It's not funny

Christmas may be some months away, but apparently the "Grinches" are with us year round. Sometime last Saturday night, someone stole one of the two 50-foot heavy vinyl banners stretched across the parking deck behind Jacobson's advertising "Grosse Pointe's Greatest Garage Sale."

As you know, the yearly giant garage sale is conducted to raise funds for the annual Christmas Parade in the Village that's enjoyed by thousands of children and their parents.

"Those signs were professionally made and cost us $300 a piece," said Beverly Leinweber, who called the bad news into the Grosse Pointe News. "Whoever took the banner just deprived us of one marching band for this year's parade, because that's just about what a marching band costs."

Although they're absolutely sick and furious over the theft, Bev and her co-workers have offered a $25 reward for the return of the banner intact, and with no questions asked. Have a heart and call her at 885-5034.

Why do I have a feeling it was students, and that the banner may make an appearance at a high school graduation?

Ads, we've got ads

I came across some pretty interesting ads in the personal column of our paper recently. One fell under our "Hire-A-Kid" column from a youngster by the name of Dolores Gross. Dolores wrote that she "needed a job because I need the money to help my 16-year-old cousin buy a car and save up for college and to pay tuition to go to a Catholic high school. Put an ad in the paper for me. I need it badly."

In her ad, Dolores promised to "walk your dog and do a great job on your lawn," which can probably be taken a number of different ways.

Anyhow, Dolores sounds like a nice girl with a big heart. Her cousin is a lucky person.

Another ad is seeking "two octogenarians (over 80) who can break 45 seconds or better for 50 yard free style." So if you've got a couple of 80-year-olds handy, (or you are a couple of 80-year-olds), who can make like Mark Spitz, try giving Les Nevins or George Van a call at 884-0712 or 882-2673 respectively.

Dinner winner

We've got another winner here, folks. At least that's what the people on "Good Afternoon Detroit" think.

The program, hosted by John Kelly and Marilyn Turner, selected Jane Wahl, of the Farms, as a first prize winner in their "Country Bake Off" cooking contest.

To be entirely accurate, Jane didn't really bake anything. There were five categories: pies, cakes, cookies, fried chicken and salads. Jane won the salad contest with her layered spinach salad featuring spinach, lettuce, hard boiled eggs, red onions and a ton of other ingredients.

It seems Jane was talked into entering the contest by her sister, Mary Card. They both entered the salad contest. (Mary's entry was a shrimp salad), and the cake contest. And as these things usually go, the reluctant entrant was the winner.

Jane got to make an appearance on the Thursday, May 24, program with John and Marilyn. (Continued on Page 2A)

New Life

Downtown landmark will be redesigned by Pointe architect

By Harriet Nolan

Pumping life back into a once elegant Detroit landmark will give the city a much needed economic shot in the arm, according to Kenneth Carruthers, partner in the architectural firm of Prevost, Tracey & Partners. The Park resident, who is design director, is in charge of redeveloping the downtown J.L. Hudson Department Store which closed its doors to customers in January, 1983.

A group of Bloomfield Hills businessmen have agreed to purchase Hudson's and the renovation will represent a $40 million investment when completed.

Carruthers says the building is structurally sound. While the inside will get a massive gutting, the outside will remain unchanged except for the street level where store windows will be removed to transform the area into a covered loggia with shops.

"We plan to preserve its exterior, right up to the flag on the roof," he says. "Inside, high-speed elevators, building security, advanced telecommunications and modernization will turn it into a world-class office building.

"That's the whole key to it: security, safety and easy access under one roof. Nothing downtown can match it in those terms," he adds.

The second through the ninth floors will be converted to parking spaces for more than 1,800 cars, according to Carruthers. Office space will start on the 10th floor where a giant sky lobby will be built and open into a six-story atrium.

Plans also call for an outdoor roof garden on the 13th floor and removal of the mezzanines to create a 20-foot-high cross shaped street level lobby.

Consideration is also being given to including a private club, a health club, and radio or television studios in part of the almost 2.1 million square feet of building space.

"We believe that the preservation and conversion will take Hudson's into the 21st century," says Carruthers, of the 25-story building that sits on a full city block bounded by Woodward, Grand River, Farmer and Gratiot.

"It will really revitalize the city as opposed to the Renaissance Center which did incomparable damage to the area. It's built off center and almost like a second downtown, sucking the life's blood out of the city," he adds.

He says the RenCen could have been put anywhere and it would have worked just as well because it's almost like a second downtown. But anchoring this new project in Hudson's will have a tremendous effect on future development of the area. "It will make it viable and more livable as a center that supports all kinds of banking and office functions.

Carruthers says this investment is proof that downtown is going to "most certainly come back. Here are people who see its viability as essential to their well-being.

"Our belief is in our pocketbooks which probably says more than anything else about how we feel," he adds.

Carruthers is also a strong believer in tying the successful rebirth of deteriorated core cities to the older surrounding communities.

Plaque cites Viet Nam vets

It was standing room only at the Fries Ballroom of the War Memorial on Memorial Day as hundreds of Grosse Pointers turned out to dedicate a plaque to those Pointers who served in Viet Nam. The dignified and impressive services were highlighted by members of the Detroit based First Battalion, 24th Marines who advanced and placed the colors for the ceremonies. The silhouette of one Marine, standing at attention, is outlined on the bass drum of one of the members of the First Michigan Colonial Fife and Drum Corps, which pleased the crowd with their authentic renditions of early Colonial tunes. The center also shook to the roar of two A-7 Corsairs which flew over the War Memorial four times in a salute to veterans everywhere. The aircraft are part of the 127th Air National Guard, based at Selfridge.

Seniors ready to graduate

North High School will attempt its first outdoor commencement ceremonies when it graduates the class of 1984 Thursday, June 14, at 7:30 p.m.

In all, about 850 high school seniors will make the transition in upcoming ceremonies at University Liggett School, North and South High School.

North High will hand out 354 diplomas (its smallest class ever) in commencement rites on the school lawn, weather permitting. An all-night party will follow in the school gymnasium. Principal John Kastran reminded seniors in a letter last week that "graduation does not only belong to the senior class. It belongs to parents, grandparents, relatives and friends. It belongs to the community. It belongs to tradition and generations to come."

The valedictorian of North's graduating class is Gregory Browning, salutatorian is Andrew Johnson.

South High School will hold its ceremonies outside as well, if the weather allows, on Wednesday, June 13, at 7:30 p.m. School spokesmen said they couldn't be sure who will receive class honors until final grades are in, but said the current leaders are Katherine Hein for valedictorian and Scott Miller for salutatorian.

Following South's exercises will be a non-date, all-night party at the War Memorial sponsored by the Mother's Club. The theme will be "Picture Us" and decorations will feature baby pictures of the graduates. Entertainment will include a casino room, video games. (Continued on Page 2A)

The recall debate

Target trustees defend their votes

Jon Gandelot

Q. Why should you not be recalled?

I believe that the democratic process is one that allows the electorate to vote for or against a candidate and gives those elected officials certain powers and responsibilities. Our responsibility is to decide things like the grouping of students and opening or closing of buildings.

Having once delegated that authority, voters operate through those officials. We haven't embezzled any money, or committed any malfeasance or misfeasance. We studied the issues of consolidation and the sixth grade. I was president of the school board and ex-officio member of the steering committee that did the study. I took (Continued on Page 16A)

Catherine Brierly

Q. Why should you not be recalled?

We have a problem in this school system. It's called declining enrollment. I feel we have tried to face it -- you just can't ignore it. It shows up first in the elementary schools and that's where we have begun dealing with it. We proposed closing four schools, but after public comment, we reduced it to one.

I resent the time I'm having to put into recall. I came from the volunteer ranks. I am still a volunteer. The school board job takes a lot of time under normal circumstances. I am spending hours and hours justifying just being a volunteer. Last summer, when we were (Continued on Page 16A)

Ernest Buechler

Q. Why should you not be recalled?

I don't think school board members have done anything wrong. We listened to many viewpoints on this critical issue. This is the first board that has tackled the problem of declining enrollment head on.

Our initial reaction was to do a greater consolidation, but after listening to many people I believe we compromised and came up with a plan that is sound educationally and financially.

People have to remember that school boards are elected to make tough decisions. The most important consideration is that our decision is based on what we think is best for the total needs of the school (Continued on Page 16A)

To recall or not is one of the questions that will face Grosse Pointe voters, along with regular school board elections, on June 11.

Three trustees have been targeted for removal from office because of their Nov. 14 votes to close Barnes Elementary School and transfer sixth graders to middle school. Voters who think they should be turned out of office should vote "yes" June 11. A "no" vote will retain the trustees.

If the recall succeeds by a simple majority, the trio will immediately be removed from office and another election will be scheduled to fill the vacant seats. The trustees who were removed from office will not be eligible to run in that election.

The News last week interviewed three members of the group, Committee for Neighborhood Elementary Schools -- Recall, which petitioned to put the recall question on the ballot. They are Barbara Saari, who organized the petition drive, David Eastlick, Jr., president of the group, and Kramer Foster. We also talked to the three targeted trustees, Jon Gandelot, a Farms attorney serving his second term on the board; Ernest Buechler, of the Woods, an elementary principal in Detroit who is serving his first term; and Catherine Brierly, a Woods housewife and community volunteer who has been on the school board since 1979.

The comments of all six begin on this page.

In addition to the three recall questions, voters also will be asked June 11 to choose between five candidates for two four-year terms on the school board. Incumbent candidates in that race are Roger Mourad and Joan Hanpeter and challengers include Fred Adams, William Browncombe and Robert Radnick.

Citizens work to remove trustees

David Eastlick, Jr.

Q. Why should people vote for the recall?

It's the only way to prevent the closing of neighborhood elementary schools and the transfer of sixth graders to middle school. If William Browncombe and Roger Mourad are elected in the general election and the recall passes, there is an extremely good chance the new school board would be made up of five persons opposed to closings and transferring the sixth grade. The plan is that they would revoke the school board's action.

The community supports recall. There are about 200 people associated with a group with the acronym CARE that do not. (Continued on Page 16A)

Kramer Foster

Q. Why should people vote for the recall?

Because the school board, particularly Joan Hanpeter and Supt. Ken Brummel did not listen to the public. I've lived here for 45 years and I have never heard such a hue and cry over anything like this before. They asked for a referendum on the issue and were turned down flat.

We need a change on the school board because of the closing of Barnes and the transfer of sixth graders. That transfer is the biggest problem. If I had kids in school, I certainly would be opposed to having sixth graders associating with the older kids. I'm sincere. (Continued on Page 16A)

Barbara Saari

Q. Why should people vote for recall?

They should vote for it because the community has never had a chance to speak to this issue. The school board, by not asking the community first what it wanted to do with its public school system, exhibited leadership of a negative kind. To get Grosse Pointe back on track, as far as education goes and confidence in the school board goes, we need positive leadership. The only way we're going to get it is through recall.

Q. Why should Barnes stay open?

First, because the community has never said it wants any schools closed. (Continued on Page 16A)

For her efforts, Ms. Wahl won a microwave oven, dinner for two at a restaurant in Northville, an apron that reads "I am a 'Good Afternoon Country Bake Off' Winner" and two coffee mugs.

Two more things. The recipe for Jane's Prize winning salad is supposed to be appear before long in the Free Press's Wednesday food section, handled by Grosse Pointe City's Jeanette Duffield.

Also, Jane would love to see how she looked on television. Unfortunately, she doesn't have a VCR and was wondering if anyone out there in Grosse Pointe land happened to tape the show and could she make a copy somehow?

Now batting . . .

With all the publicity lately about the Tigers tearing up the league, and with Robert Redford hitting home runs at the box office with his baseball movie "The Natural," it seemed only natural to report that Christ pitched and got a hit for the University of Michigan baseball team against Notre Dame last week.

Some news, eh? But not quite accurate. That's the UM and Notre Dame Little League teams here in the Pointe, and Christ is actually Josh Christ (pronounced Krist).

You didn't really think He would switch teams, did you? Anyhow, I thought it was funny.

Do they really?

Anti-recall politicians appear to be very happy about the new advertising campaign launched by the Detroit Board of Realtors.

The stop-recall workers are organized under the banner CARE (Citizens Against the Recall Effort). So guess what the realtors have adopted as their slogan and distributed on posters in offices across the Pointe, just in time for the June 11 election?

"We CARE," of course.

Balloon over Europe next fall

Fully escorted, educational travel overseas has become a tradition at the War Memorial, and the 1984-85 season is no exception.

Next September two back-to-back trips are scheduled to Paris and Belgium, allowing those tourists with more time to spend the first week ballooning over Burgundy and the second week touring closer to the ground. Those with only one week to spare, can choose either trip.

The first tour includes two nights in Paris and eight nights in Burgundy and Provence. The highlight of the trip will be three days ballooning over old chateaux, some terraced with world class vineyards. Travelers will see Beaune, the prestigious capital of Burgundy wine and a beautifully preserved historical town which retains its medieval flavor.

The second September sojourn includes two nights in Paris, five nights in Burgundy and Provence, and two nights in Brussels.

Art historian Michael Farrell will escort a trip to Egypt called "New Year's Eve on the Nile" Dec. 27 through Jan. 6, 1985. This tour proposes to capture the romance, exalt the grandeur and explain the mystery of the civilization, the country and the people of Egypt.

In 1985 fewer than 150 passengers will be able to experience the "Highland Belle," the most luxurious private charter train in existence. Two coaches, literally museum pieces, take six passengers on a tour of Scotland in the lap of ultimate luxury.

For additional information on any of the trips, call the War Memorial's travel department at 881-7511, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

20th anniversary for Bishop Gallaher

The Bishop Gallagher Alumni Association has announced plans to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the first graduating class of Bishop Gallagher.

The Association is sponsoring a celebration on Saturday, June 9. The event will include a banquet and dance. Invitations have been sent to the more than 5,900 Bishop Gallagher alumni all over the country and world.

The high school was founded in Harper Woods in 1960 as Our Lady Queen of Peace High School. Its name was changed to Bishop Gallagher High School in 1964, with its first graduating class.

The 20 year anniversary celebration will begin with cocktails at 7 p.m. at the Shore Club on Harper Avenue, between 8 and 9 Mile roads.

Tickets for the evening, which includes dinner, open bar and music by Royce, are priced at $25 for active alumni association members and $27.50 for non-active members.

Tickets may be obtained by sending a check or money order, made payable to the Bishop Gallagher Alumni Association, to: 20 Year Anniversary, Bishop Gallagher High School, 19360 Harper, Harper Woods, Michigan, 48225.

For more information, call the Bishop Gallagher Alumni Office, at 886-0909.

You are cordially invited to attend a series of three seminars on financial planning. They are scheduled from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on three consecutive Tuesdays, June 12, 19, and 26, 1984.

The seminars will be held in the tennis house at the Lochmoor Club, 1018 Sunningdale Drive, Grosse Pointe Woods.

Woods and Shores okay Tax hikes

By Mike Andrzejczyk
With a short public hearing as part of a short meeting, the Woods council approved its 1984-85 budget and a tax rate that will mean a $33 increase to the average homeowner.

No one addressed the council during the public hearing on the budget. The council unanimously adopted it and the new tax rate of 11.36 mills. The tax includes 10.31 mills for operating funds, 0.5 mills for emergency medical service and 0.548 mills for debt retirement.

The $5.4 million budget for the fiscal year beginning June 30 will be financed with $3.4 million in operating taxes and portions of the city's federal and state revenue sharing funds to lower the amount of increase, councilmen said.

A resident with a home valued at $40,000 will pay $454 in property taxes to the city, $32.85 more than last year's $421 city tax bill.

The Shores council also approved its budget for 1984-85 which projects spending increases of 12.5 percent and a millage rate increase of 15.5 percent.

The council voted 5-1, with Patricia Galvin dissenting, to set the village tax rate at 16.25 mills or $16.25 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation. Trustees also rolled $101,000 from the village's budget stabilization fund into the revenue column.

The increases in the $2.7 million budget are caused by the need to finance water and sewer repairs on Lochmoor and other village streets.

Lowered assessments have also pushed down the values of the mill in the village, with one mill now worth about $114,000, according to president Gerald Schroeder.

The village will also pay $151,000 in debt retirement on the voter-approved general obligation bonds for the renovation of the village municipal building.

To calculate tax bills, multiply the assessment on the home by the state equalized valuation for 1984, which is 1, then multiply by the millage rate.

A home with an assessment of $75,000 will pay $1,218 in 1984 under the Shores' new rate.

Solemn rites honor Father Elsen

An estimated 300 persons gathered in St. Paul's Cemetery on Memorial Day morning to help dedicate a grave marker to Father John Elsen, who built the present day St. Paul's. Father Elsen died in 1899, just before his church was completed. His Funeral Mass was the first service offered in St. Paul's. The location of his grave was subsequently lost over the next few decades. It was located last year and church officials felt it was appropriate to honor the builder of St. Paul's with a ceremony and marker befitting his vision. The memorial Mass was offered by Monsignor Francis X. Canfield, of St. Paul's, and was assisted by priests from other nearby churches, members of five different chapters of the Knights of Columbus, and members of various Boy and Girls Scout troops from the Pointe.

Farms property taxes will rise almost 4 percent

By Tom Greenwood

Most residents of the Farms can expect to see a nearly 4 percent increase in their taxes over the next year after the Farms City Council approved a $5,577,189 1984-85 budget at its meeting May 21.

The budget for fiscal year 1983-84 was $5,417,725. The 3.79 percent increase for fiscal year 1984-85 represents the first increase in Farms city taxes in three years, according to Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer, who said the new budget would "hold the line with no great surprises."

Bremer said the city didn't plan to add any new personnel to the city's payroll, or to add to or decrease any of the city's programs.

"We can live within this budget," said Bremer. "With no increase over the past three years, it represents about a one percent increase averaged for those years."

The new proposed tax rate for the city based on the State Equalized Value (SEV) of city property is $13.20 per thousand. Last year the city levied a tax of $13.41 per $1,000 SEV.

Because of an increase in the SEV of property in the city this year, state law provides that the base rate for 1984 city operating taxes be decreased to $12.72 per $1,000 SEV, or $.69 per $1,000 SEV lower than the 1983 operating tax rate.

"However, to fund the city's proposed 1984-85 budget and to maintain the present level of services, to provide for changes in accounting standards, and provide for certain improvements in conjunction with the improvement of parking facilities, the city finds it necessary to increase its operating tax levy," said City Clerk Richard Solak.

"The City proposes to levy an additional millage rate of 0.48 mills (48 cents per $1,000 SEV) above the 1984 base operating millage rate. This will provide us with an estimated 3.79 percent increase in city operating property tax revenues. Individual property taxes may increase greater than or less than the estimated average."

The Farms estimates it will raise an additional $120,000 in added revenue. City Controller and Accessor Carol Lock said about $70,000 of the funds were earmarked for changes in accounting procedures with the remaining $50,000 aimed at civic improvements in the commercial district.

"We can be proud of our accomplishments in holding the line on taxes the last three years," said Farms Mayor James Dingeman, before the vote was taken. "I think not to accept this modest increase would be imprudent."

The council voted 7-0 to accept the new budget.

Girl, 10, abducted, dropped in City

Grosse Pointe City police said a 10-year-old Detroit girl was abducted at knife-point outside the school she attended, molested and left in the parking lot of Bon Secours Hospital on Monday, May 21. Police said she was not seriously injured.

The girl was discovered at about 9:36 p.m. by a Park woman who heard her screams. The girl told police she had been abducted at about 3 p.m. that afternoon on Chene Street near Duffield Elementary School, which she attended. The man threatened her with a knife, molested her and drove around until she jumped out of the car at the hospital, she said.

She described her abductor as a black male about 6 feet tall, weighing about 165 pounds. He was about 21 years old and had a light complexion and wavy hair, she said. He was wearing blue jeans, a green shirt with white checkers and a Michael Jackson "Thriller" type hat, she said.

He was driving a full size, light blue Cougar with two doors.

City police contacted Detroit's 7th Precinct which, in turn, dispatched a unit to the girl's home to contact her parents, since they did not have a telephone. The investigation was turned over to Detroit's Sex Crimes Unit.

