Boy, somebody out there really likes this paper. Jo Burcar, assistant to the publisher of our paper, came over with a check and a subscription renewal notice the other day.

That's not too unusual in and of itself, except this family was renewing the subscription to the Grosse Pointe News for another nine years!

Ordinary subscriptions run $13 annually or a discounted $34 for a three year renewal. This check was for $102. (Let's see... $34 times three... carry the one... uh... right — $102!)

Now there's a family with a sense of continuity and a belief in the future and this paper.

Either that or they own a fish market.

Our families

Sports columnist Peggy O'Connor and I got together for lunch the other day. During the course of the meal we talked about St. Patrick's Day, which in turn, led to our favorite stories about our crazy (on her side) and drunken (on my side) Irish relatives.

And I must admit, when it comes to looney tune stories about Irish relatives, Peggy's family beats out my family by a mile. I will also admit Greenwood is not an Irish name. It's English. Actually, it's "veddy English" as my grandmother Anne (Critchley) Greenwood, from Liverpool, England would confirm.

But my mother's maiden name was Irene Finn, and the blood of the Finn's and McGookin's from County Crazy runs in our veins. Both families lived on Lemay in Detroit, separated by Mack Avenue. It was a rather chilly reception when the Irish Catholic Finn family met the Anglican Greenwood family to discuss the impending marriage of Fred Greenwood, (my dad) to Irene Finn.

To this day, my grandmother refers to them as "those drunken Irish bums." She looked down on them because her father was a train station master back in Great Britain. And because she was English.

To her credit, it must be admitted she grew to love my maternal grandmother, Zada, (yes, Zada), Finn. My Grandma Finn told of the first time she met Grandfather George's Finn's family, headed by the infamous "Pap" Finn and sons Pat and Mike.

Dressed in her Sunday best, and determined to make a good impression, she took a streetcar to the house, only to see a half-dressed "Pap" chasing Mike around the outside of the home, shooting at him with a revolver.

Reportedly, my grandmother thought "My God, what have I gotten myself into?" But she married him anyway. "Pap" Finn missed Mike, who went on to spend 30 years in the Marine Corps, nearly dying from the flu and German bullets in France during World War I.

Grandpa Finn, who died when I was three, turned out to be a bit of a bum. He liked to drink and had a hard time holding down a job. According to my grandmother, he became rather surly when in his cups and used to bang her around a bit. But she cured him of that. One day she caught him advancing on her and cornered him with a hot iron, holding it about an inch from his face. "Touch me again," she said, "and I'll take this to you some night while you sleep."

He left her alone after that. My grandmother used to tell me I was lucky the only thing I ever inherited from the Finns were their green eyes. "You've got those mean Finn eyes," she'd say. "Count your blessings that's all you've got."

My mother's brother, Mickey Finn, was a minor league baseball pitcher with a talent for throwing gopher balls. During World War II he became an MP, with a talent for throwing drunken soldiers into the clink. I guess it was his "mean Finn eyes."

Not a very nice bunch. But ahhh, the O'Connors! Peggy has an Uncle Dick Ryan who, still to (Continued on Page 16A)

Former City Mayor John King is representing four restaurant owners who want to serve beer and wine to diners. He called the city council's latest move — to distribute petitions on the issue — "a waste of time."

Liquor's quicker — but not in City

By Susan McDonald

Grosse Pointe City's council seems determined to tip-toe up to the bar.

Acting on a request made six months ago by a coalition of local restaurant owners, city fathers decided this week to seek more feedback from citizens before they agree to issue liquor or tavern licenses. The city has been dry since 1919.

To poll residents, councilmembers agreed to distribute petitions next month along with the park passes issued every year throughout the community. The petitions ask if citizens want the question of issuing liquor licenses placed on the November ballot. An accompanying letter states that if more than 900 registered City voters sign petitions, a question on issuing only beer and wine licenses also will be placed on the ballot at the same time.

"We're trying to find out what the people think," explained Mayor Lorenzo Browning. "I want some indication of the sentiment of the people," echoed councilman Arthur Fellers. "This (petition) is our first attempt to do that."

The council has been studying the request since October, when former Mayor John King, an attorney, approached it on behalf of four area restaurants — the Merry Mouse, Clairpointe, Jacobson's and Ram's Horn.

The restaurant owners say they lose business because diners can't order wine or beer with their meals. They've criticized the council for delaying action on their request.

King said Monday that the petition drive is "unnecessary."

"The council could put this on the ballot itself. When people favor things, they tend not to get involved. I don't think you're going to get the 956 petitions you need," King said.

"It's a big waste of time."

But Andrew Moquin, of the Merry Mouse in the Village, said this week he is encouraged by the council's latest action.

"Of course, I'd rather be serving wine right now," Moquin said. "But this is certainly a step in the right direction, at least. I'm encouraged."

Moquin will formally open a "country French" addition to his Merry Mouse cheese shop on March 27. He'll serve luncheon and tea daily, including soups, salads, omelettes and sandwiches. "The menu just cries out for a glass of wine," he said.

The restaurant owners originally requested only tavern licenses be issued, allowing them to serve beer and wine for consumption on the premises. But city attorneys have advised the council that tavern licenses are often automatically upgraded to Class C licenses, allowing sale of hard liquor on premises.

"They inform me at the Liquor Control Commission that tavern licenses are almost non-existent these days," said City Attorney Richard Hinks. "They get a tavern license and within a matter of weeks they apply for Class C." There are now almost 7,000 Class C licenses in Michigan and less than 200 tavern licenses, according to Hinks.

Grosse Pointe City went dry, along with the rest of the nation, on Jan. 19, 1919, when the 18th Amendment to the Constitution went into effect. After prohibition was repealed, on Nov. 6, 1934, City residents voted 963-574 to continue the ban.

Park PSO meeting is tonight

By Susan McDonald

Grosse Pointe Park's study of possible consolidation of its police and fire departments into a public safety organization is proceeding with the second meeting of its citizen committee scheduled for tonight at 7 p.m. in city hall.

The committee, including bankers, lawyers and former Detroit police chief Philip Tannian, was appointed by Mayor Palmer Heenan earlier this year to fulfill one of the promises he made while campaigning for mayor last fall. Heenan has said he proposed the study to improve the efficiency of government and to "give more services for the taxpayers' dollars."

FIREFIGHTERS in the Park are opposed to the study and have boycotted talks with the city administration about the plan. They've also purchased advertisements and are distributing flyers to publicize tonight's meeting.

Citizen committee chairman Stephen Wasinger said there's no formal agenda for tonight.

"I hope to begin a discussion of the information we've received and just take it from there," Wasinger, an attorney, said. "I hope we'll establish some kind of time line for future talks tonight, too."

Patricia Forster, member of the Park city council and the citizen committee, said the committee has requested a great deal of research, most of it coming from city hall.

"I must have a hundred pounds of literature on public safety," Mrs. Forster said. Committee members have received reports on the existing structure of the department, crime reports, budgets, organizational charts and police reports for the last five years.

THE COMMITTEE'S JOB will be to determine if the Park can save money and improve services by abandoning its separate police and fire departments and creating a new public safety organization in which workers are dispatched to fight both crime and fires. Public safety departments already operate in Grosse Pointe Shores, the Woods and the City, which consolidated several years ago after a heated battle with firemen who opposed the plan.

Grosse Pointe Farms is also negotiating with its workers a plan to consolidate police and fire forces.

Other members of the citizen committee are Jerome Driscoll, an insurance executive; David K. Eastlick, Jr., attorney; William Harder, heating contractor; Louis Mieczko, reporter; John Hibbard, attorney; Camille Peterson, administrator; James Waterston, banker; Frederick Olds, government worker; John Holinari, a microbiologist; and John Hausner, a judge.

Mind games to test the best

By Susan McDonald

Ask a typical person to name different kinds of birds and you'll probably get predictable answers like "robin, cardinal and blue jay."

But pose the same question to one of the youngsters staying after school at Defer Elementary and you'll get answers like "Lady Bird and Thunderbird."

The students won't be criticized for their off-the-wall responses. They're staying after school to participate in the 1984 Olympics of the Mind, a program designed to promote just that kind of creative thinking.

The Olympics were designed by educators in New Jersey and are catching on all over the country and in Grosse Pointe, where seven teams have formed at Defer and two at Ferry Elementary School.

The teams of five or six students pick one of several long-term problems issued by a firm called Creative Competitions, Inc. and work out solutions. One such problem that has Defer students scratching their heads is the mousetrap, in which students are told to design a small car that can be propelled only by the snapping of a mousetrap.

"It's hard," says student Craig Kostecke. "You have to think harder than usual. But I think it's good."

The mousetrap team's coach,

Janice Campagna, is one of dozens of parents who have volunteered for the Olympics. She, like the others, believes the kids are getting something they don't normally receive in school.

"I think it's a real problem in our schools. We give kids analytical problems with exact solutions. This is the first time these kids have met with something that doesn't have an exact answer," Mrs. Campagna said.

"They're frustrated. They want to be able to open a book and figure it out. Their creative side has not been developed."

There are no easy answers to (Continued on Page 16A)

Ford home will fall to 16-lot subdivision

By Mike Andrzejczyk

The Park planning commission got its first look Tuesday at the proposed subdivision on the Ford estate between Jefferson Court and Bishop Lane in the Park. It may be six months before developers have collected all the necessary permits to begin construction, city officials said.

The preliminary drawings show the division of the property into 16 lots of about 11,800 square feet each. The city's zoning ordinance requires a lot of at least 10,000 square feet, officials said.

Part of the subdividing and developing by Cox and Baker, of Mack in the Woods, will include the raising of the 70-year-old three-story home on the property, built in 1914. The home contains a full basement, pine and hardwood floors and trim and features a gabled, wood-shingled roof, according to assessor's field sheets.

Developers from Cox and Baker were waiting for input from the planning commission to determine the size of the developable lots.

Before the construction begins, the developer has to collect a handful of permits from the city, county and state for water and sewer lines as well as site plan and elevation approvals, officials said.

The home and roughly four-and-a-half acres are assessed by the Park at $399,900, according to city records. Market value of the property is about $800,000 based on that assessment.

The as-yet unnamed subdivision, which the Woods company bought last month, would become the fourth such development in three years in the Pointes. Since 1981, cluster-homes and residential subdivisions have been developed in the Farms and City, currently offering builders 60 new lots on which to put homes and condominiums.

The Farms currently has 42 lots in two different subdivisions. Briarwood, at the foot of Muir Road off Grosse Pointe Boulevard, is built on the former Shelden estate and offers 24 lots for development.

Windemere Place, being developed on the Chapin estate whose last owner was Henry Ford II, is currently subdivided into 18 lots, but 16 units might be added to the development. Developers of Windemere Place purchased the adjoining Weber property and are seeking a zoning change from the city that would allow the addition of 16 more units to the development. The two sides were still discussing the matter last week.

Sycamores, named after the double row of gnarled trees that line the main drive, is being developed on the former Wesson Seyburn estate. There are currently 18 lots on the 4.4 acres once occupied by the home and grounds of Winifred Dodge Seyburn.

A family waits for answers

By Tom Greenwood

The FBI and police authorities in western and southern states have been frustrated in their efforts to apprehend a 22-year-old Twin Falls, Idaho man in connection with the possible robbery of former Grosse Pointe resident Frederick Pongrace, 31, whose body was found at the base of a 180-foot cliff last July in Glacier National Park, Mont.

Authorities would also like to question the man, Scott David Steel, about Pongrace's mysterious death. Special agent in charge, Bill Fallin, of the Butte, Mont. office, confirmed that fugitive warrants have been issued charging Steel with "theft on a government reservation" and "interstate transfer" of a 1968 Volkswagon van belonging to Pongrace.

Agent Fallin also confirmed that "Steel hasn't been caught yet, although we have leads out in several states."

According to reports, Mr. Pongrace, who had been recently honorably discharged from the Coast Guard, picked up Steel and his dog, a black Labrador retriever, while they hitchhiked in an area about 60 miles east of Glacier Park.

Mr. Pongrace and Steel reportedly stayed in a campground that night. Mr. Pongrace's body was discovered at the base of a cliff a day later. His van was missing. An autopsy performed on Mr. Pongrace confirmed that he had been alive when he fell or was pushed off the cliff.

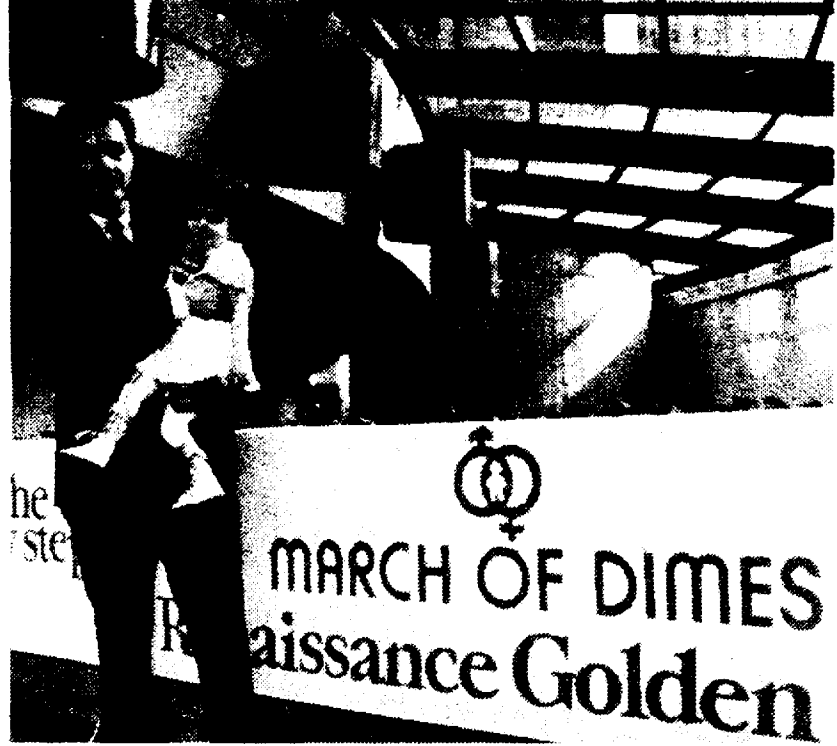

Keys to the van, money and travelers checks were not on the body. Authorities believe Steel took the van after Mr. Pongrace died and slept in it overnight. A tow truck operator (Continued on Page 16A)

Kicking-off the Golden Mile

James Kershner, president of Michigan National Bank of Grosse Pointe, holds poster child Jodie Charbonneau, 6, of Detroit, at the March of Dimes Renaissance Golden Mile kick-off. The Golden Mile is a mini-walk which takes place Friday, April 27, in downtown Detroit. Members of the business community participate by walking one mile for a contribution of $150 or more. Proceeds fight birth defects by way of medical research, educational programs and community service projects. For further information, call 423-3200.

Daffodils help cancer fight

American Cancer Society daffodil sales are building as the Greater Detroit Unit's 1984 Daffodil Drive enters its second week. Drive chairperson Dorothy Knox would like to see every home, business and institution in greater Detroit order daffodils and display them during the festival from March 30 through April 1. But she has settled for a more modest goal. "Last year, daffodil sales tripled. It would be nice if we could double that this year," she said.

Proceeds from the sales help support American Cancer Society programs in research, public education, and patient services. But Jung studies center looks at Wagner

The Center for Jung Studies of Detroit will present a lecture titled "Wagner's Ring of the Nibelungs; A Jungian Interpretation" on Sunday, March 25, from 2 to 4 p.m. in Miller Hall, Christ Church, 61 Grosse Pointe Boulevard. Using slides and music, Jane Vieth, Ph.D., professor of humanities at Michigan State University, will explore Wagner's poetical and musical archetypes. She will show the "Ring" as a creation story similar to other mythical and religious traditions. Ms. Vieth will also explain Wagner's use of myths to dramatize the process by which the unconscious becomes conscious.

The meeting is open to the public. Admission is $3 for non-members. For more information, call 885-8792.

Mrs. Michigan

'Image-maker' takes the crown

Grosse Pointe has been very good to the Mrs. Michigan Pageant. And vice versa.

Two of the last three winners of the contest have had Grosse Pointe connections. In 1982, the winner was Nancy Hook, of the Farms.

This year's winner is Darlene Doetsch, 42, who lives with husband Richard in Mt. Clemens, but owns the Image Maker Beauty Salon on Kercheval Avenue on the Hill.

"As a matter of fact, Nancy Hook was the one who crowned me," said Darlene, tall, slender and dark. "The 1983 winner was unable to attend the pageant, which was held in early February at the Fairlane Town Center, so Nancy took her place. Since then we've become buddies."

In a way, poetic justice was served when Mrs. Doetsch won the contest. She's been grooming other women to enter contests for years and was the personal advisor to the 1970 Miss America.

"Finally, someone said 'You're so good at getting other women involved, why don't you do it yourself?'" said Darlene. "So, I thought 'Why not?'"

Darlene competed against 25 other contestants and was judged in three areas: swim suit competition, evening gown competition and an interview.

"I'd say that over 50 percent of winning the contest was doing well in the interview," smiled Mrs.

Doetsch. "The questions covered everything from politics to raising children. It was by no means just another beauty contest."

In a resume submitted to the pageant, Darlene described herself as a vivacious personality full of ambition, spirit and love of life. The secret to her 13-year marriage is simple — communication. "Secrets are personal, singular things," said Mrs. Doetsch. "Marriage is not."

"The real important thing about winning the pageant is that it shows to married women, to women in, shall we say middle age, that there are still many things that can be accomplished."

Accomplishments mean a lot to Darlene. Besides being the owner of the Image Makers, she has been employed as the sales manager and head counselor of the Patricia Stevens Finishing School, and was also director/owner of the Rivoli School of Dance.

She also served as a frequent guest participant on the "Lady of Charm Show" on WXYZ-TV in the early 1960's. Personal hobbies include boating, golf and tennis. She also likes to collect smiling clown dolls and sweatshirts from various events and locations.

The next hurdle to get prepared for is the Mrs. America Pageant to be held in Las Vegas next month. The contest will be hosted by Richard Dawson, of "Family Feud" fame.

The contestants will be in Las Vegas for eight days, with the first five spent in rehearsals and shooting commercials.

"Part of the contest is the gown competition in which the dresses must represent the home state," said Darlene. "My dress will be green, which is our state color, accented with blue and white. On the front will be the outline of Michigan, with blue plumes representing the Great Lakes. I'll also be wearing a sash which will read 'Say Yes to Michigan.' The pageant will be televised nationally."

Back home, she'll be making a series of personal appearances. She's already hosted an art auction at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House for the Grosse Pointe Jaycees and has been booked for appearances at the Grand Prix this summer.

There's also talk of commercials, commercial endorsements and guest shots on local television programs.

How does she feel when contests such as this are slighted as "mindless beauty pageants?"

"Women of the 1980's are faced with many options," said Mrs. Doetsch/Michigan. "Women have more choices than ever before, so it's important to achieve a balance in life. A woman has to strike a balance between femininity and assertiveness for personal success."

And apparently Darlene Doetsch has.

The new Mrs. Michigan Darlene Doetsch, owner of the Image Maker Beauty Salon on the Hill, was crowned last month.

Biz reports win award for schools

More people than ever are seeking information about school finances from the administrators at central office. And, according to the National Association of School Business Officials, the information Grosse Pointe is handing out is more detailed and easier to read than ever before.

The local school system was one of three in Michigan to receive this year's Certificate of Excellence in Financial Reporting from the school business managers. It was Grosse Pointe's first award from the group.

The certificate means local financial reports were judged to be full and accurate representations of the system's financial status and also that they are easy for the public to read and understand.

School board president Joan Hanpeter announced the award at a recent meeting and credited it to the work of Business Manager Christian Fenton.

Fenton said applying for the certificate required full disclosure by the school system of accounting and budgeting techniques and meeting stringent guidelines set up by the association.

"A short synopsis of our financial statement is published every year and we print up a few hundred of the full report to distribute to the public," according to Fenton. "This year, with the controversy (surrounding school closings) we've have more interest than ever before."

Copies of the financial reports are available at 389 St. Clair Avenue.

Entertainers are on stage

The Entertainers Anonymous Non-Profit Community Theater will present "This One's For You" on Friday and Saturday, March 30 to 31, beginning at 8 p.m. and on Sunday, April 1 starting at 2 p.m.

The show will be at Parcels Middle School and will feature musical selections from Irving Berlin, Burt Bacharach and Barry Manilow.

