the region experienced drops from 1980 to 1981 except Wayne County, where 444 permits issued by the city of Detroit kept the total from dropping off.

Detroit accounted for almost 69 percent of all permits issued in Wayne County in 1981, but 6,002 ordered demolitions left a net loss of 4,630 homes in the city.

There were 6,957 demolition orders authorized throughout the region leaving it with a net loss of 1,309 homes. The region includes Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, St. Clair, Livingston and Monroe counties.

By Janet Mueller

A benefit continental breakfast and program on the subject of stress reduction will kick off Cottage Hospital's "We're Up for Health" health fair at Jacobson's in-the-Village next Thursday, April 29, at 9 a.m. in the St. Clair dining room. Cost is $6 (tax deductible). Reservations may be made in advance by contacting Daphne Ottens at 884-7494; tickets for seats not reserved will be available at the door.

Guest speaker Marilyn Jay, an instructor at Macomb County Community College, will describe "Creating Your Own Stress Free Environment." Mrs. Jay, a popular teacher of stress management and human potential development, has a Masters degree in the Humanities and Religious Studies and teaches yoga and meditation skills. A show of Jacobson's spring fashions for men and women follows. Cottage Hospital volunteers, including some from the Hospice Program, will model.

Finally, there'll be a demonstration of exercise and relaxation techniques by Joan Thornton and Deanna Hawthorne, fitness experts and co-owners of Vital Options, Inc. — and the audience will be invited to relax along with them.

Proceeds from the Up for Health breakfast, sponsored by the Cottage Hospital Auxiliary of which Josette Hoskings is president, will purchase items that will directly benefit and provide comfort to dying patients and their families who are served by Cottage's Hospice Program. Many aspects of Hospice care have been available at the hospital for six years, but the program became fully operational last September when volunteers were trained and took their place in the interdisciplinary Hospice team which includes physicians, nurses and other health care professionals.

A Hospice is a centrally administered program of palliative and supportive services which provides physical, psychological, social and spiritual care for dying persons and their families through the periods of illness and bereavement. Services are provided at home and in the hospital by a medically supervised team of professionals and volunteers. For information on becoming a Hospice volunteer at Cottage, contact Julia Arango, 884-8600, Extension 2436. For information about making donations to the Cottage Hospice Program, contact the

Former Pointers wed in Georgia

Virginia M. Swartz, formerly of Grosse Pointe Farms, and Bernard C. Ladendorf, formerly of Grosse Pointe Woods, exchanged marriage vows Saturday, April 17, at a private ceremony in Roswell, Ga., and left to vacation for a week in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., after which they will fly to San Juan to board a ship that will take them through the Caribbean as far as Venezuela.

A week's stay on Barbados is also in their travel plans. They'll be returning to Roswell to make their home.

Set Allan-Ward rites in August

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thomas Ward Jr., of East Jefferson Avenue, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary Carol, to The Reverend Charles Thomas Allan, of Wichita, Kans., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allan, of Dickenson, N.D. The wedding is planned for early August. Miss Ward is a senior at Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill. Her fiance, who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Dickinson State University, was graduated from Wartberg Seminary in 1977.

Progressive Artists to meet tomorrow

Progressive Artist Club members gather tomorrow, Friday, April 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial for their monthly meeting, which will feature club members Kasimira Faterek Kaiser and Gertrude Kallman critiquing guests' and members' paintings and giving advice on medium use.

Ama Deus Circle sets social night

Ama Deus Circle 616, Daughters of Isabella, will host a social evening starting at 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 26, at the Gabriel Richard Knights of Columbus Hall on East Warren Avenue. Donation is $2.50. Chairpersons for the event are Arlis Walker and Margaret Ewart.

Park resident JOHN V. SHEORIS, a project executive at Giffels Associates, Inc., has joined the faculty of Lawrence Institute of Technology as a lecturer. A Yale University graduate, Sheoris holds bachelors and masters degrees in architecture.

JENNIFER A. ZINN, daughter of FRANK and RUTH ZINN, of Lakepointe Avenue, spent three weeks in January studying some of Shakespeare's major plays in London and Stratford as one of 29 Williams College students who traveled to England in a study group. A 1979 graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School, Jennifer is a junior at Williams.

Among students listed on the 3.5 honor roll for the fall semester at North Texas State University was DULCE LUNDELL, daughter of former Pointer PHILIP CARL LUNDELL. Dulce is a Grosse Pointe South High School graduate.

Dawn Ottoni

Dawn Ottoni to wed in May

May wedding plans have been made by Dawn Signe Maria Ottoni and Mark Vernon Wilhelm whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo D. Ottoni, of Van Antwerp Road.

Miss Ottoni, a Grosse Pointe North High School alumna, received her Bachelor's degree in Religion and Old Testament Theology from the University of Michigan this year. Mr. Wilhelm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilhelm, of Baltimore, Md., holds a Bachelor's degree in Science and Electrical Engineering from Johns Hopkins University and a Masters degree in Science and Engineering from the University of Michigan.

Carolyn Neuder

Kurtz-Neuder betrothal told

Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Neuder, of Fairholme Road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn Sue, to Keith S. Kurtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Kurtz, of Canterbury Road. The wedding is planned for June, 1983.

Miss Neuder and her fiance are both Grosse Pointe North High School alumni and both expect to receive their Bachelor of Business Administration degrees, she in Accountancy, he in Management (with a Marketing minor), from Western Michigan University this month. Both are members of Alpha Kappa Psi professional business fraternity.

The bride-elect, a member of Beta Alpha Psi national accounting fraternity, will be employed by Arthur Andersen & Company in Detroit. The prospective bridegroom will also be employed in Detroit, by Peninsular Steel Company.

Jones-Walsh vows spoken

Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore was the setting for the noon ceremony Saturday, March 13, at which Anne Elizabeth Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Howard Walsh, of Shorepointe Lane, spoke her marriage vows to Kurt Lloyd Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Jones, of Flint.

Presiding at the rites, celebrated on the bride's birthday, was Monsignor Francis X. Canfield. After a reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, the newlyweds left for a Hawaiian vacation. They are at home in Auburn Heights.

Appliques of Alencon lace accented the bodice and train of the former Miss Walsh's ivory peau de soie wedding gown. She wore a band of stephanotis and baby's breath in her hair and carried her mother's wedding prayerbook, with white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Gregory T. Johnson, who came from Toledo to serve as her sister's honor attendant, and bridesmaids Mrs. William R. Austerberry, of Mount Clemens, and Joan Walsh, two other sisters of the bride, wore long skirts of cafe au lait taffeta, matching bolero jackets and ecru blouses. Each carried a cascade of spring flowers.

The bride's fourth sister, Mrs. Michael J. Sullivan, of Kansas City, Kans., also witnessed the ceremony, as did the bridegroom's sisters, Kristi Jones, of Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Michael Batche, of Humble, Tex.

Best man was Ronald Miller, of Brooklyn, Mich. Ushers were John Coffey, of Alexandria, Va., and Mr. Batche. The mother of the bride wore a street length, gold-threaded cinnamon knit. The bridegroom's mother selected street length beige and brown georgette, with an accordion-pleated overblouse. Each mother pinned cymbidium orchids to her purse.

Special guests included the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. George B. Hagan Sr., and her uncle and aunt, the Donald S. Hagens, of Grand Rapids. Former Pointers Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Meikle and their daughter, Katie, came from Grand Blanc for the ceremony.

Marcia McBrien

Miss McBrien to be married

The engagement of Marcia Mary McBrien and John James Scanlan III has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. McBrien, of Colonial Road.