Businesses that care are cited in Park

In an effort to recognize the business people in Grosse Pointe Park who have made improvements to their buildings and landscaping, the Park Beautification Commission is sponsoring an awards program.

The commission wants to make sure that the business people in the Park know we appreciate their efforts," said John Prost, Park councilman, mayor pro tem and chairman of the event.

Categories allow businesses the advantage of competing in like size and capitalization. Trophies, certificates and special awards will be given for outstanding contributions to beautification, landscaping, neatness, cleanliness and rear entrance appearance.

It is expected the competition will stimulate interest in promoting the Park as an outstanding place in which to live, work and shop, said Doris Miller, chairman of the commission.

The awards night will be Wednesday, June 6, at 8 p.m. at the Recreation Building at Windmill Pointe Park.

Shots fired in car theft try

Warning shots were fired by a Farms police officer attempting to arrest two men suspected of attempted car theft in the parking lot behind Sears at Mack and Moross on Thursday afternoon, May 24.

According to police reports, Detective Sgt. George Van Tiem was on surveillance of the lot, which records a high number of auto thefts, when he observed a 1976 Chevrolet pull into the lot against traffic on a one-way alley.

According to Sgt. Van Tiem, the car, with two men in it, circled the lot, driving up and down the aisles, passing various parking spaces. The men then backed their car into a space along side a newer Ford van.

The men then allegedly left their vehicle and appeared to urinate against a wall at the rear of the lot. One of the men then approached the wall, peering in the windows. He then started to pry open the vent window on the driver's side.

At this point, Sgt. Van Tiem pulled his car in front of the suspects' vehicle, blocking it in. When he identified himself as a police officer, one of the men jumped the wall and fled. Sgt. Van Tiem fired one shot into the ground and told the man to halt.

Sgt. Van Tiem then ordered the other man out of his vehicle and told him to place his hands on the wall. The suspect approached the wall, then also jumped over it and fled. At this point, Sgt. Van Tiem reportedly fired a second warning shot into the ground.

A "be on the lookout" alert was broadcast, and one of the men was captured at Chalfonte and Champhine by Farms Lieutenant Ignatius Backman after he ran from between two houses.

The second suspect was captured by Farms Patrolman Donald Dewey and Dispatcher Carol Cain on Maison Road.

Both men were arraigned before Farms Municipal Judge Robert H. Pytell on Saturday morning, May 26. Charged with one count each of attempted breaking and entering of an automobile and with the attempted unlawful driving away were Lee Roy Hughes, 31, and Carl Michael Carter, 18, both of Detroit. Hughes was held on $10,000 bond or 10 percent thereof. Carter was held on $2,000 bond. Both were remanded to the Wayne County Jail.

65 classes scheduled for kids

The department of community education of the Grosse Pointe public school system has scheduled a total of 65 non-credit class sections for youth in its program of summer activities slated for June and July.

The program, to be advertised in the school system's flyer of credit offerings for elementary, middle and high school students, has been described as "The Added Dimension."

Offerings include "The Art of Clowning," "Basic Aid Training," "I Do Declare I Am Aware," "Aquatics," "Art Appreciation," "Babysitting," "Ballet," "Basketball Clinics," "Basket Weaving," "Batik," "Baton Twirling," "Bilingual Program," "Calligraphy for Kids," "Careers: Checking Your Options," "Cheerleading," "Coppercraft" and "Dance Fever."

Others are "Editorial Cartooning," "Glass Etching," "Gymnastics," "Hand Puppets," "Jazz Dance," "Juggling," "Marionettes," "Outdoor Cooking for Kids" and "Piano."

More are "Sand Candles," "Sand Casting," "Summer Sewing Workshop for Parents and Children," "Sweatshirt Design," "Tap Dancing," "Tennis," "Tie-Dyeing," "Track," "Volunteer Opportunities," "Workshop in Mime and Theater" and "Yoga."

Special ceremony at Unitarian Church

Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church has extended an open invitation to celebrate the installation of the Rev. John Corrado as the church's fifth minister on Sunday, June 3 at 7:04 p.m.

According to Rev. Corrado, the 7:04 p.m. installation denotes that "few of us are born on the hour, nor do we fall in love, make love, laugh, cry or die at a 'regularly scheduled' time."

Among the participants in the installation are the Rev. Scott Alexander, a long time friend of Rev. Corrado, who will "charge" the congregation with its responsibilities and possibilities towards its new minister.

Other participants will include Katie Elsil, of the Grosse Pointe Interfaith Center, Rev. Robert Neilly of St. Michael's Church, Wally Friesen and Veronica Smith, past and newly elected presidents of the congregation and many others.

A stained glass piece depicting the Unitarian-Universal symbol, the "Flaming Chalice" will be part of the special decorations for the installation. The window was built and designed by Michael Caudle of Detroit.

Bess Bonnier, jazz musician, who regularly plays at the Detroit Art Institute, will also participate in the installation.

GPA sponsors summer outings

It will be enough to make you want to be a kid again. Just cast your eyes over the potpourri of summer offerings listed in the Academy Adventure program sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Academy. Offerings include canoe/backing (co-ed) in Michigan's Nord-house dunes wilderness area and along the Pine and Manistee Rivers; canoeing (for boys) along Michigan's popular Au Sable River or again on the Mohican River in Ohio.

Other plans are a caving expedition (co-ed) in Kentucky's Mammoth Cave National Park; bicycling (co-ed) through the Porcupine Mountains in the Upper Peninsula; a Colorado Rocky Mountain (co-ed) backpacking adventure; and for girls only a horsepacker/bikepacker/canoe adventure on the Mohican River and through Old Man's Cave Gorge.

Besides learning/honing basic adventure skills from qualified instructors, students will be trained in environmental awareness.

Academy summer programs are available to all students whether or not they attend Grosse Pointe Academy.

Park robbery an inside job

Two men who got away with a lawnmower from a Grosse Pointe Park home did it by pretending to know the owner, said Park police.

According to Richard Wedding, Park detective, the two were stopped about 2:13 p.m. on Saturday, May 19 by neighbors as they attempted to take the mower from a home in the 1400 block of Yorkshire.

Upon questioning, one of the thieves mentioned the name of the owner and said they were "borrowing the mower." The other thief also knew the name of one of the neighbors who had stopped them.

"It appears they were local guys," said Wedding. "Neither of the witnesses knew them, though."

Both men were described as white males between the ages of 18 and 22. One had wavy brown hair, was about six feet tall and weighed 170 pounds. He was wearing blue jeans, a casual shirt and aviator style tinted glasses.

The other was about five-foot nine-inches tall, weighed 165 pounds and had long straight brown hair. He was also wearing blue jeans.

The suspects left with the mower in a white compact car.

Farms Boat Club blesses the fleet

Sunday, June 3 is the date of the annual Blessing of the Fleet service and Pancake Breakfast at the Farms Pier Park. The event is organized by the Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club for all Farms residents.

Between 10:30 a.m. and 12:30, a pancake breakfast will be served at the pavilion. For $2.50 ($1.50 for children under 12), visitors will be served sausage, orange juice and coffee, and "all you can eat" pancakes.

At 1 p.m. the Blessing of the Fleet service and ceremonies will be held. This will include local clergy, officers of the Boat Club, the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary and a choral group from St. Mary's Church.

Following the ceremonies the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary will provide the annual courtesy boat inspection. The Wayne County Sheriff's Department will also be on hand during the afternoon to review and discuss security and safety with boat owners.

Further information on this activity or membership in the Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club can be obtained by calling 885-8116.

Thieves go for power items

Grosse Pointe Park police reported three incidents of larceny the week of May 21. That morning a resident in the 700 block of Whitier noticed that his 10-foot row boat was missing from his backyard. The boat, valued at $500, must have been taken sometime since mid-April said the owner.

That same afternoon, a resident in the 500 block of Pemberton reported an AM/FM stereo cassette stolen from an auto. Monetary damage to the car and the missing radio was set at $600.

On May 22, a homeowner in the 1200 block of Balfour reported a Sears power edge trimmer and power vacuum cleaner were removed from his garage. He said they were valued at $400.

Edison to cut trees next month in Park

By Harriet Nolan

Trees in Grosse Pointe Park are going to get their blocks chopped off and Detroit Edison is going to be the one to do it starting early in June.

"We have several obligations to homeowners," said Al Dickinson, Detroit Edison Public Relations Representative. He told the Park City Council on Monday, May 14, that tree trimming and removal are necessary to insure reliable service to the community.

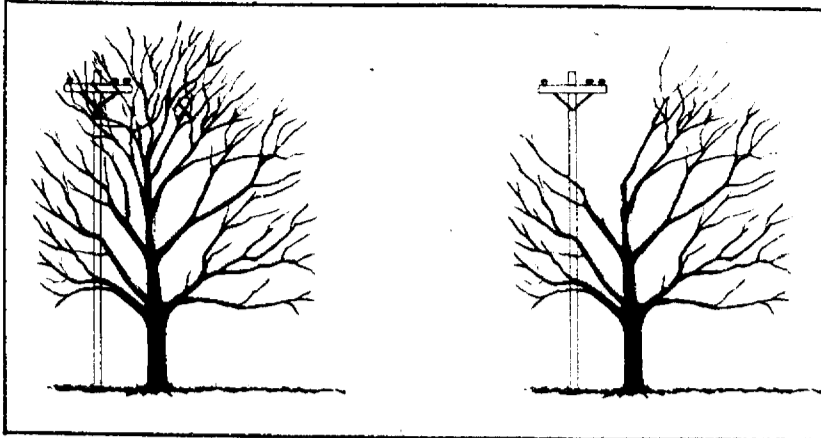

If tree limbs aren't taken care of and are allowed to grow, they're prime candidates to bring down electrical wires during storms and high winds. This can result in power outages and fires.

So next month Edison workers will take to the streets and begin a door-to-door campaign checking trees and then discussing trimming or removal with Park residents.

"Our primary concern is safety and to keep electrical lines clear," said Melinda Burger-Jones, general foreman of Edison's tree clearance division.

She said that the last Park trimming program was between January 1980 and February 1981 and a check of company records indicated that since then the city experienced nine major interruptions of electrical service.

Edison considers a major interruption anything that lasts longer than four hours. In three instances, loss of service occurred at least three times in the same location. There were also records of 11 other minor interruptions, "all due to too many trees located near the wires," said Ms. Burger.

The trees on the left has been allowed to grow and become tangled in wires. After a Detroit Edison trim, the same tree could look like that one on the right, with branches well away from wires helping to insure safe, reliable delivery of electric service.

More than 1,100 residences participated in the last program. But of those, seven percent either refused tree trimming or allowed only light trimming. While Edison has recorded easement rights on nearly all the property occupied by its power lines, the company would rather reach a mutual agreement with the homeowner instead of having to take time looking up all the records to get the job done, said Ms. Burger. "We need your cooperation."

Edison plans to send an investigator to each home in advance. He will discuss the work to be done with the homeowner and can do the work on verbal approval. However, a written signature is requested for all removals.

If the resident isn't home for the inspection, a yellow tag detailing the work to be done and requesting a signature will be left on his door knob. The customer can also call Edison and set up another appointment.

Ms. Burger said that while Edison directs the tree clearance work, the job itself is done by contractor, Asplundh Tree Expert Co.

The method used is in accordance with the National Arborist Association Standards. Care is taken to not just give the tree a "haircut," but to use the drop-crocheting method which discourages the entry of disease organisms. However, sometimes this method requires that more than the minimum clearances be trimmed.

This is the footage the tree will be trimmed back to by Detroit Edison, not where the company expects the tree to grow back to in four years. Since trees grow at different rates, the clearances are based on the average growth rate of fast and slow growing trees.

In addition, all saw cuts are sprayed with a creosote-based black paint which contains a tree growth inhibitor. Edison asks that residents keep in mind that while the workers are journeyman tree trimmers or apprentices, under the direction of journeyman, they are not landscape tree personnel.

"While we utilize correct trimming practices, our primary concern is to clear the wires," said Ms. Burger. "Therefore in our attempt to get the most for your electric dollar and keep the greatest number of customers in service, we cannot pay our contractor to round trees over, weed out dead limbs not directly over our wires or raise lower branches."

"We will, however, be happy to cut any tree that we ask to remove (except for trees infected with Dutch Elm Disease) into 18 inch length and supply residents with wood chips," she added.

She said the trees earmarked for removal include those that are directly under wires and easily accessible to children. Likely candidates would be fast-growing tree species found behind garages and next to utility poles, such as silver maple, Chinese elm and poplar.

Customers who allow tree removal where necessary or who are interested in what plants can be safely planted next to the wires will be given a copy of Detroit Edison's "Plant A Tree Booklet."

Not a recallable offense

Making an informed judgment about the best way to deal with the declining enrollment in the Grosse Pointe public schools should not be regarded as a "recallable offense," in the opinion of Jon B. Gandelot, one of the three school board members targeted for recall in the June 11 election. This newspaper agrees with that view.

Furthermore, the targeted trio emphasized in interviews with the Grosse Pointe News last week that they favor a moratorium on any more school closings for at least two more years. They and the board majority took that position, they explained, in order to give the community time for "healing" after the controversies over the recently approved reorganization, to give the system time to get a new superintendent in place before any more reorganization plans are put into effect and to give the board time to evaluate the results of the closing of Barnes Elementary School and the shift of sixth graders to middle schools this fall.

THAT ATTITUDE BY THE board majority and especially by the three members whose recall is being sought offers new evidence that the board has listened to community critics of reorganization and is not about to launch into any immediate campaign to close more elementary schools. Earlier, the board had responded to community opinion in rejecting the first two reorganization plans proposed by Superintendent Kenneth Brummel. In both cases, the board majority effectively answered critics who claimed the board had not considered community complaints about reorganization.

Yet the supporters of recall now complain about board "flip-flops" over the closing issue. In fact, however, the board listened to the complaints and asked the superintendent for new approaches in an attempt to meet the criticism. When the first two plans were modified in response to community opinion, the critics immediately began objecting to the third proposal — to close Barnes and shift the sixth graders. In effect, critics of the latest reorganization plan simply do not face up to the problems caused by the enrollment decline and have not offered any specific plan to deal with them.

True, when representatives of the Committee for Neighborhood Elementary Schools were interviewed by the Grosse Pointe News they offered some general suggestions but added together their ideas did not really constitute a plan to deal with the continuing decline in the school population.

Thus, when David Easlick, Jr., was asked during his interview what he would do about the decline in enrollment, he suggested the district might have to close a middle school and establish kindergarten through eighth grade elementary schools in buildings low in population. He thinks it is politically unacceptable to tamper with the elementary or high schools and so would force changes on the middle schools. Yet even this suggestion indicates that some school closings might have to take place.

When asked the same question about what he would do about the enrollment decline, Kramer Foster, another of the pro-recall faction, responded that he would keep the schools open if the district didn't save tax dollars by closing them and would, if necessary, close off sections of schools just as families close off rooms when their children leave home. He also called for a reduction in the school staff, a return to basics in education in the number of electives and savings for taxpayers. But none of these proposals deals specifically with the reduced enrollment in the schools.

Barbara Saari, a third member of the pro-recall group, said if she had been a board member she would have asked the community what it wanted to do about closing the schools. If the community wanted them closed, she would have asked the people how they wanted that aim to be carried out. And if the community had said it didn't want any closed, she would have been in favor of keeping them open. In other words, she would have substituted public opinion polling for board leadership.

In addition, the three representatives of the pro-recall group argued that the decline in school population will soon end, that the elementary schools will begin filling up soon and that even if the school population doesn't reach its former levels, the schools and the children will benefit from smaller classes. Those arguments, of course, run counter to demographic estimates that indicate the school population will continue to decline in the immediate future and that the smaller school enrollment mitigates against many of the programs the system tries to offer in each school.

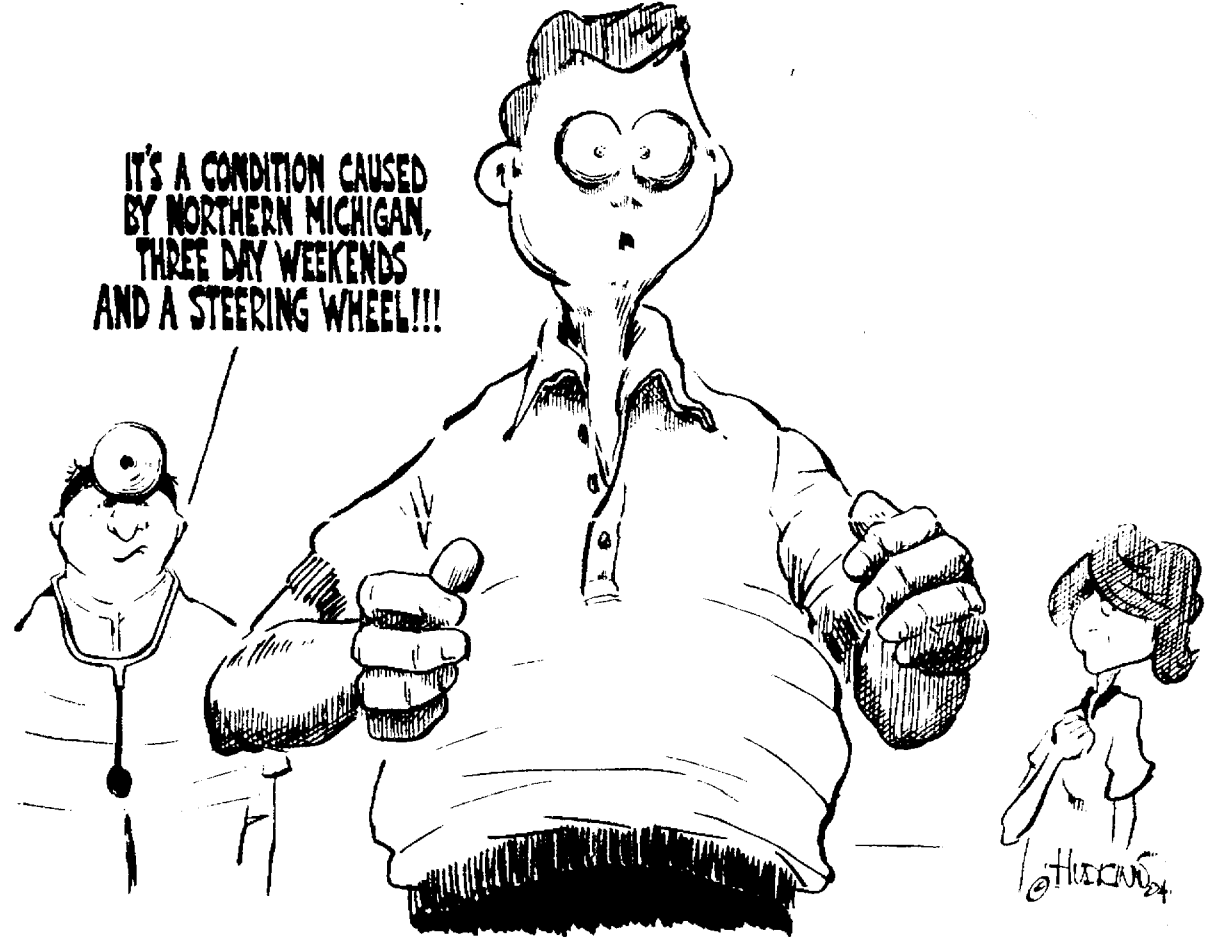

In support of their position, Gandelot, Catherine Briery and Ernest Buechler — the trio targeted for recall — have issued a statement which will appear on the June 11 ballot and which points out that their goal is "to maintain our quality school system at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayers." The statement added, in part:

"Both votes (on the Barnes closing and the middle school shift) were by a 6 to 1 majority after a year of study, seven public hearings and based on the recommendations of two study committees. We acted because of a decline in enrollment from 13,529 to 7,517 over the past 10 years. All school systems have limits on their resources. Money spent keeping an unnecessary school open will take money away from curricula unless taxes are raised."

With respect to the sixth grader's shift, the board members added in their statement that "middle schools with grades 6 through 8 will better meet the need for more math and science outlined in 'A Nation at Risk: The Imperative for Education Reform.' Many other quality school systems have this program with positive results in all aspects of school life for the children. We are confident that the children of Grosse Pointe are just as capable."

