Where's the catsup?

For those of you out there who are beginning to gear up for Christmas, here's a gift idea for those people who are "hard to buy for."

The Restaurant Duglass is offering a "divine" dinner for 10 lucky people at Chef Duglass's home, complete with wines and liquors from the chef's own wine cellar.

But that's not all, folks. Following the dinner, the purchaser of this gift is encouraged to invite an additional 20 of his closest friends to join the party for dessert "extraordinaire."

Or, if you don't have 20 closest friends, Duglass will invite 20 fascinating movers and shakers from around Motown to share their sparkle with your sherbet.

The cost? Only $2,000. Those of you so inclined are urged to make party date selections by calling 424-9244.

My guest list? How about Sparky without Al, Downey and Rocky, Burke and Hare, Opus and Steve Dallas and as many of the Solid Gold Dancers as I can con into showing up.

Postage dew

In this day of cordless telephones, communication satellites and overnight air mail express, it's nice to see someone use the old fashioned method of the "message in the bottle" to reach people.

The message and the bottle were tossed into Lake St. Clair by a Turkish sailor by the name of Semih Yilmaz, who was passing through on his way to Algeria. The bottle washed up on the beach of a cottage on the Canadian side owned by Woods resident Jonathan Malkovitch.

The English is pretty bad, but consider what it would be like if you wrote the same thing in Turkish. The message reads as follows: "This bottle is find American girl or Canadian girl. If this bottle is find a man or Canadian man, please give it to girl friend. I want to correspond with her. If American girl or Canadian girl can write me. I be happy."

My name is Semih Yilmaz. I am Turk. I am coming from Turkey. I am staying in Izmit in Turkey, but I am working motor-man at the Turk ship now. Can you write continued letter me? Because I am speaking and writing little English. If you write me I rejoice and be happy.

I am old twenty-two years. How old are you? I aren't knowing. I am tall. One meter and 75 centimeter. I am weight 64 kilos. My hair is black. My eyes is brown, but I aren't knowing you. But I am believing you are beautiful girl.

I am going to Algeria now. I want to continued your concerning. correspond with you. If you can write and you can send your photograph. I can happy. Unfortunately my photography there isn't.

Maybe you can enjoy from me, and I from you. You can write your sit ground (Editors note: situation-background) concerning. knowege me? I am writing my home address you. You can send letters and photographs my address. Do you send you address me, please. I be happy. Thanks at ready you.

I will return after two months my home. It time I can send you my photograph and with Ismit concerning knowledge you!

I will await your letters! God bless to you, this bottle is find (Continued on Page 17A)

Suspect caught

Believed to be involved in 30 Pointe robberies

By Harriet Nolan

Grosse Pointe Park police believe that the cat burglar responsible for about 30 Pointe home robberies the past few months has been apprehended by Detroit Police.

According to Henry Coonce, Park police chief, outstanding cooperation between detectives from the 12th and 15th precincts led to the Oct. 17 arrest of a man identified as Floyd Harris, 32, of Buffalo Street in Detroit. He has been charged with three counts of receiving and concealing stolen property.

Coonce said Harris has been tied to break-ins on Kensington, Yorkshire and Bedford. In these and the other robberies, methods appear to be similar. Homes are entered between midnight and 8 a.m., usually through an unlocked door or window.

The first floor is quietly searched while the family sleeps upstairs. The most popular items taken include televisions, radios, silver and money from purses.

If car keys are found, they're taken and the car is used to help carry away stolen goods.

"Harris was an active burglar here during 1982 and he's been apprehended in almost the same fashion and property recovered in his home as before," said Coonce.

According to Sgt. Thomas Blackstone, of Detroit's 15th Precinct Detective Bureau, Harris was "a very professional burglar," never leaving any fingerprints in the ransacked homes. But police investigation identified him as the person who sold the stolen property in a gold shop the same day the homes were robbed.

"That was his downfall," said Blackstone. "To sell to any gold shop, you need to show a driver's

Park residents request third street closing

By Harriet Nolan

On the heels of Grosse Pointe Park City Council approving the request of homeowners in the 1400 block of Grayton that their street be closed at Mack Avenue comes a similar request from another group of residents.

"We want to make Berkshire Road inaccessible from Mack Avenue with a cul-de-sac or decorative wall closure," petitioners from that 1400 block told council at its Oct. 22 meeting.

The group, led by Ralph W. Lacey, said such a move would reduce theft, cut off quick exits used by thieves and reduce excessive traffic that puts the lives of neighborhood children at high risk. Lacey told of the financial and emotional losses he's suffered since moving to Berkshire in 1979.

"Spring 1980, we came home to find my wife's Lincoln Continental stolen and the house ransacked," said Lacey. "Art objects, television, clocks and coin collections were all gone."

"Last year my car was stolen and my van taken in February. Four weeks ago my car was stolen again. One way to stop the crime is to close up quick easy exits," he said.

John Crawford, Park city manager, said the matter should be referred to the planning committee and a subcommittee chosen to determine the impact closing the street would have on the rest of the community. Viable alternatives could include adding traffic lights to the area and restricted parking signs and a decision could take more than 60 days.

Park Mayor Palmer Heenan, suggesting it's the squeaky wheel that gets the grease, told petitioners to attend the planning sessions. "Use that personal touch," he said. "Don't think you will prevail unless you talk to people. If you do, you may."

So far, three streets in the Park are slated to be closed, Somerset at Jefferson, Nottingham at Jefferson and Grayton at Mack.

Costs to close Nottingham will be paid for by Bon Secours Hospital and the Detroit Institute of Ophthalmology, backers of the $5 million medical complex planned to be built at that corner.

license, leave a thumb print and other identification. We knew who was pawing the property and where he lived."

Farms Detective Mark Brecht said some of the recovered property came from Farms homes. He feels Harris was involved in at least one night's crime spree that included seven homes or outbuildings being broken into, items taken, and stacked in bushes or in piles near the street, later to be carted away.

"Given his methods of operation, he's probably responsible for at least 12 robberies in the Farms," said Brecht. "He probably had help from others who either dropped him off at the houses or helped him get in them."

"In one instance, he disconnected the phone to hamper our response time," he added.

Harris has been released on bond pending examination, according to Detroit police.

New machine is heart, lungs for infants

By Pat Paholsky

It looks like a Rube Goldberg creation, and the doctor who is in charge of the lifesaving machine says it takes a "zillion people" to run it.

The machine, at Children's Hospital, is one of only eight or nine in operation in the United States. Known as ECMO, for extracorporeal membrane oxygenation, it functions as an artificial heart-lung machine. And it's giving newborns who have only a 10 percent chance of surviving better odds.

The doctor who is responsible for developing the ECMO unit at Children's is Michael Klein, M.D., of Grosse Pointe Park. He is associate chief of pediatric general surgery at the hospital and associate professor, Department of Surgery, at the Wayne State University School of Medicine.

The percentage of children who can be helped by the procedure is low and the costs are high, but the machine is still in the experimental stage. Klein compared it to the artificial kidney machine, which was a drastic procedure when it was first introduced and is now almost routine.

The ECMO procedure is "fraught with hazards," Klein said. "On the other hand, we are only treating patients who have a 90 percent chance of dying."

These are the newborns with severe respiratory diseases who cannot maintain adequate levels of oxygen in the blood through usual intensive care techniques. They suffer from persistent fetal circulation, meconium aspiration syndrome and diaphragmatic hernia. They are otherwise healthy, generally full-term babies, who have an excellent prognosis if they can be kept alive for a short period of time.

"What we do is put them on this machine until they can recover from their underlying disease," Klein said.

The procedure involves an operation in which the surgeon places plastic tubes in the large blood vessels of the chest near the heart. The blood drains to a pump which pushes the blood through the artificial lung where oxygen is added and carbon dioxide is removed. The blood is then heated to body temperature and returned to the infant.

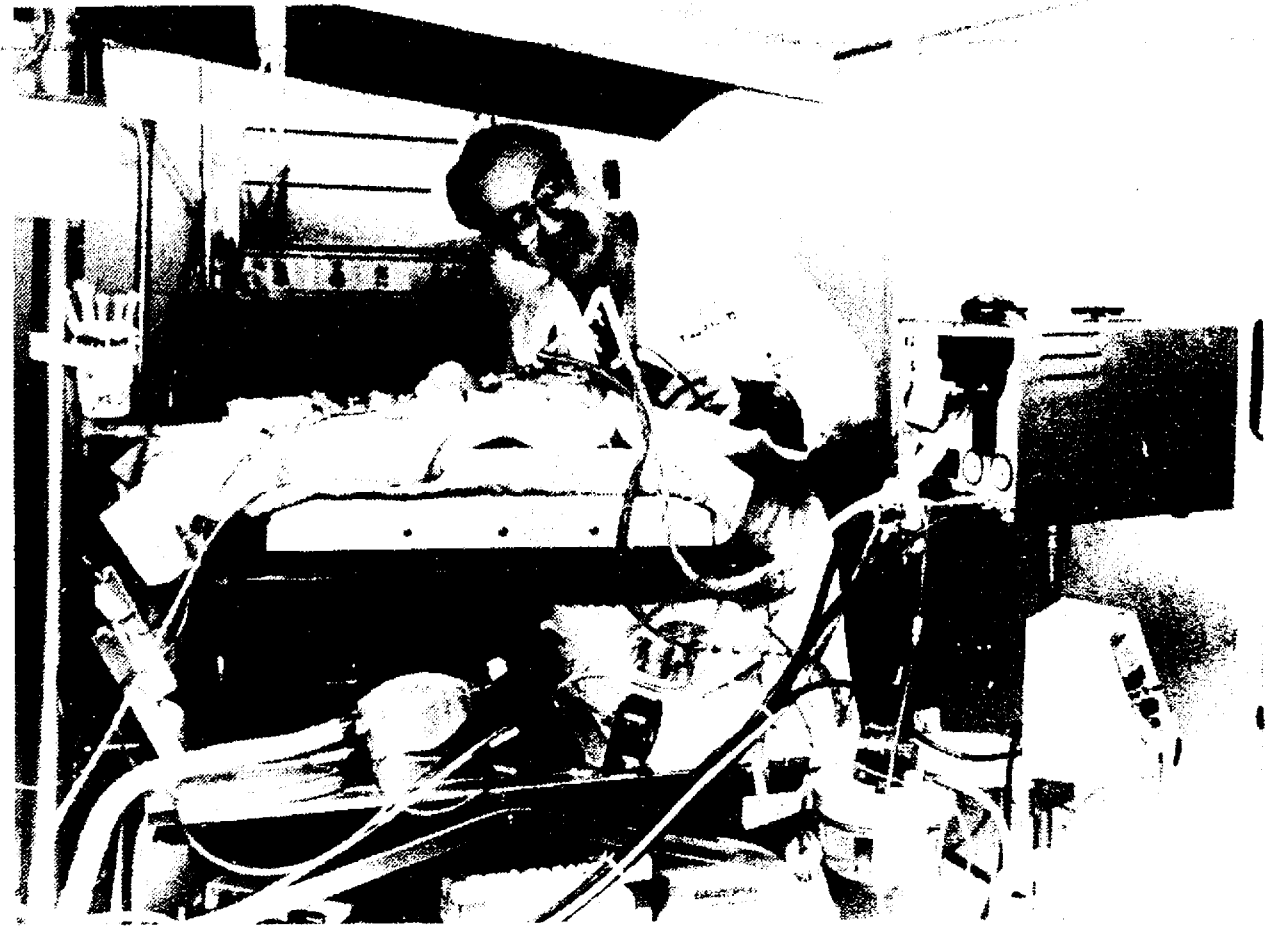

And while the baby is hooked up to all the tubes, totally dependent on the machine for life, he or she is awake and generally healthy-looking, Klein said.

The procedure requires constant attendance by a team of specially trained personnel. While Klein, who said "it takes a zillion people to do ECMO," was off by one or two, the number is impressive.

There are two full-time perfusionists who are trained to operate the pump. Between them they provide around-the-clock care when an infant is on the unit. There are about a dozen nurses and respiratory therapists who have been trained in the procedure and there is also a pediatric research fellow who is seeking ways to make the machine safer.

In addition to the full-time doctors, there are about six faculty level doctors who are actively involved, Klein said.

He estimated that there are some 40 to 80 infants who die every year in Michigan who might otherwise be helped by the machine, which he was instrumental in bringing to Children's Hospital. Klein worked with Dr. Robert Bartlett, whom he (Continued on Page 17A)

It only looks like mass confusion... however, the ECMO machine is a technological marvel, giving newborns who are almost certain to die a chance to live. Dr. Michael Klein is shown here with an infant who is barely visible amid all of the tubes.

Park's assistant fire chief retires

By Harriet Nolan

A fireman's duty is to save other people's lives, often at the risk of his own. To insure his own safety and life, James Palmer is retiring today as Grosse Pointe Park's assistant fire chief.

Last year the 51-year-old Palmer learned that what doctors had labeled for years as "tension headaches" is a brain tumor. This finding was due to an alert physician who recommended that Palmer have a CAT scan which discovered the tumor at the base of his skull.

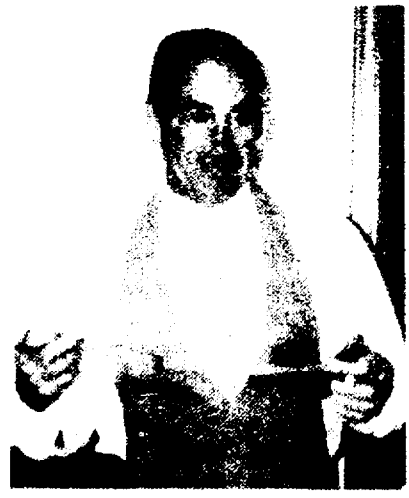

"It was diagnosed as brain cancer and the odds were 10-to-1 that it was malignant," says Palmer. "It wasn't."

The more than 12-hour operation to remove the tumor involved drilling holes in the back and top of his skull and removing most of the bone.

"It's still a healing process, which may never heal," says Palmer. "I can't put any pressure on my head. Even flattening my hair makes me nauseous. And having my wife Elizabeth's arms around my neck, that's out."

"Because doctors took so much bone out of the back of my head, there's nothing there to protect me from injury from the top of my ears down. I had to retire," he adds.

The 29-year veteran grew up on the eastside of Detroit, near St. Jean and Kercheval avenues, joined the army after graduating from St. Rose High School in 1951, and served as a corporal stationed in Trieste on the Adriatic Sea.

James Palmer

One day, while off-duty, he went to the movies to see "Gone With the Wind," but says another film, shown during intermission, caught his interest—a selected short subject that glamorized firefighting.

"It seemed exciting," he said. "I didn't feel very scholarly at the time to go to college."

After his discharge in April 1955, Palmer returned to his family living in the Park and applied for a job there as a firefighter. A short stint working at Chrysler's kept him busy until he was hired the following November.

He says his generally immature attitude toward the whole exciting aspect of firefighting ended quickly with the reality of the job.

"It was more dirt and hard work, people getting hurt and property destroyed," he said. "While the big fires are more spectacular, they're not necessarily the most dangerous."

"Also, firemen are looked on as an unnecessary tax burden. But when there are calls for them to be (Continued on Page 17A)

Memoirs begin

Before he died May 31, 1984, John Lake wrote of his years as executive director of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. As its first director, he guided the center from its beginnings as a cultural, social and educational facility in 1951 until his retirement in 1981.

His remembrances were edited by Charles V. Hicks into 15 segments. The Grosse Pointe News is pleased to begin publishing the installments with this issue. We will continue his story weekly.

It was recently revealed that Lake left the bulk of his estate to the War Memorial. The bequest will amount to about $500,000. Those who knew him said the center was his life, and his memoirs provide a nostalgic look at its development.

The story today is on Page 2A

Grosse Pointe War Memorial
... as John Lake remembered it

Shortly before his death in 1984, John Lake wrote of his years as executive director of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. For those who knew him, it tells the story in a neo-Victorian style they'll well remember — a little confusing at times, but still vintage John Lake. Others will find it a nostalgic and useful contribution to the history of our community. These segments have been edited by Charles V. Hicks, but they retain Lake's original language, and they reflect the unique personality of the man who directed and developed the War Memorial Center in its first 30 years.

I. The Beginnings

(John Lake comes to Grosse Pointe and visits the Alger Museum.)

The year was 1947. A young man from St. Louis came to Grosse Pointe to teach history in Grosse Pointe High School. One of the first things he did was to visit the Alger Branch of the Detroit Institute of Arts at 32 Lake Shore Road.

A librarian at the school took him there, and after they had their sandwich sack lunch on the steps, they went into the house to see what kind of art treasures had been assembled. Actually, the museum was very disappointing to him. As he said to his companion, "Gee, there weren't even any mummies."

In 1948, the D.I.A. gave up its branch in the suburbs. The property reverted to the Alger family and a new scheme was developed for the use of the house. (Note: The "scheme", which called for converting Alger House to a central library, was later abandoned as impractical.)

The people who had been trying to organize Alger House as the central library decided that they would instead opt for a cultural and community center to serve the five Grosse Pointes. The idea of making it a living war memorial then came up, and under the auspices and leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Alger Sheldon, it was decided that the plaques of World War II veterans on a little octagonal building of colonial design be moved from their location in front of the high school and placed on the property of the Alger House.

The idea of calling this a War Memorial cultural center for educational purposes was taken to Lansing. The idea was approved and the tax-exempt status was affirmed.

Things began to happen at what became known as the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center — or just plain the Center.

Next week: John Lake becomes executive director.

U of M wants your blood

For two years in a row, the University of Michigan has beat Ohio State University in a contest that has no losers — the annual blood donor battle.

Students, friends and alumni of the maize and blue donated 6,826 units of blood in 1983's contest to beat the scarlet and gray's collection of 6,175 units.

This year, the contest, held Nov. 5-16, pits the two schools in a friendly competition to collect blood to be distributed to meet community blood needs by the American Red Cross in southeastern Michigan and Columbus, Ohio. The competition is an annual event sponsored by the Alpha Phi Omega, a service organization on the Michigan campus; the American Red Cross; and a group of fraternities and sororities on Ohio State's campus.

The winner of the Blood Drop trophy will be announced during ceremonies at the Michigan/Ohio State football game on Nov. 17 in Columbus.

Michigan fans can donate blood at any community blood drive or at the nearest American Red Cross donor center in Washtenaw, Wayne, Oakland, Macomb or St. Clair counties. Donors must specify they are giving for Michigan at the time of donation. The local Red Cross will also accept donations from Ohio State friends with credit going to OSU.

Blood can be donated by anyone between the ages of 17 through 65 years old in good general health who weighs over 110 pounds, said Neal Fry, Washtenaw County regional representative for the American Red Cross Blood Services, Southeastern Michigan Region. Blood can be donated every 56 days, that's eight weeks, and up to five times in 12 months, reminds Fry.

For an appointment to give blood for the University of Michigan, call the American Red Cross at 494-2800.

Red Cross celebrates 75 years

The American Red Cross will celebrate 75 years in Detroit with a Diamond Jubilee Luncheon Tuesday, Nov. 13, in the Ballroom of the Engineering Society of Detroit Conference Center (Rackham Building), 100 Farnsworth Ave., Detroit.

Leonard Woodcock, former UAW president, first American ambassador to the People's Republic of China and adjunct professor of political science at the University of Michigan will be the featured speaker.

The Nov. 13 event is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Franklin Leimbach of Dearborn. It culminates a year-long celebration under the direction of Diamond Jubilee Committee Co-chairmen Leo J. Brennan Jr. of Birmingham and Mrs. Perry Tewart of Grosse Pointe.

Tickets for the luncheon are available at $15 per person from the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the American Red Cross. For ticket information, call 494-2855 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Another feature of the anniversary celebration has been a Detroit Historical Museum exhibit "The American Red Cross in Detroit: 75 Years of People Helping People." The exhibit runs through Nov. 18.

Cancer prevention program at Cottage

The news about cancer is getting better and the best news is about cancer prevention.

Allison L. Boomer, M.P.H., health educator for the Cancer Information Service, Comprehensive Cancer Center of Metropolitan Detroit, will be the featured speaker Thursday, Nov. 8, 7 p.m., at Cottage Hospital of Grosse Pointe. "An Ounce of Cancer Prevention" will be held in the boardrooms on the lower level of the hospital, 159 Kercheval Ave., in the Farms.

In the past few years, scientists have identified many factors associated with cancer. Today it is known that about 80 percent of cancer cases are tied to the way people live their lives — the foods they eat, the work they do, and whether they smoke all affect the likelihood of getting cancer.

The program is free. Reservations are requested. Call 884-8600, extension 2390.

Pierce PTO sets poinsettia sale

The Pierce Middle School PTO will sponsor a poinsettia sale from Nov. 5 through 16. Poinsettia plants will cost $3.50 each. There will be free delivery in Grosse Pointe for orders of 10 or more plants. All orders must be prepaid. Delivery dates are Dec. 4 and 13.

Plants can be ordered through any Pierce student, PTO member or by calling the school office, 343-2094.

Checks should be made out to the Pierce PTO. Proceeds from the sale will be used for school equipment and programs.

Libraries contain more than books

Where would you go to find a painting, a post hole digger and other tools to build a fence or Madame Chiang Kai-shek's discussion of the "Chinese Republic Today?"

The answer: the Grosse Pointe Central Library.

The library system offers all of the aforementioned services along with many others, making it more than a place to read books.

Libraries have changed into electronic service facilities as society has changed.

"Information is no longer limited to the printed word," acting library director Gerda Bielitz says. Libraries now serve not only educational interests but intellectual and entertainment needs as well, becoming "community sharing devices," she adds.

While most people know they can go into the Central Library or the Woods and Park branches and check out books, read daily papers or leaf through back issues of magazines, they probably don't know about the video and audio cassettes, oral history collection or the Dow Jones financial news retrieval service available.

The Central Library has two meeting rooms available for community groups to use. The Exhibition Room, the larger of the two, contains the library's collection of art work available for rent.

The library has tried to collect representative artists from representative periods, Miss Bielitz says. Works may be rented for up to three months for $1.50 a month. Friends of the Library pay 75 cents a month.

Display cases are used by local groups to show off items of interest. Currently, the Grosse Pointe Historical Society and Interlochen are using the cases.

A display of cassettes and records are kept near the vertical pamphlet file in the Central Library, but the bulk of the collection is kept in the audio-visual room, along with video cassettes, the Dow Jones News Retrieval keyboard and display, and microfilm and microfiche files, on which the library has listed about 200 different titles.

Among the fiche and film readers is one of two aids for the visually impaired — a lighted magnifying glass. In another room is the Visualtek, a machine that uses a camera to display a page on a screen. The Visualtek has a variety of focuses and can throw a black-on-white or white-on-black image.

Also for the visually impaired are large print and talking books. Cassettes include works from Theodore Dreiser, Lewis Carroll, Charlotte Bronte, Henry David Thoreau, Mark Twain, Kafka and Omar Khayyam.

Cassettes are also available with education and employment aids, classical music, foreign languages, children's stories, fairy tales, poetry, fitness, diet and programs in the "Kaleidoscope" and "Adventures in Good Music" series.

The Central Library maintains a vertical pamphlet file for subjects that may not be covered elsewhere, Miss Bielitz says. Among the most popular of the alphabetically filed topics is the relocation file, containing information one might need if moving to another city, including school system and neighborhood characteristic information.

Besides standard reference material, the library maintains a Magazine Index furnished by Information Access, Inc., Miss Bielitz says. The film reference maintains a five-year history of articles listed under subject and author, she adds. The film is updated monthly.

Providing information is only a part of the library. Classes from private and public schools come to the library to learn how to find information using the various reference tools, Miss Bielitz says. It's not all work, though. The library offers story hours and movies as well as classes and workshops through its children's department, while the adult department has put together classes about photography, Great Lakes shipwrecks and hopes soon to have a program on financial advice and management, she adds.

Libraries are no longer located strictly in buildings, either. Outreach Librarian Helen Leonard delivers books to the homebound and organizes group discussions for area seniors. Some of those discussions have been taped, Miss Bielitz says.

Librarians are also available to speak to groups of 15 or more about eight to 10 new books or review a single work, Miss Bielitz adds.

The library preserves history as well as books.

Oral history tapes have been made on local history and national topics. W. Hawkins Ferry talks about local architecture. Theos Anderson discusses the Grosse Pointe public school system and Edward Pongracz recounts local history on some of dozens of available tapes. They are for reference use only and may not be removed from the library.

Because there are three libraries, the community has a richer collection of information available to it, Miss Bielitz says. One branch may carry a title not carried by the other two, she adds.

The Friends of the Library have made many donations to the libraries, according to Miss Bielitz. The Friends are very active in obtaining new audio-visual equipment and services, she adds.

To find out more about libraries, call the Central Library at 343-2097, the Woods branch at 343-2072 or the Park branch at 343-2071.

To that lengthy list of the odd titles for country western songs, add: "I'm Just a Bug on the Windshield of Life."

Lollipops in the sky

Everybody and everything was looking up at Montelth School last week when the school held its fifth annual balloon launch. In spite of rain this year, which let up just in time for the launch, more than 2,000 balloons were released skyward carrying the names and addresses of Montelth students inside. It's all for a good educational cause, as the children mark on maps where their balloons are reportedly found. Creative writing is also stimulated as the kids correspond with penpals created by their far-flung balloons. A trophy is awarded to the person whose balloon travels the farthest, and last year's winner made it to Greensboro, N.C.

Farms okays traffic survey

By Tom Greenwood

At its Oct. 22 meeting, the Farms council approved an $8,500 bid from Goodell-Grivas, Inc. to conduct a traffic volume pattern survey for the city of all north-south roadways.

According to city officials, the survey is necessary for two reasons: to answer residents of McMillan Road who have repeatedly sought relief from the council for the high speed/high volume traffic on their street and to update traffic counts on McMillan and other roads to provide before and after statistics concerning future Hill development plans.

In their introductory report, Goodell-Grivas outlined the following objectives: to obtain a survey of traffic volumes on all north-south roadways; to identify residential roadways with high volume; to identify alternative scenarios to alleviate identified deficiencies; and to develop cost estimates for alternative scenarios.

In its introduction, the report also noted that the Farms is a residential community "with the majority of its commercial, public service and recreational attractions located on the east side of the city."