The bride-elect, a University Liggett School alumna, and her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Scanlan Jr., of El Paso, Tex., were both graduated last year from the University of Notre Dame, where she is presently a graduate student. He is completing his first year at the University of Notre Dame Law School.

June wedding date is made

The engagement of Ann Louise Dalton and Bryan Gerard McLellan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. McLellan Jr., of Kerby Road, has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Dalton, of St. Louis, Mo. A June wedding is planned.

Miss Dalton attended the Academy of the Sacred Heart, St. Charles, Mo., was graduated cum laude from the University of Missouri with a Bachelor of Science degree in Elementary Education and is presently teaching in St. Louis' Parkway School District.

Her fiance, a Grosse Pointe North High School alumnus, who holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Marketing from Ferris State College, Big Rapids, is presently attending St. Louis University School of Business. He is employed as a zone manager in the St. Louis District Ford Division Sales Office.

Barbara Brown will be a bride

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Brown, of Edgemere Road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Kerr, to John Denton Swafford, son of Mrs. B.E. Cook, of Grand Prairie, Tex., and Thomas W. Swafford, a rancher, of Birthright, Tex. The wedding is planned for early October, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Miss Brown attended European and New York schools, the University of Florence and was graduated from Wellesley College and Columbia University School of Law. She is a member of the Texas and Louisiana Bars, and is on the legal staff of Exxon USA in New Orleans, La.

Her fiance, a graduate of the University of Texas, is a Certified Public Accountant and is employed by Texaco, Inc. in Houston, Tex.

Brian inspires NMI Boosters

BRIAN CAFMEYER, of Orchard Lake, a charming little boy with a high I.Q. — but also with a speech problem — flashes his dimples when he "talks" via the Handi Voice machine he demonstrated to members of the NeuroMuscular Institute Boosters at a recent finalizing-of-plans get-together for their fifth annual NMI benefit dinner dance, to be held Saturday, May 1, at the Detroit Golf Club.

Brian thinks this is his lucky year, as the Boosters have chosen him as their Inspiration Child for the May Day party. He and his family, Mr. and Mrs. James Cafmeyer and a sister, will be special guests at the dinner dance, along with all the Inspiration Children of the past four years and their families.

Brian, an adopted child, was born with cerebral palsy. He was unable to walk until Dr. Castle performed four operations to separate his legs. He is now able to walk and run. His hearing is not impaired but his speech is, and although he is making progress with a speech therapist, doors really began to open for him when he learned to read and write, for writing was his primary tool of communication.

Now, through the marvels of computers and the unique voice machine, on loan to him from the Oakland Schools, Brian is really making himself heard and it is fascinating to see the way he understands the conversation that flows around him.

The Handi Voice process seemed quite complicated to Boosters who gathered at the DGC to meet Brian and his family and complete plans for the upcoming party, but Brian understands it completely. To use it, he first has to be able to read. Then he touches certain buttons on the machine, directing it to repeat his responses and comments vocally. Sometimes he closes his eyes to better concentrate on hearing his own message — which comes through in a strong, adult man's voice.

Brian is particularly lucky in his family. His sister, also adopted, is devoted, loving and caring. His father works at IBM and is naturally interested in the miracles of technology. His mother is a French teacher at a Montessori school. Mr. and Mrs. Caf-meyer are both working on a project involving several schools, including the Eagle School that Brian attends, to help children learn HOW to read. They've seen their own son blossom through reading. They've seen his personality expand as his ability to communicate by writing messages has expanded.

Some of the money raised by the Boosters in recent years has gone to buy a voice machine for NMI, and for the many services needed to supply such a program. NMI is now a part of Mount Carmel's Orthopaedic Surgery Department. It has widespread community support, thanks in large part to the Boosters.

Their dinner dance program this year calls for cocktails at 7 p.m. and dinner at 8:30, giving party-goers plenty of time to table hop and visit with the Inspiration Children and their families before dancing, to music by Jack Qualey and his Orchestra, begins. During the evening, NMI's Humanitarian Award will be presented to Edward Turner, a past Boosters president, for his interest in, work for and generosity to NMI's Crippled Children.

Party donation is $75 per person. Reservation checks and/or donations, payable to NMI Boosters, should be mailed to Boosters Club, NeuroMuscular Institute for Crippled Children, 1996 Old Pond Court, Birmingham, Mich. 48009.

Village Garden Club to meet

Longtime Grosse Pointers look forward each spring to driving by the home of Dr. Marriion U Scott to see the profusion of early season flowers in bloom there, and members of the Village Garden Club have a special treat in store for them tomorrow, Friday, April 23, for Dr. Scott will be addressing the group, speaking on the subject of "Daffodils."

Patty Brooks is opening her Meadow Lane home for the meeting. A business session will precede luncheon. Mrs. Brooks will be assisted by Mrs. Emil F. Traum, Mrs. K.W. Cunningham and Mrs. William J. Scott Sr., who will be among those listening to what her son, who comes by his love of gardening naturally (Dr. and Mrs. William Scott are both avid gardeners; Mrs. Scott is a Village Garden Club member), has to say.

Mrs. Walter G. Bernard is the garden club's president

Fashion in the family . . .

Farms residents ED and JEAN SMITH are fitted at Jacobson's for the active-sportswear they will model at the fashion show to be presented as part of a benefit breakfast for the Cottage Hospital Hospice Program next Thursday, April 29, at 9 a.m. in the St. Clair Room of Jacobson's in-the-Village. For more about the breakfast, which also features Marilyn Jay's talk on "Creating Your Own Stress Free Environment" and a demonstration of relaxation techniques by the founders of Vital Options, Inc., plus where and how to go about getting tickets, check out this week's "From Another Pointe of View."

The Community LINC

By Susie Rohde

Meet Mable Eckman. Mable has recently joined Operation LINC's volunteer ranks. She is a dedicated worker and we are lucky to have her. LINC relies on community volunteers, like Mable, to get a variety of jobs done.

She enjoys working with inventory in our storeroom. On a weekly basis, Mable sorts men's, women's and children's clothing so that it is readily available for agency representatives. Mable finds volunteer work at LINC to be rewarding, as she directly serves people in need in the metropolitan Detroit area. She has enjoyed a life-long dedication to volunteerism in many places, such as Detroit Receiving and Memorial Hospitals, Veterans Hospital in Allen Park and others. She is presently working with the shut-in program at the Calvary Senior Center in Detroit.

Our hats off to you, Mable, for your SUPER efforts and contributions to the community. We at LINC love having you with us and look forward to a long and mutually rewarding association.

Our hats also go off to LINC's Peg Upmeyer and Sue Stein for their efforts in planning our First Annual Flea Market. This spring fundraiser, an event for the entire family, will be staged Saturday, May 22, at Brownell Middle School from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The market will feature craft items, baked goods, bedding plants, art objects and much more.

A children's playroom will be available, with clowns, magicians and popcorn. There'll even be a raffle. There will also be a room with babysitters to supervise the very young ones.

Peg and Sue have been extremely busy putting together tables to rent. They are presently looking for tables to sell any Flea Market items, crafts, fine art and produce. If you have any ideas for Peg or Sue, please call the LINC office, 331-6700. We appreciate your support. See you at the Flea Market.

Four Kappa Delta awards presented

Kappa Delta sorority, which has a collegiate chapter at Wayne State University and four alumnae associations in the Detroit metropolitan area, presented awards of $2,500 each in mid-January to four doctors for outstanding research in the field of orthopaedics.