Tickets are $4 at the door, $3.50 through advanced sales and $3 for senior citizens and children under 12.

For more information, call 774-7528.

Local Democrats will hear Mrs. Griffiths

Lt. Gov. Martha W. Griffiths will be in town Sunday, March 24.

Lt. Gov. Martha W. Griffiths — the first woman in Michigan to hold this state's second highest office — will meet with members of the Grosse Pointe Democratic Club and their friends this Sunday, March 24, from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Maumee.

Mrs. Griffiths will talk on "A View from Lansing," touching on both state and national policies, and on experiences garnered over her 35-year political career.

The meeting, which is open to the public, also marks the opening of the Grosse Pointe Democrats' membership drive. A donation of $5 per person is asked to cover the cost of the meeting, refreshments and membership — $3 for senior citizens.

Club president John J. Schonenberg, Jr., will conduct a brief business meeting for election of officers. Other current officers are Paul Bricker, treasurer; Aphie Roumell, secretary; Dorothy Gemuend, vice-president in charge of precinct delegates; Susan Boynton, membership vice-president; and Bruce Sanders, program vice-president. Patricia Schneider, Grosse Pointe Woods Municipal Judge, will introduce the lieutenant governor.

Following her talk, Mrs. Griffiths will hold a question and answer session, continuing her life-long style of meeting face-to-face with constituents. She became known for this style in 1955 when, during her campaign to be U.S. Representative of Michigan's 17th district, she hooked a 40 foot trailer to her car, and weaving in and out of Detroit traffic, took coffee, tea, doughnuts and politics directly into city neighborhoods.

Mrs. Griffiths' political career began when she served in the Michigan legislature from 1949 to 1952. She went on to become the first woman to serve as a judge in Detroit Recorder's Court before starting her 20 year term in the U.S. House of Representative.

One of this country's strongest advocates for women's rights, Mrs. Griffiths sponsored the Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution and also made the successful argument that added "sex" to the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

On leaving the House of Representatives in 1975, she and her attorney husband, Hicks Griffiths, worked in a law practice out of their home in Romeo, Mich. In 1982 she came out of retirement to become Michigan's Lieutenant Governor. In this position she now serves as Affirmative Action Officer for the State of Michigan, chair of the Michigan Equal Employment and Business Opportunity Council, co-chair of the Michigan High Technology Task Force, chair of the State's Purchasing Task Force and as a member of the Cabinet Council on Jobs and Economic Development.

Music group throws party

The Grosse Pointe Park Civic Association will hold a wine and cheese party from 5 to 7 p.m. Sunday, March 25, in the Windmill Pointe Park bathhouse. Tickets are priced at $2.50 each.

The association is also sponsoring the sale of smoke detectors on April 14. The battery-operated detectors are made by First Alert and are priced at $10 for the organization's non-profit sale.

The detectors will be available for pick-up at the Park Fire Department. Send checks to the Grosse Pointe Park Civic Association, 15539 Windmill Pointe Drive, Grosse Pointe Park 48230. For more information, call 331-4503 or 331-6276.

Groups work to prevent poisoning

This year, an estimated 500,000 children will become victims of accidental poisoning. Sixty percent of all cases reported involve children under 5 years of age.

To help inform people of the dangers of accidental poisoning and to encourage appropriate preventive measures, President Ronald Reagan has proclaimed this week as National Poison Prevention Week.

Over the past 23 years, the nation has observed this week to call attention to the hazards of how proper handling and disposal of these substances and proper use of safety packaging can help eliminate them.

The theme for this year's observance is "Children Act Fast... So Do Poisons!" This means parents must always be watchful when household chemicals or drugs are being used. Children act fast, and adults should keep all household products and medicines out of youngsters' reach, and preferably locked up when not in use.

Working together as sponsors of National Poison Prevention Week are national medical, pharmacy, nursing, dental and hospital associations, and other groups and agencies, which are the backbone of what has become a successful nationwide poison prevention program. Locally, St. John Hospital's Pharmacy, and the St. Clair Pharmacy, Professional Building adjacent to the hospital, will have free brochures and handout material on poison control and prevention available to the public.

If a loved one is accidentally poisoned or eats or drinks a substance which might be poison, the primary first aid objective is to call a poison control center or physician immediately. (The number is the poison control center, 1-800-572-1655, can be found on the inside cover of the yellow or white pages of the telephone directory.) On their advice, you should further dilute or eliminate the poison as quickly as possible, maintain the victim's breathing and circulation and get medical assistance.

When providing information to the poison control center, be able to give the age of the victim, the name and amount of substance swallowed (the label will help and should be saved), what first aid had been given, if the victim has vomited (save vomitus), and the location of the nearest hospital.

Fluids should not be given to an unconscious victim or one who is having convulsions.

Woods arrests shoplifters

Two Detroit women dressed as nurses were arrested by Woods police at J.C. Penney's Saturday afternoon, March 17, in connection with the shoplifting of $600 worth of merchandise.

Woods police received the call about 4 p.m. from store security that two women dressed in nurses' uniforms were suspected of shoplifting. Officers arrested the two as they ran from the store followed by security police.

The two were turned over to security for processing but they bolted and were chased down by police, reports said. They were uncooperative, with one having to be physically dragged to the scout car when she refused to walk, reports said.

At the station, the two gave police false names and social security numbers, according to reports. When police ran the two real names through the criminal history computer, they found outstanding warrants for the two. One woman was awaiting arrest on a shoplifting warrant out of Detroit, reports said.

Also stopped was a Detroit man who said he drove the women to the shopping center. Found in the back of his 1975 Mercury two-door were several bags of merchandise for which receipts could not be produced, reports said.

Found on one woman at the time of her arrest were 24 articles of clothing valued at $478, reports said.

The second woman was in possession of six articles of clothing worth $124, according to reports.

The two were released after posting bond, reports said.

In the Park Crime is down, but residents worry

By Susan McDonald

Grosse Pointe Park Police Chief Henry Coonce reported "with pleasure" that the number of crimes in his city during 1983 was more than 10 percent lower than the previous year, according to the annual police report he presented March 9 to city council.

The decline in serious (what the FBI calls Part I) crimes was led by a 32 percent drop in the number of breaking and enterings from 124 in 1982 to 84 in 1983. The number of larcenies also declined by about 16 percent, from 600 to 505. But there are troublesome areas in the crime report as well. Robberies increased 40 percent last year compared to 1982. There were 48 reported incidences of armed and unarmed robberies on the streets of the Park in 1983. And car theft was up, as it was across Michigan. Almost 100 cars were reported stolen in the Park in 1983, compared to 80 the previous year.

City Manager John Crawford said he was pleased to see a drop in the number of reported crimes, but he noted that citizens are still very concerned. "There is a greater feeling of uneasiness in the (western portion) of our city. Despite the fact that statistics indicate things are looking up, we are sensitive to their concerns," Crawford said.

"We are studying ways to increase patrols in certain areas," Crawford added, saying he hopes to make an announcement about his plan in the near future.

The Park's Municipal Judge Beverly Grobbel, who was victim of a burglary herself this year, agreed that residents are worried.

"I think we should have more patrols, especially at night," Mrs. Grobbel said. "I hope we can do something in the area of combined patrols, with police and firemen, to help ease people's minds. There is a great deal of fear."

The Park had a somewhat higher crime rate last year than the other four Grosse Pointe cities. A recent analysis of police reports from the five Pointes shows there were 57 incidents per 1,000 persons in the Park; 56 incidents per 1,000 persons in the Farms; 54.3 per 1,000 persons in the City; 23.6 in the Woods and 15.9 in the Shores.

Park police made 72 arrests for serious offenses, according to Coonce's annual report, including 30 for alleged larcenies, 15 for burglaries and 13 for robberies. They arrested another 311 persons for what the FBI labels "Part II" or less serious offenses including 61 for drunk driving. Park officers also took 112 juveniles into the station, under arrest or for counseling. Fifty-six of those were in connection with robberies or burglaries, 19 were runaways and 11 were accused of vandalism.

In the traffic chapter of his report Coonce noted that Jefferson Avenue claimed the largest number of car crashes (55), compared to Mack (36) and Kercheval (24). More than 100 accidents were reported on various north-south residential streets. The total numbers were about the same for 1983 as for 1982. There were no fatal accidents in 1983.

Park will stay out of state loan program

By Mike Andrzejczyk

Grosse Pointe Park isn't interested "at this time" in borrowing more money from the state under its transportation loan program, city manager John Crawford told the city council at its Monday, March 12, meeting.

The city borrowed $1 million under the program last year to fund street, curb and drain improvements on 14 streets.

Repairs will be completed on eight streets this fall under the program, Crawford said.

The city decided not to get involved in the program again this year because it felt it should complete the work already scheduled before starting another program, Crawford said.

The state last year loaned the Park $1 million at 9.6 percent interest to be repaid over 15 years.

Should the city fall behind in its payments, the state is empowered to withhold a share of the motor vehicle highway fund, Crawford added, noting the Park is paying its obligation on time. Yearly payments are about $128,000.

Crawford told the council the city "shouldn't assume additional obligations of this magnitude."

The Park also applied last fall for $1 million from the federal Economic Development Administration, but was turned down.

Two years ago, the city went to voters for a five-year, two mill tax increase to fund repairs and resurfacing of streets in the city, where 19 of 35 miles of streets were covered in poor condition. The increase, which would have cost the average taxpayer about $100 a year, was defeated by a 1,574 to 1,074 vote.

Learn to talk to your kids

The Northeast Guidance Center is looking for people interested in taking part in a seven-part series titled "How to Talk So Kids Will Listen How to Listen So Kids Will Talk."

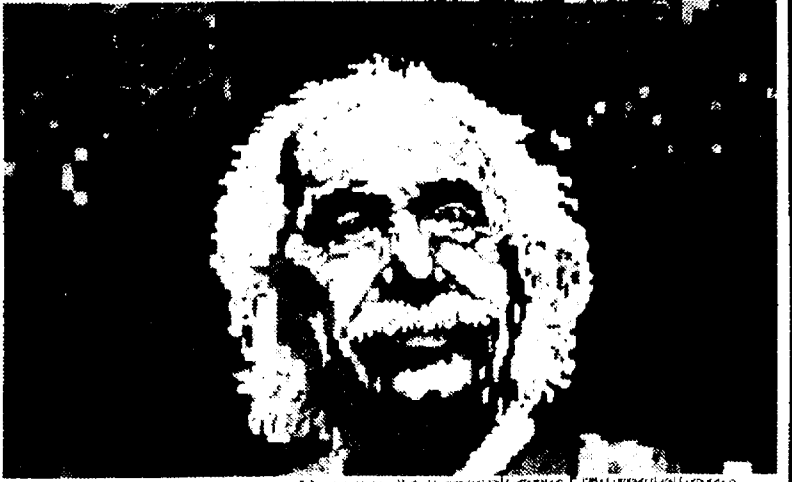

The course, offered at various times in the past, offers parents ways to open effective lines of communication with their children. Some of the topics handled in the series include: Helping Children Deal With Their Feelings; Encouraging Cooperation; and Alternatives to Punishment.

The series has been called "one of the most creative approaches yet" to the parent-child communication gap by educators and parents.

Too much power for Lucas?

Much of the criticism of County Executive William Lucas up to this time has come from such vested interests as office holders and labor unions trying to protect their turf in Wayne County government. That kind of criticism usually is so self-serving that it is disregarded.

Now, however, more substantial criticism is being voiced by some supporters of the county executive and the county charter. We don't know how many critics fall into this category but one who is willing to put his misgivings on the line is John Hertel, county commissioner for the 1st District that includes the Pointes.

HERTEL HAS NOT fully broken his supportive relationship with Lucas, and, in fact, backs two of the charter amendments the executive has proposed. Hertel endorses the proposals to abolish the Wayne County Road Commission and the elected drain commissioner and merge both into the county public works department.

But the commissioner takes issue with the executive on two of the other proposed amendments. One would transfer from the board of commissioners to the executive the power to approve county contracts and the other would require the commissioners to show "just cause" for rejecting executive appointments that require board confirmation. In both cases, Hertel sees Lucas seeking "dangerous and unprecedented power."

Hertel contends that if Lucas were given the power he seeks, he could unilaterally approve contracts for legal fees such as the $269,000 denied to Dennis Nystrom, Lucas' chief of staff, for representing Lucas (while he was sheriff) in his dispute with the county board over road patrols. Hertel claims executives in government usually do not have the authority to approve such contracts without submitting them to a legislative body or some other review agency.

Hertel fears it would be almost impossible for the county board to reject a proposed appointee for "just cause" because the term is vague and meaningless. He says the county might be letting itself in for more government of the kind it is now getting from an interim road commission which at its first meeting passed 10 resolutions sought by Lucas without investigating them.

The county commissioner insists he is still supporting the county charter but in effect is concerned about the loss of the checks and balances in county government if the executive gets all of the new powers he seeks. Hertel cited the recent squabble between the executive and the county auditor-general as evidence of Lucas' efforts to grab more power from other county officers as well as from the county board.

It is true, of course, that the board of county commissioners and Hertel himself are not without personal interest in their criticisms of the executive. The county board has been slow to readjust to its new status of a legislative body shorn of its old administrative powers. But Hertel's criticisms have to be given more weight than those of the hold-over commissioners who object to their loss of power and constantly seek ways to regain it. Hertel speaks as a supporter of both the county charter and the county executive's office.

TAKING EVERYTHING into consideration, we still think Bill Lucas is doing a first-rate job as county executive. But we hope he pays attention to Hertel's criticisms. After the fine start that has been made on the reorganization of county government, it would be disappointing to the people who passed the charter if the governmental reforms were to go down the drain as a result of a dispute over excessive power for the county executive.

How to promote Detroit

State Sen. John Kelly whose district includes the Pointes, is often accused by his colleagues of being a headline hunter because of his penchant for publicity about his activities. But we sympathize with the viewpoint he expressed at his press conference last week when he warned he would oppose Detroit's state aid package unless the city uses the money for crime prevention.

Members of the city council huffily retorted that Kelly didn't know the situation and in effect told him to mind his own business. Kelly's beef in this case arose over the murder of two men in Kelly's neighborhood in Detroit and his personal evidence that crime is getting worse in the city.

"My wife sleeps with a .38 (calibre pistol)," he told the Detroit News. "I watch TV with a shotgun. My car was stolen two weeks ago and the shooting of the two brothers in their mother's driveway happened two blocks from my office."

KELLY IS UNLIKELY to get anywhere in the Legislature with his plan to divert to law enforcement purposes the $39 million "equity package" that is designed to finance cultural institutions as well as specific services in Detroit. But if the state can justify funds for preserving the Detroit Institute of Arts, the Detroit Public Library and similar cultural institutions, then it can also justify funds for law enforcement to protect not only the residents of Detroit but other Michigan citizens who go to Detroit to visit or shop.

We're not suggesting state aid should be taken from the cultural institutions but we are proposing that some of the other funds — such as those sought by the governor for tourism development and other promotional purposes — might better be expended to hire more policemen and otherwise improve law enforcement in Detroit. In fact, making the streets and neighborhoods of Detroit safer for residents and visitors could be regarded as the best investment Detroit could make in promoting the city.

State no microcosm of U.S.

Lansing is hardly a microcosm of Washington when it comes to the management of its finances, despite all of the public criticism of Michigan's tax and spending policies.

Michigan has a balanced budget while the U.S. budget is running an estimated $200 billion in the red. Michigan is reducing its state debt while the opposite is true in Washington. The governor is increasing state support for education while the president is cutting federal aid for education.

IN RECENT SPEECHES, Gov. James Blanchard has been making these comparisons, obviously in the hope they will improve his personal popularity. Even so, however, the polls show the president's popularity is still increasing while the governor's is declining. This difference in reactions to the state and federal executives is one that puzzles many people, in addition to the governor.

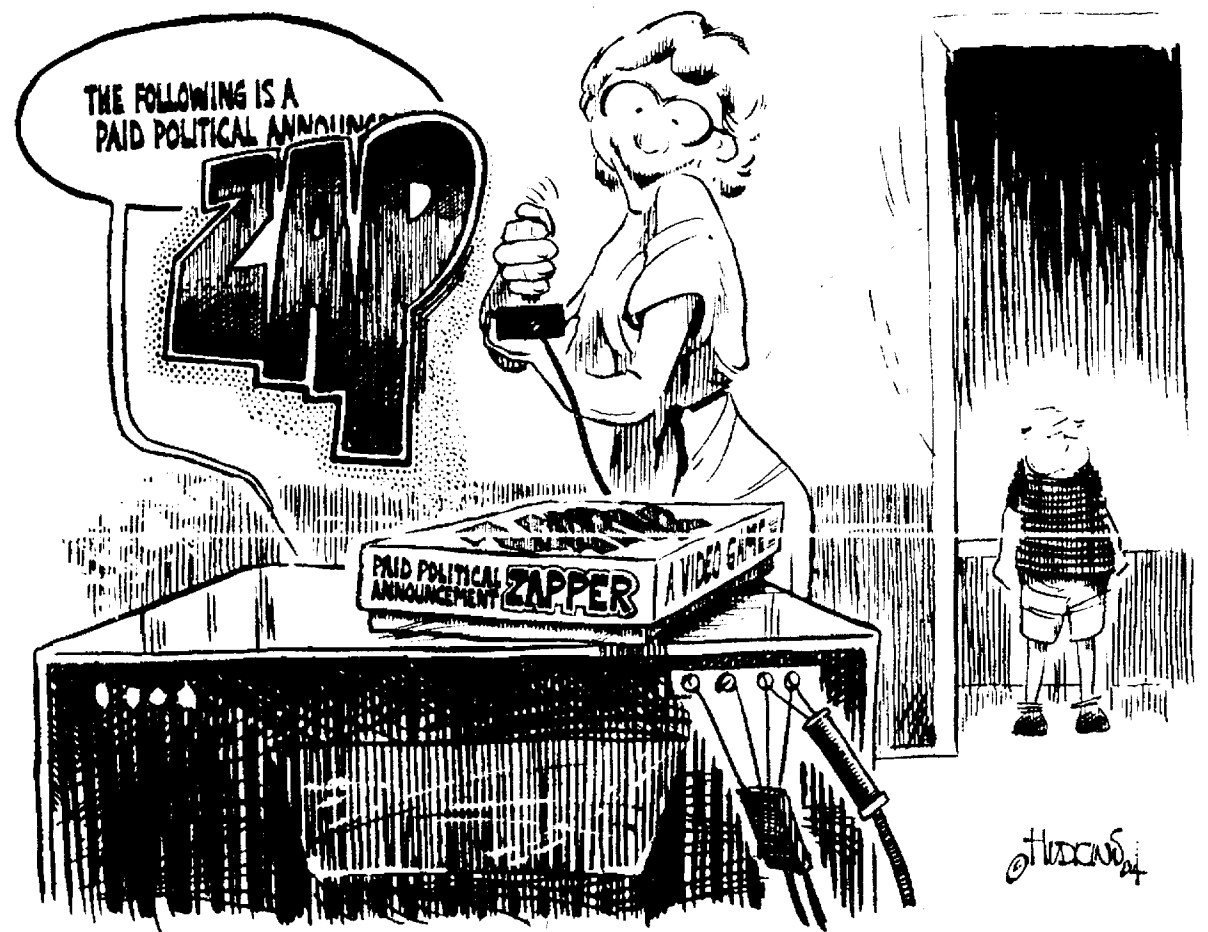

As for the controversial issue of taxes, Congress is now talking about making a "down payment" on the rising federal deficit that would require some federal tax increases. Similarly, the state Legislature recently restored part of the earlier reductions on sales taxes on new cars — which amounted to a tax increase — but it is almost certain to roll back earlier than scheduled some of last year's temporary increase in the income tax.

In his talks, the governor points out that the average citizen in Michigan pays $520 a year just to service the federal debt — but pays only $365 in state income taxes. He also claims the state deficit has dropped from a peak of $1.7 billion in January, 1983, to about $533 million this year and could even decline to zero by the end of 1984 as a result of the state administration's planning.

Another comparison between Lansing and Washington explains some of the disputes between the governor and the president. In Lansing and in Washington, the executive has the support of the House of Representatives but faces the opposition of the Senate. But in Lansing the executive is a Democrat and in Washington he's a Republican.

IN ONE RESPECT, the executive in Lansing has one big advantage over the one in Washington. He will not face reelection until 1986 while President Reagan, as we all know, is already working hard on his reelection campaign. But not, of course, with any help from Michigan's governor.