Because convenient access to these attractions from points to the west "is not available by major arterials," the result is that "residential streets carry volumes that are in excess of their design and purpose," according to the report.

In addition, through drivers, whose primary intent is to arrive at their destination, often drive with different characteristics than local residents. Higher speeds, non-compliance to traffic control devices, higher acceleration and deceleration profiles and a larger tolerance for risk is the result.

According to Goodell-Grivas, they will collect and analyze data from at least 35 roadways links and 27 intersections.

The roadway links include Chal-fonte, Charlevoix, Kercheval, Grosse Pointe Boulevard, Provencal, Moross, Kerby, Moran, McMillan and Fisher roads.

The critical intersections will include the previously mentioned roadway links where they merge with Kerby, Moross, McMillan, Moran, Fisher, and Provencal roads.

In its introductory report, Goodell-Grivas said "it is not expected that there will exist one unique solution to the identified deficiencies." Possible counter-measures might include: traffic diversion — including turn prohibitions and channelization; one-way street patterns; disincentive to through traffic; parking prohibitions; heavy vehicle prohibitions/routes and installation of traffic control devices.

Goodell-Grivas said the cost of each selected alternative will be estimated. The firm hopes to have the final report of its finding before the Farms council by January 1985.

GP Theatre opens season with musical

Grosse Pointe Theatre opens its 1984-85 season with the musical, "Once Upon A Mattress", Wednesday, Nov. 7, at the Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The show runs Nov. 7-11 and 14-17. Curtain 8 p.m. All tickets $7. Sunday curtain 7 p.m.

This is the story of a mythical 15th century kingdom in which the ladies of the court have been forbidden to marry until the young prince finds a suitable bride. All prospective princesses must show their sensitivity by sleeping on a pile of mattresses under which a pea has been hidden.

The doughty prince-winning princess, Winnifred, will be played by Chris Kaiser of Charles Road. The mama-boy prince, Dauntless, played by Ciro Vitale, is the sad-sack victim of his endlessly talkative mother the Queen, played by Carol Purdon of Village Lane.

The King, played by The Honorable William Giovan of Middlesex, has been bullied into being a mute by the Queen. Other leading members of the cast include the Minstrel, played by Bill McCarthy, the Wizard, played by David Hertzberg, Lady Larken, played by Kathy Fisk, Sir Harry, played by Robert Montgomery and the Jester, played by Don Ross.

John Diebel of Maumee is the director with Marie Devlin of Roslyn as the producer and Jac Purdon of Village Lane as the apprentice director.

Staffing the technical crews are Barbara Roney, stage manager; Arthur Thompson, technical director; Keith Sipes, musical director; Gene Shea, vocal director; Marcy Kazmirowski, choreographer; Jacqueline and Paula Disante set design; Jef Fisk, lighting; Lois Constant and Rik Selke, costume; Gwenn Samuel and John Casey, properties and special effects; Kathy Grabruck, set dressing; Carole Lombardini, makeup; Don Lockwood, sound; and Jo Brummel and Fran Wilson as rehearsal accompanists.

Ticket reservations and information may be obtained by calling the box office at 881-4004.

Preceding the performances, theater-goers may dine in the Crystal Ballroom of the War Memorial. Theater buffet tickets are available through the War Memorial up until three days in advance of each performance for $9.50 each (tax and tip included). Patrons should secure tickets for the performances from the Grosse Pointe Theatre prior to ordering buffet tickets.

Call the Center at 881-7511 for more information on the dinners.

Spring trips to Paris, Georgia planned

Next week, Nov. 7 and 9, the War Memorial will host two informational travel nights for those who may be interested in a four-day weekend in Savannah, Ga., or a weeklong sojourn to Amsterdam, Paris and Brussels. Slides and/or movies will be shown about both of the trips scheduled for spring.

The trip to Savannah, April 12-15, will be escorted by Council of Sponsors member Audrey Platt, who has served as associate director of Historic Savannah. The informational night will be held Wednesday, Nov. 7, at 8 p.m.

Travelers will stay in the elegant and historic Eliza Thompson Inn. The itinerary includes visits to the Green-Meldrim House which served as General Sherman's headquarters after the fall of Savannah in 1864, and a private, curatorial tour of the Telfair Mansion and Museum, which has an outstanding collection of furniture, porcelain and silver.

In the Victorian District, developed in 1868, two private homes will be toured. A lunch accented with mint juleps will be served on the Isle of Hope, an 18th and 19th century resort community on the Skidaway River. Also included in the trip will be a low country barbecue with chicken and red rice, featuring fresh oysters, shucked by the travelers themselves and roasted.

The Amsterdam/Paris/Brussels trip will be described in detail on Friday, Nov. 9, at 7:30 p.m.

This tour, which is from March 26 through April 2, includes a canal cruise and motor tour of Amsterdam, and a visit to Rijksmuseum and a Gothic cathedral.

There will be a champagne tasting in Antwerp, and a tour of the Palace of Versailles. Three days and nights in Paris will give travelers time to see the Louvre, Notre Dame Cathedral, Bastille, the Left Bank, Eiffel Tower, Arch de Triomphe, Champs Elysees and Luxembourg.

Both informational nights are free and open to the public, and there is no obligation to register for either trip. Additional information may be obtained by calling 881-7511.

ballot. This makes it important for all voters to be able to read the statewide proposals prior to the election, he said.

On the official ballot they will be designated as follows:

Proposal A — A proposal to allow the legislature to approve or disapprove administrative rules.

Proposal B — A proposal to establish a natural resources trust fund and a board to administer it, to provide revenues for it from natural resource leases, and existing funds and to specify and limit the expenditures therefrom.

Proposal C — A proposal to amend Article 9, Sections 1 and 2 of the Constitution relating to taxes, other revenues and voter or legislative approval of same.

Austin reminded voters that in addition to the statewide proposals, there may be local proposals on the

A dangerous proposal

Some of the more ardent supporters of Proposal C, the proposed amendment to the Michigan Constitution that will be on the ballot next Tuesday, contend that state and local officials should not express publicly their opinions about the effects of the proposal. But that is nonsense. Public officials have a responsibility as well as a right to inform the public as to the possible effect of this proposal on public services as well as on taxes. Nobody else is better informed as to these questions.

Accepting that responsibility, three public bodies in the Pointes have expressed their opposition to Proposal C. The Grosse Pointe Board of Education and the Grosse Pointe City and Farms Councils have taken such action. In addition, the executive board of the Grosse Pointe Education Association, the local teachers' union, has taken a strong stand against the proposal and so has the Board of Education of the Wayne County Intermediate School District of which Joan Hanpeter, president of the Grosse Pointe school board, is a member.

Cutbacks in police and fire protection, street repair, snow removal, support for libraries, park maintenance and senior citizen recreation programs are among the programs that would face cutbacks in the event of the passage of Proposal C, according to the Michigan Municipal League. In the Grosse Pointes, the league estimates that municipal governments would lose as much as $2,356,900 from the passage of Proposal C. The losses would come from the rollback in gasoline and vehicle taxes, the state's loss of revenue sharing funds and the local property tax cutbacks that would be required unless voters approved restoration of the funds.

In the City of Grosse Pointe, the council in opposing Proposal C said the adoption "would have a serious financial impact." Revenue losses are estimated at $343,000, including $43,100 from the city's share of state transportation revenue from motor fuel and vehicle taxes; $39,400 from state-local shared general revenues from sales and income taxes; $231,300 from the local property tax, and $30,000 from investment earnings.

The council said the city would attempt to restore the $231,300 loss in the local property tax through voter approval at a special election but that, too, would be an added cost burden. The council emphasized that any property tax losses not restored by the voters would result in budget cuts which would be translated into reductions in such city services as police, fire, public works, parks and recreation as well as cuts in capital improvements.

In the Shores, Village Manager Michael Kenyon reported to the council that passage of Proposal C could cost the village $127,345 or $303,067, depending on different interpretations of the proposal's effect on property revenues. In addition, according to Kenyon's estimates, the village would lose $29,000 in revenue sharing and transportation funds expected in the current fiscal year and another $42,400 for the next fiscal year. If Proposal C is adopted, immediate spending cuts would be required this year and public works projects may have to be eliminated and staff and services reduced next year, he added.

According to Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, interim Grosse Pointe school superintendent, the schools would lose millage increases of $4.9 million, including more than $350,000 to operate the public library; would have to forfeit "truth in taxation" restorations of approximately $1.1 million; would sustain a cut in the district's taxing authority of $3.1 million; and would face the possibility of poorer bond ratings on their outstanding issues and tax notes.

On top of that, the language of Proposal C would require the board to conduct a millage election within 90 days of the amendment's adoption in order to restore the estimated $6.1 million in funds the district would lose. The cost of such an election would be approximately $10,000.

The people making these estimates are not distant bureaucrats in Washington. Most of them are friends and neighbors who live and work here in the Grosse Pointes, they are close to the public affairs they have been elected or hired to direct, and they know whereof they speak.

It is true, of course, that nobody likes to pay taxes. Yet taxes finance public services and those services range from operation of the public schools and the public library to maintenance and improvement of the public roads and highways. Those who talk about the benefits of Proposal C simply call for a cut in taxes. They don't suggest where the cuts should be made or in what amounts. In this newspaper's opinion, it is an exceedingly dangerous proposal which could have far-reaching impact on the state's future.

Four governors — two Republicans, William Milliken and George Romney, and two Democrats, the incumbent, James Blanchard, and Murray Van Wagoner — have publicly expressed their disapproval of Proposal C. And so has the joint ballot study committee representing the Civic Searchlight of Wayne County and its Oakland County affiliate, Oakland Citizens League, which are nonpartisan organizations which study the issues and listen to both sides before taking action.

The News joins many private citizens and local and state officials in urging a "No" vote on Proposal C.

A backer of county reform

A funny thing is happening in the campaign for the seat on the Wayne County Commission from the 1st District which includes the Pointes, Harper Woods and a part of Detroit. The Republican challenger, Eric Steiner, of Grosse Pointe is complaining that the incumbent commissioner, Democrat John Hertel of Harper Woods, is not voting often enough to support the Democratic county executive, William Lucas. In fact, Steiner claims Hertel has voted against Lucas 64 percent of the time.

In reply, Hertel contends that no county commissioner has been more supportive of the county executive than he has been, but emphasizes that part of the county commission's responsibility is to provide checks and balances on the actions of the county executive. And that is what Hertel insists he has done in supporting Lucas on some issues and voting against him in others.

Thus Hertel says for example, he supported Lucas 100 percent in his successful efforts to sell Wayne County General Hospital and to get rid of the Wayne County Road Commission. In fact, Hertel points out he co-authored the proposal that the voters approved last August for the abolition of the road commission.

But, Hertel says, he voted against Lucas' attempt to appoint Donald Bishop, the former mayor of Dearborn Heights, as an assistant county executive. He and a majority of commissioners thought Bishop was not qualified and felt justified when Bishop was indicted and convicted in a cable TV scandal in his home city. Hertel voted against Lucas' first three nominees to the road commission on grounds their other jobs in government service would have raised conflict of interest questions. And he voted against Lucas' proposal to raise the county millage because he thinks the county can balance its budget eventually without that additional revenue.

In response to a series of questions by the Grosse Pointe News, the candidates expressed agreement on some issues and sharp disagreements on others. Hertel sees crime as one of the area's greatest problems and points out that while the county has a new jail and has adopted double bunking, it still must incarcerate more criminals. He advocates rewriting the criminal code to require mandatory sentencing of those guilty of violent crimes and more efforts to rehabilitate first offenders. Steiner sees the area's greatest need as better representation, contending that the Pointes do not get the grass-cutting on Mack Avenue, the road repair or the attention in general they deserve from the county.

Asked whether the county is doing a better job of delivering services under the new charter, Hertel said he thought the county is doing a better job of maintaining the pavement on thoroughfares in and adjacent to Grosse Pointes as well as taking care of the trees, grass and snow removal. And he claimed some of the credit because, at his instigation, the city managers now meet regularly with road commission representatives to discuss their problems.

Furthermore, he pointed out, people know they are no longer paying to continue operating Wayne County General Hospital in Westland that seldom served anyone from this district and that sale of the hospital will save taxpayers money and help eliminate the county's $130 million debt.

Steiner, on the other hand, said the people aren't getting the services they pay for and added, "If we had 15 more Bill Lucases, we'd get the job done right." He also wants the county to give the commissioners more authority to seek out recommendations from their respective districts on ways to deal with local problems.

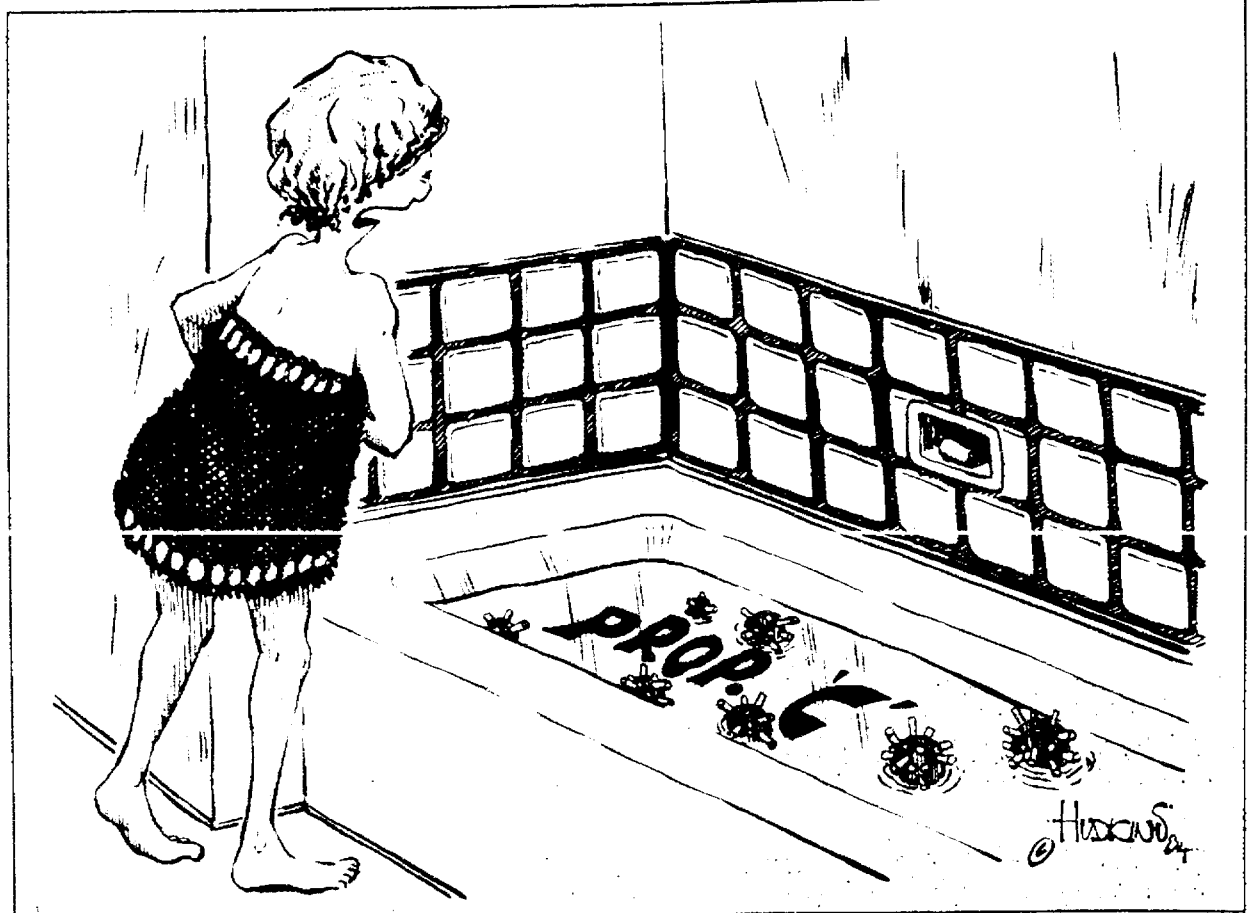

Asked what the county could do to attract more business, Hertel said it ought to show business owners that it can provide well-maintained roads, efficient courts and other public services while maintaining millages at current levels. Steiner, in answer to the same question, said the commissioners should do more to keep the auto industry in the area, go after the robot business and make it known there are a lot of talented people available.

Asked about the proposed consolidation of the county drain commissioner's office with the department of public works, Steiner said he favors consolidation to save on tax bills. Hertel pointed out he is one of only two members of the 15-member county commission now supporting the consolidation of the drain commissioner's ballot at the next general election two years hence. But, he said, the offices of the county clerk and register of deeds also should be consolidated.

Eric Steiner is an attractive young man who became the substitute GOP candidate upon the death of his father, Erv Steiner, who had been seeking to regain the commissioner's post he had held for many years. Steiner gave responsive answers to many of the questions posed to the two candidates, but lacks the experience and background in government and politics that Hertel earned in his service on the old county board, in the state Senate and, for the last two years, on the new county commission.

Hertel was a strong supporter of the campaign for the county charter while in the Legislature and now is perhaps the strongest charter backer on the county commission. That is important because Wayne County voters adopted the charter by a huge margin and, we believe, still support it. Yet there are special interests — politicians, union leaders and others — who are still trying to put roadblocks in the way of further progress in county government. The Grosse Pointe News believes Hertel can lead the fight for more reform and again those special interests.

True, this newspaper has supported County Executive Lucas and it still does. But commissioners should not be rubber stamps for the executive or anyone else. In our opinion, Hertel has been a constructive influence for county reform and has shown independent judgment, two qualities that persuade this newspaper to endorse him for re-election.

Time for a court change

Dorothy Comstock Riley of Grosse Pointe Farms, a fiery campaigner with a reputation for independence both on and off the court, doesn't think too highly of the present system of nominating justices for the Michigan Supreme Court, even though she has benefited from it.

She calls the system "sheer hypocrisy" and "a charade" because political parties nominate the candidates who then run on a non-partisan ticket. She believes judges at the appellate level ought to be appointed by the governor. "But if we're nominated by political parties, then we ought to run as Republicans or Democrats," Mrs. Riley told the Grosse Pointe News in an interview.

In the News' opinion, Mrs. Riley has the best chance of victory among the three Grosse Pointe residents seeking to join a fourth Pointer, Chief Justice G. Mennen Williams, on the Michigan Supreme Court in the Nov. 6 election. That opinion is based on the popular perception that she got a bum rap when she was ousted from the court in 1983, her long experience in private practice and on the bench, and her widespread support, including endorsement by both Detroit daily newspapers.

In her campaign, Mrs. Riley is seeking a full eight-year term against Justice Thomas Giles Kavanagh, the senior member of the court, and Robert Roddis, a young Farms attorney. Kavanagh is a former chief justice who is seeking his third term and Roddis was the Libertarian candidate for attorney general in 1982.

The third Pointer campaigning for the Supreme Court is Judge James Hathaway of the Shores. He is serving on the Wayne County Circuit Court and is seeking the four-year term against Justice James Brickley of Okemos. No Pointers are running in the third contest for a six-year term in which Justice Patricia Boyle of Detroit is pitted against former U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin of Traverse City and attorney David H. Raaflaub of Ann Arbor.

Under Michigan's unique nominating system, Mrs. Riley, Justice Brickley and Griffin were nominated by the Republican Party; Justices Kavanagh and Boyle and Judge Hathaway by the Democratic Party, and Roddis and Raaflaub by the Libertarian Party. They all run on the non-partisan ticket even though the major parties list their own nominees as preferred candidates for the court.

Mrs. Riley told the News she is running because of her perception that the Supreme Court is not operating effectively and has failed to provide leadership for the state's court system. She bases her opinion on her experience in private practice as well as her service on the Wayne Circuit Court, the State Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court. Her brief term of the Supreme Court ended when her appointment by former GOP Gov. William Milliken was ruled invalid by a majority of justices with Democratic Party links.

Even though Kavanagh was one of the justices voting for Mrs. Riley's ouster from the Supreme Court, she denies she is running just because of that action. She reminds the public that she first ran in 1982 and lost by only 13,000 votes. That strong showing and her excellent credentials no doubt helped influence Gov. Milliken to appoint her.

Mrs. Riley believes judges have to be more than "deciders." They also need administrative skills and the intellectual capacity to deal with the volume of cases that come before the Supreme Court. She believes the present court lacks such strengths and says it needs the discipline not only to do its own job, but to set goals and guidelines for the court administrator.

In Mrs. Riley's opinion, the court's job is to interpret, not to write legislation. But she finds the integrity of the present court's decision-making process in disrepute. She contends the court's decisions are fly-specked for errors because the public doesn't believe they are made on a non-partisan basis.

But Mrs. Riley does not believe in pushing for any philosophical position of the court. She thinks that would involve prejudging the cases that might come before it. And she doesn't see that as the court's role. Instead, she believes some refinements of previous decisions are part of the normal legal process, and thus dismisses criticism that the Supreme Court of the United States is pushing too far to the right.

Robert Roddis of the Farms, who is running against Mrs. Riley and Kavanagh, got his B.A. in political science from Michigan State and his law degree from the Detroit College of Law. He is now completing a master's degree in tax law at Wayne State University while engaged in the private practice of law.

As a nominee of the Libertarian Party, Roddis believes government must be limited and that people have rights that are not to be impinged on by their neighbors or the state. He supports property ownership rights as essential to economic as well as personal freedom, he told the News in an interview.

As a beneficiary of the present system of nominating justices by political party, Roddis is not convinced that the state would have a better judiciary if the justices are nominated by petition or by the governor. He doesn't feel the federal courts, for which judges are nominated by the president, are any better than state courts in protecting the right of the people.

He does think the courts have been legislating too much and that the proper role of the courts is to protect everyone's rights, including property rights. But he'd support an activist court to call unconstitutional various economic regulations that are not substantially needed, and to protect the people from legislative actions.

He said the Michigan Supreme Court's rulings have increased the cost of doing business in Michigan but emphasizes that his aim is to protect private property and the right of the people to be free. That doesn't mean he always would protect business, but he contends application of Libertarian philosophy would help business in the long run by creating a less regulated environment.

In this newspaper's opinion, Mrs. Riley is the much better qualified of the two Pointers running for the eight year term and ought to be returned to the court. Her major opponent, Thomas Giles Kavanagh, has served two terms but did vote for Mrs. Riley's ouster from the court. His record in other cases also has been subjected to criticism. So the News believes it is time for a change on the court.

This newspaper is not taking a position on the other two contests. It did invite Judge Hathaway of the Shores to come in for an interview, but when he cancelled his appointment, it was not possible to schedule another. A trial attorney with 30 years experience, he is a former member of the Detroit Board of Education and served on Detroit's Recorder's Court before his election to the Wayne County Circuit Court of Detroit. He is running against Justice Brickley, the former lieutenant governor, who was appointed by Gov. Milliken in 1982.

In a statement submitted to the News, Hathaway said he believes the legal profession and the judiciary are in an ideal position to contribute to the improvement of the nation's political and social condition.

"I have always seen the law as the great equalizer of all men and women," he explained. "The law not only actively serves to secure the right and property of individuals but its precepts are a yardstick measuring the depth of our humanity and justice."

Proposal C is a road block

To the Editor:

The Grosse Pointe Public Schools are facing a potential crisis. On Nov. 6, voters will be making their decision on Proposal C — the so-called Voter's Choice amendment. If adopted, Proposal C would inflict major catastrophe on public education in Michigan. School districts like Grosse Pointe will find it necessary to cut back educational programs, unless an immediate millage election reinstates the lost funding. Our schools would feel the impact in the following ways.

• Proposal C would cause the schools and public libraries to forfeit $6.1 million of their operating revenue unless an immediate millage election is held to restore the lost funding.

• Proposal C would immediately eliminate $250,000 of state aid for special and vocational education programs in our community.

• Proposal C would force the school system to conduct costly millage elections on an annual basis.

The proposed amendment purports to offer each taxpayer a considerable savings. Please understand that if Proposal C passes in November, these are the "savings" your school system might realize:

• Elimination of many fine academic programs, such as advanced mathematics, laboratory sciences, foreign languages, art and music.

• A $350,000 reduction in public library programs and services.

• Postponement of needed maintenance projects.

• Elimination of extra-curricular activities and athletic programs.

Proposal C will do something else. It will eliminate the form of government established by Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson and others who drafted the U.S. Constitution. Because they knew all the people could not be involved in all the complexities of running America, the patriots established a representative form of government, which allowed the people to run their government through elected representatives. Proposal C abrogates this concept of government. We know that where every one is in charge — no one is in charge — and no one is accountable.

There are 2,600 legislative bodies in Michigan — school boards, city councils, township governments and so forth. If three members on a 10-member board oppose any action on fees, licenses or permits, the matter must be decided by a vote of the people. That's minority control — three members of a 10-member board forcing costly special elections.

Proposal C is being opposed by almost every public service, private sector and public interest group in Michigan — including the Big Three — Chrysler, Ford and General Motors. It is also opposed by labor organizations as well as Kellogg's, the Michigan Retailer Association, the Michigan Council of Churches, the Michigan Congress of Parents, Teachers and Students, and virtually every educational association in Michigan. Additionally, the League of Women Voters as well as the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce strongly oppose Proposal C.

Proposal C is not a choice. It is a gigantic roadblock to the people who live in Michigan. As a resident, parent and citizen, I strongly urge all voters to become cognizant of the profound ramifications Proposal C will have on our schools and public institutions. I urge you to vote No on Proposal C.

Quality begins at lower grade level

To the Editor:

Mr. Callahan, let's review the bidding:

Nobody doubts that the Grosse Pointe School System has suffered a dramatic decline in numbers of students. And, as far as I know, nobody on any side of this issue has advocated keeping all school buildings open at any cost. The point that I continually tried to put across and apparently failed to get through is that we have a school system designed as a feeder system for one high school. The various number distortions and gerrymandering solutions arise from the fact that a second high school was built at the crest of the baby boom wave.

As an initial solution to the declining birth rate, the ninth grade was put into the high schools to keep them more or less full. This caused an obvious problem at the middle school level, in that they immediately became at least one-third empty. The school board's answer to this was to shove the sixth grade into the middle schools and close elementary schools. The reason for the board to do this seems politically transparent to me: Individual elementary schools representing smaller constituencies, can be picked off easier than addressing the problem where it really is at the upper level.