Recipients of the awards presented by Mrs. Beverly Sibley, national secretary of Kappa Delta, at Penn Hall of the Rivergate Convention Center in New Orleans during a meeting of the Orthopaedic Research Society and the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons were:

- Richard A. Brand, M.D., University of Iowa Department of Orthopaedic Surgery, whose research project is entitled "Muscle and Joint Force Predictions and Their Uses"

- Alfred B. Swanson, M.D., Grand Rapids, who is working on a long term study of "Bone Remodeling Phenomena in Flexible (Silicone) Implant Arthroplasty in the Hand."

- Gary E. Friedlaender, M.D., Yale University Department of Orthopaedic Surgery, who is studying "Apropos Bone Allografts"

- H. Clarke Anderson, M.D., University of Kansas Medical Center Department of Pathology and Oncology, who is studying "Matrix Vesicle Calcification."

Kappa Delta has contributed more than $100,000 to orthopaedic research through these awards, established in 1949. In 1979, one was named "The Elizabeth Winston Lanier Orthopaedic Research Award" to honor the former national president of Kappa Delta who first proposed that the sorority support orthopaedic research.

Collegiate chapters and alumnae associations nationwide contribute to Kappa Delta's philanthropic activities on behalf of orthopaedics and crippled children through purchase and use of specially-designed Christmas seals and local fund raising projects.

Another Designers' Show House
 Grosse Pointe's Designers' Show House, a project of the Junior League of Detroit for the benefit of the metropolitan community, is located on Lakeshore Road, and will be open during May — but did you know there's another Designers' Show House to be open May 1 through 23 on the Other Side of Town?

This second Designers' Show House is located at 2954 Chambord Drive, off Middlebelt, between Lone Pine and Walnut Lake Roads in West Bloomfield. Its theme is "Living with Art," which makes great sense as it's a benefit for Michigan Artrain, the nation's only touring art museum. The Artrain committee will staff the West Bloomfield Show House with guides in each room, to assist patrons and to describe the decor and artwork. Grosse Pointe's Carolyn Pearson and Jeanette Weiss, of Detroit, are in charge of volunteers.

The project will be launched next Thursday, April 29, with a special champagne preview party at the home beginning at 6 p.m. Information on preview tickets at $25 per person may be obtained by calling Artrain, 871-2913. The Show House will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday, from 6 to 9 p.m. Thursday evenings when special activities including a wine bar ($1 donation), cooking demonstrations (with samples) and live piano music will be featured, and from noon to 4 p.m. Sundays. Tickets are $5 at the door (4 if purchased before May 1), and there's a special rate of $3.50 for Senior Citizens and groups of 20 or more.

Artrain also will receive the proceeds from this evening's 5 to 9 p.m. get-together at The Design Center, located on Stutz Drive in Troy. It's the first time the wholesale showcase for more than 450 manufacturers of home furnishings and accessories has opened its showrooms to the public (normally, only interior designers and architects have entry). Information on tickets at $15 per person, including light refreshments, may be obtained by calling 871-2910.

A Night in Thailand
 The Thai community of Detroit will celebrate the 200th anniversary of the founding of the city of Bangkok this Saturday, April 24, with an evening of movies, Thai music and classical dancing and demonstrations of the remarkable art of Thai fencing starting at 6:30 p.m. in the Hall of the Armenian Church on Twelve Mile Road, just east of Northwestern Highway.

The program is open to the public. Information on tickets at $15 per person may be obtained by calling 538-4476. Dinner is of course included, and those who do not like Thai food, reports Mark C. Stevens, of Moross Road, Detroit's Royal Thai Consul, will also be accommodated. "It is interesting to note," Mark adds, "that an important capital city of the Orient should be significantly younger than our own City of Detroit — which is 81 years older than Bangkok."

A Concert in The Pointe
 Pat and John Junker are opening their Nottingham Road home this Sunday afternoon, April 25, at 4 p.m. for a special concert to benefit the Music Scholarship Fund of the Detroit Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, an international professional music fraternity. Guests will have the pleasure of hearing a renowned Detroit area trio consisting of Glenn Basham, violin, Leelo Basham, flute, and Fontaine Laing, piano.

Mr. Basham, a member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, is originally from Pompano Beach, Fla., and a graduate of North Carolina School of the Arts. He is a winner of the Oakway Symphony Concerto Competition and a recital performer with the Palmer Woods Chamber Music Society and "Nightcap with Mozart." Mrs. Basham, a Concerto Competition winner like her husband (but with the Rochester Symphony), was recently heard in concert with "Music for A While" at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House.

Fontaine Laing appears regularly in "Brunch with Bach" at the Detroit Institute of Arts, with the Birmingham Temple's Vivace Series and as soloist and accompanist at the Ford House. The Bashams and Mrs. Laing performed together early in March at the Farmington Community Center.

Although there is no admission charge, concert-goers will be given the opportunity to donate toward scholarships awarded annually to young performers at Wayne State and Eastern Michigan Universities and Olivet College. Locally, Detroit Mu Phi Epsilon Alumni also support the WSU Choral Union, the Rochester Symphony, the Detroit Symphony and Interlochen National Music Camp. On an international level, Mu Phi Epsilon sponsors young artists concert tours, a musicological research contest, an artist-in-residence program at Brevard Music Center, N.C., and Gad's Hill Music Settlement School in Chicago.

Chapters of the organization extend as far as Manila in The Philippines. Pat Junker is president of the Detroit Alumni group. Further information on it, or on Sunday's benefit concert, may be obtained by calling 823-1721 or 331-8942.

Parents teach alcohol habits

Are we teaching our kids to become alcoholics? The question is startling but frighteningly relevant in light of the fact that 14 million Americans suffer from alcohol abuse. The father who heads for the martini pitcher at 5 p.m. in order "to relax" and the mother who says she needs a drink sips it and sighs with relief are both teaching their children a lesson that won't be forgotten.

Dr. Morris E. Chafetz, founding director of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, says in the March issue of Families: "Obviously the problem is not in the substance itself. It's in the use and attitudes toward drinking. We have a tendency to take our liquor as we live life — rapidly and tensely. The general aim is to feel 'good' in the shortest period of time."

The message that alcohol can be used as a painkiller, for instant relaxation or as a mood alterer causes kids to wonder why one should suffer at all when relief can be had so easily. Can parents prevent this message from reaching their child? Dr. Chafetz believes they can.

"Despite outside pressures," he asserts, "parents are still a great influence. By serving as models of sensible and healthy alcohol use, we can lower the chances that our children will develop destructive drinking practices. Responsible use of alcohol at home is our number one bulwark against alcohol abuse."

Here are some guides that can help you encourage your child to treat alcohol with respect:

- Refrain from giving alcohol a romantic allure by putting it under lock and key or by equating its use with manhood and maturity.
- Phrases such as "I need a drink" infer that a quick drink sends troubles away. Avoid them.
- Try not to attach any particular importance to the fact that someone drinks or doesn't drink.

'Clam Sister' dinner benefit date at DAC

Sister Arline Schmeer, O.P., Ph.D., noted cancer research scientist, will be the special guest and speaker at a benefit dinner dance Friday, April 30, at the Detroit Athletic Club. The fund raiser will help the "Clam Sister," as she is known worldwide by her colleagues and supporters, continue her work with Mercenene, the non-toxic anti-cancer agent she has discovered in clams, at the Mercenene Cancer Research Institute, the Hospital of Saint Raphael, New Haven, Conn.

Among those serving on the benefit committee chaired by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard P. Costello Jr., of Bloomfield Hills, is Grosse Pointe's Mrs. Frank Couzens Jr. Reservations for the $100-per-person black tie evening during which Father William T. Cunningham, co-founder and executive director of Focus: Hope, will receive the Golden Clam Award may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Costello at 851-8501.