THE BOARD, INCLUDING the three targeted for recall, acted as elected representatives of the school district and approved a reorganization plan on the basis of their informed judgment. As Gandelot said, this should not be regarded as "a recallable offense." Under the circumstances, the Grosse Pointe News urges a "No" vote on the proposed recall of Gandelot, Mrs. Briery and Buechler and a "Yes" vote for board candidates Joan Hanpeter and Fred Adams who support the board majority on the reorganization issue.

Mourad, Radnick, Brownscombe are confused

To the Editor:

South High's Tower May 16, has done a valuable service in printing the comparative positions of the five candidates for school board. It seems that most of the candidates do not understand how declining enrollment affects the quality of education.

William Brownscombe says, "Quality of education will NOT decrease with a declining enrollment — as a matter of fact — the quality of education increases as the student-teacher ratio decreases."

Roger Mourad says, "Declining enrollment should mean that there is an improvement of teacher to student ratio that will improve the quality of education." Robert Radnick says, "The declining of enrollment in a school system would have no influence upon the quality of education given by the schools except to improve it by lowering the student-teacher ratio."

These gentlemen are confused. They are correct that fewer pupils per teacher improves the quality of education up to a point, but that has almost nothing to do with enrollment, be it declining or increasing. Let me explain.

Pupil-teacher ratios are determined by finances and policies. If you have a prospective second grade class with only 10 pupils, it would be very expensive to provide a teacher just for them. If you put them into a split class with first or third graders, you have a lesser quality of education. Let us say for the purpose of this discussion that 25 pupils per classroom teacher at the elementary level is an ideal for educational and financial considerations. The more second grade pupils there are, the closer you come to the ideal number in each classroom when you divide them up. Try it and see how it works. My point however, is that pupil-teacher ratios need not change with declining enrollment. Pupil-teacher ratios go up or down depending on taxpayers' willingness to pay. At present, in the Grosse Pointe School District there are 22.5 pupils per teacher.

The problem that we do run into with declining enrollment is reduced educational opportunity. This is easier to understand at a high school level. Latin, Spanish and French are the standard foreign languages. If there are a few students who want to study Italian, it is not financially feasible to provide them with this opportunity. If there are 20 to 30 students interested, it becomes feasible to offer the class. By this diversity of offerings, the quality of education is improved. This refers to quality of the whole schools, and is just one example of how an expanded (by consolidation) student body increases the educational opportunity.

The declining enrollment also causes reductions in educational opportunities for the individual student. In our elementary schools, the fewer students there are, the harder it is to set up reading groups that meet the needs of the more exceptional students. It is a reality that the more students there are with a special need, the more likely we are to provide for that need.

There are definite advantages to small schools. These advantages are all related to the "big fish in a small pond" syndrome. The disadvantages of a small number of students per building are (1) less diversity of course offerings, (2) less attention to individual ability levels, and (3) a waste of money spent maintaining excessive space.

None of the foregoing advantages and disadvantages mention pupil-teacher ratio. That is because the pupil-teacher ratio is not really dependent on the size of the school. Pupil-teacher ratio is a separate issue related to quality education. Pupil-teacher ratio is not an issue in declining enrollment or school consolidation.

Four of the five candidates need to try again to address the question: "How do you plan to deal with declining enrollment in our school system while at the same time maintaining quality education?"

What is a neighborhood?

To the Editor:

If we don't vote for Fred Adams and Joan Hanpeter's experience and against the recalls on June 11, we risk compounding our public school problems for years to come.

What kind of a 1984-85 contract can be negotiated with the Grosse Pointe Education Association (GPEA) without a superintendent; no replacement for possibly three recalled trustees; a trustee like Roger Mourad, who after looking at declining enrollments for four years, can't decide what to do; a trustee like Robert Radnick, who believes all the school board should do is hire a superintendent and/or a trustee like Brownscombe, who hasn't made one sensible proposal? The GPEA will gladly nail down and ratify class sizes 25 percent smaller than presently existing ones as proposed by Dr. Brownscombe. Simple math tells you to do so means hiring a third more teachers. Then too, class size has never been nailed down in previous contracts. Tell the GPEA we won't close any schools by voting for recalls and the smallest grade enrollment in an elementary school can set the standard pupil to teacher ratio. A teacher assigned more pupils should be paid for the extra work load.

I wish the school savers

Reflections on the Class of '84

To the Editor:

Indeed, the Class of '84 is "far cry from the rebellious teens" who graduated from high school 10-plus years ago and quite frankly, it somewhat scares me.

As one of the "rebellious teens of the 60's" (Grosse Pointe South, Class of 1970) I can't help thinking that many of the things today's grads take for granted were issues and problems that our "rebelliousness" changed — everything from modifying and finally abolishing the dress code (the what?) in high school to influencing myriad social values.

In short, we questioned nearly everything that was being handed to us by our parents and preceding generations: an unjust war in which tens of thousands of our peers died; material success over personal happiness; racial discrimination; women's place in society; protecting the environment, to name only a few. Along the way, we managed to bring about a lot of attitudinal changes in our parents' generation to everyone's overall advantage. Some of the parents of the Class of '84 may attest to this, as many of them were probably "60's rebels."

My point is that in 1980 I attended our 10 year class reunion and I met up with lawyers, doctors, real estate tycoons, a record producer and a theater manager — to name a few. Not unlike the career goals of the class of '84. We, too, are success oriented and in certain ways, we also are following in our parents' footsteps. But we arrived at this stage through a tremendous amount of questioning, challenging and searching, however trite it may sound, for the meaning of life. The search took many of us to far corners of the earth, experimenting in alternative life styles, cultures and religions. We dropped out of school and society and often we returned — both to school and to a society that was slowly changing due to these challenges.

We didn't find all the answers. But I seriously wonder if the Class of '84 is aware of the questions.

Jeopardizing Detroit's jewels

The controversy in the Legislature over the amount of state aid for Detroit stems in part from political differences between the Senate, controlled by Republicans, and the House, still in Democratic hands. But it also reflects to some degree the lack of confidence expressed in many quarters about Mayor Coleman Young's regime in Detroit.

It is not surprising that the Republican Senate cut $9.4 million out of the proposed $39.3 million equity package for Detroit. After all, Detroit and Wayne County vote heavily Democratic and seldom have a good word for a Republican candidate. Even former Gov. William Milliken, who worked out the equity package in 1976 with Young, had trouble getting Republicans to go along with his proposals. But he finally succeeded on the grounds that taxpayers of the whole state should subsidize Detroit resources that benefit the whole state.

THAT IS A DEFENSIBLE position. Those resources — Young calls them Detroit's cultural jewels — include the Detroit Institute of Arts, the public library, the zoo and the historical museums. If Detroit can no longer afford to maintain those institutions, then the state does have some responsibility to help do so. And the Senate Republicans who voted for the cut in the equity package agreed with that view. They said Detroit's jewels still deserved state support.

Where the GOP parted company with the Young administration and the Democrats was on the equity package funds that now are sought for economic development, financing costs of the downtown trolley and providing police protection for conventions, ball games, ethnic festivals and other downtown events. In the GOP view, using state funds for such purposes goes beyond the intent of the equity package and cannot be justified.

To confuse the picture further, the Senate proposed that the funds trimmed from the proposed Detroit equity package be put into a new outstate equity package. Nineteen other Michigan cities would get aid for cultural and recreational facilities from this new package. Most of the cities are at least 55 miles from Detroit but Warren and Pontiac were added to the eligibles in order to win enough votes to pass the plan.

The House speaker, Gary Owen, promptly said the House will not cut funds for Detroit but will set up a $10 million equity package for the outstate cities. If that viewpoint is adopted by the House and the Senate compromises on the issue, the prospects are for an increase in total spending on these two equity packages, even though the state supposedly is trying to maintain a zero-growth budget.

Instead of simply accepting the state aid, Young has been seeking more control of the funds and wider use of them. And he has already succeeded with the Detroit Institute of Arts. The City Arts Commission recently approved the transfer of about 100 museum employees from the Founders Society to the city payroll. That means those people become city employees, subject to city regulations, including the requirement that they live in Detroit and other political considerations.

It is apparent from the request for funds for economic development, promotion and policing of downtown events that the original purpose of the equity package is being expanded. At the same time the Young administration wants more city control over the spending of other state funds within the city. The city also takes a dim view of proposals for setting up a new regional organization — or even a city-county cooperative agreement — to run and finance the cultural institutions.

SUBURBAN AND OTHER non-Detroit residents already contribute heavily to Detroit's support through state taxes, city income taxes on non-residents who work in Detroit and support for the private organizations that help finance all of the cultural institutions in Detroit. Yet the mayor charges "racism" against anyone who even suggests some new cooperative arrangement or organization to help keep these institutions open.

If the two houses of the Legislature eventually agree on a Detroit equity package that has been cut to finance a similar package in other state cities, the mayor will have nobody except himself to blame. His confrontational attitudes may be good politics and benefit his reelection campaign but are unlikely to bring about the cooperation he and the city need from the rest of the state if the cultural jewels are going to continue to shine in Detroit's crown.

Will class sizes rise?

To the Editor:

According to Supt. Kenneth Brummel, one of his major accomplishments in his brief tenure was the seven-period day at the high schools. Was? The six-period day, instituted at South by Jerry Gerich early in his tenure as principal, is in effect until this school year ends. There will not be a seven-period day until at least September, 1984.

Mr. Gerich's six-period plan, replacing an eight-period day (eight; six; seven; anyone for nine? Do I hear five?) was accomplished with a minimum of fuss and rancor, and no conceit. Eight periods functioned well enough as did six; so will seven periods — if properly implemented. Otherwise seven-for-the-sake-of-seven equals confusion, and then chaos.

When the seven-period day begins in September, the teachers will begin the last year of a two year contract that specifies five teaching periods and a planning period. Five plus one equals six — in a seven period day? Superintendent Brummel says 70 percent of the students have chosen extra classes; 30 percent have not. Who will teach the 70 percent? Where will the 30 percent be when not in class? Have the required additional teachers been hired? Will they be? ("Additional" must not be confused with "replacement" for the retirees.) Or are the classes being packed?

Has the required ninth grade English per-class enrollment increased by three students? Is it true that an English A.P. class has increased from 20 to 27? Have two social studies A.P. classes of 16 each been incorporated in one of 32, "freeing" that teacher for another assignment? Is Creative Writing up to 33? Have other departments noted similar increases? No wonder there is a "rising tide of mediocrity" in public education if a school district is able to parlay a sinking enrollment into larger class sizes.

How about a wee bit of common sense? If the adoption of a seven period day means larger class size, postpone it until the expiration of the current contract.

However, the super did make one constructive suggestion in his valedictory. Get involved. Do you expect your taxes to do all your work for you?

Bless those children

To the Editor:

A few months ago, some of us senior citizens at Brownell Middle School were asked to be pen-pals of Richard School students. Not only did we enjoy receiving intelligent letters from these young people, but we also learned from them.

Last Thursday we had a chance to meet the youngsters. We were delighted with their beautiful behavior and good table manners. Their teacher, Dorothy Kotcher, and their parents can be very proud of their children.

And I, a senior citizen, have hope for a strong future for this community. Bless those children.

Recall is 'shameful'

To the Editor:

The time is almost at hand when all Grosse Pointe registered voters will have a chance to express themselves in the school board election recall vote. As a resident of Grosse Pointe for the last 12 years, I can only hope that my fellow citizens will vote on logic and reason and not on emotion.

Some very dedicated and very loyal members of the Grosse Pointe school board have given a great deal of themselves and performed meritoriously in the last few years. It is shameful that a vocal minority wants to remove them from office because they did not agree with some of their economically sound decisions.

All people who vote in this vital election should keep in mind that the school closing problem is not a special one for Grosse Pointe and that all over our nation school boards are taking similar action because of the sharp drop in enrollments.

Consequently, I am hopeful that the good people of Grosse Pointe will recognize this and vote down the recall movement.

Against the sign

To the Editor:

I am writing in strong agreement with Elizabeth Lubera's letter that was written about opposing the atrocious Windemere Place sign that is to be placed on our scenic Lakeshore Drive.

That's just the way it should stay — a drive. Signs such as these should remain in a commercial area.

As one of many residents of Lakeshore, this sign would affect us most of all. We are the ones who make our homes on this cherished spot, where you need just to look out a window and watch the water breaking against the shore.

This beauty shouldn't be interrupted by an obtrusive sign.

Trustees sworn in

Newly re-elected village officials were sworn in at the Tuesday morning Grosse Pointe Shores council meeting.

President Gerald Schroeder, Trustees Patricia Galvin and Edmund Brady, Jr., President Pro-Tem C. Bradford Lundy, Jr. and Clerk James W. Wright all took office after running unopposed on May 15 in the regular council election.

Of the 112 votes cast, Schroeder's name appeared on 106, according to village officials. Brady received 98 votes, Lundy, 101, and Mrs. Galvin, 100, while Wright received 103 votes for clerk, according to results.

All five serve two year terms. Half the council is elected annually.

Foul deed for fair weather friends

To the Editor:

Yesterday was a beautiful, sunny day in Grosse Pointe Park. And it was time for dinner. So, she headed for a cozy and familiar place to eat. Not a terribly elegant place by Park standards, but the food was always good and plentiful. And the price was right. She'd been going there for months now, and even the heavy winter snows had not stopped her. It was always a joy to share dinner with old friends and familiar faces.

As she settled down to eat, she noticed that the place was unusually empty. Well, maybe it was just early. Suddenly, an old friend arrived. And, just as suddenly, everything went wrong.

Three shots from a high-powered air rifle rang out. One crashed in the wall of their "restaurant" sending bits of wood and paint flying over their heads. The second shot was even more damaging. As she watched in horror, her friend's wing exploded into a shower of feathers, bone and blood as he fell to the ground. Her split-second of fear and grief was just as quickly replaced by the third shot, which hit her in the shoulder.

Unable to fly away, she just sat there sharing her partner's blinding pain, and eventually, she, too, toppled to the ground. Probably still trying to understand what had happened. And, why?

What form of cold-blooded madness had interrupted their meal in this always safe and comfortable "restaurant"?

And, what had she, or her friend, done that had caused him to be quickly bleeding to death, and herself gravely injured, and unable to fly? She'll probably never know.

Hopefully, they never heard the squeals of delight as the teenage boy hiding in the upstairs window next door shared his brave "kill" with a friend.

The fun and challenge of shooting at leaded glass windows, gas lanterns and beer bottles had lost its appeal. Now, it was time to kill.

Grosse Pointe Park may well be "Tree City U.S.A.," but, until we enact, and ENFORCE, laws to protect animals, those trees, and our lives will be a little bit emptier!

Cooperation needed

To the Editor:

Some 10 years ago Consolidated Edison Company of New York had serious problems in financing the building of a billion dollar utility plant on the Hudson River. The New York state government in a justifiable spirit of industry cooperation created a special state power authority and issued tax free bonds in order to complete the financing of the plant and put it into operation.

This has resulted in New York City having adequate electrical power; saved thousands of jobs for the company and the area; and the company's earnings and dividends have tripled in the last 10 years. Through the cooperative effort everyone benefitted, no one was hurt.

What a difference in Michigan with its socialist-labor, anti-business state government and especially its anti-business attorney general. Consumers Power Company apparently finds itself in circumstances similar to Con Ed's. The surprising thing is that the Detroit News, General Motors and Ford Motor, according to reports, also wish to destroy the company.

General Motors and Ford Motor were saved when the Federal government set Japanese car import quotas. Chrysler was saved by many government loan guarantees and labor cooperation.

Wouldn't it be better to save thousands of jobs and preserve a viable, essential company with a little cooperation rather than flout state government and media negativism?

New staff at South Tower

The 1984-85 staff positions for South's newspaper, the Tower, have been chosen with the input of the current staff members, and Tower advisor Robert Button.

Losing 12 staff members next year, nine of which are seniors, the staff will gain nine new members including two who are moving into leadership positions: freshman Linda Gaglio and junior Kip Monahan.

Kip Monahan and Beth Knight will fill the positions of circulation manager and exchange manager. The Tower is also looking for a permanent staff photographer and artist.

After two years as news editor, Ecklund said he is ready to provide effective leadership as next year's managing editor. "I feel I have enough experience, and I really want to take an active part in (the Tower's) production."

Those enrolled in next year's Tower class were asked to fill out an application specifying their preference of position. They also wrote an essay on how the Tower could be improved and how they would achieve that.

After listening to and considering many people's opinions and suggestions, the final decisions were made by Button, although they are subject to change.

"We want to utilize the experience of senior staff members, but it will also be important for new people to bring new ideas to leadership positions," said Button.

One major change in next year's paper has already been made. Imprints, the school's creative writing and art magazine currently published by South's News Pointe staff, will become a task for next year's Tower, because the News Pointe class will no longer be offered to South students.

Mason Fair promises fun

Mason Elementary School P.T.O. will hold its spring fair on Saturday, June 2, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at 1640 Vernier Road, Grosse Pointe Woods.

A variety of indoor and outdoor activities are scheduled in keeping with the fair's theme, "Around the World in 80 Days."

Outdoor games will feature a moon walk, pony rides and dunk tank as well as games of skill and agility. Inside the school, there will be a general store, stocked with unusual items, many hand-made and one-of-a-kind, a cake walk, used book sale, spook house, games for all ages and more. Participants may also buy chances to win one of several valuable prizes, including a weekend for two at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island, a Lake St. Clair Cruise for six on a 65 foot yacht, a color television, Bob-lo tickets and ski rental packages.

As an added attraction, a full-size hot air balloon will be tethered on the school grounds for the day. The Mason Fair is held every three years as the P.T.O.'s major fundraising event. Proceeds raised provide assemblies, field trips, educational material and equipment for Mason School students.

Fair tickets, at four for $1 and raffle tickets at $1 each, will be available throughout the day.

Something Special on Sunday

Barnes Elementary School, 20090 Morningside Drive, will hold its 24th annual Ice Cream Social on Sunday, June 3, from 4 to 8 p.m. All alumni (1956-83) are invited to attend this year as the school building will be opened for tours. There will be fresh strawberries and hot fudge sundaes along with popcorn, coffee and soft drinks. A raffle is planned for two Cabbage Patch Kids, a bike, a tent and more. For those with a sweet tooth there will be a Cake Walk and Cake Raffle. Banjo's East will provide musical entertainment. General Co-Chairpersons are Sharon Masek and Sharon Kenny. Ready for springtime, baseball and the Barnes Ice Cream Social are (left to right, first row) Ryan Perkins and Garrett Ryan, (left to right, second row) Bryce Kenny, Emily Boehm and Julie Taylor, (top row) Patty Dallas.

Not just an ice cream social

Organizers of the Monteith Elementary School Ice Cream Social, planned for Wednesday, June 6, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at the school on Cook Road at Chalfonte, say that their social will be a special one.

sundaes (chocolate and vanilla ice cream and chocolate and strawberry toppings) and cookies, the Monteith event includes games for all ages, prizes, music by Banjos East, a raffle for gift certificates for dinners, a children's raffle, a magician and special giveaways.

The children's raffle will be for two 10-speed bikes and other prizes. There will also be a tattoo room and Monteith moms are baking for the traditional cake walk. Posters created in a poster contest publicizing the social will be on display in the school.

Besides the traditional ice cream

ARE YOU GIVING MONEY AWAY?

Some people still insist on having an old-fashioned checking account. Letting their financial institution use their money while they get no interest for it.

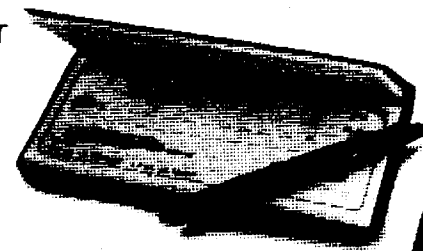

Smart First Federal of Michigan checking account customers know better. They earn interest on the money in their checking account from the date of their deposit right up until the day their checks are paid. And that can add up to a lot of money.

In 1983, the average interest earned by First Federal regular checking account customers was over $70. And that's money they didn't have before. Extra money for a bill, a gift or a great dinner out. You can even avoid monthly service charges by maintaining a $300 balance in your account.

So stop by any of

South Tower writers win state honors

By Laurie Smith
South High
South High's weekly student newspaper, The Tower, was recently awarded at the Michigan Interscholastic Press Association's annual conference at Michigan State University.