We are now at a situation where we have two half-empty high schools, three middle schools with significant room available and nine elementary schools which are proportionately more utilized. On an economic basis, the most cost effective thing to do would be close a high school, recreate the junior high and put elementary level students back where they belong.

However, since politicians are by and large a cowardly lot, and high school parents represent a large voting block, this will probably never happen. So let's look at other alternatives. One very cost effective possibility would be close one of the three middle schools, put the sixth grade back in the elementary and find some alternative use for a wing or two of each high school.

Another possibility is a K-8 structure in the elementary schools. The point is that there are a number of options which may be preferable to dismantling the elementary education program.

My basic issue, and the whole reason that I got involved in the controversy in the first place, is that I firmly believe that quality education at the lower grade level is the only way to wind up with a quality product graduating from our system. The neighborhood school concept is a valuable tool for quality education. Sacrificing the elementary schools to fill the high schools has always seemed to me to be radical surgery and an unacceptable solution to the problem.

Joe, we are not that far apart.

AAUW joins groups against C

To the Editor:

Proposal C affects all forms of government in the state . . . from the legislature to counties, local city councils, library boards, school boards . . . any group that has the responsibility to levy taxes or fees. Proposal C would mean a rollback to 1981 taxes for schools, colleges, libraries, prisons, road upkeep and repair, parking meters, auto licenses, public improvements . . . and this is only a start of the list. This rollback would immediately reduce state income by approximately $1 billion ($1.6 billion if unemployment taxes are included.)

What does it mean locally, if passed by the voters on Nov. 6?

Grosse Pointe will face a loss of $6.1 million including $4.9 million, including $350,000 operating income for public libraries. Will it mean more closing of schools, cutting teachers and associate staff? What about curtailing educational programs of advanced math, foreign languages, art, music and athletic activities? Will it help schools meet needs of students with learning disabilities? College-bound students will undoubtedly face higher tuitions (estimated at increase of $500). Vocational education will be forced to increase costs, or be cut back.

On the state level, cuts of $1 billion will seriously affect areas of natural resources, road repairs "halted in their tracks," updating of transportation (which affects the elderly, students, handicapped and low income particularly), care of the mentally ill, aging, prison reform . . . all in addition to serious threats to education at all levels.

Probably the most important decision before the voters is whether they are willing to take responsibility to make decisions on the many proposals to come before them for restoring some of these major con-

For casino gambling

To the Editor:

Regarding the editorial of Oct. 25: Casino gambling in Detroit is good for the state because the state needs revenue. The city of Detroit needs revenue instead of taxing the people up over their heads. Let's get the ball rolling and legalize casino gambling to bring in revenue to the state and city. God knows we need it real bad. We now have horse racing, lotteries, bingo, dog racing, etc. I work at the race track now. I've been a hot walker, a groom, a jockey agent. We need jobs. This will also create jobs which we need. Mario Carabba

Street closing underway

By Harriet Nolan
Grosse Pointe Park City Council held a public hearing to review special assessments required to close Grayton Road at Mack at its Oct. 22 meeting.

According to John Crawford, city manager, residents in the 1400 block of Grayton will share equally in the approximate $17,500 required to demolish and remove the current landscaping, construct a T-turnaround, plant trees and shrubs and install a fence.

The assessment, which will become a lien on the land, will be reflected in tax bills over the next five years. Homeowners can either pay their approximate $921 portion all at once or repay it in one-fifth installments.

The second and final public hearing to approve the imposed special assessment will be held Tuesday, Nov. 13. Council rescheduled its Monday, Nov. 12 meeting due to Veterans Day.

Car thieves hit Park

Car thieves have been active in the Park, according to police records. Seven cars have been stolen since Oct. 22, and another four damaged when thieves were unable to get them started.

"There is a market for the car parts," said Henry Coonce, Park police chief. "Insurance companies are led to believe the stolen parts are being used in their repairs."

Coonce said that 17 cars have been taken from driveways and curbs in October. Twenty-two were found stripped in Detroit.

Workshop set

"Praise Without Evaluation," a one-night workshop which offers parents ways to encourage independence through non-judgmental praise, will be held tonight, Nov. 1, at 7:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack Ave.

Fran Pastoria, workshop leader, will show parents how to encourage children to make decisions and take responsibility for their own actions.

The fee is $5. For further information, call 884-7775.

Benefit set for Nov. 15

The Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice will sponsor a special benefit performance of "Master Harold . . . and the Boys" on Thursday, Nov. 15, at the Detroit Repertory Theatre, 13103 Woodrow Wilson, Detroit.

Ticket price is $12.50 and includes valet parking and a champagne and hors d'oeuvres reception before the show, at 7:30 p.m. in the lobby and art gallery of the theater. Performance will begin at 8:30 p.m.

The play was written by well-known South African playwright Athol Fugard and made the 10 best list of every major New York critic during its Broadway run.

The questions raised in this moving drama are worthy of being explored by all people who are concerned with justice. An afterglow with the cast will be available following the performance, a cash bar will be available also.

Proceeds benefit the Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center. For ticket information, call 882-6464.

The University of Michigan Men's Glee Club will open the 10th anniversary season of the Musica series Sunday, Nov. 4, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Under the direction of Dr. Patrick Garnder, the Glee Club will present music by Vaughan Williams, Randall Thompson, Schubert, Mendelssohn, Gershwin, Duke Ellington, "Michigan Songs" and choreographed selections by the Friars, a special nine-member group.

The second oldest glee club in America, founded in 1859, it has been named the best male chorus in the world four times, winning first prize of the Llangollen International Music Eisteddfod in Wales. Next year, to celebrate its 125th year, the club will go for win number five.

Tickets for this concert are available in the church office or at the door and are $5 for adults, $3 for senior citizens and $1 for students.

Other concerts in the series are the annual Christmas Concert by The Kenneth Jewell Chorale Dec. 16; Elizabeth Parcells, coloratura soprano from Grosse Pointe Jan. 6; Handel's "Messiah" parts 2 and 3, by the Memorial Church Festival Choir and Orchestra on Feb. 24; the Wayne State University Men's Glee Club April 21. All concert times are 7:30 p.m.

In addition there will be a Summer Series of Carillon Recitals on Tuesday evenings at 7:30 from June 25 to Aug. 27, 1985.

Sound Health Advice from your Family Doctor

Saint John Hospital

Q: I've read about flu shots. How can I tell if I should have one?
Influenza is a common virus that causes fever, headache, muscle aches, weakness and cough. Each year different strains of influenza are more common. A new vaccine must be manufactured and given each year to protect against the changing types.

Patients are advised to receive the flu shot if they are 65 or older or followed by a doctor for any disease of the heart, lung or kidneys or have diabetes or cancer. Patients over 65 or with chronic medical diseases are more likely to have a severe case of influenza or develop pneumonia if they have influenza.

There may be a reaction to the flu vaccine with a low grade fever and muscle aches.

Patients allergic to eggs should not have a flu shot.

North senior wins award

Grosse Pointe North senior David Skaff is the winner of a 1984 National Council of Teachers of English Achievement Award in writing.

Skaff, 17, is one of more than 7,000 students nominated last February by their English teachers for the NCTE Writing Achievement Awards. He submitted a film review of Charlie Chaplin's "City Lights" and an impromptu essay on the American Dream. His compositions were evaluated by state judging teams of high school and college teachers.

As one of the 850 finalists selected this year nationally, the Council recommends Skaff for college scholarships should he need it. Names of the winning students are sent to admissions officers and English department chairpersons at U.S. colleges and universities.

Skaff and his parents Michael and Carolyn live in the Woods. The National Council of Teachers of English is a professional organization of individual and institutional members at all levels of instruction. Its goal is to increase the effectiveness of the teaching of English and literature in the nation.

Alston to speak Sunday

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will welcome Dr. Wallace M. Alston Jr., senior minister of the Nassau Presbyterian Church, Princeton, N.J., to the pulpit Sunday, Nov. 4.

A native of Lexington, Ky., educated in Georgia and Virginia, Dr. Alston is fifth in Grosse Pointe Memorial's autumn series of speakers scheduled to talk at 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. services at 15 Lakeshore Drive.

His talk, "An Intimate Conversation with the Soul," is based on Psalm 42, an Old Testament prayer of one in exile.

In addition to preaching responsibilities, he has undertaken numerous writing projects including pieces on student dissent, racism in southern religion, "Christ and the Military Mind," and "As I See It After Guyana."

Grosse Pointe Memorial Church offers special interest classes for adults and children during the middie hour, 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., between worship services. All persons of the metropolitan community are welcome at Sunday and weekday activities. Complete information is available through the church office, 882-5330.

Garden items for sale

The Friends of the Matthei Botanical Gardens will hold their monthly lobby sale on Sunday, Nov. 4, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Gardens, 1800 North Dixboro Road, Ann Arbor. Items available will be plants for the home, baskets, decorator trays, stationery, books on plant care and preservation of herbs and flowers.

The garden grounds are open from 8 a.m. to sunset. The inside exhibits are open from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. seven days a week. The Gardens will be closed Thanksgiving Day and from Dec. 24 to Jan. 2.

Liggett presents multi-media show

Focus Grosse Pointe will sponsor a multi-media production titled "Desperados" Friday, Nov. 2 at 8 p.m. at the University Liggett Upper School auditorium.

Refreshments and discussion will follow the program, which features computerized multi-image projection recorded in DBX stereo. The public is invited. A $2 donation is requested.

Among those young ladies who aren't satisfied with their faces, most tell the researchers that what they'd like are smaller noses and bigger ears. What the dissatisfied young men want most are bigger chins and smaller ears.

Bishop Thomas J. Gumbleton, auxiliary bishop of the Center City Region of the Archdiocese of Detroit, will speak Thursday, Nov. 8, at 7:30 p.m. at Our Lady Star of the Sea parish's Barton Center.

In his "Affirmation of Life," Gumbleton will talk about the current escalation of the nuclear arms build-up as well as covering topics such as who has the right to bear arms, can Catholics fire nuclear weapons, the Bishops Conference position on deterrence and who has the right to live.

Gumbleton was a prominent member of the conference that drafted the pastoral letter "Challenge of Peace" in 1983. He also represented the National Conference of Catholic Bishops to visit the hostages held in the American Embassy in Iran in 1979.

Community Day celebrated Nov. 2

Church Women United of Detroit will celebrate World Community Day Friday, Nov. 2, at Lomax Temple A.M.E. Zion, 17441 Dequindre. The theme is "A Place Called Home."

Registration and fellowship is at 9:30 a.m. The business meeting is at 10 a.m. and the worship service and program will be held until noon. Speaker will be the Rev. Nicholas Hood III, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church.

Church Women United of Detroit includes East Detroit, Fraser, all five Grosse Pointes, Harper Woods, Hamtramck, Highland Park and Redford Township.

Don't burn treated wood

The Macomb County Health Department is advising against the burning of treated wood in open fires, stoves or fireplaces.

Some woods are treated with pesticides registered by the Environmental Protection Agency. Woods are treated with these chemicals to protect them from insect attack and decay. Three types of chemicals used to protect wood are inorganic arsenicals, pentachlorophenol and creosote.

The most popular name brands of treated woods are Osmose and Wolmanized, but any wood preserved with these chemicals should not be burned in open fires, stoves or fireplaces.

Smoke and ashes produced when treated wood is burned may contain toxic chemicals which are hazardous to health. The Health Department advises residents to dispose of treated wood by ordinary trash collection or burial.

Telly Savalas shaved his head for his third acting role, Pontius Pilate in "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

Questions Your FRIENDS Are Asking About Proposal C

What is Proposal C?

Proposal C will amend the Michigan Constitution to require registered voters to approve any new tax or increase in the base rate of a local tax. If approved, the change will be retroactive to December 31, 1981. Proposal C would also require a 4/5 approval of a legislative body for any change in fees or licenses.

Will Proposal C Affect Our Schools and Libraries?

Yes! The Grosse Pointe Public School System would lose $6.1 million in revenue which you, the voters, have already approved, including $350,000 for the public libraries, unless and until the monies are restored by the voters in a special election. Proposal C would further eliminate $250,000 in state aid for special and vocational education programs.

What Cuts Would Be Made If The $6.1 Million Is Not Restored?

- Massive staff reductions, including teachers and librarians.
- Elimination of many academic programs.
- Reduction in library hours.
- Postponement of needed maintenance projects in the district.

Will Proposal C Affect Colleges and Universities?

Yes! Financial aid for state institutions of higher learning would be reduced by $128 million. Tuition rates would have to be increased to offset the impact.

Does Proposal C Represent A Tax Savings?

Actually, what Proposal C achieves is more of a tax shift. Even the proponents of Proposal C admit that the tax burden will be shifted from income and sales taxes to property taxes.

Who Decides on Proposal C?

You . . . and everyone else who votes on November 6. A yes vote means you approve of Proposal C. A no vote means you do not approve.

Obituaries

Anna Limberg

Services for Mrs. Limberg, 74, of the City, were held Oct. 24 at Old St. Mary's Church in Detroit. She died Saturday, Oct. 20 at home.

Born in Michigan, Mrs. Limberg was a 44-year resident of Grosse Pointe. She was a member of the Concordia Singing Society and Carpathia Singing Society.

She is survived by her husband Alphonse; daughter, Elaine Roy; son, Carl; one brother; one sister; six grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

Arrangements were made by the A.H. Peters Funeral Home. Interment was in Lewiston, Mich.

John Richard Starrs

Services for Mr. Starrs, 71, of Cadieux Road, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday, Nov. 2, at St. Clare Church.

He died Monday, Oct. 29, at his home.

Born in Detroit, he is survived by his wife, Mabel G.; four sons, Thomas, William, Michael and John Jr.; four daughters, Mary Armstrong, Kathleen LaBossiere, Margaretta and Elizabeth; one sister; one brother; and three grandchildren.

Interment will be in Mount Elliott Cemetery.

Arrangements were handled by the Verheyden Funeral Home.

Ralph W. Osterman

Services for Mr. Osterman, 68, of the Park, were held Saturday, Oct. 27, at Verheyden Funeral Home and Saints Peter and Paul Jesuit Church.

He died Wednesday, Oct. 24, in Bon Secours Hospital.

Born in Michigan, Mr. Osterman was an executive with a trucking office.

He is survived by his wife Virginia H.; one sister; and one brother.

Interment was in Mount Elliott Cemetery.

Anthony Eugenio

Anthony Eugenio was an artisan with a paint brush, a man who believed that attention to detail was the most important thing in the world. While he worked with well-known architects who designed their buildings on a grand scale, Mr. Eugenio expressed his creativity on a more personal level, letting his talent add polish to architecturally unpolished diamonds.

Mr. Eugenio was an Italian immigrant whose craftsmanship was displayed in the detailed painted ceilings of the Guardian Building.

Buhl Building, Masonic Temple and lobbies of the Detroit News and Detroit Free Press.

Mr. Eugenio was also the painter of the chapel at Grosse Pointe Academy, where he used massive scaffolds and applied gallons of gold paint to the intricately designed ceilings when the academy was constructed in 1929. The chapel was recently repainted by Mr. Eugenio's son, Roland, and his grandson, Michael.

He was owner of the Anthony Eugenio Co. He was a member of the Gabriel Richard Knights of Columbus and the Senior Men's Club.

Mr. Eugenio, 85, died Saturday, Oct. 27, in his home. Services were held Tuesday, Oct. 30, at the Verheyden Funeral Home, and St. Clare Church.

He is survived by his wife Zelinda; three sons, Roy, Roland and Donald; a daughter, Linda; a sister; 10 grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

Interment was in Resurrection Cemetery.

AARP to meet Nov. 12

The Grosse Pointe City Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons will meet at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 12 at the Neighborhood Club.

Detective Earl Field or Detective Mark Brecht of the Grosse Pointe Farms Police Department will present a program on home and vehicle security and will include tips on personal safety.

A limited number of reservations are available for the tour and luncheon at the Edsel and Eleanor Ford Estate on Dec. 18. The cost of the December event is $12.75 per person.

Bethany dance is Nov. 10

Bethany Together, an organization for divorced and separated persons, will sponsor a dance Saturday, Nov. 10, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Acorn VFW hall at Fourth and Troy streets in Royal Oak.

The $6 admission includes live music, beer, set-ups and snacks.

Betty M. Albert

A memorial service for Mrs. Albert, 68, was held Tuesday, Oct. 23, in the Barbour Chapel of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Born in Missouri, Mrs. Albert graduated from Mary Institute in St. Louis, Mo.

She is survived by her husband John S.; a daughter, Carole A. Webb; a sister, Mrs. Wharton L. Donaldson; and two grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to Bon Secours Hospital or to the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

Arrangements were made by the Groesbeck Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Company. Cremation took place at Evergreen Cemetery.

Doreen M. Young

Services for Mrs. Young, 54, of the Woods, were held Wednesday, Oct. 24, at Verheyden Funeral Home.

She died Tuesday, Oct. 23, in St. John Hospital.

Born in England, Mrs. Young is survived by her husband, Richard S.; children, Lesley and Linda Martin; mother, Mrs. Olive Brennan; one sister; and one grandchild.

Cremation was at Forest Lawn.

Marie D. Litchfield

Services for Mrs. Litchfield, 77, of Harvard Road, were held Friday, Oct. 26, at the Verheyden Funeral Home.

She died Tuesday, Oct. 23, in Bon Secours Hospital.

David W. Keenan

Flags flew at half staff in the Lakeshore school district this week for Mr. Keenan, 41, of the Woods, who served as the assistant to the superintendent of schools.

Mr. Keenan died Oct. 26 at Cottage Hospital.

Dr. Gene Megiveron, superintendent of the Lakeshore school district, characterized Mr. Keenan as "an excellent administrator. The students, staff and community lost a good friend when David died," he said.

Richard Lange, a friend and colleague from the Lakeview school district, said Mr. Keenan "cared about everyone he came into contact with. He was the kind of person we don't want to see leave this world."

Services for Mr. Keenan were held Monday, Oct. 29, at Our Lady Queen of Peace Church and the Verheyden Funeral Home.

He is survived by his wife Linda; a daughter, Amy; a son, David; his father, Walter Keenan; one brother; and one sister.

Memorials may be made to the Michigan Cancer Association.

Interment was in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Marion V. Hall

Services for Miss Hall, 88, of the Woods, will be held Saturday, Nov. 3, at 1 p.m. at the Verheyden Funeral Home.

She died Friday, Oct. 26, at Bon Secours Hospital.

Born in Newport, Ky. Oct. 4, 1896, Miss Hall worked for Detroit Edison Co. for 31 years, retiring in 1961 as restaurant manager.

She is survived by two nephews and one niece.

Interment will be in Southgate, Ky.

RE-ELECT

BILL BRYANT

THIRTEENTH DISTRICT

A PROVEN LEADER OF VISION

"There are many challenges facing the people of Michigan, but the greatest is setting the stage for long-term economic health so there are enough good and meaningful jobs. While other problems, especially crime, health and social service needs command our caring attention the overriding concern must be a healthy economy and jobs for all who are able to work. Without enough jobs there will always be crises in other areas of concern, because work provides not only money, but self esteem, independence and a sense of meaning to life which are essential to a healthy, peaceful state community."

OUR MAN IN LANSING

Now that's Representation!

- Pres. Gerald R. Ford, 5/29/84 said Rep. Bill Bryant's "dedication and accomplishments over his nearly 14 years in the Michigan House have been outstanding..."
- Sen. Fred Finlison (Utah) Pres. of Nat. Rep. Leg. Assn., 7/2/84, congratulated Bill Bryant "on being selected from among the nearly 3,000 Republican State Legislators in the United States as one of the ten outstanding legislators of the year."
- Michigan Bar Journal, 7/84, announcing the success of Bryant legislation effective 1/1/83. "the most significant of these changes... is for an unlimited marital deduction..."

- Detroit Free Press 2/11/84, in support of the Bryant bill to ban officeholder slash funds says, "Special interests can provide officials, in effect, with a... second income!"
- Gov. William G. Milliken, 6/11/84, said of Rep. Bill Bryant, "His work over the years has been extraordinary!..."
- Constituent, 5/19/83, "Your reliability has always been evidenced by your presence and willingness to respond to questions with careful and deliberate answers."

Cropsey is candidate in 14th

Third-party candidate Virginia L. Cropsey is running as a Libertarian in the 14th District U.S. House of Representatives race. On the Democratic ticket is Dennis M. Hertel. John Lauve is the Republican candidate.

The 31-year-old Sterling Heights resident is a lawyer, writer and lecturer. She received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Michigan and a juris doctorate from the Wayne State University School of Law.

Ms. Cropsey is a former retail manager of Alberts, Inc. Asked how she would reduce the federal deficit, she said she does not acknowledge it as a personal obligation, since she never agreed to it.

"The federal deficit would be eliminated if Americans repudiated it as I have, leaving creditors to their remedy in bankruptcy," she said.

On improving the foreign trade balance of payments, she said Congress should observe the First Amendment's prohibition of laws abridging the right to petition the government for redress of grievance.

"By obeying this Constitutional repudiation of sovereign immunity and strictly applying the equal protection clause, privilege would be eliminated and America's competitive posture resorted," she said. "Income tax laws violate equal protection."

Regarding provisions that she feels ought to be included in a national water policy, Ms. Cropsey said resource management is the responsibility and right of the legitimate owners.

"Allocation should be governed by unrestricted competition and unregulated prices," she said.

VA checks pensioners

Nearly two million Veterans Administration pensioners will receive the agency's annual income questionnaire around Nov. 1 to determine their future eligibility for the VA needs-based program.

The questionnaire, required by law, must be completed and returned to VA by Jan. 1, 1985. Pensioners who do not return the questionnaire may have their monthly checks stopped, the VA said.

The questionnaire will go to all persons receiving VA pension payments or Parents' Dependency and Indemnity Compensation benefits.

Pensioners will receive a worksheet to assist in completing the form, and which may also be used as a record of information they report. Help in completing the annual income questionnaire is available from any VA regional office or from the major veterans organizations.

Pension is paid to wartime veterans with limited income who are permanently and totally disabled from reasons not traceable to service. At present more than 700,000 veterans receive pensions from benefits from the VA.

Student dance Sunday

The War Memorial will present its first dance of the school year for ninth and 10th-graders on Sunday, Nov. 4, from 7 to 10 p.m.

Three hours of solid dance music will be presented by J.R. Entertainment, including new wave, funk, break dancing and rock 'n roll.

Tickets at $2.50 each must be purchased in advance.

Any adult who can chaperone at this dance or the next one on Dec. 9 should call 881-7511.

Mayor Dingeman presided at the Meeting.

The Minutes of the Regular Meeting which was held on October 1, 1984, were approved as corrected.

The Council, acting as a Zoning Board of Appeals, approved the Minutes of the Public Hearing which was held on October 1, 1984, and further adjourned the Public Hearing of Mr. Robert G. Edgar, owner of the property located at 159-160 Radnor Circle, without date, further requesting the Mayor's Advisory Planning Committee to review the appeal and submit their findings and recommendations to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Following a Public Hearing on the matter, the Council adopted a resolution approving, as amended, Code No. 12-03, Amendment to the Zoning Ordinance, Ordinance No. 273.

The Council adopted a resolution approving the Cost Estimate submitted by Goodell-Grivas, Inc., for a Traffic Volume-Pattern Survey between Fisher Road and Kerby Road and Mack Avenue and Lakeshore Road.

The Council approved the low bid of Cal Fleming Landscaping & Tree Service, Inc., in the total amount of $9,780.00, for the planting of 88 trees on City property, according to specifications.

The Council approved the Statement of Attorney's Fees, in the total amount of $18,512.18, from the firm of Dickinson, Wright, Moon, Van Dusen & Freeman, Counsellors at Law, for services rendered on behalf of the City.

The Council approved the City's application for membership in Tree City, USA, sponsored by the National Arbor Day Foundation.

The following Reports were received by the Council and ordered placed on file:

- A. Fire Department Report for the Month of September, 1984.
- B. Building Department Quarterly Report, 1984.
- C. Property Maintenance Code Quarterly Report, 1984.

The Council adopted a resolution opposing Proposal "C" which will be on the General Election ballot November 6, 1984.

The Council approved the request of Sigma Gamma Association to conduct "An Old Fashioned Celebration" On-the-Hill, November 16, 17, 18 and further permitting free parking On-the-Hill and adjoining lots from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday, November 17th.

The Council approved the extension of the bid price from Holloway Construction Co., for the resurfacing of Webster starting at Kerby through Madison, for public safety purposes.

The Council adopted a resolution approving the firms of J.J. Barney to complete the Sidewalk Replacement Program at a cost of $1.67 per square feet, such additional cost to be assumed by the City.

The Council set a Public Hearing date for Monday, November 12, 1984 at 8:00 p.m. for the purpose of considering the formal adoption of the proposed Residential Air Conditioning and Heat Pump Unit Ordinance.

The Council adopted a resolution to hold a Closed Session, immediately following temporary adjournment of the Regular Meeting, for the purpose of discussing wage negotiations.

Upon proper motion made, supported and carried, the Meeting temporarily adjourned at 10:20 p.m.

After reconvening, the Council approved a tentative wage and benefit settlement with the police officers association for police officers and corporals for FY 83-84 and FY 84-85, subject to ratification by union members.

Upon proper motion made, supported and carried, the Meeting adjourned at 10:35 p.m.

(NOTE: Following is text of Ordinance No. 230 adopted by the City Council of the City of Grosse Pointe at a regular meeting held October 15, 1984.

CITY OF Grosse Pointe MICHIGAN

ORDINANCE NO. 230

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE CODE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE BY ADDING NEW SECTIONS, WHICH NEW SECTIONS SHALL BE DESIGNATED AS SECTION 5.12 AND SECTION 5.61 OF CHAPTER 51 — ZONING, OF TITLE V — ZONING AND PLANNING, OF SAID CODE

THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE ORDAINS:

1. That Chapter 51 — Zoning, of Title V — Zoning and Planning, of Grosse Pointe City Code is hereby amended to add thereto the following definition alphabetically to Section 5.12. Definitions (S) :

(1) SATELLITE DISH ANTENNA: An electronic device which will collect electromagnetic waves transmitted from a satellite for conversion into television or sound.