Sister Arline's studies, which have been independently confirmed by such leading medical scientists as Nobel Prize winner Dr. Albert Szent-Gyorgyi and Dr. Andrew Hegyell of the National Cancer Institute, have shown 80 to 100 percent regression of malignancies in mice after treatment with Mercenene — without apparent side effects.

Proceeds from the DAC benefit, which includes cocktails at 7 p.m., dinner at 8:30, the program and dancing, will assist the Dominican nun in projected testing on dogs with spontaneous cancers: a final FDA requirement before clinical studies can begin on humans.

Trowel, Error Club to meet

Grosse Pointe's Trowel and Error Garden Club meets today, Thursday, April 22, at 12:30 p.m. in the Prestwick Road home of Mrs. Jon Cook who will be assisted by co-hostess Mrs. Burlie Arnold. Deanna Stephens, of the Grosse Pointe Rose Society, will talk on Miniature Roses.

Jennifer caught in fancy flight

Jennifer Noyer, teacher, choreographer, performer, will appear in concert with Bess Bonnier, pianist, and Joe LoDuca, guitarist, Saturday, May 1, at 8 p.m. at the Punch and Judy Theatre, performing with The Dance Ensemble of which she is also director and choreographer.

Ms. Noyer was born in New York City and studied there for seven years with Hanya Holm. She first performed at the Charles Weidman Studio Theatre in Greenwich Village; later, in Colorado Springs, she danced Mahler's "Kinder Toten Lieder," choreographed by Ms. Holm. After graduation from the University of Michigan she taught dance in Honolulu for a year before returning to Detroit to teach for Wayne State University's Dance Workshop, where both her choreography and individual performances were enthusiastically received at university concerts.

Five years after her three children were born, Jennifer choreographed, directed and performed with the Festival Dancers of the Jewish Community Center, touring with them throughout Michigan, performing at colleges, universities and churches. After taking a Masters degree in Humanities at WSU and doing extra graduate work in dance at the University of Michigan, she appeared with the critically-acclaimed Nonce Dance Ensemble and initiated a liturgical dance group, "Friends Who Dance," which has performed during the past two years in Grosse Pointe, Detroit and Birmingham churches.

She directed the dance program at Cranbrook-Kingswood Schools and is now dance director at University Liggett School. In January of this year the new ULS theater presented its first professional concert, produced by Ms. Noyer. It featured the works of dance faculty members at the Detroit Community Music School, the Jewish Community Center and University Liggett.

The work "Kiva," based on an Indian legend and reflecting Ms. Noyer's rich background in literature, to be seen at the May 1 concert at the Punch and Judy, was premiered at the ULS concert.

GUERIN WILKINSON, of Woodland Place, was named to the Dean's List for the fall, 1981 term at the University of Michigan School of Natural Resources.

Bess Bonnier, "Detroit's First Lady of Jazz," pianist-in-residence at the Detroit Institute of Arts where she plays Sunday afternoons in the very cosmopolitan Crystal Gallery, is currently entertaining the lunch and dinner crowd at the Summit Restaurant in RenCen's Westin Hotel. She has played at many popular Detroit area dinner spots and has made numerous television appearances, both solo and as a member of the Jack Brokensha Trio.

Joe LoDuca has a solid following as a classical and jazz guitarist, composer and recording artist. His appearance last September at the Montreux/Detroit Festival drew enthusiastic reviews, as did his appearance the following month at the Detroit Institute of Arts with the famed Ralph Towner. LoDuca is currently performing regularly at Twenny's Cafe.

Tickets for the May 1 concert, presented by Women's Business Journal Inc., are $10. MasterCard and VISA phone orders will be accepted at 855-1900 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays, at 884-6442 evenings and weekends. Tickets are also available at Breeza Printing, 20780 Mack Avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods.

Benefit recital at Marygrove

A benefit recital Sunday, May 2, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at Marygrove College for the Immaculate Heart of Mary Sisters Retirement Fund will feature two talented professional sopranos from Marygrove's Music Department: Emillia Cundari and Sister Rose Carmel Burgess, I.H.M., who has accompanied many Grosse Pointe students of Doris Pagel and will accompany Ms. Cundari while she is performing vocally.

Sister Burgess, in turn, will be accompanied by prominent Grosse Pointe pianist Janet Young, who is associated with the local "Music for a While" series and performs duo-piano with fellow Pointer Virginia Shover.

The recital will be held in Denk Chapman Hall of the Madame Cadillac Building on the Marygrove campus, West McNichols at Wyoming. Donations will be accepted at the door. Proceeds will go to the retired I.H.M. Sisters in Monroe, many of whom have served in local parish schools and at Marygrove as teachers, counselors, librarians and administrators.

Both Ms. Cundari and Sister Burgess are Marygrove alumnae. Ms. Cundari, Marygrove Voice and Opera instructor, has studied at the City Center Opera in New York and the Kathryn Long School of the Metropolitan Opera and has performed at leading opera houses, including New York's Metropolitan and La Scala of Milan, and music festivals around the world. She has sung with some of the leading symphony conductors in the world, including Max Rudolf, Bruno Walter and John Barbirolli. Her recordings span several operas with Columbia and Angelicum.

Sister Burgess, who holds a Master of Arts degree in Music from Wayne State University, has sung and played the piano extensively throughout the Detroit metropolitan area. She has been the piano accompanist for Marygrove's Music and Dance Departments for six years.

A busy Macomb Secretaries' month

Members of the Macomb Chapter of Professional Secretaries International gathered Wednesday, April 14, at the JAG in Roseville for their annual monthly dinner meeting, featuring a program on "Job Satisfaction" presented by Patricia Rapp, secretary, General Motors Training and Development.

The chapter was represented at "Career Path to Professionalism," a Future Secretaries Association seminar sponsored by the Michigan Division of PSI, running from 8:45 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Saturday, April 17, at the Warren Chateau, and honored its Secretary of the Year, Diane Bachmann, Certified Professional Secretary, and announced the name of its 1982 Boss of the Year Wednesday, April 21, at the Hillcrest Country Club. The Macombers, students at Macomb Community College, provided musical entertainment at this 28th Annual Executive Night.

Yachtswomen to see fashions

Fashions from Mount Clemens' Belle Buoy will be featured at Yachtswomen's annual benefit fashion show Saturday, May 1, at the Rooster-tail. Among those planning this year's party, which begins with cocktails at 11:30 a.m. and includes luncheon, to be served at 12:45, are Grosse Pointers Jean Bartos, Helen Jean Reichling and Beverly Stevenson.

More are Emily Abele, Beatrice Burke, Kay Crowe, Susan Dubbs, Carolyn Hodgson, Marjorie Huggins, Jean Krantz, Alice Piggott, Evelyn Kletzka, Ruth Lowmaster and Nancy Reynolds.

Proceeds will go to the Dossin Great Lakes Museum (in memory of Robert E. Lee), Mariners Church, the Lake St. Clair Advisory Committee (to support the walleye rearing program), the United States Navy Sea Cadet Corps (headquartered at Selfridge Field) and the Detroit Police Harbor Master.

Set Bon Secours Guild Festivity

The Bon Secours Hospital Guild will sponsor a card party, featuring luncheon and prizes, next Tuesday, April 27, from noon to 3:30 p.m. in the hospital's Science Hall. Tickets at 47 per person may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Charles Danton at 881-4553 or 775-6496.