The staff was allowed to enter two works in 17 different categories to the contest. Newspaper staffs from high schools all over the state compete.

The Tower received an Award of Excellence based on the accumulation of points and was first runner-up for the Judges Choice for Class A school papers. The Tower also placed second for the Trendsetter Award which is given to a paper that displays unique or unusual work. It won honorable mention for Best Overall Design.

Kevin Roberts won a first place for Best Editorial, staff photographer Kathy Oldham won a first place for Best Portrait, and a human interest feature by Phoebe Wall received second place.

Honorable mention awards were given to Editor Eric Nicholson for an editorial, Chris Brown for Best Review, Rick Whitney for Best Informative Feature, and to Nicholson and Whitney for Best News Analysis.

The sports department won a great many MIPA awards including a first place in the Best Sports Page category for Editor David Loffredo, a second place to Loffredo for Best Sports Editorial, second place Best Sports Photo to Mike Santo, and third place Best Sports Story to Stuart Whitney. Honorable mentions were given for Best Sports Photo to Santo and another Best Sports Page to Loffredo.

Musicians hold recognition night

"This has been a great year," said North High's instrumental music director Nathan Judson last week. "The students in bands and orchestra have been enthusiastic all year long. We want to salute them in a fitting manner at Recognition Night on June 5."

North's bands and orchestra will combine concerto night and recognition on Tuesday, June 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Performing Arts Center at North.

The Symphony Orchestra will accompany two soloists. Senior Denise Spurlock will play Telemann's "Suite in A Minor for Flute and Strings." Miss Spurlock current president of the bands & orchestra council, will also chair the recognition ceremonies immediately following the performance.

Adrienne Geibel, sophomore violinist will perform Bach's Violin Concerto No. 2 in E Major.

A point system was used this year to reward deserving students. Many will receive letters, guards and pins in recognition of their hard work. Such activities as concerts, festivals, parades and other musical or social services are encouraged in this system. Some students earned nearly 3,000 points during the 1983-84 school year alone.

Other awards include outstanding senior trophies and summer music camp scholarships.

No admission will be charged for the June 5 program. Persons desiring further information may call Judson at 343-2240 mornings.

Concerto concert is Thursday

Bill Ream
South High

It's seniors' time to shine and show their talent at South High's Concerto in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. on Thursday, June 7.

Being featured are Scott Miller, clarinet, playing Flight of the Bumblebee; Craig Kvale, clarinet, performing Concert for Clarinet; Gunther Brinkman and Jeff Bosley, both on saxophone, playing Harlem Nocturn; Amy Gaskin, piano, playing Piano Concerto; and Paul Rowady on piano. Also on the piano will be Tammy Tedesco, playing The Revolutionary, and Elizabeth Remick with Ballade. Julie Parker, on flute will play Flute Concerto Fence with Katherine Hein on cello playing Kol Nidrei, and Kristen Kelly playing Serenade for a Picket Fence on the xylophone.

Some students will try their hand in conducting such as Chris Bollinger, Yankee Doodle, and Jeff Kline conducting St. Paul Suite.

Accompanying these soloists will be the Orchestra and Symphonic Band. Admission is free for this event.

Obituaries

William J. Verrette

Services for Mr. Verrette, 61, of Grayton Road, were held Saturday, May 26 at St. Clare of Montefalco Church and the Verheyden Funeral Home.

He died Thursday, May 24, at Bon Secours Hospital.

Mr. Verrette, along with his wife Dorothy, made up the well-respected upholstery team "Bill and Dorothy," and worked out of their home.

"Bill loved his work and was well liked and respected by our customers in Detroit and the Pointe," said his wife. "The people we knew were our family. He loved his work."

Mr. Verrette is survived by his wife; a sister, Lenah Verrette; two sisters-in-law and a brother-in-law.

Betty D. McDonald

A memorial service for Mrs. McDonald, 64, of Cook Road, was held Friday, May 25, at St. James Lutheran Church. Arrangements were handled by the A.H. Peters Funeral Home.

She died Wednesday, May 23, at Bon Secours Hospital.

Mrs. McDonald is survived by her husband, Dr. Charles C.; two daughters, Mrs. Warren (Jo) Winstanley and Mrs. Ben (Sandra) Guiney; and three grandchildren.

Memorial tributes may be made to the Arthritis Foundation, 2340 Michigan Avenue, Dearborn, 48124.

Cremation was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Harold A. Beatty

Services for Mr. Beatty, 79, formerly of McKinley Road, lately of Washington, D.C. and Key West, Fla., were held in St. Alban's Church in Washington.

He died Monday, May 21, in Key West.

Mr. Beatty grew up in Skaneateles, N.Y. and was graduated from Princeton University in 1926. He received his Ph.D. in chemistry there in 1931 and spent his entire career at the Ethyl Corp. For many years he was assistant director of chemical research and was a major contributor to the development of tetraethyl lead, which is the anti-knock compound for gasoline.

He was an avid stamp collector and a member of the Grosse Pointe Club, Princeton Club of Michigan and Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Mitchell Beatty; his son George; three grandchildren and two sisters. He was predeceased by his son David.

Memorial tributes may be made to Christ Church's All Saints Fund or the National Cathedral Tower Fund, Mr. St. Alban, Washington, D.C.

Interment was in the Christ Church columbarium.

Mrs. Joyce V. Brackett

A memorial service for Mrs. Brackett, 52, of Rivard Road, was held Friday, May 25, at the Verheyden Funeral Home.

She died Tuesday, May 22, in Bon Secours Hospital.

Born in New Jersey, she is survived by her husband, Robert G.; three sons, James, Jeffrey and Ross; two daughters, Vanessa and Susan; her mother, Mrs. Rose Mocco and one sister.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Michigan Heart Association.

First English sets Bible school dates

First English Lutheran Church, 800 Vernier Road, will offer Vacation Bible classes from June 18 through June 29.

Sessions will be held Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Daily activities will include Bible stories, crafts, songs, games and refreshments.

Enrollment is open to all children from ages 3 to sixth grade. Fee is $5 per child or $12.50 for families with three or more children. Registration can be made by calling the church office at 884-5040.

Stay young with meditation

Robert H. Schneider, M.D., Medical researcher and hypertension specialist at the University of Michigan Medical Center says Transcendental Meditation can slow the aging process.

"Stress and exhaustion are major contributors to the decline of bodily functioning we call 'biological aging,'" Dr. Schneider said. "My own medical experience with the TM technique, along with the extensive scientific research on the program, have convinced me that TM is the most effective and practical program for eliminating stress and slowing the aging process."

Dr. Schneider will present his findings, along with a survey of the more than 400 scientific research studies conducted on TM during the past 15 years, at a special lecture at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore Road, on Wednesday, June 5, at 8 p.m. The lecture is free and open to the public.

Adult classes begin on June 4

The first of a series of non-credit classes and activities for adults to be held this summer by the department of community education of the Grosse Pointe public school system will begin the week of June 4.

"Join the Joggers," to be taught by Boston Marathon Runner Robert Kiess, will begin on Monday, June 4.

"CPR," offered in conjunction with St. John Hospital, will be held on Tuesday, June 5.

Two single-session classes for adults have been scheduled for Wednesday, June 6. They are "Garage Sales for Fun and Profit" taught by Susan Hartz and "The Armchair Traveler: Paris," taught by art historian June Nelson.

Bloodmobile visits

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will stop at Grosse Pointe Baptist Church, 21365 Mack Avenue, in the Woods, on Wednesday, June 6.

People between 17 and 65 who are in good health can donate blood there anytime between 3 and 9 p.m. For an appointment, call Ray Hamill, at 881-3343.

Theater lands in 'South Pacific'

Grosse Pointe Theater will present the enduring tale of the tropics, "South Pacific," opening June 6, at the Fries Auditorium. The season-ending musical is an exotic blend of wartime romance and humor that is poignant, exuberant and tender, with such unforgettable tunes as "Some Enchanted Evening," "Younger Than Springtime" and "Bali Ha'i."

The show runs through June 16. Nellie Forbush, a slightly naive ensign played by Marie Boyle-Asmus, learns to overcome her prejudices through the love of Emile de Becque, a French planter played by John Pitoniak. Another romance blossoms between the island girl Liat, played by Pam Courtney, and Lt. Joseph Cable, played by Robert Maniscalco, two alien individuals thrown together in a remote part of the earth against the background of war's boredom and violence.

Bloody Mary, played by Ann Diebel, beckons the young lieutenant with her haunting song "Bali Ha'i." Anthony Amato will have the role of Luther Billis, the irrepressible Seabee. Other leading roles will be played by John Diebel as a peppery Naval captain, and William Harrity as a regulation naval commander.

The remainder of the cast members which make up the various sea men and nurses include Robert Montgomery, Gregory B. Roach, Leo Babcock, Bary Wilkinson, Dave Szymanski, Bill Goodwin, Paul Schummer, Diane Graham, Sandi Phelan, Gina Mathews, Terri Turpin, Terry Pope, Kathy Fisk and Peggy Stevenson. The children of Emile de Becque are played by Eric and Stacie Vreeland, and John Guadagnoli plays Henri.

Gigi Gaggini is the director of "South Pacific" with Toni Moore as Producer. Staffing the technical crew are Richard Vreeland, stage manager; Harry Stutt, technical director; Keith Sipos, musical and vocal director; Don Ross, choreographer and assistant director; John Keenan, set designer; Theresa Selvaggio and Ciro Vitale, make-up; Vicky Urbanik, costumes; Marge Chesnick, properties; Sandy Thompson, set dressing; Dale Pegg, lighting; Kevin Asmus, sound; Kathleen Keating, assistant producer; John Casey, assistant stage manager and Jo Brummel, rehearsal accompanist.

Tickets, reservations and information may be obtained by calling the Grosse Pointe Theater box office at 881-4004.

Preceding the performances theater-goers may dine in the Crystal Ball room of the War Memorial. Theater Buffet tickets are available through the War Memorial until three days in advance of each performance for $12.75 each (tax and tip included). Patrons should secure tickets for the performance from Grosse Pointe Theater prior to ordering buffet tickets. Call the Center at 881-7511 for more information on the dinners.

ment program include group living, individual and group therapy, recreation, special education, medical and religious programs. Other programs include respite and emergency care and foster care. The home is a voluntary, non-profit agency whose governing board consists of area residents.

Parkwoman is robbed

Grosse Pointe Park police reported that a resident was held up outside of her home on Monday, May 14.

According to Detective Richard Wedding, the 25-year-old woman was entering her car about 8 p.m. when a man, armed with a slim folding penknife, approached her and demanded her money.

She gave him 70 cents and he fled on foot. She was unharmed, said Wedding.

The robber was described to police as being a very thin black man, about 19 to 20 years old. He had a short natural hair cut, was clean shaven and was wearing a navy blue waist length snap front windbreaker jacket and levis.

Work out in style

Sweatsuit dressing has become one of the hottest trends in American wardrobes. But there are sweats, and there are sweats.

Marge Pankhurst, will teach a one-day workshop on "Creative Sweats" Saturday, June 2, at the War Memorial. Students should bring a sweatshirt and pants and be ready to create their own theme with hand-painting.

The Sweat Shop will open at 9:30 a.m. Cost is $18 plus materials. Call 881-7511 for more information.

Children's Home celebrates Founder's Day

Founder's Day was celebrated Tuesday, May 22, at the Children's Home of Detroit. Almost a century and a half has passed since the home incorporated under the name of "The Ladies Orphan Association of Detroit."

Since the admission of the first 11 orphans in 1836, the home has provided residential services for Michigan youth and changed its programs and services to meet the needs of the children.

Today, the Children's Home, located on Cook Road in the Woods since 1950, is a residential treatment center for emotionally troubled children. Components of the treatment ment program include group living, individual and group therapy, recreation, special education, medical and religious programs. Other programs include respite and emergency care and foster care. The home is a voluntary, non-profit agency whose governing board consists of area residents.

How to save a school system

On June 11th, you can do something that will benefit Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods homeowners, parents, senior citizens and, most importantly, school children for generations to come.

On that day, your "YES" vote on the recall of three board members ... and a vote for ROGER MOURAD and DR. BILL BROWNSCOMBE ... will be a first step in restoring positive leadership to the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

Positive leadership? Yes. Because when you review the track record of the majority of our present school board, it's apparent that they have failed us.

Example: The clumsy, ill-conceived approach to school closings. In a period of six months, no less than six schools were targeted for closing — Barnes, Maire, Defer, Pierce, Mason and Kerby. This willy-nilly indecisiveness caused anxiety among parents for the safety of their children — who, in many cases, would be obliged to walk miles to school. Senior citizens and homeowners waited anxiously to see how much the proposed closing of the school in their neighborhood would affect property values. And while this was going on, nearly $2 million that was accrued largely from the 1983 millage increase was idly sitting in a bank. And finally, the eviction of students from Barnes.

Example: The defection of Grosse Pointe students to private and parochial schools. While the board harped about the need for school closings because of future school population decline (an allegation that was never supported with hard facts), they stood by and watched a student exodus to our private schools. The reason was simple. With so much uncertainty about the schools and the curriculum ... parents were reluctant to risk their children's future in our school system. You can hardly blame them.

Example: The shifting of 6th graders into middle school. Another experiment that was attempted in 1967 in our school system ... and failed. Despite the concern and advice of sociologists, teachers and psychologists, this is going to be attempted again. Even worse, this experiment is going to cost taxpayers thousands to implement it, and it will not make kids smarter.

Example: The recall itself. Why did the board allow this issue to reach a point where 8,500 residents were given no other alternative than demand a recall of three board members? Again, an example of leadership ... but of a divisive nature.

Example: Why can't we hang onto a superintendent? We are now looking for our fourth superintendent in the last seven years. If our system is developing a reputation as a graveyard for educators, what qualified person would even consider the position. It seems only logical then, that we send out a message that is loud and clear: There's a whole new ballgame in the Grosse Pointe school system.

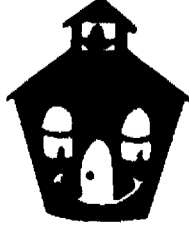

So what can you do? We think that now is the time to restore positive leadership to the Grosse Pointe School Board. The first step is to elect two candidates to the board who have the ability to look at every issue from every angle ... before they make a decision. They are:

ROGER MOURAD
DR. BILL BROWNSCOMBE

The second step is to vote positively on the recall issue. We think this is our only recourse ... to find trustees who reflect a positive, concerned attitude toward our community ... our schools ... our students. All you have to do is vote ...

"YES"

... on the ballot. Leaders lead. It's the acid test. And if you've followed the wanderings of our present board in the newspapers or on TV over the last several months, you know the negative impact they've had on our community. If over the next few years we want positive, dynamic leadership on our board, we have to do something positive on June 11th.

Fight over Milk River office drags on

By Mike Andrzejczyk
The Milk River Drainage District will go in June to Wayne County Circuit court to attempt to force the Woods to grant the drainage district a variance from zoning regulations to build a satellite office building at the Milk River Drain.

The drainage district will ask Judge Richard Kaufman to declare that the drainage board doesn't have to comply with the city's zoning ordinance and can build a satellite office at the drain site along Parkway in the Woods.

The Judge may also be asked to order the city to grant a variance to the district to allow it to build the office building closer to the property line than allowed under the Wood's zoning classification for public facility properties.

The drainage board's contention that it is not subject to the city's zoning ordinance was made at earlier hearings, City Attorney George Catlin said. Were the city's zoning ordinance to be abrogated by Judge Kaufman's order, he would recommend appeal, Catlin said.

The drainage board is arguing that the city applied its zoning ordinance in an unreasonable way to the Milk River request, Catlin said.

The drainage district's motion for summary judgement against the Woods stems from the city council's refusal last month to allow construction of the office because it failed to meet the required 35-foot side yard requirement. The proposed side yard was four feet.

Drainage district attorneys said the failure to grant the variance "poses a practical difficulty upon (the district's) use of the land because the office building as approved by the Planning Commission cannot be built in conformance with the property line setback requirements."

During an April hearing on the variance, Woods planning commission chairman Robert Fredrick said the plans were the "least objectionable alternative." Other plans included a prefabricated mobile home-type building or location of the office on the River Road side of the property, near homes valued at about $100,000.

The current hearings in Circuit Court are the latest in a series of confrontations between the district and Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods councils.

The two cities, which pay the majority of the district's bills, went into court last year to block office building construction. The cities claimed the work was a capital improvement and needed their approval.

Judge Kaufman disagreed and ordered the Woods to review the plans from the district, which had been tabled in February, 1983, by the planning commission.

The judge ordered the district to resubmit plans to the planning commission for its approval. The commission approved the plans for construction of the building as an extension of the existing city Department of Public Works garage.

The Grosse Pointe School Board needs the positive leadership of Dr. Bill Brownscombe

BROWNSCOMBE: "Our school system is the glue that holds the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods together. We have six different city governments. Six different police/fire departments. Six different councils. But only one public school system ... so when you tamper with any part of our school system ... it impacts on every taxpayer, homeowner, senior citizen, parent and student in the area. That's why I feel it is vital that we restore confidence and credibility to our board ... through positive action."

Because we tried it before ... and it failed. I agree with the psychologists and sociologists who said our kids are growing up too fast already."

ON NEIGHBORHOOD SCHOOLS: "Closing of elementary schools disrupts the educational lifestyle this community has built and enjoys. The actual closings ... and the threat of school closings ... impacts too heavily on the welfare of our students and on property values of senior citizens and all homeowners."

POSITIVE LEADERSHIP ON THE BOARD: "I'd work to restore community confidence in the board. I'd like to see negative action replaced with positive action."

THE 6TH GRADE: "I am against the shifting of our 6th graders to the middle schools ..."

WSU faculty honors Grano

Members of the WSU faculty and the executive committee of the Law Alumni Association will join in honoring Grano at a dinner to be held Thursday, May 31, following the spring meeting of the executive committee at the law school.

Joseph G. Grano was recently named Distinguished Professor of Law at Wayne State University Law School. One of only five distinguished professors in all the schools and colleges of WSU, Grano becomes the first professor at the Law School to hold a named chair.

Grano, who lives in Grosse Pointe Park, is an authority on criminal procedure and constitutional law. He received both his undergraduate and law degrees from Temple University, and was awarded a J.I. M. from the University of Illinois.

After serving as an assistant district attorney in Philadelphia, he began his teaching career at the University of Detroit in 1971.

Grano taught at the University of Detroit for three years, serving as Acting Dean in 1974 to 1975. He moved to Wayne as professor of law in 1974. During his career at Wayne State, Grano wrote two books and numerous law review articles. His recent work has centered on the law of search and seizure and on the legitimacy of judicial review in the democratic society.

During his years at WSU, Grano has also taught as a visiting professor at Cornell Law School and the University of California at Berkeley School of Law. He is a member of the American Law Institute and currently serves as reporter for the special committee appointed by the state Supreme Court to write a comprehensive set of criminal procedure rules for Michigan.

UAW counsel to speak at Unitarian

John Fillion, special counsel for the UAW, will be the speaker at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church Adult Forum Sunday, June 3 at 9:30 a.m.

Fillion will talk about outsourcing, job security, health care cost containment, executive bonus, restricting imports and the Japan effect, modular construction, robots and broader job classifications.

Fillion has been with the UAW for 25 years and went to law school at the University of Michigan, after doing undergraduate work at Lawrence University in Wisconsin.

Following the forum, and the church service at 11 a.m., there will be a dialog about friendship between visiting minister Scott Alexander and Rev. John Corrado.

Guests are invited to attend both the service and the coffee hour which follows. Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church is located at 17150 Maumee at St. Clair. Call 881-0420 for more information.

Lakeview High plans 25th reunion

The Lakeview High School Class of 1959 will hold its 25th Class Reunion. The event is tentatively set for Aug. 11.

Graduates are asked to call 526-4806 for more information.

Schools will lose 332 students

Supt. Kenneth Brummel said enrollment in local public schools is expected to drop 332 students for 1984-85 compared to this year, with the greatest decline still being felt in grades K-8. Total enrollment is expected to be 7,185 next year, compared to this year's 7,517, an overall 4 percent drop.