Cartoonist picked the wrong target

To the Editor:

Your cartoonist's depiction of a UAW negotiator as a brass-knuckle-wielding goon shows a deep lack of understanding of the reality of bargaining.

Starting with Chrysler in 1979, and continuing into 1982 and beyond with Ford and GM, UAW members have sacrificed millions of dollars in wages and benefits because they recognized their responsibility to help preserve the industry and to save and create jobs. Partly as a result of those sacrifices, the Big 3 posted record profits of $6.3 billion last year. The auto industry's rate of return on investment of 16.7 percent was, in fact, over half again as high as the rate of return for all manufacturing in 1983. And independent analysts expect after-tax profits in auto to reach $9.3 billion this year — another new record.

Despite these profits, what are the companies doing? Instead of investing as much as they could well afford in domestic facilities, GM seeks to import 300,000 cars a year from Japan and 100,000 from South Korea to sell here under its nameplate. Ford plans to build a plant in Mexico, which will cost thousands of jobs here. The Big 3 already bring in millions of parts and components from countries like Mexico, where workers get paid 97 cents an hour or less.

It's not easy for autoworkers — or any workers who have made sacrifices — to see themselves rewarded with such lack of corporate accountability. Nor does it help when such workers read about the $1-million-plus in 1983 wages and bonuses that top GM executives each will get. And when a "secret" GM bargaining strategy is revealed that calls for cutting 80,000 hourly jobs and for wage restraints, workers who've sacrificed have a right to be upset.

If anything, the UAW showed restraint at its recent bargaining convention. UAW President Owen Bieber said the union was ready to approach the bargaining table "in a spirit of good will" and called on management to do the same.

"All we want is our fair share," he added. "We don't want anybody else's share. We don't want more out of the pockets of consumers. In fact, given the profitability of the firms, we think the industry ought to cut prices. It would help consumers. It would stimulate sales and production. It would make more jobs."

Perhaps your cartoonist didn't have a chance to hear or read accounts of the UAW convention before drawing last week's cartoon. A more fitting target might well have been those corporate executives who've enjoyed the fruits of worker sacrifices and are showing their true colors by fleeing abroad instead of investing at home.

Thank God for Phillippe

To the Editor:

I, too, am writing in response to Pastor William Phillippe's trip to Cuba. I find reading about someone who has such a love for human life — whether it be communist or capitalist — refreshing. I found Lee Corless' letter, however, sickening.

Corless' letter is a perfect illustration of the attitude which some Americans take. Despite the fact that Castro regime has made numerous steps forward, including an increase in literacy and land-ownership by the masses, many Americans overlook these facts, and claim "but it's a communist country!"

Agreed, they still have a ways to go, but for the fact that Cuba is communist, do we ignore the needs of the Cuban people? Doesn't the Christian doctrine read "Help thy neighbor?" It does not read "Help thy neighbor . . . only if he is not communist."

Are Americans so caught up with the crusade against communism that they ignore the needs of fellow humans? Do Americans become so blind in the light of communism that they, to quote Corless' letter, "refuse to see and listen" to people who need aid?

If Americans could only recognize Cubans as people, not as communists, but as fellow humans in need, imagine all the good that could be done for our fellow man. Bravo, Pastor Phillippe, for not having blinders on so as to not aid people because they are communist. Thank God there are still some people around like you who care about other.

Give Mayor Heenan a chance

To the Editor:

William Leith's letter published in the Grosse Pointe News on March 8 criticized Park Mayor Palmer Heenan for heavy-handed leadership in supporting his nominees for the newly formed Economic Development Corporation committee. In reading his letter, it appears obvious that Leith did not attend the Feb. 27 council meeting and is relying on the News' slanted reporting of the event.

The city charter states that the mayor shall have the power of appointment and that the council shall approve. If a majority of the council chooses not to approve one or more of the appointees, then it seems only fair that the council publicly identify them and state why they are not fit. To do otherwise is to cast a shadow over everyone on the committee.

If Leith had been present at the council meeting, he would have been aware of the events as they really happened.

It is obvious that there definitely is a coalition of four councilpersons headed by a well known member which is against and will continue to oppose everything Mayor Heenan is trying to accomplish, even though this opposition may well be detrimental to the city.

It is plain to see that all this showy opposition is pointed toward the November, 1985, elections and represents petty politics at its worst. I, for one, would welcome more actual citizen involvement at city hall so that people could see first hand what is really going on.

Medicaid will pay for play

To the Editor:

I have a question for our Governor: Why were our taxes raised last year and at the same time Medicaid coverage expanded to cover social workers?

Effective April 1, 1983 Medicaid (under Title XIX) pays over $40 an hour for services rendered by persons with a Master's or Bachelor degree working in an outpatient mental health center. These clients were previously being seen at the same centers on an ability to pay basis. Previously the only Medicaid billing done on these clients was for the actual time seen by a psychiatrist (if any). Services were provided by the taxpayers' money allotted to the department of Mental Health budget for the financing of these centers.

Under the new billing procedures the psychiatrist does not have to see the client, only sign the initial treatment plan. He or she then "reviews" and signs a treatment plan every 90 days. The clients are seen by social workers on a weekly basis. All of the billing is done under the name and Medicaid ID number of the psychiatrist. Billing also includes play therapy, i.e., a game of checkers paid at over $40 an hour.

One question why a tax increase was necessary and Medicaid coverage expanded to cover such band aid treatment?

Bravo, GPT

To the Editor:

The Pointe is indeed fortunate to have in its midst such a talented group as the Grosse Pointe Theater.

We attended last Thursday's performance of "Move Over Mrs. Markham" and I have never laughed so much at a play — professional or community.

The acting was superb, the directing and set was outstanding, and the timing was excellent.

Bravo GPT. Keep those plays coming — we'll be there.

Prime Time for senior citizens

By Marian Trainor

Have a good day . . . Thank God for small favors . . . The cup is never half empty, it is always half full.

All of these are phrases meant to lift the spirits and to accent the positive.

For some folks, such well-meant greetings work. Seeing a bright smile, hearing a cheerful message immediately makes them feel better about life. But there are others so sunk in their own despair that bright greetings and pleasant well wishes fail to penetrate their help-less gloom.

They are depressed, a condition that is often too lightly dismissed by spouses, relatives and friends.

"Leave them alone. They'll be all right in a day or two. Just don't try to deal with it now. Something will happen and blue days will turn into happy days."

Sometimes things do work out and the person returns to normal. The person who is "down" will get a phone call from an old friend, receive an unexpected present or be invited to a party and the grey old world will be sunny and bright once more.

Unfortunately this is not always true. It is estimated that 15 percent of the population have serious enough cases of depression to require professional treatment.

Furthermore, it is most common among older people. The older a person gets to be, the greater the likelihood of developing depression.

Dr. Nathan Kline, director of Rockland Research Institute in Orangeburg, N.Y., clinical professor of psychiatry at New York University School of Medicine, and author of "Sad to Glad" (Ballantine), warns that depression should not be taken lightly. He even goes so far as to call it a "fatal disease."

"We all get depressed from time to time," Dr. Kline concedes. "Outside of that, there are certain individuals who tend to be overly concerned about their problems. This is not considered too serious. Usually they can be helped by ordinary psychotherapy."

Some of the symptoms outlined by Dr. Kline was unwarranted sadness and dejection, difficulty in concentrating, anxiety or irritability. Older people tend to become hypochondriacal.

Another type of depression takes the form of abject lows alternated with periods of wild highs. Such a person is constantly on the go, boistrous, uninhibited and has delusions of grandeur. Such periods are followed by despondency.

Depression can be a biological disturbance in the brain. It is usually triggered by an external event like the death of a loved one. In other cases there is no biological basis but is caused by an external event, one that the person can't cope with. Only a few are the result of an unhappy childhood or an abnormal family relationship.

When does a depressed person need help? According to Dr. Kline people need help when they are suffering, when depression interferes with productivity or when individuals are dangerous to themselves or others.

Once spotted by a relative, the next problem is persuading individuals that they need help. Often they will resist. They will insist there is nothing wrong or that they are not worth the money it costs for treatment.

The best approach in such cases is to express concern and love and ask them to go see a doctor as a personal favor to you because otherwise you will worry.

It is recommended that concerned relatives be as persuasive as possible, particularly if the depressed individual talks about committing suicide. Don't brush it off as an idle threat or an attention-getting ploy.

"The more precise the person is, the more evidence is that he or she has given a lot of thought to it and the more apt that person is to follow through on the threat," warns Dr. Kline.

Again, those most vulnerable to the danger of suicide are older people, particularly white males who are widowed, divorced and move to another community which all adds up to a collapse of their accustomed life style.

One of the difficulties of persuading severely depressed individuals to see a psychiatrist is the fear of being hospitalized, even for a short period. It may be also that stories of shock treatments and jail-like treatment centers, made more vivid by such movies as "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," "The Snake Pit" and others, are etched in their minds.

The truth is most patients do not need hospitalization, according to Dr. Kline. There are now drugs that effectively treat depression. The question that arises is how long must a patient remain on the drugs?

"In some cases anti-depressant drugs are used until the patient recovers from depression," says Dr. Kline. "In others, the patient who has frequent bouts with depression may be kept on the drug for a longer period as a prophylaxis against recurrence."

Another question often asked by patients who are put on anti-depressants is "are anti-depressants addictive?"

"No," said Dr. Kline. "There is nothing addictive about any anti-depressant drug. You don't develop a craving for them. You don't have withdrawal symptoms as with narcotics and barbiturates. You can go off the drugs whenever you wish. The only danger is that your original disease may return."

Another question that arises concerns the side effects of anti-depressants. There are some, but the side effects such as dryness in the throat or perspiration are slight when one considers that the anti-depressant may be saving the patient from suicide.

If other symptoms occur, such as a feeling of being completely "out of it," it means that the dosage may need adjustment or the patient may be abusing the prescription. Dr. Kline tells of one patient who doubled the dosage prescribed because he felt so good that he thought he'd feel even better by taking twice as much. After he got back on the right dosage he snapped out of his lethargy.

Correct dosage is vitally important, which puts treatment of depression by drugs in the area of a specialist. It is recommended that patients suffering from depression seek out a psychopharmacologist who is a psychiatrist with training in the use of anti-depressants. To find one, telephone the psychiatry department of a medical school or a teaching hospital near you.

While depression is acknowledged as a serious mental state that requires expert treatment, what about cases where drugs are used to "calm the nerves?"

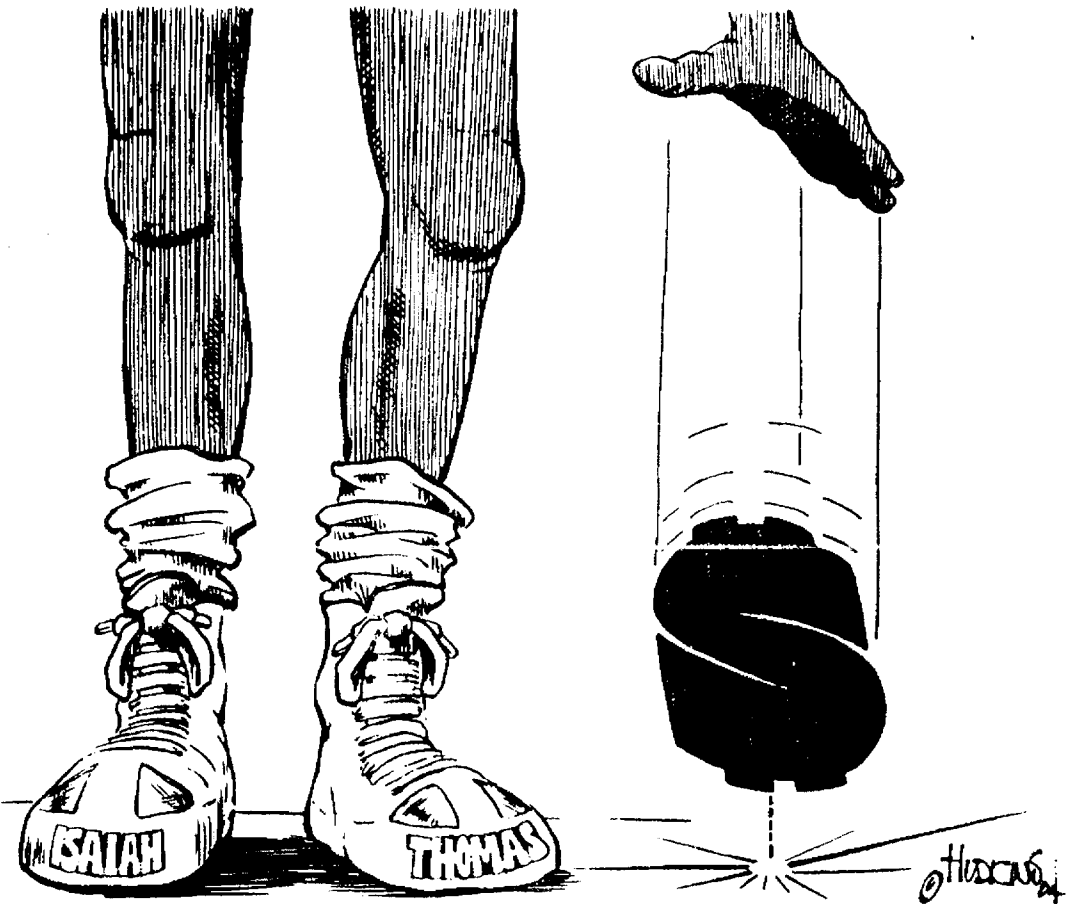

In his book, "Goodbye Blues, Breaking the Tranquilizer Habit the Natural Way," Bernard Green, Ph.D., presents a case urging the curtailment of tranquilizer abuse. He has spent 20 years freeing patients from dependency on tranquilizers. In the process he has gathered some alarming data on the problem of drug therapy in the United States. He found that 90 million prescriptions are sold annually. What was more alarming to him was that while most adults who use tranquilizers have side effects that diminish their functions, their response is to take more medication not less.

Dr. Green believes that rather than alleviating stress, extended tranquilizer use causes it. In other words, you can't fight stress with stress. Sometimes the side effects of tranquilizers show the same symptoms as the problem being treated.

Rather than prescribing drugs, Dr. Green uses other methods, particularly vitamin therapy to treat his patients. He believes a drug-free existence is important to maintaining mental alertness in older people.

"The negative results from drug misuse are intensified in older persons," he says. "Nutritional deficits often contribute to a poor mental state, mislabeled 'senile.'" He contends that vitamin and nutritional deficiencies can affect the mind and that tranquilizers are the wrong answer.

The program he outlines includes the judicious use of vitamins, slight

Someone must bring Blanchard to task

By William R. Bryant, Jr.
State Representative

Some of you may have heard news reports of a list of complaints or charges or grievances against Governor Blanchard which I compiled.

It was rumored or reported that I was having Articles of Impeachment drafted, and I refused to say, other than that it would be a worthy exercise for someone to put all our dissatisfactions with the Governor in a single document.

Not feeling that any of the actions of the Governor constituted clear crimes, I had dismissed as uncalled for any thought of formal use of such a document as Articles of Impeachment.

But, feeling that his actions and suspected concerted action with others constituted serious abuse of power and political process, I did release the substance of the allegations and delivered a formal Protest of Actions and Petition for Redress of Grievances to the Governor.

In a cover letter to the Governor, I told him I felt someone had to compile the list. I made it clear in the document that I could not read his mind but that intent and motivation was inferred from the events themselves. And in the letter I told him that I felt he needed to listen and pay attention to serious criticism. The editor of the largest newspaper generally favorable to him, Joe Stroud of the Free Press, had written his own horror list of actions by the Governor with which Stroud disagreed and about which he was concerned.

I asked the Governor if he would not listen to Joe Stroud and if he would not listen to me, then to whom would he listen and when?

Those in Lansing who really know what goes on know that I am constructive, that I am a problem solver, that I am not likely to let politics get in the way of or take precedence over substantive issues.

Taking the time and energy to make this statement to the Governor was difficult for me, but no one else was doing it. Taking such a task as my own was necessary, I believe, because those in positions of power and authority must be brought to task when they abuse that power and authority. There is no acceptable alternative.

I have not recited the various allegations here, because most of them have been subjects of articles written by me for this paper over the past year, and it is time to move on to other things. All people can change. I truly hope that our Governor will change his way of doing things. I will cooperate with him, if he chooses to allow me, to do those things which need to be done.

Mrs. Gattorn joins panel to oversee WCCC

Wayne County Civil Service commissioner Barbara Gattorn, of the Shores, was named to a 26-person panel charged with advising state school superintendent Phillip Runkel about the management and governance of Wayne County Community College.

Runkel was designated state monitor of the college, which has come under increased public scrutiny in the last two years with its changing of presidents and budget problems. The citizen advisory commission will help him develop recommendations that he will make to the state legislature on the future of the two-year college, Runkel said.

Members of the committee include representatives from business, labor, religion, government and education, including Myrtle Caliman, retired superintendent of Detroit public schools; Douglas Fraser, former president of the United Auto Workers; Dr. Rae Lewis, associate superintendent of Wayne County Intermediate School District; Jerry Monticello, superintendent of Taylor school; John R. Ryan, former WCCC trustee; Donald M.D. Thurber, former college trustee; and Neil Van Riper, superintendent of Trenton public schools.

"The 26 men and women who have agreed to serve on the Citizen Advisory Committee are of exceptional caliber and I am confident that they will play a major role in bringing about renewed respect and credibility for Wayne County Community College," he said.

The committee held its first meeting Monday night, March 19, in the college board room on the fifth floor of the WCCC administration building at 810 Fort Street.

Other members of the committee, chaired by Detroit Urban League president Dr. Roy Williams, are the Rev. Roy A. Allen, chairman of Michigan State Council of the Opportunities Industrialization Centers of America; William Beckham, Jr., vice-president of Burroughs Corp.; Dave Bing, former Detroit Piston and president of Bing Steel; the Rev. Malcolm Carron, president of the University of Detroit High School and former president of the University of Detroit; and Al Dunmore, director of Urban Affairs for Chrysler Corp.

Others are Dr. Janice Frazier, management consultant in the Office of the County Executive; Dr. John Gutowski, academic dean of St. Mary's College, Orchard Lake; Dr. Cloyzelle Jones, professor of education at University of Michigan-Dearborn and president of the National Urban Education Association; Joe Madison, director of voter education for the NAACP; Dr. Charles Morton, pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist Church and former member of the state Board of Education; Alfred Pelham, former director of budget and finance for Wayne County and former comptroller of Detroit.

The rest of the members are the Rev. Frederick Sampson, pastor of Tabernacle Mission Baptist Church; Barbara Schultz, vice-chairman of Advisory Committee of 100 for Taylor School District; Jane Tate, school social worker for Detroit public schools; S. Martin Taylor, director of the Michigan Department of Labor; Sylvia Torres-Guzman, certified social worker of Hubbard-Richard Citizens District Council; and Stanley Winkelman, chairman of the board of Winkelman Stores, Inc.

The Michigan Citizens Research Council will provide backup staff for the advisory committee, according to Robert Queller, vice-president and executive director of the council.

Chemist will discuss Darwin's discoveries

The third and final of this winter's "Issues of Our Times" programs sponsored by the department of Community Education of the Grosse Pointe public school system will be held at 7:30 p.m., tonight, March 22, at Brownell Middle School, 260 Chalfonte in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Speaker will be Dr. Alexander Moore. His topic is "What Charles Darwin Saw in the Galapagos Islands." A researcher in chemistry, Dr. Moore has become interested in evolution and will interpret, through the eyes of a trained scientist, Galapagos phenomena observed in 1983.

Journalist Wilbur Elston began the series with a thought-provoking presentation on "The Contemporary American Press" on Oct. 13. Social work administrator Howard Hush continued the fall discussions with "The Coming of Age in Our Time" on Nov. 10.

The presentation, offered free-of-charge, is one of a series designed by senior members of the community to share their expertise with the younger generation.

The Grosse Pointe community is fortunate in having a relatively high percentage of residents with 30 to 40 years of professional, technical or executive experiences in a variety of fields. Much of the cultural, social, economic, educational, political and industrial life of today has origins in developments occurring during the active working life of these individuals and in which they played a vital role both as participants and as observers.

The department of Community Education has recruited among these individuals to encourage them to share their considerable knowledge and experience with others.