2. That Chapter 51 — Zoning, of Title V — Zoning and Planning, of Grosse Pointe City Code is hereby amended to add thereto the following Section 5.61:

5.61. Satellite Dish Antenna. Placement of a satellite dish antenna in any zoning district in the City of Grosse Pointe shall comply with the following requirements.

(1) Permit Required. Any satellite dish antenna which is to be constructed, placed or established in the open and not contained within a building in any zoning district shall be considered structures subject to the provisions and terms of the Zoning Ordinance of the City and a permit for such installation shall be obtained from the Building Department prior to the installation of any satellite antenna. Antenna having a diameter of three (3') feet or less and mounted on the roof of a building are exempted from the requirements of this Section.

(2) Requirements for Permit.

(a) Applications for a permit to install a satellite dish antenna shall be submitted to the Building Department. The application shall include a site plan showing the proposed location of the installation; including building locations on the site and on any contiguous lot, a picture or sketch of all the elements of the antenna which would be exposed to view from adjacent properties and the dimensions of all buildings, size and exact location of the antenna, lot lines and setback lines as established in the zoning regulations.

(b) There shall be compliance with the following design standards:

- I. Maximum number per residential lot — one (1).
- II. Maximum diameter of antenna dish — ten (10) feet.
- III. Maximum height — compliance with height limits of the zoning district wherein located, and as regulated under Subsection IV following.
- IV. Location — location in only the rear yard space between rear lot line and rear building line of the principal building on the site. There shall also be compliance with required yard setbacks for the zoning district wherein located. Roof installation is permitted but only if antenna and supports are not visible from any part of public street right-of-way at a six foot (6') height of vision.
- V. By placement of such antenna on the ground, area so occupied shall be considered in calculating compliance with lot coverage limits in zoning Ordinance.
- VI. Signs, as defined in Section 8.171 of Chapter 105, SIGNS, attached to or painted on such satellite dish antenna are prohibited.
- VII. The satellite dish antenna shall be designed so that both construction plans and final construction of said antenna meet the requirements of this Ordinance and the Building Code and afford safety to the public at time of high winds. Roof installation shall meet dead weight and wind loading and torque factors on roof structure strength.

(c) The Building Department shall submit all applications for a permit to install a satellite dish antenna to the Planning Commission, together with recommendations concerning screening, landscaping, fencing or other matters having an impact on adjoining properties. The Planning Commission shall establish a date for a public hearing on the application and shall cause a notice of said hearing to be sent to the owners of property located within three hundred feet (300') of the lot or parcel upon which the installation is proposed pursuant to notice of hearing procedures at Section 5.197.

(d) The Planning Commission, after the public hearing where interested property owners shall have the opportunity to be heard, may grant the request, may deny the request (if it is found to be injurious to the surrounding neighborhood) or may grant the request subject to conditions. Such conditions may relate to the location, size, elevation, screening, landscaping, fencing or other matters having impact upon adjoining properties. A petitioner may appeal a determination of the Planning Commission to the Board of Zoning Appeals. Upon approval of the application, the Building Department shall issue a permit for such installation.

(3) Prior Nonconforming Installation. A satellite dish antenna in existence on the effective date of this Ordinance shall be deemed to be nonconforming and shall not be moved or relocated without first securing a permit for installation as provided in this Section; and the owner or person in possession of said satellite dish antenna shall either remove same or report same to building inspector not later than July 1, 1985.

3. The effective date of the within Ordinance No. 230 shall be ten (10) days after the date of publication thereof.

The Substance Abuse Community Council will open its fall education series with a program about cocaine Wednesday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the University Liggett lower school auditorium.

James Keener, an area psycho-therapist, will lead a discussion titled "Cocaine: Fad or Way of Life?" The program is open to the public. There is no admission charge.

Keener will explain the physical and psychological effects of cocaine, how it is used and treatment for abusers. He will also talk about addiction and the impact of cocaine on the Grosse Pointe communities and young people.

Keener has practical experience as a therapist working in the treatment of the chemically dependent. He includes current research by Dr. Mark Gold, founder of the 800-COCAINE hotline. The program will include a slide presentation, and resource material will be available.

The SAC<sup>2</sup> series will continue Nov. 20 with "Marijuana: Time for a Closer Look," Nov. 27 with "Alcoholism Dependency: A Family Disease" and Dec. 4 with "You Can Help a Friend."

All three programs will begin at 7:30 and be held in The Studio at University Liggett.

SAC<sup>2</sup> is also participating in an appearance by Bob Welch, pitcher for the Los Angeles Dodgers, at South High's gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 16. Welch's talk, "It's a Whole New Ball Game!," deals with youth, sports and alcohol.

The program is co-sponsored by Northeast Guidance Center, the Neighborhood Club, and FLEC. Admission is $2 for adults, $1 for students and $5 for families or teams.

Welch will follow that program with an educational workshop for coaches on Saturday, Nov. 17.

Music scholarship auditions planned

Auditions for the Thomas Nester Memorial Scholarship, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Symphony Society to honor the orchestra's late founder, are scheduled to be held on Wednesday, Jan. 9, in the auditorium of Parcels Middle School, Mack at Vernier, Grosse Pointe Woods.

receive a $400 prize as well as an opportunity to appear as a soloist in a regularly scheduled Grosse Pointe Symphony concert. To gain additional expertise and platform poise, the winner will also be invited to play in all the rehearsals and concerts of the symphony season.

Felix Resnick, Detroit Symphony violinist and long-time Grosse Pointe Symphony conductor, will choose the panel of judges to officiate at the auditions.

Students through grade 12 who play an orchestral instrument, excluding piano, are eligible to compete and should be prepared to perform for 10 to 15 minutes, works that show a variety of musical periods and styles. One selection must have a published orchestral accompaniment. They need not be memorized and entrants are expected to provide their own accompanists.

One copy of the material to be performed must be provided for the judges. Previous Nester winners are not eligible to audition and it, in the opinion of the judges, no candidate qualifies, no award will be given.

Ralph Miller, project chairman, invites interested young musicians to call him at 343-2140 for more information before Dec. 17.

Auto dealers sponsor fiction writing contest

Michigan novelist Robert C. Wilson will help judge the Detroit Auto Show's first fiction writing contest. Wilson is the author of "Crooked Tree," a 1980 best seller, and "Ice Fire," released in February and in its third printing.

The other judges are Neal Shine, senior managing editor of the Detroit Free Press; Beaufort Cranford, book editor of the Detroit News; Leola Floren, Detroit News columnist, and Peter Ross, Wayne State University writing instructor and free-lance critic.

The writing contest is sponsored by the Detroit Auto Dealers Association. The winner will receive a check for $1,000 and the second and third place entrants will receive a check for $500 and $250 respectively. The winning entry will be published in the auto show program. The program will be sold at the auto show which runs Jan. 12-20 at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

The contest is open to any Michigan resident. There is no theme requirement, but all entries must be fiction and not longer than 2,500 words. Contest deadline is Nov. 22. Rules can be obtained by writing in Detroit Auto Dealers

The Scarlet Letter at DIA Nov. 6-11

Lillian Gish will play Hester Prynne in the 1926 silent film, with titles and musical soundtrack "The Scarlet Letter," at the Detroit Institute of Arts' Afternoon Film Theatre, Nov. 6-11. Showings will be at 1 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday, in the museum's recital hall.

Tickets at $1 will be available at the door only. Information about group rates and a detailed Afternoon Film Theatre guide of the current series, "The Movies, Mr. Griffith and Lillian Gish," running through mid-November, may be obtained by calling the Art Institute ticket office at 832-2730, during regular business hours.

To ensure this picture's success, Miss Gish was first obliged to obtain dispensation from American church and women's groups who earlier had blacklisted this Nathaniel Hawthorne classic story.

Whodunit?

Deborah Mecklenburg, of Grosse Pointe Woods, plays the distraught widow of the murder victim in "The Night of January 16th," the mystery playing at Henry Ford Museum Theater on Friday and Saturday evenings through Nov. 10. With her in the trial scene are, from left, James Bresnahan, Richard Hudson and Henry Bennett.

During each performance, 12 people are chosen from the audience for jury duty. The play, written by Ayn Rand, is based on a famous murder trial in New York. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Tickets are $5 each and are available at the box office one hour before each performance. A package including candlelight dinner is also available. For information, call 271-1620.

Hutzel introduces sports medicine

An open house will be held at Hutzel Health Center-Warren, Sunday, Nov. 4, noon to 5 p.m., to acquaint the public with the center's newly renovated facilities and to introduce two new services: sports medicine and ambulatory surgery.

Hutzel's Michigan Sports and Orthopaedic Surgery Center provides treatment and rehabilitation for professional and weekend athletes. The center is under the direction of orthopedic surgeon Robert Teigte, M.D., team physician for the Detroit Lions and the Detroit Red Wings.

The new Ambulatory Surgery Center offers one-day surgery, allowing patients to return home the same day.

Hutzel Health Center-Warren also features an Alcohol and Chemical Dependency Treatment Program for chemically dependent patients and their families; and a Family Medicine Center with primary and specialty physician services. Among the specialty services available through the Family Medicine Center are obstetrics and gynecology; general surgery; otolaryngology (ear, nose and throat); and internal medicine.

Tours of the facility will be held and refreshments served. Hutzel Health Center-Warren, located at 4050 E. 12 Mile in Warren, is affiliated with Hutzel Hospital in the Detroit Medical Center.

Heenan is Republican party elector

Palmer T. Heenan, Park mayor and longtime supporter of Republican politics, has been named the party's presidential elector for the 13th Congressional District. As such, it is Heenan whom Republicans will be voting for on Nov. 6, rather than President Ronald Reagan and Vice President George Bush.

Elected by the caucus of 13th District delegates to the recent Republican State Convention in Detroit, Heenan said it was an unexpected honor.

That while he had helped within the 13th District, he wasn't closely associated with many of its members.

"Dovie Pickett, the district party chairman, saw me standing in the back of the room at the caucus and asked me to come forward and sit in the front row," said Heenan. "It was the greatest surprise when she nominated me."

"I think she wanted to give us recognition as the newer part of her district," he added.

Under Article II and Amendment XII of the U.S. Constitution, and Michigan Election law, voters on Nov. 6 will not actually be voting for Ronald Reagan or Walter Mondale. They will instead be voting for the Republican or Democratic elector in their congressional district, plus two statewide. The slate of electors receiving the greatest number of votes statewide is then declared elected.

On Dec. 17, the 20 victorious presidential electors will assemble at 2 p.m. in the state senate chambers in Lansing to cast their votes for president and vice president of the United States, according to Heenan.

These votes will then be sent to Vice President George Bush, who is president of the U.S. Senate, and will be counted by the Senate on Jan. 3, 1985. The candidates who receive a majority of the 538 electoral votes for each office will be elected president and vice president.

Palmer T. Heenan

The Republican candidate has carried Michigan in the past three presidential elections and, said Heenan, "there's no question we're going to win."

Heenan has been a member of the Michigan Republican State Committee from 1957-1961 and from 1979-1983. He was a member of the 14th District Republican Committee from 1961-1977 before it was split in two with part of it being added to the 13th District.

He's been a delegate to the Republican National Convention in 1968 and 1980, and Michigan chairman of the Reception Committee for Reagan in 1980. He was elected Park mayor in 1983 after ousting incumbent Mayor Douglas Graham, who had also served as a councilman for 14 years.

Robberies may be related

Two early morning robberies on Oct. 28 may have been related, according to Park police.

At 12:24 a.m., two Wayburn residents were approached by a man carrying a small black gun. He demanded money and fled with $5.

They described him as a black male, 25 to 30 years old, 5 feet, 10 inches tall and weighing about 160 pounds. He was wearing blue pants and jacket.

Six minutes later, another Park resident was approached by a man, also carrying a small black gun. The victim, who was walking on Barrington Road, gave the thief $200.

He was described as a black male, about six feet tall, weight 165 pounds, and wearing dark trousers and jacket.

Police said all of the robbery victims were unharmed.

Ethnic dinner to be served by Pierce PTO

The eighth annual Ethnic Dinner, sponsored by the Pierce PTO, will be held at 6:30 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 8, in the gymnasium.

The event is open to the public and will offer many varieties of food including Greek, Middle Eastern, French, English, German, Italian, Mexican, Polish and American food.

All food is prepared and served by the Pierce parents. The money raised will go to purchase needed equipment and supplies for the school.

According to Billie Deason and Val Moran, co-chairmen, the dinner started out as a social event to introduce the parents and students of Pierce to its many ethnic backgrounds.

"Due to its popularity and because of the willingness of the parents to cook so many dishes we were able to make a profit," they said. "Last year we had 232 parents volunteer to cook and that was just the seventh and eighth graders. With the sixth graders at Pierce this year, we hope to have 300 cooks."

As in past years, there will be entertainment beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Eating disorders workshop is Nov. 29

The Junior League of Detroit has scheduled a Human Resource Development workshop for Thursday, Nov. 29, at 7:15 p.m. The workshop, "Major eating disorders in the adolescent," will be held in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Women's Lounge, 16 Lakeshore Road, in the Farms.

Leaders Anne K. Eshelman, Ph.D., Dianna G. Pleasant, M.S.W., C.S.W., and Marie C. Nowosielski, M.D., will discuss anorexia, bulimia and obesity, and why the adolescent is vulnerable to eating disorders.

Reservations are required by Nov. 16. For more information, call 881-0040.

CODE NO. 12-03-AMENDMENT TO ZONING ORDINANCE-Ordinance No. 273

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ARTICLES II, IV, VII, XIII, IX, XIV, XV, XVI AND XVII OF THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE FARMS, BEING ORDINANCE NO. 191 AS HERETOFORE AMENDED.

THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE FARMS ORDAINS:

Section 1. Article II, Section 200 of the Zoning Ordinance is hereby amended by deleting subsections 1 and 10, and adding subsections 1 through 10, as follows:

Section 2. Article III, Section 201 of the Zoning Ordinance is hereby amended by revising subsections 1 through 10, and adding subsections 11 through 15, as follows:

- 1. Accessory structures incidental to a principal structure on the same lot.
An accessory structure or use includes but is not limited to the following:
(a) Residential accommodations for servants or attendants.
(b) Swimming pools, tennis courts, or similar recreational facilities for the use of occupants of a residence, or their guests.
(c) Domestic storage in a shed, tool room, or similar building or structure.
(d) A newsstand primarily for the convenience of the occupants of a building, which is located wholly within such building and has no exterior signs or displays.
(e) Storage of merchandise normally carried in stock in connection with a business or use, unless such storage is excluded in the applicable district regulations.
(f) Accessory off-street parking, open or enclosed.
(g) Accessory off-street loading.
(h) Accessory signs.
8. Building: A structure having a roof supported by columns or walls and designed or used for shelter or as an enclosure.
17. Dwelling, Multiple-Family: Is a building, or part thereof, designed for occupancy by two (2) or more families.
22. Family: One or more persons related by blood, adoption, or marriage, living and cooking together as a single householding unit or two persons living and cooking together as a householding unit though not related by blood, adoption or marriage. A person's domestic employees if living on the premises are part of the family of such person.
25. Garage, Private: A fully enclosed accessory building or fully enclosed portion of a main building designed or used for the storage of motor vehicles, boats, and similar vehicles which are owned and used by the occupants of the building to which it is accessory.
41. Mobile Home: A structure designed or used for residential occupancy which may be transported by wheels or has a frame or chassis to which wheels may be attached whether at any given time such wheels are actually attached.
42. Motor Vehicle Service Station: A space, building or structure used for the retail sale or supply of fuels for motor vehicles to the public, including the sale of automotive accessories and automotive services for the public.
55. Street: A public thoroughfare, at least twenty-four (24) feet wide, with a right-of-way of at least fifty (50) feet, which is the principal means of access to abutting property.
57. Temporary Use or Building: A use or building permitted by the Board of Appeals to exist for a limited period of time.
61. Variance: A modification of the literal provisions of the Zoning Ordinance granted by the Board of Zoning Appeals.

Section 3. Article IV of the Zoning Ordinance is hereby amended to read in its entirety as follows:

PURPOSE: These residential districts are designed to provide for one-family dwelling sites and residentially related uses in keeping with the existing density character of the City of Grosse Pointe Farms. The preservation of the natural features and standards under which the community has had its development take place is reflected in the controls set forth in this Section.

SEC. 402. PRINCIPAL USES PERMITTED:

- 1. One-Family Detached Dwellings, provided, however, that upon any lot, as determined by the regulations of this Ordinance, no more than one (1) detached dwelling may be constructed or maintained unless approval of a lot split has been granted under Section 1516.
2. Parks and playgrounds. For use of neighborhood residents.
3. Fences in accordance with Code 11.03.
4. Accessory buildings and uses. Provided such uses are located as required by Article XIV.
5. Storage of trailers, motorized home, boats, travel equipment and other equipment or vehicles of a similar nature, if such vehicles or equipment are unoccupied and parked in a fully enclosed garage. Recreational vehicles are permitted for temporary periods not to exceed twenty-four (24) hours for the purpose of loading and unloading.
6. Trash containers if such containers are screened from view from the street and adjacent properties.
7. Automobile parking not in excess of the number of automobiles owned by the occupants in garages or on drives which conform to Article XIV. Truck parking for one truck not to exceed one thousand (10,000) pounds. A truck permitted under this Section shall be kept in a fully enclosed building.
8. In those instances where lots abut directly onto Lake St. Clair, parking may be permitted on the street side of the lot. Parking is not permitted on the lake side of the lot.

SEC. 403. CONDITIONAL USES:

The following uses shall be permitted if (1) the City Council finds that conditions imposed for each use are met, (2) the City Council approves a site plan for the project and (3) the City Council finds that the criteria of Article XXV are met:

- 1. Utility and public service facilities and uses without storage yards when operating requirements necessitate the locating of said facilities within the district in order to serve the immediate vicinity.
2. Mobile Homes if the following conditions are satisfied:
A. The site includes a pad or slab consisting of a minimum of 400 square feet of concrete area not less than 8 feet wide and 45 feet long to which the mobile home is firmly attached and a street fronting 60 feet from the street side of the lot.
B. All telephone and electrical utility lines, pipes and tanks are underground.
C. The mobile home is supported on masonry blocks or piers, connected to utilities, and provided with masonry retaining or retaining walls.
D. The mobile home complies with the standards for mobile homes incorporated in the BSA and BSA standards.
E. The mobile home complies with the standards for mobile homes incorporated in the BSA and BSA standards.
3. Detached one-family dwellings in designated areas where the lot area is less than one acre, provided the City Council finds such structures will be adequately landscaped and screened from view from the street and adjacent properties.
4. The proposed method of screening the antenna from public view, and (3) any other pertinent information necessary to evaluate the proposed antenna and its location.

SEC. 404. AREA AND HEIGHT LIMITS:

- 1. All structures on lots abutting Interstate Road shall be set back at least 25 feet from the "back" side of the lot.
2. The height of any structure shall be limited to the height of the adjacent buildings on the same side of the street.

front set back shall be required to exceed 75 feet or more than one-third of the depth of the lot, nor shall a front set back be permitted which is less than twenty (20) feet.

3. For lots of record having a depth of less than one hundred (100) feet and existing at the passage of this Ordinance the front set back may be reduced to twenty (20) feet of the lot depth, provided that the front set back required by this Section shall not be less than twenty (20) feet.

SECTION 405. Each dwelling shall have at least a one-car enclosed garage.

SECTION 406. AIR CONDITIONING ORDINANCE. In all residential districts in the City, refrigeration equipment used for central air conditioning pumps and installed outside a residential dwelling or attached structure shall be located in the rear of the side yard as defined in Article II, Section 201.99 of this Ordinance. However, if such equipment is installed outside a residential structure prior to the date of the amendment shall not constitute a nonconforming structure.

Section 4. Article VII is hereby amended by revising section 701 to read in its entirety as follows:

SECTION 701. CONDITIONAL USES: The following uses shall be permitted if (1) the City Council finds the conditions imposed for each use are met, (2) the City Council approves a site plan for the project and (3) the City Council finds that the criteria of Article XXV are met:

- 1. Public Utility buildings, telephone exchange buildings, electric transformer stations and substations and gas regulator stations, provided such uses place all storage within a fully enclosed building.
2. Satellite dish or dish antennas or receivers provided the City Council finds such structures will be adequately landscaped or fenced to screen them from view from public rights of way and adjacent properties. Such antennas or receivers shall be located as required by Article XIII.
3. Other uses which are reviewed by the City Council and are found to be similar to and having the same general character as enumerated principal uses and which are not injurious to the surrounding neighborhood.
4. A site plan for a satellite antenna shall include (1) the proposed location of the antenna and detailed plans and specifications indicating its size, weight, color and specific materials to be used in construction of the antenna; (2) the proposed method of screening the antenna from public view; and (3) any other pertinent information necessary to evaluate the proposed antenna and its location.
5. Lot coverage shall equal the area covered by all buildings divided by the area of the lot.

Section 5. Article VIII, Section 801, is hereby amended by adding paragraph 5 to read as follows:

5. Satellite dish or dish antennas or receivers provided the City Council finds such structures will be adequately landscaped or fenced to screen them from view from public rights of way and adjacent properties. Such antennas or receivers shall be located as required by Article XIII.

Section 7. Article IX of the Zoning Ordinance is hereby amended by adding section 902.4 to read as follows:

4. Satellite dish or dish antennas or receivers provided the City Council finds such structures will be adequately landscaped or fenced to screen them from view from public rights of way and adjacent properties. Such antennas or receivers shall be located as required by Article XIII.

A site plan for a satellite antenna shall include (1) the proposed location of the antenna and detailed plans and specifications indicating its size, weight, color and specific materials to be used in construction of the antenna; (2) the proposed method of screening the antenna from public view; and (3) any other pertinent information necessary to evaluate the proposed antenna and its location.

Section 8. Article XIV of the Zoning Ordinance is amended by revising paragraph 4 and adding paragraph 5 to read in its entirety as follows:

4. Height Limit. The height limitations of this Ordinance shall not apply to chimneys, provided the chimney is not more than five (5) feet above the highest point of the roof.

5. DRIVES AND WALKS. Paved drives placed in required open spaces for the purpose of providing access to principal buildings or accessory structures are permitted, provided however, that any paved drive located in the front yard for any residential lot shall not exceed thirty feet in width (30' or thirty percent (30%) of the required front yard, whichever is lesser. Walks or other paved areas are permitted in required yards for the purpose of providing access to rear yards of accessory structures if such pavement is not higher than nine (9) inches above the grade in which it is placed.

Section 9. Article XV is hereby amended by adding paragraphs 5 and 10 to section 1502, revising paragraph 10, and adding paragraph 11, as follows:

- 5. Enclosure or Containment of Nonconforming Uses and Structures. The City of Grosse Pointe Farms may acquire, by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise, private property or an interest in private property for the purpose of containing nonconforming uses and structures. The cost of acquisition or portion thereof, or acquisition of the property may be paid from general funds or may be assessed to a special district.
10. Change of Nonconforming Structure. A nonconforming building may be structurally altered, repaired, replaced, or replaced with a different building, provided the approval of the Board of Zoning Appeals is obtained under the following conditions:
(a) The use of the building is permitted in the district in which it is located.
(b) The proposed building is located in the lot boundaries and all requirements of this Ordinance are met.
(c) The proposed building is not more than twenty-five percent (25%) of the lot area.
(d) No part of the existing nonconforming building is to be removed or altered, and such portion of the building shall be replaced with a new building of the same or similar character and use.
(e) The proposed building does not exceed the height, area, or other limitations of the district in which it is located.

Section 10. Article XVI is hereby amended by adding paragraph 1 to read in its entirety as follows:

1. The proposed building shall be set back from the street a minimum of ten (10) feet from the front lot line and shall conform to the setback requirements of the district in which it is located.

Section 11. Article XVII is hereby amended by adding paragraph 1 to read in its entirety as follows:

1. The proposed building shall be set back from the street a minimum of ten (10) feet from the front lot line and shall conform to the setback requirements of the district in which it is located.

Section 12. Article XVIII is hereby amended by adding paragraph 1 to read in its entirety as follows:

1. The proposed building shall be set back from the street a minimum of ten (10) feet from the front lot line and shall conform to the setback requirements of the district in which it is located.

Section 13. Article XIX is hereby amended by adding paragraph 1 to read in its entirety as follows:

1. The proposed building shall be set back from the street a minimum of ten (10) feet from the front lot line and shall conform to the setback requirements of the district in which it is located.

Section 14. Article XX is hereby amended by adding paragraph 1 to read in its entirety as follows:

1. The proposed building shall be set back from the street a minimum of ten (10) feet from the front lot line and shall conform to the setback requirements of the district in which it is located.

Section 15. Article XXI is hereby amended by adding paragraph 1 to read in its entirety as follows:

1. The proposed building shall be set back from the street a minimum of ten (10) feet from the front lot line and shall conform to the setback requirements of the district in which it is located.

of the required rear yard and are not closer than required by the rear and side property line, except as otherwise provided in other sections of this Ordinance, and in no instance shall such structures be constructed over received easements. When the rear yard abuts upon a street no building or structure shall be constructed in the required rear yard.

4. Accessory structures such as tennis courts, swimming pools, hot tubs, billiard and other recreational facilities shall have rear yards equal to at least six (6) feet and side yards equal to at least those required of the principal structure.

5. Satellite dishes, receivers or antennas are not permitted in front or side yards. Such antennas or receivers may be located on the ground of the rear yard if the structure together with all other structures on the lot does not occupy more than thirty-five percent (35%) of the required rear open space.

6. On any corner lot in a residential district, no part of any accessory building or structure shall be located on the side street lot line than the setback required for the principal building as Article XIII.

7. On a corner lot an attached garage will be allowed in rear yard as long as it complies with the requirements of paragraph 3 above.

8. When an accessory building or structure is located on a corner lot the side lot line of which is substantially a continuation of the front lot line of the lot to its front or rear, said building or structure shall not project beyond any front lot line required for the adjacent lots.