But K-8 enrollment will decline 6 percent to 4,106 students, down 255 from this year, the superintendent said in his annual budget report to the school board. The number of high school students will drop only 77, (2 percent) for a total of 3,079 in 1984-85.

Those figures are comparable to enrollment in the late 1940s, recorded in school system annual reports. There were almost 4,000 K-8 graders in 1945, and 4,500 in 1950. Enrollment at that level peaked in the early 1970s at about 8,500. Total school system enrollment was highest at 13,529, so next year's number represents a 47 percent drop.

The loss of students has been working its way through earlier grades since 1972, but its full impact has not yet been felt at the high school level, according to school officials. It may be four more years before significant reductions at North and South High Schools are felt.

The school system is currently conducting a door-to-door census of the area so it can better project into the future. The census should indicate if there has been a substantial increase in births to Grosse Pointe parents in the last few years.

Christ Church presents 'Mikado'

The Gilbert and Sullivan tradition continues at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe with a production of the 'Mikado.' to be presented in the Christ Church Rose Garden, on Sunday evening, June 3, at 7 p.m.

Stage direction by Mary Lyle, who has directed many Gilbert and Sullivan productions for St. Bede's players, will bring expertise in the Gilbert and Sullivan style. Music direction is under Frederic DeHaven. Choruses of Japanese men and women will be sung by the choristers of men, girls and boys at Christ Church.

Nanki-Poo, son of the Mikado of Japan, tries to escape the marriage of an elderly lady, Katisha. He has fallen in love with a fair maiden, Yum Yum, but is prevented from marriage by her guardian, Ko-Ko, who also pursues marriage with Yum-Yum. However, Ko-Ko has been condemned to death for flirting, and now Nanki Poo is hastening to the court of Ko-Ko in Titipu to find out whether Yum-Yum is now free to marry him. So begins the argument, and one of Gilbert's most elaborate and Victorian stories.

Actors and actresses are Paul Nelson (Nanki-Poo), George Bloomfield (Ko-Ko), David Ludwig (Pooh Bah), Alan Brown (Pish Tush), William Ludwig (The Mikado), Catherine Boyer (Yum-Yum), Anne DeHaven (Peep-Bo), Amy Gaskin (Pitti-Sing) and Kathy Prost (Katisha).

Tickets are $5 (adults) and $3 (students) and are now on sale at Christ Church. For reservations and information call 885-4841.

Open House set at heart center

The Bon Secours Hospital Diagnostic Center in St. Clair Shores will hold open house on Monday, June 4, between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. to recognize "COPD Awareness Day."

COPD (chronic obstructive pulmonary disease) includes deficiencies and abnormalities of the respiratory system such as emphysema and asthma. The Bon Secours Hospital Diagnostic Center specializes in diagnostic and non-invasive cardiopulmonary testing. The open house will include a 10 minute slide program on preventing lung diseases and brochures on smoking and breathing problems. Coffee, tea, and cookies will be served.

"COPD Awareness Day" is presented in conjunction with the Michigan Society for Respiratory Therapy and the American Lung Association.

BOARD MEMBERS' STATEMENT AS IT WILL APPEAR ON THE BALLOT

Our goal is to maintain our quality school system at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayers. Some disagree with our goal; others disagree with our methods of achieving it.

Both votes were by a 6 to 1 majority after a year of study, seven public hearings, and based on the recommendations of two citizen study committees.

We acted because of a decline in enrollment from 13,529 to 7,517 over the past ten years.

All school systems have limits to their resources. Money spent keeping an unnecessary school open will take money away from curricula unless taxes are raised.

Other quality school systems have shown no reduction in property values because of school closings.

Middle schools with grades 6-8 will better meet the need for more math and science outlined in "A Nation at Risk: The Imperative for Education Reform."

Many other quality school systems have this program with positive results in all aspects of school life for the children. We are confident that the children of Grosse Pointe are just as capable.

The Board majority acted in the best interests of all the citizens of the school district as we were elected to do by you, the voter and taxpayer.

Although one of the stickers, (located above the right brake light), assures us that "this is a car," we're still not convinced. To our roving photographer it looked more like a billboard on wheels. The driver of this rolling advertisement must own at least one of every bumper sticker available — to the point where he's run out of bumper space. There's even stickers on the roof, just above the rear windshield. There'll be no trouble identifying this beauty if it's ever stolen. BABY!

SAC<sup>2</sup> to hold annual meeting

"Drugs Don't Take A Vacation" is the subject of the program that will be presented at the annual meeting of the Substance Abuse Council of Grosse Pointe (SAC<sup>2</sup>) on Wednesday, June 6, at 7:30 p.m. in South High School's auditorium. The film "Sons and Daughters: Drugs and Booze" will be presented by members of Henry Ford/Maple Grove Alcohol Education Project. The film includes current information about alcohol and street drugs. Positive approaches to vacation problems for youth will be offered and discussed.

During the business portion of the meeting, the SAC<sup>2</sup> Board of Directors for 1984-85 will be elected. Dr. Kenneth Brummel, secretary and nominating committee chair, will present the following slate for approval: Bruce Feigner, chief executive officer; David Sessions, recording secretary; Florence Miller, corresponding secretary; Sarah Flynn, treasurer; and Suzi Decker, Christine Dodd, Mary Kay Domzalski, Patricia Manthe, Patricia Schneider, Ruth Zinn and Vernon Ausherman, legal advisor.

SAC<sup>2</sup> is a non-profit community council organized to confront the problem of substance use and abuse in Grosse Pointe. Composed of members who represent a cross section of citizens, the council is designed to work with schools, community groups and agencies in a coordinating effort to increase awareness and promote change in attitudes and behavior related to the use of alcohol and other drugs. Any interested citizen may join the organization. All meetings are open to the community. Everyone is welcome.

Summer school has something for adults

The department of community education of the Grosse Pointe public school system has scheduled a total of 80 non-credit classes for adults in its program of classes and activities slated for June and July, in addition to 24 driver education classes. The program, to be advertised in the public school system's flyer of credit offerings for elementary, middle and high school students, and which will be mailed to all residences in the school district, has been described as "The Added Dimension."

Offerings are: "An Adventure in Literature: Goethe's Faust — Is It Relevant Today?," "Aerobic Dancing by Jacki Sorensen," "The Armchair Traveler: London," "The Armchair Traveler: Paris," "The Armchair Traveler: Rome," "Assertiveness Training," "Astronomy for the Family," "Astronomy: Observational," "Ballet," "Birth Chart Construction," "CPR," "Confits, Chutneys; and Preserves!," "Herb Vinegars and Spiced Oils!," "Ideas for Summer Menus!," "Chilled Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Soups," "Computers: Basic Programming," "Computers: A Hands-On Inroduction," "Personal Computers — An Introduction on the Apple," "Personal Computers: An Introduction on the IBM-PC," "A Simple Introduction to Home Computers" and "Word Processing on the Apple." More are "Cooking with Nature's Bounty," "Discipline and Your Child," "Estate Planning Workshop," "Garage Sales for Fun and Profit," "Genealogy for the Family," "Glass Etching," "Hypnosis: Stop Smoking," "Hypnosis: Weight Control," "Join the Joggers!," "Learn to Sail!," "Low-Calorie Microwave Cooking," "Microwave Cooking," "The Moveable Feast," "Nail Grooming," "A Professional Approach to Housework," "Pasta Pronto," "Photography in the Grosse Pointes in Summer," "Potpourri from A to Z," "Pressed Flower Pictures," "Simple Doll and Puppet Making."

Alger promo sparks interest

The past and the future of the Alger Theater will come together on Saturday, June 2, between noon and 3 p.m. under the theater's marquee at East Warren and Outer Drive when a membership drive for the Friends of The Alger Theater is kicked off.

The Friends are a non-profit organization spearheaded by east-side residents and theater enthusiasts who plan to purchase and restore the theater as a labor of love and belief in Detroit.

The organization offers potential ownership of the theater for just $10 or more.

On hand Saturday will be performers and business and community leaders who remember former days of glory and success at the Alger. Now vacant and deteriorating, the building awaits purchase and plenty of elbow grease to restore it as a showcase of talent for film and live theater.

The event will also offer a sneak preview of a huge Treasure Trash Sale with a Performing Arts Fair and Mini-Art Mart to take place on the green turf of Dominican High School on Whittier near Harper.

Further inquiries about the Sale and Fair may be made to Judy Pensyl, membership chairperson at 882-3856. Donations of $10 or more may be sent to Friends of The Alger, 15600 E. Warren, Detroit, MI 48224.

system.

Closing one school won't solve all our problems, but it's a positive step toward saving money for other educational programs such as the seven-period day at the high school, the early opportunities for sixth graders in science, computers and early vocational training.

Even if I am recalled, I think educationally we made a sound decision. It may take some members of the community time to see that, but there is no one who has spent more time studying and talking about this than the seven school board members.

The recall is creating a lot of unrest in the most important commodity Grosse Pointe has — its school system. When this is all over, we still must move ahead.

Q. Why should Barnes school be closed?

Barnes has been a public school operated as a quasi-private school for a limited number of citizens. That was fine, while we were able to do it. But as a school gets smaller, per-pupil costs go up. When costs become extreme, we must do something. We have an obligation to the whole of Grosse Pointe and portion of Harper Woods included in the school system.

Barnes is not being disposed of. It will be totally utilized for the community.

Q. Why should sixth graders be transferred to middle school?

As an educator, I think it's the most sensible thing we can do. It provides an opportunity for better transition between grades. Kids will learn with teachers who have high expertise in their subject area, rather than one teacher trying to teach it all, English, math and science.

We have kids participating in Little League baseball at age 5 and soccer and other activities. They associate with each other at dances and in play. It's normal. There is more in common between sixth, seventh and eighth graders than not. It's an age when kids are starting to get excited about subject matter. The transfer is a great opportunity for them.

It also happens to be the most common organizational structure in America.

Q. What should the board do in the future about the enrollment decline?

I would like a two to three year moratorium after Barnes is closed. We need to make sure there is time to test all the things we are implementing. We need to work out the bugs.

This is a good time to try some of the suggestions parents who've become involved in this controversy have made to the school board.

I'm not willing to say that years down the line, if enrollment stays low, we won't have to look at some more things — closing a middle school, more elementaries or possibly consolidating our high schools. However that will probably involve transportation.

We must be financially responsible or we will lose the support the school system has enjoyed in this community.

Kramer Foster

ly committed to the opinion the school board has wasted tax dollars.

Q. Why shouldn't Barnes be closed?

Once you remove a school from use and then try to use it again, I have heard there are substantial costs involved in re-opening it, I don't know if they're because of state or federal laws, or what.

I am of the personal opinion we will see a population explosion soon. You'd have to be blind not to see all the pregnant women around the Pointe. And older folks like me will move out and sell our homes to younger people.

We have the theory in the school board that smaller classes are poor. I don't buy that. I think if you have smaller classes and a closer student-teacher ratio, that is good.

Q. Why shouldn't sixth graders be transferred to middle school?

There has been a statement that there are drugs at the middle school. A child at that age should not have that exposure. All this sophisticated education we have today. Do we need it? Is it worth our tax dollars? Or should we go back to the old days of schools that covered Kindergarten through eighth grade?

Q. What do you think the school board should have done about the enrollment decline?

If I owned a large home and had a big family and my family grew and left, I would close off rooms. The school should do that, too.

I feel we're going to face a population boom. Grosse Pointe has become a haven for senior citizens. We're eventually going to sell our homes and we're definitely going to sell to families, people who have children. This (low enrollment) will only last five more years.

The board should reduce the school staff, instead of expanding curriculum. Do you know that there are 211 electives? Reduce electives, and save tax dollars.

an active role. I studied and read a great deal about the educational problem of declining enrollment and then took a stand.

I don't think that's a recallable offense.

Q. Why should Barnes school be closed?

Anyone who has looked at our 1984-85 budget can see the benefits of closing Barnes already. Look at the grouping of students at Monteth (which will receive some of the former Barnes students). There are three classes in each grade, except one. That allows us to do some team teaching, have better groupings of students in each class and to operate efficiently.

It's unfortunate Barnes was singled out. But, I think if you look at it from the perspective of the total school system — and the future — a consolidation was absolutely necessary. Even the people instrumental in this recall effort and Dr. William Brownscombe advocated closing Barnes.

Q. Why should sixth graders be transferred to middle school?

I'm surprised and disappointed that has become an issue, because from an educational viewpoint, that makes sense. In my six years on the school board we have had more complaints about middle school than anything else. Because of that, addressing the "middle school problem" was a board goal for two years. A committee made up of principals, teachers and parents recommended a 6-8 grade structure, as did the citizens advisory committee studying the enrollment decline.

Moving the sixth graders to middle school boosts the program there because it simply gives us more students to work with. Sixth graders will have an opportunity to study areas of science where they need laboratories. There are better opportunities for physical education, art, music, shop and crafts.

And, the three-year period children will spend in middle school should increase parent participation there and give teachers longer time to get to know and understand students.

It's the only way to go. Most of the good school systems I've studied have that grouping, if they can do it.

Q. Where should the school board go from here in dealing with the enrollment decline?

I have made a commitment that as long as I'm on the Board of Education, for the next two years, I will not vote for school consolidations. I think we should look at it, and put the community back together.

There seems to be an increased awareness on the part of many parents of the educational process. But then I wonder too. When our consultant asked for parents' input in the selection of a new superintendent last week, 15 members of the public came. And none of the people who have accused us of financial irresponsibility attended the meetings on our budget.

But if there is increased awareness, this is a chance to put it to use. We've set a good course for the school system. Now we need to heal.

David Easlick, Jr.

It will probably take until August for the final machinery to be in place to undo what was done a year ago.

We really want to put this issue on the ballot. The board refused and forced us to recall.

Q. Why should Barnes stay open?

You really can't take Barnes as a separate issue. Had the board put a plan forward that did not involve the transfer, had provided transportation and had closed only one school, the plan would have probably passed. The flip-flops of the board caused concern.

The closing of Barnes sets a population standard for closing an elementary school which will be met by Trombly next year if the sixth grade is moved. When the school board says it won't close schools for two years, why should I believe them? They haven't told me anything I believe since August.

There's been nothing shown to me that says when a school gets that small it cannot operate as an elementary school. Barnes is our newest building, it has optimal class sizes and a great kindergarten facility.

Q. Why should the sixth grade not be transferred to middle school?

The only basic reason for transferring them is to fill the middle schools. The school board, when it looked at the demographic problem, realized that it has a problem at the middle school. They realized the high schools have a constituency and they could not fiddle with them without being lynched. Then they decided to deal with it by closing an elementary and shoving the kids into middle school.

They didn't realize that elementary schools have a constituency, too.

My prime concern is that this is a numbers game that will force the closing of elementary schools which I feel are a very valuable asset to the community.

Q. What do you think the school board should have done about the enrollment decline?

I think they should have done something with middle school. One interesting proposal was a kindergarten through eighth grade elementary school in the buildings that were low in population. You'd have to close a middle school to do that.

You have to deal with middle school problems at middle school, by consolidating there. It's politically unacceptable to fiddle with a high school and it's politically unacceptable to fiddle with elementary schools, I've learned.

Catherine Brierly

studying this, was an agonizing time. We put in many, many hours and the subject was always on my mind — reading letters, taking phone calls, talking to everybody. I tried to keep emotions out of it and to make a decision for the best of the entire community.

I view recall as a tool for the public to use when an official has acted illegally. I don't feel we've done that. If someone is dissatisfied with the way I've voted, the time to act is next year when my term is up.

Q. Why should Barnes school be closed?

I feel it's not just numbers. When a school gets in trouble, as Barnes did, with one section per grade and with odd sized classes — 29 in one, 17 in another — the principals and teachers cannot arrange classes with varying levels of students and education begins to suffer. The total numbers are not what made me vote to close Barnes. Children at Barnes start school with one class and stay with that one group all the way through. It's like a cocoon. And then when they get to middle school, all of a sudden they have to adjust to meeting so many new people and teachers.

I don't think the kids at Barnes got the same education as kids at Mason, for instance, where teachers have the flexibility to group students, team teach, etc. and there are better opportunities for band, orchestra and athletics.

Q. Why should sixth graders be moved to middle school?

It's a way to strengthen the middle school. Kids come in now in seventh grade, get pretty well adjusted and next year they're ready to leave. Adding a year to their stay will really strengthen the program.

Sixth graders are ready for this, believe me. They're going to have the advantage of much more specialized teaching and many more activities relating to education and personal growth.

Q. What should the board do in the future about the enrollment decline?

I don't see us closing another elementary school for the next couple of years. I don't see another elementary school dropping to the point where there is one class per grade. Our census will be completed in August and I'll be very interested to see what it will tell us.

It's important that we don't drop the subject now, but start to study what's going to happen at the middle and high schools. We should begin now thinking of solutions. We have to start working on it so we can prepare the community. We thought we had prepared the community for this, but no one came to our study meetings for a full year. We'll just have to do a better job next time and get people thinking with their heads, and not listening to all kinds of incorrect information like what is being spread around this community now.

Barbara Sarri

In any other community, where schools have been closed there have been three very important criteria. First, there have been dire financial conditions and they certainly don't have that here. We've maintained a roughly $2 million excess. Second, the communities have had transportation systems. There are 36 school systems in Wayne County and Grosse Pointe is the only one that does not have a transportation system. If you start closing elementary schools and asking little children to walk long distances, it follows you will eventually need buses.

The suburbs' one defense, their main defense, against cross-district busing in the 1970s was the neighborhood school concept. If we lose that concept you would leave Grosse Pointe, and other school districts, open to cross-district busing.

The third criteria is that other districts weeded out the schools that were oldest and most expensive to run. In this case we've done directly the opposite. We don't have financial need, we don't have a transportation system and we are going to close — not close, but evict the children — from our newest building.

Q. Why should the sixth grade not be transferred to middle school?

As a parent of grown children and a middle school youngster, in this day and age I think children are asked to grow up too quickly. I think the consequences are obvious. In middle school you see some kids who look like adults, and some that look like young children and that's just the seventh and eighth grade mix. And for them to take sixth graders, who are all children, and add them to that . . .

I watched my own son mature tremendously between sixth and seventh grade. Things that he could have gotten into, mischief, he avoided. Peer pressure is much stronger at that level.

When you have one teacher, the teacher knows more about the children. The longer we expose the children to that, the better off the children are, the parents are and the better off we are as a community.

Again, nobody asked this community if they wanted sixth graders in the middle school.

Q. What do you think the school board should have done about the enrollment decline?

If I were a board member, I would ask the community what it wants. They send things to the homes all the time. They could survey the community to find out what it wants, if it wants any schools closed. Then I would submit three or four different plans.

I've talked to superintendents in other districts who say quality education does not suffer because a school is too small.

The board should not do anything if the community doesn't want it. That's positive leadership.

More than 140 artists from the United States and Canada will exhibit their work, country crafts to fine art pieces, at the first annual Art on the Pointe, slated for June 17 and 18, Sunday and Monday, at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House.

Proceeds from the two-day event, sponsored by the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center, will help support mental health care diagnosis, counseling and treatment programs provided by the NEGC for children, adults and families throughout the metropolitan Detroit area — but especially in our area, for the Guidance Center primarily serves northeast Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores.

The juried fair will run from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday and from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday. The artists will come from as far away as Putney, Vt. (Charles Carlsen, who offers sheepskin and leather clothing) and Pensacola, Fla. (Alan Klug, who will show photographs), and from as near to hand as the street next door.

There'll be watercolors by Pointe residents Marie Brouiski, Margaret Collins, Theresa Politowicz, Marilyn Stockwell, Julie Strabel and Carol A. Sinclair, who will also show pen-and-ink drawings. Woods resident Robert McGrewy will exhibit marine watercolors and pen-and-inks.

Painter Donald Schrom will exhibit mixed media paintings. Farms resident Scott Wilcher will display clay pieces, and Woods residents Virginia Ditty and Linda Avery will show primitive and decorative tole painting. Another Pointe resident, Beverly Maxvill, will exhibit quilts.

Highlighting the fair is a 7 to 9 p.m. Monday evening champagne auction to be conducted by DuMouchelle Art Galleries. There'll be tours of the Ford house and grounds, too, and special children's activities, and family entertainment and refreshments.