Members of the department of Community Education's Citizens' Advisory Council Sub-Committee on Intellectual Stimulation for Older Residents who planned this series are Mary Ann Collinson, Dr. Arthur Hillegas, Howard Hush, Eugene Ivanso, Marion Koch, Helen Leonard, Helen Martin, John Schonenberg, Louise Tewart and John Wayne.

Theater gets facelift

Esquire will split into four

As the last of the Grosse Pointe Celebrity Series guests walked out through the front doors of the Esquire Theater March 8 a construction crew walked in through the back doors and began the process that will see the Grosse Pointe Park landmark become four individual theaters under one roof.

Movies will continue to be shown while the quadrupling is being done and two "houses" will be operating on March 30, with the opening of the third house set for April 6 and the target date for completion of the work and the opening of the fourth house is April 12, according to Esquire operator Erv Steiner. One house will seat 450, two will seat 250 each and one will be a small, living room style theater, popular in England.

The new look of the Esquire has already begun, with awnings on the Art Deco facade, new carpeting in the lobby and a new ceiling. It will continue, with the box office being moved inside the front entrance doors, allowing two cashiers to operate simultaneously. New lighting will enhance the lobby, but other than that, the lobby and the old-fashioned candy counter will remain basically the same with the possible addition of a "health bar" and movie memorabilia counter in the future.

Each house will be draped, upholstered and painted in individual color themes, with one being in red, one in green and another in copper. The theater being dubbed "the living room" will be more elaborately decorated.

Along with the new exterior image, the Esquire will offer a new movie format. In addition to its present, family-oriented policy, the Esquire will also feature art, classic, foreign and first run films.

The theater is available for morning and afternoon rentals for meetings, seminars, recitals and other events. For more information call 823-1555.

Bon Secours gets $125,000

The McGregor Fund awarded the Sisters of Bon Secours Nursing Care Center in St. Clair Shores a $125,000 grant for constructing and equipping the center's progressive physical and rehabilitative services department.

When construction is completed in late 1984, the 200-bed center will include facilities for exercise therapy, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, recreational therapy and daily living development. The center is located at Bon Brae and Jefferson between 10 and 11 Mile roads.

The concept of including extensive physical and rehabilitative therapy services is unique among nursing home designs in the greater Detroit area, according to the hospital. It is designed to provide care for patients transferred from the acute care hospital setting to the Nursing Care Center during the final phase of their recuperation process.

This new approach allows certain patients who have total joint replacement operations, major bone fractures, strokes and certain respiratory conditions to be cared for in a setting that is most appropriate for their needs. It also reduces the cost to third-party payors by reducing patients' length of stay in acute care hospital beds. By doing so, acute care beds are made available to serve the high demand that currently exists in Bon Secours Hospital's service area.

"On behalf of the Sisters of Bon Secours and our board of directors, I would like to thank the McGregor Fund for its support and endorsement of the Nursing Care Center and its progressive concept for physical and rehabilitative services," said David Benfer, executive director, Bon Secours Hospital. The Sisters of Bon Secours Nursing Care Center will also provide a wide-range of services for elderly persons such as skilled long-term nursing care, dietetics, pharmacy, and social services. Each resident will be cared for according to a program designed to meet his or her individual health care needs.

Construction of the center has remained on schedule throughout the winter months. When open in early 1985, the center will include a central, three-story atrium and individually decorated rooms to provide a stimulating environment for residents.

"The Sisters of Bon Secours Nursing Care Center will provide a vibrant living environment which will encourage patients and residents to live life to its fullest potential rather

Parkinson group meets at Calvary

The Northeast Parkinson Support Group will meet Wednesday, March 28, at 2 p.m. at Calvary Senior Center, 4950 Gateshead, just west of Mack and three blocks south of Moross.

The speaker will be Virginia Tekieli, pharmacist, who will discuss Parkinson medications.

All Parkinson patients are invited. A family member or friend will be also welcome. For further information call Walter Nugent at 886-0815 or the Michigan Parkinson Foundation at 494-8983.

Library Friends to hear Kienzle

A free lecture sponsored by the Friends of Harper Woods Public Library will feature noted author William X. Kienzle. The event will be held Thursday, March 29, 7:30 p.m. in the library basement, 19601 Harper. The lecture follows the annual membership meeting of the Friends.

Kienzle's mysteries are full of suspense. Perhaps the best known are "The Rosary Murders" and "Death Wears a Red Hat."

"The Rosary Murders" concerns the death of nuns and priests. Father Bob Koesler is a mystery buff and helps the police put together the solution. He is the former editor of The Detroit Catholic (a fictitious name for Michigan Catholic). Detroit and suburban landmarks abound in all of Kienzle's novels.

"Death Wears a Red Hat" finds the kingpins of crime in the Detroit area killed, and in most cases only their heads are found atop statues in area Catholic churches.

Other books written by Kienzle include "Mind Over Murder," "Assault with Intent" and "Shadow of Death." Coffee and cookies will be served following the lecture. You need not be a member of the Friends to attend.

Local choir will sing at Orchestra Hall

The Boys Choir of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, will take part in the presentation of Benjamin Britten's "War Requiem" at 8 p.m. Monday, March 26, at Orchestra Hall, Woodward and Parsons in Detroit.

Under the direction of Bradley Bloom, the combined choirs will include The Ann Arbor Cantata Singers, The Kenneth Jewell Chorale, The Schoolcraft College Chorale as well as the Christ Church boys' choir. The Grand Rapids symphony orchestra will accompany singers.

Composed for the consecration of the newly-built Coventry Cathedral, Britten's "War Requiem" was first performed in May, 1962. The Requiem intertwines various sections of the Latin Mass for the Dead with nine poems by Wilfred Owen depicting the horror of World War I.

Tickets, priced at $7, $10 and $12, are available by calling the Orchestra Hall at 833-3700.

New dates for Music Festival

The fourth annual Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival statewide piano competition has been rescheduled because of schedule conflicts among the jurors. The preliminaries will now be on Saturday, April 28, and the finals will be on Sunday, April 29, at the War Memorial Center, 32 Lakeshore Road.

Young concert pianists between the ages of 18 and 32 have an opportunity to compete for concert bookings and more than $2,000 in awards provided by a major grant from the Michigan Foundation for the Arts. The deadline for entries has been extended to Monday, April 16.

Any pianist who is currently living, studying or working in Michigan, or who has been a Michigan resident and has received an important part of his or her education here, is eligible.

Chief juror and artistic director of the competition is Mischa Kottler, Detroit's pianist laureate and long time pianist of the Detroit Symphony. With him will be concert pianist Flavio Varani and Felix Resnick, conductor of the Grosse Pointe Symphony. Also participating will be concert pianist Fedora Horowitz and "Free Press" music critic and pianist, John Guinn.

The repertoire of the contestants makes an exciting program. The requirements call for a Bach prelude and fugue and a romantic or impressionist work for the preliminaries, and a Beethoven sonata, a contemporary sonata and a concerto for the finals.

Entries for the competition are due by Monday, April 16. For complete instructions, entrants may call or write the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich. 48236. The phone, which is manned Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., is 881-7511.

Persons knowing promising young pianists should encourage them to enter this competition. Its purpose is to aid and encourage Michigan talent, to gain experience in competing and to provide the most promising performers opportunities to perform on established series programs.

Ford House will celebrate Bach birthday

The group Flauto e Basso will present "The Legacy of J.S. Bach," its second annual musical celebration of the composer's birthday, on Saturday, March 24, at 8 p.m. at the Edsel and Eleanor Ford House.

Music by Bach and his sons and students will be performed on original instruments by Thomas Cirtin, baroque flute, and Danial Jenka, harpsichord.

The duo will be joined by Kay Tuttle, baroque violin and Thomas Sofcovic, baroque bassoon, for music by J.S. Bach, W.F. Bach, Krebs and Abel. The concert will also feature the Ars Amicae Chamber Singers performing "Lobet den Herrn, alle Heiden" and "Vater unser in Himmelreich."

Tickets are $7, $5 for children under 12. Guests are invited to tour the main floor of the home. Tickets are available in advance by calling 656-1574 for information and a free brochure.

NEW FROM COMERICA...

THE SMART CARDS FOR LARGE BALANCES.

Comerica now offers an annual percentage rate of 16.9% interest.

One of the principles behind good money management is smart use of your credit. But most people would agree that there's nothing very smart in paying 18 to 24% interest, plus a service charge on top of it. That's why Comerica now offers a new Visa or MasterCard to the frequent charge customer at an annual percentage rate of just 16.9% interest. The lowest bank card rate in the state, and a rate you can count on throughout 1984.

The difference is easy to see. The cards are easy to get.

Go ahead, compare. Then act. You can even transfer your Visa and MasterCard balance from another bank to Comerica, and start saving on the interest charges instantly.

Where the future lives.

Comerica

Plus, we'll pay your first $30 of interest charges.

For the next two years, Comerica will apply your annual card fee to the interest paid on your account. Meaning, if you pay at least $30 in interest for the year, you actually wind up paying nothing for the card.

$150,000 in travel accident insurance.

Besides the lowest bank card rate in the state, and an annual fee that's credited to your interest, these cards offer you and your family additional security in your travels. When you use the cards to charge plane, bus, boat, or any common carrier tickets, you receive $150,000 in travel accident insurance automatically and at no additional cost.

Add it all up. The lowest bank card rate in the state, an annual card fee that's credited to your interest, travel insurance, easy to obtain. Comerica is helping frequent charge customers save on the necessary tools they need for better money management. Smart. For more information, call toll free: 1-800-292-1300.

Show is 'Under the Gaslight'

The Grosse Pointe Memorial Church senior high Taxis group will present the Gay 90's melodrama and musical review, "Under the Gaslight," on Friday and Saturday, March 23 and 24, at 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the church, 16 Lakeshore Road. Tickets, $3, are on sale in the church office and at the door the nights of the performance. Studying their scripts in preparation for the show are (front row, left to right) Lisa Hathaway, Lisa West and Eric Miller (back row) Curt West, Phil Antonson, Gretchen Kogel, Kerry Callahan, Kristin Kogel, George Renaud, Tyler Steben and Jay Williams. Call the church, 882-5330, for more information.

Lenten themes at Christ United "Journey Inward; Journey Outward" is the theme of a series of Lenten Services offered at Christ United Methodist Church, 15943 East Warren Avenue at Haverhill, Detroit.

Dr. Quincy Cooper, of Scott Memorial United Methodist Church, will be the guest speaker on March 28. The Reverend Susan DeFoe, of Mt. Hope United Methodist Church, will bring the message.

The North High Chorale will present a program featuring seasonal music and selections from "Godspell" on April 11. The community is invited to share these services during the Lenten Season starting at 7:30 p.m. on the above dates. Entrance will be provided at the Warren-Haverhill door and child care will be available.

Easter morning services will be held in the church sanctuary at 10:45 a.m. with special music under the direction of organist James R. Bain and an Easter message by the Rev. Frank R. Leineke.

OWL will discuss credit and finance

The Detroit Metro Older Women's League will hold a noon brunch seminar Sunday, March 25, at the Woodbridge Tavern, 289 St. Aubin in Detroit.

The subject is "Finance, Credit and the Older Woman." Guest speakers are Mary Fowlie, attorney and president of the Women's Lawyers Association of Michigan, and Carol Cook, financial planner for IDS/American Express.

Reservations are $6.50 per person. For more information, call 885-3690.

The Ohio Company
investment seminar:
tax-free* income,
tax sheltered income

Each Tuesday at 7:30 PM we will hold informal seminars on investing.

Tax-free income
The Ohio Company's seminar on "Tax-Free Income" has been designed by investment specialists to show the general public the advantages of tax-free investments.

Our seminar will answer such questions as:

- Are tax-free securities only for the rich?
- How safe are municipal securities?
- What types of tax-free investments are available?
- Are tax-free securities for me?

*May or may not be subject to state or local taxes

Tax sheltered income
How present tax laws permit generous sheltered income and, in fact, encourage it.

This portion will explain:

- The wide range of IRA and Keogh retirement vehicles available
- The safety and attractive income afforded by Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA) certificates
- How limited partnerships work in a conservative environment

A limited number of spaces are available. To reserve your space, fill out and mail the coupon below or call:

St. Paul scientists explore

Students at St. Paul School measured plant growth, researched the human senses, acid rain and studied the universe in preparation for the school's annual science fair held last month.

Three of the seventh grade projects were entered in the Detroit Metropolitan Science Fair at Cobo Hall on March 8, as well, and all were judged winners. Top honors went to Ann McDonald for her acid rain investigation. She also won two professional awards, a citation from the Detroit Edison Company and she'll be honored at Ford Auditorium next month. St. Paul's Jill McDonough and Maureen Yap also received high marks at the Cobo Hall exhibition.

St. Paul also awarded first place honors to fourth grade students Ben Rabaut, life science; Patty Provenzano, physical science; and Sarah McCandless, earth and space science.

Fifth graders winning the top prize were Kathy Nault, life science; Jason Bedsworth,

Math counts for these kids

Parcells Middle School sent a team of four to the first Detroit Regional MATHCOUNTS competition, a cooperative effort of education, business and government aimed to stimulate excitement about math.

The Parcells team competed against 34 other schools and came out fourth. Its members were Gregory Cooksey, Domenic Martilotti, William Mullan and William Lewis, who finished first in the Special Topics-Oral Presentation category.

MATHCOUNTS is a national program that has involved 16,000 seventh and eighth grade students in competition to improve their math skills. Parcells' coach was Alan Silverston.

Brownell honors 'Reading month'

Governor James Blanchard has proclaimed March as "Reading Month In Michigan" and Brownell Middle School is celebrating in many ways. Students and staff have been hearing frequent announcements notifying them of "Reading Month In Michigan" and offering suggestions on how they can celebrate with their families at home.

Most importantly, Brownell's staff and students will be having a Read-In the least two weeks in March. Each day at the prescribed time of 2:05 p.m. everyone will stop all his or her work and start reading for a daily period of 15 minutes.

Each classroom will have a variety of materials available and everyone is encouraged to read something they will enjoy.

Principal William Christofferson says "reading is the heart and soul of our educational program and giving it additional emphasis during 'Reading Month' seems to be an appropriate activity for our students and staff members."

Students bring home 40 awards

More than 300 marketing and distributive education students from 20 area high schools participated in recent regional competition. In spite of the stiff competition, North students were able to capture a total of 42 awards.

The winners were: Cathy Stoecke, Cheryl Rinke, Sue Yaklin, Sheila St. Amour, Cathy Alfonsi, Marco Lachapelle, Mary Kourelis, Tracy Bente, Steve Saigh and Jay Dansbury.

More were Jenna Burt, Robyn Moxley, Doug Calka, Matt Terry, Michelle Lapanse, Pat Causley, Shawn Hoskin, Gaspar Salvaggio, Fred Rinke and Steve Smith.

How Should I Start an Exercise Program?

Slowly. If you're not currently exercising on a regular basis, you can't expect to start out by running five miles every morning. Begin with something you can do — walking a half-mile, or even a quarter-mile. After several days, when that becomes easier, increase the amount of exercise.

Build more exercise into your daily life:

Remove some of your home extension telephones; use the stairs instead of the elevator; park at the far end of the lot at shopping centers; walk, don't drive, to the corner store.

Check with your physician before beginning any exercise program.

Sinai Hospital's Health and Fitness Program offers a complete evaluation and exercise orientation for persons interested in beginning an exercise program. For more information, call 493-6333.

Sinai Hospital Has the Answer

Sinai Hospital announces the opening this Spring of the Nathan I. and Betty Goldin Health Care Center, 6450 Farmington Road (at Maple), West Bloomfield. The Health Care Center will offer outpatient services in cardiovascular fitness and rehabilitation, psychiatry, and physical medicine and rehabilitation. For more information, call 493-5500.

The pirates are coming

By Lila Wajack
St. Clare

Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance" will be performed at St. Clare of Montefalco's church hall on Thursday and Friday, March 22 and 23 at 7:30 p.m.

Marilyn Schorer, music teacher and director, has spent months working with the cast of more than 60 dedicated actors and actresses. Kevin Reid is Major-General Stanley while Larry Recard is the lovelorn Frederic. Jason Jacklyn and Tom Mitchell play the tough but funny Pirate King. Anthony Slusser is Samuel, James Diaz is the Sergeant and Megan McKeever portrays Ruth. Rebecca Wasinger is Mabel, JoEllen DeRonghe is Edith, Courtney Johnson is Kate, and Jeannine Fett is Isabel.

The Pirate Band is played by John Finucane, Matthew Haun, Peter Haun, Daniel Lloyd, Chris May, Jonathan McGrail, Joe Morandini, Shannon Nowiecki,

Pierce band wins top rating

The Pierce Middle School Concert Band participated in the district XVI Band Festival, March 10 in Algonac. The Pierce band was one of three class C groups that received a Number 1.

The selections the band played for the concert portion of the program were Citadel March by Erickson, Litany and Alleluia by Forsblad and Brandywine Creek by Forsblad.

Pierce was one of only two groups to receive a number 1 rating in sightreading.

Michael Pote, John Purrenhage, John Schwenk and Gil Waitkus.

The policemen are Michael Cheltenham, Richard Darke, John DiGiovanni, Michael Galloway, Keith Mitchell, Pat Playwin, Brian Rauch, James Teysier and John Colby.

The Major's lovely daughters are played by Jennifer Berg, Leah Calomeni-Michaels, Jennifer Chesney, Holly Cole, Jennifer Costa, Tiffany Frazier, Jessica Gainer, Megan Lahey, Clare Lynn, Pamela Montpas, Marilyn Niforos, Kelly Przybysz, Cecelia Rettig, Christine Schulte, Kelley Shock, Molly Sullivan, Shannon Sullivan, Heather Wilson, Amy Wronikowski, Celeste Dorris, Jacqueline Marshall, Rebecca Cho, Bleu Frazier, Mari-Jane Garling, Rebecca Bertrand and Sara Wasinger.

The backstage group are led by Irene Ebner, producer; and Diane Sullivan, stage manager. Pat McKeever is accompanist and Ann Carroll Jensen is choreographer. Maria Elena Slusser is in charge of designing and producing all the costumes. The many various props are in the care of Judy Rauch and Laura Pote. The striking sets were designed and executed by Augustine Tedesco. Kate Schulte and Annette Marshall are in charge of make-up.

The stage crew is Melissa Petersmarck, Jeanne Purrenhage, Erik Garr, Derald Penn, James Myers, Chris Dinsmoore and Michael Swink.

The cast will celebrate with a party after the last performance planned by Carol Haun.

Tickets are $2 and may be purchased at St. Clare School.

This gruff looking band of pirates (from left to right) Peter Haun, Jason Jacklyn and Gil Waitkus, will be on stage Thursday and Friday, March 22 and 23, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Clare of Montefalco's church hall in Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance." Tickets are $2.

Earn extra-high interest on a 5-year IRA from NBD opened by April 16.

NBD's 5-year IRA investment pays 11½%, compounded semi-annually for an effective annual yield of 12%. After 5 years, a $2,000 IRA deposit will be worth $3,524.61.

If you don't already have your 1983 or 1984 Individual Retirement Account, now is an extra-good time to open one at NBD. Through April 16, we're offering an even higher rate on our 5-year IRA investment than we've ever offered before.

NBD offers you a wide choice of IRA investments.

Our special 5-year IRA savings plan features our highest interest rate. But we know that even extra high interest doesn't make it the best plan for everyone.

You may want a shorter term IRA plan. We offer many choices ranging from a 6-month Money Market Certificate to a 4-year IRA investment. All of these plans carry a $1,000 minimum deposit. The exact interest rate depends on which one you choose.

NBD offers you alternative plans.

If you want your IRA plan to be an extra-flexible one so that you can diversify your investment, we have a self-directed IRA plan that lets you invest in stocks or mutual funds. It allows you to change your investment strategy when you feel it necessary. The minimum deposit varies with the types of investments you choose.

When you invest in any IRA plan, there are two important things to remember. First, if you withdraw funds from any time savings plan before it matures, federal regulation requires a substantial interest-forfeiture penalty. Furthermore, if you withdraw funds from an IRA plan before you reach age 59½, the IRS imposes certain tax penalties.

NBD talks with you in plain English.

We think our IRA plans are the best around, and we want to make it easy for you to compare all of the IRA plans we have available. NBD bankers are trained to help take the confusion out of choosing one. We give you all the information you need. No tricky figures. No surprises. Just straight facts. And that's part of what makes NBD an extra special place to open your IRA.