SEC. 1504. Off-street parking facilities required for residences, and all uses permitted in Community Service and Community Recreation Districts shall be on the same lot or parcel of land as the building served. For all other uses, such facilities shall be located within three hundred (300) feet of the building to be measured from the nearest off-street parking facilities and public parking facilities located within three hundred (300) feet of the building may be utilized in calculating off-street parking in B-1, B-2, and O-1 Districts if after notice and plan of hearing, as required by Article XXV, the City Council finds (1) sufficient space is available in the public parking facility to accommodate the additional parking required by the new or enlarged use, (2) access walks exist which make such parking facility readily available to such use and (3) that the requirements of Article XXV are met.

SEC. 1511. SITE PLAN REVIEW: A building permit shall not be issued for the following unless a site plan has been approved by the City Council:

- (a) Any use or development for which a site plan is required by ordinance.
(b) The erection or alteration of a building which constitutes a conditional use.
(c) The erection or alteration of the appearance of a structure located in a RC, RM, CS, B-1, B-2, O-1 or CR District.
(d) Any development, except single-family residential, for which off-street parking areas are provided as required in Section 1504, Subsection 9, Parking Requirements.

SEC. 1513. REQUIRED STREET ACCESS: Any parcel of land which is to be occupied by a use or building, other than an accessory use or building, shall have frontage on and direct access to street. Such frontage shall conform to the minimum lot width established by Article XIII.

SEC. 1516. LOT SPLITS: A lot may not be divided, partitioned or a portion thereof sold or conveyed unless the Director of Public Service finds that (1) the remaining lot as well as the parcels created by the split meet applicable regulations of this Ordinance, or (2) that the purpose of the conveyance is not to create a buildable lot, and the remaining lot abutting the street shall conform to applicable regulations of the Zoning Ordinance.

Breathless art

The Students at University Liggett School got a look at the ancient art of glassblowing last week when award-winning artist Sandra Schemske appeared on campus as an artist-in-residence. Ms. Schemske gave demonstrations of her craft during her two-day visit to the school, conducting classes for a large number of students. It was the first visit to the ULS complex for Ms. Schemske, who has worked as a glassblower at Greenfield Village, and has displayed her work at the Corning Center for Glass, the Artists' Market in Detroit and the Ella Sharp Museum.

Seminar says think trim, not thin

Lorraine Stefano wants to change the way people think about food. Her "Think Trim" seminar is a weight control program that's meant to help people re-evaluate what place food has in their lives and what they use it for, she says.

"I tell people, 'If we only ate when we were hungry, nobody would have a weight problem,'" Ms. Stefano says. "We don't. We all use food for a number of reasons other than satisfying hunger."

"We need to change our relationship to food. The next time you pick up something not on your (diet) plan, you should ask yourself, 'What am I expecting this food to do for me?' Look at what you're using that food for," she says.

Most people who diet will gain back the weight they lose because they don't change how they think about food, Ms. Stefano says. Turning to the plate of cookies or candy jar still salves anger, eases loneliness or kills time the same way it can before the diet, she adds.

By changing the way people think about food, offering alternatives to eating and developing techniques to resolve mental "food fights," people can develop a pattern of thinking about food and be more successful in keeping off the weight they lose, she adds.

Ms. Stefano says she fought a weight problem from age 13 until four years ago. Although she lost weight, she kept putting it back until finally, out of frustration, she put together the cognitive therapy and Transactional Analysis techniques that make up the seven-hour seminar.

TA "helps people put together another piece of the puzzle," Ms. Stefano says. TA says people react in intra- and inter-personal relationships in one of three ways: child, adult or parent. In the internal struggle about food, the child wants food because it's fun and the parent moralizes about not needing it.

She used the "fast-food scenario" to illustrate how the two interact: When driving by a fast-food restaurant, the child inside will say it wants a cheeseburger. The parent will argue, pointing out all the reasons against having a cheeseburger. Nine times out of 10, a person ends up ordering not only the cheeseburger but also fries and a Coke, Ms. Stefano says.

The adult can find compromise and offer alternatives to food, Ms. Stefano says. Instead of overeating, the adult will ask "What can I do to have fun without eating," she adds.

The program also tries to get people to see themselves realistically. Ms. Stefano says. Be realistic, set realistic goals and monitor success to be successful, she adds, noting that "all-or-nothing" programs usually end in nothing.

"You should set realistic goals based on your current behavior," she says. "You're more likely to achieve those goals and so are more likely to set new ones. Success means more success."

Think trim instead of thin, Ms. Stefano says. If medical charts say you're 10 pounds overweight, but you feel good, don't bother losing it, she says. "I don't think we were all meant to have bodies like we see in the magazines. It's the weight you feel good and comfortable at, not the clothes size on the inner label, that matters," she adds.

The seminars average between 30 and 60 people, Ms. Stefano says. They open with a discussion about positive experiences participants have with dieting, then move into the barriers to keeping weight off.

Members come up with reasons why they eat, Ms. Stefano says. There are usually 30 to 40 mentioned, she adds.

Coping methods are discussed for the three most common reasons, which are to relieve anger, ease stress and kill time, Ms. Stefano says. TA techniques are then discussed, to give ways to win the food fights and help develop positive attitudes. Information packets are distributed and techniques for relieving stress, for instance, are practiced, she adds.

"We're trying to get at the thinking behind eating," Stefano says. "As the mind goes, so does the body. That same part of you that talks you into the second piece of chocolate cake can also talk you out of it," she added.

Think Trim will begin at 9 a.m. next Thursday, Nov. 8, and run until 1 p.m. at the War Memorial. Fee is $35 and pre-registration is requested by calling 881-7311.

Retires . . .

used, they're welcomed to the homes like long-lost relatives.

Palmer's climb up the career fire ladder, according to Philip Costa, Park fire chief, was the result of hard work. He was named corporal in 1967, sergeant in 1969 and two years later promoted to lieutenant.

"His commendations include rescuing a woman who was badly burned in a fire in her living room," says Costa. In 1978 he worked diligently with arson investigators on the Helin fire on Windmill Pointe Drive where another fireman lost his life, and proved it was a case of arson. He has also been injured in the line of duty."

Being named assistant fire chief in 1981 meant taking over more administrative duties, including extra ones he did on his own initiative, says Costa.

Palmer hasn't decided what he's going to do but plans to spend more time with his family. Daughter Lynne King, 24, an illustrator for Fundimensions, a firm that designs and manufactures toys for kids, lives nearby in Anchorville. Lisa, 22, a respiratory therapist at Bi County Hospital in Warren, lives in Chesterfield. Son James, 21, a designer for Roger Sherman Associates in Dearborn, still lives in the family's Chesterfield home.

Both he and his wife like to fish and plan to divide time between nearby waters and a cottage on Harsens Island.

"I would also like to spend six weeks in the Florida Keys this winter and expect to see my co-workers periodically while fishing and at parties," says Palmer. "I'm looking over my options."

A retirement party is planned Friday, Nov. 9 at Alcamo's Hall in St. Clair Shores. Tickets at $15 per person include dinner, dancing and open bar and can be purchased by calling the Park Fire Department at 822-6400.

Blood drive is Nov. 6

St. Paul Catholic Church will host a blood drive Tuesday, Nov. 6, from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. The church is located at 170 Grosse Pointe Blvd., in the Farms.

The donation takes about a half hour and can save up to four lives. Blood can be donated by anyone in good health who is between the ages of 17 and 65 and who weighs at least 110 pounds.

For an appointment, call Sister Eileen Meyer at 885-8855.

Sing-a-long with GP Singles Club

Grosse Pointe Singles will meet at 7 p.m., Friday, Nov. 2, at the War Memorial for the regular meeting. Highlighting the program will be the Rev. Greg Sammons, associate minister at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, who will play the guitar and direct a group sing-a-long.

For further information, call 882-0316 or 885-2232.

New machine . . .

credits with perfecting the machine, at the University of Michigan.

"Bob Bartlett had the first survivors of this procedure in children in probably 1972 or '73," he said.

Klein, who came to Children's Hospital in July 1983, began the program in December. Since then seven infants have been put on the machine and three have survived.

"Our major effort is to find a way to do the procedure without clotting the blood," he said.

The anticoagulant heparin is used to keep the blood from clotting and jamming up the machine, however, when the blood with the drug is returned to the newborn, it can cause hemorrhaging and other blood problems.

Once that hurdle is cleared, Klein said there will be many more instances in which the machine can be used. It is not successful with adults now, he said, since they tend to have diseases that do not clear up by themselves, as infants do.

To treat one baby costs from $15,000 to $25,000, which is not covered by insurance, "even though we are providing a critical service," Klein said. The cost is absorbed by the hospital and by the Variety Club of Detroit, a group of about 350 show business enthusiasts, who have adopted ECMO as one of their projects. (See related story).

beautiful girl. I am and you are, come together at maybe.

My address: Semih, Yilmaz-Kemalpaşa Mahallesi, İmaret Yolu, sil No. 13, İzmit, Kocaeli, Turkey.

That's all folks. A little searching in our "Life Pictorial Atlas" cleared up some of the spelling and established that Grosse Pointe and İzmit apparently have a few things in common.

For instance, both are located near large cities -- Detroit and İstanbul. The population is similar, 51,000 for GP and 52,000 for İzmit and both are located near water, only İzmit can be found near the Sea of Marmara.

Well Semih, ol' buddy, I've done all I can. The rest is up to all the beautiful girls of Grosse Pointe.

C'mon, at least send this sailor a Christmas card.

ECMO unit to benefit from musical

There will be a benefit for the ECMO unit Wednesday, Nov. 7 at the Masonic Temple. The opening night of the Broadway musical, "42nd Street," will be sponsored by the Variety Club of Detroit.

The black-tie event will include a champagne reception before the performance and an afterglow with the cast following the show. Donation is $100 per person.

There are some tickets available at $35 a person, according to Barbara Moretsky, executive director of the club. That includes the champagne reception and performance, but not the afterglow.

For reservations, call Don Martin at 353-9690.

Michael Marontate of the Shores is first assistant chief barker of the Detroit club. He said the local club has about 350 members and is one of 44 throughout the world.

"The Variety Club is the largest children's charity in the world," he said, adding that it has raised a half-billion dollars for children since it was founded in 1932.

"Children's Hospital has been a charity of the Variety Club for many, many years. ECMO, a relatively new research for children, seemed to be a natural for the club to be involved with," he said.

Street closing . . .

Residents on Somerset petitioned council because they didn't want the overflow traffic they said would result from patients and staff visiting the 45,000 square foot, three-story building. The $38,000 required to close and cul-de-sac Somerset will be paid for by Park taxpayers.

The Grayton Road closing is the result of homeowners banding together and agreeing to bear the share of the estimated $17,500 needed to develop the empty lot at the corner of Mack.

The city recently bought land for $10,000 and plans to maintain it. It will be developed into a T-turn-around and landscaped with trees, shrubs and a fence.

Council originally approved Grayton's closing in August but tossed the matter to the planning commission after residents, opposing the move, petitioned it to reconsider its decision. They said closing Grayton would only put the re-routed traffic on their streets.

The planning commission, acting on the matter, recommended to council that a study and review of the street closing be made, while negotiations continue for the purchase of the corner lot.

Interpretation of the report varied, however. Crawford said it meant that other streets should be studied and reviewed for future closing while members of the planning commission said it meant that the Grayton closing should be studied.

But council, with the exception of member David Gaskin, stood by its earlier decision and the matter was considered settled.

The Trombly School PTO invites parents to a Green Circle night Wednesday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the school library.

The school team of parents and teachers, under the auspices of SAC, will present goals and programs geared to foster self-esteem in students and to prevent drug abuse. The program helps children develop respect for themselves and an understanding and acceptance of differences and similarities in other people. The Green Circle is a symbol of the child's world of people.

Richard will hold big bagel sale

The Richard PTO will sponsor a "Great American Bagel Sale" on Tuesday, Nov. 6, at the school, on McKinley off Kercheval in the Farms.

The 4-ounce bagels will be baked the morning of the sale and will be available in six varieties: plain, raisin, onion, salt, whole wheat and egg. They are $2.50 a dozen.

Bagels may be frozen at home, so stock up for winter mornings.

Officers sign two-year pact with village

Village trustees Tuesday night, Oct. 23, authorized the signing of a two-year contract with the six sergeants and corporals in the Grosse Pointe Shores Command Officers Association.

The pact sets differentials of 7 1/2 and 15 percent between the salaries of corporals and public safety officers and sergeants and public safety officers, according to village attorney William Killebrew. In exchange, the command officers agreed to drop the cost-of-living allowance in the contract.

Paying the salary differentials will cost the village about $4,000 a year for the six officers, Killebrew said. The village would like to eliminate COLA for all its employees, Killebrew and village President Gerald Schroeder said.

The contract also makes changes in sick-day provisions, Killebrew said. Under the old contract, officers who reached 200 accumulated sick days would simply lose them. Under the new pact, the village will pay half-time for all days accumulated over 200, he said.

The old system may have fostered a "use them or lose them" attitude, forcing the department to call in another command officer for overtime at time-and-a-half, Killebrew said.

The new system offers incentives for command officers to keep up perfect attendance even after reaching the 200-day mark, Killebrew said. The sick-day provision was the only concession the village made in the contract, he added.

Changes were also made in the language on grievance procedures that is beneficial to both the village and the officers, according to Killebrew.

The two-year command officers pact will expire at the same time as the current public safety officers' three-year contract signed last year, Killebrew told trustees.

The village is also negotiating with its public works employee union, Killebrew said. No recent meetings have been held, he added.

School system has good year

By spending less and collecting more than it expected, Grosse Pointe public schools ended fiscal 1983-84 with a $380,000 general fund surplus, according to the district's financial report.

The district spent $18,000 taken from its unreserved funds to cover costs from its debt retirement, building and site and general funds. The budget projected using $108,000 from that unreserved fund.

Utility costs were lower than projected while changes in state aid sources resulted in $50,000 more than anticipated in fiscal 1983-84, which ended June 30, according to Christian Fenton, business manager for the district.

The district spent $15.9 million on education programs in fiscal '83-84, up from $15.6 million the year before. Last fiscal year, the district spent about $2,114 on each of the 7,514 elementary, middle and high school pupils. Fiscal 1982-83 saw the district spend $1,994 for its 7,806 students in the three programs.

Pupil support services for last fiscal year were $2.38 million, compared to $2.27 million the fiscal year before, according to the report. Total supporting services were $15.1 million last year, compared to fiscal 1982-83's $14.1 million.

For each student, the district spent $317.54 for each of its 7,514 charges for pupil support services last year while the year before, it spent $291 for each of its 7,806 kids.

The district has $9 million in outstanding debts at the end of fiscal last year, or about $1,199 a student. The fiscal year before, the district owed $9.8 million, or about $1,257 for each student.

The school system maintained its good financial standing by collecting 95 percent of the taxes levied, keeping spending growth to 3.8 percent over the year before and by barely touching its unreserved fund balance, according to the report.

The board sold $14.3 million in short term tax anticipation notes in August 1983, to supplement its cash flow. The district has sold notes for the past several years and will continue to do so as long as it collects taxes mid-year, according to the report.

Enrollment is projected to continue to decrease throughout the 1985-86 school year, according to the report. The district has lost more than 2,000 students since the 1979-80 school year, when 9,312 were recorded in the fourth Friday state census. The 1984-85 fourth Friday count recorded 7,309 students.

Proposal A and B explained

Pros and cons

Proposal C, called the Voters Choice Amendment, has received a lot of attention in the media, overshadowing the other proposals on the ballot. Following is an explanation of proposals A and B. The information is provided by the League of Women Voters, a non-partisan organization that informs citizens about candidates and issues.

Proposal A would allow the Legislature to approve or disapprove administrative rules.

The proposed amendment would: Provide for the legislature or a joint committee of the legislature to approve or disapprove administrative rules written by state agencies to implement state law before the rules may be formally adopted by the agency as law, in a manner now or at a later date provided by law.

Background and Current Law:

When laws are passed, the Legislature grants the authority to a state agency to write rules to enforce the law. A rule is a state agency regulation that implements, applies or enforces a law. A rule is enforceable on the public and must be obeyed once it is adopted. This process of writing rules is now determined by the Administrative Procedures Act.

Section 35 of the Administrative Procedures Act created a joint committee on administrative rules. The committee, five members of the Senate and five members of the House of Representatives, has the power to review and approve or disapprove any rules or regulations proposed by an administrative agency. It can only act between sessions of the legislature and if a rule is suspended, the suspension is valid only through the end of the next legislative session.

There is a possibility that the current authority exercised by the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules could be challenged as to whether or not the committee can approve or disapprove rules since it is not stipulated in Michigan's constitution.

WHAT IS PROPOSED

Proposal A would amend the constitution to provide that the legislature or a joint committee empowered by the legislature could approve or disapprove any rule proposed by an administrative agency. The legislature would not be gaining any new power, but its present statutory power would be written into the constitution.

PRO: Proponents say that since the legislature is empowered to make laws for Michigan, it has the obligation to review administrative rules and regulations to determine if these rules do in fact carry out the intent of the legislature. Proposal A, if passed, would provide the legislature with clear, constitutional authorization to carry out its duties.

CON: Those opposed to Proposal A say that since administrative agencies are part of the executive branch of government, it would violate the principle of separation of powers of government to grant the legislature such authority over the executive branch of government.

Proposal B would establish a natural resources trust fund and a board to administer it, to provide revenues for it from natural resource leases and existing funds, and to specify and limit the expenditures therefrom.

The proposed amendment would:

1. Establish a Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund to be funded by certain royalties, bonuses and rentals collected by the state from the drilling of oil and gas or mining of minerals on state-owned land.

2. Require that earnings from the Trust Fund be used only for: a. purchasing land or rights in land; (1) for public recreation; (2) of environmental importance; or (3) of particular scenic beauty; b. developing public recreation facilities; c. administering the Natural Resources Trust Fund.

3. Require creation of a Natural Resources Trust Fund Board to recommend projects to be approved by the legislature.

Background & Current Law:

The Kammer Land Acquisition Trust Fund, Public Act 204 of 1976, created a land acquisition trust fund for the deposit of money earned by the state from royalties and mineral, oil and gas leases on state lands. The trust fund, also referred to as the Michigan Land Trust Fund, was established because it was believed that any profit gained from the depletion of precious, non-renewable resource — prime recreation land — to benefit future generations of Michigan citizens.

The act allows one-third of the money (up to $2.5 million) received by the state from its oil, gas and mineral resources, plus interest and earnings of the fund, to be used each year to acquire land. The remaining two-thirds of the money is to be deposited into the trust fund to provide a perpetual source of money for land acquisition. The fund has a limit of $150 million, which would have been reached this year if it had been allowed to grow as planned.

However the money in the fund was used for other purposes and the balance is now $4.4 million. For example, in 1979 loans of $3.3 million were made to owners of double-bottom tankers so they could meet new state safety standards, and in 1980 and 1981 transfers of $26 million and $46.2 million were made from the fund to balance the budget.

In addition, the Heritage Trust Fund Act adopted in 1982 changed the method of funding the land acquisition trust fund. All the money that had been previously deposited directly into the Kammer trust fund is now deposited into the Heritage Trust, which then makes quarterly transfers to the Michigan Economic Development Authority (MEDA) and the Research Center Fund. Only the remaining money is deposited in the land trust fund. A provision also allows the land acquisition fund to spend an amount equal to the amount of interest lost that year due to previous transfers from the fund. Under this funding method rebuilding the principal of the Kammer Land Acquisition Fund is extremely unlikely.

Many fear that if the land acquisition trust fund is not protected, future diversions of its money could eliminate it altogether.

WHAT IS PROPOSED

Proposal B would amend the state constitution to establish the Michigan Natural Resources Fund as the successor to the Kammer and Heritage Trust funds. The Natural Resources Fund would receive all money earned by the state from royalties, and leases or the extraction of minerals, coal, oil, gas and other non-renewable resources from state-owned lands. The fund would have a limit or cap of $200 million, excluding interest or earnings, though this could be increased by the legislature.

Earnings from the trust fund could be used only for 1) purchasing land or rights in land for public recreation or protection because of its environmental importance or scenic beauty; 2) developing public recreational facilities; and 3) administering the Natural Resources Trust Fund.

Up to one-third of the money deposited in the fund during one fiscal year could be spent during the following fiscal year, and at least 25% of that amount would have to be spent for the purchase of land, and no more than 25% could be spent for recreational facilities. Annual payment of the interest and principal on any bonds or notes issued by MEDA before the Natural Resources Trust Fund became part of the constitution is provided for until those obligations are retired.

A Natural Resources Trust Fund Board would be created to recommend projects to the governor who would then submit them to the legislature for approval.

PRO: Those who favor Proposal B say that prime recreational land is a finite resource, and if it is not acquired and protected in the near future, it may no longer be available. The Kammer Land Acquisition Trust Fund was intended to trade non-renewable resources — minerals, oil, coal, gas — for other non-renewable resources — prime recreational lands. Because of diversion and changes in the method of funding, only 13% of the total revenue received by the state since 1976 has been deposited in the Kammer Fund. Unless this money is protected by the constitution from future diversions, Michigan citizens may end up with neither recreational lands nor reserves of minerals, oil, coal and gas.

CON: Those who oppose Proposal B say that over one-half of the annual state budget is already earmarked for special purposes, and that the earmarking of more funds reduces the Legislature's ability to deal with Michigan's fiscal situation. The legislature needs flexibility not constitutional limitations. In addition, the relationship between MEDA and the Natural Resources Fund is not clearly stated in the proposal. There is concern that MEDA will not be able to bond against the revenues it was granted in the Heritage Trust Fund, and so the state may lose a main revenues source for economic development.

- A new high-efficiency gas furnace could cut your gas heating costs by over 30%! Based on most current natural gas rates, normal Michigan weather, and a 96% efficiency rating — a new high-efficiency gas furnace could cut your heating bills by thirty-three percent when compared to the cost of operating most conventional gas furnaces.
- An electric heat pump could be more than twice as expensive to operate as a high-efficiency gas furnace. Because an electric heat pump all alone is not enough to heat your home sufficiently in an average Michigan winter you'll need a back-up system. A heat pump backed up by electric resistance heating will cost about 130% more to operate than a high-efficiency gas furnace! And a heat pump backed up by a high-efficiency gas furnace is still about 35% more costly to operate than a high-efficiency gas furnace alone.
- Dollar for dollar, natural gas will save you more. Because natural gas holds a three-to-one price advantage over electricity, a high-efficiency gas furnace is less expensive to operate than an all-electric heating system. And because that price advantage is expected to increase in the future, those savings could increase too.
- Start saving this winter. If you're not heating your home with a high-efficiency gas furnace, why not check it out now? It could help you save money this heating season. And at MichCon, we believe that helping is our job.

From Another Pointe Of View

By Janet Mueller

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly" . . . and plan to put on your Christmas bazaar early in November, and you'll be in step with the rest of the Pointe world. You can go holiday bazaar hopping all over town in the next few days. Consider a Sunday (Nov. 4) or Monday (Nov. 5) visit to the Science Hall of Bon Secours Hospital, where the Hospital League will be presenting its Fifth Annual Christmas Mart. Hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. both days.

Chairing the Bon Secours bazaar is Mrs. James Long. Co-chairman is Mrs. Tim Mourad. Mrs. Thomas Madigan, the hospital's Gift Shop chairman, Mrs. James Lomhagen, Gift Shop chairman-elect, Mrs. Philip Meathe and Mrs. Hamilton Kotcher have all been busy purchasing special merchandise for the mart. Mrs. William Young, Mrs. Richard Schrage, Mrs. Charles Ruifrok and Mrs. Frank Day are working hard to create a festive "ambiance" for all who attend.

There'll be a tea table, responsibility of Mrs. George Williams, and a wine and cheese table, handled by Mrs. Leo Marx. Worried about where to leave the car? Don't be — valet parking will be available at Bon Secours both days.

Can't Wait until Sunday or Monday . . .

. . . to get a head start on Christmas shopping? You don't have to: you can begin tomorrow, at Immanuel Lutheran Church, Chandler Park Drive at Dickerson in Detroit, where the Annual Holiday Mart will be in progress from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. This bazaar features, along with handmade items and homemade baked goods, a variety of Swedish imports and gifts, for Immanuel is the "home church" for descendants of turn-of-the-century Swedish immigrants who settled on Detroit's East Side.

Many of their children and grandchildren are Pointe residents now, but they remain loyal to the Swedish traditions Immanuel continues and represents. Good food is very much a Swedish tradition, and you can sample some during the Holiday Mart. A buffet luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., at a cost of $3.50 for adults, $1.50 for children. Reservations would be appreciated, so the ladies have some idea of how much good food to prepare.

The Craft Fair and Calico Cafe sponsored by the Women of Grosse Pointe United Methodist Church, located on Moross Road, between Kercheval and Mack Avenues, will also be open tomorrow, Friday, Nov. 2, running from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and will re-open Saturday, Nov. 3, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Kathy Hersey is chairman, Margaret Layson co-chairman of this event. Sarah Frakes designed the posters and flyers. Publicity is being handled by Ethel Osborne. Evelyn Ralph will serve as head cashier.

Review Club fashion date in November

The Detroit Review Club, which will be celebrating its 93rd birthday in November, will also be presenting a fashion show following a noon luncheon this month: at Lochmoor Club on Tuesday, Nov. 13. Mrs. Justin Emery, of Mount Clemens, DRC's newly elected president, is the official hostess. Mrs. James Houlihan, DRC's first vice-president, will serve as chairman of the day.

Parading in styles from Pointe fashions of Grosse Pointe Park will be Mrs. Edward Bowman, who has acted as a fashion coordinator at Saks Fifth Avenue and other stores. Mrs. Albert Massnick, formerly head of "Keep Detroit Beautiful" and a popular model for DRC, Patti Hermanns, who is not only a professional model but designs and wears her own clothes, and Mrs. James P. Stuart, an active member of several committees, all of The Pointe, and Carol Fellows, of Dearborn.

They gathered late last month at the Pointe home of DRC's official photographer, Kay Welzenbach, to pose for Kay's camera in the stairwell filled with mementos of her many travels.

Kay, who attended London University, has made 32 trips to England alone, including this summer's visit to the Cotswold country with fellow DRC member Gladys Gies. All the models have either been professionals, coordinated fashion shows or done considerable modeling for their special clubs, so it was an especially lively photo session.

Conversation ranged from "Where were you this summer?" (China, for several of the ladies present) to "What do you think of this year's fashions?" As Kay is a very active, very involved lady, her phone kept ringing . . . so Loretta Bowman volunteered to be Answering Service while Kay busied herself with lights and camera angles.