Because parking is limited on the hospital grounds, card party participants are asked to park at Neff Park on Jefferson Avenue, between University Place and Lakeland Avenue from where a shuttle service will run to and from Bon Secours.

Christ Church Co-op to hold open house

The Cooperative Nursery at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, located on Grosse Pointe Boulevard next to Grosse Pointe South High School, will hold open house next Wednesday, April 28, from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Parents and their children are invited to observe both three- and four-year old classes involved in typical nursery activities. Applications and information about the school will be available.

Further information on the open house and/or the school may be obtained by calling Anne Fields, 843-4322, or Beatrice Skinner, 885-8332.

Five Pointes Club convenes

Five Pointes Garden Club met Monday, April 19, at noon in the North Shore Drive home of Mrs. Leonard Rochte, where luncheon was served and annual reports were presented.

Woods Church Women plan fashion lunch

The Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church will "Sail into Spring" Thursday, April 29, via a luncheon and fashion show program starting at 12:30 p.m. in the Church Fellowship Hall.

Committee members serving under Mary Dykstra, general chairman, include Betty Kirk, luncheon chairman, Eudene Adams, tickets and reservations, Evelyn Donahue, decorations, and Dorothy Spiros, programs and publicity. Modeling the "Sail into Spring" styles from Casual Corners of Eastland will be church members Debbie D'Arcy, Michelle Gier, Sophia Hull, Eve Porter, Wendy Swikowski and Anita Wilson, with coiffures by Colosseum 2000 Salon.

Piano music during the fashion show will be by Charlotte Bradley, Patricia Nelson will sing a solo, accompanied on piano by Lois Johns.

The luncheon is open to the public. Tickets may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Adams, 881-3270, or the church office, 886-4300. A nursery will be available. Party proceeds will augment the Detroit Presbytery's Faith Goal.

Planning a Spring Fling . . .

Grosse Pointe Woods Boat Club Vice Commodore PAUL CARUSO and his wife HARRIETTE (left) and PATT and DICK KOLLER, chairing the party the Boat Club has planned for Friday, May 7, at the Woods Lakefront Park, get together to check out final details for the spring festivity. Membership in the club is open to all Grosse Pointe Woods residents, boaters and non-boaters alike. Further information may be obtained by contacting Commodore Gil DeSandy at 884-0055.

Artists Market focus on glass

"Michigan Glass '82," an exhibit of contemporary studio glass by Michigan artists, opened last Friday, April 16, with a 5 to 7:30 p.m. reception at the Detroit Artists Market gallery, located on Randolph Street, where it will run through Saturday, May 22.

The juried, biennial show, presented in conjunction with Michigan Glass Month, surveys a wide range of glass art expression, including blown and stained glass and enamel. The artists, combining traditional craftsmanship with modern industrial processes, are able to evolve individual styles similar to those found in contemporary sculpture and painting. An illustrated catalog will be available at the gallery.

Church groups meet April 27

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational and American Baptist Church has scheduled group meetings for next Tuesday, April 27, with Lydia and Mary Groups joining forces for a program on self-defense, presented by an officer of the Detroit Crime Prevention Bureau, at 10:30 a.m. in the Church Lounge.

Each member of each group has been asked to bring a four-serving size of her favorite salad for the noon luncheon following the self-defense program.

Naomi Group members will be bringing brown bag lunches to the Church's Friendly Service Room for their 11 a.m. meeting. Dessert and beverage will be furnished. The group will be working on items for next fall's Christmas Mart.

Sarah Group also plans to work on a project for the Christmas Mart. Members will gather at 11:30 a.m. in the University Place home of Mrs. Howard Price, who will be assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. Ralph Bressler and Mrs. Roy Jacobs. Luncheon will be served.

"Michigan Glass '82" is one of 25 glass-related activities presented by galleries, museums and educational centers to mark Michigan Glass Month, and one of eight exhibits displayed this year by the Detroit Artists Market where, in addition to the formal exhibit on the ground floor, works of art including drawings, paintings, jewelry, pottery, sculpture, photographs, textiles and mixed media, in styles ranging from traditional to avant garde, are available in the Upper Gallery.

The Artists Market is a non-profit gallery, founded in 1932, open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, which exhibits and sells works of Southeastern Michigan artists. Mrs. Michael G. Van Lokeren, of Beverly Road, is president of its board of directors.

Herb Babcock, section chairperson of the Glass Department, Center for Creative Studies, will discuss the history of glass, focusing on contemporary Michigan artists, at 12:15 p.m. Thursday, April 29. Coffee will be provided. Brown bag lunches may be brought in. Reservations for the lecture, which is open to the public and will include slides, may be made by calling 962-0337.

Magic shows at Youtheatre

Detroit Youtheatre salutes Cub and Boy Scouts this Saturday, April 24, with two performances of "The Great Houdini," a live musical biography of the legendary magician, in the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium/theater. Tickets for the 11 a.m. or 2 p.m. shows, at $2.50 for children and adults ($1.75 each in groups of 10 or more), may be purchased in advance through the museum ticket office, 832-2730, and at the door.

This presentation, which mixes magic and illusion with an original musical score, is especially designed for families with young people ages seven and up. Children younger than five will not be admitted to the theater.

Each season, Youtheatre designates several of its "Something Every Saturday" October through May programs as special salutes to young people's service organizations, such as Cub and Boy Scouts, Brownie and Girl Scouts, Blue Birds and Camp Fire members. Troop leaders who wish to participate in these salutes are invited to call the Art Institute ticket office for further information.

"Paintings and Constructions on Wood" by Detroit artist Brian Fekete, whose work is characterized by vibrant color overlaid on crude forms, is on exhibit until tomorrow, Friday, April 23, at the Detroit Artists Market's Other Space on the seventh floor of Hudson's Downtown store.

To salute Duke at DIA concert

Duke Ellington's 83rd birthday will be celebrated next Thursday, April 29, at 8 p.m. in the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium where jazz historian David Chertok will show film clips of the late composer and veteran drummer J.C. Heard will lead a seven-piece band in transcriptions of Ellington arrangements. Tickets, at $4 per person, are available from the museum's ticket office, 832-2730, and at the door.

Judelaire set benefit concert

The Judelaire, directed by De Shaheen, will present a benefit concert Sunday, April 25, at 8 p.m. at Dominican High School, Whittier near Harper in Detroit. Ticket information may be obtained by calling 882-8503.

Convvene School of Government

The School of Government, Inc., ended its 41st season Wednesday, April 21, with a meeting at the Detroit Athletic Club during which annual reports of officers and committee chairpersons were presented and for which a surprise program was arranged by chairperson Dorothy McIntyre.

Speakers during the past year have been Dr. Thomas Bleel and Detroit Deputy Police Chief James Bannon, both at the DAC; Michigan's Lieutenant Governor James Brickley, at Hudson's; Mrs. Marie Winstedt, at the Detroit Boat Club; and Lieutenant Colonel Donald Odell, at the Country Club of Detroit.

Members sought by Detroit YWCA

The YWCA of Metropolitan Detroit has selected "Invest in Yourself-Join the YWCA . . . It's Still the Best Buy in Town" as theme for its current membership campaign, and is seeking 1,300 new and renewal members before the campaign closes Friday, May 14.

A campaign workers' recognition will be held Saturday, May 15, in conjunction with the Metro Detroit YW's 90th annual meeting, during a champagne brunch running from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the YWCA's Downtown Branch on Witherell Street.

"With sky-rocketed costs of high unemployment, we find it a real challenge to keep up with our budget and keep costs down for our members," says Maxine Martin, YWCA president. "Although we are a Torch Drive Agency, we pay over 64 percent of our own way. Our membership campaign is one of the ways we raise funds to enhance services for our members."