Admission to Art on the Pointe is $4 for adults, $2 for children, covering one day at the fair plus Monday's auction. Tickets may be ordered through the NEGC, 824-8000.

Fash Bash Returns

Fash Bash '84, the fun-filled evening benefit for the Detroit Institute of Arts, is set for Tuesday, June 12, in the fourth level ballroom of the Westin Hotel in Renaissance Center. The 15th annual event, which combines fashions, auctions and music, is sponsored by the DIA Founders Society Junior Council, a group of young-thinking supporters of the museum, and Hudson's.

"Because of its combination of low ticket price ($15 in advance, $18 at the door) and lots of activities packed into one evening, this year's Fash Bash attendance should pass

Take a Fisher Mansion tour

A chartered bus will leave the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at 10 a.m. Wednesday, June 6, returning at 2:30 p.m. after a tour of the Bhaktivedanta Cultural Center, also known as the Fisher Mansion.

Included in the $22 tour fee is lunch at Govinda's, the mansion's own vegetarian restaurant, in an opulent setting of polished marble floors, antique Italian serpentine rosewood pillars, Venetian silk curtains and French walnut paneling. Reservation information may be obtained by calling 881-7511.

The Bhaktivedanta Center is a multi-media one, combining elaborate sculptural exhibits of India's heritage and an art gallery of classical and contemporary paintings and objects illustrating the teachings of Indian philosophical thought.

Both the gallery and the grand ballroom have 25-foot ceilings. These, coupled with the meticulously restored residential rooms, offer a glimpse of a splendid living style seldom seen today.

The mansion is set in four acres of formal gardens, with pools, fountains and roving peacocks.

Italian flavor for a benefit

Tickets for "Pasta-Vino-Pagliacci," an evening of fun, food and entertainment scheduled for next Monday, June 4, at Roma's of Bloomfield, are $20 per person and may be obtained by contacting Georgia Olsen at the Southeast Michigan March of Dimes office, 423-3200. Proceeds will help the March of Dimes fight birth defects via medical research, educational programs and community service projects.

To show antiques at fair in St. Clair

Grosse Pointers Richard and Erin Hile, Don and Gail Herschelman and Joyce Cijkola will be among exhibitors in an antique show and sale running from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. tomorrow and Saturday, June 1 and 2, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, June 3, at the St. Clair Riverview Plaza. Admission and parking are free.

'Rev Up' for Grand Prix with HOPE

The Women's Division for Project Hope is revving up for Grand Prix Fever II, its annual party preceding Detroit's Grand Prix races. The event, which calls for "racy within reason" attire, will begin at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 20, in the Westin Hotel's Riverfront Ballroom. Honorary chairmen MR. and MRS. EDSEL B. FORD II (left) and project chairmen MR. and MRS. WILLIAM B. WARNER promise an evening of unlimited excitement, with Celebrity Mini-Races featuring media and auto executive personalities corralled by last year's chairmen, Penny Simon and Diane Schoenith, and the 1984 Grand Prix Fever steering committee. Jackie Stewart and other famous sports figures will be on hand to advise the less experienced drivers. "Spectacular" is the word Betty Gerisch is using to describe some of the items she has gathered to be auctioned off by Larry DuMouchelle. How would you like to jet off, by private plane, to New York for some Broadway theater? How about four tickets to the Grand Prix Race and Winner's Circle? Interested in a birthday party for 50? Betty's list of auction dreams goes on and on . . . As Barbara Reason, Project Hope's president, predicts, the evening is sure to be a winner, with supercharged cocktails, champagne, international cuisine and delicious desserts to tantalize at every pit stop. Ticket information may be obtained by contacting the Project Hope office, 649-4775. All Grand Prix Fever II proceeds go directly to Project Hope, to help provide health science around the world.

Set pre-opera 'Anna Bolena' festivities

A festive reception and pre-opera lecture will launch Michigan Opera Theatre's June productions of Donizetti's "Anna Bolena," featuring Dame Joan Sutherland in her United States debut in the title role, at the Masonic Temple Theatre.

Miss Sutherland's husband, Maestro Richard Bonyngue, will conduct the opera orchestra. Lofti

Mansouri, stage director of "Anna Bolena" and general director of the Toronto-based Canadian Opera Company, will be featured guest speaker prior to the Wednesday, June 6, performance.

Speaking prior to the Saturday, June 9, performance will be Dr. David DiChiera, MOT's general director. Musical excerpts from "Anna Bolena" will be performed during both lectures.

The receptions begin at 6 p.m. with hot and cold hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar in Masonic Temple's Crystal Ballroom, where the quartet Good Company will perform medieval music. The lectures, at 7 p.m., are designed to illuminate the historical and dramatic intricacies of the opera.

Topics include King Henry VIII's romance and struggle with his wife, Anne Boleyn; the history of "Anna Bolena" as composed by Donizetti and its resurgence into the opera repertory after many years of neglect; and production aspects, including a discussion of English Sur-Titles that will receive their Michigan premier during this new MOT production.

Reception/lecture tickets are $15. Reservation information may be obtained by contacting Carol Ritchie or Bob Park at 963-3717, which is also the number to call for performance ticket information.

Present Belle Miel Student Art Show

The Belle Miel Art School, its pupils ranging in age from 6 to 70-plus, presents its 18th annual Student Art Show at Advent Lutheran Church on Kelly Road, between Eight and Nine Mile Roads, in East Detroit this weekend.

The show debuts Saturday, June 2, with a 7 to 9 p.m. reception, and will be open from noon to 8 p.m. Sunday, June 3. Refreshments and admission are free. Mixed media, along with samples of student homework projects, will be featured.

Some works will be for sale, and there will be a $1 "grab bag" filled with a variety of handmade objects.

Judging the show is Katherine Korach, of Windsor, Ont., who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Winnipeg as well as degrees from the University of Manitoba and the University of Windsor.

Ms. Korach, a member of Oriental Expressionist Painters, worked with artist Larry Bell in Taos, N.M., in 1979. Locally, she has shown at the Detroit Artists Market and in the Windsor area.

Chicago home for Hickeys

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Farley Hickey, who vacationed on Barbuda in the West Indies following their spring marriage in the Winnetka Congregational Church, Winnetka, Ill., are at home in Chicago.

Mrs. Hickey is the former Mary Elizabeth Brower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kramer Brower, of Winnetka. Mr. Hickey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward John Hickey, of Washington Road.

Dr. Paul S. Allen and Father John F. Fahey presided at the 4:30 o'clock ceremony Saturday, April 7. A reception followed at the Woman's Athletic Club in Chicago.

The bride, who wore her mother's satin wedding gown and a Belgian lace veil belonging to the bridegroom's family, was attended by Gay Fraker Phillips, of Chicago, as matron of honor, and by bridesmaids Bess Hickey Hubbard, of Pound Ridge, N.Y., and Clare Hickey Colnon, of Chicago, the bridegroom's sisters, Florence Carnet Branson, of New York City, and Alison Jane McEachren, of Washington, D.C.

They wore ruffled, silk blouses and full skirts pastel-printed in shades of lavender, pale and salmon pink.

Sara Ann Waterman, of Upper-ville, Va., the bridegroom's niece, was flower girl.

Edward J. Hickey acted as best man for his son. Ushers were George Taylor Hubbard and Matthew Lydon Colnon, the bridegroom's brothers-in-law, David Meacham Brower, of Chicago, the bride's brother, Edward Blay Schoenherr and John Graffius, of Grosse Pointe, William Chapoton Roney III, of Birmingham, Gerald Hogan, of Falls Church, Va., and John Maus, of West Palm Beach, Fla.

The mother of the bride wore a blue silk print dress. The bridegroom's mother selected a dress of blue silk jacquard.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian F. Hickey

Nuptials held amid flowers

The Belle Isle Conservatory and gardens was the setting Saturday, May 26, for the noon wedding of Ruth Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Gibson Jr., of The Farms, and Darius Anthony Hummel, son of Mrs. Antoinetta Hummel, of Detroit, and Walter Hummel, of Scottsdale, Ariz.

The ceremony at which The Reverend Terry Ging officiated was followed by a reception at the Detroit Boat Club, after which the newlyweds left to vacation on Jamaica. They will return to The Park to make their home.

The bride wore her mother's lace-sleeved wedding gown of antique white satin. She placed flowers in her hair, and carried a bouquet of white and fuschia silk flowers, fresh greenery and baby's-breath.

She was attended by Debbie Davis Holzen, of Mount Clemens, Ruth Gibson Sr. and Liane Lefevre, of Lynn, Mass. Their street length dresses, fashioned of matching fuschia fabric, were of different styles. Fuschia silk flowers, fresh greenery and baby's-breath formed their bouquets.

Best man was Jim Robson. Chris Usher and Chip Gibson seated the guests.

Susan Keeler

Miss Keeler to be bride

Planning a November wedding in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, are Susan Floyd Keeler and Geoffrey S. Kehoe whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen F. Keeler, who moved recently from Merriweather Road to Annapolis, Md.

Miss Keeler, a Grosse Pointe South High School graduate who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Humanities from Michigan State University, is a paralegal with Sonnenschein, Carlin, Nath & Rosenthal, Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Kehoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Kehoe, of Battle Creek, was graduated from Battle Creek's Lakeview High School and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Advertising from Michigan State University, where he affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega.

He is an account representative with the J. Walter Thompson Company, in Chicago.

Cottage hosts Lamaze film

The Lamaze childbirth movie "Nan's Class" will be shown at 8 p.m. tomorrow, Friday, June 1, in Conference Rooms A and B at Cottage Hospital. No fee or reservation is required, for the movie is presented as a public service by Childbirth Information Service, Inc., a non-profit, volunteer group which provides Lamaze, Early Pregnancy, Cesarean and Post-Partum Support classes to expect-tant couples in the northeast metropolitan Detroit area.

A speaker and class instructor from CIS will introduce the film and answer questions pertaining to childbirth preparation. Information on Lamaze classes to begin in June, filling now at four area locations, may be obtained by contacting Nancy Todorovich, registrar, at 731-0277.

Call Academy Alumni home

The Classes of 1934, '49, '59, '64 and '74 will be honored at the Academy Alumni's annual meeting tomorrow, Friday, June 1, at the Grosse Pointe Academy. Mass at 10:30 a.m. will be followed at 11:30 a.m. by the meeting and luncheon.

Summer art classes start

ly 9. The second, dealing with landscape and plant life drawing, starts Friday, July 13.

Both classes will meet for five sessions, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Each costs $45. Further information on any of these summer art classes may be obtained by calling 881-7511.

Fine Arts ends a fine season

Members of Fine Arts Society of Detroit gathered on a Saturday evening in mid-May at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial for the annual dinner dance and business meeting that traditionally ends their club's season.

The program was planned and coordinated by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Peters and their committee members: Dr. and Mrs. Steve Aikens, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gravel, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Mecum and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lackey.

Robert Weber, in his last official act as president, presided over the counting of ballots and announced the newly-elected members of Fine Arts' 1984-85 board. They are Suzanne Adelberg, William Lafer and Michael Traicoff.

New president of the board is Dr. Stephen Shrader. First and second vice-presidents, respectively, are Mr. Mecum and Joan Brusy. Secretary and treasurer, respectively, are Joanne Koch and Dorothy Ludwig. Past-President Weber is also a member of the 1984-85 board.

Business over, society members danced their "Night of the Stars" away in a setting which featured black and white helium balloons secured in pots of white pansies centering each table.

Fine Arts' just-concluded successful season included four productions: "An Evening of One-Act Plays," "Laura," "Riverwind" and "Romantic Comedy."

Southeast MAHA officers installed

Mickey (Mrs. Alexander) Rota, St. Joseph Hospital-Pontiac, and Velma (Mrs. Robert) DeWitt, Crittenton Hospital-Rochester, were installed as president and president-elect, respectively, of the Southeast District of the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries at the group's annual meeting Tuesday, May 15, at Wayne County Medical Society headquarters on Antietam Street in Detroit.

The program featured Allan H. Morton, D.O., Chief of Rheumatology at Bi-County Community and Detroit Osteopathic Hospitals, with a presentation entitled "Arthritis - It Doesn't Have to be a Pain."

The session was chaired by Marie Draper, president. Devotions, given by Martha Adams, used color symbols to interpret the meaning of Holy Week and Palm Sunday.

Evelyn Griffith, past-president of the local unit and immediate past-president of the United Methodist Women, East District, Detroit Conference, reported on the Jurisdiction Conference held in Milwaukee in March. Conference theme was "A Kaleidoscope of Love."

Mrs. Griffith was one of a group of women from the metropolitan Detroit area who presented the main program: a series of vignettes of lives of women who have influenced women in the United States.

Billie Deason, the Pointe Methodist Women's vice-president, introduced Marjorie Halsey, of Clarkston.

Lunch for Retired School Personnel

A capacity crowd of members and guests has made reservations for the Detroit Association of Retired School Personnel's annual spring luncheon tomorrow, Friday, June 1, at noon at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Chairman of the luncheon, traditionally held at the War Memorial, is Pointer Magdaline Jocque. The DARSP's new president, Dorothy Eubank, of St. Clair Shores, will be installed during the afternoon. Mrs. Eubank was formerly executive secretary for the state Retirement Coordinating Council.

From Another Pointe Of View

the 3,000 mark," predicts Farms resident William F. Zoufal, party chairman.

Fash Bash will have a "Rising Stars" theme this year, saluting three honorees in the worlds of fashion and fragrance. It begins with cocktails at 5 p.m. and will progress under the direction of guest hosts Dayna Eubanks, of WXYZ-TV, and Jim Johnson, of WXYZ-TV and WRIF Radio, with plenty of music, dancing, food and liquid refreshments.

The silent auction at 6 p.m. and the live auction at 8:15 p.m. will be punctuated by Hudson's fashion and music video extravaganza at 7 p.m., previewing the new fall looks for men, women and children.

Park residents John and Karen Schultes are chairing the auction, which will be conducted by Ernest DuMouchelle. Items range in value from $25 to several thousand dollars. Among the more exotic biddables are a fireworks extravaganza at the Westin, a Dance on the River for 70 at The Roostertail and a six-day Windjammer Cruise for two in the Caribbean.

Fash Bash tickets are, of course, tax deductible. They're available now at the DIA ticket office, Hudson's and other Ticket World outlets and Nemo's in Renaissance Center.

Right Now, at the DIA

Even as you read this, the Volunteer Committee of the Founders Society is gathered at the Detroit Institute of Arts for its 22nd annual meeting. The committee, over 500 strong, contributed more than 50,000 hours of service to the museum in the past year, with volunteers lecturing in schools and at the museum, manning the Information Desk and Museum Shop, decorating the building, assisting the staff and helping to make the DIA available to the public.

Today, the museum says Thank You — and a special Thank You to four volunteers who will receive pins for 20 years (!) of service. One of those four is Farms resident Betty Thoma, a museum Docent.

Marilyn Farber, 1983-85 Volunteer Committee chairperson, is conducting the 10 a.m. meeting and introducing the speaker, Evan Maurer, director of the University of Michigan Museum of Art and associate professor of Art History. He will talk about volunteers in American museums, volunteers at the University of Michigan Museum and "Primitives in Modern Art."

Election of officers will be followed by a wine reception in the DIA's North Court and luncheon in the Great Hall, the volunteers guests of the Founders Society.

Next Spring, at the DIA

The Detroit Institute of Arts is the sole midwestern site, and one of only seven cities in North America, to host the major exhibition "The Precious Legacy; Judaic Treasures from the Czechoslovak State Collections." Public dates for the Detroit showing are March 13 through May 5, 1985 — but requests for ticket information have been so numerous that the museum will place them on general sale this summer, beginning July 1.

Members of the museum's Founders Society have the privilege of ordering tickets beginning tomorrow, June 1. The tickets are available only by mail through the museum ticket office, at $3.75 for the general public, $2.25 for seniors and students with ID, plus a $1.50 handling charge per order. Order forms may be obtained by visiting or calling the museum ticket office, 832-2730. Ticket requests must be accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope, with checks payable to Ticket Office/DIA.

Woods Boat Club parties

Grosse Pointe Woods Boat Club members gathered early in May at the boathouse in the Woods Park for their annual Spring Fling. The party featured a barbecue supper and a brief business meeting, followed by a square dance with caller Tom Bankstahl. Prizes went to several "Best Dressed" cowboys and cowgirls.

The club is open to boaters and non-boaters at an annual family membership fee of $16. Information on membership and the club's calendar of events may be obtained by contacting Commodore or Mrs. Jerome Fitzsimon at 865-0769.

GP Memorial Church Social slated June 4

The annual Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Ice Cream Social is set for Monday, June 4, from 6 to 8:30 p.m., rain or shine in the church's Fellowship Hall. A variety of make-your-own sundae toppings will be featured, along with homemade cookies and coffee or tea.

There will be a clown, and balloons for the children. Tickets, at $1.25 for adults, 75 cents for boys and girls five and under, will be available at the door.

Summer job TIP offered

The Detroit Public Library's TIP Service has published a 1984 edition of "Summer Youth Employment Programs in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties." Although the directory is intended for use by various employment, training, social and human service agencies, church and community leaders and public officials, it is available for use by the public at all Detroit Public Libraries as well as public libraries throughout the tri-county area, the Detroit Neighborhood Services Department and Detroit Neighborhood City Halls.

Organizations not already on the mailing list may order copies from the Detroit Public Library, TIP Clearinghouse, 5201 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich. 48202 (833-4006).

TIP is a free community information and referral service designed to help people solve the problems of daily living by providing them with information on community services in the tri-county area: day care centers to legal assistance to medical and dental services to much more. TIP is available at all Detroit Public Library branches (listed on Page 196 of the "Detroit White Pages"), or by calling 833-4000.

Focus:HOPE off to Boblo

Boarding begins at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday, June 5, for Focus:HOPE's 8 to 11 p.m. moonlight cruise "Celebration on the River." There'll be entertainment by some of Detroit's top jazz and folk performers in Boblo's S.S. Columbia top deck Folk Cafe: songs of Barbara Bredius, Ron Coden, Phil Marcus Esser, Dean Rutledge and Josh White Jr.

The main deck ballroom will feature the gospel music of Ortheia Barnes and dancing to the Lyman Woodard Organization's music.

The Wandering Mimes will be there, along with juggler Tim Rowlands. Limited table seating will be available for cruisers, who may bring their own picnic lunches or take advantage of the food and cash bar available aboard the Columbia.

Ampie parking in the Joe Louis Arena Structure can be found near the Boblo docks. They are an easy walking distance from Renaissance Center, Cobo Hall, Hart Plaza and Ford Auditorium.

Cruise tickets, at $12.50 per person, can be ordered by calling Focus:HOPE, 883-7440, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays.

Proceeds will be used for programs designed to help build a community free from hunger, where all men and women have access to skills and jobs, good homes and security when they are old. All contributions to Focus:HOPE are tax deductible.

Woods Garden Club to meet

Anne (Mrs. Charles) Brownell will welcome members of the Grosse Pointe Woods Garden Club to her Hawthorne Road home at noon next Tuesday, June 5. Co-hostess for the sandwich luncheon is Lydia (Mrs. Arthur) Swanson. The afternoon program for the group's annual meeting will feature presentation of annual reports.

Cited as Patrons of Arts

Michigan Foundation for the Arts President LOIS STULBERG (left) congratulates Michigan Supreme Court Chief Justice G. MENNEN WILLIAMS and his wife NANCY, of Tonnancour Place, as they receive MFA Patron of the Arts Awards in recognition of their outstanding service to the state in support of the arts. The awards, specially cast commemorative plaques of Pewabic pottery, were presented early this month at the 1984 MFA Awards Ceremony sponsored by Merrill Lynch Pierce Fenner & Smith. The Michigan Foundation for the Arts is a non-profit organization to encourage and support Michigan art and artists.

Art Fair date at St. John

The Macomb County Chapter of the Kidney Foundation of Michigan, in conjunction with St. Clair Renal Center, an affiliate of Saint John Hospital, will sponsor an Art Fair on Friday and Saturday, June 15 and 16, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the St. Clair Professional Building in the Saint John Hospital complex on Moross Road.