Injuries from Auto Accidents

Grosse Pointe Woods Chiropractic Clinic
881-7677

Q I was in an automobile accident one month ago and suffered whiplash. I have had constant neck, shoulder, and back pain. Recently dizzy spells and stomach upset have developed. Can these symptoms be related to the accident? Should I seek chiropractic treatment?

A Whiplash injury is very serious and can cause many bizarre symptoms that may develop months after the accident. Other symptoms that may develop months after the accident are pain between the shoulders, vertigo, ringing in the ears, pain radiating down the arm or leg, headaches, stiffness of spinal joints, neuralgia, and more. These symptoms are due to the irritation of the spinal soft issues (muscles, ligaments, cartilage and the delicate nerves which exit the spine). The head is delicately balanced on 7 cervical vertebrae (neck bones). As the head is violently thrust forward and backward several thousand pounds of force is dissipated through the entire spine. The treatment of choice for whiplash is chiropractic. Chiropractic restores normal mobility to joints and reduces misalignments of the spine due to the accident. Early detection and treatment of whiplash through chiropractic care can prevent serious consequences.

Direct questions to Dr. Jantz, Grosse Pointe Woods Chiropractic, 20217 Mack Ave., GPW phone 881-7677. Continued next week.

Park programs get attention
 The Grosse Pointe Park Citizens Advisory Board for the Wayne County Community Development Block Grant Program has approved the continued participation plan which will allow an additional $80,000 in street improvements on Mack Avenue to be completed in 1984.
 The architectural firm of Schervish, Vogel, Merz, Cardoza, as project engineer, has under construction the first phase of this four-year street improvement project which also includes a 34 car offstreet parking lot approved by the Park council.
 Other programs include the continuation of a residential loan program for low and moderate income residents to correct code violations on their property. Sixty-nine loans have been administered since 1978 and an additional sixty qualified residents are currently waiting for the 1984 housing rehabilitation program.
 The Services for Older Citizens Program (SOC) will continue the minor home repair service during 1984. In the past year, more than 50 Park residents were benefited by this program.
 City manager John R. Crawford informed the board that all communities participating in the block grant program were recently notified by Wayne County to anticipate a 14 to 16 percent decrease in the entitlement grant program for 1984.

Woods holds spring tree sale

The Woods Tree Commission will sponsor a spring tree sale from Wednesday, March 21, through Monday, April 16, for residents. Seven varieties of trees with a full one-year guarantee will be offered in either 1 1/2 to 2-inch, or 2 to 2 1/2-inch calipers.

Order forms are available at the Woods municipal office during regular business hours and at the public safety desk any time. Orders must be returned with a check by Monday, April 16, to either to cashier's office or the blue municipal payment box outside city hall.

The seven varieties of balled, burlapped, nursery-grown trees offered are Milky Way dogwood, Snowdrift flowering crabapple, red flowering crabapple, Redmond linden, Marshall's seedless ash, Shademaster locust and English oak. Prices range from $60 to $137.

Trees and granite memorials, which are tax-deductible, can be purchased through this sale as a memorial to a loved one, the commission said.

Church will offer Revelation series

Faith Community Church, 20500 Moross, will begin a series Sunday, March 25, to explore the churches of the Book of Revelations.

The Rev. Rick Oppenheimer will present lectures and films in the eight-part series as well as lead the discussion. Lectures begin at 6 p.m. preceded by soup-and-sandwich meals at 5:30 p.m.

The churches of Revelation to be explored are March 25, Patmos; April 1, Ephesus; April 8, Smyrna; April 15, Pergamum; May 13, Thyatira; May 20, Sardis; June 3, Philadelphia; and June 10, Laodicea.

For more information, call the church offices at 881-9111.

Ed Hahn shows African slides

The Eastside Parkinson Patient Support Group of the Michigan Parkinson Foundation will present "An African Safari," a slide presentation by Grosse Pointe resident Edgar A. Hahn.

Wine's next target is Mao

Sherwine Wine's lecture series, "Heroes Under Attack," will conclude next Tuesday, March 27, when he discusses author Liang Heng's book about growing up in the turmoil of the Great Cultural Revolution in China. The lecture will begin at 8 p.m. at the War Memorial.

Heng, who was born in central China in 1954, provides his readers with a shocking glimpse of life as lived in Maoist China. His story is unique, yet it is, in many ways, typical of those young Chinese who have been troubled and tested in recent years. Heng asks,

New film comes to Science Center

From the bubbling cauldrons of a Pennsylvania steel mill to the rolling water of a mountain stream, "Energy! Energy!" carries you with a rush into the power centers of America.

The film by award-winning filmmaker Francis Thompson is being shown in the domed Space Theater at the Detroit Science Center with special double feature presentations of "To Fly," also a Francis Thompson film, at 4:30 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

"Energy," a Department of Commerce movie, was seen by more than 2 million people in the United States Pavilion at the World's Fair in Knoxville, Tenn. It explores dramatic scenes, energy use from pioneers with horse-powered farming equipment and wind and water-powered mills to today's high-speed transportation by super cars and supersonic jets. The film examines innovations in power generation by solar collectors, turbine windmills and nuclear fusion.

"Energy! Energy!" is overpowering in its use of multiple exposures and window-pane shots as well as panoramic cityscapes and mountainscapes, all seen on the 67 1/2 foot screen of the Space Theater by the viewer in reclining chairs.

The Detroit Science Center at John R and E. Warren is open Tuesday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Saturday 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Sunday noon to 7 p.m. Admission includes the Exhibit Hall and the Space Theater. For information please call 577-8400. Group and family rates are available.

Get in tune with your body

Triathlon champion Charlie Blanchard will talk about being in top shape Thursday, March 29, at the War Memorial. His lecture begins at 8 p.m. and he will be joined by noted sports medicine expert, Dr. Steven Glickman, and Deanna Hawthorne, owner of Vital Options, a statewide network of exercise classes.

Together, in "Fit as a Fiddle...In Tune With Your Body," the three will discuss such topics as conditioning, nutrition, proper warm-up procedures and the causes, prevention and treatment of injuries. Their presentation is designed to inspire the beginner who is seeking motivation and to inform parents of youngsters who participate in competitive inter-scholastic sports.

As Mike O'Hara, of the Detroit News noted, Charlie Blanchard was once a 180 pound football center and "nobody kicked sand in his face." Today he is a 148 pound "Ironman." Last year he won the grueling 140 mile triathlon with a time of 10 hours and 48 minutes. The event, which combines swimming, bicycling and running, is known as the supreme test of endurance athletics.

Admission to the lecture is $5 for adults and $3 for full-time students. Tickets are available at the War Memorial and may be purchased in person or by mail. Advance reservation is suggested.

CAR TALK

From RAY LAETHEM
Pontiac, GMC, Truck

BY RAY LAETHEM

BEFORE BUYING BATTERY

Before you buy a replacement battery, be sure you need one. Have the old one checked by your service station to ensure that the run-down condition is not due to a loose connection, corrosion, or other correctable cause.

Be sure that the new battery has an electrical rating at least equal to your old battery, and fits the hold-down brackets and battery tray. Compare prices, ratings and warranties. You will find substantial differences in batteries of the same size. Be sure the warranty is in writing and dated.

Be wary of bargain batteries - they may be low in both capacity and quality. As in most everything else, you get about what you pay for. If your car came equipped with a six-cell, 12 volt battery, replace it with a six-cell, 12 volt battery. Similarly, replace a three-cell 6 volt battery with another of the same. The two types of batteries are NOT interchangeable.

When you think Pontiac - think RAY LAETHEM PONTIAC where you get a good deal plus a great deal more. We pride ourselves in offering the lowest price, maximum trade allowance, low cost financing and quality service.

erator told police he pulled the van out of the mud along a roadway the next day, and was paid with an expensive camera belonging to Mr. Pongrace.

Steel then reportedly drove the van to Southern California, where he had relatives. According to Agent Fallin, the van was recovered in Los Angeles at the home of Steel's sister. Several possessions belonging to Mr. Pongrace were recovered at the home.

The van was also recovered, after two men were arrested while stripping the vehicle. It was unknown whether the van had been stolen from Steel or if he had sold it to the men.

Inspector Joe Hautzinger, of the Calgary City Police Department, Alberta, confirmed that a "Canada wide" warrant for Steel has also been issued.

The Canadian warrant is believed to have been issued because of Steel's possible involvement in the armed robbery of "some sort of a financial institution, such as a bank or credit union," said Inspector Hautzinger.

According to reports, the last time Steel was spotted was in Tucson, Ariz., while Steel was reportedly hitchhiking to Pensacola, Fla. to visit a girlfriend.

Extremely frustrated by the lack of progress in the Pongrace robbery and death are Mr. Pongrace's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Pongrace, of the Pointe.

"It's a very trying situation," said Otto Pongrace, in a phone interview. "We've been in contact with the FBI, but I don't know, maybe their major responsibilities don't involve homicide anymore."

"They don't seem to be doing much. They'll wait until some local police authority catches this guy then they'll step in."

"More problems are that we can't get anyone to help us recover our son's possessions," said Pongrace. "The van was recovered in Los Angeles. I was there when it was recovered. We don't know if they were imprisoned or what. We've been trying to get information so we can go out and recover the van, but all we've met is a dead end."

Pongrace said they were also having trouble getting possession of their son's camera, used to pay the tow truck operator. "The FBI says it's one of their main pieces of evidence," said Pongrace. "I think they could take the serial numbers, check it for prints and so on and let us have it. It belonged to my son. We've sent lists of my son's possessions to the FBI, but I think they just get filed."

"I'm at my wit's end," added Pongrace. "People tell me to hire a good lawyer, but I shouldn't have to do that. Maybe if I had more clout, or power in the community, I could make the FBI get busy. I just don't know."

The last known description the FBI had of Steel was of a white male, clean shaven, between 5 foot 7 and 10 inches tall with a stocky build. At that time he was wearing a blue back pack and was traveling with a black Labrador type dog.

"We have no records of any previous convictions for Steel," said Agent Fallin. "Right now the warrants involve only possible theft and robbery, but they're enough to pick him up and then we'll talk about Mr. Pongrace's death."

"Additional charges could then be filed."

Olympics problems. In another challenge, called Camelot, student teams must figure a way to guide each other blindfolded through a maze without using verbal communication. In yet another problem students are challenged to complete chapter 136 of the novel "Moby Dick" and act it out on stage.

"Instead of just using the stuff on the top of your mind, you have to go back and think," said 10-year-old Sarah Bardeen, who is playing Captain Ahab in the Moby Dick problem. "But it's fun," she said. "We want to win, so we're being creative."

The youngsters also work on short term problems and "brainstorm" answers in quick succession to a variety of questions, such as "what else can you use a pocket comb for besides combing your hair?" Traditional answers, while acceptable, receive fewer points than creative ones.

"The Olympics is a program designed to turn creative thinkers into creative doers," says Deborah Hackney, a fifth grade teacher who is working with students at Ferry.

Kathy Roberts, a parent coach at Defer, says once students are exposed to the Olympics' new way of looking at problems "they grow in ways the standard curriculum does not permit. And what's more, they have a lot of fun doing it," Mrs. Roberts said.

The students are all training for the regional Olympics to be held this Saturday, March 24, at the Auburn Hills campus of Oakland Community College. There, about 800 youngsters from southeastern Michigan will compete and candidates for state Olympics will be selected.

Parents have been an important part of the program at both schools. Among the volunteer coaches at Defer are Charles Rupprecht, Diane Scarborough, Nancy Kline, Marion Spitzley, Cheryl Cuneo, Nina Nord, Laura Maiale, Gail Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie VanAntwerp, David Spitzley and Donna Butuel.

Mrs. VanAntwerp, surrounded by noisy kids late Friday afternoon while most mothers were home getting ready for dinner, explained why she's involved as an Olympic coach. "I moved here from another community that had the program and I was anxious to get one started at Defer so my kids could participate."

"This program is important. It teaches them to think."

this day, dyes his hair and eyebrows green for St. Paddy's Day.

He started this tradition when he was 21. He's 64 today and still gives 'em a start at his favorite watering holes every March.

Another uncle, also a Ryan, was into get rich schemes and strange inventions. He thought he'd finally stumbled into El Dorado when he won a furniture store in a poker game. He lost it back the next day. He also won a race horse that way. It too, was won back by its previous owner.

Another uncle, this one an O'Connor, went to Boblo with his wife, and died there. Seems he was in one of those cable swings (the kind with the big Dumbo-like airfoils in the front), when the Man upstairs tapped him on the shoulder.

The real problem began when the Canadian authorities wouldn't release the body right away. He was a naturalized American citizen, (his father was Canadian), and naturally he didn't have any papers on him. It was a while before he was allowed back in the States. A unique way to go out, and come back in.

Last, but not least, another of Peggy's relatives joined the Marine Corps during World War II and saw a lot of action. During one particularly fierce battle in the South Pacific he received a serious, yet not life threatening, gun shot wound to a delicate part of his body. Since then, the O'Connors have referred to him as "Ol Lefty."

Anyway, everyone from the Greenwood, Finn, Ryan and O'Connor clans hopes you had a happy St. Patrick's Day.

"Whose Life Is It, Anyway?," a Grosse Pointe Theatre production, will be presented as a special benefit performance for the Community Hospice Education Committee on Thursday, April 26, at 8 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The play depicts the conflict between a paralyzed patient who wishes to die with dignity and a hospital staff physician who feels he is bound to prolong life under any circumstances. May Tyler-Moore starred in the original Broadway production in the early '70s. Richard Dreyfuss starred in the first-run movie, shown throughout the country.

The Community Hospice Education Committee (CHEC) is sponsored by Bon Secours, Cottage and Saint John Hospitals, in cooperation with the Community Hospice Education Committee of the Junior League of Detroit, Inc. All proceeds from the benefit performance will be used to educate the community about the hospice concept.

Last year, CHEC brought Dr. Josephine Magno, past-president of the National Hospice Organization, to Grosse Pointe to talk about hospice care. Monies raised via this year's benefit will purchase books and educational information on hospice for public libraries and other community resource centers.

Tickets, at $6 general admission, $10 patron, may be ordered by calling the Cottage Hospice, 884-8600, Extension 2419. Participating on the CHEC committee are Judy Liliensiek, R.N., and Doris Heath, from Bon Secours Hospital, Sondra Seeley, R.N., and Julia Arango, from Cottage Hospital, Phyllis Howard, St. Clair Ambulatory Health Services, and Mary Lou Huber, Ph.D., Saint John Hospital.

Honorary chairpersons for the "Whose Life Is It, Anyway?" CHEC benefit evening are Dr. and Mrs. John Schneider and Dr. and Mrs. Eudoro Coello.

Horticulture Seminar

'Tis the season to begin thinking about how your gardens will grow — lovely thought! — and The Pointe Garden Club, thinking spring, will host a Horticulture Seminar for the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, District I, next Tuesday, March 27, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

You're all invited. Come at 9:30 a.m. and bring your favorite brown bag lunch (dessert and beverage will be provided). Hear Carl Dolhopf, regional supervisor, Plant Industry Division, Michigan Department of Agriculture, speak on the Gypsy Moth. Enjoy Mrs. Julian Haydon's explanation and demonstration of "Techniques in Bonsai Culture."

Captains and Colonels wanted for SHOW BOAT!

Spring will bring SHOW BOAT! to town, docking at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Friday, May 4, ready to welcome Captains and Colonels and just plain folks to its dining, casino and entertainment areas. It's the Grosse Pointe Symphony Women's Association only fund raiser this season — there will be NO spring garage sale, and NO summer concert at Jacobson's in-the-Village — and the Symphony Women are determined to make it the season's most spectacular benefit. The chef at the GPYC is creating a special cuisine to complement the atmosphere and glamor of a Mississippi riverboat in the late 1800s. The casino on "A" Deck (the club's dining room) will open from 6 p.m., when cocktail service begins. There'll be dancing, to the music of Chet Bogan and his Wolverine Jazz Band, featuring vocalist Dixebelle, and a floor show spotlighting the banjo magic of Dr. Richard Ferrara. Captains — patron ticket holders at $50 per person — and Colonels — sponsor ticket holders at $75 per person — who sign aboard now have a special treat in store for them: their very own Captains and Colonels SHOW BOAT! preview party with cocktails and hors d'oeuvres, running from 6 to 8 p.m. Friday, April 6, at the Harbor

Art auction benefit for Star of Sea

The annual art auction sponsored by the Student-Teacher-Parent Association for Our Lady Star of the Sea High School will be held this year on Saturday, March 31, in the auditorium of the school, located on Fairford Road. The fun begins with a cocktail and hors d'oeuvres preview running from 7 to 8 p.m., when the auction, conducted by the Gallery Art Center, Lathrup Village, begins. Original oils, lithographs, etchings, serigraphs, water colors and sculpture, by such artists as Alvar Chagall, Dali, Erte, Miro, Max and Rockwell, will go on the block. Admission donation is $10 per person, with all proceeds going to the school. Ticket information may be obtained by contacting MRS. RICHARD UNTI (seated, second from right), Student-Teacher-Parent Association president, at 882-3347, pictured above addressing invitations for the benefit with (seated, left to right) MRS. DENNIS MCCARTHY, Freshman representative, MRS. DONALD CALCATERRA, association treasurer, MRS. ANTHONY CIARAVINO, Senior representative, (seated, far right) MRS. Not pictured but also very much involved in planning the evening are Mrs. Frank Pugliesi, social chairman, Mrs. Najy Jaboro, Mrs. John Gagne, Mrs. Patrick Carron and Mrs. Joseph O'Toole.

Teen fashion seminar set

Peggy Treacy, image consultant and co-owner of Pull Yourself Together, will conduct a teen fashion workshop Wednesday, April 4, from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, instructing students on colors that make them look their best and wardrobe planning, with special emphasis on the upcoming spring/summer season. Registration for the two-hour program, at $15 per person, should be made in advance by calling 881-7511.

Triple fashion fun day at Dominican

Dominican High School Distributive Ed and Home Arts Department students and the school's alumnae will sponsor a three-segment show of "sunsational" fashions and an open house Sunday, April 1, at 2 p.m. at Dominican, located on McKinney Avenue in Detroit.

Hand-sewn clothing made by the students, styles from Albert's Eastland and a "fun" punk/new wave division comprise the fashion portion of the program. Prizes will be given in the intermissions between the three segments. Wine and cheese, dessert and coffee or tea will be served during the open house following the show.

Information on tickets, at $5 general admission, $2 student rate, may be obtained by calling 882-8503.

DuFour-Leidy vows are said

Elizabeth Ann Leidy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Leidy, of Lincoln Road, and George A. DuFour II, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. DuFour, of Yorkshire Road, exchanged marriage vows Saturday, February 11, in the Grosse Pointe Academy Chapel.

The 5 o'clock ceremony at which Father Michael O'Leary presided was followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The newlyweds are at home in Chicago, where he is employed at the Chicago Board Options Exchange. Both hold degrees from Wayne State University, she in Finance, he in Economics.

The former Miss Leidy selected a traditional wedding gown, featuring a high-necked, lace bodice and a skirt embroidered with Belgian lace and trimmed in pointe d'esprit. She designed her headpiece of ivory satin ribbons forming a wreath of satin roses, matching her gown's satin cummerbund, and carried her mother's prayer book with a large, white orchid and satin streamers.

In satin-sashed, tea length dresses, champagne in color, were honor attendant Jean Gartner Campbell and bridesmaids Renee and Mary DuFour, the bridegroom's sisters. Each carried a single, red rose with baby's-breath, tied with satin ribbon.

Best man was William E. Livingston. Ushers were the bride's brothers, John Leidy, of Rogersville, Tenn. Michael Leidy, of Ann Arbor, and Mark Leidy, of Muscatine, Iowa, and the bridegroom's brother, Tom DuFour, whose daughter, Jacklyn, served as flower girl.

The mothers of the bride and bridegroom both chose tea length dresses, the former's in a shade of champagne deeper than that of the bridesmaids, with an applique bodice, the latter's of lilac chiffon. Each wore a wrist corsage of Sweetheart roses and carnations.

Gail Pollock

Gail Pollock will be wed

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pollock, of Balfour Road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Gail Ann, to Timothy John Emmitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Emmitt, of Farmington Hills. A midsummer wedding is planned.

Miss Pollock, a Grosse Pointe South High School alumna, expects to receive her Bachelor of Arts degree in Marketing in June from Michigan State University, where she has affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Her fiancé, a North Farmington High School graduate, received his Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from Michigan State University last March. He is affiliated with Theta Chi fraternity, Tau Beta Pi national honorary engineering fraternity and Golden Key national honor society, and is employed by Delco Electronics in Kokomo, Ind.