The Detroit Review Club was organized Nov. 30, 1891, primarily as a literature group, and in 1895 joined forces with six other organizations to form the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs. DRC had previously, in 1894, joined the General Federation of Women's Clubs as a charter member, and one of the DRC members, along with Emma Fox, the club's parliamentarian, went to Washington, D.C., to help set up the General Federation's constitution and by-laws.

In the early days, club members presented papers on various countries, each member studying a certain phase of the country chosen. It took the group two years to study and review Russia in all its aspects, geographical, cultural, political, et al. for DRC was nothing if not thorough, determined to know a subject country before leaving it.

Until World War II, the club met once a week. It was the first club in the area to meet "outside" members' homes, the first to move into the Women's City Club on Park Avenue. DRC stayed with the City Club until its building was sold, its membership merged with that of the Detroit Boat Club.

Since then DRC has met at private clubs all over town. Its members come from all over town. In recent years, several Grosse

Berry Lecture will be basic holiday fare

"Back to Basics with Holiday Decorations" is John L. Enterline's title for the 1984 Berry Memorial Lecture sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Garden Center. He will present it Friday morning, Nov. 16, at 10:30 a.m. in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium.

This annual event for Garden Center members and guests is a privilege enjoyed because of the endowed gift of Eska and Raymond Berry that brings a distinguished speaker to address the Garden Center gathering each year.

Following the lecture, the audience will be invited to view a series of Holiday Table Settings, including Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Morning, New Year's Day and Twelfth Night, prepared by members of the Garden Center.

Then, per tradition, there will be a 12:30 p.m. subscription luncheon in the Fries Ballroom. Admission to the lecture for non-Garden Center members will be $5 — but there will be a Membership Table in the lobby for those who wish to join the Garden Center before the lecture, and thus be admitted free.

Reservations for the luncheon, at $12 per person, should be made by Wednesday, Nov. 14. They may be obtained by contacting Ellen Probert, room secretary, at the Garden Center, 881-4594, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Mrs. Philip Mebus Jr., this year's Berry Lecture chairman, arrived home from a trip around the world just in time to pick up the plans well-laid by Mrs. Charles A. Bigelow, who will meet the speaker at the airport when he flies in from Longwood Gardens, Kennett Square, Pa. He will be entertained at dinner and overnight at the Bigelow home.

There are never any tag ends left untied when Judy Bigelow is involved in a project. Invitations are going out soon to Garden Center members as reminders of this BIG event, all trustees are ready to help, and Judy has special assignments for Mrs. James L. Schuster, Mrs. Nancy M. Edwards and Mrs. Paul M. Hostetter as well as Rose Marie Mebus.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Bezny, of Lakepointe Avenue, Detroit, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Denise Louise, to Alexander Waite Truesdale, son of Mrs. Gilder D. Jackson III, of Rivard Boulevard. The wedding is planned for next June.
 The bride-elect was graduated from Finney High School. Her fiancé attended University Liggett School, Austin Catholic Preparatory School and Detroit College of Business.
 Miss Bezny is currently employed at Jacobson's, Grosse Pointe, in the Credit Office. Mr. Truesdale is sales representative for the Coca-Cola Company in Pontiac.

View Bunuel film Nov. 7
 The next project on the busy agenda of the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe is a showing of the well-known Louis Bunuel film, "Le Charme Discret de la Bourgeoise," on Wednesday, Nov. 7, at 8 p.m. at University Liggett School's Cook Road campus.
 The movie is open to the public. Admission is free to Alliance members, $2.50 for non-members.
 David Thoms program chairman for the Pointe Alliance this year, has announced other future plans for the organization. A Christmas Soiree in December will be followed by a January lecture and slide presentation on "French Decorative Arts of the 19th Century" at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.
 Eric Chartier will be featured in February, with a mixed media program on French theater and music. March is "Mystery Event Month." April brings Great Moments in French History, a lecture in French and slide presentation at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House. With May comes the annual Distribution des Prix, when outstanding high school students of French will be honored.
 Membership in the Pointe Alliance, a lively, cosmopolitan and friendly group, is open to anyone with a penchant for culture, history or fun with a Gallic flavor. The number to call for further information is 881-7985.

Feature floral sculptures

The Detroit Garden Center will present Elinor Yard, doing Floral Sculptures in the Whittier Towers Crystal Ballroom from 1 to 3 p.m. next Thursday, Nov. 8. The program is a sequel to her Ikebana exhibit there last year.
 Mrs. Yard, a national flower show judge and Master of the Ohara School of Floral Art, specializes in free and creative arranging. She will introduce exotic flowers, newly available in this area, to her audience: antherium in pink, white and green, decorative pineapple in shades of pink, new varieties of heather, kangaroo and monkey paws and varieties of halconia.
 She will also feature flowers usually associated with spring, tulips, lilies and iris, plus unusual foliage materials, her own collection of driftwood, fungi and vines.
 Mrs. Richard Mertz is chairing the program. Admission is $4. Free parking is available. Reservations may be made by calling 259-6363; tickets may also be purchased at the door.

Woods Garden Club to meet

Grosse Pointe Woods Garden Club members gather at noon Tuesday, Nov. 6, in the Hollywood Avenue home of Mrs. Joe Craig, who will be assisted by co-hostess Mrs. Margaret McDonald, for a sandwich luncheon and dried flower program by Mrs. Frank Dettmer.
 The ladies are reminded to bring something—a favorite small vase, perhaps, or picture frame—which would be enhanced by the addition of dried flower decoration.

Fall is busy time for Alpha Mu DKG

"The Maturing Woman" was the theme for Alpha Mu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma sorority's autumn focus program. Guest speaker Mary Ann Collinson, R.N., M.A., counselor for the Northeast Guidance Center, discussed "Using Life's Changes to Grow and Create a Better Tomorrow." The program was held Thursday, Oct. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the Monteith School Library.
 Chapter members will climax their fall activities Saturday, Nov. 17, with their annual Christmas workshop to make holiday place-mats for the Foundation for Exceptional Children. Mrs. Esther Mel-drum will direct activities beginning at 9 a.m. at the home of Virginia Downs.

To light Buhl Mansion halls

Members of the family, bearers of one of Detroit's most historic names, will be coming "home" to the Arthur H. Buhl Mansion in Indian Village this Saturday as guests of Michael Jeffrey Hartt, who now resides there.

Occasion is a Renaissance Feast, a court banquet in a faithful recreation of a 17th century Gothic castle. Purpose of the invitational affair is to draw attention to the historic homes of Indian Village and encourage support for their preservation, and for the preservation of all Detroit historic districts and buildings.

The party is black tie, despite the fact that food will be authentic and served medieval style — sans cutlery. A jester and dancers will entertain.

Farm, Garden Club is busy

The Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club opened its current season with a meeting Monday, Oct. 8, at the home of Mrs. Daniel J. Clifford, featuring luncheon co-hosted by Mrs. A. Jackson Day, Mrs. Harrison T. Watson and Mrs. Donald A. Williams.

Deborah Hubbell, who teaches children with learning disabilities at Grosse Pointe North High School and was 1983-84 recipient of the club's Higgins Lake Scholarship, gave a presentation on the various lecture courses and field trips available at the conservation center, reporting in particular about canoeing in the Dead Stream Swamp.

The club's next meeting is scheduled for Monday, Nov. 12, at Miller Hall behind Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

Woman's Club party-planners

There'll be something for everyone at the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club Scholarship Luncheon on Wednesday, Nov. 14, in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, from fashions by Walton-Pierce, a presentation arranged by MRS. LAMPTON J. CARDWELL (second from left), who is co-chairing the party with MRS. DICK WARNER (second from right), to a cornucopia of beautiful prizes like the Waterford Crystal jar MRS. WILLIAM KABBUSH (right), raffle chairman, is holding . . . to a Used Jewelry sale chaired by Mrs. Jack Thorpe, with cards rounding out the afternoon for those who wish to play. Punch will be served at 11:30 a.m., and Mrs. Harold Lee promises it will be plentiful. Luncheon is at noon, and Mrs. Robert M. Brent has a prize for each table. Walton-Pierce will use professional models, with Elizabeth North doing the commentary to background piano music by Mrs. John Nelson. The lobby will be decorated by Mrs. Stuart Mickelthwaite, and hostess Mrs. Walter Lesinski will greet members and guests. Taking reservations, at $15 per person, is MRS. JOHN J. KELLY (left), 881-7683, who issues a reminder that they may not be cancelled after next Wednesday, Nov. 7. As always, proceeds from this benefit will provide scholarships for Grosse Pointe North and South High School graduates. Mrs. Milan J. Alexander is the Woman's Club's current president.

Bridge Group meets Nov. 7

All members of the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club who enjoy bridge are invited to join the club's Bridge Group next Wednesday, Nov. 7, at noon in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Alger House. Mrs. William Hayduk, group chairman, will accept reservations until noon Saturday, Nov. 3.

Call Village Garden Club

Village Garden Club members gathered last Friday, Oct. 26, at 11 a.m. at the Radnor Circle home of Mrs. Thomas Fox, who was assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. William Brooks, Mrs. Rex Brophy and Mrs. Joseph Caskey, for their regular monthly meeting and luncheon. The program presented by Grace Harrison was titled "Potpourri."

Help at hand for overeaters

Overeaters Anonymous meets Friday mornings, at 9:30 a.m., at the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church on Maumee Avenue, between Neff Road and St. Clair Avenue. The meetings are open to the public.

Children of Mary to meet tomorrow

Mrs. J. William Berns, a past-president of the Children of Mary, will speak to that organization tomorrow, Friday, Nov. 2, at the Grosse Pointe Academy. Helen will report on her preparation for and experiences in Pastoral Care at Detroit Receiving Hospital.

The meeting, open to all members and friends of the academy,

Holiday craft programs set

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial will offer seven holiday craft workshops in time for gift giving and/or home decorating. Samples of the items to be made are on display now in the Alger House lobby.

Three of the classes meet next Tuesday, Nov. 6, when a Miniature Christmas Tree Workshop will run all-day, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Instructors Nancy Marvin and Helen Marshall will provide glass domes, trees and miniature toys, packages and ornaments. Participants are asked to bring a sack lunch. Fee for the course is $55, including basic supplies. Lights and handmade toys will be available at extra cost.

Holiday Table Centerpieces will meet from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Tuesday afternoon. A variety of designs will be presented, all made with fresh greens, fruits, pods and cones and designed to last throughout the holidays with a minimum of attention. Participants must bring clippers, wire cutters and scissors. Cost is $10, plus an $18 materials fee.

A Christmas Needlepoint Workshop Tuesday evening, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., will be led by Judith Biggs, from "The Needle's Pointe." This $8 class (plus $10 for materials) will focus on quick-stitching gift ideas, such as cross-stitch, beaded and candlewick ornaments.

Lois Bro will demonstrate how to make A Teddy Bear to Share, with moveable legs and arms, on Wednesday, Nov. 7, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Participants should bring a scissors and a one-pound bag of stuffing. Cost is $10, plus $8 for materials.

Williamsburg Apple Cone Centerpieces will be made Tuesday, Nov. 13, from 1 to 3 p.m., using a wooden form with nails to impale fruit and fresh greens. Cost of this class is $10, plus $18 for materials.

Pat Bentley will lead an 18th Century Wreath Workshop on Friday, Nov. 16, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Colored slides will be shown prior to starting work on the wreaths, so students can choose the design that appeals to them, creating it in permanent dried greens and fruits. Participants should bring a sack lunch to this $10 class. There will also be a materials fee, payable to the instructor on the day of the workshop.

Bow Making for packages, flower arrangements and as a decorative accent on wreaths and garlands will be taught Wednesday, Nov. 28, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Bolts of Christmas ribbon may be purchased during the class at wholesale prices. Cost of the course is $5, plus a nominal supply fee.

Additional information on any of these workshops is available by calling 881-7511. To avoid class cancellations, the War Memorial asks that reservations be made in advance.

From Another Pointe Of View

Fellowship, headed by Lois Batten. Christmas Items are the responsibility of Martha Fellowship, chaired by Mary Jane Wriston. Baked Goods are being collected by Evelyn Griffith Fellowship, Ester Winfield, chairman. Plants and Potpourri by Doris White Fellowship. Phyllis McGraw, chairman. The Wesleyan Fellowship, chaired by Mrs. Layson, is responsible for Miscellaneous Items. The Calico Cafe, chaired by Priscilla van Horne, will serve coffee, tea and doughnuts from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. each day. Luncheon will be served from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. both days.

Saturday Is The Best Bazaar . . .

... day for you? You'll have a trio of area holiday fairs to choose from this Saturday, Nov. 3. You'll want to check in at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. to check out the Annual Holiday Mart sponsored by the Cottage Hospital Gift Shop Guild. In addition to toys, jewelry, lingerie, small gifts, stationery, Christmas cards, homebaked goods, books and crafts, there will be special prizes. Luncheon will be available.

Over at Lutheran High School East, located on Kelly Road in Harper Woods, the Ladies Guild is presenting its Ninth Annual Holiday Arts and Crafts Fair from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday. More than 90 exhibitors will be displaying their wares. There'll be demonstrations by some of the artists and craftsmen and a variety of food, ranging from a family-style turkey dinner served from 4 to 6 p.m. to freshly made doughnuts. Admission donation is 50 cents.

* * *

And just down Kelly Road apiece on Saturday, the Notre Dame High School Parents Guild will be presenting its Holiday Arts and Crafts Bazaar, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the school gym, with all the traditional Christmas fair fun, food and festivities. Can't decide which of these marts to visit? Since they're all in the immediate vicinity you can, with a little luck, make them all — and make a day of it.

Like to Go Holiday Bazaar Hopping . . .

... a bit farther afield? The Friends School, St. Aubin at Lafayette in Detroit, is holding its Second Annual Christmas Bazaar this Friday, Nov. 2, and Saturday, Nov. 3, from noon to 5 p.m. Many of the gift items have been handmade by the school's students, parents and friends. Items from the Woodruff gift selection will be on display and orders will be taken. You can have a friend's name written in Chinese characters here; how's that for an unusual Christmas gift?

A gourmet luncheon at $7 per person, by advance reservation only (868-1844), will be served tomorrow during the Christmas Bazaar at Saint Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church, located on Second Avenue, near Six Mile and Woodward, in Detroit. The bazaar, which features holiday and boutique items and homemade pastries, runs from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday, Nov. 2, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 3 and 4. Pastries and coffee will be served on Saturday, brunch on Sunday.

* * *

The Mini Fair on Saturday, Nov. 3, from 2 to 6:30 p.m. at Holy Communion Lutheran Church, located on Whittier in Detroit, will include a Thrift Shop as well as Christmas gifts, crafts and baked goods. Reservations for supper, to be served from 5 to 6:30 p.m., may be called in to the church office, 371-2600.

* * *

The nationally-known Giftorama at Kingswood School Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills goes international this year by introducing a shop from Ireland in addition to 40 specialty boutiques from across the country, among them Grosse Pointe's Sued-ers, offering Turkish suede sweaters. Giftorama will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 3, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 4. Admission is $2, including parking.

* * *

Eighty-four tables of craft items will be featured Saturday, Nov. 3, and Sunday, Nov. 4, at the Sixth Annual Christmas Arts and Crafts Fair presented by Saint Margaret's Altar Sodality in Saint Margaret's gym, located on 13 Mile Road in St. Clair Shores, between Harper and Little Mack Avenue. There'll also be a bake sale, a homemade candy booth and a fast food kitchen. Doors open at 10 a.m. Saturday, at 9 a.m. Sunday. Parking and admission are free.

And That Takes Us Through . . .

... bazaars scheduled in the immediate future. For those of you who like to plan ahead, be advised that this is BY NO MEANS the end of November's mart list. Grace United Church of Christ, located on Lakepointe at Kercheval Avenue, will hold its Fall Fair a week from tomorrow, Friday, Nov. 9, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Florence Gattler, chairman, promises homemade and homebaked goods, attic treasures, jewelry, crafts and Christmas cards. Luncheon and snacks will be served.

And on Monday, Nov. 12, and Tuesday, Nov. 13, the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church will be the setting for a Holly Mart . . . and on Friday, Nov. 16, and Saturday, Nov. 17, the whole family is welcome at Assumption Greek Orthodox Church's Annual Christmas Fantasy. We'll tell you more about both of these bazaars next week; for now, just mark your calendars.

Special series at Youtheatre

You Gotta Have Art. Detroit Youtheatre's new five-part series, all open this Saturday, Nov. 3, with "Mirror in a Bamboo Basket." Performances are at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. in the Detroit Institute of Arts' rental hall.

Season tickets at $15 for the series of five performances and five show-related arts events, with treasure maps and gallery discovery books and individual tickets for a Nov. 4 performance alone, without the gallery tour, at $8 each for children and adults. $2 in groups of 10 or more, may be purchased in advance through the museum ticket office 832-2730 during regular business hours and at the door.

Youtheatre also offers a 10-admission "Something Every Saturday" season discount pass at $20.

"Mirror in a Bamboo Basket" presents Margaret Wollson, weaving a collection of ancient tales against a background of oriental music to introduce the culture and traditions of the Far East to Youtheatre families.

The series continues with once-a-month Saturday programs through March.

Bridgid Dunn wed in Florida

Saint Mallachy Church, Tamarac, Fla., was the setting Saturday, September 1, for the wedding of Bridgid Mary Dunn and Gerry Kreutzjans. The 2 o'clock ceremony was followed by a reception at the Banyon Lake Country Club in Tamarac.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Corinne Clements Dunn, of Vernier Road, and Simon E. Dunn Jr., of the Riverhouse Apartments, Detroit, wore a gown of white lace, its off-the-shoulder bodice closed at the back with tiny, fabric-covered buttons.

A mother-of-pearl crown held her fingertip lace veil. She carried her mother's heirloom lace fan, centered with a spray of white orchids and cascading ivy, and clasped her maternal grandmother's gold filigree pendant, studded with blue sapphires and freshwater pearls, around her neck.

Matron of honor Mrs. Martin Van Assche, of St. Petersburg, Fla., sister of the bride, wore an ankle length dress of mauve and white eyelet, its collared V-neckline dipping to the waist in back.

Maid of honor Molly Ellen Dunn, of Vernier Road, another sister, wore an ankle length dress of pale grey chiffon, trimmed with white eyelet and styled with a lace midly collar. A slender sash of tea rose satin circled her waist. Grey lace hosiery and grey satin shoes completed her ensemble.

Both sisters carried bouquets of tea roses, baby's-breath and Boston ivy.

Elsia Dexter, 2 1/2, the bridegroom's niece, was flower girl. She wore a floor length dress of pink and white dotted swiss, and carried rose petals in a white wicker basket.

David Kreutzjans, of North Vernon, Ind., acted as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Kreutzjans, of North Vernon. Ushering were Jeffery Kreutzjans, another brother, and Blair Patrick Dunn, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride accented the round neckline of her floor length tea rose satin caftan, fashioned with rippling, butterfly sleeves, with a single strand of amethysts and a matching heirloom broach. Her flowers were violets.

The bridegroom's mother selected an ankle length dress of lilac silk, styled with a sailor collar and long, bouffant sleeves. Her corsage featured tea roses and a purple orchid.

The newlyweds, who met in Florida three years ago while she

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Kreutzjans

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Fortin

was working there as an independent interior designer and he was working as a free lance contractor and builder of homes, returned from a vacation in The Bahamas to the home in Tamarac the bridegroom has built for them.

The bride is now affiliated with the Interior Design Division of Southeastern Toyota, Fla. The bridegroom has formed his own engineering and construction company in Tamarac.

Julie Remter wed in South

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Daniel Fortin, who vacationed in France following their summer marriage in Saint Anne's Episcopal Church, Atlanta, Ga., are at home in Atlanta. Mrs. Fortin is the former Julie Ann Remter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald O. Remter, of Woods Lane. Mr. Fortin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland I. Fortin, of Stuart, Fla.

The Reverend Frank K. Allan presided at the 5:30 o'clock ceremony Saturday, July 14. Readings were given by Wayne D. Fortin, the bridegroom's brother. A dinner reception followed at Ansley Golf Club.

The bride, who wore her mother's candlelight silk taffeta wedding gown trimmed with Alencon lace, and a matching lace headpiece, was attended by her sister, Dr. Jill Christina Irvine, of Ann Arbor, as matron of honor, and by bridesmaids Frances Dean Anastasi and Deborah Sutter Heller, both of Atlanta, and Susan Beck Davis, of Durham, N.C. They wore pale rose moire blouses and full skirts.

Glenn Fortin acted as best man for his brother. Ushers were Paul T. Fortin, of Oceanside, Calif., another brother, Charles M. Johnston Jr., of Indiantlantic, Fla., and Lance Villard, of Atlanta.

The mother of the bride wore a pewter taffeta dress. The bridegroom's mother selected a pink and white print.

The new Mrs. Fortin, a Grosse Pointe North High School graduate, received her Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing from Duke University and holds a Juris Doctor degree from Vanderbilt University. She is an attorney with Bondurant, Miller, Hishon & Stephenson in Atlanta.

The bridegroom received both his Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science and his Juris Doctor degree from the University of Florida, Gainesville. He is vice-president of and staff counsel for the Citizens and Southern National Bank in Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey D. Meyers

Forks, N.Y.

More were the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Freed, of Quakertown, Pa., and his uncles and aunts, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Alderter, of Chesterfield, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Durrell Alderter, of Harleysville, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wenger, of Lancaster, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rosenberger, of Telford, and Mrs. Sarah Hedrick, of Souderton, Pa.

Still other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. Hobert Kruse, John Gill, Richard Reeder and Mr. and Mrs. David Morgan, all of Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cicora and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gillen, of Swanton, Ohio, Mrs. Richard Giles, of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ashurkoff, of Grand Blanc, and Mrs. Hooper Truettner, of Grayling.

Miss Garred wed Aug. 18

A princess line gown of white silk organza, styled with an off-the-shoulder neckline and motifs of silk embroidered leaves and lily-of-the-valley accenting its short sleeves, bodice and the scalloped border of its chapel length train, was Tracy Elizabeth Garred's choice for her summer marriage to Jeffrey David Meyers.

A Juliet cap of matching lace held her four-tiered illusion veil. She carried a cascade of stephanotis, Eucharis lilies and ivy.

The daughter of Mrs. Thomas Arthur Garred, of Merriweather Road, and the late Mr. Garred, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Wismer Meyers, of Telford, Pa., exchanged their vows Saturday, August 18, at a 4 o'clock ceremony in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

The rites at which The Reverend Edward A.M. Cobden Jr. presided were followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, after which the newlyweds left to vacation on Jamaica. They are at home in Toledo, Ohio.

Mrs. David Cameron was honor matron for her sister. Bridesmaids were Lynn Bamford, of Raleigh, N.C., Nancy Powers, of North, S.C., and Andrea Carstens. They wore waltz length gowns, blue in color with an overlay of white organza, their boat necklines and cap sleeves edged in white and blue satin ribbon with accent bows at the shoulders.

Wide white satin ribbon, trimmed with blue ribbon, circled their waists and tied in a bow at the back, with streamers trailing to lovers' knots. Each attendant carried an arrangement of white daisies, yellow Elegance carnations and baby's-breath.

Best man was Keith Hackman, of Bellevue, Ohio. Ushers were Daniel Huss and Michael Lancaster, both of Findlay, Ohio, and Mr. Cameron, the bride's brother-in-law.

Satin horizontal stripes accented the skirt border, sleeves and bodice of the bride's mother's waltz length dress of dusty grape poly-chiffon. Soft ruffles accented the bodice of the bridegroom's mother's waltz length dress of blue chiffon. Each mother pinned a corsage of white cymbidium orchids to her purse.

Special guests included the bridegroom's grandfather, Allen Alderter, and great-aunt, Caroline Alderter, both of Harleysville, Pa.

Other out-of-town guests were the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Greene Fenley III, of Naples, Fla., her cousins, Sally Fenley, of New York City, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott Rayfield and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Zimmer, of Chesapeake, Va., and her godparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lowe, of Au Sable

Vows spoken in The East

A reception at the Rumson, N.J., Country Club followed the Saturday, October 27, wedding of Elizabeth Inez Tallman, daughter of Foster Tallman, of Rumson, and the late Mrs. Tallman, and John Henderson Longley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Longley, of Charlevoix Avenue.

Attending the bride at the 2 o'clock ceremony in Saint George's by-the-Sea were honor maid Deborah Tallman and bridesmaids Barbara Hanley, Michelle McNamara, Mrs. Thomas Swick and Mrs. James McCarney.

Showing in Pointe for Cynthia Bardes

Cynthia Bardes is in town from Johns Island, Fla., showing her "little silk dresses" today, Thursday, Nov. 1, and Friday, Nov. 2, at the Farms home of Gloria Wiggins. Her basic 25 designs include day and cocktail costumes, separates, pants, culottes, a wrap-jacket and full length gowns, in jewel colors.

Make a date for Goodwill Jrs. Antiques Show & Sale

"Antiques bring elegance to your life, both past and present" is the theme of the 37th Annual Antiques Show and Sale sponsored by the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries, to be held Nov. 9 to 11, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn.

The show will be open to the public from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. Admission donation is $3.50 ($3 for groups of 15 or more or senior citizens). Admission donation to the 7 to 10 p.m. invitational wine and cheese preview Thursday, Nov. 8, is $22.50, by advance ticket only. Ticket information may be obtained by calling 652-9230 or 652-4035.

Mrs. Charles (Joan) Knight and Mrs. Walter H. (Judy) Breyer have combined their talents to make this an outstanding event, with every facet of it featuring a special offering to the past.

Doors leading to the Fairlane Manor lobby are from Goodwill's old Brush Street Plant, and have hats carved on them. The doors open on a turn-of-the-century scene: a fashionable shoppers' boulevard of the early 1900s re-created by interior decorator Joan Knight. Windows of millinery shops containing bonnets from a private collection will line the walls. The headgear is from long-ago downtown Detroit stores such as Rollins, Fyfes, Hudsons and Ruskes.

An antique auto will be on display, and Junior Group member models will stroll among the guests, wearing the bonnets.