A basic YWCA adult membership is $20 per year. Fee for girls 17 and under is $10. Men and boys' associate memberships are offered at the same rates, and a Senior Citizens membership at a reduced rate of $15 has been added.

Taste Marvel!

Latest research confirms MERIT delivers the taste of cigarettes having up to twice the tar.

• Many low tar cigarettes make taste promises. But only 'Enriched Flavor,' MERIT offers proof not promises. Proof through extensive smoker taste tests.

MERIT Taste Does It.

In impartial new tests where brand identity was concealed, the overwhelming majority of smokers reported MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading higher tar brands. Even brands with up to twice the tar.

Moreover, when tar levels were revealed, 2 out of 3 chose the MERIT combination of low tar and good taste.

MERIT Taste Sparks Switch.

In a separate part of this extensive new study, MERIT smokers report that taste is a major factor in completing their successful switch from higher tar brands.

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 former higher tar smokers say MERIT is an easy switch, that they didn't give up taste in switching, and that MERIT is the best-tasting low tar they've ever tried.

Year after year, in study after study, MERIT remains unbeaten. The proven taste alternative to higher tar smoking—is MERIT.

Seek Detroit Polish Festival '82 Queen

The Polish Festival of Detroit committee is searching for a young lady of Polish extraction, age 18 through 23, to reign as Queen over its festival on the Detroit riverfront Aug. 13 through 15. Contestants will be judged on Polish culture and current events by a panel including Carol T. of the Detroit News, Judge Virginia Sobotka, Fairlane artist-in-residence Curtis Posuniak, Hamtramck City Councilman Paul Odobrina and retired businessman Edward Holda. Applicants are asked to send a recent photo, name, address, telephone number and resume to Mrs. Helene Pierce, 7319 Yinger, Dearborn, Mich. 48126. Deadline is Friday, April 30.

Pointer of Interest

By Peggy O'Connor

Toni Robinson jokes that she's been around the Grosse Pointe Academy so long she may soon be designated an historical landmark. That may not be such a bad idea, since the Grosse Pointe Academy without Toni Robinson is — well — hard to imagine.

Toni started out in the Sacred Heart Academy's grade school and — with time out for Manhattanville College, the University of Florence and a Bachelor of Science degree in design from the University of Michigan, for marriage to Walter Robinson and mothering of Lee, 20, Julie, 17, Grace, 16, and Lynn, 10 — she has ended up back at the Academy. Toni is entering her 10th year as president of the board of trustees of the Academy in its present structure.

She is a co-founder of the Academy's present structure . . . and very proud of it. "The building will be 100 years old in 1983 and the school will be 100 years old in 1985. We still have the original site, original philosophy of education and original school charter — those are all constants.

"The school's management and official ownership changed in 1969 from being owned by the Society of the Sacred Heart to becoming a public trust governed by a board of trustees."

THIS ACADEMY ALUMNA and former boarding student is quite candid about the importance the school has in her life. "Next to my husband and family, the Academy has really been the most important part of my life for the past 13 years. Working for the Academy has been tremendously worthwhile.

"I've always felt that the Academy with its unique philosophy of education is very necessary for Grosse Pointe and metropolitan Detroit. The word unique is important . . . because of the Academy's dedication to both the individual child and the child as a whole person."

The dedication Toni speaks of comes from many sources, another aspect of education at the Academy of which she is very proud. "We have a very dedicated, competent faculty and an outstanding parent group whose support is fantastic.

"Visiting consultants tell us they have not seen such a degree of devotion and hard work on the part of parents elsewhere."

Although parents and staff coordinate events throughout the year, the largest and perhaps most important event of the year is the Grosse Pointe Academy's Action Auction. This year's Action Auction is set for Saturday, May 8, at the Detroit Athletic Club.

THE SILENT AUCTION will take place from 4 to 6 p.m. Auctioneer Lawrence DuMouchelle will conduct the live auction from 7 to 9 p.m. Dinner is optional and reservations are limited.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Van Osdol, of Lakeshore Road are honorary chairmen for the event. General chairmen for the Action Auction are Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Mercier, of Grosse Pointe Boulevard — but Maureen Mercier says that whether they've been working since September or will work only on auction night, each person in-involved in the event has turned in a job well done.

As usual, the acquisitions committee has done a great job obtaining auctionable items. Among the items and services to be auctioned on May 8 is a chance to march in the annual Detroit Thanksgiving Day parade — and pick up a fully-cooked stuffed turkey afterwards.

Other live auction items include a wild game dinner for eight, prepared and served in the bidder's home by Toni and Walter Robinson and Bob and Carole Peabody; a one-week stay in one of Acapulco's most elegant homes, Casa Patricia; 12 suite tickets to a choice of any special event at Joe Louis Arena; a cooking class with Chef Duglass; a five-minute shopping spree at F & M distributors and an all-expenses-paid trip to Walt Disney World for two children (an adult must accompany the children and pay air flight only).

Donations of art, sculpture, camping trips, tickets to football games and vacation trips to Kiawah Island, S.C., Spalding Inn in Whitefield, N.H., Port St. Lucie, Ponte Vedra Beach, Siesta Key and Clearwater, Fla., Walloon Lake, Charlevoix and Glen Arbor are other bid items.

A NEW CATEGORY this year is called Something Special and includes items like $4,000 worth of spot commercial advertising on WJR radio, a dozen matching service plates by Royal Worcester, an 18K gold lady's ring with two cabochon rubies surrounded by diamonds and a course in personal development and basic modeling from the John Robert Powers

School of Modeling. The list of auction items is long because the Action Auction '82 offers dozens of items for everyone — and all for a very good cause.

"It is our principal fund raising event and the culmination of an entire year's work on the part of everyone involved," Toni says. General chairman Maureen Mercier agrees. "It's not only a financial help, but of tremendous worth to the school. It's hard work, but brings out the creative part of a lot of people. There's an excitement that only the auction can bring."

Both Maureen Mercier and Toni Robinson say they cannot stress enough the amount of hard work the Action Auction requires. "Everybody has a part. The students sell tickets, teachers donate items, the alumni also contribute. And the parents . . . the Academy wouldn't be where it is without them," Toni says. Where the Academy is, Toni adds, is on the threshold of planning for its next five years to 10 years — building on the foundation set in the years since the 1969 reorganization. "We're just beginning our planning process and we intend to build on and further develop an already strong academic program that is keyed to our unique philosophy of individualized education."

As for the Action Auction, now in its 14th year, where it is is where it always is — successful. "The Action Auction is the leading school auction and an example of school auctions throughout the country," Toni says.

Considering the amount of hard work devoted Academy-lovers put into it, that's no surprise.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth presenting, this week, the main course in a nutritious ZUCCHINI DINNER.

Combination food dishes that span several food groups make meal planning easier and more nutritious. This menu, with zucchini as a main dish, can be used year-round and should be a favorite.

Baked Stuffed Zucchini*
Spiced Apple Rings
Fresh Corn Pudding
Hibb Lettuce Vinaigrette Dressing
Strawberry Snow*

BAKED STUFFED ZUCCHINI

- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/2 cup brown rice
- 1/2 cup minced onion
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/8 tsp. black pepper
- 1/8 tsp. mint flakes
- 1/8 tsp. dried dill weed
- 1/8 tsp. cinnamon
- 4 zucchini
- 1 lb. ground lamb or beef
- 1 cup tomato sauce
- 1/2 cup red wine

Combine garlic, rice, onion, salt, pepper, mint, dill weed, cinnamon and ground meat; mix until thoroughly blended.