May wedding date is made

Mr. and Mrs. George McManus, of Hollywood Avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Susan Lynn, to Stephen Michael Sankowski, son of Florence Sankowski, of Warren, and the late Chester Sankowski. A mid-May wedding is planned.

Miss McManus was graduated from Grosse Pointe North High School and received her Bachelor of Science degree in Fashion Merchandising from Western Michigan University. She is an assistant buyer with the J.L. Hudson Company.

Mr. Sankowski, a St. Florian High School alumnus, holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting from the University of Detroit and a Master of Science degree in Taxation from Walsh College.

He is a member of the American and Michigan Associations of Certified Public Accountants and is employed at Burroughs Corporation as manager, International Taxes.

Slate Detroit Rose Society's meeting

The Detroit Rose Society will meet Friday, March 30, at 7:45 p.m. at the Oak Park Community Center for a program on flower arranging by Russ Anger, of Indianapolis, Ind., formerly of Saginaw, who has won many national and local awards for his rose arrangements.

The Night in Monte Carlo held Saturday, March 10, at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House proved to be a night to remember. Over 250 guests enjoyed a tour of the house, plentiful hors d'oeuvres and games of chance, many taking home prizes donated by area merchants. LINC volunteer party staff were assisted by members and wives of the Exchange Club of Grosse Pointe and the Lakeshore Optimist Club. If you were unable to attend this year's benefit, make a note not to miss next year's.

Benefits of the fund raiser will be felt by many as Linking Individuals to Needs in the Community volunteers reach out to the various agencies which turn to LINC for help.

One such agency is AMERICAN INDIAN SERVICES, located at 13340 Michigan Avenue. Founded in 1972, it serves Native Americans in the Detroit area by offering counseling and seminars on drug and alcohol abuse. Its program includes one-to-one counseling, a drop-in center for those who need to talk, and assistance with job hunting and schooling.

Mrs. D. Reynolds, an American Indian Services counselor, directs a Saturday arts and crafts program for pre-school through high school age children, who make items to sell at the trade table at the annual Honor Our Children Pow Wow at Historic Fort Wayne. This program is part of Title IV, which provides cultural classes for Native American Indians.

The agency has requested a showcase to display the completed arts and crafts projects. Also needed are a typewriter and child-size tables and chairs. Please call the LINC office, 331-6700, if you can help.

Another agency which works to help people fighting substance abuse in the Detroit area is the BILLIE HOLIDAY HOUSE, 7302 Frederick. Ernest Griffith, unit director, reports that the program began in 1970 under the name Johari House, changed to Billie Holiday House in 1973.

Billie Holiday House is a treatment center, requiring a minimum stay of 180 days. Residents must remain in-house for the first 30 days, helping to care for the house and receiving counseling. Courses such as wood shop, commercial arts, machine shop and typing are offered, and residents are required to attend a high school equivalency education program.

The house accommodates 35 residents, ages 18 to 55, and has a support staff including a doctor, nurse, consulting psychiatrist and two psychologists. No methadone is used in treatment. Group therapy, job training and placement are included in the program.

ment are included in the program.

There is an on-going need for household items to enable residents leaving Billie Holiday House to set up their own homes, for many must start from the beginning to re-establish homes and lives. Everything, from furniture and bedding to pots and pans, is needed. The agency also would like an aquarium with equipment, to provide a hobby for the residents. A top for a 15-gallon aquarium already in the house is needed, too.

LUTHER HAVEN NURSING HOME, 464 East Grand Boulevard, an affiliate of Lutheran Social Services, is another recipient of LINC's volunteer efforts. Funded in 1952 as a home for the aged, it has developed into a nursing care facility.

Mrs. M. Bommarito, an adult education teacher with the Detroit Public Schools, provides stimulating classes in such areas as art and cooking, as well as a News Club in which Luther Haven residents discuss current events. A Language Arts Class helps residents express themselves. A group for the blind is available two days a week. Music Therapy is offered on Mondays and Fridays.

A recent field trip took 14 Luther Haven residents to the Germack Pistachio Company; they were given a tour and gift packs. All these programs afford many of the home's 150 residents opportunities to keep active mentally and physically.

One Luther Haven event for which donations are needed is bingo. Items such as lotion, powder, clocks, games, Kleenex, hard candy, toothpaste, perfume and soaps are welcome as prizes. Hot air popcorn poppers and portable electric griddles for pancakes are also needed, to use in the cooking classes. If you can help with any of these items, please call the LINC office.

LINC column space is provided each month by the Grosse Pointe News as a community service. Operation LINC needs your generous contributions and your time. We are non-profit, volunteer organization which helps numerous Wayne County agencies and depends on your support. To volunteer or donate usable items, please call us at 331-6700. Our office hours are 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Friday, throughout the year.

Mr. Standart weds in East

Clinton Wood Savage and Joseph G. Standart III exchanged marriage vows Friday, March 16, at Saint Peter's Church in Lithgow, N.Y. They will return from a vacation at the Mill Reef Club on Antigua to take up residence in New York City, where Mr. Standart's photographic studio is located.

The new Mrs. Standart is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hance Savage, of Bronxville, N.Y. Her father, a former executive with the New York Daily News, latterly lived on John's Island, Fla. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Dow Savage, of Scarsdale, N.Y., and the late Dr. and Mrs. Galen Roscoe Goodson, of Beverly Hills, Calif.

She is a graduate of Westover School and Bennett College, currently a volunteer working with New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art and engaged in the sale of 18th Century American furniture.

She was attended by her sister, Galen Savage. Mr. Standart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Standart Jr., of Provencal Road, was attended by his father, a retired senior vice-president of Young and Rubicam.

The bridegroom, a graduate of The Hotchkiss School and Williams College, is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Standart, of Grosse Pointe, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Wessel. Mr. Wessel was the former Chilean Ambassador to Denmark.

Brown-Brady betrothal told

August wedding plans are being made by Joann F. Brady, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Brady, of Harvard Road, and Steven F. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brown, of Alma.

Miss Brady was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School and holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Elementary Education from Michigan State University. She is affiliated with Delta Gamma fraternity.

Her fiancé, an Alma High School graduate, holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Engineering from Michigan State University. He is affiliated with Alpha Epsilon and the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Short and to the Pointe

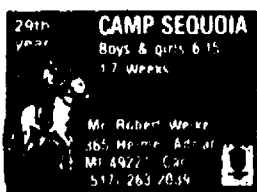

Karen J. Dougherty and Joanne C. Maio, of The Park, Mark L. LaValley, of The Shores, and James A. Francis and Donna M. Medina, of The Woods, were named to the 1983 fall semester Dean's List of the Wayne State University School of Business Administration.

Patricia A. Weper, of Roslyn Road, has been selected to receive the Eastern Michigan University 1984 Recognition of Excellence Award. She is a student at Grosse Pointe North High School.

Danforth Holley, of The Farms, has been named to the Jordan College Energy Institute Advisory Council. Mr. Holley is president of Holley Plastics International.

John Julius Verpoort, of West Williams Court, has earned a Master of Business Administration degree in Management from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Sandra Bittner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bittner, of Lochmoor Boulevard, was named to the Hillsdale College Dean's List for the first semester of 1983-84. A graduate of Lutheran High School East, Sandra earned a perfect 4.0 average.

International Dance Festival

Last year's event drew 1,500 people to Northland Center. This year's International Dance Festival, a Tribute to the Statue of Liberty, celebrates the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit's 65 years of service to the community and Northland's own 30th anniversary, and hopes to attract an even large crowd.

They're in for a grand time. There'll be international decorations throughout the festival area Sunday, April 8, and specially designed ethnic kiosks featuring international foods. There'll be wine, dessert and coffee.

Fifteen of Detroit's best ethnic performing groups, including the Hellenic Society for the Performing Arts Greek Dancers under artistic director Penny Vouduokis, of The Park, will entertain on two stages from 7 to 10 p.m. The Rhythmic Gymnastic Performers, USA champions competing in the 1984 Summer Olympics, will give a special demonstration.

Admission is $12.50 per person, including complimentary valet parking that night and complimentary Northland valet parking cards good through 1984, to be distributed to each ticket holder upon departure. Tickets are available now at Hudson's ticket offices, CTC Ticket World outlets and AAA Branch offices.

They also may be obtained at the International Institute, a Torch Drive-supported agency that provides social services to new immigrants and foreign-speaking people as well as cultural and educational programs about Detroit's different ethnic groups. Telephone number for the Institute, located on East Kirby Street in Detroit's University/Cultural Center, is 871-8600.

Among the patron committee of 90 ethnic community representatives, International Institute board members and government officials involved with festival planning are Grosse Pointers Mr. and Mrs. Bogdan Baynert, Walker Cisler, Frederick Currier, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Germack Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Kappaz, Charles J. Keros, Dr. and Mrs. Kim K. Lie and Mr. and Mrs. William J. Targett, and Dr. Eugene Strobel, of Harper Woods.

Music Closer to Home

Nostalgia buffs, Big Band aficionados and Saturday Night strutters will want to take note of an event closer to home, at Eastland Center, this coming Sunday, March 25: a Statue of Liberty Restoration benefit featuring the Artie Shaw Orchestra.

It's the initial major fund raiser in the Detroit metropolitan area for the Statue of Liberty Restoration Program. Admission is $10 per person, including hors d'oeuvres and wine. "Taxi Dancers" will be available, courtesy of the Arthur Murray Studio, at a dollar a dance, with all proceeds going to the restoration fund.

The fun begins at 7 p.m. The benefit is co-sponsored by the French American Chamber of Commerce and Eastland, and among the many individuals chairing honorary committees for it are The Honorable Jacques Royet, French Consul in Detroit, and Nicole and Peter Stroh. Admission tickets are available at all CTC outlets.

Music at Home, Tomorrow

The Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra presents the second in a series of three "Detroit Symphony Preludes" tomorrow, Friday, March 23, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. A DSO Woodwind Trio (Douglas Cornelsen, clarinet; Paul Ganson, bassoon; John Snow, oboe) will be featured.

Their program, at 11 a.m., will be followed by a subscription luncheon at 12:15 p.m. Cost of the program and luncheon is $12, but you may attend the program only for $5. Tickets and additional information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. John Nolan at 886-6244.

A Ball at Orchestra Hall

Dinner by candlelight ... dancing on stage to music by members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra ... Mitch Miller contributing, for the third time, his talents as conductor and guest host for A Ball at The Hall...

It's all part of the program Tuesday evening, April 3, beginning at 7 p.m. when black tie party-goers arrive at Orchestra Hall for the reception that heralds the La Boheme Ball. They'll stay on for the dinner and the dancing. They'll applaud the featured soloist, soprano Emilia Pezzetti Cundari, who has appeared at La Scala and the Metropolitan Opera.

They'll applaud, too, as special honors are paid to Mrs. Philip Caldwell, a dedicated member of the Hall's board of directors, and to Mitch Miller for their major volunteer contributions on behalf of one of the world's acoustically superior concert halls.

Tickets for the benefit are available at $125 per person ($175 sponsor, $225 patron) at Orchestra Hall, 833-3362, and are tax deductible in accordance with current United States laws.

Fashion date for Bishop Gallagher Mothers

Mid-Century focus on Egypt Tuesday

Mid-Century Toastmistress Club members gathered last Tuesday morning, March 20, for a Ways and Means meeting at the Hidden Lane home of Mary Fitzpatrick who showed a travelogue on Egypt as part of a workshop on that country. Dr. Abdel Aziz, a native of Egypt, was on hand for a question-and-answer period. Luncheon followed.

To tour local art galleries

The club generally meets on the first and third Tuesday of each month at 9:30 a.m. at the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval Avenue at Fisher Road. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Fitzpatrick at 884-4473.

To tour local art galleries

Paula Strickstein will escort a series of 1 to 3:30 p.m. trips to Detroit metropolitan area art galleries and museums, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, beginning next Thursday, March 29, and continuing through May 3.

Fee for the six-week series is $30. A list of galleries to be toured will be mailed to all who register before Monday, March 26. Mrs. Strickstein, an art consultant and arts educator, will comment on the artists whose work is displayed at each stop on each weekly tour. Registration information may be obtained by calling 881-7511.

Children of Mary to sponsor retreat

The Children of Mary will hold their annual retreat Wednesday through Friday, April 4 to 6, at the Grosse Pointe Academy. Each day will start with mass at 10 a.m. in the Sacred Heart Chapel and conclude at 3 p.m. The retreat will be conducted by The Reverend Anthony Tocco, of St. Margaret of Scotland Parish, whose program last year was enthusiastically received. Participants should bring a sandwich and a Bible, and are most welcome to bring a friend.

Fashionable benefit for Marist Fathers

The Gourmet House in St. Clair Shores will be the setting next Thursday, March 29, for a luncheon and showing of fashions from the Renaissance Center World of Shops to benefit the Marist Fathers of Notre Dame High School. The party begins with an 11 a.m. social hour, featuring a cash bar. Information on tickets, at $15 per person, may be obtained by contacting the school, or by calling Bev Puchalski, 463-4846, Linda Watkins, 463-6591, Mary Stefek, 465-0900, or Ann Malkowski, 526-8171.

Set Pointe ABWA Enrollment Event at GPYC Saturday

President Yvonne Miller has announced that the Grosse Pointe Chapter of the American Business Women's Association will hold a spring Enrollment Event this Saturday, March 24, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The program, one of many similar events being hosted during March by ABWA chapters across the country, is designed to inform local business women that they can "Come Alive" with ABWA through the association's expanded opportunities for personal and professional goal attainment.

Women who are employed are eligible for membership in ABWA, but membership is by invitation only. Interested business women are invited to contact President Miller, 469-3059 after 6 p.m., or call 881-3545 for further information on ABWA and/or the Enrollment Event.

The American Business Women's Association, founded in 1949 in Kansas City, Mo., now has a membership of more than 110,000 women in all types of business and professions, in more than 2,000 chapters in the United States and Puerto Rico. These chapters awarded more than $2 million in scholarships to women students during the past year. In that same period, the ABWA National Scholarship Fund awarded over $300,000 in scholarships.

To mark 106 good years

The Lutheran Ladies Auxiliary for the Deaf, organized in 1878, celebrates its 106th anniversary Tuesday, April 3, with a special anniversary service in the Chapel of the Lutheran School for the Deaf, located on East Nevada near Van Dyke in Detroit, at 10:30 a.m., followed by a salad buffet luncheon.

Each year, the auxiliary contributes $6,000 to provide scholarships for students whose parents may not be able to meet full tuition costs. The auxiliary has also set up a fund for a new school bus.

All friends of the school and the auxiliary are welcome. Reservations for the luncheon, at $3.50 per person, should be made in advance by contacting Clara Manske at 882-4683 or Vi Lieberenz at TUxedo 4-9126.

Pregnancy Aid anniversary

Pregnancy Aid, Inc., an organization devoted to helping women find alternatives to abortion, will mark its 10th anniversary with a special awards dinner at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, April 7, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club. The awards, recognizing extraordinary contributions and dedication of individuals on behalf of the organization, will be presented by Pregnancy Aid President MRS. EVERETT SCRANTON (right) to Monsignor Francis X. Canfield, Sister Verence McQuade, S.S.J. Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Tracy, Mrs. John Nienstedt, The Honorable Robert H. Pytell, James P. Venettis and Gilbert J. Waitkus. MRS. MARCELLUS J. SWEENEY (center) is chairman of the evening. MRS. JAMES HELLMICH (left) will serve as toastmistress.

Featured speaker will be Neil Shine, senior managing editor of the Detroit Free Press. The dinner is open to the public, at $15 per person. Tickets may be obtained through the Pregnancy Aid office, located on Mack Avenue near Cadieux Road in Detroit, open from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday and on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9 p.m. The telephone number is 882-1000.

Tickets may also be obtained from any member of the dinner committee: Mrs. Sweeney, Mrs. Hellmich, Mrs. Thomas Mayer, in charge of reservations, Mrs.

Lawrence Garska, decorations chairman, Mrs. Edward Kane, Mrs. Thomas McGohey, Mrs. Joseph A. Sullivan and Miss Alice Zegarski.

Pregnancy Aid was founded by a group of women on Detroit's East Side in the wake of the United States Supreme Court Roe vs. Wade decision, in order to provide a confidential resource for "women helping women." It is an independent, non-profit corporation which offers free services, including pregnancy testing, individual counseling and human service agency referrals, to Detroit area women who experience difficulties due to pregnancy and are in need of help.

Arts, crafts exhibit at Lutheran North

The Ladies Guild of Lutheran High School North, located at 24 Mile and Romeo Plank Roads in Mount Clemens, presents its 10th annual arts and crafts show Saturday, March 24. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission donation is 50 cents, children under five, free.

Over 100 exhibitors will offer everything from handcrafts to homemade Easter candy. Fresh-baked doughnuts and a continuous luncheon will be available. Proceeds from the fund raiser help subsidize Lutheran High North programs.

THE INCREDIBLE 11% FIXED-RATE MORTGAGE FOR OCEANFRONT OR RIVERFRONT LIVING.

RIVERFRONT LIVING.

Now available is a long-forgotten interest rate of 11% for either first or second home buyers, and the mortgage is fully assumable for the first two years. It's available now at Sandpebble, the very successful condominium community on Hutchinson Island in Stuart. These fixed-rate, 11% mortgages with 20% down are for luxurious 2 bedroom/2 bath apartment homes overlooking the ocean or the majestic Indian River.

Sandpebble residents also enjoy their own tennis courts, swimming pools, barbecue facilities, jogging and bike path, a Community Center on a lake, and free boat slips on the Indian River.

We've been saying the location is rare and the time is right. Now it's better than ever with 11% financing. Call collect today: (305) 225-1600.

Learn to plant herbal garden

Caroline Jamison will teach students how to plan, then plant, an herb garden in a three-session series running from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Mondays, April 2, 9 and 16, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Each class will include a slide presentation, a question-and-answer period and a break for herbal refreshments.

The instructor will demonstrate the variety of ways — culinary, fragrant and decorative — herbs can be used. She teaches at the Cranbrook Institute of Science and grows acres of herbs in her own backyard. Fee for her series is $30. Additional information may be obtained by calling 881-7511.

Phase I date for Dr. Spitz

The public is welcome to join members of Phase I, the organization for single, young adults, ages 20 through 39, who gather regularly for Sunday evening program meetings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, this Sunday, March 25, at 8 p.m. to hear Dr. Werner Spitz, Wayne County Chief Medical Examiner, recount his experiences in one of the country's busiest morgues.

Murders account for seven percent of the cases Dr. Spitz deals with. He is a medical detective, dedicated to solving the problems of "how did this person die, what was the angle of the bullet, what was the speed of the car, how did the disease progress" et al.

He will report on his testimony for the Mary Jo Kopechne hearing and tell why, after an examination of x-rays, photographs, films, bullet fragments, clothing and medical reports, he supports the Kennedy assassination "single bullet" theory. His program in Fellowship Hall will be followed by refreshments.