A couplet has been composed to the bonnet wearers:
 "Silks and satins
 Ribbons and lace
 A pretty bonnet
 To frame her face"
 Show co-chairman Judy Breyer.

who owns one of the finest collections of Pre-Revolutionary furniture in the country, has been instrumental in adding some of the finest antique dealers in the country to the already prestigious Goodwill Juniors' roster of exhibitors.

Did you ever wish that you could serve something totally delicious, from a secret recipe? The Pantry Shop, co-chaired by Mrs. Thomas (Joyce) Sebald and Mrs. Joseph (Peg) Pero, has jars of fabulous chocolate sauce (both milk and bitersweet), made from a recipe over 50 years old, long before artificial additions. Chocolate and butter are cooked to a creamy smoothness, then other natural ingredients added.

A special Christmas gift would be a cruet bottle filled with homemade vinegar, recalling the days when women mixed their own salad dressings with sprigs of lemon dill, tarragon and basil in them. Huge red plaid bows are tied to each cruet.

The Goodwill Shop will have many new additions. There is an apothecary's chest nearly 100 years old, made of oak, with over 40 drawers. Bird's-eye maple is featured in both bedroom sets and chairs. An antique baby cradle, Queen Anne chairs and cedar chests are also among Goodwill's stock, along with marble-topped chests (great for a bar in the living or family room) and pianos, among them one of 1850 origin.

There are furs, furs, furs, all in remarkably good condition. Many of Jean Bodkin's furnishings and accessories will be on sale in the Goodwill Shop, for Mrs. Bodkin, founder of the group, left her estate to Goodwill and there will be an opportunity to purchase some of her treasures.

The popular boutique also has many new items this year. "It's a pillow year," according to Mrs. Roger (Barbara) Smith, who made pillows and other boutique articles all summer long at her annual workshop in her summer home.

Barbara shopped extensively for the fine lace that covers her exquisite pillows. Of all sizes and shapes, it is used over pastel satins; there is even a miniature bolster tied with ribbons at both ends.

Janet Hudson, Janet Von Foerster and Mary Schroeder, co-chairmen of the boutique, promise a potpourri of other items for shoppers. There are samplers, baskets and clothespin dolls that girls of all ages and collectors will love. On the whimsical side, there are mouse doorstops with huge ears and calico cats with extra long legs to hold your boots.

The appetizing aromas filling the building will come from the Vanity Fare restaurant or bakery, where apple-dapple cake is being sold. This old-fashioned favorite has a topping of cinnamon, brown sugar and apples. You can pick up homemade pies and cakes, homemade breads including peach-zucchini and cheese, sticky buns, monster cookies and sponge candy.

The Vanity Fare restaurant will feature lace tablecloths, centered with miniature hatstands which will be for sale. By popular request, broccoli bisque (made with fresh broccoli and real cream) will be on the menu every day, along with other favorites: homemade chicken a la king on patty shells, barbecued pork, turkey salad on croissants and a variety of homemade desserts.

The traditional schoolhouse quilt will be raffled off, and a silent auction will feature the jewelry of Jean Taylor Bodkin. Among the items are diamond bracelets and earrings. A stained glass church window will also be featured in the silent auction; when Joan Knight was in Edinburgh, Scotland, she saw the window in a church that was being dismantled. She had it shipped back for the show.

According to a long-standing, iron-clad rule, NO items are sold before Preview Night... but due to the fact that most of the items are done by hand, the supply is limited. The best advice is to shop early.

Garden talk

When an out-of-state speaker of John Enterline's caliber comes to town, it's a sure thing that Pointe hostesses will want to hear about decorations created for a wide array of schemes, with emphasis on the traditional look accomplished by easier, updated methods," Judy says.

Enterline, graduated from the Longwood Professional Gardener Training Program in 1973, is presently Superintendent of Grounds at Conestoga House, Lancaster, Pa., where he is responsible for all arrangements and decorations used in the mansion house and gardens of the Steinam Family, which will be opened to the public in the spring of 1985.

At the Pennsylvania home of President James Buchanan, Enterline is in charge of the Victorian floral art displayed, and is often heard playing the Victorian piano for guests.

Grosse Pointe North High School graduate Ronald Lee Cornell Jr., son of the Ronald Lee Cornells, of Danbury Lane, Harper Woods, has been named to the spring Dean's List at Denison University, where he will be a junior this fall.

Ski Chile next summer

"Vamos a Chile" ... You'd be excited — and delighted — too, if you, like CINDY GOYETTE SCHRODER, former Tokyo Olympics Gold Medalist, present president of the Grosse Pointe Ski Club, and BOB MEACHAM, the Ski Club's vice-president, were checking details of a Ski Club trip to Chile planned for next August. At the club's meeting Wednesday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, a Chilean representative will outline the delights of Skiing Portillo, with side trips to Cuzco, Lima, Machu-Picchu and Santiago. The program will also feature a presentation of new ski equipment by Dick Matzka, from the Metro Ski and Sport Shop. And, traditionally, members who have not already done so will be signing up for the forthcoming season's club-sponsored trips: to Boyne Mountain, Blue Mountain in Canada and Snow Bird, Utah. Guests and potential members are very welcome at the meeting.

Fashion lunch at Lochmoor

Pointe area women have served as president, and have attracted a large group of Grosse Pointe members. Mrs. Robert Gerisch, the immediate past-president, is a Bloomfield resident, responsible for an influx of many Birmingham-Bloomfield women into the club.

This geographical scattering of members makes DRC especially cosmopolitan. Its programs have the aspect of a "Little Town Hall," with guest speakers following luncheon at the once-a-month meetings.

The club's Philanthropic, Ways and Means and Bridge Committees work together on DRC's annual benefit parties. This year, the Ways and Means Committee, headed by Mrs. Houlihan, is sponsoring the November fashion luncheon. Proceeds will go to the many philanthropic projects in which DRC is involved.

Roz (Mrs. Joseph) Bonino, who is handling ticket sales for the benefit, may be reached at 559-1049. Tickets are $15. Checks should be made out to Detroit Review Club-Benefit. Mrs. Charles Hauer is also taking reservations. Cards and/or conversation will follow the fashion show. And of course, there will be plenty of prizes.

Dinner & program for Macomb PSI

The Macomb Chapter of Professional Secretaries International will gather Wednesday, Nov. 14, at The Gazebo on Mound Road in Warren for cash bar cocktails at 5:30 p.m., dinner at 6:15 p.m. and a program, "The Electronic Office and How It Affects the Secretary's Role," by Rose Jenkins, senior supervisor, Kelly Services, at 7:15 p.m.

Cost of the buffet dinner is $9.50. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Joyce Niven Baertson at 754-4557 between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

It's birthday time for Elizabeth Cass

The Elizabeth Cass Chapter of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, organized in Grosse Pointe Farms in 1942, will celebrate its 42nd birthday Monday, Nov. 5, with a luncheon for members and guests at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Grosse Pointe Woods Councilwoman Mrs. L.A. Rice, of Hawthorne Road, past-chairman of the Grosse Pointe Shade Tree Council, will speak on "Gypsy Moths: The Forest Devastators." Mrs. F. Richard Heath, regent, will preside at the meeting, which opens with devotions and will include patriotic exercises, a message from the president-general and a National Defense Report.

Regents from 12 neighboring DAR chapters, invited to join Elizabeth Cass for the birthday gathering, are Mrs. William Froberg, Alexander Macomb; Mrs. Frantz Johnson, Colonel Joshua Howard; Mrs. Bill Jones, Elizabeth Bien-aime; Mrs. Robert Garner, John Sackett; Mrs. George Edson, Louisa St. Clair; Mrs. Roger Harter, Piety Hill; Mrs. Neil Huard, Quakertown; Mrs. Robert Willoughby, Sarah Ann Cochrane; and Mrs. Morley Foster, Three Flags.

More are Mrs. Robert Henson, Ezra Parker; Mrs. Bernard Saitz, Fort Pontchartrain; and Mrs. Jack Blom, General Josiah Harmar.

Heart of Gold seekers

A trio of Pointe residents, LADY EASTON, MRS. HENRY M. DOMZALSKI and MRS. PETER R. FINK (left to right), were among those attending a recent Heart of Gold Award Council meeting to plan for the 1985 outstanding volunteer ceremonies sponsored by the Award Council and Women for the United Foundation. Any man or woman in the tri-county area can be nominated by an organization or an individual for making contributions in the area of child and family care, retirees and senior citizens, church, cultural and educational activities, health care or involvement in citizens' groups. Deadline for '85 Heart of Gold nominations is today, Thursday, Nov. 1. The awards will be presented at a special luncheon on Feb. 5, 1985. Further information may be obtained by contacting the United Foundation, 965-7100.

Convene School of Government

The School of Government, Inc., a non-partisan association founded by the late Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker, of Vendome Road, opened its 44th season with Joyce Kleiman, president of the Republican Women's Federation of Michigan, as guest speaker, replacing Jack Loumsa, running as a Republican for the United States Senate, who was unable to appear as scheduled.

The speaker scheduled for the season's second meeting, held Wednesday, Oct. 24, at Plum Hollow Golf Club, was to have been United States Senator Carl Levin, the incumbent Democrat opposing Loumsa — but because of a change in schedule, he was unable to appear.

He sent, in his stead, United States Representative Zander M. Levin (D.), representing Michigan's 17th District in the 98th Congress, who expressed his appreciation for this opportunity to "pinch hit" for his brother and to meet the members of the School of Government.

Mrs. Harry Taylor is the School's current president. Mrs. Florence Houtz, first vice-president, presided at the meeting. Program director is Mrs. Ralph Mason. Mrs. Fred Schniedewind served as program chairman for the meeting.

Pi Lambda Thetas to honor founders

The Detroit Alumni Chapter of Pi Lambda Theta, a national honorary education association, in cooperation with the Alpha Pi Chapter of Pi Lambda Theta, will hold its annual Founders Day ceremony and initiation of new members on Sunday, Nov. 11, at 2 p.m. in Wayne State University's Alumni House Lounge.

Dr. Milton Sakorafis, educator and Day Treatment administrator at Hawthorne Center, will speak on "Mainstreaming EMU Students." Alpha Pi Chapter will serve refreshments following the program. Members and friends may make reservations by contacting Barbara Weiskopf at 968-2799.

Colorful evening for Beta Xi DKG

"Color Me Beautiful" was the topic for Delta Kappa Gamma's Beta Xi Chapter members last Thursday evening, Oct. 25, when they gathered at the behest of their president, Nancy Salamas, elementary resource teacher at Trombly and Defer, at the Chalfonte Avenue home of Inez Mullaney, retired Kerby teacher, and her daughter, Pierce teacher Kay Mullaney.

Prior to the clothing/color program, Mary Thorn, headmistress of University Liggett's Lower School, presented for chapter approval recommendations of the membership committee for possible new initiates. Helen Huber, retired Detroit teacher, gave information on the group's annual holiday fund raiser.

This year, the chapter's fund raising efforts have provided a scholarship for Cheryl Mott, a June 1984 Grosse Pointe North High School graduate.

"Color Me Beautiful" was follow-up to the prior month's self-improvement session: a fashion show sponsored by Hudson's Eastland. Models-for-a-night were Camille Ecklund, a Monteith teacher, and Nancy Hogan, member of the Maire School faculty.

Delta Kappa Gamma, an international organization of 150,000 woman educators, is dedicated to the achievement of many lofty goals — but Beta Xi members, in a break from daily responsibilities involved in the education of Pointe area youth, have elected to take a light-hearted approach this season to one of society's major purposes, self-improvement.

Melanie Fisher, of the Brownell English Department, chaired the October program.

It's a lot like catching a weasel. They're very sneaky. The trick is, you can't catch 'em if you don't see 'em. So how do you see 'em?
Start looking. See, you and your neighbors should watch out for each other. And when you see something suspicious, call the cops, fast. So the cops can act, fast.
To learn how to catch a thief—call your local police or sheriff. Move on, weasels later.

John DeBoer sets example in classroom and on field

John DeBoer, a wide receiver on Central Michigan University's football team, has caught at least 10 touchdown passes during his college career. As an athlete at Grosse Pointe South High School, he was an All-State football selection as well as a basketball and baseball star.

So what do you think is the biggest thrill of his young life? Being named All-State? Catching a winning touchdown pass? Hitting a home run?

"Right now, I would have to say getting engaged to be married," says the 21-year-old son of Tom and Mary DeBoer, of The Pointe. "It's one of my biggest thrills. I'm really happy about it."

That may be an atypical answer for a college sports hero, but DeBoer is hardly the average college athlete. He excels on the football field every Saturday for CMU. And weekdays, in the classroom, his other talents shine.

DeBoer carries an overall grade point average of 3.7 (out of a possible 4.0). In his major area of study, accounting, he carries a phenomenal 3.9.

"I haven't always performed this well in class," he admits. "In high school, I carried a 3.0 — but I was involved in three sports at that time, too. Once I got to college, I found I had to learn to study."

Learn he did. Last year he was named to the Mid-American Conference's All-Academic Team.

When he graduated from high school, DeBoer discovered his football talents were in high demand at a number of colleges, particularly those in the Mid-American Conference, of which CMU is a member. "It came down to a choice of either Central or Western Michigan," he says. "I guess what swayed me was that I knew some people who were going here."

Football and studies aren't his whole life. The young athlete/academic spends a lot of his time with extra-curricular activities: Mortar Board and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Mortar Board is a national senior honor society which selects its members on the basis of grade point average and involvement within the university. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) is one of the more popular organizations on the CMU campus, with more than 200 members.

DeBoer has been active in FCA since his freshman year. Last year he served as the group's treasurer.

"We try to bring together the Christian aspect of sport," he says. "There's a misconception that Christians are not supposed to be tough or hard-nosed. We're certainly not angels, but we do realize that we are Christians."

One of the highlights of his college career was an internship last summer in the Detroit office of Price Waterhouse, an international accounting firm. "Working there was a terrific learning experience. Price Waterhouse is one of the eight largest accounting firms in the world; I would love to work there when I graduate."

In fact, the firm has invited DeBoer to come back once he is out of school. But when he will be finished with his college career is a puzzlement.

Scheduled to graduate in May of 1985, he has one more year of football eligibility left. So what he will do next spring remains to be seen. "That's probably the major question in my life right now. The football coaches would like to have me back — but I'm just not sure yet what I will do."

With the kind of year he is having on the football field, a professional football career is another possibility. "Oh, sure, I've thought a lot about that, too," DeBoer admits. "But again, we'll just have to wait and see."

Short and to The Pointe

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. John Clifford Hanna, of Grosse Pointe, gathered at the Detroit Boat Club on Oct. 7 to join the couple in celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary. The Hannas are long time area residents. Mr. Hanna's father owned and operated the John Hanna Art Gallery on East Jefferson at Rivard until 1951 and Mr. Hanna founded Video Films at that address in 1947. His military career includes both World Wars, as an ambulance driver for the American Field Service in France in World War I and as a major with the Air Force in the 345th Bomb Group in World War II. He was named a Michigan Pioneer in 1978 by the Detroit Producers Association. Mrs. Hanna is an accomplished pianist and attended the Toronto Conservatory of Music before their marriage in Newfane, N.Y. She was associated with the J.L. Hudson downtown store as a furniture consultant and sales representative for many years before her retirement. The Hannas are sports enthusiasts; they were early members of the Detroit Skating Club and as downhill skiers, spend much of the winter in northern Michigan where they have a chalet and a lifetime membership in the Boyne Ski Area. The Oct. 7 open house reception was organized by the Hannas' sons, John E. Hanna, of Damascus, Md. and Laurence C. of Plymouth. Family members attending included Mr. Hanna's sister, Mrs. John L.S. Scrymgeour, six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wakely Sr., of Harper Woods, were honored at a reception Aug. 26 at the Harper Woods Community Center in celebration of their 60th wedding anniversary. Mr. Wakely is a retired Grosse Pointe Shores Public Safety Department sergeant. The Wakelys have two children, Earl Wakely Jr., of The Woods and Dora Jean Stevens, of Clinton Township; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Yaklin, of Rivard Boulevard, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Oct. 5, with a Mass at St. Paul's-On-the-Lake, followed by a dinner reception. The Yaklins are the parents of sons Robert and Michael, and grandparents of Suzi and Mary Jo.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Dwight D. Lawrence, son of Emma E. Williams, of Clairview Road, in The Shores, has been selected to attend the Armed Forces Staff College in Norfolk, Va. Lawrence holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Kentucky at Lexington and has been in the Navy for 14 years.

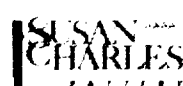

dinner given by their children at the Willow Tree Place home of their daughter. Helping the Decks celebrate were their daughters and sons-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Austin, and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Grieve, grandchildren Mark, Jeffrey and Amy Austin and Brian and Allison Grieve; friends, relatives and those who served as the best man and maid of honor at the Decks' wedding in First English Lutheran Church on Sept. 14, 1934. As a special gift, guests were asked to help compile a "memory" scrap book.

Elegant Eating

A selection of recipes from the low-calorie, low-cholesterol — and penny-wise — collection of Thyra Grey Howard and Helena DeWitt (with featuring, this week, a CORN-COPIA of VEGETABLE CASSEROLES.

YUM-YUM FRESH VEGETABLE CASSEROLE

- 1 cup carrots, thinly sliced
- 1 cup green beans, cut in half
- 1 cup potatoes, diced
- 1/2 cup celery, sliced
- 2 tomatoes, cut into wedges
- 1 crookneck squash, thinly sliced
- 1 zucchini, thinly sliced
- 1/2 sweet onion, thinly sliced
- 1/2 head cauliflowerets
- 1/4 cup sweet red pepper, cut into strips
- 1/2 cup fresh or frozen green peas
- 1 cup vegetable stock
- 1/3 cup olive oil
- 2 cloves garlic, finely diced
- 1/2 bay leaf
- 1/2 tsp. tarragon
- Vegetable salt to taste
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- Slice Jack cheese

Combine in shallow baking dish, the carrots, green beans, potatoes, celery, tomatoes, squash, zucchini, onion, cauliflower, red pepper and peas. Heat vegetable stock and combine with olive oil, garlic, bay leaf and tarragon. Pour over vegetables. Tightly cover baking dish with foil before putting on lid; this seals the pot and prevents evaporation of the stock.

Bake in a 350° oven for 45 minutes, or until vegetables are tender but still crisp. During baking, gently stir vegetables occasionally. Before serving, season with vegetable salt. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and cover with slices of Jack cheese. Place baking dish under broiler until cheese melts. Makes 6 to 8 servings. Calories per serving about 198. Cholesterol about 35 mgs.

VEGETABLE PILAF

- 1/3 cup onion, chopped
- 1/3 cup celery, finely chopped
- 1 cup uncooked brown rice
- 1 Tbsp. vegetable oil
- 1 Tbsp. margarine
- 3/4 cup tomato juice
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. crumbled basil leaves
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 pkg. (10-oz.) frozen peas
- 1/3 cup shredded carrots
- 1/4 cup water

Cook and stir onion, celery and brown rice in oil and margarine in 10-inch skillet over medium heat until rice is light brown — about 10 minutes. Stir in tomato juice, 2 cups boiling water, the salt, basil, pepper and bay leaf. Heat to boiling; reduce heat and cover. Simmer 45 minutes. Add frozen peas; stir and break peas apart. Stir in carrots and 1/4 cup water. Heat to boiling; reduce heat and cover. Simmer until liquid is absorbed and peas are tender, about 15 minutes. Remove bay leaf before serving to 6.

Calories per serving about 175. Cholesterol 0.

BACKYARD CASSEROLE

- 4 Tbsp. unsalted margarine
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 1 large carrot, sliced in rounds
- 2 cups shredded cabbage
- 1 green pepper, sliced in strips
- 4 small zucchini, sliced in rounds
- 1/4 tsp. Vege-Sal
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 tsp. dried tarragon
- 2 oz. Muenster cheese, shredded
- 2 tomatoes, sliced
- 1/2 cup seasoned bread crumbs

Heat 2 Tbsp. margarine in large skillet and stir-fry onion and carrots for about 3 minutes. Add cabbage and pepper and continue stir-frying for 2 more minutes. Add zucchini and cook 1 minute longer. Add salt, pepper, tarragon and cheese. Place mixture in lightly oiled casserole. Top with tomato slices. Combine bread crumbs and 2 Tbsp. melted margarine and sprinkle evenly over vegetables. Bake in preheated 350° oven 20 minutes. Makes 6 servings. Calories per serving about 125. Cholesterol about 9 mgs.

*This recipe may be doubled if large quantity is desired.

Learn figure drawing art

Nancy Thayer, whose work is represented by galleries in New York, Boston, Chicago and West Bloomfield, begins a five-week, 9:30 a.m. to noon introduction to Figure Drawing course next Wednesday, Nov. 7, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Using a variety of colored pencils, she will focus on the study of anatomy, balance, design and dynamics, emphasizing the use of the line to sensitively and accurately define the human form.

Thayer, who has a Master of Arts degree from Michigan State University and a Master of Fine Arts from Institute Allende in Mexico, has taught at the Center for Creative Studies, the Detroit Institute of Arts and Central Michigan University.

Cost of her course is $45, plus a model fee. A supply list will be mailed to each registrant. Registration information may be obtained by calling 881-7511.

Health Education Council to meet

The Health Education Council of Grosse Pointe will hold a general meeting Monday, Nov. 5, in the Exhibition Room of the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval Avenue at Fisher Road, starting at approximately 1:45 p.m., immediately following a business meeting.

American Dairy Council representative Linda Rhodes, who teaches nutrition at the University of Detroit Dental School, will speak on "The Content and Nutrients of Foods." The material she will present is available for teachers in schools.

Ms. Rhodes is dedicated to changing adolescent eating habits, and feels that children should be made aware of and responsible for what they eat. The meeting is free and open to the public.

The Health Education Council will be conducting Scoliosis Screening at Brownell Middle School on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 12 and 13, and at Parcels Middle School on Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 14 and 15.

At odds with an oddsmaker . . .

The scene: A dark, smoky tavern somewhere on the outskirts of Grosse Pointe (not the St. Clair Shores side, you dopes).

The characters: A famous Las Vegas oddsmaker and a not-so-famous Grosse Pointe reporter.

Oddsmaker: "Okay, baby, spill it. Whaddya want from me that I gotta come all the way from Las Vegas to this little burg for?"

Reporter: "Well, Jimmy . . ."

Oddsmaker: "Hey, what'd I tell ya about usin' my real name out loud? I don't want a bunch of sissy autograph hounds buggin' me, ya know?"

Reporter: "Sorry. Anyway, I called you because I really needed some help. People have been begging me to tell them who I think will win the North-South football game this Saturday. I don't know if you know anything about the two teams, but the game is pretty big around here and people seem to want to know what I think and . . ."

Oddsmaker: "Know anything about North and South? Kid, I was laying odds on the North-South game long before Billy Sims got the first stitches in his knee back in grade school. Whaddya want to know? Right now I've got South and five points."

Reporter: "Well, see people don't really bet on the game here in Grosse Pointe. It's just sort of a fun thing. I just wanted to know if you had any inside information for me so I could impress people who ask me at the game Saturday."

Oddsmaker: "Jeez, honey, you're an even bigger wimp than that chick I gotta share time with on the football pre-game show every Sunday. Don't tell me you're married to a governor, too?"

Reporter: "No, I, uh . . ."

Oddsmaker: "Forget it, sweetheart. Just a little Vegas humor, that all. Now, got a pen? I want you to get all of this right. Don't go around quotin' Jimmy the . . . uh, the Old Oddsmaker here without gettin' it right."

Reporter: "I'm ready, sir."

Oddsmaker: "Okay, first off, I'd pick South to win. The Blue Devils have had only one coach since the series started in 1969 and they win mostly on Saturdays. Plus, this is an even-numbered year. And, then too, South has won eight of the 15 meet-

Fitness 'elite' — making the swells sweat

By Peggy O'Connor

Twenty-three-year-old Keith Lewis has Detroit-area celebrities Dick Purtan and Sonya Friedman sweating it out at least three times per week . . . and loving it.

Purtan and Friedman are just two of the clients of the Oak Park-based Lewis' company, Fitness Elite, which conducts individual, group and corporate fitness programs. Lewis and company vice president Mike Briguglio recently expanded their operation to include the east side and hired University Liggett School graduate Christi Cracchiolo to bring the Fitness Elite program to Pointe area clients.

The three — all University of Michigan graduates — practically glow with good health and physical fitness. Lewis thinks he's developed a fitness program that works and wants to share it with those of us who, if left to our own devices, would most likely sit staring at a Jane Fonda Workout Video while polishing off a box of Twinkies.

The idea of an exercise program tailored to the individual and brought directly into the home or office came straight from those bastions of pop culture: New York and California. But it took some hard work, more than a little study and a bit of persuasion by Lewis to make the program go in Detroit.

"I went to (radio personality) Dick Purtan and told him I'd give him the three-month program for free . . . if he'd spread the word about Fitness Elite. He liked it. And we've grown by word-of-mouth," Lewis says.

Lewis formed Fitness Elite with Briguglio, 25, who holds a Master of Arts degree in Exercise and Sports Science. Cracchiolo, 24, has an identical degree; Lewis, a Bachelor of Science degree in Exercise and Sports Science.

The company's name was inspired by Lewis' sister. In the company's early stages, he was vacationing in California and his sister was helping with some advertising mailers. She happened to write the invitation: "How would you like to be part of the fitness elite?" The name stuck.

"We're Fitness Elite because we feel that our program is superior and that our clientele fits that image," Lewis says.

THE TYPICAL FITNESS Elite client is 40 to 55 years of age, although the company's 54 clients range in age from 22 to 72. Just under one-half are women. They all have one thing in common, Lewis says.

"These are all very busy people. They are people who might not take that 45 minutes to exercise on their own. But if they know that someone is coming, that they are committed to this program, they'll take that time," he says.

Fitness Elite's clients are not ex-athletes by any stretch of the imagination; but people who may not have taken care of themselves for 30 years and are "starting to see themselves go downhill," Lewis says.

"Our sessions with them become a priority in their lives. Sure, that's gratifying to us, but it becomes important to them when they see that they are improving and that we are there constantly supervising and motivating them," Cracchiolo adds.

The trim Cracchiolo is an active athlete who has participated in and won national triathlons. She took up running in college . . . which was about the same time she realized how important physical fitness was in her daily life.