Crafts by kidney patients and their families — woodwork, ceramics, needlepoint, crocheted and handsewn items, macrame, drawings, paintings et al. — will be featured throughout the building's ground floor and lower level.

Refreshments will be available in the Courtyard Restaurant, located on the lower level of the Professional Building, and in the Saint John Hospital cafeteria.

The fair is the second presented by its sponsors. It is part of a statewide effort to increase public awareness of the fact that kidney patients, despite recurring illnesses and regular dialysis treatment, can lead full, productive lives and contribute to the community.

The fair is open to the general public. Free parking is available directly behind Saint John Hospital. Further information may be obtained by contacting Arlene Levin, ACSW, at 343-3974.

To end study of Parables

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Women's Association Circles conclude their study of The Parables next Tuesday, June 5, at morning, afternoon and evening meetings, according to their regular time schedules.

Serving as hostesses are Mrs. Clarence Maguire, at her Lochmoor Boulevard home; Mrs. Michael Madarasz, at her Kenwood Court home; Mrs. Gordon Leisimer, at her Lexington Road home; Mrs. Margaret Smith, at her Mapleton Road home; and Mrs. James Main, at her Lincoln Road home.

Visitors are welcome at these monthly Bible Study and coffee programs. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Richard Dykstra, circles coordinator, at 882-5330.

June meeting for Fox Creek

The Fox Creek Chapter of Questers meets next Thursday, June 7, at 11:30 a.m. in the New Baltimore home of Mrs. Edward Langtry, who will be assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. Robert Brierley and Mrs. Robert Priest, to install new officers and enjoy a members' show-and-tell program.

Serve Optometric

Woods resident Mrs. Donald H. Lakin has been re-elected to the board of directors of the Auxiliary to the Michigan Optometric Association, and another Woods resident, Mrs. Edward R. Kamlay, has been elected secretary of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Lakin, a past-president of the auxiliary and past winner of its

Auxiliary's board

"Mrs. O.D. of the Year" award, will serve as auxiliary safety trustee during the coming year. Mrs. Kamlay previously served on the auxiliary board as the trustee in charge of safety projects.

Other auxiliary projects include scholarships for Michigan-resident optometry students and vision information programs.

Jenny J. And The Numbers Game

This is Jenny J., she's a fourth grader who has a straight A average in just about everything, including life. She's a Girl Scout, loves summer camp, takes ballet lessons, is on a community swim team and made third base on her Little League team this year.

She's very helpful around the house, watching her baby brother and doing things for Mom and Dad. Her teachers think she's pretty special, but Jenny is having trouble with math. While her classmates are learning fractions, multiplication and division, she is not really understanding the more basic concepts of addition and subtraction. As a result she is getting very frustrated.

Jenny has already shown leadership qualities and is a year-and-a-half ahead of her age group in reading skills, but her confusion with mathematics is beginning to strain her in other areas.

Fortunately, Jenny's parents heard about Youth Enrichment Services, Inc. (YES) and took her there for diagnostic testing. Her strengths and weaknesses were clearly indicated.

The staff at YES developed an individualized learning program for her. While emphasizing math skills, they also capitalized on her strengths, both mental and physical. They built up her self confidence, so her weaknesses didn't reflect on her strengths. After Jenny's first twenty week session she will be on her way to overcoming her adding and subtracting handicaps, and begin learning her multiplication tables and simple division

Reports on Jenny's Progress
Her parents, through meetings with Youth Enrichment Services' educators, have been able to stay on top of Jenny's progress and help her at home with learning, physical and personal development. They are very happy with Jenny's progress and plan to sign her up for summer sessions at Youth Enrichment Services.

The YES program only involves 2 to 3 hours a week at the facility, divided between individualized computer learning and small group sessions. Jenny can continue her growth in all areas at home and in her everyday activities. Her parents can continue working on her development without any major changes in their daily routine, as well. They appreciate the special individualized program YES put together for Jenny and the time YES took with them to explain the areas of growth and how to develop them, before it was too late.

At the rate Jenny's mathematic skills are developing and with her confidence back up where it was, Jenny should begin fifth grade with her math skills at that level and she will be competitive with her peers again in all areas. Giving her a competitive edge at school, as well as other areas, will have Jenny near the top of her class throughout school and make the college of her choice that much more accessible.

Jenny's parents want the best for their children. Through Youth Enrichment Services they are confident they are getting it, now, before it's too late.

Bach Brunch dates in June

"Brunch with Bach" continues in June on Sunday mornings at the Detroit Institute of Arts, offering informal chamber music performances at 10 and 11:30 a.m. in the museum's indoor garden, Kresge Court.

Two menus are provided: $7.75 for a main course, fruit, nut bread and beverage; $6.75 for nut bread and butter, fruit, cottage cheese and beverage. Limited stairway seating is available at $2.50 per person.

Reservations are required. They may be made as early as a month prior to a desired date or, if space is available, as late as the Friday afternoon immediately before a Sunday concert, by contacting the DIA ticket office, 832-2730, during regular business hours. It is suggested that children younger than five are too young to attend "Brunch with Bach."

The month's series opens this Sunday, June 3, with compositions by Haydn, Schubert and Rossini performed by Maria Cimarelli, soprano, Barbara Windham, mezzo-soprano, Phillip Mooney, tenor, and Roger Jamison, baritone, with Aiden Schell at the piano.

Pianist Fedora Horowitz will play works by Beethoven and Liszt June 10. Music of Beethoven and Milhaud will form the June 17 program by the Pastiche Wind Quintet, with pianist Paul Burns.

The month closes with June 24 performances of works by Mozart, Stravinsky and Wolf, by the Ventura String Quartet (Linda Snedden-Smith and Margaret Tundo, violins; Vincent Lionti, viola; Mario DiFiore, cello).

Phase I hosts Judge Groebel

Judge Beverly Groebel, the first woman judge in the Pointe area, will address members of Phase I, the organization for single, young adults ages 20 through 39, who gather regularly for Sunday evening program meetings at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, this Sunday, June 3, at 7:45 p.m.

WOOD LOUVER DOORS OFFER ALTERNATIVES

Close doors don't have to be mundane.

Wood louver doors, for example, available as folding or sliding units, are ideal for closets in narrow hallways or foyers where there is little space for conventional swing-out doors.

The louvers also permit the free circulation of air, which makes them ideal for high humidity areas like laundry rooms, kitchens and baths.

As a member of a local exchange, a REALTOR has the opportunity to trade information and ideas on a regular basis with fellow professionals and to work with them for community improvement. REALTORS often serve on planning boards, zoning groups, city/county commissions and other organizations that promote community well-being and progressive development.

CONSIDER SAFETY WHEN REROOFING

Fire safety can be an important consideration when choosing a roofing material, since the roof can be vulnerable to fire from overhead sources.

Asphalt shingles are manufactured to meet Underwriters Laboratories Class C standard or better, which means the shingles will not ignite easily, will not support the spread of fire over the roof and will not add to a fire hazard by emitting burning brands.

With "A Wisteria Welcome" Friday morning, June 8, at 10 a.m., the Grosse Pointe Garden Center will introduce a new tradition on its spring calendar. It will center in and around The Marion Alger Memorial Gardens at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial where, in the top left picture, Sally (Mrs. James L.) Schueler, chairman of the day, is pictured at left with a basket of tickets for the day's special prize: a carved redwood bunny garden ornament. With Sally is Peg (Mrs. William A.) Cole, Garden Center president, who is working with all the party planners to invite people to come, get acquainted with the center and all it does, and become involved in it as members.

Among "all the things the center does" is the planting and maintaining of the magnificent lakeside Trial Gardens at the War Memorial where Pamela (Mrs. Charles W. Jr.) Morris is pictured in the top right picture, taking a break from the Dirty Work. A post-luncheon visit to the gardens is part of the Wisteria Welcome agenda. Also on the agenda, beginning promptly at 10, is a sale of silver-colored border plants in the covered walkway adjacent to the wisteria garden. Sale chairman Joyce (Mrs. Arthur C.) Blumenstock and vice-chairman Rose Marie (Mrs. Philip Jr.) Mebus, at left and center respectively in the center photo, are pictured showing the plants to Karen (Mrs. Paul M.) Hostetter, chairman of the noontime sandwichboard buffet luncheon and in charge of Betty Frankel's 10:30 a.m.

"East Meets West" lecture on Oriental gardens in this country, in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium.

her Hanoki Cypress. Starr is making a few small Bonsai to sell at the Wisteria Welcome. Esther and Dot (Mrs. Harley G.) Higbie conduct the popular Garden Center Bonsai Workshops at the War Memorial, open to anyone who wishes to learn how to create his/her own tiny tree.

The Garden Center extends its Wisteria Welcome to everyone in the community. The program is free, but non-Garden Center members will be charged a small fee for the luncheon.

Friendship Tea date for DRC

From Gay Nineties fashions through Gibson Girl hair styles to 1984, where pantsuits, short hair and skirts of varied lengths are "in," has taken 93 years.

And for those 93 years, the Detroit Review Club has been in existence. DRC has gone through four wars (two of them world wars), good times, a depression, inflation . . . not to mention a social and sexual revolution.

But the club has survived, taking in new members, giving benefit parties to raise funds for its many philanthropic projects — and always, late in the spring, holding a Ladies' Tea Party.

The Friendship Tea remains as popular today as it was in June of 1893, when it was first given to honor the first DRC president, Mrs. Frederick Holt, who had served two years.

Two Grosse Pointe presidents, Mrs. Robert Keegen and Mrs. James Mullaney, have opened their homes for DRC Friendship Teas in recent years. Before that, the club's first vice-president, Mrs. Dwight Nelson, Jr., opened her Windmill Pointe home for a DRC tea.

This spring, the tea returns to Windmill Pointe, to the home of Mrs. Kim K. Lie, where members and guests will honor the club's past-presidents and new slate of officers on Friday, June 8.

Official hostess will be Mrs. Justin Emery, the club's newly elected president. Grosse Pointe members of her board who will be assisting her include Mrs. William O. Bradley Jr., Mrs. Alyne Lit-chfield and Mrs. Robert Lucas.

Others are the club's retiring president, Mrs. Robert Gerisch, of Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. Rowe A. Balmer, Mrs. Patrick Moylan, Mrs. Bernard McLellan and Mrs. James Houlihan, DRC's first vice-president.

The Lie home is a treasure trove of art objects, filled with antiques from all over the world. Its garden, facing the water, is a medley of flowers, shrubs and trees. All in all, it's a perfectly lovely setting for a Friendship Tea . . . and President Emery wants each member to "bring a friend" to enjoy that setting with DRC friends.

But reservations are required in advance, for the tea, running from 12:30 to 3 p.m., will be a catered affair. Donation checks ($5 per person) should be made out to the Detroit Review Club and mailed immediately to Mrs. McLellan, the club treasurer, 9732 Chatham, Allen Park, Mich. 48101.

A DIA debut for Woodard

Organist Lyman Woodard makes his Detroit Institute of Arts debut tomorrow, Friday, June 1, in "Jazz at the Institute" performances at 7 and 9:30 p.m. in Kresge Court, the museum's indoor garden cafe.

Tickets at $6 per person may be purchased in advance, but reservations are recommended and may be made by calling the DIA ticket office, 832-2730, during regular business hours. Wine, beer, soft drinks and snacks will be available during the concerts, at a small additional cost.

Among Albion College students asked to join Alpha Omicron home economics honorary at the college's annual Honors Convention April 12 was Sally Leverenz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Leverenz, of Bishop Road. She is a senior home economics major at Albion.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the forthcoming low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — cookbook by Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt Roth featuring, this week, a selection of REFRESHING SUMMER DESSERTS.

GINGER SHERBET

1 Tbsp. unflavored gelatin
3 Tbsp. cold water
1½ cups cold skim milk
1½ cups light cream
¼ cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
3 Tbsp. finely chopped, crystallized ginger.
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Soften the gelatin in cold water. Heat gently until thoroughly dissolved. Combine milk, cream, sugar, vanilla and ginger. Pour into blender container and blend for a few moments on high. Stir in dissolved gelatin and pour mixture into ice cube trays.

Freeze until firm (it will not become as hard as ice cubes). Remove from refrigerator and break into pieces and beat with electric beater until smooth. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Return to freezer and freeze again until firm. Makes 6 servings.

Calories per serving about 190.
Cholesterol about 20 mgs.

BANANAS WITH LEMON SAUCE

½ cup sugar
1 Tbsp. cornstarch
Pinch of salt
1 cup water
1 tsp. grated lemon peel
3 Tbsp. lemon juice
2 Tbsp. unsalted margarine
6 bananas (small)

Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt in medium saucepan. Stir in water. Cook and stir over medium heat until clear and slightly thickened. Remove from heat and stir in lemon peel, juice and margarine. Peel bananas and cut into diagonal slices. Divide among 8 dessert goblets. Add warm sauce and serve at once. Makes 8 servings.

Calories per serving about 148.
Cholesterol 0.

BUTTERSCOTCH TAPIOCA CREME

1 egg, separated
3 cups skim milk
¼ cup quick tapioca
6 Tbsp. dark brown sugar
Pinch of salt
1 tsp. vanilla

Beat egg yolk and combine with milk, tapioca, sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Place over boiling water and cook for 10 to 12 minutes after the water begins to boil again, stirring frequently. Remove from heat and cool about 10 minutes; mixture thickens as it cools. Add vanilla. Beat egg white until stiff and fold into tapioca mixture. Chill. Serve plain or garnished with a small spoon of orange marmalade or other colorful jam or jelly. Makes 5 servings.

Calories per serving about 165.
Cholesterol about 53 mgs.

PLAIN TAPIOCA CREME . . . Substitute granulated sugar for dark brown sugar in the above recipe.

Calories per serving about 154.
Cholesterol about 53 mgs.

CHOCOLATE CLOUD

1 env. unflavored gelatin
½ cup sugar
¼ cup unsweetened cocoa
2 eggs, separated
2 cups skim milk
1½ tsp. vanilla extract

In medium saucepan, mix gelatin, sugar and cocoa; blend in egg yolks beaten with 1 cup skim milk. Stir over low heat until gelatin is completely dissolved, about 5 minutes. Add remaining milk and vanilla and chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon.

In large bowl, beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Gradually add gelatin mixture and beat until mixture doubles in volume, about 5 minutes. Chill until mixture is slightly thickened. Turn into dessert dishes or 4-cup bowl and chill until set. Makes 8 servings.

Calories per serving about 90.
Cholesterol about 64 mgs.

Sports Week

By Peggy O'Connor

This is another in a series of Sports Week columns devoted to the subject of youth sports.

So Junior wants to play a sport? The first thing Mom and Dad need to do is to rush out to the nearest store and load up on expensive shoes and equipment, right? Or, get out the old bat and glove or soccer ball and show the kid a thing or two?

Or how about first figuring out the best way to approach the sports experiences with your child? In a future column, veteran coaches and youth sports advocates will suggest some tips about the practical moves to make when choosing a sport for a child.

This week, though, I'd like to share what I consider some of the most sensible "ground rules" to approaching youth sports that I've seen in a long time. The Neighborhood Club, the Grosse Pointe organization whose business it is to provide quality sports programs for kids and adults, regularly distributes this material to its clientele. Reading the following might make a good first step for when Junior says he wants to play.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR YOUTH SPORTS PARENTS

I. Make sure your child has a positive sports experience.

Encourage them to participate. Compliment positively, not negatively. Let a child develop his or her own goals in sports. Reduce adult expectations . . . remember, they are children and it is their game!

II. Have your child at practices and games.

Teaching responsibility means making sure a child gets to practices and games on time.

III. Practice with your child at home.

It helps make sports a family event. You don't have to know what you're doing — just being interested enough to take the time is enough. Just ask the kid.

IV. Come to games as often as possible.

Moms and dads are special. Games are more fun for the athlete if you are there.

V. Cheer positively.

Encouraging words make sports more fun . . . and that goes for kids on both teams. A child's self-esteem is on the line and every negative comment hurts.

VI. Allow the coach to coach.

Kids get confused if everyone shouts instructions. Let the coach do what he does best.

VII. Let the referees referee.

Referees are fellow sportsmen. They are attempting to do a good job. Officiating is a tough job. Saying "thanks" to a referee isn't the worst thing a person could do . . . and it could start a trend.

VIII. Compliment your child.

Recognize his individual performance, the Neighborhood Club suggests. Don't ask "Did you win?" "Did you get better?" and "Did you have fun?" get the point across.

IX. Talk to the coach.

Coaches try hard to give kids positive sports experience. They can't know everything, so if something is on your mind, the Club suggests talking to the coach.

X. Remember, this is your child's game.

That might be the toughest commandment of all . . . and the easiest to break. And if you need some extra help in remembering not to break it, maybe the following might be of some assistance. (It is reprinted from Guidelines for Children's Sports by R. Martens and V. Seefeldt).

BILL OF RIGHTS FOR YOUNG ATHLETES

1. The right to participate in sports.
2. The right to participate at a level commensurate with each child's ability and maturity.
3. The right to have qualified adult leadership.
4. The right to play as a child and not as an adult.

Babe Ruth

Park teams lose five

The Park's Babe Ruth teams didn't fare too well last week, as they began inter-league play with the Farms-City and Woods-Shores. Park teams lost all five inter-league encounters.

A last-inning error gave the Farms-Tigers a 7-6 decision over the Padres. Loser Dave Feys went the distance for the Padres. Feys and Rich Hamblin each collected two hits for the losers.

The Padres were able to garner only four hits in their 4-1 loss to the Woods-Cubs. Starter George Ayrault was tagged with the loss. Ayrault, Feys, Hamblin and Andy Ayrault accounted for the hits; George Ayrault scoring the only run.

Despite Marcus Wysocki's three hits and three RBI, the Braves bowed to the Woods-Expos, 6-3.

The Farms-Tigers drubbed the Braves, 10-1. Matt McAllister collected two hits for the Braves, while Rodney Goin drove in Dan O'Grady with the losers' only tally. The Phillies were defeated by the Woods-Cubs, 9-7, in the week's other major league contest.

In minor league action, the Cardinals broke a 10-10 tie to overpower the Woods-White Sox, 20-10. Kevin Dietz drove in three runs for the winners. Joe Rosasco scored four times and Steve Berg, Pat De Laere, and Brian Moody each crossing the plate three times for the Cards. Chris Rowan notched a double, while Berg received credit for the win.

The Farms-City Tigers are hot. Defending league champs for the last three seasons, the Tigers are headed in that direction again, compiling a 6-0 record through games of May 27.

On May 14, Rusty Knowles hurled a complete game four-hitter with seven strikeouts to defeat the Red Sox. Jim Johnson, D.J. Honstain, Tim Fellows and Jeff Blovits combined for eight of the 12 Tiger hits.

Then on May 18, the Tigers scored nine times in the second inning to top the Indians, 14-3. David Fellows got relief help from John Paul Hogan to pitch the Tigers to the win. Tim Nugent was four-for-four while seven other Tigers chipped in with hits.

The Yankees provided the Tigers with stiff opposition on May 21, with pitcher John Joliet and the Tiger hurlers Knowles and Hogan locked in a pitching duel. Hogan got the win as he allowed just one hit in the first four innings while batting in two runs to give the Tigers the 4-2 victory.

The Tigers' fifth win came on May 22 at the expense of the Park Padres, 7-6. Rookies Jim Johnson and David Hall were forced into the pitching rotation because of injuries and responded well. Hall picked up the win with four innings of relief, he also picked off three runners. Dave Feys pitched a strong game for the Padres. Chris Krogh and Dave Fellows each had three hits.

The Tigers ran their streak to six on May 24 with a six-run surge in the sixth inning for a 10-1 margin over the Park Braves. Knowles won his second game, with relief from Rick Leonard. Highlighting the rally were rookies Scott Adhock with a hit and Sean Cleland with a perfect suicide squeeze bunt.

70 boats in Sunset race

The second race in the Lake Shore Sail Club's Sunset Series brought out a total of 70 boats. Following are the results of the May 23 event.

PHRF-A: Tigress, E. Niederbuehl; Loose Shoes, J. Morman; Fujimo, J. Schostak.

PHRF-B: Time and Tide, Clinton/Murray; Asylum, D. Loutens; Top Gallant, Salden/Paschke.