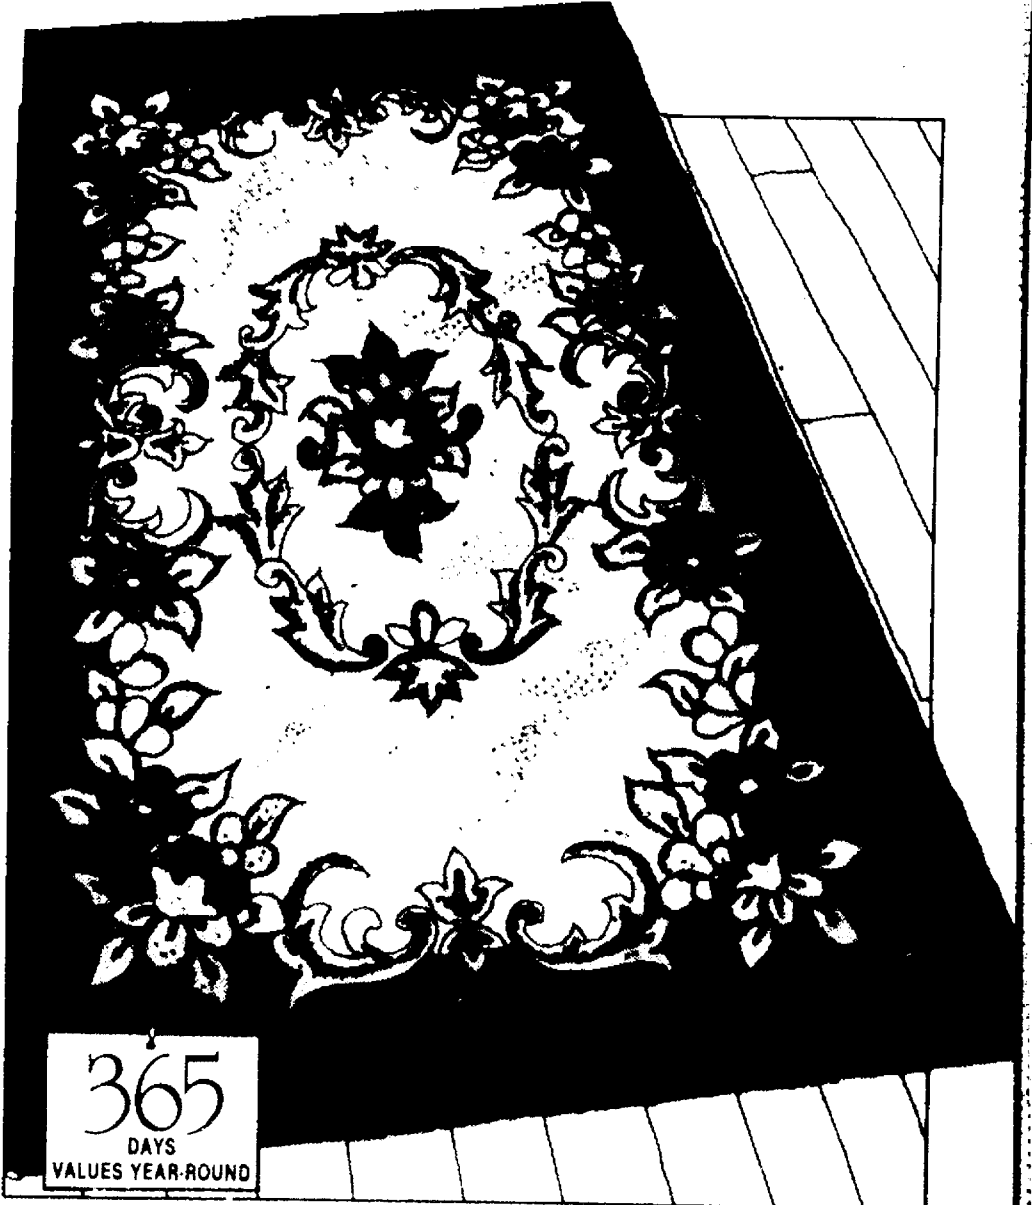

Phase I will sponsor a "night out" a week from tomorrow, Friday, March 30. Car pools form at 7 p.m. Friday, March 30, in the Memorial Church parking lot, to travel downtown to Ford Auditorium for an 8:30 p.m. showing of the 1984 John Biddle sailing film, "Winds of Rivalry," featuring the America's Cup Race. Tickets, at $5 per person, can be purchased at the door. Post-performance, the group will go out to dinner at a restaurant.

Harper Hospital Auxiliary plans jazzy night

Harper Hospital Auxiliary members MRS. EDWARD S. JEFFRIES, MRS. ARTHUR J. JOHNSON and MRS. DAVID SLOANE (left to right) met last week at the home of Mrs. William E. Powers, auxiliary president, to finalize plans for their first Jazz and Blues Concert. The cabaret-style event, running from 6 to 8:30 p.m. Saturday, March 31, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, will feature music by one of Detroit's foremost jazz artists, Roy Brooks, and his quintet, the Artistic Truth, with an appearance by Kenny "Pancho" Hagood. Brooks plays drums and percussion. Band members are Kenn Cox, piano, Marcus Belgrave and Rayse Biggs, trumpet and flugelhorn, Vincent Bowers, saxophone and flute, and Robert Hurst, bass. They'll play to tables of six in the Fries Ballroom, where beer and wine will be available and hors d'oeuvres will be served before the concert and at intermission. The evening is open to the public at $25 per person, tax-deductible. Ticket information may be obtained by contacting the Harper Hospital Volunteer Department, 494-8939.

Assisting Mrs. Powers as co-chairman of the Jazz and Blues Concert is Mrs. William H. Hutton, of The Pointe. Other Pointe residents on the concert committee, in addition to Mrs. Jeffries, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Sloane, are Ms. Patricia Kenney and Mrs. George Kling. Also serving on the committee are Mrs. Martin Robson, of Detroit, Mrs. Allan Swormstedt, of Birmingham, Mrs. John Jacobs, of West Bloomfield, Mrs. Julian Smith and Mrs. Paul Cullis, of Bloomfield Hills, and Mrs. Paul Lattin, of Farmington Hills.

The auxiliary hopes the concert will draw a large crowd, as every penny raised via the benefit will go to the Radiation Oncology Center (ROC) of Harper-Grace Hospitals, built in 1979 and placed under the direction of William E. Powers, M.D., and Donald P. Ragan, Ph.D.

Cancer now strikes one out of every four people. The ROC administers 50,000 radiation treatments and treats 1,000 new patients annually. The Number One goal of its staff of 100, including university/hospital-supported physicians, physicists, technologists, nurses, social workers, couriers, secretaries and volunteers, is care for those patients who have entrusted their lives to the ROC.

In 1979, the Harper Hospital Auxiliary pledged to raise $200,000 to enable the Radiation Oncology Center to continue its fight against cancer and initiate new programs, such as a developmental one in neutron therapy to begin (hopefully) within the next three years, physics programs working to find better ways to eradicate tumorous cells preferentially over normal cells, and a strong program of medical informatics, qualifying results for clinical evaluation.

Chalk Garden set to bloom

To toast Guidance Gazette

Mansour night at Dominican

Women's Sources and Resources will host an evening with Dr. Agnes Mansour on Tuesday, April 3, at 7 p.m. at Dominican High School, located on McKinney off Whittier, just north of I-94, in Detroit.

Her talk on "How Women Can Affect the Political System" will be followed by a panel of politically active women — Pat Coleman Burns, professor of Black Studies, Wayne State University; Sadie Davis, acting director, Women's Center, Oakland Community College; Kay Gee, president, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom; Elizabeth Walters, staff member, Groundwork-A Center for Justice and Peace — reporting on how they began to work to affect the system. Sue Sattler, an attorney with the Detroit Area Agency on Aging, will be moderator.

Tickets ($3 donation) will be available at the door, or may be obtained in advance by mailing checks with self-addressed, stamped envelopes to Women's Sources and Resources, P.O. Box 12296, Hamtramck, Mich. 48212. Additional information may be obtained by calling 293-5864 or 873-1703.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena De Witt Roth featuring, this week, SNACKIN' GOODIES for the SPRING COOKIE JAR.

APPLESAUCE-OATMEAL COOKIES

1/2 cup unsalted margarine
2/3 cup sugar
1/2 cup Egg Beaters
1 cup flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1 cup quick or old-fashioned oats
1 cup coarsely chopped apples
1/2 cup raisins
Cream margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat "eggs" until light and lemony colored, then beat into sugar mixture until very fluffy. Sift together flour, baking powder, cinnamon and nutmeg. Stir into butter mixture; beat well. Stir in oats, apples and raisins. Drop by teaspoonful onto greased cookie sheets. Bake in preheated 350° oven 15 to 20 minutes, or until golden. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.
Calories per cookie about 40.
Cholesterol 0.

AUNT LIZZIE'S PINEAPPLE COOKIES

1/2 cup soft, unsalted margarine
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 egg
1 can (8 oz.) crushed pineapple, canned in own juice
1 1/2 cups quick rolled oats
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1 cup sifted flour
Pinch of salt
1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon
Dash of nutmeg
1/2 cup seedless raisins
2 Tbsp. chopped nuts
Cream margarine. Add sugars and beat until light. Add egg and beat well. Add pineapple, oats and sifted dry ingredients; blend well. Fold in raisins and nuts; mix well. Drop by teaspoonful onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in preheated 375° oven about 15 minutes. Makes about 48 cookies.
Calories per cookie about 62.
Cholesterol per cookie about 5 mgs.

MOLASSES RAISIN COOKIES

2-1/2 cups sifted, all-purpose flour
1 tsp. soda
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. ginger
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 cup steamed raisins
1/2 cup margarine
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup unsulphured molasses
1/2 cup sour milk
1 tsp. vinegar
Sift flour, soda, salt, ginger and cinnamon together twice; then stir in the raisins. Cream margarine and brown sugar until light and fluffy; stir in molasses; stir in the sour milk and vinegar; then stir in the flour mixture. Drop by level tablespoons 2-1/2 inches apart on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in preheated 375° oven 12 to 15 minutes, until set. Remove from baking sheet at once. Cool on rack. Makes 5 dozen cookies.
Calories per cookie about 69.
Cholesterol — a trace.

SUSAN DENNY'S PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

1/2 cup unsalted margarine
1/2 cup peanut butter
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
1 egg
1-1/4 cups flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
3/4 tsp. baking soda
Pinch of salt
With electric mixer, blend margarine, peanut butter, granulated and brown sugars; add egg and beat until light and fluffy. Mix dry ingredients together thoroughly and slowly add to peanut mixture. Chill for about an hour. Preheat oven to 375°. Roll dough into balls the size of large walnuts. Place 3 inches apart on lightly oiled cookie sheet. Flatten out cookies with the tines of a fork lightly dipped into flour, making a criss-cross pattern. Bake 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 4-1/2 dozen cookies.
Calories per cookie about 54.
Cholesterol about 4 mgs.

PEANUT BUTTER AND JELLY COOKIES

Use above recipe. After flattening cookie, press thumb gently in center. When cookies have been removed from baking sheet, fill thumb depression with favorite jelly or jam.

Sports Week

By Peggy O'Connor

Silly questions, silly answers...

For some reason, people (other than some Park firemen and a few disgruntled readers) think I'm an authority on sports. And that belief inspires them to ask questions I'm sure they'd never think of asking anyone else. I got to thinking, if I was to sit down and write about all the silly sports questions people have asked me over the years, I could probably write a whole column on the subject.

So I did.

"How do you think the Tigers (Lions, Pistons, Wings, Norsemen, etc.) will do this season?"

I hate this question more than any other. Why? Because I know that if I pick a team to finish first, and it does, nobody will remember. I am haunted by visions of people laughing in my face, rolling their eyes and saying: "Yeah, sure, O'Connor. You picked them to finish first. Uh-huh."

By the same token, if I pick a team to finish first and it doesn't, I'll end up with a red "PPP" branded to my chest...for "Pretty Poor Prognosticator."

"Why don't the Tigers bunt more?"

For one, maybe they don't know how. I realize that the thought of a ballplayer who makes $6 trillion per year not knowing how to do something he's getting paid that much for is preposterous. And probably very true.

Then again, I think that the bunt is one of those bits of baseball strategy that everyone in the park knows is coming. Even the hot dog vendor knows what's going to happen when the batter squares around toward the pitcher, chokes up on the bat and tries to get a running start toward first base. He ain't goin' for the fences, that's for sure.

"Why didn't the Coach have the quarterback throw on that down?"

The kind of person who asks that question is usually named Gomer T. Smith, has a permanent five-o'clock shadow and takes up most of one seating section at a game, drinking his weight's worth of beer.

It never occurs to a person like that that the coach, a man who is paid a goodly sum of money to know what to do in a football game, is just a tad more aware of the universe than Gomer T. Smith is. And besides, it doesn't matter. When the coach messes up enough, he'll get fired and Gomer can sit up there and guzzle and second guess 'til the cows come home.

Top that!

It would be tough to top the records set by the St. Clare varsity basketball team. At 21-1 this year, the Falcons earned several championships, including the Bishop Gallagher Tournament title, the De La Salle tourney crown and C.Y.O. east side division and district championships. The squad pictured above has a 71-3 record since it began play four years ago, including a 40-0 mark in the league. Pictured are, from left to right, (front row), Pat O'Brien, Dave Dixon, Jason Whelan, Derald Penn, Mark Addy, Rich McCloud, Erik Garr, Roger Hunwick; (back row) coach Steve Zaranek, Derek Schafran, Chris Rivers, Pete Astfalk, Mike Peplowski, Jeff Fikany, Keith McQuerry, Mike Paul, and coach Bob Zaranek.

MORC ready for summer

The Midget Ocean Racing Station 11 of Metropolitan Detroit has elected its flag officers and director and is ready for the coming season.

MORC Station 11 is the sponsoring group for a class of racing sailboats under 30 feet. The feature race of each season is the Sarnia to Alpena race held in July.

Commodore is Jim Reagan of Harper Woods; vice-commodore, Mike Goran of Birmingham. Rear commodore Chuck Sonquist is from Troy, and official measurer Bill Sporer is from the Woods. Secretary for the year is Gregory Marks, of Grosse Pointe; Jim Tapal of Royal Oak handles the treasurer's post. Fleet Captains are Fred Kowitz, Birmingham, and Charles Horner, of the Farms.

The MORC-sponsored Sarnia to Alpena race is the smaller boats' version of the Port Huron to Mackinac Race. Long distance racing has risen in popularity with the racers of smaller boats. This year's Sarnia to Alpena Race will begin on July 21. It features the same pre-race festivities and a resort city finish like the big boat race, but on a somewhat smaller scale.

The MORC group has opened this year's race to boats up to 36 feet for those who want to race a long distance race but do not want to undertake the Mackinac journey. The bigger boats will race under their own class this year using PHRF handicaps. Information about the race can be obtained from Commodore Reagan at 882-3787 or Mike Goran at 645-5275.

Feringa is top Hornet

March has been a pretty good month for Kalamazoo College freshman swimmer Alexis Feringa. She was "Hornet Athlete of the Week" for March 8 through 14 and was elected her swim team's "Most Valuable Freshman."

Feringa, daughter of Dr. Philip Feringa, of St. Clair Shores, and Mrs. Margaret Feringa, of Grosse Pointe, recorded the league's fifth best time in the 100 breaststroke this season. She has taken three firsts in the 200 breast and as Kalamazoo's best breaststroker, has helped the 200 medley relay team to four wins.

She did not even participate in competitive swimming at South High, but Hornet coach Bob Kent calls Feringa "a motivator." He adds that she is "the sparkplug of the team."

Feringa majors in political science and French at Kalamazoo, and maintains a 4.0 grade point average.

Gymnasts are 8th

By Rick Markel

North High

North's gymnastics team finally put together an undefeated season and qualified for the state finals, where things didn't go as smoothly.

Team leader Karen McCarthy had an "all-around" tough day, as did Jill Boardman who was feeling a bit uneasy during the tournament. These factors, plus a noise level that ruined the girls' concentration, left North with an eighth place finish.

North can be proud to say that it was undefeated (11-0) and had a great season. "It was a very successful season," says coach Gretchen Madison.

North will be losing seniors Karen Willaert, Karen McCarthy and Cindi Tsangalias, but the 1985 team will still have some good talent.

McCarthy's best finish in the state finals was an 11th place in the floor exercise (8.9). She was 17th on the bars (8.45) and compiled a 33.2 all-around score. Boardman, whom Madison said was not feeling well the day of the finals, was 15th on the vault (8.65).

"I would have liked to have seen Karen make the finals on the vault," Madison said.

"But we did have a good year and we had a good time the night of the states."

Pair repeats as Open champs

Defending champions Phil Norville and Colinne Bartell again won the Western Open Indoor Mixed Doubles Tennis Championship held March 9 through 11 at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club. They beat runner-up William Godfrey and Christine Gillies in a three-set final match, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2.

The best showing among local players in the tournament came from Pointer Pat Shields, playing with fellow Notre Dame University student Susie Panther. The pair made it to the quarterfinals on Saturday, after an upset win over seeded players Brian Villette and Chris Nagel.

Western Open trophies were awarded by Mrs. James T. Barnes Sr., in memory of her late husband. The Barnes family has supported the annual tournament greatly in the past.

The championship also marked the end of a well-known career in this area for Hunt club professional Tobey Hansen, who moved to California after the tournament.

10 K-arrot run March 31

The Park's Jeanne Bocci and the Belle Isle Runners are at it again — directing the 10 Karrot Run, sponsored by the Detroit Dietetic Association, and planned for Saturday, March 31. The event begins at Hart Plaza in Detroit, with a 1 mile fun run/walk at 9:30 a.m. and the main 10 kilometer run at 10 a.m.

The event marks National Nutritional Time and will benefit Focus: HOPE, Food for Seniors. T-shirts will go to all entrants, ribbons to all participants and awards to the top finishers in five age categories. Sports nutrition packets will also go to all entrants.

There is an $8 entry fee; registration forms can be found in The Michigan Runner, any area sports-oriented retail stores, Detroit Recreation Centers, area libraries and Y's. Run sponsors include the Dairy Council of Michigan and Super Scooper.

Good steelhead year predicted

Michigan anglers can expect one of the most productive steelhead seasons in nearly a decade, reports the Automobile Club of Michigan. More than 1.5 million steelhead averaging seven to eight pounds are expected to return to the 40 streams listed on the Auto Club's 1984 guide. Sportsmen should prepare for peak runs in early to mid-April in west Michigan, mid-April to mid-May in East Michigan, early to late April in Southeast Michigan and mid-April to mid-May in the Upper Peninsula.

Best west Michigan steelheading should be on the St. Joseph River up to Buchanan and in the Grand River system as far as Lansing's Moore's Park Dam. Other good steelhead producers in West Michigan will be the Muskegon and Manistee rivers. East Michigan top spots will include the East Branch of the Au Gres River near Au Gres and the Au Sable near Oscoda.

In addition, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) planted 655,000 yearlings and 896,000 fall fingerlings in 1982, a 41 percent increase over 1981.

Colton leads OU swimmers

It isn't very often that a collegiate swim team gets a swimmer like Oakland University's Jeff Colton, a sophomore from Grosse Pointe. All Colton did last year was win the 100 and 200 backstroke and capture All-American honors in the nationals. He also set a school record doing it — swimming the 100 in 50.51.

Langs leads Brown cagers

South High graduate Stark Langs led his Brown University basketball team in several categories, but it wasn't enough to help the Bruins attain a winning season. Brown was 11-15 this year, 6-8 in the Ivy League.

Star cagers win league

Our Lady Star of the Sea's 78er girls' basketball team captured its league title in perfect fashion, posting a 10-0 record on the season. Star also played well in the playoffs, defeating St. Joan No. 2 and Assumption Grotto to advance to the C.Y.O. regionals, where they lost to Queen of Peace. Star's final mark of 12-1 was by the far the best ever posted by a 78er team at the school.

The year also marked the first time a Star girls' team remained undefeated in regular season action. Through the year, Star's offensive attack remained balanced, with nine or 10 different players contributing to the scoring. Behind such a balanced attack, Star found itself trailing in only one league game this season.

Star was also outstanding on defense, allowing just 23.6 points per game. The squad also got fine rebounding from center Buffy Stumb and forward Julie Mott, and timely steals from Robin Wheatley, Beth Allor and Patty Hamlin.

"The nicest part about this season is the teamwork and the contribution that all members of the team exhibited," said coach Margaret Spindler. "We had a solid bench to support our starters."

Cottage run makes room for All-Stars

The fourth annual Cottage Hospital "We're Up For Health" Fun Run/Walk, Sunday, May 6, will feature new "All-Star" categories for experienced runners and racewalkers.

"Too often amateur runners and racewalkers, those who are running or racewalking for health rather than for speed, are routinely out of the competition against more experienced athletes who have regional or even national experience," said race coordinators. "We believe that special categories and competition for trophies enables both groups to compete more fairly against their peers."

The 5 kilometer (3.1 mile) race will begin at 1 p.m. on Sunday, May 6. The course covers Fisher Road, Grosse Pointe Boulevard, Kerby Road and Kercheval Avenue in the Farms.

Meade Leasing is the sponsor of the 1984 "We're Up For Health" Fun Run/Walk to benefit Cottage Hospital. Entry forms for the race are available at Meade Leasing, 130 Kercheval Avenue, at the Cottage Hospital information desk, 159 Kercheval Avenue, the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries, and from local merchants. Mail-in registrations will be taken until May 2.

St. Paul honors winter athletes

The St. Paul Athletic Association will hold its "Winter Sports Award Night" tonight, Thursday, March 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of the school, 170 Grosse Pointe Boulevard.

The athletic association will honor all St. Paul boys' and girls' basketball players and the cheerleaders.

Sports Week

"Why did jousting die out?"