"Now I've taken it one step further and made it my work. I'd talk about physical fitness all day if they'd let me," she laughs. "I'm always preaching about it to my family and friends."

Fitness Elite makes a three-month commitment to each client and stresses that they take advantage of the program three times per week for maximum effect. The program itself is the result of research by Lewis and his staff.

The "heart" of the Fitness Elite process is the attainment of cardiovascular fitness, in order to increase the efficiency of the heart, thereby increasing the overall efficiency of the body. Development of muscular tone is also stressed, in order that the individual is able to accomplish everyday activities easier and to look and feel better, according to Lewis' literature.

CLIENTS UNDERGO preliminary screening in the form of a questionnaire asking about coronary heart disease risk as well as other relevant disorders. If a prospective client shows risks, he or she is asked to seek a doctor's approval before joining the program.

"We have no problem with cardiac patients. They must first get approval from their physicians and we start them slowly and monitor them cautiously," Lewis says.

Fitness Elite clients are then administered a flexibility test, percentage body fat tests and heart rate correlation test. From the results of those tests, appropriate goals are set for each individual. As the program goes on, the client is measured each month, with percentage body fat, resting pulse and maximum oxygen consumption tested. A careful log is maintained by the staff, which is consulted in the development of a long-range program for use after the initial three-month commitment.

The actual workout consists of a five minute stretch and warm-up, a 30-minute intense workout and a 10-minute stretch and cool down. The target heart rate, the zone that is sufficient to promote cardiovascular fitness and is 70 to 85 percent of an individual's maximum heart rate, is the basis of the workout. And increasing the target and thereby improving cardiovascular fitness slowly through the program

South's streak ends

By David Loffredo
South High

Three years ago, the South varsity football team lost a game.

Last weekend, it happened again. The Devils' string of 25 consecutive regular season victories was unexpectedly snapped in overtime by the Mount Clemens Bathers, 25-24, last Saturday.

The teams went into the overtime tied 17-17, after the Bathers tied it late in the fourth quarter. According to high school rules, each team is given one possession (four downs) from their opponent's 10 yard line. The team to score the most after each has gone once is declared the winner.

Mount Clemens won the toss and gave South the ball first. South marched eight yards and scored from 2 yards out on a run by Jay Henze. Kicker Steve Kinsley added the extra point and South led, 24-17.

Then came the Bathers. On a third down and six, quarterback Phil Abdo hit Terry Saunders in the end zone, and South's lead was cut to 24-23.

From the 3 yardline, the Bathers elected to kick the extra point for a tie, which would force a second round. The teams lined up, the ball was set, the kick was up and it was wide right. The game was over and South had won.

Or had it?
A small yellow cloth, the size of a handkerchief, thrown late by an official, gave the Bathers another chance. The call, roughing the kicker.

The Bathers realigned on the South 1 1/2 yard line, but this time, opted for the two-point conversion. As the teams met at the snap, Abdo handed up the middle to Darryl Bainebett who drove up the middle and scored to give the Bathers a 25-24 win.

The loss put South at 7-1 for the year, and gave it a tie for the Eastern Michigan League championship with the Bathers (both 6-1). More importantly, it eliminated the Devils from any chance of returning to the state playoffs.

Going into Saturday's action, South was third in the region behind Henry Ford and Dearborn Fordson (both 8-0). The top two teams advance to the playoffs. With both Ford and Fordson winning last weekend, even if both lose next week coupled with a South victory, according to the point system, South would still not advance.

The Blue Devils will wrap up their season this Saturday, Nov. 3 at North High. North has won its last six games.

The varsity began the week with a 53-44 win over Roseville. Ann Schwarz and Bev Zuelch combined for 23 points, while Heidi Albrecht added seven assists and nine steals.

Then the girls took a 54-41 loss to L'Anse Creuse North. Albrecht had 18 points, while Schwarz added nine.

The JV had a similar week, taking a 44-10 victory over Roseville. Ten players scored for South, led by Kellie Bucanon with a season-high 12 points.

But, the girls just couldn't contain Julie Osborne from L'Anse Creuse North Oct. 25. Osborne who had 30 points, led the Crusaders past South, 50-34. Bucanon led South with 11 points.

Harriers take EML

Led by seniors Jon Roberts and Jerry Judge, South's boys' cross country team won its third consecutive EML title defeating Anchor Bay, 19-58. The win was South's 16th consecutive league victory, and left it with an 11-2 record for the year.

Tankers win

The girls' varsity swim team drowned East Detroit, 116-40, last week.

In the meet, South won all 11 events. Sue Storen took the 50 and 100 freestyle; Kristin Rentschler won the 200 freestyle; Sarah Platt took the 220 IM; Alison Crissman won in diving; Maureen Connell touched first in the 100 butterfly; Torrey Ollison won the 100 back stroke; Merrit Palm won the 100 breaststroke; and Tracy Beckenhauer took the 500 freestyle.

Frosh cagers 8-2

After losing three freshmen to the junior varsity before the basketball season even started, many thought that the South High girls' freshmen basketball team would have a rough season. Don't tell the girls that. The frosh cagers won their sixth straight game last week, defeating a strong East Detroit Kelly team, 43-31.

The Blue Devils are now 8-2, surpassing the goal the team set in August to finish at 7-7. The Devils now have a chance repeating what the past two freshmen teams accomplished: a championship.

"I never thought we would be in the running for a league title... we really have improved and the team spirit is outstanding," said coach Al Devine.

South captain Meg Petersen has been the catalyst. She set a ninth

Norsemen tie for title

By Ed Comber
North High

It might have been one of North's greatest victories. One only had to see the fans and the athletes on the sidelines as the final minutes ran off the clock to understand just how special North's 14-0 victory over Clintondale was.

It was Homecoming. It was North's sixth consecutive victory. And it meant a tie with Clintondale for the Bi-County League championship.

Each team finished the afternoon with a 5-1 league record (6-2 overall), but things were looking North's way during the contest as the stat sheets and scoreboard showed. For the seventh consecutive game the Norsemen outgained their opponents in total yards (226-104, including 179 rushing and 47 passing).

The first quarter set the tone for a close game, as both offensive teams were shut down on defense. In the second quarter, the Norsemen put together a 59-yard drive and capped it off with Joe Weidenbach's 1-yard quarterback sneak to take the lead. Craig Como's extra point kick made it 7-0.

On the second possession of the third quarter, North mounted another long drive, finished off when Weidenbach connected with Will Secor for a 20-yard touchdown pass. Como's extra point gave North a 14-0 lead as the Norsemen shut down the Dragons in a fine defensive effort.

Offensively, North was led by Weidenbach, who connected on two of six passes for 47 yards and rushed for 33 yards. Secor had 87 yards rushing to boost his eight-game yardage total to 820. Ken Werenski, Brian Bergeron and Dan Kopitzke also performed well, according to coach Frank Sumbera.

The defense was led by Dan Kopitzke (eight tackles, one fumble recovery); George Kasza and Doug Calka (seven tackles each), Rob Brumer (one fumble recovery) and Casey Quick (pass interception). "This may have been Kopitzke's finest game as a Norseman," Sumbera said.

"I think the team was determined to win and that's just what they did," he added.

Cagers' streak at 8

North's girls' varsity basketball team extended its winning streak to eight games by beating Roseville Brablec, 42-38, last Friday. The Norsemen — ranked No. 8 in Metro-East — did it again defensively, allowing just six first-half points.

On offense, North combined great outside shooting and a strong inside game. Dawn Cartwright, who scored nine points, beat the Cougars' defense with her scoring and opened up the inside for Celeste Sartor and Paula Harms. Sartor had 15 points and Harms, six.

North puts its 7-0 league mark on the line against Southlake and at 7:30 p.m. tonight, Nov. 1, against Lake Shore.

The JV team beat up on Brablec, too, taking a 58-19 win on Oct. 25. North took a 36-11 halftime lead and went on to post its sixth Bi-County win against one loss and remain tied for the league lead.

Michelle Zurmic had 14 points, Julie Cook, 12, and Sue Haskell, 16.

Golfers win title

The Grosse Pointe North golf team finished off the 1984 season by capturing the Tri-County league tournament and the City championship.

At Plum Hollow golf course, the Norsemen edged out four other teams to capture the title. Leading the way to victory was tournament medalist John Russell whose 77 bested the 30-man field. Tom Wilson and "secret weapon" Jay Messner also played well shooting 80 and 82, respectively. Russell and Wilson were named to the All-League team.

Coach Richard Didurs' squad finished the season with a 10-2 record.

Fitness Elite ...

is the focus of the Fitness Elite process.

The equipment used is quite simple: a bicycle ergometer for lower body tone, a rowing machine for upper body and a pulseometer to insure that the individual is in the target heart zone during the workout. The entire workout can be accomplished in approximately 45 minutes, in the comfort of a client's home or office and using as little space as a hallway or foyer.

It's the simplicity that appeals to Fitness Elite clients, Briguglio says.

"Our clients are people who know that it is good to be healthy... they just don't have the personal motivation to pursue it. But they're the type of people who are committed to making the investment, time wise and money wise. They want US to motivate THEM," he says.

Briguglio's clients include couples, even groups — he puts several doctor's office employees through weekly sessions. One client is a businessman who deliberately schedules his business meetings at home so that Briguglio will come and take him right out of the meeting for his workout... he knows that he wouldn't exercise any other way.

Another, Detroit attorney Lee Wulfmeier, has been with Fitness Elite since last November. "Primarily, I need the service because of the fact that I normally wouldn't get up at 7 a.m. to exercise. Mike is a great motivator and I need to be motivated," Wulfmeier chuckles.

ASIDE FROM THE obvious financial benefits Lewis and his staff have gained from Fitness Elite, they say that their work is personally rewarding, too. After all, physical fitness is basically a very personal achievement.

"It is rewarding to see clients improve," Cracchiolo says. "And you do develop personal relationships and that's nice. Dick Purtan has six daughters and I'm in love with all of them," Lewis says.

"Yeah, it's almost like they adopt you," Briguglio says, grinning. "The formal barriers are broken down. We see them in ways no one else does... sweating and breathing hard."

Despite their hectic schedules, Lewis, Briguglio and Cracchiolo each maintain their personal physical fitness programs. "I know that if I couldn't work out on my own I wouldn't do this job," Cracchiolo says. She works out on her own five to seven times per week and admits that even that isn't as much as she'd like.

Briguglio exercises five times per week and plays a little racquetball. Lewis follows his own program, exercising three times per week. "We have to be fit to project fitness in our clients," he says.

Lewis says that Fitness Elite may expand in the future, including a venture into fitness programs for apartment complexes and corporations. And Cracchiolo, who says that she can be reached at 884-0882 for Fitness Elite information, will be with Lewis and staff for a while. "No matter what, I'll always be part of a fitness-oriented program."

Lewis, Briguglio and Fitness Elite wouldn't mind if a few other Grosse Pointers started expressing the same sentiment.

Hornets can't kick about Marc's play

The Kalamazoo College soccer team remained undefeated in MIAA competition last week, with a 6-0-2 conference record and an 8-1-2 mark overall.

Hornets' coach Hardy Fuchs is also pleased with the play of Grosse Pointe North High graduate Mare Tirikian, the freshman standout who scored two goals against Calvin in Kalamazoo's 3-0 shutout. Tirikian, a Parade Magazine All-American at North in 1983, has scored in every Hornet game this year, compiling a record of 17 goals in 13 games and leading the league in total points scored.

Tolleson plays at Lake Forest

Chris W. Tolleson, of Kenwood Road, is a member of the 1984 women's varsity field hockey team at Lake Forest College.

Tolleson is a third year member on the team and plays forward. She is a senior majoring in art history at Lake Forest.

Swimathon set for Nov. 10

The Macomb YMCA Marlins will conduct a fund raising swimming marathon from 8 to 4 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 10, at Mount Clemens High School pool.

Swimmers will be assigned a two-hour period to complete as many lengths of the pool as possible. Two hundred is the maximum number of lengths, a goal which was attained by many of the swimmers last year. Money raised from pledges of support will be used to fund team activities and maintain coaching staffs.

To obtain further information or to pledge for a swimmer, call Dorothy Onisko at 465-5817 or Bonnie Battaglia at 949-2194.

New Grapefruit 'Super Pill' Gives Fast Weight Loss

No Dieting - Eat All You Want Pill Does All the Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA. (Special)—An amazing new "super" grapefruit pill has recently been developed and perfected that reportedly "guarantees" that you will easily lose at least 10 pounds in 10 days. Best of all, it allows you to "eat as much as you want of your favorite foods and still lose a pound a day or more starting from the very first day until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire."

This "super" grapefruit pill is a dramatically improved version of the world famous grapefruit diet. It is far more effective than the original and eliminates "the mess, fuss, and high cost of eating half a fresh grapefruit at every meal."

"Pill Does All the Work"

According to the manufacturer, "the pill itself does all the work while you quickly lose weight with NO starvation "diet menus" to follow, NO calorie counting, NO exercise, and NO hunger pangs." It is 100% safe. You simply take the pill with a glass of water before each meal and the amazing combination of powerful ingredients are so effective they take over and you start losing weight immediately.

Pill Has ALL Daily Vitamins

The powerful and unique combination of ingredients are what make this a "super-pill". It contains highly potent grapefruit concentrate and a diuretic to help eliminate bloat and puffiness. No need to take any vitamins to maintain your good health and energy. The pill is fortified with ALL (100%) of the U.S. Government daily vitamin requirements.

Contains Japanese 'Glucomannan'

Each pill also contains an amazingly effective amount of "glucomannan", the remarkable natural dietary fiber discovery from Japan (used successfully for over 1500 years) that expands in your stomach and gives you a full and satisfied feeling all day long.

The super-pill is already sweeping the country with glowing reports of easy and fast weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Now Available to Public

You can order your supply of these highly successful "super" grapefruit pills (now available directly from the manufacturer by mail order only) by sending $12 for a 14-day supply, or $35 for a 60-day supply) cash, check, or money order to: Citrus Industries, 9903 Santa Monica Bl., Dept. The Night Owls League (college rules, 10 minute quarters) will play on Mondays from 8:15 p.m. to 12:15 a.m. beginning Nov. 12. Fees are $150 per team with a six player limit or $25 per individual. The organizational meeting is tonight at 8 p.m.

The Lakeshore Family YMCA is located on Jefferson near Nine Mile Road. Further information may be obtained by calling 778-5811.

South, North one-two in cc regional

The girls' cross country teams at North and South High continued their excellent seasons last week — winning league championships and grabbing the top two spots in regional competition at Metropolitan Beach.

South High captured the Class A regional title with 46 points; runner-up North had 50 points. Detroit Kettering, Regina and Anchor Bay rounded out the top five in last Saturday's action.

South had three runners in the top 10 as Nancy Solterisch, Ellen Mayer and Barb Giroux finished second, sixth and eighth, respectively. Micha Song was also a medalist, placing 12th. Juniors Kelly Riehl and Toby Ott and senior Renuka Uthappa completed South's varsity seven.

For the third straight year, a South runner came through the finish line first in the junior varsity race. Freshman Wendy Berger left the field of runners behind early and held on for the win.

Lisa Kopacka led North's runners in the regionals, finishing third and nosing out teammate Chrissy Drummy, who was fourth in the field of 56 runners. Other North finishers were Sandy Smith, 10th; Patty Loehner, 17th; Kelly Fournier, 16th; and Kate Beal, 21st; Barb Mezger, 36th.

The boys' teams from North and South fared pretty well in the regionals, too. South ran to its first-ever boys' regional championship and North, while it finished fourth and out of state qualifying, will send individual runners to the state finals: sophomores Tom Rice and Todd Von Gunten and junior Jeff Knapp.

Notre Dame, the team which had the best chance at upsetting South's boys in the regional, lined up next to South at the start. But after the pistol, the teams got down to business and South won itself a regional title on a muddy, slow course. Finishing for South were John Roberts, third; Kevin English, 10th; and Dan Geist, 12th; Rick Campbell, 15th; and Gerry Judge, 20th.

pace. Sophomore Kevin English assumed a passing role toward the end of the race and assured the victory.

Other state qualifiers from South include Chris Bardeen and Craig Bagno. Kyle Anderson received a well-deserved winner's medal at the regionals.

All four cross country teams won league championships last week; South's girls' and boys' taking the Eastern Michigan League title and North's teams winning the Bi-County championship.

South's girls' captured their sixth consecutive EML title last week by defeating previously-unbeaten Anchor Bay, 21-36, in the final dual meet of the season. The meet was highlighted by the one-two-three finish of freshman Mayer, senior Giroux and Song. The victory gave South a final dual meet record of 11-0.

Coach Charles Buhagiar's North girls' team outran L'Anse Creuse and Clintondale for the Bi-County League championship on Oct. 23, taking nine of the top 10 places. North finished with 15 points; L'Anse Creuse had 55 Clintondale, 69.

Individually, All-Leaguer Chrissy Drummy finished first in 19:20. Rounding out the top 10 runners for North (and also earning All-League honors) were Lisa Kopacka, second (20:05); Sandy Smith, third (20:34); Kelly Four-mier, fourth (20:41); Patty Loehner, fifth (21:05); Katie Beal, sixth (21:36); Barb Mezger, eighth (22:30); Anne Finlan, ninth (22:30:5); and Kerry Rice (22:37).

North's boys' team also took the Bi-County title, with John Van-Syckle finishing first and taking the league championship. Other top finishers (all on the All-Bi-county team) are Tom Rice and Adrian Wehling.

The state cross country finals are set for Saturday, Nov. 3. The girls will run at noon at Eagle Creek Golf Course in Brighton; the boys, at 12:30 at Dama Farms Golf Course in Howell.

Winning week for ULS

The University Liggett Middle varsity soccer team improved its season record to 7-1-2 this week with a 4-0 victory over Grosse Pointe Academy and a 1-1 tie with Detroit Country Day School (DCDS).

In the first contest on Oct. 19, goalies Kamran Jafri and Bert Paul turned in their second shutout of the season, helped by the excellent performances by halfbacks

Steve Gove, Mike Cogan, Don Shanley, Bill Lucken and Bucky Drewek. Brendan Dundas scored the first goal, and later assisted on a tally by Tristan Guevara, the first of two. Bob Scoville, the team's second leading scorer, assisted on one score and added icing to the cake with a low strike to the far post late in the contest.

On Oct. 25, the "Briarcliff (Continued on Back Page)

Sports Week

ings between the two. So I'm picking them to win this year."

Reporter: "Wait a minute. What difference does it make how many coaches they've had? And they play EVERY North-South game on Saturday. And South won last year and it was an odd-numbered year. Explain that."

Odds maker: "Then again, no team has won more than two games in a row. South has won the last two in a row. That means North will win. So I'm picking North."

Reporter: "But, you just picked South."

Odds maker: "Of course, the visiting team has won 10 of the 15 games between the two teams. South is the visiting team this year and since I made the odds, I certainly won't go against them. South will win in 1984."

Reporter: "Hold on a minute. Would you just pick one team?"

Odds maker: "Oh, you want a point spread? Okay. The largest margin in points was in 1983, when South beat North, 29-6, for a 23-point differential. Of course, there has never been a shut-out, so I predict that one team will win by anywhere between 1 and 22 points."

Reporter: "How did you get that figure? Listen, Greek, what are you trying to pull?"

Odds maker: "Then there's this: South has entered the North-South clash with an 8-0 record three times: in 1973 and in 1982 and 1983. North has only gone into the game unbeaten once, in 1973. North has gone into the game topranked twice, South four times. The Norsemen don't want their crosstown rivals to get too far ahead of them in those categories, so I'm picking North to win."

Reporter: "But North doesn't have anything to do with South coming INTO the game unbeaten or ranked. Besides, South lost one."

Odds maker: "Listen baby, don't pick nits with me. I've got bigger fish to fry, you know." I told you what you wanted to know, the North-South game is too close to call. You want close? Since the first game in 1969, South has averaged 14.9 points per game and North, 14.6. And you should have seen the game where South beat North, 9 to 6. Made the 1969 Super Bowl game look sandlot stuff."

Reporter: "Yeah well, thanks a bunch."

Odds maker: "Anytime, sweetheart. I'm off to lay odds on where the first nuclear weapon strike will come from. And don't think I won't be around to collect on that one, baby. You know what they say, only the lowest forms of life will survive: cockroaches and Las Vegas oddsmakers."

And hey, if anybody else asks you who you think will win the game on Saturday, just confuse 'em with a lot of facts and then finish off by saying: the team that scores the most points. It gets 'em every time."

Reporter: "Yeah, thanks. And hey, tell me what the odds are of you getting out of here without a fat lip? Just a little Las Vegas humor, you know?"

Odds maker: "Sure, honey, sure."

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
Holy Spirit, you who make me see everything and who shows me the way to reach my ideal. You who give me the Divine Gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me and who are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desires may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones in your perpetual glory. Amen.

Thank you for your love towards me and my loved ones. Pray this prayer 3 consecutive days without asking your wish, after third day your wish will be granted, no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this prayer as soon as your favor has been granted. E.B.M.

ST. JUDE in thanking for favor received past week.

NOVENA TO ST. JUDE
Apostle and Martyr great in virtue, rich in miracles, kinsman of Christ, intercessor of all who invoke you to use your great God given power to aid me in my urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known. Pray for us who ask for your aid. St. Jude, say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Marys, 3 Glorias. This Novena has never been known to fail. Say Novena for 9 days. My request was granted. G.T.

South streak

grade girls' record with her 132 rebounds and leads the team in assists (26), steals (50) and points (88). Erin Bruce and Carolina Gaskins each have 47 points and Laura Linder has 45. Stephanie Dinka has been playing great at the point guard position and has 19 assists to her credit.

Barb Denler, Megan Keller, Linda Knight and Debbie Miller have been playing well defensively. Guards Roseann MacConnachie, Tenly Mogk and Marianne Roy have been playing well on offense, helping the team average 15 assists per game.

Frosh still perfect

South High's ninth grade football team moved one game closer to a perfect season when it defeated L'Anse Creuse North 16-0, Oct. 24, for its seventh straight win. The Blue Devils were to close their season Oct. 31, after press time, with a game against North High.

Following the opening kickoff, South drove 54 yards from its own 32 to the L'Anse Creuse North 14 yardline before giving up the ball on downs. Two plays later, Jeff Fikany recovered a fumble — the first of four South would recover on the Crusader 11. Three downs later, Doug Lucas' field goal attempt from the 15 was wide.

The Crusaders again fumbled the ball and this time, Rodger Hunwick made the recovery at the L'Anse Creuse North 20. Three plays later, Lucas took it in from the 9. Lucas' conversion kick made it 7-0, which is how the quarter ended.

Minutes later, Jamie Pangborn and Mike Paull tackled the Crusaders' quarterback in the end-zone for a safety, making the score 9-0. The rest of the first half was scoreless, although South missed two scoring opportunities, giving up the ball at the 15 and 10 yardlines on another missed field goal and an interception. Late in the third quarter, Hunwick romped 19 yards to score the final tally; Lucas converted again for the 16-0 final.

The unbeaten freshman Blue Devils are coached by Dan Griesbaum and Tom Steen.

'Personal best' for ULS cross country runner

Last week, the University Liggett School cross country team wound down its season with two multi-team meets and one personal best.

The first, on Oct. 23, was the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference league meet run at Bethesda's home course, Derby Hill. ULS' goal going into the league meet was to defeat close rival Bethesda. Although ULS' runners were edged by their cross-town nemesis in the overall scoring, ULS did prove to be victorious on a team-to-team scorecard. ULS frontrunner Gordie Maitland set a personal best, finishing 13th with a time of 18:50. Following Maitland were juniors Rob Glancy and Christopher McCabe, with respective times of 19:43 and 20:03.

On Saturday, Oct. 27, the team based out to Dexter for the regionals. In the region's most competitive field of runners, Coach Eric Linder's team received 15th place. Among the more noteworthy results were Maitland's 18:31 personal best.

Coach Linder's team ended with a 7-15 record. Maitland's two "personal bests" provided a positive note. (By Chris McCabe).

Cagers 2-1

The ULS varsity basketball team defeated Huron Valley Lutheran on Oct. 17, 46-24. Susan Cleek had 15 points, followed by Sam DeSmet with 14 and Chandra Oden with 11. On Oct. 23, ULS defeated Roper, 27-18. Sam DeSmet had 20 points for ULS, while C. Orthenbergen picked up nine for Roper.

Then on Oct. 25, ULS had a tough time with the Academy of the Sacred Heart, and fell short, 32-24. High scorers for ULS were DeSmet and Cleek. M. Zenkel, K. Hanspard, and V. Russel shared the majority of the ASH points.

Coach Shelley Owens' team travels to Southfield Christian on Friday, Nov. 2, for a 7 p.m. contest. (By Chandra Oden).

JV kickers lose

The ULS JV soccer team ended its season Oct. 25, on a down note. The Knights lost their final game, 2-0, to a strong Inter-City Baptist team.

ULS played a strong game and dominated play up until the last two minutes, when Inter-City managed to slip two goals past an otherwise sound Knight defense. The ULS offense was led by Frank Karabetsos and David Schwab, who had three shots on goal apiece.

Two days earlier the Knights had traveled to Cranbrook where they again lost, 4-2. The JV was behind 4-0 when it began a comeback on a goal by Karabetsos on a Schwab assist. Another Karabetsos goal came on a superbly executed penalty kick.

Over the 1984 season, Coach Domenic Facciolla's team compiled a 10-6-2 record. The Knights began the season by roaring to a 7-1-1 record, following by a weak second half, going 3-5-1 against stronger competition.

The JV team sent thanks to its managers, Charles Fauntroy and Jeff Gouda; coach Facciolla; and to the fans and supporters who helped the Knights. (By Dave Schwab).

Middle school wins

Bunch" at least partially atoned for their only loss in the season, a 5-0 whitewashing by DCDS. This time, DCDS scored early in the first half but met a much more determined opponent, led by the spirited play of fullbacks Armistead Burwell, Brian Schmidt,

Coach Josh Schmidt commented, "This team does not yet know how good it can be; but we certainly are at our best when we are losing to a talented opposition. It takes character to bounce back."

The University Liggett Middle School football team defeated Detroit Country Day School at home last Friday, 25-8. Offensively, the Knights had 92 yards rushing.