Wash zucchini and trim ends. Scoop out seeds and chop; reserve. Stuff zucchini with meat mixture, making any extra into meat balls. Place in oven proof baking-serving dish. Combine tomato sauce and red wine. Add reserved chopped zucchini. Pour over stuffed zucchini. Cover and bake in preheated 325° oven about 1 hour or until zucchini is tender and rice is cooked. Makes 4 servings.

Calories about 340 per serving. Cholesterol about 80 mgs.

Have you tried one of Elegant Eating's past recipes, loved it — and lost it? T.G. Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth maintain a file of all Elegant Eating recipes published in the NEWS, and will be happy to replace any lost ones. Simply send a description title of the recipe, plus $1 postage handling/reproduction fee, to Elegant Eating, Grosse Pointe News, 99 Kercheval Avenue, Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich. 48236. Include your name and address, of course. Checks should be made payable to the Grosse Pointe News.

Pointers guide Detroit Institute for Children

Several Pointers are among those serving under John Courson, of Bloomfield Hills, recently re-elected president of the board of trustees at the annual meeting of the Detroit Institute for Children. Among them are vice-presidents Mrs. Stanley R. Day, David Lawrence Jr. and Donald McKnight, secretary Mrs. Edward S. Evans III and treasurer Mrs. Richard B. Platt.

Other trustee officers are Walter T. Murphy, of Birmingham, vice-president, and Arden W. Shafer Jr., of Troy, assistant treasurer.

Elected to three-year terms as trustees were Pointe residents Keith E. Crain, Mrs. William H. Dance, Charles F. Glass, Mrs. Peter O'Rourke and Joseph G. Standart Jr., with Ms. Waverly Burdell-Williams, of Detroit, Mrs. John Dudley Jr., of Ann Arbor, Mark R. Fisher, of Farmington Hills, and Mrs. Edward Navarra, of Birmingham. Farms resident Mrs. Sterling E. Graham Jr. was elected to a one-year trustee term.

The Institute, founded in 1920 by the Sigma Gamma Association, now partially funded by the United Foundation, is located on Woodward Avenue. It is an outpatient diagnostic and treatment center for physically and neurologically disabled children.

Ethnic Sunday focus will be on Argentina

Detroit has seen Argentina through Broadway eyes via "Evita." Now this Sunday, April 25, an authentic Argentina of Spanish guitars, stomping gauchos, rustling petticoats and sultry tangos comes to life between 2 and 4 p.m. at the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit, located on East Kirby Street across from the Institute of Arts in Detroit's University/Cultural Center.

Argentine Ethnic Sunday is presented by Grupo Gaucho Argentino, an ensemble of nine Argentine dancers and musicians who make their home in the metropolitan area. They promise an explanation of the unique costumes and background for each dance they perform.

In addition, there'll be an audiovisual tour of Argentina, provided by the Argentine Consulate in Chicago, and a sampling of Argentine foods including "loco" (a country stew made of pork, beef sausage, white corn and beans), "empanadas" (a meat pie featuring beef, onions, green peppers, eggs, olives and raisins), "matambre" (a meat roll with a vegetable center) and "alfajores" (pastry filled with caramel milk and dipped in coconut).

Cost for the entire afternoon, including food, is $5 for the general public, $4 for International Institute members. Advance reservations are necessary. Further information may be obtained by calling 871-8600. Ethnic Sundays, a series of monthly programs at the International Institute, spotlight different cultures of the world in presentations by area ethnic groups. The series concludes its spring cultural schedule with a German Wine Tasting May 23 and an International House Tour June 6.

The Institute, founded in 1920 by the Sigma Gamma Association, now partially funded by the United Foundation, is located on Woodward Avenue. It is an outpatient diagnostic and treatment center for physically and neurologically disabled children.

ULS netters win tourney

The University Liggett varsity tennis team traveled to Kalamazoo last week to participate in the Kalamazoo Loy Norrix Invitational. The field consisted of Three Rivers (last year's Class B runner-up), Kalamazoo Loy Norrix (last year's Class A runner-up), East Grand Rapids (last year's third place in Class B) and ULS (last year's state C-D champion).

Playing without their No. 1 player, Aaron Krickstein, the Knights still had enough team depth to win the tournament with 28 points. Three Rivers was second with 26, East Grand Rapids was third with 24 and Kalamazoo Loy Norrix fourth with 20.

The Knights had just one flight winner, Mike Paolucci and George Haggarty at No. 3 doubles. However, Steve Pack, at No. 1 singles, Frank Cruciatia at No. 2 singles and Mike Ottaway and John Polizzi, at No. 2 doubles all got to the finals of their flights.

The win marked the first time in four tries that the Knights have won this prestigious tournament.

On April 14, the Knights were defeated by a very strong Cranbrook team, 4-3. The winners for ULS were Krickstein at No. 1 singles, Pack at No. 2 singles and Paolucci and John MacLeod at No. 3 doubles. The Knights play Cranbrook again on May 18 in a match that may decide the No. 1 ranking for all schools in Michigan.

On April 23 and 24, University Liggett will host its Tournament of Champions. Participating schools include East Grand Rapids, Hinsdale (Illinois), Ann Arbor Huron, Brother Rice, Catholic Central, Grosse Pointe North, Three Rivers and ULS.

Play begins Friday at 3:30 p.m. and Saturday at 9 a.m. High school tennis at its best will be at University Liggett this weekend. Admission is free.

ULS track: The University Liggett School varsity boys track team has been busy preparing for its 1982 season and is looking forward to a strong year.

The 11 new members on the team this year are freshmen Carl Bradley, Dave Handelman, Norman Issa, Mike Hencin, Jack Ferris, Jim Cunningham, sophomores John Hadjisky, Tom Petzold and Charles Lapo and seniors Henry Bogle and Bob Swaney.

The team is coached by Jay Peacock and assisted by Doug Norris and Don Johnson.

The Knights' first home track meet is today, Thursday, April 22 at 4:15 p.m. vs. Oakland Christian followed by a home meet vs. Bethesda on Tuesday, April 27 at 4:15 p.m.

ULS girls' track: The ULS girls track team has begun the 1982 season despite the rain, snow and high winds. The Knights have been training from 6:30 to 8 a.m. at Macomb County Community College, in the halls of the Cook Road Campus and in their own homes.

Coach Candy Bousquet believes all of the additional training will be the key to a winning season. With 10 returning track team members and 18 new and eager ones, the Knights are looking forward to a good season.

As a pre-season warm-up for two of Liggett's stronger team members, coach Bousquet entered junior Andrea Kincannon and senior Kathy Duff in the Spartan Relays on April 9. Duff, who participated in the one and two mile races, did not run up to par. Kincannon brought home two first place medals, one in the 60 yard dash with a time of 7.5 seconds, and one in the long jump with a distance of 16 feet 7 inches.

The ULS girls track season officially opened April 20 with a meet against Ann Arbor Greenhills. The Knights open at home against Oakland Christian at 4 p.m. on Thursday, April 22.

Cheers for St. Clare...

Cheers for St. Clare School's varsity and fifth and sixth grade cheerleading squads are in order after the girls completed fine seasons, which included first place honors in the Dominican High School Invitational and in the Detroit East Side Divisional Tournament for the fifth and sixth graders. The squad finished second in the C.Y.O. finals. The varsity squad also took the East Side Tournament title and was a C.Y.O. finalist for 1982. At top, the varsity team includes, from left to right, (front

April date for AquaFit

The Department of Community Services of The Grosse Pointe Public School System is offering a four week AquaFit program at Pierce Middle School from 4:45 to 5:45 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays beginning April 27. This program is sponsored by Dance Slimnastics, Ltd., a non-profit aerobic fitness corporation.