That's a tough one. For one thing, I think that the ASPCA had a little something to say about the practice of racing horses headlong toward one another in hopes that their riders could spear each other to death. Now that's entertainment, but without the horses, it was a no go.

"Why do football teams punt?"

The reasoning behind this question, I think, is: if a team has four downs, why not pull a really great surprise play and throw a touchdown bomb on fourth down, instead of punting the ball away. It's simple. The great teams got that way because they turned chicken and punted the ball safely away. The bad teams punt because it's the most exciting play of the game for them . . . after the coin toss.

"Why don't newspapers and TV recognize kick (karate) boxing as a sport?"

Probably because Bruce Lee is dead.

Why don't they play football on Tuesdays?"

That's a fair question, since they seem to manage to play on all the other days of the week. The only thing I can think of is that Tuesdays are bad enough without forcefeeding the American public another dose of "gridiron classics." Also because Tuesdays are the days Howard Cosell sends his hair to the cleaners.

"Why is golf considered a sport when it's a skill?"

I wouldn't touch this one with a 10-foot five-iron. When people ask me this question, I just look at my map of Grosse Pointe, turn toward each of the area's golf clubs and repeat my mantra: "Golf is great, golf is good, I love golf."

"Why don't people treat billiards as a serious sport?"

I think it's because TV makes sports and a TV film of a skier taking a horrendous fall is a lot more dramatic and representative of "the agony of defeat" than a shot of a beer-bellied pool shark scratching on his first turn. Also, what kind of athletic uniforms can you design for these guys? You wouldn't want short pants . . . nobody wants to see the legs of a guy named Minnesota Fats. At least not on national TV. During the daytime viewing hours. In living color.

"Who comes up with these new sports terms?"

Another good question. I'd like to know too. I mean, when did the old cherry-picking play in hockey start to be called headmanning? I've watched hockey for a lot of years, and I can never remember anybody "headmanning" the puck back in the 60s.

And what's a nose guard? Is it a new piece of athletic equipment designed especially to protect pretty running backs who want to live out their retirement years making idiotic Lite Beer commercials? Nope, it's a position. I'm sure it used to be what a middle linebacker or something was, but now they get fancy and call it a nose guard or nose tackle. Dumb. I know I'll never hear that the Hall of Fame has inducted some guy who played in the 50s called "Big Jim Billy Dufus, nose guard."

"Why do they allow substitutions?"

A serious student of sports wants to know why sports like hockey and basketball substitute freely and often, instead of leaving players in like they do in soccer. He'd like to see hockey players and basketball stars run themselves ragged, playing at or near total exhaustion.

Yep, I can hear it now: "there's a time-out on the floor while they remove Gus 'Too Tall' Buford, who has suffered complete cardiac collapse. We'll be right back...but Gus won't."

"Why are there only three outs per inning in a baseball game?"

Because four are too many, one's not enough and because...well, that's just the way it is. Like having one moon, one Grand Canyon, one Mr. T., two senators per state, one item per customer, nine lives to a cat, three strikes to an out, 40 million people asking "Where's the beef?", one spouse per life (with the possible exception of Mickey Rooney and Elizabeth Taylor), and everything else that's sure in this life as we know it.

About the only thing that I'm not sure about is where a single sock goes after it gets lost in the clothes dryer. But that's another column.

Family Fun Night set

The Department of Community Education of The Grosse Pointe Public School System and the Neighborhood Club will co-sponsor a Family Fun Night Friday, March 23, from 7 to 9 p.m. at North High School. Badminton, basketball, ping-pong, swimming, tumbling, volleyball, crafts and movies are on the agenda. Admission is 75 cents per person. Children must be at least three years of age to participate and those 16 and under must be accompanied by at least one adult. Mark your calendar, get the family together, and plan on being part of the fun at Family Fun Night on March 23.

These are the Bartsches, likely as not the best brother-sister swimming duo to come out of Michigan in a long time. Tom Bartsch, several times an All-State and All-American while at South, swims at Tulane University and is one of Michigan's best tankers. His sister Kelly, an eighth grader at St. Paul, represented the Grosse Pointe Swim Club in the Girls' State Final at Henry Ford II High March 9 through 11. At 13, she out-performed many girls in the 17 to 18 year-old range. She finished second in the 50 free (25.62), sixth in the 100 free (56.63), 13th in the 100 fly, and was a member of the 400 medley relay team (sixth) and 400 freestyle relay (fifth). The week before the finals, Kelly was part of a 200 open relay team — along with Sue Benoit, Nancy Vettorello and Katie Young — which broke a state record with a time of 1:42.5.

ULS icers are All-Stars

Three University Liggett School students have been selected for the Michigan Metro High School Hockey League All-Star Team, East Division.

Senior Dan Bowen was chosen as a defenseman for the third team despite the fact that he missed most of this season due to an elbow injury. Bowen was captain of this year's hockey squad.

Also picked for the third team was sophomore Coley Connolly. Connolly played goalie for the varsity in 15 games, compiling a record of 480 saves and a 4.5 goals against average.

Sophomore Robby Wood achieved the honor of being the first 10th grader ever selected for the first team in the 15-year history of the league. Wood played center in all of the 24 ULS games this season. He was the No. two scorer in the league with 24 goals and 27 assists.

Calling all cheerleaders

North High will conduct a cheerleading clinic and tryout for current eighth grade students who hope to join North's cheerleading squad as freshmen in 1984-85. The event is set for Monday, April 2, through Friday, April 6, at 3:30 p.m. daily in the North gym.

Further information on clinic or tryouts may be obtained by calling JV cheerleading coach Sally Sneathkamp at 885-3991.

Over 30 Club champs crowned

Art's Tavern captured the Neighborhood Club Men's 30 and Over Basketball League Championship with a resounding 64-46 victory over the Raiders March 1 at the Brownell Middle School gym.

Former West Virginia University standout center Tom Lowry paced Art's Tavern with 18 points, while guard Tom Woodruff, who starred at Western Michigan during the early 1960s, hit for 14 points. Paul Louisell scored 11 for the winners while the Raiders were led by J. Militello who notched 13 points before fouling out late in the second half.

The Raiders had defeated Art's Tavern earlier in the season and this contest, like that one, was a classic match up of Art's Tavern's superior height (as much as five inches per man along the front line) and the much younger Raiders' superior speed. Halfway through the opening period, a Raiders' jumpshot tied it at 12-12 and Art's Tavern called a timeout to regroup. When play resumed Art's employed a tenacious two-one-two zone defense which stymied the Raiders forcing them into several costly turnovers and long outside shots which were ineffective. It was at this point that Art's took control of the backboards at both ends of the court on the strength of the play of John Prom and John Gilleland and built up a 33-25 halftime advantage.

Early in the second half, Art's Tavern stretched its lead to 12 points. However, the Raiders mounted one final, serious threat. With the 6-9 Lowry sitting on the bench with four personal fouls, the Raiders seemed energized as they made effective use of a running game to cut the lead to 45-40 with just seven minutes remaining. But a couple of quick Raider turnovers helped Art's players regain control as they once again took command of the backboards and slowed the game down. Dave Ayrault and Mark Murway were particularly effective in this effort as Art's gradually rebuilt its lead.

With one loss already in the double elimination championship tournament, the Raiders were forced into committing costly fouls to stop the clock and try to regain possession of the ball. However, Art's repeated success at the foul line in the last five minutes of the contest simply sealed the Raiders' doom. Trophies were presented to both teams following the game.

Measelle makes mark

South High graduate Jeff Measelle is still making his presence felt in a swimming pool, just like he did for the Blue Devils.

Measelle, a Brown University junior, teamed up with fellow Bruin swimmers to set school records in the Eastern Seaboard Championships last week. He was on the second place 800 freestyle relay team which turned in a time of 8:46.06 and then was a member of the first place 400 replay team which finished in 3:02.65 — both school records.

Simon bowls for MDA

A Jerry Lewis Bowl-A-Thon took place at the Grosse Pointe Woods Bowling Center last weekend, with the Harper Woods League raising over $600 for local Muscular Dystrophy patients.

Top bowler was Greg Simon of Grosse Pointe Woods, who raised $202. Second and third place went to Michael Warner and Jenny Rivard.

WHERE'S THE WOOL?
Have you been shopping for new furniture lately? Make sure it's wool, not a plastic injected mold that has been photochemically finished. Make sure the drawers are dovetailed, chairs have glue blocks, china cabinet has a wood back, no Masonite. These tips brought to you by Sunshine Stripping and Finishing Co., 11357 East 8 Mile Rd., 757-1766.

Center Ice in the GPHA

Mite Division

The Black Hawks topped the Bruins, 8-3, in playoff action last weekend. Jimmy Andary got the Hawks on the board first when he converted a Nate Weid pass, but the Bruins tied it up on a Mike Owens goal.

Weid scored twice in the second period with Jonathan Romine and Stephen Wesley assisting. But the Bruins fought back again to tie the score on goals from Jim McMillan and Jim Bufalino. The Hawks dominated the third period, however, with Andy "Cannonball" Baskel scoring all five goals, running his goal total on the year to 32. Drawing assists were David Pulis, Bradley Merten, Mark Waterman and Ryan Seofield.

KINGS-RANGERS

The Art Van Kings defeated the Rangers, 11-1, in their final playoff game of the season. King's goals came from Jamie Brock, Eric Kisskalt, Mike Ugval, Jacob Thomas (two), and three each from Agustin Yofre and Pete Morgan. Yofre, Sebastian Yofre, Brent Kuhar, Ugval, Danny Bombich, Matt Van Elslender, Thomas, Morgan and Kisskalt (two), earned assists. Goaltender Paul Megler got the win in the nets.

KINGS-BLUE DRAGONS

The Art Van Kings and the GPD Blue Dragons ended their seasons with a playoff consolation game as the Kings outscored a short-handed Blue Dragon team, 5-0.

Scoring for the Kings were A. Yofre, Morgan and Kisskalt, who had a hat trick. M.J. Morris, Ugval (two), S. Yofre, Kuhar, Bombich, Kisskalt and Morgan (two), were credited with assists. Megler earned his sixth shutout in goal.

Pee Wee Division

The Blue Pointe North Stars edged the Sabres, 3-2, in a well-played contest last week.

Jimmy Alderton put the Stars on the board when he finished off a fine passing play by Kevin Nugent and Jamie Osborne.

Nugent made it 2-0 on a fine solo effort before the Sabres charged back on a goal by Eddie Barbieri. Chris Rust and Danny Ritter drew assists on the play. The Sabres tied the game just before the end of the second period when Paul Cavazos converted a pass from Cecil Lepard.

Each team kept up a fast pace in the third period, with strong defensive work by Kelly Reed helping keep the Sabres off the scoreboard. Then with just seconds left, Osborne scored the winner on his shot off a Nugent-Alderton rebound.

NORTH STARS-USA OLYMPIANS

The green-clad North Stars may have benefited from a little Irish luck on St. Patrick's Day, as they took a 2-1 victory over the Olympians in the first round of the Pee Wee House playoffs.

Jamie Osborne scored both Stars' goals, with playmaking help from Nugent and Alderton. Blake Crawford scored USA's only tally, with Nancy Alcott getting an assist.

The North Stars had a definite edge in shots on goal, but USA netminder Jimmy Bunn played very well in a losing effort.

ISLANDERS-SABRES

The Islanders beat the Sabres, 10-5, in the opening game of the "B" division post-season tournament. The Sabres played well, despite dressing just nine players for the game.

Shannon Nowiecki led the Islanders with six goals. Eddie Barbieri scored four of the five Sabres' goals. Mike Torrice scored the other Sabres goal and John Olmsted (two), Frank Lucido and Alfie Fisher added the other Islander tallies.

Lucido and Peter McDermott each got playmakers (three assists) for the Islanders; Torrice got one for the Sabres. Chris Stebbins played well in goal for the Islanders, despite suffering from the flu.

A look at some champs

The 1983-84 Squirt A state championship went to Grosse Pointe's own Bandits. Here's a look at the Bandits and their accomplishments in this championship season:

No. 1 — Jason Hall: He shared the goaltending duties with Dustin Kolodge and sparkled during several key games this season. Jason finished with a 2.15 goals-against average in the tough Caesars league.

No. 2 — Andrew VanDeweghe: The versatile left winger substituted on defense on several occasions. A playmaker, Andrew scored several key goals during the final tournament and had two game-winning goals this season.

No. 3 — Scott Berger: A defenseman, Scott stopped many potential scoring threats this season. He has the ability to block shots and clear the puck out of the zone.

No. 4 — Todd Frederickson: A right winger, Todd is a fast and hard skater with the ability to keep the play in the opposition's end and capitalize on opponents' mistakes. He led the Bandits in assists with 29 and had two game-winning goals.

No. 5 — Stefan Tietge: This aggressive, hard-checking right winger was always in the right place at the right time. He notched a hat trick and provided several other thrilling plays this season.

No. 7 — Michael Kuna: "Always going forward" best describes the play of Michael, center for the "Smurf" line. Second in goal scoring with 34 goals and in total points with 58, he also scored two hat tricks and had five game-winning goals.

No. 9 — Brad Warezak: A left winger, Brad is a good corner man who is able to come up with the puck. An excellent backchecker and playmaker, he was second in assists with 27. He also scored one hat trick, had two playmakers and four game-winning goals.

No. 10 — Brian Crane: This defenseman was called "Mr. Everything." He led the Bandits in goals for/goals against with a plus-53. An excellent rushing defenseman, he had a hat trick and earned playmaker awards this year.

No. 11 — David Auld: This defenseman was a "rock" on defense and an excellent playmaker. He was third in team assists with 25, had two playmaker awards and scored three game-winning goals.

No. 12 — Mark Sliwinski: A right winger with dazzling puck handling and skating abilities, he was third in both team scoring with 48 points and in goals scored with 26; he also scored two hat tricks. Mark led the Bandits in power play with three and in game-winning goals, with six.

No. 14 — Bob Cass: A center, Bob is one of the best checkers on the team. He was able to come up with the big plays at the most opportune time — four of his 10 goals were game-winners.

No. 15 — Patrick O'Brien: A strong, determined left winger, "O.B." scored two game-winning goals and scored on 20 percent of the shots he had on net.

No. 15 — Brian Michalik: A defenseman, Brian is one of the Bandits' strongest players. He provided much of the muscle in clearing out the front of the net.

No. 19 — Kevin Watson: A center, "Mr. Excitement" best describes the play of hard-skating Kevin. He led the Bandits in goals scored with 39 and in points, with 64. He had two hat tricks and two playmakers, plus five game-winning goals. One of Kevin's hat tricks came in the state championship game.

No. 00 — Dustin Kolodge: The goaltender played in 36 games and recorded a 1.5 goals average. He often made key saves which helped to turn many games in the Bandits' favor.

Coaching the Bandits were Ron Warezak, Jim Kendall, Joe Berger, John Hall, Kurt Rushmore and Mike Rinaldi. Wanda Warezak was manager, Mary Jane Frederickson was statistician and Joanne Kolodge served as fundraiser.

Grosse Pointe on ice: reflections

With their inaugural varsity ice hockey seasons behind them, North and South players, coaches and families celebrated at season-ending banquets and awards nights recently. In honor of that, South student Mark Froelich and North "hockey dad" Brad Tisdale, both regular contributors to the News' sports section, have written summaries of what amounted to a very exciting winter sports season, a year that found Grosse Pointe "on ice." Following are Tisdale's "Reflections . . . and First Impressions."

The winter chill that sends the community into a three-month hibernation was broken this year, bringing "kids" from 8 to 80 to "the rink," where blood pressure and adrenalin levels could be "exercised." The rhythmic sound of skate blades carving the ice surface mixed with the thunder of bodies and pucks striking the plexiglass, creating an excitement that quickened the pulse.

The sounds and colors were new and the speed, grace and precision were breathtaking. In Grosse Pointe, ice hockey was the talk of the town. New words and expressions came into people's vocabularies . . . red line didn't refer to engine revolutions, backchecking weren't a chess move and icing was not the process of glazing a cake!

Students and community members in Grosse Pointe were caught up — through words, sights and sounds — in the excitement of high school varsity hockey in this inaugural season of 1983-84. Ice hockey, the new crowd pleaser, is what is happening in Grosse Pointe.

Varsity hockey at North High is the product of the perseverance of countless community planners. The efforts of many brought the Board of Education, the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association and the high school administration and athletic departments together. The first step was a trial balloon . . . an intramural program in the fall of 1982, organized and managed by North athletic director Tom Gaukerke and his assistant Tom Teetaert.

Student and community interest was tremendous and the stage was set for the real thing: a varsity program for 1983-84.

And in that first year, the Norsemen completed a schedule of 24 games, including 22 regular season contests, an exhibition game and one playoff game. North was 13-8-3, but the record wasn't important . . . being part of something new was.

"Firsts" are always exciting and ice hockey was no exception in its first year. New uniforms in the familiar green and cold . . . hand-crafted leather gloves . . . shiny gold helmets and "long" hockey pants: Cooper-alls, the latest in protective padding.

The program was blessed with a coaching staff which was able to blend knowledge, discipline and compassion. Coach Mike Manzella and assistants Peter Costello and Nick Ciaozzo spent countless hours planning the program, conducting tryouts and managing practices and games. It was an involvement that began in late summer and extended through February. The program's success was due largely to the personalities and dedication of this coaching staff.

Finally, there were the participants . . . the players . . . new faces . . . those skilled enough to win a spot on this North squad. Their athletic expression set an exciting standard for others to follow . . . the future reflection will be called tradition.

— Brad Tisdale

Impressions of a fine South season

By Mark Froelich
South High

"Never in my wildest dreams did I ever expect it," exclaimed head coach Tim Zimmerman in sizing up South's incredible "Cinderella" season of varsity hockey. The Blue Devils finished the season with an impressive 16-7-2 record, and placed seventh in the state rankings.

As any sports fan knows, these are not the usual achievements of an expansion hockey team. But luckily for South, most opponents must have thought the opposite, and went home asking themselves, "What's with those guys?" Well "those guys" brought the most excitement to the Pointes since the evolution of the preppy. Packing in crowds at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink, the Blue Devil hockey team stormed onto the sport scene at South.

Expanding from an after-school club to a varsity sport is no easy task. But the Blue Devils took it in stride and turned a disappointing 0-2-2 start into a 16-victory season and a berth in the state playoffs. In the playoffs, South stunned defending Class-A State champ Fraser, knocking it out 4-3 in overtime. South's "Cinderella season" came to an end with a 5-1 loss at the hands of Trenton.

Ironically, Zimmerman felt that the turning point of the season came in a loss to Lakeview. Lakeview had clubbed North 8-2 the night before, and Zimmerman was "really just looking for a good team effort." "We stayed close to them (Lakeview) throughout the game. I would say that was the night we became a team."

Who were these Vikings of the ice who battled and bruised their way through this incredible season? Players who were key factors in the season included junior Phil Pitters (25 goals and 20 assists), senior Richard Suhrheinrich (18 goals and 16 assists), and junior A. J. Gibson (11 goals and 10 assists).

Offensively, South was strong, outscoring its opponents 110-69.

The power play worked 28.9 percent of the time compared to 16.3 percent for opponents. And credit the opponents' frustrations at trying to score to sophomore goalie Bill Tecos. Tecos had an impressive 2.98 goals-against average, and an even more incredible 92 percent save-average.

"At the beginning of the season, I told him (Tecos) I wanted an average between 91 and 88 percent," said Zimmerman. "So it was incredible to believe that he finished at 92 percent."

As for the title "Cinderella," coach Zimmerman agrees that that is a proper description of the 1983-84 hockey season.

"Definitely. No one ever expected it. We came right out of nowhere to break into the top eight high school hockey teams in the state," said Zimmerman.

So what about next season? A possible state championship maybe? Not likely. Next year, South will be moved up to the Michigan Metro League. The Metro League is composed of teams such as state champion Ann Arbor Pioneer, Fraser, and Brother Rice. Zimmerman warns that with the departure of six seniors, he does not expect a great season from a win-loss stand point, but is sure that talent for a decent year is within grasp.

Stay fit this spring at Macomb YWCA

The Macomb YWCA on Stephens in East Detroit is offering spring athletic programs for the entire family.

A Parent and Tot swim program began March 19 at South Lake High School. It runs from 8:30 to 7:30 p.m. one night per week for eight weeks. An eight-week instructional swim program for beginners and intermediate level swimmers started on Monday, March 19 and runs from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The YWCA's Energize with Exercise program, will be offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 8 p.m. beginning March 20. The eight-week class is geared to toning