PHRF-C: Injection, D. Williams; Thetis, G. Hambricht; Shady

Lady, W. Zack. PHRF-D: Stormalong, R. Orr; Bravo, F. Tenkel; Rhapsody, J. Brown.

MORC: Fast Lane, Coggan/Fox; Kahuna, J. Tepel; Prime Time, D. Grover.

JAM-A: Viola, H. Packman; Mistral, D. Alles; Finale, P. Peterson.

... honors athletes

By Rick Martel
North High

The highest individual honor awarded a North High athlete is the annual Scholar-Athlete award. Much pride, effort and hard work must go into earning the award and that was exemplified by this year's winners, Dave Waldeck and Marlene Preisz.

Presented to the senior boy and girl who have shown excellence in academics and athletics over their four year high school career, this award is the envy of all North athletes.

Qualifying for the Scholar-Athlete Award is demanding. Nominees must make a significant contribution to at least one sport, but must also carry a minimum 3.0 grade point average. A list of 45 senior student athletes were nominated by their coaches. The final selections were determined by the coaching and administrative staffs.

Waldeck and Preisz emerged from a field of many qualified scholar-athletes. The 45 nominees had an average grade point of 3.43, including three students whose GPA exceeded 4.0.

Each winner will receive a trophy and will have his and her name inscribed on the two large Scholar-Athlete trophies permanently lodged at North.

Marlene Preisz (pronounced Price) has been success at just about every sport she has attempted. Winning a total of six varsity letters, Preisz received her first letter in 10th grade as a member of the track team. This year, she tried a new sport, soccer, and quickly established herself.

Named as North's co-captain, Preisz earned first division honors and was placed on the second team All-League squad. As a senior, she lettered in cross country, volleyball and soccer and was voted the volleyball team's MVP.

Preisz's grade point average is 4.006.

"I feel really honored and thankful," Preisz said. "It's kind of unbelievable," she added. Preisz plans to attend Kalamazoo College next year.

Dave Waldeck has also been an outstanding student-athlete at North. A four-year member of both the soccer and baseball teams, Waldeck has exemplified ability and leadership. He captained both teams and enjoyed winning many post-season honors.

On his way to winning four letters in soccer, Waldeck earned honorable mention credit on the All-League team. He also made the All-league baseball team in his sophomore and junior years (this year's selections have not yet been made). He also was voted to the All-Region team and received honorable mention credentials to the All-State team in his junior year.

Playing just as well this year, Waldeck led the Norsemen to the Bi-County baseball championship. He finished the year with a .485 average.

Waldeck was delighted and surprised at the honor. "I was very surprised and happy. It's the most important award I've gotten at North and I'm very pleased," said the soft spoken Waldeck. He added that sports gave him "a feeling of belonging."

Waldeck, whose GPA is 3.8, is bound for the University of Michigan, where he doesn't expect to participate in varsity sports. He sent his thanks to all of his North coaches for the award.

Twenty two percent of the pharmacists nationwide in 1970 were women. Forty percent of the pharmacist nationwide in 1980 were women.

Winners

Albion College recently handed out varsity letters and Lissette Wolfe and Albion Wittwer were among the letter winners. Wolfe, (left) a freshman tennis player, earned her letter at No. 6 singles for the Britons. A University Liggett School graduate, she is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Wolfe, of Provincial Road. Wittwer nabbed his second varsity letter this year; he's a pitcher for Albion. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wittwer, Dave was graduated from North High in 1982.

Falcons drop two

Two stunning setbacks last weekend put St. Clare of Montefalco's title hopes on hold in the CYO East Division baseball race.

After defeating Guardian Angel, 11-2, on May 21, for their eighth straight win, the Falcons looked on their way to another divisional crown. Losses, however, to St. Joan of Arc, 6-1, last Saturday, and St. Matthew, 2-1, on Sunday, have thrown the race into a virtual three-way tie. Each of the three teams have two losses, although St. Matthew still has one more game to play. The type of playoff to determine the ultimate champion was not decided at press time.

G.P. Rovers play with best

The Grosse Pointe Rovers, an under 14 boys' soccer team coached by Bryan Thompson has moved up to the highest division of youth soccer play, the Bonanza Premier Division, this season.

In their first game of the year played April 30, the Rovers played last year's state champion, the Livonia Diamonds, to a tie in Livonia.

Little League

Homers lead Farms-City

Led by back-to-back home runs from Doug Wood and David Asker, the Tigers beat the Yankees, 10-7. Wood also added a triple and Andrew Hoag chipped in with two hits, including a triple. Matt Wysocki had two hits for the Yankees and struck out five in three innings on the mound.

Indians-Orioles
The Indians defeated the Orioles, 9-0, behind the combined one-hit pitching of Bill Isbey and Joe Caldwell. Isbey also hit a triple and a single to lead the 13-hit attack. Danny Teranes and Mike Ross also hit run-scoring doubles.

Indians-Yankees
Mark Jungwirth and Isbey had three hits each to pace the Indians to a 17-6 victory over the Yankees. Both Jungwirth and Isbey had a single, a double and a triple. Caldwell and Isbey split the pitching chores with Isbey picking up five strikeouts. Wysocki led the Yankees with two hits.

Farms-City Class C

Ryan Messacar's fourth inning grand slam led visiting Columbus to a 10-8 win over Syracuse. Columbus' Gary Campbell, Damon Smith and Billy Gerke contributed perfect three-for-three days at the plate. Eric Lindsay's two late-inning defensive plays prevented Syracuse from overcoming the two-run deficit.

J. Wheeler rapped three hits for Syracuse, while G. Giuliani and T. Hanawalt each chipped in two.

Buffalo-Marines

Peter Gracey, Sarah Foley, Mike Owens, Ray Stone, Britt Stebbins and Kelly Sanders knocked out four hits each as Buffalo defeated the Park's Marines, 21-1. Excellent defensive play by Patrick Alle and Riley McCormack helped curtail the Marine offense. Wildie led the Marine attack with three hits; Brooks and Van Wingerden had two each.

Miami-Columbus

A great outfield catch by Tom Kolojiski with two out in the bottom of the sixth inning saved Miami's 20-19 win over Columbus. Matt Hicks and Kevin Brennan homered for Miami. Tim Kazul had a two-run triple. Brian Clute contributed a three-run homer to Columbus' offense and Matt Galnor went four-for-four. Kevin Elliott and Pat McCormick each rapped three hits.

Buffalo-Navy

Billy Scott and Peter Gracey each blasted three hits as Buffalo prevailed over the Park's Navy team, 21-11. Doug Martin, Carter Glass and Jason Gedman scored two runs each during Buffalo uprisings in the first, second and fourth innings. Jay Ricci, Steve Measelle and Chris Alff contributed sparkling defensive plays as Buffalo took its fourth straight victory.

Rory Heinz, Shannon Byrne, Robert Bacon, Richard Spencer and Brian Sampson collected two hits a piece for home-team Navy, which was helped by several key defensive plays by Joe Michael.

Farms-City AAA

San Antonio defeated Hawaii, 5-3, in a close game. Steve Keating and Keith Baer pitched for Hawaii. Keating chipped in with two RBI. Davis also singled. For San Antonio, Dan Lefabvre and Steve Bednarchik each pitched well. Jim Bellanca smashed a three-run homer. Jake Lewis had a game-winning single which scored two runs after Joel Peterson had doubled and Lefabvre singled. Mike Bell struck out the last three batters for the save.

San Antonio-Portland

San Antonio beat Portland, 8-3, for its fourth win against no losses. James Combs and Mike Barnes pitched for Portland; James also doubled. John Brouton went two-for-two at the plate.

San Antonio's hitting attack was well-balanced with Bednarchik, Peterson and Skye Ho going two-for-two. Bednarchik also had a great game catching. Jay Strobbe, Steve Bednarchik, Jason Chevalier, Mike Bell and Bellanca each singled and Lefabvre tripled. Steve Bednarchik, Bell and Lefabvre pitched.

Phoenix-Portland

Phoenix put together six runs in the last two innings to defeat Portland, 14-5, behind the hitting of Greg Snyder, Greg Semack, Bill Albrecht, Jonas Calvillo and Nick Johnston. Portland got fine hitting from Mike Barnes, John Broutin and Joan Combs; Jeff Huntington, Pat Labadie and Ted Watts played well in the field.

Phoenix had outstanding defensive play from Amy Osborne, Tip Quilter, John Okray, Pat Hayes, Ryan Molitor and Sharif El-Ayalay. Portland's James Combs and Chris Butts scored in the fifth inning of a Portland comeback try. Portland is now 2-1 and Phoenix, 1-2, in league play.

In one of the rarest plays in all of baseball, Grosse Pointe Tommy Rhoades executed an unassisted triple play to end the game (May 10) as his Miami Little League team beat the Marines from the Park, 16-2.

With runners on first and second and no one out, Tommy who was pitching caught a pop fly behind the mound, then touched both first and second base as the runners failed to return.

The game also was highlighted by a grand slam home run hit by Miami's Kevin Brennan. Miami is coached by Mike Reynolds. Assistant coach is Tom Rhoades who watched his son's rare feat from the first base box.

Kohler, Hackman winning big

Nancy Kohler and Laura Hackman, Grosse Pointe natives who play on Saginaw Valley College's women's tennis team, had decisive victories in both singles and doubles against Central Michigan University April 11.

Kohler, a North High graduate, won the No. 2 singles match 7-5, 6-3, and teamed up with Cathy Midcalf for a 6-0, 6-4 doubles win.

Hackman, a South graduate, won her Nov. 6 singles match, 6-2, 5-7, 7-5.

GPA netters win twice

Grosse Pointe Academy's boys' tennis team under coach Elaine Cadigan defeated Friends School on Wednesday, May 23, 6-0.

Winning for GPA were Ted Evans at No. 1 singles, Peter O'Rourke at No. 2 singles, John Drum at No. 3 singles, Grant Schwartz at No. 4 singles, Alfie Fisher at No. 5 singles and Peter McDermott at No. 6 singles. On Thursday, May 17, GPA beat Green Hills, 3-2. Winning their matches were Ray Trumacder, Grant Schwartz and Drum. McDermott and David Osdol lost a close match in doubles.

On Tuesday, May 22, GPA's girls' softball team lost 6-1 to Kingswood. GPA's Meghan Brady and Maureen Taylor pitched. Meghan Brady scored the only Academy run. Lexie Crain had a great day in her debut as catcher. The team is coached by Kara Swanson.

GPA's track team continues piling up wins. At the meet at Green Hills on May 17, first place went to Mike Bucciero and Sonja Scott — shot-put; and Sarah Haggarty in the high jump. The girls' 440 Relay Team was also first.

Peter Donaldson was second in the 2 mile, Sarah Haggarty in the 100 meter hurdle, Mike Bucciero in the 75 meter dash, and Eddie Patten in the 200 meter dash. Third place went to Dan Friedel in the 75 meter dash, Donaldson, in the 100 meter hurdles and Alex Pickens, in the 55 meter high hurdles.

GPA winners at the track meet versus Southfield Christian on Tuesday, May 22 were first place: Mike Bucciero — shot put, Reba Uthappa — 75 yd. dash and 100 yard dash, Jenni Standish — 100 hurdles, Tina Kelly — high jump, Eddie Patten — 220 dash. Second Place: Sunny Swarouth — 880 run, Peter McDermott — 100 dash, Remmy Milligan — 880 run, Pickens — 100 hurdles, Tina Kelly — 75 dash, and Laurie Thomas — 220 dash.

Shook wins pitching title

Tom Shook, of Hollywood Avenue, has won the 1984 Big Ten pitching title with his earned run average of 1.01 on behalf of his Michigan State University baseball team.

Proud pair sees girls reach goals

No matter what the outcome of the North-South girls' varsity soccer games, there are always two certain winners. They are Larry Black and Howard Parmentier.

Black and Parmentier are two of the many coaches in Grosse Pointe youth athletics who spend hundreds of hours teaching the rules and fundamentals of soccer. Black and Parmentier coached the original "Gators" (who employed the Izod emblem and mascot), a travel team in the Grosse Pointe Soccer Association.

The success and satisfaction of the pair's hard work will probably never be more apparent than it was at last week's North-South game when no less than 12 "Gators" were on the field at one time, playing for both squads.

Although during the game, it was all business with the usual elbows, shoulders and kicks, afterward, it was all hugs, smiles and heartfelt compliments that flew around the soccer field.

Black and Parmentier originally became involved with girls' soccer in an attempt to correct inequities they saw in the girls' playing time. Having no previous experience, they relied on books and "trial and error." The name of the team was changed from the Jolly Greens to the Gators in response to comments about Grosse Pointe from teams the girls played from the Warren and the Michigan Youth Soccer Leagues.

During a two-year period from 1980-81, the Gators compiled an amazing mark of just two losses in 29 games, while outscoring their opponents, 75-6. It was originally thought that the Gators were no more than a squad which worked together well and had balanced scoring. But when six of the team members secured spots on the varsity squads (three each at North and South), it became apparent that there had been a collection of exceptional talent.

At last year's game between North and South, Black and Parmentier watched from South's side of the field knowing that their daughters Arabella and Alexa would be playing for North this season. "I'm here because I know that for the next four years I'm going to be watching from the other side," Parmentier said.

At last week's game, the only disappointment was that Parmentier's daughter Alexa did not play because of an injury and that Larry Black was unable to attend to see his former charges play. But Black and Parmentier both agree that seeing the Gators doing as well as they are justifies all of their time and effort. "This makes it all worthwhile," Parmentier said.

And both would agree that whatever it is about the Gators that created such a lasting bond between the girls and their coaches and the girls themselves, it is something very special.

Editor's note: (Submitted by a soccer father who says his favorite pastime is following his daughters around to watch them play soccer.)

South 2nd in EML

By Mark Froelich
South High

Just like the Detroit Tigers, the Grosse Pointe South varsity baseball team has also found the winning groove, finishing the season at 11-3 in the Eastern Michigan League. That was good enough for a second-place finish in the E.M.L., from 9-5 last year.

The Blue Devils finished the season finale by taking a double header sweep of Port Huron, 4-0 and 5-1.

In the first game, South won thanks to the outstanding pitching from Rick Whitney. Whitney went the distance allowing just five hits and four walks, while striking out seven. Offensively, Tony Tocco hit a solo home run while going two-for-three with one run batted in. Rich Suhrheinrich also helped out with two doubles and one RBI.

In the nightcap, South got a masterful performance on the mound from pitcher Steve Goodrich, who threw a no-hitter in his first start of the year. Goodrich went the full seven-innings yielding just two walks, while recording seven strikeouts. Pacing the offense for South were Brian Rathsburg, who went three-for-three with one RBI, and Rick Waugaman, who had a two-run single. Port Huron's only run came off a walk, an error and a fielder's choice.

The two wins gave South a 15-11 record overall placing them just one game behind league leader Port Huron Northern, which was 17-2 overall, 12-2 in the E.M.L.

There were many factors that led to yet another successful season for South, but the one that stood out the most was the pitching. The men of the mound were led by ace Rob Bigham, who finished the year at 5-3 with an 1.60 earned run average. The bullpen duties were headed by sophomore Rich Cordova, 5-0 with a 4.02 ERA and a team-leading five saves.

Other bright spots on the team were John Tavary (2-2 2.56 ERA), Rich Jones (2-3 3.39 ERA), Rick Whitney (2-1 3.78 ERA), Dave Spindler (1-1 1.57), and Steve Goodrich (1-0 0.00 ERA).

At the plate, John Williamson paced four other South hitters over the .300 mark, by batting .395 with 20 RBI. Others were Steve Carrier (.308, 22 RBI), Tony Tocco (.305 four homers, 20 RBI), and Rich Suhrheinrich (.300, one homer, 12 RBI).

But according to head coach Dan Griesbaum, the pitching was by far the difference in the season.

"At the beginning of the season it was our biggest question mark. But as it turned out, it was the strongest part of our game. The team ERA was very low (2.73)."

South beat Roseville last week to advance to the district finals held at North this Saturday at 10 a.m.

Netmen take EML, region

By Kip Monahan
South High

The 1984 South boys' varsity tennis team has finished another successful season. "Depth was the key factor to this year's success," said Coach Don Zysk.

The depth of the team was apparent in the regular season, the Eastern Michigan League championship (EML), and the Class-A regional competition. As well as its superb regular season record, the team boasted EML championships in all seven flights, and a regional victory over North.

Among the many teams to fall to the Devils during the regular season were L'Anse Creuse North, Anchor Bay, South Lake, and Trenton. The only losses suffered by the netters were to Dearborn, University Liggett and Ann Arbor Pioneer. The final tally was 9-3 in dual competition.

The South singles players that captured the EML championships were Thad Angyal, Fred Fordon, Pete Wack, and Dave Gualtari. Doubles winners were Erik Nicholson and Robby Hackman, Kip Monahan and Curt Edwards, and Dan Mooney and Bill Wheeler. The league, with only three other teams, was not extremely strong, and the South players were expected to dominate.

Regional competition saw Angyal, Fordon and Wack win the singles positions. Nicholson and Hackman and Monahan and Edwards won doubles titles. The Devils were able to fight off the Norsemen in five of the seven final matches. The final score found South with 26 points and North taking second with 21 points.

The season was also highlighted with a Grosse Pointe Tournament victory. The tourney was hosted by North and South and included South Lake and Edsel Ford. South was able to win the trophy with a few key victories in the final rounds over North. This sort of tournament gave the teams good competition before their respective league tournaments. South also competed in the University Liggett Tournament, but was only able to capture fifth place out of the eight teams invited.

The next and final step for South, as well as North, is the state tournament in Midland. Last year South was able to place 15th out of the 24 teams that qualified, but Zysk hopes "to place in the top 10 this year."

To live up to Zysk's hopes, the team must win the early rounds in an extremely tough field of players. The depth of the team must also shine through. Zysk feels the lower ranked members of the team must play extremely well in their respective flights.

Sailing Singles accepting members

Sailing Singles is now accepting membership applications for the 1984 season. Sailing Singles is a metro area club designed especially for active, single people, ages 21 and up, who have a particular interest in sailing and windsurfing.

Scheduled activities include day, evening and weekend cruises on the Great Lakes, as well as picnic sails and windsurfing on the smaller lakes.

Social events are held throughout the year to provide an opportunity for members to get better acquainted. Educational programs often are included to sharpen sailing skills.

Whether you're a skipper with your own boat, or you want to crew, Sailing Singles would like to welcome you aboard.

For more information about membership and club activities call 455-5683.

Sports Week

5. The right of children to share in the leadership and decision-making of their sport participation.
6. The right to participate in safe and healthy environments.
7. The right to proper preparation for participation in sports.
8. The right to an equal opportunity to strive for success.
9. The right to be treated with dignity.
10. The right to have fun in sports.

I'll bet if parents would read these suggestions before ever plunking down the cash for sneakers and wristbands, or worrying about a kid's batting average, sports programs would go a lot more smoothly.

I might be wrong, but it seems to me that taking a few moments out to read and study suggestions like these — and heaven knows that these aren't the only common sense approaches to youth sports, there are others — might just result in fewer kids being hurt by unthinking adults. Or save some coaches the embarrassment of telling a parent to back off. Or bypass lots of hurt feelings when kids' wants and needs are ignored by overanxious and excited parents.

If I could add anything to the excellent examples set by the Neighborhood Club and nationwide organizations like it, it would be this:

When a kid wants to play a sport, the first thing a parent should do is sit down with the kid and talk about it. And more importantly, listen.

THANKS LORD
I could never have made it without you Lord, the time I lost everything and I thought I couldn't go on, you lifted me, through my sorrows and helped me face tomorrow. And when I thought my world had come to an end and it was like Hell to find a friend, you lifted me. You filled me with an undying faith that very few people can relate. You held me high, you gave me strength, you lifted me. I could never have made it without you Lord, no matter how I tried. It was your love that saw me through; so I'll love you till I die.
VERA ST. PETER

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
Holy Spirit, you who make me see everything and who shows me the way to reach my ideal. You who give me the Divine Gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me and you who are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desires may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones in your perpetual glory. Amen.
Thank you for your love towards me and my loved ones. Pray this prayer 3 consecutive days without asking your wish, after third day your wish will be granted, no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this prayer as soon as your favor has been granted. Thank you for favors received. J.A.B.