Instructor Nancy Neily, of Grayton Road will show participants how to enjoy the soothing effect of the water while exercising to various musical routines choreographed to use every part of the body to the fullest extent. Muscles are strengthened, girth is decreased and joints are moved through their full range of motion and cardiovascular capacity is increased.

AquaFit was developed to adapt basic non-competitive dance exercise routines so that they can be done in 3 to 5 feet of water by non-swimmers and swimmers alike. The results are legs, leaps, stretches, kneelifts, and much more all done safely and aerobically in the water to music.

Classes are designed with warm-up, vigorous and cooldown routines. All movements are learned in the water. Exercise is continuous and the intensity is relatively constant for the entire hour with 10 second breaks allowed for monitoring the heart rate. Students are taught to work at their own pace and to strive to increase their workouts for the maximum aerobic benefit.

To register for the program, call 343-2160.

Rocky start for South varsity sandlot squad

Opening the season with a win, but falling on hard times after that, South's varsity baseball team closed out its first week of play at 1-3.

The Blue Devils' season opener was at home against Lakeview, and the Devils responded with a big win. Todd Pierce got the win in the 9-8 triumph, as the Devils pounded out 12 hits. Kurt Mauz and Dan Shine both knocked in two runs.

The Devils lost the second game that afternoon, 5-3, although starter Larry Law had a no-hitter for four innings.

The varsity then took on Grosse Pointe North in another doubleheader and lost both ends of the twin bill.

The Devils opened with a disappointing 3-0 loss despite the fine pitching of starter Jim Blondell. Blondell pitched a three hitter and gave up only one earned run in six innings, but lost when two South outfielders collided while chasing a fly ball.

Bill Crow started the next game and was hammered, 10-3. Crow and Joe Yott, who relieved him, gave up three home runs.

The varsity will take on Anchor Bay at home at 4 p.m. on Friday, April 23, and then will play at Midland Dow and Midland on Saturday, April 24. (By Kevin Roberts)

Stout-hearted...

Northern Michigan University diver Jodi Stout was one of 11 NMU swim team members who earned All-America recognition by placing nationally in the 1982 AIAW Division II swimming and diving championships at the University of Idaho March 12 and 13. Stout, a graduate of Grosse Pointe North High School, placed 15th in the three meter diving competition. A junior at NMU, Stout compiled 87.00 points as a diver this season, including three first, eight second and six third place finishes. NMU finished second at the championships and set five national AIAW-II records and 14 team marks in its best national showing ever.

YWCA plans spring sports

The Macomb YWCA will offer several spring sports programs. Registration for the programs begins the week of April 26 and continues through the week of May 3. Classes begin the week of May 10 and run for seven weeks. Pre-registration is necessary.

A basketball clinic, which includes instruction and organized games, will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4 to 5 p.m. The fee for the class is $7. Instructor is Linda Kerich.

Have fun and improve skill levels in basketball, volleyball, soccer and football in the Sports Activities Class. For first to third graders, the class meets Saturdays from 1 to 2 p.m.; for fourth through seventh graders, the class convenes from 2 until 3 p.m.

Saturdays. Fee is $4. Linda Kerich is instructor.

The YWCA will also offer swim programs for beginners, advanced beginners and recreational swimmers at Macomb County Community College Mondays from 8 to 10 p.m. The first hour is for instruction, the second for recreation. Fees for the four week class range from $7 to $12 for YWCA members, $9 to $14 for non-members.

A "Me and My Mom Swim Program" will be offered beginning June 24 from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. at South Lake High School. Fees are $12 for five weeks—and dads are welcome, too.

The Macomb YWCA is located on East 10 Mile Road in East Detroit. For further information, call the YWCA at 772-4435.

Power volleyball is popular with this crew—they've won the Neighborhood Club championship three straight times and are gunning for a fourth. The Wolverine Oil and Supply Company 1982 Winter League Volleyball

Power volleyball is popular

The fastest growing men's sport at the Neighborhood Club is power volleyball. Long thought of as a women's game, volleyball packs a punch when aggressive play and strategy take over—and men are loving it at the Neighborhood Club.

Five years ago, the Club had one season and seven teams. Today, the Club offers three seasons with over 300 men participating on 35 teams. The fall league runs from September through November with 13 teams; the winter league, new this year, goes from January through March with five teams and the spring league runs from March to May with 17 teams.

The post-season tournament begins on Thursday, April 29, at Brownell School. The tournament finals will take place on Thursday, May 13.

ULS emphasis on having fun

"The essential difference between our program and other programs is in our emphasis," says University Liggett Middle School Physical Education Director Tom Taber. "Here, we really believe that winning isn't everything. What is important is participation and doing your best."

It's clear to see what a difference this attitude makes on the students. Instead of sitting on the sidelines, everyone plays.

Girls' Physical Education instructor Romilly Stackpole is quick to agree with Taber. "Our main thrust is to teach kids some values of sport that we hope will remain with them the rest of their lives. We're far more interested in advancing skills than in building powerhouse teams."

The youngsters perceive the advantages of this philosophy. More than 70 percent of the Middle School students play on at least one of the school's teams. There are more than two dozen teams open to students each year, including football, field hockey, tennis, volleyball, basketball, lacrosse, soccer, ice hockey, baseball and softball.

"There's no doubt that finding time for these teams is our most difficult challenge," Taber adds. "Our middle schoolers have so many outside interests and academic responsibilities that they are reluctant to take on one more thing. However, we know from experience that participation in a sport not only helps students learn a skill, but also teaches them to make choices, accept responsibility and budget their time more effectively."

One student seemed to put the whole program into perspective when he said that "at University Liggett the coaches want to help you. We may not beat everybody, but we do pretty well and we have a great time!"

Skate for Heart set for May 23

Approximately 10,000 people are expected to participate in "Skate for Heart," a benefit for the Michigan Heart Association on Sunday, May 23. The event will be held at more than 40 roller skating rinks throughout the state.

Sponsored by the Roller Skating Rink Operators Association, Skate for Heart aims to promote good cardiovascular fitness and is expected to be the biggest fund-raising event ever held to benefit Michigan Heart.

Participants will have a chance to win prizes by obtaining sponsors before the event. Skaters who turn in $25 or more will receive Skate for Heart T-shirts. Those who turn in $75 or more will receive a T-shirt and a gym bag; and those who turn in $150 or more will receive a Skate for Heart windbreaker, gym bag and T-shirt.

In addition to the other prizes, the person at each rink who raises the most money over $500 will win a Sachs Suburban moped from LaParon's Sport, Inc. Grand prize in the event is a trip for two to Disneyland in Anaheim, Calif. The trip will be awarded by drawing from names of all persons who have turned in $500 or more.

Those who wish to participate must obtain registration packets in advance and may do so by calling the Michigan Heart Association at 557-9500 to find out the participating rink in their area or by calling their local roller skating rink.

Table tennis tourney set

The 1982 Michigan Schools Team Table Tennis Championships will be held at Cobo Hall Saturday, April 24, at 10:30 a.m. The event is sponsored by the Detroit Table Tennis Club.

The championships are open to any Michigan student in grades seven to 12. The three-person teams will participate in singles competition.

For further information on entries, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Art Wenzel, Grosse Pointe North High School, 707 Vernier Road, Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich., 48236. Call 882-2569.
